The senior committee in charge includes Cindy Zonies, Klare Sunderland, Alma Skinner, John Yates, Nan Heller, Jim Hunt, Ginger Watson, Becky Kitchen, Dan Raffensperger and Bernie Oriss.

Decorations, music, entertainment and refreshments are included in the plans.

Organist George Markey Plays In Chapel Monday

George Markey, Organist, will give an informal recital Monday, at 10 a.m. in Oller Hall.

Markey is a member of the Organ Faculty of the Peabody Conservatory, a member of the Westminster Choir College at Princeton and the organist and choirmaster at the Old First (Presbyterian) Church in Newark, N. J.

Markey, a native of Minnesota, began to study piano at the age of five and organ at seven. Before he was eight, he began training in piano at McPhail College of Music. At 15 he became a scholarship student at the University of Minnesota under Dmitri Mitruploulos, then conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony.

He was inducted into the Navy in 1944 and when discharged two years later, he spent the summer as organist at St. James Episcopal Church in Chicago.

For the next two years he practised eight or nine hours a day at Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. After he was graduated, he became organist and Choirmaster of the Second Baptist Seminary in Germantown, Professor of Organ at the Eastern Baptist Seminary, Instructor of Music of the Episcopal Academy of boys, and the Director of the Philadelphia Choral Society.

Markey has a family, George Jr., a daughter, and his wife Jane. He is a car fancier and a motorcycle enthusiast.

This chapel program will be longer than usual.

● George Markey ●
At the Console

Students Race To Win Seats

Twenty-six candidates are in the running for the eight Senate chairmanships with the possibility of more entering at the last minute.

Four Vie For Athletics

For Athletics is Neil Beefelt, physics major, who participates in intramural sports.

Candidate Harry Musselman is a business major who includes in his activities baseball, track, Tycoon Club and intramurals.

John Staley, a member of the football squad, the baseball team, chapel choir, the Midnighters and the J Club, is a pre-law student. There is a possibility of his student teaching next year.

Doug Wilson, physics major, is active in varsity track, cross country, Chemistry Club, Standing Stone Grotto and is technical director of Brigadoon.

Three Run For General Activities

Judy Gearhart, candidate for General Activities, is a music education major. Her activities include Touring Choir, Masque, All-Class Night and May Day Committee. She will be student teaching in the spring.

Nancy Hess, secondary education major, is a cheerleader, secretary of the sophomore class, member of FTA, JCA, and the Scout Staff. She has participated in All-Class Night and intramurals.

A feature editor of the Juniatian is Ann Willson, elementary ed major who is also a member of the FTA, Modern Dance, JCA Cabinet and is a cheer leader.

Four For Men's House

Contending for Men's House is Ferrill Alderfer or "Lefty", a business major, who is very active in baseball, intramurals, J Club and Tycoon Club.

Denny Birtcil, history major, includes among his activities the IRC and intramurals.

Also vieing for the position is Ray Ono, physics major, who is active in intramurals and the Underclassmen Committee and is technical director for WJC.

A business major, Reed Reynolds includes among his college activities intramurals and Tycoon Club.

Three Vie For Publications

George Fattman is one of the candidates for Publications. A journalism major, he is the Juniatian managing editor, Alfarata literary editor, assistant program chairman of WJC, Scout reporter and a member of the band.

A history major, Janice Hoyer,

Continued on Page 3

Ten Take Places On Honor Society

Ten junior and senior students have been elected members of the Juniata College Honor Society for this year.

Chosen predominantly for academic achievement, cultural interest and moral integrity are highly considered in electing each student. Those selected are, seniors Ann Appleby, Helen Sell and John Yates and uniors Larry Davis, Jackie Hayes, Dick Livingston, Jim Martin, Jim Stayer, Carol Titus and Joyce White.

These students are selected by the present members of the Honor Society and a faculty committee consisting of President Ellis, the Dean of the College, Dr. Binkley and Dr. Will.

Later this semester a banquet honoring these people will be arranged. A chapel exercise will also be held to present various awards and honors for formal recognition.

editorially speaking . . .

Class Apathy Poses Problem —

The Senate recently changed the method of electing class officers; under the new system officers will be nominated by petition, in much the same manner as Senate candidates, instead of at class meetings.

This action was taken because of the apathy apparent among the classes on the Juniata campus. When All-Class Night rolls around, almost everyone become a class chauvinist; after the loving cup is presented, however, this fanatic class loyalty disappears. The lack of spirit is quite evident in class functions. Everything is thrown together at the last possible minute, and only a few "old faithfuls" do the work.

The Senate felt that perhaps part of the blame belonged to the method of electing officers. Students generally think of class meetings as something to be avoided at all costs. Thus, when meetings have been called in the Spring to nominate candidates for officers, a handful of students show up and nominate the first person they happen to think of, without regard to qualifications or capability.

The classes have a surprising number of duties to execute, and it is the class officers who set the pace. Yet so many officers in the past who have been inefficient, even disinterested in their jobs. The Senate hopes that under this new system only those who really want the positions will run, and class organizations should be strengthened.

Class officers are not entirely to blame, however; they are hampered because nowhere have the duties been defined and set down. The Senate is attempting to remedy this situation, too. Within the next week, a handbook for class officers will be published. This book will contain information pertaining to class duties, or at least where to obtain such information. The handbook will be presented to each of the 12 class officers for the first time this Move-Up Day, and they will be passed on from year to year.

The new system of elections and the handbook should help to improve matters, but it is also up to the students to do their share of correcting this problem. All class dues should be paid—no class can operate without funds; class meetings should be attended, and the committee work and other assignments should be executed conscientiously. Finally, it is the duty of the class to elect capable officers.

Anyone wishing to run for a class office may obtain petitions from Bill Smith now, and they must be returned by Wednesday. Elections will be held next Friday.—Ed.

Pay Phones Aren't Paying —

In a recent informal discussion of the telephone situation here, John Fike, college treasurer explained that the reason there are so few pay phones is that they are not paying for themselves.

The telephone company requires a minimum daily return on each coinbox installed; if this amount is not collected, the institution in which the phone is located must make up the difference. Because of the numerous incoming calls and outgoing collect calls which tie up the dorm lines, the college always has to make up a difference.

Will Investigate

However, Mr. Fike has agreed that the matter merits investigation and has promised to look into it. Yet he does not see how the college can afford to install more phones unless the phones begin to pay for themselves or unless the students agree to pay for them.

In the meantime, it might alleviate conditions to some extent if women used the phone in the alcove for outgoing calls, letting the upstairs phone open to receive calls coming in. Also, if everyone remembered to limit his calls to five minutes, instead of tying up the few lines we do have, the need for more phones might not be so great.

For The Suggestion Box —

In a little over a month, comps will be here again, and again the annual gripes will be aired and many criticisms leveled at the system.

Perhaps comprehensives would not be such a burden to the students, if, instead of being given at the end of the senior year, they were given in the middle of the year. That way the student who is unfortunate to flunk his comps could take them again at the end of his senior year. He would still be able to graduate with his class and summer plans would not have to be disrupted.

This leeway would no doubt have relieved to some extent the tension which has already begun to mount. It is too late to implement this this year, but it might be a good idea to consider for the future, if comps are here to stay, as they inevitably are.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"EYESTRAIN — HE WROTE HIS CRIBNOTES SO SMALL HE COULD HARDLY READ 'EM."

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Nancy Freed

With the commencement of the mid-year and the accompanying mid-term exams and grades the Polytechnic Reporter raised the age-old question concerning the basis for grading a student. In America some professors ". . . grade on a strict numerical average; some on personal opinion; some on attendance; some on homework; most on a combination of these. In many foreign colleges the student is given a final grade on the basis of one, long comprehensive final. If the student has done his work, he will receive a passing grade. If he has loafed, he has cheated only himself. . . and the foreign colleges recognize this.

They believe that the college man is concerned with getting an education and he himself should have the full rseponsibility for his own learning. He makes the decision on how it is to be done. In America the student learns in the way the professor himself thinks best, which is at once evident by the way he grades. Therefore each student must have a different method of learning for each instructor and tends to depend on the instructor to set up the pattern. Such actions breed immaturity! It would be interesting to see some American college try the European way of teaching and grading.

Speaking of tests and grades brings to mind Buffalo University's idea of turn about fair play. The students are now working on a new final exam method to be used this semester. Exams will be made out by the students and the professors will try to get them beforehand.

(ACP) the United States' first privately supported graduate program exclusively devoted to the teaching of foreign attorneys about the American system of law and government has been initiated at the Southern Methodist University. It's called the Academy of American Law and has a $50,000 budget underwritten by the Hoblitzelle Foundation of Dallas. The first class is made up of 15 students from 12 nations. All have degrees in law and were judges, public prosecutors, legal advisors or practicing attorneys in their own countries. Upon completion of their studies at the Academy the foreign lawyers will receive master's degrees.

How's this for laughs and serious contemplation. From the "Humor Panel" column of Emory University's newspaper:

"Yes, I'll give you a job. Sweep out the store."

"But I'm a college graduate."

"Okay, I'll show you how."

As I See It . . . by George Fattman

After Elections: Let's Re-Unite

During the past several weeks and also the coming weeks students have been and will be taking sides to support candidates in the Senate and class elections.

Now, as this time comes to a close, we should start to think about and work toward unity in campus government. It is inevitable that everyone's candidates aren't elected, and nearly so that a "party" of candidates do not attain office in campus elections. Thus, the importance of unity should not be underplayed.

Unity is missing in many campus undertakings; think how much easier it would be to accomplish what we do if there were more unity in clubs and committees. Then you will realize how important unity is on the Senate and in the classes.

Fabulous Fair

Last Saturday evening's spring carnival was one of the greatest campus, in my estimation, and apparently many agree.

The number of students who came out for the event should establish this idea as a sure fire social affair at Juniata in years to come. Looking on at the finished product, we can hardly imagine the work that went in t decorating, procuring prizes and refreshments and making arrangements. The carnival was definitely a feather in the caps of the social committee and campus organizations.

Singing Commercial

Certainly the Touring Choir is a group of which all Juniatians can be proud. They are ambassadors from the college to the surrounding areas whose fine performances obviously impress their listeners.

It was enjoyable to listen to them in chapel recently. Now I think that it would be nice to hear the secular numbers that they sing. Perhaps in a future chapel?

Parting Shot

This is in keeping with looming mid-terms, which again are upon us:

Tests, tests everywhere
With drops and drops of ink
And never a prof who'll leav the room
And allow a guy to think.

(ACP)

McCOOK JUNIOR COLLEGE, Nebraska, students never need go broke.

The McCook Kiwanis Club sponsors a "buck board"—a bulletin board with 15 one-dollar bills on it. It hangs on the library wall and when a student needs a fast buck, he borrows one, replacing it with a slip of paper containing his name. When the dollar is returned, his name comes down. The board hasn't yet "run dry".

Sounds like a good idea, but our library can't even trust the students with books, much less bucks.

Accent On Reading

Religion On the Campus, by George P. Headley. A selection of sermons delivered at Mills College between 1952 and 1955 by the chaplain of the college. Although the author writes within an Episcopalian frame of reference, such topics as the meanings and means of prayer, Christian marriage, and religion and the natural sciences cross over denominational boundary lines and become universal. As one who regards religion not merely as a Sunday ritual but as a total approach to life Dr. Hedley speaks to a far larger audience than a student body.

The Juniatian

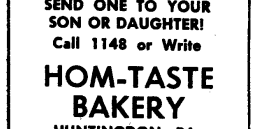
Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

The Juniatian is serviced by Associated Collegiate Press and Intercollegiate Press and is represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ..... Joan McClure
Managing Editor ..... George Fattman
Business Manager ..... George Beard
News Editor ..... Eleanor Newton
Sports Editor ..... Dave Suloff
Feature Editors ..... Ann Willson, Dave Amidon
Club Editor ..... Alice Waite

CAKES FOR BIRTHDAYS



Delicious-Decorated Delivered!

SEND ONE TO YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER!

Call 1148 or Write

HOM-TASTE BAKERY

HUNTINGDON, PA.

YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS WILL PLEASE THE ONE TO RECEIVE!

Hollywood Shop

GLOVES

DRESSES

KOUGHS JEWELRY STORE

Mens & Ladies Wallets

Watch Repairs

Jewelry

School and Office Supplies

PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS

Hixson's

Union National Bank Building

ART'S DINER

Best Home Cooking in Town

Greatest Hamburgs ever!

Smithfield

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE

600 Penn St.

EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT

Books—Leather Goods—Bibles

Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks

Store Hours 8 to 5

Candidates - -

Continued from Page 1

has been active in band, orchestra, Modern Dance and is a reporter for the Juniatian, Alfarata, Indian and is editor of the Scout.

Aliceann Wohlbruck, English and math major, has been active in Brigadoon, Touring Choir, WAA, FTA, the Juniatian and the publicity committee for the Glass Menagerie.

Dottie Stricker, candidate for Religious Activities, is an elementary ed major. She includes among her activities the Debate Club, Juniatian and Alfarata staffs, WAA, FTA, Social Responsibility chairman for the JCA cabinet and JWSF committee. She will student teach next year.

Phil Lankford, pre-med major, has participated in varsity golf, varsity tennis, orchestra, chapel choir, J Club, German Club, intramurals and has been president of the IVCF.

Roger Bennett, a history major, has been active in IRC, JCA, Mark H Productions and a staff reporter for the Juniatian and the Alfarata.

Two Try For Social Activities

Candidates for Social Activities include June Gray, elementary ed major, who is a member of the social committee, WAA, JCA, sub-frosh committee and was a solicitor in the JWSF campaign.

Bill Newman, history major, is a member of the social committee, assists on May Day Committee, set construction for the operetta and participates in intramurals.

Underclassmen—Three Vie

For Underclassman is Clint Betz, physics major. He includes in his activities the Debate Team, All-College Operetta, assistant director for the Glass Menagerie and the Juniatian newstaff.

Jim Montgomery, history major, is also a member of the Debate Club besides the JCA Cabinet and is a Juniatian columnist, a member of the cast of the Glass Menagerie and was chairman of the junior All-Class Night skit.

A business-administration major Dick Mumma is active in the Tycoon Club, the golf team, the sub-freshman committee for three years, the underclassmen committee and intramurals.

Four For Women's House

For Women's House is Eloise Holsinger, an elementary ed major who includes among her activities the FTA, WAA, JCA, proctoring for the Women's Dorm and cheerleading.

Norma Hottle, a biology major, is a member of the May Day Committee, Social Committee, WAA, JCA, Scalpel and Probe and German Club of which she is the secretary-treasurer.

Another candidate is Carol Olbrich, home ec major, who lists band, orchestra, JCA, Lambda Gamma, Alfarata and Masque among her activities.

The fourth is Lois Speice, a proctor in the Women's Dorm. An elementary ed major, she is a member of the Outing Club, WAA, JCA, FTA and the Masque.

MEN'S SPRING SPORT SHIRTS
LATEST STYLES AND COLORS
$1.95 $2.95
MURPHY'S

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Go Atlantic
To
HOOVERS ATLANTIC SERVICE
11th & Mifflin Sts.

Hotel Penn Hunt
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
11 A. M.—12 P. M.
BANQUET FACILITIES

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Buck's Laundry
614 6th Street
Phone 1320

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Guns
Bought and Sold
UPDYKES
SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsman"
608 Wash. St. Phone1688

Meet Me At
SKIP'S.... for Hot Coffee
and Sandwiches

Athletics Head Ok's Track Meet Schedule

Two triangular meets, three dual contests, the Penn Relays and the Middle Atlantic championships have been included on Juniata College's track schedule for the 1956 season announced last Friday by P. M. Snider, director of athletics and track coach.

In addition, Snider also disclosed that Juniata will be host to Central Pennsylvania high school trackmen in an invitational relay event scheduled here Saturday, April 21.

The Indian trackmen will open with power-packed St. Joseph's and Albright in a three-way meet at Philadelphia on April 14. The annual Bucknell-Gettysburg-Juniata meet is scheduled in Huntingdon on May 2.

Dual meet clashes with Lock Haven, Dickinson and Shippensburg again are included on the Juniata schedule.

Creeks, Wolvers Second To Whips

by Bill Ebner

As the IM basketball loop entered the homestretch this week, the Whips remained in the top position, as the Wolveines and McKees Creek tied for number two spot.

The Galloping Ghosts slipped to fourth place, losing to the Sunbrokers 62-51, and the Crusaders 43-38.

On Wednesday the Dukes rolled over the Ubangies 70-48, the Kourt Kats downed the Sr. Goofoffs 0-34, and McKees Creek took the Mumblers in a close 52-49 game. FR&M edged the JC Juniors 42-41, and the Rack Hounds lost to the Mighty Mites 47-46.

In Thursday's action the Jabberwockies downed the Pretzels 47-38, the Wolverinse romped the Court Jesters 69-39, and the Sr. Goof-offs forfeited to McKees Creek. The Rack Hounds nipped FR&M 46-42, the SOI was defeated by the 19th Holers 69-59, and the Creekers beat the Wolverines 41-35.

On Saturday the Dukes beat FR&M 49-41, the Mumblers rolled the Ubangies 80-38, and the Whips downed the Rack Hounds 82-50. The Galloping Ghosts lost 28-22 to the Jabberwockies as the Sr. Goof-offs outscored the JC Juniors 31-24.

In Tuesday's games the Kourt Kats trounced the Pretzels 52-46 and the Crusaders won a forfeit from the Sunbrookers. The JC Juniors edged the Court Jesters 48-44, and the Jabberwockies nipped the Ubangies 38-37.

MID-TERM GRADES

The final date for the mid-term is Wednesday, March 21 and grades will be available to the students following vacation.

Novices Will Debate In Pittsburgh Saturday

Tomorrow four members of the Debate Team will travel to Pittsburgh to participate in a Novice Tournament at the University of Pittsburgh. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Baheri.

Chuck Brown, a freshman pre-law major from Bellefonte and Charlie Martin, a senior business major from Chicago, Illinois, will present the affirmative case. Negative speakers will be Bill Smith, senior history major from Waynesboro, and Del McQuaide, sophomore pre-law major from New Kensington.

SUMMER TERM BULLETINS are available at the information window, according to Dean Mays.

Wolf Furniture Co.
Complete Home Furnishings
7th & Mifflin

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Hicks Leaves

College Has To Replace Entire Coaching Staff

The resignation of Bob Hicks as head coach at Juniata College wipes out the complete football staff.

The man who guided the Juniata football Indians to two unbeaten seasons and the greatest moment in Juniata sports history, a tie with Missouri Valley in the Tangerine Bowl, has resigned from College Hill.

Hicks disclosed last week-end that he had accepted the head coaching position in football and baseball at DePauw University. The ex-Penn State sensation is coaching DePauw's 14-day spring practice at the present time. He will return to Juniata to coach the Tribe's baseball team during completion next month.

Regrets Leaving

DePauw is located about 35 miles outside Indianapolis, Ind. Hicks and his family plan to make this their permanent residence in August. The coach says he is leaving Huntingdon with much regret, but the offer was too good to pass up.

DePauw has not been a football power in the recent years. Therefore, Hicks will have quite a challenge before him. The coach says he likes the enthusiasm DePauw's athletic department has been showing.

Larger School

DePauw is considerably larger than Juniata having an enrollment of approximately two thousand students. The Indiana school is affiliated with the Methodist Church.

With the resignation of Hicks, Juniata has now lost their entire football staff of last season. Joe Veto and Tony Segalovich departed at the termination of last semester. According to President Calvert Ellis applications will be received immediately by the college. He, also adds that Hicks successor will be chosen with extreme caution.

Commenting on the resignation of Bob Hicks as coach at Juniata, Dr. Calvert N. Ellis, president of Juniata, stated: "We have been very happy to have Coach Bob Hicks as a member of our faculty. Not only has he been a successful coach, but he has been a fine ambassador for Juniata College. Naturally, we are sorry to have him leave our staff, but we wish him Godspeed in his new assignment at DePauw."

WAA Representatives Participate In Play Day

Juniata's WAA sent about 25 girls to take part in Penn State University's annual Play Day, Saturday, March 10, at University Park.

The girls competed in basketball, volleyball, badminton, bowling, swimming, and modern dance. Four colleges took part in the Play Day activities. Penn State Bucknell and Lycoming participated along with Juniata. This afternoon affair was sponsored by Penn State's Women's Recreation Association.

Throughout the afternoon, competition was held in everything except modern dance. Juniata racked up a victory in a basketball game against the Lycoming girls. Following the sports activities, the girls were entertained at a buffet supper.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

FOR ONE WEEK ONLY—
16th THROUGH 23rd
Alto Sax Reeds reg. — 35¢
NOW 2 for 29¢
Clarinet Reeds—reg 25¢
NOW 2 for 38¢
plus state tax
Swartz Music Store
Corner 9th & Mifflin Sts.

AMES SHOP
DRESSES — COATS
SPORTSWEAR

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Service

Bernie will pay $1.00 for your original laugh, class or campus joke that will be printed in this weekly feature. BRING IN . . .
OR MAIL YOUR ENTRY TO
Swartz Jewelry Co.
717 Washington Street
Huntingdon, Penna.

Ivy League
(belted back)
Khaki Trousers
NOW
$3.95
at
Ray English Store
Next to the Clifton Theatre

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
For Your RCA VICTOR
SAVE - ON - RECORDS
COUPON BOOK GIVES YOU
3 FREE RCA VICTOR ALBUMS
and
SAVES YOU $24.00 ON NEW RELEASES
MILLER HARDWARE COMPANY

Club News

These clubs made the news this week.

Lambda Gamma

Officers for the new year were elected by Lambda Gamma last Monday night. They are as follows: president—Eva Wagner, vice-president—Kate Spangler secretary—Mary Rearick, and treasurer—Barbara Zoellin.

FTA

FTA will meet tonight at 7:15 in Room C. A comedy skit entitled "At St. Peter's Gate" (concerning the "divinity" of teachers) will be presented.

IVCF

Tonight in Founder's Chapel, IVCF will present a Bible Quiz in charge of Shirley Nace, Elaine Aitken, and George Hess. All are invited.

JCA

Next Tuesday night at 7:15 JCA will present a Catholic Lenten Service, "Stations of the Cross". Also here's a reminder that March 27 is scheduled for the All College Communion service.

ICC

Bouquets to Inter-Club Council for their work with the Social Committee in making the "Spring Carnival" a big success.

Campus Posts - -

Cont. from page 1

two minor and three unclassified; three minor and one unclassified; one minor and five unclassified, or seven unclassified offices at any one time.

The Senate decided to put this classification system under the supervision of the Senate vice-president.

HARRIS CLIFTON

NOW thru SAT.

'HELEN of TROY'

CINEMASCOPE and COLOR

— WITH —

An All Star Cast

* * * *

MON. - TUE. - WED.

THE MAJOR LAFF HIT OF THE SEASON

"The Lieutenant Wore Skirts"

— STARRING —

SHERREE NORTH

TOM EWELL

RITA MORENO

* * * *

Starts Thurs. Mar. 22

Danny Kaye as

"THE COURT JESTER"

HARRIS GRAND

'TODAY!! 2 Top Hits

JOHN LUND

WILLIAM BENDIX

in 'BATTLE STATIONS'

— also —

JAMES STEWART

JUNE ALLYSON

"The Stratton Story"

Around The World

by President Calvert N. Ellis, D. D.

The following article on the president's trip around the globe should have preceded last week's article, but the original of this report was lost in the Bombay riots.

Fortunately, the president kept a copy of the letter, which follows here.

Our six weeks in India are over and we are flying east in the morning. We came to India with Mr. Bulganin and the Russians and are leaving Bombay in the midst of riots! In the weeks between we have observed this ne wcountry attempting to move from the age of feudalism to the twentieth century in a five-year plan!

We came to India to counsel with the Church of the Brethren in India and visit with missionaries who represent the church here. We also have conferred with officers of the National Christian Council of India and representatives of other denominations. India is anxious to become independent not only economically but also religiously. According to present regulations no new American missionaries may enter the country.

India is only half as large as the United States but has twice as many people. We have spent most of our time here on the west coast within two hundred miles of Bombay. We have seen factories and textile mills in Amhedabad, the ashram where Mahatma Ghandi began his great work, the new universities which represent the great urge for education, and we have been in the hills and forests where the aborigines live and even by jeep we searched for a tiger!

India is a land of religions. Although the new constitution proclaims India a secular state with religious freedom, the public schools teach Hinduism and the government has a definite bias in that direction.

The great problems of India are over population, many languages, and conflict between the various religious communities. There are those who think that Mr. Nehru is interested in international affairs to build up the Indian people's prestige and turn their attention away from domestic problems.

In a population of three hundred and sixty million there are less than ten million Christians, about equally divided between Roman Catholics and Protestants.

There are ten thousand members of the Church of the Brethren in India.

The Protestants of North India are in the process of forming a United Church of North India of which the Church of the Brethren will be a part. Although the Indian Church is usually listed among the "younger churches" there is a strong tradition that Saint Thomas visited India. A representative of the Indian Church was present at the Council of Nicea in the third century.

When Vasco de Gama, the Portugese explorer, reached India in 1496 he found a vigorous church. This tradition continues in th Syrian Church of south India.

The mission of the Church of the Brethren in India was begun more than fifty years ago among orphans of a great famine. Most of the members are from the depressed classes in the villages of this part of western India. They are assuming increasing responsibility for their own church and the missionaries are here in the capacity of advisors and counsellors.

Denominational differences mean less in a country like India where the Christians are a small minority. It is a great joy to see the fellowship and cooperation which exists among them.

The city of Bombay has been torn by riots during the past week in protest against the central government's plan to change state lines.

The railroads have been disrupted, bombs and stones thrown and more than a hundred killed. There has been a curfew in most parts of the city and the stores and factories closed. We came down from the north on Thursday evening and wondered how we would be received.

A Presbyterian friend secured a police pass and in his own car at personal risk came by a round about way to the station to meet us. Through deserted streets we drove to the McDowell apartment and thanked the Lord for a safe journey. Billy Graham, the American Evangelist, was scheduled to address a mass meeting in the stadium last evening but the meeting was cancelled by the curfew. Instead unannounced he addressed a small meeting in the British section of the city yesterday morning.

We were privileged to hear him tell of his experiences in Cambridge University, England. He has rceeived a great deal of favorable publicity in the Indian newspapers.

During these past weeks our thoughts have often turned to College Hill. We wished that we might have been at Orlando and seen that magnificent game. We wished that we could have shared in the victory celebrations in Huntingdon! We can scarcely wait to see the plans for the women's residence hall.

We are grateful for all the gifts Juniata has received from foundations and individuals which will make our college stronger.

Harmony Week -

Cont. from page 1

radiance all about.

2. Let no hand go unshook, no back unslapped, no baby unkissed.
3. Always say "please".
4. Let mercy guide your judgement of those less fortunate than yourselves.
5. Let all be good, true, and beautiful.

After a trying week of virtue, we will all be refreshed by a return to our sordid ways.

THELMA'S

BLOUSES — SKIRTS

SPORTSWEAR

LINGERIE — MILLINERY

HOTEL

HUNTINGDON

Phone 830

Union National Bank and Trust Company

SINCE 1866

Member F. D. I. C.

Religious Activities

Catholics To Hold Lenten Service

by Barbara Walls

A special Lenten service to be held Tuesday in Founder's Chapel promises to provide something entirely new and different for most Juniatians.

The Catholic students on campus, as a special JCA activity, are presenting a Lenten service keyed to the Catholic instead of the Protestant order of worship. The service, although organized by the Catholic students, is for all Juniatians regardless of their religious faith.

Devotions will be centered around annual Catholic Lenten services called the Stations of the Cross, which consist of 14 stations or pauses that Christ made, starting from His conviction by Pontius Pilate up to His crucifixion and burial. Each station is accompanied by prayers of the people and the priest appropriate to that particular station. In the Catholic Church these devotions are held weekly during the Lenten season.

The JCA service Tuesday will be patterned after the Stations of the Cross service. Each station, 1 through 14, consists of short responses and prayers. Mimeographed sheets will be distributed among the students in order that they all may take part. Singing and musical presentations will also contribute to the devotions. Following Christ's way to the cross step by step will be a unique and gratifying experience.

Tuesday evening's event will be the first time for a Catholic religious service to be held on our traditionally Protestant campus. It is a tribute to the broad-mindedness and non-sectarian policy of the JCA. Open to all students, it will provide an excellent opportunity for Protestants to get an insight into the Catholic religion. Gaining a knowledge of various denominations is highly desirable, since by this method we can come to a better understanding of our own as well as a more sincere appreciation of those of others.

HEARD ON CAMPUS—"She has lots of intelligence, but she doesn't chose to waste it on academic interests."

Expert Watch Repair At Both Stores

Black's Jewelry

423 Penn St. 723 Wash. St.

Weaver Florist

G. Donald Fisher

Phone 431-J 211 5th St.

Flowers For All Occasions

ACCESSORIZE FOR SPRING WITH MATCHED FAN FARE

THESE ACCENTS IN DELICATE COLORS INSPIRED BY RARE JAPANESE FANS.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE OF— MEMOSA — SUNNY YELLOW LOTUS LEAF — NEW PALE AVOCADO — CHERRY BLOSSOM — ORANGE WITH A CORAL GLOW — GEISHA DRAMATIC TURQUOISE

WE HAVE ALL THESE BEAUTIFUL COLORS IN JEWELRY — FLOWERS GLOVES — BLOUSES AND MANY STYLES OF NECKWARE

Danks & Co.

More Fun!

In the company of friends homeward bound you can make it a "party" all the way. There's room to roam, time to visit, and nothing to worry about.

More Comfort!

Restful coaches, loads of luggage space, refreshments and swell meals en route. No tough driving on crowded highways. No waiting for skies to clear. Yessir, the train is tops in transportation!

What Savings!

Give yourself a "Scotch treat" by teaming up with two or more friends bound for your home town. On trips of 100 miles or more, you'll each save 25% on round-trip coach tickets using GROUP ECONOMY FARES!* And here's another bargain! Round up 25 or more to travel long-distance together on the same homeward train. Then return singly or together, and you each save 28% of regular round-trip fare.

Except for local travel between New York-Washington and points east of Lancaster, Pa.*

See your travel or ticket agent NOW! Ask about these big money saving plans!

EASTERN RAILROADS

Department Editors Of '57 Alfarata, Organization Officers
CAMPUS DIRECTORY, P. 4

The Juniatian

Elect May Queen, Court, Prince Charming
TUESDAY

Vol. 32 No. 21 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 13, 1956

Miss Doyle Begins Tour; Will Present Pygmalion

by Clint Betz

Miss Esther M. Doyle, associate professor of English here, left campus to begin a tour this past Monday, April 9.

● Miss Esther M. Doyle On Tour ●

The tour will cover a period of two weeks and will cover three states. This is the fifth such tour Miss Doyle has undertaken under the auspices of the arts program of the Association of American Colleges.

For her program this year, Miss Doyle will use scenes from Pygmalion, the well-known play of George Bernard Shaw. The drama dealing with the efforts of a cockney flower girl to learn to speak and act like a duchess, is typical of Shaw's acid humor, and those who have been fortunate to hear Miss Doyle's reading know how well she captures the spirit of the work.

Her tour will take her to Salem College and West Virginia Wesleyan in West Virginia, Union College and Kentucky Wesleyan are scheduled in Kentucky, while her only Missouri stop will be Tarkio College.

Previous tours covered: Tennessee and Arkansas, 1948-49; Kansas, fall of 1953; Indiana, spring 1953; and last year she was in Virginia and New York.

During Miss Doyle's absence from campus her classes have been taken over by Dean Mays, Professor Felton and Miss Dickey.

Debaters Defeat Runner-up Wilkes

Last weekend four members of the debate team won three matches at the state championship tournament at Bucknell.

High point of the tournament for Juniata was the victory scored over Wilkes by the negative team of Jim Stayer and Newton Taylor. This was one of the two debates lost by Wilkes, defeated in the finals by Pitt men.

The negative team also was awarded a forfeit victory over the University of Pennsylvania. The affirmative team of Dave Amidon and Dick Backus defeated Dickinson.

This afternoon 10 members of the team will go to Dickinson to participate in the annual Dickinson Novice Tournament. These first-year debaters will make the trip: affirmatives Chuck Martin, George Carnahan, Dale Howe and Bill Redpath and negatives Bill Smith, Del McQuaide, Carl Wass, and Jackie Hayes.

Backus and Taylor will accompany the debaters and act as judges.

Breakfast Chairmen Release Committees

The traditional May Day Breakfast at which time the May Queen, May Court and Prince Charming are to be revealed will be held Thursday, April 26 at 7:15 a. m. with classes starting at 8:30 and the usual break between 10 and 10:30 omitted.. .

Girls' only will attend the breakfast, however, since the boys will eat at an earlier time.

Co-chairmen Sue Fawcett and Sandy Johnson report that plans and preparations for the event are being made by the following committees and their chairman: properties, Sue Vandenburg; programs, Joan McClure; favors, Bonnie Gunther; backdrop, Jackie Rowland; center pieces, Kerin Narbut; invitations, Aileen Wright food and menu, Becky Guyton; entertainment, Barb Orner; table list, Miss McClure; advertisement, Bev Condit and miscellaneous details, Sue Paxton.

Carnahan To Be Juniatian Bus. Mgr.; Bennett Will Head Circulation Dept.

The faculty committee on publications this week approved George Carnahan to replace George Beard as business manager of the Juniatian.

Carnahan has named Roger Bennett to assist him as circulation manager.

A business major from Dayton, Ohio, Carnahan is also program director of WJC, president of the Masque, vice president of the class of '57 and business manager of the debate team.

Bennett, a history major from South Orange, N. J., is a history education major. He represents the International Relations Club on the Inter-club Council. He is also a member of JCA, FTA, Mark H Productions committee, the Alfarata literary staff and the Juniatian news staff.

Carnahan will assume the duties sometime during the coming month and will be assisted by Beard. Bennett does not have a predessor on the staff since the circulation manager position was assumed by Beard during the past year.

Class Dues Day will be Tuesday, April 17, for all classes except the Senior class.

George Carnahan
● Holds Paper's Purse ●

Better Phone Service Lies Ahead

Campus Lovelies -- Who Will Be Queen?

From among the above eleven senior coeds, the entire student body will elect a May Queen and Maid of Honor next Tuesday. Seated are Barbara Phennicie, Joyce Warfel, Maggie Simms, and Nancy Freed. Those standing include Nancy Philips, Joan Knapp, Maryjane Bridenbaugh, Janice Mertz, Mimi Lehman, Donna Apple, and Ann Appleby. All students will also elect Prince Charming, while each class will vote separately for its two representatives to the May Court. Photo by Davis

McCorkle To Speak Monday In Founders Day Observance

by Barbara Zoellin

Founders Day this year will feature Lloyd W. McCorkle, warden of the New Jersey State Prison at Trenton, as its guest speaker.

McCorkle is a graduate of Juniata College, class of 1940, and is widely known as a penologist.

Founders Day is an annual event commemorating the founding of Juniata College on April 17, 1876, in a building still intact at 14th and Washington Streets. Here classes began with one instructor and three pupils.

In a chapel service, April 16, a a hymn will be sung in honor of the late William Beery of Elgin, Illinois, the oldest living alumnus of Juniata College who passed away this winter.

The Faculty Club will be the scene of a tea, April 17, where six new members will be honored this year as having given 10 years of service to Juniata College. The new members are Miss Esther Doyle, A. W. Engel, Dr. T. F. Henry, Miss Marjorie Johnston, Herbere A. Miller. and Miss Hilda Nathan.

JCA Schedules Hymn Hike Tues.

by Barbara Walls

JCAers have planned something new and different for their meeting Tuesday—a worship hike for the purpose of combining recreation and devotions.

Leaving Founders porch at 7:15 Tuesday evening, they plan to spend about an hour on the hike, which they are confident will be accompanied by fair weather.

Bryan Stauffer and Dick Livingston will lead the expedition, which will culminate in games, songs and a worship service.

For an added attraction, refreshments will be served. Old clothes are in order and something to sit on, if you like. For a psychological break which promises both recreation and worship in the out of doors, come to JCA's worship hike Tuesday evening.

Medical Schools Take Thirteen JC Students

Thirteen Juniata students have been enrolled in the health professional schools of medical technology, dentistry and medicine for the next year.

Josie Marie Amatulli will enter Jefferson Hospital and Shirley Dixon, the Reading Hospital in medical technology. Bernie Cohen and Paul Heart are enrolled at Pitt and Dick Murphy at Western Reserve in dentistry. In medicine Brad Nicholas has been admitted to Temple, Don Davis and Frank DeRusso to Hahnemann, and Bob Bridenbaugh, Barry Montgomery, John Pelan, Phil Volk, and Bill West to Jefferson.

Sat. Social Features Gregory Peck, Dance

June Gray, chairman of social activities, announced that the motion picture, Gentlemen's Agreement, will be shown in Oller Hall tomorrow evening at 8:15. The picture features Gregory Peck.

Dancing in the women's gym will follow. However, due to a mix up in scheduling, there is a possibility that the movie will not be shown.

— CHAPEL —

April 16 — Founder's Day
April 18 Rev. J. D. Lister, Baptist Church.
April 20 — Dr. Haratounian — McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Taylor Reports Administration's Proposed Plans

Recent Senate investigations by a committee headed by Vice President Newton Taylor revealed that the insufficient telephone serivce in campus residence halls, originally pointed out in the Juniatian, will be somewhat improved in the future.

John Fike, college treasurer, told the committee of tenative plans for another phone to be installed in the west entrance hall of the men's dorm on north campus and also one in the arch of the Cloister.

Taylor in his report to the Senate last night called for Senate approval of a petition to Fike for another telephone for the women's dormitories. If and when such a phone is installed, there will be one phone for each 60 students (app.).

Long Talkers

To combat those who insist on monopolizing public telephones, the committee will look into placing time limits on phone calls. Fifteen minutes was suggested as a considerable limit. The committee will attempt to have this regulation enforced by automatic timers, if such a service is to be had.

Nominal Cost

Since the committee feels that the cost of additional telephones is nominal and since the telephone company, according to Fike, "is looking for more pay phone business," it has advised the Senate to urge the adminis-

Continued on Page 4

Mays Releases Studies Report

Dean Mays released for publication earlier this week the faculty approved report on applied studies as recently prepared by the academic policy committee.

At present there are three general areas of applied studies on campus: music, English and sociology. The conditions governing the award of credit in each of these areas are stated in the catalog.

According to the report, "the faculty reaffirms its position that credit for applied studies is justified in the specified areas only when faculty supervision is a constant feature of the activity."

Furthermore, the faculty defines the limits of eligibility for applied studies credit in terms of both quality and quantity as follows.

1. Credit for private instruction in music remains as is.
2. When certified by the faculty director, students may receive one hour per term for participation in choral or instrumental organizations' programs not less than an average of two hours per week.
3. Journalism and debate credits require an average of two hours work per week, and will be given according to conditions stated in the catalog.
4. In the case of dramatics, account will be taken of relative degrees of importance within the creative aspects of dramatic production. Minor participation may receive fractional credit to accumulate over the terms.
5. In the case of applied sociology, credit may be earned upon petition to the academic policy committee prior to the undertaking. The petition should contain an outline of the proposed work and should be accompanied by a statement of approval from the agency and the instructor responsible for supervising the study.

From The Editor's Notes

Although it is a little late to run a complete review of the Glass Menagerie, it would certainly be a shame if the Juniatian were to let such a fine production pass without even a word of commendation.

The acting and directing were superb, to say the least, and the unique set, lighting, and background music were also tremendously effective. Publicity for the play was especially well handled, too. All in all, the production was topnotch, in the estimation of many one of the best seen at Juniata, at least by this student generation.

Isn't it a shame, though, that not even all of the students availed themselves of the opportunity to support this dramatic undertaking, if not with their services at least with their attendance?

* * *

While passing out bouquets, we can't forget the hundred odd Juniata men, some of whom stayed out all night, who volunteered their services to the seacrh parties for the lost Debbie Henney.

However, it has been pointed out that several men who wanted to join the search were unable to because they were not made aware of the incident. It was suggested that a general alarm system (vocal alarm), headed by an especially appointed student, might be of service in the future emergencies. Perhaps the Senate could look into this matter.

* * *

Complaints have been heard from New Dorm residents that the college requires persons having personal lamps in their rooms to equip them with static eliminators, yet the flourescent lights in the dorm are not equipped with such eliminators. At times the static has proved quite annoying to radio listeners there.

* * *

Thanks to the college for the promise of more phone service for men, but let us not forget about the distaff side of the campus either. The alterations made in the day students' room have reportedly made an improvement, too. Those still dissatisfied with the set up should keep in mind that plans for the new girls' dorm call for a new day students' room as well.

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Nancy Freed

A Norwegian gentleman who last year served as an exchange student to Dickinson College recently wrote a very interesting letter to the Dean of the College. In speaking of various facets of college life at Dickinson and in America as a whole, he made some very pointed statements concerning the methods and techniques so readily accepted in our country which are nevretheless amazing and incredulous when seen through the eyes of a foreigner. Gregusson's letter might have been addressed to Juniata College as well as to Dickinson.

". . .But it struck (me) how strange a great deal of the student body could act. One day they would be extremely nice and considerate. . .the next day they might pass us on the street without a "hi", without a smile, just as if we'd never seen the person before. . .Americans are very busy. They are very easy to get to know, superficially. But the heart that's beating under his teashirt, and the brain that's working under his crew cut, is hardest to get at.

Chapel For Devotion?

". . .Another thing the surprised me, especially in the beginning, was your chapel hours. I thought chapel was for devotion, and therefore I was surprised to hear common talks and speeches from the pulpit. . . And I would wonder why we were required to attend a certain number of chapel hours in the semester. Aren't the students old enough, or grown up enough, to go to chapel when they feel like it? Sometimes I felt I could have spent my time in another lucrative way than go to hear a most boring talk.

". . .I was surprised to see how the professors used to check the attendance. I always figure a student goes to college because he wants to go there, not because the professor likes to see him there. The student is working for his own future—if he does not feel like going to classes, he is not grown up enough to work for his own future yet and he should not be in college."

All American

(ACP) The longest string of All American yearbooks in the nation remained unbroken this year with the announcement that the 1955 Royal Purple of Kansas State College has been awarded another All American rating by the Associated College Press. It's the twentieth year in a row that the Royal Purple has been given a rating among the top yearbooks of the country.

The Miami Hurricane has decided to look for the ideal professor. In the description of its search, the following excerpt is is worth noting: "Of all the facets of campus life, from extracurricular activities to class work, little recognition is given to the most important job on a campus—teaching. The instructor comes to class, helps the student to learn, then goes home to grade papers. And yet the job he has done will carry far more significance when the student graduates than all the football letters, beauty queen titles and honorary shingles." Think of these words of wisdom the next time you're ready to tear down a professor, cut his class, or mimic his methods.

From the Mailbag

I have been watching things on this campus for almost two years, and I feel that it is about time we (the student body) . . . should sponsor a sort of social reform. I realize that Juniata is a small college, and, as such, is subject to all of the social infirmities brought about by its size. However, there are several social circumstances which should be brought to light.

1. Why should a fellow be romantically linked to any coed simply because he dates her a few times? This is not only embarrassing to the parties involved, but also a jump to a serious conclusion.

2. There is a very elaborate "grapevine" on College Hill. A grapevine is a plant which starts at ground level and grows to be a large, gnarled, and grotesque thing. This is precisely what happens to any bit of information, no matter how innocent at the start, which gets on the grapevine. . . .

3. At dances (in the women's gym) students have complained about the amount of light. This situation could be overcome, I think, if several blue lights were used, instead of the two glaring white bulbs now used. . . .

4. Lastly, dancing itself has been criticized. If there ever was any place for individualism, this is it. However, any couple who doesn't do the traditional two step wake up the next morning to find themselves the subject of wise cracks and even ridicule by their fellow students.

These are truly abominable conditions which have been prevalent on College Hill for a long time. They can be corrected, but it will take cooperation. Let's make Juniata less socially reactionary.

An interested bystander

CAMPAIGN POSTERS

Having talked about this subject with several fellow students, I decided to bring it to the attention of the entire student body.

The subject is campaign posters. This year they reached ridiculous proportions. Besides seeming to litter up the campus, quite a few of them are destructive when they are thoughtlessly either tacked or nailed to trees. One of the present campaign rules states:

(a). Nothing in the dining hall.

(b). Nothing inside or on the doors of Totem Inn.

(c) Nothing in the Social Rooms or the Administrative area of Founders Hall.

Obviously this rule exists to prevent defacing of College property. Webster refines defacing as "to destroy or mar the face or appearance of."

Unremoved tacks in trees certainly do not improve the appearance of trees. Since they are college property too, it seems about time that something is done about marring our campus.

There seem to be several solutions. One is to abolish campaign posters, since privileges are usually removed when they are abused. The second solution is to permit each candidate only several signs with designated places for the erection of these signs.

Phil Volk

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"AND THE SECOND THING YOU SHOULD LEARN TO DO IS TO TAKE CRITICISM"

Bard's Comments Apply On Campus

(ACP) — Someone at Kansas State College did a little digging and came up with these Shakesperian comments on college life:

Studying in the library: "More light, you knaves; and turn the tables up, and quench the fire, the room is grown too hot." Romeo and Juliet.

Cramming at 3 a. m.: "How weary, flat, stale and unprofitable seems to be all the uses of the world." Hamlet.

Cramming at 7 a. m.: "It is not for your health thus to commit your weak condition to the raw cold morning." Julius Caesar.

Fountain pen leaks: "Out, damned spot! Out, I say!" Macbeth.

ATTENTION SENIORS

Today is Senior Class Dues Day. With a deficit in the class treasury and bills mounting it is necessary that every senior cooperate in this matter by liquidating his or her debt. Payment can be made in Totem Inn after noon and evening meals.

Senior Class Officers

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ..... Joan McClure
Managing Editor ..... George Fattman
Business Manager ..... George Carnahan
News Editor ..... Eleanor Newton

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Wolf Furniture Co.
Complete Home Furnishings
7th & Mifflin

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
Smithfield

AMES SHOP
DRESSES — COATS
SPORTSWEAR

Weaver Florist
G. Donald Fisher
Phone 431-J 211 5th St.
Flowers For All Occasions

MISSES' KNEE-HIGH NYLON HOSE — 60 Gauge
88¢ a pair
MURPHY'S

Buck's Laundry
614 6th Street
Phone 1320

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Union National Bank and Trust Company
SINCE 1866
Member F. D. I. C.

Frosh Get Highest Score In Meet

by Chuck Brown

Showing good all-around depth, the class of 1959 copped top honors in the Interclass Track Meet, Tuesday afternoon.

The freshmen nudged out the sophomores for first place by compiling 55 points to the sophs' 49 1/3. The seniors and juniors were far behind with 23 and 15 2/3 points, respectively.

The 13 track and field events were run off in almost ideal weather. Throughout the afternoon, some very good marks were posted. Dick Lantzy, class of '58, was the high point man of the meet as he gained 16 points for his class. Senior Al Nyce was a close second with 15 points. Freshman Lew Stratton tallied 11 points and Herb Layman, class of '57, garnered 10 points.

High Hurdles

Layman won the mile run in the time of 4:57. Freshman Herb Deuchar turned in a 55.8 second clocking as he won the 440 yard run. Lantzy copped first place in the 70 yard high hurdles in 10 seconds.

Lantzy followed up his victory in the hurdles with a first place in the 100 yard dash. His time was 10.9 seconds. Layman took his second first place of the day in the half mile run. His time was 2:13. Chuck Brown, class of '59, raced to victory in the 220 yard dash in 25.7 seconds. In the last running event of the meet, Stratton won the 120 low hurdles with a clocking of 14.6 seconds.

Shot Put, Javelin

Nyce dominated the field events as he grabbed three first places. He won the discuss with a toss of 119 ft. 8 1/2 in. He won the shot put and the javelin with heaves of 40 ft. 8 3/4 in. and 151 ft. 9 in., respectively. The high jump was won by senior Sonny Kaylor with a leap of 5 ft. 7 in. Charlie Passmore, class of '59, won the pole vault as he cleared 10 ft. 6 in.

Sophomore Bob Kimble jumped 19 ft. 5 in. to cop the top spot in the broad jump.

SPRING SPORTS SCHEDULES in four sports at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., show a total of 47 events.

TORRY FROISLAND, senior court ace for Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa., won the "most valuable player" award in a post season YMCA basketball tourney in Altoona, Pa.

Girls' IM Stars -- The Red Devils

Here are the Red Devils, winners in the women's IM tourney. In the first row are Alice Waite, "Squeege" Holsinger, Nan Heller and Nancy Philips. Behind them are Joyce Warfel, Kass Keeler, Joann Hutchison and Jane Summy.

Top Team In Men's IM -- The Whips

Having a 16-2 season, the Whips took the men's IM basketball crown for this season. Members of the team pictured above include Don Miller and Arnold Olt (kneeling) and Neil Beefelt, Ken Passnacht and Jay Bowser (standing).

Golfers Defeat Shippensburg In Exhibition Match Tuesday

Juniata's veteran golf team won its first match of the season Tuesday, defeating the Red Raiders of Shippensburg State Teachers College in an exhibition game, 8-4.

Under the tutelage of coach Bill Germann, and led by five returning lettermen, the JC linksmen dropped only two matches in the eight man contest.

Bill West, Juniata's most valuable golfer of 1955, won the first position contest, finishing the first nine holes in a par 35. John Staley, playing in the second man slot, lost a 3-2 match, shooting 82 for 18 holes, and Barry Montgomery, former letter winner, won a 6-4 game with an 86 count. Jim Cain and Dick Hite, also JC lettermen, won the fourth and fifth place spots respectively. Cain turned in an 86 score, and Hite shot a par 35 for the first nine holes, 78 for eighteen.

Dick Mumma tied at sixth spot with 87 strokes. Bill Keay lost a 3-2 match, and Charles (Moon) Mullen tied in the number eight position.

Keith Birmingham, Juniata's regular second-spot man was not able to play, but he will see action Thursday when the linksmen venture to Morgantown to meet the University of West Virginia.

Spring Sports In Full Swing

by Bill Mariotti

Juniata's spring sports calendar is now in full swing.

The golf team opened their season yesterday at West Virginia, while the tennis team makes their debut at Elizabethtown tomorrow. Both squads are very confident of winning seasons.

The golf team, with five returning lettermen, is expected to have an extremely successful season. They have good indication of their prowess in succumbing Shippensburg in an exhibition game earlier in the week. The five lettermen mentioned above are Bill West, Keith Birmingham, Jim Cain, Barry Montgomery and Dick Hite. The sixth man for the Germannmen will be John Staley.

It has not yet been disclosed exactly who will be the Juniata participants on the tennis team. Three of the big men will undoubtedly be letterwinners Phil Lankford, Dan Raffensperger and Don Ruhl. The netmen have a rough eight game schedule with such formidable opponents as Pitt and Penn State.

The Charity Ball will be held on Friday, May 18 in the Memorial Gymnasium with Ray Eberle's Orchestra.

Final IM Standings

	W	L
Whips	17	2
McKees Creek	16	3
Wolverines	15	4
Mumblers	15	4
Jabberwockies	13	6
Galloping Ghosts	13	6
Sunbrookers	12	7
Crusaders	12	7
Dukes	12	7
19th Holers	11	8
Pretzels	10	9
Kourt Kats	8	11
Ubangies	8	11
Rack Hounds	7	12
Mighty Mites	6	13
S.O.I.	5	14
F. R. & M	5	14
Senior Goof-offs	2	17
J. C. Juniors	2	17
Court Jesters	0	19

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
Bing Crosby — Donald O'Connor
Mitzi Gaynor — Jean Marie
— IN —
ANYTHING GOES
Technicolor and Vista Vision
MON. - TUE. - WED.
A PICTURE OF VERY SPECIAL GREATNESS
"MIRACLE IN THE RAIN"
— WITH —
Jane Wyman — Van Johnson
Peggie Castle — Fred Clark
STARTS THURSDAY
APRIL 19
"The Man With The Golden Arm"
— WITH —
Frank Sinatra — Kim Novak

HARRIS GRAND 2 FEATURES
NOW thru SAT.
"LET'S MAKE UP" Color
Errol Flynn — Anna Neagle
— PLUS HIT NO. 2 —
"KILLER'S KISS"

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Service

Ivy League
(belted back)
Trousers
$3.95 & $4.95
Tan, Gray and Black
at
Ray English Store
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Guns
Bought and Sold
UPDYKES
SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsman"
608 Wash. St. Phone1688

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn St.
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Books—Leather Goods—Bibles
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

Hotel Penn Hunt
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
11 A. M.—12 P. M.
BANQUET FACILITIES

your college florist
Woodring's Floral Gardens
8th & Washington St.
Phone 1141

KOUGHS JEWELRY STORE
Mens & Ladies Wallets
Watch Repairs
Jewelry

Go Atlantic
To
HOOVERS ATLANTIC SERVICE
11th & Mifflin Sts.

Meet Me At
SKIP'S.... for Hot Coffee
and Sandwiches

Commencement Choir To Do 'Elijah' June 3

All singers on Juniata's campus are invited to join with the JC Choir and the Chapel Choir for the presentation of the annual Commencement Chorus.

The only requirements for joining are a voice and regular attendance.

The selection to be sung this year is the oratorio Elijah by Mendelssohn. Faculty and students are invited to attend. Rehearsals will be held in Oller Hall.

Club News

Camera

There will be a meeting of the Camera Club next Thursday. Kodak film, Behind Your Snapshot, which tells of film productions, will be shown.

FTA

Tonight at 7:15 a business meeting of the FTA will be held in Room C to discuss the May Day project and to plan the annual banquet.

IVCF

All members of IVCF will meet in Founder's Chapel tonight. They will then leave for Altoona where they will attend a Missionary Conference.

JCA Collects Clothes

Responding to an emergency plea from the American Friends Service Committee, the JCA went into prompt action and conducted a clothing drive two days before the Easter vacation.

Two hundred and fifty pounds of clothing were collected and were sent to the warehouse in Philadelphia.

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash. St.

Special Purchase
Clutch Handbags
Mfg. Close Out
Plastic, Calf and Patent
$1.29
Danks & Co.

CAKES FOR
BIRTHDAYS

Delicious-Decorated Delivered!
SEND ONE TO YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER!
Call 1148 or Write
HOM-TASTE BAKERY
HUNTINGDON, PA.
YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS WILL PLEASE THE ONE TO RECEIVE!

Organ Students Render Recitals Over Weekend

This week end in Oller Hall two student organ recitals will be held.

The first recital will occur on Saturday at 1 p. m. Bonnie Brumbaugh, Sue An Brandt, Edith Lum, Marian Sue McElwee, Mary Snyder, E. J. Stutzman and Peter Wright will participate.

On Sunday at 2 p. m. the second recital will be held. Those performing will be Sam Douglas, Nancy Grace, Lois Guildin, Alice Jean Hoffman, Kathryn Holsinger, Richard Livingston, Margaret Sims and Marlene Sterner. Included in this program will be two organ-piano duets rendered by Nancy Grace and Kathryn Holsinger and Sam Douglas and Peter Wright. All are invited to attend.

Election, One Runoff Decide JCA Council

After a run-off election, here are the results of the JCA Council elections.

Bryan Stauffer was elected to the position of Bible and Doctrine; Dick Livingston for Worship; Ramon Burkett, Ecumenical emphasis, and Stan Davis was chosen for personal guidance. On the distaff side of the roster are Lois Guilden, evangelism and missions; Shirley Nace, Christian vocations; Carol Jenkins who won the vie for recreation; Evelyn Brehm, chosen for applied Christianity, and Lee Davidson who was elected for higher education.

Senate —

Cont. from page 1

tration to act.

Disciplinary Court

At its April 5 meeting the Senate appointed Dr. Crosby advisor. A committee of Jim Stayer (ch.), Taylor, Kerin Narbut and Ray Ono was appointed to consider the proposed disciplinary committee.

Stayer called the proposed court "the most important of the inherited projects" and added that its concepts "should be thoroughly understood." The Senate committee will consider additions to the document, prepare to present it to the student body, consider recommendations from President Ellis on improving it and work out details of an educational program concerning it.

May Day Band

A committee headed by June Gray is attempting to procure an outside band for the May Day dance so that members of the college dance band will not have to play for it. By a unanimous decision the Senate decided to have dining hall announcements posted after each meal in the men day students' room and Totem Inn for the benefit of day students and others who do not go to meals. The Juniatian news staff will handle this service.

CAMPUS DIRECTORY

Senate
President—Jim Stayer
Vice President—Newton Taylor
Secretary—Phyllis Marcocci
Treasurer—Bill Hershberger

Chairmanships
Athletics—Doug Wilson
General Activities—Ann Willson
Men's House—Ray Ono
Publications—George Fattman
Religious Activities—Kerin Narbut
Social Activities—June Gray
Underclassmen—Dick Mumma
Women's House—Eloise Holsinger

Class of 1957
President—Jim Corrigan
Vice President—George Carnahan
Secretary—Nancy Bachman
Treasurer—Henry Gibbel

Class of 1958
President—Glenn Hassinger
Vice President—Don Aurand
Secretary—Nancy Raver
Treasurer—Fred Ross

Class of 1959
President—Chuck Brown
Vice President—Pete Fahrney
Secretary—Janice Christie
Treasurer—Ann Larkin

Alfarata
Editor in Chief—Larry Davis
Business Mgr.—Skip Oesterling
Asst. Editor—Bill Adams
Advising Editor—Carol Newborg
Class Editors—Ginny Nixdorf, Jackie Rhodes
Club Editor—Carol Titus
Sports Editors—Dave Suloff, Chuck Brown
Layout Editor—Alice Waite
Literary Editor—Ross Nahrgang

Juniatian
Editor—Joan McClure
Managing Ed.—George Fattman
News Editor—Eleanor Newton
Feature Editors—Ann Willson & Dave Amidon
Sports Editor—Dave Suloff
Club Editor—Alice Waite
Business Mgr.—George Carnahan
Circulation Mgr.—Roger Bennett

Scout
Editor—Janice Hoyer
Advertising Mgr.—Jay Muir
Business Mgr.—"Doc" Kramer

WJC-IBC
Program Director—George Carnahan
Technical Director—Ray Ono
Asst. Program Director—George Fattman
Asst. Technical Director—Lou Palumbo

Art Club
President—June Gray
Sec.-Treas.—Jan Schall

Camera Club
President—Stan Davis
Vice President—Ray Ono
Sec.-Treas.—Ray Burkett

Chemistry Club
President—Bob Chamberlin
Vice President—Larry Davis
Sec.-Treas—Kerin Narbut

Debate
President—Dave Amidon
Bus. Mgr.—George Carnahan

FTA
President—Carol Titus
Vice President—Rebecca Guyton
Secretary—Helen Schmidlen
Treasurer—Joseph Senft

German Club
President—Spencer Ward
Vice President—Phil Lankford
Sec.-Treas.—Barbara Zoellin

IRC
President—Flo Wenzel
Vice President—Dick Lantzy
Sec.-Treas.—Marianne Donadio
Hostess—Marian Fairbairn

IVCF
President—George Hess
Vice President—Shirley Nace
Secretary—Lois Guildin
Treasurer—Charlie Haines
Missionary Sec.—Darlene Deshong

J-Club
President—Lefty Alderfer
Vice President—Henry Gibbel
Sec.-Treas.—Glenn Hassinger

JCA
President—Kerin Narbut
Sec.-Treas.—Eleanor Newton
Publicity—Dave Amidon
Christian Heritage—Charlie Haines
World Relatedness—Phil Lankford
Personal Campus Affairs—Rosalie Langer
Social Responsibility—Dottie Stricker

Juniata Choir
President—Ken Rockwell
Secretary—Jacque Rowland
Treasurer—Dick Livingston
Business Mgr.—Larry Landes
Asst. Business Mgr.—Janet Binkley
Publicity—Aileen Wright

Juniata Orchestra
President—Shirley Nace
Sec.-Treas.—Janet Binkley

Lambda Gamma
President—Eva Wagner
Vice President—Kate Spangler
Secretary—Mary Rearick
Treasurer—Barbara Zoellin

Masque
President—George Carnahan
Vice President—Dick Backus
Secretary—Judy Gearhart
Treasurer—Marjorie White
Technical Director—Ted Hetrick

Modern Dance
President—Lil Weimar
Secretary—Ruth Perestam

Scalpel and Probe
President—Jim Corrigan
Vice President—Larry Davis
Sec.-Treas.—Edwina Lantz

Outing Club
President—Rex Donnelly
Vice President—Arnold Mower
Sec.-Treas.—Lois Davis

Pyrenees Club
President—Joyce Ann White
Vice President—Nonnye Huddleston
Sec.-Treas.—John Bowser

Sigma Gamma
President—Alice Waite
Vice President—Harry Campbell
Sec.-Treas.—Shirley Nace

Tycoon Club
President—Bill Hershberger
Vice President—Reed Reynolds
Sec.-Treas.—Henry Gibbel

Vets
President—Tom Woodrow

WAA
President—Jeannette Lowe
Vice President—Eloise Holsinger
Secretary—Jo Ann Hutchinson
Treasurer—Sandy Cohick

Standing Stone Grotto
President—Jack Barger
Vice President—Phil Shriner
Sec.-Treas.—Nan Winters
Equipment Mgr.—Ted Hetrick

School
and
Office Supplies
PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS
Hixson's
Union National Bank Building

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
For Your RCA VICTOR
SAVE - ON - RECORDS
COUPON BOOK GIVES YOU
3 FREE RCA VICTOR ALBUMS
and
SAVES YOU $24.00 ON NEW RELEASES
MILLER HARDWARE COMPANY

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

"I feel like a Coca-Cola, Do you?"

Of course. 'Most everyone does—often. Because a few moments over ice-cold Coca-Cola refresh you so. It's sparkling with natural goodness, pure and wholesome—and naturally friendly to your figure. Feel like having a Coke?
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Altoona Bottling Company, Altoona, Pa.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Saturday night . . .
Campus To Go Vagabond

Bright clothing and a vivacious, carefree air will lend color to the sophomore's Gypsy Caravan, scheduled to begin at 8:30 tomorrow night in the Women's Gym.

The college dance band will be on hand for dancing until 10, when entertainment featuring the Modern Dancers (gone vagabond for the evening) and other sophomore talent will be featured.

If the weather is nice, all the Hungarians present will trip off to Sherwood for refreshments—or more specifically, to toast marshmallows, etc.

Co-chairman Lil Weimer and Pete Wright have asked that those attending wear bright colors to lend to the mood. The evening will be strictly informal.

Anticipated 3,000 To Crowd Gym For Address By Noted Evangelist

by Dottie Fogle

A hugh crowd of nearly 3,000 people is expecte to pack Memorial Gym tonight to hear one of the nation's greatest evangelists, Dr. Charles B. Templeton.

Templeton, secretary of evangelism of the Pre byterian Church of America and evangelist-at-large for the National Council of Churches, will speak o Presbyterians from 68 area congregations in addition to others interested.

Music will be presented by the combined college and community choir.

Born In Canada

During the past year Dr. Templeton was heard in person by more than a million people, plus many more millions in his television audiences for Look UP and Live on CBS. A Canadian by birth and now a resident of New York City, his life to date has had a kind of Horatio Alger quality to it.

Prominent in sports in his youth, he began his career as a newspaper sports cartoonist for the Toronto Globe and Mail, and his drawings and comments were syndicated across Canada for five years.

Then he spent six years as an itinerant evangelist and nine years in pastorates in Canada and the United States. After graduate study at Princeton, he joined the staff of the National Council of Churches where he served for three years.

International Prestige

He has spoken in every state of the United States, every province in Canada, in Mexico and in 12 European countries. Articles about his work have been carried by Time and the American Magazine.

His book, recently published Life Looks Up, is indicative of his forceful and easily understood style.

He and his wife, Connie, a concert mezzo-soprano, have appeared and performed before the United Nations General Assembly. He is 39 years old.

Acclaimed as ranking with Baptist Billy Graham and Anglican Bryan Green, Templeton comes here under the auspices of the Huntingdon Presbytery. During the afternoon he will have various conferences downtown. The Rev. Raymond Powell is pastor of the local parish.

● Dr. Charles B. Templeton ●
Life Looks Up

The Juniatian

Vol. 32 No. 22 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 20, 1956

HS Students Here Saturday

College minded high school students who belong to the Church of the Brethren will have an opportunity to preview campus life at Juniata College here Saturday, April 28.

The students and their church pastors have been invited to be the guests of Juniata to observe this church-related college or liberal arts and sciences during a "typical day."

During the morning guest students will have a chance to visit classes and to ask questions of faculty members concerning preparation for attending college.

The ministers will meet at 9:45 a.m. in Oller Hall to discuss Ministerial Recruitment as a Pastoral Opportunity.

Other activities of the day will include a 15 minute organ recital; luncheon at the college dining hall; guided tours of the campus and varsity baseball and tennis between Juniata and Lycoming.

Plans for the Brethren Campus Day have been completed under the direction of the Rev. Clarence H. Rosenberger, Juniata's church representative.

Bob Zeigler Here For JBYF Talks

by Joan Fyock

On Monday Dr. M. R. Zeigler, Church of the Brethren representative to the World Council of Churches, will be on our campus.

Students interested in personal conferences should contact Bryan Staufer or Bob McFadden.

Thursday evening there will be a service in the Stone Church followed by a social hour with the McKays, missionaries on furlough from the African mission field.

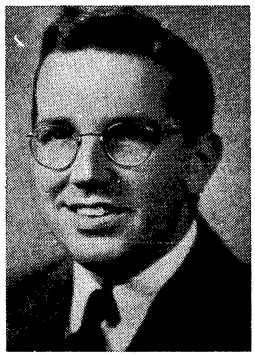
The following day two more Brethren ministers will be guests on campus. They are Harold Z. Bomberger, regional secretary, and Stewart B. Kauffman, director of evangelism for the ministry and home mission Commission. They will also be available throughout Friday afternoon for private conferences.

A Capella Choir To Sing Sunday

The Touring Choir will make its final bus trip of the year this Sunday.

Concerts are scheduled in the Church of the Brethren in Lewistown in the morning, in the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Millheim in the afternoon and Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church in Centre Hall in the evening.

The choir members will also appear at the St. John's Episcopal Church in Huntingdon on May 13, and will join with other students and faculty in presenting Elijah for commencement.



A. William Engel
● Receives New Position ●

Ellis Names Engel Head Of JC Public Relations

In a move designed "to augment the administrative functions of Juniata College," President Calvert N. Ellis announced today that A. William Engel, Jr., will become director of public relations July 1.

Mr. Engel, who has been serving as regisrar and director of publicity, will relinquish his duties as registrar and move into the department of public relations to work with the assistant to the president, Harold B. Brumbaugh.

In the new position, Mr. Engel will undertake to direct a program "to provide adequate understanding of the character, purpose, processes and results of our college," Dr. Ellis explained. Mr. Brumbaugh is responsible for promoting and maintaining good public relations as assistant to the president.

Direct News

Mr. Engel will continue to direct the college news bureau which provides news, sports and feature coverage for newspapers and radio.

In addition, he will coordinate all publications of the college; the entertainment and guide service; and the planning of special events on campus.

Mr. Engel will continue as an instructor in English, teaching a course in journalism and as secretary of the faculty. He also will continue to edit the Alumni Bulletin and write the "J Fan" football letter.

"Certain Objectives"

Mr. Engel told the Juniatian today that there are "certain objectives in an educational public relations program" which he

Continued on Page 3

Officers of JCA To Picnic Sunday

A joint retreat will be held this Sunday for the old and new cabinet and council of the JCA.

The retreat will be held at the Outing Club cabin to occur rain or shine. The group will leave at 2:00 from the front of the campus. Transportation will be provided.

In Senate . . .
Dickinson Band To Play May 5

The report that a dance band had been secured for the May Day Dance, a report on Operation Recreation and the naming of chairman of general campus alarm, the Totem Inn committee and a placement bureau highlighted a grueling three and one half hour Senate meeting Wednesday evening.

A 9-piece dance band has been hired to play for May Day, according to June Gray, chairman of social activities. The Dickinson College group will cost $125 and will be accompanied by a vocalist at an additional $10 cost.

Operation Recreation

General contractor of Operation Recreation Del McQuaide appeared before the Senate to report that much of the project will be completed this spring, weather permitting.

Tools, publicity, labor and good weather are needed to accomplish what has been planned, he pointed out.

In response to a Juniatian editorial the Senate named chairman of publications George Fattman to organize a system whereby the campus could be alarmed in case of emergency. The need for a better system was pointed up in the case of college men helping in the search for Debbie Henney recently.

Totem Inn

Bill Hershberger was named chairman of the Totem Inn Committee. Others appointed to the committee include Roger Bennett, Joe DeNicola and senators June Gray and Newt Taylor.

Nancy Hess was named to head the newly formed Placement Bureau. This bureau was established by the Senate to place freshmen, new students and inactive upperclassmen in such college activities as their talents might indicate and their interests signify.

Other Business

Other Senate business included a report that another phone will probably be installed in the Women's Dorms, a report on a plan to orientate freshmen in small groups and work on a committee (the "Orge" Committee) that would present new ideas to the Senate.

Chairmen Reveal Breakfast Info

Pretty as a picture has been chosen as the theme for the May Day breakfast which is to be held Thursday morning at 7:15.

In keeping with the theme yellow, blue and red will be predominant and the entire scheme will be bright and modern.

During the breakfast the May Queen and the members of her court will be revealed after which entertainment will be presented in their honor.

Sue Fawcett and Sandy Johnston are co-chairmen of the breakfast.

Thursday's Classes
Period 1—8:30 A. M.
Period 2—9:30 A. M.
Period 3—10:30 A. M.
Period 4—11:30 A. M.

Mariotti, Walls Get Editorships

The Juniatian announced the addition of two members to the editorial staff this week, Barbara Walls and Bill Mariotti.

Miss Walls, a liberal arts student from Glenside was named assistant news editor to Eleanor Newton, who will reture in June from her post. Miss Walls will become the news editor in September.

In the sports department, Mariotti, a pre-med major from Normalville, was named co-sports editor with Dave Suloff.

Gray Releases Calendar Of Approaching Events

June Gray, chairman of social activities, has released the following tentative schedule of Saturday night activities for the remainder of the spring:

April 21—Gypsy Caravan
Sophomore Class
April 28—April Showers Hop
May 5—Junior-Senior Prom
May Day
May 12—Fashion Show
Dance follows
May 19—Movie (unscheduled as yet)

— CHAPEL —

April 23—Mr. Zeigler, Brethren Service
April 25—Dr. Karlis Leyasmeyer (sponsored by JCA)
April 27—Rev. Harold Z. Bomberger, Regional Secretary of the Eastern Region of the Church of the Brethren.

Author Leyasmeyer Here To Talk To JCA Tuesday

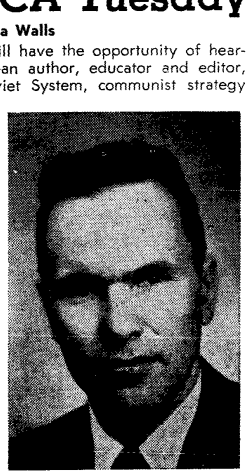
by Barbara Walls

Tuesday, April 24, Juniatians will have the opportunity of hearing Dr. Karlis Leyasmeyer, European author, educator and editor, a first-hand authority on the Soviet System, communist strategy and world problems.

JCA is very proud to present Dr. Leyasmeyer who, since his arrival in the United States in 1949, has lectured throughout the country on present world problems and their solutions. His addresses, showing an excellent knowledge of the present international crisis, have been widely acclaimed.

Dr. Leyasmeyer, a Latvian, lived in Russia and saw the 1917 Communist revolution. He had personal experience with Nazi and Communist persecution when in 1941 he was captured by the Communists, tortured, condemned to death and to face their firing squad. At the last minute he escaped by a near miracle.

At the University of Latvia, Dr. Leyasmeyer received tht degrees of PhC and Ph Mag-PhD in philosophy and psychology. He did post-graduate work in Westhill College, England, and took advanced studies in the School of Russian Humanities in Latvia. After World War II he took post graduate work in Germany, and since that time has been widely acclaimed and much in demand as an excellent public speaker.



● Dr. Karlis Leyasmeyer ●
To Speak At JCA

editorially speaking . . .

A Big Little Man

If you are a typical college student who consistently moans "I just don't have enough time," be sure to read the page one article on Bill Engel and his incredibly numerous activities — he's living proof that there is enough time."

Too often we take hard-working people like Mr. Engel, one of Juniata's biggest assets, for granted. As one student astutely observed, "If Mr. Engel were ever to leave Juniata, the headlines would probably read 'Brown, Smith, Jones, Green To Replace Engel.' " Indeed, he does the work of four men — from registrar to publicity director to editor to instructor.

It is because of Mr. Engel, for example, that Juniata receives such excellent sports coverage, even in national publications such as The Sporting News and scheduled for next August, the Street and Smith Football Review. When the exam schedule comes out six weeks in advance so that students can make summer plans, again it's Mr. Engel at work. In addition to his many campus activities and his WHUN position, he is a civic leader, being secretary of the Kiwanis and an active Penn State (where he was editor of the Daily Collegian) alumnus.

In the future when you feel that there isn't enough time, take a lock at Juniata's dynamo. Our hat's off to Mr. Engel for a job well done during the past ten years.

Men Will Be Boys

According to reports from New Dorm men, some of the more juvenile residents there have taken to destroying property — throwing rocks through windows, thrusting fists through lamp shades in the lobby, and, in general, behaving in a childish and irresponsible manner, certainly not befitting college students.

These men have been given the privilege of living in an attractive, modern residence hall, the newest structure on campus, and they should be grateful for it. The dorm was built with help of a government loan and contributions of alumni and friends. It is not fair to the contributors, the college, or the more mature residents of the dorm for a self-appointed wrecking crew to damage property which does not even belong to them.

If we students expect to be given more responsibility in student government and other campus affairs we will have to demonstrate that we are mature individuals, long past the age of infantile "fun." Certainly the House Committee, if not the College, should attempt to put an end to this destructive behavior.

Annual Includes Juniata College

Juniata College has again been included among the 110 in the eighth annual listing of "representative small colleges" in the nation.

The Small College Annual for 1965, issued recently by James W. Hampton, editor, of Maryville, Tenn., lists Juniata among 29 eastern independent colleges.

Included among the articles in the Annual is one by Dr. Glenn J. Gray, a graduate of Juniata College who is now a member of the faculty at Colorado College. His article is entitled the role of Religion in the Non-Denominational College. Last year, Dr Gray was a Fulbright Research Professor in Freiburg, Germany, and was also a Ford Faculty Fellow.

The 44-page illustrated magazine also includes photographs of Juniata's May Queen, Doris Markey; Joe Veto kicking an extra point in 1954's undefeated foootball season; and Herb Law earning money in spare time as a barber.

This listing was first published by the Education Department of Good Housekeeping Magazine as an annual survey to discover the "best small colleges" of the nation. Juniata has been included each year.

intracollegiate chatter

by Alma Skinner

New table assignments always bring many comments but few are as candid as that of the fellow who after one quick glance around the table at the people who would share his mealtime pleasure for the coming weeks said,

"When do the table assignments change?"

Eyeing the waitress coming with platters of veal cutlet, one JC student said,

"Ah, here it comes, food for the gods!"

"Yeah, burnt offerings" snarled his tablemate.

The meal thus begun, food served, pleasant conversation begins between the hurried gobbling. After the proper discussion of majors, hometowns, etc., the interest turns to roommates.

"How did you and your roommate get together?" asks the sweet young thing.

"I don't know, a mutual enemy I guess," growled the guy.

After his discussion of what an antiquary is (one who collects, studies, or deals in ancient objects, for enjoyment, business or trade) one of the profs advised the class, "Now you'd better not go tell a woman who still bakes her own bread that you understand that she's an antiquary. She may not know what you mean."

George To Marry

George Dolnikowski, instructor in German at Juniata has announced that he will wed Joanne Phillips, artist at the Academy of Natural History in Philadelphia, in late August.

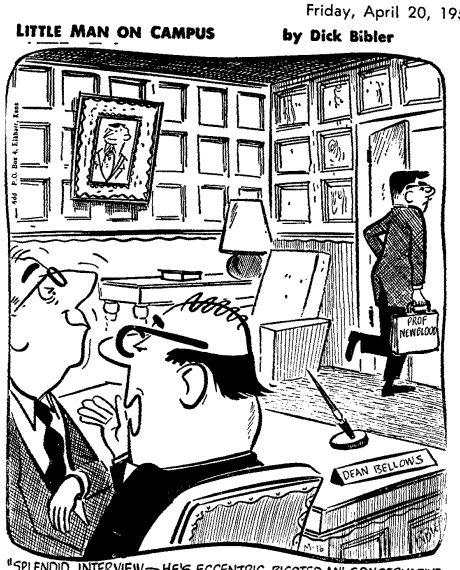
TIME FOR THE ANNUAL REMINDER: Remember Bridey Murphy and don't tramp on the little blades! It just might be a relative.

AT CHEYNEY STATE teacher's college the students boycotted the cafeteria for four days in an attempt to force the college to improve the food. Students were fed in day students homes during the four day period. However, the college called off the boycott, agreeing to meet with student representatives. How about it, day students?

(ACP) Have you thought of college as a mental institution where ignorance is put on an efficiency basis? You might be interested in knowing just what education is. It's called the training that enables people to get along without intelligence.

Etiquette is a well-known word in the young adult vocabulary. Setting it to humor, it's called the art of yawning without opening your mouth. A professor can be identified as a textbook wired for sound. For those taking one of the secretarial courses: shorthand is a great blessing to a business girl, especially if she can't spell.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler



"SPLENDID INTERVIEW—HE'S ECCENTRIC, BIGOTED AN' CONSERVATIVE. HE'LL MAKE A FINE ADDITION TO THE FACULTY."

News Views

Democrats Have Problems

by Newt Taylor

The Democratic Party today has many problems. Adlai Stevenson, the candidate favored by the party leaders and acceptable to most groups within the party, is not the choice of their people. Their man, Estes Kefauver, is bitterly opposed by the South and many party bosses.

The Eisenhower Administration has made great strides in helping the Negro. Should the Democrats appease the South and take a chance on the Negro voting Republican or should they let the South go its own way and try to get the Negro vote in the North?

Kefauver Disliked

Stevenson has tended to favor appeasement. Many believe this to be one reason for his poor showing in primaries. Kefauver is strongly disliked by Southern leaders because of his support of civil rights measures.

Adlai Stevenson has advocated a program of moderation. However, the Stevenson position is difficult in light of the progressive "dynamic conservation" that the Republicans have installed in Washington. Many Democrats feel that he can't point up a sufficient number of major differences with the Republicans to convince the nation its time for a change."

Radical Senator

On the other hand the Senator has taken a quite radical position on many issues. He has fronted this with constant charges that the party bosses favor Kefauver. His personable campaign techniques have gotten through to the people much easier than the sophisticated manner of the former Illinois Governor.

So the fight goes on. Big primaries in Florida and California in late May and early June will be most important.

Yet the big problem is how to beat Eisenhower? Can a candidate opposed by party leaders do it? Can a candidate opposed by the rank and file do it? Or should they try someone else with fewer strengths and more weakness?

(ACP) CHAPERONE—A woman who keeps young girls from doing what she did at their age.

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

The Juniatian is serviced by Associated Collegiate Press and Intercollegiate Press and is represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
Frank Sinatra
Kim Novak
Eleanor Parker in
"The Man With The Golden Arm"
Added: Academy Award Cartoon "SPEEDY GONZALES"

MON. and TUE.
Richard Widmark
Donna Reed in BACKLASH
CINEMASCOPE and COLOR

WED. and THUR.
2 Cinemascope Technicolor Features on 1 Program
Van Johnson — Joseph Cotten
Ruth Roman — Jack Carson in
THE BOTTOM of THE BOTTLE
— and —
Vivien Leigh
Kenneth More in
THE DEEP BLUE SEA

HARRIS GRAND
NOW thru SAT.
THE PHANTOM FROM 10,000 LEAGUES
— and —
THE DAY THE WORLD ENDED

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Weaver Florist
G. Donald Fisher
Phone 431-J 211 5th St.
Flowers For All Occasions

Go Atlantic
To
HOOVERS ATLANTIC SERVICE
11th & Mifflin Sts.

Buck's Laundry
614 6th Street
Phone 1320

AMES SHOP
DRESSES — COATS
SPORTSWEAR

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
For Your RCA VICTOR
SAVE - ON - RECORDS
COUPON BOOK GIVES YOU
3 FREE RCA VICTOR ALBUMS
and
SAVES YOU $24.00 ON NEW RELEASES
MILLER HARDWARE COMPANY

High Schools Here For Meet

230 Compete Here Saturday

More than 230 contestants from 11 Central Pennsylvania high schools will compete in Juniata College's first invitational scholastic relay meet on College Field here tomorrow.

A 12-event schedule beginning at 1:30 p.m. will attract some of the area's top track and field men in Juniata's attempt to stimulate interest in this spring sport.

Clearfield High School tops the entry list with 45, according to P. M. (Mike) Snider, director of athletics and track coach of Juniata who is conducting the meet.

State College and Lewistown each will enter about 30 men and Tyrone has listed 25.

List Of Schools

The complete list of schools entered and number of entries follows: Armagh-Brown Joint, Reedsville (13); Bellwood-Antis, Bellwood (23); Chief Logan Joint, Yeagertown (18); Clearfield (45); Huntingdon Area (15); Juniata Joint, Mifflintown (15); Lewistown (29); Roaring Spring and Morrison's Cove, Martinsburg (25); State College (30); Tyrone (25).

Snider anounced today that the meet will get under way with the shot put, javelin, pole vault and high jump at 1:30 p.m. The other two field events—discus and broad jump—are set for 2:30 p.m.

The first of six running events will be the quarter-mile relay at 2 p.m.

Running Events

Other running events are scheduled: 2:15 p.m., two mile relay; 2:30 p.m., sprint medley relay; 2:45 p.m., open one mile run; 3 p.m., half mile relay; 3:13 p.m. one mile relay.

Snider explained that this invitational scholastic relay was a "new venture in track and field" at Juniata which has been planned "to stimulate interest in this spring sport in Central Pennsylvania."

The proposed plan has been to conduct the meet for individuals rather than to determine team champions.

Awards will be made to the first three place winners in each event. No school trophy will be awarded.

A buffet supper will be held in Memorial Gym for participants and officials after the meet when awards will be made.

We Are Equipped To Take Care of Your Altering and Mending Needs

Immediate Service

Ray English Store

Next to the Clifton Theatre

The Juniatian

Friday, April 20, 1956 Page 3

SPORTS

Linksmen Down Albright, 5-4; Record Now Two Wins, Loss

Juniata's linksmen chalked up their second official victory of the golfing season Monday by defeating a well coached Albright squad 5-4.

Lead-off man Bill West started the ball rolling for JC by winning his match 5-4. Keith Birmingham playing in the second slot also took a 5-4 contest, and Dick Hite rounded out the Indian victories, winning in the number five place, 1-up. Both John Staley and Barry Montgomery were defeated by the same count. Jim Cain, winning four of the last five holes succeeded in having his match as number four man.

Down Johns Hopkins

Last Friday Coach Germann's team downed Johns Hopkins 8-1 to revenge last year's 5-4 defeat.

West took the first position match 7-6, as Birmingham and Staley won number two and three posts respectively, each by 6-5 count. Hite won his contest 5-4, and Montgomery came through to wind up the JC wins by taking the number six spot 4-3. Cain was the lone loser, dropping a 1-up match.

W. Va. Defeat

Juniata's golfers suffered their worst defeat in 10 years of golfing history as they met the University of West Virginia Thursday, April 12.

The top-notch Morgantown team averaged 74.3 strokes on a par 71 course, edging the Indians in every match to take the contest 9-0.

Tennis Squad Suffers Season's First Defeat

Juniata's tennis squad visited Reading early in the week and suffered their first setback of the season 6-2.

The Tribe's two victories over Albright were registered by Phil Lankford and Dan Raffensperger. The Indians' inexperience appeared to be taken to advantage by Albright. Their opponent, however, was one of the better teams in the East.

E-Town Downed

Last weekend the local netmen visited Elizabethtown and downed that college easily 8-1. Juniata had straight set victories when Dan Raffensperger, Phil Lankford, Don Ruhl and Dick Lantzy came through on the singles.

John Miller and Lantzy were victorious for the Indians in the doubles. Tomorrow at 1:30 the JC netmen tangle with a tough Dickinson squad here.

Tracksters Drop Openers

Juniata got its track season under way last Saturday with losses in a triangular meet with St. Joseph's and Albright at Philadelphia and in a dual meet with Lock Haven STC Tuesday here on College Field.

In the Triangular meet, Juniata finished far behind St. Joseph's, one of the top track colleges in the East, and Albright. The scoring was St. Joe's 91½, Albright 47, and JC 15½. The cindermen made a much better showing while losing to Lock Haven 72½-53½.

The Indians failed to gain any first places last Saturday as the home team, St. Joe's captured 10 of the 14 events. The Blue and Gold's top man was Al Nyce, who earned points in the shot put, discus, and javelin. He tallied 8 points.

Mike Snider's tracksters copped five first places and a first place tie against the Bald Eagles Tuesday. Top honors were won by Bryan Stauffer in the high jump, Sonny Kaylor in the broad jump, Nyce in the discus, Herb Deuchar in the 440 yard run, and Dick Lantzy in the 120 yard high hurdles. Charlie Passmore tied with the Teachers' Jim Burns in the pole vault.

Once again Nyce was the Indians' big point getter with nine tallies in his three field specialties. The meet's big point man was the Eagles' Merrill Sweitzer who grabbed first places in the 880, mile, and two mile.

The following are the results of the Lock Haven meet.

100 yard dash—1 Hostetler (LH) 2 Hughes (LH), 3 tie between Spar (LH) and Kerr (J) 0:10.8

220 dash—1Hostetler (LH), 2 Long (LH), 3 Hughes (LH) 0:24.6

440 run—1 Deuchar (J) 2 Long (LH), 3 Elwood (LH) 0:54.3

880 dun—1 Sweitzer (LH), 2 Deuchar (J), 3 Mutchler (LH) 2:06.5

Mile—1 Sweitzer (LH), 2 Layman (J), 3 Stine (LH) 4:44

Two Mile—1 Sweitzer (LH), 2 Layman (J), 3 Stine (LH) 10:36.8

120 HH—1 Lantzy (J), 2 Stratton (J), 3 Dintaman (LH) 0:18.5

220 LH—Nelson (LH), 2 Stratton (J), 3 Lantzy (J) 0:28.6

Pole Vault—1 tie between Passmore (J) and Burns (LH) 3 tie between Thomas (LH) and McKolosky (LH) 10 ft. 6 in.

Broad Jump—1 Kaylor (J), 2 tie between Lantzy (J) and Piper (LH) 19 ft. 6 in.

High Jump—1 Stauffer (J), 2 tie between Dintaman (LH), Sulloff (J), Stine (LH), and Kaylor (J) 5 ft. 2 in.

Javelin—1 Bizzaro (LH), 2 Hansen (LH) 3 Nyce (J) 168 ft. 7in

Discus—1 Nyce (J) 2 Cochran (LH), 3 Douglas (LH) 114 ft 7½in

Shot Put—1 Douglas (LH), 2 Nyce (J), Camp (LH) 39 ft 9½in

JC, Lebanon Valley Plan 'Resume Relations' Meet

Juniata College will resume athletic relations with Lebanon Valley College in a dual track meet at Annville on Saturday, May 19.

P. M. (Mike) Snider, director of athletics at Juniata reported today that the college's physical education and athletic committee had approved a request from Lebanon Valley to schedule a meet. This will be added to the Indian's previously announced schedule.

Athletic relations between the two colleges were discontinued for "an indefinite period" following a disputed basketball game at the end of the 1953-54 season.

The addition of Lebanon Valley provides Juniata with four dual meets and two triangular contests in addition to the Penn Relays and Middle Atlantic championships. Lock Haven, Dickinson and Shippensburg will be met at home in dual competition.

Ball Team Loses To Albright, 7-6

The Indians lost a close ball game to Albright, 7-6, Wednesday afternoon on College Field.

Starting pitcher John Criswell for the Tribe was later replaced by Bob Brown and then by "Lefty" Alderfer.

Friday's Full Schedule Gets Softball Underway

The 1956 intramural softball season was inaugurated last Friday afternoon with a full schedule of three games.

Field One featured the Crusaders in an 18-3 triumph over the Downtowners behind the three-hit pitching of Herb Deuchar. On Field Two, the Bearcats blanked the Broncolites 8-0 and on Field Three, the Prophets edged the Wibbers 5-4.

Rain on Tuesday prevented the playing of three scheduled games, but on Monday afternoon, the Mumblers downed LTD with a barrage of extra base hits. In other games Monday, the JC Juniors dropped a 13-2 decision to the Jabberwockies and the Wildcats undermined the Draft Dodgers 18-1.

Nitwits, Papooses Volleyball Leaders

The Nitwits and Papooses have taken an early lead in the girls' volleyball league by winning their first two games.

On April 9 the Clowns downed the Red Devils 37-24 in the first game of the season while the Nitwits gained 1-0 wins over the Rowdies and the Red Devils by forfeit. The Papooses defeated the Rowdies 40-20 and the Krazy Kids took a 41-21 win from the Punchy Pack on April 12. The Papooses won their second game on April 16 at the hands of the Clowns 33-26. The Red Devils downed the Punchy Pack 38-28 on the same night.

Kay Beltzhoover and Patience Kirloch had 7 points each for the winning Papooses on April 12. Helen Schmidlen had 6 for the loosing Rowdies. Jeanette Lowe and Rosalie Langer led the Krazy Kids on the same night with 13 and 11 points respectively. Dottie Rosewarne with 9 led the Papoose scoring on April 16 while Betty Swope with 6 led the losing Clowns. Kass Keeler led the Red Devils with 15 points at the same time that Glessner was leading the Punchy Pack with ten.

Engineering Test

Dear Hennessy of Columbia University is planning to visit the college Wednesday afternoon to meet any pre-engineering students on campus, according to Dean Morley Mays.

Students need not be interested in attending Columbia, necessarily. Those students who desire to confer with Hennessy should check with Prof. Yoder.

Hollywood Shop

GLOVES

DRESSES

Guns

Bought and Sold

UPDYKES

SPORTING GOODS

"Everything for the Sportsman"

608 Wash. St. Phone1688

Hotel Penn Hunt

Huntingdon, Pa.

Dining Room Open Daily

11 A. M.—12 P. M.

BANQUET FACILITIES

Strickler Cleaners

Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices

Repair Service

1017 Moore Service

KOUGHS JEWELRY STORE

Mens & Ladies Wallets

Watch Repairs

Jewelry

Meet Me At SKIP'S.... for Ice Cream and Sandwiches

School and Office Supplies

PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS

Hixson's

Union National Bank Building

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE

600 Penn St.

EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT

Books—Leather Goods—Bibles

Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks

Store Hours 8 to 5

ART'S DINER

Best Home Cooking in Town

Greatest Hamburgs ever!

Smithfield

Scientist Pollard To Be Commencement Speaker

Dr. William G. Pollard, a distinguished research scientist and minister, will be commencement speaker here on graduation day Monday, June 4.

Dr. Pollard is the executive director for the Institute of Nuclear Studies at Oak Ridge, Tenn., as well as an associate minister of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, also in Oak Ridge.

Born in Batavia, N. Y., Dr. Pollard attended the University of Tennessee where he received his BA. He then went to Rice Institute for his master's degree and PhD which was granted him in 1935.

Physics Prof.

Dr. Pollard has been a professor of physics at Columbia University, Rice Institute, and the University of Tennessee, as well as serving as vice-chairman and chairman in the Southeastern section of the American Physics Society. He also belongs to Phi Beta Kappa, the Tennessee Academy of Science, Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Xi.

In 1952 Dr. Pollard was ordained as deacon of the Protestant Episcopal Church and in 1954 he became priest.

As a member of the board of the Southern Association of Science and Industry for the past six years, Dr. Pollard won the distinguished service award of that organization in 1950. He is also a member of the editorial board of The Christian Scholar.

Dr. Pollard is the author of various articles concerning the field of science and is consulting physicist for some of the nation's top industries.

Schlegel Granted Leave For Study

Miss Miriam A. Schlegel, assistant professor of education at Juniata College, has been granted a leave of absence for the next college year to take advanced study in education, President Calvert N. Ellis announced today.

Miss Schlegel, who joined the Juniata faculty in 1950, has received a scholarship to study at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tenn.

MA. From Penn

Prior to coming to Juniata, Miss Schlegel had 12 years of experience in teaching as an officer in the WAVES. A graduate of Shippensburg State Teachers College (1938), Miss Schlegel also holds a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

She taught elementary grades in Highspire, Hanover, and Narberth before entering the Navy for three years. Later she taught for three years at the American School in Cairo, Egypt, and one year in Upper Merion Township school district.

Miss Schlegel joined the faculty as instructor and was advanced to assistant professor in 1952.

CAB News

Modern Dance meets every Friday evening at 7:00 in the Women's gym.

On the agenda for future public performances by the group are two dances. One, a gypsy dance in two parts, a slow shadow dance to set the gypsy mood and a fast spirited one, will be part of the entertainment at the Gypsy Caravan sponsored by the sophomore class tomorrow evening. The other will be an enactment of The Wedding of the Painted Doll in dance. This will appear in the May Day program.

IVCF

Due to the service featuring Dr. Templeton tonight in the Memorial Gym, there will be no IVCF meeting. However, all members are asked to attend this program.

Engel -

Continued from Page 1

hopes to carry out at Juniata College.

"Through the years it has become evident that public relations work has to do with creating, shaping and implementing policies which will be reflected in the friendship and support of all people whose opinions or reactions in any way affect an institution."

A graduate of Penn State in 1940, Engel became director of publicity and instructor in English at Juniata in 1946 after service with the Army Signal Corps in Burma and India.

Engel previously was a military correspondent and copy desk man for the Pittsburgh Press, Pittsburgh. He also has been a reporter for The Evening News, Harrisburg; sports writer for The Sewickley Herald, Sewickley, Pa., and field representative in publicity for Penn State's extension services.

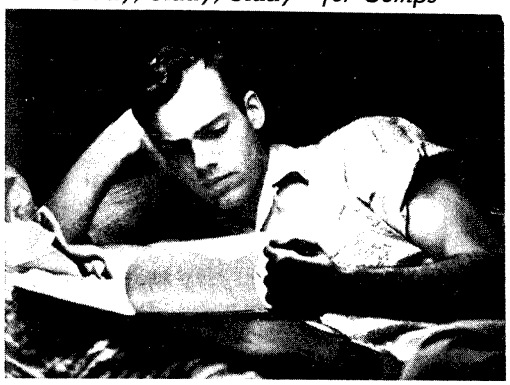
In Huntingdon, Engel gives a 15-minute sports review on WHUN. He is secretary of the Kiwanis Club and a member of the official board of the First Methodist Church.

Bailey To Continue

Miss Mary Ann Bailey will continue at Juniata giving full time to the public relations office, assisting primarily in the preparation of news releases, alumni bulletins, class newsletters and departmental news letters.

A member of the class of 1954 she has been employed in the registrar's office and has helped with the publicity and alumni literature.

Study, Study, Study - for Comps



Don Davis realizes, as do his 102 classmates, that comprehensives could well mean THE END. Even those who are not seniors appreciate the chaos which seems to face the class of '56 as they brush up on everything for the ordeal. Question: Do all seniors study in bed?

Debaters To Go To Carnegie Tech

This evening the debaters are sending a team to the annual Tartan Debate Tournament at Carnegie Tech.

The affirmatives of the team are Dave Amidon and Jim Montgomery and the negative debaters are Dick Backus and Jim Stayer. The tournament will consist of four rounds starting tomorrow morning.

103 JC Seniors Take Comps Soon

One hundred and three Juniata seniors will begin their comprehensive examinations next week.

The seven hours of written work will be completed Monday and Tuesday, while the oral part of the examination (one hour) will extend over the next two weeks.

The eight hours of comprehensives are a part of college policy which serve to show the student's all-around grasp of his major subject.

Wolf Furniture Co.
Complete Home Furnishings
7th & Mifflin

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS — See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash. St.

MISSES' KNEE-HIGH NYLON HOSE — 60 Gauge
88¢ a pair
MURPHY'S

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

your college florist
Woodring's Floral Gardens
8th & Washington St.
Phone 1141

CAKES FOR BIRTHDAYS

Delicious-Decorated Delivered!
SEND ONE TO YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER!
Call 1148 or Write
HOM-TASTE BAKERY
HUNTINGDON, PA.
YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS WILL PLEASE THE ONE TO RECEIVE!

"Coke does something for you, doesn't it."

You feel so new and fresh and good — all over — when you pause for Coca-Cola. It's sparkling with quick refreshment . . . and it's so pure and wholesome — naturally friendly to your figure. Let it do things — good things — for you.

DRINK Coca-Cola

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Altoona Bottling Company, Altoona, Pa.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Union National Bank and Trust Company
SINCE 1866
Member F. D. I. C.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Sims, Bridenbaugh, Haushalter Head May Court

The Juniatian

Vol. 32 No. 23 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 27, 1956

They Will Reign Over The Paint Box Paradise

Here are the members of this year's May Day court as revealed by the old master painter at Thursday morning's May Day Breakfast. In the foreground are Barbara Zoellin '59, Ruth Perestam '58, Nancy Phillips '56, Joy Wenger '57, Shirley McNitt '57, Nancy Freed '58, Marlene Sterner '58 and Ann Larkin '59. Behind them are Maid of Honor Mary Jane Bridenbaugh, Queen Maggie Sims and Prince Charming Bill Haushalter. And of course, they're all "pretty is a picture."

Paint Box To Lend Color To '56 May Day Festival

by Ann Willson

Pretty as a picture—a perfect description of Queen Maggie Sims and her maid of honor, Mary Jane Bridenbaugh, as they stood revealed with Prince Charming Bill Haushalter before Juniata's co-eds yesterday morning at the annual May Day Breakfast, disclosed by the old master painter, Dave Amidon.

Last year's queen, Doris Markey, was on hand to escort the new queen to the throne.

With a stroke of the magic brush on the easel the names of the freshman attendants, Ann Larkin and Barbara Zoellin, appeared. The sophomores have chosen Ruth Perestam and Marlene Sterner to represent their class on the court.

Joy Wenger and Shirley McNitt will be the junior attendants. The painter's easel showed Nancy Freed and Nancy Phillips to be senior lovelies.

This year's queen is a music major from Turtle Creek. She was chairman of the Brigadoon ticket committee and is a member of the orchestra and FTA. She is student teaching at the present.

Miss Bridenbaugh, from Martinsburg, is a member of JCA, WAA, Lambda Gamma, the chapel choir, the JWSF committee and is majoring in home ec.

Prince Charming

Haushalter, new prince charming, is a history education major from McKees Rocks. He is active in varsity football.

Freshman attendant Miss Larkin is a home ec major from Pittsburgh active as a member of the May Day set committee, All Class Night, Lambda Gamma and is treasurer of her class. From Ottsville, Miss Zoellin is also a home ec major. She was on the May Day set committee and is a Juniatian reporter.

Miss Perestam, from Yardley, is an elementary ed major. She was a May Day attendant last year, participated in All Class Night, is chairman of the May Day entertainment committee and is a member of the modern dance group.

Also a May Day attendant last year, Miss Sterner is a music education major active in chapel choir, All Class Night, JCA Council and is in charge of the deputation teams.

Continued on Page 4

April Showers Hop Is Saturday's Program

With Juniata's share of April showers descending in the form of a deluge commonly known here as the Monsoons, the social committee thought it only proper that a dance be held this Saturday night in honor (actually, in spite of) rain.

Therefore a record dance with the theme April Showers will take place tomorrow evening at 8:15 in the Women's Gym. See you there, and let a smile be your umbrella!

Wilson Announces Board Regulations

Doug Wilson, who has been placed in charge of regulating bulletin board announcements by the Senate, released the following rules concerning the three major bulletin boards on campus, Founders, Students Hall, and Totem Inn:

1. The date on which an announcement is placed on a bulletin board must appear on the announcement.

2. If the person who places the announcement on the bulletin board wishes it returned to him, his name and address must appear on the back of it.

Not On Frames

3.No signs may be tacked on the wooden frames of the bulletin boards. Large signs should be taped to the frames or on the wall below bulletin boards.

4. An announcement may remain on a bulletin board for a period of not longer than one week, with the following exceptions:

a. Announcements pertaining to an event one or more months in advance containing no date or a date which falls after the end of the school term may remain up for a period not exceeding two weeks.

b. Announcements pertaining to events several months in advance containing a date or dates within the announcement itself may remain up for one week far in advance of the event plus one week ending with each date appearing on the announcement.

c. Dining hall seating assignments and results of elections may remain up not longer than three days.

d. Schedules of final examinations and class schedules may remain on the bulletin boards continuously until finals and registrations are completed.

Musicians To Present Commencement Show In Brumbaugh's Honor

One of the new highlights of the coming Commencement season at Juniata College will be an orchestra festival to recognize the founding of that activity on campus.

Arrangements have been made under the direction of Dr. Jack D. Brammer, associate professor of music, to have Dr. Karl V. Gilbert as guest conductor for the festival. It will begin Thursday, May 31, and climax with a memorial concert Saturday night, June 2, in honor of Dr. Norman Brumbaugh.

Dr. Brumbaugh, a former member of the orchestra, had much to do with its founding.

Guest Conductor

The guest conductor, Dr. Gilbert, is known to many area residents as one-time conductor of the orchestra and professor of music at Juniata College. His son, David, has attended the Eastman School of Music and is now an orchestral musician, will be the guest soloist.

Invitations have been extended to former orchestra members to return for this special occasion and "to help make fine music."

Schubert, Mozart

Dr. Gilbert has chosen three major works for the program: The Unfinished Symphony, Schubert; Poem, Griffes and Symphony in G. Minor, Mozart.

Assisting Dr. Brammer on the committee are Thomas H. Knepp and Harold B. Brumbaugh.

The college will house those who attend the festival and play in the orchestra, according to Dr. Brammer. In addition, the college will loan instruments to persons in need of them.

— CHAPEL —

April 30—Faculty Trio
Miss Jaeger, Dr. Brammer and Dr. Wagner
May 2—Dr. Friedman
Western Theological Seminary
May 4—Oral Interpretation

From Senate . . .

Amidon Will Head Ogres; Backus To Vend Volumes

Dave Amidon was named to head the Senate's newly formed orge committee and Dick Backus was named student manager of a campus used book store at Wednesday evening's Senate meeting.

Also on the ogre committee, a group which will submit new ideas of campus improvement for Senate consideration, are chairman of general activities Ann Willson, chairman of social activities June Gray, chairman of religious activities Kerin Narbut, Joan McClure, Tressa Baughman and Backus.

The three senators on the committee were appointed by Pres. Jim Stayer, and the non-senators were elected by the Senate from nominations from the floor. Amidon was elected to head the committee by a majority vote of the Senate.

Book Store

Backus, also in charge of the proposed campus used textbook store, will be free to carry out the program as he desires with Senate approval. The Senate Totem Inn committee will have immediate jurisdiction over such a program.

It was reported that an additional telephone has been installed in the Cloister (Arch) and that the Senate will launch a campaign to hold telephone conversations to 15 minutes.

Comps Issue

President Stayer named the following "competent" students to a committee to investigate the comprehensive examination program in order to suggest changes to the 1956 Leadership Conference: Stayer, chairman, and Dick Livingston, Carol Newborg, Jackie Hayes, Joyce White, Newt Taylor and Jim Martin.

"All of these appointees have no direct personal stake in any deficiencies pointed out in the comprehensive examination program," President Stayer commented.

Dining Hall Announcers

Named to assist Dean Hancox in making dining hall announcements were Ken Harlacher and Pete Fahrney.

Faculty Abolishes 'Bonehead' English

They're going to bury "bonehead" English at the college.

The faculty has approved a recommendation from its academic policy committee to abolish the 18-year-old course listed officially as Fundamentals of English—from the curriculum.

Each year a small group of freshmen has been assigned to the non-credit course because of "a marked deficiency in basic English."

But now, the department of English has asked for its removal for half a dozen reasons including the fact that "the wisdom of providing sub-collegiate instruction has always been in doubt. . . and the educational value of this course cannot be demonstrated."

Furthermore, the department maintains that "the indignity attached to membership in this special course has an unfortunate effect on some students." It was explained that students are arbitrarily enrolled in the course on the basis of tests "that never can be conclusive."

The department also pointed out that there seems to be a growing tendency to drop this time-hallowed course from the college curricula on the grounds that a student, once admitted to college, should be expected to overcome his handicaps, if necessary with the help of a reduced program.

Doyle Speaker At PS Festival

Miss Esther Doyle, associate professor of speech, was the main speaker at Thursday's banquet at the seventeenth annual Intercollegiate Reading Festival held at Penn State University yesterday and today.

Representatives who participated from Juniata were Jim Barefoot, who read from Shakespeare's Richard III; Jim Montgomery, who read poems of Stephen Vincent Benet, and Dick Livingston, who read works of Walt Whitman.

Nine members of the oral interpretation class went to State for the activity; only three of them participated.

Lois Heart Plans To Give Program

Lois Heart will give a voice recital in Oller Hall at 8:30 Friday evening, May 4.

Mrs. Heart is a soprano; she will present 10 numbers on her program. She will be accompanied by Shirley McNitt at the piano. Joan Fyock will also accompany her on the flute for the number Lo Hear the Gentle Lark.

Mrs. Heart is a senior music education major and has been student teaching in Huntingdon. Miss McNitt, a junior, and Miss Fyock, a freshman, are also music education majors.

The recital is being held under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson.

Senators Deal With Discipline

The Senate passed two motions and Pres. Jim Stayer appointed a committee to deal with certain "deficiencies" in the college disciplinary program at its recent meeting.

The Senate will request that that the Administration make the identity of newly hired night watchmen known to the student body through the Juniatian as soon as possible after each is hired.

Also the Senate will recommend to the Administration that the statement to the effect that all men are expected to be in by midnight be dropped from the regulations.

A committee of President Stayer, Ray Ono, Newt Taylor and non-senator Dave Amidon were appointed to discuss recent night watchman problems with President Ellis.

editorially speaking . .

Students Should Squawk For Semester Vacation

The academic calendar for 1956-57 leaves something to be desired—besides a semester vacation.

Next fall's final examination period will begin on Wednesday, instead of the customary Monday, and extend to the following Friday, with the second semester starting on Monday. Aside from the fact that it is nice for everyone to have a vacation after a hectic ten days or so of cramming, it does not seem quite fair to the professors or to the registrar's office, as they will not have these few extra days to finish reading exams and at least start to get the grades processed before the second semester begins.

September 13 Too Early

It hardly seems necessary that we should have to have those two extra days of classes, as Juniata opens a week earlier in September than most other colleges. Each fall the opening date gets earlier—this September it will be the 13th, which means that Leadership Conference personnel will have to be on campus September 7. Those who have summer jobs are often put at a disadvantage because they cannot continue to work as late as their employers wish them to or as late as other summer employees. It is about time for the opening date to be moved back a week.

Exodus For Easter?

Finally, since Easter comes so late in 1957 April 21, it is necessary to have spring vacation before Easter. However, two years ago when this same situation occurred, approximately 62 students remained on campus over the Easter weekend. Wouldn't it be feasible to end classes at noon on Good Friday and dispense with them entirely on Saturday of that week? It hardly seems worthwhile to hold classes for 62 people.

The Senate should check into these matters as soon as possible, in order to petition for any desired changes before the May meeting of the faculty, at which time the calendar will be considered.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"THE HOUSEMOTHER THINKS IT'S NICE OF YOU BOYS TO TAKE AN INTEREST IN OUR YARD"

Who ain't Cultured?

CORVALLIS, ORE.—(ACP)—A music lover was recently playing a record of Bizet's "Carmen" when a friend of his walked into the room. He paused and listened a minute. . . then asked if it was a foreign translation of the music from "Carmen Jones."

Deft Definitions

NORMAN, OKLAHOMO, — (ACP) A recent issue of the Oklahoma Daily listed these collegiate definitions:

COLLEGE: A mental institution.

DIPLOMA: A sheepskin that a graduate uses to pull the wool over some employer's eyes.

UPPERCLASSMEN: Students who are a shinning example for freshmen . . .shining because they are all either bright, lit up or polishing the apple.

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash. St.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
Smithfield

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Accent On Reading

THE EDGE OF THE SEA, by Rachel Carson. The author of THE SEA AROUND US opens the door to another world: the world of teeming life where the sea meets the land. The variety of shore life is rich and complex; its patterns go back half a billion years, when the ancestors of our sponges and jelleyfish, snails and crabs flourished in the Cambrian seas. The same great forces are still at work: the tides in their eternal rythms, the waves, the ocean currents. In this book we see how these forces shape the living creatures that depend u them. And so a mysterious universe becomes intelligible, though the essential mystery remains.

THE ROAD TO HUMAN DESTINY, by Mary Lecomte du Nouy. Here is an extremely interesting biography of Pierre Lecomte du Nouy, brilliant and versatile French author, scientist, and philosopher. Written by his wife and close associate in much of his scientific work at the Rockefeller Institute and at the Pasteur Institute, the book brings out clearly his important work in the fields of biophysics and biochemistry. The book shows well how Lecomte du Nouy became convinced from the problems encountered in his scientific work that chance did not explain life, and that there was a power above and beyond chance, and how in the last years of his life he turned more and more to philosophy, spiritual questions and finally back to Christ, a quest which culminated in his outstanding book, HUMAN DESTINY.

Plus Forty Hours Rack

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(ACP)—A study recently completed by the Department of Student Life at Douglas College gave the answer to how students spend their time. It was estimated that the "average undergraduate devotes a forty hour week to academic pursuits, including sixteen hours, forty minutes in attending classes and twenty-six hours, twenty-two minutes in class preparation."

Now do you wonder where the week goes?

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

The Juniatian is serviced by Associated Collegiate Press and Intercollegiate Press and is represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service.

EDITORIAL STAFF

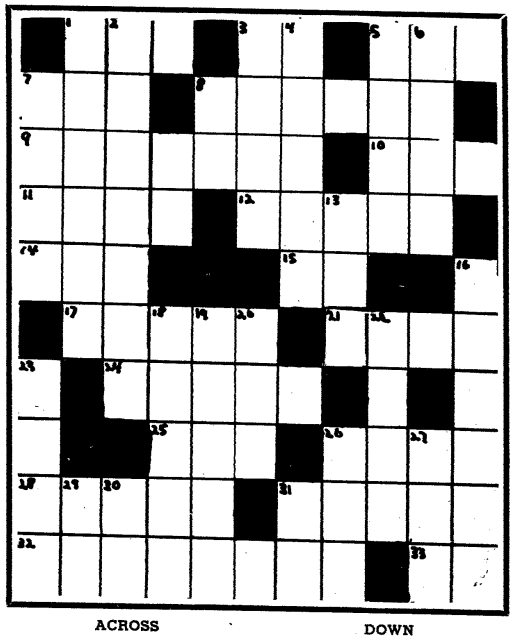
Editor-In-Chief ---------- Joan McClure
Managing Editor ------ George Fattman
Business Manager ---- George Carnahan
News Editor ---------- Eleanor Newton
Ass't. News Ed. -------- Barbara Walls
Co-Sports Editors ------- Bill Mariotti
Dave Suloff
Feature Editors ---------- Ann Willson
Dave Amidon
Club Editor ---------- Alice Waite
Circulation Manager ---- Roger Bennett
Columnists ---- ------ Nancy Freed
Jim Montgomery
Alma Skinner
Newt Taylor

MISSES' KNEE-HIGH NYLON HOSE — 60 Gauge
88¢ a pair
MURPHY'S

Buck's Laundry
614 6th Street
Phone 1320

Obviously A Crossword Puzzle

by Ann Willson and Dave Amidon



ACROSS

1. What a poet calls a fairy.
3. Has being
5. Father of the bride
7. Patriotic biddies
8. Laborite
9. Polite term for a cut
10. "His Master's Voice"
11. Best kind of ice cream
12. Student of Prof. Fairchild
14. Stannum
15. Home of most exams
17. Between apples and vinegar
21. Comes at moment of conception
24. Produced by mystery cakes
25. Uneven
26. Feels good between your toes
28. Ammonia derivative
31. Batch of written junk
32. Physics majors
33. Roughrider's initials

DOWN

1. Cloth
2. Mortal metal
3. Demands scratching
4. Soak
5. First to leave class when Prof. is late
6. Some other religious denomination
7. Mildly crazy
8. Article just for vowels
13. Waikiki wreath
16. High class anger
18. Useless male
19. Wild birds grown for pillow-down
20. Un-American color
22. 24-hour protection
23. Feet of the mighty
26. A long one can weigh 2400 lbs
27. Sat down (insect)
29. Famous boat
30. Freud's second self
31. Iron to a chemist

See Solution, Page 4

Could You Use $200 ?

New York, — (ACP)—With a lot of people either traveling or thinking about taking a trip, one of the nation's big tour operators is faced with the problem. It seems Thomas Cook and Son, who conduct the famous Cook's tours, interviewed young people returning from escorted tours of Europe last summer. They learned that today's younger generation still like to travel abroad with a chaperone, but prefer to call her by a name more in keeping with the spirit of 1956 than 1886.

However, during the past few months none of the firm's "brain trust" has come up with a satisfactory new term which would still mean "chaperone" to parents and guardians — and "confidante" to young people. So they're asking the younger generation to come up with a term that doesn't smack too much of over-stern parental authority. Provided you're between 18 and 28 years old on June 30. You're eligible to send in your version of a new word for "chaperone" as long as you're a resident of the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, or Canada.

The best suggestion will get a prize of $200 in Cook's Travelers checks. The first step is to write for an instruction blank. The address is Thomas Cook & Son Inc., 587 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

Hollywood Shop
GLOVES
DRESSES

Wolf Furniture Co.
Complete Home Furnishings
7th & Mifflin

LAST CHANCE !
To Get Your RCA Victor
Save On Records Coupon Book
Offer Ends April 30th
MILLER'S RECORD SHOPS
MILLER HARDWARE COMPANY

Kenneth Bunn To Pilot Football, Baseball Here

One month after Bob Hicks resigned as head football and baseball coach at Juniata, a new mentor has been named to these positions.

Kenneth Bunn, Jr., former Penn State athlete and head football coach at West Shore High School in Lemoyne has been chosen for the position. Bunn, who attended high school at State College, was just one of forty candidates applying for the position according to President Ellis.

• Ken Bunn •
New Grid Coach

In addition to coaching football and baseball Bunn will serve as instructor to physical education. He will also assist Doctor Arnold Greene in basketball.

Bunn was quite a football player himself at Penn State. In 1950 he was chosen as all-state center. In his early playing days at State under Rip Engle, Bunn was handicapped by a bad leg. But despite this injury he continued playing even though he was considered small in this day of giant linemen.

Bunn's first coaching job was at Lawrence High School on Long Island. There he served three years as line coach until he took the helm at West Shore. At West Shore he compiled a record of eleven won seven lost and one tie. Last season he won seven, lost one while deadlocking one.

Coach Bunn is married and has a three-year-old son. The Bunn's now reside at Camp Hill, Pa., but intend to move to Huntingdon by August.

Diamond Men Out-Race Bisons In Runs To Arrive At Well-Fought 16-14 Victory

by Allen Custer

The victory-starved Juniata "nine" notched their first win of the season at the expense of the Bucknell Bisons by the "football" score of 16-14.

John Criswell started on the mound for the Indians but had to be relieved in the heetic ninth inning by Brown and Alderfer. Juniata drew first blood when Bernie Oriss singled to center, stole second and romped home on the first of "Lefty" Alderfer's four hits.

Bucknell scored twice in the first and the slug feat had begun. Juniata scored three times in the second and four in the third while holding Bucknell to two tallies in the third.

Juniata added another run in the fourth inning; neither team scored in the fifth and at the end of five innings the score stood 9-4 in favor of Juniata.

Warpath In Sixth

The Indians of Coach Hicks went on the warpath in the sixth and literally scalped the bisons for six runs. Going into the ninth Juniata held a firm 16-10 margin.

The roof fell in the ninth, almost proving disastrous, as Bucknell marched nine men to the plate and scored four runs.

A nice double play from Oriss to Guyer killed the threat and Alderfer struck out the last Bucknell player and the game was over.

Two Homers

Highlights of the game were homeruns by LeRoy Hallman and Tony Quarantillo.

Juniata amassed 20 base hits as every starting player hit safely.

The Juniatian

Friday, April 27, 1956 Page 3

Invitational Relays Here Successful Undertaking

by Chuck Brown

Juniata's attempt to stimulate interest in track in central Pennsylvania, with the first annual Juniata Invitational Scholastic Relays last Saturday afternoon on College Field was a big success, according to reports from those in charge.

Approximately 230 trackmen from 11 high schools took part in the afternoon's activities, which consisted of six field events, five four-men relay races, and an open mile run.

Snider Pleased

Athletic director Mike Snider, who was in charge of the affair, was very pleased with the response and the results of the meet. He said that the high school coaches were happy with the way the meet was run off, and they all expressed the hope that Juniata would continue to hold this scholastic relay affair.

Snider stated that he would like to thank all those people who had a part in the successful handling of the meet. In view of the fine response to this year's invitational, another is being planned for next year.

Individual Awards

Awards were presented to the first three place winners in all events in a ceremony following the meet. There was no team award given. The tracksters were feated at a buffet dinner in Memorial Gym in the evening.

Lewistown's Terry Wade topped the individual event winners as he won the mile run in 4:37.5 and tied for the top spot in the high jump, with George Wise, of Clearfield, at 5 ft. 9 in. Dick Hambright, of Tyrone, copped first place in the broad jump with a leap of 21 ft. 11 in. Lewistown's Ed Stoicheff won the javelin throw with a toss of 158 ft. 2½ in. Harry Falk, from State College, topped the pole vaulters as he soared 10 ft. 9 in. The 12 lb shot put was heaved 47 ft. 1½ in. by Max Kneidinger, of Bellwood-Antis, for first in that event. The final field event, which was the discus, was won by Paul Sweetland, of State College. His winning throw was 127 ft. 5½ in.

The two-mile relay was copped by State College in the time of 8:51.8. The Little Lions also won the sprint medley relay with a clocking of 3:57.5. The Tyrone Golden Eagles took top honors in the quarter mile relay in the time of 47.3 and the half mile relay in 1:37.4. The meet came to a close with the Lewistown Panthers winning the one mile relay in 3:44.

an editorial

From The Bleachers

by Dave Suloff

Shortly after chapel on Friday of last week, I was approached by several fellows who complained about the coverage of the sports page of the Juniatian.

Complaints were aired over the fact that the baseball squad received only a small write up, while the track squad had the headlines. It was brought to my attention, because I am a member of the track team, that I was partial to that sport in regards to the page.

So that all of these complaints may be answered, let me say first of all, I try to be partial to no sport when it comes to the sports page. The baseball game with Albright, and the other games, played earlier this season, were to be the lead story for last week. The story came into the office late Thursday afternoon around 2:30, which was entirely too late to go to press. Mr. Engel was contacted to see what information was available on the game, but with little time available, not much information could be garnered concerning the baseball game the previous day.

Complaints were also raised concerning the size of the intramural write up in comparison with the varsity write ups. While I must agree that the varsity sports are the top sports attractions on College Hill, we must not forget that intramurals are for those who, for lack of ability, time or for other reasons, are not members of a varsity squad. Intramurals embrace practically three-fourths of the population of our campus. Certainly intramurals have a right to be considered on the sports page, and will continue to have that right so long as I am co-sports editor of the Juniatian.

Nitwits Leading In IM Volleyball

The Nitwits gained undisputed control over first place in the volleyball league by winning their third consecutive game on April 23, defeating the Punchy Pack 39-28.

In other games of the night the Krazy Kids won over the Clowns by a 31-22 score and the Red Devils gained a 1-0 forfeit victory from the Rowdies.

Holsinger and Wright led the Nitwit scoring with 8 and 7 points respectively. Haines and Gilroy led the losing Punchy Pack with 6 points each. Frey led the Krazy Kids with 6 points and Raver led the Clowns with 6 points.

Games Monday night will be the Krazy Kids against the Red Devils at 7 P. M., the Punchy Pack against the Clowns at 8 and the Nitwitts against the Papooses

Tennis Players Lose To Dickinson, Pitt U.

Juniata netmen dropped matches to high-powered Dickinson and Pitt teams this week.

Dickinson succeeded in beating the Indians on their home court by a 7-2 score. Lone singles winner for JC was first man Phil Lankford, who won his match easily, 6-0, 6-2. Del McQuaide and John Staley chalked up the other JC point, taking their doubles contest 6-2, 7-5.

The Pittsburgh game found the Indians on the short end of a 9-0 score. With Lankford, Dan Raffensperger and John Miller absent, manager McFadden's team failed to gain a match from the well-balanced Panthers.

Linksmen Lose To Pitt U., 6-3

The Pitt Panthers handed the Indians a 6-3 loss Wednesday afternoon on an away golf match.

Keith Birmingham was named medalist and both he and West played "best ball" of the match. They both won their matches.

John Staley, Dick Hite, Barry Montgomery and Dick Mumma also played, but lost.

Monsoons Hold Games In IM Softball To Six

The abbreviated, rain-studded week of April 17-24 found but six games played in the intramural softball loop.

On Wednesday, the Wibbers, behind "Jake" Jacobs 1-hit pitching edged the Crusaders 2-1. Cobb Ulsh's one out double in the last frame proved to be the winning blow after Frank Bird's home run had tied the game for the Crusaders in the fourth.

In other games Wednesday, the Prophets downed the Draft Dodgers 13-6 and the Broncholites smothered the JC Juniors 20-7.

The highlight of Thursday's games over the Mumblers 9-1 triumph over the previously undefeated Bear's Kats. Vern Johnson went the entire seven innings, twirling a nifty two-hitter. The Downtowners suffered their second straight defeat in dropping a 7-3 decision to the Wildcats, while the Jabberwockies continued their winning ways in a 13-7 victory over LTD.

Hotel Penn Hunt
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
11 A. M.—12 P. M.
BANQUET FACILITIES

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
IT'S OUT OF THIS WORLD!!!
"FORBIDDEN PLANET"
starring WALTER PIDGEON - ANNE FRANCIS
LESLIE NIELSEN and ROBBY, THE ROBOT from M-G-M in CINEMASCOPE and COLOR!
MON. and TUE.
WARNER BROS. present
ALAN LADD EDWARD G. ROBINSON
JOANNE DRU
HELL ON FRISCO BAY
CinemaScope WarnerColor
STARTS WEDNESDAY
May 2nd For 4 Days
Adults 65¢ Children 15¢ tax incl.
The Remarkable Story of Lillian Roth!
I'LL CRY TOMORROW
M-G-M has made it into an overwhelming motion picture!
starring
SUSAN HAYWARD
RICHARD CONTE
EDDIE ALBERT · JO VAN FLEET
DON TAYLOR · RAY DANTON
HARRIS GRAND
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
2 Action Hits
"SIMBA" in color also
"KING DYNOSAUR"

Go Atlantic
To
HOOVERS ATLANTIC SERVICE
11th & Mifflin Sts.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Guns
Bought and Sold
UPDYKES
SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsman"
608 Wash. St. Phone1688

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Meet Me At
SKIP'S.... for Ice Cream
and Sandwiches

Knox To Join JC's Faculty

Chuck Knox, a member of Juniata's class of '54, has been appointed instructor in history and political science on the faculty, Pres. Ellis announced today.

Knox will serve as line coach in football to assist head coach Kenneth Bunn (see story on sports page).

While here Knox majored in history and political science. He has been admitted to the graduate school at Penn State University to continue study in his field this summer.

He taught one year in Huntingdon High School and served as assistant coach in football at Juniata under Bob Hicks before going to Tyrone last year. He is a teacher and coach at Tyrone now.

A tackle on Juniata's first undefeated team in 1953, he was a 4-year letterman.

Columnist Reveals Profs' Technique To Fail Students

(ACP)A columnist known only as Polly has revealed the astounding results of an investigation in a recent issue of the Rensselaer Polytechnic.

"For a long time, Polly has suspected the presence of a select group among the faculty who have banded together into a Flunk Students' Club. From my experience with this group I have cunningly deduced the by-laws of this fantastic fraternity. For the benefit of the entire student body, Polly fearlessly (and anonymously) presents them here:

1. Test questions on material in the main part of the text or given in lecture are too easy. Use items from footnotes, references, and from books listed in the bibliography for all your quizzes.

2. Give tests either twice a term or twice a week. Announcing quizzes ahead of time is utter foolishness. You'll never flunk them that way.

3. Allot the students about half the time it would take you to do the test. Put the hardest question first and remember it's the answer that counts. Take off one and a half credit for numerical mistakes.

4. Unless you have a class of all "A" students (somebody has to flunk!) never use a curve for marking. It's a sign of weakness.

5. Last but definitely not least, remember our sacred motto: "They're here to work!"

Debaters Take 5 In Carnegie Meet

Juniata's debate team returned from last Saturday's Carnegie Tech Tartan Tournament with the best results that a JC debate team has had in recent years.

The debaters had a very good 5-3 overall record. This put Juniata in a three way tie for third place on the basis of record. On the point system, which determined the final standings, Juniatea finished fifth in the 13-team affair.

The affirmatives, who were Dave Amidon and Jim Montgomery, won three of four debates. They defeated the University of Buffalo, Xavier (Ohio) and Houghton (N.Y.) and lost to Mt. Mercy. The negative team of Dick Backus and Jim Stayer defeated the University of Buffalo and Pitt Men and lost to Mt. Mercy and Pitt Women.

Heidelberg College (Ohio) won the tourney with an 8-0 record. Pitt Women finished second with a 6-2 log. Mt. Mercy and Xavier tied Juniata's 5-3 record and finished in a tie for third place on points.

May Day Court —

Cont. from page 1

Another music education major, Miss McNitt was a May Day attendant last year. She was assistant coordinator of Brigadoon and is a member of JCA. Her hometown is Milroy.

Miss Homecoming IX

From Elizabethtown, Miss Wenger is a home ec major active in Lambda Gamma, WAA and was a May Day attendant last year. She was Miss Homecoming IX.

Miss Freed hails from Telford, majors in elementary education and includes previous appearances in May Court, Homecoming attendant, reporting for the Juniatian and work with the social committee among her campus activities.

The only out-of-state choice, Miss Phillips, lives in Sag Harbor, Long Island. She is majoring in sociology and is presently a member of Sigma Gamma.

Red, Blue and Yellow

The dining room was arrayed in red, blue and yellow, bold painter's colors. The table centerpieces were black picture frames with bright flowered centers, while the throne was the center of a large matching frame.

Programs were in the form of hand mirrors, and alternate easels and miniature artists served as place cards.

To entertain the queen, Ron Dilling sang All the Things You Are, Anna Mary Smith painted a verbal picture of Little Susie Entertaining a Caller and a quartet of Ron Dilling, Ernie Lashlee, Howie Kerstetter and Larry Landes concluded with a colorful rendition of There Is Nothing Like A Dame.

Operation Recreation . . .

Can Senate Sue Borough?

Can the Juniata College Senate sue the borough of Huntingdon?

This question arose in Wednesday evening's discussion of the Operation Recreation issue. It seems that the borough's Pennsylvania Avenue when extended will go right over the present Operation Recreation Dam.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Bibler

"If you have to drive this thing to school, do you have to park it in front of Geiger House?"

A considerable portion of an over $300 investment plus hours of labor will go "down the drain" when such action is taken. So the question was raised whether the Senate could sue the borough for the potential value of the area being destroyed.

Taylor To Investigate

Pres. Jim Stayer named Newt Taylor to investigate the entire situation, especially since the Senate was not aware at the time just what its rights are.

General contractor of the project, Del McQuaide, was rather worried for awhile about what to do next, especially since any new location for the necessary dam would not leave it high enough that the water would flow into the lake nearby.

Fike to The Rescue

Treasurer John Fike solved the problem when he agreed to provide the new dam with a pump to send the water to the lake.

But the problem of retrieving much lost labor and improvement still faces the Senate.

Predestination To Be JCA's Topic

by Kerin Narbut

Predestination! Exactly what does it mean?

Does it contradict the doctrine of free will? Is it fatalism? Does it really give man reason for being?

At the JCA meeting Tuesday evening at 7:15 Dr. William Orr will state and explain the Presbyterian doctrine on prerestination. Dr. Orr is professor of systematic theology at Western Seminary, Pittsburgh.

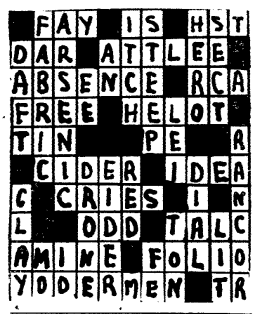
The author of several books and a well-known theologian in his denomination, Dr. Orr has done extensive youth and student work. He has spoken at conferences and has given series of lectures to various groups.

Registration Friday—

Registration for the summer term will take place Friday, May 4, in Students Hall.

Schedules and details for registration for the fall term will be available next Tuesday.

Puzzle Solution



AMES SHOP
DRESSES — COATS
SPORTSWEAR

Weaver Florist
G. Donald Fisher
Phone 431-J 211 5th St.
Flowers For All Occasions

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Service

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

The Values Are Big
The Savings Are Great
Don't Miss Our Big Clearance Sale
Danks & Co.

KOUGHS JEWELRY STORE
Mens & Ladies Wallets
Watch Repairs
Jewelry

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

CAKES FOR

Delicious-Decorated Delivered!
Call 1148 or Write
HOM-TASTE BAKERY
HUNTINGDON, PA.
YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS WILL PLEASE THE ONE TO RECEIVE!
SEND ONE TO YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER!

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn St.
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Books—Leather Goods—Bibles
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

School and Office Supplies
PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS
Hixson's
Union National Bank Building

Union National Bank and Trust Company
SINCE 1866
Member F. D. I. C.

15 MINUTES
Telephone Time Limit
SENATE URGES CONSIDERATION

The Juniatian

VANDALISM
Is NOT Collegiate
SEE EDITORIAL, PHOTOS, P. 2

Vol. 32 No. 24 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, May 4, 1956

● Queen Maggie Sims ●
Pretty As A Picture

Color To Cover Campus As Gay May Day Dawns

by Ross Nahrgang and Barb Smathers

Paintbox Paradise is a theme that aptly describes the color and beauty that will prevail at this year's May Day festivities as the pageantry, fun and entertainment unfold tomorrow beginning in front of Oller Hall at 1:30 P. M.

The first item on the day long program is the band concert presented by the college marching band under the baton of Dr. Jack Brammer. Upon the stroke of 2 p.m. the procession of the Queen, Maggie Sims, and her court will begin, ending at Oller Hall where she will be crowned by her Prince Charming, Bill Haushalter.

Pictures Alive!

Entertainment fit for her royal highness will be MC'ed by Jerry Richards who will present such features as the Modern Dan ers in a version of The Wedding of the Painted Doll and the Men's Barbershop Quartet (Bruce Dickey, Charlie Fox, Jay Guyer and Harvey Ressler) singing for the first time anywhere, May Day at JC, a new song with lyrics by Nan Heller and music by Peter Wright.

Open house will be held in the dorms on Saturday, May 5.
Hours: 10 — 12 a.m.
3 — 5 p.m.

The program will also feature Anna Mary Smith as The Plain Dirt Gardner and a girls trio featuring Jacque Rowland, Bonnie Brumbaugh and Aileen Wright. The Midnighters will give forth with some lively music and rounding out the entertainment will be the traditional May Pole Dance performed by the freshmen girls.

Lawn Party

At 2:45 a lawn party adjacent to the Women's Gym and including an outdoor art display will provide fun for everybody. Then at 4 p.m. in Oller Hall Glenn Has

See '56 MAY DAY, p. 4

Registrar Sets Dates to Choose '56 Fall Courses

Registration for the summer term will take place this afternoon from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in Students Hall with registration for the fall term scheduled next week.

The schedule for fall is as follows:

Tuesday, 1:30-3 p.m. — juniors, music and elementary ed majors.

Wednesday, 1:30 - 3 p.m. — sophomores and home ec majors.

Thursday, 1:30 - 3 p.m. — freshmen.

Those not able to register at the assigned time because of class conflict should meet in the registrar's office Tuesday, May 10, at 10 a.m.

Non-Vets

Non-veteran men registering for the fall semester next week must obtain three copies of Selective Service Form 109 at registration headquarters, according to Bill Engel, registrar.

Those required to fill out this form should complete items 1 to 6 only. The registrar will send one copy to the local draft board and one copy to the student within 30 days after the close of college (before July 1).

Those students who wish to take summer work at another school than Juniata should procure a clearance blank for the transfer of credits.

This form must be gotten from Bill Engel before leaving school this term. The form is also necessary to request permission for transfer of credits.

● Prince Bill Haushalter ●
Charmed Campus Coeds

Ellis, Senate Approve Court; Senate Names LC Delegates

President Ellis has approved the constitution of the proposed Campus Judiciary, according to Senate President Jim Stayer, and members of the Senate approved it at a special meeting yesterday morning.

The Senate spent most of the evening considering possible representatives to Leadership Conference in September in that the report of a committee consisting of Newt Taylor, Ann Willson and June Gray on possible appointees was heard and that nearly three hours was spent in reaching a decision.

JWSF Chairman

Dave Amidon has been named to head next year's World Service Fund drive.

The following LC delegates were elected:

Members of the class of '57 who automatically will receive an invitation to attend because of positions held on campus include Jim Corrigan, Larry Davis, Joan McClure, Ron Chamberlin, Dave Amidon, Carol Titus.

Flo Wenzel, "Lefty" Alderfer, Charlie Haines, Phil Lankford, Rosalie Langer, Dottie Stricker, Ken Rockwell.

Shirly Nace, George Carnahan, Joyce White, Alice Waite, Jeannette Lowe, Stayer, Taylor, Phil Marcocci, Ray Ono, Bill Hershberger, "Squeeze" Holsinger, Dick Mumma and Doug Wilson.

From the class of '58 Glen Hassinger, Spencer Ward, Eleanor Newton, Eve Wagner, Lil Weimar, Jack Barger, Jan Hoyer, Pete Wright, Tom Woodrow, Charlie Fox, Kerin Narbut, Miss Willson, George Fattman and Miss Gray were automatically invited to go.

Barbara Walls, Chuck Brown, Stan Davis, George Hess and Rex Donnelly will be invited to represent the class of '59.

Delegates At Large

Twelve delegates at large and four alternates were chosen from each class as well. On the senior class the following were elected: Dick Backus, Jim Martin, Joe DeNicola, Dick Livingston, Dwight Good, Clint Betz, Judy Gearhart, Jim Montgomery, Jackie Hayes, Nancy Nevin, "Gip" Ciminera, Henry Gibbel.

Alternates include 1. "Doc" Kramer, 2. Les Querry, 3. Carol Jenkins, 4. Howie Angstadt.

Class of '58

Juniors attending as delegates at large include Tressa Baughman, Del McQuaide, Nancy Hess, John Moore, Nan Winters, Sandra Ewing, Sue Fawcett, Ross Nahrgang, Roger Bennett, Tom Gasper, Janet Binkley, Ruth Peresta.

Alternates include 1. Don Aurand, 2. Dave Suloff, 3. Dick Lantzy, 4. Aliceann Wohlbruck.

From the class of '59 will come Sally Grove, Ginny Nixdorf, Barbara Wittenbrock, Ann Larkin, Ed Edenfield, Rush Hodgin, Dick Schaum, Don Shover, Bonnie Gunther, Janice Christie, Lorna Borthwick, Barbara Zoellin.

Alternates include 1. Jackie Rhodes, 2. Carl Wass, 3. Larry McAfee, 4. Sue Vandenburg.

All-State Group Here To Present Program Of Music Next Week

Nearly 250 of the best high school vocalists in Pennsylvania will come to Huntingdon May 10-12 to participate in the All-State Chorus to be held in Oller Hall on the Juniata College Campus.

This All-State Chorus will perform on the Oller Hall stage Friday, May 12, at 8:15 p.m. There will also be a clinic on Friday for the directors on the "Observation of solutions to choral problems." A second concert follows Saturday night.

150 Supervisors

In addition to the young singers, approximately 150 vocal music supervisors from every section of the state will attend the three-day event.

Prof. Paul Zeller of Dartmouth College will be the guest director of the chorus.

Arrangements for the state-wide choral festival have been made under the direction of Herbert S. Williams, vocal music supervisor in Huntingdon public schools. The Huntingdon Area High School is the official host.

The choral events are sponsored by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association.

Best In State

Williams stated that the members of the All-State Chorus will include the "cream of the crop" among young vocalists in Pennsylvania. The singers will be the top performers selected from the nine district choruses held prior to the state-wide event.

Students are invited to attend the Friday night concert free of charge.

Barbara Bechtell Will Be New JC Dean of Women

The appointment of Miss Barbara Ann Bechtell, Roherstown, as dean of women here was announced today by Pres. Calvert N. Ellis.

Miss Bechtell, now completing two years of internship training in student personnel work at Syracuse University, will succeed Mrs. Alice B. Dove beginning with the next college year in September.

● Miss Barbara Ann Bechtell ●
New Dean of Women

The new Juniata dean is a former assistant to the dean of women and instructor at Grove City College.

During the past two years, while finishing work on her master's degree at Syracuse, Miss Bechtell has held an assistantship in the office of the dean of women and the graduate school of education. She has served as head resident in a student residence where she has been in charge of house organization, counseling and supervision of students.

Miss Bechtell was graduated from Grove City College in 1948 with a bachelor of science degree after majoring in accounting.

Prior to returning to Grove City, Miss Bechtell served one year at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, as secretary and assistant to the director of admissions.

From 1952 to 1954 Miss Bechtell was assistant to the dean of women and instructor in secretarial studies at Grove City College. She then went to Syracuse. She is a native of Greensburg.

CHAPEL

May 7—Honors Day
May 9—Band
May 11—Norman Scribner—organist—(half-hour chapel)

editorially speaking . .

Vandalism Manifests Inadequacy Of Present Disciplinary System

Ho-hum! Once again a group of puerile Juniata "men" have demonstrated that they belong in juvenile reformatories or at best at home under mother's watchful eye instead of on a college campus, supposedly a community of young adults.

Last Thursday night some 100 vandals stormed about the campus pulling such cute pranks as breaking a window in Geiger House, dismantling a stone bench, damaging a fire escape (see photos), and, in general, creating unnecessary confusion and expense for the college and completely disregarding those invested with the authority to discipline them. It is because of incidents like this that rules and grey papers are necessary. When students demonstrate that they are incapable of disciplining themselves, the administration cannot be blamed for doing so.

Stricter Rules Necessary?

The very morning of the latest destructive incident, a Senate committee approached the president on the possibility of relaxing certain of the Grey Paper regulations for men. Although they met with some success, such action would necessitate mature and responsible behavior on the part of the students and if they persist in acting like children, perhaps the rules need to be strengthened instead of slackened.

Ultra-Energetic Students

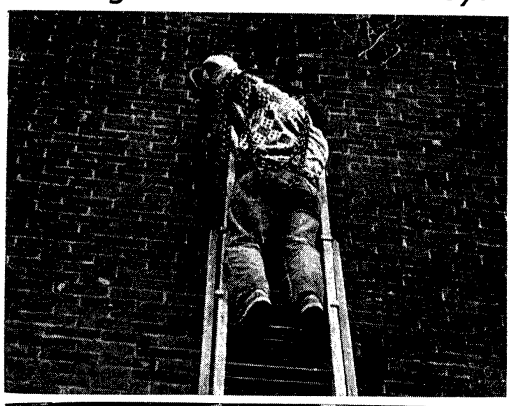
Students who have enough time and energy to destroy stone benches, throw rocks through new dorm windows and roll garbage cans down Cloister steps should divert their attention into new and more constructive directions, such as the JCA workcamp that is coming up or other worthwhile campus undertakings. As for punishing the men who took part in the vandalism, probably the same thing will be done to them as was done to those who stole the library books and those who have been destructive in the new dorm—nothing. Perhaps the students do not deserve all the blame, maybe it is our disciplinary system, or lack of disciplinary system, that is at fault.

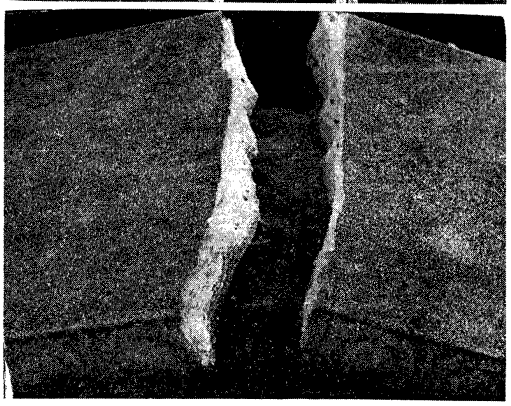
Should the grey paper regulations be more rigidy enforced by the administration? Should the authority of the house committees be strengthened? Or is a student-faculty judicial court the answer? Unless some answer is found, Thursday's outbreak of vandalism probably will not be the last.

* * * *

Thursday's outbreak was NOT the last. This past Wednesday evening, several "rowdies" let the emergency brake off the car of one of our students. The result was a demolished bumper.

A Night Out With The Boys





TOP PHOTO — Workman examines part of the fire escape mechanism which was damaged when college men attempted to enter the women's dorm in last Thursday night's raid.

BOTTOM PHOTO — The remnants of the stone bench which was completely dismantled in the same raid. Note the two broken steel pins, two of twenty-four which supported the bench.

PHOTOS BY STAN DAVIS

news views . . .

Pres. Eisenhower Will Appear On $64,000 Question, I Love Lucy

Has television made the whistlestop obsolete? That is the big question that the leaders of our two major parties are asking themselves as they make plans for the 1956 Presidential campaign.

The GOP has gone ahead and made plans for a predominately TV campaign. President Eisenhower stressed no barnstorming as one condition of his running for re-election. The very able GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall has been mapping out the TV campaign for months. Plans call for popular shows like I Love Lucy, $64,000 Question, You Bet Your Life to be cut down to twenty-five minutes so Eisenhower can tell the big audiences these shows attract why he should be re-elected. With funds from the highly successful $100 a plate Salute to Eisenhower Dinners in January GOP finances are in good shape.

Democrats Behind Eight-Ball

The Democrats are pretty much behind the eight-ball. Their party is split in a hot fight for the nomination. Their national chairman, Paul Butler seems to make more blunders every day. Knowing chances of a Democratic victory are slim, rich Democrats are keeping their money in their own pockets.

However, the GOP is conscious of the weakness of TV and radio. In 1936 on a national radio hookup a prominent Republican was introducing the GOP Presidential candidate. The politician said, "This is the man who will save America. This is the man who will bring peace to the world. This is the man who, etc., etc. I now present the next President of the United States, that great American, Herbert Hoover." However, it seems that the Republican candidate for President in 1936 was not Hoover but Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Taft Classless?

On the other hand, the people like to see the candidate in person. In 1912 President Taft stopped at North Forks, N. D. and had a chicken dinner with the townspeople. The audience was nervously cutting the chicken off the bone with their knives as they minded their etiquette. Taft picked up a chicken leg in his fingers and said, "This is the way I eat it in the White House." Old timers say that story got all over North Dakota. Nevertheless, the state voted for Woodrow Wilson.

The old whistle stop has many advantages but the Democrats fear that the confidence and sincerity of Eisenhower will have tremendous vote-getting power when it goes out over Americans 40 million television sets.

Little Man On Campus by Bibler

"Wouldn't it be easier just to skip the Selective Service Test and be done with it?"

Students Arise! You've Only Your Clothes To Lose

An Open Letter To All Juniata Men:

Throughout history, when men of action have recognized evil they have banded together to destroy it. Juniatians are no exception. For years we have struggled in the clutches of a cruelly demanding college regulation, yet coercion and regimentation persist. Juniatians of 1956—at least most of them—still pay for dinner with the detested burden of coat and tie. The non-violent resistance of a few starry-eyed, shirt-sleeved idealists has failed.

Now is the time to fight this harsh rule openly. Those who favor it represent the same forces which have always plagued society with the threat of decency. In an earlier age, these were the forces behind chivalry; we killed chivalry long ago, but "class" still rears its ugly head whenever common courtesy creeps in. "Class" means false prejudice against sneezing in other people's faces, against eating with your bare hands, against laughing at funerals; in these and other ways it is at work to limit our freedom.

Are we going to let "class" undermine a natural expression of raunchiness? Rise up, Juniatians! Hit funtism and hit it hard! Once we have ripped off our jackets, who knows how far we can carry the revolution against clothes? Men, let's fight for real freedom! Let's all be nudists!

PLENTY MAD

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Nancy Freed

With the May Day festivities on College Hill just around the nearest corner, we might look into our crystal ball and watch the celebrations on other campuses.

Following through on their theme, Holiday In Fairyland, Susquehanna University students will see fairies, pixies, brownies, and fairyland princesses bedeck their fair campus. If your secret desire has always been to possess a magic wand, see an elf no bigger than a drop of dew, or to be kissed by a beautiful princess, here's your chance.

Old Queens Reign

Across the way at Grove City College, May Day will display all the pomp and circumstance of a real royal parade, for the presence of twenty-five former May Queens, who reigned over May Day Pagents from the years 1916 through 1955, will take part in this year's performance, each attended by two women of the college. A novel idea to break the deep rut of tradition into which most May Day festivities seem to eventually fall.

* * *

Bulletin board gems from the North Manchester campus: "Students over sixty-five—your social security checks are in the business office." Aviation club meets tonight; Bring plane; B-29's ree tonight only." "Friday pool class will not meet. Professor is behind the eight ball." "Hurry, only 276 shopping days left 'til Christmas." "Students—retreat to Africa will definitely be cancel this weekend." "Attention! Please refrain from making these long distance phone calls to Asia."

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash. St.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

MISSES' KNEE-HIGH NYLON HOSE — 60 Gauge
88¢ a pair
MURPHY'S

Union National Bank and Trust Company
SINCE 1866
Member F. D. I. C.

Golfers, Netmen Register Victories

The Juniatian

Friday, May 4, 1956 Page 3

Devils, Saints Lose 5-4, 6-3

Juniata chalked up two more golf victories as the linksmen defeated the Red Devils of Dickinson 5-4, Tuesday, and St. Francis 6-3 last weekend.

Keith Birmingham, playing in first-man spot at Dickinson, took his match 2-1, shooting 75 on the par 71 Carlisle course. Bill West was defeated in his match as Dickinson's Jack Toy shot 2 over par to gain the day's best score.

Playing in the third slot, Dick Hite dropped a 3-2 contest as John Staley won his match 2-1. Barry Montgomery and Dick Mumma won the remaining matches 4-2 and 6-4 respectively. Mumma gained the winning point by taking best ball with 80 points.

St. Francis

At St. Francis West and Birmingham took the first two matches 4-3 and 7-6, as West gained best ball with 73 strokes — 3 over par. Staley dropped the number three contest 4-3 as Hite won as fourth man, 3-2. Mumma lost to best ball winner, John Jowett, 2-1, and Montgomery won his match by the same score.

AMONG THE 40 APPLICANTS for the head coaching job at Juniata College recently was Paul "Moon" Mullens, former assistant grid coach at Missouri Valley College.

JC Defeats Lycos, E-town

JC netmen defeated Elizabeth town and Lycoming squads, 9-0 and 7-2, this week, raising their record to an even 3-3 slate.

Undefeated lead-off man, Phil Lankford, set the pace against Elizabethtown winning his match easily, 6-1, 6-1. Dan Raffensperger, Bob Kaufman, Don Ruhl, Reds Randall and Del McQuaide followed Lankford's example by taking the E-towners in the remaining singles matches.

In the doubles contests, Juniata combinations of Lankford-Raffensperger, Kaufman-Ruhl and Keay-Randall defeated all Blue Jay duos.

Lycoming

In the Lycoming match, Lankford again swamped his opponent, 6-0, 6-1. Raffensperger, Kaufman and McQuaide won for the Indians, as John Millar and Ruhl were the only singles losers.

Doubles teams of Lankford-Raffensperger, Kaufman-Ruhl and Randall-McQuaide, won the remaining matches.

Krazy Kids Lead Loop In Girls' IM Volleyball

The Krazy Kids, by winning games on April 26 and 30, took over first place in the volleyball league.

On April 26 the Krazy Kids gained a 1-0 forfeit by the Red Devils. Other games on April 26 saw a Clown 34-19 victory over the Rowdies and a forfeit by the Red Devils to Papooses.

On April 30 the Nitwits defeated the Papooses 36-27 and the Punchy Pack forfeited to the Clowns 1-0.

Jeannette Lowe with 15 and Flo Wenzel with 12 headed the Krazy Kid attack on April 26. Gunter with 9 and Whittenbrock with 8 led the losing Nitwits. Nancy Hess and Maryellen Blessing led the Clowns with 10 and 9 points respectively and Robson led the losing Rowdies with 6 points.

On April 30 Khaki Holsinger led the Nitwits with 9 points and Kinloch, Madge and Rosewarne had 6 points apiece for the Papooses.

Mumblers, Wildcats Remain At Head of IM Softball List

by Carl Wass

As the intramural softball season passed the halfway mark, the Mumblers and Wildcats were the only teams with unblemished records as of Wednesday.

Pleasing weather and high scores were the keynotes of the past week's games.

Last Wednesday, LTD downed the Broncholites 8-5 and the Crusaders edged the Draft Dodgers in the last inning of a close game 11-9.

Thursday the Mumblers, behind Vern Johnson's fine pitching, swamped the JC Juniors 20-3 with a barrage of base hits.

High scoring was featured in Friday's games as the Downtowners walloped the JC Juniors 20-3 for their first win of the season. LTD suffered its fourth defeat at the hands of the Crusaders in a 27-12 slugfest.

With daylight saving time in effect Monday, evening games were the order of the day. The Mumblers squeezed past the Draft Dodgers 7-6, the Wildcats downed the JC Juniors 13-3, and the Wibbers defeated the Jabberwockies 15-6.

Tuesday evening featured an exciting game between the Jabberwockies and Crusaders in which the lead changed hands four times before the Crusaders finally triumphed 16-15. The Wildcats remained undefeated in five games as they dropped the Broncholites 14-6.

Ball Team Loses To E-town, 6-2

Being unable to hit in the clinch again deprived the Braves of a victory over the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown on Monday afternoon at College Field in a 6-2 ball game.

The Tribe was able to garner only three singles as E-town pounded hurlers Brown and Morgan of Juniata for 17 hits including a long home run by Bob Wert.

Another Marathon

Judging from the first inning it appeared as though the game was going to be another marathon. Elizabethtown scored two runs in the first inning on a double and Wert's circuit clout.

Juniata fought right back as Jay Guyer opened the first inning by reaching first on an error. Phil Over did likewise and following a sacrifice by Joe Sopata which moved both men to third and second respectively. Wes Lingenfelter lifted a sacrifice liner to left which allowed Guyer to score. Neither team scored in the second and third innings.

Only Other Run

In the fourth Juniata knotted the score on successive singles by Lingenfelter, Don Pheasant and pitcher Bob Brown, which proved to be Juniata's only hits of the game.

E-town promptly scored two runs in the fifth which proved to be too much for the Indians. After the Jays added two more in the ninth, the game ended with Juniata on the short end of a 6-2 score.

Pitt Game Rained Out

The game regularly scheduled for Pitt on Wednesday was postponed because of rain. Juniata's record thus stands at two wins and seven defeats.

Linksmen To Play In Atlantics Meet At Mount Union

Lehigh University will defend its title against a wide open field in the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference golf championship tomorrow at the American Legion Country Club near Mount Union.

Although the complete entry list from the Middle Atlantics 34 member colleges is not yet known, tournament officials are looking for "some 10 or 12" to compete in the one-day, 36 hole medal play.

Juniata, a three-time winner, and Haverford, last year's runner-up, both are expected to make strong bids to capture the Championship from Bill Leckenby's Lehigh teemen.

Other Contenders

Other contenders for team and individual championships will include Hofstra, Bucknell and Franklin and Marshall.

Leslie Norbury, a Lehigh junior from Cape May, N. J., will defend his medalist title which he won last year with a 75-78-153 over the long, tough, 18 hole Legion course.

Pairings for the tournament will be made Friday night, May 4, at a buffet supper meeting of coaches. Leo Anderson, golf pro at the Legion Country Club, will supervise pairings and play. Tournament director is William C. Docherty, golf coach at Haverford, chairman of the conference golf committee.

The tournament was started May 13, 1950, by Juniata College as an Invitational Golf Tournament at the American Legion Country Club. It was recognized by the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference in 1952 and winners since that time have been awarded the conference championship.

In six years, 28 different colleges have competed—19 are members of the MASCAC, nine are non-members. Juniata and Lehigh have been represented in each tournament.

The play is 36-hole medal for four-man teams. Unassigned men from a college may compete for medalist honors but the score does not count in team total.

Buck's Laundry
614 6th Street
Phone 1320

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
Smithfield

School and Office Supplies
PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS
Hixson's
Union National Bank Building

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Guns
Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsman"
608 Wash. St. Phone1688

Meet Me At
SKIP'S.... for
Ice Cream and Sandwiches

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Service

Go Atlantic
To
HOOVERS ATLANTIC SERVICE
11th & Mifflin Sts.

Weaver Florist
G. Donald Fisher
Phone 431-J 211 5th St.
Flowers For All Occasions

AMES SHOP
DRESSES — COATS
SPORTSWEAR

Wolf Furniture Co.
Complete Home Furnishings
7th & Mifflin

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

KOUGHS JEWELRY STORE
Mens & Ladies Wallets
Watch Repairs
Jewelry

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

LIMITED TIME ONLY
"Glenn Miller"
ARMY AIR FORCE BAND ALBUM
Over 60 Selections Never Before On Record
only $19.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE COMPANY

Christian Association Announces New Work Project

The JCA plans to send a group of work campers on a camp clean-up project Saturday afternoon, May 12.

The project selected is that of preparing the Brownie Day Camp on the Wald Estate, two miles outside Huntingdon, for use this cellent condition, a need does ex- summer.

While the camp itself is in ex-ist in that no one is responsible for getting the camp ready for the summer program. One year the Huntingdon Lions Club took the project while last year the Girl Scouts attempted it, but proved to be rather inadequate for what is involved.

Jobs waiting to be tackled con-sist of cleaning out a large activ-ities cabin and a separate cabin which serves as a kitchen, picking up branches and dead wood, fix-ing benches, etc. and cleaning out the campfire circle.

Work campers will have more to do than working during the afternoon, for a period of recre-ation is planned and if the work campers desire, a picnic supper can be arranged.

Anyone interested in helping should come to Totem Inn Mon-day immediately following the noon meal to sign up. This work camp will be the third sponsored by the JCA under the direction of Dottie Stricker, social respon-sibility chairman.

Barb Zoellin Is Miss Milkmaid

Freshman Barbara Zoellin was recently chosen Miss Milk Maid of the Philadelphia district in a contest sponsored by the Amer-ican Dairy Council and the Penn-sylvania Grocers' Association.

Eight finalists from 25 entries were interviewed by a board of eight judges including columnists from the Evening Bulletin and the Philadelphia Inquirer, two actors and an executive from Hess Brothers' Department Store. The girls were rated on form, poise, beauty, background, speech and sincertity.

Miss Zoellin, who lives on a dairy farm in Ottsville, will now enter the state finals May 17 and 18 in Pocono Manor in coopera-tion with the American Broad-casting Company. The state win-ner, Miss Pennsylvania State Dairy Queen, will receive a $1,000 scholarship.

'56 May Day Brings Traditional Activities

Cont. from page 1

singer will narrate pictures of the Tangerine Bowl Classic.

Reception

After time out for dinner, the Junior-Senior Reception will be held in Memorial Gym at 8:30 with dancing to the strains of the Dickinson College Dance Band.

In the reception line will be Dean and Mrs. Mays, Dr. and Mrs. Rockwell, Jim Corrigan—presi-dent of the junior class, Carolyn Long, Klare Sunderland—presi-dent of the snior class and Doris dent of the senior class and Doris General chairman for the af-fair, Jim Corrigan has announced the following committees and their chairman: decorations, Mary Johnson; entertainment-refresh-ments-danceband, Sam Douglas and programs Doc Kramer.

Decorations will center around a Paris Street Art Exhibit in keeping with the overall theme.

Selective Service Test Here In May

The third and final adminis-tration of the Selective Service College Qualification Test will take place on Thursday, May 17.

Monday, May 7, is the closing date for registration. Applications may be obtained from the local headquarters of Selective Service at 707 Washington Street. All stu-dents registered with Selective Service who have not taken the test are urged to do so at this time.

Club News

by Alice Waite

Atmosphere plus is what the lawn between Student's Hall and Totem Inn will have on May Day when it becomes an outdoor art show under the direction of Cindy Zonies and Jill Derstine, with the help of the Inter-Club Council.

Camera and Art Clubs are sup-plying the photographs, sketches and paintings for all JC art critics to see.

FTA will feature a soap carving and clay modeling display, a children's art show and sand ta-ble displays made by the elemen-tary art class while the German Club will sponsor a Pennsylvania Dutch display. Street signs made by Sigma Gamma will lead you to "Treasure Alley" where the Mas-que will show you the "old" and "new" in fashions.

Pyrenees and IRC are supply-ing cafe tables and umbrellas—what more does one need to get hungry for the lemonade made by Lambda Gamma and Scalpel and Probe's hot dog stand (even if it is artificial).

Mystery

Have your dreams come true at the Chem Club wishing well, pick a daisy from Outing Club's flower wagon, play games of chance with WAA—even visit Debate's Tomb of the Beloved (a mystery of all mysteries).

Setting up the fence, a man sized job, will be handled by the J-Club. Brightly colored balloons supplied by Tycoon and soft mus-ic from WJC are sure to set you in the spring mood.

We hate to mention it but in case of rain the show will be held in the Women's Gym.

Students May Register For Fullbright Aid Now

Competitions for United States Government scholarships for grad-uate study abroad for 1957-58 are now open, it was announced today by Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of Internation-al Education, New York City.

A brochure describing overseas study awards under the Fulbright Act and the Buenos Aires Con-vention has just been published by the Institute. This brochure and application blanks are avail-able in Dean May's office.

Eligibility requirements for these foreign study fellowships are: United States citizenship; a college degree or its equivalent at the time the award is to be taken up; knowledge of the lang uage of the country of applica-tion sufficient to carry on the proposed study; and good health. Preference is given to applicants not more than 35 years of age.

Awards under the Fulbright Act cover Transportation, ex-penses of a language refresher or orientation course abroad, tuition, books and maintenance for one academic year. Awards under the Buenos Aires Convention include transportation provided by the U. S. Government and tuition and maintenance allowances provided by the host governments.

Competition for the 1957-58 a-cademic year closes Novemer 1, 1956.

Aitken To Give Recital On Oller Organ Sunday

Elaine Aitken will present her senior recital this Sunday after-noon, May 6, at 2 o'clock, in Oller Hall. Assisting musicians will be Barbara Orner, mezzo-soprano, and Earl J. Stutzman, pianist.

Prior to coming to Juniata Col-lege from Colver High School, Miss Aitken was accompanist for her high school choruses and or-chestra. She has served as organ-ist for one year at the Stone Church, and for a summer at the First Presbyterian Church at Warrington, Florida. She has been the organist-accompanist for the Juniata College Choir for the past two years; and has been ac-tive in many campus musical e-vents.

Vocal Concert

This evening at 8:15 Lois Heart will give a voice recital in Oller Hall. It is under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Pfotenhauer, in-structor in voice.

Weaver To Teach Here When Schlegel Leaves

Miss Gladys C. Weaver, Lan-caster, Pa., a teacher in Brecht School in Manheim Township, has been appointed instructor in ed-ucation here, Dean Morley Mays announced today.

The appointment of Miss Weav-er, effective for one year begin-ning next September, fills a va-cancy left by Miriam A. Schlegel who has been granted a leave of absence for further graduate study next year. She will teach courses in elementary education. She is a native of Windber.

A graduate of Elizabethtown College in 1947, with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education, Miss Weaver holds a master of science degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Hotel Penn Hunt
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
11 A. M.—12 P. M.
BANQUET FACILITIES

"I feel like a Coke. Do you?"

Of course. Most everyone does—often. Because a few moments over ice-cold Coca-Cola refresh you so. It's sparkling with natural goodness, pure and wholesome—and naturally friendly to your figure. Feel like having a Coke?
DRINK Coca-Cola
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Altoona Bottling Company, Altoona, Pa.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

CAKES FOR

Delicious-Decorated Delivered!
Call 1148 or Write
HOM-TASTE BAKERY
HUNTINGDON, PA.
YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS WILL PLEASE THE ONE TO RECEIVE!
SEND ONE TO YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER!

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn St.
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Books—Leather Goods—Bibles
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

your college florist
Woodring's Floral Gardens
8th & Washington St.
Phone 1141

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
Adults 65¢ Tax Included
The story of Lillian Roth based on the best-seller!
M-G-M's I'LL CRY TOMORROW
starring SUSAN HAYWARD

MON. and TUE.
WARNER BROS. PRESENT
MARIO LANZA "SERENADE" IN WARNERCOLOR
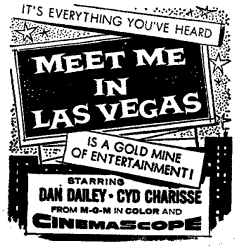
CO-STARRING JOAN FONTAINE
SCREEN PLAY BY IVAN GOFF & BEN ROBERTS AND JOHN TWIST
PRODUCED BY HENRY BLANKE DIRECTED BY ANTHONY MANN

STARTS WEDNESDAY, MAY 9



HARRIS GRAND
NOW THRU SATURDAY
"Red Sundown"
Technicolor
Rory Calhoun — Martha Hyer
AND
"World In My Corner"
Audie Murphy — Barbara Rush

HI
All-State Chorus
HOPE YOU ENJOY YOUR STAY HERE

The Juniatian

COMPS
A Guest Editorial
BY JIM STAYER, PAGE 2

Vol. 32 No. 25 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, May 11, 1956

In By One?
Senate Move Censures Cop

A campus incident which took place in the Oller Hall parking lot last Saturday morning at 1:10 a.m. has led to Senate censure of Huntingdon chief of police Edward Morris.

A student reported to the Senate Wednesday evening that Morris threatened to lock up him and one of his companions because the two could not present on-the-spot proof of their identification. The students were with several other men at the time. They had just returned by automobile from an area diner.

Morris reportedly was in uniform and was patrolling the area in his automobile. He told the men that he had been informed that college men had to be in their dorms by 1 a.m.

Campus Watchman

While official report, as requested by the Senate two weeks ago, has not been issued, it is believed that the local police chief was hired by the college to serve several nights a week as campus watchman. However, according to reports, it did not appear that Morris was acting in this capacity at the time.

Russians Here

In spite of considerable disagreement on the Senate floor it was decided that Senate will invite Russia's Premier Bulganin and Communist leader Khrushev to visit the campus should they come to the United States.

Used Book Store

Dick Backus, chairman of the used book store gave a report in which he outlined the procedure to operate the store.

He plans to take for sale used textbooks in the Senate office next Tuesday from 10 to 12 a.m. and Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. Seniors and students intending to transfer are invited to sell books, as they desire, at this time. The books will be on sale later on.

A charge of five percent will be deducted if the book is sold. In addition the seller will be required to pay ten cents per book put on sale to be used to cover cost of returning each book in case it is not sold (probably by mailing). If the book is sold, the ten cent fee will be returned to the seller along with 95 percent of the price of the book.

CHAPEL

May 14—Chapel Choir
May 16—Orchestra
May 18—Senior chapel

● Ray Eberle ●
At Charity Ball

Comp Distinction Goes To Seven

Results of the comprehensive examinations for the spring term have been announced by the registrar's office.

Of the 102 students taking comps, seven were passed with distinction: in languages, Jim Cummins; in history and political science, Ernie Lashlee and Bill Smith; in psychology, Dawn Kieferle; in sociology, Jane Summy; in biology (medical technician) Shirley Dixon, and in chemistry, Bob Fisher.

ALL LIBRARY MATERIALS —BOOKS, PAMPHLETS, AND PICTURES — WILL BE DUE MONDAY, MAY 21.

JBSF'ers Plan Paradise Picnic

by Jackie Rowland

Now that spring is finally here, it is about time that we get out and enjoy it. What better place could there be than Paradise Furnace? What better time than late Sunday afternoon and evening? What better occasion than a hike followed by supper and vespers?

This is the last event of our year, JBSF'ers. Meet at 4:00 Sunday afternoon on Founders Porch ready to head for the hills.

Big Alms Ball Brings Eberle

Ray Eberle and his orchestra have been chosen to play for the seventh annual Charity Ball to be held the evening of May 18 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium of Juniata College.

The Eberle group is well-known on the West coast and is now in the prospect of making a successful tour of the country playing in the style of Eberle's former employers, the late Glenn Miller.

The cost for non-patron tickets will be $2.50 per person and the intermission is scheduled for about 10:30 when refreshments will be served and professional entertainment will be offered.

The intermission entertainment will be a vocal group of brothers and a sister called Terry and the Macs who do all styles of music and have been called by Downbeat, "The most refreshing quartet yet."

College women attending the dance will have 1 a.m. lates.

Five Seniors Get Ellis Scholarships

Presided over by President Ellis, Honors Day was observed Monday, May 7, in the chapel service.

Charles C. Ellis Memorial Scholarships, given to seniors who have demonstrated unusual competence in scholarship and good citizenship, were awarded to Lawrence Davis, Richard Livingston, James Stayer, Carol Titus and Joyce Ann White.

The Chemical Rubber Company has provided achievement awards for outstanding competence in physics and chemistry. These awards were presented to George Hess for his ability in chemistry and to Spencer Ward for his achievements in the field of physics.

Choir To Sing Sunday At Episcopal Church

The Juniata College Choir will make its final appearance of the season at 7:30 Sunday evening in the St. John's Episcopal Church located near Second and Penn Streets.

Paul Zeller Will Direct All-State Chorus Here

Paul Zeller, professor of music and director of glee clubs at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., is on campus to direct the All-State High School Chorus in their concerts tonight and Saturday night, at 8:15 in Oller Hall.

Zeller received his Bachelor of Science Degree in music education from Mansfield State Teachers College, Mansfield, and his Masters Degree from the University of Michigan.

The Dartmouth glee clubs under Mr. Zeller's direction are now appearing in the second Cinerama presentation, Cinerama Holiday, and they appear in Winter Carnival. The glee club has appeared on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town and the Perry Como Show.

The All-State Chorus will present such numbers as Then Round About the Starry Throne, George F. Handel; Praise Ye the Lord of Hosts, Saint-Saens-Ehret by girls' chorus; In My Arms, Loesser-Grouga by boys' chorus; Cradle Song of the Virgin, Johannes Brahms; I Dream of Jeanie, Foster-Clokey; Blow Gabriel Blow, Cole Porter-Warnick;

Mr. Herbert Williams of Huntingdon High School is the host director of the All-State Chorus.

Students are invited to attend the concert this evening free of charge.

Home Ec Coeds Will Be Models

Lambda Gamma is sponsoring a fashion show on May 15 at 8:00 p.m. in the Women's Gym.

The theme of the show will be evolved around the school calendar year. All participants are home economics majors, and many will wear the garments they themselves made

Interpretation Class Plans Reading Recitals

The oral interpretation class, composed of nine students, will present two evening recitals of readings in Swigart Hall at 8:15 Tuesday and Thursday evenings. They will constitute the final work for the class, which has been taught by Miss Esther M. Doyle. Several voice students of Miss Pfotenhauer will assist in both recitals.

Wald Workcamp Plans Complete

Final plans have been completed for this weekend's work camp, which is being sponsored by the JCA.

Last Monday 25 students, 14 fellows and 11 girls, volunteered their services in cleaning up the Brownie Day Camp on the Wald Estate, two miles outside of Huntingdon.

Following a short worship service tomorrow after the noon meal, the work campers will go to the estate where they will clean the cabins, gather and cut wood and prepare the camp for summer.

A volleyball game followed by a picnic supper will climax the afternoon's activities.

Playday in Sherwood Is On JCA's Agenda

by Kerin Narbut

On Wednesday afternoon the JCA will terminate its 1956 spring program with an all college playday.

The playday will include an afternoon recreational program, picnic dinner, vesper service and marshmallow roast. Sherwood will be the site of the activities which will begin at 4 p.m. and include ping pong, volley ball, softball, and races.

Picnic Supper

At 5:30 all the college will be served a picnic supper and more games and fun are scheduled to follow. After dinner the closing worship service of the JCA college year will take place at sunset on Roundtop. This vesper service planned by a committee of graduating seniors including Ron Morgan, Ernie Lashlee and Neil Albright promises to be one of the most meaningful of the year.

Carol Jenkins will be in charge of the affair.

Advanced Comp's Story of the Year

The Ring

by Jerry Richards

CHOSEN BY THE JUNIATIAN FEATURE DEPT. FROM NOMINATIONS MADE BY THIS YEAR'S CLASS IN ADVANCED COMPOSITION

The taste of the warm summer rain on her face was as fresh and clean as she was. I held her at arm's length, facinated by her blue eyes. Then I released the grip of my fingers from her shoulders and crisscrossed my arms behind her, winding my fingers through her shining black hair.

She buried her cheek in my chest and looked up as I looked down. We rubbed noses, the way Eskimos are supposed to kiss. Then she spun out of my arms and scampered down the beach in her bare feet. She skipped through the foam, splashing spots on her skirt.

I rolled up my dungarees another turn, pushed my toes into the sand and chased after her, the way puppies play. When she saw me coming, she began to run and laugh. The water of the waves sped from my feet and then splashed high as I slowed down, caught her arm, and folded her into my arms. We laughed, breathed hard and heavy, and rested against one another, watching the waves draw the sand from under our feet. I kissed her forehead, pecked her button nose, and kissed her lips—now beautifully natural-colored, worn clean of the cosmetics that had been there earlier.

Raindrops Bigger

The rain drops came bigger and faster. We turned to where we stood before, and there on the sand stood our shoes. As far as we could see, we were the only ones on the beach. The lifeguards left at six, and the last few straggling swimmers had gone soon afterward. It was probably seven, but it never got dark in the summer until nine. It was still light now. The sky was covered with black rain clouds that made the buildings brighter than usual in contrast.

We picked up our shoes and hurried to the nearest, whitest pavilion on the boardwalk. We had wandered far down the beach, and the rain made everything down here look deserted. We reached the weather-beaten bottom step of the boardwalk stairs, and sat and brushed the sand from our feet. She put on her beaded, white moccasins, I slipped my socks in my pockets and put on my loafers. We giant-stepped up the stairs, two at a time, swinging our clasped hands between us.

Rainbow In Sky

Turning to the right at the top of the steps, we walked into the pavilion, a square, open-sided building with a roof supported by pillars at the four corners and in the center. It was like a large porch with maybe twenty stationary benches around the sides and arranged in rows in the center. It was empty, and we walked to the opposite side and sat down and saw a rainbow arched in the sky, over the ocean.

I put my arm around her shoulder, and she took my hand in hers. I was sitting on something. With my hands under me I raised myself. Then I realized it was a twenty-five cent anthology of poetry in my pocket. I occasionally took it to the beach to memorize poems. I pulled it out and sat more comfortably.

"I'll Read To You"

"I'll read some of my favorites to you, Beth. Stretch out on the bench and lay your head on my lap."

"All right." She twisted her back to me, swung her legs onto the bench, and tucked her largely striped pastel skirt under them. "Go ahead," she said.

"I must go down to the seas again. . ."

She smiled, wrinkled her nose, and nodded her head— probably as she had done when her father read a bedtime story she had heard before.

It reminded me of my dad's words before he told a joke, and I said, "If you've heard it before, be quiet. I want to hear it again."

See THE RING, p. 2

About The Author

Jerry Richards author of The Ring, was born April 29, 1934 in Philadelphia, the oldest child in a family of six.

Before entering high school, he attended vocational school in Philadelphia with hopes of becoming a chef, and studied printing, his father's trade. At present Richards is a senior at Juniata, majoring in history and planning to go into the ministry.

The Ring was written for Prof Dubbel's course in advanced composition and along with Bernie Oriss' story, Never Say Die, was nominated by the class to be considered for publication in the Juniatian. It is author Richards' first creative work.

A Guest Editorial

Spring Terror Takes Annual Toll

by JIM STAYER

It is almost profane for a "campus issue" to be created out of something so close to the vitals of some of our seniors as the comprehensive examination system and its annual by-products.

It is with the most sincere apologies to those who really know the comprehensive examination system deep down inside themselves, the scapegoats, that I would make an issue of their personal tragedy. They deserve the quiet sympathy of their fellow students, but perhaps through their hurt the student conscience can become properly aroused to press for a saner method of achieving a comprehensive experience in education.

Ideal Unequal To Real

What are the issues concerning comprehensive examinations? It is safe to assume that there are two issues concerning comprehensive examinations: what they are supposed to be and what they are, the ideal and the reality.

The ideal is based upon a philosophy of education which assumes that higher education should consist of three parts: integration, concentration and comprehension.

At Juniata the experience of integration is intended to come through the freshman courses of that name and through three years of concentration in a major division and department. After the assimilation of facts in a division and department, it is assumed that a student is less than educated if he is unable to put the facts together into a connected pattern, if he does not have a comprehensive awareness of his field of concentration. At Juniata students attempt to come to a comprehensive awareness of their fields by preparing for and undergoing comprehensive examinations.

Abused Reality

The ideal is a worthwhile one; we do not challenge it. Yet the reality of comprehensive examinations has been subjected to a stream of abuse that has never been inflicted upon the realities of integration and comprehension at Juniata. Why?

In the first place students admitted to graduate school have very often in past years demonstrated their immunity to ailure in their comprehensives by declining to subject themselves to the "education experience" of preparation.

Secondly, much question has been raised about the usefulness of having a faculty member on a student's comp board who knows less about the student's field of concentration than the student being tested. Ridiculous questions have often been asked and the ability to answer them held up as a criterion of education.

Enter the Scapegoat

Last and most important, the reality of comprehensive examinations demands the scapegoat. It demands that seniors planning to graduate within the month, often with good jobs in their grasp, be deprived the opportunity of graduating with their classmates of the past four big years of their lives.

College education is worthless unless reserved for those of higher mental ability. Thus student bodies are often callous about the coming and going of their members. But it is my belief that a month before graduation is not the proper time to tell a student that there are doubts of his qualifications for higher education.

Alter Faulty Reality

If the ideal is worthwhile and the reality is faulty, then the reality needs to be altered in such a way as to do away with its own faults and to preserve the worth of the ideal. The college faculty holds final authority on this matter; but since it has recognized no need for action, your Student Senate is undertaking the role of constructive critic of the comprehensive examination system in the hopes that the "spring terror" may come to be no more than a forgotten nightmare for future generations of Juniata students.

News Views —

Republicans Have Problems, Too — Despite Big Treasury, Wide Smile

by Jim Montgomery

As Democrats face the opposition of a bursting party treasury and a sterling smile, so the Republicans have difficulties.

Against incisive criticism from such men as Stevenson they must make their "Peace and Prosperity" slogan stick. The campaign technique will be to keep 'Prosperity' before the voter while any avoidance of any genuine consideration of our foreign policy will make the 'Peace' claim seem valid.

The Republicans have the powerful advantage of complacency on their side. The nation is at a peak of prosperity and the American public is going to be reluctant to face up to international obligations which can be made to seem to threaten our prosperity. The Republicans must then, keep the public short-sighted and virtually isolationist in its political considerations.

Administration Hamstrung

Russia has made important shifts in policy but the administration is hamstrung by the claim that all's well and then cannot move to meet the Soviet threat in an effective manner. Dulles has even gone as far as to say that his shift in policy is due to the effectiveness of our policy. This is, at best, a partisan utterance for any objective consideration of the situation since Geneva will show substantial gains on the Russian's part.

Russia Outstripping U. S.

They have successfully projected themselves into the Near East situation, their relations with India have improved and they again make friendly overtures to the Tito regime. Russia is outstripping the richest nation on earth in the realm of propaganda and economic aid. And because the Republicans must keep the voters happy with the present situation, they can do nothing to counteract it.

The key to Republican success is complacency. What they have done is to give the Russians a green light on any new tact they would like to take for we can only meet these new threats within the context of our old inadequate policy. To make the needed shift in our policy would admit that our present policy is inadequate. Internationally, this would be the honest and wise thing to do, but domestically it would be political suicide.

THE RING

Story Of The Year

Cont. from page 1

I did want to hear these verses again, so I read, emphasizing my favorite lines.

"This above all—to thine own-self be true;
And it must follow as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."
Then,
"I love thee to the level of everyday's
Most quiet need, by sun and candlelight,"
and
"To comprehend a nectar
Requires sorest need."

World Of Satisfaction

I closed my eyes and rested my head on the back of the bench. I drifted into a world—not of dreams, for there was no action—it was a world of satisfaction, like sleeping, only I was awake. I had that feeling of peaceful contentment I often felt at vespers during the prayerful singing of "Now the Day Is Over."

Her head moved on my lap and I opened my eyes and looked at her. She winked. I smiled and looked up at the sunlit, white caps on the waves.

"You know, this is what I need. This life at the shore. A girl to read to and dream with."

I laid my hand on hers, on top of the wide, white belt wrapped around her small waist. As I spoke, I twisted the school ring on her finger until only the band was visable, like a wedding ring.

"I Need Someone. . ."

"I need someone to share my experience with me. Someone to talk to and. . ."

Her eyes made me feel she was following my words and waiting for the next ones. My arm went around her waist, and the other under her shoulder, and I lifted her from my lap and kissed her.

"You see, I need that, too. I guess I'm no different from anyone else. All I need is love, appreciation and understanding."

I was being candid about the way I felt, I liked the relaxed feeling of saying whatever popped into my head. I wanted to stop and stay here. There were no decisions, no defenses, no apologies, no explanations. You could live life as you wanted.

She lifted my hand. While I was dreaming, she had taken the ring from her finger. Now I felt it in my palm. I looked deep into her eyes.

Crushed Cigarettes

"I dropped the ring," I said as I bounced to the floor on my knees. She scanned the crushed cigarettes and coke containers.

"It's not on the floor; maybe it went through one of the cracks." She stood up and walked to the other end of the pavilion.

"Let's look on the sand underneath; it's probably down there." I followed her down the stairs, stepping out of my shoes at the bottom step. She went toward the pavilion. I sagged wobble-legged behind her—unbalanced by the uneven surface.

"Be careful," I said as she neared the dark shadow of the building. "We were sitting at the front of the pavilion." I was beside her. "It should be here."

Indian Trick

I knelt down and leaned, forward on my hands, tilting my head with my ear almost touching the ground. I then squinted parallel to the sand, so that the ring would stand out like a building against the sky. But it was too hilly for the Indian trick from my Boy Scout days. She was on her knees, moving her hands in circles with the palms less than an inch above the ground.

"Keep looking," she said, motioning to the sand in front of me. The ring was not on top of the sand. I grabbed handfuls, letting them trickle out of my grip, a few grains at a time. Then I clenched the sand in my fist, opening it gradually to see the compressed form. I let it drop into the dunes. Did I need her ring if I could find it? Did I need this girl? It requires the sorest need to comprehend the nectar.

"Come on, it's getting too dark to find it. Besides, I don't think it's here."

In the Doghouse

She must have agreed, although she didn't say so. She went back to the steps, slapping her feet in the sand. She slipped her moccasins on and started up the stairs. I was in the doghouse and walked

See THE RING, p. 4

intracollegiate chatter

by Alma Skinner

Comps and their results have come and gone. All that remains to the seniors are the memories—some happy, some sad—but almost all somewhat frantic.

There was the girl who thought her orals were scheduled an hour later than they were. Surprise, surprise when the prof called her on the phone and said she was a half an hour late before she had even dressed for the big occasion.

* * *

And then what about the gal who thought she had passed so didn't bother to go to the registrar's office on Tuesday. Imagine her surprise Wednesday morning when someone congratulated her for getting distinction.

* * *

May Day was a pleasant way to put away the cares of study for a short while. One fellow really hated to see his imported girl leave. He got on the train with her to help with her baggage and couldn't get off until Tyrone.

* * *

March came in like a lion, whipping up the blizzards in the hills. Then April snowed and stepped aside and along came a pretty cool May. It seemed as if spring would never come but the greenery is finally beginning to come out and blossoms, too. Looks like the prediction of one of the guys won't come true after all. He said that this year's graduation class would have the distinction of being the only one in Juniata history to have the academic procession preceeded by a snowplow.

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ..... Joan McClure
Managing Editor ..... George Fattman
Business Manager ..... George Carnahan
News Editor ..... Eleanor Newton
Ass't. News Ed. ..... Barbara Walls
Co-Sports Editors ..... Bill Mariotti
Dave Suloff
Feature Editors ..... Ann Wilson
Dave Amidon
Club Editor ..... Alice Waite
Circulation Manager ..... Roger Bennett
Columnists ..... Nancy Freed
Jim Montgomery
Alma Skinner
Newt Taylor

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

MISSES' KNEE-HIGH NYLON HOSE — 60 Gauge
88¢ a pair
MURPHY'S

Hollywood Shop
GLOVES
DRESSES

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Sunday Is MOTHERS DAY
Remember her with a beautiful gift from Danks & Co.
Free Gift Wrapping
Danks & Co.

CAKES FOR
BIRTHDAYS
Delicious-Decorated Delivered!
Call 1148 or Write
HOM-TASTE BAKERY
HUNTINGDON, PA.
YOUR THOUGHTFULNESS WILL PLEASE THE ONE TO RECEIVE!
SEND ONE TO YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER!

Union National Bank and Trust Company
SINCE 1866
Member F. D. I. C.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn St.
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Books—Leather Goods—Bibles
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

JC Cindermen Victorious First Time In Two Years

by Chuck Brown

College Field, Monday afternoon, was the scene of Juniata's first track victory in two years.

The Indians downed Dickinson, 66-60, for the win, which sets the JC record at 1-2 for the season. Mike Snider's charges grabbed eight first places in addition to a three way tie for first. The Red Devils garnered five firsts plus the tie.

After falling behind 8-1 in the pole vault, the Blue and Gold thinclads swept the shot put and gained first and third in the mile to go ahead, 16-11, with a lead they never gave up.

Three Double Winners

The meet produced three double winners for the victors. Senior Al Nyce won the shot put and discus, while taking a third in the javelin. This gave him 11 points and the position of high-point man for the day.

Junior Herb Layman won the mile and the two mile and Herb Deuchar, freshman, took firsts in the 440 and 880 to become the other two event winners. Freshman John Kerr, in the 100 and Lew Stratton, in the 220 LH, had the other two Juniata firsts. Senior Sonny Kaylor tied with two Red Devils for the top honors in the high jump.

Juniata will be represented tomorrow in the Middle Atlantic Track Meet at Albright. The next dual meet will be on College Field Tuesday afternoon against Shippensburg STC.

Indians Scalp Saints In Tuesday Net Match

JC netmen chalked up another point for the win column Tuesday as they shut out St. Francis 9-0.

Phil Lankford got the Indians off to a fast start, winning his match 6-1, 6-0/ Dan Raffensperger dropped second man Joe Moran 6-0, 6-1, and Bob Kauffman followed up with an 8—6, 6—2 victory. Don Ruhl, playing in third slot, took his match without trouble 6—0, 6—0, as Reds Randall defeated his opponent 6—1, 6—1. Dick Lantzy rounded out the singles victories, winning his match 6—2, 3—6, 6—4.

Lankford and Raffensperger took the first doubles contest by defeating Moran and Bob Marot 6—1, 6—2 as Kauffman and Ruhl won 7—5, 6—2. A Randall-Lantzy combination finished the Indian rally, taking a 6—3, 6—1 win.

Sports Calendar

Today — Golf — Western Maryland (A)
Tomorrow — Baseball — Susquehanna (H)
Monday — Tennis — Carnegie Tech (A)
Tuesday — Baseball — Lock Haven (A)
Track — Shippensburg (H)
Golf — Bucknell (H)
Wednesday — Baseball — Dickinson (H)
Tennis — Penn State (A)

Beware of Tux, Men

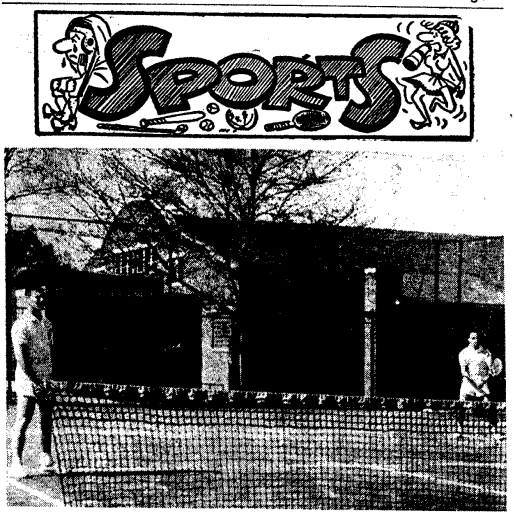
by Bert Bacharach, Fashion Authority

College men—get a glimpse of your matrimonial future by taking a peek into your closet.

A psychologist fellow by the name of Patrick B. Comer, Jr., cam out with the bold statement that a man wearing a tuxedo is far more likely to propose marriage than a bird in a sport jacket.

Comer has himself a double-edged sword on that one—with dual tipoffs to the fellow who is panting for connubial bliss and for the bachelor-type who wants to live it up for a while longer.

You can guide your matrimonial future by wearing the sport jacket when going out with the doll you don't want to marry—and the tuxedo when with a babe to whom you'd like to pop the well-known question. It's a good thing to remember when you leave the hallowed halls of learning and start to put together the pieces of your post-grad life.



ON THE COURTS — Tennis star Dan Raffensperger, right, poises his racket in preparation to return a serve while teammate and doubles partner Phil Lankford guards the net positiaon. The JC tennis team presently sports a 4—4 won-lost record. Photo by Stan Davis

Boys IM Softball Race Tightens As End Of Season Approaches

by Carl Wass

The next to last week of the intramural softball season witnessed a number of upsets which combined to throw the Wildcats, Mumblers and the Prophets into a three way tie for first place.

The Prophets scored three important victories over tough competition to move from third place into a tie for first place. On Monday, they edged the Wildcats by a 5-3 score, and in a Wednesday doubleheader, downed the Mumblers 13-7 and the Crusaders 10-9.

The doubleheader was pitched by Chuck Seeley, who had to squirm out of several jams in hanging up his successful "iron man" chore.

One Game Thursday

In the only game played last Thursday, the Mumblers swamped the Jabberwockies 14-4 to remain undefeated. On Friday, two games were played in which the Downtowners defeated the Draft Dodgers 13-7 and LTD downed the JC Juniors 16-11 for its first win of the season.

Monday evening featured an exciting extra inning game between the Mumblers and the Crusaders, which the Mumblers won 9-8 in the last of the eighth. The Broncholites forfeited to the Jabberwockies for their eighth loss.

15 Run Inning

High scoring games featured Tuesday evening's contests with the Downtowners erupting for a 15-run inning enroute to a 28-4 victory over LTD. Bear's Kats continued their winning ways in a 17-1 triumph over the JC Juniors and the Draft Dodgers won their second straight game turning back the Wibbers 6-5.

On Wednesday evening the Wildcats easily downed the Jabberwockies by a 9-2 score and the Broncholites forfeited for the second straight time, this one to the Mumblers.

PRESIDENT GETS PAINTING

President Ellis' office is sporting a new painting. The artist is Mrs. Kiracofe, wife of Dr. Edgar Kiracofe, professor of education here.

The painting was given to the President by Mrs. Ellis as a birthday gift.

Birmingham Is Golf Medalist

by Allen Custer

Bucknell took the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association Golf Tournament at the Mount Union Amerian Legion Country Club on Saturday, but Juniata won its share of glory when senior Keith Birmingham copped the medalist title.

As a team the Juniata golfers were able to place fourth behind Laayette and defending champion Lehigh. Bill West of the Indians won third place in the medalist scores with a 155 score.

Two Under Par

Birmingham fired a two under par 72 in the morning round and came back in the afternoon to fire a respectable 79 to finish with a total of 151, two under DiVenanzio of Drexel, who won the second place plaque.

A total of 15 schools were represented with 66 players competing for medalist honors.

Team Scoring

Bucknell	327—338—665
Lehigh	333—335—668
Lafayette	344—328—672
Juniata	336—344—680
Drexel	340—344—684
Hofstra	349—342—691
Dickinson	360—338—698
F & M	350—353—703
Gettysburg	357—353—710
Haverford	364—351—715
West Chester	366—358—724
Western Maryland	369—373—742
Scranton	386—368—754
Wilkes	419—411—830

Miler, Relay Team To Go To Reading

Tomorrow morning five Juniata tracksers, along with Coach Snider will journey to Reading to participate in the Middle Atlantics track meet. The competition will be composed entirely of freshmen.

Juniata will be represented by a medley relay team and a miler. The relay team is composed of Hugh Robinson, John Kerr, Lew Stratton and Herb Deucher. Running the mile will be John Bateman.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
Smithfield

School and Office Supplies
PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS
Hixson's
Union National Bank Building

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Buck's Laundry
614 6th Street
Phone 1320

Weaver Florist
G. Donald Fisher
Phone 431-J 211 5th St.
Flowers For All Occasions

Meet Me At
SKIP'S.... for
Ice Cream and Sandwiches

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash. St.

AMES SHOP
DRESSES — COATS
SPORTSWEAR

Go Atlantic
To
HOOVERS ATLANTIC SERVICE
11th & Mifflin Sts.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

KOUGHS JEWELRY STORE
Mens & Ladies Wallets
Watch Repairs
Jewelry

Hotel Penn Hunt
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
11 A. M.—12 P. M.
BANQUET FACILITIES

Guns
Bought and Sold
UPDYKES
SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsman"
608 Wash. St. Phone1688

LIMITED TIME ONLY
"Glenn Miller"
ARMY AIR FORCE BAND ALBUM
Over 60 Selections Never Before On Record
only $19.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE COMPANY

The Ring — He Makes His Decision

Continued from Page 2

behind her, playing the part of the reprimanded pup. I say playing, because I knew the part as well as I felt the mood.

Now we went up the stairs one at a time and didn't hold hands. She flopped on the top step like a loosely-strung marionette. I still played the puppy, snuggling up at a cautious distance, not knowing whether I was going to fun with my tail between my legs or leap on her lap.

I looked at her. She looked at the sea, or through it. Her blue eyes were intently unfocused. Her brow was tense with faint creases, and I would have said, "That's going to cost you cold cream," but it wasn't the time to be funny. The sun had brought out a few freckles on the smooth bridge of her nose, and her full, fleshy cheeks. My eyes moved down her arm, left bare by her sleeveless sunfrock. Then I noticed the white band in the tan where the ring had been. I hung my head in my hands, resting my elbows on my knees. Suddenly I saw a silver sparkle in my pants cuff.

"Look What I've Found"

"Look, look what I've found!" I gave it to her.

"The ring." She held it between her thumb and fingers, looking at the seal.

"I didn't know what I was going to tell Mother and Dad. It's a good thing we found it."

I shook my head. Yes, I was glad we found it, and I was glad she had it. She held it a few moments more, and then remembered that now it was mine. She took my hand to slip it on my finger.

"I can't take it after almost losing it. Besides, what would your parents say?"

"They won't mind when they know where it is."

I couldn't take the ring. I couldn't say no. Worst of all, I didn't have an explanation. I was fascinated by her. Yet, I knew there was a line between love and fascination.

'It's getting darker. It must be time for you to go to work." I sprang to my feet, cupped my hands under her elbows, and lifted her up.

"Do you have a clean uniform there?"

Side By Side In Silence

She didn't say anything. I was trying to table the discussion and decision until the next meeting, and she knew it. We walked side by side in silence. The shower had stopped. The wind blew from the ocean. That would keep the mosquitoes back on the bay. I buttoned my open shirt and rolled the short sleeves up another turn.

The center of the boardwalk was a giant carnival—laughing people, glaring lights, and a fried-food smoke. We stopped across from the old-fashioned ice cream parlor. I leaned on the railing.

"Look, everyone comes to the shore for a good time. It's a vacation spot. People fall in love here because they don't have anything else to do. Just take it easy; everything will work out swell!"

Like A Statue

She stood like a statue while I kissed her forehead. Then she walked across the boards into the old shop to change into her uniform.

"Bye, Beth."

I didn't wait to see her begin work tonight. That picture always came to me—her in white, with long, black hair, sun-browned skin and framed in that old-fashioned shop.

The people on the boardwalk brushed past me. "I did it," I thought. I didn't have to decide. I banged into a baby coach.

"I'm sorry."

The Decision

The woman stared at me as though I didn't know where I was going. I shifted my eyes to the ocean. The moon was polishing a path across the waves. I made my way to the railing and rubbed my leg. I didn't know where I was going. That's a good reason to avoid decisions. But I didn't take the ring. I decided not to decide. That is a decision.

"To comprehend a nectar
Requires sorest need."

I left the lights and laughter. I had left my poetry in the pavilion.

Renaissance Man

Dr. William G Pollard, nuclear physicist, episcopalian minister, editor, author, and lecturer, will speak at commencement exercises here Monday, June 4, at 10:30 a. m. Dr. Pollard is the executive director for the Institute of Nuclear Studies at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Four Men, Out of 33, Continue Engineering

Of 33 members of the class of '57 who as freshmen registered for pre-engineering only four have completed the requirements of Juniata's 3-2 plan with Carnegie Tech and Columbia.

Terry Dear, Lee Byers and Dick Wenger will go to Carnegie Tech and John Millar will go to Columbia.

A Feature

Tournament Possibility Excites Debating Team

by Dave Amidon

Recent interest in debate here has made the prospect of a Juniata Tournament as inviting to us as it has been to other members of the Debate Association of Pennsylvania Colleges, who cherish our central location.

In this light, tentative plans for the Juniata Very Wide Open Tournament have been prepared.

The problem of accommodations has been solved. Besides the 48 beds which the college has offered to set up in the Penthouse, J C Blair Memorial Hospital will have room for 21 more in the maternity ward and has promised to turn over its operating tables in the event of an overflow. Rugged debaters take sleeping in shifts as a matter of course.

Chow Time

Feeding 138 hungry faces may present a greater challenge. Perhaps Juniatians intending to go home could indicate that they meant to eat in the College Dining Hall and then go home anyway. Starving debaters would be smuggled into the dining hall and allowed to fend for themselves, just like the rest of us. This way the less aggressive teams would be eliminated.

Unfortunately, the only areas available for the actual debaters are 1. the alcove in the Social Room, 2. the telephone booth in Totem Inn, 3. the WJC studio, 4. the Oller Hall lawn, 5. the men's room on first Founders and 6. the back of the College truck, which may be moving at times.

Lack of locations could be circumvented by an around-the-clock schedule. By a stroke of fortune, the Stone Church may be available for the final round at 10:45 a.m. on Sunday.

Cross-Examination Unique

Certain features of the Very Wide Open will be sure to gain favor throughout Pennsylvania debating circles. The Judges' Cross-Examination, for example, will give outraged teams a shot at their prosecutors. In this event, debators give judges whom they don't like the third degree. The subject, on which the judges must defend the negative—Resolved, that those who can do; those who can't teach.

Scoring is another surprise. Recognizing the unfairness involved in arbitrary judging (this is some thing which losers always recognize), the Debate Club at JC presents a system under which each team scores itself! The judge looks on helplessly, bound and gagged.

To expedite matters, an adding machine will be placed at each team's disposal. Few debates will be lost on either side of the question; from year to year the Tournament will grow more popular.

Emotion At Geiger

As a thundering finale the Very Wide Open Cup will be presented. The beautiful yet emotion packed ceremony will take place in the spacious lobby of the Geiger House. That most honest team which has awarded itself the greatest number of defeats shall receive the handsome trophy.

The Very Wide Open Cup, a shining new bathtub finished in pink enamel, will be retained by the first team to lose the Very Wide Open for 13 successive years.

So with the details in hand, with expenses guaranteed by exorbitant Entry Fees payed for certain victory and with the full support of ex-Governor Fine and the management of the Armpit (now negotiating for TV rights), the Debate Club demands support for the First Annual Juniata Very Wide Open Debate Tournament.

Club News

Lambda Gamma

On Tuesday evening at 8 P. M. the home economics department will present a fashion show in the Women's Gym. Everyone is invited to attend.

IVCF

IVCF has a speaker scheduled for tonight at 7:15 in Founders Chapel. Dr. George Cowan from Wycliffe Bible translaters will lecture about his work in the Mexico Summer Institute of Linguistics.

WAA-J Club

The J Club and WAA will hold a joint picnic at Paradise Furnace this Sunday. All members and their guests who wish to go should meet in front of the Memorial Gym at 2 o'clock.

Debate

Tuesday at 5:15 all members of the Debate Club and their guests are to meet in front of Founders to go to their banquet at Helfrick's.

... And familiar things are the best. Like Coca-Cola. Full of fresh, keen sparkle . . . natural quick energy . . . and it's so pure and wholesome—naturally friendly to your figure. Have it whenever you like.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Altoona Bottling Company, Altoona, Pa.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

SHOP OUR STORE
FOR MANY VALUES
DURING OUR ANNIVERSARY SALE
— SPECIAL —
LONG SLEEVE SPORT SHIRTS
$2.65 - 2 for $5.00
Ray English Store
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Service

Wolf Furniture Co.
Complete Home Furnishings
7th & Mifflin

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
IT'S EVERYTHING YOU'VE HEARD
MEET ME IN LAS VEGAS
IS A GOLD MINE OF ENTERTAINMENT!
STARRING
DAN DAILEY • CYD CHARISSE
FROM M-G-M IN COLOR AND CINEMA
Mon.-Tue.-Wed.-Thurs
GREGORY PECK
JENNIFER JONES
FREDERIC MARCH
THE MAN IN THE GRAY FLANNEL SUIT
CINEMASCOPE and COLOR
Policy This Attraction !!
Doors open nightly 6:15
Feature at 6:45—9:26
— PRICES —
6:15 till 7 pm 50c
7 pm till close 65c
Taxes included
Come Before 7 pm Beat
The Price Change

HARRIS GRAND
Fri. and Sat. 2 Top Hits
THE CREATURE WALKS AMONG US
— Also —
THE PRICE of FEAR

The Juniatian

Vol. XXXIII, No. 1 — Friday, September 21, 1956

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE UNANIMOUS IN APPROVAL OF CAMPUS JUDICIARY

LUCKY GIRL That's what they'll say when a JC coed points out that she's living in this new dorm, being built at 18th and Oneida steets by Bogar Construction Co., Selingsgrove. The total cost of erecting the structure will be close to $700,000. It is expected to be complete by next August.

Delegates Make 40 Resolutions Toward Improvement Of Campus

Senate Working On Recommendations

The proposed campus judiciary was approved unanimously by campus leaders meeting earlier this month at Camp Kanesatake, Spruce Creek.

Only change suggested by delegates to the productive, 40-resolution conference that the votes of seven out of nine members of the proposed judiciary (instead of two-thirds of those present) are necessary to recommend expulsion from the college — has already been acted upon by the Senate and included in the court's constitution.

The proposed judiciary has been approved by the student citizenship committee as well.

Educate Table Heads

Already action has been taken on several of the recommendations of the conference. Important among these being formation of the program to educate table heads via a handbook; publication of the social calendar, the Powwow; the playing of music at main meals in the dining hall; work on revising the dance band constitution.

A program wherebythe social committee may borrow records from WJC through its secretary-treasurer, Judy Gearhart; work towards presenting a play this fall insterd of an operetta; work towards having dining hall menues posted; action toward writing a new alma mater; assignment of freshmen court candidates to work on Operation Recreation, and help from upperclassmen on the OR propect.

Bermuda Problem

A motion before the student citizenship committee that would put into effect the resolution that coeds be allowed to wea Bermuda shorts in the library, the social rooms and at athletic events at specified times was tabled. The motion that would allow men to shed thei coats at dinnertime before October 15 and after May 1 had a similar fate.

See CONFERENCE, p. 3

Faculty Formal Is Fall's First

The faculty reception, first formal dance of the year, will be held tomorrow evening in Memorial Gym Dr Jack Brammer, general chairman, has announced.

Dancing to the music of Bnddy Kyler's Serenaders will continue from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Students may attend the faculty reception with a date, or go "stag". Standard operation procedure for freshmen, however, is that they be escorted to the dance by their big brothers or sisters. A receiving line, consisting of President and Mrs, Calvert Ellis, Dr. and Mrs Harold Binkley and Dr. and Mrs. Brammer will be on hand to greet all guests on arrival.

The faculty committees are now hard at work putting the finishing touches on plans for the big eveninb. Decorations are the charge of Dr. James Wilson and his committee, while therefreshment cammittee is under the supervision of Mrs. Marjorie Joseph. Entertainment, which has not yet been announced is the department of the profram committee, George Dolnikowski chairman.

The grand march, a traditional highlight of the faculty reception will be handled by Dr. and Mrs. Donald Rockwell.

CHAPEL

Sept. 24 - Monday Mr. McFadden
26 - Wednesday - Reading performance of Edna St. Vincent Millay's Aria da Capo by Dick Livingston and Jim Montgomery.
28- Friday - Unannounced.

Christian Assoc. Plans For Book Collection For US Government

Plans are being made for another weekend work camp which will again be sponsored by the JCA.

Saturday, September 29, approximately 50 students will canvas Huntingdon for books for Europe. All types are needed such as textbooks, novels and children's books. Those collected will be forwarded to the United States Information Agency in Washington and will then be sent abroad to combat Communist propaganda.

Announcement of the project will be made over WHUN, in the churches, through Daily News articles and in circulars. A number of boxes will be placed in public buildings in order that out-of-town people may contribute books.

Established Project

Work camping has rapidly established itself on this campus. Two years ago it began with a collection of cards, games and puzzles for the Hollidaysburg State Hospital. Other programs last year included the painting of the interior of the local Negro church and the preparation of a Brownie day camp for summer use.

Work camps are under the direction of Dottie Stricker, social responsibility commissioner on the JCA cabinet.

Director Reveals Fall Masque Play

James Bray, director, announced last evening that the Masque's fall production will be Arsenic and Old Lace, by Joseph Otto Kesselring.

To be given in Oller Hall November 9 and 10 (Parents Day), the production will replace the usual operetta, which will not be given this year.

Work Underway Since Aug. On New Women's Dormitory

Work has been under way on the new dormitory for women since mid August.

The four-floor, L-shaped structure, which is costing the college close to $700,000 to construct, should be completed by early next fall. Bogar Construction Co. Selinsgrove, has the major contract ($409,400).

Other contracts went to David N. Brown & Son, Bradford, heating construction ($59,789); Lewistown, electrical ($41,740); Sellenberger Co., Huntingdon, plumbing ($49,367): Demmler & Schenck, Evans City, kitchen equipment ($28,219).

Part of Program

The new dormitory, one of the principal objectives in the 10-year Build Juniata program is scheduled for completion "within 360 calendar days." It will house 120 women and provide a dining hall for 216. Space also is provided for a college dispensary to replace the infirmary.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency of the US Government is providing a loan of $575,000 for the project. Total cost of the building "equipped and ready for use" is estimated at about $680,000. This figure includes furniture and equipment, architects fees, legal fees, site improvement, interest on loan and other contingencies, according to John Fike, treasurer.

Geiger House Down

First operation in construction was demolishing Geiger House, a student and faculty residence located on the site of the new dormitory. Most of the excavation for the structure appears to be complete.

21 JC Students Make Dean's List

The dean's list of 21 distinguished students for the 1955-56 spring term has been released by Dean Mays.

Dean's list students in the class of '56 are James Cummins, Huntingdon; Robert Fisher, Honey Grove; Nancy Freed, Telford, and Joan Schwartz, Moorestown.

In the class of '57 are James Corrigan, Pittsburgh; Jacqueline Hayes, Ebensburg; Richard Livingston, Johnstown; James Martin, Colver; Carol Titus, Paulsboro, and Joyce White, Lewistown.

Dean's list students in the class of '58 inclure Nonnye Huddleston, Ambridge; Robert Moore, Aitch, and Wilfred Staufer, Greensburg.

Those in the class of '59 are Joan Fyock, Harrisburg; Bonnie Gunther, Berwick; George Hess, Collingswood; Kathryn Holsinger, Pittsburgh; Samuel Shore, McClure; Barbara Walls, Glenside; Marjorie White, Everett, and Arthur Norris, Hanover.

An average of 3.75 is necessary to be included on the dean's list.

Let's Get It Done

Recreation Project Familiar To Us All

Operation Recreation.

This project is just like an old acquaintance, familiar to all Juniata upperclasmen and already becoming more and more familiar to the newly arrived frosh on campus.

A project initiated by the students years ago, Operation Recreation is now well on its way to being completed. A series of C days (completion days) have been proclaimed and a large tool box has been brought to the site of OR. Project supervisor, Del McQuaide, has rounded up 12 new shovels, picks and a supply of rakes to be used by all male students in aiding the completion of this project.

A system has been devised whereby all male students may sign up for one afternoon of work at O R within a two week period, the afternoon being of each student's own chaice. By means of this recruiting method and with everyone pitching in, the ice skates should be gliding over the pond, the Juniata students body's own skating rink

Getting Bulldozer

This is how the project looks now. A reservoir has been constructed by the building of a dam. Last week work was started on the excavating of the ditch in which pipe will be laid to carry water to the pond. The pond has already been scooped out but needs more grading on the banks. Negotiations for a bulldozer are under way, and with this added to the muscles of Juniata men campletion is in sight.

And girls, you can help too. A water bucket brigade will be formed to provide the hard working guys with some refreshment during their afternoon of work.

editorially ...

Budget Not Too Limited To Bear Dining Hall Frills

Juniata, like all small, independent colleges, operates on a very limited budget, and in the name of this limited budget, students, faculty, and other members of the college community are frequently asked to endure inconveniences - in the dormitory, in the dining hall, and, for college employees, in the pay check. The financial problem is an understandable one; therefore, almost everyone is willing to take these inconveniences in his stride.

However, when students feel that college money -- a good part of it student money -- is not being put to its best possible use, they naturally resent it. And there are certainly many things Juniata could use better than a dining hall hostess!

With all respects to our hostess as an individual, it is not unreasonable, we feel, to ask just exactly what are the duties of this employee? Several attempts at clarifying her duties have been made, with such nebulous definitions as "to make the students more comfortable" and "to coordinate the work of the waitresses and maintain order in the dining hall" resulting.

But isn't it the duty of the head waitress and her two assistants to coordinate the work of the waitresses? If so, someone is superfluous. And to expect one person to maintain order among more than 500 students, crowded into two dining halls, is a bit unrealistic. In fact, on occasion, behavior has gotten worse instead of better, for several students have manifested their resentment of the hostess, admittedly in a very childish fashion, by purposely displaying rude manners to heckle her.

Again, it is not the individual, but the idea of a hostess, or a "spy," as the students and waitresses seem to regard it, that is resented. If there is a good purpose for employing a hostess, then by all means let us employ one. But first, we would like an official clarification of the duties of this employee -- couched in definite terms. In all fairness to the hostess, as well as to the students and waitresses, such a clarification must be made.

Overheard On Campus

Even the gloomy prospect of nine long months of confinement hasn't dampened the spirit of some of the college would be humorists.

Last Saturday morning, for example, a sophomore was heard bragging in Totem Inn that he hadn't cut a class yet. He also explained that his next chapel cut will be in the spring of 1958!

The dining hall, too, as usual has proved fertile ground for the wits. Speculating on the purpose of our newly acquired hostess, a bright senior suggested, "Maybe she's here to seat us. You know, table for eight? Right this way, please."

Elvis on Campus

The same senior "scholar" suggested that perhaps our library should subscribe to the latest magazine sensation, Elvis, in order to accomodate the taste of the student body.

It dosen't take the frosh long to size up the campus either. One fellow told his dining hall table that his folks "fell in love right here at Juniata. Everybody does." There's still hope for the lonely hearts, it appears.

If a former upperclassman had had his way, however, one freshman wouldn't have had the opportunity to size up the campus for himself. In his letter to his little brother, the upperclassman advised him not to come to Juniata, because everyone here is either labeled an intellectual or a lowbrow, because the girls are fast and because the students are, in general, classless. Observed a freshman astutely, "He must have been classified among the lowbrows."

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ---------- Joan McClure
Managing Editor ------ George Fattman
News Editor ---------- Barbara Walls
Co-Sports Editors -------- Bill Mariotti
Dave Suloff
Feature Editors ---------- Ann Willson
Dave Amidon
Club Editor ---------- Alice Waite
Columnists ---------- Jim Montgomery
Barbara Smathers
Newt Taylor

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager ---- George Carnahan
Circulation Manager ---- Roger Bennett

And while on the subject of frosh, have you noticed that it hasn't taken them long to get into the swing of extracurricular life? In fact, it's rumored that they're thinking of changing the name of the Touring Choir to the Freshman Chorus.

Pardon my slip

Heard at the JCA party on the new gym mezzanine: (game leader to students) "Come down on the main floor now and we'll carry on there."

We hope you've acclinated yourself to college life by now and are set for the rat race ahead, not like one returning student, who, after five hours on campus, was heard to say, "This place is getting me down."

See you at the Faculty Reception!

Bernie Welcomes

THE CLASS OF 60—AND IT'S REAL GOOD SEEING THE OLD FACES BACK AGAIN

J. C.s FAVORITE JEWELRY STORE is

SWARTZ JEWELRY

(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Weaver The Florist

John & Sarah Snyder

YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST

Phone 431 211 5th St.

news views . . .

GOP Had Better Convention, Political Foes Agree

Truman Frustrated, Discredited, Clement Irresponsible, Demagogic

by Newt Taylor, Republican

The exciting spectaculars of 1956 are history. This past summer the American people laid aside the mundane affairs of life and gathered around their television sets for two straight weeks to watch a peculiar American institution, our national nominating conventions.

Let us consider what they saw The first convention was the Democratic in Chicago. This convention had a hot contest for the Presidential nomination. One of America's wealthiest men, a man who had carefully avoided the preferential primaries, sought through the use of money and the support of a frustrated and discredited ex- President of the U.S. to thwart the obvious desire expressed by Democrats in the various primaries. This convention had a keynote speaker. In what was possibly the most demogogic and irresponsible speech in American political history he carefully condemned each GOP leader in words that TIME says were "borrowed liberally from orators ranging from Cicero to Daniel Webster to Billy Graham." After having condemned each Republican to eternal damnation, he pleaded with the gods and the American people to throw them out of office.

Utterly Disgraceful

There were other high points. A large portion of the delegates sincerely differed with the Civil Rights plank in the platform. The Chairman of the Platform Committee and the Convention Chairman gave the dissenters practically no time to state their case and then made a snap judgement on a close voice vote. Perhaps the most disgraceful portion was during the nomination of Presidential candidates when Georgia nominated an obscure Congressmen so that her Gavernor could have fifteen minutes in which to rant and rage against the U. S. Supreme Court and encourage the American people to ignore the Law of the Land.

What a difference there was at the Republican Convention in San Francisco! Their keynote speaker was a friendly-voiced, cool-headed man who said that he came to give the American people "leadership", not to give them hell. The Republicans also had an ex-President in their midst He, however, received a warm and enthusiastic welcome because of the convention's admiration and respect for his long life of distinguished and dedicated service to his nation. He responded with a most inspirational address. Only once during the convention did anyone try to be silly and turn the convention into the vaudeville production of Chicago. On that occasion the delegates, who wanted to nominate a fictional person for Vice President, was properly removed from the hall. "Leadership" was the theme at San Francisco.

Cow Palace Apropos Place For Convention

by Jim Montgomery, Democrat

The two great conventions have long since passed, but yet it is only proper that hte informed publication make an inquiry into the relative merits of the two conclaves. Who had the better convention? Better in what respect? Well, obviously, since this was seen by millions on television, we should consider which was the best television production. In all objectivity and fairness, we must admit that the Republicans produced the best show. It was indeed a work of art.

Even in the small details this gathering was an artistic expression of the party's satisfied unity. Let us consider but one of these small details, the name of the meeting place -- The Cow Palace. A stroke of Genius !!! For what enters one's mind when one thinke of cows? Why, contentment and complacency; among other things. From there on this unity manifested itself at every opportunity. Robert Montgomery has never done better.

Unity With Unanimity

The Republicans had one marked advantage over their Democratic counterparts which enabled them to express this unity with such unanimity. The Democrats' political gathering was plagued by a devisive element; namely politics. They had the poor taste to disagree and they even went so far as to have a floor fight and to crown their indiscretions it took them two ballots to choose a Vice Presidential candidate; and on the last ballot they weren't even unanimous.

But, the Republicans, following the lead of their standard bearer, rose above the squalor of politics and produced a paean of unity, confidence, peace and prosperity. Nothing but unity. Of course, Stassen and Carpenter had the temerity to express an opinion, but even they united with unity.

Convention a Work of Art

One criterion of a good work of art is that it express a theme with forcefulness and clarity. Is there any doubt to the Republicans unity?

Perhaps at this point, a comment made on the editorial page of Great Britians' Manchester Guardian, concerning the convention would be germaine, "The most perfect expression of unity is a circle: but this is also the figure for nought."

A Very Open Letter To A Little Brother

Buddy,

Sorry I let you down. I'd have written before school started, but I spent the summer. Guess you're settled O.K. by now. Fifth Street is so nice in autumn.

Just a few pointers in your courses: Have your assignments ready three weeks in advance, you can get your studying done on the bus. Ask Prof. Binkley for lots of definitions. Cut phys. ed. at will. Look terribly interested; if necessary, "stare down" the prof. Use big words, often, loudly.

Don't be scared. Whenever you get the chance, warm things up by telling the prof about your summer experience or the medals you won in high school.

Our dining hall has become a cultural training ground. You can pack up your old manners 'cause Juniata will teach you new ones. Its all part of the education.

You may find the female situation at dances a bit baffling; we all await a new Supreme Court decision.

Speaking of courts, after I left you off last night, I felt obliged to turn in your name to Freshman Court for hitching-hiking. Didn't want you to miss any college experience. You probably know by now that I clued in the Huntingdon Cops, too.

Let me know if I can be of any further help.

Sophomore

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

Expert Watch Repair At Both Stores

Black's Jewelry

423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

WESTBROOK'S SHOES

515 Washington St.

THELMA'S

BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Senator Gray Names Committee Members To Help With Socials

June Gray, chairman of social activities, has released a list of members who are serving on her social committee for the year 1956-57.

Members of this committee are Bill Newman, Norma Hottle, Helen Schmidlen, Nancy Hess, Evelyn Brehm, Bette Nazarro, Ruth Peristam, Ginny Nixdorf.

Ann Larkin, Barbara Smathers, Judy Gearhart, Jackie Rowland, Barbara Zoellin Aliceann Wohlbruck, Pete Wright, Jane Butts.

Alice Waite, Lorna Borthwick, Sandy Cohick, Roger Bennett, Mary Shirk, Rosalie Langer, Nancy Nevin and Eileen Gipprich.

The main duty of the social committee is to work with the chairman in providing Saturday night entertainment for all college students. Additional functions are planning the Christmas dance and allocating motion pictures to be shown in Oller Hall throughout the year.

The social committee is open to any suggestions the student body has to offer concerning its work. To do this, contact any member of the committee.

Leaders Approve CJ Constitution

continued from page 1

Here is a complete listing of resolutions passed by the 1956 Leadership Conference.

WOMEN'S HOUSE

To the Administration:

1. Recommend that Juniata women be permitted to wear Bermuda shorts and slacks at the following times and in the following places:

a. in the library in the afternoon and at all times during final exams.

b. in the social rooms until dinner and at all times during final exams.

c. at all athletic events. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Chairman of the Women's House Committee:

1. Resolved that the Women's House Committee implement a program of discipline among the resident women students similar to that exercised at present among the men by the Men's House Committee. (Unanimous)

To the Dean of Women:

1. Recommend that the duties of the Dean of Women's assistants and hall proctors be clearly delineated and made known to the women students. (Adopted unanimously)

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Publications Committee:

1. Recommended that a four-page Tomahawk curtailed in size from last year's publication be published and sold for ten cents ($ .10). (Adopted unanimously)

To Inter-Club Council:

1. Recommended that all club notices be posted with adequate time for their being read and heeded by both resident and non-resident students. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Chairman of Athletics:

1. Resolved that steps be taken to make the viewing of announcements on the bulletin board more convenient for all students. (Adopted unanimously)

To the President of the College:

1. Recommended that Leadership Conference favor an increased number of chapel announcements to facilitate college communications. This resolution is to be implemented by working with the Senate. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that a Senate committee set up a program of education of the table heads. (Adopted unanimously)

2. Resolved that a telephone code be set up to which all honorable Juniatians will be requested to conform; and that this code be posted in all dormitory telephone booths. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Chairman of Communications:

1. Resolved that music be played over the dining hall announcing system at the main meal each day. (Adopted unanimously)

2. Resolved that the schedule of extra-curricular activities for the following week be distributed to students at the end of each week. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Administration:

1. Recommended that a telephone night operator be employed at the switchboard. (Adopted unanimously)

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

To the Chairman of Religious Activities and the Administration:

1. Resolved that Founders Chapel be renovated by means of a student work project and appropriate financial assistance from the college authorities. (Adapted unanimously)

To the Administration and Board of Trustees:

1. Recommended that the possibility of building a chapel for use by all college students be investigated.

GENERAL ACTIVITIES

To the Senate Chairman of Elections:

1. Resolved that nominating procedures for May Court candidates be handled in the following manner:

a. that male members of the classes when nominating candidates for May Court and female members of the Senior Class nominating candidates for Prince Charming, be allowed to nominate an indefinite number of persons.

b. that the number of persons be reduced to the specified number of candidates in an election held by the nominating group. (Adopted unanimously)

2. Resolved that a preferential voting system be devised for the selection of the May Court. (Adopted unanimously)

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

To the Senate and the Administration:

1. Recommend that the Dance Band Constitution be revised in such a way as to provide pay of seven dollars ($7.00) per man per dance. It is to be understood that the Dance Band is not obligated to play for the May Day Dance and the Dance Band Constitution should be so amended. (Adopted unanimously)

To the WJC and the Social Committee:

1. Recommended that a record-lending program be established involving:

a. records borrowed from students

b. records that WJC maintains

c. such a program to be directed by an official appointed by the WJC staff. (Adopted unanimously)

ATHLETICS

To the Chairman of Athletics:

1. Resolved that the Athletic Handbook be changed in Section 4, No. 1, to read as follows:

An intramural participant may not shift from one team to another after the intramural schedule is posted and his team has participated in two contests. (Adopted unanimously)

2. Resolved that the Athletic Handbook be changed in Section 2, No. 3, to read as follows:

Any student who drops off a varsity team, whether or not it be his own will, is ineligible to compete in the remaining competition of the corresponding intramural team sport in progress, after the first regularly scheduled varsity contest.

GENERAL ISSUES I

To the Student Senate:

1. Resolved that a system be devised by which the Dean of Women can become acquainted with as many students as possible by eating at different tables over a period of time in the dining hall. (Adopted unanimously)

2. In response to the expressed dissatisfaction of the waiters and waitresses with the present wage scale, resolved that a Senate representative be sent to an early meeting of the waiters and waitresses to determine whether a majority of waiters and waitresses desire a raise in wages. If such a desire is expressed, that the wage raise be pursued.

To the Administration:

1. Recommended that the Administration consider the possibly of equipping the kitchen of the New Women's Dormitory with facilities permitting cafeteria style service at breakfast (Adopted unanimously)

2. Recommend that the Administration set aside the present dining hall regulations for men at the evening meal during the warmest parts of early Fall and late Spring. The recommended dates are October 15 and May 1. It is to be understood that we intend no attack on the traditional propriety of dining hall dress.

3. Recommended that a play be staged this Fall. The possibility of an all-college musicale to be staged in the Fall in future years should be investigated We recommend that the Masque play be continued in the Spring.

To the Institutional Manager:

1. Recommended that a menu of the week's meals be issued or that the reasons be given for the non-issue of such a menu.

To the Senate Comprehensive Examination Committee:

1. Resolved that approval is given of the Committee's work and encouragement is extended for the Committee to continue in its deliberations. The proposed letter should be sent to the Faculty. (Adopted unanimously)

MEN'S HOUSE

To the Chairman of the Men's House Committee:

1. Resolved that a student directory be printed annually.

To the Chairman of the Men's House Committee and the Chairman of Social Activities:

1. Resolved that all possible steps be taken to make the use of the lobby of the Men's Dormitory on North Campus more conductive to the general welfare of the student body .(Adopted unanimously)

GENERAL ISSUES II

To the Senate Chairman of Elections:

1. Resolved that the individual vote totals be immediately and automatically published in all Senate elections.

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that a committee be appointed to consider the bringing forth of a new Alma Mater and that this committee report to the Senate bi-weekly upon its progress.

2. Resolved that the singing of the third verse of the Alma Mater be discontinued until a new Alma Mater is written or until a committee of students investigating this project declares the writing of a new Alma Mater to be infeasible.

To the Chairman of Underclassmen:

1. Resolved that the program of implementation of the Alma Mater be followed as outlined in the Scout. (Adopted unanimously)

UNDERCLASSMEN

To the Chairman of Underclassmen:

1. Resolved that Freshmen Court punishments of Freshmen regulations be both humorous and constructive and that where possible, Freshmen Court punishments make provisions for work on Operation Recreation. (Adopted unanimously)

2. Resolved that there be no student-supervised Freshmen study hall in the 1956-57 academic year. (Adopted unanimously)

GENERAL ISSUES III

To the Student Body and the Faculty:

1. Resolved that the Leadership Conference approves unanimously the proposed Constitution of the Juniata College Campus Judiciary with the recommendation that Section 4, paragraph 4, be amended so that a vote of seven (7) of the nine (9) members of the Judiciary will be necessary for a recommendation of expulsion. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Student Body:

1. Resolved that this Leadership Conference give Operation Recreation and the general contractor thereof a vote of approval, confidence, encouragement, and assurance of our intention to work. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Dean of Men:

1. Resolved that a meeting of all male resident students to determine methods of alleviating problems of housing be called and that the recommendations of this meeting be passed on to the Administration. (Adopted unanimously)

To Leadership Conference:

1. Resolved that the letter to be sent to the President of the College, expressing dissatisfaction with present campus housing conditions, as drawn up by a Leadership Conference Committee, be endorsed. (Adopted unanimously)

To the Juniata College Administration and the Manager of Camp Kanesatake:

1. Resolved that we extend our thanks and appreciation for helping to make the 1956 Leadership Conference a success. (Adopted unanimously)

Hostess Comes To Oneida Staff

Miss Blanche Waite, 515 Penn St., Huntingdon, has joined the staff of Juniata College as dining room hostess, President Calvert N. Ellis announced recently,

Miss Waite has been employed with the Penn Koffee Shoppe in Huntingdon for the past 23 years. After working as a waitress for several years, she became hostess and cashier at the Koffee Shoppe.

At the College, her work is "much the same, except on a larger scale," Miss Waite stated. She remains in the dining room to coordinate the work of waitresses and to see that the students and guests are seated.

Miss Waite was born in Marklesburg and attends the St. Matthews Church there. She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club and the J C Blair Hospital Auxiliary in Huntingdon.

POTENTIAL JOURNALISTS:

There will be a meeting of all those who desire to write for the Juniatian This evening at 8 in Room B, Students Hall. Come, meet the various editors and hear plans for a short training course for Juniatian reporters.

Sure This College Has A Chapel

And this is it. Leadership Conference delegates are out to do something about it, hoping that it will be with help from the Administration, according to action taken recently at Kanesatake. Notice the remains of a potted plant (extreme left): unpainted area above the blackboard: one of the inadequate chandeliers (top center): the bare, unattractive windows; cluttered piano and organ; unusual seating facilities (it doubles as a classroom), and general cluttered appearance and atmosphere not conducive to worship.

Photo by Bruce Bennett

JUST ARRIVED!

NEW STOCK — 33⅓ and 45 RPM ALBUMS

CAPITOL, DECCA, LONDON, MERCURY

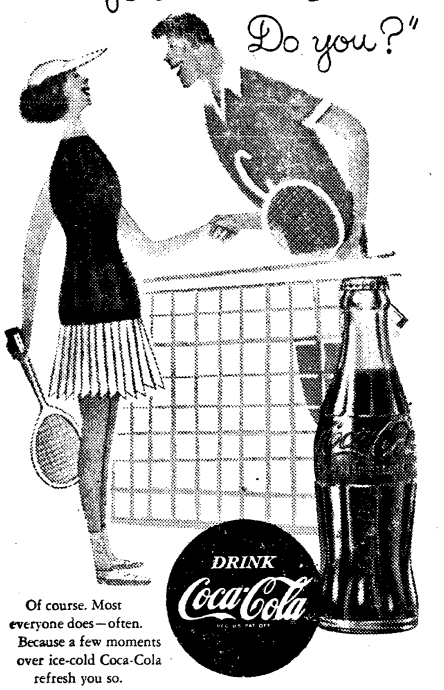
FINAL CLEARANCE

45 RPM BOX ALBUMS $1.98 to $3.98

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP

MILLER HARDWARE CO.

"I feel like a Coke. Do you?"



Of course. Most everyone does—often. Because a few moments over ice-cold Coca-Cola refresh you so.

It's sparkling with natural goodness, pure and wholesome—and naturally friendly to your figure.

Feel like having a Coke?

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

New Powwow Lists Social Events

The Powwow, a calendar of social events on and near the college campus, made its second appearance this morning.

Edited by Emmalyn Heed, sophomore journalism major from Stamford, Conn., the calendar developed from an idea submitted to the Senate department of communications by chairman of women's house "Squeege" Holsinger Leadership Conference unanimously approved its publication.

The first edition appeared last Friday.

Business managers for the publication are Alice Waite, sociology major from Hollidaysburg, and Miss Holsinger, an elementary education major from Johnstown. Both women are seniors. Freshman Carol Baish, a journalism major from Irwin, is circulation manager. Art work is prepared by June Gray, an elementary education major from Chicago, and Miss Baish.

Others on the staff include Rosalie Langer, "Peep" Gipprich and George Fattman.

The publication will appear each Friday after chapel in Totem Inn. Those desiring to have events listed in the calendar should see any member of the staff prior to Tuesday evening of each week.

The publication will be supported by advertising. It is expected that those advertisers who cannot make use of the Juniatian because of the reduction in its ad space will resort to the Powwow.

WANTED: Interested people to work on the staff for the 1957 Alfarata, the Literary staff in particular. All those who qualify, please contact Larry Davis as soon as possible.

Farm Bureau Awards Scholarship To JCer

Donald W. Miller, 109 E. First Ave., Everett, has been elected as the first student at Juniata College to receive a new scholarship recently established by the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau Cooperative Association.

The scholarship, valued at $300 for the junior year, was the first established by the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association in a liberal arts college in Pennsylvania.

Miller, a sophomore majoring in economics and business administration, was selected by Juniata's committee on financial aid with the approval of the Farm Bureau Cooperative.

Former Librarian Takes Army Post

Miss Miriam E. Dickey, former assistant librarian at Juniata, has accepted a position with the Office of Civilian Personnel of the U. S. Army as librarian and has left for a two year stay in Europe in the last week of July.

Her position with the Army will involve the administration of a post library system on an army base which comprises a main post library and a limited number of branch or field libraries.

Miss Dickey, a graduate of Juniata in 1949, received the degree master of science in library science from Western Reserve University in 1955.

Retail Division Members

Corcelius Hardware Co.
Dollinger's
Ray English
H & R Egolf
Gertrude's Dress Shop
Heydrick's
Hixson's
Logan Bros.
C. H. Miller Hardware Co.
McCrory's 5 & 10
G. C. Murphy Co.
J. C. Penney Co.
Peoples Furniture Co.
Poser's Department Store
Rea & Derick Inc.
Struble Furniture Co.
Swartz Jewelry Co.
Westbrook's
Wolf Furniture Co.
Endicott Johnson Shoes
Common Sense Shoe Store
Hilly's Drug Store
Mur Jewelry Co.
Black's Jewelry Store
Miller's Children & Jr. Shop
Blank's Bargain Store
Hom-Taste Bakery
Wilson Radio & TV
B. E. Huston
Hollinger's Furniture
George W. Henry
McClain Gas & Electric
Strickler's Dairy Store
Pennshire Clothes
Freidman's Men's Shop
Jane's Style Shop
Dank's & Co.
Ames
The Corset Shop
Jacy Cut Rate
Kough Jeweler
Fouse & Rohland
Hollywood Shop
Vogue Shop
Maytag Store
Sears — Roebuck
Woodrings Floral
Sherwin — Williams

A Word Of Greeting from Huntingdon Merchants

WELCOME To ALL JUNIATIANS

As The '56-'57 School Year Begins, Your Friendly Merchants Sincerely Hope You Will Enjoy Your Stay In Huntingdon. Your Huntingdon Merchant Is Constantly On The Lookout For The NEW In College Fashion And Trend. His Courteous Salespeople Are Always At Your Serivce.

Shop In Huntingdon Where The Best Awaits You!

Retail Division + Huntingdon Chamber of Commerce

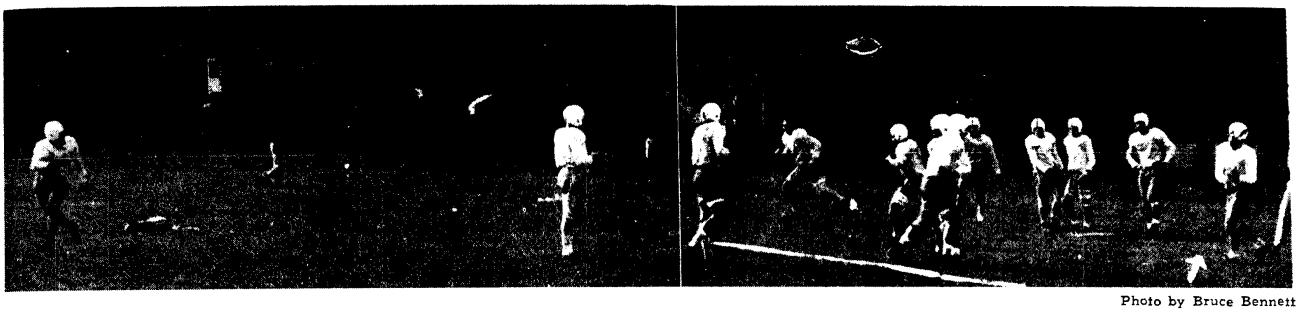


Photo by Bruce Bennett

Junior Bob Sill (at arrow) tosses the pigskin to freshman Ernie Richardson (extreme left) during backfield practice last Tuesday.

Asst. Coach Godlasky

● Coaching the Line ●

Godlasky Will Coach JC Gridiron Linemen

The Juniata campus not only has received a new head coach in the person of Ken Bunn, but it has also welcomed a new line coach, Charles Godlasky.

Godlasky, a native of Osceola Mills and a former teammate of Bunn at Penn State, is a welcome addition to the depleted Juniata coaching staff.

Godlasky received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Penn State in 1951 and followed up with a master's degree in 1955. Between academic degrees, he found time to serve two years as a first lieutenant in the Air Force and one year as a teacher and line coach at Tyrone, Pa. high school.

Godlasky comes to Juniata as an instructor in social studies after serving a year as assistant to coach Earl Bruce of the Nittany Lion freshmen squad. At present he is working toward his doctorate.

The Juniatian

SPORTS

Friday, September 21, 1956 Page 5

Five Top Senior Lettermen Win Alumni Spring Trophies

Five top ranking senior athletes won alumni trophies in spring sports at Juniata.

The awards which recognize "excellence in performance, good sportsmanship and cooperation" were announced after a vote by coaches and teammates. Winners are (donors in brackets) Baseball, Bernie Oriss, (Charles F. Goodale, Jr.); track, Al Nyce (J. Foster Gehrett); golf, Keith "City" Birmingham, (C. Blair Miller), and tennis, Dan Raffensperger, (Anonymous).

Elwood "Sonny" Kaylor received the Stanford athletic trophy - top award for sports leader ship at JC.

Kaylor, a varsity track letterman, served as chairman of athletics on the Student Senate last semester.

As an overall look, JC bettered the .500 mark in its spring sports season. Juniata completed its 1955-56 intercollegiate sports program with an overall record of 43 victories, 24 defeats and one tie.

Golf (8-2) and tennis (6-4) set the pace for the Indians this past spring as four teams recorded a 21-17 mark.

TENNIS

Won 6 Lost 4

Elizabethtown	8	1
Albright	2	6
Dickinson	2	7
Pitt	0	9
Lycoming	7	2
Elizabethtown	9	0
St. Francis	9	0
Carnegie Tech	6	3
Penn State	2	7
Lycoming	9	0

BASEBALL

Won 5 Lost 8

Washington	1	5
Bridgewater	2	5
Elizabethtown	x1	2
Susquehanna	*2	5
Albright	6	7
Bucknell	16	14
Shippensburg	2	5
Lycoming	25	7
Elizabethtown	2	6
Pitt	Rain
Indiana	Rain
Susquehanna	15	1
Lock Haven	0	7
Dickinson	10	3
Lycoming	10	3
	92	70

x 10 innings
* 6 innings

TRACK

Won 2 Lost 3

Lock Haven	53½	72½
Dickinson	66	60
Shippensburg	48½	77½
Lebanon Valley	85	41

Triangular Meets:

St. Joseph's	91½
Albright	47
Juniata	15½

Bucknell-Gettysburg—Rain

Middle Atlantics:

Al Nyce—5th in discus

GOLF

Won 8 Lost 2

West Virginia	0	9
John Hopkins	8	1
Albright	5	4
Indnana	8	1
Pitt	3	6
St. Francis	6	3
Dickinson	5	4
Lolola (Baltimore)	5	4
Western Maryland	7½	1½
Bucknell	6½	2½
Gettysburg	Cancel

Middle Atlantics: 4th

SPRING WON-LOST SUMMARY

	W	L	T	Pct.
Golf	8	2	0	.800
Tennis	6	4	0	.600
Track	2	3	0	.400
Baceball	5	8	0	.385
TOTALS	21	17	0	.553

Head Coach Bunn

● A Freshman at JC ●

Bunn Readies Players For Moravian Battle

The Juniata gridders have aquired a "new look" this year.

New faces, a new offense, and a new head coach, Ken Bunn will appear on the JC football scene this fall.

Bunn moves into his first college coaching job this season as successor to Bob Hicks who guided the Indians through two unbeaten seasons and extended the nations longest small college unbeaten record to 24 games. Hicks resigned last March to become head coach of football and baseball at DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana.

Basketball Assistant

In addition to his football duties, Bunn was appointed to the faculty as instructor in physical education and head baseball coach. He will also assist Dr. T. Arnold Greene in basketball.

Bunn is the third consecutive Penn State graduate to coach the Tribe. He played center under three head coaches for the Nittney Lions, Bob Higgins, Joe Bedenk and Rip Engle. He won acclaim as all-state center in 1950. Engle considered him "one of the most valuable men we had on the squad".

In his early playing days at State, Bunn was handicapped by a serious leg injury but he came on to become first string in Engle's first season at the University. Bunn was considered small in this day of giant linemen, but Engle gives him credit for "determination" because many boys with his injury would not have attempted to continue football.

High School Coach

Between his graduation from State in 1951 and his arrival at Juuniata, Bunn has been fulfilling coaching chores at Lawrence high school on Long Island and more recently at West Shore high school in Lemoyne.

Indians Polishing Multiple Offense

FIRST GAME OCTOBER 6

With the season's opener two weeks away, the Juniata College football squad has been working hard to polish the new multiple offense that coach Ken Bunn is installing.

Juniata gridiron fans will be able to see the "new" Indians in action starting October 6 against Moravan here on College Hill.

Bunn, assisted by a former teammate of his at Penn State, Charley Godlasky, has been working since the first practice session on Labor Day, with 51 candidates. Ten of these are lettermen, while thirty of thos practicing are freshmen.

Bunn is faced with the job of replacing eight graduated seniors, including seven starters who formed the backbone of the three teams that have given Juniata 24 straight games without a defeat. Included in that streak is the 6-6 tie with Missouri Valley in the Tangerine Bowl on January 2. This is the second longest unbeaten string in the nation.

Will Run Anything

Juniata's offense this year will be a multiple offense in which coach Bunn says, "We will run anything with equal efficiency." He also pointed out that although much of the offense will be similar to the Blue and Gold's standard single wing of the former unconquered teams, we may have to make some personnel changes to meet conditions."

Bunn will have standouts John Staley, senior center from Tarentum; Charles (Moon) Mullen, senior tackle from Altoona, and Bob Sill, junior fullback from Fairless Hills to spearhead the Indnan attack. Sill holds Juniata's single season rushing record.

Key men in the middle of the line are guards Charlie Haines, senior from Conemaugh; Bill Schott, junior from Glenshaw, and Don Shover, sophomore from Harrisburg, who has moved from blocking back. Also bolstering the line will be junior Bernie McQuown, tackle from Punxsutawney, and Al Sellari, sophomore end from Aliquippa.

Glen Hassinger, junior halfback from Carlisle, will be joined in the backfield by Joe Trimber, who was the star wingback on the first JC undefeated team. Trimber has returned from service in the Army.

STRICKLER'S

Milk and Ice Cream

Phone 78

KOUGHS JEWELRY

JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS

WATCHES RINGS

5th & Washington Sts.

MURPHY'S

Extends A Hearty Welcome To The Class Of

—1960—

(Stop In And Get Acquainted)

And Says "Welcome Back"

To All The Upperclassmen

Hollywood Shop

DRESSES

GLOVES

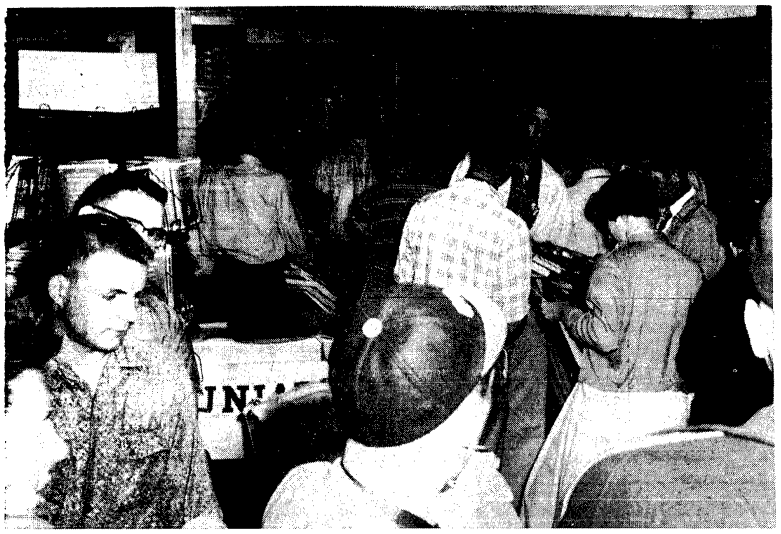
Meet At

SKIP'S

For Coffee

Under New Management

Business Booming During Early Days Of School Year



These Juniatians are shown crowded into the college book store where they are standing in line to get rid of $25 and up in exchange for some textbooks that might not get throughly read in spite of the financial setback. The used book store, operated by Dick Backus for the Senate, did a great business, too, so great, in fact, that land offices that make out these days are saying they are doing a used book store business!

Photo by Bruce Bennett

11 New Profs Join Teaching Staff

A total of 11 new faculty members have been added to the college family this year, according to a release from the Juniata College News Bureau.

Miss Barbara Ann Bechtell has been appointed dean of women, succeeding Mrs. Alice Dove, the former dean of women. Miss Bechtell, a graduate of Grove City College, received there a B S degree in accounting and is now completing work on her master's degree at Syracuse Univessity. The new Juniata dean is a former assistant to the dean of women and instructor at Grove City College.

Miss Anna Kathryn Winger, Greencastle, has been named assistant librarian, replacing Miss Miriam Dickey. Miss Winger, a 1953 graduate of Juniata received her master's degree in library science from Drexel Institute of Technology in 1954. Since that time she has been librarian at James Buchanan Junior-Senior High School, Mercersburg.

James Bray,, Yorktown. Va., has been appointed registrar. Bray an experienced teacher, guidance counselor and professional actor, also will become a director of dramatics and an instructor in English. Bray has received a bachelor of arts degree and a master of education degree from William and Mary College and has also taken graduate study at the University of Virginia.

Social Studies

Miss Gladys Weaver, Lancaster, has been named instructor in education and is replacing Miss Schlegal who has been granted a leave of abence. A graduate of Elizabethtown College where she received her BS degree, Miss Weaver also holds an M S degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Weaver formerly taught in the M J Brecht School, Manheim Township.

Dr. William Hambacher, a Naval Air Research psychologist and former instructor at the University of Pennsylvania, has been named assistant professor of psychology. Dr. Hambacher received his BA degree from Upsala College in 1949 and his M A degree and doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Pennsylvania. He has also taken graduate study at Boston University.

Charles Godlasky, Osecola Mills, was named instructor in social studies and assistant in athletics. He will serve as line coach of football to assist Kenneth Bunn who was elected head coach last spring.

Arts, Languages

Miss Jane C. Parker has been appointed instructor in modern languages. A graduate of the University of Connecticut in 1953, she received an M A degree in French from Laval University, Quebec. She was previously a teacher of English in O'Sullivan Bi-Lingual College, Quebes.

Our new instructor in classical languages is Werner Loewy of Yonkers, N. Y. Mr. Loewy, now working on his PhD at Columbia University, received his B A degree from New York University and his M A degree from Yale. Loewy is a native of Berlin, Germany.

Dr. Robert Thornburg, Philadelphia, has been appointed assistant professor of English. He received his B A degree from Gettysburg College in 1942 when he was graduated summa cum laude. He obtained advanced degrees of M A and PhD from the University of Pennsylvania in 1950 and 1956. Dr. Thornburg has been since 1954 an instructor in English at the Ogontz center of the Penn State University.

Natural Sciences

Dr. Clyde Burnett, an assistant professor of physics at the Pennsplvania State University, was named visiting lecturer in physice for the fall term. Dr. Burnett, a native of Nora Springs, Iowa, is a graduate of Upper Iowa University and received his PhD from the University of Wisconsin in 1951.

JCA Activates Plan For Morning Worship

A worship service will be conducted by JCA every Thursday morning from 7:30 to 7:55 in the Stone Church for the benefit of JC students and faculty.

The morning service is in conjunction with JCA's program of providing opportunity for personal religious developement and for meeting various religious needs.

Dick Livingston, worship director, reports that the type of service will be varied in accordance to student response, the main purpose being to provide the individual with an opportunity for private meditation.

Although there will be no such thing as compulsory attendance, it is hoped that the students will take advantage of this opportunity and attend. There will be ample time to make it for an 8:00 class.

JC Touring Choir Names Members

The Juniata College Choir, well-known campus singing and touring organization, has announced its membership for the 1956-57 season.

Sopranos are Judy Gearhart, Lois Dunlap, Peggy Chidester, Wright, Lois Ann Hershberger, Nancy Geisel, Milly Mandeville, Anna Mary Smith, Barb Orner, Florence Burlew, Aliceann Wohlbruck and Joan Fyock.

Altos are Janet Binkley, Aileen Wright, Carol Schenck, Jackie Rowland, Jane Brumbaugh, Shirley Raffensperger and Carol Hoffman.

Tenors are Jim Powell, Charles Winter, Bob Weaver, Joe Sendt, Terry Fouse and Dick Quinn.

Basses are Ron Dilling, Don Lowdermilk, Jim Swarr, Dick Livingston, Ken Rockwell, Charles Fox and Larry Landes..

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

JC Senate Reaches Impasse In Dining Hall Negotiations

The college presently has the facilities to serve breakfast to the students cafeteria style, according to the college president, it was reported at Wednesday evening's Senate meeting.

Only the opposition of the institutional manager, Miss Francis Mathias, prevents such a program from being initiated. This information was devolved during a conversation between President Calvert Ellis and vice president Newt Taylor, who was at the time investigating the possibilities of having to serve breakfast cafeteria style in the new dormitory for women.

Students To Petition

Leadership Conference had requsted such action.

Since the president was quoted as saying that institution of such a procedure physically "could be done" (he made no definite statement supporting or rejecting such a proposal, it was reported), the Senate voted to have a petition circulated among the students seeking such action.

The report from the delegation which asked Miss Mathias for the publication of menues of dining hall meals showed that the dietician could not do so for various reasons: a. the menu is very tentative—changes occur about 40 percent of the time when ordered food does not arrive on time;b. a lot more students would cut meals, thus leaving a lot more food to be served as leftovers; c. Miss Mathias, who puts in about 14 hours a day on her job, does not have the time to devote to such a project, and d. often the menu is changed because for various reasons the kitchen staff is often short of help and scheduled dishes must be set aside in favor of those easier to prepare.

Furthermore, Miss Mathias pointed out according to the delegation's report, that she would not publish dining hall menues "if the president (of the college) himself" requested her to do so. The Senate voted to drop the entire matter.

Dessert Family Style

A committee of Ann Willson, chairman, Doug Wilson and George Fattman was appointed to check on possibilities of having the majority of desserts at dinner served family style.

The Senate voted to have the Orge Committee look into the situation of College Field, in light of its decepit wall and grandstand.

Women's House

It was voted to circulate a questionnaire among women students asking them if they want the Women's House Committee to have powers to those of the Men's House Committee.

The names of 31 coeds appointed to the Women's House Committee, were presented by "Squeegee" Holsinger, chairman of women's house. They include Elaine Lehman, Ardeth Neish, Joanne Haines, Joan Hannaford, Sue Vanderburg, Eleanor Newton.

Ann Larkin, Jan Bradley, Marilyn Berkebile, Janice Gilroy, Carol Teeter, Eileen Gioprich, Louise Hall, Anna Mary Smith, Barbara Walls.

Eddi Lantz, Norma Hottle, Joan McClure, Janice Christie, Carol Olbrich, Helen Schmidlen, Ruth Perestam, Lucille Frey.

Joyce Burkett, Joyce Lashley, Mary Jane D'Zmura, Barbara Fritchey, Judy Wernsing, Eileen Nelson, Sally Grove and Jill Muir.

Juniata Graduate Gets Appointment

Francis M. Lehner, a 1948 mathematics and physics graduate of Juniata College, has been appointed the new west coast representative of Seismograph Service Corporation, Tulsa, Okla. The west coast office is located at Bakersfield, Calif.

G. H. Westby, president of the firm, explained that the expansion in the west coast area office was based upon the high acceptance given a recently developed seismic system which has proven an exceptional aid in the search for oil.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Shop
The Ray English
Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

HARRIS CLIFTON
POLICY OF THEATRE
Open nightly at 6:30
Matinee Thursday - 2 P.M.
Sat. continuous from 2 P.M.
No Show Sunday
NOW thru SAT.
"AWAY ALL BOATS"
Technicolor - Vista Vision
Jeff Chandler
George Nader—Julie Adams
Lex Barker — Richard Boone
MONDAY & TUESDAY
"The Vagabond King"
Technisolor - Vista Vision
Kathryn Gramson plus
The greatest singing voice of our time O RESTE with Rita Moreno - Cedric Hardwicke
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Double Feature Program
"A Kiss Before Dying"
Cimemoscope & Color with Robert Wagner Virginia Leith
ALSO A Suspense Thriller
"THE KILLING" with
Sterling Hayden - Coleen Gray
S_O_O_N
ALEX GUINESS in
"THE LADYKILLER"

The Juniatian

Vol. XXXIII, No. 2 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, September 28, 1956

Students To Use Ticket Books For Admission To JC Activities

by Clint Betz

John Fike, treasurer of the college, has announced the details of the new student matriculation booklets to be issued starting today from the information window in Students Hall.

The books will serve as tickets of admission for both students and faculty to all events held on campus that normally require an admission charge. This will include all home football games, plays, concerts and other special events which will be announced later.

They will be needed for the home football game against Moravian at College Field, Saturday, October 6, and should be picked up before the day of the game by each student.

The booklets will have yellow covers for faculty members and green covers for students. They will be issued to all faculty, full-time students and those part-time students who have paid the $25 student activities fee. The booklet will contain a series of numbered tickets, one of which will be needed for every event attended by the holder of the ticket. The number of the event will be announced, and the ticket taker will remove this numbered ticket from the booklet. A ticket already removed cannot be honored, and the booklets are not transferable.

According to Mr. Fike, the new system has been put into effect since the former activities card was not effective in judging faculty and student attendance at events for which the known attendance is necessary. He further stated that the system will give tighter control over non-college attendance.

Registration Here Higher Than Ever

This year's fall term enrollment has shattered all previous records with 727 students officially registered to a recent check by the office of the registrar.

This total exceeded the previous all-time opening week high of 689 established in September, 1948.

The total of 727 includes 26 "special" students, all from the Huntingdon area, who are enrolled as non-degree students in music, education, etc.

Men Outnumber Coeds

Men outnumber women 469 to 258 with the total number of women slightly lower than last year's 263. Included in the total are 604 resident students -- a total of 44 more than last year's record high of 560. This has caused a crowded housing condition which was eased by the cooperation of Huntingdon citizens in making rooms available to men.

The registration summary released by James Bray, registrar, follows:

Resident students: men, 332; women, 222; total, 604. Non-resident students: men, 76; women, 21; total, 97. Special students: men, 9; women, 10; total, 19. Non-credit music students: men, 2; women, 5; total, 7.

Adlai Stevenson Might Come Here

A possibility exists that Adlai Stevenson, Democratic Presidential nominee, will speak at Juniata Wednesday, October 3.

A whistle stop of the Stevenson campaign train is scheduled to stop in Huntingdon at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday. Stevenson is expected to make a short speech at the station.

However, many students are hoping that Stevenson can prolong his stop long enough to visit Juniata and speak in Oller Hall. Jim Stayer, Student Senate president, is investigating this possibility.

Stayer spoke with John Swan, Huntingdon County Democratic chairman, who encouraged the idea. He will investigate the matter when in Harrisburg this week and will then notify Stayer as to the definite possibility of having Stevenson speak here.

Arsenic Leads Go To Smith, Klebe, Hoyer, Martin

Tryouts for the Masque's fall production, Arsenic and Old Lace, to be given November 9 and 10 were held last Monday and Tuesevenings in Oller Hall, with lead roles going to Anna Mary Smith, Diane Klebe, Janice Hoyer and Jim Martin.

As a result of the tryouts, James Bray, director, has released a list of the tenative casting. Miss Smith will play the part of Abby; George Carnahan, Rev. Harper; Clint Betz, Teddy; Rush Hodgen, Officer Brophy; Charles Brown, Officer Klein.

Miss Klebe, Martha; Miss Hoyer, Elaine; Martin, Mortimer; Bill Lafe, Mr. Gibbs; Spencer Ward, Jonathan; Bob Reader, Dr. Einstein; Daniel John, Officer O'Hara; Dale Howe, Lt. Rooney and Dick Backus, Mr. Witherspoon.

Bray felt that the choice of Arsenic and Old Lace was wise and expressed his belief that it would be enjoyed by the Parents Day audience. The play concerns people who live a mentally precarious existence. Therefore a spirit of controlled insanity will pervade throughout.

Chapel

October 1 - Senate program on campus judiciary
3 - Modern dance program by the Dance Drama Company
5 - Meet Your Clergy

Senate Warns Would-Be OR Boycotters, Changes Rule On Preceding By Freshmen

UNAPPRECIATED — Bimbo, alias "Bullet," banned from Totem Inn forever by the Senate last Wednesday, reportedly feels hurt, since much of his spare time is spent performing various services for the students. Here he is shown dragging chunks of mud out of the Operation Recreation lake to pile them up on the south wall.

'Doggone Unfair,' He Says

Bimbo Test Case In War On Non-Human Juniatians

by Ann Willson & Dave Amidon

What began as a mere undercurrent of student opinion has blossomed this week in the hardhitting Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Non-human Juniatians.

Bimbo, prominent JC canine responsible for many previous movements on campus, calls attention to the recent Senate resolution: "That the chairman of the Totem Inn committee inform the manager of Totem Inn of our strong desire that all dogs and other non-humans, with the exception of Bimbo, alias "Bullet," be denied admittance to Totem Inn." Passed September 19, 1956.

This, says the SPCNJ, constitutes a violent assault on tradition; the resolution smacks of discrimination. Asked about this in a recent press conference, Bimbo (he prefers this title to the corrupt "Bullet") had this to say: "I realize that I am favored in the Senate move, but I resent the affront to my friends. Mark my word, I shall boycott Totem Inn pending reversal of this reactionary stand on the Senate's part."

Other SPCNJ agitators point out that the motion could be interpreted in a manner tending to exclude some nominally human members of the student body from the Inn.

Approached privately, influencial senators admitted they have stirred up an angry nest of hornets and predicated a hasty retreat aimed at heading off massive retaliation.

Favors Campus Club, Approves Prospectus

Those freshmen men who boycotted their Operation Recreation responsibilities had better "change their tune," according to Senate feeling expressed at their Wednesday night, 4-hour session.

It was voted to give such offenders of the Operation Recreation code (that all freshmen men spend at least one afternoon working on the project) a week to make up the time they owe. A committee consisting of Ray Ono, chairman, Dick Mumma and George Fattman has been appointed to take action toward those men who persist in neglecting this responsibility.

Frosh Preceding

Senators resolved that Freshman Court be requested not to enforce freshman regulations in regard to preceding upperclassmen into classrooms and chapel, in order that freshmen and upperclassmen get to class promptly. Congestion is created in the corridors of Students Hall and the front steps and rear of Oller Hall when freshmen wait for upperclassmen to precede them.

Senate approved formation of a Campus Relations Club, an outgrowth of the present sub-freshman committee.

Senators gave a vote of confidence to the use of their legislative prospectus, a system of having proposed motions to be made at a Senate meeting prepared before the meeting. During the meeting such motions are considered and then accepted or rejected. It was pointed out that using such a prospectus is not a "railroad" device, but saves the senators a great deal of time.

Eisenhower, Stevenson

The Senate gave its approval to the formation of chapters of Youth for Eisenhower and Students for Stevenson on campus. It was decided not to require the groups to form constitutions and to organize formally since they will be in existence for a relatively short time. It was pointed out, however, that a full financial report will be required from the head of each group.

A committee of Ono, chairman,

See SENATE ACTS, P. 4

Nevin To Captain JC Cheerleaders

Nancy Nevin was elected captain of the cheerleaders and seven others were named to the squad after several try-out and practice sessions during the past week.

Seniors on the squad include Miss Nevin and "Squeegee" Holsinger; juniors are Janice Gilroy, Ann Willson and Nancy Hess; freshmen are Carol Beard, Ardeth Neish and Jill Muir. No sophomores are among the cheerleaders.

Substitutes named were Jean Rubicam and Joan Greenwood, juniors; Ann Larkin, sophomore; and Norma Jedinak, freshman.

Black'N' White Dance On Saturday's Slate

June Gray, social committee chairman, has planned a "black and white dance" for this Saturday evening to be held in the mezzanine of the men's gym.

Every one attending the dance is expected to get into the spirit of things by wearing black and white.

The dance will begin at 8:00 p. m. All are invited.

Students To Vote For Three Movies

As in past years students will have an opportunity to select three motion pictures to be seen on campus dnring the course of the comng year.

Elections will take place in Totem Inn Tuesday. Ballots will be placed in mail boxes.

Chairman of social activities June Gray has released the following list of movies.

Students should choose one of the following, to be shown during Spiritual Emphasis Week the Stable, David and Bathsheba, The Stable, David and Bathsheba, Johnny Belinda, The Rozor's Edge.

Students should choose two of the following movies as well: Niagara, Streetcar Named Desire, Snows of Kilamanjaro, White Witch Doctor, Broken Arrow, Viva Zapata.

Library Displaying Old Publications

An interesting display featuring old newspapers and magazines is now located in the west reading room of the library.

One item of interest is a copy of the first issue of the Philadelphia Public Ledger published in 1836 by Swain, Abell and Simmons. This was one of the first daily newspapers in the United States and sold for a penny.

Other items on display, the American Monthly Museum and the Colombian Magazine, were also published in Philadelphia.

Many books concerning every phase of newspaper work are also available. These books provide interesting reading for everyone, including those not actively interested in journalism.

Neal's News Gathering and News Writing may aid cub reporters in getting and writing stories. I Work on a Newspaper by Henry Lent presents a vivid account of one complete day in the life of a newspaper.

Another book for the young reporter is Johnson and Harriss' The Complete Reporter. Dateline: Washington may confirm your belief that newspaper business is important, exciting and even romantic.

Judiciary Ideas On Campus Under Four Senates

If there is an issue on campus older than Operation Recreation, it is that of the Campus Judiciary, currently being dealt with by the fourth successive Senate and soon to come to a vote of the student body.

The avowed purpose of the Judiciary, as stated in the preamble to its constitution, is "...to give the student body an explicit means toward self-discipline, and a greater opportunity for self-government, and to improve cooperation among our respective groups (students, faculty, and administration) ..."

Not an honor system

The judiciary is not meant to operate as an honor system--that is, students will not have to report themselves and others; however, it will alter regulation of student behavior in that the responsibility of punishment for misconduct will be shifted from the administration to the students themselves.

By shifting this responsibility it is hoped that students will come to understand and better appreciate the problems involved in regulating student conduct. The committee will have wide discretionary powers of decision; thus, through establishing precedent, it can become a policy making as well as a law enforcing agency.

Broad Jurisdiction

Its jurisdiction will include all the regulations governing student conduct -- in essence, the entire Grey Paper, except for infraction of dormitory regulations, which, if minor, will be handled by the respective house committees.

The Judiciary will consist of four junior and senior members of the student body, to be elected by the students at a special election which will be held the week of October 15 if the judiciary is accepted; the chairman of men's house, the chairman of women's house, as representatives from

See CAMPUS JUDICIARY P. 4

editorially speaking

Vote On Campus Judiciary Is Of Utmost Importance

In 10 days, you, the student body, will have the opportunity and responsibility to make an important decision — for campus life, for student government and for future generations at Juniata; you will vote to accept or reject the Campus Judiciary, a product of the efforts of four successive Senates.

Of course, no one expects you to vote "yes" without giving the matter careful consideration and deciding whether you think the Judiciary will be a profitable innovation. By the same token, however, no one should blindly vote "no," out of ignorance or misinformation and thereby possibly deprive the campus of what could be a good thing.

To be a truly good citizen and an intelligent elector — in a national or a college community, one must keep himself well-informed. Hence, the Juniatian urges each one of you to avail yourself of the many opportunities which will be open to you next week to learn about the Campus Judiciary.

Read the Judiciary Constitution, ask questions about it, discuss its pros and cons, attend the sessions which have been planned by the Judiciary education committee. In short, make sure you thoroughly understand both sides of the issue before you cast your ballot.

Interview With Pres. Ellis Reveals Duties Of Hostess

In response to a Juniatian editorial and a Student Senate request for clarification of the Oneida Dining Hall hostess' duties, President Ellis in an interview with the Juniatian and a letter to the Senate, explained that the hostess has three set duties.

First and foremost, she is in the dining hall in the capacity of a hostess. That is, she is responsible for seeing that all students are seated so that no one is forced to leave the dining hall because he does not have a seat. Also, when there are guests present, it is her duty to seat them. Her main job, however, is to tend to student needs.

Administrative Arm

Secondly, she is an arm of the administration in the dining hall, "...a liason between the dining hall and the kitchen," as Dr. Ellis explained it. It is felt that she is in a better position than is student help to deal with certain problems that may arise.

Finally, the hostess aids in taking inventory of kitchen supplies each afternoon.

Ellis went on to defend the administrative action in hiring a hostess on the grounds that the administration "always had someone in the dining hall until just a few years ago." He also pointed out that other educational institutions hire such an employee.

It is the hope of the administration, according to the President, that the hostess, being beyond student pressure, will eventually be able to work out some of the inequities which may exist in the dining hall.

Chapel not a chapel

In the same interview, Dr. Ellis answered Leadership Conference and Juniatian agitation for a renovated Founders Chapel because of its "unchapel-like" appearance, by explaining that Founders Chapel is actually no longer a chapel but has been converted into a classroom. However, he does not feel it necessary to change the name of the chapel because "it is traditional." Oller Hall, the president explained, is our chapel.

From The Suggestion Box

Robert Fisher, Totem Inn Manager, would appreciate it if all intracollegiate mail were written on paper or cards no smaller than 3x5 after is has been folded. Small slips of paper, so often dropped get lost, the manager explained.

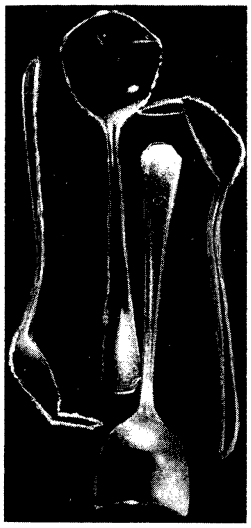
Traffic Congestion

Perhaps traffic congestion between classes in Students Hall could be alleviated at least a little if those students leaving the building from Rooms A and B were to use the back door as an exit and those leaving from the second floor were to utilize the fire escape, which opens off Room E.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"NOW I KNOW WHAT THEY MEAN BY HIGHER EDUCATION."

Spoons Get "Shafted"



These mutilated spoons are only four examples of student destructiveness which constantly goes on in the Dining Hall. Although these spoons were able to be bent back into shape, broken dishes, which also result from thesse rowdy sessions, must be paid for by the waitresses. These actions -- unnecessary and childish -- manifest immaturity on a campus where students are constantly crying to be treated as adults.

Facts Show Students Turn "Thumbs Down" On Reading Of Books

More students in 1955-56 used sixteen hundred less books than the students used in 1954-55.

The 72 hours per week was the same; the book budget was larger, the book selection more interesting and still our rooms were often empty. Why?

Suggestions from students and faculty for purchase were observed and over 1000 new books were added. All inter-library loans were procured if possible. Some college citizens came often and stayed late. Where were the rest of our family?

It is YOUR Library just as much as it is YOUR StudentCenmuch as it is YOUR Student Cennot make the same good use of it?

When your room-mate demands you turn off the radio you can still read a book! You might even like it if you tried it. Food for your mind is just as important as food for your body.

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ..... Joan McClure
Managing Editor ..... George Fattman
News Editor ..... Barbara Walls
Co-Sports Editors ..... Bill Mariotti, Dave Suloff
Feature Editors ..... Ann Willson, Dave Amidon
Business Manager ..... George Carnahan
Circulation Manager ..... Roger Bennett

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

news views . . .

Democrats To Hear Stevenson; Republicans To Have Free Picnics

by Newt Taylor

Here in Central Pennsylvania the 1956 Presidential campaign is beginning to hum.

The first real activity took place last Thursday when the Democrats had a big rally at the Grand Theatre. Their principal speaker was the former Mayor of Philadelphia, Joseph S. Clark, Jr. They also had Ross Hershberger of Bedford (no relation to Senate Treasures Bill Hershberger). Mr. Clark is running for the U.S. Senate against the incumbent James H. Duff. Mr. Hershberger is seeking the seat in Congress now held by Richard M. Simpson of Huntingdon. Two members of the college community who attended the rally, (Jim Montgamery and Ted Grothe), were particularly impressed with Mr. Clark.

Free Picnic

This coming Tuesday afternoon and early evening the Bedford County Republican Committee is having a free picnic and a big rally at Everett (forty-five miles south of Huntingdon). All the members of the state GOP ticket are expected to attend insluding Senator Duff along with Congressman Simpson. The group planning the affair has been fortunate enough to secure as speaker one of the nation's top Republican's, U.S. Senator William F. Knowland of California. Several members of the newly formed Juniata College Chapter of Youth for Eisenhower plan to attend this affair.

Wednesday, October 3, will be a big day in Huntingdon. At 4:40 p.m. EDT the campaign train of Adlai Stevenson will make a whistlestop in Huntingdon. The Presidential candidate is expected to make a short talk. He will make another whistlestop in Altoona and then proceed to Johnstown for a rally where he will deliver a major address.

Free Picnic

Saturday afternoon and early evening the Huntingdon County Fairrguonds will be the scene of another rally and free picnic sponsored by the Huntingdon County Republican Committee. Congressman Simpson, Senator Duff and the other state and local GOP candidates will be present. Several Juniata students are expected to go over after the Moravian game.

All students, Republican and Democrat alike, should make an attempt to attend as many of these affairs as possible. This is particularly true of Adlai Stevenson's visit Wednesday afternoon. Politics should be an important part of every liberal arts education.

On Other Campi

by Barbara Smathers

Hi! With activities on campus gradually settling into an established routine, let's direct our attention to the "goings on" on other campuses.

"Pep pajamas" are quite the thing in many women's dorms. Each girl sews the uniform number of her favorite gridiron hero to the back or to the pocket of her pajamas.

Carl Denlinger, sports columnist for the Etownian, weekly newspaper of Elizabethtown College has established his own mythical sports league in order to com pare E-town's rank among opponents in baseball and basketball. Teams insluded onhis list, "The Little Ten," will be Elizabethaown,Lebanon Valley, Franklin & Marshall, Albright, Dickinson, Millersvilli, Gettysburg, and Susquehanna, Yycoming, and last but certainly not the least our own Juniata.

Snakey Pajama Parade

To interest townspeople in supporting the college football squad during the current season, the students of McPherson College, McPherson, Kansas, recently held a pajama parade. A snake line formed by pajama clad students wound its way through the heart of downtown McPherson stopping to cheer at two of the main intersections. The parade also made its way through several drug stores and the local theatre.

Have you ever wondered what would happen if the bells signifying the change of classes would stop working? This very thing did happen last week at the Stowe Township High School, but the situation was well in hand. A trio of trumpeteers appeared at the end of each class to sound the "finis."

17 Year Old Baby

From the Collegiate Quips Column of the Stockton College Collegian came these tidbits:

Getting the baby to sleep before midnight is perhaps the most difficult when she is about 17.

He will have little to say who never talks about himself.

How easy it is depends on how hard you're trying to do it.

That's it for this issue, folks. See you in two weeks for another whirlwind trip to distant campuses.

One Way To Describe It

OLD FLAME — What a girl uses to burn up her new boy friend.
FRESHMAN — I don't know.
SOPHOMORE — I am not prepared.
JUNIOR — I do not remember.
SENIOR — I don't believe I can add anything to what has already been said.

Time Change Sunday

Huntingdon returns to standard time Sunday at 2 a. m., so watches should be turned back one hour Saturday night.

Most metropolitan areas will still be on fast time until October 31, so be prepared for a general mix-up in sports events, TV shows, etc.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

JUST ARRIVED!
NEW STOCK — 33⅓ and 45 RPM ALBUMS
CAPITOL, DECCA, LONDON, MERCURY
FINAL CLEARANCE
45 RPM BOX ALBUMS $1.98 to $3.98
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

The Juniatian

SPORTS

Friday, September 28, 1956 Page 3

Members Of Juniata Team Give Opinions Concerning Upcoming Gridiron Campaign

by Chuck Brown

One week from tomorrow, when the 1956 edition of Juniata football is presented to College Hill fans, a new and devastating offense will also be unveiled.

The multiple offense, as it is commonly called, has been so effectively employed by many of the nation's leading college powers, that it has been introduced to Juniata by its new head coach, Ken Bunn. Juniata, has for many years played a strict single wing style of football, and this sudden switch to a multiple offense has many skeptics pondering Juniata's chances of remaining undefeated for another gridiron season. Many fans wonder if Bunn's manpower can adapt itself to the new system in time for the opener against powerful Moravian College.

IN SATURDAY'S SCRIMMAGE — Freshman Jim Berrier, end from Harrisburg, is shown here trying to weave past a Lock Haven player during the closed scrimmage on College Field. Each team scored two goals.

Doubts Dispelled

This reporter, too has been pondering JC's chances of increasing its win skein to 30, but any personal doubts have been dispelled after several interviews with some members of the squad. During these interviews, it has been discovered that most of the team feels the new system will more than adequately compensate for the junking of the single wing.

John Staley, senior letterman and starting center, says that the Indians will field a strong running backfield with any one of the four backs capable of breaking away for a long yardage.

Opipery Echoes

Staley was echoed by Ken Opipery, a sophomore end, who stated, "The running attack is very good, but we won't have the long passes which we had last season."

As far as the approaching Moravian game is concerned, Charlie Haines had this to say, "All seven games will be tough, but the first one is always the toughest until you see what you have."

Breaks Necessary

Horace Carl, probable starting end, expressed similar guarded views when he said, "With a few breaks, we could have a good season."

All in all, the outlook for the 1956 Juniata griliron season is not a grim one at all. The Indians must face some of the toughest foes of their history but spirit is high on the squad that they can successfully complete a season which will certainly make all Juniata fans proud of them.

From the Bleachers

King Football Returns To Scene

by Dave Suloff

Once again, baseball glides out of view, with the exception of the World Series of course. Football, king of autum, takes over the spotlight. Some of the colleges and universities throughout the nation have already begun their seasons.

Juniata begins her season against Moravian on October 6. The team has been practicing hard, and as a result of their efforts, they have gained recent national recognition in the person of Sports Illustrated, a weekly sports magazine with national circulation.

This article appeared under the small college heading in the September 24 issue:

"Juniata: The Indians, undefeated since 1952, will try to keep their 23 - game, regular-season winning streak alive under Coach Ken Bunn, the replacement for Bob Hicks, who moved on to DePauw. Bunn has installed the multiple offense in this single wing school, and is looking forward to excellent results, with a large nucleus of last year's team returning. Best of these is Bob Sill, a 170 pound fullback, who helds Juniata's single-season record for rushing - 726 yards.

"The toughest game of the season for Juniata will be against Drexel Institute, also undefeated last year. Never let it be said these little teams make their reputations on soft schedules. As soon as they see another strong team of their own size, they rush to meet it."

Well, they think that Drexel will be the hardest game, but actually Moravian and Lycoming will be just as rough. Any one of these three teams could very easily "turn the tables"on JC. However with the tremendous spirit and team play that past Juniata teams have had, and the enthusiasm that appears in this year's squad, Moravian, Lycoming, and Drexel will have a rough time with the Indians.

* * *

It is an unwritten law around here, that the sports editor of the Juniatian should attempt to predict the results of football games. So, with a tip of the hat, and a cross of the fingers, here we go: DREXEL over New Haven State; Tech will be up for this one! SWARTHMORE; Little Quakers take it on the chin again! Penn State over Pennsylvania; Nittany' Lions roar may be muffed! West Chester St. over King's; Rams look strong this year. . . . Lehigh over Delaware; Engineers can look for a tough one. MORAVIAN over LYCOMING (a big one); truly a toss of the coin. URSINUS over Susquehanna; Bears start things off easy! ! Pitt over Syracuse; Pitt will be up-Syracuse down . . . .

Campus Interest In Soccer Rises

by John Jenkins

Interest in a new varsity sport has arisen on the Juniata campus.

A group of students are attempting to gain support for their plan to form a soccer team that would become the seventh varsity sport at Juniata.

Looking forward to the future, a few scrimmage games are to be arranged. Among the teams which will probably be scrimmaged this year are Elizabethtown College, Lewistown High School and McConnellsburg High School. As far as completing a regular schedule, there would be no problem involved since many of our regular opponents in athletics have soccer teams.

Interest Necessary

The main hurdle in the prevention of having a soccer team is the intersets of the students. This hurdle was partially passed last week when a meeting and practice session were held in Sherwood Forest for all those interested in playing soccer.

A fair number of enthusiasts responded, mostly freshmen, but not as many turned out as expected. There will be future meetings and practices, the time of which will be announced in the dining hall. If, however, your interest has been aroused contact George Cline, Dick Lantzy or Dave Suloff for further information.

IM League

An intramural league will be formed, from which an all-star team will be picked to scrimmage the other schools. Leagues have been formed for the two past years, and have received favorable support. This is the sport for all you guys with strong legs and a long wind, so lets see you down there.

Intramurals Program Starts with Football

Juniata's extensive intramural sports program was initiated this week as the IM football season began.

Senate chairman of athletics Doug Wilson has set up a 9-game schedule for each of the 10 teams. Teams listed are the JC Seniors, Mifflin Street Bulldogs, Crazy Eights, Hoper Squad, Vets, Six-60s, Crusaders and defending champion Collegians. Two squads remain as yet unamed.

Six men constitute a team, with three or more on the line of scrimmage. Games will be played in 15 minute quarters with two time out periods allowed in each half. The free substitition rule will apply and 20 yards will be necessary for a first down. Each team must supply one official. In case of wet weather the official may call off the contest. Game time is 4 p. m.

Soccer, Bowling, Basketball

Preseason soccer practice has now started and the regular season will begin in the third week of October. Bowling will be initiated during the middle of November, and IM basketball starts on December 1.

Wilson reported that work is now underway in providing a horse shoe pit to be located in the vicinity of the North Campus Dorm, and the ping pong room will be in use as soon as new equipment arrives.

Perhaps Wrestling

Intramural wrestling may also make its debut this year, as the college is now in the process of purchasing mats. Softball, golf and tennis will round out the Spring IM season.

Juniata Harriers Await Inaugural

This yead, for the first time in its history, Juniata will be represented in intercollegiate competition by a cross-country team.JC will unveil its harriers on October 12 against Elizabethtown on the Blue and Gold's home course.

For the past several years cross-country has been on an individual basis at Juniata. Last year two practice meets with Franklin and Marshall and Albright were held. Also four runners went to the Meet at Allentown last year.

The Juniata cross-country consists of 4¼mile of hilly Huntingdon terrain. The course begins behind Memorial Gym and finishes in Sherwood Forrest very near the starting line. The route covers Taylor Highlands, the woods behind Taylor Highlands, Cold Spring Road and Warm Spring Road.

Upperclassmen

On this year's squad, coached by Mike Snider, are four upperclassmen who ran in last year's competition. They are seniors Herb Layman and Doug Wilson and sophomores Herb Deuchar and Chuck Brown. Three other upperclassmen are participating for the first time. This trio consists of juniors Joe Senft and Spencer Ward and sophomore Terry Fouse. Six freshmen have been working out also They are Frank Hrach, Ed Moore, Jim Pettit, Jim Copenheaver, Henry Crocker, and Wallace Bell.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Oct. 12—Elizabethtown	Home
Oct. 19—Muhlenburg	Away
Oct. 26—Albright	Away
Nov. 10—Franklin and Marshall	Home

FOOTBALL

Oct. 6—Moravian	Home
Oct. 13—Lycoming	Away
Oct. 20—Dickinson Homecoming Day	Home
Oct. 27—Drexel	Home
Nov. 3—Grove City	Away
Nov. 10—Swarthmore Parents Day	Home
Nov. 17—Ursinus	Away

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee
Under New Management

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

MURPHY'S
MEN'S SPORT SHIRTS
ALWAYS THE LATEST
COLLEGIATE STYLE
$1.98 — $2.95

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking
in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs
ever!
SMITHFIELD

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Play Author Born In NYC

Joseph Otto Kesselring, auther of Arsenic and Old Lace, which will be given here November 8 and 9, was born to Henry and Frances Langtry Kesselring in New York City, June 21, 1902.

He was 20 years old when he became professor of music at Bethal College in Kansas. Three years later he accepted the positions of instructor in music and director of amateur theatricals at Niagara Falls and Lake Placid, N.Y.

During these years he was constantly acting, writing and producing vaudeville sketches, short stories and poems. Since 1933 he has been mainly a short story writer and playwright.

In Dramatist's Guild

Joseph Kesserling was married to Charlotte Elsheimer on Oct. 7, 1931. He is a member of the Dramatist's Guild of the Author's League and the British Guild of Dramatists.

A few of the plays Kesserling has written are Aggie Appleby, Maker of Men which was made into a movie, There's Wisdom in Women, Arsenic and Old Lace and Identically Yours.

Mr. Kesserling lives in New York and also has a home in Willow, Ulster County, N. Y.

WJC STAFF MEETING —All members of the staff of WJC will meet Tuesday night at 7:15 in Room C, Students Hall.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

IN CHAPEL WEDNESDAY — Here are the co-producers, founders and featured dancers of the Dance Drama Co., Emily Frankel and Mark Ryder, who will perform during this season's first special chapel in Oller Hall.

German Students To Get Awards

George Dolnikowski, German professor here, has announced that four outstanding German students will receive books which were sent here for that purpose by the German Embassy in Washington, D. C.

Recipients of the books, which concern German literature and art, will be Bob Moore, first year student; Jim Martin, second year; Bryan Stauffer, third year; and Spencer Ward, German Club president.

The awards, to be presented at the German Club meeting next Thursday were decided on the basis of students' performance during the 1955-56 college year according to Dolnikowski.

Dancing Group To Give Chapel

Emily Frankel and Mary Ryder, modern dancers who performed here three years ago return to Oller Hall Wednesday as featured Dancers in a company of eight.

On the program for this, the first special chapel this fall, are Whirligig, done to folk music --a suite of imaginary folk dances from imaginary countries; All-American Sports Hero, done to college fight songs --this is a repeat of a group of dances presented here three years ago; Haunted Moments, another repeat based on sound effects--a fantasy of people's reaction to sounds, and Romeo and Juliet, based on Tchaikovsky's Overture and Fantasia.

The numbers are presented by the Dance Drama Co., a group which claims to be ballet, modern dance- jazz, ethnic and comic companies combined. All the numbers are dance dramas. Each tells a story. Miss Frankel and her husband, Ryder, have been touring together since 1950 and have visited 332 American cities.

Campus Judiciary In Spotlight Now

continued from page 1

the Student Senate; the Dean of Women; the Dean of Men; and a member of the faculty to be chosen by the faculty.

The President of the Senate will preside at the meetings but will not be a voting member, except in the case of a tie. Thus student vote outnumbers administrative vote 2-1, and the presiding officer is a student.

Tattling Voluntary

Reporting of infractions will be handled in much the same manner as it is now. That is, any member of the college community may, but no one must report offenses to the Judiciary.

Students being charged with misconduct will have the opportunity of making a statement before the Judiciary. Also, both the defendant and the Judiciary will have the opportunity to present testimony from persons having knowledge of the matter. Provision has been made in the Constitution for appeal of the Judiciary's decision.

These are a few of the basic facts about the proposed Judiciary, However, a program where by all students can have an opportunity to become more thoroughly familiar with the proposal has been set up by the Judiciary education committee, a Senate sub-committee, headed by Judy Gearhart.

Pilfered Pizza

Next week, which will virtually be Campus Judiciary Week here ,will feature a skit in Oller Hall on Monday, The case of the Pilfered Pizza; the distribution of Judiciary Constitntions to the student body; a discusion in freshman assembly, and evening question and answer sessions, with the times and places to be announced later.

Tuesday, October 9, has been tentatively set as election day, pending approval of the Conetition by the Faculty at its monthly meeting Monday afternoon. To become effective, the Judiciary must have the approval of the Students Citizenship Committee; the President of the College, acting for the administration; the Faculty; and 60 per cent of a quorum at the student body.

JRM

Ready To Serve The College In Any Way
(Short Of Cribbing, Of Course)
JC's FAVORITE JEWELRY STORE
is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Band Numbers 37; Ready To Back Team During Grid Contests

The football team will have plenty of backing this season when they take to the field according to Jack Brammer, who has announced that this year's band is composed of 37 students, 12 of them freshmen.

Leading the band in the half time performances will be Pete Fahrney, drum major, and three majorettes, Aliceann Wohlbruck, Betsy Swope and Mary Shirk. Other members of the band are clarinets, Charles Fox, Carol Holsopple , Kathryn Holsinger, Burton Newman, Sally Grove, Mae Vonada, Nancy McDonald, Jean Wampler, Carol Middleton and Peter Wright.

Flutes, Joan Fyock, Dolores Briggs; saxophones, Robert Barnard, Nancy Phennicie; French horns, Shirley Nace, Carol Olbrich Pauline Klapsogeorge; trumpets, Jim Snare, Don Aurand, Larry Derstine, Lucy Lee Kriebel, Sue Willson and Jack Wenger.

Trombones, Jay Guyer, Glenn Williamson, Mel Kreps, Mike Trigg, Arthur Norris; baritones, Joe Senft, Jeanette Deery; tuba, Spencer Ward, Carl Lindsay; and drums, Jim Hopper, Lloyd McCormick, Marjorie White, Douglas Hinckle and Dan John.

Campus Dems Ready To Go

Juniata Stevenson supporters are losing no time in organizing themselves on the campus.

An organizational meeting was held last Monday afternoon in which Dave Amidon and Dave Suloff were chosen co-chairmen of the Students for Stevenson chapter. All Stevenson supporters reportedly were made welcome.

After campaign buttons were distributed, members began making active plans for their campaign. They decided to issue a weekly publication similar to the Doorstep News. This new addition to college publication will be called The Eye and will circulate on our campus until election time.

Naturally the high point in the young democrats' campaign will be Stevenson's proposed whistle stop in Huntingdon. October 3.

Plans were also laid for campaign posters to be obtained from the county and national Stevenson headquarters.

Next week, The Young Republicans.

OFF-CAMPUS SUBSCRIBERS to the Juniatian have the apologies of the staff for the late arrival of the first issue. The reason: an overwhelming number of subscriptions this year.

Senate Acts On OR Issue

continued from page 1

and Miss Holsinger was appointed to work out a time schedule for the use of the laundry room in the women's dorm.

It was voted to ask President Ellis to inform the Senate what progress has been made toward naming the North Campus Dorm for Men.

Senate Historian

The chairman of communications, the Senate decided, shall each year within a month following his retirement present a brief history of the past senate to be kept for the Senate archives.

Class Dues Day

Chairman of general activities Ann Willson announced that next Tuesday will be class dues day. The Senate voted to make the Spring Carnival, initiated last year, an annual affair. This is a social event in which various organizations on campus participate through setting up games, etc, in a carnival fashion. Last year the affair was held in the Women's Gym.

Senate To Write Report On Doings

The Senate plans to issue monthly an interpretive report of its activities, as seen from a long range viewpoint, in a publication known as the Smoke Signal.

The committee in charge of the publication include Phyl Marcocci, Jim Stayer and George Fattman.

Among the writers for the publication will be the various senators, heads of various Senate sponsored committees and other student leaders on campus.

The first edition should appear early next week.

Sodas - Sundaes
— Hot Dogs —
and Hamburgers
TEXAS LUNCH
7th Street

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT
Frank Sinatra
Keenan Wynn
William Conrad
Phyllis Kirk in Johnny Concho
MON - TUE - WED
William Holden
Deborah Kerr
in
The Proud and the Profane
with Thelma Ritter
Dewey Martin
STARTS THURSDAY OCT. 4
THE FASTEST GUN ALIVE
with Glenn Ford
Jeanne Crain
Broderick Crawford
COMING SOON
Alec Guiness as
THE LADYKILLER
also
MOBY DICK
BUS STOP
HIGH SOCIETY

"I feel like a Coke. Do you?"

Of course. Most everyone does—often. Because a few moments over ice-cold Coca-Cola refresh you so.

It's sparkling with natural goodness, pure and wholesome—and naturally friendly to your figure.

Feel like having a Coke?

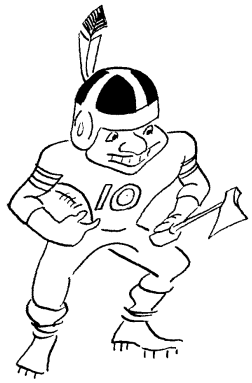
Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

The Juniatian

VOL. XXXIII, No. 3 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 5, 1956

Collegians To Spend Day In Woods



Indian, Greyhound Clash Here Tomorrow In Opener

The Moravian Greyhound lopes into town today with intentions of halting the Juniata Indian, undefeated in 24 consecutive games.

Encouraged by the 20-6 trouncing handed to Lycoming (considered one of Juniata's rougher opponents), Moravian will provide plenty of spunk. The anzieties of a first game of the season will be added to the battle on College Field tomorrow at 1:30 p. m.

Coach Ken Bunn's tribe is ready to go, however. Armed with the system of multiple offense, new to Juniata, and a great running attack, JC's gridders anticipate adding the Greyhound's scalp to numerous others.

An enthusiastic crowd is expected to overflow the stands to cheer the valiant Indian on toward his current goal of 30 games without a defeat.

'56 Mountain Day To Be Wednesday At Whipple's Dam

Juniata's traditional Mountain Day will be held Wednesday at Whipple's Dam.

A day of recreation and respite from classroom toil, Mountain Day is held each year at a different park in the Huntingdon area. All college facilities will be closed for the holiday, including the dining hall and labs. Everyone is invited, with a special invitation extended to families of students. Transportation to Whipple's Dam will be provided in buses for those who cannot go in cars.

In charge of the annual event are Prof. Paul Yoder, chairman, Miss Frances Mathias, Mike Snider, Ann Willson and Doug Wilson. Further announcements concerning the exact time and postponement (if necessary) will be made early next week.

Juniatian Names Reportorial Staff

Sixteen students will be reporting for the Juniatian during the fall semester, among them 11 new writers, 4 sport writers and 1 feature writer.

Admittance to the staff was based on a competence test which required a score of 70 percent or better. Actual scores ranged from 73 to 95. Only one participant in the testing program scored below 70.

Leora Furlong, Ed Jones, Mary Ellen Blessing, Carol Baish, Ron Fink, Ruth Dunmire, Marjorie Snyder, "Libby" Donelly, Emmalyn Heed, Barbara McIntyre and Don Leeking will write news.

On the sports staff are Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, John Jenkins and Wally Berkey. Barbara Smathers will write features.

an editorial

We Say Vote 'Yes'

The Juniatian joins with the Student Senate in urging you to vote "yes" in Tuesday's referendum on the Campus Judiciary.

If you are for student government, for increased student participation in college affairs, if you want to mature at college to learn to accept responsibilities, to make decisions, then you cannot help but be in favor of a judiciary.

If you are one who constantly complains about administrative handling of student affairs, here is your opportunity to do something about it. If you want to express your appreciation for and confidence in the work done by the past four Student Senates, elected by you, you will vote to give this Judiciary a chance.

If, however, you have studied the Constitution thoroughly, asked questions, thought the matter through and still feel that you cannot subscribe to the Judiciary's principles or mechanics, you are justified in voting "no" next Tuesday.

It is those who have not taken tht time to look into the issue, but will vote "no" because they have been taken in by uninformed campus negativists, who are doing themselves, their student government, and their college community a great injustice.

'Defeat Moravian' Tonight's Pep Cry

The first pep rally of the season will be held in Oller Hall this evening at 7:15 p. m.

The senior committee which organized the rally plan to introduce the coaches and team to the students. Jim Corrigan, chairman of the committee, announced that if it is not possible for the students to go downtown to welcome the Moravian team, a bonfire will be held in Sherwood Forest. Band and cheerleaders will be present.

Juniors are in charge of the October 12 Lycoming rally, sophomores, the October 19 Dickinson rally and freshmen, the October 26 Drexel rally.

The cheerleaders will be in charge of the last three rallies, November 2, 9 and 16.

Tuesday Judiciary's Day Of Reckoning

Students will vote Tuesday on the Campus Judiciary.

This is one of the final steps toward the proposed court becoming the official "arm of the law" on campus. Only the vote of the Faculty will remain to be taken should the measure pass.

Sixty percent of those voting must vote "yes" for the issue to pass.

JC To Elect Homecoming Queen, Court

The male members of the business staff and the editorial board of the Juniatian have announced their selection of candidates for Homecoming Queen to be elected by the student body next Thursday.

The following candidates have been chosen.

Phyl Marcocci, a senior Spanish major from Dudley. Extra-curricular activities are FTA, Pyrenees Club, W A A, Senate secretary, Smoke Signal staff and a student teacher at Mt. Union High School.

Joan McClure, a senior history major from Harrisburg. Extra-curricular activities include women's house committee, orge committee, Leadership Conference, Indian staff, editor of the Juniatian and a former student senator.

Women's House Chairman

Eloise "Squeegee" Holsinger, a senior elementary education mare chairman of women's house, cheerleader, FTA, vice-president of WAA, Leadership Conference intra-mural sports and JCA.

Nancy Nevin, a senior elementary education major from Port Washington, Long Island. Activities include captain of the cheerleaders, dance band vocalist, Leadership Conference, social committee, JCA, FTA, WAA. the Masque, underclassmen committee and Modern Dance Club.

Ruth Perestam, a junior elementary education major from Yardley. Activities are FTA, JCA, social committee, women's house commttee, modern dance club and work in the library.

Cheerleader

Janice Gilroy, a junior elementary education major from Sarasota, Fla. Her activities are FTA, JCA, WAA, intra-mural sports, modern dance, social committee, cheerleading and women's house committee.

Jacque Rowland, a junior elementary education major from Hanover. Activities are college choir, JCA, JBSF publicity committee, FTA, trio and social committee.

Education Major

Sue Fawcett, a junior elementary major from Cranbury, N. J. Activities are FTA, JCA and work in the public relations office.

Carolyn Long, a junior home economics major from Hagerstown, Md. Activities are Lambda Gamma, chairman of publications for Lambda Gamma, and JCA.

Joy Wenger, a senior home economics major from Elizabethtown. Activities are JCA, Lambda Gamma, intra-mural hockey and basketball. She was last year's Homecoming Queen.

Spirit of Hospitality

The students are reminded that the Homecoming Queen must represent a "spirit of hospitality" to all alumni and visitors on campus. Therefore when voting, students should take into consideration personality, participation in college activities and appearance.

The candidate with the highest number of votes will be elected queen and the two second highest in votes, her attendants. Election tellers will be Barbara Walls George Fattman and George Carnahan.

WHO WILL REIGN AT HOMECOMING? That's what everybody in Thursday's election. From left to right are Nancy Nevin, "Squeegee" Holsinger, Janice Gilroy, Ruth Perestam, Sue Fawcett, Phyl Marcocci, Carolyn Long, Joy Wenger, Joan McClure and Jacque Rowland.

especially the 10 pert candidates pictured here, have been wondering about lately. From them students will pick a queen and two attendants.

See Queen Nominees At Saturday's Dance

The 10 Homecoming queen candidates will make their first formal appearance this Saturday evening at a dance to be held on the patio of the North Campus Dorm.

During intermission they will be introduced and will say a few words to the students.

June Gray, chairman of social activities, has announced that preceding the dance there will be a song fest in Sherwood Forest beginning at 8:15 p. m. Following the singing students may then go to the dance where they will get a first-hand opportunity to decide who in their opinion will make the best Homecoming Queen.

Publication Seeks Students' Poetry

Publishers of the Annual Anthology of Colleeg Poetry are currently seeking entries from students across the nation.

Those wishing to submit original verse should send it to National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34. Manuscripts must be typed or written in ink on one side of the sheet. Entries should contain the student's home address, name of college and its address. Shorter efforts are preferred. Deadline for entries is November 5.

Last year a number of Juniata students had entries published in the anthology.

Guest Editorials

What Is A "Funt" ?

BY JIM STAYER, STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT

Once upon a time long ago the townsmen of Antioch of Syria wagged their hands and thumbed their noses and called a local religious group "Christian." Today the word Christian has become synonmous with "good."

There is a term of derision on this campus that likewise deserves to be re-defined and associated with "decent" and "mature"—that word is "funt." "This Judiciary is a funty idea, made up by funts." In these devastating words one of the campus's leading non-funts completely destroyed to his own satisfaction the work, thought and dedication of four student governments on the Campus Judiciary.

Funt Antithetical

What is a funt? Well, the people who use the word have never bothered to define it, but it seems clear that a funt is an antithetical personality from someone who goes around labeling people as funts. Hence, working from what we know of the non-funts a funt tends (1) to be a generally poor survival risk in a street fight; (2) to try at least to be a student; (3) to be satisfied with Juniata in the sense that basically he likes his college enviroment, though recognizing its imperfections;

(4) to carry his religion and ethics on his sleeve and display them at embarrassing times; (5) to dislike bullies; (6) to listen to new ideas, and (7) to be reasonable in discussion. After looking at those elect individuals who clearly aren't funts, I'm proud to say that I am a funt; and since this statement can only reach reasonable people I would speak to each of you, as one funt to another.

As Jim Pomeroy pointed out in chapel and freshman assembly the basic issues of a judiciary, in principle, is one of responsibility. Very soon we're going to be responsible for families, schoolrooms, employees and congregations; can we be educated for that responsibility in a situation in which we act like grade school children who throw spitballs every time the teacher turns her back, playing a cat and mouse game with an administration that has to treat us like children because we refuse to act like adults?

Juniata Low Grade ?

Sixty-four percent of the colleges in the country say "No" and have instituted all-campus courts similar to the one proposed to you. To read the roll of these colleges is to name the most respected and enlightened colleges in the country. Let us not say, "Juniata is, after all, one of the country's low grade colleges, with a low grade student body." The literature we received before entering JC didn't tell us that; the almost 100 freshman chem students aren't here because they were looking for a snap school to give them a cheap diploma. There is a sense, however, in which the student body will be evaluating itself in voting on the Judiciary.

There is one group on this campus whom I would encourage to oppose this or any other Judiciary proposal. They are the bullies who are frankly opposed to law and order on campus because they feel they're tougher than anyone else and have a great deal to lose in any ordered society.

Those who wish to steal money or library books, to throw a snowball through a window in the entrance to Totem Inn or the dining hall while there are 100 people gathered around it had better think twice before they vote for the Judiciary; because if the Judiciary works students would no longer be reporting such lawbreakers to the common enemy, the administration, but rather appealing to their own student leaders to keep the campus clean and decent.

How Many Funts ?

I'd hate to see many non-funts vote for the Judiciary, because the referendum is in a sense an attempt to discover whether there are enough law abiding people on campus to make a Judiciary work; and if the toughs and bullies would support the Judiciary we'd never really be able to find that out.

This is the principle of a judiciary: to my mind it seems like the principles of motherhood and decency. Perhaps that is because I'm a small town boy who never learned the ethic of the street fight.

We, here, now, as well as those student leaders who have already been graduated are also rather proud of the specific constitution we're submitting to you, on its coming of age after four years of work. In even the large scope of this article I have no room to answer specific questions about the constitution; but if you funts out there don't understand or question anything about the Constitution I will be glad to explain it clause by clause, day or night, to any of you.

Queen Must Be Hospitable

by George Fattman

Thursday's election of Miss Homecoming X will not, or at least should not, approximate the usual "beauty contest" type of election.

Actually, each of the candidates possesses physical attributes which would qualify her for the honor should it be based on that alone. But, the rules of the election go beyond that to request that the voters choose a coed who "will best represent a spirit of hospitality" when she is presented to the many guests who will be at the game and the Homecoming Dance. In short, the most important factor in this election is the coed's personality.

But don't forget to consider the girl's extracurricular activities. Our queen should be an active campus participant.

Finally, should there be any of the candidates that you do not know, you owe it to them and to having the best queen, to come to the dance Saturday night to meet all the nominees.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor

In the report from the Administration concerning Founders Chapel, as it appeared in last week's issue of The Juniatian, it is stated that "Founders Chapel is actually no longer a chapel but has been converted into a classroom." There are, however, some yet unanswered questions.

If Founders Chapel is a classroom, why, then, is it the specified meeting place for student religious organizations - JCA, IVCF, President's Bible Class - a major part of whose program is worship?

If Founders Chapel is a classroom, why, then, did the Administration only last semester go to the effort and expense of providing that classroom with an organ, an item that has little academic utility?

Moreover, although we believe in the value of tradition on a college campus, when that tradition becomes confusing and misleading, as in this case, we feel that its value is lost.

We, therefore, recommend that the room in question either receive a new name and be a classroom or else be made suitable for its present use as a chapel.

Dick Livingston
Sam Douglas
Roger Bennett

"Let's Love Her"

Dear Editor

The dining hall hostess issue has been run into the ground. It so happens that Miss Waite is a very pleasant person, certainly not about to bite.

The smoke screen that goes up whenever the administration is asked to explain this new wrinkle is a little harder to take, though. Last week's report of an interview on the subject, if that report was fair, clearly displayed this nothingness from on high.

"Her main job .... is to tend to student needs." Why bother to say anything so uselessly vague? As for the second "reason," we know our hostess represents the kitchen in the dining hall; are we to understand that she will also dare to represent the dining hall to the kitchen? Lastly, we are told that she helps take inventory of dining room supplies. Now, for the first time in recent years, nicely tabulated salt cellars reappear as one advantage of the small Christian liberal arts college!

Yet, I suppose we must all adjust ourselves to this breed of official double-talk. As for Miss Waite, why not love her? She is a lovely person and obviously she is here to stay. So far she hasn't really threatened to reform our manners. Nor can she be seriously blamed for the rising expense of education at JC As a matter of fact, it's doubtful whether Miss Waite collects much more than the average Juniata professor. Maybe we should feel sorry for our new friend.

Anonymous Sophomore

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ..... Joan McClure
Managing Editor ..... George Fattman
News Editor ..... Barbara Walls
Co-Sports Editors ..... Bill Mariotti
Dave Suloff

NOTE TO OFF-CAMPUS SUBSCRIBERS:

We regret that the overwhelming number of subscriptions have depleted our supply of the first two issues of the Juniatian. Therefore, any new subscriptions will begin with the third issue.

Please report any issues missed after two weeks have elapsed. Change of address should be reported two weeks in advance.

Thank you.

Circulation Manager

Faculty Favors Ike 12-5

If the recent questionnaires, distributed to the faculty by the Juniatian, are at all indicative, the Juniata faculty will, by a large margin, favor Eisenhower over Stevenson in the 1956 national election.

Of the approximately 45 questionnaires handed out, 19 were completed and returned, with 12 or 63% of the 19 voting for Eisenhower, 5 or 26% for Stevenson, and 2 undecided—one of these "undecideds" had strong Eisenhower tendencies, however. Assuming that the remainder of the faculty votes would split in the same ratio, 28 wil go to Ike, 12 to Adlai, and 5 will be undecided.

Mostly Republican

In reply to the question "What is your party affiliation?" 3 indicated that they were Democrats and 16 that they were Republicans. There were no Independents. Here is how the vote went by party:

REPUBLICANS

For Eisenhower ..... 11 or 69%
For Stevenson ..... 3 or 19%
Undecided ..... 2 or 12%

DEMOCRATS

For Stevenson ..... 2 or 67%
For Eisenhower ..... 1 or 33%

As compared with the 1952 vote of these 19 faculty members, the 1956 election shows a slight loss in popularity for Eisenhower, and an even slighter gain for Stevenson. In 1952, Ike had 15 votes while Stevenson took only 4. Thus the faculty went Eisenhower 79%-21% in '52 compared to this year's 63%-26%-11%.

Four out of five Stevenson men, six out of eleven Eisenhower men, and one out of two Independents availed themselves of the opportunity provided on the questionnaires to explain their reasons for their 1956 choices.

" ? ? ? ? ? "

Reasons given—all by Republicans—for voting for Eisenhower were "? ? ? ? ? ," "Platform, record, personality," "Best man for the job," Eisenhower is a proven leader," "I believe the Republicans under Eisenhower will do a better job than the Democrats under Stevenson," and "Best man for the job."

Besides the two undecideds who voted for Ike in '52, the only faculty member to change his mind since the last election—a Democrat who voted for Eisenhower then but plans to switch to Stevenson this year, explains his decision thusly: "1. I am not interested in junior Nixon as junior president. He is the least enviable of the candidates," and "2. I am not one who believes that what is good for General Motors is necessarily good for the country."

Intellectually Superior

Other reasons advanced by Stevenson men were "Natural inclination to suport an intellectually superior man," and "There is a great social revolution going on in the world today; Asia and Africa are coming to the fore as great powers; the revolution in India is as important as that in Russia; the white man can no longer manipulate and exploit African and Asian countries; . . .

"The present regime tends to be complacent and lacking in understanding of this social revolution; I believe that Adlai Stevenson is more acutely aware of the seriousness of the situation and appreciates more deeply the role that America ought to play in the current international scene."

Stevenson Courageous

And, "Although both candidates represent a 'moderate' position in America political life, in my judgement Mr. Stevenson has demonstrated qualities of independence, courage and insight into the needs of this era superior to those of the incumbent.

"He appears to be the more thoughtful man — one, who can bring to the presidency a high order of statesmanship in making up his own mind on the issues of the day. In terms of immediate problems, I believe he understands better than the President the need for a thorough re-examination of our foreign policy and I also trust his courage tempered by good sense to grapple more realistically with the prime domestic problem—that of race relations."

Finally, the prof who is undecided but who will "probably" vote for Ike says, "The campaign to this point has not produced enough evidence to prove that there is anything wrong with the present administration . . . Besides, I believe individuals and minority groups should solve their own problems without always looking to the government for help. I like the present administration thinking along those lines."

Campus Capers

National election fever reached a high pitch on campus with the advent of Adlai Stevenson to this fair metropolis Wednesday afternoon.

For those who haven't already heard about it, the Youth for Eisenhower chapter , complete with a bright, ultra-artistic banner announcing their Republican allegiance (which was, incidentally, flanked by Stevenson supporter signs commenting on the complacency of the banner carriers) made a good target for incisive comments by the presidential candidate.

Stevenson welcomed all "including the Juniata College Chapter of Youth for Eisenhower" and assured them that he felt "confession was good for the soul" and even believed "in the redemption of sin."

* * * *

Even our faculty is not above partisanship in matters political, as was recently attested by one of our esteemed professors. To a student's "boo" for Stevenson, he retorted, "Four years from now, when he's running for re-election and you're still taking this course, we'll see if you boo him."

* * * *

Rumor has it that there's a faction on campus agitating for impeachment of one of our honorable senators who, on the senate floor, speculated, "We might even loose three or four football games this year." Tsk, Tsk!

Speaking of senators, did you hear about the freshman fellow who asked how "Squeeze Me" Holsinger got her nickname?

* * * *

We hear tell that when the Alcoholics Anonymous convention was held on campus last summer, the student working at the Totem Inn was instructed to refer to root beer as "Hire's Drink."

* * * *

LOOK WHO'S TALKING: The reporter who wrote the article in last week's Juniatian concerning the return to Standard Time, arrived at church an hour early on Sunday, having forgotten to set his watch back.

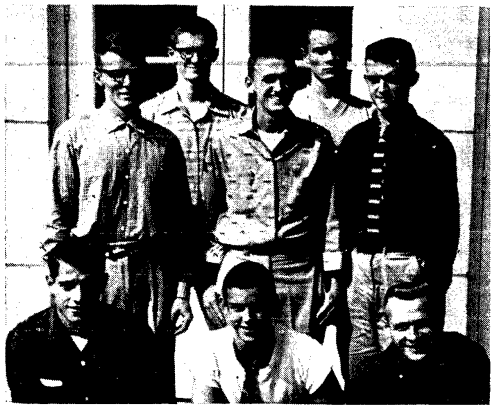
And the chairman of Youth for Eisenhower here, on observing a hand-shaking gentleman at the Republican picnic in Bedford Tuesday, commented, "Who does he thing he is, some big shot?" "Senator Knowland of California," was the reply.

See you at the Stadium tomorrow!

Tribesmen Play Host To Moravian Here Tomorrow

The Juniatian
SPORTS
Friday, September 28, 1956 Page 3

To Represent JC In Cross-Country



Here are several members of the 13-man cross country team which starts its first season against Elizabethtown on October 12. First row, l. to r., are Doug Wilson, Frank Hrach and Jim Copenheaver. Second row Chuck Brown, Herb Layman and Jim Pettit. Third row, Henry Crocker and "Skip" Bateman.

From the Bleachers

College Football In Full Swing

by Dave Suloff

This is the week. Most of the colleges throughout the nation begin their football seasons.

As for Juniata, they also begin their 1956 season, with a real tough team, Moravian. Just in case that you have not heard, the Greyhounds of Moravian trounced Lycoming, 20-6. This should be some indication as to the power that the Hounds possess.

As for the Indians, the team as a whole looks strong, and there is a very good chance that they could go undefeated for another season and make it 30 games without a defeat. However, to achieve that goal, they must take every game as it comes. Over-confidence can get the best of teams—lets keep our shoulders to the grindstone, and Fight-Fight-Fight.

The first game is always the roughest, and with Moravian it will be even rougher, so let's all of us back our team, and follow them to the game tomorrow.

* * *

In the prediction department, well, that wasn't so good. The tabulations show five right and three wrong for a percentaeg of .625. With the help of New Haven STC beating Drexel, 28-19; and Susquehanna with the help of Mr. Purnell upsetting Ursinus, 26-13, the percentage was quite a bit lower than expected. Since we do not give up so easily, lets try again this week. Here's the way we see them:

JUNIATA 13, Moravian 7: The Indians have to go all-out to get this one!

Army over Penn State; Cadets too strong for State.

Bucknell over Lehigh: Enginers are fading after opening win.

Pittsburgh over California: Panthers look even stronger after win over Syracuse.

F & M over DICKINSON: Diplomats rebound after 7-7 tie with Johns Hopkins.

DREXEL over URSINUS: Tech rebounds after tough one with New Haven!

SUSQUEHANNA over SWARTHMORE: Crusaders plus Purnell continue to roll!!!

LYCOMING over Lebanon Valley: Lycos take a breather before the big one with JC!!!

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Shop The Ray English Store
For The Latest In Mens Clothing And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Crusaders, Vets Garner Important IM Football Wins

Intramural football got underway last Tuesday as the Vets and the Crusaders, two of the top teams, chalked up impressive wins in their first games.

The Vets downed the Crazy Eights 6-0 in a wild and penalty ridden game, while the Crusaders, led by Larry Landes who scored 12 points, topped the Six-Sixties by a 20-0 margin.

In the only game played on Wednesday the Mifflin Street Bulldogs edged the JC Seniors by a 20-13 margin.

Two forfeits featured Thursday's program with the Six-Sixties dropping their second game to the Vets and the Collegians decisioning the JC Seniors. There was one game played on Thursday, that one between the Crazy Eights and the Hopper Squad. The final score showed the Crazy Eights on top by a 19-6 score.

Tribesmen Suffer Heavy Setback—Fullback Sill Is Ill

The football team suffered a staggering blow Tuesday with the loss of its veteran fullback Bob Sill on the eve of the season's opener.

Sill, a junior, is ill with infectious mononucleosis — a disease of the glands—and wil be lost for the season. Sill's condition is not serious, nor is the disease contagious, it was reported.

A third team All-State (AP) choice last year, Sill set a single rushing record for the Indians with 726 yards, Coach Ken Bunn, starting his first season as coach at Juniata, was counting on Sill to be the mainstay of his backfield.

Tired, Listless

Sill reported to the college infirmary Tuesday with a "tired, listless feeling." Doctors diagnosed his case as mononucleosis after a blood examination.

Sill's condition was reported satisfactory, but he will be confined to bed for "four to six weeks," the college physician stated. He is expected to be taken to his home this Sunday.

Sodas - Sundaes — Hot Dogs — and Hamburgers
TEXAS LUNCH
7th Street

GOOD LUCK "INDIANS"
Bernie Predicts:
JC – 7
Moravian – 0
JC's FAVORITE JEWELRY STORE is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Recent Victors Over Lycoming Hope To Snap Gridders' Streak

Coach Ken Bunn's Indians will be fighting to extend their unbeaten record to 25 straight games as they meet the high powered Greyhounds of Moravian here tomorrow.

Moravian shapes up as perhaps this year's most formidable opponent. Although having lost five members of last year's rock solid line, the Greyhounds have more than proved their strength by winning their opener against an experienced Lycoming squad 20-6.

Coach Rocco Calvo is placing his hopes on a few key men. Included in this group are returning ends and co-captains, Harry Shropshire and Jerry Potter. Paul Slifka, who set a seasonal rushing mark last year, and fullbacks Rod Miller and George Hollendersky lead the backfield.

Eighth In Defense

Other replacements for the line which made the Greyhounds the eighth top defensive team in the nation last year include three tough sophomore guards, Mike Payonk, Gus Rampone and Joe Guman. Freshmen tackles, Bill "Crash" Krashinski and Charley Bartolet along with sophomore Hal Anderson and junior center Bruce Mumie, round out the hustling forward wall.

Like the Indians, Moravian will only field four starters from last year's team. Although lacking experience and depth in the center of the line they will have a hard running veteran backfield.

JC Ahead In Series

The Junata gridders edged Moravian 14-6 in the opened at Bethlehem last year and now hold a 7-4-1 edge in the series which began in 1932.

Hockey Initiates Women's Athletics

Juniata women's intramural sports program got under way this week with the commencing of hockey season.

Each class is represented by a team. These teams compete Monday and Thursday on the hockey field. Every team is required to play every other team twice before a champion can be decided.

At the termination of the season two teams, a Blue and a Gold, will be selected to play against each other. These teams will be composed of the best players from each class.

The women's intramural program is under the sponsorship of the WAA. Ginny Nixdorf has charge of hockey this year.

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

"Coca-Cola does something for you, doesn't it?"

DRINK Coca-Cola

You feel so new and fresh and good—all over—when you pause for Coca-Cola. It's sparkling with quick refreshment . . . and it's so pure and wholesome—naturally friendly to your figure. Let it do things—good things—for you.

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Religious Activities

Juniata — A Christian College?

By Kerin Narbut

"Juniata College, by virtue of the circumstances of its founding and its present commitments, is known as a Christian College . . . all aspects of life at Juniata fall within the scope of Christian faith and conduct." Juniata College Catalog.

Maybe you read it once lightly before applying here at JC. Maybe, too, you are one of a number of students on this camus who say "so what? What's Christian about our campus? It isn't any different than any other place I've visited!"

Hamilton Sat Vedi in his address to our student body made the statement that he was glad finally to be on a Christian campus. What did he mean? Would you have been so rash as to make the same statement about JC? Did he actually find an atmosphere created by a group practicing Christian conduct? Were we or are we presenting an atmosphere that is not found in many colleges and universities which are not termed "Christian Colleges". It is posible that we might be carrying a title unjustifiably?

Next Tuesday the JCA has asked Dr. Ellis to speak on this area of concern. "Juniata — a Christian College?" A student panel will discuss with him what this implies and such questions as our complacent "so what" and "what is our responsibility to a Christian colege comunity."

A Christian community should be different! True, it's not a paradise where all is "as you like it." Christianity is a way of life making a Christian college a community with a definite pattern of living by which the members can direct their conduct. Why not find out if we are living up to our title? If we're not, perhaps we can make it our personal responsibility to discover what part we could play in making theory a reality.

Montgomery To Investigate Education, Bermudas Now Legal At Games, Library

Jim Montgomery was named to the chairmanship of the Senate's standing committee on educational affairs which was established at Wednesday evening's meeting.

Bermuda shorts are allowed in the library during the afternoon and at athletic events, it was reported, and a special schedule was proposed for Saturday, October 13, so that students could drive to Williamsport to see the Lycoming game.

Also serving on the educational affairs committee will be Ken Rockwell, Del McQuaide, John Moore, George Hess and Barbara Walls. The committee was set up for multiple purposes:

a. To receive and evaluate complaints and suggestions concerning teaching methods of faculty personnel, the material of the various courses and additions to the curriculum.

b. To evaluate from the student viewpoint the counseling services as presently established, the college admissions policy and one academic department per school year (this last function being contingent upon the approval of the faculty and of all the members of the particular department evaluated).

c. To contact faculty members and present their consensus concerning how students might improve their general course performance, how students might improve performance in the comprehensive examination situation and concerning the general content of a liberal arts education.

Shorts Report

A report from the faculty cammittee on student citizenship stated that women may wear bermudas in the library in the afternoon, at athletic events, to labs, sports, hikes, Totem Inn and for certain social events.

Dean Barbara Bechtell emphasized that bermudas should not be worn on front campus on Sunday. When questioned why coeds still are not permitted to wear bermudas in the social rooms, as was requested by Leadership Conference, she pointed out that the college president does not allow bermudas to be worn in the social rooms.

"And I think it's a good idea," she added.

Men May Doff Coats

The committee decided that men could come to dinner without coats during the late spring (May 1 on). They recommended that those resident students living downtown keep clothes in their gym lockers and to change there before dinner in the meantime.

Breakfast at 6:30 a. m.

The following schedule for Saturday, October 13, will be presented to the college president so that students may make the two and one-half hour trip to see the Lycoming game, which starts at 12:30 EST:

6:30 — Breakfast
7:00 — Period 1
7:45 — Period 2
8:30 — Period 3
9:15 — Period 4
12:15 — Lunch (for those who do not attend the game)

Men's House

The following are members of the men's house committee, as submitted by chairman Ray Ono and approved by the Senate:

Lou Palumbo, Dick Mumma, Chuck Phillips, Al Selari, Bob Solomon, Paul Adams, Spencer Ward.

Chuck Brown, Val Means, Charlie Haines, Ross Nahrgang, Dick Backus, Dick Scialabba, Bob Lesnick.

Don Coughenour, Reed Reynolds. "Lefty" Alderfer, Bernie McQuown and Anthony Chirico.

Debaters' Agenda Shows Practices, Tournament Plans

Tournaments, inter-squad debates and practice debates with other schools comprise the agenda of the JC debate team which convenes Tuesdays at 1:15 p. m. in Students Hall.

"Resolved that the United States continue its present policy of direct foreign aid" will be the subject to be unbaffled by the experts.

Hour discussion forums will convene twice weekly. Individual members are expected to attend one per week since they are scheduled purposely as repeats to accommodate those unable to make one fixed time.

Events included on the social calendar are JCA political debate in October, Juniata invitation tournament in February and the debate dinner in May.

STUDENTS are urged to pick up their activities booklets right away at the information window, as they will be required for admission to the Moravian game.

The window will close at noon Saturday.

JC Library Urges Read On Nature

Be prepared to enjoy Mountain Day to its fullest extent this year by reading the many books about nature that are found in the library.

A familiar name in the field is Donald Culross Peattie. A Gathering of the Birds is an anthology of the best that has been said about birds by the great naturalists of the world. The Road of a Naturalist is his fascinating autobiography.

If you want to identify a tree, Peattie's Natural History of Trees of Eastern and Central North America will give you all the information in clear non-technical terms. Botany students are familiar with Gray's more technical Manuel of Botany which includes plants as well as trees. The Story of Plants by John Asch will provide delightful reading and informative study.

Hammond's Nature Encyclopedia of America is a reference library of nature in America and may answer many questions that you are likely to have.

Chapel

October 8 — Prof. Paul Yoder
October 10 — Mountain Day
October 12 — Dr. George Clemens

WJC Radio Staff Organizes, Hears Plans For Future

by Marjorie Snyder

A WJC meeting was held Tuesday night in an effort to organize this year's staff and to present the progress made since last year.

Ray Ono, technical director, stated that the college radio station would go on the air as soon as the wiring was completed. In short, it will be a week or so from Monday.

Engineering classes -- one-half hour in length—wil be held for those new on the staff who wish to work in that department Three hours practice is required of a new engineer before he becomes a member of the staff.

New Record Service

George Carnahan, program director, stated that an attempt was being made to get record service from Capitol this year. Record service from Dot, which has been carried on in the past, will continue. Carnahan also gave the rules, old and new, regulating the staff and radio station.

One of the more radical of the new rules was that outlines for programs are to be handed in to the program director at least by the afternoon of the scheduled program. This will lead to better programming and the elimination of duplication of music on the programs in one evening, according to the program director.

News Broadcaster

Try outs were held yesterday afternoon in Founders Chapel for a full time news broadcaster.

Eisenhower Backers Plan Members Drive

The Youth for Eisenhower organization on campus in conjunction with Ben Sinclair, state chairman, is now actively organized and busy making plans for its membership drive and campaign program.

Two organizational meetings have been held in which officers were elected and plans made to attend a Bedford rally last Tuesday evening. Officers chosen were Dick Backus, chairman, and Nan Winters, co-chairman.

The organization plans to attend the Huntingdon Republican picnic Saturday where local candidates will speak. Members also hope to go to Washington, D.C., October 13, to take part in a huge rally and celebration of President Eisenhower's birthday.

The Juniata Youth for Eisenhower club will also affiliate with the Penn State organization in joint rallies and meetings.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

MURPHY'S
MEN'S SPORT SHIRTS
ALWAYS THE LATEST
COLLEGIATE STYLE
$1.98 — $2.95

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee
Under New Management

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

JUST ARRIVED!
NEW STOCK — 33⅓ and 45 RPM ALBUMS
CAPITOL, DECCA, LONDON, MERCURY
FINAL CLEARANCE
45 RPM BOX ALBUMS $1.98 to $3.98
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

HARRIS CLIFTON
Good Luck, Indians!!
Beat Moravian
NOW THRU SATURDAY
Glenn Ford
Jeanne Crain
Broderick Crawford
in
The Fastest Gun Alive
Feature Saturday at 1:55-3:55-5:55-7:55-9:55
MON. - TUE . WED.
A life inspired story of ROCKY GRAZIANO
Somebody Up There Likes Me
starring
"ROCK" and PIER ANGELI
STARTS THURSDAY
OCTOBER 11
John Huston's
Moby Dick
with Gregory Peck
DUE TO CIRCUMSTANCES BEYOND OUR CONTROL, WE ARE SORRY WE CANNOT BRING YOU "THE LADY-KILLERS" with Alec Guines on Wednesday October 10; however we plan to bring one art picture a month for the benefit of the college students.
DIABOLOQUE LADYKILLERS
RIFFIFI and others wil be shown.
THE MANAGEMENT

The Juniatian

VOL. XXXIII, No. 4 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 12, 1956

Student Body Accepts Proposed Campus Judiciary

General Contractor McQuaide Sets Dedication Of Skating Pond

Operation Recreation moved into its final stages this week, and appropriate dedication ceremonies will be observed Homecoming Day it was announced by Delbert McQuaide, general contractor of the project.

As yet, the pump for filling the pond has not arrived. A housing unit is to be built for it prior to the dedication. Work began this week on a fireplace, and landscaping will be completed as weather and the seasons permit.

McQuaide was pleased with the interest and participation of the student body. "Compared with last year," he quipped, "the turnout was excellent." He also lauded the enslaved freshmen, most of whom worked quite willingly with the united effort of accomplishment.

Sparked Plagued Project

McQuaide, a junior history major from New Kensington, provided the final spark that got the project, plaqued with abandon last year, over the top, making it a reality instead of wishful-thinking.

Immediate data on the dedication during Homecoming week end was not readily available, but the student body has been assured that the pond is ready for use this winter.

● Del McQuaide ●
Finished the Job

478 Vote Yes; 113, No; 110 Fail To Vote; Faculty Final Group To Consider Court

The student body accepted by a substantial margin the proposed campus judiciary in a quiet, bpt extremely well-represented, election.

The faculty is scheduled to consider the court in special session in a few days. Only they stand between incorporation or rejection of the judiciary.

Eighty-four percent of eligible students, the highest percentage ever to vote in a student election, voted on the measure, with 478 (81 percent) voting for it and 113 (19 percent) voting against it. One hundred sixteen students as listed on the official registration tabulation did not vote. Several of these students, however, have left school.

Required 60 Percent

The constitution of the proposed court required ratification of 60 percent of a quorum (two-thirds) of the studentbody. The 81 percent of the voters who indicated "yes" represent 68 percent of the student body.

Should the faculty approve the judiciary, they may elect their representative at that time. When this action is taken, the Senate will make its nominations for the court's membership. They will nominate at least two junior men and women and two senior men and women. Other juniors and seniors may petition for nomination. Their petitions must contain the names of at least 10 percent of the campus.

Vote for Four

Students will elect a man and a woman from each of the classes. The election is tenatively scheduled for October 22 and 23. Others on the court include the chairman of men's and women's house, the president of the Senate (chairman), the deans of men and women and the Faculty's representative.

Tuesday's voted climaxed nearly four years of work toward the concept of students "taking a stand for right and decency." The

See STUDENTS, page 4

Former Queens To Come Here To Meet Miss Homecoming X

An unusual amount of beauty and charm will be evident during this year's Homecoming festivities since an invitation to the Juniata-Dickinson football game has been extended to all former Homecoming queens.

The originator of the idea of Miss Homecoming was the editor of the '47 Juniatian, Jack Buckle, Appearing in the October 24, 1947, issue of the Juniatian was an outline of the first queen's activities and a list of the gifts to be presented to her. It was then decided that the queen would rule over all Homecoming activities and would be presented during half time at the football game and at the Homecoming dance in the evening.

Former queens to be invited are Mrs. Vernon (Betty Kiracofe) Weicht, Hollidaysburg, 1947; Mrs. Ray (Mary Lou Cannon) Clapperton, Moorestown, N. J., 1948; Mrs. Robert (Gladys Gehman) Rhodes, Baltimore, Md., 1949; Mrs. Floyd (Lois Miller) McDowell, Lititz, 1950; Mrs. Raymond (Connie Sherman) Siren, Hightstown, N. J., 1951; Mrs. Howard (Peggy Brumbaugh) Kerstetter, West Chester, 1953; Mrs. Klare (Doris Markey) Sunderland, Harrisburg, 1954 and Joy Wenger, Juniata College, 1955

Buffet Supper

The former queens will be given places of honor at the football game in the afternoon and will be guests of the Alumni Association at a buffet supper in the Faculty Club. They will also be presented with their husbands and friends at the Homecoming Dance Saturday evening in the Memorial Gym.

Eisenhower Youth To Throw Party

Saturday from 8:30 to 12:30 p. m. the Youth for Eisenhower organization will hold a record dance in the women's gym.

The theme will be a political convention honoring President Eisenhower's birthday, October 14. Birthday Cake and punch will be served. For the occasion Pete Wright has written a campaign song to be sung as a duet.

Chairman of the dance is Nancy Nevin with Aliceann Wohlbruck acting as co-chairman. Lorna Borthwick is in charge of decorations. Betty Ann Barr is responsible for refreshments.

The party is open to everyone including Stevenson followers.

Students Select Motion Pictures

David and Bathsheba, Johnny Belinda, Streetcar Named Desire and Shows of Kilaminjaro have been chosen to be shown to the student body during the year.

The former two movies will be shown during Spiritual Emphasis Week and Easter Week.

The Gruesome Details

Chairman Wass Announces Plans For Freshman Initiation

Plans for the annual freshmen initiation to be held Homecoming weekend, October 19 and 20, have been announced by Carl Wass, sophomore' initiation chairman.

With the approval of the chairman of underclassmen and the Administration, the ghastly details will be presented to the freshmen in assembly Mouday afternoon.

Since the annual destructive part of the initiation has been cancelled, the festivitie s have been extended to cover a period of Saturday inclusive, with the possibility of another week of regulations if, according to Wass, "the frosh are pathetically inept as they usually are."

Wash Cars, Busses

Thursday will find the freshmen industriously washing every car in sight as well as all the available buses of the Rohm Transit Company. Meanwhile the freshwomen will be busy as honorary members of the dance decorations committee as they

See SOPHOMORES, page 4

Impecunious Collector Would Pay In Stamps

(ACP)-A Long Beach (Cal.) college sophomore tried to pay off his tuition with scores of sheets of unused US commemorative stamps which he had been collecting since1941.

However, USC has a postage meter and dosen't use stamps any more. Owing $350. in tutition, the student brought about $275 in stamps with him. Stamp dealers offered him 10 to 20 percent under face value. At last reports, he was still trying to unload the stamps.

Passionate Pirate Pilfers Pennant

WJC's identification banner was stolen from its display location at College Field Saturday by a member of the Moravian marching band, perhaps one who found a 25-0 defeat hard to take.

The banner, which has identified WJC radio and the college at many of Juniata's athletic events throughout the state and at the Tangerine Bowl, was lifted from its location near the grand stand exit at the conclusion of the JC-Moravian grid contest, according to a number of reliable witnesses.

An "appropriately bitter" letter has been sent to MC's treasurer with carbon copies going to other important Moravians demanding that the banner be returned or that WJC be reimbursed in order that a new one may be made.

Senate President Stayer Calls Voting 'Courageous'

Senate President Jim Stayer issued the following statement for publication concerning acceptance of the judiciary:

"The campus judiciary has been overwhelmingly endorsed by the student body. There is little for me to say of what is past except that I think the stand of the students to have been a wise and courageous one.

Look to Future

"I would ask the student body to turn its eyes to the future it has plotted for itself. First, you will have the opportunity to choose strong, wise and judicious representatives to the judiciary.

"If you do not assume maturity in your voting for the judges, your vote for the principle of maturity in the judiciary will be void of meaning. Secondly, the judiciary opens a pathway to the growth of personal honor among you.

Community, Not Cage

"Happily, the Juniata student body has voted to make Juniata its comunity rather than its cage. its community rather than its cage. If the ideals of this college are to become more concrete and its traditions nobler in our community, it is up to us to start thinking about honor and haw real it can be in our personal lives.

"All of this is, of course, dependent upon faculty approval of the judiciary. It is my hope that the future will find the Faculty standing with the student body and the Arministration on this matter."

REVISED CLASS SCHEDULE

The following class schedule will be in effect tomorrow, in order to accommodate those who wish to journey to the Lycoming game:

First period	7:45- 8:30
Second period	8:35- 9:20
Third period	9:25-10:10
Fourth pediod	10:15-11:00

Meals will be served at the regular times.

Classes Working On Comedy Skits

Committees are working on original comedy skits for the All Class Night program to be given in Oller Hall, December 8.

Chairmen of the various committees are senior, Dave Amidon; junior, Pete Wright; sophomore, Pete Fahrney, and freshman, Frank Rocco.

This year's theme will be comedy and the class of '58, having won the silver cup for the last two years, is evidently the one to beat.

In Senate Wednesday

Senator Willson To Head Operation Posy

Ann Willson was appointed general contractor of Operation Posy, a movement initiated in Senate Wednesday afternoon to beautify the campus.

Miss Willson and a committee of her choosing will, with the Administration's permission, plant bulbs this week so that flowers on campus may be more abundant next spring.

The Senate also decided that class officers should have a majority of the vote to be elected except when a candidate received 40 percent or more of the vote and had a margin of 15 votes over the second candidate.

Freshman Election

It was pointed out that election by plurality, the common procedure for class elections was unfair and inadequate. It was also decided that freshmen desiring to hold class offices should petition for nomination as in the case of the other classes. Previously freshmen candidate were nominated by a comittee out of freshmen assembly.

Newt Taylor was named "flag watcher," that is, he is supposed to see that the Administration replaces the American flag in Oller Hall and the holders of the two flags on stage.

Dining Hall Situation

A committee of Kerin Narbut, Jeannette Lowe, Eva Wagner, Rosalie Langer and Duane Stackhouse will go to see Treasurer John Fike, it was reported, in order to air work problems in the dining hall.

A report from Jackie Hayes, chairman of the committee to write a new alma mater, stated that members of the committee have been requested to submit possible stanzas for a revised alma mater by December 1.

A committee headed by George Fattman with Newt Taylor and Kerin Narbut was named to investigate the stealing of books from Carnegie Library and to make suggestions to its management concerning how the situation can be alleviated,

The Senate voted to urge that the steps at College Field be repaired by Homecoming. A number of persons narrowly escaped injury Saturday as they plunged down the broken steps.

Transportation To Lycoming

The Senate urged those driving to Lycoming tomorrow to offer all available space in their automobiles to students wanting to attend the game.

editorially speaking . . .

Theft Again Rears Ugly Head

The distasteful matter of stolen library books has once again been brought to our attention. (See guest editorial)

For those of you who are new here, this issue is, unfortunately, an old one, as last year, 75 books were "borrowed" from the library-never to be returned. The current situation is even more disconcerting, however, as it has occurred during the first three weeks of school. If the theft continues at the present rate, the cost to the college will be exorbitant by next June.

Room Search

The solutions which were proposed to combat this stealing last year included a search of all student rooms and a general assessment of the freshmen class (since the missing books were primarily those used in intergration courses). Certainly no one wants to resort to such measures, but if the students refuse to cooperate, what possible alternativs are there?

Should the abuses continue, in the future perhaps the college will even have to levy a "bookage" fee, similar to the waitress' and iab students' breakage fee, to guard against heavy financial losses incurred through such theft. Would it be fair to future student generations to burden them with such a fee? Is it fair to the present student body for a few persons to monopolize selfishly college property that is meant to be shared by all?

And even more important than financial consequences, it is a question of honesty and ethics. Since we have no honor system at Juniata, you cannot be expected to turn in your roommate or a friend whom you know is guilty; but why not go to the person himself and ask him to have the decency to return the books? Better yet, why don't the guilty persons themselves resolve to alleviate their consciences by making a trip to the library immediately.

Yield Not To Temptation

And in the future, when you are tempted to slip a text under your coat or inside your notebook, remember that since the library books are there for everyone, you are only stealing from yourself.

Campus Needs More Diligent Dels

Much credit is to be given to Del McQuaide, general contractor of Operation Recreation, and his "volunteer" crew for the remarkable progress they have made toward the completion of this perennial project.

The Operation is one which has been dragged out all too long, sometimes due to unavoidable circumstances but more often to student apathy and neglect, and it is a pleasure to see the positive results which hard work can yield.

Let's not let this new enthusiasm die now that Operation Recreation is almost completed, however. Let's apply it to other areas of campus life and make it yield additional positive results. In short, let's have more Del McQuaides who are willing to undertake thankless tasks and see them through to the finish.

To Boo Is Taboo

Just a reminder to those enthusiasts who got carried away at last Friday night's pep meeting and manifested disrespect for the Moravian coach -- at Juniata, we pride ourselves on good sportsmanship. It's up to each and every one of us, fans as well as players, to uphold this tradition.

A Guest Editorial

Call The Vigilante

by Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, Head Librarian

As in the pioneer days when horse thieves came around it became necessary for honest folk to band together to clear out the thieves for the good of the community, so now the call is out for the same treatment of our modern book thieves!

Books are being spirited away in a distressing fashion and unlike horses there isn't even the chance they might wander back!

Each reserve book removed from circulation will probably help one person, but it deprives nine other people of the use of that book. Juniata College Library attempts to provide free books for all courses where a textbook is too limiting for the intellectual growth desired and expected. They do this on the basis of one book for 10 people. What happens when two or three books are gone? Eighteen or twenty-seven people are without their rightful supply and every one is deprived by the anti-social few.

$40 Theft

If the freshmen had to purchase all of the books they get free in the Library it would amount to more than 40 dollars. It is to be doubted if any one of you would steal even a fraction of that amount, but can't you see it amounts to the same offense in the long run? So why not clear your conscience and bring back all of the books that belong not to you alone, but to all of the students of Juniata?

Student Government is a big issue on Campus at the moment and the conduct mentioned above does not help the issue one bit. Privilege imposes obligations and in this case where public opinion is so vital the citizen who knows of infractions of the rules of the game is equally guilty with the actual offender. If you are using one of the pilfered books you are just as reprehensible as Jane, or Joe or whoever took it from the room in the first place. If the Library has to be closed that might make a difference to you too.

Come alive - don't force the school to raise your tuition or take away your privilege of free books - GET ALL OF THE WANDERING BOOKS BACK ON THE SHELVES WHERE THEY BELONG and breathe a sigh of relief and be able to look your classmates in the eye without wondering about that pilfered prize under your bed or back in your wardrobe or out on your desk.

New Poetry Books Now In Library

STUDIES IN POETRY by Neal Doubleday includes poets from the Greek epigrammtists, to Dante, to Robinson Jeffers and Morris Bishop. All the poems are presented as illustrations of poetic principles and practice. Mr. Doubleday, author and editor of this book, reveals an understanding of student problems in reading poetry.

A useful book about poets and in our time is POETRY AND THE AGE. Mr. Jarrell gives us his appraisals of American poets and also several modern British and French poets.

Many are familiar with Louis Untermeyer as an editor of anthologies of American and British poetry. Now he has a combined mid-centry edition entitled MODERN AMERICAN POETRY AND MODERN BRITISH POETRY in which he brings into focus the direction of modern poetry since Whitman and Hardy.

Having any trouble finding that elusive poem? GRANGER'S INDEX TO POETRP may solve your problem because it lists by author and title poems that may be found in various anthologies.

The Juniatian

Entered as second class mail at the Huntingdon, Pa., post office, this is an independent undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the College year except during vacation and examination periods by the Students of Juniata College.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief ---------- Joan McClure
Managing Editor ------ George Fattman
News Editor ---------- Barbara Walls
Co-Sports Editors -------- Bill Mariotti
Dave Suloff
Business Manager ---- George Carnahan
Circulation Manager ---- Roger Bennett

news views . . .

Two Men In A Myth

One popular Republican campaign technipue this year is an attempt to associate, and indeed equate in the popular mind, the figures of Eisenhower and Lincoln.

The fact that this is the centennial year of the GOP makes their task somewhat easier and so at first glance there might appear to be some validity to that medallion in the Cow Palace. The alleged similarity can be discerned in at least one realm—that of the myth.

Lincoln is fully shrouded in his and the Republicans are working feverishly to give Eisenhower a like garb. But, here the parallel ends, as a realistic comparison of these two men shows this attempted association to be one of the most blatant and misleading "gimmicks" in the entire campaign.

Lincoln was first and foremost a consumate politician who understood and used to the fullest the political powers of his office. This Eisenhower has assidously avoided to the great weakening of his leadership potential.

Abe Fought, Ike Hopes

Lincoln grasped the power relationship between Congress and the Presidency. He knew that the President represented the whole nation while Congress spoke for a conglomerate of factional and regional interests. He presented bills to Congress and fought for their passage. Eisenhower presents a bill and then hopes for its passage.

Lincoln fought the demagogues and hate-mongers like Thaddeus Stevens. Eisenhower preferred pious platitudes rather than forth-right opposition to the vicious brutalities of men like McCarthy.

Lincoln knew his party to be the tool by which he would implement his policies and so kept tight political control over it. Eisenhower's lack of control is reflected in the opposition of his own important measures by such men as Senator Knowland, leader of the Republicans in the Senate — the Foreign Aid Bill being a case in point.

Wasted Potential

Lincoln was a man of good intentions, as in Eisenhower, but Lincoln translated his well-meaning into decisive action. In contemporary terms Lincoln was not a greatly popular man, but he accomplished much through astute and courageous leadership. Eisenhower is a popular man, but he has wasted this large potential for constructive action through an unwillingless to utilize to any reasonable extent the tremendous powers of his office.

If the Republicans feel compelled to draw a comparison between their candidate and a Civil War figure, perhaps a less inaccurate analogy would be Grant.

From The Editor's Mailbag

Dear Editor:

There are values in a healthy scepticism. It has helped mankind advance in knowledge; it has helped to sift truth from falsehood; it leads us to re-examine often the issues of life. (Its vices are indecision, lack of action, and a false sense of authority.)

One ought to be sceptical of any new philosophy. Most new philosophies, when approached with a wholesome scepticism, have at least one-often two-loop holes. Last week, for instance, your guest editorial advocated a new philosophy, that of "funtism." From all appearances, funtism purports to be virtuous -- to be decent, mature, law-abiding, and adult in its outlook.

However, somewhat like Ehud, what it advocates with its right hand, it contradicts with its left. In an essay calling for recognition of the "principles of motherhood and decency" (surely no one objects to these), it boldly asserts that one arm of the college community is to be regarded as "the common enemy." Now Saint Paul pointed out a long time ago that various members of the body have various functions, but nowhere does he state that they are to war against one another! Such a condition within the individual or the human community might appropriately be regarded as "unspiritual" - to use a word of Paul's.

In short, the new philosophy advocated in last week's Juniatian contained an attitude and an assumption quite in opposition to the rest of funtism. To refer to the administration as "the common enemy" is as "non-funt" as street-fights! Two other student body representatives, serving their terms of office this year in another small college, said when elected last spring, "We want both students and administrators to better understand each other's feelings." This, I submit and recommend to you, is the mature attitude of a true funt!

Yours for a healthy scepticism,
Bob McFadden

FIRST CLASS DUMP?

As an "old grad", may I put in a plea that the editors think twice before printing some of the things that get into the Juniatian? If I didn't know better, I'd be tempted to think that JC was a first class dump.

The Rev. John C. Middlekoff

TV Program Will Pay $5,000 For A Beard

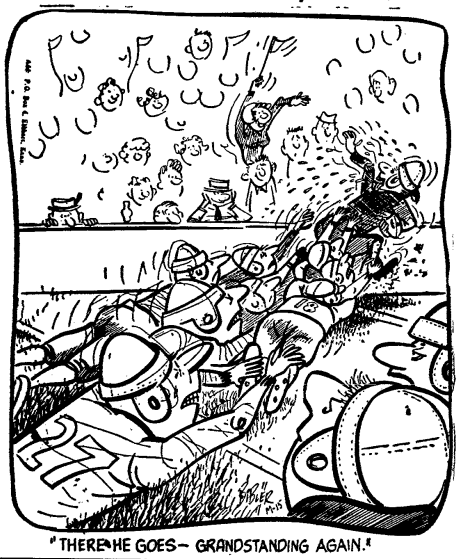
Beards are now fetching $5,000 an ounce.

This super price tag results from a nation-wide search by a New Jersey firm for men with beards three months old or more

Ronson Corporation, in newspaper ads across the country, recently offered $5,000 per ounce for the privilege of shaving the beards of men selected for an electric shaver commercial on a network TV program.

In addition to the heavy per-ounce payment, selectets get an all-expense-paid trip and a two-day stay in Hollywood where the TV program originates beginning October 4.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler



"THERE HE GOES— GRANDSTANDING AGAIN."

Tribesmen Put Winning Streak On Line By Traveling To Williamsport Tomorrow

Lycoming Boasts One—One Record

by Chuck Brown

Juniata's vaunted Indian football team will place its 25 game unbeaten string on the line tomorrow afternoon on the gridiron at Lycoming College in Williamsport.

The Warriors of Lycoming will be out to avenge a tight 14-13 defeat at the hands of the JC Blue and Gold on College Field last year.

The Lycos, coached by David Busey, will bring a one and one log on the field tomorrow. The Warriors dropped their season opener to Moravian College, 20-6, and then rowned Lebonan Valley College, 19-0, last Saturday. Of course, Juniata has defeated Moravian, 25-0, in its only outing thus far this year.

Sophs Dominate Team

Lycoming has lost two starters from last year's squad that hung up a season's record of 2-4-1. Missing will be center Don Baity and guard Frank Tagliaferri. Coach Busey is fielding a sophomore dominated team in an attempt to better last year's record, that showed Lycoming losing two 14-13 games and a 6-0 contest. In the first two games of this season, the Warriors have put eight sophomores and three juniors on the field as starters. All of these players earned letters for LC last year.

Coach Busey will be able to call on 21 lettermen for action in the contest. Chief among these are end Ken Polcyn and tackle Wilbur White. Both of these boys were All-State selections by the NATA last year.

Starters in the Warriors' backfield will probably be Paul Motta at quarterback, John Joe at fullback, and half-backs Wayne Bohn and John Grier. Other letter winners in the backfield are Dick Hayes, Joe Nickolas, Charles Bonadio, Rich Reimold, and Bill Smith.

Probable starters in the line are ends Polcyn and Richard Kaluza; tackles White, or Dick Cramer, and Dave Himes; guards Norm McGraw and Frank Angello; and lettermen amoung the linemen and Rich Fisher, Jim Miller, Leare Rich Fisher, Jim Miller, Leroy roy Thompson, and Jim Hart.

Homecoming

Feeling is running high at Lycoming that the Warriers will be able to better last year's record With just two men gone from last year's team this feeling is not unfounded.

The Blue and Gold of Lycoming will be performing before a Homecoming crowd tomorrow in its first home game of the season. These factors added to Juniata's desire to extend its undefeated string should make the contest well worth the watching.

From The Bleachers

Saturday's Game Justifies Feeling Wins To Continue

by Bill Mariotti

Once again, most observers feel confident that College Hill will be graced with an undefeated football season.

They have a perfect right to feel that way after the trouncing Juniata handed to the Moravian aggregation one week ago. The team play that was exhibited by the Bunnmen was something to behold.

The pressure, which was on the new coaching staff, has been somewhat relieved by the opening win. The way Juniata ground out yardage against the Greyhounds proved the shift from the single wing to the multiple offense has been successful. Hats should be off to the coaching staff, Ken Bunn and Charles Godlasky, for the great job they did in making the change.

It was evident that this season's football squad has more depth than last year's Tangerine Bowl team. Coach Bunn shuffled players in and out of the lineup at any time without once hurting the team.

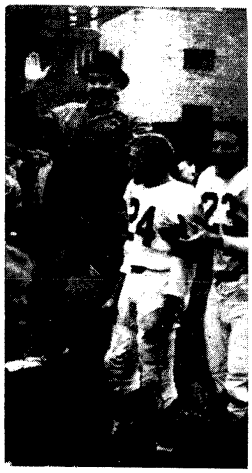
* * * *

The 25-0 loss was the seventh consecutive contest in which Moravian has failed to overcome the Tribe . . . Lycoming will be looking for their first win in history over Juniata tomorrow. JC has copped the three previous games played between the two schools . . . . Paul Slifka, who set a ground gaining record for Moravian last season, was held to only 40 yards rushing by the alert Juniata line . . . . Indian ralfback Glen Hassinger paced all ground gainers last week with a net total of 95 yards.

* * * *

Here we go into the pigskin department again. Last week showed five right and three wrong. Our slate for the season now stands at ten right and six wrong for a percentage of .625. This week: JUNIATA to make it number 26 over LYCOMING; Penn Military to eke by MORAVIAN; Carnegie Tech to maul JC's homecoming opponent DICKINSON; DREXEL to bet by West Chester; GROVE CITY to continue their losing ways, this week to Hiram; Wilkes to upend URSINUS; and the National Aggies to outlast SUSQUEHANNA.

Excited Coach



Excited to the end, Coach Kenn Bunn leaps from the ground when Glenn Hassinger's 43-yard TD run made it 25.0, JC over Moravian. Players Wenger and Nedro look on.

Four Way Tie Feature IM Football Play

Intramural football finished its second week with four teams tied for first place the Crusaders, the Bull Dogs, the Collegians and the Vets.

Monday the Crusaders were tied by the Vets 12-12 with the air being filled with Crusader aerials. The JC Seniors downed the Hopper Squad 19-6, and the Crazy Eights with a touchdown in the second half defeated the stubborn Six-Sixties.

Last Wednesday the Collegians and the Bull Dogs played to a 6-6 tie. The Gestapo romped over Ubangies slipped by the Day Students 13-6.

Friday's schedule showed the Crazy Eights plowing over the Chipmunks 26-0 on a rainsoaked field, the Ubangies beating the Hopper Squad 13-0, and the Bull Dogs defeating the Day Students.

Cross-Country Today Is JC's First Meet

Juniata plays host to Elizabethtown this afternoon in the opener of the cross country season.

This marks the first year Juniata has competed in intercollegiate cross country. The time of the meet is, as of this writing, not definite.

HOTEL

HUNTINGDON

Phone 830

This Is The Tough One!
Good Luck Tribe
Bernie Predicts:
JC — 20
Lycoming — 14

JC's FAVORITE JEWELRY STORE
is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Sodas - Sundaes
— Hot Dogs —
and Hamburgers
TEXAS LUNCH
7th Street

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Go, Tribe— Beat the Lycos!

The Juniatian

SPORTS

Friday, October 12, 1956 Page 3

JC Gridders Initiate Campaign By Dumping Moravian, 25-0

Crowd Of 2,500 Witnesses Melee

by Bill Ebner

Juniata gridders proved to be as tough as ever as the Tribe took an unexpectedly easy 25-0 victory over the Greyhounds of Moravian, extending their undefeated streak to 25 games.

Before a crowd of 2,500 fans, Coach Bunn's charges turned what was supposed to be a close contest into a complete rout. Never outplayed, the Tribe handed the Greyhounds their worst loss in the series which began in 1937.

73 Yards for TD

After a scoreless first period, the Indnans capitalized on Joe Trimber's pass interception which moved the ball to theJuniata 27 yard line. Behind quarterback Dick Fagan JC moved 73 yards in seven plays for the touchdown.

Longest gain in the drive was Trimber's 24 yard scamper to the Moravian 36. A Fagan to Trimber toss brought the Indians to the IV. Two pdays later Trimber skirted right end and went over standing up for the TD. John Staley's kick was blocked and the score at the half stood Juniata 6, Moravian 0.

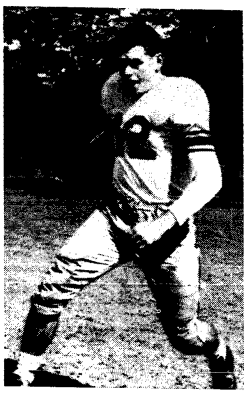
Berrier Scores

Midway through the third quarter veteran tackle "Moon" Mullen revovered a Moravian fumble on the enemy's six. Freshman fullback Bill Berrier took advantage of the situation and on the third play bulled his way over for Juniata's second score. Staley converted to put the Tribe ahead 13-0.

On the first play after the kickoff Staley intercepted Touy Matzas pass on the Moravian 28. A 15 yard pass from Fagan to Glenn Hassinger moved the Indians to the 13 and Trimber again swept right end for three yards and his second touchdown.

Hass Runs 45 Yards

Coach Rocco Calvo's Greyhounds made their biggest drive early in the fourth period but were held on downs just outside the Indian 20. Juniata took over and drove 79 yards for the final score of the afternoon. Hassinger made the longest run of the game when he cut inside left end on a reverse and raced 45 yards untouched to give the Tribe a commanding 25-0 margin.



• Bob Sill •
Got the Pigskin

Team Gives Bob Sill Ball From MC Game

by Wally Berkey

Bob Sill, veteran fullback of last year's undefeated football team, was given the game-winning football from his teammates after Saturday's clash with Moravian College.

Traditionally the game ball would have been given to a senior. Co-captains, John Staley and Charles Mullen, flipped a coin with Staley winning the toss.

Staley proposed the idea that the ball be given to Sill. His teammates unanimously agreed.

Sill, ailing from infectious mononucleosis a disease of the glands, watched the game from a car which was nearby the sideline.

Team Surrounds Car

Immediately after the game the team surrounded the car, and Staley, acting as spokesman, presented the ball to Sill on behalf of the team.

The popular Junior, weeping tears of happiness, graciously accepted the ball and said, "Thanks guys, I don't deserve it."

Staley remarked, "We won it for you."

Sill left for his home Sunday afternoon.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

DON'T DELAY
You may win $5,000
in The Reader's Digest $41,000 College Contest. You can match wits, too, with other students in colleges across the country. Just list, in order, the six articles in October Reader's Digest you think readers will like best! That's all there is to it—and you can win a big cash prize for yourself plus scholarship money for your college.

Better act fast, though . . . the contest closes at midnight, Oct. 25.

Get an entry blank now at your college bookstore.

New Dorm Construction Off Ground

"Just geting started" was the progress statement made by Treasurer John Fike on the construction of the new women's dorm.

The dorm, slated for completion by next August 9, is at present almost entirely above the ground with the pouring of the west foundation wall this week completing the foundation. A shipment of stone is expected soon and the prompt delivery of the most important commodity, the structural steel, is expected on December 1.

According to Mr. Fike, at the rate the contractor is going now, and assuming that the steel and other supplies are received as needed, the dorm should be finished before the proposed date. However, one point was stressed in making this statement, the fact that a mild winter would speed up the completion and that a severe one could set the time table off schedule.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

MURPHY'S
MEN'S SPORT SHIRTS
ALWAYS THE LATEST
COLLEGIATE STYLE
$1.98 — $2.95

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee
Under New
Management

Debate Team Provides Abundance Of Corn At Gridiron Contests

The debate team as well as the football squad scored successfully at the Moravian game as the debaters with their first financial project of the year sold pop corn to spectators.

The candy concession previously sponsored by the club was forfeited by the debaters this year because of a $200 appropiation granted them by the Administration. Nevertheless, with yearly expenses exceeding the appropriated amount, the debaters hope to augment the state of their treasury through continued pop corn sales at home football and basketball games.

Dave Amidon, president of the debate team, crystallized the debaters' attitude saying, "Besides the expected monetary gains, the club antcipates entertaining the student body during this project with an abundance of corn."

Christians Collect Books For Abroad

Nineteen students participated in the first J C A week-end work camp held last Saturday.

They helped to collect approximately 1300 books which will be sent first to the United States Information Agency and then abroad as tokens of American friendship.

Those participating in the project were Judy Wernsing, Ann Scheib, Ann Willson, Dave Amidon, Lois Speice, Betty Ann Barr, Marian Fairbairn, Carol Titus.

Diane Klebe, Lois Davis, Ed Brockway, Lee Forney, Bonnie Gunther, Lois Hershberger, Maii Purrand, Joyce Klingeman, Spencer Ward, Carol Olbrich, Joe Senft and Dottie Stricker.

Magazine Sponsors Contest For Readers

The Reader's Digest is offering $41,000 in cash and scholarships as prizes in an October contest open only to college students and faculty members in the United States.

To win as much as $5000 in cash entrants must list in order the six articles which they consider the most interesting in the October issue of Reader's Digest. Those with listings closest to the results of a survey of Digest readers will receive the prizes.

Entries must be postbarked before midnight of October 25 and addressed to the Reader's Digest

COMMITTEE — A group of men who keep minutes and waste time.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

CAMPUS CARTOONIST OF THE YEAR contest judge Groucho Marx, left, and Box Cards president Bill Kennedy look over company's humorous greeting cards while discussing nation-wide college search for the number one campus cartoonist. Winner's first prize is a 7-day all expense holiday in Paris via TWA. Other judges are Steve Allen and Al Capp. Contest starts October 15, ends December 1.

Marx, Allen Capp To Judge Contest

Three of the world's ofremost humorists, Groucho Marx, Steve Allen and Al Capp, will join forces October 15 with Bov Cards, leading designer of contemporary studio cards, to initiate an annual search which will cover every college campus in an effort to determine who is the student deserving the title of Campus Cartoonist of the Year.

Box Cards prevy, Bill Kennedy, is looking for students who may have humoraus ideas for contemporary studio cards and can sketch their ideas on paper. The bookstore is the official depot for all information and entry blanks. There information will be available to give a complete idea as to the humor that widd score in the competition.

The winnng student will receive a royalty contract with Box Cards, national recognitation as the number one campus humorist of the year and a seven-day-all-expense paid holiday in Paris, France. The contest will close December 1, 1956

Sophomores Plan Frosh Initiation

continued from page 1

scour the campus for the prettiest available autumn leaves.

Friday will see the more familiar part of the initiation begin as the freshmen dress in their best rags and become fair game for all sophomores. Says Wass, "I pity the frosh who dosen't know his Scout inside out and backwards." They will also attend the pep rally in the traditional Indian costumes.

Up Somewhat Early

Since Saturday is a big day, to give the frosh enough time to get everything done Wass will meet the entire class at 5:30 a. m. in front of the flag pole. He and his body guards will take roll. Pete Brumbaugh will then instruct 10 freshmen males in the mysterious arts of Indian dancing who will lead the annual half-time dance. The freshmen - sophomore games, under the direction of Phil Over and Janice Christie, will begin at 9 a. m.

After the football game regulations will be off for the weekend and perhaps permanently if the freshmen are lucky enough to win two of the three morning contests.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Hollywood
Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Students Vote 'Yes' On Campus Judiciary

continued from page 1

'53-'54 Senate under Bernie Petrusky toyed with the idea of having an honor system instituted at JC.

Student support for such an idea was not too evident, and the idea was replaced by the concept of self-discipline. The '54-'55 Senate under Dick Fusco presented nar the end of their term an actual proposal for a disciplinary committee.

Committee Work

In the '55-'56 Senate President Jim Hunt continued to work on the proposed committee. It was considered at Leadership Conference and the Senat was urgd to continue work on it. A committee was set up to write the constitution, which is basically the one the students accepted.

When Stayer and the '56-'57 Senate inherited the proposed constitution, they set out to strengthen it. The campus judiciary which students accepted Tuesday was the finished product of the Stayer Senate.

HOMECOMING QUEEN NOMINEES should give a picture of themselves to George Fattman by Monday.

HYPOCRITE — Undertaker trying to look sad at a thousand dollar funeral.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Chapel

October 15 — President Ellis
October 17 — Dr. Kiracofe
October 19 — Unannounced

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW Thru SAT.
Moby Dick Technicolor
with Gregory Peck
MONDAY & TUESDAY
2 Powerful Features
Bette Davis - Brian Keith
Kim Hunter - Paul Kelly
— in —
Storm Center
— also —
Lee J Cobb - Patricia Medina
Edward Arnold
— in —
Miami Expose
WEDNESDAY — 1 Day Only
A Warm Wonderful Story
Returns
Richard Todd - Jean Peters
— in —
A Man Called Peter
Cinemascope & Color
Starts THURSDAY Oct. 18
Bus Stop
Cinemascope & Color with
New Star DON MURRAY
SOON
The Bad Seed
High Society

RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS
HI FI 45 - Player $79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable $129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette $139.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

"Coca-Cola does something for you, doesn't it?"

DRINK Coca-Cola

You feel so new and fresh and good — all over — when you pause for Coca-Cola. It's sparkling with quick refreshment . . . and it's so pure and wholesome — naturally friendly to your figure. Let it do things — good things — for you.

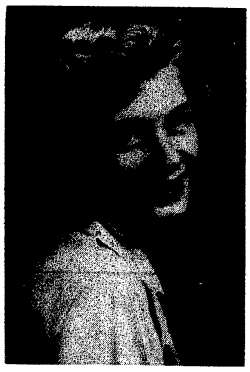
Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

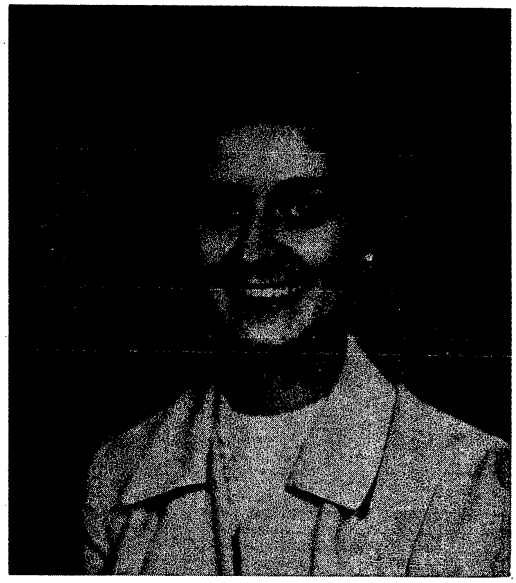
The Juniatian

VOL.XXXIII, No. 5 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 19, 1956

Phyl Marcocci To Reign Over Homecoming Events



● Attendant Jacque Rowland ●
Personable



● Queen Phyl Marcocci ●
Vivacious

Harvest To Lend Atmosphere To Tomorrow Night's Dance

Royal harvest is the theme for the annual homecoming dance tomorrow evening from 8:30 to 12 in Memorial Gymnasium.

The gym will be fashioned after a typical fall scene in the countryside complete with pumpkins, cornucopia and autumn foilage. The color scheme will be done in reds, browns and golds to highlight the harvest season.

Students will dance to the music of the college dance band directed by Peter Wright. The master of ceremonies, Jim Montogmery, will present the New Homecoming queen for '56-'57 as well as introduce several of the queens from past years. Gifts will be given to them all.

Alumni to Sing

Juniata will welcome back on campus the vocal group consisting of Mimi Lehman, Nancy Leatherman and Connie Schaeffer, all from the class of '56. Also on the program of entertainment is Mrs. Robb Keerier, Jr., an alumna from the class of '54, who will sing for the students and faculty.

This year there will be a roving photographer at the dance to take pictures of the couples. Students may purchase these photographs at a reasonable price.

The Homecoming Dance is sponsored by the WAA and the J Club. Chairman of the dance decoration committee is Norma Hottle and assisting her is Ann Larkin. Judy Castree and Laura McAvoy are each in charge of specific decorations. Other committees include programs, Rosalie Langer; refreshments, Ginny Nixdorf; entertainment, Nancy Nevin; gifts, Jeannette Lowe and Joan McClure; faculty invitations, Joanne Hutchinson, and photography, Nina Fredenburgh.

Dress for the dance will be mainly cocktail dresses for the women, suits for the men.

Organist, Violinist To Play Program

Prof. Donald Johnson will present his 13th annual organ recital, assisted by Dr. Jack Brammer, violinist, in Oller Hall tomorrow at 7:45 p. m.

The program includes five organ numbers. They are Air, Bach-Nevin; Prelude and Fugue in G Major, Bach; Sonota 5 in C minor, Gnilmant; At the Convent, Borodin-Dunkley and Fanfare, Thomson.

First Movement from Mozart's Violin Concerto in D ond Kreisler's Sicilienne and Rigaudon are the violin selections.

This recital will substitute for the annual Homecoming variety show.

Students To Get Mums In Totem

All those who bought mums may pick them up in Totem Inn Saturday morning, it has been announced.

The corsages that all the gals and moms will be wearing tomorrow were sold by the college band again his year.

Proceeds from the mums, which sold for one dollar, will be used for the purchase of new band uniforms and also for the upkeep of the old ones.

Day's Agenda

Registration ---------- 9:00 a. m.
Founders Chapel
Fresh-Soph games 9:30 a. m.
Athletic Field
Alumni Council Meeting 9:30 a. m.
Carnegie Library
Campus Displays and
Dormitory Open House
10:00-12:00 a. m. 3:00- 5:00 p. m.
Buffet Luncheon 11:15-12:45 p. m.
Oneida Dining Hall
Juniata - Dickinson
Football Game ------- 1:30 p. m.
Alumni may meet friends after the game in the Lounge of the New Residence Hall for Men where cider and doughnuts will be served.
Faculty Recital ------ 7:45 p. m.
Oller Hall
Homecoming Frolic -- 8:30 p. m.

Sunday

President's Bible Class 9:30 a. m.
Founders Chapel

● Attendant Eloise Holsinger ●
Sweet

Eloise Holsinger, Jacque Rowland To Attend Queen

by Barbara Walls

Lovely Phyl Marcocci is Homecoming Queen—the personification of the traditional "spirit of hospitality" that will pervade throughout the campus during this Homecoming Weekend.

Jacque Rowland and "Squeegee" Holsinger are her attendants.

Miss Marcocci, a senior Spanish major from Dudley, was elected queen by popular vote last Thursday in which 453 students cast their ballots, 65 percent of the 701 eligible voters.

Phyl, a pert 21-year old Italian girl, has brown hair and large hazel eyes.

Her busy schedule includes membership in FTA, WAA, the Pyrenees Club and the Smoke Signal staff. She is also Senate secretary and a student teacher at Mt. Union High School.

Runners-up

Runners-up in the election, the two candidates who will be attendants to the queen, are Miss Rowland and Miss Holsinger. Jacque, a tall attractive blond and "Squeegee', a striking redhead, will make a pretty picture with dark-haired Phyl in the Homecoming Court.

Formal crowning ceremonies will take place during halftime of the Dickinson game when three cars containing the queen,her attendants and last year's queen, Joy Wenger, will circle the field. The crowning of Queen Phyl by Miss Wenger will be followed by a short speech by George Fattman. Juniata's nine former Homecoming Queens will also be present.

Presides at Royal Harvest

Miss Marcocci will preside over the annual WAA - J Club "Royal Harvest" dance Saturday evening. During intermission she will be presented with a gift, courtesy of the WAA, J Club, and Juniatian.

Tellers for the election found it hard to determine until almost all the votes were counted who the lucky three would be. The close voting showed that anyone of the 10 candidates would have made a lovely Homecoming Queen.

Faculty Postpone Vote On CJ; To Continue Discussion Later

The Faculty spent all of a special meeting called Monday to take action on the proposed Campus Judiciary discussing the matter.

No definite action was taken. It is expected that the Faculty will continue their deliberation soon at another meeting. The Faculty did not find the proposed court controversial, particularly, it was reported, but they proposed possible changes in its format.

Students gave the judiciary their approval at a four-to-one ratio Tuesday, October 9. The Faculty is the last body to consider the court's constitution. If and when they approve it, it will go into effect.

Suggested Improvements

The proposed court had been brought before the Faculty last June, but they declined to consider it until the student body had voted on it since they felt that their decisions might influence those of the students. Now the Faculty in considering the judiciary are "picking it apart" with an eye toward suggesting improvements.

Should improvements suggested by the Faculty be minor they could possibly be incorporated into the constitution as by-laws. Any proposal of major changes would have to come before the student body.

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

THE STAFF

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ..... Joan McClure
MANAGING EDITOR ..... George Fattman
NEWS EDITOR ..... Barb Walls
SPORTS EDITORS ..... Bill Mariotti, Dave Suloff
FEATURE EDITORS ..... Ann Willson, Dave Amidon
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... George Carnahan
CIRCULATION MANAGER ..... Roger Bennett

COLUMNISTS: Jim Montgomery, Barb Smathers, Newt Taylor
NEWS REPORTERS: Carol Baish, Mary Ellen Blesing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnely, Ron Fink, Leora Furlong, Ed Jones, Emmalyn Heed, Don Leeking, Barb McIntyre, Margie Snyder.
SPORTS REPORTERS: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, John Jenkins, Carl Wass.
BUSINESS STAFF: Joyce Hoffman.
PHOTOGRAPHERS: Rick Bell, Bruce Bennett.

editorially speaking . . .

Welcome, Alumni!

The Juniatian extends a sincere welcome to all returning graduates and Homecoming guests.

Homecoming is a day to renew old acquaintances of classmates and chums, to make new acquaintances with the present student generation and the ever-changing college community.

It is the students' privilege to play host to you. May your homecoming be a happy one.

Your Homecoming Obligation

In order to make tomorrow a really successful Homecoming Day for our grads, here are a few things for everyone to do:

1. DON'T GO 'WAY: A day off from classes does not mean a day to go home. Chances are if "suitcase students" start a mass exodus from campus, the day off privilege will be revoked in the future.

2. TAKE SCRUB BRUSH IN HAND: Make sure your room is orderly for open house. The "lived in" look is all right to a certain point, but . . .

3. BUY A MUM: Like those snappy band uniforms? A mum for your mom or your girl or yourself will help the band pay off their cost.

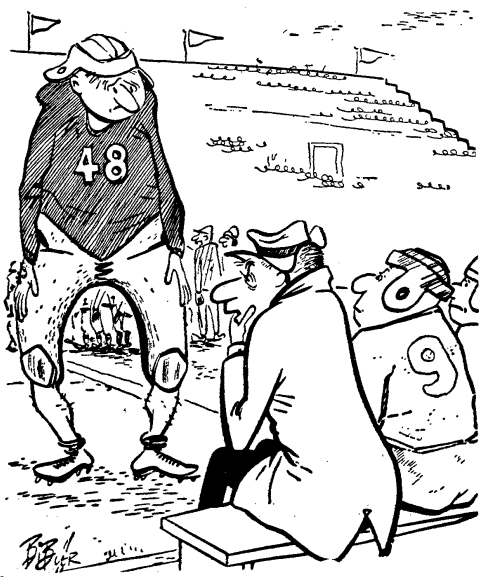
Still Champions

4. BACK THE INDIANS: Both the players and the students have proved that they can take defeat as well as victory like champions. Let's keep up the spirit—attend the game and yell along with the cheerleaders.

5. PATRONIZE THE DANCE: The Royal Harvest promises to be a real gala affair. Fellas, take the initiative—see that the girls' dorm isn't filled with Saturday night stags.

6. BE A GOOD HOST OR HOSTESS: It's up to each and every one of us to make the grads really feel at home!

Little Man On Campus by Bibler



"Say, Bibi, How Would You Like To Play The Backfield? You Don't Seem To Stop Those Line Plays Too Well."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The philosophical loopholes in my article on funts, pointed out by Mr. McFadden, would be damning even to an amateur logician and philosopher such as myself had not Mr. McFadden addressed himself to what may have been an ambiguity in my piece in an entirely different sense from which it was meant.

God forbid that any leader of student government should approve of the administration's being the "common enemy." I have never regarded it as my personal enemy, certainly do not now. However, it is hard for any realist—student, faculty, or administration—to close his eyes to the fact that students over the country, in general, and JC students, in particular, have generally, if not universally, regarded college administrations as their "common enemy."

This is not intended as a "cut" at Mr. McFadden, but rather as a necessary explanation. I am sure I join with all students in welcoming Mr. McFadden's interest in student affairs.

Sincerely,
Jim Stayer

ODIOUS COMBINATION

Dear Editor:

Food in the dining hall is at an all time low! I, for one, resent paying 65c (this is what the student teachers are getting refunded for each lunch) for a meal consisting of fish, sauerkraut, warm applesauce, plums, and cookies. What an odious combination!

If the food does not improve, the only recourse the students will have is to dump the vegetables on their plates to prevent their coming out time and time again.

Let's face it! at Juniata old vegetables never die, they just get cooked away.

BILIOUS

SUPERIOR DEPOSITORY

To the Editor,

It is the obligation of a newspaper to consider criticism against its policies. This obligation, however, is valid only insofar as criticism rises above a childish and peevish outburst; only insofar as its accusations are substantiated and its condemnations supported by evidence. It is also necessary that these criticisms be couched in terminology that surpasses juvenile cliches.

In future comunications the Reverend Mr. Middlekauf would be well advised to be more objective and mature as to just why the editorial policy of The Juniatian stands in danger of transforming this school into a superior depository of refuse.

Respectfully,
James Montgomery

Smoking Habit Hard To Stop, Frosh Finds

ACP—A Kansas State College freshman wanted to quit smoking.

A doctor hypnotized him at a student assembly. The hypnotist told him he would be able to quit smoking because cigarettes would now taste like burnt rubber. The student was then released from the spell.

"I still have the habit," he has since remarked — but that burnt rubber flavor annoys him!

Campus Carillon Again Rings Time

The Stone Church carillon, which had not been ringing for about a year, again rang out the time on College Hill at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

news views . . .

Adlai, Honest, Courageous In '52, Now Driven By Passion To Win

by Newt Taylor

There has been much comment in recent weeks about the "new" Stevenson. This comment centers around the belief in some quarters that Adlai Stevenson, the 1956 Presidential candidate is considerably different from Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Presidential candidate.

In 1952 the then Governor of Illinois was a new face on the American political scene. He had an outstanding record as Governor of Illinois. A ready wit, he was a phrase-maker and orator of the first order. Obviously weighed down by the record of the discredited Truman Administration, he himself had a clean slate, and he even went so far as to take jabs at the "mess in Washington." Adlai Stevenson impressed millions of Americans as a man of intellectual honesty and courage, a man who put principle above party.

'56 Model

But now look at the 1956 model. Arthur Krock, one of America's most highly respected political writers, makes this comment in the magazine section of the Sunday, September 29, 1956, New York Times. His "old passion for consistency and logic in statement has been supplanted by the passion which is kindled by the scent of victory, by the classic prescript of the politician that the first thing to do is to win and leave to tomorrow how to face the promises whereby victory was attained.

"Stevenson . . . is piling up group committments that could not even partly be redeemed except by appalling deficit financing or the higher taxes he never mentions." It has been estimated that the cost of his promises would be about $20 billion a year.

Tight Money

The result of this increased government spending would be a severe spiral of inflation. Yet he continually hits the Eisenhower Administration for the slight price increases of the last few months. He blasts the "tight money" policy of the Administration, yet it was this policy that is responsible for preventing wild inflation such as occurred right after World War II.

Governor Stevenson advocates the end of the draft and then blasts the Administration for fostering the growth of neutralism. Nothing would discourage our allies more than an admission on our part that what we were doing is not necessary.

In a moment of sincere humility shortly before the 1952 Democratic convention, Governor Stevenson said that he felt himself "mentally, physically, and spiritually" disqualified for the U S Presidency. Perhaps he was right!

On Other Campi

by Barbara Smathers

Hi all! Ready for another "trip fantasia"?

The male students at Berkeley, California, will probably think twice before staging any more panty raids. Last spring's raid wound up costing the students $5,100 — the sum paid to girls who filed loss claims with the dean of student's office. After the raid on May 16 resident men were asked to "contribute" $3.50 per man to a philanthropic fund to pay for restitution of damages. Many claims were as small as $1. but at least one totaled over $100.

* * * *

It seems the issue of dining hall dress is being waged on other campuses besides JC. A minor revolt took place on the Moravian North campus when about 75% of the male students refused to wear ties and coats to the evening meal. A petition was circulated and names were signed, but the only result was a severe warning from the administration and the appearance of five faculty members at the evening meal to enforce the ruling ..... So goes it, fellows!

* * * *

The Phoenix, Swarthmore's weekly paper, published a list of frequently used campus abbreviations and their explanation for the benefit of befuddled frosh. Included in the review were these choice bits:

SC — Student Council. Where minutes sometimes last hours.

SIU — Students' Independent Union. Whose radical members actually go so far as to demand real food in the dining room.

NO — No. A frequently encountered injunction indicating that a change of immediate plans is advisable.

SRU — Students for Religious Understanding. Whose poll last year revealed that 8% of Swarthmore students "are certain that there is no God," but that fortunately only 4.6%are atheists or agnostics."

* * * *

Several items from the humorous side of campus life: "You're the first girl I've ever kissed," said the college man shifting gear with his knee.

He was one of those professors who, always anxious to improve their course, add as their last question of the final exam, "What have you thought of this course?"

At the end of one of his worst papers he found this comment: "I think that this was a very well-sounded course. Everything not given in class during the semester has been included in the final exam."

* * * *

Some food for thought, which might be worth consideration here on the JC campus as well, has been offered to the students of Elizabethtown through an editorial in the college paper which presented this new school year as a challenge to all. It challenged the frosh to buckle down, get in step with the school's ideals, and to be a credit to their college, themselves, and the people back home.

Upperclassmen have been urged to assume their roles as campus leaders, strive for the success of all college activities, and demonstrate to freshmen what college life should be. As the article in the Etownian so aptly put it: "The year lies before us. The challenges are waiting. We have what it takes to succeed, if we will use it. Let us move forward resolutely and with confidence."

* * * *

So goes it on other campi for this week.

The Juniatian

SPORTS

Friday, October 19, 1956 Page 5

Annual Homecoming Battle To Feature Dickinson Red Raiders Here Tomorrow

Juniata will make its bid to begin a new winning streak as the Indians meet the Red Devils of Dickinson in the annual Homecoming Day clash here Saturday.

The Dickinson eleven, operating from the single wing formation early in the season, have now added the split T in an attempt to gain a more powerful running attack. Coach Brit Piez hopes that the two-offense threat will loosen up the defense and produce more touchdowns.

12 Lettermen

Piez will rely heavily on the strong defensive play of the Red Devil line which is the best the Carlisle school has seen in a number of seasons. Candidate for all-Pennsylvania center, Robert Woodside and tackle Richie Graham who was named outstanding athlete at the college last spring head the list of 12 veteran lettermen.

Dave Woodruff, a junior transfer from Amherst, Richard Shanaman, Sammy Rose and Frank Campanelli round out the Dickinson bavkfield. Woodruff is perhaps the best quarterback aerialist the college has had in the past six years. Spelling him at that position are Ned Kienzle and William Matthews who operate at T and single wing respectively.

Other standouts are Ends Willis Costan and Stephen Offerman, Tackles Harvey Bair and Lee Shipman and Guard Bob Myers.

The game will be the 13th gridiron meeting of the schools since 1921. The series is now deadlocked at six victories apiece with Juniata taking four consecutive decisions since 1952.

Juniata Trounces E-Towners, 17-38, In Cross-Country

Juniata's cross-country team made an auspicious beginning last Friday afternoon as the Blue and Gold harriers trounced a visiting Elizabethtown squad, 17 -38, in the first official cross country meet in Juniata's history.

Indian Herb Layman ushered in the hill and dale sport in fine style as he raced across the finish line in the first position after the 4¼ miles in 21:43. Frank Hrach of the Blue and Gold took second place in the time of 23:53. Herb Deuchar and Doug Wilson, both running under the JC banner, grabbed off third and fourth places.

After this wave of Juniatians, Elizabethtown placed Jack Reed and Ken Miller. Chuck Brown rounded out the scoring for Juniata as he came across the line in seventh spot. E-town garnered the last three scoring positions in the persons of Lorell Price, Carl Zeigler and Donald Price.

Others Running

Others who also ran were Ed Moore, Joe Senft, Henry Crocker and Jim Petit of Juniata and Glen Snelbecker and Cal Williams of E-town.

Today the Indian hilltoppers are in Allentown to run against the Mulhenberg College cross-country squad. JC's next home meet will be November 10 against Franklin and Marshall.

Score Like Golf

Scoring in cross-country is like golf in that the low score wins. The points are divided among the first five finishers of both teams. One point is given for first place, two for second ,three for third, etc.

Seniors, Freshmen First In Hockey

JC women wound up the first week of intramural hockey with a first place tie between the senior and frshman girls.

The seniors defeated the junior and freshmen girls.
ber 8, while the sophomores went down in defeat 4-0 at the hands of the freshman Thursday.

There are four teams in this years hockey program, one from each class. Each team must play every other team twice before a school champion can be decided.

Juniata's women intramural program is sponsored by the WAA, headed by Jeanette Lowe.

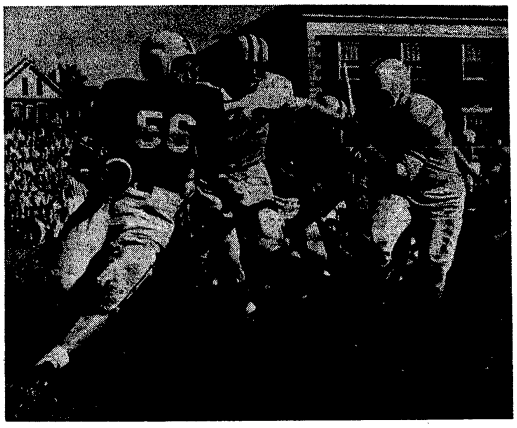
Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Indians Get Feathers Clipped At Williamsport For First Time In Four Seasons, 26 Games

The Homecoming Day setting at Williamsport Saturday afternoon plus the keyed-up Lycoming Warriors snapped the Indian's 25 game unbeaten streak—the longest in the nation's small college ranks.

Coach Dave Busey's hard-running eleven outplayed the Indians before a standing-room only crowd Juniata suffered their first loss in rour seasons.



PLAYING HARD TO GET — Although Lycoming handed the Tribe its first defeat in four years, they found cornering back Joe Trimber almost impossible. Here the versatile runner evades two of the Lycos, as Bill Schott moves in from behind to help out.

Photo by Rick Bell

First Time Two Straight

For Lycoming the win was its second straight, the first time it has put two victories together since resuming football three years ago.

The Tribe couldn't stop the quick opening slants of John Joe, 220 pound fullback, and John Grier, the fleet-footed halfback. Together, they gained nearly 200 yards between them.

Lycoming scored first, with a 10-yard dash by fullback John Joe, climaxing a 68-yard opening quarter drive. The successful march was highlighted by a 25-yard pass from quarterback Paul Motta to halfback Wayne Bohn. The placement was blocked. The score was Lycoming 6, Juniata 0.

Berrier Scores

Late in the second period Joe Trimber returned a Bohn punt for nine yards to the Lycoming 44. Ten plays later Bill Berrier crossed the goal line on a 25-yard play, cutting to his left and just making the cornen of the end zone. The attempted placement by John Staley was low.

Highlights of the TD drive for the Indians were a seven-yard pass from Bob Schwalenberg to Berrier and 25 and 9-yard scampers by Berrier. Halftime score showed a 6-6 deadlock.

Neither team could sustain a drive in the third period, until a Schwalenberg fumble was recovered by a Warrior lineman on the Juniata 49-yard line to set up the game winning touchdown.

LC Scores Again

With fourth down and seven yards to go on the JC 25, Fred Agnello rolled out to his left and hit the speedy Grier on the 10. He lunged into the end zone barely being able to keep his balance.

This time, Frank Agnello's placement sailed between the uprights to mak the score 13-6.

Tribe Threatens

The Indians threatened in the fourth period when Don Shover blocked Bohn's attempted punt and recovered the ball on the Lycoming 42. They went as far as the Lycoming 11, but the burly Warrior line halted the drive two plays later.

Freshman quarterback Dick Fagan had an impressive six out of eleven completions for 75 yards. Another frosh, Bill Berrier, who made the All-East team last week, led the rushing attack with 46 net yards on 10 carries.

It was a hard-fought game from the opening whistle, with each side losing many players because of injuries.

From the Bleachers
Some Expected Upset By LC

by Bill Mariotti

The nation's longest small college winning streak ended in a welter of excitement at Williamsport last week when Lycoming thrilled its home-coming crowd with a 13-6 win.

The upset was not totally unexpected. Only last year the Lyco's came perilously close to snapping Juniata's skein but fell short 14-13. Since then the Warriors had been pointing toward last week's game was made by Coach Bunn year. A good description of the game was made by coach Bunn when he said, "They were as high as a kite, and our kids can't be up every week."

Many seniors had not seen Juniata lose during their college career and were wondering if they ever would. But everyone realized it was bound to happen sooner or later and the entire student body is whole-heartedly behind the team to get back on the winning trail.

* * * *

Tomorrow's home-coming opponent, Dickinson, has scored only one touchdown in four games this season .... The Indians will be seeking their fifth straight victory over Dickinson tomorrow ... Lycoming's John Grier, with 107 yards, and John Joe, with 97, each gained more yardage than the entire Moravian squad which had only 81 against the Bunnmen two weeks ago.

* * * *

Dick Fagan, Tribe Frosh quarterback, has completed eight of thirteen passes netting 100 yards for a sparkling .615 passing percentage ..... Glenn Hassinger, Juniata's leading ground gainer on opening day, was held to a net gain of minus one yard by the Lyco's .... The Bunnmen have returned punts this year for a total of 75 yards while holding their foes to a mere total of five yards.

* * * *

In the prediction department we had a rough time last week with four and four. Our totals for the year are 14 right and 10 wrong for a percentage of .583. This week we see JUNIATA getting back on the winning trail with a 26-7 win over DICKINSON. MORAVIAN to have little trouble with winless Lebanon Valley. LYCOMING should have a breather in Wilkes. Next week's JC opponent DREXEL to drop a contest to Penn Military. Allegheny to turn back the winless GROVE CITY eleven in a close one. URSINUS to lose their big homecoming game to SWARTHMORE tomorrow. Bridgewater to hold Purnell and SUSQUEHANNA for a victory in a tight game. Finally HAVERFORD to remain unbeaten with a big win over John Hopkins.

Five Teams Near IM Football Lead

IM football finished its third week with five teams clustered near the first place position.

The Vets, the Collegians, the Crazy Eights, the Ubangies and the Bull Dogs are fighting for the lead.

Monday the Vets and the Collegians fought to a 66-6 standstill. The Six-Sixties beat the Hopper Squad 12-7, and the Crazy Eights downed the Crusaders 19-0 with surprising ease.

Tuesday the Crazy Eights romped over the JC Seniors 25-0. The Vets beat a suprisingly strong Chipmunk team 13-7, and the Collegians eked out a 13-7 victory over the Gestapo.

Thursday

Thursday the Ubangies downed the Gestapo by a 144-6 count and the Day Students forfeited to the Six-Sixties.

Friday's action showed the Day Students forfeiting to the Vets, the Crusaders playing the Gestapo to a 6-6 tie and the Ubangeis romping over the JC Seniors 16-6.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Sodas - Sundaes
— Hot Dogs —
and Hamburgers
TEXAS LUNCH
7th Street

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

MURPHY'S
MEN'S SPORT SHIRTS
ALWAYS THE LATEST
COLLEGIATE STYLE
$1.98 — $2.95

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

No Spirit Lost!
Bernie Predicts:
J C — 20
Dickinson — 6
JC's FAVORITE
JEWELRY STORE
is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Bray Pleased With Progress Toward Old Lace Production

James Bray, director of the Masque's fall production, Arsenic and Old Lace, has revealed that he is well-pleased with the work done so far by the cast and the various committees in cooperating to make the play a success.

Beginning Monday an intensified rehearsal schedule will get underway with the use of appropriate props and, in the following week, the actual stage settings. The first dress rehearsal will be held in about two weeks followed by the two shows November 9 and 10.

Set In Victorian Era

No less important is the backstage work that is being done. The play is set in the Victorian era which means extra work on the part of the properties and set construction committees. Anyone who knows where Victorian furniture can be borrowed, begged or stolen is asked to contact Margie Snyder, chairman of the properties committee.

Other committees are headed by Flo Wenzel, set construction; Arthur Norris, stage crew; Sue Payson, make-up; Ron Knause, lighting; Ron Fink, tickets; Mickey Matthews, program, and Nan Winters, publicity. Prompters are Jan Schall and Mary Shirk, while Judy Gearhart assists as student director.

Blue, Gold Colors Of Mourning Here After Loss To LC

by Ed Jones

Juniata Indians biting the dust in the Lycoming 13-6 defeat caused JC students to smoke that peace pipe, bury that hatchet and concede that the longest unbeaten streak in Pennsylvania college football of 25 games had ended and had become part of collegiate history.

The football players took their defeat manfully, after having played a grueling game. The JC spectators felt slightly uneasy in their stomachs as they witnessed Agnello's touchdown pass. And back on Juniata campus, every Juniatian looked rather mournful at the start of Monday morning classes.

However, in various interviews around campus, it was discovered that black is not too appropriate for Indian mourning colors. Instead, the Blue and Gold fighting spirit is sontinuing undaunted.

Better Than Ever

The football players philosophically say, "It was just one of those things; we'll be better than ever." Several faculty members, although expressing regret for defeat, think that it perhaps is for the best to lose a game once in awhile.

Certainly, the entire campus feels no shame for one defeat after four years of solid victory. In fact, this call was heard on several occasions during this past week, "Give another team a chance to win!"

However, the Inrians refuse to pass out victory to an excess of opposing teams. "Lycoming was in luck last Saturday, but it will take more than luck to beat JC again"—so echoes Juniata students.

College Secretary, Instructor Marry

The wedding of Miss Mary Ann Bailey, Juniata news bureau employee, and Philbrook Smith, history instructor, took place last Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the home of the Rev. Silas Dubbel on Cold Springs Road.

The Rev. Dubbel, a retired Juniata English professor, performed the ceremony. The wedding was small and informal with only the immediate families attending. A dinner at the Penn Hunt Hotel followed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey, Johnstown. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Philbrook Smith, are from Caldwell, N. J.

LAST CHANCE! to enter Reader's Digest
$41,000 CONTEST

It's fun to do—and you may find you know more about human nature than you think! Just list, in order, the six articles in October Reader's Digest you think readers will like best. Couldn't be simpler—and you may win $5,000 cash for yourself plus $5,000 in scholarships for your college.

Have you sent in your entry yet?

Entries must be postmarked by midnight, Thursday, October 25.

Entry blanks available at your college bookstore.

Chapel

October 22—Dean Morley Mays
October 24—Bob McFadden
October 26—Norman Scribner, organist

Education Group Ready For Gripes

The standing committee on educational affairs has been organized and is now ready to receive student grievances.

One of the multiple purposes of the committee is to receive and evaluate complaints and suggestions concerning teaching methods of faculty personnel, the material of the various courses and additions to the curriculum.

Any student with grievances or suggestions for the committee should contact Jim Montgomery, Ken Rockwell, John Moore, George Hess, Del McQuaide or Barbara Walls.

Leiter To Award Prize For Display

Dr. Ralph Leiter, president of the Alumni Association, will award the 10 dollar prize to the best homecoming display on Saturday.

Dr. Leiter, a member of the class of '27 comes from Philadelphia and is the holder of a PhD in chemistry.

Those participating in the displays are North Campus Dorm, the Cloister, the halls in the women's dormitories and the outside houses.

The judges of the display will be chosen by Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president. A student will lead the judges on a guided tour of the displays Saturday morning.

College Band Adds Six Pompon Girls

A group of pompon girls is the newest addition to the marching band.

The six pompon carriers are Barbara McIntyre, Peggy Chidester, Mary Ann Hixenbaugh, Ann Larkin, and Lil Weimar.

Wearing black watch plaid bermuda shorts, white blazers and carrying blue and gold pompons the girls will brighten up the band by marching with it on special occasions.

Drills will be performed by the group on both sides of the field during half-time of the Homecoming game Saturday.

All Thinking Citizens Should Show Concern For UN, Library Says

Since the problems facing the United Nations and organized world government generally are the personal problems of every thinking citizen, the library this week is displaying material on the UN.

Aims of the United Nations, by James Shotwell, is a factual account of how these aims have been carried out in the first 10 years of the United Nations' existence.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt takes readers on a guided tour through UN New York headquarters in UN: Today and Tomorrow. The book gives a comprehensive account of the UN and includes information on those persons who rarely make the headlines.

Dr. Herbert Evatt, an Australian who took part in the organization of the UN, discusses its problems in United Nations. He looks to the UN's future with a critical eye on its proper functions and makes proposals for facilitating and improving its work.

Not to be forgotten are the many publications of the UN which give up-to-date information on the various activtiies. Examples of these items are UNESCO News, WHO Newsletter, the Courier and reports from the varnous organizations within the United Nations.

Navy To Seek Men Here Next Month

An information team from the local ofice of naval officer procurement will visit the campus on November 12 to talk with senior men who may be interested in serving as commissioned officers in the Navy after graduation.

The Navy personnel will be located in Totem Inn from 10:30 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Work On Alfarata Ahead of Schedule

Work on the Alfarata, the college yearbook, is progressing rapidly and is now ahead of schedule.

Most of the stories have been assigned to its 20 staff members and by this evening all the club pictures will have been taken. Skip Osterling, business manager, has collected advertisements from the local merchants.

This year's Alfarata will contain 160 pages, 16 more than last year's issue. There will also be on the whole less written copy with more emphasis on pictures and original layouts. About 16 pages of duotone color - black with one additional color - will be used this year. The theme of the '57 Alfarata is the Indian.

Members of the editorial staff are Larry Davis, editor in chief; Skip Osterling, business manager; Bill Adams, assistant editor; Ginny Nixdorf and Jackie Rhodes, class editors; Carol Titus, club editor; Dave Sulloff and Chuck Brown, sport editors; Alice Waite, layout tditor, and Ross Nahrgang, literary editor.

Mays Announces Date Of SS Test

Selective Service's college qualification test will be administered for the first time this year at Juniata on Thursday, November 15, Dean Mays, the local advisor, announced.

Application forms are now available at the Huntingdon office of Selective Service, 707 Washington Street. Any student wishing to take the test on November 15 must submit his application not later than Tuesday, October 30. Dean Mays urges all men students who have not previously taken the test to do so this time. It is especially desirable that freshmen take it.

Scores on the college qualification tests are used by local boards to determine eligibility for continuation in college. Further questions may be addressed to Dean Mays.

Carnahan To Head WJC; Senate Plans Reorganization Of Communication's Set-Up

George Carnahan was named station manager of WJC radio by the Senate Wednesday night after they voted to change the administration procedure for the station to a point where the Senate will have very little control over the communication.

A senior business major from Dayton, Ohio, Carnahan is also business manager of the Juniatian and president of the Masque. He currently has a role in the Masque production, Arsenic and Old Lace. He had served as program director for WJC, having been assistant program director preceding this appointment last March.

Four plans for possible reorganization were presented to the Senate by chairman of communications George Fattman: the original plan established two years ago by the Senate (a plan which gave them considerable control over the station), the current procedure followed by WJC, a plan submitted by Carnahan calling for limited Senate control of WJC and a plan by Fattman calling for almost complete severance of WJC from the Senate.

5 Man Board

The Fattman plan, as altered by Senator Ray Ono, was adopted. It calls for a 5-man board to run WJC; a station manager will head the station and lead its policy and activities. The other four members of the board, technical director and program director and their assistants will each have a vote equal to that of the station manager.

The Senate's relation to WJC was altered so that it will be similar to the relation between the faculty committee on student publications and any student publication, exempli gratia, the Juniatian. The chairman of communications may step into WJC affairs and have complete control of the station at a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

This is merely a precautionary measure.

Financial decisions and general policy will be left to the WJC board instead of the Senate (as originally planned for WJC). Staff appointments will be made by the station manager, who in years to come will suggest a successor to himself to the Senate, who will endorse or reject the suggestion.

Totem Inn In Black

It was reported that Totem Inn operated in the black last year (for the first time) in spite of deficit at the snack bar and in the post office. The year's profit was a little over 12 dollars.

Steps Repaired

It was reported that the steps leading from the grandstand to the field at College Field have been repaired. The Senate will consider membership in the National Student Assoc. next Wednesday evening.

Cafeteria Breakfast

A committee consisting of chairman Newt Taylor, "Squeegee" Holsinger and Fattman was appointed to check on the possibilities of having breakfast served cafeteria style.

Sophs In Charge Of Rally Tonight

The Dickinson pep rally under the direction of the sophomore class will be held this evening in Oller Hall at 7 p, m, Chuck Brown, head of the planning committee, announced that a short skit will be presented by some talented members of the sophomore class with "beat Dickinson" naturally the theme.

After the skit the cheerleaders and band will take over the rally and make good use of the frosh who will be gaily attired in the traditional Indian outfits.

The sophomore class is also in charge of the athletic field decorations for the Homecoming game.

Senate To Urge Help For Library

Because of the many thefts occuring in Carnegie Library the Senate voted to request that the an additional assistant librarian to work there.

Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, head librarian, pointed out to an investigating Senate committee that the personnel of the library has not increased proportionately with the student body. The library has the same permanent staff now it had when students numbered 400, she explained.

It is the feeling of the librarian and the Senate that the employmnt of another assistant librarian would help alleviate the book stealing problem.

The Most Wanted
Sweater
All Year Round
Nylon Boucle Sleeveless
$3.98
12 colors to choose from
DANKS & CO.

Carnahan Names WJC's Directors

George Carnahan, station manager of WJC radio, has named the members of the communication's board of directors.

Lou Palumbo is program director and Bill Holsinger is technical director. Their assistants are George Fattman and Ray Ono respectively.

The station is scheduled to return to the air one week from Monday.

HARRIS CLIFTON

NOW thru SATURDAY ! !
BROADWAYS BIGGEST BECOMES MARILYN'S BEST
BUS STOP
Cinemascope & Color with Marilyn Monroe and introducing new star
DON MURRAY

MONDAY & TUESDAY
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
THE BAD SEED starring
Nancy Bell and introducing Patty McCormack .....

OUR POLICY FOR THIS EXCITING PROGRAM ! !
Doors open each night 6:30
Short Subjects start at 7:15
ONE FEATURE NIGHTLY at 7:36
PROGRAM WILL BE OVER EACH NIGHT AT 9:45

OUR FIRST ART SHOW POLICY WILL BEGIN ON THURSDAY NOVEMBER 1
PLAN NOW TO SEE
THE LITTLE KIDNAPPERS

We Will Endeavor To Bring One Art Show A Month For Your Enjoyment

The Juniatian

VOL. XXXIII, No. 6 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 26, 1956

● Dave Amidon ●
New Ideas For JWSF

Amidon Reports JC Service Fund Campaign To Begin

The annual Juniata World Service Fund Drive will get underway November 5, according to chairman Dave Amidon.

JWSF divides its support between four causes: a. a grant is made toward the work of World Uunversity Service, which is at work filling the desperate needs of individual students in the backward countries of the world, where the need for trained leadership is insatiable; b. a contribution to the International Christian University in Toyko is applied to direct scholarship aid for individual students; c. the work of two Juniata graduates at present abroad as Brethren missionaries is subsidized; d. a portion of the proceeds is used to support one or more of the foreign students on our own campus.

Juniatians will have a chance to earmark their contribution, dividing it up among the charities to suit their own convictions. Unearmarked money will be split equally four ways.

The steering committee for this year's drive consist of Amidon; Ann Larkin, club solicitor; Margie White, production representative; Bonnie Gunther, secretary-treasurer; Ross Nahrgang, chairman of solicitations; Barbara Smathers, publicity chairman, and Dr. Kenneth Crosby, faculty advisor.

Personal Contact

This year emphasis will be placed on personal contact between the solicitor and the donor, and 12 captains have been appointed to instruct each colector as to the aims and purposes of the drive. Captains include Alice

See AMIDON, Page 4

Senate Picks 12 Nominees For Judiciary

Profs For Court; Delegate Rockwell

Twelve students have been nominated by the Senate to run for a seat on the Campus Judiciary.

The Faculty aproved the constitution of the court Monday and have elected Dr. Donald Rockwell to represent them on it. They have asked that the judiciary constitution and the actions of the group be brought before the Faculty in the fall of 1958 for reconsideration.

Senior men nominated include Howie Angstadt, Reading; Dick Backus, Dayton, Ohio; Dick Livingston, Johnstown, and Don Ruhl, Lititz. Senior women up for election are Joan McClure, Harrisburg, and Carol Olbrich, Orange, N. J.

Men nominated from the junior class include John Jenkins, Gloucester, N. J.; Del McQuaide, New Kensington, and Ross Nahrgang, Plainfield, N. J. Meg Goodrich, Ridgway; Sue Paxson, Southampton, and Eva Wagner, Sheridan, are the junior women nominees.

Others Desiring To Run

Others desiring to run for a position on the court should get a petition from Newt Taylor or Phyl Marcocci and must have it returned to one of them by 10:30 tonight with 70 signatures of students.

Students will vote Monday. Four candidates will be chosen, one from each group listed above.

No Bizarre Campaign

Candidates should not use posters or bizarre campaign techniques, according to chairman of elections Taylor. Individual votes will not be published, Runoffs, if necessary, will be held Tuesday.

The campus judiciary, four years in the making, is now in effect on the campus. Students accepted the judiciary October 9 and the faculty approved it Monday with various recommendations for by-laws.

CHAPEL

October 29 — Ralph Sockman, Christ Methodist Church, New York City
October 31 — Dr. Luther Harshberger, chaplain, Penn State University
November 2 — Dan Idzik, World University Service representative

WJC On Air Thursday; Reception To Be Better

WJC radio is scheduled to return to the air Thursday at 8 p. m. after a period of extensive improvements, among them better use of the carrier current system of transmission.

According to recently appointed station manager George Carnahan, WJC's overall program this year is going to be well-organized and executed. He pointed out, "I, for one, am pleased at the progress that has been made this year in WJC, though there are yet several improvements being contemplated.

"I am sure that the staff will make this WJC's best year to date."

Having been off the air since last May, the radio station has undergone various repairs beginning in September under former technical director Ray Ono.

A small fire in the transmitter last Sunday evening killed all hopes of starting broadcasts earlier.

In order to improve reception the station's control panel and transmitter have been checked and repaired and one-half mile of wire has been strung to the various major dorms on campus under the supervision of technical director Bill Holsinger. New needles have been purchased for the turntables.

WJC, which broadcasts Monday through Friday from 8 p. m. to midnight and Sunday from 10 p. m. to midnight at 1150 kilocycles, broadcasts via the carrier current system; that is, the signal travels from the station's transmitter along the "antenna" wire to each dorm where it passes through a condenser into the electrical system of the building. Thus the inhabitants of each dorm should have no reception trouble, as they did in the past.

Boom Microphone

Other improvements include the purchase of a boom microphone and a tape recorder. The

See WJC, Page 4

READY TO GO — WJC's directors have spent a great deal of time preparing the radio station to begin broadcasts this season, and in spite of pressing financial difficulties and a fire in the transmitter earlier this week WJC will return to the air at 1150 Monday at 8 p.m. In the photo are (in the foreground) Bill Holsinger, technical director; (behind him) Judy Gearhart, secretary-treasurer; Lou Polumbo, program director; George Fattman, asst. program director; George Carnahan, station manager; Ray Ono, asst. technical director, and Barbara Wells, head of the campus affairs department.

Dance Orchestra Disbands; Exchange Plan Unsuccessful

Pete Wright, president of the college dance band, has announced the disbandment of the organization as a college band.

At a meeting of members Monday afternoon it was decided by mutual consent that the band would break up. The main reason for this decision was the inability to obtain exchange bands to play for college dances.

When the dance band was first organized, the program was ideally set up on an exchange basis with the JC band playing for other college dances and other bands playing for Juniata dances. However, because of the unresponsiveness of other colleges to this program, the college dance band, as most of us know, has ended up playing only for home dances.

Since there seemed to be no future in the exchange program and band members felt it unfair for them to play at all home dances, they decided to disband.

The band will probably continue playing as a group, although not as the official college dance band. Other local bands will have to be obtained for college dances in the future.

Pep Rally At 7:15 p.m. On Patio Of Cloister

"Let's scalp the Dragons" will be the battle cry of all loyal Juniatians at the pep rally on the back patio of Cloister tonight at 7:15 p.m.

Led by chairman Darlene Schrock, the freshmen organized the pep rally and planned field decorations for the Juniata-Drexel game Satuurday. Participants in the pep rally will include the freshmen who are members of the football team.

Juniatian To Sponsor Presidential Election

Next Wednesday, the Juniatian, in conjunction with the Senate, will hold a campus election in which student will be able to indicate their choice for U. S. president.

This election will precede the national election by just one week and is an attempt to show how closely campus sentiment parallels national sentiment. To make the returns more valid, all students are urged to vote.

Ballots for those students from Pennsylvania will be of a different color from ballots for out-of-state students, in order to give Pennsylvanians an opportunity to indicate their choices for state senator, a position for which Joe Clark, Democrat, and Jim Duff, Republican incumbent, are vying.

University Prexy Urges All Eligible Students To Vote

The nation's college students over 21 were altered to their responsibilities in the November elections by the Rev. Vernon Allagher, president of Duquesne University.

A speech given October 16 to 350 student leaders at Duquesne by the prominent Pittsburgh educator was brought to the attention of student voters throughout the nation and received favorable notice from President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson.

Allagher noted that if college students 'demonstrate such indifference to the process of free government, what must be the apathy and confusion in the minds of those millions who do not enjoy the advantage of higher education?"

He also reviewed a magazine survey which indicated only two of every five eligible college students will vote in November. He said the survey indicated even fewer students know the issues involved in the presidential campaign.

He urged all qualified students to vote in November and reminded them that "responsibility for good or bad elected representatives fall back directly on the voters."

ED. NOTE—Because of the vital concern all college students should have in the forthcoming election, this week and next week Newt Taylor and Jim Montgomery in News Views, (see p. 2) present the merits o fthe two candidates for the Presidency. Students, as students and as citizens, are urged to read these columns with open and inquiring minds.

Season's First Civic Concert

Dancer's Goya, Matteo In Oller Saturday

The internationally renowned dancing team, Carola Goya and Matteo, with their "world of dancing" will appear in Oller Hall this Saturday evening under the auspices of the Huntingdon Civic Music Association.

The program will include a variety of colorful dances chosen from the various provinces of Spain as well as typical dances from other picturesque lands ranging from Scotland to Italy, India, Ceylon and Cuba. Each performance will be accompanied by colorful costumes and native music of the country.

There will be 20 dances on the program. Each artist will give six as solos and dance the others together. Raymond Sachse is the musical director and plays the piano accompaniments.

Rare Gifted Artist

Carola Goya's brilliant career has included six world tours. In addition to her renown as a "rare, gifted artist of the dance," she is conceded to be the "world's foremost virtuoso of the castanets," with which, acording to Walter Terry, dance critic of the New York Herald Tribune, "she weaves dreams of tonal loveliness."

Matto, an artist of strong parsonal appeal, recreates the regional dances of many nations with imagination and veracity. A versatile performer, he has enjoyed popularity in almost every medium of entrtainment. He has appeared on such television programs as Lux, Omnibus and Firestone.

● Goya & Matteo ●
To Dance Here Saturday

Times Comments

Commenting on the performance of Goya and Matteo, the New York Times said "There was a craftsmanship and smoothness of presentation that left little room for comment."

Immediately following the Civic Concert in Oller Hall on Saturday night there will be a dance held in the women's Gymnasium.

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office throughout the college year except during vacation and examination of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

editorially speaking . . .

Something Must Be Done!

Although from past experience, the Juniatian should have learned that it is neither prudent nor profitable to step on the sacrosanct toes of he dining hall, when food reaches the level it has recently and the students consequently spend much of their time fighting off hunger pangs, somebody has to say something — even though a torrent of student complaints are not nearly so effective as a few words from a contributing alumnus.

Each of us is paying $165 per semester to the college for our board; yet few of us are getting our money's worth. Ask practically any student where most of his spending money goes, and he will tell you "for food", either to supplement or supplant that which he receives in the dining hall.

Even if a student were to eat all the food with which he is provided, it is doubtful that its total value would even approximate $165. Last week in foods class, as a class project the students calculated the cost of one or our evening meals—hamburgers, mashed potatoes and cauliflower being the main dishes. The cost per student, according to their calculations, was 30 cents. And this is one of our better meals!

Calorie Deficiency

When we consider that lunches cost us 65 cents per person (this is what the student teachers are getting refunded, as was pointed out in last week's letter to the editor), we must be paying at the very least $1.00 for dinner. The foods class also calculated the calories in the meal. It consisted of 820 calories, far short of the number we should be getting at dinner.

The green ham which was served earlier in the year and the spoiled lunch meat which made its appearance just last Sunday night do not make for gastric delight either. Yet when the lunch meat was sent down to the kitchen Sunday night it was sent right back up because there was "nothing wrong with it." Several tables of students left the dining hall without supper.

The constant complaints are not just gripes against institutional food; everyone realizes that food cooked in large quanities cannot taste like home-cooked food. But when students return from the JC Blair Memodial Hospital raving about the meals (this is institutional food, too), when transfer students and graduate students compare our food unfavorably with that of other colleges (also institutional food), and when veterans say they'd rather eat in the army (again institutional food), something is definitely amiss!

Good Food For Guests

If the menu cannot be varied at least a little, if the meals cannot be made more substantial (the soup is good, but it is a long time from 12:45 to 6:00), if the quality of the food cannot be improved — although this is hard to believe, because we do have some good meals (especially when we have guests), then the students should be permitted to eat out instead of paying board. As it stands now, too many are doing both.

If a meal ticket system were instituted at Juniata, as it has been at many other college students were given a financial choices as to whether or not to take their meals here, no one would be able to gripe legitimately.

Something must be done!

Letters To The Editor

Editor, the Juniatian:

May I take this opportunity to apologize publicly, as a member of the Homecoming Queen election committee, to Squeegee Holsinger for the rude way in which she was treated by ticket takers Saturday at the entrance to College Field.

Miss Holsinger, it seems, misplaced her ticket book in the excitement of getting ready for Saturday's game, one of the Homecoming events over which she was to preside with the queen. She was at first refused admission because she was "just one of the students." Does this imply that being "just one of the students" is synonymous with "dishonest"?

It is understandable that these people have a job to do and that some college students, in spite of what the catalog says ("failure to give truthful testimony to a college official . . . usually (leads) to dismissal . . ."), might try to cheat their alma mater out of a dollar. However, Miss Holsinger, the choice of the student body to preside with the queen over Homecoming activities and a Senator, hardly would fall into this category.

Again allow me to say, "We're sorry, Squeegee, for the little black spot in what otherwise must have been a wonderful day for you. Perhaps some day a student's word will be enough at Juniata."

George Fattman

"BILIOUS" SLANDEROUS

Dear Editor,

In the past two years many students of many types have taken the opportunity to air their differences with fellow students, faculty, and administration through Letters to the Editor. This is as it should be.

However, it often happens that some take advantage of present editorial policy to write particularly slanderous letters couched in extremely puerile terms. Almost invariably it follows that the authors of such letters, afraid for their reputations, prefer to remain anonymous to their readers.

Freedom of expression is essential to our democracy, but it is nonetheless true that people must be responsible for what they say.

May I suggest that the Editor appropriately cease to allow such "bilious" persons to hide behind her skirts?

Pete Wright

The Juniatian policy on Letters to the Editor is the same as that of most newspapers — letters must be signed but names will be withheld on request.

ED.

To the Editor:

I like moldy Lebanon Bologna!

ENTHUSED

news views . . .

"Why I Plan To Vote For Ike"

by Newt Taylor

The choice of a national executive demands the most careful consideration. After carefully weighing the facts, issues, and personalities involved, I have decided to vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower for the following reasons:

1. The President of the U. S. is the man the American people look to for leadership. Dwight Eisenhower has perhaps been the most forceful, dynamic, and inspired leader that our nation has ever had. In his personal life he has followed the highest standards of human conduct. The morale tone of his administration has been very high. He has tremendously raised the respect and prestige of his office.

Dwight Eisenhower refuses to regard America as made up of warring groups. He has eliminated name calling. He has had great success in working with political opponents. He continually stresses the interests that all groups have in common. At the same time he has applied firm influence toward the equalizing of rights and opportunities of minority groups.

Admirable Balance

2. The Eisenhower Administration has strengthened the United States and the free world through its foreign policy and defense program. In matters of defense, his administration has struck an admirable balance between the stupendous cost of military weapons and the needs of a prepared and efficient armed service. It is indeed comforting to realize that our defense set-up is being supervised by the man who directed the victory in Europe in World War II.

In the field of foreign policy the Eisenhower Administration has had a hand in overturning Communist governments in Iran and Guatemala. SEATO was created. Western European Union replaced the crumbling EDC. West Germany was brought into NATO. The Caracus Pact has strengthened the U. S. in the western hemisphere. Numerous defense treaties have been made with other friendly nations.

To those who cry about defenses and disintegrating alliances, I have only to quote the words of former President Truman in July 1956 at the end of a long European vacation: "I leave Europe convinced that the free nations of the West are in a much better position today to meet the threat of the Russians than they have been at any time since the war."

Utopian Economy

3. The Eisenhower Administration has achieved economic goals thought possible only in a Utopia. We have full employment, high industrial production, an expanding gross national product, and a sound dollar. Because inflation was halted, recent wage increases have meant a higher standard of living for all Americans. The future is bright because of the confident expansion of American industry.

This has not happened by chance. Sumner Slichter, the noted Harvard economist says, "The President has provided himself with far more competent economic advice than any other President has ever possessed." This prosperity has been tremendously aided by sound fiscal policy. Government spending has been cut, and the budget balanced. At the same time the largest tax cut in American history was granted.

However, the threat of inflation is very real. Any lapse from the stringent economic measures could produce a wild inflationary spree which would wipe out the present economic gains.

Progress

4. The Eisenhower Administration has brought real progress to our nation. The St. Lawrence Seaway will soon open the Great Lakes to transoceanic shipping. For the first time since 1938 major increases and coverage extensions have been made in both Social Security and the minimum wage.

Tremendous strides have been made in the development of atomic energy for peacetime uses. Discrimination against the Negro has been ended in the armed services and in the District of Columbia. Th President's Committee on Government Contracts has done much to eliminate discrimination in industry. The participation of the Federal government in the various social services has been increased.

High Principle

5. The President has applied high principle in the face of intense political pressure in numerous instances when he has been faced with grave decisions.

A. A new and enlightened approach gives hope to settling major farm problems and strengthening the economic position of the farmer.

Non-Interference

B. The federal government has stayed out of labor-management relations and allowed each side to negotiate without pressure from positions of equal strength.

C. Numerous programs have been handled through the state government rather than increase the concentration of governmental power in Washington.

D. The Dixon-Yates contract indicates a desire to let private enterprise handle government business where possible.

Peace

6. The President has made a tremendous contribution to world peace. He made unceasing efforts to end the war in Korea. Without appeasement or dishonor to the United States he prevented the possibility of our becoming involved in a war in Indo-China, the Formosa Straits, and the Suez area. The Trieste problem, at one time a major threat to peace in the Balkans, has been worked out. Eastern Austria was freed from Russian control, the nation united, and granted independence.

The President fired the imagination of the world when he made his Atoms for Peace proposal in 1953. His sincerity in seeking to end the arms race was clearly shown when he presented his Open Skies plan. His every word, act and deed at the Geneva Conference was to impress upon all the nations of the earth the sincere desire of the United States for peace.

Nixon Able

7. Since the 1952 election both candidates have been hospitalized for serious ailments. It is therefore most important that we consider the Vice-Presidential candidate. Richard Nixon has ably presided over meetings of the cabinet and the National Security Council. He has done an outstanding job in numerous world tours as the President's personal ambassador

I believe Mr. Nixon to be better qualified to assume the duties of the United States Presidency than any previous Vice President in the history of the Republic.

On the collective strength of these arguments I think it to be in the best interest of the United States that Dwight Eisenhower be re-elected President of the United States.

NEXT WEEK: "Why I plan to vote for Adlai Stevenson," by Jim Montgomery.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

I WISH HE COULD BE LIKE OTHER PROFS AN' JUST LAUGH AT THE WRONG ANSWERS!

campus capers

Overheard on campus during the past few weeks:

At The Stadium — When the score stood 44-0 last Saturday one overjoyed student commented that at last we were avenging Dickinson for the 43-0 drubbing they gave us in 1921. As things turned out, though, we might have to wait another 35 years. Tough break!

* * * *

First student — "I go to the dining hall because I know I'd keel over if I didn't."

Second student: "I don't go because I know I'd keel over if I did."

* * * *

In The Classroom—very modest ethics student to class: "I think I'm bringing out Mill's true meaning."

* * * *

Prof. to class: "If you copy from one source, that's plagarism; if you copy from more than one source, that's research."

* * * *

Eavesdroppers And Editors Seldom Hear Good.

A student was telling a very prominent campus administrator about a friend of his who was interested in coming to Juniata. "Well don't send him the Juniatian," the administrotor warned, "or he won't be interested very long."

* * * *

Ike, On Adali (Possibly a collegiate application, too?) "The person who lectures the longest usually knows the least."

JC Meets Drexel Dragons Tomorrow

The Juniatian
SPORTS
Friday, October 26, 1956 Page 3

From The Bleachers

by Bill Mariotti

Pre-season optimism was a scarce commodity concerning Juniata's cross country team, but now Coach Snider has plenty to spare when his harriers are mentioned.

Thus far he has had the horses and record to back him up. At this point they have disposed of Elizabethtown and of Muhlenberg in fine fashion.

But it is generally agreed that, today, at Reading, they will face their sternest opposition in their quest for an undefeated season. They met an Albright squad which they downed by one point in an exhibition match last season. Certainly it would be quite a feat and everyone is pulling for them to make their first x-country season an unbeaten one.

The most points a Juniata team ever compiled against a Dickinson team was amassed here last week when the tribe piled up 44 ..... At this stage in the season "Skip DiMarco is the leading Indian ground gainer with 174 yard[s]. Skip is averaging 5.8 yards a carry Going into tomorrow Drexel game Juniata has won 17 consecutive home games dating back to 1951.

Prediction Dept.

Last week was our best in the prediction department with seven out of eight. Our ledger for the season now shows 21 right and 11 wrong for a .656 percentage. This week we see Juniata over Drexel 19-6, though it could be much closer. MORAVIAN to down Albright in the sixth annual Pretzel game. LYCOMING to continue winning this time over Penn Military. SWARTHMORE to thrill their homecoming crowd by crushing Dickinson. Juniata's next opponent GROVE CITY, to continue their losing ways by bowing to Thiel. URSINUS should easily crumble hapless Wagner. Susquehanna to roll over Wilkes and finally, in the battle of unbeatens, Hamilton to nose out Haverford.

First Meeting Of Two Schools Since Indian Victory In 1942

by Wally Berkey

Juniata (2-1) meets Drexel Tech (2-2) as its opposition Saturday on College Field, bringing together two institutions that were undefeated in 1955.

In the 19th meeting Drexel is leading in the series with 11 wins and only five losses. Two games have been played to tie scores.

Drexel Tech under mentor Eddie Allen was undefeated in 1955. It was the first time in the college's history of 39 football seasons that they have had an unblemished record.

Thus far Drexel has downed Ursinus, 13-7, and Pennsylvania Military College, 44-21. The Dragons were defeated by New Haven State, 28-19, and West Chester STC, 13-7.

Lost 15 Lettermen

Fifteen lettermen have departed from last year's team of which six were top flight performers. Coach Allen will rely on 16 lettermen and 17 sophomores this year.

The Dragon's offense is built around co-captain quarterback Bill Zador. He has just established a new all-time Dragon career mark of 1,485 yards gained passing. This is his third season and he is a leading Little All America candidate.

Dragon left halfback Frank Russo, leading ground gainer, scorer and punter, is the workhorse, with Al Gambone at right half and former end Ron Klepinger, now at fullback.

Vince Vidas, first team Little All America tackle, is the other co-captain. Other line standouts are ends John Lesniewski, William Alter, and Iles Wauhop. The tackles are Ronald Kidd and Vidas. Harry Schmidt and Donald Whitney command the guard spots while John Eidenberg plays the center position.

Better Depth

The squad of 31 is small but it has better depth this year than in recent seasons.

Juniata Bounces Back From Lycoming Setback To Overrun Dickinson, 44-13

Vets, Collegians Only Football Teams Yet To Suffer Setback

The midway point of the IM football season finds two undefeated but twice tied teams on top of the heap.

Both the Vets and the Collegians have won four games apiece and are the strongest contenders for the intramural championship. Close on the heels of the two leaders are the Ubangies, Crazy Eights and the Crusaders, all of which have lost but one game.

In the nine games played last week, 6-0 forfeit scores determined the outcome of four of them. The Gestapo claimed a forfeit victory over the Hopper Squad on Tuesday and claimed another on Wednesday from the Six-60's.

Tuesday Games

In other games on Tuesday, the Crazy Eights and the Bull Dogs battled to a 66-6 tie while the Vets downed the Ubangies 6-0 for the win which put them in a first place tie.

Wednesday found the Ubangies pounding out a hard fought 18-0 victory over the Budddogs.

All of the games on Thursday were forfeits with the Six-Sixties bowing to the Ubangies and the Chipmunks dropping one to the Crusaders for their third straight loss. Neither team showed up for the Hopper Squad, Bulldog contest so the game will be rescheduled at a later date.

Indians' DiMarco Runs Foe Ragged

by John Jenkins

Recovering from a 13-6 defeat at the hands of Lycoming, Juniata gave Dickinson their fourth loss in five games this season by scalping them 44-13.

The win gave the Indians a 7-6 lead in the series which dates back to 1921.

Dickinson received the kickoff and was forced to punt. The Indians started to roll, driving to the Red Devils 30-yard-line before an intercepted pass stopped them. The rest of the first quarter saw Juniata on the offensive and Dickinson on the defensive with the Indians breaking through for a score in the fading minutes of the quarter.

Dimarco who was the workhorse Saturday, took a punt on his own 38 and returned it 21 yards to the Dickinson 41 before he was stopped. Six plays later Dimarco took the ball over from the JC three and Juniata lead 6-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Devils March to Five

During the second quarter Berrier intercepted a Dickinson aerial and returned it 12 yards, but then Woodside stole the ball from him and was tackled almost instantly. This seemed to give the Red Devils some steam, for they marched to the Indians' five before they were stopped.

JC scored two times at the end of the quarter. Hassinger broke loose on a 51 yard run then kicked the extra point. Then Dimarco intercepted a Red Devil pass and carried it to the Dickinson 10 before he was stopped. The half ended showing Juniata ahead 19-0.

Indians Roll

As the second half opened Juniata drove to the Dickinson 29, but had a pass pilfered by Dickinson on the Red Devils one yard line. Dickinson was forced to punt and the ball was returned to the Dickinson 15 by Hassinger. DiMarco then took the ball over for Juniata's fourth touchdown.

Three plays later after the kickoff, Berrier intercepted a Red Devil aerial and carried the ball 25 yards for the touchdown.

Again a Dickinson pass was intercepted by Juniata, this time by Trimber, who carried it to the Red Devils 19. From that point, Schwalenberg threw a 19 yard pass to Trimber good for the touchdown.

Trimber Scores Again

Juniata scored first in the fourth quarter after Trimber intercepted a pass and took it back to the Dickinson 32. From there Trimber carried it over for Juniata's final score of the afternoon.

Dickinson finally got into the scoring column with about 5½ minutes left in the game. They drove 50 yards, scoring on a 22 yard pass. Juniata fumbled the kickoff yith Dickinson revovering . The Red Devils then covered 25 yards in six plays to score their second touchdown.

Behind Lehman, Tribe Cross Country Squad Outruns Muhlenberg

by Chuck Brown

Paced by Herb Layman's second victory of the season, Juniata's cross-country team won its second meet in a row against no defeats by downing Muhlenberg, 21-36, at Allentown last Friday.

Layman covered the four and one-eighth miles in 23:15 for his win. He was followed by Pierce Knauss of Muhlenberg. Knauss was timed in 24:44. Three Blue and Gold hilltoppers then flashed across the finish line to sew up the victory for JC. Grabbing off the third, fourth and fifth places were Herb Deuchar, Frank Hrach and Doug Wilson.

Other Scorers

Chuck Smith and Bob Sabol, both of the host school, finished in sixth and seventh place, respectively. Juniata's Chuck Brown followed them across the finish line. Inrian Ed Moore finished ninth and did not count in the official scoring, but he did push back the last two runners of Muhlenberg to help pad Juniata's lead. The Red and Gray's Bill Hoddacks and Ed Theiler were the last scorers.

Joe Senft and Jim Petitt also ran for the Blue and Gold. They both finished in front of Theiler, but did not count in the final scoring. Muhlenberg had one runner who did not finish the race

Today the JC harriers are in Reading to run against the very tough Albright cross - country squad.

Seniors Hold Lead In Girls' Hockey

With one half of the season over, the seniors are out in front of the girls intramural hockey league with a 2-0 slate.

The seniors defeated the juniors 4-0 earlier in the season and the runners-up frosh 6-0, Thursday, October 18. In the only other game played last week the sophomores defeated the winless juniors 2-0.

Dottie Stricker has been leading the scoring so far with seven goals for the senior team. Another senior, Nancy Bachman, is second in scoring with five goals.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Sodas - Sundaes
— Hot Dogs —
and Hamburgers
TEXAS LUNCH
7th Street

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

WANTED: Victorian Furniture
For Arsenic And Old Lace
Desk Sideboard Chairs Sofa Table
Contact Marjorie Snyder

RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS
HI FI 45 - Player $79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable $129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette $139.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Slay the Dragons
Bernie Predicts:
JC — 20
Drexel — 19
JC's FAVORITE
JEWELRY STORE
is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee
Under New
Management

Prize For Display Homecoming Goes To Outside Homes

The prize for the best Homecoming display was presented to the women in the outside residences.

Oliver the Octopus was made by the girls from Yoder House, NJ House, Hambacher House and the Home Management House.

All the girls from the outside homes participated in making the octopus under the chairmanship of Joyce Lashley. The football players were made by Home Management House.

The signs for the display were made by Hambacher House.

Yoder House and NJ House made the octopus.

Oliver was stuffed with newspapers and painted with gasoline and green oil pigment. His arms were 20 to 30 feet long. He has been stored and may be seen again on Parent's Day.

The prize for the winning display was 10 dollars Honorable mention went to Founder's Hall and their Old Woman in the Shoe.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

MURPHY'S
WOMEN & MISSES
IVY LEAGUE BLOUSES
$1.98

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SATURDAY
Richard Widmark
Felicia Farr in
The Last Wagon
Cinemascope and Color
MON. — TUES. — WED.
Tremendous Cast and Picture
The Power AND The Prize
— with —
Robert Taylor
Burl Ives
Charles Coburn
Sir Cedric Hardwicke
THURSDAY ONE DAY ONLY
Shows at 7 and 9
A Feature That Has Played The Studio Theatre in Phila., and Squirrel Hill in Pittsburgh we bring you
The Little Kidnappers

JBSF To Hold Party On Wednesday Night

Halloween is on its way and the JBSF has the answer for a night of fun for all Brethren students and their friends.

The Goblins' Gallop will be held Wednesday evening with all those interested meeting on Founders porch at 7:15 p.m. Transportation will be provided to the Grange Hall for games, singing and refreshments.

Amidon Reports JC Service Fund Campaign To Begin

continued from page 1

Waite, Janice Hoyer, Sally Grove, Ann Willson, Gini Nixdorf, Nancy Hess, Don Ruhl, Spencer Ward, Charlie Fox, George Beard, Bill Hershberger and Chuck Brown.

Proceeds from the all-college production of Arsenic and Old Lace which is to be presented in Oller Hall November 11 and 12 will go to JWSF along with student and club donations

Faculty to Wash Cars

Various projects and stunts will be promoted throughout the week to arouse student interest. One of the major events will be a faculty car wash which will take place Monday immediately following the noon meal. At this time teams of faculty members will wash the cars of the two highest bidders. Tuesday from 7:45 a.m. until 1:45 a. m. industrious shoeshine lads and lasses will be in business outside of Stndent Hall for a penny a shoe.

Freshman Queen

Five freshmen girls will be nominated as queen candidates and will receive a vote for each penny dropped into boxes in Totem Inn which will bear the girl's name and picture. (By the way bribes are permissible.)

The winner will be queen at the JWSF boy lunch social to be held Saturday, November 9. Watch the bulletin boards for specific information concerning each of these events.

JWSF CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Monday, October 29 — Faculty car wash behind Totem Inn following the noon meal.

Tuesday, October 30 — Shoe shine service from 7:45 a.m. to 1:45 a.m. in front of Students Hall

Wednesday, October 31 — Dr. Luther Hershberger, chaplain at Penn State to appear in Chapel.

Friday, November 2 — Dan Idzik, WUS representative, to speak in Chapel.

Saturday, November 3 — Box lunch social.

Monday, November 5 — Official opening of drive; Dave Amidon and Ross Nahrgang represent JWSF in Chapel.

Friday-Saturday, November 11-12 Arsenic and Old Lace presented in Oller Hall.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

WJC Returns To Air Monday

continued from page 1

door leading to the studio has been soundproofed, all records have been re-cataloged, two additional record services have been engaged, arrangements have been made with a downtown record shop to borrow all the recent releases and a complete program schedule has been prepared by program director Lou Palumbo.

A new list of rules for announcers and engineers has been issued. The regulations call for an outline of each show, including music to be played to be submitted to the appropriate department head at least several hours before air time for the show.

Barbara Walls is head of coverage of campus affairs, Bill Ebner is head of the sports department and Tom Chase has been named world newscaster.

Mostly Music

The program schedule shows that the most WJC shows will feature music, among them such favorites as the 1150 Club and Music to Study By. Other shows include coverage of world news, campus news and special events and sports and entertainment.

The WJC staff will consist of between 40 and 50 people, all students.

Many upperclassmen have been disturbed because the station is so late in returning to the air this year. About this chairman of communications George Fattman said, "Of course we regret that such an important campus communication has not been functioning, but I think that the improvements the WJC staff have made in their station have justified the delay."

Grand Opening Show

A half- hour grand-opening show has been scheduled for Thursday evening at 10:30. On hand will be station manager Carnahan and Senate President Jim Stayer among athers. The students are invited to come to the WJC studio for the occasion.

Financial Problems

WJC's major concern now, it was reported, will be paying for the various improvements and for keeping the station equipment functioning properly.

The Administration annually gives the station 25 dollars, as it had promised to do when WJC first went on the air. Since the Senate has started to give WJC an additional 25 dollars a year and the station manages to make about 40 dollars a year selling peanuts and cider at football games.

Thus WJC operates on less than 100 dollars per year whereas radio stations in schools of a corresponding size receive about 1,000 dollars yearly for expenses. According to Carnahan, this lack of revenue limits WJC considerably and adds to the problems of management.

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

Shop
The Ray English Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Senators To Seek NSA Affiliation; To Help Freshmen

The Senate voted Wednesday evening to become affiliated with the National Student Association.

The cost of the affiliation is 40 dollars for a college the size of Juniata, but the advantages of membership are many, according to President Jim Stayer.

The Senate moved that a program of aid be extended to freshmen, especially those in academic difficulty as indicated by mid-semester grades. This will be set up after mid terms and attendance will be on a voluntary basis. Upperclassmen will be on hand to help frosh with various academic problems.

Christmastime Workers

The Senate will ask the Faculty that students leaving school early for Christmas jobs during the week of December 16 be given permission to make up assignments "in appreciation and recognition to those Juniata students who must and do involve themselves in financial strugles for the benefit of an education."

Cafeteria Breakfast

Chairman of the committee to investigate, Newt Taylor, reported that he feels that there is a good possibility that breakfast can be served cafeteria style. He had been discussing the matter with President Ellis.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

"Coke does something for you, doesn't it."

You feel so new and fresh and good — all over — when you pause for Coca-Cola. It's sparkling with quick refreshment . . . and it's so pure and wholesome — naturally friendly to your figure. Let it do things — good things — for you.

DRINK Coca-Cola

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

The Juniatian

VOL. XXXIII No. 7 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 2, 1956

JCers Elect Four Judges To Judiciary

Runoff Necessary To Decide Court

Seniors Joan McClure and Henry Gibbel and juniors Meg Goodrich and Del McQuaide have been elected the student members of the newly formed Campus Judiciary.

The other five members of the judicial body are Eloise Holsinger, chairman of women's house; house; Dr. James Penny, dean of men; Miss Barbara Bechtel, dean Ray Ono, chairman of men's of women, and Dr. Donald Rockwell, faculty representative.

In Monday's election Miss McClure and McQuaide were elected on the first ballot. Since no others received a majority of the quorum of students, run-offs were held Tuesday in which Gibbel and Goodrich received a majority of votes over Dick Livingston and Eva Wagner.

The first meeting of the Judiciary was held Thursday at 10 a.m. At that time general rules and procedures were discussed, the faculty suggestions concerning by-laws were considered and a secretary was appointed. The next meeting was set for Wednesday afternoon.

Stan Davis

FIRST CJ JUDGES—Here are seven of the nine judges of the campus judiciary at Juniata. With Monday and Tuesday's elections for four students at large the personnel of the group was completed. Above are Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, chairman of men's house Ray Ono, Dean Barbara Bechtel, Meg Goodrich, chairman and Senate President Jim Stayer, chairman of women's house "Squeegee" Holsinger and Henry Gibbel. Dr. Donald Rockwell and Dr. James Penny were absent when the photograph was taken.

Box Social Highlight Of Saturday's Dance

Juniata World Service Fund is sponsoring a box social tomorrow at 8:15 in the Womens Gym.

All girls are to pack lunches that will be sold to the highest bidder.

A highlight of the evening will be the crowning of one of the following freshmen girls: Jane Herbster, Lucy Kriebel, Barbara McIntyre, Jill Muir or Ardee Neish.

The queen will preside over the evening activities.

The gym will be decorated in a money theme of green, silver and gold.

Senate Lays College Food Issue On Table

Pay Profs More, Ogre Group Says

What the Senate will do about the food served in the college dining hall remains to be seen.

The issue was tabled at Wednesday night's meeting because the Senators themselves could not agree on what steps, if any, should be taken.

A report from the orge committee by Dave Amidon recommended that the Senate favor placing reclaimation of College Field "at the bottom of a list of possible plant improvements." Amidon pointed out that the committee feels that increasing faculty salaries, enlarging the faculty and providing better classrooms, labs and on-campus living facilities would be more important undertakings.

CJ Vote Publication

Senate voted to publish Campus Judiciary vote totals in the future immediately after each election. No action was taken toward publishing this year's vote totals.

The constitution of the women's house committe was approved by the Senate. Only the student citizenship committee remains to approve the document.

Appointments

Gini Nixdorf was named assistant to placement bureau director Nancy Hess. Dottie Stricker was named coordinator of information coming to Juniata from National Student Association. LeRoy Forney was named manager of the skating pond, formerly known as operation recreation.

A committee headed by Dr. Kenneth Crosby and Newt Taylor is planning an election night "watch," a social affair where students could listen to election returns and have refreshments.

Ike Sweeps JC In Wednesday's Mock Election

Juniatians gave concrete evidence that they like Ike in a mock national election held on campus Wednesday.

The President received 258 votes to Stevenson's 69. Forty-seven percent of the student body voted in the Juniatian-sponsored event.

They also would like him to have a Republican Senate, if their vote for Senator Duff is any indication. He received 154 votes to Joseph Clark's 100. Only Pennsylvanians participated in the Senatorial election.

Chairman of elections Newt Taylor announced that he was disappointed that more students did not vote in the election. He claims that the Juniatian did not give students sufficient opportunity to exercise their franchise.

A spokesman for the Juniatian defended the way in which the campus weekly conducted the election and pointed out that students were given as much opportunity to vote in the mock presidential election as any other on campus. He blamed the low percentage of voters on general student apathy tofard national politics.

Assistant Director Gearhart Anticipates Arsenic's Success

by Carol Baish

Judy Gearhart, assistant director of the Masque's forthcoming production Arsenic and Old Lace, has stated that she feels highly confident in the successful presentation of this comedy.

As assistant to director James Bray, Miss Gearhart has varied duties to perform, including conferring with him on the many technical problems of play production such as stage directions, set design and acting. She also coordinates the work of the various committees and sets up the rehearsal schedules.

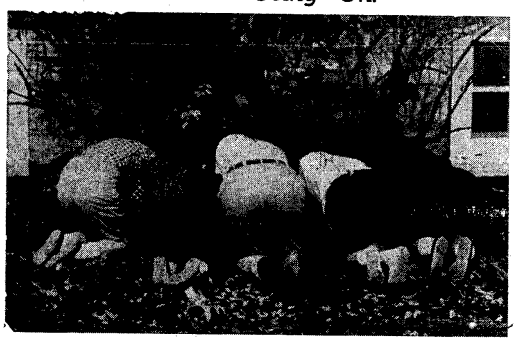
Miss Gearhart mentioned further that she is pleased with the way everyone connected with the play has taken such a large part in helping make it a creditable Parents Day presentation.

Cheering Session To Dispatch Team

A scream for the team will take place this morning at 11:30 a.m. at Memorial gym.

Because of the length of the trip to Grove City, the fighting Indians will board the bus at that time. NancyNevin, captain of the cheerleaders, asks that a rousing crowd turn out to send them off.

What Is Going On?



Rick Bell

Senator Ann Willson appears to be involved in another of the Senate's clandestine activities, but it's just one of student government's more recent projects—Operation Posy. Miss Willson and her friends planted hundreds of bulbs during the past several weeks so that come spring the campus will be brightened with flowers. Her cohorts in this sub-forsythia undertaking are Lil Simons, (Miss Willson), Dave Amidon, Alice Waite and June Gray.

Juniatian Circulation Off-Campus Doubles

Juniatian off-campus circulation has hit an all time high almost doubling last year's output.

Last year's figures showed a complete circulation of 369 copies. This year the number is about 891.

Subscriptions to parents number 407. Approximately 75 copies are sent as admission samples and 40 each year go to other colleges on an exchange basis. Those remaining are sent to alumni and various high schools.

Liken Profs To Animals

Graduation Like Ball Game At St. Andrews U., JCer Tells

by Bruce Dickey

ED. NOTE—Bruce Dickey, a member of the class of '58 who is spending his junior year at St. Andrews University in Scotland, writes of commencement there.

Commencement signifies the beginning of a new phase of life, and so does graduation at St. Andrews.

At Juniata it is a solemn, serious occasion, but here —!

The procession of students formed in the quadrangle by seniority, with men preceding women. Two long red lines filed out into the street and wound its way, in serpentine fashion back and forth to Younger Hall. There was singing and cheering on the way, but once the older students were inside the hall they created a roar which was not unlike that preceding a basketball game at JC.

As we bejants and bejantines entered the hall, we noticed that in contrast to the loud upperclassmen the faculty were sitting quite properly amidst the singing and shouting, a hail of toilet paper streamers and other missiles and odd sounding whistles and toots.

As the faculty — some in brightly colored robes — proceeded down the aisle, they were serenaded with "the animals came in two by two"! It was quite shocking to us Americans, but apparently the profs expected it. Quiet reigned during the invocation, but the Latin of the other ffoicial proceedings was punctuated with whistles, toots and stamping of feet.

As each of the few more than 70 degree candidates was called, an ovation ensued, its intensity determined by the student's popularity, and as the hood was draped about each neck, a long whistle pierced the air.

And the two new professors who were installed, with much formality and Latin, received just as much attention from the rowdies as the graduates!

Some more quiet crept in during the benediction, and the recessional was solemnized by a dignified rendition of Gaudeamus Igitur.

Such is life in this part of our small world.

Dormitory Laying Of Cornerstone Saturday, Nov. 10

The laying of the cornerstone of the new women's dorm will take place on Parents Day, November 10, at 11:15 a.m.

Ceremonies will be held at the corner of 8th and Oneida streets. President Ellis will give the invocation and the college band will provide music for the event.

At the dedication will be Eloise Holsinger, chairman of women's house; Henry Gibbel, president of the board of trustees; Dale Detwiler, chairman of the building committee for the board of trustees, and a representative of the Bogar Construction Company.

Christians To Discuss Militarism, Pacifism

Militarism versus pacifism will be the topic of discussion at JCA's next two meetings.

The Rev. Rodney Taylor, a reserve chaplain, and Bob McFadden will speak on this issue. Questions to be considered include which shall we choose, or is there is a choice; is not one ideology; can we uphold Christian ethics and continue to fight.

JCA president Kerin Narbut feels that recent world tension makes the discussion of this topic timely. Students are invited to come to the meetings and share their opinions.

Campaigner Nixon Downtown Today

It will be the Republicans' turn to shine this afternoon when their vice-presidential candidate Richard Nixon stops in Huntingdon on a whistle-stop tour of Pennsylvania.

Nixon is expected to arrive anytime after 2 p.m. As did Stevenson, he will make a short speech from the train platform.

Sandy Cohick, Juniata sophomore, will board the train to present Nixon with flowers. Miss Cohick is from the Nixon's hometown, Whittier, Cal.

JWSF Solicitors To Educate First, Then Seek Funds

Juniata World Service Fund heads into its crucial week of personal contact and solicitation under the slogan "Understand JWSF — then Give!"

Over 100 students representing most segments of the student population have been organized to do this intensive soliciting. Armed with facts and ideas individual agents will become responsible for contacting about 10 of the student body at large.

Efforts to educate the campus will not be successful unless, according to JWSF Chairman Dave Amidon, "individual students themselves put forth a real effort to understand what JWSF is all about and why it deserves to exist."

editorially speaking . . .

A Necessary Evil

Since the new activities booklet system has been instituted, many student complaints have been registered against it—on the grounds that the booklets are inconvenient, unnecessary, and that administrative policy on them is too rigid.

In fact, students were indignant this week when it was rumored that a compatriot, identity unknown, who had lost his booklet was required to pay $1.50 admission to the Drexel game. John Fike, College Treasurer and ticket seller at the game, when approached on the matter, claimed he knew of no such instance.

Records Kept

If a student were to lose his activities booklet, a new one could be issued, as records are kept of those students who have purchased and picked up their booklets, according to Fike. However he contends that no one reported a loss to him.

Furthermore, a student, upon identifying himself as such, would not be required to purchase a $1.50 ticket, but a student ticket at a cost of 75c. Students who neglect to bring their tickets to events and who do not wish to return to the dorm for them, must purchase a student ticket.

Not Unreasonable

This is not too unreasonable, for the college would be defeating the purpose of the system if it were to issue these booklets and then not require them to be presented. Also, the rule must be enforced uniformly, as it would be unfair to make concessions to one student and not another, except in rare cases.

Most colleges employ this booklet system, Fike pointed out. The major purpose of it is to maintain an accurate attendance count, a function for which the old type card system was inadequate, he concluded.

Granted the system is a bit inconvenient, but remembering an activities booklet is a small enough thing to ask. Why not grit and bear it?

'Efficiency Expert' Has Plan To Expedite Oneida Eating

by George Fattman

Since the trend in Oneida Dining Hall is to rush to get the food served in time to send for seconds, rush to clear the table before announcements and rush to beat the other table to getting dessert, it seems expedient and interesting if not proper to consider a plan whereby eating in the college dining hall can be hastened without cutting down the amount of food consumed or changing radically the customs involved in obtaining our meager sustenance.

Here then is a plan for eating efficiently in the dining hall:

First, after a meal or two, the head of the table should re-seat the other seven people at his table according to how fast they eat. The slowest eater should be reprimanded diplomatically and seated next to the head.

Gets Plate First

This is for two reasons: first, the head can keep closer tabs on him and see that he does not play with his salad or spend too long buttering his bread. Also, the slow eater can get his plate first and thus have a head start on the rest of the table.

Preferably the table head should eat at Skip's just before the meal so that he doesn't have to waste any time eating, but can supervise the general operation.

Remove Ketchup Lid

Since it is against the rules of the Tables Hear's Companion to serve any food before the prayer, each item of food should be lined up, one in front of each diner so that at the final gong after the prayer the milk can be poured (into four glasses pushed together), the butter scored, the bread dumped off the plate, the lid removed from the ketchup and the vegetables and main dish served quickly as possible.

Needless to say, the count for coffee or tea at the first meal should suffice throughout the diner's stay at that particular table. If they drink coffee once, they can drink it every time.

Democratic Dining

As soon as seconds come back, they should be immediately served, right on top of the first portion, so that the serving dishes can be cleared before announcements.

Since this is a democracy, tables should be cleared as soon as a majority at the table appears to be reasonably finished. The rest simply push what's left on their plate onto a slice of bread or the salad plate.

Assign Extras

While the waitress is gone for dessert, the cookies or crackers should be served so that they aren't in the way to take up time dunking them in the dessert proper. Should more dessert be brought than there are people at the table, they should bbe assigned immediately to someone rather than waiting until the desserts have been eaten and everyone sits looking at everyone else waiting for someone to eat the leftover desserts.

As you rush from the dining hall you will notice that you've saved 10 minutes, just enough time to run to Skip's for bicarbonate of soda.

on other campi . . .

Richmond Student Has Bright Idea To "Spice Up" Theme Reader's Job

by Barb Smathers

Say hey, gang, it's travel time once again one - two - three and we're off!

Charles Thomas, writer for Richmond Professional Institute's Proscript, is rebelling against freshmen themes enttiled How I Spent My Summer Vacation or My Happiest Day This Summer. After some thought on the problem he has come up with substitute titles like How to Sponge Off Your Parents for a Summer, How I Rammed My Motorcycle Through a Police Roadblock and That Big All-night Beach Party. - - - - How about it Frosh, anything to say on the matter???

* * * *

From the Westminister Holcad comes this gem: "You have all heard about industrious students who get so wound up in their major that it is constantly on their mind. One good example of this was the chemistry major who wrote a term paper about Adam and Eve and during the whole theme referred to them as Atom and Eve."

* * * *

Came across this comment in the Comedian from Moravian College after Moravian's drubbing byJC the previous weekend: "Accomodatinos for the football team at the Hotel Huntingdon were very nice, but the only trouble was that a freight train passed in back of the hotel every 10 minutes." — Could this be a rationalization for their defeat?

* * * *

A letter to a teen-age counseling column read: "I am only 19, and I stayed out until two o'clock the othen night. My mother objects. Did I do wrong?" — The answer was: "Try to remember." (The Collegian from Stockton College, California.)

* * * *

Enough from "hither and yon" for this time. Bye, all!

From The Mailbag

Dear Editor:

I am afraid I have to disagree with one of your statements made in the October 26 editorial.

I feel the statement "veterans say they'd rather eat in the army should be changed to "some of the veterans say." I am a veteran and since I have returned to Juniata I have said "I would rather eat at Juniata any time than to have to eat in the mess halls of the USMC." One of the reasons that I returned to Juniata was that I knew I would be able to get well-prepared meals at what I consider reasonable prices.

I do not consider a little over 11 dollars a week an outrageous price to pay for food. Also, I seem to remember that for an evening meal we get swiss steak, veal cutlets, fried ham and many other substantial foods.

In closing I would like to say "boo" for the students who pile up plates with food not to be eaten "so we will not get it in some other form" and hurray for Miss Mathias for enabling me to get through school for a minimum without endangering my health.

Respectfully submitted,
Louis R. Anderson

ED. NOTE—"Veterans", "transfer students", and "students who have returned from the JC Blair Memorial Hospital" were not supposed to be all-inclusive terms; the word "some" was meant to be implied.

REALLY "BILIOUS"

Editor:

But my name really is Bilious.

BILIOUS

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office throughout the college year except during vacation and examination of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ..... Joan McClure
MANAGING EDITOR ..... George Fattman
NEWS EDITOR ..... Barb Walls

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Wool N Wash
FOR COLD WATER WASHING of Woolens, Synthetics, and all fine fabrics
A Must For Every College Girl
Dank's & Co.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking
in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs
ever!
SMITHFIELD

news views . . .

"I'll Vote For Adlai"

by Jim Montgomery

The amount of indecision suffered by a voter is in direct proportion to the amount of thoughtful consideration he gives the candidates and issues.

The more a person reads and thinks about the election, the more he becomes convinced that this is not a struggle between good and evil, light and darkness or black and white. Rather it is an exersise in evaluating varying shades of grey—and 'oft times these shades are bewilderingly mixed and damnably small in variation.

But yet, despite the indecision, despite the doubt, November 6th is fast approaching and the ballot must be marked, the choice made. so perhaps, at this stage, it is possible to support one candidate or the other with somewhat the same enthusiasm of the bar-fly who'll vote for Eisenhower because he has a nice familly-ife and no divorce or for Stevenson because Ike plays too much golf.

Voted on Faith

Four years ago the people were given a choice between two men. Neither man had ever been president and so the people had to vote on faith. The country placed its faith in Eisenhower as its leader.

The country is once again faced with the same choice and if it can be demonstrated that the nation's faith in Eisenhower's leadership was not justified it behooves us to give the other man a chance.

I firmly believe that neither Stevenson or Eisenhower would take the country down the road too domestic or economic ruin. This then, leaves the greater burden of consideration to foreign affairs, the most important real issue. Here we see that the President has not justified the faith of 3½ years ago.

Dearth of Ideas

Generally, the Administration's conduct of foreign affairs has been marked by a dearth of new ideas and a series of rather glaring blunders on the part of Dulles.

Russian policy has shifted since the death of Stalin and the Geneva Conference and there has been a corresponding shift in our policy. Consequently, the Soviet has reaped well, they have a long sought for foothold in the Middle East, they have gained important economic ties with India, (we haven't had an ambassador there for 6 months) and they have made tremendous propaganda gains in the Far East.

While Russia wins support in the neutral bloc, Eisenhower says one day that neutrality is legitimate and the very next day Dulles calls neutrality immoral. While Russia gains footholds in India, Nixon tours that country and tells them they're either for us or against us and Dulles makes his Goa blunders.

The Polish and Hungarian uprising are recent Saviet set-backs engendered in large part by Stalin's death, let us hope that the Republicans are not so banal as to claim credit for them. The Polish government has said they would brook no U. S. interference and it is interesting to note that both in Poland and Hungary our ambassadors were out of the country when the riots erupted.

Sensitive Awareness

On the other hand, in contrast to this directionless policy, a careful examination of Stevenson's speeches and statements during the last four years shows a sensitive awareness to the social revolution in Africa and Asia. His utterances reflect the liberal, forward-looking position that is needed to lead us in this time of world crisis. He has behind him a party that has no definite isolationist bloc to hinder him whereas Eisenhower is encumbered by the albatross of the recently resurgent Old Guard.

The Republicans have attempted to set three boundaries of consideration in this campaign; the water-front the stomach and the present. Within these limits a cogent case may be argued for Eisenhower. But, the limits are specious and an examination of the reality beyond them shows the dangerous complacency of the present Administration.

Vote For Adlai

For these reasons; a need for strong leadership, Eisenhower's repudiation of the electoral faith of 52, and the then necessary corollary of giving the other man a chance, I shall vote for Adlai Stevenson.

Joe Trimber's Sparkling Running Paces Tribe To Win Over Drexel

by John Jenkins

Drexel finally got their chance to strut before Juniata, but "old warhorse" Joe Trimber proved to be too much for highly touted Bill Zador and Little All-American Vince Vidas, as Trimber romped for two touchdowns.

Trimber's two touchdowns came on runs of 37 and 42 yards as he piled up a yardage of 145 yards in 18 carries.

Although neither team scored in the first quarter, Juniata looked to be the superior team. The Indians attacked the interior of the Drexel line and found sizeable holes. Midway through the first quarter JC began to move as they carried the ball from their own 15 to Drexel's 38, but their drive was stopped as they received a 15 yard penalty and the quarter ended in a 0-0 tie.

Juniata Scores First

Midway through the second quarter Juniata broke into the scoring column. The Indians had the ball on the midfield stripe, Hass ripped off 13 yards and then Trimber drove through the right tackle slot for 377 yards and Juniata's first touchdown. Hass missed the extra point and Juniata led by a score of 6-0.

Soon after the first touchdown, the Indians held the ball on the Drexel 27, due to a poor punt by Zador. Four plays later Sopata scored on a 16 yard run shaking off tacklers all the way to the goal line. Schwalenberg missed the try for the extra point.

After the kickoff Zador filled the air with aerials and hit Spadaccini with a tremendous pass on Juniata's 15 and Spadaccini raced the remaining 15 yards into the end zone for the touchdown.

The extra point was missed and JC led 12-6 at half-time.

Juniata Comes Back Strong

The first time JC got its hands on the ball in the second half they scored. Joe Trimber again raced through right tackle to score on a 42 yard run. This time Hassinger made the extra point and the score stood at 19-6.

Drexel received the kickoff and moved to the Juniata 15 before Fagan intercepted a Zador pass.

Early in the fourth period Drexel had a golden opportunity when a Juniata punt went out of bounds on their own 17. However Staley recovered a fumble on Juniata's 10-yard line and the ball was punted out to the Indian 31. From there it took Drexel just three pleys to hit pay-dirt and the score was 19-13.

Drexel tried to score with passes and got as far as the 38 where JC took the ball on downs and held it until the clock ran out.

JC Indians Will Journey To Grove City To Face Winless Wolverines Tomorrow

Juniata College (3-1) will attempt to extend its new 2 game win streak Saturday at the expense of Grove City (0-5).

The 11th meeting of the two teams will be played at Grove City. Juniata leads the series to date, winning eight of ten games already played and the last six contests in a row.

Although the Indians won 47-0 in 1955. the Wolverines compiled the highest one-game score winning 60-0 in the initial contest in 1927.

To date the Wolverines have not been able to win in five contests. They have lost to Washington & Jefferson 21-12, Westminster 66-0, Hiram 31-7, Allegheny 25-19, and Thiel 59-7.

Sophomores Predominate

The sophomore studed line-up will have Andrew Fiorentine, Everett Lyle, Donald Seitzinger, and Earl Stout returning at end positions.

The interior linemen are Gary Brewer and Tom Duessel at tackles, Don Caroleo, Clark Matthew and Richard Cross at the guard posts and Lee Cunningham and Dean Passmore at center. All are veterans from last year's football squad.

The backfield veterans are Bailey Nelson and James Thompson at quaterback, Don Evans, Ron Kavel, Frank Betti, Brian Rooney and Richard Wolfe at the halfback spots and Bob Borland and Jim Cross at fullback.

Only two players, the senior co-captains will be missing from last year's squad.

The Juniatian

SPORTS

Friday, November 2 1956 Page 3

Rick Bell

This shot, while it proves nothing, signifies how closely fought the JC-Drexel game was last Saturday. An unidentified Indian (ball in circle) didn't get too far on this play in spite of help from the big whiter in the center of the photo. The Tribe chalked up a 19-13 win.

From the Bleachers

by Dave Suloff

I guess the undefeated spirit of Juniata is still with us, for the JC cross-country team has recorded three straight victories with out a loss, recording wins over Elizabethtown, Muhlenberg. Albrigth.

The latter, Albright, was regarded as having a strong team, but JC downed them handily last weekend, 23-36. Actually eight of the first eleven finishers were from JC.

In regard to Juniata's victory over Elizabethtown, the E-town college paper had this to say in their headlines:

"E-town harriers lose to experienced Juniata squad"

Actually this is Juniata's first season as a varsity intercollegiate cross-country team, and they could hardly be considered to be "experienced" at that sort of thing, even though they had several practice meets last fall. Nonetheless, let us say "hats off" to a fine cross-country squad and to the fine job that they are doing in representing our college.

* * *

Turning to football, we see that JC faces winless Grove City as tomorrow's opponent. The Grovers were thumped pretty hard by Thiel last week to the tune of 59-7. The win was the second of the season for Thiel. As for the Indians, their record stands at three wins and only a single loss.

Here is somthing for you guys who go for comparative scores. Juniata downed Drexel, 19-13; Drexel downed PMC, 44-12; PMC downed Lycoming, 14-13; and Lycoming downed the Indians, 13-6. It just goes to show you that this "oval" sport is really mixed up when it comes to predicting anything.

* * *

As far as our predicting department goes, well things are looking up. Last week's log saw six right and only two wrong to bring the total to 27 right and 13 wrong for a .675 mark. As for this week, this is the way things look:

JUNIATA 35, Grove City 6; Indians make it four for five on the season. DREXEL over Western Maryland; Dragons even season slate at three and three. Penn State over Syracuse; Lions in a squeaker over the Orangemen!!! Susquehanna oevr Wagner; Crusadrs looking to a good season. PMC over Wilkes; Soldiers continue to roll after win over Lycoming. West Chester St. over Millersville St.; Rams have it easy this week!! Harvard over Pennsylvania; Red and Blue take it on the chin again .... Haverford over URSINUS; Fords rebound after being trounced by Hamilton, Lehigh over Temple; Engineers could have a rough time with this one !!!!!

Indians Unbeaten Harriers To Run Handicap Today

JC hilltoppers have an open date today, so coach Mike Sniler is having the squad run a handicap race to keep in shape for next Saturday's important test against Franklin and Marshall.

Snider is offering three medals to the first three finishers in today's run.

Led across the finish line again by Herb Layman, the Juniata cross-country team racked up its third straight win of the season by defeating Albright, 23-36, at Reading last Fridal.

Layman, in garnering his third win of the season, was clocked in the good time of 23:09 over Albright's 4.2 mile course. Herb Deuchar of the Indians was timed in 23:49 and raced across the finish line in second place. Ten seconds later the home team's first man, Don Gottshall, finished. Fourth place was taken by the Lion's George Mack. The Blue and Gold's Frank Hrach took fifth spot and was followed by Dick Thrasher of Albright.

The Indians then sewed up the meet as they swept the next five places in an impressive display of team strength. Doug Wilson and Chuck Brown, who finished seventh and eighth, respectively, closed out the official scoring for JC. The other three Brave thinclads, Ed Moore, Jim Pettit and Joe Senft, forced the Lion's last two scorers, Randy Herzog and Willard Stitzell, into eleventh and 12th places for scoring purposes.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL STANDINGS

as of Friday October 26,

A total of 11 games will be played by each team.

	W	T	L
Vets	7	2	0
Collegians	6	2	0
Ubangies	6	0	2
Crazy Eights	6	1	1
JC Seniors	5	0	4
Bull Dogs	4	2	2
Crusaders	3	2	3
Gestapo	3	1	3
Day Students	2	0	4
Chipmunks	1	0	7
Six-Sixties	1	0	9
Hopper Squad	0	0	7

Seniors Leading Women's Hockey

Senior women lead IM hockey, 3-0.

The freshmen hold second place with a 1-1 record, while the sophomores have one win and two losses to their credit. The scoreless juniors remain in the cellar with two losses and no wins.

In the only game played last week, the leading seniors defeated the third place sophomores 3-0.

The pacesetters in the scoring department thus far are Dottie Stricker, a senior, who has eight goals to her credit and Nancy Bachman, another senior, with seven goals. The high scorer for the frosh this year is Carol Beard, who has made three goals.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

All The Way, Tribe
Bernie Predicts:
Juniata — 41
Grovers — 0
JC's FAVORITE
JEWELRY STORE
is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS
HI FI 45 - Player $79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable $129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette $139.95
Tape Recorder $159.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Gifts To Service Fund Bring Foreign Students To Campus

by Kenneth Crosby, Advisor of IRC

In Erich Remarque's novel, All Quiet on the Western Front, some German soldiers discuss the reasons for World War I.

They end on a frustrating note, realizing that they have no real quarrel with Frenchmen whom they do not even know.

Here at Juniata our whole community has an excellent opportunity to deal with this matter through the JWSF campaign. One portion in particular, the Foreign Students Aid Fund, meets the problem at the personal level. The benefits are obvious: we learn to appreciate their cultures and they can interpret American values to their countrymen on returning home.

In consequence of this program since 1949 eight former Juniatians are today better equipped to live constructive lives. In West Germany they serve in the diplomatic corps, study medicine and dentistry, help administer an airline and teach in the school system.

An Austrian has migrated to Canada where he fills a managerial post. Of the women a Russian refugee is connected with the UN and a Korean has married the naval attache of her country in Washington where she is continuing her studies. Finally Paul Amash from Jordan is completing his work to our mutual satisfaction.

Chapel

November 5 — Dave Amidon, Ross Nahrgang represent JWSF in official opening of drive.

November 7 — Motion picture, River of the Crying Bird, Audubon Society Lecture.

November 9 — President Ellis.

Amidon's Picture Really Got Around Before Publication

Few people realize the complexities involved in getting the Juniatian to press every week.

Take, for example, the complicated process that preceded the appearance of Dave Amidon's picture in last week's issue.

It started out in the filing cabinet of the News Bureau last Monday afternoon where a search for the picture was methodically undertaken by George Fattman and Bill Engel. Because of a recent moving of the cabinet, the picture was found after a long and tedious search upside down in the extreme rear of the wrong drawer.

The precious photo now found, it was placed in the capable hands of George Carnahan, business manager, Tuesday afternoon to be taken to be engraved.Needless to say somebody (not mentioning any names) goofed and Amidon spent a few unhappy hours in a Huntingdon gutter.

A Juniata student came to the rescue, however, found the picture and mailed it to Ann Willson who brought it to Fattman just in time for it to go to press with the Juniatian Thursday.

WUS Emphasizes Service Aspects

by Carol Titus, President of FTA

Common to the nomenclature of both JWSF and WUS are the words "world service."

Because of this concept of butual aid, the one-way idea of "sending help to needy students overseas" must be replaced by the more inclusive purpose of the World University Service, "to meet the needs of the university community throughout the world."

The fight against ignorance in the 31 countries which feel the effects of WUS takes many forms. WUS International Conferences talk of a concern for peace and international understanding while, at the same time, students receive health service, educational equipmnt, food, clothing and housing.

Besides this overseas aid, funds are spent in the United States on the DP Students Loan Fund and Scholarship program and on a college program of education for international understanding.

The two-fold job of each of us is to take advantage of the educational aspects as well as to give financial support to this "project in world community."

Prevailing Attitude In Missionary Field Against Christianity

by Bryan Stauffer, President of Brethren Fellowship

Political and economic changes in the last two decades have caused the Christian Church to modify its missionary programs.

The prevailing attitude is one of resistance to western culture with which Christianity has too long been identified.

Although the African mission field is younger than those of China and India, it appears that work there will not be halted for several years. Nigeria, the area in which Brethren Missions are concentrated, has undergone a dynamic political change in the past 50 years; one hundred nations are now united as one nation.

There has also been a religious change expressed by Dr. Stover alumnus of JC, who has served in Africa for 30 years.

"Education and contacts with the outside world brought paganism into disrepute. No educated person and few chiefs want to be known as pagans."

In addition to its preaching, mission work includes the educating of the African to his political responsibility, better health habits and improved farming methods. Through JWSF students we are a part of the autreach program of the Church; this fund helps support the work of Dr. Kulp, alumnus of JC, who has served in Africa for 30 years.

Library

All Citizens Should Know Powers, Responsibilities Of U.S. President

Candidates for the two highest offices in our country have stopped in Huntingdon while on whistle stop tours of Pennsylvania, newspapers and news commentators have quoted the four candidates and in many instances the men themselves have spoken on TV or radio.

The library asks: do you know the powers and responsibilities of the President of the United States? Two books by Edward Corwin will help students understand and appreciate what holding this high office entails. How the President initiates legislation, heads his party, originates foreign policy and reconciles special interest groups is explained in The Presidency Today. Another book on the subject is The President: Officers and Powers.

Sidney Hyman's The American President is an authoritative study of the presidency and the qualifications needed to fill the office.

Students Provide ICU Scholarship

by Dottie Stricker, Social Responsibilities Chairman, JCA

Students can give a 250 dollar scholarship that will maintain a Japanese scholar for a full year at the Japan International Christian University since each year a portion of the JWSF funds is sent to this young institution.

ICU is neither Japanese nor American. It is truly international in character, purpose, student body, faculty and curriculum. Everything is designed to interpret the world situation through an educational system which relates the individual student to the best in all nations.

Juniata's Size

Having opened the doors in 1953, it now boasts of an enrollment the size of Juniata's. Within the near future it plans to secure a charter for a graduate school, the greatest current need in the educational system of Japan, making it the first graduate level Christian university in the country.

Aiding this university affords each one of us an opportunity to export tangible materials and intangible ideas. Both Japan and America can learn and profit from one another, for from this institution will come Japan's leaders of tomorrow.

As students we owe our support to ICU .

HARRIS CLIFTON

NOW through SATURDAY
Jeff Chandler
Dorothy Malone
Ward Bond in
Pillars Of The Sky
Cinemascope and Color

MONDAY & TUESDAY
The story of the Pretty Teacher and the boy who grew up too fast
Esther Williams
George Nader
— in —
The Unguarded Moment
Color by Technicolor

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Robert Mitchum
Ursula Thiess
Gilbert Roland in BANDIDO
Cinemascope and Color

COMING SOON ! !
The Solid Gold Cadillac
The Best Things in Life are Free
Tea and Sympathy
Attack
High Society

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee
Under New Management

Keep Posted By Radio
- World News & Sports
- Entertainment
- Campus Events

Monday:
8:00-Music To Study By
8:45-Manhattan Melodies
9:00-Everybody Wins
9:30-Anything Goes
10:00-Recordland
11:00-Headline Edition
11:10-Sports
11:15-1150 Club

Tuesday:
8:00-Music To Study By
8:45-College News
9:00-This 'N' That
10:00-Lyon's Den
11:00-Headline Edition
11:10-Sports
11:15-1150 Club

Wednesday:
8:00-Music to Study By
8:45-Manhattan Melodies
9:00-Twenty Questions
9:30-Anything Goes
10:00-Recordland
11:00-Headline Edition
11:00-Sports
11:15-1150 Club

Thursday:
8:00-Music To Study By
8:45-Weekly News Roundup
9:00-Classics Corner
9:30-Hillbilly Hit Parade
10:00-Music in the Mood
11:00-Headline Edition
11:10-Sports
11:15-1150 Club

Friday:
8:00-Music To Study By
8:45-Sports Roundup
9:00-The Student Speaks
9:30-Showtime
10:00-Deviation
11:00-Headline Edition
11:10-Sports
11:15-1150 Club

Sunday:
10:00-JJ Show

1150 ON THE DIAL
IMPROVED RECEPTION

WJC The Voice Of Juniata College

"9 feel like a Coke. Do you?"

Of course. Most everyone does — often. Because a few moments over ice-cold Coca-Cola refresh you so. It's sparkling with natural goodness, pure and wholesome — and naturally friendly to your figure. Feel like having a Coke?

DRINK Coca-Cola

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. ©1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 8 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 9, 1956

Arsenic, Old Lace Parents Weekend Feature

Twirp Week Begins; Gals Make Dates, Pay

Beware all boys!

Twirp week (the woman is requested to pay) will start tomorrow and end Saturday, November 17.

This is the time when the campus coeds will pop the question for a date with their favorite male. Identical dress togs,will be in style next Saturday night so here's the chance for matching v-necks to make their appearance.

By the way, the girls are footing the bill. Nuff said?

"Killer" Conley, eligible bachelor, urges all girls to "put in their bids early."

Pep Rally Tonight At Memorial Gym

The band, majorettes, pompon girls and cheerleaders will be leading the Swarthmore pep rally tonight at 6:45 in front of Memorial Gym.

Part of the program will include a tumbling act and a switch of duties between the cheerleaders and majorettes. After the rally the band and students will go downtown to greet Swarthmore's Quakers.

In case of bad weather, the rally will be held inside Memorial Gym.

Texas U. Women Living In Hallways

(ACP)—The University of Texas was faced with quite a problem this fall.

It seems that it sent out more dormitory space contracts than there were available rooms. As a result, 16 students showed up with contracts, only to find that they didn't have a room. Since that time, they've been living in the dormitory hallways.

University officials indicated the extra contracts were mailed because some room cancellations were expected.

In Chapel—

November 12 — Dr. Henry

November 14 — Aria da Capo, a play reading by Dick Livingston and Jim Montgomery.

November 16 — JCA worship service.

Women Approve New Constitution

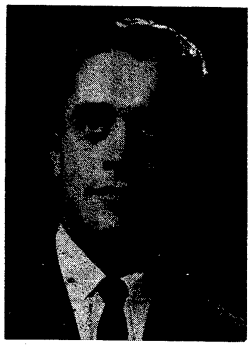
The new women's house constitution is now in effect, having been approved by the women's house committee, a majority of Juniata women, Dean Barbara Bechtell, the Senate and the citizenship committee.

Eleanor Newton was chairman of the committee in charge of drawing up this constitution which provides for a Women's House judiciary group.

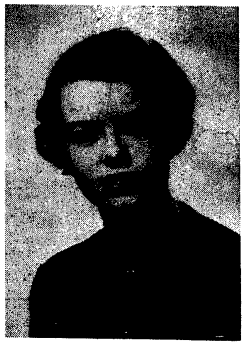
Classes Shorter Tomorrow

In order that classes may be completed tomorrow morning by 11:15 when the cornerstone laying for the new residence hall will take place, the following schedule will be in effect that morning.

First Period ---------- 8:00- 8:45
Second Period ------ 8:50- 9:35
Third Period -------- 9:40-10:25
Fourth Period ------ 10:30-11:15



• James Bray •



• Judy Gearhart •

Actors Become Directors

Weekend Events To Include Cornerstone Rite, Game, Play

by Emmalyn Heed

Tomorrow JC students, faculty, parents and guests will participate in the activities of Parents Day.

The schedule for the day will begin with a reception in the social rooms from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The registration will be explained at this time and information concerning places at which to eat and stay over night will be made available to those people without previous reservations.

Tickets will also be sold for the buffet luncheon, football game and Masque play. Due to the large crowd expected, it is advisable that guests eat early in order to arrive at the scheduled activities on time.

Weekend Schedule

SATURDAY

Welcome Reception 9 a.m.-1 p.m.
Social Rooms

Open House 10 a.m. - 12 noon
Residence Halls

Cornerstone Ceremony 11:15 a.m.
New Building Site

Buffet Luncheon 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.
Oneida Hall

Football game 1:30 p.m.
College Field

Post-Game Refreshments 3:30 p.m.
Memorial Gym

Open House 4-5 p.m.
Residence Halls

Masque Play 8:15 p.m.
Oller Hall

SUNDAY

President's Bible Class 9:30 a.m.
Founders Chapel

Worship services 10:45 a.m.
Huntingdon churches

Cornerstone Ceremony

At 11:15 a.m. there will be a cornerstone ceremony for the new women's residence hall at 18th and Oneida Streets. Students, parents, trustees, college officials and contractors will participate in laying the cornerstone for the new building. There will be a change in class schedule in order that students may attend.

Open house will be from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 4 to 5 p.m.

As is customary rooms will be judged by a committee of 12 and awarded prizes for originality, neatness, attractiveness, suitability and utility as well as adaptability to given limitations. The winners will be anounced at the football game. At that time anonymous prizes totaling 35 dollars will be given to the two best sin-

See WEEKEND, p. 2

Brewster Spinsters' Activities Fill Kesselring Play With Humor

Bray, Gearhart Directing Production

How the Brewster spinsters "take care of" their gentlemen callers fills the Masque's Parents Weekend production of Arsenic and Old Lace with rollicking humor.

James Bray and assistant Judy Gearhart direct the Joseph Otto Kesselring creation, which opens tonight at 8:15 in Oller Hall. It will also be given tomorrow evening.

The story about two old spinsters, the Brewster sisters, who make the practice of putting unhappy old men out of their misery with the aid of some elderberry wine and arsenic. Believing themselves great humanitarians, they make use of window seats and "Panama Canal locks" to conceal their victims. Since a slip is made in operation number 12, for a short time it looks like the end of activities between the Brewster sisters and their gentlemen callers. Abby and Martha outwit the police and Mr. Witherspoon, however, with a climax that surprises the audience and makes for a happy ending.

Cast

The cast is composed of Anna Mary Smith as Abby, George Carnahan as the Rev. Harper, Clint Betz as Teddy, Rush Hodgen as officer Brophy, Charles Brown as officer Klein, Diane Klebe as Martha.

Janice Hoyer as Elaine, Jim Martin as Mortimer, Bill Lafe as Mr. Gibbs, Spencer Ward as Jonathan, Bob Reader as Dr. Einstein, Daniel John as officer O'Hara, Dale Howe as Lt. Rooney and Dick Backus as Mr. Witherspoon.

Working behind the scenes are Flo Wenzel, set construction chairman; Sue Paxon, makeup chairman and costumes chairman; Ron Knouse, lighting chairman; Arthur Norris, stage crew chairman; Ron Fink, ticket chairman; Nan Winters, publicity chairman; Marjorie White, business manager; Mickey Matthews, program chairman; Miss Paxon, makeup chairman, and Jan Schall and Mary Shirk, promptresses.

Students Friday Night

Students are urged to attend since parents will be attending Saturday night.

Proceeds from the play will go to the Juniata World Service Fund in aiding the achievement of its 1956 dollar goal.

Librarian Offers Money Loan Idea If Books Return

Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, librarian, has offered the following proposition to the student body in an effort to recover 35 books that have been stolen from Carnegie Library.

If all, or most, of the books are returned shortly the library will prepare a "Need a Buck?" board. The plan calls for 15 dollar bills to be thumbtacked to a bulletin board where students, in need of a quick loan may replace one of the bills with a slip containing his name.

When he's regained his financial balance, he returns a buck and removes his name—all according to an honor system.

However, as Mrs. Hettinger points out, how can Juniata students be trusted to use such a project without corruption if they can't be trusted with library books. Still the librarian is willing to forgive and wants to be of service to the honest of people on campus.

But the books must come back first.

Three Indians To Be At Swarthmore Game

Chief Manywins, his squaw and the Juniata Indian will be on College Field tomorrow afternoon to greet parents and lend a festive air to the Swarthmore game.

Ray Gramley, a freshman, will be JC's mascot for the day and two anonymous members of the junior class will represent the hospitable Chief Manywins and his squaw.

How Glad We Are To See You!

Mom, Dad, Food, Money Brighten Life

by Barbara McIntyre

Tomorrow is Parents Day, the event when our "bread and butter" make their grand entrance onto the JC campus, which has been turned right-side up, spicked, spanned and polished.

Mom, loaded down with sweets and dressed in her best outfit (probably is years old, but remember it was either that new formal or a dress for mom) will have that look of pride in her brown eyes as she surveys her lad or lassie. (So maybe mid-term grades won't look so good; she'll still think you're the greatest.)

Then there's dear old dad, all spruced up in his new tie and crew cut (you influenced him to get it because you told him he'd look years younger.) Pop, laden with suitcasees (the rest of your winter clothes) is in his glory as you tell him you need a month's advancement on your allowance.

Advice, Extra Buck

No script could be written characterizing the life portrayed by our moms and dads. From childhood to adolescence parents play the roles of homemakers, doctors, seamstresses and psychologists. Remember those days when mom was sort of a Dorothy Dix in giving her advice to the lovelorn. Or how about the time pop slipped you an extra buck, just in case you'd need it.

Great people,our parents! It depends on us to show them a terrific time on their day. It's a great cause for the room to appear as neat as a pin (it will probably take all day and half the night cleaning to get this accomplished). Maybe you will have to stack your shirts and sweaters neatly in the drawer. (You'll never be able to find anything this way!) Maybe you will have to have lectures on your hall dealing with the whats and what not to say to your parents (they were young once too, don't forget).

Beaming Faces

Rain, shine, snow or sleet, November 10, 1956, will be signified by beaming faces and anxious hearts on College Hill for the traditional Parent's Day festivities. Do your part, Miss and Mr. JC, to make this day the best ever!

By the way, have you a mum?

Freshmen Choose Holman President

The class of '60 elected John "Tex" Holman president freshman class.

Holman, a native of Williamsport, won the runoff with a 40 vote majority at freshman assembly November 5.

Jay Maust became vice-president after the first election the previous week in a 65-vote victory over his opponents. Likewise, Jane Herbster with 88 votes became secretary of the class after the first election.

Returns still show a tie between Ann Noe and Carol Ann Stiffler as they compete for the office of treasurer Monday in freshman assembly.

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

editorially speaking . . .

$25 Subsidy Too Paltry

Once again WJC has raised the cry of "more money."

Always before, they've been silenced with the retort, "You told us you wouldn't need more than $25 a year. We knew this would happen." This refrain, we feel, is a weak one.

Granted, when WJC was in its initial stages, the officials did say that $25 a year would be a sufficient subsidy, but times have changed. WJC is no longer an expeirment, it is a going concern, and we don't think this student body should be held to the words of a former student body!

In order to replace cheap, worn-out equipment, to make new innovations, to build up a record collection and to purchase a tape recorder (a necessity for any radio station), more money is now needed. True, WJC does have more money than the $25 it receives from the college — the Senate gives it $25 a year and it earns about $50 from the peanuts and cider concession at football games.

But even $100 is a paltry sum on which to operate a radio station for an entire year, especially when compared to the $500-$1000 per annum which some colleges, (small colleges, too) allot their radio stations. We don't propose a $1000 subsidy at Juniata, but let's face it, $25 is a bit unrealistic.

Those connected with WJC have certainly been economic and ingenious in making parts out of scrap, but ingenuity will only go so far. If the station had had sufficient funds at the beginning of the year, for instance, it would not have had to wait until November 1 to go on the air.

To meet the immediate need for funds one of the student body has offered to make a personal donation of $50. This, although very commendable, does not solve the problem of long-range financing. As matters stand now, there are three alternatives: the station can steal the equipment it needs, it can quit broadcasting, or receive a larger subsidy from the college.

Obviously the first alternative is out of the question, and it would be a shame for the original student investment — time and money— to go down the drain. As we see it, then, a larger college subsidy is the only practical answer to WJC's financial problem.

JC Partisans Should Now Unite

In the heat of the national campaign, campus partisanship reached a fever pitch.

The fact that so many students took such an active interest in the election was commendable, although at times it did get a bit out of proportion.

Now that the election is over, however, and the people have spoken, let's forget the heckling and the poison pen letters, and let's unite behind our president, for whatever our political views, ultimately we're all working toward the same goals.

A Plea To The Frosh

Another plea to the frosh: The stolen library books still have not been returned. Consequently individual assessment of the members of the freshman class looms as the only possible solution.

It really isn't fair to punish the entire class for the actions of a despicable few, but what else can be done? Why not solve the problem by returning the missing books to the library — right now?

Elvis Has Public Too Aroused

(ACP)—Just about everybody has something to say about Elvis Presley. The Minnesota Daily recently took a long, editorial look at the Presley phenomena and came up with the conclusion that we may be getting excited about something that really doesn't amount to much. Said the Daily:

Another national magazine has a story this week on rock and roll singer Elvis Presley.

The controversial Presley has been enjoying a popularity boom apparently initially supported by high school students. But others have shown a curiosity about the singer's uninhibited delivery and his audience effect. And this curiosity has been prominent in keeping Presley in the limelight.

Exhorbitant Sums

Of course the exhorbitant sums Ed Sullivan and others have paid the singer for his appearance and the flood of publicity he has been getting have helped sustain the public's interest.

But aside from being interested, the public seems to be more upset over this gyrating singer than anyone since Joe McCarthy.

It has heard religious leaders condemn the "menace" of "this immoral person." It has seen them organize youth group meetings so that youth will be subject to a wholesome atmosphere. It has seen them lead prayer meetings.

It has heard high school principals forbidding that students wear Presley-type haircuts. It has seen school dance chaperones cocking inquisitive eyes to ferret out any trace of rock and roll.

"A New Low"

And it has seen all this because some of the national press is apparently disturbed by Presley, too. Several magazines have published articles without even an attempt at impartiality. One said that Presley had brought "a new low" to popular music.

Does it not seem silly that because a singer uses one of the oldest theatrical tricks in the business bumps and grinds—and attracts a following composed mainly of adolescent girls, a nation's consern ought to be aroused?

If we fear the morality of youth can be dissipated quite so easily we are not putting much faith in youth—the supposed hope of the future. It seems doubtful that any relationship exists between Elvis anl becoming a juvenile delinquent.

No one would assert that the singer's influence is even remotely desirable. But it does seem to be true that too often when the public gets aroused, it gets too aroused.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

campus capers . . .

Nixon Advent Creates Campus Stir

Juniata made newspapers all over the East last week.

The widely publicized events were precipitated with the arrival politic politics, according to the "other side").

The occasion? Not football this time, but politics (although not of campaigner Nixon to this thriving metropolis. Most of the citizens and students in this bastion of Republicanism extended a hearty greeting to the vice-president; however, there were a few dissenters whose heckling managed to make the Baltimore Sun, the New York Times, the New York Herald Tribune, the Pittsburgh Post Gazette, the Altoona Mirror, The Harrisburg Patriot and several news broadcasts.

The most elaborate of the hecklers' signs were ones reading Do You Think Every Nation Has The Right To Poison the Air? (from which Mr. Nixon took a core of his speech) and What is Your Opinion of the Gold Standard? ("I'm just trying to inject an issue into the campaign," the banner-carrier explained to a reporter.)

Other signs included What's the Next Brink? (mis-quoted in the Baltimore Sun as What's the Next Drink?); Tell Us All About Your Trip to India; Was Voorhis Really a Red? and Did the GOP Really Kill Stalin? ("A logical extension of all they claim," another banner-carrier told anothe reporter.)

The "rock-ribbed Republican," (to quote the Sun again) townfolk of Huntingdon didn't seem too appreciative of all this activity and several staunch campus Republicans were disconcerted about the newspaper reports, feeling that they were "definitely colored," in leading readers to believe that a good many Junata students were opposed to Nixon, when actually last week's mock election showed a 3-1 Republican majority.

Even the New York Times, which is supporting Eisenhower, but which devoted 11 column inches to the incident, was criticized on these grounds. The Huntingdon Daily News, on the other hand, devoted two lines to the heckling incident. "There were a few dissenters in the crowd," it was reported.

Perhaps all these "colored" stories were offset at least a little however, by the New York Herald Tribune's report that 30,000 people, predominately Republican, turned out to greet Nixo at Huntingdon.

Which all just goes to show that you can't believe everything you read (at least not in other papers).

* * * *

Out of the political arena and into the classroom: During a lecture on feudalism, a would-be wit commented to his neighbor, "I guess a vassal who didn't have too much land would be ill-manored."

And a Prof, when asked by his class to decipher a word he had just scribbled on the blackboard, defended himself thusly: "That's quite legible. Note the lovely J, the clear U, the bold M ..."

* * * *

Most modest male on campus: "I'll sacrifice some of my studying time to give the girls a break and come to the after-dinner dance."

* * * *

Glutton at lunch: "Isn't there anymore?"
Wise guy:: "Yeah, at 6:00 tonight."

* * * *

Naive freshman: "Do we get Armistice Day off?"

And still another frosh, commenting on The Bad Seed: "That kid (Rhoda)) just didn't have no tact."

* * * *

Don't forget to sweep the dirt under your rug, make plans to clean out your dad's wallet, and don your halo — parents will invade campus tomorrow.

Indian Civilization Under Dorm Site

(ACP)—There may be a change in construction plans at Arizona State College in Tempe because of an archaeological discovery. Evidence of an ancient Indian civilization has been discovered at the site of a modern dormitory to be built next month on the ASC campus. The first discovery was made when an amateur archaeologist noticed that the soil beneath an old building torn down by workmen was a different color than that surrounding it. He warned the men to be careful in leveling the mound on which the building had been standing.

After digging down about 18 inches, the first Indian artifacts were discovered. A number have been found since that time and they've been identified as coming from the classic period of the Hokokan Indians, about 1300 A. D.

MURPHY'S
WOMEN & MISSES
IVY LEAGUE BLOUSES
$1.98

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

This man can give you dependable delivery of

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR
an international daily newspaper

Housewives, businessmen, teachers, and students all over the world read and enjoy this international newspaper, published daily in Boston. World-famous for constructive news stories and penetrating editorials Special features for the whole family.

The Christian Science Monitor
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.

Send your newspaper for the time checked. Enclosed find my check or money order.

1 year $16 ☐ 6 months $8 ☐
3 months $4 ☐

Name
Address
City Zone State

PB-1c

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

JC Warms Up For Garnet By Crushing Grove City

• "Bibi" Staley •
Brawn At Center

• Charlie Haines •
Package of Dynamite

Tribe's Seniors Close Curtain On Activity At College Field

by Bill Ebner

This Saturday two senior linemen will play their last game on College Field.

John Staley and Charlie Haines, who played side by side for four years at Juniata, will conclude their football careers after the Ursinus game, November 17.

Co-captains John Staley, veteran Indian center has been the mainstay of the JC line since 1954. A history major and product of Har-Brack High School in Tarentum, "Bibi" was chosen for honorable mention to the All-State College team as a sophofore.

Last year he was picked for third team on the All-State team and received an honorable mention to the Little All American squad by the Williamson rating.

Haines, although sidelined by injuries much of this season has proved that "dynamite comes in small packages." Only five feet, eight inches tall, Charlie has won acclaim for his rugged, aggressive play at guard position in the Warrior's forward wall. A veteran of the Tangerine Bowl Classic, he is a tough defensive as well as offensive threat.

A sociology major Haines is in preparation for ministerial service in the EUB church.

Next week, "Moon" Mullen, Jim Stayer.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Everybody Wins On
Everybody Wins
(WJC's ORIGINAL QUIZ SHOW)
A WJC Favorite Resumed From Last Year
MCed by caustic Dick Backus
Be a contestant, or listen at 1150 on your dial.
MONDAY 9 pm

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee
Under New Management

Shop
The Ray English Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

WITH ALL THE TALK OF AN ELECTORAL COLLEGE LET'S SCHEDULE THEM NEXT YEAR!
Bernie Predicts:
JC — 27
Swarthmore — 6
JC's FAVORITE JEWELRY STORE
is
SWARTZ JEWELRY
(next door to Clifton Theatre)

Bill Berrier's Running Shatters Grove City Line

by Wally Berkey

Juniata registered its most decisive victory of the season over winless Grove City.

For the Indians it was their seventh straight win from the Wolverines and ninth out of 11 in the series which ended temporarily with Saturday's contest. Grove City is suffering a shortage of man power having only 26 members on the squad.

Grove City was in Indian territory only once during the fray. The officials ruled that a punt touched Joe Trimber and Grove City recovered on the JC 40.

The strength of Juniata's ground offense, led by Bill Berrier and Jos Trimber was most impressive as they outrushed the losers 344 to 39. Juniata had 19 first downs to Grove City's four.

Perfect Placement

Late in the first period, Juniata traveled 85 yards on 13 plays with Bill Berrier, Joe Trimber and Glenn Hassinger lugging the pigskin. Berrier carried the ball over the goal on a five yard gallop. Berrier's placement was perfect.

In the second quarter after forcing the opposition to punt to the Grover's 43, Hassinger returned the ball 13 yards. Six plays later, Berrier hurdled the middle from one yard out for his second score. He added the 14th point.

Soon after, Bob Schwalenberg lifted a pass which Tony DiMarco grabbed on the 27, avoided two would-be tacklers and scored standing up. Schwalenberg's placement was perfect for a 21-0 halftime lead.

The Indians used seven plays after the kickoff to rack up their fourth score of the afternoon. Berrier crashed off-tackle from three yards out and again added the extra point.

Illegal Use of Hands

Ron Housel had a 13 yard dash for a touchdown called back when Juniata was penalized 15 for illegal use of hands. At that point the Wolverines held the Indians on downs on their 11. On the next play Ray Thompson threw a desperation pass to the flat in which Harold "Moose" Krause snagged on the eight and ran untouched into the end zone. Schwalenberg's placement was true making the score 35-0.

The sixth touchdown was set up by a Schwalenberg pass which was tipped by Jim Berrier into Housel's hands and he raced 41 yards to the Grove City's 25. Housel picked up nine before Joe Sopata whirled inside end for the final 16 and a 41-0 lead. Schwalenberg's attempt for the extra point was off to the side.

In the closing moments. Mel Wenger dashed around left end to score from the five. Jim Berrier booted the 48th point.

Collegians Take IM Football Title

The Collegians are the victors in the IM football tourney.

The winners smashed the Ubangies 31-0 Tuesday last week in what was supposed to be the game of the week, since the Collegians are undefeated and the Ubangies had previously lost only two games.

The win firmly entrenched the Collegians in first place, while the loss dropped the Ubangies to fourth.

Two of Tuesday's games were forfeited, the Day Students to the Crazy Eights and the Chipmunks to the Hopper Squad. Rain cancelled all of Wednesday's and Thursday's games.

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

From The Bleachers

by Bill Mariotti

Juniata, already subjected to a beating by one of Pennsy's better small college schools in Lycoming, must face tomorrow a Swarthmore 11 which could turn the tables again.

Since the Lycoming game the Indians have been easily riding roughshod over their opponents with the possible exception of the Drexel game. The Dragons gave Juniata a few trying moments late in that fray.

Many observers feel that Swarthmore is as strong or stronger than the Drexel aggregation. The Little Quakers have suffered only two setbacks to date. The Garnet was caught off guard by a spirited Dickinson squad (7-0) and lost to an undefeated, untied Hamilton powerhouse (18-6).

If there is any doubt concerning their potential, their record should speak for itself. Swarthmore reached their peak in the 48-6 trouncing they gave to the same Ursinus team that tied a good Haverford squad and only lost to Drexel 13-7.

So, except for that bleak Saturday against Dickinson, they have performed quite ably. Certainly the loss to the Hamilton machine takes no lustre from their ledger. All in all the Bunnmen should have quite a scrap on their hands before their parents can go home with a victory.

* * * *

Last Week's Juniata victory was their seventh straight over Grove City, which is the longest winning streak the Tribe has ever complied against any one team ..... The 48 ponts racked up against the Grovers denotes the most Juniata ever scored against a Grove City team .... Tomorrow Swarthmore hopes to achieve their first win in history over the Indians.

* * * *

Juniata has scored in their last 37 contests .... Robert Hicks, JC's grid mentor in '54 and '55, has lost six straight as head coach at Depauw .... Joe Trimber leads all Juniata ground gainers with 336 total yards and 6.3 yards per carry .... Glen Hassinger trails Trimber with 248 yards and 7.09 per carry.

* * * *

In the prediction department we had 5 right and 3 wrong last week. Our percentage for the season is .667 with 32 right and 16 wrong. In tomorrow's games we like Juniata over Swarthmore 20-13. Moravian, which has not lost a home game since last year's Juniata loss, should easily extend that skein by shellacking Wagner. Lycoming to get yb Lock Haven STC. Dickinson to fall before John Hopkins. Drexel will have little trouble in man Edinboro STC will add to the winless Grove City's close.

Next week's Juniata foe, Ursinus, to have a relatively easy time with the National Aggies and Susquehanna to end their season on a sour note by bowing to Haverford.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Little Quakers Seek First Win Over Juniata

by John Jenkins

Juniata College will be attempting to extend their win streak to four straight when they meet Swarthmore College in a Parents Day game at College Field tomorrow.

The Indians have played the Garnet three times and have beaten them by identical scores of 39-0 the last two years. The other game was also won by Juniata 13-7.

The Quakers this year have won three games and lost two. They have victories over Susquehanna 13-12, Ursinus 48-13 and John Hopkins 7-0. They have lost to Hamilton 26-0 and Dickinson 7-6.

Juniors and Sophs

The Garnet squad is composed mainly of juniors and sophomores with 10 returning lettermen. The men who will probably be seeing a lot of action for Swarthmore in the line are Daniel Bell and Robert Ellis at ends, Peter Durkson and Peter Atkinson at the tackle slots, William Zimmerman and John DePauw at guard and James Frank playing center.

The backs will probably be Samuel Criswell, Ronald Sutton, Dana Swan and Roy Tewes. Criswell and Sutton are co-captains on the team.

Thinclads Close Season Tomorrow

As an added attraction to tomorrow's Parents Day festivities, Juniata's cross-country team will run against Franklin and Marshall College during the football game with Swarthmore on College Field.

The Blue and Gold thinclads will be endeavoring to complete the season without a loss as this is their final meet of the season. The Indians will go into the meet with three consecutive wins over Elizabethtown, Muhlenberg and Albright. Herb Layman will also be attempting to end the season without a defeat. He has taken first place in all three meets.

In addition to Layman, JC coach Mike Snider will start Herb Deuchar, Frank Hrach, Doug Wilson and Churk Brown. These have been the scorers for Juniata in the first three meets. Other Braves running will be Ed Moore, Jim Petitt, Jos Senft, Jim Copenheaver and Henry Crocker.

The race will begin sometime just berore the half. The harriers will start by the goal posts on the east end of the field and then run out on to Scott Street. After Covering approximately four and one half miles, the runners will finish by the goal posts at the west end of the field during the halftime.

F&M will pose Juniata's toughest campetition this year. They have defeated two of JC's foes-Muhlenberg and Algright-by convincing scores.

Last Friday afternoon Layman, Hrach and Moore won the three medals that coach Snider had offered as prizes for the first three places in a handicap race in which the entire squad competed.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

Weekend Events To Include Cornerstone Rite, Game, Play

continued from page 1

gle and double rooms.

Guests and students will be served a buffet luncheon in Oneida Dining Hall between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Swarthmore Game

At 1:30 Juniata's football team will meet Swarthmore in the fifth game of the season at College Field. Following the game refreshments will be served on the mezzanine of the Memorial Gym. Parents and guests are especially invited to attend in order to become acquainted with the faculty and one another.

As a closing of the day's activities JC students will present Arsenic and Old Lace in Oller Hall at 8:15 p.m. Proceeds from the Masque production will go to JWSF.

President's Bible Class

Sunday morning at 9:30 the president's Bible class meets in Founders Chapel.

Chairman of the Parents Day Committee is Mr. Harold Brumbaugh. Those working with him are Miss Barbara Bechtell, Miss Francis Mathias and Dr. James Penny. Also on the staff are "Squeegee" Holsinger, chairman of women's house; Jeanette Lowe, head waitress; Ray Ono, chairman of men's house, and Ann Willson, chairman of general activities.

Senate Warns Book Thieves

Frosh thieves have been given a final notice by the Senate.

Either the books they have stolen from the library (the Senate considers unreturned overnight books stolen) be returned to the library or a box on the first floor of Students Hall, or the offenders will be reported to the Campus Judiciary.

Senators emphasized that those who return these books within a two week period (starting Monday) will not be punished.

In the meantime, the freshman class got a bill from the library for 35 overnight books that have not been returned. Presumably every freshman will have to share the bill. The Senate's "get tough" policy was coupled with a suggestion that in the future freshmen be instructed early (in freshman assembly) that stealing books from the library is a serious offense at Juniata.

Waiter Destitution

Treasurer John Fike is considering the complaints of the waiters and serving room employees of the college dining hall, according to a report by Kerin Narbut. It was reported that these employees are currently earning 48 cents an hour.

The Senate approved its budget except for the appropriations for the chairman of communications and athletics. The Administration refused to approve appropriations to these Senate departments on the grounds that they did not get similar appropriations last year.

Christmas Jobs

The Faculty reiterated its refusal to allow students to make up work missed by going home early to work on a Christmas vacation job since they feel that such jobs are not "unavoidable absence."

Dr Kenneth Crosby, Senate advisor, pointed out that it would be difficult to determine which students really needed to earn additional money at Christmastime in order to pay for their education.

JWSF Activities Build Interest In Drive

Dave Amidon, head of the Juniata World Service Fund drive has managed to stir up interest on campus through various unique publicity moves. On the left is the shoe shine stand set up in front of Students Hall where JCers got service at a penny per shoe On right, philosophy instructor Bob McFadden swings a wicked bucket of water to rinse his team's auto in the car washing contest held in front of Totem Inn. Bruce Bennett

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

'Doll Up' Tiny Domecile Avec Les Beaux Arts

Do you want to impress your family with your intellectual growth since your departure from the home hearth?

Doll up your tiny domicile with art and literature that gives a good artistic effect even if you do not know what it means or what is in the book. The Library has approximately sixty reproductions of paintings old and modern which may be borrowed without fee or interest.

If you have listened to your arts and humanities instructors you may even be able to speak intelligently about the artist, the subject, the brush work or the color. This can be most impressive to the girl friend from home in case she comes along with the family.

Books have a decorative quality aside from their literary content and should you want a red or green or a silver or ebony volume to complete your scheme of decoration, no doubt one can be found to fill the bill.

In pictures we have angles, nudes, landscapes, interiors, flowers, and dancing girls. Books come in all sizes and varieties; come, see, and borrow!

Graduate Schools Admit Nine JCers

Nine Juniata seniors have received early admittance to medical school for the fall of 1957, Dr. Homer Will has announced.

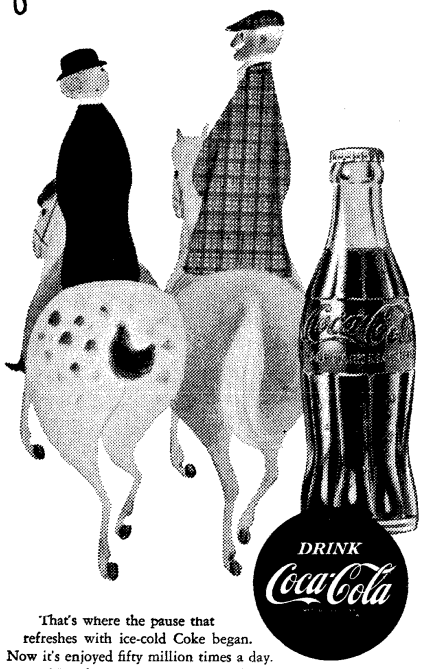
Larry Davis has been admitted to Georgetown; Dale Howe to Yale; Raymond Burket, Bill Degelman, Jackie Hayes and Duane Stackhouse to Temple; Jim Corrigan, Jim Martin and Skip Oesterling to Jefferson.

JC Graduate, Spouse Translate Collection

A Juniata graduate, Mrs. Mary McKenzie Roberts, and her husband, Dr. William Roberts, have just translated into English the most famous work of the Nobel Prize winning Spanish author, Juan Ramon Jimenez, Dr Clemens has revealed.

Jimenez' Plateroy Yo is a collection of 105 poems on the beauties of nature around the small Spanish town of Moguer where Jimenez was born. Dr. Clemens said that Dr. and Mrs.Roberts "have preserved with uncommon felicity the charm and lyricism of the original."

"I originally came from Atlanta"



That's where the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coke began. Now it's enjoyed fifty million times a day. Must be something to it. And there is. Have an ice-cold Coca-Cola and see... right now.

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SATURDAY
Double Action Package
Comanche
Cinemascope and Color
Dana Andrews
Gun Brothers
With Buster Crabbe
SUNDAY MIDNIGHT
Mon.-Tue.-Wed.
The Solid Gold Cadillac Starring
Judy Holiday
Paul Douglas
Fred Clark
THURSDAY ONE DAY ONLY
By Popular Request
High Noon
—With—
Gary Cooper
Grace Kelly

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

We're looking for a dance band for the Christmas Dance. If you're a member of a group that wants the job, please see June Gray.

The Senate

RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS
HI FI 45 - Player $79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable $129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette $139.95
Tape Recorder $159.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

WHO IS THE UGLIEST OF US ALL?— As the photo proves conclusively, the decision will be hard, especially if the candidates run around campus like this. Students will elect the "ugliest" man on campus Wednesday, November 28, to reign over the Communications Hop the following Saturday. From left to right are camus gruesomes Montgomery (note plaid shorts), Jim Stayer, Herb Layman, Arnie Kramer (an independent candidate), "Killer" Conley (strangling cat), Dick Backus (exhibiting bribe), Bill Adams (note cheesecake pose), Dave Amidon (claims he's naturally ugly without clothes) and Don Murdoch. Missing from the picture is candidate Newt Taylor, who went home to put on a coat and tie. Davis Photo

'Ugliest' Man Search To Involve Most Vicious Campaign In Years

by George Fattman

Who is the ugliest man on campus?

In order to find out, the nine student communications here are conducting what could become one of the dirtiest elections in years.

Nominees include Bill Adams, Newt Taylor, Dave Amidon, Jim Stayer, Don Murdoch, Don "Killer" Conley, Jim Montgomery, Herb Layman and Dick Bockus.

Sponsoring the election, to be conducted Wednesday, November 28, and a dance Saturday, December 1, over which the winner will "reign," are the Alfarata, Doorstep News, the Indian, the Juniatian, the Powwow, the Scout the Smoke Signal, the Tomahawk and WJC radio.

Don't Judge Just Looks

The candidates aren't really the ugliest men on campus, but the paign. As an alert coed remarked, "Being a candidate doesn't mean you're physically ugly—you're just ugly culturally, morally, mentally—in short, ugliness of character."

term could very likely be applied to the brawl among them for this regal position, which loosely could be called a campaign. As an alert coed remarked, "Being

Since the average voter is inexperienced in judging such traits (this is JC's first such election) the conscientious student (but why be conscientious in this

See UGLIEST, p. 4

The Juniatian

VOLUME XXXIII, No. 9 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 16, 1956

Who Was The Star?

Reviewer Enjoys Last Weekend Arsenic, Old Lace Performance

by Barbara Walls

How could anyone have helped but enjoy the near profesional performance of Arsenic and Old Lace given last weekend to the Parents Day audience?

Crowds totaling 768 Friday and Saturday nights filled Oller Hall to attend the student production of Joseph Otto Kesselring's old favorite. This will no doubt be remembered as one of Juniata's best dramatic efforts.

Many things can be said in its favor. For one, try to decide who was the star — who "stole the show." Was it Anna Mary Smith in her portraiture of Abby or Bob Reader in his hilarious characterization of Dr. Einstein. Or how about the honorable Teddy himself played by Clint Betz. And certainly Jim Martin should be commended for hos excellent performance as Mortimer.

All in all the casting job was a perfect one. Who could have been better. Jonathan was con- of Jonathan than Spencer Ward and Diane Klebe was the perfect spinster down to the last arched little finger.

The tendency for the play to drag was remedied by the entrance of Jonathan and Dr. Einstein which started the action going at a fast rate and provided many moments of hilarity.

Taking it from another angle, the makeup and costuming were very effective. Teddy's outfits and especially the funeral dresses of Abby and Martha couldn't have been hetter. Jonathan was convincingly ugly while the hair-dos of the Brewster sisters gave them

See REVIEWER, p. 4

Dance To Close Twirp Week

Burning Cigarette Apparent Cause Of Cloister Blaze

A $400-dollar fire apparently caused by a cigarette thrown in a waste basket started in the Cloister last Saturday around 6 p.m.

Fire was discovered in the room of Bill Holsinger and Joe Collins in the third floor wing when smoke was seen coming out of the window and noticed in the hall. Students turned in a fire alarm and then used fire extinguishers to put out the flames. By the time the three fire engines arrived the fire was out although five extinuishers had to be used.

The equipment of the Cloister's intracommunications radio station, WCH, located in Holsinger's room was ruined, as was a high fidelity record player.

Also damaged or ruined were a desk, several books, rugs and some school supplies. Collins' electric razor and several pieces of jewelry were lost in the blaze. More damage seemed to be caused by the fire fighting equipment than by the fire itself.

Frosh To Name Skating Pond

The freshman class has been invited by the Senate to name the skating pond in light of the work they have spent on the project.

A name will be chosen Monday in freshman assembly.

Don Ruhl was named to head the Senate's academic help program, a project whereby freshmen, especially those whose midterm grades were low, can come to study halls to confer with upperclassmen majoring in their field.

Cloister Fire

Since the recent fire in the Cloister showed that the fire alarm system there is not working properly, the Senate voted to urge the Administration to have it checked. Chairm an of men's house Ray Ono was asked to inform male students how the fire alarm system works and what to do in case of a fire.

The Senate urges those students who feel that they have been charged unfairly for room damages to contact business manager Paul Friend.

Change In Schedule

The Saturday schedule will be in effect on Wednesday, November 21, the day the Thanksgiving recess begins. That is, the third and fourth periods will begin at 10 and 11 o'clock. Lunch in the dining hall will be served at 12:05.

Girls Get Chance To Pay Expenses; Corsages In Order

Ever sigh, "Gee, I wish I were a fellow — they have all the luck?"

Well, gals, now you can be — no, no trips to Denmark, just to the nearest phone booth where you can dial your secret crush's phone number and ask him to go to the Twin Twirp Dance with you tomorrow night.

Yes, for a change the fella will have to eagerly await the buzz of the phone, and if it's not who he'd hoped, cross his fingers and say, "Sorry, busy tonight."

Of course, coeds, this turnabout bit has its drawbacks, too. You'll have to pay any expenses incurred on the date (beware of golddiggers;) you'll have to call for your date (and wait while he does his last minute primping); and you'll have to return his to his residence on time.

What's more, corsages are in order for this dance, so gather vegetables, fruits and pipe cleaners in hand and make your man a gay bouquet. Matching togs will be the vogue (twin sweaters, argyles, for example) for the affair.

Dancing is to begin at 8:30. All men must have escorts, girls, so shed your false modesty and take advantage of this once in a year Women's World to land yourself a date, and, who knows, possibly a man, too.

JC Library Plans To Vend Volumes

The annual fall semester book auction will be conducted in the Pennsylvania Room of Carnegie Library November 26-28.

The auction is being held this year in conjunction with Book Week running November 25 throughout the United States. Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, head librarian, announced that the same procedure as that in previous years would be followed. To place a bid on any book write your name on the enclosed card and the amount you are bidding.

The sale will culminate in a floor auction of widely-desired books at 4:00 p.m. Wednesday. Dr. William Hambacher will be the auctioneer.

Scripts Are Ready For All-Class Night

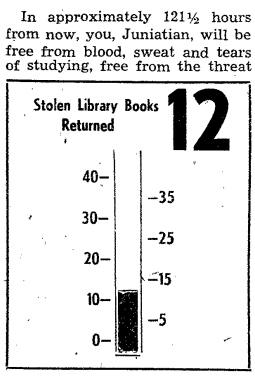
Scripts for All-Class Night December 8 have been reviewed by the script committee and have been returned for revision.

Practice may begin as soon as the scripts have been approved by the script committee, chairman Eileen Gipprich has anounced. Other members of the committee are Aliceann Wohlbruck, Dean James Penney, Dean Barbara Bechtel and dramatics director James Bray.

Pilgrims Insure JC Descendants Unusual Freedoms

by Carol Baish

In approximately 121½ hours from now, you, Juniatian, will be free from blood, sweat and tears of studying, free from the threat of that 2000-word theme, free from the menace of mystery cakes. Hooray for the Pilgrims!



But in the midst of all this rejoicing there comes a sobering note. What are you going to do with all those empty hours? For some, this will be the first time since September 9 to visit with friends and relatives. You'll want to give them a lasting impression of all that life at Juniata has done for you, so here are a few suggestions to help make your Thanksgiving vacation more fun than eight o'clock classes six times a week! (Dale Carnegie has nothing on us.)

1. Take along some impressive reading material like An Orientation in Science or Munn's Psychology. (It's unnecessary to mention that you're five chapters behind in reading the darn thing.)

2. Usc large words and involved sentences. (Instead of calling littlt brother a dope, take him quietly into a corner and explain calmly just ghat is psychologically wrong with him.)

3. Fifth Street residents: the shock of walking only a few measly yards to meals may be too great coming all at once. Ease into it gradually by running around the block a few times before each meal.

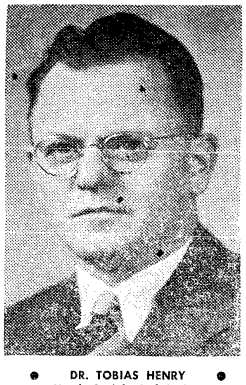
4. At dinner, show off your Juniata table manners by immediately stalking all empty dishes on the corner of the table. (Mom will probably take the hint and keep them filled.)

5. Be sure to praise Mom's cooking in detail. (Be sure to bring some of it back with you.)

6. Go back to your old high school and shake hands with the principal, livening up his day with a play by play description of Juniata's football games. (This

See PILGRIMS, p. 4

Society Names Henry Head



● DR. TOBIAS HENRY Heads Sociological Society ●

(College News Bureau)—Dr. Tobias Henry, sociology profesor, was elected president of the Pennsylvania Sociological Society at a recent meeting held at Penn State.

Dr. Henry, who will serve for the year 1956-57, succeeds David Rogers of the University of Pittsburgh.

The Pennsylvania Sociological Society is an organization composed of college teachers, professional workers and graduate students in sociology.

BUS TO RUN SUNDAY NIGHT

Fourth Street Transit Co. has announced that bus service will be available after the east and west-bound trains stop at Huntingdon Sunday night, November 25. Many students will be returning from Thanksgiving vacation at this time.

Fink, Hoffman, Baish To Take Juniatian Posts

Carol Baish and Ron Fink have been assigned editorial positions on the Juniatian staff, and Joyce Hoffman has been named assistant to the circulation manager.

Miss Baish, a freshman journalism student from Irwin, was named asistant news editor and Ron Fink, a junior journalism student from Everett, was named copy editor.

Neither position existed prior to the appointments. They are part of the newspaper's plan to enlarge its editorial board.

Miss Hoffman, freshman elementary education major, is from Waynesboro.

IRC Planning Sale Of Yule Greetings

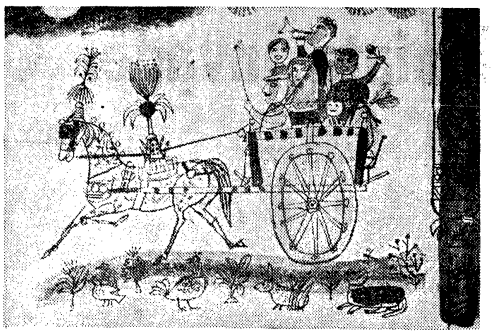
Beginning November 29 the International Relations Club will sell Christmas Cards.

Receipts will produce tangible results not only because students will get Christmas Cards printed in five languages, but also because they will be helping the United Nation's Children's Fund which receives all profits from the sale.

The Fund, or UNICEF is supported entirely by voluntary contributions. Its mission is to protect, to provide for, to teach and to train children.

UNICEF protects against disease by furnishing insecticides vaccines and necessary drugs. It provides much needed milk and food for millions of children.

The Fund not only gives aid to the needy but also teaches self-help. Aided countries spend about two dollars for every one dollar the Fund supplies. This is important since these countries are urged to take an active interest in their own welfare.



UNITED NATIONS CHRISTMAS CARD— This is the face of one of several designs on Christmas cards being sold by the International Relations Club for the benefit of the UN Children's Emergency Relief Fund. Sales start after Thanksgiving vacation.

Next Week In Chapel

November 19 — President Ellis.
November 21 — Vacation begins

Pep Rally Celebrates Season's Last Game

The football team leaves today for Collegeville where they will meet Ursinus in the final game of the season.

Bibi Staley introduced individually each member of the team at the rally last night and they in turn showed some of their more popular plays. As usual the cheerleaders and band were there to lead in the cheers and help create a winning spirit.

The cheerleaders are also hoping that many students will be able to attend the game tomorrow afternoon at Ursinus to cheer the team to victory.

Pilgrims Provide Unusual Freedoms

continued from page 1

goes over especially well if dear Sidewash HS hasn't won a game this season.)

7. When brought up, the subject of grades can be squelched with a couple of sparkling renditions of Stand up and Cheer.

8. Take along a few rock n' roll records to play late at night. This will keep you from getting homesick for your room in the dorm.

9. For old times sake, set your alarm for about five in the morning, get up and study for awhile. (This makes situation 1 easier to handle.)

10. Whatever you do, remember: the best time to ask for (shudder) money is just before you leave on Sunday night. (No tearful farewells—don't want the check all blurry.)

Chapel Choir To Present Program

Three weeks after Thanksgiving vacation the chapel will present its annual Christmas program in Oller Hall, Sunday, December 16, at 3:30 p.m.

This year they will present two cantatas with appropriate stage settings—Christmas Cantata by Buchner and An Apalachian Nativity by Horton, which is based on Christmas folk tunes.

The choir members under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Pfotenhauer are as follows.

Sopranos — Elizabeth Bowman, Miriam Bricker, Carole Miller, Carol Teeter, Marjorie White, Joan Ciccarelli, Lois Davis, Elaine Lehman, Shirley McNitt.

Altos — Jacque Hayes, Eddie Lantz, Alice Mullin, Alice Adams, Helen Herr, Shirley Nace.

Tenors — Dave Davis, George Hess, Phil Lankford, Herb Deuchar, Duane Stackhouse, John Staley.

Basses — Francis Christina, Charles Fleming,, Jim Martin, Bryan Stauffer, "Bud" Brown, Richard Ott Glenn Smeltzer.

Organist is Lois Guldin.

Reviewer Enjoys Arsenic, Old Lace

continued from page 1

the perfect old maidish appearance.

Praise should also go to the lighting, properties and set construction committee for the job they did in creating the perfect Victorian atmosphere.

Altogether it was a smooth enjoyable performance free from rough spots. No doubt it helped make Parents Day 1956 a happy experience for students and their families.

Frosh Elect Noe

Ann Noe became treasurer of the class of '60 defeating Carol Ann Stiffler 84 votes to 62 at the third runoff election held November 12 in freshman assembly.

The list of class officers is now complete with John "Tex" Holman president, Jay Maust vice-president, Jane Herbster secretary and Miss Noe treasurer..

'Ugliest' Man Search To Involve Most Vicious Campaign In Years

continued from page 1

election?) might want to observe the following requirements, which have been lifted from the Homecoming queen contest rules.

Spirit of Hospitality. Or in this case, inhospitality. Does the candidate sneer at fellow students and profs on the way to an eight o'clock class? Does he make freshman girls hold the door for him at Totem Inn?

Does he throw mystery cakes in the dining hall? Does he rip pages out of library books? If he does, he's the perfect candidate. Our man must be thoroughly corrupt!

Personal Appearance. Is the candidate gruesome, sloppy, greasy, dirty, drooling, fat, bald? Does he wear muddy sweatshirts to class? Are his toes coming through his shoes? Does he usually look as unkempt as his room must? Only the ugliest man on campus lives up to these requirements.

Activities. Even the candidates activities we can mention in print are really ugly! For instance, did you know that Mr. Alfarata Adams throws rocks at grandmothers? Or that Mr. Doorstep News Taylor believes in "cruelty for cruelty's sake"?

Or that Mr. Indian Amidon loves to eat cooked over vegetables? Or that Mr. Juniatian Stayer leaves riders in his auto stranded along the road? Or that Mr. Powwow Murdoch ran an active campaign to have the fire tower closed from 10 to 10:30 p.m.?

Or that Mr. Scout Conley tried to break the dam at the skating pond? Or that Mr. Smoke Signal Montgomery tried to get the Pentagon to drop an H-bomb on Allegheny Co. because it went for Eisenrower? Or that Mr. Tomahawk Layman pours sugar into salt shakers? Or that Mr. WJC radio Backus pulls wings off flies (and hangs them)?

The campus is preparing to be shaken by a campaign so enthusiatic that it will make last year's Senate race look like an old ladies' sewing circle meeting. Several of the candidate have already planned campoign tactics. However candidate Taylor has said, "I will not campaign for this position."

No campaign rules have been established so that the candidates will be unrestrained in proving to their fellow students how really "out-of-it" they are.

WJC Interviews

Brave Barbara Walls, WJC's editor of campus events, will attempt to interview the candidates Tuesday, November 27, at 8:45 on WJC's campus news program.

The "ugliest man on campus" will be announced at the Communications Hop Saturday evening, December 1, in Women's Gym.

MURPHY'S
WOMEN & MISSES
IVY LEAGUE BLOUSES
$1.98

Right Out Of November's
Seventeen. Debbie Young
Exclusive Party Dresses
Party-bound From Now Through New Year's
Dank's & Co.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Hollywood
Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking
in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs
ever!
SMITHFIELD

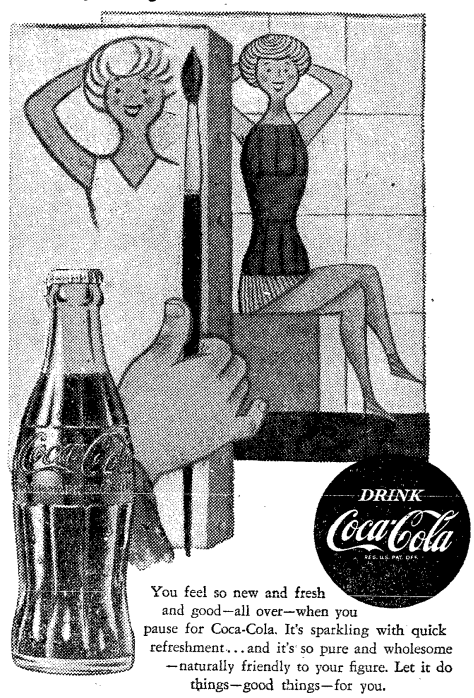
HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

"Coca-Cola does something for you, doesn't it."



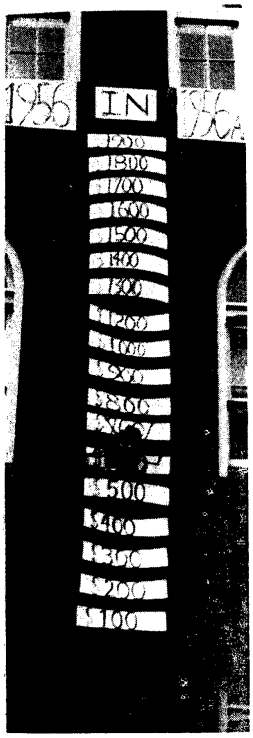
You feel so new and fresh and good—all over—when you pause for Coca-Cola. It's sparkling with quick refreshment... and it's so pure and wholesome —naturally friendly to your figure. Let it do things—good things—for you.

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 10 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 30, 1956



CLIMBING—On her way to the 1956 dollar parlor, this spider, dangling precariously on Students Hall, registers the payed pledges of the 1956 JWSF drive. Students can help her climb to the top by paying their pledges in Totem Inn this week.

'Ugliest' Man Coronation At Hop

The "ugliest" man on campus will be named at Saturday night's Communications Hop in the women's gym.

WJC radio's technical staff, Bill Holsinger, chairman, will install high fidelity amplifying equipment over which recorded music will be pdayed for dancing. Refreshments will be served by the Juniatian, Barbara Walls, chairman. The Alfarata, Alice Waite, chairman, will provide decorations. Entertainment will be presented for His Ugly Highness during intermission by the Powwow staff, Emmalyn Heed, chairman.

The sports publications, the Indian and the Tomahawk, Chuck Brown, chairman, will provide a "fitting gift" for the honored gruesome. The Scout and Senate publications, Doorstep News and the Smoke Signal, Phyl Marcocci, chairman, are in charge of publicity.

The affair will last from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Collegians Ready For Battle To Take All - Class Night Cup

by Ross Nahrgang

Comedy is on tap for Saturday night, December 8, as class warfare will again rage on the stage of Oller Hall for the annual All Class Night.

Each class has been working under its chairman getting the skits ready for presentation. Frank Rocco is heading the newest entry in the competition, the class of '60. Back for a second try are the sophomores under Pete Fahrney.

Bringing a winning entry into the show is Pete Wright and his junior group who won in the past two years have won the cup and are aiming for number three. Out to stop this junior onslaught is Dave Amidon and the senior class, this year determined to better their number two rating, a spot they have held for three years.

With a time limit of 22 minutes, a budget of five dollars and an opportunity to draw for the position of the presentation, each class is given an equal chance to shine.

Real Challenge

"Peep" Gipprich, a member of the skit approval committee, commented, "We feel this is going to be one of the hardest themes to present and will be a real challange to student creativeness, but after the successes of previous years we feel sure they (the classes) will all do a fine job."

Others on the approval committee are Dean James Penny, Dean Barbara Bechtel, James Bray and Aliceann Wohlbruck.

The comedies will be judged on content of the script, originality, continuity and integration of the writing, the performance itself, the direction and interpretation of the script and the staging, costumes, lighting, set and make-up. Judging on these points will be a panel of five— three members from off-campus, one JC professor and an English professor from another college.

McQuaide, Walls Goodrich, Stricker To Attend Confab

Del McQuaide, Barbara Walls, Meg Goodrich and Dottie Stricker will represent Juniata at the Pennsylvania-West Virginia regional conference of the National Student Association, it was reported in Senate Wednesday.

Miss Stricker, who is serving as coordinator of relations between the Senate and NSA, has been empowered to decide who will represent Juniata in voting at the convention.

Ray Ono and "Squeegee" Holsinger presented a schedule for use of the laundry room in Oneida Hall. Men may use all washing machines Monday and Tuesday until 6 p.m. Women may use them the rest of the time with the exception tha one washing machine will always be available to males.

Little Idiots

A committee of chairman Ray Ono, Doug Wilson and Bill Hershberger was appointed to consider ways for men to act and dress more in keeping with accepted standards. Dean Barbara Bechtell reported that men waiting to get into the dining hall act "like a bunch of little idiots."

George Fattman, chairman, and Ono, Bill Hershberger, Miss Holsinger and Ann Willson were appointed to various orge committee proposals.

Thieves

Students were urged by the Senate to report to the Judiciary those students who still have stolen library books.

College To Change Into Wonderland

It will not be long before JC's campus will again take on the appearance of a Christmas wonderland.

December 8 each class will start decorating its designated location on campus. As is customary the seniors will be in charge of the social rooms. Under the chairmanship of Rosalie Langer they will make the rooms a Dream of a White Christmas.

The juniors, under Jan Schall, will turn Totem Inn into a Winter Wonderland. The sophomore class will decorate the front porch and balcony of Founders Hall using the theme Unto Us A Child Is Born. Sarah Gilchrist and Sandy Ruppenthal are co-chairmen.

Carol Beard and Jack Patterson are co-chairmen for the freshman class. They will convert the front entrance to campus into Santa Land.

Each class display will be judged by two members of the faculty. The winners will be announced at the Christmas banquet and a prize of 10 dollars given to the the lucky class.

CJ Hears Four Cases, Formulates By-Laws; McClure Secretary

Since its organization a month ago, the Campus Judiciary has met four times and has had four cases referred to it for action.

The first case concerned two students who utilized the Memorial Gymnasium to play basketball during chapel in defiance of a faculty member's instructions to them to leave, as the gym is officially closed during that time.

The defendants, who appeared before the Judiciary to make a statement of their case, were found guilty of the charges brought against them. Since the offense was judged, by vote of the Judiciary, to be a minor one, under the three-step disciplinary procedure outlined in the Constitution they were warned that additional misconduct would result in further action.

Sock Case

Another student was referred to the Judiciary on the grounds of stealing a pair of white gym socks, but since the incident had occured before the organization of the Judiciary and had already been dealt with by the appropriate authority, the Judicicay decided to take no further action.

Two other cases currently under consideration by the Judiciary, with decisions pending, are concerned with misrepresentation of facts to college officials and theft of chemicals from the chemistry stockroom.

It was decided that any member of the college comunity reporting infractions of rules to the body must make the initial referal in writing. All correspondence should be addressed to the secretary, Joan McClure.

Regular business meetings will be held the second Monday of every month, but special sessions at which times cases are considered, are called as the occasion demands. All meetings, unless otherwise designated, are closed to members of the college community, except those directly involved.

JCA Makes Plans For Season Party For Area Children

The JCA Christmas party for underprivileged children which is being held December 15 in the Memorial Gym will give Juniatians the chance to make the holiday happier for many Huntingdon boys and girls.

Couples, two boys or two girls may take a child to the party which starts at 7:30 p.m. by signing their names on the list posted on Founders bulletin board. December 1 is the deadline for submitting your name.

Each person contributes one dollar for a gift to be given to your boy or girl. These gifts are distributed by Santa Claus at the party. JCA also will provide each child with a gift in addition to serving refreshments.

Last year's Christmas party was termed a great success with 130 children attending.

Hoffman, Wernsing, Bennett Take Posts

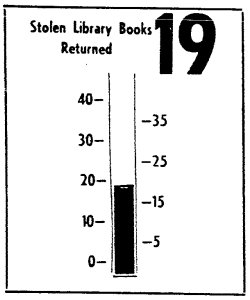
Joyce Hoffman, freshman elementary major from Waynesboro, was named to succeed Roger Bennett as circulation manager of the Juniatian this wek.

Bennett resigned his post to become assistant to the business manager. During the three months in his former capacity he watched the circulation of the Juniatian jump from 1,200 to 1,800, the greatest increase in subscription holders in many years.

Miss Hoffman moves up on the Juniatian staff from her position as assistant circulation manager. Named as her assistant was Judy Wernsing, a freshman from Cornwell Heights.

Mass Chest X-Ray Friday

Students will have their chests X-rayed for tubebrculosis next Friday in Memorial Gym. Students may go for the service any time during the day.



Registrar Schedules Spring Registration; Offers New Courses

James Bray, college registrar, has announced that spring registration will be held December 4-7 from 1:30-3:30 p.m. in Student's Hall.

Seniors and music majors will register Tuesday, juniors Wednesday, sophomores Thursday and freshmen and home economic majors on Friday.

All students must have completed class cards, registration cards and work sheets by Friday, December 7. Registration after this date will be considered late and subject to the 5-dollar registration fee. Likewise, students must obtain properly approved registration forms from the office of treasurer before being admitted to their spring term classes beginning January 29, 1957.

New Courses

Dean Mays, chairman of the academic policy committee calls attention to two new courses on the roster for the spring term.

Both of the new courses are religious in character, although one appears in the music department and one in the Biblical studies department. Each carries three hours of credit.

Following are the descriptions which have been approved for these courses:

CHURCH MUSIC — Survey of the history and literature of the music of the Christian Church. Analysis of the various liturgies,

See Registrar, p. 4

Like To Play Games

Try These Typical 'Objective' Questions

by Dave Amidon

For each of the following answers, just one question is exactly and obviously appropriate.

Look at all the answers, think about them, then see if you can guess what question they belong to. The questions to these answers follow.

Answers:

1. "Our complacent friends."
2. Melbourne.
3. Univac.
4. 10 seconds.
5. PRR
6. Table salt.
7. Number 10 Downing Street.
8. Farmer.
9. Obvious Street.
10. Elvis Presley.
11. Elvis Presley.
12. Elvis Presley.
13. Elvis Presley.
14. Elvis Presley.
15. Charleton Heston.

Questions:

1. Which cows give Pet Milk?
2. The name of this city is misspelled: Yrrablkdf. Spell it correctly.
3. Give the English word meaning "single electric sweeper."
4. What is required when ten persons demand additional helpings of dinner?
5. What do pussy cats say?
6. If you had to eat a table, what would you use to season it?
7. Select at random a street address.
8. What is the actual occupation of the famous golfer, D. D. Eisenhower?
9. On what New York street does the Fifth Avenue bus run? Note: The answer is obvious.
10. Name the greatest musician of all time.
11. Name the most accomplished actor of the 20th century.
12. Name the best boxer of modern times (currently undefeated.)
13. Write down the first thing that enters your mind.
14. Suggest a possible incorrect answer to the question: "Who was the first president of the United States.
15. Who handed down the 10 commandments from Mount Sinai? Clue: It was not Elvis Presley, so far as we know.

JC's 'Ugliest' Man Will Be At The Communications Hop Saturday. Will You?

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

THE STAFF

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ..... Joan McClure
MANAGING EDITOR ..... George Fattman
NEWS EDITOR ..... Barb Walls
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... George Carnahan

editorially speaking . . .

Let There Be Light

The issue of a light for the walk to the New Dorm is not a new one—in fact, the need for such a light was pointed out to the Administration by the Senate soon after the dormitory was first occupied.

However, always Senate querries into the matter have been countered with "It's on our agenda, and we'll get to it soon." But "soon" never comes. The snow and ice, only begun, make the unlit walk a safety hazard and make lighting even more mandatory. It's too late after someone has an accident.

Problem for gueste too

Although this condition is bad enough for the residents of the dorm, who are familiar with the walk, imagine what difficulty the guests who are constantly touring the New Dorm must have making their way.

Also, the suggestion that prismo paint be used to outline the walk has not been followed through. This suggestion, we feel, has merit, and should be considered by the Safety Committee.

We hope that this committee also takes into account conditions of campus walks in general during icy and snowy weather. The walks should be cleared and every precaution taken to make them as safe as possible for the constant service they must give.

The Academic Life You Save . . .

The Senate has made a commendable move in setting up a voluntary academic help program for freshmen; we hope that this program will not fall through because of lack of student interest and participation.

Undoubtedly there are freshmen who need academic help, as every freshman class has a high mortality rate. To quote from the Report of the Student President on the Academic Help Program, "The huge mortality rate in freshmen classes, whether or not it is inevitable, is one that no self-respecting student government can fail to take cognasance of.

An Obligation

"The Senate feels an obligation at least to try to present to the freshmen, especially those who are in particular need, a program of meaningful academic help."

The program that has been set up by Don Ruhl, Senate appointed chairman of the project, is based on a staff of competent tutors, all of whom have been approved by Dean Mays. It is felt that these upperclass tutors will be capable of aiding students in all fields, not only in their particular majors, since everyone has had integration courses.

Although this program is a completely voluntary one, if you are having difficulty why not give it a try, frosh? The academic life you save may be your own.

campus capers . . .

Sat. Nights And Irrationality

All set? You bet. Then on with the column.

In the serious and somber nature of affairs ccollegiate during the past two weeks — football rallies, dances, parties, packing, comparing notes on vacations, etc. — there seems to have been a dearth of humor on campus. Either that or we've been particularly unreceptive.

Conversations have for the most part, been limited to don't eat much turgey; Have a nice vacation; Did you have a nice vacation?; How are you going home?; How did you come back? Glad to be back? (No, I hate it here," one person was heard to growl) and the inevitable "I had a nice vacation, but it was too short."

Of course we can't expect anything too profound from college students.

* * * *

What professors think of us was pretty well demonstrated in a statement made by a prof to a senior student in class last week. "What you did on Saturday night," he said, "probably had very little to do with rationality."

A word of advice from another prof to those who take life too seriously— "A nervous person doesn't die young, but most of his friends do"

* * * *

And now to expropriate humor from other colleges in order to fill up space: The University of Illinois Shaft speculates on Shakespeare's ad-writing potentialities:

Out, out, brief candle! Life's but a walking shadow. Without the new GE two-way lamp.
O how this too solid flesh did melt
And in only a fortnight too.

The Dubarry Success Course did it for me—
Perchance it could happen to you.

And from the Dartmouth Jack-o-lantern Personals: Young Lima Bean Heiress desires to make contact with corn magnate, any age. Object: Succotash.

* * *

Finally there's the one about the political science professor, who, during a discussion on the constitution, spotted a particularly sleepy fellow in the back row. The prof snapped, "Sir, if the President of the United States died who would get the job?"

The startled student replied, "A Republican undertaker."

* * *

See you in two weeks. In the meaneime, be witty. It makes column writing so much easier.

An Open Letter To All Juniatians

The Juniata World Service Fund drive is well on its way, but it is also far from completion. If you want to contribute personally to the success of this big and worthy JC project, here's what you can still do:

1. If you have not as yet been contacted or if you desire eo make a further cash or pledge contribution, see Dr. Crosby, Bonnie Gunther, Ross Nahrgang, or myself. Any of us will be glad eo accept your coin.

2. If you have already made a pledge, pay it as soon as you are able. For instance there will be a JWSF representative in Totem Inn this coming Monday and Tuesday.

3. If you are an interested member of any club or organization on campus, urge your group to give all they can to JWSF. As the drive is set up, suubstantial amounts from these sources are a necessary part of the JWSF goal.

4. Talk about JWSF to anyone. It's still worth talking about, and the enthusiasm you stir will eventually make the success of the drive.

So your interest and money are still needed. As you watch the JWSF spider creep up the wall of Students Hall, remember that JWSF depends on your continuing help.

Dave Amidon, Chairman

Ice And Your Derriere

As you have sallied forth of late, you have perceived a certain natural substance long familiar to the Eskimo. This is ice.

Do not fret that it is not found in cube form, as in certain beverages; it is still ice. We know this because (a.) it becomes wet when heated (the hotter, the wetter) and (b.) because it hurts so much.

Ice hurts because we fall on it, something we should not do if we had any respect for our bottoms. Modern man loves whatever is "really cool," Yet ice is the very coolest, and man insults it by bashing his bottom against it. Here is comething to thing about —(No further thought to this sentence, but a preposition is a poor word to end a sentence with.)

We may say that a standing person is "in just relation to the ice," whereas one who has crunched upon his derriere (or hers) is "unjustly related to the ice." To maintain favorable relations between the ice and yourself 1. never permit your feet to go faster or slower than the rest of you while in the presence of ice, and 2. beware of the so-called "split."

Danger of pronity (the condition of having fallen) increases as the square of the distance between your feet. When this distance exceeds 10 feet, check your figures again. If they are accurate, check your figure.

At any rate, an awareness of these fundamental facts about hard water will precent an icy lumbar region.

D. A.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I'M GLAD WHO WRITE UP THESE CATALOGS FORGET WE DON'T HAVE A COLLEGE EDUCATION YET."

news views . . .

Republicans' Judgment Day Nears

by Jim Montgomery

The Democrats have long found comfort in the Republican Party conservative-liberal split.

The electorate's awareness of the still too present taint of unwarranted conservatism of this party was demonstrated in its recent defeat. Despite the president's election night claims to the contrary the liberal wing, the "New Republicanism," is rather hard to locate. For every Javits, there is a score of Dirksens and McCarthys.

So then, instear of being an actual split, the conflict seems to be a thrust of Old-Guardism, somewhatarrested by the rather tacit presence of Eisenhower. Judgment Day is at hand. Eisenhower radely, if at all, postponed it, and if nothing changes, the inevitably less appealing 1960 candidate will do even less coat-tail service.

Democrats Split Too

However, it is now apparent that the Republicans do not have the monopoly on intra-party conflicts. The Democrats are now split on two basic questions: Civil Rights and reaction to Eisenhower's leadership.

The northern liberals under such men as Mansfield and Morse are making a determined effort to do away with the filibuster and intend to present their own legislative program, rather than be mere critics to the president's. Lyndon Johnson leads their predominantly Southern opposition.

Unprofitable To Woo

The solid south is broken as far as presidential elections are concerned, but is still valid congressionally.. And the defection of the Negro vote in the north combined with the rise of the Negro vote in the South makes it no longer profitable to woo and pamper the factions led by such men as Eastland and Talmadge.

Outside of the rather remote possibility of a new party alignment, these heirs of Huey Long and George Talmadge will have to remain Democratic, for lack of anyplace else eo go.

The big question then for '60 is can the Republicans solidify their party into a decisive force and can the usually Democratic party wipe away the smudge of Southern racial engendered conservatism without causing a "Dixiecrat" bolt.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

WJC
All the latest news . . . .
CAMPUS: College News
Barbara Walls, Tuesday at 8:45 p.m.
WORLD: Headline Edition
Tom Chase, daily at 11 p.m.
Weekly News Roundup
Dean Hancox, Thursday at 8:45 p.m.
SPORTS: Sports Roundup
Bill Ebner, Friday at 8:45 p.m.
1150 on the dial

RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS
HI FI 45 - Player $79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable $129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette $139.95
Tape Recorder $159.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

SPORTS

Page 3 Friday, November 30, 1956

IM Basketball, Popular Sport, Now In Full Swing At Juniata

by Carl Wass

"Round ball time is here again." This cry is echoing over the Juniata campus as the curtain ring up on the most popularboy's intramural sport, basketball.

Doug Wilson, chairman on athletics, has announced that 19 teams will participate in intramural basketball this year and that the games will be scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoons, while all makeup games must be channeled through his office. The season was inaugurated last evening with a full schedule of six games. Preseason favorites for the intramural championship are the sophomore -laden Dukes, and the present titleholders, the Whips.

Competent Refs

Long a sore spot on the IM basketball scene was the problem of competent referees. This problem has been partially solved as the Intramural Athletic Committee this week voted to prepare a list of efficient referees to officiate games of alternate evenings.

When this list is completed and the various officials notified, intramural bosketball at Juniata should enjoy one of its finest and most highly contested schedules in history.

Indians Rout Ursinus To Close Grid Season With Six Wins, Loss

The Juniata Indians scalped the Ursinus Bears, 33-6, in a rain drenched finale at Collegeville.

For the boys from College Hill, it was their fifth straight victory and the sixth out of seven contests this season. The Bears finished the season with a 3-4-1 record.

Juniata displayed alert defensive play sparked by co-captain John Staley and a well-balanced running attack spearheaded by Bill Berrier and Joe Trimber.

The Indians scored early in the first period soon after Bernie McQuown recovered Bob Famous' fumble on the Bears' 21. Seven plays later, with Trimber, Berrier and Joe Sopata pecking away for small yardage, Berrier leaped over from the two for the touchdown. He also added the placement to make it 7-0.

Trimber Over

Late in the first period after Sopata intercepted a pass, the Tribe covered 45 yards on three plays for their second score. Trimber scooted 13 yards and Sopata added two before Berrier powered his way the final 30 yards. Although Berrier missed the attempted conversion, the Indians led 13-0 at intermission.

Grizzlies Undiscouraged

The half-time score did not discourage the Grizzlies. Led by determined Bob Famous, Ursinus dwindled the count to 13-6 on the second half kickoff. Although the ball was bobbled, Famous picked the pigskin up on the four, shot up the middle and broke into the clear at the 40 to record a 96-yard touchdown. Don Shover blocked Famous's attempt for the extra point.

Shortly after the exchange of the ball in the third stanza, Famous faded back tao pass, but an Indian lineman hit his cocked arm thus allowing the ball to go straight into the air. Berrier obviously intercepted the pass and raced 51 yards untouched for a touchdown. But the referee apparently anticipating an incomplete pass blew his whistle and the touchdown was called back.

However, the ball was ruled a fumble and Juniata was given possession on the 49. Ten plays later, with Dick Fagan pitching to Ken Opipery twice for important yardage, Ole Joe scooted around right end for the final 16 yards. Berrier's point made it 20-6.

Three plays later and on the first play of the fourth period Berrier snagged a Famous pass and raced 16 yards for his third six-pointer.

Berier's extra point was perfect, thus raising his point total to 74 and making him one of the state's state's leading scorers.

Final Score

The final Indian score was made by Bill Artz who raced around left end on a quarterback keep from 12 yards out. Artz's sneak attempt for the extra point failed, but the game soon ended with the final score being Juniata 33, Ursinus 6.

Senior Women Take Hockey League, 4-0-1

With the women's intramural hockey season over the final standinfs show the senior firls, with a 4-0-1 slate, reigning as champions of the league with the frosh as close runners-up.

The freshmen have won three games while losing one and tying one. Thesophomores have won only one game and lost three, while the juniors remain winless.

Dottie Stricker leads the scoring department with eleven goals, followed by another senior, Nancy Bachman with eight goals and fheshman Roberta Savage and Carol Beard with seven and five goals respectively.

To the players, managers and coaches of JC's successful 1956 football season, your personal gift will be ready for you Tues-Dec. 4th. Stop in and pick it up . . . Bernie

JC's FAVORITE JEWELRY STORE is SWARTZ JEWELRY

(next door to Clifton Theatre)

HOTEL HUNTINGDON

Phone 830

Juniata Hoopsters To Travel To Lock Haven For Inaugural

• Dick Pinney • • Henry Gibbel •

Behind the Grid Scene

Gibbel, Pinney Leave Grid Squad After Service As Managers

by Bill Ebner

Juniata's football squad suffers more than a loss of linemen this year, for two senior managers, Henry Gibbel and Dick Pinney will also graduate this spring.

Gibbel, who played football, basketball and baseball for Lititz High School, has filled the position of senior manager since his freshman year at JC. Serving under coaches Smaltz, Hicks and Bunn, he has seen the Indians defeated only once in 32 games. In addition to his football activities Gibbel is treasurer of his class, vice president of the J-Club, secretary-treasurer of the Tycoon Club and a member of the Student Judiciary.

Pinney, a transfer student to Juniata, spent his first two years of college life at Penn State where he played both freshman and varsity basketball. While at State he belonged to the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity which makes him a "frat" brother of Coach Ken Bunn. He is a business major with a minor in engineering, and is also a member of the Tycoon Club.

Indian Harriers Ring Down Curtain On First Season

by Chuck Brown

With the running of the first annual Middle Atlantic Conference Cross-Country Championships at Allentown, November 16, Juniata rang down the curtain on its first cross-country season.

The Indian harriers entered seven men in the 4.2 mile varsity run, which was won by Earl Jefferson of LaSalle College. JC finished eighth in a field of nine colleges. St. Joseph's won the team title in the Conference, which replaces the old Middle Atlantic States Association.

Herb Layman, ending his short hilltopping career at Juniata, was the first Indian across the finish line in 28th place. Frank Hrach was next for the Blue and Gold in 45th position. Doug Wilson, who also terminated a brief cross-country career on College Hill, was 58th. Next for the Braves was Ed Moore in 63rd place. He was followed by Jim Petitt in 67th spot, Chuck Brown in 68th place and Joe Senft in 70th place.

The Blue and Gold harriers finished the regular dual meet season with a fine 3-1 record. Layman finished the season with an identical three won and one loss log. During the regular season Herb Deuchar, who was out with a leg injury. Henry Crocker and Jim Copenheaver also ran for Juniata.

Suloff Sparks All-Stars' Win

The intramural soccer season came to a close last week as the All Stars edged the Hotshots 1-0 to take the league championship. The only goal of the game was scored by Dave Suloff who ran his league leading total to four.

Weaver The Florist

John & Sarah Snyder

YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST

Phone 431 211 5th St.

Cagers Open '56-'57 Card Off-Campus

by John Jenkins

After losing his entire starting lineup from last year's senior-studded squad, Coach "Doc" Greene faces the job of rebuilding a team for the basketball season opener on December first at Lock Haven.

Only three lettermen return from last years team which had a season record of 14 wins and 7 losses. The returning lettermen are Mike Armstrong, Barney McLaughlin and Bill Burchfield.

The probable starting lineup appears to be composed of the above three, Chet White a freshman, and the following four battling for the fifth spot on the squad: Mike Miller, Pete McCavley, Ron Wertz and Gordon Ewers. Also seeing action on this years squad will be "Doc" Kramer, Joe DeNicola, Bob Ewald and Tony Quarintillo.

This year's squad will not have the height to everwhelm their opponents, but what they do have as JC fans shall see is plenty of speed and hustle.

Coach Green

Serving his eighth year as coach of the Indians, Dr. Green is a local dentist. "Doc" has long been a sporting enthusiast, quarterbacking under Jock Sutherland at Pitt, leading the Waltersboro Army Air Base basketball team to the Southeastern US Service basketball title in 1944 and playing baseball in the Cincinnati Reds farm system until his career was cut short bv arthritis in his back.

All factors considered it should be an interesting basketball season at Juniata.

Trimber, Berrier Spark Tribe To Successful Gridiron Season

CNB—Joe Trimber, junior tailback from Moon Township, sparked Juniata's high geared multiple offense to six victories in seven football games this season, but he had to settle for second in scoring behind Bill Berrier, the "surprise package" freshman from Harrisburg.

Trimber, a returning serviceman who did not start a game until mid-season, led the Indians in rushing, total offense, pass-receiving, punting and kick-off returns.

However, Berrier romped to 11 touchdowns and place-kicked eight out of nine points for a team high of 74.

The Indians averaged 247 yards per game rushing to rate tops among the small colleges (southern division) of the ECAC.

Among Nation's Best

Defensively, Coach Ken Bunn's team looked even better as it held seven opponents to 80.6 yards rushing—best mark among all colleges in the ECAC—and 79.4 yards passing. Juniata's total defensive yield of 160 yards per game ranked it second in the ECAC and among the nation's best.

Final Football Statistics

	JC	OPP
Rnshing yardage	1729	564
Rush. yds. per game	247.0	80.6
Passes attempted	62	118
Passes completed	24	44
Yds. gained passing	278	556
Yds. pass. per game	39.7	79.4
cTotal yds. gained	2007	1120
Total yds. gained	2007	1120
First downs	102	62
Punting average	31.8	31.8
Yds. punt returned	319	78
Ave. kickoff return	18.6	14.4
Total points	195	45

Juniata Individual Leaders

Rushing	Trimber	507
Yds. per carry	Trimber	6.18
Passing pts. Fagan		45.2 (14-31)
Total points	Berrier	74
Punting ave.	Trimber	31.8
Pass reception	Trimber	7
Ave. punt return	Hassinger	14.4
Ave. kickoff return	Trimber	23.6

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

ART'S DINER

Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!

SMITHFIELD

Public Relations Group Selects Beltrame Head

Now approved by the Senate to function in place of the sub-frosh committee, the Public Relations Club, led by advisor Bob Newcombe, has elected Charlotte Beltrame president, Paul Adams and Millie Mandeville vice-presidents, and Nancy Hoffman secretary-treasurer.

Chairman of the various committees are Dick Lantzy, tours; Carol Holsopple, rooms; Mary Lou Zimmerman, registration, and Lou Hall, tables.

In addition to their work with the sub-frosh on weekends, the club hopes to have speakers come at times to speak on public relations. All those who are interested in working with the sub-frosh, as well as those interested in personnel work, are urged to attend the meetings of this new club.

JWL Plans Bazaar

The Women's League of Juniata College, Huntingdon Branch, has extended an invitation to students and faculty to atend their Christmas Bazaar, to be held in the Elks Home Thursday, December 6 from 2 - 5 p.m.

Christmas gifts and food, which the league is selling for the benefit of Juniata College, will be on display and can be purchased at the Bazaar.

Refreshments are to be served.

Pennies For JWSF

Barb McIntyre helps a Lincoln Caverns guide remove pennies from the Wishing Well for JWSF.

Betz Poem In Annual

The National Poetry Association has announced that The Mountain, a poem by senior Clint Betz, will be published in this year's Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America, representing every section of the country. Betz's poem was chosen from thousands of entries.

Jew To Speak To Christians About Messiah

Tuesday at 7:15 in Room C, Students Hall, JCA will present another unusual type of Christmas program.

Rabbi Nathan Kaber of Temple Beth Israel, Altoona, will speak on the Jewish concept of the Messiah.

Although Jews differ from Christians in that they do not believe that Jesus Christ is the fulfillment of the messianic prophecy, Rabbi Kaber's talk should provide some new insights into the Judaic roots of our faith.

In ensuing weeks, JCA will sponsor a caroling expedition to Huntingdon's Blair Memorial Hospital and a final candlelight Christmas Service at 11:30 p.m. on the evening before the holiday recess.

Juniatians Attend BSCM Gathering

Seven Juniatians attended the annual meeting of the Brethren Student Christian Movement held at McPherson College in Kansas during Thanksgiving vacation.

Students Helen Herr, Aileen Wright, Bryan Staufer, Jim Swarr and Dick Livingston along with faculty members Anna Kathryn Wenger and Bob McFadden attended the four day conference the theme of which was The History of Faith.

JC Women Elect Rules Committee

Members of the newly-formed women's house disciplinary committee are : Eileen Gipprich, Carol Olbrich, Eleanor Newton, Eva Wagner, Janice Christie, Ann Larkin, Jane Brumbaugh and Shirley Raffensperger.

The committee is composed of two girls from each class and the Dean of Women and is presided over by chairman of women's house "Squeegee' Holsinger. Members have equal vote in making decisions about policy and discipline.

They will codify dormitory rules and establish and enforce house regulations.

Registrar Schedules Spring Registration

continued from page 1

with attention to the function of music in the Church at the present time. Design for students of music as well as pre-ministerial students.

THE THEOLOGY OF PEACE —An introduction to theological thought on the problem of war and peace. The witness of the Biblical revelation, the historical attitudes of the church, and current writings will be studied. The case for both pacifism and non-pacifism will be examined. There will be an introduction to the peace movement.

Akin Appears Here

Pictured above is Dh. Nita Akin, widely acclaimed organist who appeared in an Oller Hall recital Wednesday morning. Dr. Akin, who has played many concerts in the leading cities of Europe and America, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Music at Southwestern University in 1938 in recognition of "her great achievement in the concert field and outstanding music service given in her home state."

—In Chapel Next Week—

December 3 — President Ellils
December 5 — Doctor Crosby
December 7 — Christmas Songs by Mrs. Phyllis W. Henry

Juniatian Enjoys Social Life In Scotland

Bruce Dickey, a member of the class of '58 who is spending his junior year at St. Andrews University in Scotland writes in a letter to the Juniatian about the extra curricular life there.

The exera curricular life of this small university campus is abundant and by no means dull.

The Celtic Society started off its program for the year with a Gaelic and Scots concert which featured a sword dance, a bagpiper, songs in Gaelic and Scottish dialect, a homespun comedian and a ballad singer.

Another benefit to international students is the annual trip made by the Historical Society. This year we went to Sterling where we climbed the Wallace Monument, saw the castle, the Guild Hall and the Church of the Holy Rude.

Evening of Fun

The week before I went on a trip with the Overseas Society which is sponsored by townspeople. This group gave us a fine evening of fun at their annual social where we learned that at least 33 countries are in some way represented at this university.

International relations are also furthered by the Cosmopolitan Club which has a social side as well as a program of discussions, speakers and films.

But the international flavor I like best is found in the various menus prepared by members of the Gourmet Club. We've already had American style spaghetti and some Spanish food.

Low Living Expenses

About 40 other societies and groups of various kinds keep things happening here. There is also the matter of lectures which cost the American student only about 75 dollars for the entire year. And living expenses total no more than 12 dollars a week. A restaurant meal may cost only 35 cents while a man's haircut is only 32. Books are one half to three quarters of U.S. prices.

In order to get here to take advantage of all this, train and bus fares are equally as low. Of course there is the obstacle of the passage over, but that should not deter those interested in spending their junior year abroad. And you get a different view of the news here!

This nice man can give you dependable delivery of

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR
an international daily newspaper

Housewives, businessmen, teachers, and students all over the world read and enjoy this international newspaper, published daily in Boston. World-famous for constructive news stories and penetrating editorials. Special features for the whole family.

The Christian Science Monitor
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.
Send your newspaper for the time checked. Enclosed find my check or money order.
1 year $16 ☐ 6 months $8 ☐
3 months $4 ☐
Name
Address
City Zone State
PB-15

MURPHY'S
WOMEN & MISSES
IVY LEAGUE BLOUSES
$1.98

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Shop
The Ray English Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SATURDAY
High Society Color
Bing Crosby — Grace Kelly
Frank Sinatra
MONDAY & TUESDAY
The Opposite Sex
Cinemascope and Color
June Allyson — Joan Collins
Delores Gray - Ann Sheridan
Ann Miller - Jeff Richards and a host of guest stars
Harry James - Jim Backus
Art Mooney - Dick Shawn
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Double Feature Program
Spencer Tracy - Robert Wagner
— in —
The Mountain
— plus —
The Scarlet Hour
Judy Lawrence Carol Ohmart
STARTS FRIDAY DEC. 7
Between Heaven And Hell
Cinemascope & Color

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 11 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, December 7, 1956

Campus Prepares For Yule Festivities

Godlasky New Acting Dean Of Men; Hettinger Gets Leave

Intercollegiate Confab Thinks We're Superior

Delegates to the Pennsylvania West Virginia regional conference of the National Student Association were impressed when Juniata's representatives told them about student government here.

"Other colleges represented seemed to think that we have an ideal student governbent at Juniata," delegate Meg Goodrich reported to the Senate Wednesday evening.

Equally favorable reports came from representatives Dottie Stricker, Barb Walls and Del McQuaide, who attended the confab at West Virginia University last weekend. "I would say our student government was superior to others represented," McQuaide remarked. "Other schools had problems I'd never heard of."

Walls Reports

Miss Walls, who attended a conference on college publica tions, reported that other representatives were surprised to learn that the Juniatian functioned with so few problems.

But the delegates did bring back a lot of suggestions. "We all feel that we got a great deal out of the conference," Miss Stricker told the senators. New ideas for the Judiciary were brought back along with suggestions for foreign student committee, the student press and various student organizations.

The delegates decided that Juniata is not plagued with the most prevalent problem in colleges represented, namely student apathy. "Some colleges are lucky if 30 percent of the student body votes in an election," McQuaide pointed out. Eighty percent of Juniata's student body turns out for campus elections here.

Chapel Choir Plans Two Yule Cantatas

The Chapel Choir is busily putting the finishing touches on their Christmas program for Sunday, December 16.

The program will consist of two cantatas, The first of which is Christmas Cantata by the German composer Philipp Friedrich Buchner. This work was first published in 1642. It is an angelic proclamation to man of the Savior's birth and mankind's response in a concert of praise to the Christ Child.

The second cantata is of a much later period, having been published in 1955. The Appalachian Nativity by Lewis Henry Horton is a Christmas folk cantata based on hymns.

Dr. Penney To Fill Post At Boston U.; Winger Librarian

The resignation of Juniata's dean of men and the approval of a leave of absence for the college librarian were announced by President Ellis.

Dr. James Penney will leave at the end of the fall term in late January to accept an appointment as assistant professor of guidance and psychology at Boston University.

Named acting dean of men for the spring term is Charles Godlasky, instructor in sociology and assistant athletic coach.

Rest and Travel

Mrs. Sarah Hettinger has been granted a leave of absence from her position as librarian "for rest and travel" beginning January 1.

Miss Anna Kathryn Winger will serve as acting librarian until September.

Penn State Grad

Godlasky, a Penn State graduate, is now teaching a freshman integration course and has completed his first season as line coach in football.

Miss Winger, a Juniata alumna, also joined the staff this year as assistant librarian to replace Miriam Dickey.

Rowland, Maust Star In Cue Play

The Cue and Curtain players, under the auspices of the Masque, will present their first comedy workshop of the season December 11 in Oller Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Included in the cast are Jacque Rowland, Jay Maust, Mary Shirk, Pete Wright, Lou Schade and Diane Klebe.

The comedy confines itself to the corridor of a second-rate hotel, where the residents run into unnerving experiences when it appears that there is either a lunatic or a suicide-case locked in the bathroom. The surprising outcome provokes many laughs. No admission will be charged.

The production is under the supervision of Jan Schall and Ron Fink with lighting by Ron Knouse. Plans are now being made for a second workshop production, and all students are invited to join in its presentation.

● "Peep" Gipprich ●
All-Class Night Chairman

CJ Recommends Student's Removal From Paying Post

In a 4-hour session last week the Campus Judiciary considered the case of a student charged with misconduct and referred to them for action.

The Judiciary, after hearing testimony from several witnesses and the defendant himself, found the defendant guilty of "improper use of materials procured from a college department" and of "creation of circumstances in a dormitory room which may have been a contributing factor to the fire that occurred in the Cloister November 10 and which jeopardized the safety of the occupants of the dormitory."

Careless Handling

In addition to reprimanding him severely for "careless, thoughtless handling of potentially dangerous materials in potentially dangerous ways," the Judiciary voted to recommend that he be removed from any position of responsibility for the remainder of the semester in the department in which he now holds a paying job and to notify his parents of the action taken against him.

Gipprich Readying Classes For Skits In Oller Saturday

"All class night is going to be tremendous this year," reports 'Peep' Gipprich, general chairman of the all class night production.

"All four comedies are distinctly different and original, and they should give the judges a rough time choosing the winner."

Miss Gipprich's work began some six weeks ago when she got the classes working on their scripts. After the scripts were finished by the classes, they were turned over to the script committee composed of dean of men James Penney, dean of women Barbara Bechtell, director of dramatics James Bray and the general chairman of all class night. It is the duty of this committee to read and review the scripts. "Only one was rejected by the committee," reports Miss Gipprich, "the rest were very good."

Wohlbruck Ass't

Aliceann Wohlbruck was chosen by the Senate as assistant general chairman. Both are English majors from Altoona, Miss Wohlbruck, a member of the junior class, Miss Gipprich a member of the senior class. Miss Wohlbruck's activities have been channeled through publicity for the production.

Don Murdoch was appointed by Miss Gipprich as business manager. Judy Gearhart is general make-up chairman and Ron Knouse is general lighting chairman.

Frosh Name Pond Snowflake Lake

Snowflake Lake is the freshman choice for the name of the new skating pond formerly known as Operation Recreation.

The committee of freshmen in charge of naming the pond consisted of Linda Kerr and Bill Berrier, co-chairman, and Jo Ciccerelli, Jill Muir, Don Ross and Bill Stump.

Seasonal Whirl Of Activities Now Underway

by Carol Baish

Now that all themes are written and all presents bought and wrapped, it's time to jump on the bandwagon (or one-horse open sleigh) and plan to attend the Senate's general activities planned for the Yuletide season.

On December 8 Juniata's campus will be decorated for the season, each class competing for the 10-dollar prize. The decorations will be judged by Miss Esther Doyle and Dr George Clemens, the winner to be announced at the Christmas banquet.

Tuesday, December 11, Jim Stayer and Ken Fassnacht will lead a carol sing in the Social Rooms to set the mood for the candlelight banquet and Christmas formal Wednesday night.

Binkley To Read

Christmas wouldn't be complete without Dr. Harold Binkley's reading of the Christmas Carol. Dicken's classic will be read at 7:15 Friday evening in the Social Rooms.

Saturday evening, December 15, is the date of the JCA Christmas party, while Monday, December 17, there will be another carol sing from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Social Rooms. The singing will be led by Sam and Pete Douglas, and there will be other entertainment.

The All-College Worship Service will be held at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday with an early, early morning carol sing at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday. Cocoa will be served the courageous singers following their jaunt about Taylor Highlands.

That's the list—have your plans made already? Merry Christmas, and see you at everything!

Starlight, Snowflakes

Yule Banquet, Dance Wednesday

Juniatians will dance in "starlight and snowflakes" at the annual Christmas formal this Wednesday evening.

Providing the music is Nelson Griffith and his band. Dancing will be from 8:15 to 11:30 p.m.

Preceding the formal the traditional Christmas banquet will be held. Those attending should meet in the social rooms at 6 p.m. Good food, Christmas decorations and entertainment will be provided.

Because of the crowded conditions, no guests are permitted at the banquet. A date is not necessary to attend. however, everyone must sign the list on Founder's bulletin board for a table.

Heading the dance committees are Betty Ann Nazarro, refreshments; Pete Wright, entertainment; Sue Vanderburg, invitations; Doug Wilson, lighting; Evelyn Brehm, programs; Janice Gilroy, publicity; and June Gray, decorations.

Working on the banquet committee are Lucille Frey, chairman, Jan Bradley, Marilyn Berkibile, Janice Christie, Ann Larkin and Carol Teeter.

Rick Bell

SUBMERGED IN JOURNALISM—Freshmen here have an opportunity to study closely a great institution, the American newspaper. However, right now more freshmen are impressed by tired eyes and hands from perusing the publications and producing a 1500-word theme for the Nature of Society course which assigned the project. The freshman reading room has been jammed during the past two-weeks by those working on this assignment.

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

THE STAFF

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ..... Jean Perkins
MANAGING EDITOR ..... George Roberts
NEWS EDITOR ..... Ann Wade
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... George Hoover

editorially speaking . . .

Senate Acts To End TV Gripes

Ever since Totem Inn opened three years ago and the New Dorm a year and a half ago, their TV sets have periodically been sources of contention — one group wants to watch a football game, another a play; one group a basketball game, another an opera, etc., tec.

The Senate has acted to remedy this situation through the establishment of a television set reservation committee. To reserve a TV set for a special program, a group of at least 10 students merely has to petition this committee, on already printed forms available from Roger Bennett or Roberta Savage.

Certain conditions, enumerated on the petitions, have been placed on the reservations, to assure that this program will not turn into a farce. If the students will take advantage of this opportunity and comply with the stipulations, the reservation committee should go a long way toward eliminating friction over the two campus TV sets.

Ultra Hectic Week Lies Ahead

During the next ultra hectic week and a half, in addition to the numerous tests and term paper writing in which you'll have the opportunity to participate, social and extra-curricular and social activities will be placing many demands on your time.

Although we are not advocating that you neglect matters academic (Never!!), we are suggesting that you make time to join in the Christmas festivities, too and to lend your talents to the production of these activities, instead of letting a few overburdened students shoulder all the responsibility.

The more who help with All Class Night, the decorations, the dinner, the dance, and so on, the less work there will be for each. And besides, we'll all have two much-needed weeks to recuperate.

WAA Loan Manifests Good Campus Relations

The WAA deserves to be commended for magnanimously offering to lend WJC enough money to purchase a much needed tape recorder.

Although it is a shame that the radio station is not able to afford a tape recorder on its own, because of a scrimpy subsidy, this gesture on the part of the WAA is a manifestation of the fine relations between student organizations on the Juniata campus.

scanning the headlines . . .

Hungary, Suez, Syria, Olympics Headline Nation's Newspapers

Headlines in the news, as of Monday, December 3, were:

21,500 HUNGARIANS TO BE GIVEN HOMES IN THE UNITED STATES This is more than four times the number originally planned, because of an emergency problem thrust upon Austria with scores of thousands of refugees crowding into that nation from Hungary.

President Eisenhower hinted from his vacation headquarters in Augusta, Georgia, that there may be still another increase in the total permitted to come into this country.

UN DRAFTS NEW PROPOSAL FOR RED CENSURE — The United States and Israel prepared separate resolutions condemning the Soviet Union for its intervention in Hungary and in the Middle East.

The American resolution attacks both Russia and the puppet Hungarian government it established for rebuffing UN resolutions calling for withdrawal of troops and admission of observers, while Israel was drumming up support for a General Assembly warning to Russia not to meddle further in the Middle East.

Middle East Situation

U.S., BRITAIN ARE SEEKING TO BUILD UP BAGHDAD PACT; TURKISH TROOPS SENT INTO IRAQ — Turkey has sent two battalions of troops to Iraq to bolster the government of Premier Nouri El-Said against "popular demands" for withdrawal from the Baghdad Pact. Although there was no official confirmation of the reports, Moscow has beamed a steady propaganda barrage at the Mideast in recent weeks in an effort to break up the Baghdad Pact and cause the downfall of the El-Said government.

Diplomatic reports in London said that the United States and Britain planned to strengthen the Baghdad Pact nations to counteract Soviet arms shipments to Syria.

BRITAIN, FRANCE AGREE ON PLAN TO LEAVE CANAL — Although there was no official disclosure of the steps that would be taken, there were increasing signs that the two allies planned an early withdrawal of their troops from Egypt.

DULLES RESUMES FULL DUTIES — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles ended his convalescence vacation Sunday morning and flew to Agusta to confer with President Eisenhower, after which he returned to Washington to resume his full duties.

STOCK MARKET RALLIES — Wall St. bulls were heartened as the stock market rallied vigorously to end three weeks of decline.

In the World of Sports

U.S. LEADS RUSSIA IN OLYMPICS — Despite the sensational victories which swelled America's gold medal treasure chest in track and field, basketball, boxing and swimming and diving, however, Russian athletes were to meet the Americans in competition where they stand on equal or better footing during the final week of the 16th Olympiad, and were expected to menace Uncle Sam's supremacy.

You Can Help Yourself

Are YOU using your library to its fullest extent?

Or do you ask the busy librarians or assistants to do ALL your research for you? Here are some hints to help you to help yourself.

The card catalogue which is the index to the library, lists books alphabetically by author, title and subject. Watch for cross references which will tell you to look under other subjects for additional information.

Periodicals should be consulted for up-to-date happenings. Several indexes to magazines are published of which the mostly widely used is the Reader's Guide to Periodicals. There are also indexes to magazines in special subject fields, an example of which is the Education Index. The New York Times Index enables you to locate newspaper stories.

Encyclopedias Source

Encyclopedias are a source of general information. If your subject is so small that there is no article devoted to it in the encyclopedia, consult the index. The Americana and Britannica are kept up-to-date by yearbooks.

Miscellaneous information, such as statistics, is easily located in the World Almanac and the Information Please Almanac.

There are also reference books on specific subjects. If you know the ten man classes of the Dewey Decimal Sysetem, you should have no trouble locating the reference books that would be most helpful to you.

Books are not your only source of information. Pamphlets are filed by subject. If the library does not have any information for you check Wilson's Verticle File Index which will tell you where you can secure some pamphlets.

Goldmine of Info

In the West Document Room a "goldmine" of information is collecting dust. An extensive range of subjects is covered by these documents which are published by the world's largest publisher, the Government Printing Office.

If you are still puzzled AFTER exhausting these sources, consult the librarians.

on other campi . . .

Survey Shows Students Study

by Barb Smathers

Hi all, back again after several weeks' absence.

Hope you can spare a few minutes from those studies to join me in an inter-college jaunt. All set? - OK then round and round and round we go and where we'll stop, well - who knows!

A recent survey conducted at Vassar College reveals that students are spending more time studying than ever before. The men an number of hours spent on academic work per week is 47 per student compared with 36 hours in 1925 and 42 hours in 1949. According to the survey freshmen spend 46 hours a week on academic work; sophomores and juniors, 48; and seniors, 45. Other results show that 20 hours a week are alloted to the business of living (could this mean racking and eating?); 2.76 hours a week to extracurricular activities; and 21 hours a week to relaxaion.

* * * *

Two little bits from campus romeos from the Student Weekly of Franklin and Marshall: "A scientist says kissing has an intoxicating effect. (We'll bet he wasn't monkeying around with tsts tubes when he learner that-." and "Lovemaking hasn't changed much in the past 2,500 year, Greek maidens used to sit and listen to a lyre all evening, too."

* * * *

Overheard on Manchester College campus - "I've a friend I'd like you to meet."

Athletic girl: What can he do?
Chorus girl: How much money has he?
Literary girl: What does he read?
Society girl: Who are his family?
Religious girl: What church does he belong to?
College girl: Where is he?

* * * *

Villanova recently ran an extended contest comparable to that of our "Ugly Man" entitled "Pick the Worst." There were no special rules, students just picked the worst law student, coed, cafeteria worker, or professor (or ordered), and pasted the snapshot them to the Villanovan Bulletin.

* * * *

This being one of the busiest seasons of the year you might pay heed to this motto from the Etownian: "Hard work never killed anyone, but who wants to be the first victim." - Sound like good advice?

Well, those are the "pickins" for this week. - Remember: "It is a mark of intelligence, no matter what it is you are doing, to have a good time doing it." (Midland Schools).

Taylor Resigns From Staff

Joan McClure, editor, announced this week the resignation of Newton Taylor from the Juniatian staff.

Taylor's resignation took effect this past week. For the past two years he, along with Jim Montgomery, has argued the pros and cons of the world situation in the News Views column. Taylor's resigned because of ill health.

Editor McClure did not name his immediate successor.

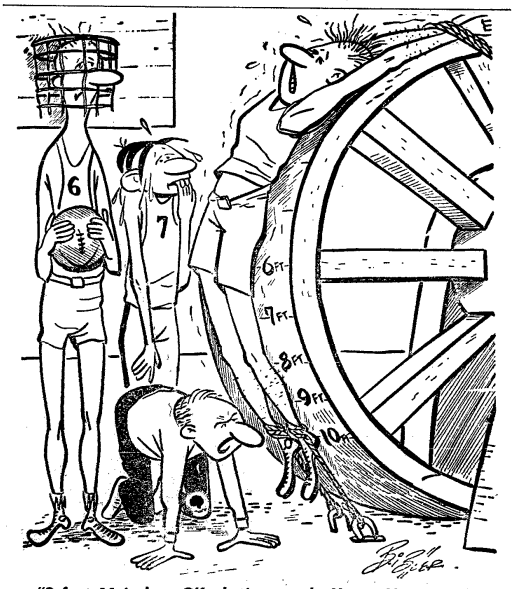
From The Mailbag

Dear Editor:

We are grateful, to be sure for the superb, modern shower facilities and the long, sleek radiators in the New Dorm. But why can't we have some hot water and some heat, too?

COLDER NEL

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Bibler



"9 foot 11 inches, OK, that's enough, Horse, Next man!"

Say It With Flowers from WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

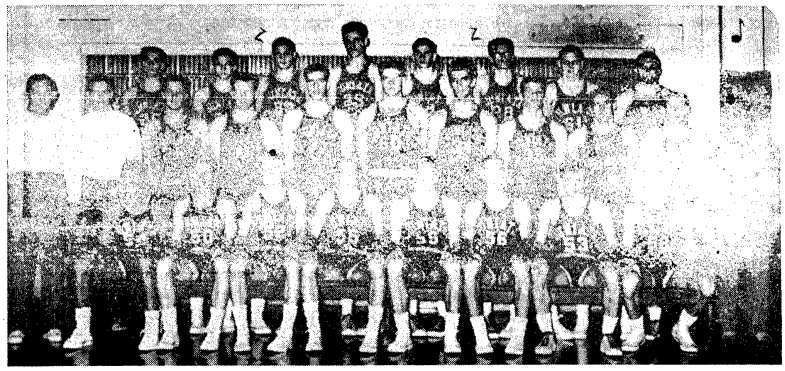
HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee

Juniata Cagers Net Convincing Victory In Debut



ALL SET FOR TONIGHT'S HOME OPENER — Here is the 1956-57 edition of the warring Indians of the hardwood. Front row: Coach 'Doc' Greene, Chet White, Bill Burchfield, Gordon Ewers, Mike Armstrong, Barney McLaughlin, Mike Miller, Tony Quarantillo, Joe DeNicola. Second row: Manager George Cline, Stan Davis Harold Krause, Pete McCauley, Hank Hain, Bob Ewald, Jim Maddon, Al Dungan, Frank Rocco, Ron Wertz, Manager Fred Ross. Third row: Wayne McClain, Ed Beers, Ron Moyer, Nick Roth, Bob Blair, Fred Yuun, Curt Gardner, Barry Sipes.

Wilson Is Working On Plan For IM Wrestling Tournament

by Chuck Brown

With increased interest being shown in wrestling here at Juniata, chairman of athletics Doug Wilson has announced that he is in the process of setting up an intramural wrestling tournament.

Shortly Wilson will get the names of men interested in participating in this tourney. It is planned now that there will be several weeks of training in the fundamentals of wrestling before the tournament. The instruction will be under the supervision of men who have wrestled in high school.

Athletics director Mike Snider is now trying to obtain mats and mat covers to be used in wrestling. Space will be provided for the mats that are now available under the west stands of the Memorial Gym.

Further information concerning intramural wrestling will be issued by Wilson.

Girls' Basketball Lists Nine Teams

Jeanette Lowe announced this week that nine teams have formed for the women's intramural basketball league.

Those teams now ready for action are the Krazy Kids, the Dribbling Demons, the Buffaloes, the Lazy Ones, the Nitwits, the Nifty Nines, the NJ House, the Odds and Ends and the Psychones. Each team will meet the others once to decide the title-holder.

Women's basketball teams are composed of six girls, three forwards and three guards. The scoring must be done by the forwards, as the guards are not permitted to cross the midfloor stripe.

IM Bowling Activity Enters Second Week

Intra-mural bowling began last Friday evening with four games being played.

The Whips scored the most impressive wins of the night by defeating Yahweh's Prophets, The Whips had the highest total for a single game, team score and individual scorer, Doc Geiger.

The Crusaders and Admirals also gained three wins by outmatching the New Dorm 100's and Alley Kats respectively.

The match between the Ten-Pins and Keystoners is incomplete, since each team had only four players.

Indians Drop Second; Burch Leads Scoring

by Shirley Jo Sipes

Juniata hoopsters initiated the 1956-57 basketball season Saturday night by trouncing the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven to the tune of 86-66 in the loser's Thomas Field House.

The Indians suffered their first defeat Wednesday night at the hands of a strong Franklin and Marshall five by a 79-69 score.

For the Tribesmen, senior Bill Burchfield was the high scorer both nights with 23 and 22 points respectfully.

The Indians used the fast break effectively Saturday and were never behind. They led at the end of the first quarter by one point, 20-19, and at the intermission spot by a 44-38 score. It was in the third quarter that the Tribemen really broke away in the scoring department, racking up 20 points to the 10 of their opponents, to stretch the lead 64-48 at the conclusion of this quarter. The Lock Haven five outscored JC in the last period but the final score showed the Greene's boys on top.

Juniata had control of the first half of play, forcing Lock Haven to shoot from the outside. The Eagles made almost half of these shots. While Lock Haven was dunking the balls in from the outside, the Indians were shooting from close range, as well as pretty well controlling the bankboards. The second half of play was just as well dominated by the Indians.

High scorers besides Burchfield were Barney McLaughlin, a junior with 21 points He was closely followed by Chet White, who had 19 points to his credit, Mike Armstrong also hit the double figured department y making 13 points.

JV Game

In the preliminary game the Lock Haven JV's beat the Juniata JV's by a 65-62 score. It was a real heartbreaker for the junior Indians who had led throughout the game. In the last five minutes of play the Eagles tied and went ahead of the Tribesmen. Six-foot three Pete McCauley led the Juniata JV scoring with 18 points, followed by Bob Blair with 12 points.

IM Basketball Competition In Full Swing

With [illegible] Staley leading the [illegible], the defending champion Philos began their title defense a week ago Thursday with an easy 78-54 win over the Gaddafi Ghosts.

The Dukes, led by "ugly man" Walter Conley, who sank 30 points, downed the Capitals 58-34, while the Ubangies barely squeezed by the Wolverines in the last seconds of the game 42-41. In the only other game of the evening, the Crusaders put on a second half splurge to pull away from the Sunbrookers and eventually defeat them 59-46.

Only three games were played Saturday and in one of these, the Sultans ran up the highest point total of the young season, manhandling the Cloister Oysters 94-33. "Reds" Randall sank 21 points to lead the Mumblers to an easy 62-28 victory over the Mohawks, while the Lead Balloons were hard pressed throughout the game in gaining their 42-30 win over the Vultures.

"STAG NIGHT"
TUES. DEC. 11th 1956
BETWEEN THE HOURS
OF 7 pm TO 9 pm

This is my personal invitation to you male students, faculty members and all your male friends to join us on Stag Night and do all of your Christmas shopping the easy way.

Each gift will be beautifully wrapped, without charge. Our expert staff will be on hand to help you make your shopping fun and easy.

Sincerely
DANKS & CO.
Christine Westbrook, Mgr.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

School, Office Supplies
Royal Typewriter
HIXSON'S
Union Natl Bank Bldg.

MURPHY'S
Womens & Misses Sheer
60 Gauge Nylons
Only 67c per pair

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES
RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SATURDAY
Robert Wagner
Terry Moore—Brod Crawford
— in —
Between Heaven & Hell
Cinemascope & Color
MON - TUES - WED
Doris Day
Louis Jordan
Barry Sullivan-Frank Lovejoy
— in —
JULIE
Doris Day is Supreme in This Master Piecé of Suspense
THURS - FRI - SAT
DEC. 13 14 15
Richard Egan - Debra Paget
and introducing
ELVIS PRESLEY
LOVE ME TENDER
Cinemascope
COMING SOON ! !
War and Peace
Giant
Teen-Age-Rebel
You Can't Run Away From It

Bruce Bennett

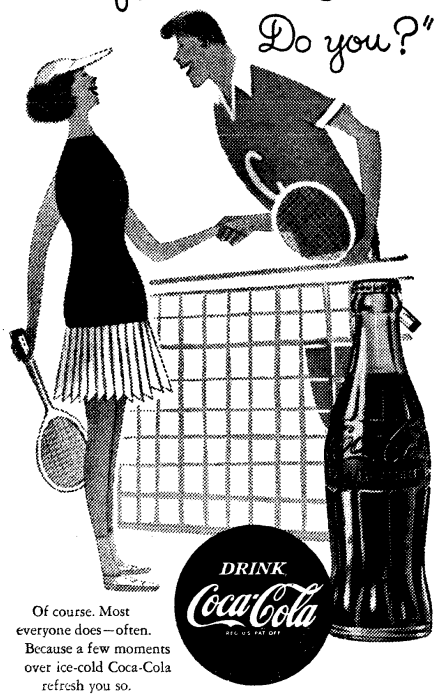
AT COMMUNICATIONS HOP — "Killer" Conley, winner of the coveted Ugly Man title, smirks with satisfaction as he poses with his two attendants, Arnie Kramer and Jim Montgomery at the Communications Dance last Saturday. Joan McClure, emceeing intermission activities, looks on while Phyl Marcocci, on hand to crown His Ugly Highness, enjoys the festivities.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

"I feel like a Coke. Do you?"



Of course. Most everyone does—often. Because a few moments over ice-cold Coca-Cola refresh you so.

It's sparkling with natural goodness, pure and wholesome—and naturally friendly to your figure.

Feel like having a Coke?

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Vienna Strings To Be Here

The Civic Concert Association will present the Vienna String Symphony next Thursday evening in Oller Hall.

The Symphony, conducted by Kurt Rapf, is currently making its second tour of North America. Rosl Schwaiger, coloratura soprano of the Vienna and Munich State Operas, and Anton Fietz, violinist, will be the soloist for the evening.

Founded by Rapf in 1945, the Symphony quickly earned an important place in Vienna's musical life. It stressed the Viennese musical aradition from Mozart, Haydn and Strauss to contemporary composers.

In addition to his work with the Vienna String Symphony, Rapf is well-known for his achievements at the Zurich Opera, with the Vienna Symphony and at the Vienna State Academy of Music.

● Kurt Rapf ●
Conducts Symphony

Christians To Carol At Hospital Tuesday

Like to sing?

This Tuesday evening the JCA will feature a caroling program at the JC Blair Memorial Hospital. Students will assemble on Founders Porch at 7 p.m. and then proceed to the institution.

Jacque Rowland will lead caroling in both the medical and the children's wards where gifts will be given to the children by the JCA.

Following the program, students will be served cocoa in the social rooms.

Bruce Bennett

GOING UP—Workmen guide a piece of structural steel dangling from a derrick as the new dormitory for women progresses. The building, being constructed by Bogar Construction Co., Selinsgrove, at a cost of nearly 700,000, will be ready for occupancy in September.

January 19 Date For Senior Exam

Dean Mays announces that the next administration of the Graduate Record Examination is set for Saturday, January 19, 1957.

All seniors considering graduate study next year are urged to determine whether they will need the results of this examination as part of their admission credentials.

The final date for registration is January 4, 1957. Within the next week application forms and booklets of information will be available in Dean Mays office.

TB Society Planning Students Solicitation

The Huntingdon County Tuberculosis Society has been granted permission to distribute christmas seals for the purpose of soliciting donations from the students here.

The seals, along with plain envelopes, will be placed in student mailboxes. Those wishing to keep the seals should enclose their contributions in the envelopes and drop them in the intra-college mail slot.

RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS

HI FI 45 - Player	$79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable	$129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette	$139.95
Tape Recorder	$159.95

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

SAVE 25% on your HOLIDAY TRIP HOME

GO BY TRAIN!

IT'S COMFORTABLE!
IT'S FUN!
AND WHAT SAVINGS!

You'll have more fun when the gang's with you . . . on the train! No worry about traffic delays. You can stretch your legs . . . visit with friends . . . really relax while you speed along your way!

And here's the way to stretch your allowance! Team up with two or more friends bound for your home town. Travel together both ways. On trips of 100 miles or more, you'll each save 25% on round-trip coach tickets using GROUP ECONOMY FARES!*

Or better still . . . COACH PARTY FARES! Round up 25 or more to travel long-distance together on the same homeward train. Then return singly or together and you each save 28% of the regular round-trip fare.

Except for local travel between New York, Washington and points east of Lancaster, Pa.*

See your travel or ticket agent NOW! Ask about these big money-saving plans.

EASTERN RAILROADS

The Juniatian

Merry Christmas — Happy New Year

Volume XXXIII, No. 12 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, December 14, 1956

A Capella Choir To Sing

Candlelight Service To Climax Christmas Activities

Newborg Wins ACS Award For Outstanding Chem Work

Announcement of an award to the outstanding senior student in chemistry at Juniata College by the American Chemical Society were made last night at a meeting of the Society at Penn State.

The prize was awarded to Carol Ann Newborg of Ardmore, Pa.

Prizes are awarded annually to students at colleges in the Central Pennsylvania Section of the A. C. S. Colleges included are Bucknell, Penn State and Juniata.

The prize is a junior membership in the A. C. S. and the choice of one of the following journals: Analytical Chemistry, Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, and Journal of American Chemical Society. If the student is already a junior member of the Society, the prize shall consist of a reimbursement for current dues plus one A. C. S. journal subscription.

Basis for determining the recipient of the award is: overall scholastic average; professional potentialities; must be among the three highest students (according to grades) at each college or in each competing group.

Miss Newborg was editor-in chief of the College yearbook, the Alfarata, last year. She is also a member of the Chemistry Club.

US Navy Modifies Officer Program

The Navy recently made important modifications in their Reserve Officers Candidate program for college students, it was announced by Lieutenant Commander William Thompson, commanding officer, US Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Training Center, Altoona.

Thompson pointed out that civilian college students between the ages of 17 and 27½ who are not members of a Naval reserve unit at the present time can apply for the program. Upon notification of selection, successful candidates will be enlisted in the Naval reserve for a period of six years and must attend weekly drills at the Naval reserve training center.

To qualify for appointment to commissioned grade the candidate date must be graduated from college with a baccalaureate degree and must successfully complete two summer training periods at reserve officer candidate school, Newport, RI, not later than the summer immediately following receipt of the degree.

Each candidate must agree in writing to accept a commission, if tendered, and to serve on active duty not less than three years after receipt of commission. Should a candidate be disenrolled from the program at any time prior to receiving a baccalaureate degree, be must serve on active duty for two years in his then attained enlisted rating.

Physical and written examinations will be administered at the US Naval Reserve Training Center, Altoona, between January 8 and February 8, 1957.

PS Music Series Begins February 4

Mrs. Henry Finch, chairman of the chamber music committee of State College's Choral Society, announced that the 957 chamber music series will begin February 4 with the Vienna Octet.

Following will be Helen Kwalwasser, violinist, and Leonid Mambro, pianist of February 18; Robert McFerrin, Metropolitan Opera baritone, March 11 the Quartetto Italliano, April 1, and the Juillard String Quartet on May 6.

A large ticket sale is expected because the series, which came close to a sell-out last year, has been expanded this year.

Ticket for the series can be purchased from Mrs. Phyllis Henry, 200 Penn St., telephone 31-R.

Stan Davis

PLANNING CANDLELIGHT SERVICE—Members of the JCA cabinet plan Tuesday's all-college candlelighting service. From left to right are Eleanor Newton, Rosalie Langer, chairman Dick Livingston, JCA president Kerin Narbut and Charlie Haines.

Sanata Claus, Kids In Gym Tomorrow

Santa Claus is coming!

Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. the mezzanine of the Memorial Gym will be filled to capacity by 120 "adopted" children and their Juniata "parents."

The annual JCA Christmas party is, in the opinion of most of the students, one of the most rewarding activities of the college year. A record number have signed to attend.

Carol Jenkins and Shirley Nace, co-chairman, have planned the evening's activities. "Squeegee" Holsinger will read the Nativity story, Mary Snyder and the Barber Shop Quartet will sing and Jacque Rowland will lead group singing. Santa Claus in the person of Dick Mumma will give presents to all the children after which refreshments will be served.

A dance will follow the party.

KN.

Eight Seniors To Take Comps January 3, 4

Eight Juniata seniors will take their comprehensive examinations January 3 and 4.

The only senior taking the examination in Division I is Lee Davidson, who is majoring in English.

Division II includes Ron Dilling, music education; Rebecca Kitchen, elementary education; Ted Grothe, economics and business administration, and Gerald Pinto, sociology.

Those taking exams in Division III are Arnold Kramer, biology; Larry Davis, biology and Bob Smith, mathematics.

TWENTY MEMBERS of this year's freshmen class of 235 were either class presidents or student council heads in their high school

Val Means New Columnist

Val Means has joined the Juniatian staff as a sports columnist.

A junior business major from Brookville, his column Chalk It Up, will appear regularly on page 3.

JCA Cabinet Plans Worship Tuesday Night

by Kerin Narbut

Oller Hall will be the scene of the All-College Christmas candlelight service at 11 p.m. Tuesday.

The service, commemorating the most important event of the Christmas calendar, will climax Juniata's Christmas activities for December 1956.

Students, faculty and administration will be led in worship by the Rev. Robert McFadden, Miss Esther Doyle, Dr. Morley Mays and the a capella choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson.

Barbara Orner, junior music major, will be the soloist for the evening, while Katherine Holsinger will provide organ accompaniment. Lighting of Christmas candles will close the service, which has become an annual part of the JCA program.

Livingston Heads Planning

The planning committee, consisting of the JCA cabinet and headed by Dick Livingston, report they are attempting to make the worship period one in which students and faculty of all faiths can join together in a united service in remembrance of the birth of Christ.

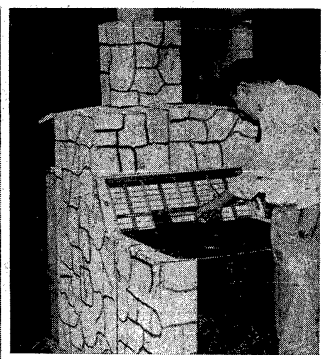
An invitation is extended to the entire college comunity to attend.

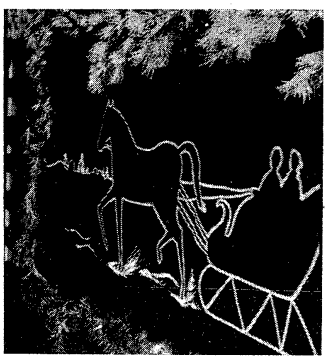
Choir To Present Pageant Sunday

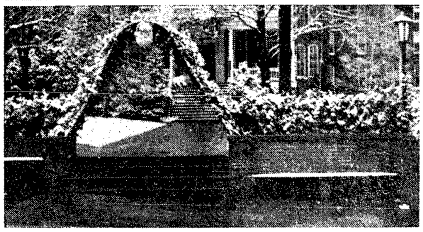
The Christmas story in song will be given by the Chapel Choir Sunday at 3:30 p.m. for the annual Christmas pageant.

Those singing special parts are Carole Miller, Carol Teeter, Marjorie White, David and George Hess. The organist is Sam Douglas. Joan Fyock, Kathryn Holsinger, Roberta Savage and Loretta Schrock are on the publicity committee. Ron Krouse is chairman of lighting for the program.

Yule Atmosphere Pervades Campus In Student Decorations







Pete Fahrney

Left: Keeping watch by the flock ...
Above left: The juke box is a fireplace! Above right: Dashing through the snow.
Right top: Snow-covered village by the social rooms phone.
Right bottom: Gateway to Santa Land

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE — HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ---------- Joan McClure
BUSINESS MANAGER ---------- George Carnahan
MANAGING EDITOR ---------- George Fattman
NEWS EDITOR ---------- Barb Walls
ASSISTANT NEWS EDITOR ---------- Carol Baish
COPY EDITOR ---------- Ron Fink
CO-SPORTS EDITORS ---------- Bill Mariotti
Dave Suloff
FEATURE EDITOR ---------- Dave Amidon
ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGER ---------- Roger Bennett
CIRCULATION MANAGER ---------- Joyce Hoffman
ASSISTANT CIRCULATION MANAGER ---------- Judy Wernsing
NEWS REPORTERS: Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Ed. Jones, Emmalyn Heed, Don Leeking, Barb McIntyre, Margie Snyder.
SPORTS REPORTERS: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, John Jenkins, Carl Wass.
COLUMNISTS: ---------- Val Means, Jim Montgomery, Barb Smathers
PHOTOGRAPHERS: ---------- Rick Bell, Bruce Bennett, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney

Faculty - Student Ratio Dwindling

Registration, with sections being closed, students, especially freshmen, being forced to re-arrange their schedules two or three times and as many as 50 students registering for the same class, brought into focus sharply a situation that the orge committee several weeks ago pointed out to the Senate — our faculty and our classroom facilities are not sufficient to accommodate the increased enrollment.

Each year the student body has grown; yet no corresponding increases in the number of faculty members or classrooms have been made. Hence classes are much larger, the quality of instruction poorer, and one of the big advantages inevitably claimed for the small college — a closer tie between the faculty and the student, becomes almost negligible.

While making allowances in other areas, especially living quarters, for the "tidal wave of students," we should not overlook this, perhaps the most important consideration. Either the faculty must be enlarged and the classroom facilities expanded or the enrollment limited.

From The Editor's Notes

Once again the classes deserve much credit for coming through in fine style, despite all odds, at All Class Night last Saturday and for their excellent Christmas decorations.

Obviously a tremendous amount of time and work went into these productions. However, there are so many other things to do at this time of the year that it would seem more judicious to hold All Class Night in the Spring, as has sometimes been done in previous years.

This is something for the calendar to consider when it meets next semester.

Quarters Unsanitary ?

The 12 freshmen men who, because of the large enrollment this year, are forced to inhabit the village, report that they are being deprived of certain facilities, which every dorm has and which are necessary for sanitary living.

Each apartment (there are two of them) needs a trash barrel, janitorial equipment (brooms, mops, etc.) and garbage and trash service. The men are grateful for the new heater, new mattresses, and newly-installed telephone, but for three months now their requests for these sanitary facilities have gone unanswered.

Semester Vacations

As you probably noted from the final schedule that was posted this week, examinations will begin on January 14, instead of January 16, as formerly announced.

This is to allow for a four-day vacation between semesters. When the academic calendar was published last Spring the Juniatian, as well as students and many faculty members, advocated such a change.

* * * *

The Juniatian extends sincere wishes for a happy vacation for all, and would remind everyone to drive carefully during vacation. Don't be a Christmas casualty!

Ed. NOTE:—The next issue of the Juniatian, this semester's final edition, will be published Friday, January 11.

campus capers . . .

Ugly Man Contest Shows Rottenness Of Student Body

Ugly man campaigns, All Class Night, Christmas decorations, registration, themes, term papers, tests, caroling, the banquet, the dance - - too bad there's nothing to do around here!

Just as the Christmas activities bring out the good in everyone, and tests and themes the meanness of professors, so the ugly man contest manifested the through rottenness of the students. As if Killer Conley's personality wasn't enough to do the trick, he also staged a vicious campaign which gave him the coveted position in a landslide. Among his numerous evil deeds which were advertised, he "turns off iron lungs in hospitals" "kicks one-legged men in the shins" and let's the air out of wheelchair tires."

Newt Taylor, in a last minute desperate attempt to prove his ugliness (it needs to be proved?) burst into the room where the electon tellers were counting and tried to ascertain the totals through grabbing ballots and, in general, creating a scene.

It was also rumored that several masked hoods (no relation to the family of the same name) were planning to abscond with the ballot boxes from Totem Inn. However, Good finally triumphed and the boxes remained intact.

Montgomery, ugly runner-up, reputedly stole 75 ballots, only to have a change of heart at the last moment, which proves he didn't deserve to be more than an attendant.

And for those of you who didn't attend the dance, Charlie Mills got 13 votes in the election, not bad for a write-in candidate.

Bill Engel, in the release which he sent out on the contest, said ". . . . Who won? None other than a good looking popular campus personality (with none of the attributes of an ugly man) with the gruesome nickname of 'Killer' Donald C. Conley." Does he really know our ugliest man ???

* * * *

More recently, laughs on campus were provided by All Class Night, the theme of which was comedy this year. Next year the theme will be history, which reminds us of the suggestions that were made three years ago when history was the theme: the first Quaker meeting - - 22 minutes of stark-raving silence, or The Charge of the Light Brigade - - 50 white horses charging down the aisles of Oller Hall.

Dave Amidon has several extra slightly-used scripts lying around, in case any class is interested, he tells us. The script the seniors finally used was script 2½. Revision 5 or 6.

If the seniors hadn't won the cup, plans called for villain Betz to charge down the aisle and yell, "Curses, foiled again," and someone in the claque to shout, "Snatch the cup" while the entire senior class chased "Peep" Gipprich around Oller Hall.

On seeing the skit, one prof told Betz, "No fair, Clint, you're a professional (villain)".

* * * *

Finally, dimly lit Totem Inn recalls the comment made at Leadership Conference the other year by a coed who was interested in maintaining the dim lights all year 'round. "Do you remember when the lights were low at Christmas time?" she asked. "Everyone was so much friendlier."

* * * *

The happiest of holidays to all--enjoy your final fling before the bane of all student's existence, finals, are flung.

Decorations Prize Goes To Seniors

The senior class was awarded first prize of $10 for their Christmas decorations in the social rooms, it was announced at the christmas banquet Wednesday evening.

Judges of the decorations were Miss Esther M. Doyle and Dr. George Clemens.

Wednesday Schedule

The Saturday schedule of classes will be in effect next Wednesday:

First Period	8:00 - 8:55
Second Period	9:00 - 9:55
Third Period	11:00 - 10:55
Fourth Period	11:00 - 11:55

Lunch in the dining hall will be served at 12:05.

Classes resume Thursday, January 3, at 8 p.m.

news views . . .

Once Smiling Allies Now Austere

by Arnie Kramer

As the new year approaches, a grim mask of austerity veils the once smiling faces of our allies.

Our friends have fallen heir to the legacy of a bankrupt foreign policy which teeters precariously on a return to isolationism.

For four years we have straddled a road as wide as the Mississippi, and now the administration has adopted an attitude of benevolence toward the former victims of colonialism—at the expense of alienating France and England.

The Pious Platitude

We have forced our friends to bend their knees in tribute to the great American oil dollar, while offering no rational plan for the solution of their problems. In place of positive long range policy designed to ease tensions we have substituted in the form of our Secretary of State, an alternative —the pious platitude guaranteed to lull the public into a false sense of security.

While Dulles flies from one inept misadventure to another the President basks in the warm sun of confusion and self-delusion.

A Partial Answer

The free world is facing a grave crisis which threatens its very existence both in the Middle East as well as in the satellite country of Hungary. The U. N. is only a partial answer, as it is only as strong as the member nations want it to be.

Eisenhower has once again abdicated the responsibility of his position in advocating this body as the sole instrument of solution. It is unrealistic and naive to think that the Afro-Asian block with ten votes in the Assembly wields as much power as the U. S. with one vote. This disparity must be reconciled by the U. S. working independently with her allies as well as within the framework of the U. N.

Modern Isolationism

It is in this lack of policy and complete disregard for our Allies that the seed of modern isolationism has been sown. The change is subtle and even the President is caught in the swirling current.

The consequences could be even more disastrous than those brought on by Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. Instead of an international depression, we will be faced with the rising tide of Communism which threatens to engulf the Middle East and Africa.

ED. NOTE—Arnie Kramer, a guest columnist., is writing News Views this week in place of Jim Montgomery, the regular columnist.

—In Chapel Next Week—

December 17 — President Ellis.
December 19 — No Chapel

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS — by Dick Bibler

Clint Betz presents
SHOWTIME
Your Favorite Musicals
FRIDAY, 9:30 p.m.
WJC 1150

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

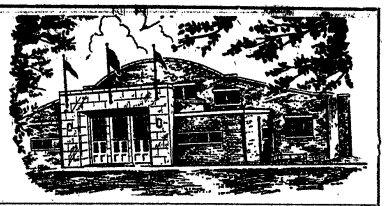
RCA VICTOR HI FI PLAYERS
HI FI 45 - Player ---------- $79.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Portable ---------- $129.95
4 Speed Hi Fi Consolette ---------- $139.95
Tape Recorder ---------- $159.95
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.



Tribe Garners Hoop Triumphs Over Shippensburg, Ursinus

"Come on, Mike, get down court for the fast break."

Eight IM Basketball Participants Break 20 In Last Week's Games

Don Gross, Bib Staley, Larry McAfee, Val Means, Chuck Phillips, Jim Ake, Reed Reynolds and Pete Orr had 20 or more points in last week's activity.

In Tuesday evening's schedule Gross, who had 20 points, led the A's to a 71-26 slaughter over the Five, and the Whips, led by Staley with 28 points, conquered the Six-Sixties, 82-44.

McAfee's 22 points led the Galloping Ghosts over the JC Seniors, 77-25. The Dukes defeated the Ubangies, 44-33, as Don Conley and Ken Opipery each had 15 for the Dukes.

Highlighting Thursday's array of games was a squeaker won by the Sultans. Two foul throws tossed in by Dick Johnson enabled the freshman team to sneak past the Basketeers, 61-60.

Means and Phillips each scored 20 for the Mumblers, as they mauled the JC Seniors, 104-49. Fred Smith's 10 points led the Village Vultures to a 37-23 triumph over the Mohawks, and Ake's 23 points was high for the Lead Balloons in their victory over the A's 68-49.

Donner Gets 19

Neil Donner of the Six-Sixties had 19 points in the conquest over the Five, despite a good showing by Del McQuaide and Ed Brockway, who had 11 and 10 points respectively.

Friday evening, prior to the varsity game, the Mumblers defeated the Crusaders, 44-36. Reds Randall had 14 points for the Mumblers.

Opipery Paces Dukes

Five games were played Saturday. Phil Stephanini, with 19 points, led the Ubangies over the Giants, 49-36. Opipery's 18 paced the Dukes over the Wolverines, 62-29. The Capitols outpointed the Sun Brookers, 60-57.

Jim Berrier had 18 for the Capitols and Reynolds had 20 for the Sun Brookers. Despite Orr's 20 point performance, the Cloister Oysters lost to a well-balanced Crusaders team, 52-35. In the finale the Whips bumped the Sultans, 73-42.

IM Bowling Standings

	Won	Lost
Admirals	3	0
Crusaders	3	0
Whips	3	0
Ten Pins	2	1
Keystoners	1	2
Shotsos	0	0
Team A	0	0
Team B	0	0
Team C	0	0
Team D	0	0
Alley Kats	0	3
Four D and C	0	3
Prophets	0	3

	W	L	Pct.
Whips	4	0	1.000
Dukes	3	0	1.000
Mumblers	3	0	1.000
Lead Balloons	2	0	1.000
Crusaders	2	1	.667
Sultans	2	1	.667
Ubangies	2	1	.667
Six-Sixties	1	1	.500
A's	1	1	.500
Capitols	1	1	.500
Galloping Ghosts	1	1	.500
Village Vultures	1	1	.500
Basketeers	0	1	.000
Giants	0	1	.000
JC Seniors	0	2	.000
Cloister Oysters	0	2	.000
The Five	0	2	.000
Mohawks	0	2	.000
Sun Brookers	0	2	.000
Wolverines	0	3	.000

Chalk It Up

by Val Means

Juniata's basketball team made its record 3-1 this week with an easy win over Shippensburg and a loss to a highly touted F & M five.

The Indians found themselves handicapped by poor refereeing at F & M which held them down despite a good display of passing and hustling. Height was also a factor in the loss since they had much taller men to rebound against. On our home court, Ursinus presented little opposition. The game was loosely played and reserves saw their most action to date.

* * * *

Intramural action on the hardwoods is now in full swing. The top favorite Whips continued their winning ways. They found a Sultan team stubborn before racking up their 20th straight league win in easy fashion. The Dukes, given an outside chance to win, had to settle for a 6-point decision over a scrappy Ubangie team.

In the other highlight, the Mumblers showed they are in contention for one of the two berths as they downed the Crusaders 44-36 in the Friday night preliminary game.

* * * *

It seemed that last Saturday's college football game pleased every fan on campus. The 14-7 win by the Pitt Panthers kept Miami from going unbeaten.

Charlie Brueckman, Pitt's center, played a terrific game for the Panthers. He is a junior from Stowe, the home of many Juniata players. Charlie is the man to watch on next year's edition of the Panthers.

* * * *

It was nice to see Bob Sill on campus again for a short visit. The fullback plans to return to Juniata next semester if the Army does not interfere. Coach Ken Bunn was surprised (and not peasantly) when he received word of Sill's draft notice which Bob passed to him through the crowd at F & M.

It was a pleasant surprise, however, when Bunn looked up and saw Sill enjoying his JV's in a come-from-behind win.

26 Gridders Get Varsity J Letters For 1956 Season

(CNB) — Twenty-six football players—largest number since 1950—have been awarded varsity J letters for the 1956 grid season.

P. M. (Mike) Snider, director of athletics, announced that four seniors, six juniors, five sophomores and 11 freshmen were included. The Indians won six out of seven games after having an undefeated string of 23 snapped by Lycoming in the second game of the season.

Senior lettermen are: Co-captains Charles (Moon) Mullen and John Staley, Charles Haines and James Stayer.

Mullen and Staley were honorable mention on this year's Little All American team (AP).

The list of lettermen by position follows:

Ends: Jim Berrier, Horace Carl, Harold Krause, Ken Opipery and Al Sellari.

Tackles: Al Dugan, Ken Fassnacht, Bernie McQuown, Jim Middlekauff and Mullen.

Guards: Jim Berg, Haines, Bill Schott, Don Shover, Bob Solomon, and Stayer.

Centers: Anthony Chirico and Staley.

Backs: Bill Berrier, Bob Devlin, Tony DiMarco, Dick Fagan, Glenn Hassinger, Joe Sopata, Bob Schwalenberg, and Joe Trimber.

White Registers 45 For Winners In Two Forays

by Shirley Hunsicker

Juniata's cagers ended their home, pre-holiday basketball games with an 89-80 victory over a stubborn Shippensburg STC five Monday night in Memorial Gym.

The Tribesmen trounced the Ursinus Bears 68-52 Friday in their home opener in a somewhat easier game. The season record now stands at 3-1, the sole loss coming at the hands of Franklin and Marshall.

The Indians were never behind in the Ursinus game. They held the Bears scoreless in the first 3½ minutes and by the end of the quarter had acquired a 17-9 lead which they stretched to 39-27 at half-time. They sailed along after this point to the decisive victory.

Three Have 16 Points

Scoring honors for this game were shared by senior Bill Burchfield, Barney McLaughlin and Chet White. All three tallied 16 points.

The victory over Shippensburg came with a little more trouble. The Tribesmen were behind for the greater part of the first quarter but trailed by only one point, 18-17 at the end of that marker. They led at the half 43-40 and stretched the lead slowly during the second half.

White Sensational

The sensational shooting of Chet White kept the Indians in the game in the earlier minutes. He was high man for the evening with 29 points on twelve field goals and five foul shots. He was followed in scoring by Barney McLaughlin, Mike Armstrong and Bill Burchfield with 17, 16, and 15 points respectively. The other starter, Gordie Ewers, also hit double figures with 10 points.

For Shippensburg little, 5-10 Don Barbush put on an excellent display of shooting, hitting from all over the court for 26 points.

J Vees Lose

In the JV game, the little Indians lost a 69-63 decision to Shippensburg after having a 39-33 lead at halftime.

The Juniate five close out their Pre-Christmas schedule against Indiana STC tonight at Indiana.

MURPHY'S
Womens & Misses Sheer
60 Gauge Nylons
Only 67c per pair

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking
in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs
ever!
SMITHFIELD

Shop
The Ray English
Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Guns Bought and Sold
UPDYKES SPORTING GOODS
"Everything for the Sportsmen"
608 Wash. St. Phone 1688

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SATURDAY
Richard Egan - Debra Paget
ELVIS PRESLEY
— in —
LOVE ME TENDER
Cinemascope
MONDAY & TUESDAY
2 Shocking Features
John Agar in
The Mole People
— also —
Curucu Beast of
The Amazons - color
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
2 Thrilling Features
George Orwell's Startling
Novel ... "1984"
Edmond O'Brien - Jan Sterling
— also —
Paul Douglas - Eva Bartok
The Gamma People

Classes Meet Comedy Demands 'Admirably'

by Dr. Robert Thornburg

"As compared to tragedy," runs the standard definition, "comedy is a lighter form of drama which aims primarily to amuse and which ends happily."

The demands of this venerable formula were admirably met by the four comic productions staged in Oller Hall for All Class Night last Saturday evenng. The sources of all four plays were impressively literary or cultural!

The Juniors led with Fair Beauty and Foul Play, or A New Twist to an Old Pretzel, the old pretzel being the renowned beauty contest of the Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs fairy tale. Imaginative casting gave an animated cartoon kind of vitality even to household furnishings, although some of it was so subtle as to tax the audience's powers of interpretation.

Evil is Alluring

The use of rhymed verse heightened the effectiveness of the dialogue despite occasional lapses in the rhythm. The evil queen was despicably vain and arrogant but not unattractive (evil is alluring., as Spenser, Milton, and others have noted), while Star Bright was a comely and ingenuous heroine.

The clever lines and endearing antics of the seven frustrated suitors contributed notably to the delight of the spectators as well as to the evolution of the plot. The jester who supplied prologue, incidental explanations, and epilogue, convinced us with his agility of foot and of wit that he deserved the reward which the surprise ending revealed to be his.

Seniors' Victory

Perhaps the measure of the Seniors' victory is best indicated by the way they overcame an initial disadvantage: burlesquing the "classical melodrama" (isn't this a contradiction in terms?) has been done so often that it could easily have become wearisome.

Yet The Triumph of Purity seized the audience's attention and held it to the end. Apt selection and delicate presentation of introductory and background music set the tone perfectly, and the allegorical names and stylized actions (especially those of the aged and dissipated Father Hood) were masterful touches.

Stan Davis

SUCCESS ON THE FOURTH TRY—"Peep" Gipprich, All-Class night chairman, presents the coveted trophy to Dave Amidon, who accepts on behalf of the victorious, melodramatic senior class. It was the first time the class of '57 took first place honors in the contest. The winning skit was written and directed by Amidon.

The juxtaposition of the incongruous, urged by some authorities as the essence of the comic, was deftly exploited in alterations of the hackneyed plot and in such passages of the dialogue as the heroine Purity's fine line—'Nuts to thee!" Excitement was kept at a high pitch by the spontaneous (?) exchange between the moralistic narrator and the audience.

Pursuit Symbolic

Unfortunately, the hero's mad pursuit through the auditorium on a bicycle had—for obvious reasons of public safety—to be largely symbolic rather than realistic. His final choice of the hard (and Manly) way to save his beloved from death on the railroad track was more in keeping with the spirit of the whole.

Less directly indebted to a literary source, Desperate Quest, the sophomores' offering, was nevertheless based upon the legendary search of Diogenes for an honest man and contained abundant comment on Athenian and later cultures.

Embarrassingly Realistic

The first half—with its ancient setting, costumes, and oddly managed dialogue—surpassed in brilliance the somewhat embarrassing realistic contemporary parallel in the second half.

Allusion to present day, local persons and events is a time-honored and invigorating prerogative of comedy, but the campus scene lacked the imagination and the splendid irrelevance of the Greek episode.

Literary Parody

Blown with Breeze, the presentation of the freshman class, closed the program with a return to literary parody. In it the appearance of Simon Legree in the company of Scarlip O'Hara, Rott Buttons, and the other inhabitants of the Tara-ra-boom-de-aye plantation was a sign of fuzzy incoherence that detracted a little from the impassioned doings at the despoiled estate.

The liveliness of it all was, however, periodically accentuated by the onslaught of Sherman's forces. This effectively repeated assault provided a scene which for sheer ludicrousness and full-bodied, violent fun was hardly matched during the evening.

Exhilarating Effect

Few members of the large audience seemed inclined to deny that the four spectacles triumphantly achieved the primary aim of comedy—to amuse. While there may be some question about the happiness of the endings for some of the characters in some of the sketches, the total effect of the evening appeared to be exhilarating to all—except, perhaps, to the members of the classes which failed to win the prize and, I suspect, to the judges, who had the difficult job of selecting the winner.

Science Academy To Award Grants For Study In '57

The Danforth Foundation, educational trust fund in St. Louis, Mo., invites applications for the sixth class (1957) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graluates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1957, for their first year of graduate study.

President Ellis has named Dr. Morley Mays as the liason officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these fellowships.

These appointments are fundamentally a "relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply.

A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments.

His qualifications as listed in the announcement from the founration are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

LAST JUNIATIAN THIS YEAR

This will be the last issue of the Juniatian for the first semester. The next publication will appear Friday, January 11, 1957.

Narbut Names Ward, Smith

JCA president Kerin Narbut announced recently the appointment of Spencer Ward and Anna Mary Smith to posts on the organization's cabinet.

Ward, a junior chemistry major from Everett, now heads the world relatedness commission, and Miss Smith, a junior from Bedford majoring in sociology, is now chairman of the commission on evangelism and missions. She is in charge of the deputation teams.

The appointments followed the resignations of Phil Lankford and Lois Guldin Lankford.

Binkley's Reading, Caroling To Add To Season's Spirit

Once again Dr. Harold Binkley's reading of Dickens' Christmas Carol will add to the Yuletide spirit at Juniata.

Binkley, chairman of the English department, will read the traditional Christmas story in the social rooms Friday at 7:15 p.m.

Also adding to the season's festivities is the Christmas caroling in the social rooms. Next week Sam and Pete Douglas will lead the singing Monday evening at 7 p.m.

Winding up the caroling sessions will be the early morning jaunt through Taylor Highlands Wednesday at 5:30 a.m. Cocoa will be served to the singers in the dining hall before breakfast.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES
RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

This man can give you dependable delivery of

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR
an International daily newspaper

Housewives, businessmen, teachers, and students all over the world read and enjoy this international newspaper, published daily in Boston. World-famous for constructive news stories and penetrating editorials. Special features for the whole family.

The Christian Science Monitor
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.
Send your newspaper for the time checked. Enclosed find my check or money order.
1 year $15 ☐ 6 months $8 ☐
3 months $4 ☐
Name
Address
City Zone State
PB-15

Meet At
SKIP'S
For Coffee

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

"Coca-Cola does something for you, doesn't it?"

You feel so new and fresh and good—all over—when you pause for Coca-Cola. It's sparkling with quick refreshment . . . and it's so pure and wholesome—naturally friendly to your figure. Let it do things—good things—for you.

Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Altoona, Pa.

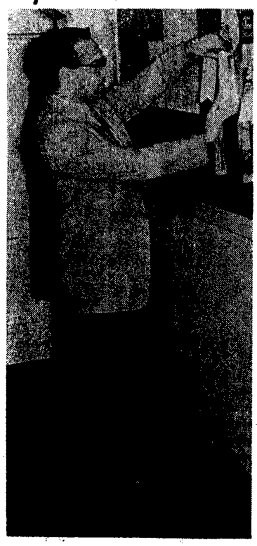
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark. © 1956, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 13 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, January 11, 1957

Penney Finds Student Acquisition Of More Government Impressive

by Carol Baish



Stan Davis

● Dr. James Penney ●
Our Loss Is Their Gain

"By far the most interesting aspect of my life here at Juniata College has been watching the rapid progress made by the students in taking upon themselves a large percentage of campus government."

Dean James Penney, a familar figure on Juniata's campus since 1951, made this statement recently in summing up his four and one-half years at the college. He will be leaving January 21 for Boston University where he will assume the office of assistant professor of guidance.

The dean said that during his stay here various groups of interested and capable students have made great strides toward almost complete student government actions which have culminated this year in the Campus Judiciary. Dean Penney feels that the students are to be commended for the increasing spirit of initiative and responsibility which is being shown on campus.

Besides acting as dean of men, Dean Penney has taught psychology classes and worked with the placement bureau. During the time he has spent here his friendly smile, genial manner and all-around capability have made him a well-liked and highly respected figure on campus.

Du Pont Gives JC Grant Of $4,000

Juniata is one of 70 privately supported colleges which has been awarded a grant of $4,000 by the DuPont Company "to advance the teachings of science, mathematics and other fundamental liberal subjects."

Out of the overall DuPont program which allots $1,000,000 to 122 universities and colleges. Juniata is one of the original group of 19 four-year private colleges in the nation selected to receive an initial grant "to help them maintain their outstanding performance in the training of students majoring in chemistry."

For Skaters' Shebang Lounge To Be Lodge

The first skating party of the season will be held Saturday from 7 to 8:30 p. m. at Snowflake Lake.

Following the skating party, there will be dancing, games and refreshments in the lobby of the new men's dorm.

Taylors Entertain Senate

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Taylor entertained the Senate and its sponsors and their wives, particularly Dr. James Penney in their home last Wednesday evening.

Dr. Penney leaves Juniata at the end of the semester to take a position at Boston University.

Debaters Plan Tournament

Pete Fahrney

PLANNING FOR TOURNEY—Juniata's debaters will welcome seven other college teams that will be on campus for the first Juniata Invitational Debate tournament, January 26. Members are, first row left to right, Mike Martin, Barb McIntyre, Dave Amidon, Marcia Sweet. Second row, Spencer Ward, Ed Brockway, Clint Betz, Dick Backus, George Carnahan, Del McQuaide.

Seven Teams To Compete January 26

Six schools will compose the seven teams to participate in the first Juniata College invitational Debate tournament to be held here Saturday, January 26, it was announced this week by Dave Amidon, president of the Debate club.

Thus far Drexel, Lafayette, Duquesne, Mount Mercy and the local club will enter one team, while Kings College is sending two. Amidon pointed out that it takes a minimum of seven teams to run a successful tournament, and even though that requirement has been met, there is still the possibility that a few other schools will participate.

This year's question is Resolved: That the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries.

Students willing to allow members of the visiting debate club to use their rooms for the night prior to the debate tournament please contact Dave Amidon or any member of the debate club.

Need Winner's Trophy

Juniata, as the most centrally located college in Pennsylvania with the exception of Penn State, has often been cited as a desirable location for a debate tournament, but until this time, the local organization found this a financial

See Juniata, page 4

Finals, Wired JCers Soon Will Appear On Strategic Spots

by Ed Jones

Finals, those all too conclusive examples of alleged professional sadism, will soon make their bi-annual appearance on the Juniata campus as "wired" students completing the fall term travel to strategic spots—Founders Chapel, Memorial Gym, Students, Hall, Home Economic Clothing Lab and Swiagrt Hall—prepared to play the testing game for keeps.

Incidentally, as if everyone didn't know, finals begin Monday, January 14 and continue through Wednesday, January 23. The exam day is divided into two parts, the morning session starts at 8:15 a. m. and ends at 11:15 a. m. Lunch will be served at noon during the examination period. The three hour exams begin again in the afternoon, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

In the tradition of Grimm's Fairy Tales, and the exams look pretty "grim" — good triumphs over evil, so here at JC the steadfast students receive their reward for a job well done during the "evil" finals in the form of a four day vacation—January 24 to 27. All persistent pupil pedagogues proceed back to the hallowed halls, January 28 for Spring term convocation.

Senators To Join Election Campaign

When the campaign for Senate offices gets underway February 11, members of the present governing body will for the first time in recent campus history be free to participate in the activities.

The Senate has moved to approve of "the participation of its members in campus elections, but urges that such participation be so judicious that it will in no way reflect on the Senate. It is naturally expected that each senator will refrain from any spirit of partisanship whatsoever toward the election of his own office."

Petitions for Senate offices may be circulated on and after February 11. The campaign starts February 14 at 6 a.m. and February 19 is the date for officers elections.

In the meantime, candidates for the eight Senate chairmanships will start circulating petitions February 14. Their campaign begins February 21 and the election is February 26.

Fike To Fine Frosh For Stolen Books

Treasurer John Fike has announced that shortly after the beginning of the spring term, each member of '60 will receive a bill for his share in paying for the library books that were stolen early last year.

The bill will amount to one dollar or more depending on how many books are returned in the next few weeks.

Dickey Visits Refugee Camp While Sight Seeing In Austria

By Bruce Dickey

Ed. Note: Bruce Dickey, who is spending his junior year at St. Andrew's University in Scotland, writes of a sightseeing trip to Vienna during his Christmas vacation.

There is more to a junior year abroad than a year at a European University.

It is a year in Europe, where people look at America with gratitude, or with a longing to be there, or with distasteful attitudes. When the Suez situation erupted, some Britons said that it would teach the Americans a lesson if a similar catastrophe were to occur in Panama.

Britian was just getting back on at least one foot, but now is down on her knees again. When I left in mid-December, autos were being advertised according to miles per gallon, and all bus services were being reduced.

But the real catastrophe is Hungary. I stopped to see the work of the Brethren Service Commission in Kassel, Germany, and saw a refugee transit camp which also receives refugees coming from East Germany; as we reached the camp, the bells were ringing to announce the arrival of a transport of thise who left East Prussia. The Hungarians who passed through this particular camp were to settle in Germany.

Raffenperger Aids

Here near Vienna there are camps operated by the United States Escapee Program. At one camp near Wiener Neustadt, south of Vienna, the World Council of Churches supplied some clerical help, including Dan Raffensperger '56 of the Brethren Service Commission team here, to aid in registering and readying the refugees for transport to Munich and the U. S. A. The U. S. Government gets the buildings in order, the Austrian Government administers them, and the Finnish Red Cross feeds the people.

Karlschule is a Brethren Volunteer Service and Mennonite joint recostruction project. There is one Hungarian family living here, as not all the refugee families can live together in the camps. We find that women love to knit, and I saw Christmas tree ornaments that a girl about 10 cigarette wrappers. They seem

See Juniatian page 4

Hungarian Relief Nets $250 Here

Juniata College students contributed a total of $250 to the fund for Hungarian relief in the drive which was conducted Monday, January 7

Committee chairman Chuck Brown, who was assisted in this project by Ann Willson and Dave Afidon, announced that Juniata women gave $120 while the men donated $130 to the fund.

The money will be turned over to the Senate which will in turn send it to the World University Service where it will be used to help send a student from wartorn Hungary to Juniata or to provide food for Hungarian refugees.

JC's Assistant Music Professor Marries California U. Physicist

● Mrs. William Tinkham ●
Weds Physics Prof.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jaegar of Ripon, Wisconsin, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Marie, to Dr. Michael Tinkham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tinkham, also of Ripon, December 25, 1956.

Mrs. Tinkham is a member of the faculty of Juniata College as assistant professor of music.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Olsen in All Souls Episcopal Church in Berkeley, California. The attendants were Prof. and Mrs Arthur Kip of Berkeley.

Dr. Tinkham is assistant professor of physics and is engaged in research at the University of California.

Mrs. Tinkham joined the faculty at Juniata College as instructor in music and became assistant professor in June, 1956. She will continue at the college until June, 1957, when she will join her husband in Berkeley.

The Juniatian

JUNIATA COLLEGE HUNTINGDON, PA.

An independent, undergraduate newspaper published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods, the Juniatian is entered as second class mail at the post office of Huntingdon, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $1.00 per year. Total circulation: 1,900 copies

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ..... Joan McClure
BUSINESS MANAGER ..... George Carnahan
MANAGING EDITOR ..... Georgs Fattman
NEWS EDITOR ..... Barb Walls
ASSISTANT NEWS EDITOR ..... Carol Baish
COPY EDITOR ..... Ron Fink
CO-SPORTS EDITORS ..... Bill Mariotti, Dave Suloff
FEATURE EDITOR ..... Dave Amidon
ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Roger Bennett
CIRCULATION MANAGER ..... Joyce Hoffman
ASSISTANT CIRCULATION MANAGER ..... Judy Wernsing
NEWS REPORTERS: Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Ed. Jonas, Emmalyn Heed, Don Looking, Barb McIntyre, Margie Snyder.
SPORTS REPORTERS: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, John Jenkins, Carl Wass.
COLUMNISTS: ..... Val Means, Jim Montgomery, Barb Smathers
PHOTOGRAPHERS: ..... Rick Bell, Bruce Bennett, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney

Editorially Speaking . . .

And there was light -- both in Founders Chapel and on the walk to the New Dorm.

These renovations, as well as the paint job in Founders Chapel, long needed and long agitated for, are commendable ones. However, there is yet another too dimly lit spot on campus that should not be overlooked—the Library.

* * *

The Senate has asked the Juniatian to say a word on male attire in the dining hall, a problem that has been brought to them by the Administration.

Although it doesn't seem as if it is asking too much for the men to put on a jacket for dinner, we do not feel that it is the fellows who come in clean and neatly pressed slacks and sweaters or sport shirts that should be criticized; rather it is the few who come dressed downright slovenly, wearing dungarees, t-shirts, and sneakers, for example, that mar the appearance of the dining hall.

Dress Checkers

We certainly would not want the administration to resort to having dress-checkers at the dining hall entrances, a system employed several years ago.

The Leadership Conference recommendation that the jacket regulation for men be suspended May 1, except for Sunday dinners, we feel, is a good one. The dining hall gets extremely warm in the Spring. On several occasions last May even some of the male members of the faculty shed their coats and rolled up their sleeves.

* * *

As is the case every year, it seems as if the cheerleaders are the only ones doing any cheering at basketball games. Unless the student body is going to manifest some spirit and support the basketball team, as it always has the football team, it hardly seems worthwhile for the cheerleaders to expend their time and energy at the games or in several hours practice each week.

From now on, why not put some of that vocal energy we hear going to heckle the opposition, to use supporting our team, as well as our cheerleaders.

* * *

And while on the subject of student support, on the credit side of the ledger we see the magnificent response to Monday night's appeal for funds for Hungarian refugees. Most students gave willingly, some even eagerly, certainly a commendable attitude toward a commendable cause.

* * *

With finals rapidly approaching, it is again time to remind everyone that academic honesty is only fair to his fellow students, as well as to himself. Unfortunately, past experience has shown that there are those who need to be reminded.

* * *

That does it for this semester. Happy cramming, and may you return from the academic wars victorious!

A Swan Song

"Juniatian editors come and go," it has been profoundly observed, and with this issue another one goes.

In the past year, we have met with some successes, some distresses. Our goals have been to achieve certain reforms through editorials, to attain some degree of technical proficiency, and to print what our readers want to read.

Some of the reforms we have advocated were achieved, with the aid of the Senate, to whom we owe a debt of thanks; those that were not accomplished we can chalk up to experience. For the times we have fallen short technically, we take full blame. But if we haven't measured up to what you, our readers, expected of us; it is partly your fault.

Suggestions Welcomed

When there is something about the Juniatian that you do not like, don't hesitate to gripe. Editors are used to criticism; in fact, they thrive on it. If you have a suggestion, the Juniatian will welcome it. The Juniatian, like the Senate, is a sounding board for student opinion. It can be used to its fullest capacity only with the interest and cooperation of the entire student body.

Finally, a word of appreciation to all those who have aided in the publication of the paper during the past year. Thanks to our readers for the interest they have shown, and to the entire staff who have worked so diligently, but especially to George Fattman, the best managing editor an editor ever had. Sincerest wishes for a successful year to the incoming regime.

jrm

From The Mailbag

Dear Editor:

On this occasion of the change of the Juniatian staff, I would wish to express my appreciation, and, I feel certain, that of the student body, for the important contribution made by the editor and staff of the Juniatian to the life of our Juniata community.

It is a credit to the nature of the college that a free and vigorous, often uncomfortably free and vigorous, press is allowed to exist and flourish. It is a credit to the students who maintain our free student press that the Juniatian has become such a vital institution at Juniata and that it has increasingly been the means by which recent grads take the pulse of the campus.

The achievement of the past would have been impossible without a high level of efficiency, energy, and courage. For this we thank both you, Madame Editor, and your staff.

Jim Stayer

ED. NOTE—This is the final issue of the Juniatian for the fall semester, because of final examinations. The next issue will be published Friday, February 1.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"YA KNOW - IT WORRIES ME WHAT SOME OF THESE CRAZY KIDS WILL DO FOR A GRADE."

campus capers . . .

Stayer's Car Bites The Dust Again

Ho-Hum! Jim Stayer's "car"—the car that went out of whack on the road to the Lycoming game and on the road home from the Grove City and Ursinus games, the car that made left hand turns from right hand lanes in Chicago last summer, the car with 112,000 miles on it — went awry again, this time carrying Monday's chapel speaker into a snowbank on Cold Springs Road.

That's the friendly Juniata hospitality we hear so much about—running Hungarians into snowbanks.

On Things Christmas

From the new coats, new cars, new crew-neck sweaters, and new diamond rings that have been making their debuts on campus during the past week, it's obvious that mostly everyone made quite a haul over vacation. One girl even got a husband, another a rhinestone-studded belly button brush (what everyone needs!)

There was one poor lad, however, who didn't get a thing for Christmas. The nicest thing that happened to him was that they let his mother out of jail for the day. His folks hate him, he explains. In fact the only decorations in the house were in their room, and of course they kept the door locked. They even burned his Christmas cards!

And speaking of Christmas cards, one coed reports that she received a card folded in half—the sender didn't have the right size envelope.

Comments That Make You Wonder.

"I would have left here long ago if it hadn't been for the food."

"His parents were really mad that he came here; they planned to send him to a nice school."

"I can't afford to come back next semester—my mother lost her paper route."

Student, tossing suitcase from car to sidewalk, "I hope Ma packed those eggs good."

* * *

Hibernation time is here again. Don't forget to purchase your crib sheets at the bookstore from 2-4 this afternoon!

news views . . .

Songs Of Ike Exude Sentimentality

by Jim Montgomery

THE SONG OF EISENHOWER, (Whittier, $2.50), by Dennis Tenney

Recently, the American scene has been blessed by the publication of a work of two fold importance -- literary and spiritual.

From the humble pen of that faithful worshipper, Dennis Tenney, has come a work of sublime adoration dedicated to that myth shrouded figure, our President. The verse marches forward with Miltonian dignity and plumbs to the depths of spiritual insight. Here is a poem with a message that the simple man can grasp and clutch to his thirsting heart.

"This book is meant,
Dear President
To bring you cheer
And make it clear
We are sincere
Who love, revere."

Thus, is this sincere work dedicated. Shortly our scribe develops with admirable subtlety the Messianic qualities of "The Man that God has sent."

"Oh man of God so fine and great
You honor us to guide our state."
"He's the greatest
Since
The Christ Child's birth!!"
"... A greater General
Than Napoleon
More resourceful than Caesar
He stand
Where the Christ stood."

Perhaps, in reality, the election of 1956 was the Second Coming in disguise. Undoubtedly, the chronicle of Eisenhower's life will be appended to the Holy Writ under the title, "The Newer Testament."

Unfortunately, there will be a few who might consider such heart-felt worship as blasphemous or sacrilegious. We need not trouble our simple, trusting souls with the mouthings of bad men, for these of little faith are but eggheads and intellectuals. The educated, who are too prone to criticize.

Mr. Stevenson (that arch-fiend) must now realize the evil role he played in opposing Good incarnate.

"Our tragedy, O Eisenhower
Is mostly those who'd seize the power
That you now hold and use the same.
For foolish ends—and the world to shame."

Mr. Tenney speaks now with sagacity and poetry that would cause Edgar Guest to cringe with envy.

"... only you can make the peace and joy to all mankind's release."
"If need, you call the tyrant's bluff
And make him think you're awfully tough."

Diplomats the world over, realizing their superfluousness, shall soon tender their resignations.

In a rising surge, this epic reaches its climax.

"Dwight—He's the next on Rushmore's Peak."

Here though is a difficulty, for the gentlemen on that mountain are dead. Perhaps Mr. Tenney intends to remedy the situation so that we may fuller express our adoration.

"The world will little not, nor long remember . . ."

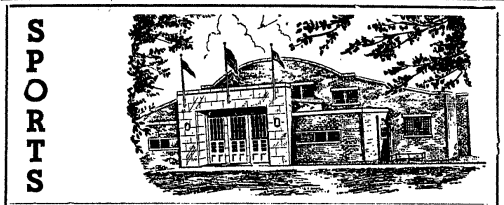
—A. Lincoln, a man.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Juniata Cagers Drop Games To Bisons, Crusaders



Whips, Mumblers, Dukes Continue Undefeated In Boys Basketball

Intramural basketball made its return to the Juniata campus Thursday evening following a two-week vacation layoff.

The highlight of the evening was the game between The Five and the undefeated Whips, which was won by the Whips in overtime, 57-56. John Staley paced the victors with 24 points while "Easy Ed" Brockway netted 13 for the losers.

The Mumblers displayed a well distributed scoring attack which proved to be too much for the Lead Balloons who lost 60-47, despite an 18 point performance by Jim Ake. The Galloping Ghosts, led by Larry McAfee and Bill Wise, downed the Six 60's, 59-46 ,while the Crusaders opened up a second half spurt which enabled them to outlast the A's, 52-32.

Other Thursday games included the Village Vultures' 54-25 triumph over the JC Seniors, and the game between the Mohawks and Ubangies which was forfeited to the Ubangies.

Ubangies Defeated

Saturday's thrillers featured a pair of games in which the outcome was decided by one point. The Sunbrookers pulled a 46-45 upset over the previously undefeated Ubangies, and the Crusaders staged a come-from-behind rally to defeat the winless Wolverines, 40-38. Wes Lingenfelter's 30 points was high for the game, but it was not enough to down the Whips, who had four men scoring 20 or more points, en route to a 99-60 win.

The Capitals gained an early lead in their game with the Galloping Ghosts, but the Ghosts used big second and fourth quarter scores to win 57-40.

In the only other game Saturday, Chuck Phillips led the Mumblers to an easy 64-36 triumph over the Cloister Oysters.

IM Bowling Moves Into Fourth Week

The Whips, Ten Pins, Admirals, and Dutch Mumblers each gained at least two wins in the third week of the intra-mural bowling league last Friday evening.

The Whips, a well-balanced team led by Neil Beefelt and Lefty Alderfer, scored three wins over the Keystoners.

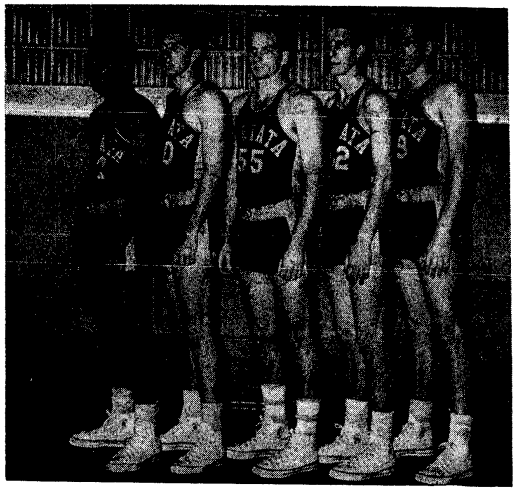
Hite Highest Scorer

The Ten Pins also gained three wins as they mauled the Prophets. The Ten Pins' Dick Hite was high of all the bowlers for the evening with a 296 in the two games played.

The Dutch Mumblers and the Admirals only managed to gain two wins as both teams met slight resistance from the Skizos and Crusaders.

Chuck Phillips was high man for the Dutch Mumblers with a 277, and Frank Bird was the Skizos' leader with a 281.

Glenn Williamson's 295 was second high bowler for the evening as he led the Admirals. Fran Christina, Crusader bowler, took the honor of having the highest pin total for one game, a 175.



REGULAR CAGE STARTERS — Juniata's first string shown here have been performing with substitutes for freshman forward Gordie ... (seconr from right) who sustained a leg injury. Above are Chet White, Bill Burchfield, Mike Armstrong, Ewers and Barney McLaughlin. Pete Fahrney

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Juniata contributed its share on the all-state college team released over vacation.

John Staley landed the second string center berth with Mullen, Haines, Trimber and Berrier receiving honorable mention. Staley also made the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference's all-star team for the southern division of small colleges.

The Five are becoming a real drawing card for intramural ball. The Five's game with the defending champion Whips drew the best crowd in recent years.

The fans left satisfied although the Whips won, since the Five forced the game into an overtime period. (Word has it that referee, Ugly Man "Killer" Conley, had a hand in the proceedings but this hasn't been confirmed.) Star Ed Brockway almost broke the game open for the Five with his floor play and dazzling array of foul shots.

The Bucknell cage squad inspired JC fans to a new height. It has been a long time since a crowd has taken such a "liking" to an opposing player as they did to one Harold. It appeared, however, that he had the situation well under control.

Since Danzig is only a sophomore, Juniatians may get another chance to observe his extremely aggressive play. (Rumor has it that he asked that the floor be shortened before he returns.)

Sill To Return

Bob Sill, star fulback who left school last fall following an attack of mononucleosis, will return to JC when classes resume for the second semester.

Sill's situation is precarious since he took his army physical, passed and has been ordered to report in February. He will try to obtain a deferment in order to remain in school.

IM - BB Standings

Mumblers	6	0
Whips	6	0
Dukes	3	0
Lead Balloons	3	1
Galloping Ghosts	3	1
Village Vultures	3	1
Crusaders	4	2
Sultans	4	2
Ubangies	3	2
Giants	2	2
Basketeers	1	1
Six-Sixties	2	3
A's	1	2
Capitals	1	3
Cloister Oysters	1	3
Sunbroookers	1	3

Romano Paces Susquehanna U. To 10th Of 11

Coming from behind, the Crusaders of Susquehanna eked out the Juniata Indians by a 79-76 score Monday night in the winner's gymnasium.

It was the second straight loss for the Indians, who were defeated by a powerful Bucknell five Saturday, January 6, by a 67-50 margin in Memorial Gymnasium. Juniata trailed by one point 14-13, at the quarter mark and seven points, 34-27, at the half. By the third quarter the Bisons had stretched the lead to a comfortable, 38-15. It was the tenth victory in eleven games for the Bisons.

For JC only two players were able to hit double figures. Juniors Mike Armstrong and Barney McLaughlin had 18 and 17 points respectively. For Bucknell, senior Joe Baccelli led in the scoring department with 17 points followed by sophomore Bob Ericsson with 15 and Harold Danzig with 11.

Were Leading

In the Susquehanna game, the Indians were leading by two points, 42-40, at the end of the half but were outscored in the second half.

In the scoring department Frank Romano led with 35 points. He was followed by Chet White, JC guard, who had 33 points.

For Susquehanna this was their third straight victory. They now have a 4-2 season record. The Indians dropped below the .500 mark for the first time this year, with a 3-4 slate.

JV's even record

The JV's came through with an easy 84-62 victory over Susquehanna Monday night, to even their season record at three wins and three losses. It was their second straight victory since the team was taken over by "Doc" Kramer and Joe DeNicola, the first win coming Saturday when they beat the Bucknell JV's 74-71.

JC PLAYS AWAY TOMORROW

Juniata's basketball team plays its next game against Dickinson tomorrow night at Carlisle. The Indians play their next home game against Lycoming next Saturday night, January 19.

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

THELMA'S
- BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
War and Peace
Technicolor and Vistavision
Friday Feature at 7:36 only
Sat. Feature 1:15-4:55-8:35
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Four Girls In Town
Cinemascope - Technicolor
Julie Adams - Gia Scala
Elsa Martinelli-Marianne Cook and George Nadar
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
The Rack All The Suspense of "Caine Mutiny
— Starring —
Paul Newman - Wendell Corey
Walter Pidgeon - Anne Francis
Edmund O'Brian
COMING SOON!!
Written on the Wind
Teen Age Rebel

MURPHY'S
Womens & Misses Sheer
60 Gauge Nylons
Only 67c per pair

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking
in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs
ever!
SMITHFIELD

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Hollywood
Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

SALE
45 RPM BOX ALBUMS
Values to $6.29 $2.49
New prices on Victor and Capitol extended-play 45 rpm albums
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Senate Appoints '57 Scout Editor, Store Assistant

Jan Hoyer and Allen Caskey received appointments at a recent meeting of the Senate.

Miss Hoyer was named to a second term as editor of the Scout, the freshman handbook. The '56 Scout was produced under her guidance. She is a junior and a day student. The '57 Scout will be mailed to freshmen next August.

Caskey, a freshman from Beverly, N.J. was named assistant manager of the Senate used book store. Dick Backus is manager.

Alma Mater Progress

Chairman of the alma mater committee Jackie Hayes told the Senate that concrete progress is being made toward readying a new alma mater. She told Senators of various sets of lyrics that have been written and played for them a tune she had composed to accompany them.

It was agreed by the Senate that the new music was decidedly superior to that of the current alma mater. Miss Hayes said that her committee will work with the various sets of lyrics to produce suitable words.

Campaign Expenses

The Senate has voted to change the ruling on campaign expenses to approximately $7.50" for presidential candidates and 'approximately $5" for other candidates.

It was decided to ask the Administration to set aside 100 dollars annually to cover partially the expenses of each Senate president attending the Student Body Presidents' Convention.

A reconsideration of which positions in campus activities should be considered major, minor or unclassified was begun and will be continued next week.

READY TO BEGIN THEIR TRIP through western Pennsylvania and Ohio, members of Juniata's touring choir are front row, Shirley Raftensperger, Carol Hoffman, Jane Brumbaugh, Jacqueline Rowland, Kathryn Holsinger, Prof. Donald Johnson Charles Fox, G. Lawrence Landes and Kenneth Rockwell. Second row: Lois Hershbehger, Carole Schenck, Aileen Wright, Janet Binkley, Ronald Dilling, Donald Lowdermilk, Richard Livingston, and James Swarr. Third row: Mildred Mandeville, Florence Burlew, Barbara Orner, Aliceann Wohlbruck, Joan Fyock, Terry Fouse, Dean Hancox, Joseph Senft and Richard Quinn. Fourth row: Anna Mary Smith, Lois Dunlap, Nancy Geisel, Margaret Chidester, Judith Gearheart, C. Gordon Winter, James Powell and Robert Doyle.

News Bureau

Touring Choir To Give Annual Concert Series In Pennsylvania, Ohio

January 25 will mark the beginning of the touring choir's 10-day tour of western Pennsylvania and parts of Ohio.

The choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson, consists of 32 voices and accompanist, Kathryn Holsinger, and will present 18 concerts in both church and schools. The programs will contain sacred and secular music featuring the choir, the women's trio and the male quartet.

The group will travel by bus and each night will be the guests of the church in which the evening concert has been presented. February 2 a half-hour program will be presented over WJAC-TV, and the next day the tour will conclude with a program in Moxham Church of the Brethren, Johnstown.

Student Drinking Back To Dorms

Seer Amidon Gazes Into Juniata's Future

by Dave Amidon

As an outgoing member of the Juniatian staff, the writer claims the prerogative of a last look into the future. For the benefit of posterity here at JC, I modestly predict:

* The powers of the Campus Judiciary will shortly be broadened to include capital punishment.

* Under a new policy, charges for room, board, tuition, fees, etc., will simply be lumped in a single bill for room damages.

* Snowflake Lake will be handed over to Huntingdon High School in exchange for a guarantee against beatings and knifings of JC students.

Breakfast in Bed

* Irate students will launch a strike against the Dining Hall, demanding, among other things, breakfast in bed.

* By next September, Infirmary rules will be streamlined to admit only those who can prove that they are already read.

* The trend toward (ugh!) male waiters will finally destroy the greatest consolation of eating in Oneida Dining Hall.

* In the near future, the outside houses will formally join national fraternities and sororities.

* The disastrous (because we missed it) fire which razed Sherwood Arms nearly two years ago will soon be established as a precedent for smoking on campus.

* Given the alternatives of bankruptcy or renewed larceny, WJC will stay in the black.

* The slogan "constructive initiation" will continue to mask the deterioration of another great Juniata tradition -- viciousness.

Desegregated Dances

* Though efforts at desegregation will fail at after-dinner dances, a solution will be found in the grandstand.

* Student responsibility will blossom as JC unites under a Dishonor System, whereby all share equally in the benefits of stolen tests and those who report cheating are severely punished.

* This spring, the hearts of three hundred young men will turn lightly to thoughts of a panty raid. A Juniatian "extra" will feature an action shot of Mac as he quells the riot.

* Campus policies will rise once more above mere issues to a consideration of the really key factors — "pull," personality, popularity.

* David Ellis will not succeed his father.

The Newer Dorm

* Romantic tradition will be kept alive when the women's residence now under construction is finally named the "Newer Dorm."

* Chapel attendance for the Faculty and all other college employees will become mandatory.

* In the year 1976, Juniata will celebrate its centennial by suspending intercollegiate athletics and building that long-awaited new library.

Branding Frosh

* Activities tickets will soon be supplanted. As incoming frosh pass through the Treasurer's office, the legend "PAID" will be imprinted on their foreheads with a red-hot branding iron.

* Totem Inn will continue indefinitely to provide free books and candy for a resourceful few among us.

* The Social Rooms, the Fire Tower and the Bell Tower are to be equipped with loudspeakers; oved this system students may hear a continuous recording of the unabridged text of the Grey Paper from noon until closing.

* In response to complaints from the administration, drinking will be transferred back to the dorms, where it is safer and more convenient anyway.

Juniatian Reports On Hungary's DP's

continued from page 1

years old made of the foil from happy -- at first glance -- but why should they be? They left so much behind, and have dreams now of building a new life, but in new countries. Who wouldn't dream dreams, and see visions of a land flowing with milk and honey, after existing under Russian domination? But will the U. S. A. -- this does not mean "the other guy" -- be what they expect?

Education Service Planning To Test Future Teachers

The national teacher examinations, prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, will be given at 200 testing centers throughout the United States on Saturday, February 9.

The college that a candidate is attending or the school system in which he is seeking employment will advise him whether he should take the exams and which of the optional ones to elect. At the one day testing session a candidate may take the common examinations and one or two of 11 optional examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught.

A bulletin of information in which an application is inserted may be obtained from college officials, school superintendents or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau St. Princeton, N. J.

Juniata To Host Visiting Debaters

continued from page 1

impossibility. At the present they are in need of an alumnus or friend of the college to sponsor the winner's trophy. Amidon also reported the possibility of holding the state tournament at Juniata next year.

About 100 invitations are sent to various neighboring colleges, but such a high mortality rate in acceptance in not unusual. "Though a late start and the novelty of a Juniata tournament necessitated that this year we proceed on a small scale, we hope that a valuable and growing tradition has been established," Amidon said. He added that it was unfortunate that the debate should fall during a vacation period, but expressed the necessity of creating this annual legacy for future JC debaters.

The Juniata club, affiliated with the Debate Association of Pennsylvania, is advised by Philbrook Smith. The club attended five tournaments in 1956, and are expected to double that number this year.

The Bands Played

. . . And The Crowds Turned Out When The Debaters Came Home

by Carl Wass

Is debate spirit dead at Juniata?

It seems to be when compared to the intense spirit shown by the JC student body in years past. There was a time when a position on the debate team was highly coveted goal, and when student spirit often surpassed that now accorded our successful football team. Many stories have reached our ears of turbulent rallies following a debate in which gigantic bonfires rose high into the night air and the songs and cheers of the student body rose even higher.

In a 1911 debate with Westminster College for example, the Juniata debators were carried from the scene of their victory on the shoulders of their joyful fellow students who were chanting and singing cheers and songs written especially for the debate team. In that same debate, the auditorium in which the clash of minds took place was packed to the doors a full forty-five minutes before the time for which the debate was scheduled.

Hailed Conquerering Heroes

Following matches at other colleges, the entire student body would march downtown to the railroad station, complete with band and songs, and welcome their conquering heroes home. The crowd would then proceed to hoist the debaters on their shoulders and make the return to campus amid a chorus of cheers. These displays of loyalty and spirit were characteristic of the support given to the debators in a bygone era, and the debators consistently proved they were deserving of that support by presenting winning teams to their fellow students.

Won First 11

Juniata College debating was started in 1902 and it was not until 1912, after eleven consecutive victories, that the team suffered its first setback. Interest in debate began to increase as a result of the winning records and it was not until the early 1940's that debating lost its high degree of popularity. Debating was still carried on however, but it was not until the past few years that interest was renewed in this activity and plans laid for a larger debating program.

This very year, for example, plans have been devised to institute an annual Juniata Debate Tournament, a dream which will reach its fruition two weeks from today when the First Annual Juniata Debate tournament will be held on this campus.

VALLEY MOTEL

Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection

HUNTINGDON, PENNA.

COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS

OPEN ALL YEAR

FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Wonderful Sweater Sale

NOW GOING ON

Prices cut drastically low

Don't miss it - you can't afford to

DANKS & CO.

WJC 1150 WJC

Listen to the 1150 CLUB

11:15 Monday through Friday

The Best in Music

Presented By Lou Palumbo & George Carnahan

Fred B. Bayer

WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS

Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 14 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 1, 1957

JCA Plans Spiritual Emphasis

'Do We Believe In Christ?' Theme Of Next Week's Religious Program

Spiritual Emphasis Week, which begins Monday morning, will be characterized by the theme, "Do We Believe In Christ?"

Dr. Joseph Haroutunian is the featured speaker for the six-day event for which many activities have been slated. Every morning, Monday through Saturday, devotions will be held in the Stone Church from 7:30-7:55 a.m. Chapels will be held in regular fashion with an additional chapel on Tuesday which will be voluntary.

Monday's schedule consists of a skeptics hour, led by Clint Betz, to be held from 4-5 p.m. in Totem Inn. Evening activities include an organ recital at 7 p.m. in Oller Hall featuring Katherine Holsinger. Dr. Haroutunian will speak on "Faith and Works" in the lounge of the New Men's Dorm at 7:30 p.m.

The faculty will meet with Dr. Haroutunian in the Faculty Club on Tuesday at 4 p.m. At the same time Jim Stayer will moderate an Inter-faith panel in Totem Inn. Panel members are Tressa Baughman, George Fattman, George Hess, and Anne Wilson. Alice Adams will give an organ recital at 7 p.m. Dr. Haroutunian will speak on "Do We Have the Right to Impose Christiaity on Others" in the social rooms.

Hayes at Organ

Wednesday a movie will be shown at 4 p.m. in Room C of Students Hall .Anyone wishing a conference with Dr. Haroutunian Wednesday afternoon should make conference appointments with Kerin Nabrut. Jackie Hayes will be featured at the organ recital at 7 p.m. Dr. Hambacher will introduce the topic for the 7:30 p.m. service. He and Dr. Haroutunian will speak on "Mental Health, Peace of Mind and the Christian Faith." At 10:30 p.m. dorm discussions will be slated with members of the faculty present.

Thursday's activities consist of a movie at 4 p.m. in Room C.

Friday at 7:30 p.m. another movie will be shown and a Foreign Students Panel and social led by Mrs. Blaisdell and Sam Lim will be held in the Women's Gym.

Saturday's schedule consists of a film at 8:15 p.m. in OllerHall entitled "One Foot in Heaven."

Monday through Wednesday, evening devotions will be held at 9 p.m. in Founders Chapel.

Chapel subjects to be featured are: Monday, "What Needs to be Thrown Away;" Tuesday, "What is missing;" and Wednesday, "What Are We Waiting For."

An art display in the social rooms and a book display in Totem Inn will be featured during Spiritual Emphasis Week.

The Rev. Joseph Haroutunian
Professor of Theology

Speaker, Director Of Week's Doings Native Of Turkey

The Rev. Joseph Haroutunian who will speak at Juniata during Spiritual Emphasis Week is professor of systematic theology at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Haroutunian was born in Marash, Turkey, and was graduated from the American University of Boirut at Marash in 1923. He came to America in 1923, received his A. B. degree from Columbia University in 1927, his B. D. degree from Union Theological Seminary, New York, in 1930, his Ph. D. degree from Columbia in 1932 and, in 1939, an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Lawrenice College, Appleton, Wis.

After teaching Biblical history at Wellesley College from 1932 to 1940, he came to McCormick Theological Seminary to take on the duties of professor of systematic theology. He has been a regular speaker for the Faith and Life seminars of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education and has frequently spoken at the church conferences of various denominations.

WJC Gets Recorder; Programs To Improve

Radio station is now in possession of its new tape recorder which was financed by a loan from WAA.

Upon receiving the machine, George Carnahan, station manager, expressed his belief that it would bring an improvement in the quality of the programs. The tape recorder will permit on-the-spot coverage of college events.

In the near future, a meeting of all WJC staff membtrs will be held for the purpose of teaching them how to operate the recorder.

JWSF Campaign Tops Goal of 1956; Meets New High

The JWSF has netted over $2100, a sum which surpasses the goal in 1956 and is higher than any ever attained before.

All the funds have not yet been collected and it is hoped that with the coming contributions the total will reach $2200. The student body alone have nearly $1000 while other donations were collected from the faculty, the box social, the Masque play, the queen contest, the faculty car wash and the shoe shine.

Dave Amidon and Bonnie Gunther have been responsible for collecting the contributions for the JWSF. Clint Betz is also to be thanked for his "charge" from the dining hall, which won several dollars for the fund.

Library To Assist Cents-Less JCers

Ten one-dollar bills will adorn the bulletin board in the main entrance to the library beginning this morning.

Miss Anne Winger, assistant librarian, has announced that she will start a "buck-board" for the purpose of lending money to Juniata students. Any student in need of cash may remove one dollar from the board, tacking his name on a piece of paper in its place. When he is able to return the money, he re-tacks it to the bulletin board and takes down his name.

Miss Winger stated that the buck-board will be continued until the end of the semester when the 10 dollars will be given to the Friends of the Library Fund.

JC Holds First Debate Tourney; Lafayette's Team Takes Award

by Don Leeking

An idea that began at the meetng of last year's calendar committee was carried through last Saturday when Lafayette College won Juniata's first debate tournament.

Preparations were begun this past fall when approximately one hundred letters were sent to colleges in Pennsylvania and the surrounding states inviting participation in a tournament. Ten colleges responded favorably and plans were made for lodging and entertainment.

Due to bad weather six teams were forced to cancel and four colleges, the minimum requirement, competed. Unusually fine interest was shown as the respective teams from Drexel, Lafayette, Messiah and Juniata began debating on the topic, Resolved: That the United States should discontinue its policy of direct aid to foreign countries.

Juniata's negative team of James Montgomery and Dick Backus won two out of three to place third, while Lafayette won top honors and the cup. John Piper of Lafayette was the top scorer and undefeated champion of the tournament. After the debates had ended all withdrew to Totem Inn for coffee, doughnuts and awarding of the permanent cup to Lafayette.

The president of JC's debate team, Dave Amidon has concluded that in the future the inviting of a few colleges for weekend debates is practical and possible.

Senators Remove Limits On Number Of Positions Held

Students no longer are bound by the regulations set up by the Senate concerning the number of offices held on campus.

At its Wednesday night meeting the Senate voted to strike from its constitution the by-law that defined various offices on campus as "major," "minor," or "unclassified" and that limited students to hold no more than a limited number of each.

For instance, a student previously could hold no more than one major office (such as a Senate position or publication editorship). Now neither the classification nor the limitation exists. However, the vice president has been given "discretionary powers to prevent persons from obtaining such offices which may be inconsistent with campus democracy and the people's ability to handle such offices."

Cafeteria Breakfast Possibility

President Ellis is sympathetic with the student's request for cafeteria-style breakfasts, it was reported, but claims that physical difficulties make it impossible to put such a program into action at the present. However, he is working to have the physical difficulties overcome, and he told the inquiring Senate Committee that the issue is "not closed."

A letter will be sent to Treasurer John Fike requesting that he investigate lighting in Carnegie Library, since student opinion deems the building's present illumination inadequate.

JC Gets Model Heart For Biology Students

A model heart was presented to the biology department of Juniata College by the Huntingdon County branch of the American Heart Association Friday, January 25.

The heart is about one and one-half times life size and can be opened and the various parts removed for study. Each part is numbered so that its name and function can be found by looking at the corresponding number on the glass stand.

The Huntingdon County Heart Association, who presented the heart to President Ellis and Doctor Will, is beginning its drive for funds this month.

Parker To Teach English Refresher

To comply with the request of many students for a course in English grammer, an informal course of this nature is being offered this semester under the supervision of Miss Jane Parker.

The objectives of the meetings will to be to cover the elements of the structure of English. Sessions will be informal with individual participation encouraged. This is a non-credit course and meetings will be held once a week for as long as those participating feel it is necessary in order to cover the material in which they are most interested.

The first meeting will be Thursday evening, February 7. The place and hour will be announced later.

Mid-Year Grads Receive Diplomas

In accordance with the latest faculty decision to hold only one formal commencement exercise a year, Juniata College awarded diplomas to nine mid-year graduates at a dinner at Motel 22 January 24.

Those who received BS degrees are Bob Smith and Gip Ciminera, Huntingdon; Arnie Kramer, Camden, N. J.; and May Lan Yuk Tai, New York, N. Y., while Harry Campbell of Bedford, Ron Dilling of Martinsburg, Becky Kitchen of McEwensville and Lee Davidson Smith of Perryopolis were awarded BA degrees.

Appoints Seven Department Editors

Fattman Takes Over Editorship Of Juniatian

● Joan McClure ●
Retiring Editor

Retiring Juniatian editor Joan McClure has announced the appointment of George Fattman to the paper's editorship.

Fattman, a junior English major from Tarentum, has appointed six department editors headed by Barb Walls, a sophomore English major from Glenside, who will serve as managing editor. Miss Walls, who was news editor during the past year, is news and campus events editor of WJC radio, is in JCA and is on the women's house committee and the Senate committee on educational affairs.

The new editor had been managing editor of the Juniatian and currently is chairman of communications on the Senate, asst. program director of WJC radio, and writes for the Alfarata and the Scout.

Baish Is News Editor

A freshman English major from

See FATTMAN, p. 4

● George Fattman ●
Heads New Regime

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Dick Johnson, photography editor; Roger Bennett, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Rene Dimmick, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Emmalyn Head, Ed Jones, Don Leaking, Ann Schieb, Marge Snyder.

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

VOLUME XXXIII, No. 14 — February 1, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

The Finals Blast

IT is said that a student spending eight semesters here is bound to have one "rough" final examination schedule, but more students than usual seem to have had poor schedules during the last exam period.

Or so the clamor, this year louder than usual, would have us think. Another sign of the rough card Juniatians faced three weeks ago were those haggered looking students (many education majors) who left for home after having their five the first five exam periods. No doubt it took them the remaining week-and-a-half to recover.

We realize that scheduling finals is a tough job, certainly filled with involvements we can't fathom. The registrar, we know, attempts to make the schedule as fair as possible. Yet students are crying for a more humane schedule.

The best solution, unfortunately, cannot be found in revising the final examination plan we now have. Students who are the least annoyed by final examinations attend colleges of universities having honor systems. There they take the final when they want to and where they want to, just so their blue book is submitted by a certain deadline.

Since Juniatians do not seem to be ready for a system based on personal honor, perhaps there are other components of the current system that if changed would make the finals schedule more pallatable, at least fairer, to the student. Two reading days might precede the first final exam period. Finals could be shortened to two hours and given in three periods per day (with no student taking more than two tests per day).

Surely those responsible will give consideration to a problem so vital. Until they do, the registrar's office reports that they will be happy to aid students who come to them with exam schedule problems.

Make Tourney Annual

THE debate tournament sponsored here last weekend by Juniata's debate team is something we'd like to see become an annual affair.

President Dave Amidon and all the debaters are to be congratulated for their work toward the success of the tournament and toward putting debate back into the spotlight at Juniata. We read that debate once ranked with athletics at Juniata, and we would like to see it again assume such a status.

In spite of poor weather (which prevented attendance of four teams) and other inconveniences —such as the poor reception given our guests in the dining room—the tourney was certainly successful.

Salute To Joan

WHEN Joan McClure resigned as editor of the Juniatian last month, she was stepping from just one of the areas through which she has made important contributions to our campus.

Her work on the campus weekly alone merits our thanks and praise, for her editorials and follow-up activities have helped bring about many improvements, among them the telephone code, more money for the debate team, automatic publication of election results, a vacation between the fall and spring semesters and better lighting on the walk to North Dorm.

Unfortunately some of her editorial attempts ended in disappointment when the Administration and the student body refused to heed her suggestions. But failures made success more valuable.

Besides her work on the Juniatian staff Joan, who maintains enviable grades, serves on the campus judiciary, the ogre committee and the women's house committee, just to mention a few. At this time last year when everyone was searching for candidates for Senate, many wanted Joan, chairman of publications at the time, to run for Senate president, a position rarely voted to a coed. She is considered one of the top leaders.

Naturally we on the Juniatian miss Joan, as we know the campus will miss her when she is graduated. As we hail her contributions to our campus, we also pledge ourselves to continue to work as she did that our campus might be improved and informed.

Our Readers' Opinions

ED. NOTE—This column is for expression of readers' opinions on current issues. All letters must be signed and should be as brief as possible. We reserve the right to condense any letter.

Thanks To Staff, Joan

...I feel that a tremendous debt of gratitude is owed the staff and especially to the outgoing editor for a job well done. One of the few high points of life on College Hill has been the weekly issuance of our school paper. Excellent coverage of all activities on campus and pertinent to college life coupled with the expertly-written editorials have made it easy for me to say proudly, "This is my college's newspaper."

— Anonymous.

What To Expect

AFTER two semesters of dynamic editorials we find our readers wondering if a change in editors will cause a change in policy.

Already some students have suggested possible editorials. This sign is encouraging, for it shows the interest of Juniatians in their campus and their newspaper.

We hope to continue in the trend of the past year. Moreover, we will maintain our independence from the college Administration, the student government and campus organizations, as has been recent policy. Yet we are ready to assist in promoting various ideas and projects we feel are important.

Our relationship with other campus communications, furthermore, we hope to strengthen so that we may help to keep Juniatians better informed.

That's what to expect.

Roamin' Forum

by Barb McIntyre

Once again it's curtain time for the news from the other campi. Such tibets as those following can be found on the printed pages of various campus newspapers.

Interested in some dizzy dieting? Do you have a hard time finding clothes that will fit you? Does your date refuse to snuggle close to you in the movies because she (or he) can't get near you? Let's face it pal. You have too much adipose tissue! Remedy - send for the Edvis Presley diet offered by Albright College in Reading.

* * * *

An interesting excerpt from the Lycoming Courier seemed also to be prevalent at JC during those long, sleepless nights of blue books. "Nerves are taut, tempers short and pandorum reigns at Lycoming College. Faculty, administration and students alike are afflicted with a similar malady. What is the cause and what is the cure? The cause is procrastination and its cure is a more application earlier in the season."

* * * *

How about some distinctive vocab from the Drury College females. Famous expressions floating around the dorm — "Man does he send me even if he does have a mile long line! " "Guess I'll bid on my void." (At this remark her partner utters, "Boy that really shakes me up.") Well "small one!" (Some Drury girls insist on using this word, even though the person may be six feet tall, 200 pounds).

"YA KNOW — THE DORM'S SO CROWDED THIS YEAR I RUN INTO SOMEONE NEW EVERY DAY."

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

THE MIDDLE EAST CRISIS — There appears to be no chance of easing the tension in the Israeli-Egyptian dispute. Israel has refused to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the southern tip of the Sinai Peninsula until the United Nations takes action to protect her borders. Egypt, on the other hand, is demanding immediate withdrawal and a return to the status quo before the outbreak of fighting. The UN, despite bitter protests from Israel, has agreed to this. The general opinion is that the time for a general settlement is after all troops have been withdrawn.

But it is obvious to all that Israel will not agree to this. The very reason that Israel invaded in the first place was to stop Egypt's constant border raids. Furthermore, they have no reason to believe that Nassar will consent to a general settlement once her troops are withdrawn. An impasse has been reached. What the results will be should become apparent within the next few weeks.

—●—

THE COLD WAR — Meanwhile the conflict has caused a regeneration of heat in the varying temperature of cold war. For this the Eisenhower Doctrine must receive some of the blame. While failing to deal with the specific problems in the Middle East it has caused the Soviet Union to face our challenge squarely.

Last week the Soviet Union stepped up its propaganda barrage by charging that the US was arming its ground troops stationed abroad with atomic weapons to divert atomic war from the US to other parts of the world. Undoubtedly this was aimed at the nations of the Middle East and undoubtedly will have some effect.

—●—

DRAGNET IN HUNGARY — The Hungarian Revolution has just about spent itself. According to the latest reports, the police regime of Premier Kadar has spread a dragnet across the country that has discovered numerous caches af arms. Only a few small cases of isolated fighting have been reported. The number of refugees fleeing the country has dwindled to less than 100 a day. The fight for freedom is over and has been lost as far as the Hungarians are concerned.

But the world has learned a valuable lesson. Now no one can honestly have any doubt about the true nature of the Soviet Union. This should be of great value in bringing the neutral block over to our side.

—●—

NEW YORK'S MAD BOMBER — After 26 years a man who combined cleverness with insanity has been deprived of his favorite pastime, that of planting bombs among the masses of New York City. Last Monday George P. Metesky was arrested in his home in Waterbury, Conn. Perhaps this is to be regretted. The smiling old gentleman's activities did make excellent copy!

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE

600 Penn Street

EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT

Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks

Store Hours 8 to 5

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Juniata became a member of three new leagues formed by the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference.

JC joined with 33 members to participate in basketball, baseball and tennis circuits in the 1957-58 school year. These leagues will determine a championship among the schools participating as is already done in track, golf and other sports.

* * * * *

Participating schools are divided into two divisions in basketball. Juniata is in the Northern Division. Included are Albright, Dickinson, Lycoming, Susquehanna, Wilkes, Hofstra, Lebanon Valley, Moravian, Scranton, Stevens and Wagner.

* * * *

A minimum number of games must be played with teams in both divisions to be considered for the championship. The Southern Division includes Elizabethtown, F&M, Gettysburg, and West Chester, to name a few. There will be a champion in each division based upon the percentage of results of all games played with teams in both divisions.

* * * *

The Whips appear to be the favorite for top spot in intramural bowling. Led by Arnold Olt, Doc Geiger, and Flo Wentzel they should be rough to stop. However, the same Whips were also a good favorite in IM basketball until the Dukes knocked them off. We hear Lou Hall is giving Flo Wentzel a good battle for the top woman bowler. This may be a sign that some surprise team will knock the Whips down again.

* * * *

Watch out for the Mohawks in the IM basketball loop. No longer will opponents find them easy prey for victories. Bernie "Hook Shot" McQuown (pronounced Q not G) states that he is fully recovered from his appendectomy and expects to play regularly in future games. Bernie says that since his left hand hook is improved, he will probably score 25 a game and get his team back in a winning stride.

Indians Come From Behind, Swamps Wilkes

After trailing for most of the first half, the Juniata Indians came from behind to trounce the Colonels of Wilkes College, 95-69, Monday night in Memorial Gym.

Wilkes commanded an 18-13 lead after the initial ten minutes of play, but were outscored by the Tribesmen who held a 42-28 lead at the intermission. The Wilkes College five could do nothing against the fast break and the Indians continued to stretch their lead in the second half using many reserves.

Juniata's co-captain Barney McLaughlin was high man for the evening with 35 points, 10 of which came in the first half. Three other players hit the double column as Mike Armstrong, Chet White and Gordie Ewers hit for 18, 11 and 10 points respectively.

George Gacha led the Wilkes scoring with 26 markers followed by Francis Mikolanis, who racked up 13 points for the losers.

JC Record at 6-6

The season record for Juniata now stands at an even six wins and six loses. The last loss came at the hands of the Gettysburg Bullets who dropped the Indians, 81-68, at Gettysburg Saturday night.

The Indians, who racked up 26 field goals to 23 for Gettysburg, lost the game on fouls. They committed 31 personals sending the Bullets to the foul line 50 times. They made good on 35 of these shots while Juniata made 16 of 27 attempted fouls.

Gettysburg's Walsack was high man for the evening with 32 points, followed by Cousins and Miller with 15 and 12 points. For Juniata, center Bob Ewald, Chet White and reserve Ron Wertz each scored ten points to lead the Indians scoring.

Tribe Wins Thriller

In a thriller played in Memorial Gym on Saturday January 20, the Indians won their fifth game by stopping Lycoming, 64-58, in overtime.

After a great first half which showed a 39-31 lead, the Indians cooled off and were outscored by the Warriors 27-19 in the second half, ending the regulation game in a 58-58 tie.

In the overtime while Lycoming was held scoreless, Bob Ewald dunked in a one hander from the key and Barney McLaughlin accounted for the other four pointer with a field goal and two foul shots.

For the Tribe four men hit double figures. Bill Burchfield led the scoring with 18 points followed by McLaughlin, Chet White and Ewald with 17, 11 and 10 points respectively. Frank Sullivan led the Warrior scoring with 14 points.

Braves End Losing Streak

In a pre-exam game the Indians snapped a four-game losing streak by defeating the Red Devils of Dickinson by a 76-64 score.

The Tribesmen piled up a 40-25 lead in the first half and retained their lead throughout the rest of the game.

High scorer for the night was Barney McLaughlin of Juniata with 19 points followed by Weaver of Dickinson with 18 and Indian Mike Armstrong with 17.

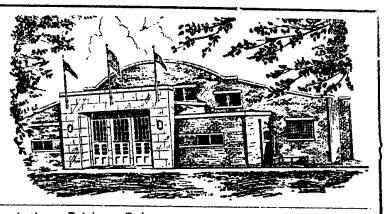
JV's Win Two

While the senior Indians posted a win at Dickinson, the JC frosh defeated the Dickinson jayvees, 67-54. For Juniata Al Dungan was the high man with 17 points followed by Fred Yun with 14 and Barry Sipes with 11.

In a game played at Memorial Gym the junior varsity of Lycoming bowed before the junior Tribesmen, 82-62.

It was the fifth straight win for the Juniatians, who have now compiled a 6-3 log in season play.

SU's Romano Here Tomorrow



Former Tribe Ace Joins Pro Ranks

Former Juniata ace cager of a season ago, Jake Handzelek, has currently been working out for the Williamsport Billies of the Eastern Basketball League.

Handzelek, during his four year tenure at Juniata, scored 1,950 points to rank with the greats in small college circles. Now Jake is serving as head basketball coach at Northwest High School in Shickshinny.

Tribe Junior Varsity Boasts 6-3 Record

Passing almost unnoticed is the fact that the Juniata junior varsity basketball squad has built quite a good record thus far this season.

Going into tonights tilt with the Altoona Penn State Center at Altoona the Blue and Gold JV's have chalked up a 6-3 record. Currently the little Tribe is working on a five game winning streak.

The charges of "Doc" Kramer and Joe DeNicola have deposed of F & M, Bucknell, Susquehanna, Dickinson, Lycoming, and Penn Center (Altoona), The Indian junior varsity has lost to Lock Haven, Shippensburg and Indiana.

Seniors, Whips Lead JC IM Bowling League

A tie for the number one spot in the intramural bowling league resulted from the pre-vacation games as the Seniors matched the Whips 6-0 slate by rolling to victory over the winless 4D&C in a surprisingly close 1068-1052 contest.

In other games the Crusaders gained a 44 pin win over the Alley Cats aided by Fran Cristina and Jim Heck who held the individual match highs of 137 pins each. Al Blough's 158 pins in the first game set the pace as his Dutch Mumblers tied Team B's 4-2 record by downing that squad 1165-1117.

	W	L	T
Seniors	6	0
Whips	6	0
Crusaders	7	2
Admirals	7	2
Team B	4	2
Dutch Mumblers	4	2
Ten Pins	6	3
Skizos	2	3	1
Keystoners	1	5
Alley Cats	1	7	1
Team A	0	3
Team C	0	3
4D&C	0	6
Prophets	0	6

Cage Future Book

FEBRUARY

7	Indiana STC	Home
9	Elizabethtown	Away
13	Dickinson	Home
16	Elizabethtown	Home
19	American U	Away
23	Lycoming	Away
27	Geneva	Away

MARCH

2	Albright	Home

Juniata Seeks To Avenge Two Early Setbacks

Tomorrow evening is one which has been anticipated for a long time by many Juniata basketball fans.

It is the night when Susquehanna University, led by renowned Frank Romano, makes its annual appearance at Memorial Gymnasium. An earlier meeting this season at Selinsgrove found the Indians of 'Doc' Greene on the short end of a 79-76 score as Romano ripped the cords for 35 points.

Even a casual observer must remember last year's game in which the 6'-2" Romano gave a tremendous display on the court, although the Crusaders dropped the contest to Juniata. The prolific Romano, in his first seven games, has a 29.7 per game average.

Another bright spot on the Crusaders five is Gene Witiak, who has teamed with Romano to provide a fine one-two scoring punch for coach Ed Pfeiffer. The starting team is rounded out with a freshman, Bob Probert, and two juniors, Gerry Herbster and Dick Purnell.

Indiana on Tap

On Thursday, the Indians face Indiana STC, and are hoping to avenge an earlier 94-81 defeat suffered at Indiana. Indiana misses their two high scoring aces from last year, Jack Crossan and Don Cavalero, but coach Regis McKnight has a large number of fine ballplayers with which he hopes to fill the gap left by the two graduates. The probable starting five for Indiana will average almost 6'-2" and they will be backed ably by a tall bench reserve.

Leading the Indiana aggregation will be Joe DeLise, a junior, and a Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference all-star selection last year. Another STC all-star is their fine center Mike Farah, one of the three seniors on the squad. The two guards for Indiana are James Kimbrough, a sophomore, and Jack Bizyak, a junior. Completing the starting lineup will be Regis Laughlin, a senior three-year letterman.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
5th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

Shop
The Ray English
Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

MURPHY'S
Womens & Misses Sheer
60 Gauge Nylons
Only 67c per pair

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SAT.
Victor Mature - Anita Ekberg
Michael Wilding in ZARAK
Cinemascope — Technicolor
MON - TUE - WED
The Funniest Pair in Pictures
Bob and Kate Simply Great
Bob Katharine
and
HOPE HEPBURN
— in —
The Iron Petticoat
Vistavision and Technicolor
Starts THURS. FEBRUARY 7
Martin and Lewis
ANITA EKBERG in
Hollywood or Bust
Vistavision and Technicolor
COMING SOON!!!
Lust For Life Feb. 18-19
A King and Four Queens
Feb. 15-16
Fantasia Feb. 25-26
Anastasia March Date
Giant March Date

Fattman Is Editor; Assigns 6 New Posts

continued from page 1

Irwin, Carol Baish is news editor. She is also circulation manager of the Powwow and is on the staff of WJC radio. Previously she was asst. news editor of the Juniatian. Her assistant will be Barb McIntyre, a freshman English major from Altoona. Miss McIntyre, who had been a reporter on the news staff, will also write the inter-campus news column.

Ron Fink, an English major from Everett, will remain as copy editor. He has held that position for the past two months. Fink is also on the staff of WJC radio and is in the Masque. He is a junior.

Brown To Head Sports

A sophomore pre-law major from Bellefonte, Chuck Brown will edit Juniatian sports coverage. Previously a sports writer for the paper, he is also president of his class, co-sports editor of the Alfarata, sports editor of the Tomahawk, a writer for the Scout and is a member of the debate, cross country and track teams.

Shirley Hunsicker has been named assistant sports editor. A freshman from Allentown, she is majoring in elementary education and has been a reporter on the sports staff.

Dick Johnson, a biology major from Ardmore, has been named photography editor. A freshman, he is a member of the football squad, the WJC radio staff and plays intramural basketball. Previously he was on the circulation staff.

Business Staff

The only new appointment to the business staff was that of Roger Bennett, junior history major from South Orange, N. J., who is advertising manager. Among his activities are membership on the WJC radio staff and in the International Relations Club. He was formerly assistant business manager.

Remaning as business manager is George Carnahan. Joyce Hoffman, assisted by Judy Wernsing, heads the circulation staff.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

WANTED
Male Camp Staff needed in Summer Camp for underprivileged children, Willow Grove, Pa. Minimum requirements, 19 years of age, two years of college. Fully accredited Camp, American Camping Association membership. For full particulars write the College Settlement Farm-Camp, 416 Queen St., Philadelphia 47, Pa.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Judiciary Deals With Chapel Cuts; Will Punish Offenders

The Campus Judiciary has assumed the responsibility of enforcing the chapel attendance regulations and has devised the following procedure to deal with student offenders:

1. Each student is permitted six absences per semester without specific reason.

2. Excused permission from chapel will be granted on the same basis as excused class absences.

3. If the number of unexcused absences exceed the permitted maximum by one, two, or, three, the number in excess will be deducted from those permitted during the following semester.

Automatic Referral

4. If the number of unexcused absences exceeds six by four or more, the student will automatically come before the Judiciary.

Students are urged to conform to this policy, and are reminded that excused absence blanks should be turned into the information window as soon as possible in order that allowance for chapel cuts can be made.

Four Cases

Since the first of December, the Judiciary has considered four cases. The first case, in which two students were found guilty of misrepresentation of facts to college officials, resulted in the students' suspension from college for a period of eleven days.

Two other cases concerned excessive chapel cutting. Due to the academic record of the defendant, by vote of the Judiciary the first case was turned over to the academic standing committee for action. The other case was dropped when the student involved produced excused absence slips for the chapels cut in excess of six.

In a Hurry

The Judiciary voted to turn the final case, in which two men were charged with breaking apart the door to their dormitory room "because they were in a hurry," over to the men's committee for disciplinary action, after the students had been assessed for repairs by the college.

In order to protect students appearing before the Judiciary, it was decided that all meetings of the groups will be closed to the college community and that a detailed description of each case will not be made public. However, a general report of the cases referred to the Judiciary will be published monthly in the Juniatian.

Students Can Take Courses In Britain

Six-week courses will be offered to American students this summer at Oxford, Stratford-on-Avon, London and Edinburgh.

Designed for graduate students and teachers as well as undergraduates, these courses are: Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama literature and art in Georgian England, literature, politics and the arts in seventeenth-century England, the European inheritance and English law and jurisprudence.

A limited number of scholarships will be available to American students in their junior or senior years. Award and admission application forms may be secured from the Institute of International Education in New York City or from its regional office in Washington, D. C.

—In Chapel Next Week—

February 4 Dr. Haratounian
6 Dr. Haratounian
8 JCA

Stayer To Begin Five Leadership Seminars

Senate President Jim Stayer this week announced plans for Leadership seminars to be held throughout the coming month.

In stating his purpose for the proposed meetngs, Stayer said the seminars would work "to transmit the experience of departing seniors to underclassmen and those juniors who are planning to be candidates for an office or chair in the (1957-58) Senate."

The meetings will be held in Room G each week for 5 weeks. Plans have been made for 4 lectures, one by former president Dick Fusco, various case studies and questioning periods. These seminars are open to all students.

Local School To Host County Band Festival

The Huntingdon County Band Festival will be the featured entertainment in Oller Hall February 1 and 2.

Professor Bertram Francis, band director at Mansfield State Teacher's College, will be guest conductor of 140 top musicians from six high schools in Huntingdon County. Lester Garman, band director of Huntingdon area schools, will act as host to the group.

Performances will be given Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday evening. High schools participating in the recital are: Captain Jack of Mount Union, Juniata Valley of Alexandria, Orbisonia, Saltillo, Robertsdale and Huntingdon.

Parents Gather To Review Costs

Representatives of a parents committee for Juniata College met with members of the college's planning commission in Harrisburg Saturday, January 26, "to review the financial picture of Juniata."

The parents committee, which met with administrative officials of the college last Parents Day, has agreed that "efforts should be made at Juniata to give the parents of the students an opportunity to share in meeting the college needs."

This was among the proposals considered by Juniata's planning commission at its Harrisburg session. They hope at this year's May Day to form a permanent organization consisting of all parents of Juniata students. Parents would automatically become members upon the student's acceptance.

Members of the Parents Committee which met with the planning commission at Harrisburg are B. F. Goodrich, U. G. Hodgin, Horace Raffensperger and Thomas Chase. The planning commission includes Henry Gibbel, chairman of the board of trustees, President Ellis, Harold Brumbaugh and A. William Engel.

The parents committee has been considering the establishment of a Parents Annual Gift Fund to supplement the college's alumni fund.

SALE
45 RPM BOX ALBUMS
Values to $6.29 $2.49
New prices on Victor and Capitol extended-play 45 rpm albums
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Alumni's $45,180 Gift Tops Previous Total

Alumni Secretary Harold Brumbaugh reported that as of January 1, $45,180 had been contributed to the Juniata College Alumni Fund, showing a considerable increase over the $36,922 which was given last year.

The Alumni Fund is geared this year to raise money to offset the cost of the women's dormitory and to aid in increasing faculty salaries which are 13 percent lower than the average of Pennsylvania's privately supported colleges of the same size.

Future Teachers Begin To Practice

Sixteen senior elementary education majors began practice teaching in four area grade schools Monday, January 28, according to Miss Gladys Weaver, instructor in education.

Those assigned to Alfarata are Barbara Gutshall, Joanne Hutchison, Donald Speck. Jeannette Lowe, Lois Speice and Carol Titus, while Betty Barr, Mary Johnson and Carol Jenkins have assumed teaching positions in Huntingdon. Seniors at Mount Union are Harriet Detwiler, Wilma Glessner, Rosalie Langer and Nancy Nevin, and at Smithfield are Squeegee Holsinger, Lois Mozey and Dotty Stricker.

Special Purchase
Rayon Panties
Reg. 49c Value
Brief & Band Leg Styles
3 prs. $1
DANKS & CO.

College Appoints Night Watchman; Announces Duties

John Fike recently announced that Merle Lightner of Alexandria has been hired as a new night watchman.

The growth of the student body and the campus made it necessary to hire him to work with Scott MacCracken, better known as "Mac," who has performed the duties of a night watchman at JC for more than 30 years. These duties consisted of watching for prowlers, checking fire equipment and water and doing other maintenance jobs.

Under the new set up two men will work together five nights a week, having one of the other two nights free.

Registrar To Release Fall Marks This Week

Final grades for the fall semester's work will be released sometime next week, it was announced Wednesday by James Bray, registrar.

Bray also commented that the student body, through faulty and improper registration was partially the cause of the hold-up.

The staff lost two days revising student schedules for the coming semester.

Hear
EDITORIAL PAGE
Ron Fink
Tonight at 9 — WJC

how big is BIG?

In considering a career opportunity, big depends a lot on the attitude towards young engineers of the company you work for.

West Virginia isn't the largest company in the pulp and paper industry (although there are not many larger). Few, however, can point to our investment in product and production research, quality control and the development of new manufacturing techniques. This is a climate that hundreds of young engineers have already found attractive and stimulating. It has also laid the groundwork for bigger and bigger expansion in the immediate years ahead.

There are unusual and challenging opportunities for chemical and mechanical engineers at all of our six plants—particularly at Tyrone and Williamsburg, Pennsylvania.

Chalmers Barr, Personnel Director, will visit your campus shortly. He would like to talk with you. Be sure to see him. Contact your placement director for time and place.

WEST VIRGINIA PULP AND PAPER COMPANY

Tyrone and Williamsburg, Pennsylvania

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 15 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 8, 1957

Pete Fahrney

JC'S NEW LOAN-ARRANGER. Miss Anna Winger, shows Ann Larkin and Ken Opippery an easy way out of financial embarrassment. The library's buck-board, begun last Friday, will enable JCers to borrow money by placing their names on the board. When they return the money, they remove their names.

'57 Masque Production Of All My Sons To Feature Acting Of Tested Performers

Montgomery, Gearhart, Nevin, Backus Top Cast Of New Yorker's Prize-winning Play

by Don Leeking

An experienced and talented cast headed by Judy Gearhart, Nancy Nevin, Jim Montgomery and Dick Backus will appear in the Masque production of All My Sons.

The play, written by Arthur Miller and directed by James Bray, is a moving drama in three acts centered about the life of a businessman who was not honest in his dealings during the war. By cowardly lying he lives under a pretext of innocence, but at last he has to acknowledge his guilt before his son.

The role of the businessman, Joe Keller, is portrayed by Montgomery who has already played in such Masque productions as Skin of Our Teeth and Glass Menagerie. The part of his wife Kate, a faithful though misguided woman, is played by Miss Gearhart. Miss Gearhart has had much experience in The Masque during her years at Juniata, her acting credits including Skin of Our Teeth and Bell, Book and Candle. She was assistant director of its last work, Arsenic and Old Lace.

Nevin Sweet Young Thing

The sweet young thing, Anne Deever, is played by Miss Nevin. She was seen in last year's production of the Glass Menagerie. Chris Keller, the son who faces the truth, is characterized by Backus who already has Bell, Book and Candle, Brigadoom, and Arsenic and Old Lace to his credit.

Lending support to the above players will be Clint Betz as George Deever, George Carnahan as Dr. Jim Bayliss, Judy Barrowclough as Sue Bayliss, Ted Hettrick as Fran Lubey and Marcia Sweet as Lydia Lubey. Announcement will be made concerning the part of Bert, a small neighbor boy, later.

Playwright Miller has a facility in portraying human character and emotion. While the play is short, it is capable of providing an evening of long-remembered entertainment.

Johnson Assumes Associate Editor Post On Juniatian

This morning editor George Fattman announced the appointment of Dick Johnson to the associate editorship of the Juiatian.

The position, created this semester in a move toward greater efficiency in operation of the campus weekly, was vacated when John Jenkins, original appointee, resigned before his appointment could be announced.

Johnson, a freshman from Ardmore, is a biology major and a member of the football squad and the WJC staff. This spring he will be on the track team.Until his appointment. he had served as photo editor of the Juniatian.

The associate editorship involves handling all public relations and non-journalistic activities of the campus weekly. Most important among them being the Homecoming queen election and coronation.

In addition the associate editor prepares for publication the copy of the various columnists and schedules and approves photography appearing in the paper. It is also his duty to advise and on occasion represent the editor.

Election Schedule

Petitions for Offices Available	February 11
Return Petitions — 10:30 p.m.	February 13
Campaign Begins	February 14
Campaign Ends	February 18
Election	February 19
Run-offs	February 20
Chairman Petitions Available	February 14
Return Petitions	February 20
Campaign Begins	February 21
Campaign Ends	February 25
Election	February 26
Run-offs	February 27

JC Alumnus Joins Staff Of Daily News

Jim Hunt, of Johnstown, last year's student Senate president, joined The Daily News staff last Monday in the position of city editor.

Hunt comes to Huntingdon after being on the staff of the Clairton Progress. He was graduated from Juniata in 1955, majoring in history and political science. At JC in addition to being Senate president, he was editor of the Juniatian.

Hunt is married to the former Nan Heller of Hollidaysburg, a Juniata graduate in elementary education. They are now residing at 208 Second Street.

21 Students Make Fall Dean's List

Juniata's dean's list of distinguished students for the fall term was released this week by the dean of the college, Morley Mays.

Seniors averaging 3.75 and above are Paul Amash, who is majoring in French; Jim Corrigan, pre-med; Dick Livingston, English, and Jim Stayer, history.

Juniors are Meg Goodrich, a psychology major; Bob Moore, mathematics; John Moore, English; Marian Ross, elementary education, and Spencer Ward, pre-med.

From the sophomore class are Herb Entrekin, majoring in economics and business administration; Bonnie Gunther, English; Arthur Norris, biology and Barb Shaffer, languages.

Freshmen are Jane Brumbaugh, Jane Herbster, James Swarr and Sue Willson, liberal arts; Elizabeth Bowman, English; Leora Furlong, languages; Richard Quinn, education, and Kirk Wicker, chemistry.

Debate Scandal Rocks IM Loop As Club Votes For $5 Subsidy

In a move unprecedented in the history of Juniata College, the debate team this Tuesday voted to experiment with subsidized athletics.

Acting unanimously, the group set aside the sum of five dollars annually to be dangled before that high school senior who: a) shows minimal promise in the art of debate and, b) frankly and mainly, meets most fully the very special standards of the Five (Debate Club entry in the men's intra-mural basketball league).

Angrily denying any willingness to tamper with grades or otherwise put a "floor" under eligibility, a spokesman for the Five stated that "we envision no immediate leap into first place, but we are definitely becoming the team to beat!"

First Athletic Scholarship

George Carnahan, debate manager, revealed that the award, first athletic scholarship ever given at Juniata, would be divided into eight installments. Thus payment would be at the rate of $0.62½ per semester. Pressed, Carnahan admitted that a statewide talent hunt is already underway to implement this ambitious building program.

Sources elsewhere in the IM League are deploring what one critic calls "rank professionalism"

See DEBATERS, Page 4

Concordia College Choir To Present Concert Monday

Singing a cappella, the Concordia Choir from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., will present a program ranging from 16th century classics to contemporary music in Oller Hall, Monday, February 11, at 8:15 p. m.

The group of 65 singers, the majority of the groups being of Scandinavian heritage, will appear in Huntingdon under the joint sponsorship of the St. James Lutheran Church, the Huntingdon Music Club and Juniata College.

Director of the choir is Paul J. Christiansen, head of the department of music at Concordia College and son of the renowned F. Mellius Christiansen.

In Norway in 1949, the group of singers won wide acclaim on its tour. This enthusiasm has been substantiated by critics from New York to San Francisco in the years since.

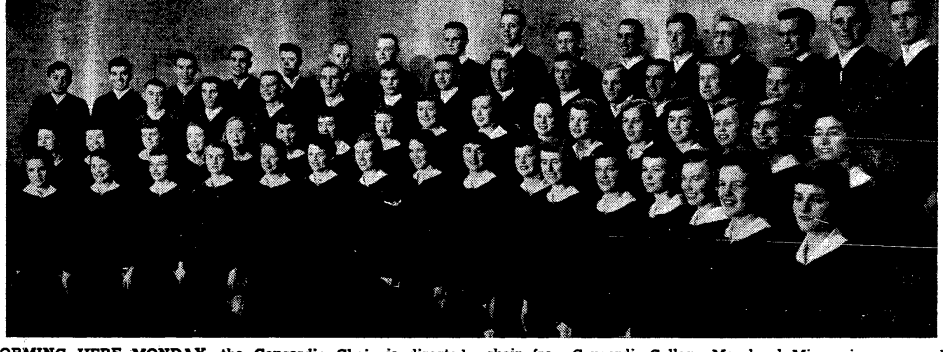
Tour Europe In '58

This year's tour takes the group through Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and the District of Columbia. Plans call for the choir to take another European tour in 1958.

In Pennsylvania, the choir will appear in Greenville on February 9, at Muhlenberg College in Alletown on February 17, and at Schenley High School in Pittsburgh on February 19.

The concert in Huntingdon is a non-profit presentation arranged by the sponsoring organizations for the musical enjoyment of the community. This is the second annual choral concert by outstanding choirs brought to Huntingdon by these sponsorig groups.

John Horn represents the St. James Lutheran Church; Mrs Jack Jones, Huntingdon Music Club, and Harold Brumbaugh, Juniata College, as chairmen of the sponsoring committee.



PERFORMING HERE MONDAY, the Concordia Choir is directed by Paul Christiansen, the son of the famous F. Melius Christiansen—founder of St. Olaf's Choir that appeared here last February. The choir, from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., sings a cappella and is composed of 65 voices. In Monday's concert the program will include varied songs from 16th century classics to contemporary artists.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Roger Bennett, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Rene Dimmick, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Emmalyn Heed, Ed Jones, Don Looking, Ann Schieb, Marge Snyder.

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 15 — February 8, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Spiritual Emphasis: So What!

SPIRITUAL Emphasis Week has brought with it vast opportunities for self-evaluation and self-improvement, but while many have responded to its offerings, a considerable smaller number of us will allow its contributions to affect us.

We have gone to discussions, panels, services and displays, but no doubt we will continue to violate even our own codes of decency, not to mention that of the Christian church, in whose teachings we profess belief.

Spiritual emphasis is an excellent thing, and having an entire week of such activities is certainly valuable. But is it rewarding? For many of us it is not, simply because we do not allow its effects to remain with us and guide our actions.

The factor of maturity seems to enter at this point. Our token acceptance of Christianity is overcast by what we do. We sneer at chapel, steal candy bars from Totem Inn and cheat on exams even though we admit that to do so is hardly adult. In a larger sense, we are downright indifferent to our obligations.

Let us hope that the work of Kerin Narbut and the JCA toward a sucessful Spiritual Emphasis Week will not have been in vain, but that more than a few among us will remember what was offered during this period.

Should this happen, we will be showing progress toward maturity and decency, two important goals of each of us.

Our Readers' Opinions

ED. NOTE—This column is for expression of readers' opinions on current issues. All letters must be signed and should be as brief as possible. We reserve the right to condense any letter.

Understand CJ First

At this time of year it is seasonable for issues to develop. It seems likely that the Campus Judiciary, being without established traditions as it now is, will be the object of constructive analysis and criticism.

This is as it should be; everything of importance on our campus should be a subject of scouting in the great student referendum provided by the spring elections. However, as much as possible, understanding should go before wise suggestion.

There has been much criticism of the tendency of the Judiciary to close its sessions to the student body. How, it has been asked, can the student body assume responsibility for campus order when its representatives shut themselves away from it behind closed doors in the process of enforcing campus order.

The Judiciary is dealing with students not defendants. The college enviroment is one in which almost all rule-breakers are dealt with, with view to helping rather than punishing them in expression of the righteous wrath of the community. All when given their choice of either open or closed meetings, according to the right given them in the Judiciary constitution, have asked for closed meetings. The regular business meetings are filled with references to cases which have been closed at the request of the defendants.

The Judiciary has a responsibility to the student body. Representing the college community the Judiciary has a responsibility to the people it seeks to help.

The Judiciary must execute two, not one, responsibilities in its functioning. A balance is necessary when its two responsibilities conflict. I don't claim that the Judiciary has arrived at a perfect balance; I have been in violent personal disagreement with many of its decisions. Yet, even if it is too much to expect, I would request all of those who participate in the "great referendum" to understand before they criticize.

—Jim Stayer, chairman, Campus Judiciary

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS WEEK TOO DOMINANT

Last Tuesday students were encouraged to attend a "voluntary" chapel. This rather revolutionary assembly was well attended by many like myself who were attracted by Dr. Haroutunian's intriguing personality, as well as by the wide publicity.

My enthusiasm was quite dampened, however, on being told that in any case I could not remain in the library.

Certainly Juniata is not yet ready for a regular voluntary chapel. But we certainly are ready for occasional voluntary chapels! May the organizers of an otherwise successful Spiritual Emphasis Week take warning that the spirit can hardly be impressed by an elimination of the material.

—Pete Wright

ED. NOTE — Also IM basketball.

Candidates, Please Note

CANDIDATES for the Senate presidency may have their platforms published in next week's Juniatian provided: a. they are no longer than 250 words, b. they are brought to the communications ofice by 12 noon Monday (February 11) and c. they may be edited to conform to Juniatian style.

In providing this service, the Juniatian assumes no responsibility for errors or unintentional deletions.

Candidates for the four Senate offices will be photogaphed for the February 15 Juniatian Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. in the social rooms.

Candidates for the eight chairmanships will not be photographed nor will their platforms, if any, be printed. Room, of course, is always provided in the Readers' Opinions column should any of them have something in particular to say through the campus weekly.

JWSF SAYS THANKS

To our fellow Juniatians—This issue of our campus newspaper contains the final report of the Juniata World Service Fund. The results should be a source of pride to every member of the Juniata family who helped make them a reality. We of the JWSF staff congratulate all of you.—Dave Amidon, Ross Nahrgang, Bonnie Gunther, Ann Larkin, Margie White, Barb Smathers and Dr. Kenneth Crosby.

CAMPUS CAPERS

by Joan McClure

"the choir's back," and with it come innumerable tales of gay escapades from here to Youngstown to Johnstown and back again.

The rich, but delectable food, the fine hospitality, the satisfying concerts and such humorous episodes as the bed that fell apart (three times), or the high school girls with the mad, mad crush on Dean added up to a truly enjoyable 10-day singing spree for all, they report.

And, as usual, during the past few weeks, the campus wits and would-be wits have managed to shine through the gloomy atmosphere of finals and second semester bills and the depressing prospect of a long six weeks until March 23.

Out of the Mouths of Babes

The faculty-to-Sunday-dinner program produced these gems the other week when several precocious youngsters accompanied their faculty parents to the Oneida Dining Hall—

"How did you like your dinner, Tommy?"

"The food was alright, but what I really liked was Squeegee."

"And the same lad, on observing the seating arrangement, "Daddy, why do we have to have partners?"

Janie, not to be outdone: "If I went to college here, I'd eat at Totem Inn."

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

VISIT OF KING SAUD—The oil rich king of Saudi Arabia arrived in the United States last Tuesday for conferences with President Eisenhower. Despite protests from a number of Jews and Roman Catholics Ike accorded him a full-dress state visit complete with state dinners and receptions. The results of the conferences between the two chiefs of state could be of utmost importance to the success of American foreign policy in the Middle East. King Saud is a militant Arab nationalist who has strongly supported Nasser througout the Suez crisis. His opposition to the Baghdad pact has been extremely bitter.

Yet King Saud realizes that the real danger to his nation comes not from the West but from her northern neighbor, the Soviet Union. Furthermore, Saudi Arabia is tied to the United States because we are her chief buyer of oil. In fact, all the oil fields of that nation are controlled by American investors.

Thus if President Eisenhower is able to convince King Saud of the good intentions of the U.S. toward the middle East the king's money should go a long way toward stopping a coalition of Nasser and the Kremlin. If we are able to draw King Saud to our point of view, it is a safe prediction that our position in the Middle East will become stronger.

—●—

DULLES UNDER FIRE — The Middle East Crisis has had a warm effect on the national political scene as well. A small number of Democrats in the Senate have launched an attack on the foreign policy methods of Secretary of State Dulles. Some have expressed a complete lack of confidences in the Secretary of State while others accuse him of not knowing his own mind as far as the Middle East is concerned.

While these criticisms seem rather vague and based on politics, there is danger that the Eisenhower Doctrine because it ignores the United Nations and our allies will have harmful effects.

President Eisenhower has strongly supported Dulles claiming that his critics have not offered one constructive proposal in all their biting criticisms. Perhaps if thek were to counter-balance their negative attitude with a few positive ideas the nation would know better what they were talking about.

—●—

KASHMIR DISPUTE — Prime Minister Nehru has adamantly refused to allow United Nations troops to be stationed in the disputed Kashmir territory. In addition, he rejected the use of a plebiscite to determine whether the territory belonged to India or Pakistan even though India had once committed herself to such a plan. It appears that the only settlement India will accept is one in which she will receive the lion's share of the territory.

Even if this is accomplished, the area is likely to remain a sore spot in the relations between the two countries for a long time to come.

Epitome of Self-Confidence

At 10 p.m. the night before finals began, one girl asked another, "Do you have an exam tomorrow?"

"I don't know," the cocky coed replied, "I haven't checked my schedule yet."

* * *

An incoming second semester frosh (obviously):

"Do they sell beer down at Skip's?"

Have to doubt it!

* * *

Prof, to habitual latecomer entering class - - -

"Do you ring the bell, Mr. Hancox?"

* * *

An Ogre, as usual taking a cut:

"The entire music program falls somewhat short of a conservatory."

A coed sympathizing with a friend who was transferring to a larger college: "I feel sorry for him. He'll go there and walk around campus and won't know a soul. He'll just be a mumbler."

Her roommate: "You mean he'll be a Roman numeral." Ouch!

* * *

From our very witty Spiritual Emphasis Week speaker —

Commenting on Henry VIII's work on transubstantiation, Dr. Haroutunian quipped, "Between murdering wives, he wrote treatises on theology."

And finally - - Dr. Haroutunian and a friend were discussing a mutual dislike. "He's totally incompetent, but what can we do about it?" the friend asked. "Where there's death, there's hope," replied our Spiritual Emphasis Life speaker.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The Juniata JV's appear to be headed for a fine season despite the inevitable loses such as Pete McCauley.

Curt Gardner's all-around ability, Al Dungan's rebounding, Fred Yun's shooting, "Moose" Krause's steady play and the ball handling of Barry Sipes give coaches Kramer and DeNicola a well rounded outfit. Excluding last night's game with Indiana they have a 7-3 record and six straight wins to their credit.

* * *

Intramural snowball fighting is increasing in popularity. It actually is not an authorized sport but its participants are growing in number. The rivalry between the Cloister and North Dorm is about even now so a championship match can be expected anytime.

Remember the rules: Do not break windows and keep the fighting clean. Also a reminder to anyone who is about to wash my face, you might want mentioned in this column some day.

* * *

In IM basketball, the Basketeers made their presence felt to the top teams in a heartbreaking manner. First they threw a scare into the Mumblers before bowing in a close one 44-41. On their next outing Miller, Sopata, and compay forced the Whips into a double overtime.

Again they fell short as Ken Fassnacht dumped in his 32nd and 33rd points at the foul line to provide the Whips with a winning margin.

* * *

Frank Romano will be heard on WJC tonight at 9 o'clock. Chuck Brown interviewed this great Susquehanna star on tape before the game last Saturday night. The playback will be heard on the new program, Editorial Page.

* * *

Besides a vivid account of himself, Frank will give such personal observations as the best JC players he has faced in the past three years and also the reasons why he will not try to turn pro.

Last Season's Indian Cagers Yield Memories

When Juniata fans talk about this season's basketball team, their conversation often includes the mentioning of teams in recent College Hill history, especially last season's squad.

Last year's team, which was dominated by an all-senior starting five, chalked up a 14-7 record. Those now departed five seniors were Jake Handzelek, Lee Hallman, Torry Froisland, Walt Vanderbush and Bernie Oriss. Last season's JV coach, Howie Kerstetter, cannot be forgotten either.

Jake Handzelek is now assistant basketball coach at Northwest High School in Shickshinny. Handzelek is the possessor of all the Juniata career records and ranks with the small college court greats. Jake is also playing part time with Williamsport's professional basketball team.

Hallman At Springford

Lee Halman, last season's playmaker and all around performer, is now junior high football coach and high school JV basketball coach at Springford High School. Hallman was consistently JC's third leading scorer in his four year's on the Indian five.

Last season's most improved player was Torry Froisland, who is now teaching at Dehaus High School in Bristol, Pa. Froisland has been doing some basketball coaching there.

Vanderbush 13.8 Point Average

Walt Vanderbush finished his college career with a 13.8 points per game average and the Tribe's best rebounder in the four years he played here. Vanderbush is teaching world history at Bangor High School, where he doubles as head basketball coach.

Bernie Oriss, who closed out his college court career rated as one of JC's most aggressive, hustling players ever, is now the junior varsity basketball coach at North Braddock's Scott High School. His JV's have racked up a 12-3 log at this point.

Prevented from participating in varsity basketball last season because of leg injuries, Howie Kerstetter coached the Blue and Gold junior varsity to a successful season. He is now teaching seventh grade history and geography at Berwyn High School.

JC Travels To Elizabethtown

Bruce Bennett

MCLAUGHLIN FROM TWO FEET OUT-TWO—Pictured above is the Indian cager's leading scorer, Barney McLaughlin (in white) tallying two of his 35 points against Wilkes. Wilkes high scorer George Morgan (19) and Elmer Snyder (18) try to block the spot. McLaughlin had 237 points and a 17.5 average going into last night's contest.

E-town Enjoying Outstanding Year; Red Devils Next

Tomorrow evening the Indians of Coach "Doc" Greene will journey to Elizabethtown where they will run head-on into a high-flying and always dangerous Elizabethtown quintet.

The Blue Jays of Coach Don Smith will present a well-balanced scoring attack to the Indians, with every member of the team a potential high scorer.

Perhaps the outstanding name connected with E-town basketball is that of Sal Paone, who has been the key to the Blue Jay court fortunes for the past four years. One of the big surprises to Coach Smith last year was his 6'3" freshman center, Bill Pensyl, who led the team both in scoring and in rebounding. Pensyl is back this year he is ably assisted in his rebounding chores by Jim Chase and Jim Sarbaugh. The fifth spot of the starting five will most likely be filled by Tony Arcuri, although Bob Wert has seen some action as a starter.

Dickinson Next

There will be little rest for the Tribe after the Elizabethtown tilt, for on the following Wednesday, the Red Devils of Dickinson College will come to Memorial Gymnasium with high hopes of avenging an earlier defeat at the hands of the Indians. In the previous game at Dickinson, the fine playing of high-scoring Ray Weaver was not enough as the "Greenmen" emerged victorious 74-64.

Besides the 6'4" Weaver, Coach Joseph DuCharme will probably present a starting team consisting of Jack Wiley and Jack Gould at the guard slots and two sophomores, Ralph Chase and Ned Bosnick.

Juniata has pushed to a 17-14 lead in the series with Dickinson, a series which dates back to 1907. Over the last three seasons, the Indians have copped four straight contests and are now looking forward to a possible fifth next week.

IM Basketball Moves Into Second Month With Busy Schedule

Intramural basketball moved into the second month of the new season with a crowded schedule of contests.

Tuesday, the Whips continued their winning ways as big Kenny Fassnacht racked up 4 points in a double overtime to edge the Basketeers 67-63. The Mumblers rolled over the Giants, 81-36, and the Ubangies lost to the well-rounded Crusader courtmen, 39-28.

Paced by Chuck Phillip's 17 points, the Mumblers downed the Sunbrookers, 51-40 Thursday. The freshmen Sultans nipped the Village Vultures, 51-47, and the A's took a 63-40 win from the JC Seniors.

Seniors Bounce Back

However the Seniors bounced back in grand style to romp over the Giants, 40-20, and the Mumblers dropped the Five, 66-51. The Six-60s outpointed the Mohawks, 53-34, and the Whips, now without the services of John Staley, rolled over the Crusaders by a 58-42 tally.

Led by Lefty Alderfer's 16 points, the Sunbrookers edged the Galloping Ghosts, 52-44, and the Cloister Oyster clamped down on the Wolverines, 58-49.

In other games the Galloping Ghosts trampled the Crusaders, 46-44; the Lead Balloons, paced by Jim Ake, felled the Giants, 75-47; and the Ubangies edged the Cloister Oysters in a close,48-47, tilt.

Ake, Williamson Top IM Keglers

Jim Ake and Glen Williamson, both Admiral bowlers, are running 1-2 in the individual averages category in Juniata's intramural bowling league. Ake has a 161.5 average, while Williamson is the holder of a 160.7 average.

Frank Bird of the Skizos is third with a 146.3 per game average. Lou Hall, the league's leading girl kegler, is fourth with a 145.5 average. Fifth high scorer in the league is Herb Layman, who holds a 145.0 average.

In last Friday evening's activities, the league leading Whips scored the most impressive victory in gaining three wins over the winless 4 D&C. Doc Geiger continued to lead his Whip team with a 280 for two games. High man for the match and the 4 D&C was Phil Over, who had a 292 in the two games.

Ten Pins Win Two

The Ten Pins took two out of three decisions from the Seniors in the other match. This was a close match for the well-balanced Ten Pins. Dick Hite was high pin man with a total of 260 for the Ten Pins. Ron Chamberlin was the match's high man as he led the Senior's with a 282.

Because of complications in the schedule, the three wins for the Dutch Mumblers over Team B will not count in the standings. The Dutch Mumblers and Team B had played the previous week.

STANDINGS

	W	L	T
Whips	9	0	0
Crusaders	7	2	0
Admirals	7	2	0
Seniors	7	2	0
Ten Pins	8	4	0
Team B	4	2	0
Dutch Mumblers	4	2	0
Skizos	2	3	1
Keystoners	1	5	0
Alley Kats	1	7	1
Prophets	0	6	0
Team A&C	0	6	0
4 D&C	0	9	0

Tribe Upsets SU As Late Splurge Salts Game Away

Holding Susquehanna's scoring ace Frank Romano to 25 points enabled the Juniata Indians to average an earlier defeat an upset SU Saturday night in Memorial Gym, 73-59.

Trailing throughout the first half, the Indians took command of the game with about 10 minutes left in the final quarter and were never again headed. Outstanding performances by Bob Ewald and Chet White greatly hampered the Romano attack. A series of fast breaks in the last three minutes made mincemeat of the 31-30 lead SU had held at halftime.

Bill Burchfield was high man for the Indians with 21 points, followed by White with 16 and Mike Armstrong with 13. Romano scored his 25 for SU on seven goals and 11 of 13 free throws. Jerry Herbster tallied 12 for the Crusaders.

With this victory the Tribesmen climbed above the .500 mark for the first time since December 14. They now have a 7-6 record. Before Saturday night the Crusaders were riding a six game winning streak. Their season record now stands at seven wins, three losses.

In the preliminary game the Juniata JV's downed the little Crusaders, 68-57. They had held a 40-28 half-time lead.

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

SPECIAL
Buy One Columbia LP for $3.98
Get the second LP for $1.98
New Prices on 45 rpm EP's
Reg. $1.49 albums $1.29 $2.98 albums $2.49
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Results Of JWSF '56 Drive Show Record Total Of $2208

Dave Amidon, JWSF chairman, has released this statement of the results of this year's drive for funds which began November 5.

RECEIPTS

Faculty	$ 351.50
Student body	966.25
Clubs	415.00
Classes	35.00
Shoe shine	7.20
Lunchbox social	16.64
Queen Contest	17.00
Clint Betz's Personal Performance	6.70
Pennies from the wishing well at Lincoln Caverns	16.00
Collection Plate at Production of "Arsenic and Old Lace"	10.62
Receipts from "Arsenic and Old Lace"	366.58
	$ 2208.49

EXPENDITURES

Mr. Paul Idzig, guest advisor World Univehsity Service	$17.00
Printing of Solicitation Cards	8.00
Multilithing of Solicitation materials	5.0.
World University Conference at Bucknell	14.9?
	$45.01

Through a loan, we paid our expenditures. We now plan to sponsor a movie through the theater downtown later in the school term. Wit the profits from this plan, we can repay the money we borrowed. Therefore we will not have to draw our expenditures from the contri butions of the main drive. (For this reason we have not subtracted the expenditures from the total receipts.)

DISTRIBUTION

Christian University of Tokyo	$ 528.69
World University Service Fund	672.68
Foreign Students Service Fund	524.94
Missionaries—Dr. Paul Hoover
Dr. H. Stover Kulp	541.19
	$ 2208.49

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

MURPHY'S
Womens & Misses Sheer
60 Gauge Nylons
Only 67c per pair

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Make it a date...
February 14
Vice Presidential Candidates
Talks, Discussion
February 15
Presidentian Candidates
Talks, Discussion
WJC-1150 9 p.m.

Legion Brands College Activities Subversive; Gould Denies Charges

ACP-At its recent convention in Los Angeles, the American Legion again censured Antioch College for "permitting subversive programs and activities to fuction on campus," as it did in 1954.

This time, however, one of the original supporters of censure action, Ohio state representative Lowell Fess, objected to the Legion action. He said the Legion was talking about things that took place three or four years ago and added, "The atmosphere at Antioch has cleared."

Antioch President Samuel Gould had this to say about the latest censure action: "I do wonder a litfle, when our neighbors know so well what we are, if it is necessary to tell them again that these charges are untrue. Let me say as strongly as I know how, that there are no subversive activities at Antioch." In an off-the-cuff remark, President Gould dismissed the Legion action with the words, "It's the same old thing."

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

M. Monroe's Husband New York Playwright, All My Sons Author

The Masque of Juniata College has chosen for its spring dramatic production All My Sons by Arthur Miller, husband of Marilyn Monroe.

All My Sons, the 1947 New York Drama Critics' Circle Award winner, proved to be both a financial and artistic success on the Broadway boards and established Arthur Miller as a major contemporary dramatist.

Born on New York's upper east side, Miller matured in the proletarian atmosphere so characteristic of much of his writing. Following college graduation and military service, he rose first to national prominence with a war novel entitled Focus. Arthur Miller since that time has "focused" most of his attention on the theater, writing such notable plays as Death of a Salesman and A View From the Bridge.

Miller, although a protagonist of the psychological, realistic school of O'Neill, incorporates increased moral perception plus terseness of lines in All My Sons without decreasing the psychological impact.

The pivotal character is a small time manufacturer of airplane engines who finds himself more concerned with maintaining financial and emotional security in his family than with insuring the safety and effectiveness of his product. The play, written by a crusader, graphically displays the authentic disater occuring in a selfish American family.

The people of All My Sons battle their way through the respective disillusionments and difficulties amid the chaos of a confined and cluttered backyard. Their utterances and actions make provocative, arresting theater for all the audience.

Next Week In Chapel

Feb. 11—Dean Morley Mays
13—Bethany Biblical Seminary representative
15—Mr. Robert McFadden.

Varied Activities Terminate SEW

A variety of activities today and tomorrow will bring to a close the 1957 Spiritual Empasis Week.

Today at 4 p. m. there will be a movie shown in Room C. At 7:30 there wil be a foreign students panel and another movie. A social led by Mrs. Blaisdell and Sam Lim will conclude the evening's activities in the Women's gym.

Saturday's schedule will open with morning devotions between 7:30 and 7:55 a.m. in the Stone Church. At 8:15 p. m. a film entitled One Foot in Heaven will be shown in Oller Hall.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES
RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Slick Chick With Pencil Quick Tells Of Him Who Was Thick

by Carol Baish

That ivy league look lost a little of its glow this week when the typical Juniatian shuffled into Tote, wiped his sweating palms, fumbled with the lock on his post office box and scraped out the little slip of paper bearing those dreaded figures called grades.

An interview with one of these tortured souls revealed much about the inner workings of a brain twisted by too many exams, too many term papers and, incidentally, too many "psychological breaks."

We asked this Juniatian to tell us some of his thoughts during the few days before grades came out. He answered. "Well, I tried not to think too much about it. Instead, I thought about the carefree days of my youth—like that summer the sailboat kept capsizing, or the thrill of going down a ski jump and remembering I had forgotten to fasten one of my ski straps, or the time that lovely young lady threw a brass ashtray at her own true love and got me instead. Ah yes, mine has been a happy life!"

The Fatal Day

Our subject seemed a bit disconcerted when we asked him to tell us about the fatal day. His face turned upside down but he regained control, calmly lit the piece of rope dangling from his lips and went on with his story. "I woke up at 7 a.m. and realized that this was the day. When I came to again it was 10:30 and I knew that I could no longer push this thing out of my mind. I jumped briskly out of bed and took a stinging cold shower. Then I took off my pajamas. Nothing like a change in the day's routine, you know.

Anyway, it was 11:30 when I walked into Totem Inn and began trying to remember the combination of my post office box. Using skill, agility, coordination and several choice new vocabulary words, I had the box open by noon. I reached in, grabbed the paper and looked at the grades."

We waited, pencils poised tensely over our note pad, for his reaction at the sight of his grades. But at this point his mental processes seemed to fail and he could only ramble on about "a little vacation" he was planning. "But what about Juniata?" we asked, trying desperately to get back on the subject of final grades. He mumbled something about "giving it back to the Indians," turned and raced madly off in all directions.

This is the end of one Juniatian's story. He promised to send us a picture postcard of his vacation hotel and said that he'd write often. We don't think we'll hear from him, though. They probably won't let him have any sharp instruments for a while — —.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

WANTED
Male Camp Staff needed in Summer Camp for underprivileged children, Willow Grove, Pa. Minimum requirements, 19 years of age, two years of college. Fully accredited Camp, American Camping Association membership. For full particulars write the College Settlement Farm-Camp, 416 Queen St., Philadelphia 47, Pa.

Churches, Schools Hear JC's Choir

For most students, classes for the spring semester began January 28, but the members of the Juniata College Choir began theirs a week late after returning from a 10-day tour.

Each year the college choir goes on tour while others are enjoying their mid-semester vacation. This year the choir left the campus January 25 and traveled through western Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Two concerts were presented by the choir each day, one in a high school and the other in a church. The choir was featured on a half hour show Saturday afternoon, February 2, on WJAC TV.

This year the choir had the unusual opportunity of singing one of their songs, None Other Lamb, to its composer, Garth Edmundson. Several other songs and The Life Everlasting, a cantata, were included in the program.

Debaters Provide For Future Team

continued from page 1

in the recruiting tactics of the Five. For instance, it it well known that, under the obscure terms of the Debate Club Assistantship in Pop Corn Technology, court phenomenon "Easy Ed" Brockway has been turning a neat profit on the side.

Perhaps there was an ironic note of prophecy in the words of those who, some months ago, expressed their determination to make this "a winning year for JC debaters."

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW through SAT.
Martin and Lewis
Anita Ekberg - Pat Crowley
Maxie Rosenbloom in Hollywood or Bust
Vistavision and Technicolor
MONDAY and TUESDAY
Van Johnson - Ann Blyth
Steven Cochran in SLANDER
Exposing the scandal headlines
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
TAB HUNTER
NATALIE WOOD in
The Girl He Left Behind
Coming Mon.-Tue. Feb. 18-19
LUST FOR LIFE
starring Kirk Douglas
Mr. Douglas received the N. Y. critics award for his job in this film

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 16 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 15, 1957

Campaigns In Full Swing As Election Approachcs

Senate To Determine Student Opinion On Dining Hall Rules

Radio Station In Red, Carnahan Tells Group

by Barb Walls

Students wil be given a chance by popular referendum to decide for or against the enforcement of dining hall dress regulations, it was decided at Tuesday night's Senate meeting.

A questionnaire will be attached to the ballots for Senate officers to determine student feeling on dining hall dress rules and whether the Senate should take steps to enforce these rules.

A report from George Carnahan, WJC station manager, concerning the financial status of WJC presented a none too hopeful picture. Planning to spend $166 next year, they have a perspective income of $60. WJC is already $98 in debt.

More Optimistic Report

A more optimistic financial report was heard concerning the Senate bookstore. Dick Backus, manager, reported that total profits for the year '56-'57 are $11.55.

A summary of Campus Judiciary activities from the time of its institution until February 1 was given by President Jim Stayer. In addition to its monthly business meetings, the Judiciary has handled seven cases involving 17 people. Three cases involved disrespect shown or misinformation given to the administration, one concerned the improper use of chemicals and the remaining three dealt with chapel cuts.

Stayer also gave a report on leadership conference resolutions. All have been fulfilled except nine which are in the process of completion.

One of these is the renovation of Founders Chapel. Kerin Narbut is at the present time heading a committee which, in cooperation with John Fike, is going ahead with plans for improvement. These plans include the making

See SENATE, page 4

Hassinger, McQuaide In Presidential Struggle; Humphries, Nahrgang, Blough Vie For Veep

Rick Bell

IN THE RACE FOR SENATE OFFICES—Six of the nine contenders for the four Senate officers paused long enough during the campaign rush yesterday morning for this photo. In front are Al Blough, vice president; Ken Fassnacht, treasurer; Nancy Hess, secretary; Fred Ross, treasurer. Behind them are presidential candidates Glenn Hassinger and Del McQuaide. Missing are vice presidential candidates Ross Nahrgang and Dick Humphries and secretariat office-seeker Margretta Davis.

Candidates for Senate offices began their election campaigns this week.

Those running for president are Glenn Hassinger of Carlisle and Del McQuaide of New Kensington. Hassinger is president of the junior class and a letterman in football. He is also treasurer of the J Club. McQuaide was JC's representative to the National Student Association Regional Conference at Morgantown, W. Va. He was general contractor for operation recreation and is presently serving on the Judiciary and writing for the Juniatian and the Scout.

Vice President

Ross Nahrgang is competing with Dick Humphries for the position of vice president. Nahrgang comes from Plainfield, N. J., and has been active on the Alfarata and Juniatian staffs and JCA. Humphries hails from North Wales and is a member of the Standing Stone Grotto, Alfarata staff, JCA and IVCF. He has also helped with the freshman academic aid program.

Al Blough is another candidate for the vice-presidency. His activities include participation in intramural sports and membership in the Tycoon Club and JCA.

Secretary

One of the candidates for secretary is Nancy Hess of Philipsburg. She has been a cheerleader, was class secretary in her freshman and sophomore years, belonged to FTA and JCA, has worked on the Scout and has taken part in All Class Night.

Margretta Davis is also running for secretary. Her activities include membership in FTA, JCA, script committee for All Class Night and desk assistant at the library. This year she is co-chairman for the May Day Program Committee.

Treasurer

Running for treasurer are Ken Fassnacht of Denver, Pa., and Fred Ross of Lewistown. Fassnacht was class treasurer in his freshman and sophomore years, is a member of the JCA and has been active in intramural sports. Ross served as his junior class treasurer and worked on the freshman initiation program and the sophmore dance committee. He also has taken part in intramural sports.

Senate States Election Rules

The following rules have been released by the Senate.

1. The polls will be open Tuesday, February 19, from 7:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. and after dinner until 7:15 p.m.
2. Election will be by a majority of all votes cast; two-thirds of the student body must vote before the election is valid.
3. Votes will be counted openly in Room C, and the returns will be broadcast over WJC as they are counted.
4. No signs may be placed:
   a. In classrooms
   b. Facing Moore St.
   c. In or on the doors of Totem Inn
   d. In the social rooms or the administrative part of Founders Hall
   e. In front of Oller Hall
5. Anyone interested in putting signs on college buildings may not enter buildings until they have been opened by college officials.

Freshman Cupids To Sponser Dance

by Barb McIntyre

Zing!!

Cupid's arrow has struck on college hill! The result—a dance, Let Me Call You Sweetheart (in a good old fashioned way).

The freshman cupids will sponsor the dance to be held Saturday, February 23 in Memorial Gymnasium. Traditional decorations, refreshments and dancing to the music of hi-fi records will characterize the occasion.

Apropos attire will be dressy dresses for the coeds, and suits for the male sex.

Chairman of the committees appointed by Tex Holman, president, are: Carol Baish and Dick Johnson, refreshments; Judy Wernsing and Pete Butler, publicity; Barb McIntyre and Paul Narkiewicz, decorations; and Barbara Fritchey, Leore Furlong, and Al Caskey, all-around committee.

See you at the dance, 8:30 p. m.!

Emmons, McGrath To Sing In Monday's Chapel

● William McGrath ●
Tenor

● Shirlee Emmons ●
Soprano

Two concert performers, Shirlee Emmons and William McGrath, wil make their first appearance on campus February 18 when they present a varied program of vocal music at 10 a. m. in Oller Hall.

Miss Emmons has done extensive work in opera, recital and with orchestras on radio and records. She has received a Fullbright grant, a Marian Anderson Award and was first to tour Brazil under State Department auspices. McGrath, a tenor, has also worked in opera, orchestra, chorales and recitals. He has appeared with the NBC Symphony, Buffalo Philharmonic and at Town Hall.

Their program will include a group of South American songs and a group by contemporary American composers. They will also sing works by Handel, Scarlatti, Schumann and Duparc.

The duo will present a program entitled The Singing Actor at 4 p. m. in Swigart Hal.

Brethren Church To Observe SEW

Next week, February 17 through 24 will be Spiritual Emphasis Week at the Stone Church.

Services will be held every night except Saturday and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The guest speaker at these services will be the Rev. John Long, pastor of the Lancaster Church since 1955. The Rev. Mr. Long is a graduate of Juniata College, where he received his AB, and Bethel Biblical Seminary, where he received his BD.

Bray Picks Directors, Committees For Play

The activity backstage in preparation for the Masque production All My Sons March 9 began this week with Don Miller and Jan Schall named as assistant directors.

Taking charge of the various committees are Bruce Bennett and Bill Holsinger, lighting; Bob Reader, publicity; Lois Speice, make-up; Eddie Lantz, programs; Dick Livingston and Marjorie Snyder, properties; Charlie Mills and Harry Musselman, set construction. A chairman has not been named for the stage crew. The prompters are Mary Shirk and Carol Ann Stiffler.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Rene Dimmick, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Fyrlong, Emmalyn Heed, Ed Jones, Don Looking, Ann Schieb, Marge Snyder.

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 16 — February 15, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

The Heat's On

THE heat of campus elections is again with us.

While we do not anticipate the fervor of last year's campaign, generally regarded as the hottest in years, we do think that student interest will be almost as great. Student apathy is diminishing at Juniata; we hope it continues to fade.

Yet interest in the coming elections must be accompanied by intelligence. Many leap into the campaigns without any basis for their support to candidates other than ties of personal relations. Past activities, ability and interest of the candidate are often laid aside during the campaign.

But these are real issues. A candidate who never did anything in the past is not likely to do much in the future.

It is not for the Juniatian to take sides in student elections. But we do want to encourage students to show interest and intelligence when they become involved in the campaigns and when they vote.

During the next two weeks we will determine the ability of the next Senate to deal with campus problems, for the ability of the Senate in general will depend on the ability of the individuals we elect.

* * * *

May we urge you then to read and evaluate platforms, listen to discussions on the candidates' abilities (watching, of course, for personal prejudices), find out what the qualifications of the candidates are and look into their records of campus activities in the past—in short, plan to elect capable representatives so that our campus may continue to enjoy strong student government.

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Barb McIntyre

Friends, Indians, and countrymen, lend me your eyes! I come not to bury this feature, not to praise it, but to leave the remains for your painful viewing!

Dafy-nitions

Your girl—doll in dungarees, cutie in cold cream, vision in curlers, a sight with no makeup . . .

Your guy—a social Tab Hunter, a dream in khakies, a Gene Nelson who really can't dance, takes place of honor in your wallet.

For more about the two most famous sexes, write Indiana, Pa.

* * * *

Jest for fun let's view an excerpt from the The Susquehanna Collegian—"What did you do with my shirt?"

Roommate—"Sent it to the laundry."

Collegian—"Ye gad! The whole history of England was on the cuffs!"

Both Sexes Robbed

Today's emphasis on "equality at any cost" is robbing men of their masculinity and women of their maternal femininity, warned anthropologist, Margaret Mead in a talk at Wellesley, as reported by Wellesley College News.

* * * *

Johnson in his A Little Night Music had nothing over a group of University of Wisconsin students who wanted to hear what all 83 compositions by 18th century composer, Joseph Haydn, sounded like. Early one morning they sat down with their instruments to find out. Early the next day their fingers calloused and painful, they fiddled their way through the last of the compositions. The endurance session nearly bogged down several times for lack of reinforcements. Due to a shortage of fiddlers, one of them had to play 10 and one-half hours without a break.

A Chapel Again

JOHN Fike's decision to allow the JCA to rennovate what is now being called Founders classroom so that it once again may be called Founders Chapel is most commendable. Chairman of religious activities Kerin Narbut has reported that he has given her permission to improve the appearance of this area, using college funds.

The Administration no doubt feels the pressures of tradition as well as the need to give new life to this much used room. The chapel, they have discovered, is dear to the hearts of many JC alumni.

Aside from this, they must realize that a chapel should be included somewhere among the facilities of a Christian college, and certainly Oller Hall, which is seldom available for religious meetings anyway, is rather un-chapel-like.

Miss Narbut, who has been pressing for rennovation of the chapel since September, will head a group of students who will hang drapes at the windows, install a draw drape that can be pulled across the blackboard during religious meetings, lay a new carpet on the platform, polish the various plaques in the room and rearrange the furniture.

Our Readers' Opinions

ED. NOTE—This column is for expression of readers' opinions on current issues. All letters must be signed and should be as brief as possible. We reserve the right to condense any letter.

CLOSE LIBRARY TO GO TO CHAPEL

. . . The library was closed during the voluntary chapel (during Spiritual Emphasis Week) because those that worked there wished to attend. IM games were cancelled at the discretion of those in charge and not by the JCA.

—Kerin Narbut, chairman of religious activities

VALLEY MOTEL

Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection

HUNTINGDON, PENNA.

COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS

OPEN ALL YEAR

FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Special Purchase

Man-Tailored Shirts

Oxford Cloth and Broadcloth

Stripes and Plain Colors

Size 32 to 38

2 for $3.50

DANKS & CO.

"I SEE THEY'VE PATCHED THINGS UP."

Platforms

Candidates For Senate Presidency

Glenn Hassinger

THE word Student Government brings a variety of thoughts to your mind, I am sure.

You may think of a select body of students who enjoy power and prestige on a campus, or the fellow (or girl) who runs around campus presiding over this meeting or that committee, or of a body of students whose job it is to think up cures for the ills on campus.

The important thing about student government is, however, that by the very nature of its relationship to the student body, the faculty, and the administration it provides us with the opportunity to practice democratic living and to develop responsibility and initiative.

Using this statement as my basic philosophy, I would like to see more people sharing in the benefits to be derived from participation in student government. This I propose to do in two ways:

1. Continuation of the student activities placement bureau.

2. Enlargement of all student-faculty committees to include members at large from the student body.

The rest of my proposed platform includes:

1. Continuation of present Senate policies:

   a. Open Senate meetings

   b. Senate used book store

2. Continued investigation of dining hall problems.

3. Investigate the possibility of obtaining several days of no classes before finals.

4. Continued quest for a new alma mater.

5. Work for more participation by club officers in interclub council.

6. Continued operation of the ogre committee to act as an investigative body for finding problems on campus and presenting constructive ideas.

7. Introduce intercollegiate athletics for women.

8. Enlarging intramural activities to include wrestling.

9. Investigating possibilities of obtaining outside dance bands.

Del McQuaide

AS a candidate for the Senate presidency I interpret the duties of Student Government to be three-fold. First, the interests of the student body must take precedence over any personal interests. Second, the Student government must maintain its independence from the Administration. Finally, a student government must be an active organization, otherwise there is no reason for its existence.

Thus to make next year's Senate an active organization I pledge my efforts to

1. Investigate the admissions policy through the Senate's Academic Standing Committee and report pertinent recommendations to the Administration.

2. Expand campus recreational facilities by

   a. Enlarging and beautifying the skating pond.

   b. Seek student representation on any group planning renovation of the first floor of Brumbaugh Hall in order that their desires may be more adequately voiced.

3. Institute wrestling as part of the althletic program either on the varsity or intramural level.

4. Obtain more adequate lighting facilities in the library.

5. Institute cafeteria breakfasts.

6. Alleviate harsh final schedules.

7. Have Students Hall opened Sundays.

8. Continue the various student government standing committees, such as the ogre committee, the academic standing committee and the comprehensive examination committee.

9. Work toward bringing about a more realistic attitude on the part of the Administration toward the existing social situation, especially student drinking.

10. Improve intercollegiate communications in order that we may profit by knowing how students at other colleges handle their various problems.

11. Allow a member of the student press, who is not a member of the Judiciary, to sit in on the organization's business meetings to report on its activities via the Juniatian. All reports would be subject to whatever limitations the Judiciary members consider in the best interests of the campus.

High Flying Blue Jays Here

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

JC's cagers have come along well in recent games.

Very few fans expected a winning season this year as graduation losses took a heavy toll from last year's squad. This feeling is being reversed with exciting wins, such as the upsets over Susquehanna and Indiana. Both opponents boasted very good records and were highly regarded. If such play is to continue, JC will finish with a winning season again this year.

* * * *

Several bright spots have shown up in recent Indian games. Barney McLaughlin's jump shot from the outside is becoming very effective. His driving layup shot has added many points to the Indian attack. Bob Ewald's defensive play is also very good. Not a few opponents have found their shot blocked by this big center. Ewald's steady improvement wil be a big factor in future Indian games.

* * * *

Chuck Philips and Wes Lingenfelter share the top spots in IMBB scoring. Phillips is the league's leading scorer and Lingenfelter has the best average per game as is brought out the statistics available up to last Saturday's games. Due to the difference in games played by each team, the figures may be misleading. This of course can only by cleared up when the schedule is completed. Following are the top five in both departments.

Total Points

1. Phillips, Mumblers ----151
2. Randal, Mumblers ----148
3. Willard, Vultures ----127
4. Carl, Whips ----------122
5. French, Sultans ------118

Average Per Game

1. Lingenfelter, Giants --21.8
2. Staley, Whips --------21.6
3. Conley, Dukes --------19.4
4. Ake, Ballons ----------16.4
5. Fassnacht, Whips ----16.4

* * * *

The Intramural race reaches its peak next week. The feature game will take place next Thursday when the Dukes and Mumblers meet. Both are undefeated at present. A Duke victory would almost assure them of a league championship. A Mumbler win, on the other hand, could set the stage for a Mumbler championship.

Then, should they lose to the Whips, it would throw the league into a 3-way tie.

Juniata Indians Play Untaken Westminister On Gridiron This Fall

Two of the east's finest small college football teams — Juniata and Westminster—with identical 29-1-1 records over a four year period, will clash here on College Hill next October 26 in a renewal of their gridiron rivalry.

The JC Indians, unbeaten in 19 straight on their home field since 1952, will attempt to snap Westminster's undefeated string of 21 straight over three seasons. Juniata had a 25 game streak without a defeat broken by Lycoming last season.

Juniata's eight game schedule in 1957 includes three other newcomers—Albright, Penn Military College and Wilkes. Drexel, Moravian, Lycoming and Ursinus will again be on tap next season, according to Mike Snider, director of athletics.

The game with Wilkes will be the first between the two colleges. Both Albright and P. M. C. have been met before and both hold wide margins over Juniata in the victory column.

The schedule:

October 5, Drexel at Philadelphia; October 12, Moravian at Bethlehem; October 19, Lycoming, home; October 26, Westminster, home; November 2, Wilkes, home; November 9, P. M. C. at Chester; November 16, Albright at Reading; November 23, Ursinus, home.

Mumblers, Dukes Head For First Place Showdown

The intramural basketball loop grew tighter this week as the undefeated Dukes moved one game closer to the first place Mumblers and the once beaten Whips chalked up two important victories. The Dukes and Mumblers play each other soon.

In Thursday's contest the Whips, paced by Horace Carl's 23 points downed the Urbangies 79-50, and the Dukes rolled over the Basketeers by a 73-50 score. The Capitols edged the Cloister Oysters 62-58, the Mohawks dropped a low scoring contest to the Sunbrookers by a 34-29 count, and the Lead Balloons rolled over the Six-60's 55-46.

On Saturday Frank Hrach's 22 points led the Sultans to a 62-43 rout over the Ubangies as the Giants beat the JC Seniors 52-40. Steve French and Gary Gill accounted for 58 points for the Six-60's as they took an easy 87-76 win over the Cloister Oysters, and the Whips nipped the Village Vultures 48-43.

Indians Set Record In Win Over Dickinson

A new scoring record was set for Memorial Gymnasium Wednesday night as the Tribesmen of Juniata trounced the Red Devils of Dickinson, 112-96.

It was Ron Wertz, sophomore reserve from Lewistown, who sank the 107th and 1008th points. The previous record of 107 points, made also on a February 13, in 1956 by Juniata, was against Grove City.

Juniata was never behind in the contest. They led after the initial ten minutes, 28-16, and 47-37, at the end of the half.

Three Hit 20 Points

"The Altoona threesome" were high scorers for Juniata in the game. Mike Armstrong, Chet White and Bill Burchfield scored 24, 22, and 20 points respectively. For Dickinson, Ralph Chase and Ray Weaver led the scoring with 30 and 29 points.

In a game played at Elizabethtown Saturday night, the Blue Jays snapped the three game winning streak of the Indians by virtue of 80-70 victory.

During the first half of play the lead changed hands 11 times before Juniata assumed the command which they held onto for the remainder of the initial half. The Tribesmen led at the midpoint by 38-35 score. E-town came back with full court press early in the third quarter and took over the lead which they never lost.

Bill Burchfield, lone senior on the Indian squad, was high man for the evening with 22 points, followed by Blue Jays Tony Arcuri and Sal Paone with 21 and 20 points.

Gaining revenge for an earlier defeat suffered at the hands of Indiana, Juniata edged out the teachers by a 96-93 score February 7 in Memorial Gym.

In the Indiana attempt all five starters hit the double column. Barney McLaughlin was high man with 27 points followed by Bill Burchfield with 19, Chet White with 18 and Mike Armstrong and Bob Ewald with 15 and 11 markers.

JV Streak Broken

The Indiana junior varsity broke the six game winning streak held by Juniata as they handed the junior Indians a 79-74 defeat in overtime on Ferbuary 7. The game was tight throughout as the teachers led 39-38 at halftime and the regulation game in a 69-69 tie.

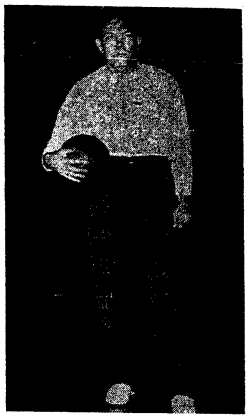
In two other games played this week the Juniata frosh defeated E-town 75-66, and Dickinson by a 62-42 score Wednesday night.

J Club To Contribute $50 To Injured Grider

At a meeting Tuesday night, the J Club voted to contribute $50 to the family of Dick Kadis, Geneva College football player who collapsed during a game against Waynesburg last October.

With the Kadis' medical expenses going up by $500 a week, many college organizations and civic organizations throughout western Pennsylvania have organized a fund to help the Kadis family. Kadis collapsed during the game from a severe head injury and has been hospitalized ever since. He just recently regained consciousness. The college will not cover the accident because it claims that the injury was received in an auto accident two weeks previous.

Club president Lefty Alderfer announced that the action was taken after a suggestion by Bernie McQuown. McQuown was put in charge of a committee to handle the contribution.



Stan Davis

TRIBE MENTOR — Basketball squad head coach Arnold "Doc" Greene is attempting to keep his cagers above the .500 mark and gain JC's fourth straight winning season.

Whips, Crusaders Battle For Top Spot In IM Bowling League

The Whips are continuing to dominate the intramural bowling league, followed closely by the Crusaders.

Last Friday they defeated the Admirals, 3--0, with considerable ease. The Whips, led by Neil Beefelt's 325 in the two games, displayed a well-balanced team and appear to be the favorites for the league crown. Bill Biehl had an outstanding night as he rolled a 343 in his two games for the Admirals.

The second place Crusaders had to settle for three forfeit wins over the Prophets.

The Keystoners released their potential power as they completely outclassed the Alley Kats, 3-0. In the second game the Keystoners scored a total of 701 pins, which is the season's high for a single game.

The Skitzos also won three games from the 4D&C keglers. Phil Over, 4D&C bowler, was high in this match with a 312 in the two games.

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Whips	12	0
Crusaders	10	2
JC Seniors	7	2
Ten Pins	8	4
Skitzos	6	3
Dutch Mumblers	4	2
Team B	4	2
Admirals	7	5
Keystoners	7	5
Alley Kats	1	11
4 D&C	0	12
Prophets	0	12

E-town Brings 10-5 Record; JC Away 19th

Tomorrow evening the basketeers of Coach "Doc" Greene will entertain a strong Elizabethtown quintet, this second meeting of the two clubs being marked by the Indians hope for sweet revenge

In the previous game last Saturday night at Eliabethtown, the Blue Jays empdoyed a full court press in the second half and some torrid shooting by Tony Arcuri and Sal Paone to down the Indians, 80-70. Arcuri had 22 points for the night and Paone hit on a sizzling 10 of 16 from the floor for 20 markers.

In addition to Arcuri and Paone, the Blue Jays will feature a high scoring combo of Jim Chase, Jim Sarbaugh and Bob Wert, in an attempt to boost their season record to 11-5. The E-town five may have a difficult time in winning on the Memorial Gym floor however, since the Indians have won six of their eight games in these familiar surroundings.

American U Next

After the Elizabethtown game, the Tribe will hit the road for an eight-day schedule of three games, the first of which will be against American U. in the nation's capital.

Freshman mentor Dave Carrasco of American U. is having a dismal season and he may fall below the 10-13 record posted by last year's team.

The Eagles will be at full strength for the tiff with Juniata and will feature their scoring ace, junior rank Weiss, who is advansing steadily toward a new four-year American U. scoring mark. Dick Wells, a freshman who has shown rapid improvement in the earlier games of the season, will probably start in the center slot, and Joel Comite, second highest scorer last season, will be in one of the guard positions. Rounding out the starting five will be the Eagle co-captains for 1956-57, Wally Ryland and Joe Pellegrino.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Hear The Presidential Candidates
Tonight
At 9:00
On
W J C
1150 on your Dial

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

Second Semester Enrollment Drops From 730 To 694

A total of 694 students are enrolled at Juniata for the spring term, according to a registration summary released today by the office of the registrar.

Included in the totals are 28 special and unclassified students taking work at the college.

The present enrollment is a slight drop from the record high of 730 which attended the fall term, but the net loss of 36 students is "not considered excessive." Some were graduated; others left because of personal or academic reasons.

The registration summary shows 426 men and 258 women. Of the total of 676 full-time students, there are 570 listed as resident and 96 as non-resident. The 28 specials are non-resident students.

A breakdown of the resident student enrollment shows 346 men and 224 women. Of the 96 non-resident students, 74 are men and 22 women.

Librarian To Give General Info Test

Miss Anna Winger, head librarian, has announced that a General Information Test wil be given in the library Monday, March 4, from 4 to 5:30 p. m.

As each student enters, he will be given a number corresponding with the number on his test, and his name will be put in an envelope marked with that number. When the two highest scores are calculated, the envelopes bearing those numbers wil be opened, and the winners will be announced March 8 in chapel.

First and second prizes of $10 and $5 were donated by John Biddle, publisher of the Daily News.

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Pete Fahrney

THE PHANTOM CYCLIST—Unfortunately the winner in North Dorm's recent bicycle race cannot be awarded the publicity due his achievement since Treasurer John Fike is hot on his trail for making skid marks on the tile floor. While the identity of the fastest cyclist in the dorm must remain confidential, the onlookers, mere innocent spectators are Joe Slick, Seung He Kim, Al Blough, Bob Beech, Ron Metz Bob Sill, Don Oberson and Ed Beers.

Newspaper Gets New Advertising Manager

Don Miller, a sophomore journalism major from Huntingdon, has been named advertising manager of the Juniatian.

The duties of the advertising manager include making contracts with local merchants in the fall and seeing that all bills are paid. He also makes up an ad sheet for the managing editor each week.

Miller, who transferred from Penn State this term, will take the place of Roger Bennett, who resigned.

Marine Will Talk With Undergrads

A Marine Corps officer procurement team, headed by Captain D. J. Hunter, will be here February 20 and 21 to interview undergraduates interested in commissions in the Marine Corps.

This program offers qualified college freshmen and sophomores an opportunity to enroll in the Marine Platoon Leaders Class, which trains college men for duties and responsibilities of commissioned officers.

An outstanding feature of the program is that candidates will not participate in any Marine drills, military classes or other formations during the regular school year. Draft deferment is assured those who remain members in good standing.

Marine PLC candidates receive type training during two six-week training sessions attended only during summer vacations. Through this program college undergraduates prepare for commissions in either the air or ground components of the Marine Corps.

Judiciary Will Adopt New Rigid Policy Toward Chapel Violations

The Campus Judiciary, feeling that the enforcement of the chapel attendance regulation has in the past been neither consistent nor stringent enough, has adopted the following procedure to deal with those students called before them for chapel violations.

1. Any student referred for violating the chapel regulation (students are referred when they cut ten or more chapels in one semester or when they exceed their limit for the second semester, as explained in the February 1 Juniatian article), would:

a. on the first cut in excess, be given a warning, with a copy of the letter being sent to his parents;

b. on the second cut in excess, be automatically suspended for four school days with the right of appeal.

2. If the student, upon appealing, is re-instated, he would not be allowed any chapel cuts in the following semester or for an equivalent length of time (if he is suspended in the middle of a semester.)

Rigid Enforcement

The Judiciary plans to enforce this policy rigidly in the future. However, it was not applied to the cases of fall semester violations currently before the Judiciary, as it was felt that a program of education should precede such laxity.

Any student having questions concerning this procedure should direct them to any member of the Campus Judiciary.

Next Week In Chapel

Feb. 18 Emons and McGrath, singers
Feb. 20 Dean Richard Winters, Franklin and Marshall
Feb. 22 The Rev. John Long, Lancaster

Public Relations Lists Distribution

A geographical distribution of Juniata's enrollment showing the represented states and the leading counties in Pennsylvania and New Jersey has been released by the Public Relations Office.

The survey shows that 15 states as well as Korea, Malaya and Jordan are represented in this year's enrollment. Pennsylvanians are the most numerous with New Jersey, Maryland and New York ranking second, third and fourth. From Pennsylvania come 574 students, 79 from New Jersey, 14 from Maryland and 10 from New York.

Huntingdon county leads in Pennsylvania with 86 students. Allegheny runs a close second with 54. The leading county in New Jersey is Camden with 23 students represented.

Library Receives Ancient Artifacts

An exhibit of ancient artifacts from Bible times is now on display in the library.

Loaned to councils of churches and ministerial associations by the Palestine Institute of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, California, the artifacts represent the results of the excavation of Tell en-Nasbeh believed to be the ancient city of Mispeh.

The objects in the exhibit vary in age from about 5000 to 1500 years. They are all the actual objects used in Bible times with the exception of the replica of the ancient sling.

Senate To Obtain Students' Opinion

continued from page 1

of drapes, a new rug for the platform and a curtain to cover the blackboard when not in use.

The composing of a new Alma Mater, requested at leadership conference, is now in process. Jackie Hayes, chairman of the committee, presented a new song which although still in need of improvement shows good possibilities.

The Senate went on record favoring a more wide-scale publicity program for the men's house committee, in answer to a report from Ray Ono that many men know little about its organization and duties.

SPECIAL
Buy One Columbia LP for $3.98
Get the second LP for $1.98
New Prices on 45 rpm EP's
Reg. $1.49 albums $1.29 $2.98 albums $2.49
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

DON'T MISS
AURAND'S GIANT
$100,000
FIRE SALE OF
SPORTING GOODS
SAVE UP TO 75%
Starts Mon., Feb. 18th
Open Till 9 p.m. All Week
AURAND'S
229 - E - Third St.
LEWISTOWN, PA.

WANTED
Male Camp Staff needed in Summer Camp for underprivileged children, Willow Grove, Pa. Minimum requirements, 19 years of age, two years of college. Fully accredited Camp, American Camping Association membership. For full particulars write the College Settlement Farm-Camp, 416 Queen St., Philadelphia 47, Pa.

Shop
The Ray English
Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

HARRIS CLIFTON
TONIGHT and SATURDAY
Clark Gable
Eleanor Parker in
The King & Four Queens
Cinemascope & Color
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Kirk Douglas
Anthony Quinn in
Lust For Life
Cinemascope & Metro Color
Kirk Douglas Won The N. Y. Critics Award for Best Actor in - Lust For Life
FEATURE AT 7:00 — 9:19
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Don't Knock The Rock
Alan Dale - Alan Freed
Little Richard and Bill Haley and His Comets
— Plus —
Rumbles On The Dock
Starring a new Teen Age Idol
James Dareen
Freddie Bell and His Bell Boys
March 6, 7, 8, 9 Anastasia
March 20, 21, 22, 23 Giant
SOON - Teahouse of August Moon

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 17 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 22, 1957

20 Compete In Senate Race

Rick Bell

NEW SENATE OFFICERS—Elected in the largest voting turnout in college history (89 persent) were Senate officers Al Blough, vice-president; Del McQuaide, president; Ken Fassnacht, treasurer and Nancy Hess, secretary.

McQuaide, Blough, Fassnacht Hess To Head Next Senate

Del McQuaide, a pre-law student from New Kensington, was elected president of the '57-'58 student Senate in last Tuesday's election.

Also elected were Al Blough, vice president; Nancy Hess, secretary, and Ken Fassnacht, treasurer. McQuaide defeated his opponent, Glen Hassinger, with 377 to 211 votes.

Al Blough, Dick Humphries and Ross Nahrgang, candidates for the vice presidency, received 247, 82 and 259 votes respectively in the Tuesday election. In A run-off election February 20 Blough emerged the victor with 282 votes to Nahrgang's 278.

In the secretarial contest, Nancy Hess, was in the lead throughout the tabudation of the votes, which showed at its conclusion 434 ballots cast for Miss Hess with 154 marked for Margretta Davis.

Ken Fassnacht won a decisive victory over Fred Ross for the office of Senate treasurer. The final count chowed 430 for Fassnacht to 158 for Ross.

Also in this election the students were given a chance to vote either for or against the enforcement by the Senate of dining hall dress regulations. The result of this balloting was 325 for and 247 against.

Dean To Enforce Coats, Ties Rule; Senators Concur

Dean Charles Godlasky and the Senate favor enforcement of the Administration's policy that men wear coats and ties to dinner.

"I plan to enforce the rule as the Administration has stated it," Dean Godlasky announced at Wednesday night's Senate meeting. The senators concurred by voting (8-1-1) to send a communique to the Administration favoring such action.

Men who break the coats and ties regulations will be asked to leave the dining hall, Dean Godlasky reported. Since the recent referendum to the student body was stated so ambiguously, the Senate decided to ignore the results of the vote.

WJC Hit

Concerning the financial condition of WJC radio, currently operating in deficit President Jim Stayer said, "The new Senate will have to have in its budget a realistic recognition of WJC's financial situation."

Ray Ono reported that the concessions committee, a sub-committee of the student citizenship committee, is wondering why WJC did not undertake its assigned concesion in light of its financial condition. Station manager George Carnahan told the Juniatian yesterday that plans are underway to install milk vending machines in North Dorm and the Cloister.

Senators-elect were given permission to attend and participate in the Senate's meetings from now until Move-up Day. The future senators will not be allowed to vote, however.

Referendum Tuesday To Decide '57-'58 Senate Chairmanships

Tht fervor of the recent campaign for Senate offices will continue as 20 people vie for eight Senate chairmanships in next Tuesday's tlection, with a run-off scheduled for Wednesday.

The championships and the people who are seeking them are athletics, Val Means and Carl Wass; communications, Ron Fink and Barb Walls; general activities, Bonnie Gunther, Jean Rubicam and Barb Smathers. men's house, Cal Beam, Carl Lindsay and Bernie McQuown; religious activities, Stan Davis, Bob Reader, Spencer Ward; social activities, Gini Nixdorff and Sandy Ruppenthal; women's house, Janice Gilroy, Eleanor Newton and Aliceann Wohlbruck; underclassmen, Chuck Brown and "Killer" Conley.

Athletics

Means, a junior from Jefferson Co., is a business administration major. His sports column appears in the Juniatian. He is a member of JCA, the Athletic Committee and participates in intramural sports. Carl Wass, a sophomore from Harrisburg, writes sports for the Juniatian and the Alfarata, participates in IM sports and is on the debate team.

Communications

Fink is a junior English major from Everett. He is copy editor of the Juniatian, a member of JCA, FTA, the Masque, Public Relations Club and WJC staff. Miss Walls, a sophomore English major from Montgomery Co., is managing editor of the Juniatian. She was a delegate to leadership conference, an attendant at the regional NSA Conference, and was WJC's campus events editor.

General Activities

Miss Gunther is a sophomore English education major from Berwick. She attended leadership conference, was a member of the May Day Committee and belongs to JCA. Miss Rubicam is a junior elementary education major from Hollywood, Fla. She is a cheerleader, plays intramural sports, is a member of the social committee, and has worked with All-Class Night and the Christmas decorations. Miss Smathers, a junior from Cambria Co., is a sociology major. She is a member of the Juniatian and Alfarata staffs, the social committee ,has served on the All-Class Night script com-

See CAMPAIGNERS, page 4

Students To Get Free Salk Shots

Free Salk Vacine shots will be given from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. March 13 in Memorial Gym to all Juniata students who are under 21.

The preventative vaccine is being given by Huntingdon County. All those wishing to reveive the shots are asked to get permission slips from Mike Snider and have them signed by their parents.

Pete Fahrney

AND I SAY TO YOU — Jack Rodgers, one of the members of Miss Esther Doyle's class in public speaking, campaigns outside Totem Inn in Hyde Park style during the 10 to 10:30 a.m. period yesterday.

Former Librarian Writes Of Travel Work In Germany

Miss Miriam Dickey, who was head librarian at Juniata last year, writes from Heilbronn, Germany, where she is acting as army librarian for five libraries in the Heilbronn area.

"...In August, 1956, I arrived in Germany after spending nine calm days aboard a military sea transport. We docked in Bremerhaven and then went immediately to Nurnberg for a week of orientation prior to getting our permanent assignments. I learned that I would be responsible for three libraries in the Heilbronn area, and after becoming adjusted to the army library system, life seemed to be rather uncomplicated. But alas, in November I acquired two more libraries one of which is forty-five miles from Heilbronn.

"...Librarians definitely are not spared the paperwork which is so often associated with the army. At the end of each month I prepare numerous reports in multiple copies and cross my fingers that I've done everything! The libraries themselves are sort of oversized browsing rooms—attractive, comfortable and pleasant.

Office And Music Room

The size of the book collection depends on the troop strength of

See DICKEY, page 4

Sweetheart Dance In Gym Tomorrow

Dance dreamily among traditional red and white streamers to the music of hi-fi records tomorrow evening in Memorial Gym.

The freshman- sponsored dance complete with entertainment and refreshments, which will begin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, promises to be one of the social highlights of the year.

Come stag or drag to the Let Me Call You Sweetheart dance.

'Hyde Park' Orators Spot Campus Scene

How effective attention holders the members of Miss Esther Doyle's course in public speaking are is being determined each Thursday morning from 10 to 10:30 outside Totem Inn.

The would-be Hyde Park orators come along with their soap boxes (Camay makes the best ones, Jim Montgomery reports) and hold forth on any subject they choose. The trend has been toward campaign speeches, but in the future passersby will hear a number of topics, Miss Doyle reports.

"We hope the students won't be afraid to refute what the speakers have to say," she commented. "Really, it helps the speakers if the audience has something to say too."

Reynolds Will Speak In Chapel, To Masque

Dr. Jack Reynolds, from the University of Miami, will be at Juniata February 28 and March 1 under the auspices of the Arts Program, Association of American Colleges.

Dr. Reynolds will speak to the fundamentals of speech class Thursday at 1:45 p.m. in Founders Chapel. At 7:15 p.m. also in Founders Chapel, he will speak to the Masque on the subject of medieval liturgical drama, and will appear at Friday morning's chapel to talk on the dialects of American speech.

At Miami U., Dr. Reynolds teaches such courses as old English language and literature, the middle English dialects, Chaucer, the arts poetica, medieval liturgical drama, literary masterpieces and communications.

Dr. Reynolds is author of Louisiana Geograpric Names of Romance Origin, several plays, short stories and poems. As a folklore enthusiast he has devoted much time to the oral transmission of information, beliefs and customs from ancestors to posterity, and views with alarm the lack of preservation of these valuable traditions.

GOP, Dems Days In Planning Stage

Plans are underway to bring two well-known politicians to campus this spring.

A committee consisting of Newt Taylor, Jim Montgomery, Dick Backus and Dr. Kenneth Crosby are working toward having a Republican Day and a Democrat Day at Juniata. On each day an outstanding personality in the respective party will be on campus to address the student body and spend the afternoon chatting with smaller groups, committee plans show.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron ..., copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Rene Dimmick, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Emmalyn Head, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Ann Schieb, Marge Snyder.

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 17 — February 22, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Hear Their Cry

A letter crossed the editor's desk this week (in an envelope ironically cancelled Pray for Peace) appealing to the sympathy of freedom-loving collegians in behalf of a student at Florida State University who is fighting for intergration.

John Boardman, who has been suspended from the university for his activities, invited three foreign students (two from the Bahamas and one from Panama) attending Florida A and M University — a Negro university — to a Christmas party.

* * *

While at first retaliation to this invitation was only in the form of social pressure, university officials have since taken stronger action (expulsion) because Boardman has added the following "insubordinate" activities to his wave of impropriety:

1. Supported the first Negro candidate to run for public office since the Reconstruction.

2. Spoke in behalf of the Supreme Court decision on integration.

3. Insisted his innocence in the situation involving his expulsion.

4. Attended meetings of the Inter-Civic Council, a Negro organization which has been campaigning for equal rights.

* * *

The letter concludes:

"You must hear our plea! Every attempt to bring this issue to the American public has been covered up by the University Administration and the unsympathetic press. You must, as students and Americans raise your voices in protest to this shameful action by those who seek to further their ends with no consideration of the rights of others.

"If you, the present and future leaders of our country do not respond, our cry for democracy and freedom will go unheard."

We feel that the report speaks for itself without our comment. Your comment might be directed to the Office of the President, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla.

JCA Stops Everything

WE hardly think it proper that all activity on campus be curtailed—in this case counting the ballots from the Senate offices election—just because a handful of students want to attend a meeting of the Juniata Christian Association.

Let's be realistic. There is no reason why JCA programs can't compete with the many, many other campus activities for student attention just as all the rest of the organizations must. It is no fairer to reserve a "JCA hour" than it would be to reserve a "Senate hour," an "FTA hour" or a "J Club hour."

Your Vote Does Count

AL Blough's election to the Senate vice presidency by a 4-vote margin should be sufficient to answer those about campus who have been heard asking, "What's one vote?"

Every vote counts, as 89 percent (the highest percentage ever to vote in a campus election) of the students realized.

CAMPUS CAPERS

by Joan McClure

The first few weeks of a new semester are generally light-hearted ones, as students aren't yet buried under the pressure of things academic and can afford to concentrate on the humorous and frivolous aspects of life at Juniata.

However, with the coming of Senate elections, humor turns to sarcasm and even laughs are determined by political learnings. Now that the presidential fray is ended we can once more become one big happy family. To quote Dave Amidon, "With one voice, this little Brethren College acclaims its new leadership." Besides, McQuaide has promised an Amnesty Proclamation to all those who opposed him.

To Quote What's Quotable

A fellow, commenting on a coed: "Yeah, she's collegiate — as collegiate as high button shoes."

Or another similarly sarcastic lad, cutting up another fair coed (Juniata men are known to do this on occasion): "She's collegiate all right —sneakers with buckles on the back, button down socks..."

In line with this latest Go Collegiate move, one JC male plans to paint a buckle on his back so that he can be collegiate even while taking a shower.

In The Classroom

A student, giving a speech on the poise of the teacher ("Poise will determine whether a teacher's square or whether she swings," the student observed), drew from personal experience to tell about a teacher he once had who, when giving the daily assignment would invariably walk to the window and look out of it.

"Consequently," the student explained, "the people who were late for class would get the assignment, while those sitting in class would miss it."

Then there's the guy who, needing two hours, enrolled in home nursing, much to the heckling delight of one of his profs (if you can believe that there are Juniata profs who like to heckle).

The prof was completely ruined, however, when, in front of a group of students, his wife asked, "Tom, if I remember correctly, didn't you once take a course in home nursing?"

* * * *

A prof posed this hypothetical problem: what would you do if you got on the Huntingdon bus (such as it is) and presented the driver with a $5 bill, which he refused to change? "For $5, you could buy that bus," quipped a bright student.

Red Face Department

The modest young maiden asking directions to the Yoder House, was told that it was at the corner of 18th and Moore. However, the Germann House also happens to be on the corner of 18th and Moore, and you can imagine how surprised (no doubt pleasantly) one freshman occupant was to answer the coed's knock on his bedroom door!

A Little Off Beat

Charles Adams disciple: "My grandmother makes more noise than anyone I know. She's constantly banging on the bars of the cell with her cup and keeping the other prisoners awake."

And a suspicious hostess, on not being able to find her wallet, right after her weekend guest Darlene, had departed: "I hate to say this, but do you suppose Darlene took my wallet?"

Overheard on Campus

A student, commenting on a faculty waif who is noted for soliciting handouts in Tote or even in the dining hall, "He'll make a good beggar someday."

Giving the old sob story a new twist: "My family is quite destitute — why we don't know where our next car's coming from."

Sarcasm Again

A student, in one of those rare moments when students complain about dining hall food, offered this explanation of how coffee is made here: about 6,000 gallons of water are poured into a huge vat. Then someone, who shall remain nameless, places a coffee bean between her teeth and swims around the vat — 3 times on week days, 3½ times on Sundays. Of course, he consoled himself, the bean is changed every few weeks.

And finally, a fellow cutting up a girl who is constantly seen knitting: "Perhaps she's making woolen covering for the footabll field."

* * * *

Moral of This Column: Don't be a square. Swing! It's collegiate!

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

HIGH TAX RATES—There are numerous murmurs of dissatisfaction with the present economic situation coming from our leaders in Washington. Secretary of the Treasury Humphries warned last week that if the high tax rates are continued indefinitely the end result will be a reduction in the number of available jobs. Yet he admits that he dosen't know any way to reduce President Eisenhower's fiscal-1958 budget from 771.8 billion dollars. It does not appear that there is any immediate danger, but the fact that the men responsible for preserving our economy are becoming apprehensive is significant.

—●—

BECK ACTING STRANGELY—For a man who claims he has nothing to hide, teamster boss Dave Beck has been acting rather strangely for the past three weeks. The Senate subcommittee on labor racketeering has been attempting to subpoena him to investigate teamster financial affairs. He disappeared from the Miami Beach mid-winter meeting of the AFL - CIO executive council. Five days later it was discovered that he was in Nassau in the Bahamas with a plane ticket for London. On arrival in London he claimed that he had a very heavy schedule of work and that although he had no objection to testifying, the Senate subcommittee would have to wait until he found time.

But it seems almost certain that he is involved in corruption and mishandling of union funds. Just last week the subcommittee charged two of his associates with using union funds to pay Beck's personal bills amounting to $8,826.98. If the Senate subcommittee is successful in its attempts to make Beck testify it is possible that a scandal on the labor front will be unearthed. Beck's attitude leads one to believe he has more to fear than has been uncovered to the present time.

—●—

AFFAIRS OF THE ROYAL FAMILY—The affairs of the royal family of the British Empire have again bebcome a subject of international interest. Last week rumors of a rift between Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburg grew to such proportions that the matter was fully aired in all the newspapers of the world. However, these rumors were put to an abrupt end by the reunion of the royal couple in Portugal. Whether or not these rumors remain buried depends upon the royal cauple's future actions in front of a public which never fails to note anything that makes good gossip. It seems a shame that being of royal blood must necessarily make one the object of every loose tongue that has nothing to say.

Our Readers' Opinions

MORE CHAPEL PROGRAMS BY JC's TOURING CHOIR

The members of the lower west wing hall in North Dorm thought the chapel program by the college choir was excellent. It is our opinion that the college choir should appear more often in this half-hour service. We think that this would be a step toward more enjoyable chapel services and also enable students to have more opportunity to observe this fine college organization.

(Names available in Juniatian office.)

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES CANDIDATE TALKS ABOUT JCA

I feel that JCA can deal with the biggest questions which come up to the thinking college student —I feel it is JCA's duty to address itself to an intelligent search for answers to: What is God? What is man? Why am I here? In what way can I most sensibly invest my life?

There is something very important missing in the Juniata College community, and it is the job of the chairman of religious activities to take an objective, broad-minded look at our college community and come up with some positive ideas. Our small Christian college is a place where science has been taught to ignore philosophy, where religious and ought too often clash.

Instead of having a feeling of unity and kinship, which could exist here, many of us are just living, missing that feeling of unity which we as members of a small college community should expect.

There is a huge job here—I can visualize JCA bringing some tremendous changes in the JC attitude. Think, then, about who you will give this responsibility, this opportunity to serve. Read the platforms, talk to the candidates and vote for a better, more stimulating college community through an active, vital program of religious activities. —Spencer Ward.

URGES MORE EXHIBITS

At long last we have an exhibit at JC. It does seem peculiar that this type of event only occurs once or twice each year.

Assuredly there are no mile-long lines waiting to view archeological discoveries, but the few who have time to gaze into the past have been richly rewarded. Certainly the effort expended to secure these items has been justified.

...some sort of exhibition should be secured for each month.

—Roger Bennett

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

JC's football schedule which appeared in last week's Juniatian is probably one of the toughest Indian gridders have ever faced.

The schedule is very good and should relieve any doubt about the question often asked, "When is Juniata going to start playing someone?" Few people seem to realize that the same teams which now moan how powerful we are used to be on the other end of the score.

* * * *

Credit must be given to everyone responsible for building JC into a position whereby such a schedule can be feasibly undertaken. This is especially true since our "fully scholarshiped heavies" exist only in print.

* * * *

Several features make the schedule unsually difficult. We meet powerful Drexel on their home grounds in an opening game and we meet Westminster, a power among small colleges in the West. Probably more important are the newcomers to the schedule, Wilkes, Westminster, Albright, and PMC which will leave few if any breathers.

* * * *

Not being one to think our team will not be up for the occasion, I look to Trimber, Hassinger, McQuown, Schott and company to come through with flying colors.

* * * *

Girl's basketball scoring is being dominated by the Krazy Kids. Jeanette Lowe and Norma Hottle are averaging 23 and 21 points respectively to place one-two in the scoring race. The KK have obtained the highest team score with a 74-point spree against the NJ Hams. Jeanette Lowe's 28 points in this game is also the highest individual total. The top five in scoring up to this week's games are:

1.	Lowe, KK	69
2.	Hottle, KK	63
3.	Fredenburgh, DD's	38
4.	Jenkins, KK	37
5.	Lashley, Hams	30

* * * *

What I would like to see department

A game between the Five and the Krazy Kids with "Killer" Conley as referee.

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Tribe Loses American U. Game, 93-83

Juniata ran into trouble with fouls again Tuesday night as the Eagles of American University sank the Indians by a 93-83 count in Washington, D. C.

Although the Indians scored 36 field goals to 34 for American, they had only 11 foul shots while the Eagles made good on 25 shots from the line. The JC quintet also committed 20 personals while the host team had only 10 against them.

The first part of the game was close and at the end of the first ten minutes of play the score was tied at 21-21. From this point the Eagles gained command and were leading, 47-37, at the end of the half. This lead was threatened only once in the second half as Juniata pulled within two points, 55-53, but American scored 14 quick points and never again were threatened.

High scorer in the contest was Juniata's Barney McLaughlin with 27. Bill Burchfield and Chet White also chipped in 23 and 13 points in the Indian cause. For the Eagles, Joel Comito was high scorer with 23 followed by Frank Weiss with 21 points.

Indians Lose Second to E-town

In another recent contest, the Juniata Indians fell victim to Elizabethtown for the second time this year as they were dumped by the Blue Jays, 81-69, Saturday night in Memorial Gymnasium.

Juniata led by one point, 36-35, halftime, but the Tribesmen were badly outscored, 46-33, in the second half.

E-town's Sal Paone, who stands only 5' 9, played a terrific game and ended up high scorer with 22 points followed by teammates, Jim Chase and Tony Arcuri, who each scored 20. Bill Burchfield was high for JC with 15 followed by Mike Armstrong and Chet White with 14 points.

In the preliminary game the Juniata jayvees downed the E-town frosh,, 75-65. They led throughout the contest and by half-time had piled up a 43-32 lead.

Plans For Wrestling Tentatively Set Up

Senate Chairman of Athletics, Doug Wilson ,has announced that tentative plans are now being set up to have the intramural wrestling tournament next week.

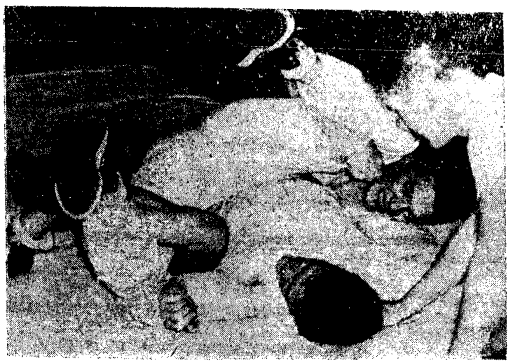
Approximately 40 men have signed up to participate in this tournament, which will be the first of its kind to be held on the Juniata Campus. Wilson said that he is planning to have the tournament on a round-robin basis, He is now setting up the different weight classes.

The individual bouts will be run according to intercollegiate rules, with the exception that the time for the bouts will be shortened a little. Referees have been secured from among the men on campus who have had some experience with high school or college wrestling.

Some of the fellows who have planned to participate in the tournament have been working out on a mat that has been set up under the west mezzanine of Memorial Gym. This is where most of the bouts will be held, although the finals may be moved to a more public place.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Tribesmen On Road Tomorrow



Bruce Bennett

GRAPPLRS AT WORK—In preparation for next week's IM wrestling tournament are Cal Beam, demonstrating a pinning combination, Jack Patterson who is playing the victim of the hald, and Oick Hiltner

Leaders Remain On Top In IM Bowling Circuit

The Whips, Crusaders, and Team B each gained three wins in the intramural Bowling League last Friday evening over the Ten Pins, Keystoners, and 4 D&C keglers, respectively.

The Whips, who have been in first place since their inaugural match, had little trouble in outbowling the Ten Pins. Neil Beefelt, leading kegler with the highest individual average thus far in the league, had a 293, while Dick Backus of the Ten pins managed to score a 280.

The second-place Crusaders had to put on sudden spurts in both games to beat the Keystoners, 3-0. Les Greenawalt was high for the Crusaders with a 287, while Jim Martin had a 282 for the Keystoners.

In the third match the better-balanced Team B, led by Chuck Seeley's 243 and Lou Hall's 237, defeated the 4D&C's. Phil Over was high with a 268 for the winless keglers.

Beefelt Leads Keglers

Vaulting into number one position for the highest average is Neil Beefelt with a 149.7. Howard Specht, who has bowled only two games, possesses a 145.5 average. Al Blough of the Dutch Mumblers is third highest in the league with 144.5, and in fourth position is Herb Layman, a Keystoner, with a 143 pin average. In the fifth slot, Skizo bowler, Frank Bird, owns a 139.8 average.

Lou Hall girl member of Team B, is the leading girl scorer with a 132 average good enough for 15th position in the individual averages.

STANDINGS

	W	L
Whips	15	0
Crusaders	13	2
Team B	7	2
JC Seniors	7	2
Dutch Mumblers	4	2
Skizos	6	3
Admirals	7	5
Ten Pins	8	7
Keystoners	7	8
Alley Kats	1	11
Team A&C	0	6
Prophets	0	12
4 D&C	0	15

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

Mumblers On Top Of IM Basketball

Juniata's intramural basketball loop hit the midway mark this week with the undefeated Mumblers copping the unofficial first cycle championship.

In Monday's clashes, the once beaten Whips came out on top over a strong Sunbrookers quintet, 64-48, as the Galloping Ghosts, paced by Larry McAfee's 14 points, edged the Cloister Oysters 50-46. The Sultans nipped the Wolverines, 34-30, the Lead Balloons rolled over the Giants, 75-47, and the Basketeers won in grand style by drooping the A's 104-35.

On Thursday the Lead Balloons defeated the Cloister Oysters, 74-49, and the second place Dukes also took an easy win, downing the Six-60s, 74-48. The Ubangies dropped The Five, 56-41, as the Crusaders crushed the Mohawks in a 52-35 match. The Village Vultures lost a close, 59-52, contest to the Sunbrookers, and the Wolverines edged the A's 49-30.

Saturday, the Galloping Ghosts downed the Village Vultures, 43-39, the Giants rolled over The Five, 83-31, and the Basketeers lost a close 58-57 game to the Ubangies. The Dukes, led by Joe Trimber's 18 points, defeated the JC Seniors, 70-46, and the Mumblers dropped the Capitols by a 63-41 score.

In other games, the Lead Balloons bounced the Mohawks by a 57-36 tally, and the Galloping Ghosts trampled The Five, 75-43. Paced by Sam Shore's 18 points, the Crusaders romped the Giants, 77-38, as the Lead Balloons were defeated by the Dukes, 60-49. The Capitols trounced the JC Seniors by a 67-34 count, and the Sunbrookers dropped the Wolverines in a lopsided, 53-31, match.

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Mumblers	14	0
Dukes	10	0
Whips	10	1
Lead Balloons	10	2
Sultans	7	2
Galloping Ghosts	7	3
Crusaders	8	5
Sunbrookers	6	4
Ubangies	6	5
Basketeers	4	6
Six-60's	4	6
Giants	5	8
Capitols	3	6
"A's"	2	5
Village Vultures	3	8
Cloister Oysters	3	9
Wolverines	2	7
Mohawks	0	8
The Five	0	9
JC Seniors	0	12

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Visit Lycoming; Tough Geneva Next On Top

Tomorrow evening will find the Indian courtmen traveling to Williamsport where they will encounter an aroused Lycoming squad. Coach George Lawther's Warriors have been looking forward to the return game with Juniata ever since they dropped that exciting, 64-58, overtime decision at Huntingdon. Lycoming, following the first JC game, has experienced some heartbreaking losses and now is hoping to reach the .500 mark via a victory over the Indians.

The versatile senior, Al Wilson, is the Warriors' leading scorer and rebounder, and he is closely followed by Ron Kitt, who besides his rebounding ability, is the field goal percentage leader. Led by Kitt and Wilson, the starting lineup for Lycoming will probably be the same as it was for the previous game, and the game itself should be just as exciting as before.

Wednesday, the Indians travel to Beaver Falls, where they will take on the Covies of Geneva College. The Covies are undefeated in their first eight home games this season and in their first 19 games sport an impressive 14-5 record. Their record seems even more impressive when you look at some of the teams which they have beaten — Youngstown, Mount Union, and Carnegie Tech three times.

Leading the Geneva quintet is Bill Blair, who, in his last year of college, is adding more links to his already extensive chain of basketball laurels. At center, replacing the all time Geneva scoring record holder, Stan Yukica, is 6' 4" Nick Tepavich, a junior and the only underclassman on the starting five.

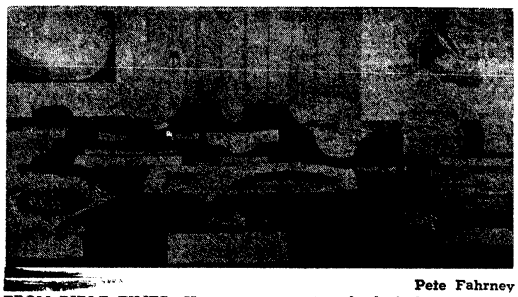
Rounding out the starting team will be Otto Pritchard, John Swogger, and Lenny Clarke, three fellows who saw much action last year although being relegated to second string throughout most of the season.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830



Pete Fahrney

FROM BIBLE TIMES—Here are some of archeological finds dated from Bible times on display until Monday in Carnegie Library.

Campaigners Vying For 8 Chairmanships

Continued from page 1

mittee and as accompanist for last year's Masque production of Brigadoon.

Men's House

Beam is a junior chemistry major from Somerset Co. He plans to be a secondary school teacher. Lindsay, a sophomore psychology major, is from Lewistown. His activities include the Outing Club, intramural sports, dance band, Vets, Sigma Psi and orchestra. McQuown, a junior history education major from Punxsutawney, is active in sports. He is a member of the J Club, plays foohball and intramural sports.

Religious Acaivities

Davis is a sophomore pre-ministerial student from Montgomery Co. He belongs to JCA and is a shutterbug in the Camera club. Ward, a junior philosophy major from Tyrone, intends to be a minister. He is a member of the Masque, JCA and was a debater. Ward, a sophomore from Everett, is a pre-medical student. He is president of the German club, has won a Physics Award, and is active in the band, All Class Night and JCA.

Social Activities

Miss Nixdorff is a sophomore elementary education major from Downingtown. She is a member of JCA, WAA, FTA, Alfarata staff, deputation team, sub-frosh committee, social comittee, plays intramural sports and has sung in the chapel and commencement choirs. Miss Ruppenthal is a sophomore from Philadelphia. She is in WAA, was co-editor of the sophomore's part in All-Class Night and has served on a number of decorations committees.

Women's House

Miss Gilroy, a junior elementary education major, is from Sarasota, Florida. She is a cheerleader, a member of JCA, FTA, WAA, Modern Dance, social committee and has been active in All-Class Night and intramural sports, serving on the class hockey team. Miss Newton is a junior home economics major from Hagerstown, Maryland. She has attended leadership conference, served on the Juniatian staff and May Day committee, is secretary-treasurer of JCA and belongs to Lambda Gamma.

Miss Wohlbruck is a junior English education major from Altoona. She sings in the touring choir, is a member of JCA, FTA, WAA, has sung in the chapel choir, in Brigadoon and served on the Juniatian staff.

Underclassmen

Brown, a sophomore pre-law student from Bellefonte, is president of his class. His activities include Alfarata and Juniatian staffs, track and cross-country, editor of the Tomahawk, Masque, the Hungarian Aid drive and vice president of his freshman class. "Killer" Conley, a junior business administration major from McKees Rock, is this year's Ugly Man. He is active in intramural sports and football.

Dickey Discribes Life In Heilbronn

continued from page 1

each military installation. In addition to books, there are the usual popular magazines and records with facilities for listening. In the library where I spend most of my time there is a unique situation,—my office and music room are synonymous!

"The opportunity for travel is unlimited and I could write endlessly about the places I've seen since I've been here. Most of my traveling so far has been in Germany for two reasons: winter weather and lack of time. Driving to such cities as Stuttgart, Nunich, Frankfurt and Kassel is no problem because of the marvelous network of four-lane highways known as the autobahn.

Not to be overlooked, however, are the charming little towns which never quite find a place in the guidebooks: Schwaebisch Hall Neckarsulm, Bad Wimpfen and many more. Heilberg, Rothenburg and Nurnberg have a medieval charm all their own; it seems as though you are living in an entirely different world in a different century. Munich during the Octoberfest (annual folk festival) is at its best. People come from miles around to participate in the gala occasion.

Most Unusual Trip

"...But by far the most unsual trip I have taken was the Thanksgiving excursion behind the Iron Curtain. Imagine eating a turkey dinner in a plush hotel in Karlovy Vary, Czechoslavakia! The group with which I traveled had the distinction of being the first American tour to Czechoslavakia since 1947. The Army Times referred to us as "80 fearless Americans" Actually we were 87, but the other adjective was probably correct.

In the first place, the uprising in Hungary had just begun, and we were very doubtful that we could be permitted to make the trip. But visas were granted, the State Department validated our passports and we were off! We found the people very cordial, but life there is far from comfortable for them. In the short time we were there we agreed on one idea; namely, that the Czechoslavakians live in constant fear. We spent two days in Prague where we were allowed to wander about and take pictures freely. A massive statue of Stalin and "friends" overlooks the entire city, and although the ideology has changed, the monument remains unmarred.

Concerned With Juniatians

"...This last part will be concerned with Juniatians: Bruce Dickey stopped to see me on his way back to Scotland. He too had been in Austria, and our paths must have crossed somewhere. Thanks to the Alumni Bulletin I learned that Dan Raffensperger is in Kassel. One of ehese days I hope to visit the Brethren House there. I didn't realize that the Galen Frysingers were in Germany; a visit to Gottingen has now been placed on the agenda.

The biggest surprise of all though, came right before Christmas when I was walking through one of the libraries and noticed a young man with very blonde hair and the name Suter on his shirt. You're right—it was none other than Joe Suter from New Enterprise. He is a medic with the 28th Infantry Regiment and is stationed in Heilbronn. Since then I've been sharing all my Juniata publications with him.

"Next month I plan to give Paris a whirl, and in March, perhaps Berlin! Best wishes to one and all.....

Editor Jan Hoyer Tells Of Progress Toward '61 Scout

Jan Hoyer, this year's Scout editor, has announced the staff of managers and writers for the pocket-size guide to Juniata which is provided for all freshmen.

Jim Heck is advertising manager while Jay Muir will act as business manager for the handbook. The staff of writers includes Chuck Brown, Janet Binkley, George Fattman, Nancy Hess, Don Miller, Kim Burket, Polly Klapsogeorge and Don Ruhl.

Following approximately the same outline as last year's handbook, the 1957 Scout will include information on JC's history, student government, academic requirements, rules and regulations, special events, athletics and clubs.

New features this year will be a different cover arrangement and information on the Campus Judiciary and the freshman academic aid program.

Dr. Shucker To Speak To Biology Students

Dr. Charles Shucker of Huntingdon will speak to the Scalpel and Probe Wednesday, February 27, at 7 p.m.

Dr. Shucker will give his reasons for changing from general practitioner to specialist in obstetrics and gynecology.

Also at this meeting, refreshments will be served and dues collected. All members, especially those planning to make the trip to the Lewistown Hospital, are asked to attend.

Youngster's Tale Of Bird, Beast Presents Unusual Biological Slant

The following is the response of a child of 10 to an invitation to write an essay on a bird and a beast:

"The bird that I am going to write about is the owl. The owl cannot see at all by day and at night is as blind as a bat.

"I do not know much about the owl, so I will go on to the beast which I am going to choose. It is the cow. The cow is a mammal. It has six sides—right, left, an upper and below. At the back it has a tail on which hangs a brush. With this it sends flies away so that they do not fall into the milk. The head is for the purpose of growing horns and so that the mouth can be somewhere. The horns are to butt with. Under the cow hangs the milk. It is arranged for milking.

"When people milk, the milk comes and there is never an end to the supply. How the cow does it I have not yet realized, but it makes more and more. The cow has a fine sense of smell — one can smell it far away. This is the reason for the fresh air in the country.

"The man cow is called an ox. It is not a mammal. The cow does not eat much, but what it eats it eats twice, so that it gets enough. When it is hungry, it moos, and when it says nothing, it is because its inside is all full up wih grass."

Bethany Seminary Students Coming

Ten students of Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill., will be guests of Juniata College February 26 and 27.

Bethany's basketball team will play JC's cagers at 8:30 Tuesday in Memorial Gym. Wednesday morning the seminary students will be featured in chapel.

The group is stopping at Juniata as part of a tour of Church of the Brethren colleges from Bridgewater, Va., to Elizabethtown, Pa.

Next Week In Chapel

February	25	Rev. George Howard, Hollidaysburg
	27	Bethany Biblical Seminary representatives
March	1	Mr. Jack Reynolds, linguist

Director Reports On Play Progress

The Masque production All My Sons is "progressing very nicely" according to James Bray, director.

The committees have been picked and announced and are now busy fulfilling their duties. The play production class is getting the set ready in cooperation with the stage crew, and at the present moment the properties committee is searching for furniture from outside sources for the set.

The play will be given in Oller Hall March 8 and 9.

Fantasia Coming

Walt Disney's Fantasia will be featured at the Clifton Theater February 25 and 26.

Tickets are on sale at 75 cents in Juniata's public relations office.

Students are asked to buy tickets there for the benefit of the Huntingdon Music Club, which is sponsoring the movie.

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

George Washington
Birthday Sale
GLENN MILLER LIMITED EDITION
VOLUME 1, 2 or 3 45 RPM
REG. $24.95 $9.00
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
Walt Disney Presents
Westward Ho
The Wagons
Cinemascope & Color
Plus a 42 minute trip to "DISNIELAND USA"
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Benefit Performances Huntingdon Music Club
ALL SEATS 75c Tax incl.
WALT DISNEY PRESENTS
FANTASIA
Cinemascope-Stereophonic Sound Technicolor
WEDNESDAY ONLY
Return Performance of Boys Town with Mickey Rooney-Spencer Tracy
Starts THURSDAY
Alfred Hitchcocks New Thriller
The Wrong Man
Starring
Henry Fonda - Vera Miles
Coming Ingrid Bergman
March 6, 7, 8, 9 Yul Brunner ANASTASIA

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

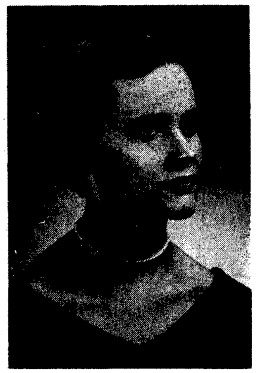
The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 18 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, March 1, 1957

Pre-Med Major Jacque Hayes Presents Piano Recital Tonight

Jacque Hayes, a senior pre-med major from Ebensburg, will present a piano recital tonight at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Miss Hayes studies piano with Sister Camille Marie at Mount Aloysious Academy, Cresson, and in the summer of 1955, she studied music at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.



● Jacque Hayes ●
To Present Recital

While at Juniata, Miss Hayes has taken organ lessons from Prof. Donald Johnson, voice lessons from Miss Mary Jo Pfotenhauer and is now a pupil of Mrs. Michael Tinkham, Juniata's assistant professor of music. She has been active musically on campus, has participated in All-Class Night, and sings in the chapel choir.

Included on the program will be the English Suite in A minor by J. S. Bach, Fantasie No. 1 by Mozart, Roumanian Dances by Bartok, The Engulfed Cathedral by Debussy and Concerto No. 4 in C minor by Saint-Saens. At this concert, which is open to the public, Miss Hayes will be assisted by orgahist Sam Douglas.

Committee Plans Study On Alcohol

An alcoholic studies committee has been formed to ascertain student opinion on the problem of alcohol at Juniata

A questionnaire has been written for the purpose of finding out students' attitudes and practices concerning the use of alcoholic beverages while in college. The questionnaire will also enable students to present their attitudes toward the present administrative policy on the question. The questionnaires are now being distributed to the student body.

The committee is formed of two sections, a small research group and a larger plenary committee. Those participating in the research are Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, George Carnahan, Dick Backus, Spencer Ward and Roger Bennett.

Plenary committee members include the previous six plus Jim Stayer, Dave Amidon, Ross Nahrgang, Tex Holman, Newt Taylor, Ray Ono, Chuck Brown, Kerin Narbut, George Fattman, Evelyn Brehm, Clint Betz, Dick Mumma, Eloise Holsinger, Meg Goodrich and Barbara Walls.

Clark May Speak Here On Dems Day

United States Senator Joseph Clark (D-Pa.) has been asked to spend a day on campus.

The Senate committee in charge of preparing a Republican Day and a Democrat Day at Juniata, Newt Taylor, chairman, have requested the recently elected senator spend a day here. He would speak in chapel and meet informally with smaller groups of students.

It was mentioned that Congressman Richard Simpson (R-Pa.) might be asked to come to JC for a Republican Day.

Taylor Says Turnout Reaches Record High

Newt Taylor, vice-president of the Senate, reports that 89.3 per cent of the students at Juniata voted in the '57-'58 election for Senate chairmanships which was held Tuesday, February 26.

The February 19 election for Senate officers showed participation of 88.7 percent of Juniatians. Both these figures are new highs for student participation in elections.

Dean Godlasky Tells Plan Of Enforcement Of Dining Hall Attire

Dean Charles Godlasky will continue increased enforcement of the coats in the dining hall rule, the Juniatian was told yesterday.

Speaking for the dean af men, who was not available at the time, Dean of Women Barbara Bechtell said that all men are expected to wear coats to the evening and Sunday noon meals.

She made it clear, however, that neither the Senate nor the dean of men is going to police the dining hall to enforce the ruling. Students are expected to abide by the decision without police action. However, Dean Godlasky has been seen eating in the dining hall lately.

Dean Bechtell pointed out that since the issue was brought up last week, men's dining hall dress has improved considerably.

Referring to the question on enforcement of dining hall attire appearing on the ballot in the Senate offices election, Dean Bechtell stated that the Senate really wanted to know whether or not students wanted the coats rule itself continued not whether they wanted the Senate or the Administration to enforce the rule. For this reason and arising ambiguity the result will be disregarded.

Fletcher Will Travel To Source Of Amazon

Alan Fletcher, who graduated from Juniata in 1950, will be the first American writer to travel to the headwaters of the Amazon for the purpose of collecting stories, photographs and movies of the collecting of aquarium fishes by semi-savage Indians.

Fletcher has recently been named publications editor of Innes Publications who publish a line of books about the aquarium hobby and a monthly magazine, The Aquarium. In addition to his editorial duties, he does freelance writing and has had several articles published in Colliers and The Archer's Magazine. He now is revising several established books, writing a series of new books and is specializing in fish photography.

Senate Appoints Wright To Direct Student Musicale

Pete Wright, junior music major from Bridgeton, N. J., has offered to write and direct next fall's student musicale.

On recommendation of chairman of general activities Ann Willson the Senate voted to appoint Wright to this position Only the approval of President Ellis is necessary to make the appointment official.

Student written and directed musicales at Juniata were discontinued several years ago. In their place professionally written operettas have been given under faculty direction until last fall when the annual operetta was replaced by a Masque play. This action has been taken on the resignation of Prof. Donald Johnson, who had been directing the productions.

Blough Blood Chairman

Vice president-elect Al Blough was named to head the Bloodmobile Day (April 3) activities. Nancy Nevin was named hostess for the day.

President-elect Del McQuaide reported plans to enlarge Snowflake Lake to two and one-half times its size with the help of next year's freshman class.

McQuaide, who is also head of the Judiciary committee on alcoholic studies, told the Senate that a questionnaire to determine opinion on drinking and the administration's policy on the matter has been prepared and distributed.

Jim Montgomery, chairman of the Senate committee on educational affairs, reported to the Senate that 60 percent of those students who were given questionnaires last semester on matters academic have been returned.

The responses were "constructive," according to Montgomery, and the findings will be referred to Dean Morley Mays.

Commends Conley

"Killer" Conley, candidate for chairman of underclassmen was commended by the Senate for "a distinctive addition to an unusally distinctive chairmanships campaign." Conley had conducted a torch light parade across campus the night before the chairmanships election.

He lost the election, however, to Chuck Brown.

Students Choose 8 Chairmen To Comprise 1957-58 Senate

The eight chairmanships of the 1957-58 Senate will be held by Chuck Brown, Ron Fink, Janice Gilroy, Bonnie Gunther, Gini Nixdorf, Val Means, Bernie McQuown and Spence Ward

Men's House

Chairman of comunications is Fink who defeated Barb Walls by the narrow margin of 300 votes to 287. Miss Gunther is chairman of general activities with 350 votes as opposed to 150 votes for Barb Smathers and 93 for Jean Rubicam.

Candidates for social activities were Miss Nixdorf, who won easily with 405 votes, and Sandy Ruppenthal with a final count of 179. Means won the athletic chairmanship with 347 votes to Carl Wass' 241.

Chairman of underclassmen is Brown with 370 votes. His opposing candidate, Don "Killer" Conley, had 225 votes.

McQuown was victorious in the race for the chairmanship of men's house. Follow ups were Cal Beam and Carl Lindsay. The count was 207, 81 and 78 votes respectively.

In the race for religious activities, an exceptional unprecedented write-in campaign threw that election for the chairman into a run-off. At the end of the Tuesday election Ward led the group with 267 votes. He was followed by Stan Davis with a 163 tally, Bob Reader with 94 and Al Sellari, write-in candidate, with 66. In the run-off between Ward and Davis Wednesday, Ward won the seat, 303 votes to Davis' 237.

The race for women's house at the end of the first day's balloting showed Miss Wohlbruck ahead with 79 votes, followed by Janice Gilroy with 72 and Eleanor Newton with 71. Miss Gilroy took the seat in Wednesday's vote, scoring 130 to Wohlbruck's 90.

Cabinet Will Propose Constitution Change

After a year's study of the organizational skeleton of JCA, the JCA cabinet is proposing a major constitutional change which, if adopted, will increase the number of students on the cabinet, eliminate the council and explicitly define the duties of the cabinet and officers.

The amendment wil be presented formally by chairman of religious activities Kerin Narbut Monday March 4 at 7:30 p.m. in Founders Chapel. It will be presented for adoption March 8.

Questions from the student body wil be welcomed next Monday when the amendment is presented. Miss Narbut urges that all students study the proposed change.

100 Working Days Will Finish Dorm

Treasurer John Fike has reported that the new women's dorm should be completed in 100 working days or by August 15.

In the near future, roof trestles will be erected and the roof will be finished in several weeks. The cement floors will be poured as soon as the weather gets warmer.

The furnishing committee is now in the process of ordering furniture. The bathrooms will be tiled in colors such as ping with white, green with ivory and peach with cream, while the student rooms will be tiled in eight different colors including copper, gray and green.

When completed the dorm will house 118 students, a house mother and a faculty member and will provide facilities for 200 students in the dining hall.

Senate States Policy On Mentioning Dorm

The dormitory for men on the north end of campus will be referred to in Senate records as North Dorm, according to a decision made in Wednesday's Senate meeting.

This action was taken in view of the newest dorm being built on campus and the tendency to "refer to a building on our campus as new even after it has become quite old."

It was suggested that the newest dorm being built (at the corner of Eighteenth and Oneida streets) be referred to as East Dorm. No official action was taken however.

Founders Chapel To Get New Look

Founders Chapel will have a new look about it come the end of March.

Helen Herr has been chosen by Kerin Narbut as chairman of the committee working on the renovation of the chapel. The plans include draperies for the windows and carpeting of the platform. The committee, composed of Carol Olbrich, Eva Wagner, Sue Ashman, Jeanette Lowe and Mary Rearick, has already begun work on the project by checking on designs and styles.

Miss Narbut has particularly pleaded for students' help with the actual process of putting up the draperies. It is hoped that the operation will take place sometime around move-up day. This process should be in the interest of the students, miss Narbut continued, and their co-operation will be fully appreciated.

Rick Bell

AN IDEA ON RENOVATION — Eva Wagner, second from left, reveals an idea that will help improve the appearance of Founders Chapel to other members of the committee in charge of redecorating the area. Others in the photo are Mary Rearick, Kerin Narbut, Susan Aschman, Jeanne Lowe and Helen Herr.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron ik, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb M .ntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Looking, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder.

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 18 — March 1, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

On Waving One's Banner

THE Associated Collegiate Press, whose taste in collegiate journalism we must at times question, has reprinted in one of its syndicacted collections from various campus newspapers an editorial from the UCLA Daily Bruin:

"... The paper, (The Bruin) it seems, has lost the crusading, banner-waving, big city personality which the "Old Bruin" and numerous other colleges' newspapers have had.

"... Anyone feeling cheated because we don't crusade day-by-day to get the campus trash cans painted or something on this order will continue to be disappointed.

"... Also. if something does take place on campus which is pertinent and explosive, it (should) be handled neutrally by presenting both sides of the situation..."

How ridiculous! In the first place, theBruin (and, no doubt, the Associated Collegiate Press) posses insight so limited that they consider urging that trash cans be painted the typical crusade of the "banner-waving" newspaper.

Secondly, what IS the job of the collegiate press if it is not to aid the students in achieving their goals? Admittedly, the primary function of a newspaper (more so in the case of a daily publication) is to tell the readers what is going on about them, but never should any newspaper become so static that it ceases to be concerned with issues involving its readers.

We agree that a campus newspaper is obligated to present both sides of an issue, but why must it refrain from stating its own views? Such a policy looks more like laziness than objectivity.

Juniatians attend a college where they are urged to take sides in campus issues. The Juniatian is virtually unrestricted in what veiwpoint it chooses to advocate. We feel that such an attitude will preserve a healthy gdow in campus journalism.

We cannot but feel sorry for students served by a dormant press.

Our Readers' Opinions

JCA Answers Editorial

LAST week the Juniatian came forth with JCA Stops Everything in which it questioned JCA's right to an hour every Tuesday. The article asked why JCA had any more right than the FTA or J Club to an hour of the students' time without competing events. This is my answer.

In the first place JCA does not stop everything! No one is compelled to attend the Tuesday meeting, and from some of the attendances, which you pointed out, it is evident that students do have other things to do with their time during this period.

JCA is granted this hour without competition by the Administration because they believe that JCA attempts to meet the needs of the campus on a problem that is of concern to all of us—our spiritual lives—our relation to God.

The least I think we can do is to give this hour a week to the student Christian association. There are five other evenings in the week in which meetings can be held. Even Senate elections could use one of them.

The only argument the Juniatian has as I can see is that the JCA might not be aiding the campus with their concern. If this is their argument, I invite them to say so and help to correct matters with constructive suggestions. The officers of JCA realize that the association is far from perfect, but.... at least they recognize the fact and are working toward a better program which will benefit all. Kerin Narbut, chairman religious activities

Against Speakers At JCA

JCA must face the fact—a significant proportion of the student body does not consider that the organization is fulfilling its purposes. Sixty write-in votes (chairman of religious activities) for a person on probation is part of the proof.

May I suggest that JCA sponsor chapel speakers, which doubtless would be an improvement over existing circumstances, instead of its current program of lectures on Tuesday night.

Students at JC do not want to go to lectures at night, having already spent a good part of the day in lectures.... There are many other types of programs possible for Tuesday nights.

—Roger Bennett

PROF PRAISES FROSH DANCE

A little money, a lot of hard work and a great deal of ingenuity produced a very successful Sweetheart Dance. Congratulations to the freshman class and to the various committees in particular. —A faculty member.

FROSH PREXY SAYS THANKS

For all the hard work, interest and co-operation exhibited by all those connected in any way with the recent freshman-sponsored Sweetheart Dance I wish to offer my sincere thanks. No one could ask for anything more than the enthusiasm with which the class of '60 pitched into the work associated with such an affair.

John "Tex" Holman

Repel Polio

WE hope that most elgible Juniatians will take advantage of the free Salk vaccine injections to be given Wednesday, March 13 in Huntingdon High School Gym.

Huntingdon County is providing the shots for everyone in the area who is under 21 years of age. The only obligation is that students wishing to receive the injections secure permission slips from Prof. Mike Snider (office in Memorial Gym) to be signed by their parents.

This should be done immediately.

Certainly we owe it to ourselves and society in general to participate in this program. We will defeat crippling polio, but only if the public reacts positively to mass innoculation. And while we improve society, we protect ourselves.

Spirit Of '60

FRESHMEN, it is said, provide the basis of spirit on a campus, and last week's dance in Memorial Gym would be sufficient proof of the enthusiasm of our class of '60.

Obviously much preparation went into making the event such a success. We owe our frosh a big thank-you. Moreover, we hope that the spirit exhibited by the class of '60 throughout this year will not fade in the years to come.

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Barb McIntyre

AS I was peering through some of the many papers of the country I came upon this little gem of rationalization from The Dickinsonian.

The bell has rung;
I'm late again.
The door is closed,
The class begun.
I could go in
And cause a stir,
But entering late
Is a cardinal sin.
I'm up to date;
I read the book.
(I'd rather die than go in late)
I know I'll blush
When I sink in my seat.
I'm late no matter
How I rush!
I really should go in there, but...
I haven't had my coffee yet.
Why do I sleep through the ringing alarm?
Oh, what the heck! I'll cut!

The Buffalo University Hatchet lists some quaint definitions for some old terms such as:

Coed College — Where the girls go in for facts and the boys go in for figures.

Upperclassmen — Students who are a shining example for freshmen . . . shining because they are all either bright, lit up or polishing the apple.

* * * *

Also in he list was this example of college progression in answering a professor's question:

Freshman: I don't know.

Sophomore: I am not prepared.

Junior: I don't remember.

Senior: I don't believe I can add anything to what has already been said.

Now to a more serious picture.

Concern for Hungarian students is still a big story on most college campuses. At Ohio State University, for example, students are trying to raise $5,000 to support five Hungarian students here. Ohio students met two Hungarians awaiting entrance to their school.

One American asked one of the pair, "What can we do now to help those still in Hungary?" The Hungarian lowered his eyes as the question was explained. His voice was soft but firm as he answered.

The interpreter said: "Nothing. He says they want their freedom, and it doesn't come in CARE packages."

"I WONDER WHY NORTH DORM GUYS DON'T LEARN TO USE THE TELEPHONE LIKE EVERYONE ELSE DOES!"

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

EISENHOWER AND BEN-GURION — The Israel-Egyptian dispute seems no closer to an end now than it did when United Nations troops first moved into the Suez Canal. The point at issue is whether or not Israel should withdraw her troops from Egyptian territory before receiving assurances that Egypt will not renew her border raids.

Both President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Ben-Gurion spoke definitively on the matter last week. Eisenhower said to allow an aggressor nation to impose conditions on its own withdrawal would "turn back the clock of international order." Ben-Gurion insists that no greater injustice has been done to the spirit of the United Nations charter than the actions of Egypt before the invasion. Thus Israel will not withdraw without effective security safeguards.

Meanwhile there is a movement within the UN by the Arab-Asian bloc to impose economic sanctions. Secretary of State Dulles firmly believes that Israel should not be rewarded for her aggression. The majority of the nations of the world are of the same opinion, yet this tiny, insignificant state continues to threaten world peace.

To give in to Israel's demands would amount to a travesty on the ideal of world government.

—●—

WITCH HUNT STILL ON? — It had appeared that the modern American witch hunt—for people suspected of entertaining Communist beliefs had subsided several years ago. But just last week Congress indicted Arthur Miller, Pulitzer prize-winning playwright, and Dr. Otto Nathan, an NYU economics professor, for contempt of court for refusing to answer questions concerning communist associations.

It is quite clear that both have constitutional grounds for their refusal to answer. But it is also quite clear that the House committee doesn't give a hang about constitutionality. The reason is, of course, that they are exceedingly fearful of a riduculously weak party in the United States and have therefore lost all perspective.

Let us hope that these men are successful in having their civil rights sustained when court action develops. It is proper for us to want to lessen the danger of Communist infiltnation, but surely not at the expense of our Bill of Rights.

—●—

BULL THROWER PAR EXCELLENCE — A pleasingly plump, jovial man has once again disappeared after being detected last week as an imposter while teaching school in Maine. Since 1941 Ferdinand Demara has assumed numerous roles in life such as being a Cistercian monk, a university professor, soldier, surgeon and school teacher, all under someone else's name. It seems as if the fellow just can't stand himself.

Last week he was again let off with a mild rebuke because as usual he wasn't attempting to defraud anyone. In fact, he has always managed to give someone a helping hand in all of his sundry roles. Where he is right now nobody knows, and what's more, right now nobody knows who he is!

JC, Albright Here In Finale

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

This weekend provides J C sports fans with three top contests.

The Juniata Indians will enter their last game of this season tomorrow night. A win is a must here to provide JC with another winning season.

The preliminary game features a top intramural contest. The once-beaten Whips will be out to knock off the undefeated Mumblers and put themselves back into contention for the league championship.

A third game will take place Monday in the Women's Gym. Here, in acceptance of a challenge, "Easy Ed" Brockway is expected to spearhead the offense of the Five as they engage the Krazy Kids in what must, in all fairness, be called the game of the year. This pits the Five who are definitely "out to lunch" as basketball players go with the top women team in intramurals.

* * *

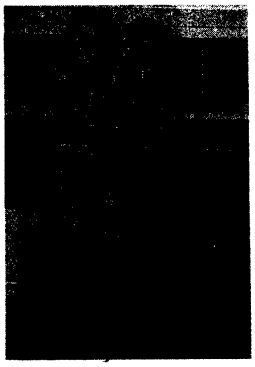
This will be a charity game with a 10 cents fee for admission. (Probably for the Debate Club itself or to supplement Ed Brockway's scholarship.) A Five spokesman has been quoted as saying that his boys are definetly primed for this one. They will lose like gentleman and the debaters they are. Also "Fat" Haines, co-captain, will not—repeat—will not appear with a Haines tie.

* * *

Turning to bowling, Neil Beefelt of the first place Whips leads all bowlers with a 149.7 average Lou Hall is the top woman bowler with a 136.5 average. The top five going into tonights contests are:

1. Beefelt, Whips 149.7
2. Blough, Dutch Mumblers 144.5
3. Layman, Keystoners 143.0
4. Williamson, Admirals 141.2

The Whips incidentally will meet stern opposition from the Dutch Mumblers tonight. This provides an interesting weekend for Whip-Mumbler rivalry as both the basketball and bowling contests are key games in their respective leagues.



● Bill Burchfield ●
Only Graduating Cager

Burchfield Closes Hardwood Career

Senior Bill Burchfield, from Altoona, will end his basketball career tomorrow night when the Indians meet Albright College in Memorial Gym.

"Burch," a business major, started here at Juniata on the junior varsity squad where he was a consistently high scorer for two years. Although he was understudy to Jake Hanrzelek last year and saw limited varsity action, Bill was known for his accuracy in shooting

This year Burchfield is the second highest scorer for "Doc" Greene, yith 303 points in 19 games for an average of 15..9 points per game. He leads the team in free throw accuracy making 44 out of 58 in foul attempts for a .776 average and hitting for a .428 field goal average. He also is known as the key man in the fast break.

Burch had his best nights this season against American University and Lock Haven when he scored 23 points. On three occasions this year he has scored 22 points and hit for over 20 points eight different times.

Pre Game Pep Talk

Coach to his team: "Well boys, here we are unbeaten, untied, and unscored upon... and about to start our first game."

The Five, Krazy Kids Engage In Grudge Cage Game Monday

Monday evening Juniata basketball fans will be in for a rare and outstanding treat. Starting at 7:15 p. m, in the Women's Gym the men's IM basketball league's current tail enders, The Five will tangle with the Women's basketball league-leaders, the Krazy Kids.

The confident Krazy Kids set up this once in a lifetime meeting last week by issuing a challenge to The Five, which represents the Debate Team in the IM cage league. The Five, smelling its first victory of the season, gladly accepted the challenge.

Both teams are studded with court talent. The Five, which next year will subsidize its outstanding cagers, is led by "Easy Ed" Brockway, who is noted for his variety of shots both from the field and from the foul line. Ed has been called by many as the "Hot Rod" Hundley of Juniata College. Brockway has been backed up all season by such stars (?) as Dave Amidon, Jim Stayer, Clint Betz, Charlie Haines, Don Shover and Ross Nahrgang.

The Krazy Kids are led by three of the women's league's top scorers. This trio is Jeanette Lowe, who is the women's scoring leader; Norma Hottle, who is second to Lowe; and Carol Jenkins, fourth ranked woman's scorer.

The contest will be played under women's rules with "Killer" Conley as referee and possibly Dean Morley Mays as time keeper.

Geneva Wins; Tribe At .500

On Wednesday evening the Juniata cagers play their annual game with the Covies of Geneva College, and ended up on the short end of an 83-75 score in a very exciting game Behind by 17 points early in the second half, the Indians fought back gamely and the Covies were forced to exert their ful strength in order to emerge victorious.

The sensational Bill Blair who is creeping closer to the coveted 2000 points scored circle, netted 30 points and ran his four year total to 1921 He is averaging 22 points per game thus far this season and seems a cinch to break 2000. The Indian's attack featured five men who scored in the double ifgures, with Chet White and Mike Armstrong pacing them with 15 apiece.

Last Saturday evening, a strong Lycoming squad fell victim to a withering Juniata atack for the second time this year, this time by an 84-72 count. "Doc" Greene used the starting team throughout the entire game and three of them, Bill Birchfield, Barney McLaughlin, and Mike Armstrong hit for better than 20 0points each. Pacing the Lycoming attack was Al Wilson who hit for 22 markers.

Whips, Mumblers Meet In IM Bowling; Crusaders Stay Close

The Intra-Mural Bowling League still has the Whips on the top of the standings as it moved past the eight week of league play. Idle this past week, the Whips and Dutch Mumblers play each other tonight in an all important match.

Last Friday the Crusaders, Team B, Admirals, and Alley Kats gained wins over the JC Seniors, Ten Pins, Skizos, and 4D & C keglers, respectively.

The second-place Crusaders moved past the JC Seniors with considerable ease as Fran Christina was high for the Crusaders with a 262 and Don Replogle led the Seniors with a 292.

Team B mauled the Ten Pins with little difficulty. Team B was led by the combined efforts of Lou Hall and Chuck Seeley, who had 291 and 287, respectively.

The strong Admirals exploded with three victories over the Skizos. The Admirals, led by Glenn Williamson, who had a 302, had the high team score of 1282 pins for the two games of the evening. Horace Carl's 292 was high for the Skizos.

The Alley Kats only managed to win two games from the beforewinless 4D & C's. Don Shover exploded with a 295 for the Alley Kats while Pete Fahrney led the 4D & C keglers with a 258.

Four Teams Continue Battle In Cage Loop

IM Basketball

	W	L	Pct.
Mumblers	14	0	1.000
Dukes	12	0	1.000
Whips	11	1	.917
Lead Baloons	11	3	.788
Sultans	7	2	.778
Galloping Ghosts	9	3	.750
Crusaders	9	5	.642
Ubangies	7	5	.581
Sunbrookers	6	5	.545
Basketeers	6	6	.500
Six-60's	4	6	.400
Capitols	4	6	.400
Giants	5	10	.333
Wolverines	3	8	.273
A's	2	6	.250
Village Vultures	3	10	.230
Cloister Oysters	3	11	.212
Mohawks	1	8	.111
The Five	0	10	.000
JC Seniors	0	13	.000

Last Week's Action

Monday, February 18

Basketeers 71 ___ The Five 43
Crusaders 56 _ Village Vultures 38
Capitols 64 ___ Lead Baloons 60
Galloping Ghosts 90 _ Giants 39
Dukes 92 ___ Village Vultures 37

Wednesday, February 20

Mohawks 76 _ Cloister Oysters 64
Wolverines 72 _____ Giants 46
Lead Baloons 53 _ Sunbrookers 46

Thursday, February 21

Galloping Ghosts 57 _ Sultans 55
Ubangies 71 _____ Seniors 46
Whips 82 __ Cloister Oysters 54
Basketeers 71 __ Wolverines 64
Dukes 2 _____(forfeit)_____ A's 0

Greenemen Eye Winning Year In Last Game

Tomorow evening the Roaring Lions of Albright College will invade the Juniata hardwood for the first meeting of the two teams since 1910, with the Indians looking for a winning season.

Coach Will Renken's Reading quintet has the edge over the Indians in height and exeprience. The Lions have missed the services of Captain George Conrad and Mike DePaul, Albright's scoring twins for four years who graduated last June, but four holdover letter-men and two former varsity letter-winners remain to form the nucleus of the Red and White.

After 20 games this season the Lions had compiled an 8-12 record. Looking at the record there are several teams that appear that JC has also played. Albright defeated Dickinson twice, F & M, and Gettysburg. The Lions have lost to Bucknell and F &M.

High scoring senior Bruce Riddell, 6-4 center from Lansdowne, has paced the Albright scoring attack, followed closely by 6-2 senior forward Jim Foreman. Both boys handle the brunt of the rebounding chorts. Ernie Firestone, the speedster of the team, has filled the role of playmaker this season, and sophomore Merrill Eckhart, a standout for the JV's last year, has moved into a varsity starting berth. Fred Dietzel from Ephrata, also a sophomore, will probably round out the Berks county five.

With the Indians season record now at 10 wins and 10 losses, Corch Greene's charges will be up for this opportunity to make their last game a victorius one and thus gain a winning stason for Juniata.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy tor the candy concessions.

Shop
The Ray English
Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Good Music...
1150 CLUB
Weekdays 11:15 p.m. to Midnight
WJC
1150

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Juniata's Rustic Philosopher Talks With Interviewer

by Carol Baish

Believe it or not, there is a person on Juniata's campus who, although he never went to school beyond eighth grade, is far more intelligent and probably happier than many of those with umpteen letters after their names.

John Gagermeier, who will be 70 years old in November, came to Pennsylvania from Germany as a boy and has lived in this area ever since. He has helped take care of Juniata's buildings for seven years and is known around the campus for his friendliness and philosophic attitude.

By talking to Gagermeier for a short time one can readily see that there is more to the man than a simple gregarious nature. He has an unbelievable memory for names and dates. Mention almost any historic event and he'll ponder a few minutes, then give the day, month, year and sometimes the day of the week on which it occurred. He will also vounteer interesting sidelights on some happenings.

On A Friday Forenoon

Gagermeier first saw Juniata . . . "on the second day of August in 1912. It was a Friday forenon. He has watched almost a half-century's changes taking place in this area, and, unlike most who reminisce about "the good old days" indicates that he considers nearly all of them changes for the better. He mentioned that he could never understand why they built such an old fashioned building as Cloisters for the men's dorm. Said he, "Why that's like the buildings the Spanish built 400 years before Columbus discovered America."

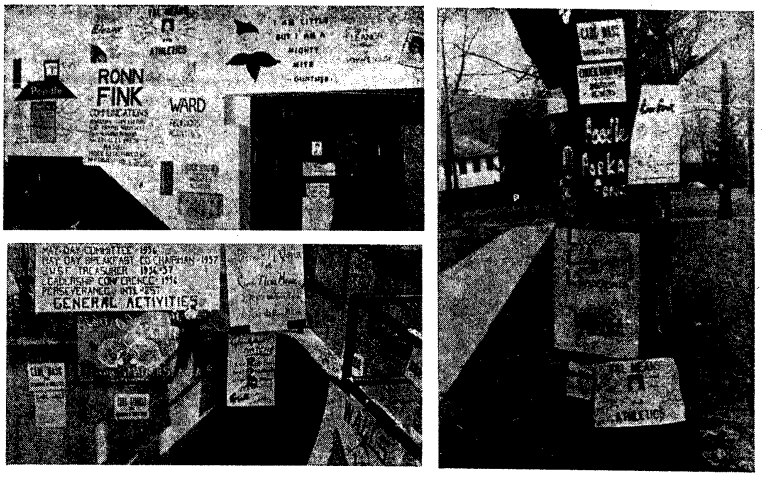
He also remembers when each of the buildings on campus was built, the changes that were made on them and to whom the homs and lands belonged before they were made a part of Juniata's campus. He knew several of the founding fathers and can practically give a complete family tree for each, including birthdays and the dates of their deaths.

In English as flawless as that of far more "educated" people, he told of the generosity of the founding fathers, especially the Brumbaughs, toward the local people. "Whenever someone was sick or out of work," he said, "there would soon be a barrel of food at the door—not a basket, a barrel."

Juniata Finest Place

Obviously, Gagermeier thinks Juniata is about the finest place in the world. He believes that anyone who comes here with a real desire to learn will gain what he feels is the greatest value of education—independence

Gagermeir's philosophies are not new. We have come across them in our reading of Emerson, Thoreau, Shakespeare and countless others and are perhaps inclined to toss them off with a bit of cynicism. However, as John Gagermeier says, "It is a great thing, when one is old, to have a good life—something to hold on to." Here is a man who has made the old wisdom work.



SIGNS OF STUDENT INTEREST— If the many signs and displays that covered the campus during the last two weeks are any indication of Juniatian interest in student government, such concern would seem to be great. This year's chairmanships campaign was the most vigorous in recent years.

Pete Fahrney

Masque Play Lighting To Be Impressionistic

By Elizabeth Shearer

Students who go to see All My Sons wil be treated to a production with an unusual lighting and construction arrangement.

Here is a preview of how the stage will appear opening night.

The scenes take place in the early afternoon, the evening and at 2:00 a. m. This makes it conductive ao impressionistic settings which means that lighting, rather than set construction will depict the changes of scenery.

The properties, which are relatively simple, consists of two white antique benches of Oneida vintage—this refers to their last place of residence. The chairs also have historical significance, being of North Dorm vintage.

Social committee members have been responsible for the white picket fence which encloses the yard and the vine covered trellis which blooms on the right hand side of the stage. Other parts of the yard setting consist of a tree stump, the usual conventional trees and a chip in the fence caused by an awkward crew member.

The Masque production, according to the assistant directors, is coming along nicely and promises to provide an enjoyable night of entertainment on March 9.

Next Week In Chapel

March 4 President Ellis
March 6 Ash Wednesday, Miss Mary Jo Pfotoenhauer, Dean Morley Mays
March 8 Charles Walker, Fellowship of Reconciliation

Debaters Travel To Slippery Rock

The JC debate team will travel for the first time this year when they participate in the tournament at Slippery Rock State Teachers College tomorrow to debate the question "Resolved that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries."

Those participating in the debate wil be Jim Stayer and Dick Livingston on the negative and Ed Brockway and Don Leeking on the affirmative.

Alumni To Gather

The Huntingdon County Juniata Alumni Association will hold its annual dinner Wednesday, March 6, at 6:30 p.m. in Oneida Hall.

Miss Frances Mathias has announced changes in the dining schedule for JC students for that day. Lunch will be served to students at 12:45 p.m. and dinner at 5:15 p.m.

Senator Requests Posy Protection

Ann Willson, chairman of general activities has asked that Juniatians avoid stepping on the flower shoots which are now showing through the ground beside various walks and buildings on campus.

During October, 1956, members of Operation Posy led by Miss Willson planted hundreds of bulbs which will beautify the campus when they grow and bloom this spring.

Students Can Spend Junior Year At NYU

A new plan through which college students can in their junior year, take advantage of the educational opportunities in the New York metropolitan "urban laboratory" will begin in September at New York University's Washington Square College of Arts and Sciences.

The plan calls for the acceptance of a limited number of candidates who have completed their sophomore studies in good standing and have the recommendation of the academic officers of their institution. These students would return as seniors to their own colleges to complete the work for their degrees.

The junior year under the New York program will consist of a combination of regular courses and supervised off-campus study experiences. The University will provide easy access to New York City's unique educational opportunities in the arts, international affairs, social service, business, communications and other fields.

Applications should be submitted no later than May 1 to Associate Dean F. H. McCloskey, Washington Square College of Arts and Science. New York University New York 3, New York.

Colloid Chemistry Contest To Open

The University of Southern California has announced that a contest in colloid and surface chemistry is open to full-time undergraduate students of chemistry and chemical engineering in all accredited colleges and universities in the United States and Canada.

A 5000-word report on original research in the fields of colloid or surface chemistry or an Essay on "The Contribution of Albert Einstein to Colloid Chemistry" may be submitted for a $500 first prize, $200 second prize, $100 third prize or honorable mention prizes of $50. An excellence prize of $1000 may be awarded to the best entry if it satisfies exceptionally high standards.

The contest is being sponsored by the Continental Oil Company of Houston, Texas and Ponca City, Okla. Entry blanks may be obtained immediately from Professor Mysels at the University of Southern California and awards will be announced and distributed by anonymous judges by September 1.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

SPECIAL PURCHASE
Fine Imported Leather
Handbags Made in Italy
3 Styles to Choose From
— Only $5.99 —
DANKS & CO.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Large Selection
Organ Music In Hi Fi
45 and 33⅓ rpm
$1.29 to $3.98
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

HARRIS CLIFTON
LAST 2 DAYS
ALFRED HITCHOCK'S
The Wrong Man
Henry Fonda - Vera Miles
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Errol Flynn
Miss Cornell Burchers
— in —
Istanbul
Cinemascope & Technicolor
— with —
NAT KING COLE
Lief Erickson - Martin Benson
STARTS WED. MARCH 6
FOR 4 DAYS
Anastasia
Cinemascope - Color with
INGRID BERGMAN
Nominated as best actress of the year
YUL BRUNNER
HELEN HAYES
SOON TO FOLLOW ! !
Jayne Mansfield - Tom Ewell
THE GIRL CAN'T HELP IT
GIANT Hudson Dean Liz Taylor

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 19 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, March 8, 1957

Masque To Open With Miller's '47 Broadway Hit

Congressman Quigley Will Speak In Campus Democrat Day Doings

Congressman James Quigley, who upon his defeat in trying for re-election to the House of Representatives became aide to Senator Joseph Clark (D-Pa.), will head activities on Juniata's first Democrat Day later this month.

The exact date and day's agenda has not yet been ascertained, it was reported at Tuesday's Senate meeting, but tentative plans have been made for Congressman Quigley to come to Juniata before mid-term vacation. A representative from the congressional district of President Eisenhower's residence in Gettysburg, Congressman Quigley participated in a program similar to the one planned for Juniata at Gettysburg College last year.

Republican Day also will take place sometime this month, but nothing definite has been announced. On the committee in charge of planning these days is Newt Taylor, Jim Montgomery, Dick Backus and Dr. Kenneth Crosby.

Repairs To College Field

Chairman of athletics-elect Val Means was appointed to head a committee to determine any action the Administration might have in mind on improving College Field during the coming year.

It was also reported that a study program for seniors preparing for comps is being set up in each department.

Operation Continuance

The Senate voted to ask Lee Forney and Jay Maust to head the project of increasing the size of Snowflake Lake. Forney currently is in charge of maintenance of the pond.

Yenter Gives $4,000; Fund Totals $10,000

A $10,000 scholarship fund at Juniata has been completed by John Yenter, Tyrone contractor, with a gift of $4,000 to the college.

Mr. Yenter, whose contracting firm built North Dorm, residence hall for men, established the fund in 1955 "to provide a scholarship for a needy student from Tyrone or Huntingdon."

Ernest Richardson, Spruce Creek, a graduate of Tyrone high school, holds the Yenter scholarship at the present time.

Senate Approves Report On Comps

The Senate-appointed committee on comprehensive examinations has submitted a report which was accepted and approved by the Senate February 7, 1957.

The substance of the committee's report fell under three headings: a request for the ratification of injustice to a certain class of individuals; the presentation of suggestions for the improvement of the educational worth of the comprehensive program; and student educational self-help in the experience of comprehensives.

The committee requested that the faculty carefully and objectively examine and evaluate its suggestions and from that basis proceed to a mature assessment of the examination system. It emphasized one unjustice in regard to the number of students who fail their exams for extraneous reasons despite their previous demonstration of sufficient ability to be worthy of graduation.

Students Cooperate

A recommendation to members of the graduating class urged that students of each department cooperate in an organized program of study and preparation for mutual self-help in attaining a comprehensive educational experience.

Recommendations to the chairmen of departments were: that the faculty chairmen meet with the candidates for the comprehensive program in their department early in the semester for a discussion concerning the general requirements and formal structure of the examination program; and that in each department an absolute standard of passing, failure and distinction be established which corresponds to levels of attainment in that program rather than to levels of improvement or deterioration or any other standard.

The committee called for the setting up of a minimum depart-

See COMP, page 4

Bray, Miller, Schall Direct All My Sons

Arthur Miller's tense drama, All My Sons, will be staged in Oller Hall today and tomorrow at 8:15 p.m.

The play won the New York Drama Critics' Circle Award in 1947 and established Miller as a major contemporary dramatist. It is directed on the Juniata boards by James Bray, Juniata's registrar, assisted by Don Miller and Jan Schall, associate directors.

An intricate plot centers about the family of Joe Keller, small time businessman who is living under a pretext of innocence about certain dishonest moves during the war. The development of a story of crime, love and death and the disaster which comes to a selfish American family is expected to provide an evening of unusually moving entertainment.

Jim Montgomery appears as Joe Keller, who is at last forced to acknowledge his guilt before his son, while Judy Gearhart portrays Kate, his wife, who refuses to accept the reality of the death of Larry her son.

Dick Backus plays the role of Chris Keller, Larry's brother, and Nancy Nevin appears as Anne Deever, formerly Larry's girl. Her return as Chris' fiancee forces Kate to face the actuality of Larry's death.

Supporting players are Clint Betz as George Deever, George Carnahan as Dr. Jim Bayliss,, Judy Barrowclough as Sue Bayliss, Ted Hettrick as Fran Lubey and Marcia Sweet as Lydia Lubey.

Chairman of the various committees helping with the production of the play are Bruce Bennett and Bill Holsinger, lighting; Bob Reader, publicity. Lois Speice, makeup; Eddie Lantz, programs; Dick Livingston and Marjorie Snyder, properties, and Alan Caskey, stage crew. Set construction was done by the play production class led by Charlie Mills and Harry Musselman, while prompters for the play are Mary Shirk and Carol Ann Stiffler.

Pete Fahrney

STARTING TONIGHT IN OLLER HALL—This dress rehearsal shot taken on the set of All My Sons, to be given tonight and tomorrow night in Oller Hall, shows four of the leading actors polishing lines and movement. From left to right are Jim Montgomery, Nancy Nevin, Judy Gearhart and Dick Backus.

Waif Appeals From Depths Of Lost-Found

by Carol Baish

Hello out there. I am sending this appeal from the depths of Juniata's ivy covered, cobwebbed lost and found department among the jetsam and flotsam of unknown students of ages past. My life has not been a happy one. Both my parents died 10 years before I was born and I have been shuttled from one lost and found department to another ever since.

As I write, I am seated on an almost-empty birdcage and occasionally I reflect bitterly on the inconsiderate people in the world. Why couldn't someone lose a chair —or at least an empty beer keg?

I am wearing a large, brown man's jersey over a grey faille polka dot skirt which was found lying on campus in front of Founders Hall one fine, warm day last autumn. My casual ivy-league look is completed by a green and red paisley print neckscarf and a brown leather dogleash belt. The dog long ago gave up in disgust and left.

The lost and found department has the beginning of a fine library: a Bible, a German grammar, Muscatel at Noon, The Portable Rabelais, TheChimes of Normandy and a math notebook. At this point, I am reading the math notebook but the plot leaves something to be desired and anyway, I saw the movie.

Yesterday I found a dissecting kit among the debris; however, there's nothing here to dissect except, come to think of it, an old Davy Crockett hat which by this time must be teeming with fascinating little creatures. I guess I'll start on it when I finish cutting paper dolls out of two checkbooks—one from McVeytown and one from Muncy, both unsigned.

Here I'll remain forever, I guess, —among the five jackets,eight scarves, three belts, seven hats, five pairs of glasses and assorted jewelry. But please, please, before I go stark, staring mad, won't somebody grant my one request? Please lose a mirror!

JC Choir Will Make 3-Stop Tour Sunday

The Juniata College choir will make another Sunday tour to Roaring Spring, Hollidaysburg and Altoona March 10.

Sunday morning the choir will present its concert at Roaring Spring Church of the Brethren.

The First Presbyterian Church in Hollidaysburg will be host to the members of the choir in the afternoon.

In the evening the choir will journey to Altoona to appear at the 28th Street Church of the Brethren.

At each of the churches the choir will present the regular program of religious music. This trip is the second of four scheduled Sunday tours.

Juniata Receives $1,000 Nickel Gift

Juniata has received an "unrestricted gift" of $1,000 from International Nickel Company, Inc., "in recognition of the essential contribution which it is making as one of the participating liberal arts colleges in the combined study programs to the rounded development of well-educated engineers."

The gift came as a direct result of the award of a scholarship to Robert Lee Byers, a former pre-engineering student at Juniata now attending Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Byers of Hagerstown, Md., has received the "INCO 3-2 combined -study program scholarship," according to company officials. He attended Juniata from 1953 to 1956 in the pre-engineering program.

Bruce Bennett

NEARING COMPLETION, the new women's dorm should be ready for occupation by August 15. Rafters are now being erected. When completed, the dorm will house 118 students and will provide facilities for 200 in the dining hall.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 19 — March 8, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

WJC: Service

WJC radio has certainly proved its worth to the campus during the past month.

A constant service to Juniata since it first hit the airwaves in 1954, WJC has from time to time presented interesting special features, but the Indian Broadcasting Co. people outdid themselves to carry the conferences with the presidential candidates and the religious activities candidates, the vote counting proceedings, "Killer" Conley's torch light parade and, most recently, the Krazy Kids vs. The Five basketball game.

Student response to WJC has been amazing. One example of the station's popularity is the mountain of requests that come in every Sunday for records to be played on the D-D (formerly J-J) Show. (Incidentally, station personnel have promised to be more selective in what requests are read over the air.)

This popularity is the result of a number of improvements:

1. Programming — WJC personnel are taking a greater pride in workmanship so that much planning goes into each program.

2. Technical improvements — WJC has the best technical staff ever and these people are really on the ball. A technical defect is corrected as quickly as it occurs.

3. More records — Not only does the station get more records each month than ever before, but Isset's, local music store, has continued allowing WJC to borrow any record they want to supplement the station's library.

4. Deficit Spending — Even though the radio station had to go into debt to do so, they have procured a tape recorder, better tone arms for the record players and new microphones and equipment.

All these improvements have brought WJC a long way from the days when no one was sure just when it would or would not be on the air. Nor have the eager beavers at WJC stopped. In fact, their progress would be even faster if they could find a way to surmount their financial troubles.

But it's a bit hard to pull oneself up by the bootstraps. WJC is trying valiantly, however. The right break for WJC now that the enthusiasm of its staff and of its listeners is so great could allow the still struggling station to take its place among the better small college stations in the nation.

A Cheer For Cheers

AMONG the many on campus that go unheralded in spite of loyal and effective service to the college are our cheerleaders.

With last Saturday's game the squad closed another season, one in which they led the students in urging two winning teams through impressive schedules.

We don't always cheer at every time out, but how quickly we'd notice it if the cheerleaders didn't. And they've never shirked their job. In their free moments the coeds have kept busy selling pop, hot dogs and candy to hungry spectators. They spend many hours practicing, planning rallies and finding rides to away games.

For their pep and spirit, their leadership as spectators and their determination to be a top-knotch organization, the Juniatian salutes our cheerleaders.

Milestone In Athletics

THE introduction of intramural wrestling at Juniata is a significant milestone in the development of the college's program of athletics.

We hope that the initial interest in the new program is fortified by increased participation by Juniata men so that in time intercollegiate wrestling may be listed among the many sports in which our school has been successful.

CAMPUS CAPERS

by Joan McClure

This year's Senate chairmanship elections, especially hard fought, as the vote showed, were characterized by the innovation of several new campaign techniques, the most notable (or notorious) of which was Killer Conley's torch light parade and "band concert," and by the usual caustic comments, cutting sessions, and embarrassing moments.

There was, for instance, the mortified coed, who mistakenly congratulated the loser in one of the races. However that was probably better than saying "Too bad" or "Tough break, we did all we could," to the winner.

* * * *

When it was rumored that one of our knitting addicts was planning to run for Senate, one sarcastic lad quipped, "She'll probably knit all her campaign posters."

* * * *

For the most part, the losers took their defeat in good spirit. There was even talk of a loser's party—something similar to the annual affair they have at Bethume-Cookman College in Florida in honor of all those who have taken the academic heat. It's called The Flunkers' Ball and is actually part of the yearly social calendar.

On The Classroom Front

One of the profs' wives is sitting in on her husband's course in order to review the subject, in which she has her PhD. (she was Phi Beta Kappa.) However, the congenial freshman who sits beside her is unaware of her idenity. "This stuff is pretty rough," he commented to her, "if I can ever help you out, I'll be glad to."

* * * *

Prof, to class: "I am certain that no one but an idiot could ever be absolutely certain of anything."

* * * *

Student on exam paper: "I didn't read the article you are asking about, but if you would like to know what Jones said in his book, here it is . . ."

* * * *

"Winning is not the most important thing," the student agreed with the professor—then added, "It is the only thing."

* * * *

The Razor's Edge

On a coed: "She's so hard up for dates, she even gives green stamps."

On a nondescript male personality: "He's mediocrity on wheels. He excels in nothing but mediocrity."

* * * *

And on a tradition: "Listening hour is quite the thing. I've talked to the students who attend regularly — both of them—and they say it's great."

* * * *

A Macabre Finis

Charles Addams and contemporary cards' humor and sadistic jokes seem to be especially popular lately. Examples: "Daddy, can I go to the store with you?"

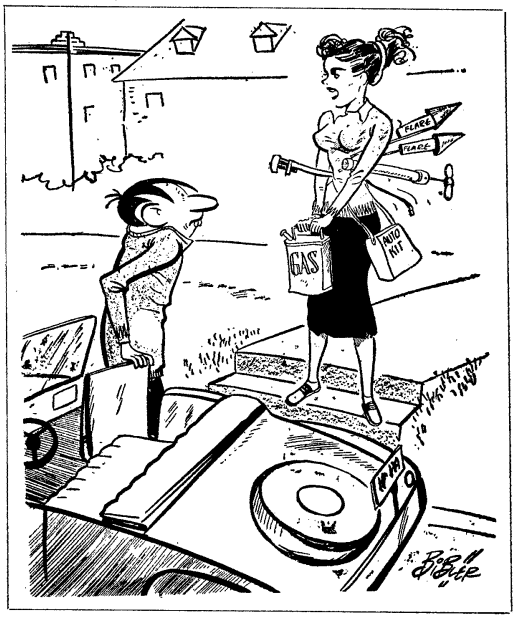
"Wattsa matter with you? You know your iron lung won't fit in the car!"

* * * *

Or "Mommy, can I play the piano?"
"How many times do I have to tell you that your claws scratch the keys?"

* * * *

In line with this collegiate trend, one coed prepared an original cartoon, as a class assignment, showing a small boy with a bleeding wrist stump and a knife in his one hand. His other hand was lying on the floor, and his mother was disdainfully reminding him, "I told you that knife was sharp!"



"READY TO GO?"

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

CLIMAX IN MIDDLE EAST—On Friday Israel's delegate to the United Nations, Mrs. Meir, announced that her nation had decided to withdraw from the disputed territory without the safety assurances it had been demanding. This action is the result of extreme pressure that had been applied to the tiny state and perhaps also because the United States attitude throughout the whole crisis has been one in which Israel can put her trust.

President Eisenhower has said that the U. S. will do what it can to keep the area free from friction. Thus Israel is going on the assumption that the U. S. will not allow her rights to be violated as they have in the past. Let us hope that we don't let her down.

Interest in the Middle East affairs undoubtedly will continue for some time but will be shifted to the broader question of the Eisenhower Doctrine and the Suez Canal. There seems little chance that Nassar will consent to any plan for the Suez Canal that will weaken Egypt's sovereign position. This means that Nassar will be able to stop any nation's shipping that incurs his displeasure.

It is apparent that we haven't heard the last of the Suez crisis. The Eisenhower doctrine has not met with any success as yet, and it seems that is has little chance of ever being of value. At a Cairo conference last week the Arab nations voted down a proposal to support that Doctrine.

As long as Nassar continues as head of the Arab bloc we can expect such opposition and might as well resign ourselves to it. The dangerous tendencies of hot nationalism cannot be cured by a panacea of gold.

—●—

NIXON IN AFRICA—Vive President Richard Nixon is touring eight African states in onather effort to spread the good will of the United States into those areas of the world that are stirring with nationalistic tensions. Nixon stated that his trip demonstrated the broad interest of the United States in an "increasingly important continent."

Probably Mr. Nixon will be criticized for his travels at the taxpayers' expense as he has been in the past. But the truth of the matter is that every time he sits down with a leader of these new nations and impresses on the leader just exactly what America stands for he is performing a service worth 10 times the cost.

—●—

GIVE-AWAY CRAZE—To move to a lighter, yet just as difficult to understand, area of interest, Charles VanDoren has cleaned up nearly 143,000 dollars in prize money on the quiz show Twenty-One. Quiz shows are now giving out nearly a half million dollars a week to lucky contestants. When this craze is going to stop it is hard to say, but right now any ordinary man in the street can change his whole life in a flash with a little luck and a little brain power.

THE Dick Johnson Dutch Boland SHOW

—Requests—

(Have them in Totem Inn by Saturday night)

Sunday 10 p.m. - Midnight

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Play in IM loops last week resulted in decisive victories for the Whips. Close contests with the Mumblers had been expected both in bowling and basketball. Beefelt and Olt led the keglers to a decisive win while Fassnacht and Carl scored 32 and 19 points respectively to provide a 65-47 victory in basketball. These individual performances and the evasiveness of the pins and basket knocked the Mumblers down in both races.

* * * *

The Five have added another verse to It's a Woman's World after their defeat last Monday night. They were attired in classless uniforms. It might be said that the only thing collegiate about them was the buckle on the back of Amidon's trunks. "Easy Ed" could at least appropriate part of his pop corn earnings for a pair of basketball socks. This writer also suggests that next year a scholarship be given to someone who can at least shoot layups in practice.

The Krazy Kids pulled it out in a close one. Accurate shooting by Lowe and Wentzel, heavy play by "Peep" Gipprich, and the dribbling of Norma Hottle left the Five falling over themselves.

Del McQuaide, who kept the Five in the game with his fierce rebounding, was quoted as saying that the Five should get a good lead and then fool around. Where was this lead, Del?

* * * *

I hear Lancaster Co. is forming an IM team next year. I guess, Blough, Leeking, Wenger and company will want to play the girls then too.

IM Wrestling Now Under Way

In Memorial Gym Monday afternoon, another sport was introduced at Juniata. Wrestling, on an intramural basis, was started with the first bouts of the double elimination tournament that Doug Wilson, chairman of athletics, has set up to run this week and next.

The tournament has been set up with seven weight classes. A participant must be defeated twice before he is eliminated. Each bout is six minutes long.

Monday's Results

137 lbs. Jerry Williams decisioned Chic Henry, 5-4

145 lbs. Joe Senft pinned Chuck Brown

155 lbs. Joe Trimber decisioned Jack Shaffer, 15-8

165 lbs. Lee Forney won by forfeit from Dale Howe

175 lbs. Charlie Haines decicioned Dale Baugher, 3-2

175 lbs. Dick Johnson pinned Joe Collins

Hvyw. Frank Rocco pinned Jim Healy

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

SOPHOMORES
YOUR JUNIOR YEAR IN NEW YORK?

See your dean or write for brochure to:

Dean F. H. McCloskey
Junior Year Program
Washington Square College
New York University
New York 3, N. Y.

Five Stunned In KK's Win By One Point

Carol Jenkin's Last Ditch Shot Decides Close Game

by Carl Wass

Carol Jenkins' two-hand set shot at the final buzzer climaxed a come-from-behind rally by the Krazy Kids and enabled them to defeat The Five 40-39, in one of the most stunning upsets ever witnessed on the JC campus.

The favored Five took an early lead and, though never leading by more than four points at any time, seemed assured of a win. But the unexpected floor play of the Krazy Kids, spearheaded by Norma Hottle and Jeanette Lowe, proved to be too much for The Five as they suffered their 16th.

"Easy Ed" Brockway, star of the Five, when asked to comment on the game replied, "We were just beaten by a better team." Incidently, "Easy Ed," as expected, was the outstanding player for The Five, giving numerous assists to his teammates while tying for high scoring honors himself. Ed, Mike Martin, and Ross Nahrgang each had eight points, and every other member of the Five scored at least one field goal in a fine team effort.

Norma Hottle High Scorer

High scorer for the Krazy Kids, with 16, was Norma Hottle, whose driving push shots and dribbling tactics had The Five baffled throughout the game. Jeanette Lowe's long arching one hand push shots also hit with consistency, and she emerged from the game with 10 points, second highest scorer for the evening.

The highest of the evening however, was the Five's cheerleading squad consisting of Phyl Marcocci, Joyce Ann White, Ann Willson and Marcia Sweet. These four girls led the crowd in cheering in order to spur their heroes forward, but their cheers were in vain as The Five fell before the superior Krazy Kids sextet.

Whips Take Mumblers In Court Attraction

In the pre-varsity intramural basketball action Saturday evening, the second place Whips defeated the Mumblers, 65-48, to put these two teams tied, behind the undefeated Dukes.

In Monday's action outstanding performances were turned in by Dave Suloff, who scored 26 points to lead the Crusaders; and Horace Carl, who tallied 30 points for the Whips.

Bryan Stauffer, with 25 points, led the Galloping Ghosts in a victory and turned the night's best scoring total.

Last Week's Action

Monday February 25

Galloping Ghosts 54 Mohawks 46
Dukes 67 Giants 41
Wolverines 53 Village Vultures 51
Crusaders 78 Six-60's 37
Whips 83 Lead Balloons 77

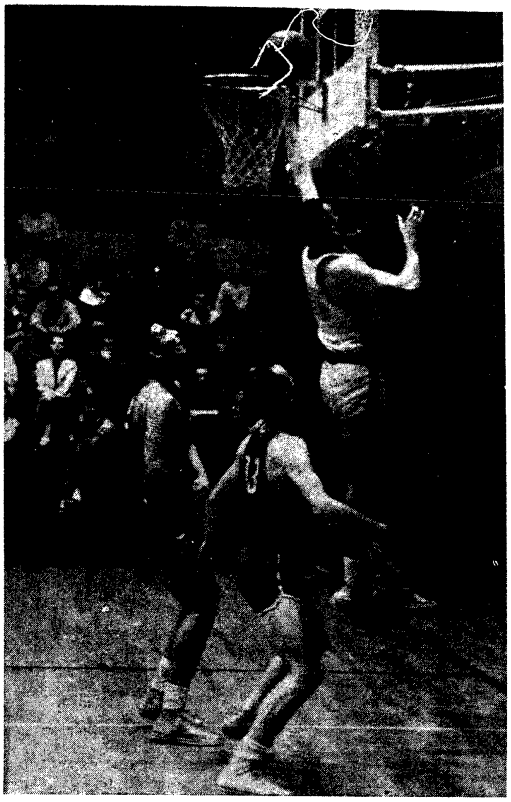
Wednesday, February 27

Cloister Oysters 62 Village Vultures 50
Lead Baloons 51 Basketeers 49
Capitols 58 Wolverines 47
Dukes 71 Crusaders 45

Thursday, February 28

Sultans 73 JC Seniors 49
Galloping Ghosts 63 Basketeers 49
Dukes 98 Mohawks 51
Capitols 63 Village Vultures 49
Wolverines 70 The Five 58
Mumblers 98 Ubangies 32

Dukes	15	0
Mumblers	15	1
Whips	13	1
Sultans	11	3
Galloping Ghosts	11	3
Lead Baloons	12	4
Crusaders	11	7
Capitols	8	6
Ubangies	8	6
Sunbrookers	8	6
Basketeers	7	7
Giants	6	9
A's	4	6
Wolverines	6	10
Village Vultures	4	12
Six-60's	4	14
Cloister Oysters	3	11
Mohawks	1	12
JC Seniors	0	15
The Five	0	15



Rick Bell

McLAUGHLIN LAYS IN TWO—Barney McLaughlin tallies two more of his 376 points, which led the scoring parade for the season's Indian five. The action is taking place in Juniata's victory over Albzright.

Indian Varsity, Junior Varsity Statistics Give Season Story

Varsity Scoring

	G	FG	FT	FM	Tot.
McLaughlin	21	144	135	88	376
White	21	137	97	57	331
Burchfield	21	139	59	46	324
Armstrong	21	106	99	79	291
Ewald	21	65	39	17	147
Ewers	19	36	30	15	87
Wertz	18	13	10	7	33
Yun	8	8	6	4	20
Quarantillo	8	5	7	6	16
Miller	9	5	5	1	11
Gardner	7	2	3	1	5
Dungan	4	0	2	2	2
Rocco	2	0	2	2	2
McCauley	2	1	1	0	2
DeNicola	3	0	0	0	0

Varsity Record

Juniata 80 Lock Haven 66
Juniata 69 F & M 79
Juniata 68 Ursinus 52
Juniata 89 Shippensburg 80
Juniata 81 Indiana STC 94
Juniata 50 Bucknell 67
Juniata 76 Susquehanna 79
Juniata 84 Westminister 93
Juniata 75 Dickinson 64
Juniata 64 Lycoming 58
Juniata 68 Gettysburg 81
Juniata 95 Wilkes 69
Juniata 73 Susquehanna 59
Juniata 96 Indiana STC 93
Juniata 70 Elizabethtown 80
Juniata 112 Dickinson 96
Juniata 69 Elizabethtown 81
Juniata 83 American U. 93
Juniata 84 Lycoming 72
Juniata 75 Geneva 83
Juniata 86 Albright 69

Junior Varsity Scoring

	G	FG	FT	FM	Tot.	Av.
Dungan	15	76	111	76	228	25.2
Gardner	16	83	82	62	228	14.3
Yun	16	84	26	10	178	11.1
Sipes	16	46	56	37	129	8.1
Krause	13	38	48	26	102	7.8
Blair	14	27	25	18	72	5.1
Beers	15	22	16	10	54	3.6
McCauley	5	20	18	9	49	9.8
Rocco	13	16	13	7	39	3.0
Madden	9	8	11	6	22	2.4
Staley	4	6	2	0	12	3.0
Hain	2	3	6	4	10	5.0
Pearse	2	1	2	0	2	1.0

Junior Varsity Record

Juniata 62 Lock Haven 65
Juniata 57 F & M 55
Juniata 65 Shippensburg 69
Juniata 44 Indiana STC 53
Juniata 74 Bucknell 71
Juniata 84 Susquehanna 62
Juniata 96 Altoona UC 63
Juniata 67 Dickinson 54
Juniata 82 Lycoming 62
Juniata 68 Susquehanna 57
Juniata 74 Indiana STC 79
Juniata 75 Elizabethtown 66
Juniata 62 Dickinson 49
Juniata 75 Elizabethtown 65
Juniata 68 Lycoming 62
Juniata 84 Bethany Biblical Sem. 68

KOUGHS JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Tribemen End Winning Year; Down Albright

Chet White Garners 24; Last Win Sets Log 11-10

Juniata Indians closed a winning (11-10) basketball season Saturday night with an impressive, 86-69, win over the Red and White of Albright College in Memorial Gymnasium.

The Indians, who never trailed in the contest, played an all-around sterling game and were especially accurate in the shooting department. They led 20-10 at the end of the first 10 minutes and 44-28 at the half. During the first 10 minutes of the second half they acquired 19 points to nine of Albright and by this time had an insurmountable, 63-37, lead.

Big man in the Juniata attack was freshman Chet White, who played a tremendous game, rebounding, guarding, and stealing the ball. He ended up high man for the evening with 24 points, 18 of which were acquired in the first half. Co-captains Mike Armstrong and Bernard McLaughlin each chipped in with 18 points, while Bob Ewald contributed 16 points.

The victory over Albright gave the Indians a winning season, with 11 wins and 10 losses. Seven of the victories were on the home court while only four games were on foreign floors. The junior varsity coached by Joe DeNicola and "Doc" Kramer also ended up a successful season with a 12-4 slate.

Whips Still Lead IM Bowling Loop; Defeat Mumblers

The Whips, current leaders of the intramural bowling league, had little trouble in disposing the Dutch Mumblers, 3-0, last Friday evening. Led by Neil Beefelt's 326 and Arnold Olt's 315, the Whips set a record for total pins in two games, 1418. Paul DeSesso was high for the Mumblers with a 265.

In other action, the Admirals defeated the 4D & C keglers, 2-1, and the Alley Kats won by forfeit from the Prophets, 3-0.

Standings

	Won	Lost
Whips	18	0
Crusaders	16	2
Team B	7	2
Admirals	12	6
Dutch Mumblers	7	5
Skizos	6	6
Keystoners	7	8
JC Seniors	4	5
Ten Pins	8	10
Alley Kats	6	12
4 D & C	2	19
Prophets	0	18

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

• Harriet Fitzgerald •
Artist and Lecturer

Fitzgerald Brings 20-Picture Display To Chapel Monday

Harriet Fitzgerald, an artist and lecturer, will appear Monday, March 11, in chapel and in the classroom.

Miss Fitzgerald is director of New York's Abingdon Square Painters, a group of professional artists and students. She began her study of painting when she was 11 years old and she has studied both in this country and in Europe. Since then she has had several one-man shows and has participated in group exhibitions.

The chapel program will deal with the art of the 1950s and an analysis of the significance of abstraction and surrealism in contemporary art. She will speak to the modern art class on what is new in modern art. Miss Fitzgerald will also exhibit approximately 20 paintings by the Abingdon Square Painters.

Comp Committee Completes Report

Continued from page 1

mental average as prerequisite to participate in the comprehensive program, and recommended that the program be given sufficiently early in the term to enable those who fail, presumably for extraneous causes, to retake it and pass in time to be graduated at the end of the same term. It also suggested that faculty members considered for the position of administrative representative be given an opportunity to decline to participate in the comprehensive program of any department with whose subject matter they do not feel themselves sufficiently familiar.

One Mold Be Abandoned

The report also included the suggestion that the attempt to force the comprehensive educational experience into one mold be abandoned and that the personnel of each department be authorized to construct the comprehensive program in accordance with the requirements of the subject matter of that department. A suggestion was made that when the time involved in any of these departmental programs should be noticeably in excess of the student time required in the present comprehensive program, passing of the program should contribute a proportionate number of credit hours toward graduation.

The committee, which included Larry Davis, Jacque Hayes, Carol Newborg, Jim Stayer, Newt Taylor and Joyce White, concluded its report with a recommendation that there be one constant factor in the comprehensive program—a general comprehensive test section testing the student's knowledge of the broader scope of a liberal arts education.

Senate Asks Grads For Old Beach Wear

Know any old grads who have access to attics with their long-forgotten trunks?

If so, push your way through the dust, cobwebs and rare antiques, dig out some of those provocative bathing suits of grandmother's day and send them to Juniata.

Old fashioned bathing suits that can be lent would be greatly appreciated They are needed for a May Day fashion show May 4.

Anyone who can lend bathing suits is asked to notify Ann Willson, box 164, as soon as possible.

Lenten Offerings Go To World Fund

In keeping with the theme of Lent, the JCA has placed Lenten offering boxes on the tables in the dining hall, the funds from which will be contributed to One Great Hour of Sharing, a worldwide relief program.

If each student contributes one penny a meal during Lent, the total amount will be around $600. Under this program $1 will provide a child with vitamins for five months and $5 will provide children with a glass of milk every day for a year.

Doyle To Make Two-Week Tour Of Colleges Beginning March 18

Miss Esther Doyle, associate professor of English at Juniata, will make a two-week personal appearance tour this month for the arts program of the Association of American Colleges.

During her tour, Miss Doyle will present lecture recitals and dramatic presentations. In addition, she will serve as a consultant to students interested in dramatics and speech at the various institutions.

Miss Doyle will open her tour at Indiana Central College March 18-19 and will next appear at Simpson College, Iowa, March 21-22. The remainder of her itinerary is: March 24-25, College of St. Benedict, Minnesota; March 26-27, Baker University, Kansas; March 28-29, Manchester College, Indiana.

Well known for her direction of successful plays given by the Masque in past years, Miss Doyle has been a visiting professor for the arts program of the Association of American Colleges for several seasons. She has given programs on college campuses in many parts of the country.

Next Week In Chapel

March 11 — Harriet Fitzgerald artist

March 13 — Touring Choir

March 15 — Counterpart
Herman Chessid, harpsichord;
Frans Reynders, mime.

Pete Fahrney

CURSES, FOILED AGAIN—The high flying antics of Norma Hottle and Mike Martin in the above proved to be just one of the many tense, stirring moments of the Krazy Kids—The Five contest Monday. Although Del McQuaide legged it down the floor for the tap and eventual basket, the Krazy Kids skirted by the winless Five.

Reynders, Chessid Show Will Appear In Chapel Friday

Frans Reynders, pantominist and Herman Chesid, harpsichordist will combine their talents March 15 at 10 a.m. and at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Reynders, a native of Holland, studied the art of pantomine with Jean Loius Barrault and Etienne Decroux, the teacher of Marcel Marceau.

His interest lay in the field of pantomine, classical music and the harpsichord. He often felt that a combination of literature and the harpsichord would provide an ideal auditory world in which he could make good use of his mimes.

Reynders' dream became a reality when he came to the United States and met Herman Chessid.

With his background in composition and his experience as a recording and performing artist Chessid was able to clarify musical forms which could be used as a basis for Reynders' abstract and narrative mimes.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT
Anastasia
INGRID BERGMAN
YUL BRUNNER
HELEN HAYES
Cinemascope & Technicolor
MON - TUES - WED
The Girl Can't Help It
Technicolor - Cinemascope
Jayne Mansfield
Edmund O'Brien - Tom Ewell and a host of Rock N' Rollers
THUR - FRI - SAT
Top Secret Affair
— with —
Kirk Douglas - Susan Hayward
Coming Wednesday March 20
Giant
Elizbeth Taylor
Rock Hudson - James Dean

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

JUST ARRIVED
20 NEW SINGLE 45 RPM by
Harry Belafonte
Calypso and Folk Songs
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 20 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, March 15, 1957

Administration Asks WJC To Close

Over-radiation Reason For Action; WJC Directors Seeking Remedy

WJC, Juniata's radio station, was requested by the Administration to leave the air Friday, March 8, because of "radiations beyond the limits prescribed by the Federal Communications Commission."

Dean Morley Mays, who acted in the absence of President Ellis in requesting this action, said, "We have had reports from people who have picked up WJC programs in downtown Huntingdon, notably JC's Treasurer John Fike, whose car radio brought in the broadcast, and Bill Germann of WHUN."

See editorial, why WJC Stopped Broadcasts, page 2.

Legally, the station is permitted to radiate 137 feet from the wires but evidently this is sufficient for the waves to reach town power lines and thus be transmitted downtown. Under FCC regulations, this is reason for a 10,000 dollar fine to be imposed on the college if the situation is not rectified after three warnings.

No Warning Yet

Although WJC has received no warnings, the Administration felt the action expedient, as Dean Mays put it, "as a precautionary measure until WJC's power can be cut down to legal limits."

George Carnahan, the station's manager, said that shutting down the station was the only thing that could have been done under the circumstances and that plans are now under way to remedy the situation. He mentioned the "very slight" possibility that WJC may obtain permission from the FFC to broadcast through the air and thus do away with wires completely.

Test Broadcasts

The power of the transmitter has already been lowered as much as possible and test broadcasts are being made. If this masure does not prove successful it will be necessary to install coaxial cable to the dorms eliminating all outside reception.

Carnahan said that WJC will remain off the air until these technical problems are solved and added, "I would like to emphasize the fact that the Administration is not at fault in this matter. If the blame must be put somewhere, put it on us."

JC Tradition, Move-Up Day To Be Friday

Juniata's traditional Move-up Day ceremonies, when new senators take office, new clubs and class officers assume their duties and each class takes on a higher rank, will be held Friday, March 22.

The ceremony will take place in Oller Hall during the regular chapel period with President Ellis giving the invocation. Following Jim Stayer's introduction and installation of new senators, Del McQuaide will make a few brief remarks and Al Blough will introduce new class officers and club presidents.

President Ellis, Senate advisors and old and new Senate members will lead the recessional to Founders Porch followed by the classes leaving in their respective order from seniors to freshmen. Seniors and juniors will gather in front of Oller Hall, sophomores on the Cloister side and freshmen in the parking lot.

Next, the seniors will line the front walk, the juniors will stand along the walk from Founders Porch to Students Hall and the sophomores will line the diagonal which the class of '60 will now be permitted to use. The freshmen will then proceed up the side steps on Founders Porch and down the front steps where they will be led in several cheers.

To conclude the program, which was planned by Ann Willson, chairman of general activities, all Juniatians will sing the first verse of the Alma Mater.

Next Week In Chapel

March 18 — President Ellis
March 20 — Blood Bank
March 22 — Move-up Day

Social Committee Stages Last Fling

Guys, grab your gals (or colleens) and come to the Leprechaun Leap Saturday, March 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the women's gym.

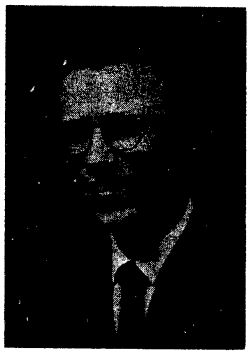
The dance, the 1956-'57 social committee's last fling, will be held in an Irish atmosphere and will feature a cake walk and hi-fi records. June O'Gray, chairman of social activities for the year 1956-'57, has announced that the stag-or-drag dance will be a dressy affair.

Daughter Of Ellis Planning To Wed

President and Mrs. Ellis have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne, to Ronald Cherry, son of Mrs. Charles Cherry, of Lewistown.

Miss Ellis is a graduate of the Walnut Hill School, Natick, Mass., and of Wooster College, Wooster, Ohio. She is a graduate student in the department of history of Columbia University, New York.

Cherry who is the instructor in economics at Augustatan College, Rock Island, Ill., was graduated summa cum laude from Juniata, received his master's degree from Princeton University and is a candidate for the degree of doctor of philosophy at Princeton. An August wedding is planned.



● Peter Wright ●
To Present Recital

Junior Music Major Peter Wright To Give Piano Recital Sunday

Peter Wright, junior music major from Bridgeton, N. J., will present a piano recital Sunday, March 17, at 2:30 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Wright, who began piano lessons at the age of four under the tutorship of his father, is now a pupil of Mrs. Michael Tinkham, JC's asistant professor of music.

Parents Active Musicians

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright, are active musicians in Bridgeton, and are engaged in teaching in the Wright Music Studios. Last spring they composed and produced a musical show, One for the Heart, and are presently at work on another show to be produced this spring.

Wright has been active in music on JC's campus as a member of the college band, orchestra and chapel choir This year he was co-director of the junior class All Class Night production and has played before a number of Huntingdon groups both as soloist and accompanist.

At present Wright is conducting the choir of the Huntingdon Presbyterian Church and the choir of the Allensville Lutheran Church. Next year he will compose and direct the production of Juniata's fall musicale.

Included on his program will be: Prelude and Fugue 5, J. S. Bach; Sonata No. 2, Op. 2, Beethoven; Ballade in A flat and Nocturne in B, Chopin; Garden in the Rain, Debussy; Galeidoscope Op. 18, Eugene Goossens; and Prelude No. 3, Gershwin.

Damage Bills Cause Complaints From Men

A host of North Dorm men crowded the building's lobby Wednesday night to protest the recent assessment by the Administration for "damages" to the men's rooms.

Charges and fines had been handed out for putting cellophane tape on the furnishings in the rooms, and for damages for which charges had been previously made, various of those attending protested.

Leaders at the meeting urged North Dorm residents to carry their complaints to Treasurer John Fike.

Senators Listen To Hayes' Second Anthem Attempt

Jacque Hayes, chairman of the alma mater committee, brought a second possible new alma mater to Tuesday evening's Senate meeting.

A "more stalwart - sounding work" than the one brought before the Senate several weeks ago, the latest contribution to replace the present alma mater was preferred by half the Senate. The other half preferred the first proposed song because it was, as one of them stated, "more collegiate." Miss Hayes' committee will decide which composition is superior.

Pete Wright has been approved by President Ellis as writer and director of next fall's student musicale.

The Faculty has sent a copy of the report of the Senate committee on comprehensives to the academic policy committee. Dean Morley Mays is chairman of that committee.

Senate To Have Booth

Chairman of social activities June Gray announced that the Spring Carnival will be held April 6. The new Senate appointed Bonnie Gunther, Janice Gilroy and Gini Nixdorf to decide what sort of booth the Senate will have at the event.

Last year's spring carnival, an innovation here, was held in the women's gym. The various clubs sponsored booths, prizes, refreshments and entertainment.

Spencer Ward, new chairman of religious activities, was asked by the Senate to request that the Administration have the piano in Founders Chapel tuned.

Treasury Report Says '57 Richest

The class of '57 is the wealthiest on campus, Senate treasurer Bill Hershberger stated in a report on the central treasury last month.

The seniors have $158.87. The sophomores are second with $139.93, while the juniors have $73.63 and the freshmen $26.10.

CJ Council Convenes, Considers Referrals, Prepares Mock Trial

Since the beginning of February, the Campus Judiciary has met six times, including two business meetings and four special sessions, and has considered six referrals.

At its March business meeting, the Judiciary voted to stage a public mock trial the first week of April in order that the electorate can get a better idea of procedure before chosing the four members-at-large to the 1957-58 Judiciary.

Meg Goodrich, assisted by Henry Gibbel and Joan McClure is in charge of this mock trial, the details of which will be announced next week.

Amend By-Law

Another action which the group took was to amend by-Law I, subsection A, to read "At its first regular meeting, if a quorum is present, the Judiciary shall select a secretary, who shall be either the junior or senior girl elected representative." This action was taken because it was felt that the secretary's job would be too time consuming for either of the deans or the Senate or Administration representatives.

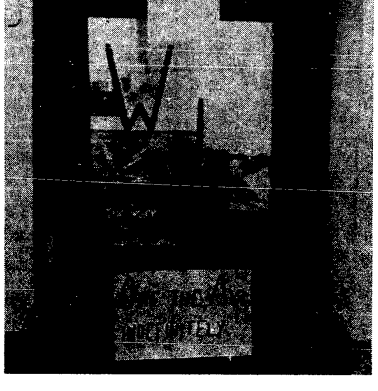
It was decided to recommend to the '57-'58 Judiciary that one of the other elected representatives be chosen to act as publicity chairman, in charge of writing Juniatian articles and publicizing open meetings.

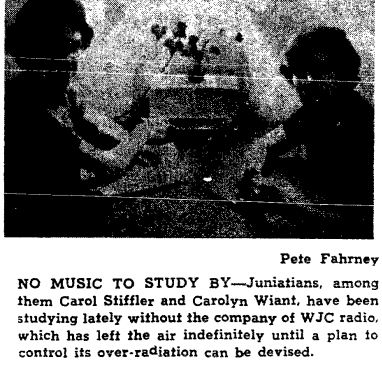
Reports were heard from the house chairman, concerning the actions taken by the dorm disciplinary councils during the past month. These reports are required monthly.

Anyone Can Refer

Rounding out the March agenda was a discussion on the nature of case referrals. The Judiciary, having been criticized for acting only on referrals from the Administration, would remind the student body that the Judiciary Constitution specifically states that "In-

See COUNCIL, page 4





Pete Fahrney

NO MUSIC TO STUDY BY—Juniatians, among them Carol Stiffler and Carolyn Wiant, have been studying lately without the company of WJC radio, which has left the air indefinitely until a plan to control its over-radiation can be devised.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall, Rene Dimmick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Photographers — Bruce Bennett, Rick Bell, Stan Davis, Pete Fahrney.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 20 — March 15, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Why WJC Stopped Broadcasts

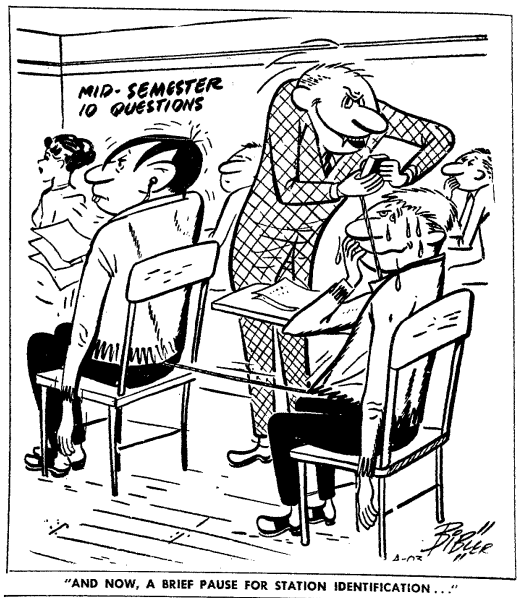
THE Administration's suggestion that WJC leave the air until it solves its problem of limiting the area of coverage came as a shock to all of us.

WJC is a carrier-current station whose signal does not travel primarily through the air, but along a wire to each of the main dorms. A mathematical ratio shows that WJC's signal is allowed to radiate through the air only 137 feet. It seems that this is enough for the signal to be picked up by the city power lines, and thus WJC can be picked up in many parts of town.

WJC exists by the grace of the Federal Communications Commission, an agency of the federal government endowed with vast authority over the nation's communications. Its rules are necessarily very rigid. The one WJC supposedly is breaking is backed by a 10,000-dollar fine. (However, three warnings are given first, and WJC has received none.)

Realizing that WJC was being picked up downtown and having been informed about the fine, the Administration last Friday agreed that WJC should leave the air until its signal could be better controlled.

Now WJC technicians are checking to see if WJC can get permission to send its signal through the air (and junk the carrier current system). Their only other choice is to install expensive coaxial cable, a line that will not allow the signal to escape into the air.



"AND NOW, A BRIEF PAUSE FOR STATION IDENTIFICATION . . ."

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

BOHLEN TO MANILA — United States Ambassador to the Soviet Union Charles Bohlen is going to be transferred from Moscow to Manila capital of the Philippines. Replacing him will be the present ambassador to Vienna, Llewellyn Thompson, Jr.

It is understandable that Bohlen wants a change after four long and hard years of dealing with the Soviets, but not quite so understandable why he was removed so completely from the Soviet orbit. Bohlen is the United States' number one expert on the Soviet Union and perhaps should be at least kept in Europe. From Moscow to Manila is quite a jump down as far as the world power situation is concerned.

It seems that the administration knows what a capable man he is, but they after all have a responsibility to play the time-honored game of politics. The embassies in London, Paris, Rome, Bonn, Brussels and the Hague are going to be staffed with "deserving Republicans." Career men like Bohlen and others must waste their experience and proved talents in Manila, Panama or even Rangoon probably.

The tensions of the world and the fact that it is getting smaller every day necessitate that America be represented abroad by her most able men. To give important diplomatic posts to men because they filled your coffers during a political campaign shows that a basic contradiction exists in the ideals of those men in Washington who are supposedly searching and sweating for a way to ensure world peace. No one can deny that U. S. diplomacy absolutely should not become involved in our internal politics.

—●—

SOVIET ATOM BLAST — Last Saturday Washington announced that the Soviet Union had set off another nuclear bomb. This is the fifth explosion in a series that began last August 24. Actually this is not news because atomic explosions in the Soviet Union have become quite common. But it points up the fact that there is not as yet any agreement among the world powers to stop making atomic and hydrogen bombs and to pledge never to use them in war.

Various proposals have been raised on both sides, but nothing ever came of any of them. It seems to me that efforts should be renewed in this area. This time the powder keg is so big that there may not be a second chance.

—●—

RABBLE ROUSER IN SOUTH — The seemingly demented John Kasper is still preaching his hate frenzy and racial discrimination craze throughout the South. He is the same man who singlehandedly caused the uproar in Clinton, Tenn., over racial integration in public schools. Everywhere he appears he attracts large crowds of narrow, bigoted people who characterize a certain type of southern society.

He has switched his emphasis slightly of late. Now he includes Jews in his hate campaign.

This man's mind is so involved in fantsay that he has accused President Eisenhower of being part Negro, to the thundering approval of the southern gentry. That the opponents of racial integration must look to such a man for support is the surest sign yet that racial integration will inevitably come to the South.

PERFORMANCE SLATED TONIGHT—Herman Chessid, harpsicordist, and Frans Reynders, pantominist, will again perform in Oller Hall this evening at 8:15 p.m. They appeared in chapel this morning.

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Barb McIntyre

An expert from The Westminster Holcad proves to be interesting rambling data.

Semantics Department —

"I tipped my louse cage to this frail, and I flashed a roll of toad hides and told her I was no mud hen or a dingaling but just riding the wave, and she looked at me like I was a Crow McGee; but she turned out to be a goofball who belched, and I was yeffled by the fuzz." All this is carnival dialect which may startle audiences who see Columbia's Jeanne Engles with carnival man Jeff Chandler and Kim Novak. Here's the rough translation for English-speaking audiences: "I tipped my hat to this woman, flashed a roll of bills and told her I was no yokel or carnival-happy type but just a lucky carnival worker, and she looked at me as if I were no good; she turned out to be an unpredictable girl who informed police, and I was arrested by officers."

Just what any respecctable girl would have done.

* * * *

Two Arabs were arguing as they came out of a movie theater in which they had just seen The Eternal Triangle.

"I don't get it," said one. "Why didn't he marry both of them?"

* * * *

After many painful years of research, the history or the joke has been compiled by The Lycoming Courrier.

Birth: A freshman thinks it up and chuckles with glee, waking up two fraternity men in the back row.

Age five minutes: Freshman tells it to senior who answers, "Yeah, it's funny, but I've heard it before."

Age one day: Senior turns it into college humor mag.

Age 10 days: Editor has to fill magazine, prints joke.

Age one month: Thirteen college comics reprint joke.

Age 10 years: Seventy-six radio commedians discover joke simultaneously, tell it accompanied by howls of mirth from boys in the orchestra.

Age 20 years: Joke is reprinted in Reader's Digest.

Age about 100 years: Professors start telling it in class.

* * * *

Quotable Quotes from The Swarthmore Phoenix

"In college one must avoid rash generalizations and stick to general rationalizations."

Prof. to flunking student: "I like your attitude; it's so obvious that you're not just looking for a good grade."

"A year ago, I was an insignificant sophomore. But I knew what I wanted and was willing to work for it, and now—Just a few short months later—I'm an insignificant junior."

* * * *

He who laughs last may laugh best but he soon gets the reputation for being stupid.

Baby Sitters' Wages

SOME complaint about the "college rate" for baby sitting has been raised by coeds who from time to time mind area youngsters while their parents are out.

It seems that the Administration "suggests" that sitters be paid 35 cents an hour, a rate that is no doubt the lowest in the nation for this occupation. There are, of course, many parents who pay the sitters 50 cents an hour or who add a tip to the "standard" rate, while others go by what the college suggests.

Dean Bechtell stated last week that sitters are not required to watch children for any rate proposed by the college. They are free to charge what they like. However, she pointed out that the demand for sitters is not so great as the supply, and coeds who charge more than 35 cents may be without a job.

Furthermore, it does not seem likely that the "suggested rate" will be raised, but coeds are not obliged to baby sit for any rate just because it was established by the college.

Memo—

TO TREASURER JOHN FIKE — North Dorm men aren't breaking up the furniture in the building's lounge. "Guests" from other living areas, who aren't used to such fine furnishings, have forgotten how to use them. Therefore sending notes to North Dorm about it will not do much good.

* * *

TO DIETICIAN MISS FRANCES MATHIAS — It seems that a majority of Juniatians don't care for fish dinners every Friday night. What they do seem to like is spaghetti (witness the crowds at the Penn Hunt). Perhaps you could start serving spaghetti (Penn Hunt style, of course) Friday nights. The Penn Hunt does it for 50 cents. Those who don't eat meat wouldn't have to eat the meat balls.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The spring sports schedules begin the first week of April and preparations are already taking place in Memorial Gym.

* * * *

The tennis team is readying for one of its biggest schedules. It will play 10 matches including Pitt and Bucknell plus the Middle Atlantics.

* * * *

Prospects are not the greatest for Coach McFadden's team. Several members from last year are unable to play due to various reasons. This leaves a nucleus of three lettermen — Randall, Ruhl, and McQuaide—to carry the load. The remaining berths will be wide open to newcomers. The strongest contenders will probably come from Freshman Rick Bell and Curt Gardner or upperclassmen who have proved their merit in IM play. Among them, Don Murdoch, "Bib" Staley, and Arnold Olt should all have a good chance.

* * * *

Despite this big schedule, losses, and inexperience, the Indians should not do as bad as it may sound. The fact that Penn State and Carnegie Tech are not on the schedule this year is a big factor in their favor. The Indians have a very good chance of at least breaking even and may even surprise everyone with another winning season for JC.

* * * *

The golf situatio appears darker yet than tennis, Bill Germann can count on three lettermen — Staley, Mumma and Hite—but it is not yet known if Staley and Mumma can play regularly. Of the freshman crop, only Jay Gettig has survived probation. Gettig, incidentlly, appears set for a regular spot. Beefelt, Burchfield and Mullen will probably round out the squad. Anyone interested should definitely try out. The first match is April 1, in Baltimore, Md., with Johns Hopkins.

What's this we hear about a Portage team entering the gym twice in a recent game?

IM Basketball Loop Closing; Final Week

Juniata's intramural basketball loop went into its final week with the first and last place positions yet to be decided.

In Saturday's action, Steve French and Dick Johnson scored 25 and 23 points respectively to lead the fourth place Sultans over the Five, and Alan Custer chalked up 23 for the Lead Balloons as they dropped the Crusaders, 72-54.

Tom Cassilly hit 22, and Dick Lantzy 21 to pace the Wolverines to a 78-39 victory over the Mohawks on Monday, and Don Ross rolled up 20 as the Capitols trounced the A's 61-40.

Last Weeks' Action

Sunbrookers 45—Giants 30
Sultans 84—Five 53
A's 59—Village Vultures 13
Lead Balloons 72—Crusaders 54
Wolverines 70—JC Seniors 32

Monday, March 4

Dukes 68—Sunbrookers 46
Capitols 61—A's 40
Wolverines 78—Mohawks 39
Sultans 76—Giants 39
Lead Balloons 56—Galloping Ghosts 44

Wednesday, March 6

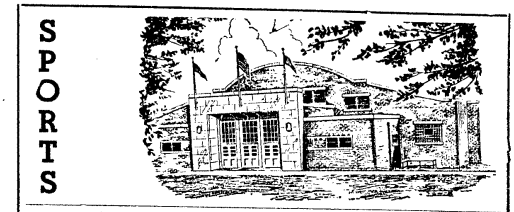
Crusaders 75—Five 26
Basketeers 71—Mohawks 49
Ubangies 59—A's 55
Whips 98—JC Seniors 66
Dukes 73—Sultans 55

Saturday, March 9

Basketeers 73—JC Seniors 43
Mumblers 55—Wolverines 48
Village Vultures 56—Ubangies 48
Sultans 54—Lead Balloons 48
Capitols 62—Mohawks 38

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Dukes	17	0
Mumblers	16	1
Whips	14	1
Sultans	13	4
Galloping Ghosts	11	4
Lead Balloons	13	5
Crusaders	12	7
Ubangies	16	6
Capitols	10	6
Sunbrookers	9	6
Basketeers	9	7
Wolverines	7	11
A's	4	8
Giants	5	11
Village Vultures	4	13
Six-60's	4	14
Cloister Oysters	3	11
Mohawks	1	15
Five	0	16
JC Seniors	0	17



SPORTS

Stan Davis

TIME OUT—Taking time out from their practice sessions are four members of JC's spring sports teams shown here talking over the schedule with "Mike" Snider, athletic director. Left to right: Herb Layman, senior trackman; "Lefty" Alderfer, senior baseball player; Snider; Don Ruhl, tennis player, and Dick Hite, junior golfer.

Snider Posts Spring Sports Slate For '57

Bunn Takes Over Reins As JC Baseball Mentor

P. M. (Mike) Snider, Juniata director of athletics has announced the schedule for JC's spring sports—baseball, golf, tennis and track.

A 16 game baseball schedule has been set up. Seven home and nine away contests are on tap for the Indian squad against collegiate opponents. In addition, an exhibition game with an alumni team will be held here June 1. Upsala College will be the lone newcomer to the diamond slate, which includes eight members of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Juniata's head football coach, Ken Bunn, will direct the ball club in his first season.

The Blue and Gold golf team will open its 10-match schedule by meeting Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, Md., on April 11. Five home and five away matches are slated in addition to the Middle Atlantic championships at the American Legion Country Club, Mount Union, May 11. JC's home matches will be played at the Huntingdon Country Club. Bill Germann will again coach the linksmen.

10 Matches For Tennis

This year's tennis team will also be taking on a 10 match slate. The first court match is with Elizabethtown, April 9. There will be five home meets and five away matches for the tennis team. Bob McFadden is its faculty manager.

With the addition of Muhlenberg this season, Coach Mike Snider's track team will have five dual meets, one triangular contest, and the Penn Relays and Middle Atlantic championships on this year's schedule. Juniata's trackmen will be host to Central Pennsylvania scholastic trackmen in an invitational high school relay carnival April 20.

1957 Spring Sports Schedule

Baseball

April 5 Washington*
6 Indiana
10 Shippensburg
13 Dickinson
17 Pitt
24 Albright
30 Indiana*
May 3 Bucknell*
4 Lycoming*
8 Lycoming
11 Susquehanna*
14 Lock Haven*
18 Lock Haven
22 Elizabethtown*
30 Upsula
31 Elizabethtown
June 1 Alumni (exhib)*

Golf

April 11 Johns Hopkin
16 Shippensburg
19 Pitt*
26 St. Francis
May 3 Albright*
10 Western Maryland*
8 Indiana
11 Middle Atlantics
14 Gettysburg*
17 West Virginia*
30 Bucknell
June 1 Alumni Tourney*

Tennis

April 9 Elizabethtown
16 Albright
19 Pitt*
25 Indiana
May 3 Bucknell*
4 Lycoming*
8 Lycoming
10-11 Middle Atlantics
13 Dickinson
18 St. Francis
25 Elizbaethtown*

Track

April 9 Lock Haven
13 Muhlenberg*
20 Juniata Invitational School Relay*
24 Albright and Lebanon Valley*
26-27 Penn Relays
May 7 Bucknell
10-11 Middle Atlantics
15 Dickinson
18 Shippensburg

* Home games

Exciting Matches Highlight Last Week's Wrestling

The second week of intramural wrestling was highlighted by several exciting matches. Perhaps the best pairing of the week was "Moe" Reigel and Dick Hiltner, a pairing which resulted in a narrow and hard fought 5-4 decision for Reigel. Another exciting match was that one in which Bob Catando, behind 6-2 in points, pinned Al Sellari in 52 seconds of the second period.

Wednesday's Results:
Hvy.—"Moon" Mulen pinned Jim Middlekauff.
155 lbs.—Bob Catando pinned Al Sellari.

Friday's Results:
Hvy.—"Moe" Reigel decisioned Dick Hiltner, 5-4.
165 lbs.—Lee Forney pinned Dale Howe.

Monday's Results:
155 lbs.—Larry Duffy pinned Dan John.

Team B Closes Gap On Runner-Up Spot In IM Bowling Action

Team B, the Admirals, and the 4 D&C keglers each gained, 3-0, victories over their opponents last Friday evening in the JC intramural bowling league.

Team B, which is closing in on the second place Crusaders, mauled the JC Seniors. Lou Hall's 336 and Chuck Seely's 284 led Team B. The Seniors were paced by Dale Howe, who tallied a 260.

In a mild upset, the Admirals took the Dutch Mumblers. Winning by nearly 300 pins, the Admirals were headed by Jim Ake's 336, Glen Williamson's 299 and Bill Biehl's 284. Chuck Philips was the leading Mumbler kegler for the evening with 260.

4 D&C gained three forfeit victories over the Prophets.

STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Whips	18	0
Crusaders	16	2
Team B	10	2
Admirals	15	6
Skizos	6	6
Dutch Mumblers	7	7
Keystoners	7	8
Ten Pins	8	10
Alley Kats	6	12
JC Seniors	4	3
4 D& C	5	19
Prophets	0	21

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

SHOP
The Ray English Store
For The Latest In Mens Clothing And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

JUST ARRIVED
20 NEW SINGLE 45 RPM by
Harry Belafonte
Calypso and Folk Songs
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Australian - American Piano Team To Perform Wednesday In Oller

The famed Australian-American piano team Nelson and Neal will appear in Oller Hall Wednesday, March 20 at 8:15 p.m. under the auspices of the Huntingdon Music Association.

In eight years Nelson and Neal (Mr. and Mrs. in real life) have won acclaim the world over for their outstanding four-hand performance.

Miss Nelson, Australia's child prodigy, came to America in 1944 to study at Curtis Institute where she met and later married Harry Neal.

Since then the team has fulfilled a rigorous concert schedule traveling from coast to coast and around the globe for radio, television and personal appearances. They have introduced many new works for four hands and are noted for their artful transcriptions.

Their life story has been featurned in Ladies Home Journal, dramatized over CBS-TV and is soon to be published by Lippincott as an autobiography entitled Married to Music.

Mike Kastendieck, reviewing the duo for the New York Journal-American, commented that "a fine sense of ensemble and accomplished pianism distinguished their teamwork."

Unknown Donor Gives Belated $5 To Juniata

In June, 1940, Juniata College sent a letter to a man in Uniontown who had subscribed five dollars to "meet the many obligations to complete the new auditorium."

Now more than 16 years later —the same letter has been returned—and with it a contribution of five dollars!

The auditorium (now known as Oller Hall) has been completed and paid for many years ago, so the money has been applied toward construction of a new residence hall for women.

Curiously enough, when the gift was acknowledged by Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president, the letter to the Uniontown man was returned "unclaimed." Now the whereabouts of the donor remains a mystery, but the gift is considered "important to tht continuation of the Build Juniata program."

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

WJC Radio Plans To Alter Station

WJC is going to be larger and accoustically better due to a slated list of improvements, under the direction of Lou Palumbo, program director.

The scheduled improvements include a new tile floor, new accoustical tile on the walls and ceiling to provide better sound, new drapes, improved lighting and a greater amount of space due to the tearing out of old shelves and the installation of wrought-iron shelves.

Red Cross To Ask For Blood April 3

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at the women's gym Wednesday, April 3 from 12 noon to 6 p. m. for all Juniatians who wish to aid the Red Cross in its annual drive for blood.

Those Juniatians who are under 21 and desire to give may obtain permission slips Wednesday, March 20, following chapel.

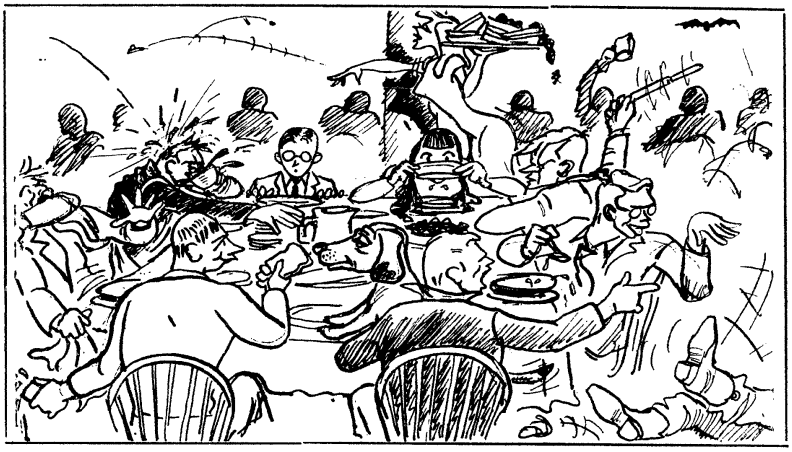
Chairman of drive, Al Blough has reported that Juniata's goal for this year is 120 pints. Help will be needed to work three hour shifts during the afternoon.

Camp Federation Reports On Jobs

Juniatians with the ability to work with children and a liking for outdoor life may be interested in working in one of Pennsylvania's summer camps.

The Pennsylvania Camp Federation reports that jobs are numerous and varied and that positions are available for those who have experience as camp directors, assistant directors, nurses, dieticians, cooks and drivers. Instructors are needed to teach swimming, boating, riding, sports, crafts, dramatics, singing and nature study.

Those interested in a counseling job should write Jack Stunpf, 311 S. Juniper St., Philadelphia; Harold Moore, 907 N. Front St., Harrisburg; or Aaron Sacks, 200 Ross St., Pittsburgh. When applying give-specific age, address, school years and previous camping or counseling experience.



PRESERVING A HOMEY ATMOSPHERE...

Student Playwrights To Enter Competition

Juniata playwrights who are interested in entering the National Collegiate Playwriting Contest for the year 1957 should see James Bray, registrar, for an entry blank.

The contest which is planned to promote the study and practice of playwriting in American colleges, offers awards for both long and short plays. Prizes for short plays are: first, $200, publication and book and production royalties; second, $100; and third, $50, while first prize for long plays is $350 and second is $100.

Dramatizations and collaborations are elgible, provided all rights are cleared and acknowledged and collaborators are individually elgible. Musical books or librettoes, together with lyrics are eligible but they will be judged as dramatic rather than as musical compositions.

Winners will be announced May 27th by the judges: Broadway producers Kermit Bloomgarden and Elaine Perry; Prof. Milton Smith, director of the school of dramatics arts, Columbia University; and Mouzon Law, assistant executive director of American National Theatre and Academy, on leave from the University of Texas.

Scripts must be delivered to the editorial department of Samuel French, 25 West 45th Street, New York 36, N. Y., before noon May 3rd.

Council Convenes, Reviews 6 Cases fractions may be reported to any member of the Judiciary by any member of the college community."

Five of the cases which the group considered concerned violations of the chapel attendance regulation. The offenders had been threatened with recommendation of expulsion unless in a letter to the Judiciary they could show just cause why such action should not be taken. Four of the five letters were accepted and the cases against the students dropped. The defendants' permitted numbers of chapel cuts for the current semester, were, however, sizeably reduced.

An Open Meeting

The fifth letter was rejected because it manifested gross disrespect for the Judiciary. The writer of the letter stood trial in an open session, where he retracted the statements of this letter, claiming that they were based on a misunderstanding of the Judiciary's motive. He was found not guilty of contempt of court, but on the basis of his excessive chapel cutting it was recommended to the Dean of Men that the student be considered "not in good standing."

It was reported that a case which had formerly been referred by the Judiciary to the men's house committee was dealt with by the first step of the three-step disciplinary procedure.

The Judiciary also examined a referral concerning vote fraud in the recent elections but was unable to establish a case. It was recommended to the Senate that a through investigation and evaluation of the present system of campus elections be conducted.

Honorary Fraternity To Sponsor Contest

An expense-paid week as a guest of Life Magazine and a general one-week observation course will be awarded the winner of the Twelfth Annual International Collegiate Photography Contest.

The contest, which will include pictures taken between April 1, 1956 and April 1, 1957, is sponsored by Kapa Alpha Mu, national photo-journalism fraternity, the National Press Photographers Association and the Encyclopedia Brittannica in cooperation with the Association of College Unions.

Other awards include sets of the Encyclopedia Brittannica and various merit awards. Pictures will be judged in seven classifications: picture portfolio (the top classification), news, feature (human interest), pictorial (still life, pattern and scenes), portraits or character studies, sports and picture series and sequence.

For rule sheets and entry blanks, write Vi Edom, National Kappa Alpha Mu secretary, 18 Walter Williams Hall, Columbia, Mo.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES
RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Friday Night
SPECIAL
On Sale From
5 to 9 pm Only
BABY DOLL PAJAMAS
$2.99 values to $3.98
DANKS & CO.

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT
Top Rate Comedy
Top Secret Affair
— with —
Kirk Douglas - Susan Hayward
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Excitement & Action
Three Violent People
— Technicolor —
Charles Heston - Tom Tryon
Anne Baxter
Wednesday thru Saturday
Giant
Nominated for 10 Academy Awards
Elizabeth Taylor
Rock Hudson - James Dean
Policy for GIANT
Wed-Thurs - doors open 7 p.m.
Feature at 8 P. M. only
Friday Doors open at 4:30
2 Features at 5:00 - 8:30
Saturday Doors open 1:00 P. M.
Feature at 1:30 - 5 - 8:30
Eves. 75c Matinee & Friday Till 6:30 60c

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 21 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, March 22, 1957

Rick Bell

OUT FOR BLOOD — When these people come calling at your door today it will be for blood—yours—one pint, to be exact, since these are the solicitors in the Red Cross drive for blood donations. Taking pledges for donations, to be given in Memorial gym April 3, are, front row left to right, Rene McFayden, Nina Fredenburg, Barb Smathers, Gini Nixdorf; back row Pete Fahrney, Roger Bennett, Fred Ross, chairman Al Blough, Ken Opipery, Ernie Richardson, Jim Martin and Bob Sill.

JCA To Sponsor Love, Marriage Week In Aiding Juniatians' Search For Mates

Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen Elect Fattman, Ake, Richardson

Results of the student election Tuesday and the run-offs Wednesday showed George Fattman, Jim Ake and Ernie Richardson chosen to lead the senior, junior and sophomore classes respectively for the 1958 term.

Fattman outran his opponent, Ted Hetrick, in the race for the presidency of the senior class, 91-16. Harold Saylor defeated Robert Lesnick for the vice-presidential chair, 82-30. Beverly Condit is class secretary, defeating Margretta Davis, 82-36. Fred Ross, unopposed, was re-elected treasurer with 109 votes.

The class of '59 elected Ake to the head position in the Wednesday run-off. He tallied 76 votes to William Artz's 45. In the previous day's voting, Ake had tallied 50, Artz 46, Ken Harlacher 18 and Don Miller 12. Ronald Wertz was voted vice-president with 71 votes, defeating Frances Christina with 34 and Helen Phennicie with 21.

Janice Christie was chosen secretary, scoring 77 votes to 38 for Carol Teeter and 11 for Nancy Phennicie. Sam Shore is the new treasurer. Seventy votes were cast for him, 28 for Jackie Lu Rhodes, 15 for Renee MacFadyen and 13 for Barbara Caulton.

See RICHARDSON, page 4

Forensic League District Finalists To Compete Here

The district finals of the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League will be held at Juniata April 2, starting at 10 a. m.

Students from 19 central Pennsylvania schools will compete in the contests of the one day program. Winners will have the opportunity to enter the state finals which will be held at a later date.

Clay Burkholder, superintendent of the Mifflin County Public Schools, will supervise the events. Dr. Harold Binkley and Prof. Donald Johnson will judge the various contests.

All events to be held in Students Hall, Swigart Hall and Oller Hall, will be open to the public. A change in room schedules of some classes in Students Hall will be released at a later date.

Headquarters for registration will be located on the west mezzanine of Memorial Gymnasium. The registration and collection of fees will begin at 9:30 a.m.

A committee of college students will assist in guided tours about the campus. Mrs. Philbrook Smith will also be available to take care of miscellaneous duties concerning the guests.

Next Week In Chapel

April 1—President Elils
April 3—The Rev. Carl Myers
April 5—Dr. Orr, Western Thelogical Seminary

JCA Elects Officials For Cabinet Positions

In an election held Monday, March 18, JCA's cabinet members for the year 1957-58 were elected, and it was decided to accept the proposed constitutional addition concerning program planning and financial aid.

Members of the cabinet are: Barbara Shaffer, treasurer; Carol Teeter, recording secretary; Don Shover, faith and heitage commission; James Swarr, world relatedness commission; Jane Herbster, personal and campus affairs commission; and Jane Brumbaugh, social responsibility commission.

Trueblood, Myers, Ohr To Lead Talks

In line with the season of the year and the interest which it brings, JCA is planning to take a frank, open-minded look at the college student's search for a mate.

Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities, has announced that JCA will conduct a Love and Marriage Week from April 2 to April 5. True love never runs smooth, and JCA, recognizing this, will present such pertinent topics as Morality and Reality in Courtship, Dating — Why and How, Pre-marital Sex Relations, The Difference Between Love and Infatuation and Are College Marriages Wise.

On hand to stimulate discussion and to supplement campus ideas will be such individuals as Dr. Elton Trueblood, professor of philosophy at Earlham College; the Rev. Carl Myers, pastor and worker with youth in this area, and Dr. William Orr, professor of systematic theology at Western Seminary.

What is this phenomenon called love which you will hear so much about in the coming weeks — a social need, a spiritual something or just a mixed-up sex response? JCA's Love and Marriage Week may provide you with the answer.

WJC To Resume Activities April 1

It was announced this week that WJC would return to the air waves immediately following the spring vacation.

George Carnahan, station manager, reported that the technical problems which caused WJC to cease broadcasting two weeks ago have been solved, and only midterm exams have delayed resumption of broadcasts. Power has been reduced to 18 watts and under normal weather conditions station broadcasts will not radiate further than the distance allowed by FFC rules.

Furlong, Dimmick, Wernsing Head Staff Of Next Year's Powwow

Leora Furlong, freshman languages major from Youngwood, was named editor of the Powwow at Tuesday's Senate meeting.

She will succeed Emmalyn Heed. Also appointed were Rene Dimmick, business manager, and Judy Wernsing, advertising manager. They will replace "Squeegee" Holsinger and Alice Waite.

Miss Dimmick, a home ec major from Haddon Heights, N. J., is a member of the Juniatian circulation staff. Miss Werning is a biology major from Cornwells Heights. She is assistant circulation manager of the Juniatian. A dean's list student, Miss Furlong writes for the Juniation.

Hit Fees For Tape

Also during the Senate meeting a motion was made that Treasurer John Fike be informed that the Senate (the new Senate) disapproves of his action concerning excessive charges for putting cellophane tape on walls in North Dorm.

Chairman of men's house Ray Ono told the Senate that the men's house committee has started work on a list of standard fees for damages to rooms.

Milk Machine Coming

George Carnahan, manager of WJC radio, told the Senate that milk machines will be placed in North Dorm, the Cloister and the women's dorm sometime in early April. Profits from the two in the

See SENATE, page 2

Nahrgang, Shore Head '58 Alfarata

Larry Davis, this year's Alfarata editor, has announced that Ross Nahrgang as editor and Sam Shore as business manager will head the staff of the 1957-58 yearbook.

The appointments were announced Tuesday, March 19, and approved by the publications committee headed by Dr. Harold Binkley.

Nahrgang, a junior business major, is from Plainsfield, N. J., and has been a reporter for the Alfarata and the Juniatian. His other activities include JCA, intramural sports and May Day Committee.

Shore, who comes from McClure, Pa., is a sophomore majoring in mathematics. His activities include intramural sports and IVCF.

Davis added that further staff appointments would be announced later.

Honor Society Elects Four New Members

Carol Newborg and Bryan Stauffer, juniors, and Bob Moore and Spencer Ward, seniors, are this year's additions to the Juniata College Honor Society.

At a meeting held at the home of President Ellis, faculty advisors President Ellis, Dean Mays, Dr. Binkley and Dr Will conducted the annual election. Honor Society students present were: Mark Beech, Larry Davis, Dick Livigston, Jim Martin, Jim Stayer, Carol Titus and Joyce Ann White Helen Sell is also a senior member of the Honor Society but is not on campus this term.

The new members were chosen on the basis of their merit in three aspects: scholarly achivement, moral integrity and broad cultural interests.

President Ellis plans to give formal recognition to these outstanding students at the annual Honors Chapel which will be held this spring. The members of the Honor Society will be the guests of the college at a dinner May 7 at Motel 22.

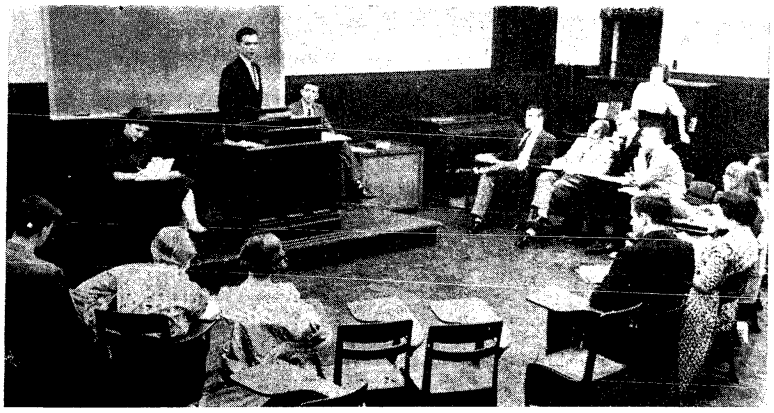
Campus Judiciary Plans Mock Trial

A mock trial will be staged by the Campus Judiciary at 7:15 p.m. in Founders Chapel, Thursday April 4.

Since the time for electing representatives to the Campus Judiciary is drawing near, questions concerning the methods, procedures and the very nature of the Judiciary are prevalent. Therefore, the mock trial is being presented by the group in an attempt to clear up any questions and to give students an opportunity to see their judicial body operate first-hand.

A defendent has been drafted who will appear in court to face the imaginary charge of harboring a pet in the dormitory - this being a violation of dormitory rules. Witnesses will be called, a discussion rendered and a punishment administered.

This trial should enable students to vote more intelligently in the coming Judiciary elections, a member of the Judiciary pointed out.



Rick Bell

JOINT SESSION—For the past three weeks members of the retiring Senate have been meeting with the1957-58 legislature in order that the recently elected group would have a better understanding of Senate procedure. At the time this photo was snapped (during the session of March 22) former president Jim Stayer had the floor and was leading a discussion on Jacques Hayes' (at right near piano) second proposed song to replace the college alma mater. In the picture are, clockwise, Stayer, Del McQuaide, Dick Mumma, Chuck Brown, Ronn Fink, Miss Hayes, George Fattman, Bernie McQuown, Ray Ono, June Gray, Gini Nixdorf, Doug Wilson, Bonnie Gunther, Ann Wilson, Spencer Ward and Phyl Marcocci.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Flora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall, Rene Dimmick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 21 — March 22, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Tribute To Stayer

TODAY the most dynamic Senate president in this student generation laid down his gavel and retired to the sidelines as the leadership of student government at Juniata changed hands during Moveup Day ceremonies.

Jim Stayer is a human dynamo, whose motivation, ideas and action are all big—this has made him controversial—this has brought smeers from the less energetic, the narrow-minded and the stark conservatives.

We could fill this entire page with Stayer's innovations and accomplishments as Senate president. Thanks to his efforts the campus judiciary is a reality, Operation Recreation was brought to a close, and a number of agencies and committees were established, among them the placement bureau and the orge committee, the used book store and committees on the alma mater, academic help to freshmen and academic affairs.

As first chairman of the campus judiciary he has helped that body develop so that its chances for survival on our campus at least look encouraging.

As a student and as a citizen of our community Stayer has made contributions which command our gratitude and respect.

CAMPUS CAPERS

by Joan McClure

Jim Stayer's dinner for about 40 of his politicil cronies, the dismantling of his "machine," was staged Monday night at Motel 22 and was undoubtedly "the" social (or anti-social) blast of the year—probably unparalleled in Juniata annuals.

The menu consisted of egg drop soup and chicken chow mein with Chinese noodles and fried rice. The program (Dave Amidon was the committee in charge of entertainment) started off with an informal exchange of greetings and cuts, and after the dinner, which proceeded with "intermittent vituperative thrusts," continued with a responsive reading of selected portions of that "tower of moral truth," The Grey Paper.

Stayer Stayer's Guest

There were also brief eulogies of the host and his guest of honor, "who were the same": Stayer and Tact (or lack of); Stayer as a Child ("He early manifested anti-social tendencies"); "The Intellectual Magnifigence of J. Mentzer Stayer; The Stayer Machine (this time meaning his infamous "car"); Stayer as an Athlete; Stayer as an Enlightened Despot; and Peaceful Co-Existence with Stayer (A roomate's revelations).

"The late WJC" provided "music," including Guy Lombardo and The Louisville Marching Band, for the festive dinner, which was, to quote the program, held by Stayer himself "to honor his 22nd birthday, upon concluding his Senate Presidency, at his own expense and risk, and in the absence of restraint."

* * * *

On Professors

"The law code was extremely detailed," the prof told his class. "It even distinguished between 'murder' and 'murder with intent to kill'."

"With the modern programs to speed up education, you can go home for a week-end and miss your whole sophomore year," said another prof.

This last remark is reminiscent of one made by a student was was complaining (a rare student) about the rapidity with which the prof gave class notes. "I broke my pencil point and lost 5000 years," he said.

And still another typical academic-minded scholar: "I hate that class At least I think I hate it—I haven't been there for so long. If they're still having it, I hate it."

More Picturesque Speech—

Administrator, on watching plebian crane at plebian dorm construction: "This is one of my terrestial fascinations."

Prof. complimenting coed on ordinary frock: "There's an attractive looking fabric in that dress."

Blase Sub-Frosh

Sub-freshman, talking to NJ resident on the phone and trying to appear "in the know": "Shall I pick you up at the New Jersey house?"

The epitome of railroading: Del McQuaide tries to second his own motion in Judiciary meeting.

Something to Live By

Finally an ivy-league minded colleague among us would offer this bit of moral admonition (perhaps for The Grey Paper?): "Collegiateness is next to godliness."

Buckboard Jungle

The library's buckboard has become a jungle of blue cards containing names of students who have not returned the loan they borrowed a month-and-a-half ago, of people who don't even exist here and of a few Juniatians who use the serivce the way it was intended to be used.

A student belonging to the latter group signs his own name when he borrows money and attempts to return it as quickly as possible (never later than two weeks).

There are, however, those who seem to think the buckboard was set up as a permanent source of income and who have yet to return money they borrowed. Others have stolen the money simply by writing in the name of someone who doesn't even exist on our campus.

It is interesting to note that we have never heard of this system being so frequently abused at other institutions offering it. These thefts reveal something disgusting about the make-up of our student body.

Those who borrow money from the buckboard should attempt to return it as soon as possible. Those who come to the library only to steal should be sought out and expelled.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

MODERN REPUBLICANISM — The Republican party is expecting to have an extremely difficult time of it in the presidential election of 1960. President Eisenhower will be constitutionally ineligible for a third term, and there are no other top flight candidates apparent.

The Republicans are well awere of the fact that Ike's two overwhelming victories were based on popularity rather than the fact that he was the GOP standard bearer. It seems that the American people just no longer will accept Old Guard Republicanism.

Ike is aware of this fact and has been attempting to reorganize his party along lines which he terms modern Republicanism and in which there is no room for senators like Jenner, Malone and McCarthy.

That he will not be successful is becoming increasingly obvious. A slight break between him and his party is beginning to grow.

It arises from two sources. First, the fact that he cannot succeed himself is quite naturally causing a loss of prestige. Second, there are many Republicans of the Old Guard stamp that have been disappointed by his fiscal policies.

His proposals to continue high level spending for foreign aid and education thus keeping taxes high have caused consternation, to say the least.

Everything considered, it seems doubtful that the Republican party will change sufficiently before 1960 to carry the American people at the polls. The modern Republicanism pill is just a little too bitter for the Old Guard to swallow.

STUDENT REVOLT — For the second time in months students have been responsible for revolts against corruption and oppression in government—first in bloody Hungary and just recently in Cuba.

General Batista, military dictator of Cuba, has been sitting on a lid of explosive discontent since he assumed power in 1952. Under his regime graft in the government and in the army has taken millions of dollars of the top of the national wealth. Furthermore, his rule has been perpetrated primarily by military force.

The results of the oppression have been the awakening of a movement determined to sweep away the old politico-military order and to establish a democracy. As with all revolts its beginning was primarily intellectual innature. This is evidenced by the university students attempt to assassinate Batista.

The intense interest in matters political shown by most of the world's students is revealing when contrasted with the interest shown here at Juniata and other colleges across the United States.

Of course I do not advocate student revolts as such, but it is a shame that more Juniata students don't feel more deeply about political matters and individual responsibility and justice.

All governments, including Juniata's, are only as strong as the individual members of the community.

Senate Heads Report On WJC

Continued from page 1

men's dorms will go to WJC. They will bring the radio station at least 150 dollars per year.

Chairman of communications Ronn Fink named Wayne Patterson, Lou Hall, Margy White and Margie Evans to a committee to investigate the veracity of various pieces of literature issued by the college for public relations purposes. Fink pointed out that while nothing false is being printed in such publications, the facts are being "colored." His predecessor George Fattman, who worked on this project during his term in Senate referred to such facts as "half-truths."

NSA's Future At JC

National Student Association coordinator on our campus, Dottie Stricker, reviewed for the Senate the various activities of NSA in which Juniata participated during the past year and made three recommendations for the future:

1. That more use be made of the many publications issued by NSA.
2. That the information service of NSA be used more (the group provides advice on various campus issues).
3. That Juniata participate more actively in regional activities.

by Val Means

The champions of the season's IM basketball tourney, Dukes, and the Whips each placed two men on the IM all-star team.

Six men are placed on the first team since their totals ran high above the rest. The following names appear in the order of votes received from two representatives of each team in the league.

First Team

Horace Carl, Whips
"Skip" DiMarco, Dukes
Chuck Phillips, Mumblers
Ken Fassnacht, Whips
Don Conley, Dukes
Steve French, Sultans

Second Team

Marv Miller, Basketeers
Jim Ake, Balloons
Joe Sopata, Basketeers
Don Ross, Capitals
Chuck Seitz, Sultans

The Dukes wrapped up the title undefeated with an 81-60 victory over the Mumblers. With torrid outside shooting by Artz, Conley and DiMarco and the tap-ins by Mathias and Swope, the Dukes set a scoring pace which was too much for the Mumblers (and the rest of the league this year). Artz and Mathias scored 23 and 21 respectively while Phillips kept the losers in the game with 18.

The Krazy Kids also ended play undefeated winning the women's IM crown. The champs scored as high as 74 in one game while the best output against them was a total of 12 points.

Probably the highlight of the league occured when Lou Hall scored a fourth quarter foul in her team's game with the second place Buffaloes. This prevented a shut out as her team lost 10-1. Following are the top five scorers of this season.

1. Hottle, KK 93
2. Lowe, KK 92
3. Cohick, Buffaloes 61
4. Fredenburgh, DD's ... 52
5. Jenkins, KK 46

Interclass Meet To Be Held April 2

Juniata's traditional track and field battle among classes—the interclass meet—has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 2, Mike Snider has announced.

Trackmen representing each of the four classes will compete in a 13-event program on College Field beginning at 3 p.m. Varsity lettermen and all other candidates are eligible to take part in this event, which is held annually prior to the opening of the collegiate track season.

This year's sophomore class—Class of 1959— will be defending champions. That class won last year as freshmen by chalking up 55 points to last year's sophomore total of 49 1/3. No other class now in college has won the team title.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

The Juniatian

SPORTS

The Juniatian, Friday, March 22, 1957, Page 3

Rick Bell

TRIUMPHANT DUKES—Having won all 19 games they played in the season's IM tourney, the Dukes won the crown with their defeat of the third place Mumblers. On the team are, front row left to right, "Skip" DiMarco, Bill Artz, Jim Berg, Joe Trimber; back row, Ken Opipery, Don Swope, "Butch" Mathias and "Killer" Conley.

Candidates For Track Working Out Daily For First Encounter

Candidates for the 1957 track squad are busy working out in prepration for this season's track schedule which opens April 2, at Lock Haven.

Although the nucleus of this year's squad will probably be made up of returnees from last year's cindermen and cross country men, the inter-class track meet generally decides who will fill the positions for the season. At present there are approximately 30 candidates working out every day.

Returning from last year are George Cline and Bryan Stauffer in field events, John Kerr and Chuck Brown in sprints, Herb Layman in distance, Herb Deucher in middle distance events, Chuck Passmore in pole-vaulting and Lew Stratton on the hurdles. Assisting them will be Frank Hrach, Ed Moore, and Jim Petit from the cross-country squad.

Good prospects from the freshmen class include: Al Dungan and Terry Fouse on hurdles and Jim Healy, Bill Holsinger, Jim Middlekauff, Dick Johnson and Kirk Wicker in the weight events.

This year's schedule is expected to be rough, with the first home game April 13 against Muhlenberg College of Allentown.

JC Netmen Seek To Improve Last Season's 6-4 Log

Spring has finally arrived and along with it has come the daily practices and workouts necessary for the ensuing tennis schedule.

Coach McFadden, in his second year as tennis faculty manager, is faced with a rebuilding job in an effort to improve upon last year's 6-4 slate. The loss of Phil Lankford and Dan Raffensberger is keenly felt, but a strong nucleus of returning lettermen and a fine-looking bunch of first year prospects brighten the scene.

The first three spots on the team will most likely be filled by lettermen Don Randall, Don Ruhl, and Del McQuaide, but beyond that a battle royal will ensue for the remaining three spots. Among the leading candidates for those are Rick Bell, Curt Gardner, Don Murdoch, Arnold Olt and Pete Wright.

Beginning April 9, with an away match at Elizabethtown, the tennis team will initiate a 10 match schedule which will include such opponents as Bucknell, Indiana State Teachers, Pitt and participation in the Middle Atlantics on May 10-11.

Two Letterman Lead Linksmen

Led by veteran Dick Mumma and Dick Hite, the 1957 edition of Juniata's golf team will initiate the season April 11 against Johns Hopkins at Baltimore.

Lost from last year's fine team, which dropped only two matches, are the Middle Atlantic Champ Keith Birmingham, Bill West and Barry Montgomery, all 1956 graduates.

Dukes Take Basketball Title By Downing Mumblers, 81-60

The intramural basketball champion for this year was crowned Monday night when the Dukes defeated the Mumblers, 81-60. The Dukes got off to an early 23-6 lead at the end of the first period and were never threatened.

Five Duke players hit double figures. Bill Artz was the top man with 23 points. Butch Mathias followed with 21 points. Chuck Mathias followed with 21 points. Chuck Phillips' 18 and Red Randall's 16 were tops for the Mumblers.

The upset of the season occurred last Wednesday evening when the inspired Capitols outhustled the Whips, 86-81.

The battle for last place was also decided in the last week when the JC Seniors defeated The Five by a 56-41 count.

Last Week's Results

Wednesday, March 6

Galloping Ghosts 57, Wolverines 56

Monday, March 11

Capitols 58 . . . . Ubangies 48
Cloister Oysters 76 . . . A's 73
JC Seniors 2 (forfeit) Mohawks 0
Mumblers 60 Galloping Ghosts 50
Basketeers 80 . . . . Giants 70

Wednesday, March 13

JC Seniors 56 . . . . The Five 41
Capitols 86 . . . . . Whips 81
Galloping Ghosts 82 . Ubangies 52
Basketeers 86 Cloister Oysters 60

Thursday, March 14

Village Vultures 64 . . Giants 59
Basketeers 62 . . . . Capitols 49
Lead Balloons 88 . Ubangies 63

Monday, March 18

Dukes 81 . . . . . Mumbers 60

FINAL STANDINGS

	W	L
Dukes	19	0
Whips	17	2
Mumblers	17	2
Sultans	15	4
Lead Balloons	14	5
Galloping Ghosts	14	5
Basketeers	12	7
Crusaders	12	7
Capitols	12	7
Ubangies	7	12
Sunbrookers	9	8
Wolverines	7	12
Cloister Oysters	6	12
A's	5	12
Giants	5	13
Village Vultures	5	14
Six 60's	4	15
JC Seniors	2	17
Mohawks	2	17
The Five	0	19

Baseball Squad Hit With Loss Of Seven Men

Suffering from inexperience and the loss of seven veteran lettermen, Juniata's baseball team will be banking heavily on a promising crop of freshmen for a winning season.

In his first year of baseball at JC, Coach Ken Bunn will probably build his team around three returning lettermen - pitcher, Lefty Aldefer; catcher, Don Shover and outfielder, Phil Over.

Losses from last year's team include Leroy Hallman at shortstop, Bernie Orris at third base, Wes Lingenfelter at first base, Jay Guyer at second base, outfilders Barry Drexler and Don Pheasant, and pitchers Bob Brown and Ron Morgan.

Members of this year's squad in addition to the lettermen, looking forward to a starting berth in the opener against Washington College on April 5, are pitchers, Jim Ake, Bill Lafe, Pete McCauley, Nick Roth, Bob Crimmel and Neil Donner; catchers, Wally Berkey and Rex Donnelly; first base, George Harrison and Bo Solomon; second base, John Staley, Ed Beers, Horace Carl and Paul DeSesso; shortstop, Jim Berrier; third base, Don Ross and Harry Musselman; outfield, Glenn Smeltzer, Bill Berrier, Ron Moyer, John Brown, Al Pitt, Frank Hrach, Arnold Olt and Ross Housum.

Three Teams Advance In IM Bowling League

In games played in the intramural bowling league last Friday evening, the Admirals, Keystoners and Skizos each picked up three victories.

The Admirals, led by Glenn Williamson's 352 pins for two games, defeated the Seniors. Jim Ake, another Admiral, bowler hit a 297.

The Keystoners defeated the 4 D&C's by a 3-0 count. Jim Martin's 283 and Herb Layman's 276 were high for the Keystoners. Phil Over led the 4 D&C with a 296.

The Skizos won a forfeit over the Prophets.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

The Juniatian Goes To Press

Pete Fahrney

A staff of 38 students plus a number of Huntingdon tradesmen spend a big chunk of each week preparing the Juniatian you now hold in your hand. Thinking that our readers would be interested in following the publication of the student weekly from assignments to mailing, the staff has prepared the above set of photos. Going from top left to bottom right, news editor Carol Baish is shown outlining news coverage for the coming week. She has assignments in reporters' mailboxes by Thursday of the preceding week. Barb Smathers is getting some information from Dean Morley Mays to be used in a Juniatian story. All copy is edited and sent to Lesher's, a printing establishment on Mifflin Street, where Gene Horton sets it into type on a linotpye machine. Photography is sent to the Daily News where it is engraved on plastic on the machine, a Fairchild engraver, shown here. The news set in type, it is placed in forms called chases. Sports editor Chuck Brown helps print shop owner John Rodgers make a last minute check before the chases are put on the press. Managing editor Barb Walls and pressman Jim Horton eagerly greet the first copies of the Juniatian from the press. Juniatians are eager to get the latest news, too, as they scramble for Juniatians after chapel Fridays. But the work for the issue is not complete until assistant circulation manager Judy Wernsing and circulation manager Joyce Hoffman address and tie for mailing the 1,200 copies of the Juniatian that are sent off-campus. The addressograph, an automatic addressing machine, aids greatly in this work.

Rick Bell

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Richardson, Ake Fattman To Lead

Continued from page 1

Ernie Richardson outlasted Jay Maust and was elected president of the sophomore class in Wednesday's run-off, 86-82. Tuesday's vote had shown Richardson leading Maust, 76-71, while 34 votes had been cast for Pat Conners. A run-off for the vice-presidency showed Pete Douglas defeating Dick Johnson, 95-73. The day before Johnson had led Douglas, 68-59, while Bob Solomon had tallied 54.

Jane Hebster, unopposed won the secretarialship by gaining 132 votes. There were 28 write-ins for Carolyn Wiant. "Dutch" Boland was elected treasurer on the second ballot, defeating Shirley Raffensberger, 111-57. In Tuesday's balloting Boland had 70 votes, Raffenberger 49, Ann Noe 36 and Jim Middlekauff 25.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Choir Begins Practice For Commencement

The Commencement Chorus, under the direction of Prof. Johnson, will begin weekly Monday evening rehearsals April 1 at 7:15 in Oller Hall.

Choral works to be studied and performed are: J. S. Bach's The Lord, My God, My Shepherd Is, Gabriel Maure's Requiem and two short Mozart choruses. Kathryn Holsinger will be organist and Pete Wright pianist for the performance.

Prof. Johnson emphasized that not only members of the college choirs, but all campus singers — students, faculty and office personnel—are invited to join in this performance to be given the Sunday evening of commencement week.

Choir To Perform On Palm Sunday

The Chapel Choir will give a special Holy Week concert Palm Sunday, April 14, at 3:30 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Under the direction of Miss Pfotenhauer, the choir will sing The Passion According To St. Matthew by Heinrich Schuetz. The choir will be assisted by James Bray who will be the evangelist and Prof. Robert McFadden who will take the part of Christ. Sam Douglas will be the organist and Mary Snyder, the pianist.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Mays Announces Summer Schedule

Dean Mays has announced that Juniata College will offer a program of courses in the three major divisions of study for a summer term opening June 17.

Courses have been selected in the arts and languages, social studies and natural sciences for high school graduates, college students accelerating and teachers of other in-service persons. The term will be divided into five-week periods: June 17 to July 20 and July 22 to August 23, each of which offers six credit hours.

Instruction will be provided by the resident faculty of Juniata, suplemented by visiting professors. Further information may be obtained from folders which are now available in the registrar's office.

WJC Radio Gets Milk Concession

A new milk machine concession has been awarded to WJC radio, George Carnahan, station manager, has been reported.

Carnahan has made contact with Stricklers who have ordered three machines from St. Louis. The machines have been sent and are expectd to arrive before vacation is over.

Two machines will be placed in North Dorm, and the third will be given to the women's house committee for placement in the women's dorm.

Students Should Get Financial Aid Forms

Treasurer John Fike has announced that applications for financial aid for 1957-58 may be obtained in the treasurer's office until Saturday, March 23.

Anyone who expects to receive any form of financial assistance next year must present his application on or before Monday, April 15. Those received after this date will be cosidered only if all available funds have not been assigned.

Applications must be submitted by every student who expects to receive a scholastic, grant-in-aid, loan or work assignmnt.

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

Penn State Jazz Club
presents
The Four Freshmen
and
Buddy Morrow's Orchestra
Sunday, April 7 at 2:30 p m
Recreation Hall, Penn State Campus
Tickets Available at Hetzel Union Building
All Seats $1.50

SPECIAL
Original Cast LP Records
Buy One For $5.98
Get The Second One For $2.98
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 22 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 5, 1957

● Grace Creswell ●
Folk Singer

Singer To Render Ballads, Old Songs In Chapel April 10

Folk singer Grace Creswell will appear in chapel April 10.

Miss Creswell was born in the Alpine Community of Tennessee. It was from the hill people of the Volunteer State that she collected many of the various numbers of her program, which includes Hangman's Tree, Lord Randall, Greensleeves, Cindy and John Henry.

Miss Creswell attributes her fine voice to an early interest in the folk ballad. Stemming from a music-loving family, she participated in various school exercises and attended Clinton High School. Her family moved to Knoxville where she continued her study of folk songs, but on her marriage she moved to Chicago where she temporarily lost all connection with her hobby.

Her singing talents were discovered by Karl Kershaw, well-known painter and sculptor, on her return to Tennessee. Their association led to a radio contract for her at station WSM in Nashville. Following this, she began a tour of American colleges and appeared at Vanderbilt, Purdue, Yale and Kentucky.

She made her debut in New York at the Village Vanguard and was so well received that Max Gordon, who discovered Burl Ives, was moved to say that she was "the best girl folk singer in America."

Fike To Eliminate Waiters' Charge For Broken Dishes

John Fike, treasurer, announced this week that the 10-dollar breakage fee previously charged dining room waiters have been retracted.

Fike reported that as long as dish breakage remains 'moderate' waitresses will not be fined for broken crockery. The fee, already collected for this semester, has been returned.

In other Senate business Dave Amidon presented the final Ogre committee report. Their recommendations call for the locating of a college church, more appropriate locations for those "tender moments" between 9:30-10:30 p. m. and a strengthened Men's House committee able to meet the roof damage problem. In addition an attack was made on subsidized athletics. The Senate accepted the report but took no further action.

Vice-president Al Blough reported that the annual blood drive netted 133 pints, exceeding the quota by 13 pints.

Statehood For Alaska

Letters will be sent to state senators Martin and Clark and to Congressman Richard Simpson reporting the Senate's desire for Alaskan statehood. This action was taken at the request of students attending Alaskan colleges in search of aid to their cause.

Complaints have been registered concerning pre-emption of rooms in Students Hall by small groups for evening study. The Senate hastened to promote steps

See SAVING, page 4

Skip's Inkeeper Plans Renovation

George Baney, new manager of the recently reopened Skip's Inn, announced his plans for management and renovation this week.

Baney said the Inn would be open from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. Sunday and week-days and until midnight Saturday. Plans are being made to serve pizza and hoagies as well as a Friday evening spaghetti dinner. There wil be special-priced lunches weekdays

The Inn, as familiar to Juniatian as graduation and Move-Up day, has been undergoing renovation during the past two weeks. Booths have been painted, new amusement machines installed and several pieces of kitchen equipment have been purchased.

Rick Bell

TO PILOT '58 ALFARATA—With the '57 Alfarata gone to press plans are already underway for the '58 annual under the leadership of these recently appointed key personnel. Front row: Jacque Rhodes and Ann Larkin, class editors; Nina Fredenburg, typing editor; Barb Smathers, literary editor; Betty Bowman, caption editor. Back row: Pete Fahrney, photo editor; "Tex" Holman, club editor; Ross Nahrgang, editor-in-chief; Sam Shore, business manager; Bill Ebner, art editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor.

Spring Brings Carnival To JC

Pete Fahrney

PLANNING SPRING FESTIVAL—Making plans for tomorrow night's spring carnival, one of the annual highlights of the JC social calendar, are Ron Chamberlain, Dottie Rosewarne, Gini Nixdorf, Marilyn Berkebile, June Gray, Bonnie Guther, Dorothy Marker, Ann Willson, Anna Mary Smith and Stan Davis. The women's gym will be the scene of games, dancing, prizes and refreshments.

Clubs Sponsor Games, Booths

The interclub council's gala spring carnival is scheduled for tomorrow night at 8:30 in the women's gym.

Ginny Nixdorf, chairman of social activities, says that an action-packed evening has been planned with various events taking place until 11:30 p.m.

At the beginning of the evening, each Juniatian will have a chance to test his skill or luck at games and contests set up by the various clubs and organizations. Booths will be open from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Entertainment will begin at 9:30 emceed by Dick Backus and Dave Amidon. Fred Guion and The Flashes. Nancy Nevin and the Frank Hrach quartet will appear on the program.

Immediately following the entertainment carnival goers will go to Totem Inn for refreshments consisting of pink lemonade and pretzels. A record dance until 11:30 will conclude the evening.

Miss Nixdorf added that from time to time throughout the affair door prizes donated by local merchants will be awarded.

Senate Names 4 Women, 5 Men As Candidates For CJ Positions

Five men and four women were named by the Senate as candidates for seats on the Campus Judiciary at the Wednesday meeting, the final decision to be made in an all-college vote Monday.

Don Aurand, Carl Lindsay and Ross Nahrgang were the Senate selections for the senior male seat. Women contenders chosen from the senior class were Joan Hannaford and Aliceann Wohlbruck.

Bill Lafe and Carl Wass were chosen as the male contenders from the junior class, while Ann Larkin and Janice Christy were selected from the women nominated.

Other persons desiring to run may petition to have their name placed on the ballot. Petitions are available from Nancy Hess and Al Blough.

The Senate made their selections from over fifty nominations from the floor. Only one Senate-nominated candidate declined the nomination.

Next Week In Chapel

April 8 — Wilbur E. Mullen, Brethren Service

April 10 — Grace Creswell, ballad singer

April 12 — Dr. Jotham Johnson, archaeologist

Classes To Nominate Candidates For Queen

Nominations for May Queen and attendants will be made Thursday, April 12, according to Al Blough, Senate Vice-president, with elections slated for the following Tuesday, April 16.

The nominations will be made at class meetings by all members of the respective classes. The May Queen and her Maid of Honor will be elected from the senior class, while each class will have two attendants. Prince Charming will be a senior, nominated by the girls from his class and elected by the entire student body.

Results of the election will be announced at the May Day breakfast Thursday, April 25.

Quigley To Speak For JC Dem Day

As a follow-up to Juniata's Republican Day held last Monday, a Democratic Day has been scheduled for Friday, May 3, with James Quigley heading the activities.

Quigley now a resident of Highland Park, was graduated from Villanova and Dickinson School of Law. He is now a partner in a prominent Harrisburg law firm. He gathered practical experience in politics when he represented the 19th or the Eisenhower district during the 84th Congress. He is presently serving as the Administrative Assistant to Senator Joseph Clark (D-Pa.).

McKinley Band To Be At Chairty Ball May 8

Committees made up of Huntingdon men and women are now at work on the Charity Ball to be held in JC's Memorial Gym Wednesday, May 8.

Paul Cook, distributor for the American Oil Company, and John Gehrett, in charge of regional and export sales for Prismo Safety Corporation, are acting as chairmen of the affair.

Cook and Gehrett have announced that Ray McKinley and the Glenn Miller Orchestra will provide music for the dance, the proceeds from which go to the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital.

Harlacker Heads Announcing Staff

Kenneth Harlacker was appointed this week to head the dining room announcing staff for the coming year.

Harlacker succeeds graduating Dean Hancox. He will be assisted by Pete Fahrney and Terry Fouse.

The staff was chosen Monday evening, with the present announcer, his two assistants and the chairman of communications casting ballots. The new staff assumes duties April 15.

Godlasky Releases Dining Hall Rules

In a statement released last Wednesday to the Juniatian, Dean Godlaskey gave the "final word" concerning dress in the dining hall.

The statement read, "The administration has decided to do something about dress in the dining hall. According to The Grey Paper women are expected to wear modest street clothes, and men must wear jackets at dinner. However, both the Dean of Women and the Dean of Men are of the opinion that the rule should be more explicit.

"The Dean of Women indicated ankle socks would not be tolerated, while the Dean of Men would like to enforce some of the rules which the New York Yankees abide by.

"They are: 1. If a sport shirt is worn with a jacket, the shirt should be buttoned at the collar. 2. If a dress shirt is worn, it should be worn with a tie and jacket. 3. Tips will be left at the discretion of the individual.

"It should be noted that these rules will be in effect at all evening meals with the exception of Saturday and Sunday. The noon meal on Sunday will remain as dinner, however. For that final word, beware."

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Shirley Hunsicker, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall, Rene Dimmick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 22 — April 5, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Partisan Days

REPUBLICAN Day and Congressman Richard Simpson's appearance on campus earlier this week have called forth a number of editorials, which follow.

1. A Good Idea

THE introduction of a Repulbican Day and a Democrat Day into the campus calendar is an excellent idea.

Newt Taylor and Dr. Kenneth Crosby are to be commended for their work in obtaining the speakers for the occasions, for procuring money to cover expenses, for gaining the approval of the Administration and for taking care of the numerous details involved in any such project.

In spite of the charges about campus that Juniatians are too conscious of politics we cannot help but feel that such consciousness is greatly to be desired on any level, campus or national. While some are more interested in politics than others, there should be in each of us a basic concern about the method in which we are governed.

We hope that in the future partisan days will be explained to include more activities. Democrat Day, scheduled for May 3, is a day we are awaiting with considerable anticipation.

2. Activities Too Few

IT was unfortunate that Republican Day activities were so limited this year.

The date for Congressman Simpson's visit to our campus was changed at the last minute, affording little opportunity for publicity. His stay on campus was so short that little included in the original plans for the day could be accomplished.

Many who heard Simpson in chapel were unimpressed and will remain unimpresed since only a few students had an opportunity to talk with the affable congressman the next period.

Perhaps Simpson was not informed about the subject of his chapel address. If it was his task to trace the history of the GOP, as Newt Taylor mentioned in his preface to the chapel talk, Congressman Simpson hit the mark only occasionally.

Let us hope that Juniatians will not as a result act unfavorably to future partisan days.

3. What Price Partisanship

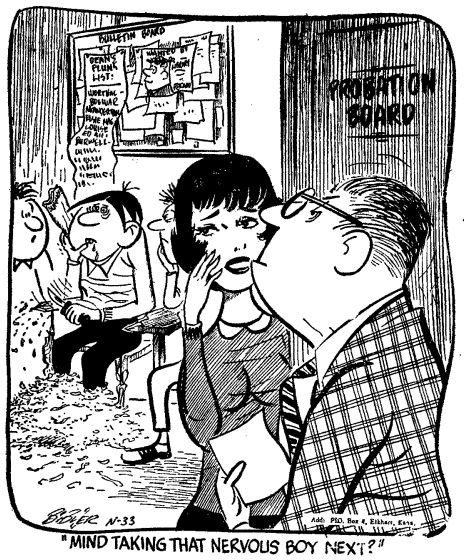
CONGRESSMAN Simpson took a firm stand against bipartisanship in his chapel talk Monday. Such a viewpoint was a bit hard to swallow.

Simpson's chief argument in behalf of partisanship was that it allowed the responsibility of government to be placed in the hands of a party in power, which could be held accountable for any deficiencies. His position suggested that party policy is the prime motivation for his actions.

Congressman Simpson failed to point out however that each party has its efficient workers and its deadwood. Why then should the party bear the blame for the activities of irresponsible individuals. Why should representatives hesitate to cross party lines to vote for worthwhile proposals. Why shouldn't members of each party work together on such issues as foreign policy.

Our 2-party system is one of our government's greatest assets, but partisanship can and does become a dead weight tied to congressional efficiency.

Besides, how would Eisenhower and numerous other Republicans have been elected if it were not for the bi-partisans—the GOP is considerably outnumbered by Democrats.



"MIND TAKING THAT NERVOUS BOY NEXT?"

Del McQuaide

The World This Week

News Analysis

DAVE BECK — The explosive happenings on the labor front last week are going to have significant implications on two important issues in the United States. The uncovering of Dave Beck's handling of union funds for personal use to the tune of $320,000 is going to hurt the labor movement.

Despite the fact that the AFL-CIO executive council acted quickly and forcefully in suspending Beck from the council, labor will be hurt unless Beck is able to clear his name.

Labor Hurt

But his chances of exonerating himself seem slim and consequently those forces opposed to labor and unionism have been provided with ammunition to attack the effectiveness of the labor movement. At the present moment there is a trend toward right-to-work legislation in the state. Eighteen states now have legislation outlawing the union shop and two more have similar bills peding in legislature.

What's more, Beck may be responsible for creating an unfavorable union climate, thus stopping labor's drive to unionize millions of unorganized U. S. workers.

Fifth Amendment Reaction

But the damage has been inflicted not only on the labor movement. The liberals in the county have been fighting a bitter struggle to keep the public sympathies with the absolute necessity of safeguarding our civil liberties at all times.

The primary issue today concerns the fifth amendment, which has unfortunately been discredited in the eyes of many, because reactionaries have charged that it protects communists. There is no doubt that in some cases the fifth amendment has protected communists who should have been prosecuted for particular illegal actions, but to say that the fifth amendment is no good or that it actually is detrimental to the interests of the people because of this is sheer folly.

In the last two years the Red hysteria had died down, and people have been regaining their proper perspective on the question.

Beck Appears

Then Mr. Beck appeared on the scene. His indiscriminate and irresponsible use of the fifth amendment to save his own fat skin has caused many to wonder why this man should not be made to answer questions about corruption and vice in an organization of which he is the head.

They say the fifth amendment was intended to protect a man's conscience not his explicit actions. Why not forget about the fifth amendment and proecute this man. It is exactly this kind of feeling that leads to discrediting and consequent trespassing on our civil liberties.

An Ex-Senator Appears

Mr. Beck and his very well known legal counsel should be roundly condemned for their violation of the sacredness of our civil liberties, which are the foundation of individual freedom. Freedom carries with it the duty to respect that which guarantees that freedom.

MORE ON CIVIL LIBERTIES — One final note while we are on the subject of civil liberties. I was really glad to hear Representative Simpson tell us on Republican Day that the Republican party stood for freedom of speech. Very interesting. The political situation being what it is, enough said!

Intercollegiate Chatter

by Barb McIntyre

Not one of us needs to check the date on the desk calendar to realize that spring has arrived on campus. The Drury Mirror provides us with obvious symptoms of spring fever —

"There is a feeling of smelling sweet air, and when else could you smell honeysuckle in the middle of chapel... the great migratory urge spreads to everyone; let's leave; let's just go somewhere—anywhere. . all mental ability disappears and we spend the greater part of the alloted 50 minutes staring out the open window at nothing ...all at once you want to be in love, with that excited feeling of skipping rather than walking and humming from Oklahoma! rather than carrying on a normal plebian conversation."

Watch Your Mailbox

You may think it's hopeless, but look in your mailbox every day and you too may be surprised. A Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute student says, "Every school day for three years I have looked in my mailbox knowing full well that should anyone desire to comunicate with me he will put a note in my mailbox. So today, after three years of looking in my mailbox I have been rewarded. I just got a note from the dean. Starting today I am on probation."

* * * *

Wilson College has been having quite a bit of discussion over compulsory chapels. Nothing has been resolved yet. We could get more people to chapel here (heaven forbid) by offering green stamps instead of attendance slips. For every full book of stamps the bearer would be entitled to a free sermon.

Nifty Novels from The Dickinsonian

Sons and Lovers — college men
Our Hearts Were Young and Gay — when we were freshmen
Look Homeward Angel — for money, what else?
Sweet Thursday — weekend in view
Old Wives' Tale — rumors
God's Little Acre — the cliffs

* * * *

Two old ladies were enjoying the music in the park. "I think it's a Minuet from Mignon," one said.

"I thought it was a waltz from Faust," said the other.

The first went over to what she thought was the board announcing the numbers.

"We're both wrong." she said when she got back, "It's a Refrain from Spitting."

Proudly We Hail

RECOGNITION is due in a number of areas this week for excellent performance:

- The JCA's week on love and marriage was a huge success, and Spencer Ward and his associates should be congratulated for the excellent speakers and well-planned activities of the week.
- The blood drive too was a success except for the 60 men who promised they'd give blood but didn't show up. Nancy Nevin and Al Blough handled publicity and arrangements quite well.
- The imagination and worthwhile ideas that came from the ORGE committee this year certainly merit mention. It is good for us to look to the future and to tackle really big problems about campus. Serving on the committee were chairman Dave Amidon (whose reports to the Senate have highlighted their meetings), Joan McClure, Dick Backus, Tress Baughman, Ann Wilson, June Gray and Kerin Narbut.

Buckboard Borrowers Take Note

THOSE who have borrowed money from the library's buckboard must return the money by April 8, according to librarian Miss Anna Winger.

Otherwise, the service whereby Juniatians may borrow dollars from the bulletin board in the lobby of the library will be discontinued.

It has been pointed out that the service cannot be used as widely as it was hoped since those who have taken money have been too slow in returning it.

Let's hope that the buckboard's circulation speeds up and that this valuable service is preserved.

Spring Sports Season Opens With JC-Washington Battle

Pete Fahrney

BUSY WITH SPRING SPORTS—Preparing Juniata men for a spring sports card that gets underway today with the Washington College baseball game are Bob McFadden, tennis manager; Mike Snider, track coach and Ken Bunn, baseball mentor. Not shown is golf coach Bill Germann.

The Juniatian

SPORTS

The Juniatian, Friday, April 5, 1957, Page 3

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Prospects for the baseball team appear best in the spring sports realm at JC.

This is based primarly on the good freshmen prospects available. Bill and Jim Berrier, Don Ross, Ron Moyer, Ed Beers and Pete McCauley could all land first string jobs. Of course Lefty Alderfer will be the mainstay this year whether pitching, in the outfield or at first base.

* * * *

The starting nine this afternoon will probably consist of Shover catching, Alderfer pitching, Harrison at first, Beers at second, Jim Berrier at short and Ross at third. The outfield trio should have Over, Moyer and Bill Berrier.

* * * *

The NCAA mat tournament put wrestling in the spotlight last weekend. Pitt finished a strong second to Oklahoma. The Panther's Ed Peery won his third straight NCAA title in the 123 lb. class. Perry matched his father and brothers who have also performed this rare feat.

The trend in wrestling is definitely upward, both in collegiate and high school circles. Many fans believe JC should not lag behind in this respect. Juniata could easily schedule such small liberal arts schools as Lebanon Valley, Albright, Lycoming and Elizabethtown.

* * * *

There is definitely interest and ability among the student body which has been proved in the IM program inaugurated this year. Also the cost except for the initial purchase of a good mat, would not be excessive. E-town started from scratch three years ago and is gradually becoming very successful, primarly through student efforts. The JC student body might follow E-town's example and keep JC in step with other small liberal arts schools.

* * * *

All softball teams should get their roosters completed as they are due before Saturday, April 12, and play should begin sometime after the 15th—weather permitting. The league is wide open this year but word has it that the Wibbers, Whips, Mumblers and Crusaders have already organized good clubs.

Juniata Track Team Journeys To Lock Haven

Lock Haven State Teachers College will provide the opposition for Juniata's first track meet of 1957 this Tuesday afternoon on the cinders at Lock Haven.

Coach Mike Snider is faced with just two losses due to graduation from last year's edition of the track team. Al Nyce, top-notch performer in the shot put, discus and javelin, graduated last summer as did Elwood "Sonny" Kaylor, who led JC in the broad jump and the high jump. The Indians are also hurt by having several performers on academic probation.

Snider will bank very heavily on the returning lettermen and a crop of good freshmen for Tuesday's meet.

Indian Golfers Meet Johns Hopkins Away

Juniata linksmen will open thier 10-match golf season against Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore on Thursday.

Coach Bill Germann's team will be aiming to repeat last year's 9-0 defeat of the Maryland six. Only two veteran golfers, Dick Hite and Dick Mumma, return to pace this year's small squad, and the hopes of matching last season's eight win, two loss record will lie with seniors Chuck Mullen and Neil Beefelt, and freshmen Jay Gettig and Joe Collins.

Losses from last year are, Keith Birmingham, Middle Atlantic champion in 1956; Bill West; Barry Montgomery and John Staley.

This will be Germann's fourth year as coach of Juniata's winningest spring sport. The JC linksmen have not had a losing season in 10 years, and have won the Middle Atlantic Tournament three times since its origin just seven years ago.

JC Tennis Squad Inaugurates 30th Season Tuesday

Juniata College's tennis team inagurates its 30th season of intercollegiate competition when it opens against the Elizabethtown Blue Jays at E-town next Tuesday afternoon.

The Indians hold a decisive 20-12 edge over the Blue Jays in a rivalry which dates back to 1939. In the two matches with the E-town squad last year the Indians scored lopsided 8-1 and 9-0 victories, but this year indications are that the Blue Jays will be no pushover in their own nest.

Don Randall, Don Ruhl, Del McQuaide, Don Murdoch, Wally Bell, and Skip Oesterling are the leading candidates to fill the top six positions of Manager Bob McFadden's racket squad.

Unbeaten Whips Put Three Among Top Ten Bowlers In IM League

The Whips, undefeated in 13 decisions, have placed three men in the top 10 bowlers of th eintramural league.

Neil Beefelt leads the league with an average of 153 pins per game. Arnold Olt is second with 143.4 average and "Doc" Geiger, the third Whip in the top 10, managed to squeeze in the first 10 with a 136.1 average.

Herb Layman, Keystoner Kegler, has the third highest average with a 141.8, while Skizo bowler, Frank Bird, is fourth with 140.9 pins per match. Team B's Lou Hall, leading woman bowler, rounds out the first five with her 138.6 average.

Dick Hite of the Ten Pins and Jim Ake of the Admirals are tied for sixth position. They both possess 137.6 averages. Glenn Williamson, another Admiral bowler, is next with 137.5 and Don Replogle of the Seniors is ninth with a 136.3.

Scholastic Meet Set For April 20

Mike Snider, Juniata athletic director, announced this week that plans are well underway for the second annual Invitation Scholastic relays which will be held Saturday, April 20, at College Field beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Thus far 220 track and field athletes from 10 Central Pennsylvania high schools have registered for participation. Teams will represent high schools from Bellwood, Roaring Spring, Tyrone, State College, Clearfield, Huntingdon, Juniata Joint, Amagh-Brown, Chief Logan and Lewistown. Additional schools are expected to register for the event.

The meet consists of six field events, five relays an open 1-mile run.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

3-Year Veteran Alderfer Heads Pitching Staff

Baseball makes its 1957 debut here this afternoon with the Indians opposing Washington on the College Field diamond at 2:30 p.m.

The Indians' battery will be 3-year letterman and leading hurler Lefty Alderfer pitching and Don Shover, another letterman, catching. Coach Bunn will probably start George Harrison at first, John Staley or Ed Beers at second; Jim Berrier at short and Don Ross at third. The outfield includes Ross Moyer, Bill Berrier and Phil Over, a letterman.

Tomorrow the Indians will travel to Indiana where they will take on the Teachers, against whom they have compiled a series record of eight wins and three losses. The game with Indiana was rained out last year.

Another away game is scheduled for next Wednesday when the Bunnmen will tangle with Shippensburg State Teachers College. Last year Juniata came out on the short end of a 5-2 score, but holds a 3-1 edge in the series.

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Expert Watch Repair
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 Penn St. 723 Wash St.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

SHOP
The Ray English Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

1957-58 Campus Directory

Senate
President — Del McQuaide
Vice president — Al Blough
Secretary — Nancy Hess
Treasurer — Kenneth Fassnacht
Athletics — Val Means
Communications — Ronn Fink
General activities — Bonnie Gunther
Men's house — Bernie McQuown
Religious activities — Spencer Ward
Social activities — Ginny Nixdorf
Underclassmen — Chuck Brown
Women's house — Janice Gilroy

Class Officers

Senior
President — George Fattman
Vice president — Harold Saylor
Secretary — Beverly Condit
Treasurer — Ired Ross

Junior
President — Jim Ake
Vice president — Ronald Wertz
Secretary — Janice Christie
Treasurer — Sam Shore

Sophomore
President — Ernie Richardson
Vice president — Pete Douglas
Secretary — Jane Herbster
Treasurer — "Dutch" Boland

Alfarata
Editor-in-chief — Ross Nahrgang
Business manager — Sam Shore
Literary editor — Barb Smathers
Photo editor — Pete Fahrney
Sports editor — Chuck Brown
Club editor — "Tex" Holman
Class editors — Jacque Rhodes, Ann Larkin
Art editor — Bill Ebner
Typing editor — Nina Fredenburg
Caption Editor—Betty Jane Bowman.

Juniatian
Editor — George Fattman
Managing editor — Barb Walls
Business manager — George Carnahan
Associate editor — Dick Johnson
News editor — Carol Baish
Copy editor — Ronn Fink
Sports editor — Chuck Brown
Advertising manager — Don Miller
Circulation manager — Joyce Hoffman

Powwow
Editor — Leora Furlong
Business manager — Rene Dimmick
Advertising manager — Judy Wernsing

Scout
Editor — Janice Hoyer
Business manager — Jay Muir
Advertising manager — Jim Heck

WJC Radio
Station manager — George Carnahan
Program director — George Fattman
Technical director — Bill Holsinger
Asst. technical director — Ed Brockway
Secretary-treasurer-librarian — Jan Schall
News & campus events — Carol Baish
Sports — Bill Ebner

Camera Club
President — Bruce Bennett
Vice president — Pete Fahrney
Secretary-treasurer — Rick Bell

Chemistry Club
President — "Chic" Henry
Vice president — Dave Suloff
Secretary-treasurer — Kerin Narbut

Future Teachers
President — Ruth Perestam
Vice president — Jacque Rowland
Secretary — Stella Morgan
Treasurer — Dick Lantzy

International Relations
President — Jack Dorenzo
Vice president — Seung Hee Kim
Secretary-treasurer — Lou Hall
Hostess — Sue Schaeffer

J-Club
President—Bernie McQuown
Vice president—"Killer" Conley
Secretary-treasurer — Glenn Hassinger

Juniata College Band
President — Charlie Fox
Secretary — Delores Briggs

Juniata Touring Choir
President — Larry Landes
Manager — Terry Fouse
Asst. manager — Janet Binkley
Secretary — Jacque Rowland
Treasurer — Charlie Fox
Publicity — Aileen Wright

Lambda Gamma
President — Dorothy Marker
Vice president — Jill Muir
Secretary — Kay Spangler
Treasurer — Frances Sweitzer

Masque
President — Jan Schall
Vice president — Bruce Bennett
Secretary — Judy Barrowclough
Treasurer — Bob Reader
Technical director — Bill Holsinger

Outing Club
President — Dick Lantzy
Vice president — Bev DeJanney
Secretary-treasurer — Edith Campbell
Inter-club council — Lou Hall

Pyreness Club
President — Barb Shaffer
Secretary-treasurer — Jim Jackson

Scalpel and Probe
President — Bryan Stauffer
Vice president — Chuck Longnecker
Secretary-treasurer — Barb Wittenbrook

Sigma Psi
President — Carl Lindsey
Vice president — Melvin Diven
Secretary — Barb Smathers
Treasurer — Aileen Wright
Inter-club council — Anna Mary Smith

Tycoon Club
President — Bob Passmore
Vice president — Don Aurand
Secretary-treasurer — George Zeh

Vets
President — Tom Woodrow

Women's Athletic
President — Dottie Rosewarne
Vice president — Lou Hall
Secretary — Jane Herbster
Treasurer — Sandy Cohick

Penn Jazz Group Brings Freshmen, Morrow To State

Juniata's jazz fans may be interested in a concert featuring the Four Freshmen and Buddy Morrow's orchestra to be held in Penn State's Recreation Hall Sunday, April 7, at 2:30 p.m.

The Four Freshmen, a group noted for its modern sound, is composed of Ross and Don Barbour, Ken Albers and Bob Flanigan who are also accomplished instrumentalists. Throughout the concert each serves in at least two capacities.

Morrow's band, of Night Train fame, features Morrow's trombone, Dick Johnson, jazz sax star, and vocalists Betty Ann Blake and Don Trube.

The show is sponsored by the Penn State Jazz Club whose aim is to bring the finest in jazz to central Pennsylvania on a non-profit basis. Tickets are available at the Hetzel Union desk and at the door.

Chemistry Students Away On Field Trip

Members of Juniata's industrial chemistry seminar made a field trip to plants and research labs in the Pittsburgh area April 2-5.

The group of 15 students headed by Dr. Hartzler and Dr. Rockwell left campus the morning of April 2 and spent the afternoon at Clairton Steel Works. The agenda for April 3 included U.S. Steel and Westinghouse research labs.

The seminar toured the Mellon Institute April 4 and spent April 5 seeing the Creighton Works, the H. J. Heinz Co. and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. During the field trip headquarters were at the Hotel Webster in Pittsburgh.

Cambria County Wins In District Forensics

Cambria county high school students carried off a major share of top honors in the district contest of the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League held last Tuesday at Juniata by gaining a winner in 19 of the 32 events.

Westmont-Upper Yoder contestants set the pace by winning eight of the music events. Fifteen of the winners in music and four in forensics came from Johnstown area schools.

Students from Westmont took top ratings in three instrumental contests and gained first in three individual vocal contests. They also held top rating for the boys' and the girls, trio.

Johnstown Catholic students won the debate contest and gained two individual winners in forensic contests. A Johnstown student also won first in the B flat clarinet contest.

Approximately 95 students from 15 different high schools in central Pennsylvania participated in the 1-day event. Winners were certified to compete in the state championships at Bethlehem later this month.

2 Students Make Canoe Expedition

While most JCers spent a normal and possibly routine vacation, two students, Joseph Senft, Everett, and Bryan Staufer, Greensburg, took a 70-mile canoe trip down the Raystown branch of the Juniata River.

The trip, which began early Monday morning and ended Wednesday afternoon, was planned as an outdoor lab to further their study af ornithology (birds) and entomology (bugs). Aside from such minor details as unpredictable weather and three trips overland, the voyage was made without difficulty and was a success in the wildlife department.

McQuaide To Attend Michigan Conference

Senate president Del McQuaide will attend the annual Student Body Presidents Conference at the University of Michigan August 17-19.

The conference has been planned to provide an opportunity for student body presidents to gain knowledge and experience in areas necessary to the improvment of student government. It is sponsored by the United States National Student Association.

At the conference McQuaide and other student government leaders from accredited colleges all over the United States will hear a keynote address on The Student and American Higher Education. Discussions, workshops and special problem solving sessions will supplement further addresses by well-known speakers.

McQuaide will also have the chance to attend the 10th National Student Congress, an 11-day policy-making conference which follows the CBP Conference and to join the Student Editorial Affairs Conference to discuss the relationship between the campus newspaper and student government.

Saving Rooms Hit By Senate

Continued from page 1

in advising the student body that no such action may be taken, and that all rooms are open to anyone desiring to study in them.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby was retained as Senate-chosen faculty adviser.

Helen Herr was appointed to succeed resigning Karen Narbut as the chairman of the Founders Chapel renovation committee.

Janice Hoyer, Aliceann Wohlbruck, Ross Nahrgang and Glenn Hassinger were appointed to compose the 1958 edition of the Ogre committee. Jane Herbster was named placement bureau director.

Appointed to the educational affairs committee were Barb Walls, George Hess, Al Dungan, Sue Willison, Dick Humphries and Janet Binkley. Bob Reader and Karen Narbut were selected to the international students committee.

Jane Brumbaugh and Dick Humphries will represent the student body on the Totem Inn committee. Del McQuaide, Spencer Ward, Robert Moore and Meg Goodrich were appointed to the comprehensive examinations committee.

Bonnie Gunther was chosen parliamentarian of the Senate, and Ed Brockway is the new assistant Used Book Store manager.

Room Reservation Policy To Change

Bonnie Gunther, chairman of general activities, has made public the revised system of reserving class rooms, Founders Chapel, the Alcove and I. Harvey Brumbaugh House for class, club and committee use.

Rooms may be reserved for meetings by entering the reservation in the club calendar in the dean of women's office. Rooms may be reserved for the Tuesday-Thursday 10-10:30 a.m. period or for weekday evenings beginning at 7 p.m.

Oller Hall reservations, however, are obtained by making contact with Mrs. Anna Smith in the president's office. Swigart Hall may be reserved by seeing Prof. Donald Johnson.

Police Warn Parkers

The Borough Police Department has called to the attention of the students and faculty of Juniata the fact that many cars are parking on Moore Street between 17th and 18th, in spite of the fact that it is a restricted parking area.

Treasurer John Fike suggests that all faculty and students refrain from parking on Moore Street, for the Borough Police will be checking the area for violations.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

3 Piece Cotton Plisse Pajama Set usually $5.98
SPECIAL $3.99 set
Box Jacket and Trousers
Topped with Matching Coat
Pink, Blue, Maize
Size 34 to 40
DANKS & CO.

HARRIS CLIFTON
Last Time Friday!!
A Hollywood Sleeper
The Great Man
Jose Ferrer - Julie London
SAT only - 2 Features
Victor Mature in
The Sharkfighter
Cinemascope & Color
plus western
Utah Trail
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Inspiring!! Entertaining
Dramatic Motion Picture of Christ
Day of Triumph
In Eastman Color
Starring
Joanne Dru
Lee J. Cobb
Robert Wilson
James Griffith
The Most Stirring Picture on the Life of Christ That Has Ever Been Made

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

SPECIAL
Original Cast LP Records
Buy One For $5.98
Get The Second One For $2.98
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 23 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 12, 1957

Lindsay To Head Academic Aid; Committee Says Chapels Better

Carl Lindsay was appointed by the Senate to succeed Don Ruhl as co-ordinator of the freshman academic aid program at their weekly meeting Wednesday evening.

Kerin Narbut reported that the chapel evaluation committee found this year's programs "better than last year's" but that the Administration felt "advertising" (e.g. Senate sponsored blood drive) was in questionable taste. Spencer Ward succeeded Ann Willson as chairman of the committee.

The TV reservation committee was desolved and was replaced by a committee to be chosen by the chairman of communications. It was suggested that the TV GUIDE purchased by the Senate for Totem Inn be placed near the set instead of under the refreshment counter.

Dining Hall Announcements

The Senate ruled to change the election procedure of the dining hall staff. The chairman of general activities, the station manager of WJC and the chairman of communications now comprise the election board.

An announcer will be elected to a term of one semester and cannot immediately succeed himself. Ronn Fink reported that plans were under way to repair the dining hall public address system.

Treasurer Ken Fassnacht introduced the proposed 1957-58 Senate budget. He reported, however, that a final draft would not be drawn until September of this

See ANNOUNCEMENT, page 4

WJC Making Own Coaxial Cable Line To Founders Hall

WJC, through the use of a do-it-yourself coaxial cable, will remain on the air.

Station manager George Carnahan has announced that while Sunday evening's test broadcast was not a success because of the excessive wandering of the radio signal through the air waves of Huntingdon, the coaxial cable will allow WJC to use increased power without any of the illegal radiation.

The present aerial will be the starting point for the cable. First it will be wrapped with electricians tape. Then the taped wire will be wound with aluminum foil making a coaxial cable. When this is completed the problem of the sallying signal will be solved.

Juniatians Choose Aurand, Larkin, Wass, Wohlbruck 1957-58 CJ Representatives

Ann Larkin, Carl Wass, Aliceann "Poodle" Wohlbruck and Don Aurand were chosen as the new members of JC's Campus Judiciary in elections held Monday, April 8.

Miss Larkin, junior, was elected by a vote of 246 to Janice Christie's 222.

Wass, the junior man chosen to serve on the disciplinary body, won with 265 votes over Paul DeSesso's 78 and Bill Lafe's 127.

Miss Wohlbruck, a senior, defeated Joan Hannaford with 257 votes to Miss Hannaford's 208.

The voting for a senior man resulted in 93 votes for Don Aurand, 115 for Carl Lindsay, 99 for Don Saylor, 67 for George Cline, 73 for Ross Nahrgang and 28 for Noel Plummer.

Since no one gained a majority of the ballots, a run-off election was held Tuesday in which Aurand won 159 votes and Saylor 175, neither total constituting a majority of votes cast.

In the final run-off on Wednesday Aurand was elected with 248 votes to Saylor's 229.

Retiring members of the Judiciary, which was formed in October, 1956, are Joan McClure, Henry Gibbel, Meg Goodrich, "Squeegee" Holsinger and Ray Ono, who were Judiciary members by virtue of their positions as chairmen of women's and men's houses. Del McQuaide will remain on the Judiciary by virtue of his position as Senate president. He will serve as chairman.

Ex post facto members of the 1957-58 Judiciary are Janice Gilroy, chairman of women's house; Bernie McQuown, chairman of men's house; Barbara Bechtell, dean of women; Charles Godlasky, dean of men, and Dr. Donald Rockwell, faculty representative.

Rick Bell

JUDICIOUS FOUR — Of the nine members of the college community serving on the campus judiciary for 1957-58 these four were elected from the student body at large. From left to right are Carl Wass, Ann Larkin, "Poodle" Wohlbruck and Don Aurand. Others on the court which met for the first time last night, are chairman Del McQuaide, Janice Gilroy, Bernie McQuown, Dean Barbara Bechtell, Dean Charles Godlasky and Dr. Donald Rockwell.

Christopher Fry's "First Born"

Campus Actors To Give Play On Commencement

Rehearsals are now underway on First Born, the commencement play which will be presented by JC's graduating class Friday, May 31, in Oller Hall

The presentation, directed by Miss Esther Doyle, is a cut version of the play by Christopher Fry. It will also be performed at the Penn State Reading Festival May 2.

Set in Egypt during the Israelite subjection, the story centers around Moses' efforts to follow God's command and lead the Israelites out of Egypt to Canaan. The play reaches its climax when Rameses, the Pharoah's son, played by Jim Barefoot, dies during the plague of the first born and the Pharoah finally gives his consent to let Moses and the Israelites begin the Exodus.

Montgomery Is Moses

Moses is portrayed by Jim Montgomery who has been seen in Brigadoon, The Skin of Our Teeth and All My Sons. Judy Gearhart known for her appearances in The Skin of Our Teeth, Brigdoon, Mademoiselle Modiste, All My Sons, Gondoliers and Bell, Book and Candle, plays the part of Seti, Pharoah's sister, who is on Moses' side and tries to persuade Egypt's ruler to free the Israelites.

Dick Backus is seen in two capacities—as Kef, the guard, and as narrator. Backus has participated in such college productions as Bell, Book and Candle, Brigadoon All My Sons and Arsenic and Old Lace.

Nancy Nevin, who was seen on the stage in Glass Menagrie and All My Sons, plays the part of Miriam, Moses' sister, while Carol Olbrich star of All Class Night, portrays Tusrit, Pharoah's daughter.

The part of Aaron is acted by George Carnahan, who participated in Arsenic and Old Lace and All My Sons. Dick Livingston, who acted in Gondoliers and Skin of Our Teeth, plays the Pharoah.

Clint Betz is seen as Sheni, a Jew who wants to become an Egyptian for the sake of worldly goods. Betz has played in The Skin of Our Teeth, Brigadoon, Arseni and Old Lace and All My Sons.

Coed Visits Vault; Finds Relics, Books

by Carol Baish

That pecular, musty smell of old books was the first thing I noticed as I was shown into JC's library's inner sanctum, a small vault in the East Room which is a fascinating storehouse of books dated as far back as 1475.

Books and more books, bound in leather and parchment, decorated with once-shinning ornaments, illustrated with wood-cuts and engravings, line the walls of the little room.

Although the books are old, they are well preserved here, and all are perfectly legible—if you have a magnifying glass handy and can read German set in Old English type.

Rare Bible

Miss Winger first handed me the 1776 edition of the Sauer Bible printed in Germantown by Christopher Sauer. This is the rarest of all Sauer Bibles since the major portion of this edition, while in sheet, was used by the Continental Army for cartridges.

The 1763 edition of the same Bible is highly valuable also; it was the first to be printed on American paper using American type. A note on the flyleaf informs us that it was bought by Felix Hidelbrandt for 35 shillings. Chances are, it is worth somewhat more than that now.

Human Skin Book

Contrary to popular campus belief, the famous 1690 "Bible"

See MAGAZINE, page 4

● Bill Graffious ●
Marine Second Lieutenant

Former Student Second Lieutenant

Bill Graffious, former student at Juniata, was commissioned a Marine Corps second lieutenant March 23 at Quantico, Va.

Graffious was awarded the commission on the completion of the 18th officer candidate course, a 10-week indoctrination course for prospective Marine officers. The course emphasizes leadership and physical fitness and was designed to test the potential of its 143 graduates who represented more than 250 colleges and universities.

With the exception of eight new officers who have been designated student aviators and who will go to flight training at Pensacola, Fla., the graduates are to attend the officers' basic course at Quantico. Upon the conclusion of this 8-month course they will be assigned to duties throughout the Marine Corps.

NOTICE, STUDENTS WITH CARS

Students are asked not to park on the Oller Hall parking lot tomorrow all day; the area will be used for the Road E-O driving contest.

Chapel Choir Plans Palm Sunday Concert

As a special Holy Week event, the Chapel Choir, directed by Miss Mary Jo Pfotenhauer, will present a concert of sacred music Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in Oller Hall.

Following an organ prelude played by Sam Douglas the choir will sing The Passion of Our Lord According to St. Matthew, by Heinrich Schuetz. Registrar James Bray and the Rev. Robert McFadden will narrate the parts of the evangelist and Christ while Jim Martin, Bryan Staufer, Marjorie White and Jacque Hayes will take other special parts.

JC's Communion Service In Oller Tuesday Evening

The all college communion service, one of JC's most important Holy Week events, will be held Tuesday, April 16, at 9 p. m. in Oller Hall.

The service, a tradition at Juniata, is a modified version of that used in Amsterdam, Holland, in 1948 at the first assembly of the World Council of Churches. It is non-sectarian and everyone is invited to attend.

President Ellis will officiate at the service. Other faculty members who will participate in the program are Dean Mays, Dr. Crosby, Prof. Dubbel and Bob McFadden.

Deacons and deaconesses to serve at the communion will be chosen from the senior class by a JCA committee and Bob McFadden.

Socks To Be In Order For Saturday's Hop

"Extrovert socks" are in order for the FTA - sponsored dance to be held tomorrow, April 13, at 8:30 p.m. in the women's gym.

Ruth Perstam, president of FTA, has announced that the sock hop will feature hi-fi records and that refreshments will be served.

There will be games as well as dancing, and prizes will be given to the boy and girl having the biggest feet and to those wearing the wildest socks.

Next Week In Chapel

April 15 — Dr Norman Hope, Princeton Theological Seminary.

April 17 — Founders Day

April 19 — Devotional Service

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Val Means, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning, asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, Dave Saloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall, Rona Dimmick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 23 — April 12, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Wilted Ivy

(ACP) — FROM the editorial page of the HOLCAD, Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa., comes this comment on two kinds of colleges.

What a surprise it was to read in the March issue of HOLIDAY that the Ivy league schools, "dedicated to pure and remote knowledge," are a thing of the past; "The Big Ten will have the future."

* * * *

Hitting Ivy education, Professor Paul Engle of the University of Iowa writes, "The Ivy League's smallness depends on the Big Ten's bigness. Never forget: the Big Ten is that massive wall to which that gracious ivy clings."

Such universities as Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois have none of the conformity that makes an "Ivy league campus look as if its students had all gone to the same prep school at Conformity Corners."

Professor Engle does say Ivy is supreme in the limited area of undergraduate education, "But under the conception that the whole state is the campus, the Big Ten is supreme."

* * * *

The author should be congratulated on his attack at the smugnesss of the Ivy league schools. Living off the fame and traditions of a past era, these vine-covered halls of learning have shunned the possibilities of a good education at any other college. The Harvard, Yale or Princeton diploma has been glorified erroneously as the ultimate in education.

The author does stick his neck out a bit far, however, in predicting an end for the Eastern schools. Schools like Yale who can only take one fourth of their applicants and Dartmouth, which chooses its freshmen class of 725 from 6,000 applicants will continue to get the best potential college material. Schools in the Big Ten are required to take the mediocre student as well as the intelligent one because they are tax-supported.

* * * *

For Professor Engle to assert that "education for the few, dedicated to pure and remote knowledge is fine, touching and doomed" certainly predicts an end for liberal education as a whole. And yet, it was Alfred P. Sloan, of General Motors, who said, "Give us educated men. We can train them ourselves. But we can't educate them."

The Big Ten are important in providing education for the common masses. However, just because they have become so "broad-minded" and enormous in fulfilling their purposes, one cannot call Columbia "a Sorbonne-on-the-subway, Harvard a brave settlement down-wind from the cod-fish-drying racks and Cornell a salt-lick in the wilderness where jaded animals come to renew their minerals."

* * * *

If the professor is correct in his prediction, the college Beau Brummels might as well say goodbye to button down shirts, crew necks, tweeds and chinos. Who knows, the best dressed collegian for 1960 may be wearing blue jeans, flannel shirts and straw hats. Business concerns could call it the "Corn Belt" look.

A Dining Dilemma

THERE has been agitation of late concerning waiters and waitresses in the dining hall.

Many long to return to the days when waiters treated diners like people, not like animals. At one time waiters served each person at the table individually—dirty dishes were not all pushed to one corner, desserts were not dropped at the table head's place, cups of coffee were not passed around, the water pitcher was never set from the floor into the middle of the table and waiters never shouted to table heads to grab food off their trays as they raced past.

Some of the waiters refuse to get seconds for their tables, and reports from the serving room give shocking accounts of discourtesy and almost cut-throat tactics.

* * * *

Crowded conditions in Oneida Hall prevent us from enjoying the relaxation of former years, but it seems that the situation is becoming worse.

We realize that waiters have other things to do than wait on tables, but it seems that if they all slowed down a bit and showed a bit more courtesy, especially to one another, they would not be much later getting out of the dining hall and would find their job not quite so much an ordeal.

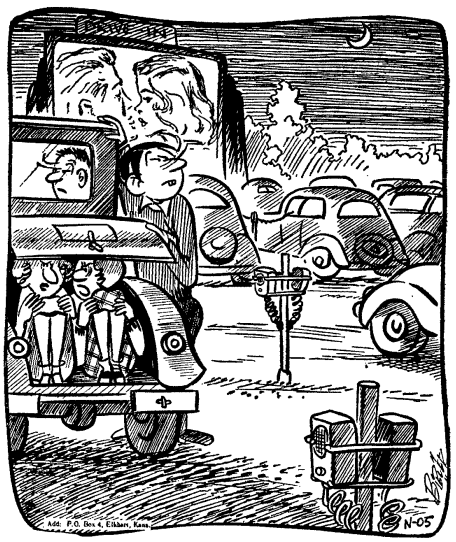
Our Readers' Opinions

From JCA

THE JCA extends its sincere thanks to all those who helped to make the Focus on Love successful. We hope it answered some of your questions and made you think about others. Any criticism of the program will be welcomed. Address them to the JCA.

IT has been recommended to the JCA cabinet that the social rooms be supplied with some religious literature — perhaps a couple peroidicals and Bibles. JCA is forwarding a plea to you for financial assistance to supply this need.

—Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities.



"I THOUGHT YOU SAID COLLEGE BOYS HAD MORE SPENDING MONEY?"

CAMPUS CAPERS

by Joan McClure

Focus on Love week, a very beneficial and successful idea, also proved to be fertile ground for quips and humor.

Replied one girl to the query "How can campus dating be increased?" "The college should subsidize dating." Of course, those receiving dating scholarships would be expected to keep up a certain dating average.

Perhaps a Union City, New Jersey high school fad is the answer to a universal small college problem for which the panel discussions on dating were unable to propose a solution — that of couples' being tagged as "going steady" after one or two dates, when no such agreement has been made between the couple themselves.

In Union City a girl who is looking for a boy to date laces both saddle shoes from bottom to top. One who dates but isn't going steady laces one up, one down. If a girl is going steady, she laces both down. Boys could do the same.

* * * *

Not So Sweet Revenge

While on the topic of campus dating policies, here's a new one: a coed let all the air out of her recent boyfriend's car tires. Men with cars (and bicycles) beware — this practice could become tradition.

And to combat the problem of crowded conditions in the Bell and Fire Towers the ogre committee suggested a directory of dark spots on campus.

Debaters Unpopular?

At one college's spring carnival, students got an opportunity to get even with unpopular campus leaders, who allowed pies to be thrown at them.. "However," observed a coed, "that couldn't have been done here, because the debate team was out of town."

* * * *

Perhaps the non-big wheels could unite into a "Non- Important People Club," as did the junior officers of Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, in protest to fanfare accorded VIP. There was also a Shy People's Club but the members were too shy to show up at the meetings. They even have organizations to encourage people to quit organizations.

* * * *

Heard About Campus

"We don't need a new typewriter," said the editor, as he threw back the carriage and the roller fell apart.

"The senator was unable to carry out his plan," the prof. informed the class. "for he passed out of existence. In fact, he died."

Out of the mouths of frosh:

"Are comps mostly true-false questions?"

"What girls have petitioned for May Queen so far?"

And, to leave a pleasant taste in the mouth — "My toothbrush is in my sneaker," the efficient packer informed his after Spring Vacation traveling companions.

"It's in a holder, of course?" he was asked.

"No," came the nonchalant reply.

The World This Week

by Del McQuaide

NEW LOOK — Britain has announced a drastic change in her defense system. The insular nation has stated that it cannot possibly defend itself against aggression by the conventional methods of defense and will in the future rely mainly on atomic missiles.

A sharp cut back of the army is beginning, But the more basic reason for Britain's change of policy is the fact that her economy is being hurt by the drain of high defense costs.

While it is understood that Britain should want to lessen her defense spending by emphasising this "new look," it nevertheless is apparent that there is much danger in relying solely on atomic missiles.

This danger is the attitude that the other western nations of Europe who belong to NATO will develop as a consequence of Britain's action. Britain plans to withdraw 13,000 troops from the NATO alliance in Europe.

Quite naturally West Germany now wants to cut down the number of troops it must supply to the alliance.Already Conrad Adenauer has stated that he will request atomic weapons from the United States.

Believing that no war is won without the foot-soldier, we see a significant weaking of the defense system developing. Furthermore, Germany's request for atomic armaments will have repercussions in France. First of all France will be fearful of placing atomic weapons in the hands of Germany, especially since there will now be fewer British troops in Europe to help defend her should Germany again attack France.

Although this is an unreasonable assumption, the reality of it among the French people must be faced.

Thus as far as the defense of Europe is concerned, Britain's change of policy must be considered a step backward and the "new look" can be more appropriately termed a defeatist attitude.

WEAKNESS OF U. N. — Within the past several months the world has been given another example of the present weakness of the U. N. When the Suez crisis first broke out, the Eisenhower Administration was content to allow the U. N. to handle the problem.

But with each passing day it became evident that the U. N. was in fact powerless. Dag Hammerskjold's attempts to get Egypt and Israel to settle their disputes over the Suez Canal and border raids was completely fruitless.

Hammerskjold said, "As you know, the secretary general in such conditions is in a situation rather different from the situation of a government." He spoke of the "somewhat meagre equipment" he had to work with.

As a result the Eisenhower Administration is starting to wake up and realize that the United States is the only nation capable of forcing a solution to the problem. The U. N. will have no objections to this. In fact, it should be enjoyed that the burden has been lifted from its rather worn shoulders.

Secretary of state John Foster Dulles is going to attempt to induce Egypt to accept arbitration as part of any Suez agreement. Althoubh his chances of success seem slim, it may be the first step toward the developing of a real middle east policy which has been so lacking in the U. S. foreign policy. Let us hope so.

Britain's Reduction Of Ground Troops May Help Economy, But Danger Higher

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Another Major League baseball season opens Monday when Baltimore travels to Washington.

All 16 of the teams move into action Tuesday as baseball again becomes the big news across the nation. Player consensus has the Yankees repeating in the American League but it is a different story in the National League. Here Milwaukee is picked to dethrone the Brooklyn Dodgers. The pdayers should know if anyone does but Brooklyn and Cincinnati cannot be counted out.

* * * *

The Phillies and Pirates both open at home this season. Philadelphia plays Brooklyn in a night game, and Pittsburgh meets New York in the afternoon. A vastly improved radio system will enable Pirate fans to follow their team very easily. The difficulty often encountered in following night games has almost been eliminated with the addition of several new stations in the Pirate network.

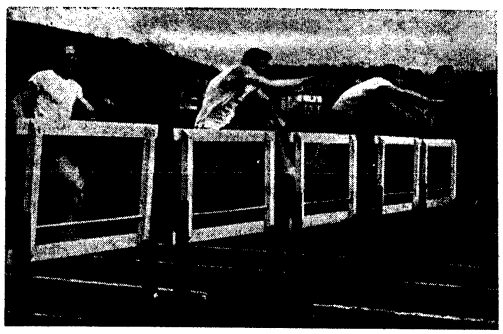
* * * *

The sophomores gave the freshmen a run for their money before becoming subdued in the interclass track meet. The freshmen had superior numbers as is the case every year and these provided too much for the other classes to cope with.

Leading by a narrow point and a half margin moving into the last two evets, the freshmen took first and third both in the broad jump and javelin throw which enabled them to pick up 13 points on the pressing sophomores.

* * * *

The juniors salvaged something in the fact that Bryan Stauffer collected 12½ points for the highest individual total. Herb Deuchar and Lew Stratton were the bulwark for the sophomores, collecting 22 points between them Curt Wicker and Dick Johnson appear to be the most promising freshmen prospects, Wicker threw the shot 39.8 feet, which is close to what Al Nyce did while performing for JC. Johnson was impressive in throwing the javelin 165' 5½".



Pete Fahrney

UP AND OVER — Sophomore, Lew Stratton, on the far right, leads the way over the hurdles in the 70-yard high hurdles. He is followed, from left to right, by sophomore, Terry Fouse, and freshman, Al Dungan. Action took place in last Saturday's interclass track meet.

Freshmen Cop Interclass Meet; Slow Track Mars Performances

by Bill Ebner

Bad weather and a slow track set the stage for Juniata's annual interclass track meet as the class of 1960 walked off with top honors.

The freshmen chalked up 56 1/2 points in the dozen events to edge the defending champion sophomores who had 42. The juniors and seniors were far behind with 21 1/2 and 12 points respectively.

Sophomore Herb Deuchar and junior Bryan Stauffer shared the individual scoring honors with 12 points each while sophomore Lew Stratton finished third with 10. Other high point men were Al Dungan who garnered nine points for the frosh and Herb Layman with eight for the senior class.

Although high winds and a wet track eliminated fast time, some nice performances were turned in. In the dashes, John Kerr sprinted 100 yards to victory for the sophomore class in 10.9 seconds and Joe Trimber tripped off the 220 in 25.2 seconds for the class of '58. The 440 yard run was won in 5.3 seconds by Deuchar who also finished first in the 880 with the time of 2:14.1. Stratton, another two time winner for the sophs, took the 120 low hurdles in 15.3 seconds and the 70 yard high hurdles with a 9.9 time.

Layman led the pack for four laps to cinch five points for the class of '57 in the mile run with a clocking of 5:18. In the high jump, freshman Henry Crocker cleared the bar at 5 feet 4 inches to win, while team mate Fred Yun leaped 18 1/2 feet to victory in the broad jump.

Stauffer dominated the field in the weight events, winning the discus throw with a 99 foot toss, placing second in the javelin, and fourth in the shot put. Freshman Dick Johnson threw the javelin 165 1/2 feet to win, and Kirk Wicker heaved the shot 39 feet 8 inches to cop another first place for the class of '60.

Rained Out Games Are Rescheduled

With rain and snow playing havoc with Juniata's spring sports schedule, several changes have been made on the baseball and track slates.

JC's proposed season opener with Washington College was not played because of snow and was forced to be cancelled. The Blue and Gold nine's contest with Indiana STC, which was scheduled for April 6 and was snowed out, has been pushed back to April 20.

The Lock Haven track meet, which fell victim to the weather last Tuesday, has tentatively been set for April 30.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Volleyball Tourney In Final Stage Today

Juniata's week-long intramural volleyball tournament will reach its climax this afternoon when the finals are played in Memorial Gym.

Eleven teams were entered in this event, which was added to the intramural program by Val Means, chairman of athletics. As the JUNIATIAN goes to press the tourney is in its semi-final stage. The Dutchmen, Army's, the Blenders and the Whips reached this point.

Other teams entered were the Rummies, Vultures, Spikers, Ball Busters, Tom Cats, Saylor House and Guzzlers.

IM Softball

Softball rosters must be given to the chairman of athletics by Sunday, April 4. The fields will be fixed up and play will begin as soon as weather permits.

Juniata Baseball Squad Drops Opener To Shippensberg, 3-1

by Wally Berkey

Juniata's Indian baseball team lost its initial contest of the year to the Shippensburg nine, 3-1, Wednesday, in a well- played game.

Using five of thir total six hits to good advantage, the Red Raiders scored three runs in different innings to outscore the visiting Juniata squad.

Shippensburg drew first blood in the opening inning when Don Cleary hit a wind-blown double to left field and scored on Pete Fackler's single.

Shippensburg made it 2-0 in the fourth when Fackler again singled and Dizzy Leamer singled with Fackler going to third. Fackler tallied in John Freeland's ground ball to the shortstop.

Indians Score in Fifth

The Indians scored in the fifth on Jim Berrier's double to right and Ron Moyer's single to center.

The Rer Raider's final run was scored in the seventh stanza. Tom Kline got to second after a two-base throwing error by Jim Berrier and crossed the plate on Gene Lynn's single to right field.

Harold Estep, a former Juniata pitcher, went the distance in gaining the win for the Red Raiders as he yielded nine hits, struck out eight and walked four.

Lefty Alderfer also pitched a good ball game in a losing cause surrendering six hits, issuing only one free pass and striking out nine.

Spring Sports Schedule Full; Trackmen Here

Juniata's spring sports action will get into full swing this week with five scheduled games, the first being a track meet with Muhlenberg here tomorrow.

The trackmen will open their 1957 season as the Mules travel to Huntingdon. The Indians haven't met the Maroon and Gray since 1915 and on the series hold a 3-0 edge. Coach Snider has a roster of 36 candidates, eight of which are lettermen, set for the meet.

Next is a baseball game with Dickinson at Carlisle, also tomorrow. Although the Indians defeated Dickinson last year by an easy 10-3 score, the game this year will probably be rougher since Dickinson has a well-balanced attack and sports a letterman at each position.

Action for Tuesday includes a home tennis match against Albright and an away golf match with Shippensburg. Last year Albright defeated Juniata 6-2 and holds a 4-3 edge on overall matches. In golf, Juniata will meet Shippensburg for the first time in recent years.

The baseball team will take to the road again Wednesday, as they travel to Pittsburgh to meet the Pitt Panthers. The nucleus of Pitt's team will be comprised of eight lettermen, six of which hold regular positions. The Juniata-Pitt game was cancelled last year because of rain.

Upsets Mark Bowling Loop

Mild upsets were turned in, in last week's IM bowling action by the Skizos, Keystoners and JC Seniors as they all defeated teams higher in the league standings.

In the big match, the Skizos exploded against the Crusaders in the second game with a team score of 744, which is the season's high for a single game. After losing the first game by 41 pins, the Skizos won the second game by 124 pins to gain two victories. Horace Carl was the big gun for the Skizos as he bowled a 314. Les Greenawalt led the Crusaders with a 305.

The Keystoners dropped Team B from second place to third by out-bowling them by 58 pins in the two games. Ray Burket's 267 was high for the Keystoners as teammate had a 249. Phil Stepanini was high for Team B with a 234.

The JC Seniors also scored impressive wins over the Dutch Mumblers by winning 3-0. Don Replogle's 273 and Ron Chamberlin's 264 were the Senior leaders. Al Blough was high for the Mumblers with a 296.

Standings

	won	lost
Whips	18	0
Crusaders	17	4
Admirals	18	6
Team B	10	5
Skizos	12	6
Keystoners	13	8
Dutch Mumblers	7	8
Ten Pins	8	10
JC Seniors	7	11
Alley Kats	6	12
4 D&C	5	22
Prophets	0	24

E-town Rallys To Beat JC Tennis Team, 6-3

Elizabethtown College's tennis team, paced by Kent Replogle and Sal Paone, two fellows primarily known for their basketball prowess, pulled a come-from behind rally to down the Indians in the season lidlifter for both teams on Tuesday afternoon at E-town.

The Indians' Don Randall opened the match with a 6-1, 6-8, 8-6 win over John Smith, and an early 2-0 lead was established when Don Ruhl followed up with a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Charles Colffax. Then E-town came to life and won the other four singles matches and the first two doubles matches to clinch the victory. An impressive win by Murdoch and Seeley over Price and Belecie was an anticlimax of the afternoon, and made the final score read 6-3 in favor of the Blue Jays.

The victory was a very satisfying one for the Blue Jays since they avenged the two overwhelming losses which were meted out to them by the Indians last season, while Juniata, sorely disappointed at having started the season on the wrong foot, is nevertheless looking forward to the return match in six weeks and a chance to even the score.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Men's
STRETCH
Socks
59c a pair
MURPHY'S

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

Motel 22
And Restaurant
Air-Conditioned
Dining Room
And Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of
Huntingdon, Pa.

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

Columnist Sees Nothing Wrong With Cheating

(ACP)—Cheat? Forty per cent or more students at a large number of colleges do it with no apology or sense of wrong-doing!

So said a national survey released a few weeks ago. And at least one college journalist makes no effort to refute it.

"This is news?" asks DAKOTA STUDENT columnist Chuck Sakariassen at University of North Dakota. "I thought it was a known, accepted fact!"

Reading the survey results reminded Sakariassen of a recent discussion with a friend after both had "'flunked a stinker."

Known The System

"Men of our calibre," said the friend in dead seriousness, according to Sakariassen, "should have been able to beat that one. If I would have known the set-up, I'll tell you what I would have done . . ." and went on to explain his system.

"I'll swear he must have spent the whole two hours sneaking glances around figuring what he could have gotten away with rather than trying to pass," says the writer. "No wonder he flunked.

"My excuse? I'm just stupid."

He hastens to add: "I don't mean to imply I'm above it. My white bucks are still full of ink marks from last semester's finals."

"What I'm trying to emphasize is how funny we are," he says and goes on to tell how his friend once spent eight hours making crib notes of the semester's material ("really, a work of art") only to find out he had unconsciously learned the stuff.

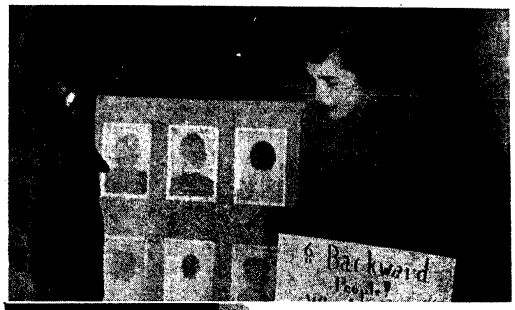
Is It Wrong?

But, Sakariassen finishes, "Is it wrong?

"There are two sides to the question. If you value honesty as a moral virtue I guess you'd say it was. But I sure wouldn't feel guilty glancing at the next guy's paper to find out who Henry VIII's third concubine from the left was if it meant the difference between a B or a C.

"Who said, 'You're only cheating yourself!? (I think it was my fourth grade teacher!)

"Anyway, whoever it was, I disagree. I'll go along with W. C. Fields who said, "Whatever's worth having is worth cheating for."



Rick Bell

ENJOYING SPRING CARNIVAL last Saturday night is Judy Castree who is trying to identify pictures of Juniatians taken from the rear view. This particular contest was won by Sam Shore. Also pictured is "Killer" Conley who is announcing the names of those lucky ladies who won the privilege of throwing pies at two unlucky J Club members.

Means Moves Up

Sports writer Val Means, a business major from Brookville and member of the class of '58, has been named assistant sports editor of the JUNIATIAN.

His column, Chalk it Up, will continue to appear weekly, however. Means is chairman of athletics on the Senate.

45 Record Player Missing From Gym

A 45 phonograph machine was taken from the Women's gym Friday night, April 5. Records and a combination radio were also included. The person who happened to take these items is requested to return them to the gym or Loretta Schrock as soon as possible.

Magazine Keeps Girls Of 1793 Well Read

Continued from page 1

bound in human skin, is not a Bible at all, but a Bibliotheca Politicia—"A Discourse by Way of Dialogue whether Monarchy Be Divine Law." What a book review that would make!

Evidently the ladies of 1793 were far better read than we give them credit for being—that is, if they really read such things as: The Internal Parts of Sumatra, Egyptian History and An Account of Bullfighting in Spain.

These are articles in volume two of The Lady's Magazine and Repository of Entertaining Knowledge, a literary gem comparing (in form only) to Harpers or The Atlantic and published by a Literary Society whose slogan was, "the mind is improved, yet amused." An interesting sidelight: one page is devoted to condescending and often cutting advice give by the editors to their writers.

My investigation of the old books could have continued for several hours, but this article is necessarily limited and anyway, by that time, I needed air. As I gulped the comparatively fresh air of the outer library, Miss Winger told me that the library would feature a display of these books April 27-28. It should be interesting—as long as you don't have to read them. In fact, I doubt that anyone could!

Announcement Posting To Cease

Continued from page 1

year, and that the accounts did not include expenses incurred in the preparations for the May Day program.

Bonnie Gunther reported on the annual spring carnival and labeled it a complete success. She also lauded the "outstanding entertainment."

A letter from Dick Johnson, associate editor of the JUNIATIAN, announced the staff's decision to drop the posting of dining hall announcements It was decided that some individual would be appointed at a later date to carry out this function which, in the opinion of the Senate, presented the studet body with an invaluable service.

New Alma Mater

Jacque Hayes announced that the final draft of the new alma mater should be ready by May 1, and it was reported that the publications veracity committee will be finished with their investigation within two weeks.

Jim Stayer presented the final report of the comprehensive examination committee which made three recommendations: a. that Dean Morley Mays report to each student what is expected of him in taking the comprehensive examniations, b. the study of comprehensive systems in other colleges, c. the continuation of department study programs.

Hard-Headed Editor, Reader Vie On Issues

(ACP) — Oklahoma Daily editor John Campbell printed the following letter from a reader:

From your editorials I gather that:

1. You're against compulsory ROTC.
2. You're against the draft.
3. You're against parking meters.
4. You're against campus police.
5. You're against closing the old golf course to spooners.
6. You're against bicycle riders.

What a complete hard-head you must be!

Replied the University of Oklahoma editor:

Dear Sir:

1. You're in favor of coersive volunteering.
2. You like being drafted.
3. You're in favor of picking pockets already empty.
4. Your father is a cop.
5. You're against love.
6. Your can't afford a car.

You're a hard-head.

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

SKIP'S INN
Friday Night Special
Italian Spaghetti
With or Without
Meatballs
Extra Large Hoagies
Phone 9951

HARRIS CLIFTON
LAST TIME TONIGHT!!
Eddie Fisher - Debbie Reynolds
Adolph Menjou
— in —
Bundle of Joy
— Technicolor —
Ray Danton - Colleen Moore
Night Runner
SAT only - 2 Features
Ray Miliand - Ernest Borgnine
Frank Lovejoy - Nina Foch
— in —
3 Brave Men
Cinemascope — Plus
Hugh Marlowe Coleen Gray
— in —
The Black Whip
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Female Jekyll and Hyde
Lived Three Lives . . . .
LIZZIE
Eleanor Parker Richard Boone
Joan Blondell - Hugo Haas
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Rory Calhoun Yvonne Decarlo
RAW EDGE Technicolor
— Plus —
Jack Mahoney
Leign Snowden
Ive Lived Before

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

New RCA Victor
Save-On-Records Coupon Books
Free With The Purchase Of
Any $3.98 RCA Victor Album
Get An Album FREE in July and Oct.
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the candy concessions.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Paul M. Frisbie
Representing the Y M C A
Will Be On Campus
To Interview Students For Summer Camp Positions
If Interested, See Dean Godlasky

WJC
Latest World News
HEADLINE EDITION
Nightly Monday through Friday
11 p.m.
Tom Chase reporting
Keep Abreast Of World Happenings

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 24 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 19, 1957

Queen, Court Will Appear At Breakfast

Neptune To Reign

By Don Leeking

Shades of Davy Jones!

What have we here but a gentleman who tells me his name is King Neptune. Odd how he resembles Pete Douglas. We're in a strange, green dining hall, and every one of the tables is filled with seven chattering, though somewhat sleepy-looking females and one older person.

King Neptune has told me that this is the traditional May Day breakfast of Juniata College and we are in Oneida dining hall. The chattering females are Juniata co-eds and the older person is a faculty member or spouse. The reason that Neptune is here is because every traditional breakfast has to have a theme and this year's theme is Realm of Fantasia.

Neptune says that soon the queen of May Day and her Prince Charming will be announced, and that this is the real purpose of the breakfast. Where are the Juniata men? Aren't they interested or don't they deserve to know so early in the morning?

Would you like to know who the May Queen and Prince Charming are? So would I! The Queen wil be either Judy Gearhart, Eileen Gipprich, Eloise Holsinger, Joanne Hutchinson, Carol Jenkins, Rosalie Langer, Phyllis Marcocci, Shirley McNitt, Nancy Nevin or Joy Wenger. Prince Charming will be either Dick Backus, Jim Barefoot, Denny Birtcil, Jim Corrigan, Henry Gibbel, Jim Matrin, Dick Mumma, Don Murdoch, Ray Ono or Doug Wilson

Since every queen needs a court, the runner-up from the list of candidates for queen plus members from every other class will serve in this capacity. Nominees from the class of '58 are Beverly Condit, Janice Gilroy, Nancy Hess, Ruth Perestam, Jacque Rowland, Jean Rubicam, Betsy Swope, Lil Weimar and "Poodle" Wohlbruck.

The class of '59 has nominated these fair ladies: Judy Castree, Janice Christie, Ann Larkin, Renee MacFadden, Bonnie Meadows, Barbara Smathers, Carol Teeter, Sue Vanderburg, Aileen Wright and Barbara Zoellin.

The class of '60 nominated Carol Beard, Edita Campbell, Barbara Fritchey Jane Herbster, Lucy Kriebel, Barbara McIntyre, Carol Mickel, Jill Muir, Carol Schenck and Darlene Schrock.

Pete Fahrney

WHICH ONE IS THE QUEEN? — The answer will be revealed at the May Day Breakfast Thursday morning. Last Tuesday Juniata students chose a queen and a maid of honor from this senior group. Candidates are, first row left to right, Phil Marcocci, Joy Wenger, Nancy Nevin and Eloise "Squeeze" Holsinger. Second row, Judy Gearhart, Rosalie Langer, Carol Jenkins, "Peep" Gipprich and Shirley McNitt.

Pete Fahrney

NINE CHARMING CANDIDATES from the senior class vying for the title of Prince Charming are pictured here. After being chosen by the students in last Tuesday's election, the prince will appear at the May Day Breakfast along with the rest of the court. Candidates are, first row left to right, Ray Ono, Don Murdoch and Dick Mumma. Second row, Dick Backus, Doug Wilson, Jim Martin, Denny Birtcil, Jim Barefoot and Jim Corrigan. Missing from the picture is Henry Gibbel.

Today's Services In Abbey Church

Ministers from various Huntingdon churches will preside at 20-minute services from 12 to 3 p.m. Good Friday at the Abbey Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Rev. Mr. May of the Lutheran church will preside at the first service with the Rev. Mr. Taylor of the 15th St. Methodist church delivering the message. At the second service the Rev. Mr. Coughenour of the United Brethren church will preside and the Rev. Mr. May will present the sermon.

The third service will be led by the Rev. Mr. Powell of the Presbyterian church and the Rev. Mr. Coughenour will speak. The Rev. Mr. Middlekauff of the Stone Church will preside over the following service and the Rev. Mr. Powell will deliver the sermon

See FRIDAY, page 4

Senate Names Nahrgang Head Of Fund Drive

Acts On Library Light

Ross Nahrgang, class of '58, was appointed to head the 1957-58 JWSF drive at the weekly meeting of the Senate in Founders chapel Wednesday.

In other business, the Senate decided to take action toward better and more adequate lighting facilities in the library. It will also be suggested to the library management that the over-crowded conditions prevailing in the evening be alleviated by the opening of the freshman reading room for all students. An investigation will be conducted toward providing more studying facilities by attempting to procure college cooperation in the opening of Students Hall on Sundays.

Bill Ebner was named as news service co-ordinator, assuming duties formerly performed by the JUNIATIAN staff.

Lonely Hearts Club?

A move will be made to determine the need for a dating bureau on Juniata's campus. This action stems from the various discussions that arose during the live and marriage week sponsored by the JCA.

Carol Baish, Ronn Fink, Janice Gilroy and Gini Nixdorf will attend the NSA spring regional assembly to be held at Penn State April 26-27.

Bonnie Gunther reported that club response to a plea by the ICC for donations toward a fund to replace the phonograph taken from the women's gym last week was "exceedingly favorable" and that the J-Club, the Camera club and JCA have already contributed. The phonograph, owned by Loretta Schrock, was being used

See VISITOR, page 4

A Loathsome Creature

College Man Would Do Nothing

Between the senility of second childhood and the light-hearted lechery of the teens we find a loathsome creature called the college man.

College men come in all assorted sizes, weights and states of sobriety and have the same creed: to do nothing every second of every minute of every day and to protest with whining noises (their great weapon) when their last minute of inertia is finished and they are taken off to the Employment Bureau or the Draft Board

College men are found everywhere—breaking train windows, tearing down goal posts, inciting riots or jumping bail. Mothers love them, little girls love them, big girls love them, middle-sized girls love them and Satan protects them.

A college man is laziness with peach-fuzz on its face, idiocy with lanolin in its hair and the hope of the future with an over-drawn bankbook in its pocket.

Against Alarm Clocks

He likes good liquor, bad liquor, cancelled classes, double-features and girls on football weekends. He is not much for hopeful mothers, irate fathers, sharp-eyed ushers, cops, alarm clocks or letters from the dean.

A college man is a magical creature — you can lock him out of your heart, but you can't

See COLLEGE, page 4

JCA Plans Dating Bureau Next Year

During the recent Focus on Love Week sponsored by the JCA it was decided that a dating bureau should be set up next year.

It is believed that this organization wil help freshmen become assimilated into the new atmosphere of college life. Working in connection with JCA, it will give them a look at what college should be like and get them started dating.

Any ideas about such a program are to be presented to Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities.

Consideration was also given to the continuation of Focus on Love in coming years. The administration agreed with JCA that such a week should be set aside about once every two years

College Plans Summer Travel For Students

JCers and students of other colleges will have the chance to spend several weeks on tour in Europe during the summer of 1958.

The tour, which is being planned by Juniata College, will be arranged through the Council of Student Travel and operated by Transmarine Tours Inc.

In Europe, students will travel by rail and motor coach through France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany and Holland. A 12-day extension tour to England and the Edinburg Music Festival will also be offered.

Juniatians who are interested in taking the trip may pick up further information and itineraries in the Public Relations office.

Social Committee To Bring 'Dark Victory' To Oller

Dark Victory, starring Bette Davis, George Brent and Geraldine Fitzgerald, will be shown tomorrow evening at 8:15 in Oller Hall.

The movie, a product of Films Incorporated, is a powerful story of a selfish society girl who, facing an incurable illness, finds strength and courage to face her problems through a deep and genuine love

Ginny Nixdorf, chairman of the social committee, said that a second film wil be shown May 20.

Following the movie there will be dancing to records in the women's gym until 11:30 p. m.

Students To Observe Brethren Campus Day

Devotional services, forums and discussions will fill the weekend of April 27-28 as JCers and visitors observe Brethren Campus Day on Saturday and National Christian College Day on Sunday.

Ed Crill, National Director of Youth Work, Church of the Brethren, will be the guest speaker on Brethren Campus Day. He will keynote forums and discussions at 9:45 a. m. and 12:15 p. m. in Oller Hall

Visitors from Huntingdon and the surrounding community are invited to spend Sunday afternoon on Juniata's campus. Tours of exhibits in art, education, home economics, languages, the library and science will be conducted.

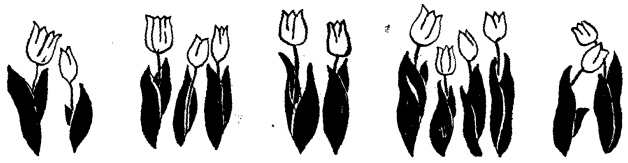
At Easter

EASTER is regarded as the most important occasion of the church year, for it marks the return of the Son of God to his supreme position following the fulfillment of his mission on earth—the redemption of man.

The anniversary of Christ's resurrection should remind us that we need to begin anew from time to time as we face the routine of each day.

As the Easter season comes and goes, let us look at ourselves with a thought to refreshing our viewpoint and our approach to that which we do, in class and about the campus.

Easter will mean more then.



The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Val Means, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning, asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, Dave Sloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall, Rene Dimmick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 24 — April 19, 1957 — Page 2

"YOU LEARN TEACHING TH' FIRST YEAR THEN YOU STUDY VOCATIONS THREE YEARS TO QUALIFY YOU FOR THAT EXTRA JOB TO MAKE A LIVING."

INTERCOLLEGIATE CHATTER

☆ ☆ ☆

by Barb McIntyre

Along with the onslaught of spring, a recurrent ailment known as the "blah" attitude, which is evident at JC, is termed as Spring sleeping sickness at Villanova.

Norm Peer reports that some students just get up for weekends while others slowly starve to death in bed rather than leave that precious sack. A motion is being brought up in Student Council to see if it would be all right if some students could be wheeled to class.

The big problem is that the Administration wants them to be awake all the time.

Collegiate quips from Stockton College, California —

Joe: If it's heads, we go to bed. If it's tails, we stay up. If it stands on edge, we study.

Lady traveling with friend to airplane pilot: "Now don't start going faster than sound. We want to talk."

Now for some news on Lines of Love by Amy Lovora from Susquehanna—

Dear Amy,

I am a star football, basketball and baseball player here at SU and I have a problem. I have received gold footballs, silver basketballs and chromium plated baseballs by the gross.

I would like to give the girls on campus a chance to date me; I feel it is sort of my duty. Yet it seems that if I date one girl I get typed as going steady with her. I would like to get lots of girls to wear my trophies; I can accomodate 12 or 13.

Dutiously,
Iamo Kay

Dear Iamo,

Go to a large campus and join the swimming team. Float in the pool; your head will keep you afloat I'm sure. My advice is by all means—TRANSFER.

Our Opinions

An 'Undesirable Tendency'

Scraping around for campus issues, the ogre committee of the old Senate bemoaned the "undesirable tendency toward large classes at Juniata." So it was that the current Senate asked the JUNIATIAN to "devote some of its editorial space to this issue."

Apparently there was a feeling among the ogres that the size of classes at Juniata has increased somewhat over the past years and that certain classes, most notably the Biblical history lecture class, are too big to be compatible with the phrase in the college catalog that says "in small classes instruction can be personalized."

As we see it, this is not much of an issue. Classes in general at Juniata are much smaller than they are at most schools. No more classes contain over 35 students than did last year. And as Dr. Ellis put it, "We aren't worrying about the size of classes under 35."

The Administration is aware of Juniata's limited classroom facilities. Plans to correct the situation are in the making.

Realizing that the Biblical history lecture class is much too large and that students regularly fall asleep in it for lack of contact, the Administration is working on plans for new arrangements next year.

Furthermore, the Faculty will be increased next year by the return of Miss Miriam Schlegel, assistant professor of education, now on leave, and the procurement of one or two additional professors.

Dr. Ellis assures us that the Administration is aware of the problems in this area and that the Administration is constantly working to improve students' opportunity to learn.

Room Hogs

IT has been called to our attention that certain students among us reserve for themselves rooms in Students Hall to spend the evening studying alone in them and become quite disturbed when other students want to share the rooms with them.

The policy here is that these rooms be open to all students, and , it is unfair for anyone to suppose that the room is his alone.

Probation Warning

THE Senate, acting on a statement of policy sent them by Registrar James Bray, asks that "all persons on probation who are engaging in extra-curricular activities drop such activities."

The Administration is cracking down on this and threaten to expel students who break the regulation.

Our Readers' Opinions

Shallow Edit

In the last issue of the JUNIATIAN there was an editorial which I think was very shallow.

There are definitely two sides to this "dilemma." Here are some of the things you didn't bother mentioning: the students are not always polite to the waiters, the students take the pitchers from the floor and put them on the tables, the tables are too close together to get all the way around and in addition to this you are in too much of a hurry to wait until we go around for each plate.

I realize we have problems in the dining hall, but in your editorial you implied that nothing was being done about them. Since you are such a connoisseur of superb cuisine, perhaps you would like to help us solve our problems —or is it that you don't have enough real issues with which to fill the editorial page?

We invite you to work with us for 20 meals, at the standard fee, so we can learn how we should wait in the Oneida dining hall.

—Calvin Bean

The World This Week

by Del McQuaide

NEW CHAPTER IN MID-EAST CRISIS—The Middle East crisis started anew but on a different front during the past week. Jordan, a tiny state without any real claim to nationality is experiencing an internal struggle for power between pro-Western factions.

King Hassien opposes communist domination of his country but doesn't seem to have the support of his people because of the nationalistic, anti-Western imperialism that has gripped the Middle East. In the last popular election the pro-Egyptian and Soviet party won control of parliament and Suleiman Nabulsi took over as premier.

Since then the tension between the young king and his parliament grew until the present crisis was precipitated. Premier Nabulsi just two weeks ago announced that Jordan would accept no more economic aid from the United States and that in the future they would request their aid from the Soviet Union.

Further, in a recent speech he called the Soviet Union a "sincere friend" and accused the U. S. of attempting a "new brand of imperialism" on the Arabs.

On Wednesday King Hassien forced the premier's resignation. Since then the country has been in disorder. Mobs have been roaming the streets of Anman and Jerusalem. Last Saturday Syria started moving troops into northern Jordan. No one knows exactly why as yet. But it seems that Syria's move has been of value to the Jordanians.

On Tuesday a new government headed by Premier Hussien Fachri Khalidi took office. The head of the army has changed hands with a pro-Western general in command. A sweeping clean-up of Communist infiltration has been promised.

Whether the young king will be successful or not remains for the future to tell. One thing is certain. King Hussien is going to have trouble with his house cleaning and unless he plays a cagy role, his future and that of Jordan will be shaky.

* * * *

ECONOMY BINGE—President Eisenhower is having trouble of late pushing his legislative program through Congress. The primary reason is the economy binge that Congress is now on in the face of our highest peace time budget in history.

The House of Representatives has cut over a billion dollars from the program thus far, and there is more to come. However, underlying this desire for economy, President Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism" must share the blame.

Because it has so many New Deal characteristics, the Old Guard Republicans are going to oppose it out of reverence for their ancestors and times past. The Democrats on the other hand will oppose it for political reasons. Thus when the legislative program of the President is not a success they will have ammunition for the next election.

Everything considered, Ike faces some difficult moments in the next four years. As I see it, his biggest job will be to find a party to which he can attach his Modern Republicanism label. That is, he must find for himself something more than just popularity with the layman.

Jordan's Struggle For Power Gives New Twist To Mid-East Situation

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Dickinson is the latest college to join the growing trend in wrestling.

Dickinson has about the same type of sports program as Juniata and appears on most of our sport schedules. Along with wrestling, several other changes have been made. Cross country has also been added. In addition to this, freshmen will be eligible to compete in varsity football and basketball next season. Previous to this, freshmen had their own schedules in these sports.

This may help the Red Devils when we meet them in basketball next year as they too might come up with a Chet White.

Upon checking the Grapefruit League standings, the National League looks much stronger than the American—in answer to the old baseball argument — which has the stronger league? The final standings show that the eight National league teams had better records that all the American clubs except Cleveland and New York.

* * * *

Pittsburgh won incidentaly and the Indians tied for fourth —the highest an American league club could place. It is true that these games do not mean a great deal but it is the same for everyone. Therefore the fact that the National League won so many must be significant.

* * *

Softball and tennis will predominate in the IM spring sport scene at JC. Others can be started if enough interest is shown. Possibilities include golf, archery, and tournaments in horseshoes, ping pong, and mixed doubles in tennis.

* * * *

Dick Kadis is still unconscious after receiving a brain injury in a football game last September. Various funds have been built up through charity games, dances, and so on, to help defray his expenses. The J Club sent $50 to help with the family's mounting bills last February.

* * * *

Read in Ken Fassnacht's home town newspaper—"Ken also lettered in intramural basketball at Juniata."

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

JC Drops Tennis Match To Tough Albright Courtmen

Juniata's tennis team dropped its second straight 6-3 decision of the season Tuesday afternoon when it fell before a highly touted Albright College aggregation.

Curt Gardner and John Staley were the only two fellows who could break into the scoring column, and they were pressed to the limit in accomplishing that. Gardner and Staley both dropped their first singles sets by identical 4-6 scores but recovered to take their two succeeding sets in impressive fashion. The pair then teamed up to crush their opponents in JC's only victory in the doubles, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1.

The most exciting match of the afternoon found "Reds" Randall, JC's number one man, losing a close 6-4, 7-9, 6-4 decision to Albright's number one man, Nelson Haller. After dropping the first set, Randall came back to even the match in a thrilling second set only to go down to defeat in the third.

The remaining three singles matches were not as closely contested as the other three but they did provide much enjoyment for JC spectators. Don Ruhl dropped two sets to Charles Sample, 6-5, 6-0. Del McQuaide dropped two to Jack Reinhart, 6-4, 7-5, and Chuck Seeley fell before Ernie Firestone, 6-3, 6-4.

In the doubles, Randall and Ruhl lost their match by a close 3-6, 7-5, 6-4 margin, and the team of McQuaide-Seeley suffered a 6-2, 6-0 setback.

Juniata Nine Takes First Win Of Year

Juniata's Indians won their first baseball game of the season after one defeat at the expense of Dickinson by the score of 7-6.

Freshman Pete McCauley and veteran "Lefty" Alderfer combined to hold the Red Devils to five hits, McCauley was the starter and winner, but reliefer Alderfer had to put the fire out after the home team scored five runs in the last of the ninth.

Juniata jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning and were never threatened until the almost disastrous ninth.

The Indians scored two ninth-inning runs which amounted to the winning tally. After two were out, Jim Berrier and Ron Moyer singled. Alderfer then singled with Berrier scoring and Moyer tallied on Don Ross's single to make the score 7-1.

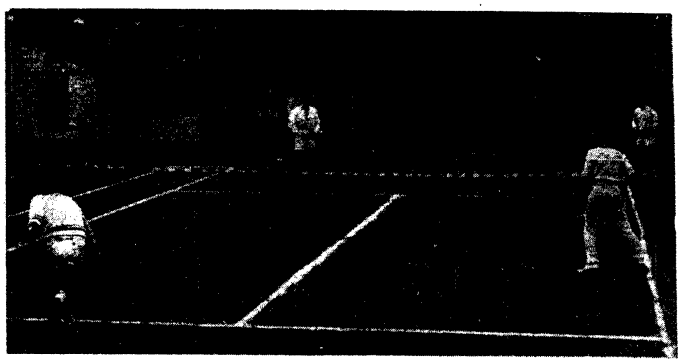
Jim Berier was the hitting star with three hits in four times at bat including a double and a walk. Alderfer aided the cause with two singles and Ed Beers provided two RBI's.

McCauley hurled effectively in yielding only four singles in eight and one-third innings, striking out two, and walking four.

The game scheduled with Pitt last Wednesday was cancelled.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141



ACTION AT HOME—Last Tuesday's tennis match against Albright was the first home appearance of any JC spring sports squad. In action above is Juniata's top doubles combination of Don Randall, far left, and Don Ruhl, second from right with his back to the camera. This doubles match, which found the Albright duo squeezing out a tight 3-6, 7-5, 6-4, decision, was a highlight of the team match. Juniata lost to the visiting Lions, 6-3. Rick Bell

Whips Tighten Grasp On Top In IM Bowling; Beefelt Tops Keglers

In the only bowling match played last Friday night, the Whips defeated the Crusaders, 3-0, moving them near the intramural bowling championship

A newcomer to the Whips, Bob Schnably, led the way for the league leaders with a two game total of 347. Doc Geiger had a good night with a 334, while Neil Beefelt helped the cause with a 279. Les Greenawalt was high man for the Crusaders by bowling a 286 in his two games.

The five keglers possessing the highest averages in the league are Neil Beefelt of the Whips with a 150.3; Arnold Olt, also of the Whips, with a 143.4; Horace Carl of the Skizos with 140.8; Dutch Mumbler bowler Al Blough with 139.6, and Frank Bird of the Skizos, with a 139.3

STANDINGS

	W	L
Whips	21	0
Admirals	21	6
Crusaders	20	7
Team B	13	5
Keystoners	17	3
Skizos	10	5
Ten Pins	11	10
JC Seniors	10	11
Alley Kats	9	12
4 D&C	8	22
Dutch Mumblers	7	26
Prophets	0	33

Army's Team Captures IM Volleyball Laurels

Army's volleyball team captured the Juniata IM volleyball championship last Friday afternoon by defeating the Whips, 26-24, 18-21 and 21-17.

To reach the finals, Army's team downed the stubborn Dutchmen, 21-18, 15-21 and 21-15 in the semi-final round. The Whips took the Blenders into camp, 21-18 and 21-17 to earn a spot in the finals.

The Army's team was composed of Captain Mike "Army" Armstrong, Max Ardary, Bill Burchfield, Joe DeNicola, "Doc" Kramer and Chet White.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Tribe Entertains Pitt Today; Scholastic Relays Tomorrow

Juniata action for the coming week will commence this afternoon as the Indians take on the University of Pittsburgh in golf and tennis matches here in Huntingdon.

Although the Panthers have lost their one and two tennis players of last year, they are still considered tough competition. The Indians lost to Pitt last year by a 9-0 score. With four lettermen returning in golf, the Panthers are expected to improve on their 6-3 record of last season. In a match at Pittsburgh last year Juniata fell victim to Pitt by a 6-4 score.

JC Invitational

One of the highlights of this year's track season will take place tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 as the second Juniata Invitational Scholastic Relays will take place at College Field.

Approximately 220 high school track and field athletes from Central Pennsylvania have reported their intention to participate in this meet. Some of the schools to be represented are Tyrone, State College, Lewistown, Huntingdon and Roaring Spring. Last year Lewistown and State College each won four events.

Baseball Away

Wednesday's action finds JC baseballers on the road, as they take on Albright College. The Lions of Albright have had three baseball games rained out this year, but defeated Penn by a 6-3 score last week. The track team opens its season in a triangular track meet here with Lebanon Valley and Albright.

The tennis team will round out the week's action as they travel to Indians to meet the State Teachers on Thursday afternoon.

Indian Golfers Drop First Two Matches Away

With the lack of experience hurting it, the Juniata golf team dropped its first two matches of the season to Johns Hopkins, 16-2, and to Shippensburg, 5-4.

Last Tuesday's match at Shippensburg ended in a tie, but the Red Raiders picked up the win as their first man defeated JC's Jay Gettig in a sudden death round.

Pat conners and Neil Beefelt turned in individual victories for the Blue and Gold against Shippensburg. These two teams to win best ball as did Gettig and Dick Hite. Gettig, who was Juniata's medalist; Hite, Charles "Moon" Mullens and Dick Mumma lost to their teacher opponents. Mullen and Mumma dropped best bal.

Playing under Middle Atlantic rules at Johns Hopkins, which accounts for the difference in team score between the Shippensburg and Johns Hopkins matches, Bill Germann's linksmen had trouble getting going and suffered their first loss of the year.

The same team that played against Shippensburg also opened the season against the Maryland school. Hite and Mullen picked up the points for the Tribe.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Distinctive Easter Accent
Lovely As Springtime
New Easter Blouses
$2.98 — $3.98
Color and Sparkle
Costume Jewelry
$1.00 — $1.98
Now At Hand
Spring Gloves
$1.00 — $1.98
Handsome Handbags
Go Parading
$2.98 — $5.00
So Beautiful, So Many Ways
Easter Hats $1.98 - up
DANKS & CO.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

New RCA Victor
Save-On-Records Coupon Books
Free With The Purchase Of
Any $3.98 RCA Victor Album
Get An Album FREE in July and Oct.
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Boeschenstein To Emphasize Business At Commencement

Harold Boeschenstein, president of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp., will keynote the emphasis on business and industry at JC's commencement exercises Monday, June 3.

After graduating from high school in Edwardlsville, Ill., Boeschenstein went on to the University of Illinois, college of commerce and business administration. His education was interrupted by World War I, but he later returned to the university and was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in business administration.

Boeschenstein was named president and director of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation on its formation November 1, 1938.

Widely known as one of the most active men in industry, Boeschenstein has been awarded two honorary degrees: LLD. by Bowling Green University and Doctor of Textile Industries by Clemson College.

● Harold Boeschenstein ●
Commencement Speaker

2 Juniatians Attend Speleologial Meeting

Two of JC's most avid caving fans, Jack Barger and Bruce Bennet, joined 280 spelunkers from all over the United States at the National Speleological Society's convention April 12 and 13 at Natural Bridge, Va

Barger, who is president of Juniata's cavers, represented the Standing Stone Grotto at the various conferences and activities throughout the two-day convention at the Natural Bridge Hotel. At one conference Bennet presented a paper dealing with the use of reflectorized equipment in practical speleogy.

College Man Boss, Jailor, Albatross

continued from page 1

lock him out of your liquor cabinet. You can get him off your mind, but you can't get him off your expense account.

Might as well give up; he is your jailer, your boss and your albatross—a bleary-eyed, no-account, girl-chasing bundle of worry. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can make them all mighty significant with four magic words: "I flunked out, Dad"

JCA Weighs Idea Of All College Service For '57-'58

Chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward has announced that JCA has been weighing the idea of an all college worship service which Juniatians could attend once a month.

The present college philosophy on this subject is that each student should maintain his own church affiliation in Huntingdon. However, many feel that a communal service would be valuable in meeting the needs of students.

Student ministers and visiting chaplains would deliver the message at this non-compulsory service, and the expense of the visiting ministers would be covered by student contributions.

Preston Williams, assistant to the chaplain at Penn State, where this plan was quite successful, will speak to the JCA April 23 on the values of an all college worship service.

Continuing along this same theme, a group of students, faculty members and local ministers will consider, in a panel discussion April 30, the pros and cons of such a service.

In order to further acquaint the student body with the actual worth of this plan, the JCA will conduct a worship service May 7 in Oller Hall..

Friday Worship To Be In Abbey

Continued from page 1

The Rev. Mr. Weimer of the First Methodist church will lead the fifth service with the Rev. Mr. Middlekauff presenting the sermon. The sixth service will be led by Envoy Hughes of the Salvation Army and the Rev. Mr. Weimer will speak.

Hughes will speak at the last service which will be presided over by the Rev. Mr. Nace of the Abbey church. Sunrise services on Round Top will be led by the Rev. Mr. Middlekauff and the Rev. Mr. Lister of the Baptist church will deliver the message.

Yearbooks To Arrive Second Week In May

A new and different Alfarata from those in years past will arrive sometime during the second week of May, according to Ross Nahrgang, literary editor of the '57 yearbook.

The book will contain 160 pages and will be printed in the offset process.

This year's Alfarata is being published by Taylor Yearbook of Dallas, Texas.

JC Seniors Hit Books To Ready For Comps

After four years of ivy league leisure, JC seniors are now hitting the books in preparation for the dreaded comps which will begin next week.

Departmental chairman prepare the examinations, which are divided in two parts: a written test administered in two periods not to exceed seven hours, and an oral part which is one hour in length.

The oral exam is conducted by a committee consisting of the chairman of the department, a faculty member chosen by the candidate and an administration representative appointed by Dean Mays.

Cramming and so called photographic memories will not be of much help, for the comprehensive examination is designed to test not the student's recall of factual data, but his understanding of the significance of what he has learned.

Classes As Usual, President Reveals

Classes will be held as usual both on Good Friday and Saturday, President Ellis has stated.

However, the administration has agreed that any student attending a church service in Huntingdon on Friday may request class absence make-ups for any classes missed on this account. Applications should be made as usual through the Dean of Men or Dean of Women and presented to the appropriate instructors.

Visitor Thinks Dining Hall Quiet At Juniata

Continued from page 1

by Modern Dance at the time of the theft.

Dean Barbara Bechtell informed the Senate that a recent visitor to Oneida dining hall was quite pleased to note the relative calm that reigned in a room serving so many people. The visitor, from another college, commended the dress of the diners and the pleasant atmosphere that prevailed at the time.

Spencer Ward appointed Carl Lindsay, Chuck Brown, Bonnie Gunther and Ann Willson to the chapel evaluation committee. Ward heads the group. It was also decided that the Senate would, in the future, open each session with a short prayer.

A survey will be made among Juniata co-eds to evaluate their interest in the formation of a women's hockey team to participate in games with other colleges.

5 Students To Go To NSA Regional Meeting At State

Carol Baish, Ronn Fink, Janice Gilroy, Bonnie Gunther and Gini Nixdorf will travel to Penn State next weekend to attend this region's National Student Associations spring conference.

The association, which is dedicated mainly to the study and advancement of student government on campus, has member colleges all over the United States. Juniata belongs to the district including Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Each summer, the NSA holds a student government conference, a student body presidents conference and a student editorial conference at Michigan University. Information and suggestions gained at these meetings are kept on file in the main office in Philadelphia from which student leaders may obtain data on any college situation.

Through conferences and forums held April 26, 27 and 28, the students who attend will attempt to answer, or at least gain insight into three problems: who should go to college; how a college can increase its enrollment without decreasing academic caliber. and, how this increased enrollment will affect the extracurricular life of the students.

Next Week In Chapel

April 22 Dean Mays
24 Worship service.
26 Christopher Audland, second secretary, British Embassy, Washington, D. C.

WJC Continues Test Broadcast

WJC continued test broadcasting this week in a series of efforts to reduce illegal radiation.

An improved aerial mounted on the women's dorm decreased considerably the electronic meanderings from the station. Station manager George Carnahan stated that the WJC transmitter is under suspect as a contributory cause of the difficulty.

The proposed coaxial cable line to Founders Hall has yet to be installed. In the meantime, WJC staff members are working to correct the original condition.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
All Disney Program!!
Davy Crockett and the River Pirates Tech.
Man In Space
STARTS SUNDAY MIDNITE
MON - TUE - WED
Rodgers and Hammerstein Presents
Oklahoma
Cinemascope - Technicolor
Gordon Macrae
Gloria Grahame
Shirley Jones
Gene Nelson
Eddie Albert
James Whitmore
Special Monday
Matinee 2 P. M.
17 Color Cartoons 17
All Seats 25c
STARTS TRURSDAY
The Wings Of Eagles
John Wayne
Dan Dailey
Maureen O'Hara
Ward Bond
Metrocolor

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

SEAMLESS
BARE LEG NYLONS
98c a pair
MURPHY'S

Motel 22
And Restaurant
Air-Conditioned
Dining Room
And Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of
Huntingdon, Pa.

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

SKIP'S INN
Friday Night Special
Italian Spaghetti
With or Without
Meatballs
Extra Large Hoagies
Phone 9951

Cool and refreshing...
Music for a Sunday Night
Quiet Jazz, Mood Music
Jan Schall - Rush Hedgins
WJC Sunday 10 p. m.
Starts April 28
(Hear the DD Show Wednesdays at 10 p. m.)

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking
in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs
ever!
SMITHFIELD

SHOP
The Ray English
Store
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Wenger, Marcocci, Mumma To Head May Court

by Barb Walls

Out of a "realm of fanta-sea" comes Joy Wenger, Phyl Marcocci and Dick Mumma to reign as Queen of the May, Maid of Honor and Prince Charming over the 1957 May Day festivities.

At the May Day breakfast yesterday morning, King Neptune with the aid of two mermaids revealed this year's court amid sea horses, octupi and glistening seaweed that turned the dining hall into a real "realm of fanta-sea."

From King Neptune's freshman kingdom of Tuna Haven came Lucy Kriebel and Carol Mickel. Starfish Village produced sophomores Barb Zoellin and Ann Larkin.

Juniors Ruth Perestam and Jacque Rowland were chosen from Haddock Heights while Shirley McNitt and "Squeegee" Holsinger were the fair ones from Goldfish Gardens.

'55 Homecoming Queen

Queen Joy is a home ec major from Elizabethtown. She is active in Lambda Gamma, WAA and plays intramural sports. She was on last year's May Court and was Homecoming Queen in 1955.

Maid of Honor Miss Marcocci hails from Dudley and is a secondary education major. She was Senate secretary, plays intramural sports and belongs to the FTA, WAA and the Pyrenees club. She was this year's Homecoming Queen.

Mumma, the new Prince Charming, is a business major from Harrisburg. He was chairman of underclassmen for the '56-'57 Senate, belongs to the Tycoon club and plays varsity golf.

Attendants

Freshman attendant Miss Kriebel lives in Souderton and is majoring in elementary education. Her activities include playing in the band, May Day set committee, FTA and committee for freshman dance.

Miss Mickel comes from Bedford and wants to be a nurse. She was on the Christmas committee, the Valentine Dance Committee and is in the German club.

A May Court attendant last year, Miss Zoellin is a home ec major from Ottsville. Barb is active in Lambda Gamma and the German club. Also an attendant last year, Miss Larkin hails from Pittsburgh. Ann is a home ec major and is class treasurer, is on the social committee, in Lambda Gamma and WAA.

Miss Perestam's hometown is Yardley; she was a May court attendant in her freshman and sophomore years. An elementary education major, she was active in All Class Night, is president of FTA and a member of Modern Dance. The second junior attendant, Miss Rowland, is also an elementary education major. She is a member of the college choir, the Masque, FTA, JBSF, IVCF and the girls' trio.

Former Women's House Chairman

Miss Holsinger is an elementary education major from Johnstown. She was 1957 chairman of women's house, a cheerleader and belongs to WAA, FTA and the Interclub Council. She is now student teaching. Miss McNitt hails from Milroy and is another elementary education major. Her activities include May Court in her sophomore and junior years, chapel choir and commencement choir.

Entertainment for the May Day breakfast included songs by Nancy Geisel, a reading by Bob Reader and selections from My Fair Lady by a men's quartet made up of Don Lowdermilk, Terry Fouse, Charles Fox and Larry Landes. King Neptune was Pete Douglas and the mermaids were Carole Miller and Paulene Klapsogeorge.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 25 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, April 26, 1957

Wilson, Gunther Pick May Day Committees

May Day chairman Ann Willson and her assistant Bonnie Gunther this week released the names of those students heading the various committees for the May Day festivities.

Outdoor set construction is being supervised by Mary Shirk. Those working with her are Carole Schenck, Lucy Kriebel, Nina Fredenburgh, Marian Custer, Sue Willson, Marcia Sweet, Jolene Williams, Janice Christie, Barb Wittenbrock, Ed Moore, Larry Derstine, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Earl Dibert, Cal Beam and Chuck Seitz.

Entertainment and Gowns

Anna Mary Smith is chairman of the entertainment committee and Joan Hannaford is responsible for the gowns.

Heading the program committee are Lois Davis and Margretta Davis.

The lawn party is under the supervision of Ginny Nixdorf and Sally Grove. Jean Rubicam, Rosalie Langer and Sue Vanderburg are making arrangements for flowers.

The Maypole, a colorful and important event in the day's activities is under the direction of Dot Rosewarne and Barb Zoellin. Barb Smathers is directing the fashion show.

May Day got under way with a breakfast in the Oneida Dining Hall for women students, the faculty and faculty wives. Bonnie Gunther and Jackie Rhoades headed the committee in charge of this event.

Seniors To Enter Schools In Health

Dr. Homer Will, head of the biology department, has announced that 14 seniors will enter schools in the health professions next fall.

Entering medical school are ~~Larry Davis~~, at Georgetown University; ~~Skip Oesterling~~, Jefferson. ~~Dale Howe~~, Yale; Mickey ~~Matthews~~, Women's; ~~Jim Corrigan~~, Pitt; Phil Lankford, Maryland; Raymon ~~Burket~~, Duane Stackhouse Jackie Hayes and Bill Degelman, Temple.

Ed ~~Schlesser~~ will enter Temple University School of Dentistry and Jane Butts and Eddie Lantz have been enrolled in the Jefferson Hospital School of Medical Technology.

Next Week In Chapel

April 29 College Band.

May 1 Dr. Blaisdell.

3 Congressman Quigley.

Note: Christopher Audland, who appeared in Chapel today, will speak to the European history class in room G at 10:30 a.m. and the public speaking class in Founder's Chapel at 11:30 a.m. today. He will also meet with the history of England class this afternoon at 2 in the Social Rooms.

8 Seniors To Go To Penn Festivel

Eight JC seniors will travel to Penn State Thursday, May 2, to participate in the Ninth Annual Intercollegiate Reading Festival.

The group will present two scenes from Christopher Fry's First Born, the story of Moses' and the Israelites' exodus from Egypt. The entire play will be presented here as part of commencement activities.

Miss Esther Doyle, who is directing the play, mentioned that JCers have participated each year since the festival was organized.

Those who are attending this year are Nancy Nevin, Carol Olbrich, Dick Backus, Jim Barefoot, Clint Betz, George Carahan, Dick Livingston and Jim Montgomery.

Classes To Register Friday For Summer

Registrar James Bray has announced that registration for the coming summer term will be held Friday, May 3, for all classes.

The procedure for registration is as follows: enter Room C in Students Hall and obtain registration forms and a record of courses taken. Then proceed to advisors located in Students Hall. All students are asked to bring pens.

Courses will be offered in many fields, including English, modern languages, economics and business administration, education, history and political science, philosophy, sociology, mathematics and physics.

Senate Names Rush Hodgin As Station Manager Of WJC

Rush Hodgin was named to the position of station manager of WJC by the Senate at their weekly meeting Wednesday.

A sophomore from Harrisburg, Hodgin was formerly an announcer on WJC.

Bernie McQuown reported that Treasurer John Fike has prepared a standardized list of charges for room damages. McQuown said that some of the charges appeared to be "slightly exaggerated," but that it is hoped these will be reduced before the room inspection at the end of the semester.

The men's house chairman announced that the administration has given its consent to permit the chairman of men's house to accompany the dean and treasurer on their inspection of the rooms.

President Del McQuaide stated that the library management has been asked to open the freshman reading room for evening study, and that while willing to cooperate on the plan, Miss Anna Winger, acting librarian, said that the limited number of employees serving on the staff would not permit such an action at this time. It was decided that the Senate ask the Administration to increase the library staff next year.

Blough To Investigate Parking

Ron Fink presented the findings of the publications veracity committee. Having received five pamphlets and the college pictorial, the committee voiced the opinion that the college was justified in most of its statements aimed at perspective students, and only a few minor points were cited for correction.

Al Blough, vice-president, brought to the attention of the Senate the need for more adequate parking facilities near North Dorm and was appointed

See SENATE, Page 4

Forums To Highlight Brethren Campus Day

The Rev. Clarence Rosenberger has announced that JC students are especially invited to attend two teen-age guidance forums which will be part of Brethren Campus Activities tomorrow, April 27.

The devotional service at 9:45 a.m. forum will be led by the Rev. Richard Gottshall, president of the Middle Pennsylvania Ministerial Association. Ed Crill, national director of Brethren youth work, will present the subject, Teen Age Guidance.

Members of the panel discussion are Dean Morley Mays, Dr. William Hambacher, the Rev. Earl Zeigler from Woodbury and Dick Livingston.

After High School—What? a short play, will be given at 12:15 p.m. in Oller Hall followed by a discussion period led by Crill. Participating in the drama are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hileman, Stone Church youth counselors, JC freshman Bob Blair and the Rev. John Middlekauff. Ron Knouse, Earl Dibert and Bill Holsinger will assist with lighting, stage set and sound.

Has His Profs 'Doped' Out

JC Biology Major Tries To Beat Comp Game

Instead of spending last week "sweating it out" over the impending doom of comprehensives —as many of his classmates did— senior biology major Sam Douglas, systematic and prudent, decided to beat the comp board's game by figuring out what questions could logically be included in the test.

Having taken a number of courses in his major, Sam had JC's biology department pretty well figured out, as the questions he foresaw show:

1. Compare and contrast the plant and animal life of Galapagos Islands, County Cork, Rio del Oro, Gulf of Aqabah, Tell-Beit-Mirsin (Bronze 2a), Brahmaputra-Ganges Delta, Sakhalin Island, Brisbane, Kalgoorlie, Pago-Pago, Kitimat Volcanic Area and Morrison's Cove.

Explain the relation of the following men to the field of biology: Parmenides, Thales of Miletus, Baron von Adrenaline, Beowulf, Pope Alexander VI, Martin Luther, Jeanette Isabella, Ponce de Leon, George Mickey, Arthur Miller, Xeme, Colossus of Rhodes, Sun yat Sen, Solomon and Dracula.

2. Discuss sexual function in the amoeba and write a brief but coherent essay on the subject, Why I Am Glad That I Am NOT an Amoeba

4. What do you know about various anatomical features as possible sites of the soul?

5. Relate biology to television, movies, pornographic literature, automobiles and at least 10 others of the more important aspects of our culture.

6. If we were able to contact the author of the book Voyage of the Beagle, in order to purchase the rights to the story, would Cecil B. DeMille be able to return the original investment? Why or why not?

7. "Yes and no; now and then; often and seldom; perhaps in the future, but quite possibly never." (Scientific American, April, 1753 vol. LLVIX). Discuss this in the light of recent developments in the field of paleonotany.

8. What bearings have the doctrines of Malthus had on the recent experiments with the physiology of the respiratory process of man? Name some of the more important radioactive isotopes used in these experiments.

9. What have been your own recent contributions to the sum of biological knowledge? Please be brief.

10. Discuss the calls, migratory habits and anatomy of the following birds: Bleary-eyed hangover (Inebriatis Juniatiensis), Double-breasted seersucker (Esquiris Brooksi jaskassimani) and five others if time permits. If you find that time is running out, you may limit your answers to four others.

Class To Present Tour Of Kitchens

A Tour through American Kitchens will be presenaed by Mrs. Hartzler's food demonstration class from 2 to 3:15 p.m. April 26, May 3, 10 and 17 in the foods lab.

Displays will feature typical recipes from the four corners of the United States with the emphasis on those which are different yet easy to prepare.

Irene Miller will prepare the first display Friday, April 26, "down east" style—dishes from the New England states. The demonstration May 3 will be presented by Carol Olbrich and will include recipes from Pennsylvania Dutch country.

Western meals will be featured in the May 10 display by Charlotte Beltrame, and Nancy Miller will demonstrate southern style cooking May 17.

JCA Plans To Paint Payne In Work Camp

JCA's work camp for this weekend is a painting project in the Payne Church at the corner of 8th and Moore Streets.

Under the direction of the Rev. H. B. Owens, the church is one of the smallest Negro congregations, having an average attendance of 20 people. The paint to be applied to the walls of the social rooms of the building will be supplied by the members of the church.

Those who are planning to join in the work camp should meet on Founders Porch at 1:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon. The JCA hopes to find about 20 people who are willing to devote an afternoon to this project.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson, associate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Ron Fink, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Don Miller, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Val Means, asst. sports editor; Judy Werning, asst. circulation manager.

News Staff — Mary Ellen Blessing, Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Em Heed, Ed Jones, Don Leeking, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff — Jan Schall, Rene Dimmick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,800 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 25 — April 26, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Why Not Ask "Why?" ?

ACP—WHY? When was the last time you challenged a statement your instructor of professor made? Last week, last month or last year.

If it is the latter, you are probably one of the easiest students to teach the instructor has. If you sit in your oaken chair absorbing the instructor's words and drawings like a sponge as the gospel truth, you probably will lose the knowledge just as fast when the pressure is put on you.

* * * *

Everyone will agree that no human is perfect. Deductive reasoning from that point leaves us that teachers are human; therefore, they must be wrong once in a while.

* * * *

When the student lets some ideas or statements go by him without question, he is leaving himself open to accepting false and prejudiced material.

Carl Sandberg, whose poetry is considered to have contained some wisdom, stated recently, "Much of the history of the world could be written in a book titled Challengers of Axioms."

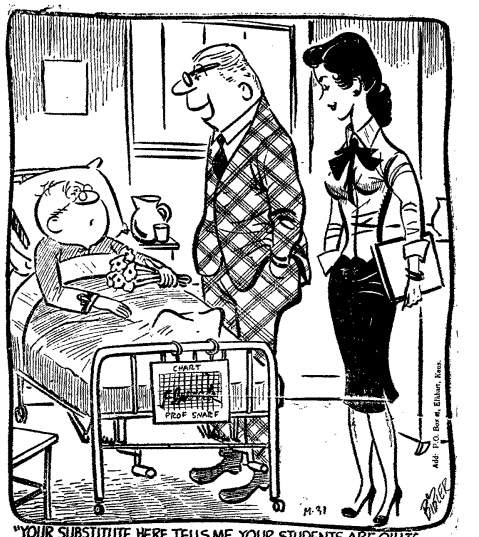
* * * *

Many times the small 3-letter word "why" has caused spectacular events; Einstein, Columbus and Galilee are just a few of the great people who asked themselves why and delved further to investigate.

* * * *

You may say to yourself you are not out to discover new worlds. One can find, though, a richer, fuller life with a complete and better understanding of the things in our environment.

— TECHNOLOGY NEWS, Illinois Institute of Technology.



"YOUR SUBSTITUTE HERE TELLS ME YOUR STUDENTS ARE QUITE CONCERNED ABOUT YOUR HEALTH—BUT THEY'LL PROBABLY TIRE OF HER."

The Posies

WHEN a few weeks ago we saw the green of the Operation Posy daffodilis pushing through the ground, we were reminded of the work Ann Willson, former chairman of general activities on the Senate, and her group did last fall that our campus might be more beautiful this spring.

* * * *

The project has paid off in the additional beauty brought to our campus. While it involved a considerable amount of time in planning, buying and planting, we feel that the undertaking was well worth while and hope it is continued.

And we think that Miss Willson should be thanked for her key role in adding this touch of spring to College Hill.

Some Light, Please

WE were glad to hear that the Senate is going to take steps to see that lighting in Carnegie Library is improved.

The '56-'57 Senate had been promised by the Administration that something would be done about the situation, but as the continued dimness in the library reveals, nothing has been done.

In the meantime perhaps we should all buy candles to take to the library when we go there to read. It is so dark that one cannot see the hands of the clock from the reading rooms. Perhaps at least a light could be hung over the clock.

Seriously, though, we do think more studying would be done if lighting in the library were improved. The dorms are too noisy, the Students Hall rooms too quickly claimed by a selfish few and the grass too wet to study there.

CAMPUS CAPERS

☆ ☆ ☆

by Barb McIntyre

The following poem cannot be properly read unless one has the basic idea of how to clear one's throat with a British accent. The word "er" is a British clearing of the throat—you know, a good bloody bit of monacled haughtiness and less of the frog approach. Here's a gem from the Westminster Holcad.

Er—spring!
You perfectly priceless old thing:
I'm frightfully bucked by the signs that one sees.
The jolly old sap in the topping old trees,
The priceless old lilac, and that sort of rot;
It jolly well cheers a chap up, does it not?
There's a tang in the air, if you know what I mean.
And the grass, as it were, is so frightfully green;
We shall soon have the jolly old bee on the wing;
Er-spring!

* * * *

Typical Juniatians????

Have you heard about the tired young miss on third Oneida who left her radio on all night? The following morning a blast of The Star Spangled Banner was echoed throughout the hall. Her roommate woke up only to find the young miss standing at precise attention!...

With April 15 long gone, a young lad on campus is indeed dejected. It seems that there was an income tax evasion problem in his home down Harrisburg way. Sympathy card should be sent via the German house...

* * * *

Then there is the young coed who thought she heard the fire drill bell ringing at 4 a.m. She got up, dressed, and rushed outside her door only to find dead silence—COMPS?

After all is done and said, we must conclude that the anthropologist is right—man did stem from the small version of the ape—commonly known as the monkey. We conclude also that this explains the monkey business which occurs on campus every day.

The World This Week

by Del McQuaide

BUDGET BATTLE—The most important news on the national scene this week is the battle in Washington over the budget for the coming fiscal year.

Thus far the administration has requested 15 billion of its record high 73.3 billion dollar budget. But the House of Representatives has cut over a billion dollars already to the great dismay of President Eisenhower.

In a letter to Sam Rayburn last Thursday Ike pointed out that 63 percent of the budget was for national defense and that further reduction would pose a threat to our national security.

Nevertheless the right-wing Republicans and certain Democrats are preparing for a bitter struggle to reduce the budget for the sake of economy. It is very commendable for our legislators to be economical where ever possible but it is a different matter when they attempt to cut expenditures that are vitally necessary and in some cases are fixed by law for political reasons primarily. There is some justification for suspecting that this is the case.

Mr. Rayburn has stated flatly that there will be a budget cut large enough to enable Congress to cut taxes. Tax cuts are fine but let us hope they are not made at the expense of our national security.

LABOR FRONT —

In addition to the Beck fiasco we note further evidence of tensions within the organized labor movement in the results of the United Steel Workers' recent election.

The controversy started over the haising of union dues again from three dollars to five dollars per month. But the election pointed deeper dissatisfactions. The incumbent, David MacDonald, has been a leader in the Steel union since it was first organized and was elected without oppasition he felt that he could run on his record announced that he would run for reelection he fedt that he could run on his record and didn't anticipate any opposition.

Yet his opponent, Donald Rarick, was able to muster over 220,000 votes on the single plank of reduction of union dues. Furthermore, he was completely unknown outside his own local at McKeesport, Pa. and lacked the background and experience of MacDonald.

His strength came as a jolt to the Macforces who will now have to face considerable opposition in the next four years. Rarick has pledged to continue the fight for dues reduction and to attack "corruption and tyranny" in the union.

This controversy may prove to be the best thing that has happened to organizezd labor for a long time. Whatever the eventual outcome of the battle between the two men the run-of-the-mill union man is going to find himself better off than before. MacDonald or whoever runs for election four years from now is going to have to promise reform to gain support. The fact that the unions are becoming concerned about reform themselves is gratifying and will perhaps make it unnecessary for the government to interfere to any great extent.

MAYFLOWER II —

As a gesture of good will the Mayflower is once again sailing across the Atlantic to a new world. Of course it's not the same Mayflower that left England September 6, 1620, but it is as close a replica as was possible to build.

It was somewhat of a disappointment to learn that even the Mayflower was equipped with radio, radar and canned foods. But even with this modern equipment it's crew anticipates a long month of difficult sailing..

Battle Over U.S. Budget Brings Billion Dollar Cut, Dismay To Ike

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

SEAMLESS
BARE LEG NYLONS
98c a pair
MURPHY'S

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The Boston Marathon run last week is one of the largest free sports spectacles in America.

The course is 20 miles, 385 yards long—this distance being based on the historic race to Athens in 490 BC to bring news of the great Athenian victory in the battle at Marathon. (Professor Lowey—take note!)

J. J. Kelley, an American schoolteacher, won the event this year. There were 143 men in the field including a strong foreign entry. Kelley was too much for the rest and crossed the finish line in 2 hours, 20 minutes and 5 seconds. He was greeted by an enthusiastic crowd, part of approximately a quarter million who watched this race, which dates back to 1897.

* * * *

Frederick Johnson, a New York judge, made several interesting proposals recently concerning the Federal Anti-Trust Act and baseball. These proposals would allow baseball to keep the reserve clause and still remain within the law.

The reserve clause enables a club that owns a player to have exclusive right to re-employ him for the following season. One of his proposals is to eliminate the farm systems possibly over a period of several years.

This would inevitably bring drastic changes in the Major Leagues. If something isn't done, then Johnson warns that the game is subject to attack.

* * * *

The sports scene at JC should get better now since the weather is gradually improving. The varsity sports will be very active with make-up games added to an already busy schedule. Intramurals feature softball which is now under way after a shaky start due to comps and various other problems. All team managers should check the resulting changes in the schedule.

Weaver The Florist

John & Sarah Snyder

YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST

Phone 431 211 5th St.

Pete Fahrney

LINKSMEN ON THE LAWN—Teeing off with a few practice shots on the lawn of North Dorm are golfers Jay Gettig, Dick Mumma, Neil Beefelt and Moon Mullin.

Depth Is Factor As Albright Downs JC, LV In Track

Pole Vault - Cline (JC), Cunningham (A) and Argenziano (LV), tie; Passmore (JC), Harper (LV) and Barr (A), tie — 11' 4"

Broad Jump - Wetzel (A), Smith (A), Wernert (LV), Crocker (JC), 19' 10½" Javelin - Johnson (JC), Feick (A), Cunningham (A), Kligerman (A) 168' 8" Discus - Feick (A), Rumford (A), Cline (JC), Williamson (JC) 115' 7¾"

Shot Put - Rumford (A), Wicker (JC), Feick (A), Longnecker(LV) 40' 2½"

High Jump - Smith (A); Faust (A) and Crocker (JC), tie; Dungan (JC) and Swisher ((LV) tie — 5' 11"

100 yd dash - Greenwald (A), Kershner (LV), Kelly (A), Wenger (JC) — :10.1

220 yd dash - Greenwald (A), Kershner (LV), Kelly (A), Arcade (JC) — :23.1

440 yd dash - Deuchar (JC), Gottshall (A), Faust (A), Arcade (JC) — :52.0

880 yd run - Mack (A), Deuchar (JC), Layman (JC), Gottshall (A) — 2:04

One Mile - Layman (JC), Mack (A), Custer (JC), Thrasher (A) — 4:43.4

Two Mile - Hrach (JC), Thrasher (A); Custer and Layman (JC) tie — 11:19.8

120 high hurdles - Rumford (A), Wetzel (A), Kershner (LV), Dungan (JC) — :15.8

220 yd low hurdles - Kershner (LV), Stratton (JC), Wetzel (A), Smith (A) — :27.4

Eight Meet Records Set At JC Scholastic Relays Last Saturday

Eight new meet records and United Joint High School's fine showing highlighted Juniata College's second annual Invitational Scholastic Relays last Saturday afternoon on the cinders at College Field.

Amassing 5 of 6 firsts in the field events and 2 firsts in the track events, the boys from United had little trouble in outdistancing Lewistown, who totaled 3 firsts in the 2-event meet. The leading "crowd-pleaser" proved to be George Draksler who handled the shot put and discus chores for United and was rewarded for his superior efforts by being presented with the trophy as "most outstanding contestant" in the meet. Draksler's shot put traveled 51' 3" and his discus throw soared 130' 9", both of which established new standards.

There were two other individuals who also garnered double victories. One of them, Duane Dunmire, was a teammate of Draksler, and he, like Draksler, set new meet records in each of his specialties. Dunmire hurled his javelin 165' 7½" and ascended to a 10' 11" mark in the pole vault. The remaining double winner was Lewistown's Terry Wade who repeated his victories of a year ago in the mile run and the high jump.

Other Firsts

United's other three firsts went to William Davis in the broad jump and to their 880-relay and two-mile relay teams.

In the remaining three events, the mile relay, the 440-relay, and the sprint medley relay, new meet records were also set. Lewistown copped the mile relay in a very respectable 3:38:7 clocking, Clearfield won the 440-relay in 47.2, and State College was timed in the sprint medley relay at 3:55.5.

Next Week's Schedule Light; Indian Nine At Home Tuesday

Juniata's golfers will be aiming for their first win of the young season today as they venture to the links of Loretto to meet St. Francis College.

Last year the JC linksmen defeated the neighboring school 6-3 and have yet to be defeated in the rivalry which began four years ago.

Track

For the first time in recent years, Juniata's track team will be represented in the annual Penn Relays in Philadelphia. Coach Mike Snider has announced that a mile relay team of Herb Deuchar, Steve Arcade, Horace Carl, Chuck Brown and Herb Layman will carry the colors for JC in the nation-wide contest this weekend.

Baseball

Coach Ken Bunn's baseball squad will play host to an Indiana State Teachers College nine on Tuesday as the two schools clash for the first time this season.

Juniata will attempt to chalk up another victory and stay above .500.

Golf

On Tuesday at Lewisburg Coach Bill Germann's golfers will face perhaps their sternest opponent — Bucknell. The Bisons are led by four returning lettermen and sport an undefeated record thus far this season. The Lewisburg linksmen are defending champions of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference. Juniata holds a wide 11-win and 2-loss edge in the rivalry which began in 1947, and copped last year's contest by a 6½-2½ score.

JC Tops Albright In Tenth Inning

George Harrison's double in the tenth inning gave the Juniata Indians a 3-1 nod over Albright College last Wednesday. This was Juniata's second win in three contests. With the score tied at one all after regulation play, Juniata scored two runs in the extra frame to nip the home nine.

Jim Berrier started the winning rally by getting on base on an infield error. He promptly stole second base and scored on Harrison's smash down the right field line. Lefty Alderfer was walked intentionally to face Bill Berrier who flied to deep center with Harrison advancing to third. Ron Moyer's smash through the center of Albright's defense brought home insurance run.

Albright scored an unearned run in the first inning when Bob Kovach walked and advanced to third on a stolen base and catcher Don Shover's throwing error. He scored on Terry Reber's single.

Juniata tied the score in the third frame on three consecutive singles by Ed Beers Pete McCauley, and Don Ross.

IM Softball Schedule Is Now In Operation

Juniata's intramural softball league got started last Tuesday and is now under way with a full schedule of games.

The Deacons got off to a very quick start and tabbed themselves as a sleeper in the IM loop. In their first two games the Deacons downed the Trojans, 17-6, and the Vultures, 20-7.

Two pre season favorites started their schedule off on the right foot with a victory. The Mumblers nipped the Ball Busters, 8-6, and the Whips trounced the Vultures,19-6. In somewhat of a surprise, the Segram 9 squad dropped the Crusaders, 9-6.

Games have been scheduled to be played on the three diamonds in Sherwood Forest in the afternoons at 4:00.

Juniata Sends Relay Quintet To Penn Relays

For thefirst time in recent years, Juniata is sending a mile relay team to the annual Penn Relays at Philadelphia today and tomorrow.

Coach Mike Snider announced that Herb Deuchar, Herb Layman, Steve Arcade, Horace Carl and Chuck Brown will compete in the world famous 2-day event. Coach Snider was not yet sure who would be his four starters.

Juniata will run today at 4:45 p.m. in a special Middle Atlantic Division 2-mile race. Tomorrow JC will probably complete in the Middle Atlantic mile relay race.

New RCA Victor
Save-On-Records Coupon Books
Free With The Purchase Of
Any $3.98 RCA Victor Album
Get An Album FREE in July and Oct.

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP

MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Motel 22
And Restaurant
Air-Conditioned
Dining Room
And Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of
Huntingdon, Pa.

VALLEY MOTEL

Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection

HUNTINGDON, PENNA.

COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS

OPEN ALL YEAR

FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

WJC presents ...

New Shows For Better Listening

+ Sunday: MUSIC FOR A SUNDAY EVENING
Jazz, Standards, Mood Music
Jan Schall, Rush Hodgin
10 p.m. to Midnight

+ Tuesday: ROCK 'N' ROLL PARTY
Newest Releases In This Popular Idiom
Dutch Boland, Don McCallum
10:30 p.m.

+ Thursday: SENATE AGENDA
Goings On In Student Government
Ron Fink
10:30 p.m.

+ Friday: TOPS IN POPS
Top Tunes As Rated By BILLBOARD
Moose Newman, Pete Butler
9:30 p.m.

NOTICE, Would Be Journalists

There are a number of spots open in the JUNIATIAN sports and business departments that must be filled during the next week. If you are interested in any of these jobs, come to the JUNIATIAN office, basement of Students Hall, after lunch any day next week. No experience is necessary.

The Juniatian.

Student Weekly at Juniata College

Hobo Party Tomorrow

A Hobo Convention, sponsored by the sophomore class, will begin tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. with a jazz concert by Fred Guion and the Flashes in Oller Hall.

After the concert, all JC hobos, dressed appropriately, will go to the women's gym for dancing and refreshments until 11:30 p.m.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Senate Discusses College Worship

continued from page 1

to investigate the matter more thoroughly. It was felt that marked parking areas, comparable to those in the Oller Hall lot, were desirable.

All-College Worship Service

Spencer Ward reviewed at length the possibility of holding an all-college worship service once a month in Oller Hall.

Following a lengthy discussion, it was decided that further surveys by the chairman of religious activities should prove worthwhile, and the Senate went on record as favoring such a move.

Bonnie Gunther reported that an ICC meeting would be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. to check the progress of the drive to replace the stolen phonograph from the women's gym a few weeks ago.

Ross Nahrgang, chairman of the JWSP drive, announced that plans were being made to show a benefit movie, Funny Face, at the Clifton in the near future. The profits realized will be used to pay administrative expenses of the drive.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Don't just sit there!

You'll enjoy today's copy of this publication much more if you'll get up right now and get yourself an ice-cold bottle of Coca-Cola. (Naturally, we'd be happier, too!)

Drink Coca-Cola

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
Bottled by Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Altoona, Pa.

Spotlight On Ellis, Mays, Bray

Administrators Face Heavy Card Daily

The following is the first in a series of features that the JUNIATIAN will write concerning the different departments of the Administration. The focus this week is on President Calvert Ellis, Dean Morley Mays and Registrar James Bray.

We have it on good authority that JC's President Calvert Ellis, Dean Morley Mays and Registrar James Bray actually eat and sleep like the rest of us—but in the light of everything else they accomplish during an average day, it seems almost impossible.

Pete Fahrney

A SHORT CONFERENCE on policy often interrupts the busy schedules of President Calvert Ellis and Dean Morley Mays.

According to the Faculty Manual, President Ellis is "responsible to the board of trustees for the intellectual and spiritual life of the college"—14 words that entail more jobs than we would have believed possible for one man to accomplish.

As you can imagine, innumerable problems must be faced by the head of a college. Each day President Ellis must work closely with the academic,, business and public relations staffs to coordinate the work of all departments and keep Juniata in smooth running order.

Naturally, most of the president's work is done in the field of outreach. He is often "on the road" and through his wide travels has represented Juniata in nearly all corners of the world.

Mays Maintains Standards

Dean Mays, as JC's principal academic officer, is in charge of supervision of the academic program, the maintenance of high standards and the improvement of the quality of faculty and students.

He is chief advisor to the president on academic matters and acts for the president in the latter's absence. After consultation with the appropriate committees the dean makes new appointments to the faculty and determines the course program each term.

Besides editing the annual catalogue and the summer term bulletin, he assigns the faculty instructional load and, in cooperation with faculty members, supervises all academic programs.

In addition to the duties that go with his office, Dean Mays estimates that two-fifths of his program are spent teaching. He holds ethics classes in the fall and teaches logic in the spring. In alternating years he instructs classes in ancient and modern philosophy.

Bray's Duties Numerous

It's no news that Registrar Bray is a busy man, yet enlightenment is still possible if you look at the list of 46 varied duties that he fulfills. No wonder it takes an easy going southerner to keep calm in this job.

"The amount of work is beyond the imagination for individuals to accomplish," said Bray, stating that the work of his secretaries is invaluable. One job that is time consuming is the preparation of all types of reports for colleges, government and private agencies.

Bray continued by saying that every work day is different, although the year is a series of repeated processes due to the three registrations, the six grading periods and the two comp exams.

It's hard to say where Bray spends most of his working hours since he cooperates closely with the deans in supplying them with information about each student. Additional hours are spent instructing a play production class and directing college plays.

"I'd like to make one request," the registrar said, "that students be more certain in their selections at registration." He described the tied-up condition of the office during the two week trial period due to half the students making changes in schedules.

Glancing over the job analysis sheet again I saw: evaluation of transcripts, scheduling classes, arranging for photographs of new students, ordering tests for Freshman week and on adfinitum. Such is the work of Juniata's registrar.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

SKIP'S INN
Friday Night Special
Italian Spaghetti
With or Without Meatballs
Extra Large Hoagies
Phone 9951

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SAT.
The Wings Of Eagles
John Wayne
Dan Dailey
Maureen O'Hara
Metrocolor
MON - TUE - WED
Deborah Kerr
Robert Mitchum
— in —
Heaven Knows Mr. Allison
Cinemascope - Technicolor
THURS and FRI
2 FEATURES
Story of Little League Baseball
THE GREAT AMERICAN PASTIME with Tom Ewell
Anne Francis - Ann Miller
— Plus Hit No. 2 —
A Return Engagement of NORTHWEST PASSAGE
Technicolor
Spencer Tracy Robert Young

Pete Fahrney

SCHEDULE PLANNING is much easier for sophomore Marlene Shugert when Registrar James Bray lends his assistance.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No 25 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, May 3, 1957

Pete Fahrney

PRINCE CHARMING OR CHARMED? — Surrounded by nine Juniata lovelies, Prince Charming Dick Mumma, who will with the perky coeds reign over tomorrow's May Day activities, could just as easily be called Prince Charmed. And why not. From left to right are Lucy Kriebel, Barb Zoellin, Ruth Perestam, Shirley McNitt, Prince Mumma, Queen Joy Wenger, Maid of Honor Phyl Marcocci, Jacque Rowland, Ann Larkin and Carol Mickel. "Squeegee" Holsinger is also on the court.

May Day 'By The Sea' To Bring Coronation, Gala Festivities

by Edith Lum

All Juniata College students, parents, alumni and friends are invited to spend a day "by the sea" as the festivities, pageantry, fun and entertainment unfolds during tomorrow's May Day activities.

The program of events will get underway with an open house from 10 p. m. to noon. At 1 p. m. all parents are invited to attend a parents' assembly in Oller Hall.

The highlight of the day, the crowning, will take place in front of Oller Hall. At 1:30 the college band, under the baton of Dr. Jack Brammer, will present a concert. At 2 p.m. the procession of Queen Joy Wenger and her court, attired in gowns of pastel sea shell colors, will begin.

The procession will end before a sea shell backdrop where Queen Joy will be crowned by her Prince Charming, Dick Mumma. Following the coronation, the court will preside over a program of entertainment fit for royalty.

Traditional Dance

With Don Murdoch serving as MC, the program will begin with the traditional May Pole Dance performed by a group of freshman girls. A quartet composed of Frank Hrach, Terry Fouse, Jim Powelland, Bud Brown, with Warren Braunwarth at the piano will present several selections. Carrying out the theme, 13 Juniata students, both male and female will serve as models for a fashion show of old bathing suits.

An Interpretation of a Water Lily will be presented by 12 members of the Modern Dance. Pete Wright and Louise Hively will perform in a piano and marimba duet. The spotlight will then focus on Judy Gearhart who will present a vocal solo. The recessional will conclude the program.

From 3 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. the lawn adjacent to the women's gym will be the scene of a festive lawn party sponsored by the

See PARTY, Page 4

May Day Agenda

Open House	10 a. m. to noon
Parent's Assembly	1 p. m. OH
Band Concert OH lawn	1:30 p.m.
Coronation Program OH lawn	2 p. m.
JC vs Lycoming College Field	3 p. m.
Lawn Party Women's Gym lawn	3 to 4:30 p.m.
Open House	3 to 5 p. m.
Prom Memorial Gym	8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

PLANNING J & S RECEPTION—Preparing for tomorrow night's dance in Memorial Gym, converted to an ocean floor for the occasion, are June Gray, decorations; Nancy Raver, programs; "Poodle" Wohlbruck, general chairman; Bob Sill, decorations, and Sylvia Shemeld, refreshments. Sponsored by the class of '58, the affair is one of the annual highlights of the May Day schedule.

Livingston To Give Organ Recital May 5; Orner, Soloist, To Assist

Dick Livingston, assisted by Barb Orner, soloist, will present an organ recital at 3 p.m., Sunday in Oller Hall.

Livingston, senior English major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Livingston of Johnstown. He studied piano for nine years with Mr. Edson Diggins of Johnstown, and at the present time is an organ student of Prof. Donald Johnson, chairman of JC's music department.

Livingston directed a church choir in Johnstown for two years prior to coming to Juniata and is now organist at the Stone Church.

Featured on Livingston's program will be Trumpet Tune and Air by Henry Purcell, Suite for a Musical Clock by George Friedrich Handel, Toccata in F Major by Johann Sebastian Bach, Sonata No. 5 in D Major by Felix Mendelssohn, Air by Robert Elmore, Canon in B Minor by Robert Schumann, The Little Red Lark, an old Irish air by Joseph Clokey and Choral No. 3 in A Minor by Cesar Franck.

Barb Orner, junior French major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Orner of Huntingdon. She studied voice with Miss Pfotenhauer for four years and during the summer with Julius Huehn of the Eastman School of Music at Chatauqua.

Miss Orner, who will be accompanied by Pete Wright, will sing The Willow Song and The Three Rivers, Elizabethan airs, Facut Portem by Rossini, Im Abendroth by Franz Schubert, Von Ewiger Liebe by Johannes Brahms, The Hero by Gian-Carlo Menotti, Adieu, Forets by Peter Tchaikovsky, Simple Gifts and The Boatmen's Song, arrangements by Aaron Copland, and Oliver Cromwell, arranged by Benjamin Britten.

• Dick Livingston •
To Present Recital

Senate Names 38 Delegates To Leadership Conference

by Ronn Fink

Thirty-eight students were named by the Senate Wednesday to attend the annual leadership conference at Camp Kanesatake early in September.

Delegates-at-large elected to attend the conference are: seniors Meg Goodrich, June Gray, Dick Humphries, Karen Narbut, Ann Willson, John Jenkins, Harold Saylor, Bev Condit, Joan Hannaford. Juniors Janice Christie, Bill Lafe, Ron Wertz, Barb Smathers, Pete Fahrney, Bill Ebner, Ailene Wright, Jim Heck; sophomores "Dutch" Boland, Tex Holman, Marcia Sweet, Pete Douglas, Leroy Farney, Shirley Raffensperger, Roberta Savage, Jay Maust, Barb McIntyre, Carey Shaner.

Alternates are Fred Ross, Cal Beam, Don Saylor, Margy White, Herb Deuchar, Paul DeSesso, Terry Fouse, Al Caskey, Judy Wernsing, Wally Berkey, Lou Hall.

A number of other students will be invited to attend by virtue of their positions in campus extra-curricular activities.

It was decided that the rule on coats and ties to the evening meal be dropped in accordance with the policy set up with the administration last year.

Registration For Fall Term To Be May 7,8,9

Registration for JC's fall term will be held from 1:30 to 3 p.m. next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Students Hall.

Seniors will register Tueday, juniors Wednesday and sophomores Thursday. If class or lab prevents a student from registering at that time he should report to the office of the registrar Tuesday at 10 a.m.

On the appointed day, students are asked to bring pens to Room C where registration forms and a record of courses taken will be given out. Then each is to check with his adviser to make sure that the proposed program is in order.

After May 9, all registrations will be considered late and subject to the late registration fee of five dollars.

Academy Elects Will News Letter Editor

Dr. Homer Will, head of JC's biology department, has been re-elected editor of the Pennsylvanai Science News-Letter following the 33rd annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science.

Dr. Shively who was graduated from Juniata in 1928 and is head of the biology department at Franklin and Marshall College, was named president elect of the Academy at the same meet-meeting held at Waynesburg College.

Women's Dorm On Home Strech

Treasurer John Fike has reported that materials for interior work on the new dorm have arrived on schedule, permitting the contractor to begin the interior of the building as soon as the exterior is completed.

The masons have now erected the brick room partitions on the first and second floors and are at present working on the third floor. The lighting engineer has announced that the wiring for the dorm has been partially laid and the remaining wiring will be completed in early summer.

Ceramic tile has been placed throughout the halls and wash rooms of the interior and 75 per cent of the interior-exterior glass has been installed. The heating contractor is in the process of installing the thermo convectors that arrived during April.

The building committee anticipates completion of the new women's dorm by the appointed date, August 15.

Juniatians To Dance At Charity Ball May 8 In Disney Neverland

"Second star to the right and straight on till morning."

That, Peter Pan told Wendy, was the way to Neverland. But if these instructions seem vague, just aim for JC's Memorial Gym where Peter and the gang will cavort during the Charity Ball Wednesday, May 8.

"These Juniata students are really making sure that this is a Neverland that will never be forgotten," according to Alex Steel, commercial artist in Huntingdon who is coordinating the decorations for the eighth annual ball for the Blair Memorial Hospital.

Heading the committee of 20 JCers are Judy Castree and Chuck Brown, sophomores. Judy thinks that the Peter Pan atmosphere will be "fascinating" and provide a "unique setting" for the popular dance music of the Glenn Miller orchestra under the direction of Ray McKinley.

As the guests arrive at the main entrance to the gym, the first spectacle will be a 26 foot pirate ship with mast and riggings extending to the ceiling.Mc. Kinley's band will be located in front of a giant map of Neverland at the North end of the main floor.

Peter Pan, Wendy, Michael and John will be flying overhead in a shower of stars and other life size figures of Captain Hook, Nana and a crocodile (animated if possible) wil be placed in various parts of the dance floor. Blue spot lights will be played on the ceiling to provide a heavenly effect above the shower of starts.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business hanager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson associcate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Emma yn Hood, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Judy Wornsing, asst. circulation manage'; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Val Means, asst. sports editor.

News staff—Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Ed Joanes, Edith Lum, Barb Smather's Marge Snyder.
Smathers, Marge Snyder..
Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hunsicker, Dave Sloff, Carl Wass.
Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.
Circulation staff—Rene Dimick.
Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 26 — May 3, 1957 — Page 2

Our Readers' Opinions

Library Light

LAST weeks' JUNIATIAN published an editorial concerning the deplorable lack of lighting in the library.

As was stated in the editorial the student Senate has been concerned with the problem. I am sure that the JUNIATIAN and the student body will be happy to know that the Administration has tentative plans to install modern lighting in the library this summer so that when we return in the fall the situation will have been alleviated.

This information is the result of Senate contact with the Administration on this problem.

The Senate appreciates the JUNIATIAN'S efforts to get action on library lighting and joins with it in hoping that there will be more light in the library next year.

—Del McQuaide, President
Student Senate

What We're Hearing

Heard here and there:

- The Administration is to be thanked for making sure it wasn't too cold in the gym when we took our comps.
- I'm not witty; I just open my mouth when I shouldn't.
- My oral comp was like a football that never got off the line of play during the entire game.
- He was missing an arm and an eye, but she wasn't missing a thing.
- I think, therefore I am, I think.

Our Opinions

The Band Concert

THE college band's performance in its chapel concert Monday was particularly laudable when one considers the size of the school and the small amount of practice the group gets.

Practicing but one hour per week, JC's bandsmen prepared a program so entertaining that we wouldn't mind hearing more from this seldom-spotlighted organization.

The Theme Load

WHILE themes assigned freshmen during the fall semester were scheduled so that students were not hard put to get them in on time, we find this semester that a number of people have as many as four themes due in the same week.

Not only does this put the freshmen (and others) to great task, but it gives rise to more plagiarism and the theme-for-a-price vendors that dot our campus.

Perhaps in the future a schedule for assigning themes to freshmen during the second semester could be suggsted so that the pressure of all this creative writing could be alleviated.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

"THIS IS A POOR CLASS TO TAKE FIRST PERIOD—SO NOISY YA CAN'T SLEEP."

CAMPUS CAPERS

What we like most about classes at JC is the breadth of subject material in each course.

This enables the professor in English to comment on the Suez situation ("We had to see that Europe got oiled or she would creak.") and the history prof to comment on institutional management ("You'd think that with all the grass there is on campus to mow they'd pick some spot like Round Top to mow in the forenoon instead of the plot in front of Students Hall.")

Patholoigst:: One who can find his way through the woods.

Then there was the domestic-minded freshman guy who started to explain to his table how one goes about preparing wiener stew: "You just take a whole bunch of wieners and cook them—like if you were going to eat them . . ."

We read that the Senate at the University of Oklahoma passed a resolution allowing coeds to wear Bermuda shorts to breakfast, Friday and Saturday suppers and Saturday lunches. This sounds like a great idea, especially during the hot weather . . .

* * * *

And from the Westminster HOLCAD:

Socialism—You have two cows; give one to your neighbor.
Communism—You have two cows; you give both to the government and the government gives you part of the milk back.
Fascism—You keep the cows and give the milk to the government and the government gives part of the milk back to you.
New Dealism—The government shoots one cow, milks the other and pours the milk down the sewer.
Naziism—The government shoots you and takes both cows.
Capitalism—You sell one cow and buy a bull.

The World This Week

by Del McQuaide

NEW REPUBLICANISM FADING — The deterioration of President Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism" continues to grow.

Since January of this year the group of Senators willing to follow Eisenhower on anything and everything has diminished considerably. There are two primary reasons for this revolt. First, the fact that he will not be able to run for a third term has naturally lessened his prestige among the Republican leaders, who now have to start searching for a new candidate for 1960.

The second reason, and I might add, the more basic is that a hard core of right wing and middle Republicans just don't agree with Ike's basic philosophy and never have. To them Eisenhower was unsatisfactory in 1952 and has been ever since.

The truth of the matter is that Eisenhower holds many ideas which belong to the other party, the Democrats. His Program is really Democratic in nature and the Old Guard cannot swallow any more of it regardless of how popular Ike remains with the rank and file.

The first sign of the split occured over the Eisenhower Doctrine. It was the very first time that Republican Senators questioned Eisenhower's judgment in foreign affairs.

But it was Ike's record-high budget that touched off what may turn into a full scale revolt. It was the bldget that prompted Senator Carl Curtis of Nebraska to say that "the heart and core of te Republican party is disappointed in the Administration's policies" and caused Senator Knowland to promise to cut three billion dollars from the budget at the very minimum.

The essence of the revolt is essentially part of the reaction against liberal socialism which has come to be accepted in the U. S. since the depression. If the majority of the Republican leaders in Congress do eventually turn against Ike's liberalism, which he has tried to hard to instill in the party, then I think I can safely predict one thing. That is the defeat of the Republican Party in 1960. The reaction will not stop what the country wants and which is basically good.

THE RUSSIAN JANUS—Now that the Hugarian Crisis has been inscribed in the pages of history we see the Soviet Union is beginning to redisplay the other of the two heads she uses when dealing with foreign nations.

Murmers of peaceful coexistence are coming from behind the walls of the Kremlin similar to those the world heard before the Russian armies crushed the Hungarian Freedom Fighters

On April 15 Khruscheiv delivered another "live and let live" speech. But it is going to be much harder for Moscow to convince the world of her peaceful intentions since the Hungarian revolt. If the Soviet Union is successful in recreating an atmosphere of harmony on the international scene, it won't say much for the neutralist nations, who certainly should now realize the naivete of their former position.

Let us hope they do not succumb this time.

Eisenhower's 'New Republicanism' Continues To Lose GOP Support

Stunning Costume Jewelry
At Both Stores
Black's Jewelry
423 PENN ST. 723 WASH. ST.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

New RCA Victor
Save-On-Records Coupon Books
Free With The Purchase Of
Any $3.98 RCA Victor Album
Get An Album FREE in July and Oct.
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Motel 22
And Restaurant
Air-Conditioned
Dining Room
And Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of
Huntingdon, Pa.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5.

Four Teams Race For Championship In Softball Loop

High scores, cut throat competition, and a 4-way race for the championship mark this week's intramural softball action.

The first place Devil's Deacons stand as the only undefeated club in the IM ranks with a 4-0 slate. The Whips follow closely with a 4-1 record and the Mumblers and Prophets each sport three wins and one loss.

In the top game this week, the Deacons, behind the fine pitching of Rod Sponsler, held the Mumblers to four hits to win 5-2. The Prophets dropped the Wibbers, 21 to 4, the Wibbers beat the Whips, 9-5 and in illogical succession the Whips handed the Prophets a 15-6 trouncing.

SAVE MONEY! HAVE FUN!

Go Home by Train!

SEE HOW LITTLE IT COSTS WHEN YOU TRAVEL TOGETHER!

GROUP ECONOMY FARES are the money-saving answer if you're returning to summer school. Team up with two or more friends bound for your home town. Travel together both ways. On trips of 100 miles or more, you'll each save 25% of the regular round-trip coach fare.*

Or better still . . . COACH PARTY FARES! Round up 25 or more to travel long-distance together on the same homeward train. Then return singly or together for summer school or fall semester and you each save 28% of the regular round-trip fare.

IT'S FUN, TOO!

It's all pleasure . . . by train. No traffic delays. Walk around and talk to the gang. Refreshments or delicious meals en route. Plus the comfort and dependability all smart travelers insist upon.

*Except for local travel between New York-Washington and points east of Lancaster, Pa.

See your travel or ticket agent NOW! Ask about these big money-saving plans.

EASTERN RAILROADS

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

George Cline and Dick Johnson bear watching in coming track meets.

Cline cleared 11' 4" in the meet with Albright and Lebanon Valley. If Cline can consistently hit near this mark, he will rack up many first place points in coming meets. To get an idea of what is needed to place in top competition, the outdoor record was broken recently at 15' 8¼."

* * * *

Johnson threw the javelin 168' 8", which is about nine feet short of the Juniata record. (Ed. Note: Columnist Means knew what he was talking about — Johnson smashed the JC record Tuesday afternoon at Lock Haven with a 180' 1.5" hurl.) The javelin mark was recently bettered by a Spaniard at the Penn Relays. His distance was 287 feet but he was not elgible to compete since he had transferred to the University of Puerto Rico from Spain in the past year.

* * * *

In the softball loop, the Prophets won recently over the Wibbers. A slight technicality could have been protested by the Wibbers although the incident would not have made a difference in the outcome of the game. Al Sellari and "Horse" DeNicola and their respective supporters became involved in a heated argument on Cloister Patio.

Result—The mile run recently at 7 o'clock before a large crowd which followed the noise to the track field. Al Sellari won in 5:45 settling both the dispute and an old challenge. Word has it that fellow Prophet Conley and Trimber, cleaned up, too.

* * * *

Another IM bowling season has ended with the champion Whips almost holding a monopoly in the top five individual bowlers. The final results show:

1.	Beefelt, Whips	150.3
2.	Olt, Whips	143.4
3.	Geiger, Whips	141.3
4.	Carl, Skizos	140.8
5.	Blough, Dutch Mumblers	139.6

Anyone notice an improvement in IM softball this year? Jim Stayer isn't playing.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS

— See —

H. & R. EGOLF

513 Washington St.

SHOP The Ray English Store

For The Latest In Mens Clothing And Furnishings

Next to the Clifton Theatre

Rick Bell

SETS JUNIATA JAVELIN MARK—Dick Johnson, freshman javelin gained him the JC javelin record of 180 feet 1½ inches in last Tuesday's track meet at Lock Haven.

Juniata Track Squad Loses To Lock Haven; Johnson Sets Record

Although Juniata lost last Tuesday's track meet to Lock Haven, 77½-53½, the Tribe did achieve a record breaking performance as freshman Dick Johnson smashed the college javelin record.

Johnson's eclipsing toss was 180' 1½" and took the spotlight at the meet along with Herb Deuchar's double victories in the 440 yard dash and the 88 yard run.

In addition to the victories of Deuchar and Johnson the charges of Mike Snider garnered first places in the broad jump as Steve Arcade leaped 20' 3" to victory, in the high jump as Henry Crocker jucped 5' 10" and in the 220 yard low hurdles with Lew Stratton turning in a :27.3 clocking.

Lock Haven took the other nine first places backing up their effort with nine second and eight third plase finishers for a winning total of 77½ points.

Juniata has won the Middle Atlantic Golf Team Championship in 1951, '52 and '54.

Tribe Wins Third Straight Game Over Indiana

Juniata's baseball team won its third straight game 7-4, over Indiana State Teachers College last Tuesday on College Field.

Lefty Alderfer's pitching and hitting and a four-run up-rising in the third inning highlighted the Indians' victory. After the visitors jumped to a 3-1 lead, Alderfer settled down to space 10 hits while fanning 10 Teachers.

Bill Berrier smashed a tremendous homer into deep left center for Juniata's first run in the second inning.

Don Ross and Jim Berrier started the third inning uprising by slamming singles. George Harrison sent both home with a sharp shash to left field. Alderfer followed with a home run to deep center scoring the fourth and winning run.

Indianas Tom Petrone was in Alderfer's hair all afternoon as he went four for four. Bill Berrier led Juniata's 13 hit assault with three for four including a single, double and home run.

Three Juniata Teams At Home This Afternoon

Juniata's heaviest week of spring sports action will begin this afternoon as the Indians play host to the tennis and baseball squads of Bucknell an dAlbright golf team.

The Bison baseball team has beaten Lafayette and Lehigh and lost to Penn State this season. Their tennis team has already defeated Dickinson, Albright and Lafayette bowing only ea Navy.

Albright has won one meet and lost two, while the Indian linkmen carry a 0-3 record.

Tomorrow's May Day festivities will include home games with Lycoming College in baseball and tennis at 2:30 p.m. These teams will again meet this week when the Juniata baseball and tennis teams travel to Williamsport on Wednesday.

The two remaining games find the Indian track team at Bucknell Tuesday and the golf squad at Indiana Wednesday.

Indian Golfers Drop 18-0 Match To Bison

Juniata's linksmen dropped their worst decision of the year Tuesday afternoon when they fell victim to a highly experienced Bucknell outfit.

The Bisons from Lewisburg capitalized on their home course advantage to sweep all six individual matches and an easy 18-0 victory.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

HARRIS CLIFTON
Tonight! One Complete Show starting at 7:30
Northwest Passage - color
The Great American Pastime
SATURDAY ONLY
2 SHOCKERS 2
Zombies of Mora Tau
— and —
The Man Who Turned To Stone
MONDAY and TUESDAY
Jeff Chandler - Jeanne Crain
Jack Carson - Gail Russell
— in —
The Tattered Dress
Cinemascope
STUDENTS!! FACULTY!!
Help The JWSF By Getting your Tickets for the benefit Movie " FUNNY FACE" from the campus... Dates for this Movie are Mon - Tues - Wed May 13, 14 and 15
Tickets Are 60c
The film stars Audrey Hepburn Fred Aistaire. All the revues are excellent.
STUDENTS!! FACULTY!!

FRIDAY NIGHT SPECIAL
Hose $1.00 Value
69c
FROM
6:00 to 9:00
Dank's & Co.

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

SEAMLESS
BARE LEG NYLONS
98c a pair
MURPHY'S

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

World Of Fanta-Sea At Underwater Prom

Juniata students will enter a world of "fanta-sea" at 8:30 Saturday evening in the Memorial Gymnasium where they will find themselves Underwater at the Junior-Senior Reception.

Upon entering the mezzanine the couples will board a ship deck complete with deck chairs, umbrellas and shuffleboard. They will then pass through the reception line and down the stairs to the world of the underwater, where they will enjoy an evening of dancing and entertainment until 11:30.

A place will be provided for Queen Joy Wenger and Prince Charming Dick Mumma from which they can reign over their subjects during the entertainment period. George Fattman will emcee the program.

Refreshments are to be served buffet style and will carry out the theme of the dance.

Eddie Rice's orchestra from Altoona will provide the music for dancing in this sea haven.

Co-chairmen of the dance are Aliceann Wohlbruck and Del McQuaide. Helping them are June Gray and Bob Sill, in charge of decorations; Nancy Raver, programs; Sylvia Shemeld, refreshments; Pete Wright, entertainment and Jackie Rowland, publicity.

Party Will Have Boardwalk Theme

continued from page 1

Interclub Council. A "board walk festivities" theme will provide fun and entertainment for everyone. There will be another open house from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Baseball Game

Imediately following the program Juniata's baseball team will play Lycoming in a game at College Field.

In case of rain the coronation will be held in Memorial Gym and the lawn party in the women's gym.

7 Music Students Will Give Recital

Juniatians as well as the public are invited to a concert to be given by seven of JC's organ and piano students at 7:30 p. m. this evening in Oller Hall.

Joan Ciccarelli will start the program with Bach's Short Prelude and Fugue in G Minor and Edmond Lamaigre's Stabat Mater Dolorosa. Carol Stiffler at the piano and Elizabeth Donnelly at the organ will present Clifford Demarest's Air Varie.

Miss Donnelly will continue with J. S. Bach's Short Prelude and Fugue in F Minor, Theodore Dubois' in Paradise and George Kemmer's Prelude on Deep River. Following this, Marjorie White at the piano and Alice Adams at the organ will play Ottorino Respighi's Notturno.

Miss Adams will then play Salvation Now Is Come to Earth and I Call to Thee, Lord Jesus Christ by J. S. Bach. Cathedral Prelude by Joseph Clokey and Toccate on O Sons and Daughters by Lynwood Marnam.

Easter Morn by Camil Van Hulse will be presented by Pete Wright at the piano and Kathryn Holsinger at the organ. Miss Holsinger will conclude the program with Richard Purvis' Prelude on Forest Green, Harold Darke's Elegy, Herbert Sumson's Pastorale and J. S. Bach's Gigue Fugue.

Next Week In Chapel

May 6 American Chemical Society speaker.
8 Honors Day
10 M. D. Shashane from the Indian Embassy, Washington, D. C. (assist. public relations attache)

Engel, Brumbaugh, Rosenberger Face The Public

William Engel, who for the past eight years had been JC's registrar, last summer assumed the position of director of public relations, a title he feels to be a misnomer since he is more concerned with public information.

The basic purpose of this department is to promote interest and good will among Juniata College and other communities and colleges. Every attempt is made to keep the public informed of what is happening on campus.

The official task of the public relations office is to coordinate all publications of the college. The news bureau constitutes a large proportion of the work of this department and through them news items ranging from sports srtistics to the May Queen are released.

College Publications

The list of publications includes the Football Letter, which is sent after each game to all of JC's varsity J winners and newspapers from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia; the Press Book, which previews basketball and spring sports; the Builder, published in cooperation with the church relations department; the Hi-Lites, which is sent to parents and the quarterly Alumni Bulletin.

Other duties of this office include operation of the entertainment bureau and planning special events such as conferences, tournaments and forensics.

Engel also serves as "swivel-chair adviser" to the JUNIATIAN, instructor of the journalism class held every year, secretary of the faculty and member of the publications and student activities committees.

The entire position adds up to a highly diversified and busy scchedule for one department.

Spend Time Traveling

Harold Brumbaugh and the Rev. Clarence Rowenberger, two men connected with the public relations office, spend a great deal of their time doing something that sounds gdamorous to most people—traveling.

These are not pleasure trips, however, but one of the duties they must carry out as part of their respective jobs. Brumbaugh spends a third of his time meeting with alumni and attending the annual dinners of the 22 local alumni associations.

His job can be broadly described as handling general college relations and fund and development programs. Some of the many facets these terms cover are attending and organizing alumni meetings, keeping approximately 5,000 alumni informed on all phases of college actcivity, organizing fund drives among alumni, churches, industries and foundations and setting up endowment funds.

Assistant to the President, Brumbaugh is quite fond of his job. In fact, he told the JUNIATIAN, "It is hard for me to imagine a more interesting assignment than in this office where one has an opportunity to get acquainted with students before they arrive on the campus, then be a part of campus living and follow through in the association with students in years to come through adlmni relations.

He pointed out that it was an added privilege to make industry and business contact with prominent people who have a growing appreciation of the importance of higher education today.

"It is especially gratifying to do this work in cooperation with President Ellis," he commented.

Guides Students

The Rev. Mr. Rosenberger spends about half his time traveling to the 130 churches in three of five districts of the Church of the Brethren in Pennsylvania. He also gives much attention to students seeking guidance.

A good part of his time is spent in corespondence with over 1,000 persons. He also handles all arrangements for special occasions such as the past week end's.

While these men work separately and together on many occasions, one thing is certain, their contacts with many people mean busy days.

Pete Fahrney

REVIEWING THE ALUMNI BULLETIN published quarterly by the Public Relations Office, Director Bill Engel and his secretary, Mrs. Phibrook Smith, take a short break from their work of keeping the public well informed about Juniata.

Bruce Bennett

CONFERENCE on a visitation program to local Brethren churches, Harold Brumbaugh and the Rev. Clarence Rosenberger talk over the proposed schedule. Brumbaugh and Rosenberger spend much time traveling which is a main part of their work in the public relations department.

Montgomery In 'Common Glory'

Jim Montgomery, a senior from Burlington, N. J., has been signed for a role in The Common Glory, a highly successful play about early American days staged each summer in Williamsburg, Va.

The Common Glory has been played to more than one-half million people since its opening in 1947 in Williamsburg. Montgomery will play the role of narrator in this production written by Pulitzer prize-winner Paul Green.

Leading roles in the drama have been played in past years by JC's Registrar James' Bray and Mrs. Bray.

Also one of the top performers in the Masque, Montgomery held a leading role in the recent production of All My Sons directed by Bray. He also had principal parts in The Skin of Our Teeth and The Glass Menagerie.

Montgomery, a history major, has been admitted for graduate work in that field next fall at Emory University in Georgia.

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Sociology

Spin a platter... have some chatter... and sip that real great taste of Coke.
Sure, you can have a party without Coca-Cola—but who wants to!

Drink Coca-Cola

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
Bottled by Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Altoona, Pa.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

SKIP'S INN
Friday Night Special
Italian Spaghetti
With or Without
Meatballs
Extra Large Hoagies
Phone 9951

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 27 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, May 10, 1957

Juniatian Gets All-American In ACP Rating

The JUNIATIAN has received the highest award conferred by the Associated Collegiate Press for its publications during the fall semester.

"All-American" was the rating given the campus weekly and two others out of 43 in its class (weeklies in schools of enrollment under 750) entered from colleges across the nation. About 475 of the nation's college newspapers (each school was required to submit all issues printed during the fall semester) entered the competition.

ACP, whose central headquarters is at the University of Minnesota, chose for judges various newspapermen from the Minneapolis area. Papers submitted by the JUNIATIAN were read and rated by Robert Smith, city editor of the Minneapolis TRIBUNE.

In all, 86 newspapers were rated All-American, the award going to papers showing "distinctly superior achievement."

McClure Editor

Joan McClure was editor of the JUNIATIAN during the fall semester; George Fattman was managing editor; Barb Walls, news editor. Ronn Fink, copy editor; Dave Sulloff and Bill Mariotti, sports editors; Carol Baish, assistant news editor; Dave Amidon, feature editor; George Carnahan, busines manager; Roger Bennett, assistant business manager Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Judy Wernsing, assistant circulation manager.

The newspaper received its highest ratings for front page and sports page display. Nothing was rated below very good.

Awards At Olympic

This week's Saturday night entertainment will be provided by the Olympics Hop at 8:30 p.m. in the women's gym.

At 10 p.m. Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president, will present awards to JC's outstanding athletes for the fall and spring terms.

Ginny Nixdorf, chairman of the social committee, has announced that this is a stag-or-drag affair and that refreshments will be served in Totem Inn.

Pete Fahrney

CLOWNING AROUND, Lil Weimar admires the outfit of the "sophomore tramp" who a few days before the soph's dance April 27 was seen everywhere advertising the event. Jim Petit was the talented clown.

Bruce Bennett

ALMOST BUT NOT QUITE raady for occupation, rooms in the new women's dorm are now being partitioned off into the standard size by a workman laying the cinderblock separations. Juniata women will draw for these rooms May 15.

Martin Receives Fulbright Award

Jim Martin, senior pre-med student, has been granted a Fulbright scholarship to study biochemistry at the University of Hamburg in Germany beginning next September.

Martin received notice from the Department of State that he had been selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships to receive a grant in the International Exchange Program provided under the Fulbright Act.

The scholarships, according to Earl Dennis, chief of the Study Programs Division, are given to increase good will and understanding between the people of the United States and other countries through the exchange of students, teachers, university lecturers and research scholars.

Martin's admittance to Harvard Medical School next year has been postponed until he completes his 10-month study in Germany.

Dajumos To Develop College's Usefulness

Dads and mothers of JC students have formed an association with the unique name of Dajumo with the serious intent to "develop and advance Juniata's usefulness and magnifying opportunities."

Not only does the name Dajumo represent the letters of the objective, but it was also formed originally by taking the first two letters of dad, Juniata and mother in Navy abbreviation style.

Officers elected at Dajumo's organizational meeting on May Day were: Benn Goodrich from Ridgeway, chairman; Horace Raffensperger from Elizabethtown, vice-chairman and Thomas Chase from Philadelphia, secretary.

Other members of the executive committee, all of whom assisted in forming the new association, are U. G. Hodgin from Harrisbubrg, George Nevin from Port Washington, N. Y. and Robert Over from Roaring Spring.

Winger Sets Date

Miss Anna Winger, acting head librarian, has announced that all magazines and pictures which were borrowed from the library are to be returned May 15.

She added that buck board users wil be given until that time to return the money that they borrowed. The money may be returned to the desk.

Eight Organ Students Will Present Recital

Eight of Prof. Donald Johnson's organ students will present a recital at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 11, in the pipe organ studio in Oller Hall.

Those who will be playing in this recital are Lois Dunlap, sophomore; George Fattman, junior; Helen Fitzgerald, special student; Helen Herr, senior. Mildred Matthews, senior; Barbara Over, junior; Mary Snyder, sophomore, and Carol Stiffler, freshman.

Next Week In Chapel

May 13 — College Orchestra

15 — Faculty String Quartet

17 — Senior Chapel

Students To Vote

Chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward has announced that an election will be conducted to see what the majority of JCers feel about an all-college worship service.

Questionnaires will be placed in each mail box and students are asked to indicate their honest opinions and place them in the box in Totem.

Sucessful Debaters To Meet Pittsburg In Exhibition Round

The most successful Juniata College debaters of recent years are scheduled to engage the University of Pittsburgh in an exhibition round on the front steps of Oller Hall Thursday, May 16 at 7:15 p.m.

The two men who will enter this debate for Juniata are senior history majors Jim Montgomery, Burlington, N. J. and Jim Stayer, Denver. Representing the Pitt Men's Debating Society will be sophomore history majors Gary Hess and Ben Reid.

Thursday's event will be a return match, for the State Tournament held at King's College in April, Montgomery and Stayer defeated Reid and Hess in a very close debate. This was Pitt's only loss in the preliminary rounds, as they entered the semifinals with a 9-1 record.

Through three years of debate for Juniata, Stayer and Montgomery have been responsible for 31 of the 43 victories scored by JC over that period, while accepting only 29 of 86 losses. Outstanding opponents who have fallen before them include Pitt, Navy, Penn, St. Joseph's, Bucknell, Penn State, Xavied, Mt. Mercy, West Virginia and Wooster.

Not until their senior year did Montgomery and Stayer begin to debate as a team. During the past spring they returned winning records in tournaments at Geneva College, King's College (State Debate) and Carnegie Tech.

Their eight victories and four losses for a percentage of .667 compare with a squad average over three years of .333. In addition, they are the only debaters in the club with winning careers. Over three years Montgomery has won 17 and lost 13 while Stayer has won 22 and lost 20.

Numerous Appearances

Ben Reid and Gary Hess come to Juniata in the wake of numerous cup-winning tournament appearances, most recent of which was their sweep of the McGill University Varsity Tournament in Montreal, Canada. Both are products of Pittsburgh area high schools.

By an interesting coincidence, both Reid and Montgomery are pastors of Negro congregations the most obvious difference being that Reid is himself a Negro and a Moderate member of the NAACP.

Don Leeking, Debate Club President, has invited all Juniatians to attend this unusual demonstration of first-rate debating. Montgomery and Stayer will uphold the negative viewpoint of the 1957 national proposition-Resolved: That the United States should discontinue economic aid to foreign countries.

JWSF To Bring Movie To Clifton

JWSF wil sponsor the movie Funny Face starring Audrey Hepburn and Fred Astaire at the Clifton Theatre May 13, 14 and 15.

The ticket price will remain the same—60 cents, whether purchased from a student or at the box office. The JWSF encourages students to buy their tickets from members, since the organization receives 10 cents from every ticket sold by a member and 5 cents from those sold at the ticket window.

Proceeds from the movie are not to go towards next year's campaign but to meet expenses incurred during the past year.

Pete Fahrney

PART OF THE BUILDING PROGRAM?—We doubt if the above structure is a part of the 10-year Build Juniata plan, but a phantom construction contractor had the building placed in the Oller Hall lawn one morning last week, much to the glee of JC students.

Kilts At The Highland Ball

Dickey Talks Of Spring, Summer Doings

by Bruce Dickey

Ed. note: Bruce Dickey, who is spending his junior year at St. Andrew's in Scotland, writes of spring and summer activities at the Scottish university

A formal kilt is a dressy outfit, and there were many at the Highland Ball in February. In Edinburgh on a sunny February second Scotland defeated the invaders from Wales in a well played International Rugby Match. Of the 65,000 attending, 20,000 were Welshmen, wearing red and white scarves and singing.

During World University Service Week we Americans had a shoe shine stand, a "smoker" (variety show) and other efforts, including collection cans to raise money. The highlight of the week was a speech by a Hungarian student who expressed the hope of returning to Hungary when a favorable government gains control.

The summer term (April to June) is highlighted by a parade honoring Kate Kennedy, niece of the late Bishop Kennedy. A group of historical personages, all costumed as accurately as possible, parade quietly through the town brought up in the rear by the carriage of the Lady Katherine Kennedy, decorated in spring greenery and flowers, surrounded by shield bearers and drawn by white horses.

During the last week in April a Charities Smoker was presented to help raise money for the Annual Charities Campaign which went this year to buy guide dogs for the blind, for Hungarian students and for cancer. The "last but not least" act of the evening was an operetta put on by the "Divines" of St. Mary's College and as many girls, entitled A GI in Japan. The male leads were played by one American and two Scotsmen who have developed excellent American accents.

Saturday afternoon a boat race was throughly enjoyed by spectators as the various crews who were from the residence halls and "bunks" (outside houses) flexed their muscles and flashed their oars. A fast team of men from St. Regulus Hall won by a long lead. After returning to dry land some of this crew mounted their winning float which bore the Charities Queen and paraded through the streets of town under a shower of pennies

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Volume XXXIII, No. 27 | May 10, 1957 | Page 2

Our Opinions

An All-College Worship Service: Will It Work?

An all-college Sunday morning worship service, proposed by chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward, has been questioned and discussed by many JC students and faculty.

There is considerable opposition to the proposal to date arose in a special JCA pro any value in the project.

The most interesting discussion of the proposa to date arose in a special JCA program last week in which Dr. Hambacher, Charlie Haines, Dr. Crosby and Joan McClure were to argue for an all-college worship service and Dean Mays, Meg Goodrich, former chairman of religious avtivities Kerin Norbut and the Rev. Raymond May, pastor at the local Lutheran church were to argue against it.

It was pointed out that such a service would be conducted once a month. Attendance would be voluntary. Before the affirmative could get underway the negative side started to shoot the plan full of holes.

The affirmative felt that there was great value in attending church together with other members of the college community, that it formed a sort of common bond. To this Miss Narbut remarked that community lies in going as a group to worship God no matter what your background may be.

"You can't say there's a student-type worship service; students don't have a different God," the former religious activities chairman asserted.

Pastor May continued for the negative: "I question the number of students that will come to an all-college church. Certainly not many will be pulled from the downtown churches . . . . If you cannot create unity with the chapel program and the JCA program how can you do it in an additional hour each month?

The Lutheran minister went on to point out that the presence of students at the Huntingdon churches is one of the most important contacts there is between the campus and downtown.

Dean Mays, representing the Administration who, it has been said, do not even care to give the proposed worship a chance to prove its worth inspite of its success on other campuses, pointed out that there are numerous outlets for students' interests in the Christian faith already provided on campus but that not many students take advantage of them.

"But we must consider," Dr. Crosby reminded, "whether or not an all-college service will reach some not now involved. Those participating in a program downtown (for example, teaching or singing in a choir) would be expected to ignore an all-college worship service."

Dean Mays then brought up the point that many are saying that Juniata should have such a worship service because college students have special needs that cannot be met in community churches. He wanted to know what were these special needs of the students.

It was pointed out that the college community is almost completely separated from downtown and that there is a much different complexion in the college community than in a town community.

Those against an all-college worship pointed out that even in a college community there are so many diverse needs that no speaker could reach down into one specifically. "The gospel, however, answers all questions in a general way," Pastor May reminded.

"But my needs aren't being met," someone remarked. "I have been hopping around from one church to the next in Huntingdon, but none of them seems to have what I'm looking for."

"You can't satisfy your needs by running from one church to the next," Pastor May advised. "If you stay at the same church you will gradually have your needs met."

Dr. Hambacher remarked, "I think that a preacher talks to his audience. No doubt sermons delivered in Huntingdon churches are pitched too low for college students."

"I think that this business of need boils down to whether or not we like the preacher," Dean Mays commented.

"We just want to take from church what we can get," someone else remarked. He went on to add that perhaps the trouble with many of us is that we go to church to be inspired without even turning a finger to worship God.

"Yes," Dr. Hambacher admitted, "There is a good shepherd, but even the sheep finds his own grass. We tend to say, 'Here I am in church; do something for me.' "

Joan McClure pointed out, "Not many students have strong denominational ties and wouldn't be hurting a downtown church by coming to an all-college worship."

If students are stimulated at an all-college worship service they will be encouraged to do more in the Huntingdon congregations, it was noted. At Penn State, for instance, a survey showed that more PSU students were active in church work when they were graduated after their all-college worship service program was started than previously.

Fewer than 10 percent of PSU students attend the all-college worship service.

* * * *

This is merely a summary of what went on at JCA the other evening. The JUNIATIAN has printed arguments from both sides so that students may see the entire situation and decide for themselves what steps should be taken.

We do question the success of such a program because we doubt that a service can be prepared that will satisfy the diverse religious convictions. Furthermore, Juniatians are notably passive in participating in the various worship services already provided on campus.

On the other hand, if religious activities chairman Ward and the JCA want to try an all-college worship service, they should be given the opportunity. We are sorry to say, however, that we think the odds are against its success.

Our Readers' Opinions

And From Another Viewpoint . . .

Is there a need for an all- college church service on campus? Are the church needs of the student being adequately met? Do most of the students go to church, and are those attending satisfied with the services being presented?

These questions have been actively considered in a panel discussion held on April 30 in room C, where the pro and con of instituting an all-college Sunday morning church on campus were discussed.

The service would he held once a month, would be voluntary and would use the most widely acceptable Protestant order of worship which can be arranged. Let us look briefly at both sides of the discussion which ensued.

It seemed that the con men (and women) took a flatly negative and unrealistically idealistic look at the question and often relied on the sanctity and security of a moderate, safe status quo, feeling that something which existed (although unsatisfactory) is deserving of support because there is no proof that something new will be successful.

The pro was vigorously supported by students from the audience, but was more inclined to be practical, facing the apparent student opinion, and often could not adequately refute the rather idealistic ideas presented to them.

It was argued by the con that the all-college service would cause the students to lose their close relationship with the local church, to which the question was raised as to whether such a relationship existed at the present and further if the monthly service would not rather help to break the rack habit and remind the student that the church is an important part of his experience, thus strengthening church attendance.

The pro felt that students had different questions and different needs than the members of the local churches, and that a service of worship which took into account the students' questions, needs and desires would be better attended and more rewarding to the students.

The con felt that there was no difference in the needs of the students and the community—we are all met to worship the same God and our intelligence and uncertainty make no difference in the way we wish to worship Him. We should all worship God in the same manner, and the fact that the sermon does not apply to our situation gives us an opportunity to learn to endure the uninteresting.

Further it was felt that the students would not attend such a service (would not get out of the rack) because they did not take a very active part in other religious organizations on campus, ignoring the fact that before coming to college most of the JC students were from Christian homes and regularly attended church and therefore would be more likely to attend a campus morning worship service than a week day meeting.

In addition the con felt that the service is not to relate the gospel to he student's situation but only to give him an opportunity to praise God—and, lastly, we must change the students' attitudes (as simply as that).

The practicability of the service was also considered. The pro brought out the fact that the students, through their volunary offering could easily support the financial end, the college choirs have shown an interest in supplying the music and the JCA would obtain the nine required ministers during the summer. The con simply said they didn't think that it would work.

These are the major points—it seemed that at least one-half of the con side saw nothing really wrong with the service except that it would not work.

Perhaps it is time that Juniata took some positive action in supporting their claim to be a Christian college—many students take no active part in religious programs—the all- college church service might reach them and more effectively reach others. Perhaps this service could help to make us feel more like a Christian Community.

Many of the students are not satisfied with the status quo. The all-college church service is not a change for the sake of a change but rather an attempt to meet a definite need.

—Spencer Ward

Our Opinions

Academic Freedom

THIS is Academic Freedom Week at Juniata.

Regularly sponsored in colleges across the nation by the National Student Association, Academic Freedom Week is a tribute to the freedom allowed the American scholar and is also an impetus for us to re-examine our educational community with an eye to seeing that the privileges of academic freedom are maintained.

We were shocked last year to learn of the dismissal of Dickinson's Prof. Laurent Lavalle, who refused to take a loyalty oath. Lavalle is yet without a job and is still under investigation, he told JC's Academic Freedom Week chairman Barb Walls. Such restriction cannot be regarded as anything but unhealthy.

Then there are schools whose student Senate and campus newspaper are kept in suppression by the Administration. Both organizations at Juniata occasionally are regarded as puppies running around on a leash held securely by someone on second Founders. Students, while they need to be responsible and open minded in their pursuits, should never be forced to keep their views to themselves.

Furthermore, do we find here an atmosphere of free inquiry and intellectual development? Is there an opportunity to study all sides of all questions objectively? Is opportunity given for each of us to fulfill his capabilities? Is the student's responsibility to society emphasized effectively?

Unfortunately, the answers to these questions are not always "yes" at Juniata. So long as the conditions of academic freedom are not being met here and elsewhere there is a need for the emphasis provided in an annual Academic Freedom Week.

Academic freedom is not a dead isue. Preserving our various freedoms is always vital, and unless looked after, they may be lost.

INTERCOLLEGIATE + CHATTER +

by Barb McIntyre

Throughout the nation colleges differ in size, degrees offered and lasting traditions, but few will deny that there is a basic mutual bond to be found among college students throughout the nation.

A typical universal situation is told by Jean Fox, nurse, of Clarke College in Iowa. "Collegiate illnesses can be categorized according to days of the week," she says.

"1. Monday Misery. The first sign of the disease is a collegian, suitcase in hand, waiting for a taxi on Friday afternoon. First real symptoms are visible Sunday night when she feebly signs in. The cure? A complete day of recuperation.

"2. Tuesday and Thursday. Freshmen and sophomores get 'I ache all-over-its'. Symptons: sore throat, backache, weak knees, unprepared assignments Cure: exemption from physical education class.

"3. Friday, Saturday and Sunday are the healthiest days. Dying students invariably recover by Friday noon."

* * * *

Still another "doesn't-this-sound-familiar" area of concern is an excerpt on a college coed—"She leads a martyr's life. No one else could stand time limits on telephone calls, the frustration of stolen bobby pins and the pain of waiting for a date; professors fluster them, mothers protect them, little sisters idolize them and boys worship them"—no comment!

Laughter from other Campi

Dear Pop,
Everything's fine at school. I'm getting plenty of sleep, but working hard. Incidentally, I'm enclosing my fraternity bill
Love,
Buzz

Dear Buzz,
Don't buy any more fraternities.—Love, Pop.

The World This Week:

McCarthy's Death Is Shock To Nation

by Del McQuaide

The death of Senator Joseph McCarthy came as a shock to the people of the U. S.

This does not mean that he was loved or even respected. At least everyone knew who he was. His name blazed across the headlines a few years ago when he exploited the red hysteria that swept the country.

Using methods that gained him an official Senae censure, he ranted and raved of "twenty-one years of treason" in the Democratic administration. In committee hearings he blustered and hurled grave charges at people in a reckless fashion.

Yet, strangely enough, McCarthy began his career as a progressive and a Democrat. Even after switching to the Republican party, his early record was not reactionary. But when he found himself in disagreement with the President he had nowhere to turn for support except to the right-wing Republicans, and he remained with them until his death.

Since the Senate censure, McCarthy has been working in a shadow of discredit. Because he belonged to the reactionaries, his death is going to have important political repercussions. It is highly unlikely that another man of his stamp will be elected. In fact, predictions are that a Democrat will be elected, thus increasing their majority in the Senate.

If the Democrats are victorious Arthur Krock of the New York Times predicts important psychological consequences. It will forewarn defeat for the Republicans in 1958 who are at the moment swinging to the right away from Eisenhower. For a reactionary to be replaced by a liberal is a good sign of the mood of the people.

The right wing has lost one of its strongest personalities. Chances that they will find someone to take his place are very slim indeed.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The Devil's Deacons look good at this point in the IM softball race. Led by the hitting and pitching of Red Sponsler, the Deacons have grabbed the lead at this writing. By comparative scores they appear a shoe-in. The Deacons defeated the Mumblers 5-2; the Mumblers 14 and the Whips "who strike with terror" 6; the Whips 15, Prophets 6; and the Prophets 21, Wibbers 4.

Anything can hapen yet, however, as the Prophets and Mumblers are still in the running and the Deacons have three tough games left. The Wibbers especially have the potential and could make the cycle complete by knocking off the Deacons.

* * *

Events are not running so smoothly in the IM tennis tournament Forfeits and late matches are marring the action. If the aprticipants do not have enough interest to even play let alonge play on time, a tournament can just not be successful. If action is to end before finals, the dates must be followed at least within several days. It might be said that tennis courts are very busy but space can usually be obtained if any effort is made at all.

* * *

The JC baseball team did not disappoint anyone on May Day weekend. It was their fourth and fifth straight win coming over Bucknell and Lycoming after dropping their first game to Shippinsburg. "Harvey" Ross was impressive with a spray of hits including a home run each afternoon.

The six freshmen are really coming through. JC fans should see some good baseball in this as well as in coming sasons with these freshmen as a nucleus and only Aldefer, Musselman and Staley graduating.

* * *

Tennis and golf are the contrast here. Tennis men are finding the going rough in meeting such tough oponents as Bucknell. Also our golf men are finding points few and far between. Both squads are winless and hopes are not too high.

Rick Bell

SAFE ON FIRST—Second basemen Ed Beers makes it to first as a Lyco infielder falls short of making an out in the May Day game at College Field. JC won 11-4.

Juniata Trackmen Lose To Bucknell

Lack of first place times and distances cost Juniata cindermen a defeat on the track at Bucknell University.

Although showing considerably more depth than in former years, the Indians failed to outpoint the combination of Wooster, Wright and Mueller which accocunted for 29 points alone, and the Bison's went on to a 91-35 victory.

At Lewisburg, the Bucknell Bisons, with a host of first and second places, handed Coach Mike Snider's squad their third defeat of the season as against one victory. Herb Layman, mile and two mile winner, and Herb Deuchar, who again broke the tape in the quarter and half mile runs, scored the only Indian firsts of the day, as weight men, Johnson and Kirk Wicker, gave the Tribe their lone three-point marks in the number two column.

Joe Berger, class of '50 holds the all-time track record for the mile run at Juniata. His times were 4:38 and 10:04.6 respectively.

Indian Tennis Squad Racks Up First Win

Fine teamwork in the doubles matches paid off for Juniata netmen Wednesday afternoon as they copped their first victory for 1957.

Lycoming's Warriors, who had previously beaten the Indians, were surprised at the devastating attack they were forced to encounter, and as a result they bowed 5-4. Chuck Seeley and Don Murdoch continued their winning ways as they defeated Bob Hoover and Bill Hendershot 6-1, 6-1 for their third consecutive doubles victory and clincher in Juniata's triumph.

The other victory in the doubles went to the Randall-Ruhl duo who handled a Schneider-Ratner team 6-4, 7-5. Ruhl, Seeley and Murdoch garnered victories in their singles matches.

In two earlier matches last week the Indians lost to Bucknell 8-1 and dropped a 5-4 decision to Lycoming in the final doubles match of the day.

The May Day loss to Lycoming was a sour note for it marked the Indians fourth consecutive defeat, although it was their best showing of the year to date.

Busy Week In Sight For JC; Middle Atlantic Golf Is Here

Holding the spotlight in this week's sports is the Middle Atlantic Golf Tournament which will be held at the American Legion Country Club in Mount Union tomorrow afternoon.

Seventeen schools, many of which are considered strong contenders, are entered in the tourney.. Bucknell and Lehigh, the first two teams last year are the teams to beat. The 1956 winner, Keith Birmingham of Juniata and runners-up Mike DiVenanzio of Drexel and Juniata's Bill West have all graduated and the top favorite seems to be the '55 winner, Leslie Norbubry of Lehigh.

Also booked for Saturday is a baseball game with Susquehanna University in Huntingdon. The Indians split with Susquehanna last year, losing by a 5-2 score on one occasion and winning, 15-1, in the next game. Another baseball game scheduled for Tuesday, will be played with Lock Haven. Juniata has beaten the State Teachers three times while losing four encounters.

Tennis Team On Road

The tennis team will travel to Dickinson on Monday for the only match this week. The Indians have been fairly unsuccessfud with Dickinson College, which holds a 13-2 record over J C.

Wednesday the track team will also travel to Carlisle for a meet with Dickinson. Juniata squeezed out a, 66-60, win over Dickinson last year but are behind 6-9 on the series record.

In addition to the Middle Atlantics, the Juniata linksmen have a home meet with Gettysburg scheduled for Tuesday. The Bullets did not compete with Juniata last year.

JC Baseball Team Wins Three Games Over Lycos, Bisons

Juniata Indians won three out of the last four contests making their seasonal record six victories and two losses.

They defeated Lycoming twice, 11-4 and 12-6 and Bucknell, 6-4. Their five game winning streak was broken by Indiana STC, 11-6, last Monday.

Lefty Alderfer stymied Lycoming as he went the distance on both occasions. The first contest played on May Day featured home runs by Alderfer and Don Ross which clinched the contest.

In the second game at Williamsport on Wednesday the Indians jumped off to a 3-1 lead in the first inning and never fell behind in the contest.

Defeat Bucknell

The Bunnmen defeated Bucknell last Friday as Pete McCauley went the distance in winning his third game of the year. A leaky Bucknell defense, a freak triple play and Ross' three run homer paved the way for the Juniata victory.

Juniata's second defeat of the season came at the hands of Indiana STC, who recently suffered a loss at College Hill from the Indians.

Juniata jumped to a 4-2 lead after two frames, but the Teachers pounded 14 hits for 11 runs off the combined offerings of losers Pete McCauley and Jim Ake. Nick Roth pitched the final inning flawlessly.

LARGE SHIPMENT OF CAMDEN L. P.'s

JUST ARRIVED — $1.98

BUY TWO AND GET "SAVE ON THE RECORD"

COUPON BOOK FREE

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP

MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Weaver The Florist
John & Sarah Snyder
YOUR COLLEGE FLORIST
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

EARN EXTRA MONEY During Your VACATION!

(Jobs in Metropolian N.Y.C. area only.)

We have a good temporary job for you during your Vacation Time if you are neat and accurate... and if you can type about 60 WPM; or take dictation at approximately 100 WPM; or skillfully operate any business machine or switchboard.

Enjoy the drama of working for our clients in the Fashion, Advertising, TV, Travel, and Finance Fields. Work during Easter and/or full weeks of your choice during your Summer Vacation. No fees. Top Rates Paid.

REGISTER NOW! All it takes is one interview at your convenience. Call Mrs. CLARK and tell your friends to call, too.

PHONE: WOrth 4-0038

OFFICE TEMPORARIES INC. 55 West 42nd Street 45 West 34th Street 39 Cortlandt Street

HARRIS CLIFTON
MON - TUE - WED
May 13 - 14 - 15
Benefit Performances Staged
By The JWSF of
Juniata College
Get Tickets Now On The Campus

This Film Has Broken Every Record At The Radio City Music Hall... Now It Comes To You At Regular Prices All Tickets 60c tax incl.

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

Ciccarelli To Present Piano Recital With Norris Assisting

Joan Ciccarelli, freshman music major, will present a piano recital Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Swigart Hall.

Miss Ciccarelli is a graduate of Huntingdon High School and was for 11 years a piano pupil of Miss Virginia Strait. In the summer of 1955 she attended the Chautauqua Music Camp where she studied piano and organ .

● Joan Ciccarelli ●
To Give Recital

She is at present a piano student of Mrs. Michael Tinkham, a voice student of Miss Mary Jo Pfotenhauer and an organ pupil of Prof. Donald Johnson. She is a member of the chapel choir and has appeared frequently before Huntingdon audiences as both accompanist and soloist.

Also appearing in this recital wil be Arthur Norris, sophomore biology major. Norris is from Hanover, Pa., and has studied bassoon with Edward Gobrecht, Jr., bassoonist with the Baltimore Symphony.

He is a member of JC's band and orchestra and studies piano with Mrs. Tinkham.

At the concert, Miss Ciccarelli will play Doquin's Le Coucou, Haydn's Allegro from Sonata No. 30, Chopin's Nocturne in E Flat, Liszt's Etude, Debussy's Arabesque No. 1 and Tcherpnine's Two Chinese Bagtelles.

Norris at the bassoon accompanied by Mrs. Tinkham at the piano will present Hindemiths' Sonata for Piano and Bassoon and Mozart's Rondo from Concerto in B Flat.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Deans, Newcombe Work Close To Students

The JUNIATIAN in its administration story this week will feature Dean Barbara Bechtell, Dean Charles Godlasky and Director of Admissions Robert Newcomb — three administrators who work closely with Juniata students.

Two people directly concerned with the welfare, conduct and well-being of Juniata students are our two deans— Miss Barbara Bechtell and Charles Godlasky.

Dean Bechtell, since her arrival on campus has had plenty of opportunity to discover the specific tasks included in the job as Juniata's dean of women. Miss Bechtell is responsible for personal, social, and vocational counselling and guidance. She helps promote the standards of conduct established by Juniata and serves as a disciplinarian for the women.

Exercising general supervision of the social program, Miss Bechtell serves as the college hostess.

Bruce Bennett

JUNIATA'S DEANS, Barbara Bechtell and Charles Godlasky, confer in the dean of men's office on a policy matter. Although the deans' duties are alike to a large degree, most of their work is done independently.

Her assignments to various committees, the Senate, the Judiciary and Women's House also stem from her position in the Administration. She finds the work interesting and "certainly not monotonous." One of the highly unique factors is the fact that, as dean of women, Miss Bechtell can not hold definite office hours. Many are the times when she has been aroused from sleep to cope with some situation or problem arising in the middle of the night.

More often than not, the work of both deans involves the duties of a referral agency when students are directed to the proper authorities to find help with their particular problems.

Dean of Men

Charles Godlasky, dean of men, performs many tasks that are similar in nature to those encountered by the dean of women. As Godlasky stated it, his principal job involves the work of a disciplinarian and the task of seeing that the men follow the rules of Juniata. Like his female counterpart, he keeps a check on the academic standings of the students and counsels with them.

His counselling deals with such problems as social and emotional adjustment, group living, responsible citizenship and development of self-discipline. His work also involves membership on many committees.

Both Deans find it essential to discuss together basic policies from time to time; however, on the whole, their jobs involve individual work.

Placement

Dean Godlasky also serves as the Placement Officer for Juniata. Particularly important is the task of arranging for visits from representatives of various industries and concerns who are looking for graduating students to fill positions open in their businesses. In just a few weeks last spring representatives of 35 concerns visited campus interviewing students.

Having a background of coaching, Godlasky feels that this has been a great aid in his developing good relationship with the men.

Although both deans are recent additions to the Administration they have both penetrated deeply into the college community as they carry out their various duties and find solutions to problems arising on our campus.

Director of Admissions

A friendly personality which is contagious to all is characteristic of Robert Newcombe, our present director of admissions. He assumed this position in July of 1952, previously being the activities director in the industrial personnel division of the Owens-Corning Fiberglas.

● Bob Newcombe ●
Friendly Personality

Along with his secretary, Mrs. Barbara Weaver, Newcombe carries out the various phases of the public relation's program which includes the testing of students in approximately 300 high schools of college minded individuals. A student's record is processed from the time he expresses interest in Juniata until he is accepted.

Under the direction of Mrs. Weaver, the standings of the students who have taken the admissions test are sent to the respective schools in accordance with their standing in comparison with similar groups.

Career Conferences

College-nights, which are held in various prospective areas, are under the direction of Newcombe as well as career conferences. He also serves as the chairman of the admissions committee.

A graduate of the University of Ohio, Newcombe travels many miles for speaking engagements and panel discussions, all of which are in the interest of recruiting students to Juniata.

SEAMLESS
BARE LEG NYLONS
98c a pair
MURPHY'S

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Gay, Summer Jewelry
Sterling Silver
Lenox China
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St. Since 1872

SKIP'S INN
Friday Night Special
Italian Spaghetti
With or Without
Meatballs
Extra Large Hoagies
Phone 9951

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE
CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Motel 22
And Restaurant
Air-Conditioned
Dining Room
And Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of
Huntingdon, Pa.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Hollywood
Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

It's a puzzlement:
When you're old enough to go to college, you're old enough to go out with girls. When you're old enough to go out with girls, who needs college? Oh well, there's always Coke.
Drink Coca-Cola
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Altoona, Pa.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIII, No. 28 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, May 17, 1957

Paul Heberling, Psychologist, To Be New Dean Of Men

Paul Heberling of State College, a psychologist and sociologist with eight years experience in his field, has been appointed Juniata's dean of men and director of placement effective August 1.

He will succeed Dr. James Penny who resigned last January as rean of men to accept a position as assistant professor of guidance and psychology at Boston University. Charles Godlasky, instructor in sociology and assistant athletic coach, has been serving as acting rean during the spring term.

• Paul Heberling •
New Dean of Men

Heberling has been director of treatment at the state penitentiary at Rockview since 1954. Prior to that time he was a psychologist at the Pennsylvania State Institution in Huntingdon.

The new dean received his bachelor of arts degree from Pennsylvania State University in 1948 and obtained a master of science degree in psychology and sociology from Penn State in 1950.

Heberling is married to the former Ann Louise Decker and they have three children: Judith, 10, David, 6 and Scott, 7 months.

Dolnikowski Presents Four German Awards

Once again the German Embassy has conferred honors upon Juniata students who have done outstanding work in German.

Prof. George Dolnikowski announced that this year's winners are Margretta Davis, third year German; Richard Quinn, second year German; Marlene Shugarte, first year German and Sally Kurtz, president of the German Club.

The awards, given each year by the German Embassy, consists o a merit certificate and a German novel or book of poetry.

Alumni To Choose Trustee Delegate

Alumni secretary Harold Brumbaugh has announced that three women have been nominated for the position of alumni representative, one of which Juniata alumni will choose to sit on the board of trustees.

The nominees are Mrs. Edith Hartman Cutrell of Roslyn Heights, N. Y.; Mrs. Betty Graybill Geiser of Brodgewater, Va. and Dr. Jane Gehrett Degnan Rayner from Ridgewood, N. J. All three women are housewives. The member selected from this slate will succeed Mr. Esther Hart Herr of York.

Commencement To Be June 3

Industrial Leaders To Get Degrees

Honorary doctor of laws degrees will be conferred on two prominent industrial leaders at Juniata Commencement exercises Monday, June 3.

President Calvert Ellis announced today that Harold Boeschenstein, president of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp., and Harvey Jordan, executive vice-president of operations for United States Steel Corp., will be honored by Juniata as it emphasizes the role of a liberal arts college in business and industry.

Boeschenstein, an active executive in the glass industry for more than 30 years, will give the address at the Commencement exercises. He holds honorary degrees from Bowling Green State University, Defiance College and Clemson, S. C. College.

Jordan, former president of American Steel and Wire Co. in Cleveland, has been operating head of U. S. Steel Corp. since 1953. A native of Lansing, Mich., he attended schools in New Castle. He was graduated from Everett High School and attended Penn State College from 1913-1915.

Miller, Schmick, Heed, Means Get Newspaper Posts

Don Miller was named and approved to head the business department of the JUNIATIAN for the next two semesters and Emmalyn Heed, Val Means and Ben Schmick were given key posts on the weekly's staff.

Miller, a sophomore from Huntingdon, was named business manager by George Carnahan, current business manager of the paper. His appointment was approved by the publications committee.

Miss Heed, a sophomore from Stamford, Conn. replaces Ronn Fink who retired from his copy editor post two weeks ago. Means replaces Chuck Brown, who resigned to assume the sports editorship of the Alfarata. Brown will continue as a reporter on the sports staff.

Schmick, a sophomore from Milton, fills Miller's post as advertising manager. The assistant sports editorship, now vacant, will be filled in September.

JC's Baccalaureate June 2; Ellis To Speak

The graduating class of 1957 will worship together for the last time at the annual Baccalaureate Service at 10:45 a.m., June 2, in Oller Hall.

According to tradition President Calvert Ellis will present the Baccalaureate address to the graduating class, parents and friends of the college. Prof. Donald Johnson will play the processional and recessional hymns on the organ and an ensemble composed of underclassmen will offer additional sacred music.

The class of 1957 will congregate in the Social Rooms in order to march together with the faculty and trustees of the college to the service.

Will Judy To Furnish Room For Redheads

Titian-tressed ladies (redheads, that is) may find a room particularly to their fancy in JC's new residence hall now under construction.

Capt. Will Judy, Chicago publisher of Dog World and internationally famed judge of dogs, has promised to contribute an additional $500 to furnish a room in the new dormitory if the college will reserve the room exclusively for redheads.

A plaque on the door of a selected room shall read: "Furnished by Will Judy '11 and to be occupied only by titian-tressed ladies in honor of his wife Ruth."

Capt. Judy already has donated $1,000 to furnish two rooms, one in memory of Homer Sanger and another "in tribute to Somerset County and the many Juniatians who have hailed from there."

The board of trustees will act on his latest offer "to honor his titian-haired wife" at its June meeting.

At room drawings last Wednesday evening, it was revealed that junior redhead Joan Greenwood and her roommate Judy Castree will occupy the room for redheads.

Hungarian Boy To Attend JC, Brown Reveals

A Hungarian student has been tentatively accepted at Juniata.

He will begin classes next September, chairman of underclassmen Chuck Brown reported at Wednesday's Senate meeting. Arrangements are being made through the administration and the International students committee.

The Senate with a 6-2-2 vote okayed a $50 expenditure Wednesday evening thatPresident Del McQuaide might attend the NSA president's conference at Ann Arbor, Mich., this August.

The money will be taken from the Senate activities fund, which also provides Juniata's $40 membership fee to the NSA yearly.

It was also voted unanimously that the issue of janitors to clean men's dormitory rooms as in the women's dorms be added to the leadership conference agenda.

Dining Hall Records

A $10 appropriation was given to the dining hall announcing staff to purchase additional records for the dinnig hall record library.

Women's Hockey Team

Val Means, chairman of athletics, reported tht the WAA showed "intense interest" in establishing an intercollegiate women's hockey team. The formation of a varsity wrestling team was also discussed, and plans for it will be prepared as a statement for leadership conference.

McQuaide read a letter from the president requesting that in the future leadership conference be limited to 50 delegates.

Alumni Activities To Fill Weekend

by Edith Lum

The program of events for JC's three-day commencement weekend will being with alumni registration at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 1.

The alumni luncheon, to be held at 12 noon in Oneida hall, will be highlighted by the induction of the seniors into Juniata's Alumni Association. The featured event of the afternoon, the baseball game between alumni and varsity teams, will begin at 2 p.m. at College Field.

At the traditional Friends of the Library tea, from 3:30 to 5 p. m., Paul Bechtel, class of '32, will speak on The Free Man and His Books. Bechtel is associate professor of English at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

Class reunions will begin at 5:30 p.m. with the classes of '56, '17, '07, '02 and '97 meeting at the Hotel Penn Hunt, '47 at Motel 22, '32 at the Faculty Club, '51, '52 and '53 at the Elks Home and '26, '27 and '28 in the social rooms of the Stone Church. The last two groups are expected to draw the largest representation.

Commencement Play

First Born, a play by Christopher Fry, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall. Immediately following this performance the Class Day exercises, including the traditional candlelighting and mantle service for seniors, will conclude the activities for Alumni Day.

Sunday's activities include the Baccalaureate service at 10:45 a. m. in Oller Hall and the annual step singing at 6:15 p.m. on Founders Porch followed by a vespers service at Round Top led by the Rev. George Detwiler. The Rev. Mr. Detwiler, a graduate of the class of '27, is the pastor of the Waynesboro Church of the Brethren.

See COMMENCEMENT, page 4

Douglas To Give Organ Recital In Oller; Livingston Will Assist

Sam Douglas, senior biology major, will present an organ recital today at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Douglas of Pittsburgh, Pa. studied piano 10 years with Mary Parsons and Howard Ryser and organ two years with Ryser. He is now a student of Prof. Donald Johnson.

Douglas, interim organist and choir director for Huntingdon's First Baptist Church, is summer organist at two Pittsburgh churches. Next year he will attend Harvard Divinity School.

Dick Livingston, student of Miss Mary Jo Pfotenhauer, will present vocal selections accompanied by pianist Pete Wright.

Douglas will begin with Bach's We All Believe In One God, Mozart's Fantasy in F and Wesley's Gavotte. Livingston will sing Et in Spiritum Sanctum by Bach, Rolling in Foaming Billows by Hayden, Wie Melodien zieht es mir by Brahms and Lebe Wohl by Hugo Wolf.

Following, Douglas will present Rhosymedre by Vaughn Williams and Carillion by Leo Sowerby. Livingston will continue with Charles Gounod's Avant de quitter ces lieux, Liza Lehman's Myself When Young, Lord Randall, arranged by Cyril Scott and two Jacobean lyrics by Roger Quilter.

Douglas will conclude the program with Charles-Marie Widor's Symphony No. V.

• Sam Douglas •
Will Give Recital

Pete Fahrney

IS THIS FOR REAL? Or are these JCers taking in the warm spring weather and just appearing to be studying for exams? The later is a possibility, however, since finals begin Monady. The studious five are, from left to right, Sally Kurtz, Stella Morgan, Fred Guion, Kay Taylor and Lloyd McCormick.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — George Carnahan, business manager

Barbara Walls, managing editor

Dick Johnson associcate editor; Carol Baish, news editor; Emma yn Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Judy Wornsing, asst. circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, asst. news editor; Don Miller, asst. business manager.

News staff—Ruth Dunmire, Libby Donnelly, Leora Furlong, Ed Jones, Edith Lum, Barb Smathers, Marge Snyder.

Smathers, Marge Snyder..

Sports staff — Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Shirley Hu sicker, Dave Suloff, Carl Wass.

Columnists — Del McQuaide, Joan McClure, Barb McIntyre, Val Means.

Circulation staff—Rene Dimick.

Office staff — Carol Weible, Joan McClure.

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent; National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIII, No. 28 — May 17, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Much Ado About Admissions

THROUGHOUT the semester there have been rumblings of all sorts about the college's admissions policy—it was an issue in the Senate election, it has been thrashed about with various degrees of gusto by a number of campus leaders and it has been criticized by some members of the Faculty and Administration while others have kept busy dragging the issue from the spotlight being played upon it.

And in the course of this alternating whirlwind and breeze of discontent with some of those among us at Juniata, accusations have been hurled at various groups, most notably the athletes, the admissions office and anyone who dares question if there is really a problem at all.

There is much being said on the other side of the issue as well. In fact student government here has suffered some loss of prestige for even undertaking a survey into admissions policy.

Amidst the bombardment in various degrees and along various lines of argument that has come from both camps, one cannot intelligently cling immovably to one side or the other. It seems to us that both sides need to modify their thinking a bit.

But we certainly must admit that there are a number of undesirable things going on on our campus, and while we realize that no place is completely free of such activities, it seems that this past year at Juniata has been worse than a number of others.

We recall the theft of books and money from the library, the skirmishes with Huntingdon juveniles, the increasingly nauseating manners in the dining hall, the obvious decrease in respect for persons and property on our campus.

But much more has been made out of any thrust at the athletes than was intended; besides, we cannot logically see why being an athlete makes one undesirable. If some of the "undesirables" on campus are athletes, this is completely irrelevant.

We also think that the storm being blown up over this issue is somewhat greater than it need be. Senate President Del McQuaide is to be congratulated for the intelligent way in which he is approaching the issue. Instead of making a lot of noise without first getting the facts straight, McQuaide is conducting a methodical survey into the situation and is gleaning much helpful information.

There is a problem, we feel, and a number of situations have been unearthed that should be eliminated. Fortunately key people on the Administration have been cooperative to the extent that they admit that students have a right to be concerned. We hope that these persons will join in this evaluation.

Competition to get into college today is impelling enough and Juniata is attractive enough that we do not have to be satisfied with second-rate citizens. Naturally we advocate careful screening.

But immediately questions arise: What is the best type of citizen? What should be the chief basis for awarding financial aid? How can you tell in advance if a student is going to conform to Juniata standards (if we want him to conform)?

Far be it from us to rant and rave about the Juniata student body. There are, of course, as there are everywhere else, a number of persons who don't seem to fit in. Then too, there are some practices that should be eliminated, work by President McQuaide and others that Juniata may be graced with even more good citizens than she now has. We certainly wouldn't want to see things get any worse.

The New Alma Mater

To Juniata praise ascend
And mighty chords abound.
With anthems proud our voices blend —
Let tribute now resound.
Juniata, Juniata,
College on the hill.
Ivied halls 'mid well-tread pathways —
We're mindful of them still.

Within her walls the truth imparts;
Devotion we proclaim
Ascribing goals of mind and heart
To Alma Mater's name.
Juniata, Juniata,
Wise her precepts shown.
Fond our mem'ries, still abiding,
We proudly laud our own.

— — — — —

MUCH credit should go to Jacque Hayes for the work she has done during the year to produce a new alma mater for the college.

Heading a committee appointed last fall by the '56-'57 Senate, Miss Hayes played a major role in preparing the words and music now before the student body for approval.

The superiority of the new alma mater is unquestionable. Student reaction to the present one shows that they care little or not at all for it. An alma mater that is shown so little respect can hardly serve the purpose of bringing back fond memories and maintaining pride in our college.

We hope that the new alma mater will be given a chance to be adopted if the students like it and the alumni (who no doubt dislike the present alma mater just as much as we do) will accept it. In other words, we would be very sorry to see the new alma mater railroaded out of existence without any referendum taken on its adoption.

LAST JUNIATIAN THIS SEMESTER—This is the last issue of the JUNIATIAN to be published during the current semester. The next issue will appear September 20. Those receiving the JUNIATIAN by mail will be given an opportunity to subscribe for it earlier that month.

Cloister Theivery

WE thought our readers would like to hear about the immaturity of some people living in the Cloister.

A few weeks ago Strickler's Dairy installed for WJC and the women's house committee three milk dispensers in Brumbaugh Hall, North Dorm and the Cloister.

Students living in the girls' dorm and North Dorm used the machines properly while some Cloister men took it upon themselves to punch holes in some of the cartons still in the machine and drink the milk through straws. Others squeezed the cardboard cartons through the bars enclosing them, once or twice breaking the containers and spilling the milk over the remaining cartons. As if this were not enough, someone else (or maybe the straw boys were full) pulled the plug on the cooler allowing the remaining milk to sour. Strickler's have planned to remove the machine and WJC must pay for the loss.

This is one of many signs at Juniata of infiltration into the student body of undesirable persons. This change for the worse will be combatted, we hope, by rising student pressure against the attitude a milk thief must possess.

Perhaps in the future they will be caught rifling candy machines or stealing books from the library or lifting merchandise in Totem Inn. In such cases their fellow students on the Campus Judiciary will know in an instant just what to do with them.

Graduation Fee

SOME of the seniors have been wondering where the 10 dollars goes that they pay as a graduation fee.

Checking on this the JUNIATIAN was informed that the money covers expenses incidental to a student's graduation from college, as the catalog puts it.

Assistant to the treasurer, Miss Hilda Nathan, explained it more specifically by pointing out that the money pays for the diplomas, commencement speakers, teas and other activities of the commencement weekend. She also pointed out that the fee is considerably higher at most other schools.

"WHOSE TURN TO GIVE THE NEXT SPEECH?"

CAMPUS CAPERS

by Joan McClure

ED. NOTE—With this column Miss McClure closes four years of service to the JUNIATIAN and the college in which her journalistic contributions have been extensive, effective and entertaining.

— — —

The Spring Fever which has permeated the campus for the past two months will begin to take its toll come Monday.

When folks complain about the grades, though, just tell them what a ball you had at the May Day dance, sunbathing on the roof, playing tennis, gazing at the stars from Sherwood, swimming at Whipples, etc., etc., etc. and besides college is supposed to make you well-rounded.

Of course, you can always blame it on the prof—like the guy who answered the exam question "What have you thought of this course?" "I think that this was a very thorough course. Everything not given during the semester has been included in the final examination."

Registration capers

A would-be Christian Dior in our midst—Killer Conley has signed up for fashion economy.

You can always spot the vets at registration. Who else signs up for Arts & Humanities Monday at 0900?

And there was a coed who signed up for American history to 1867. Trying to get the most for her money.

Other colleges have their problems with registration, too. Baylor University students were surprised to find among new course offerings one on the American tumor.

The registration bulletin is now receiving a "literary operation" resulting in a change to American Humor.

* * * *

Positive thinking

A certain bandleader, here for a recent weekend, closed the letter in which he made final arrangements for the engagement, "You're going to love our music."

Since the theme of May Day was underwater, it was observed that they were hoping for rain, and if it didn't rain the ceremony would be held in the gym.

We could have even flooded the gym and served whale blubber for refreshments!

Carrying things to the hilt—"Oh, your date's name is Gil? Fits right in with the theme."

Naturally, we can't wind up the year without including a sadistic note. Although the latest in macabre sayings making the round of the campi is "And how did you enjoy the play Mrs. Lincoln?" we have our own little brand of sadism on campus—the prof who informed the student half-way through his orals, "You can leave now. You failed already."

* * * *

The epitome of solicitation: the senior who sent out 35 graduation announcements.

* * * *

Understatement of the year: Jim Stayer, coming out of his orals "well, I don't think they failed me."

* * * *

Most miserable pun: A student was aksed in a Spanish lesson what "mea" (pronounced "may-uh") meant. He replied, "You mean like the mea of the city?"

* * * *

The height of unpretentiousness: Frosh, asking girl to Charity Ball, "Would you go to the hospital social with me?"

Swan Song

"A college student is one who enters his alma mater dressed in green and emerges as a senior dressed in black. The intermediate process of decay is known as college education."

It's all over, decadent compatriots—from room key fee to cap and gown charges. And now the Alumni fund agent wants YOU!

Only final exams stand between us and that long-awaited and diligently pursued college degree. But don't expect too much, for as a former grad so aptly put it "Four years and $4,000 and what do you get? A piece of paper you can't even read!"

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Gay, Summer Jewelry
Sterling Silver
Lenox China
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St. Since 1872

Hilly's Drug Store
PRESCRIPTIONS
611 WASHINGTON ST.
DRUGS COSMETICS

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
JEWELRY
WATCH REPAIRS
WATCHES RINGS
5th & Washington Sts.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Joe Trimber picked up the outstanding football back award for his second time.

Trimber won it as a sophomore in 1954 and repeated again this year after two years in the service. All State halfback Pat Tarquinio took the trophy both years Trimber was gone. With another year of eligilibity remaining Trimber could grab the honors a third time, which would be a rare feat indeed.

* * * *

The IM All Star softball team is dominated by Mumblers and Wibbers. Chuck Phillips led the voting tallied from a manager and two representatives of each team. The all-star squad met the champion Mumblers yesterday and lost 7-6.

The starting nine:

c Mex Ardary, Wibbers
p Rod Sponsler, Deacons
1b Chuck Phillips, Mumblers
2b Skip DeMarco, Wibbers
3b Val Means, Mumblers ss Dick Scialabbe, Trojans
lf Bob Sill, Mumblers
cf Mike Armstrong, Wibbers
rf Glenn Smeltzer, Deacons

* * * *

JC loses five outstanding athletes due to graduation this year. John Staley, "Moon" Mullen, and Charlie Haines will be absent next October 5 when our gridders meet Drexel in Philadelphia. All three have played a big role in Juniata football over the past three seasons.

"Lefty" Alderfer and Herb Layman will also graduate leaving big spots in spring sports. Alderfer has displayed four brilliant years of good baseball as a hitter, pitcher, and fielder. Layman has also been a steady performer over four years. Mike Snider will have to go quite a way to find someone to take his place in the mile and two mile.

Other good graduating athletes, although their careers were shorter and less spectacular include Bill Burchfield in basketball, Murdoch and Ruhl in tennis, Mumma and Beefelt in golf, and Musselman in baseball.

Who remembers when this sports page wasn't covered with ads?

Stan Davis

VERY VALUABLE ATHLETES—Named most valuable players at Saturday Night's Olympic Hop were senior John "Bibi" Staley and junior Mike Armstrong. Staley was named most outstanding lineman on the football squad and Armstrong was rated first in basketball. Two time winner of the most valuable grid back award, Joe Trimber, is missing from the picture.

Most Valuable Player Awards Go To Armstrong, Staley, Trimber

Mike Armstrong, John Staley and Joe Trimber received most valuable player awards at Saturday night's Olympic Ball for outstanding performance in basketball and football the past year.

Staley received the George L. Weber Award for the outstanding football lineman and Trimber took home the J. Harold Engle award for backfield play. Armstrong was awarded the J. E. Oller Award for the past basketball season.

The WAA blazer went to Flo Wentzel. This is an annual award to the senior women obtaining the highest point total for WAA activities.

Stars were earned by Mike Armstrong, Bill Burchfield and Barney McLaughlin for their performances in the past basketball season. Bob Ewald, Gordon Ewers, Ron Wertz, Chet White and manager George Cline each received a letter "J".

Cheerleaders Awards

Top Cheerleading awards went to Nancy Nevin and Janice Gilroy who received bars in recognition of three years of cheerleading. "Squeegee" Holsinger and Nancy Hess each received a letter for two years of service.

Awards for spring sports will be given at a later date.

Harold Brumbaugh made the presentations.

ISTC, Dickinson Top Indian Netmen Easily

Juniata's "new look" tennis team suffered a pair of one-sided setbacks during the past week at the hands of Dickinson College and Indiana STC.

The only bright note in the 6-3 defeat at Indiana last Friday was the continued fine playing of Chuck Seeley and Don Murdoch, Both won their singles matches in easy fashion and as partners scored their fourth consecutive doubles victory.

Little can be said for the match with Dickinson at Carlisle as it marked the low point in Juniata College tennis for the 1957 season. The only word of praise which can be extended must be given to the Red Devils, who garnered each of their nine matches in straight sets, not allowing any possible chance of a Juniata victory.

Exams Produce Lull In Sports Activity; Weekends Are Full

The golf team opens a busy sports weekend against West Virginia at 1:30 today.

Saturday finds the remaining three varsity teams on the road. The baseball team travels to Lock Haven for a return engagement while the track and tennis teams make their final appearances at Shippensburg and St. Francis respectively.

The next scheduled contests come after a week's layoff due to finals. The remaining tennis match will be played May 25 when Elizabethtown will seek their second win over JC this season. The Blue Jay mittmen will also appear. E-town defeated JC both times last year by 2-1 and 6-2 scores.

The spring sport scene rounds out with two baseball games on the road. The Indians travel to Upsala on May 30 and Elizabethtown on the 31st. Upsala has a 12-7 record with seven games to play.

Indian Baseball Team Adds To More Wins; Record Now At 8,2

The Juniata Indians won their seventh and eighth games of the season with Susquehanna and Lock Haven and carry only two losses to date.

Taking advantage of six Lock Haven errors Juniata defeated the Teachers 6-3 Tuesday as Lefty Alderfer won his fourth straight game after losing the opener to Shippensburg. The Indians were held to four hits by loser Walt Modchen but managed to score four tallies in the first and two in the eighth on infield errors, walks, passed balls and singles by Alderfer in each rally.

Last Saturday Eddie Beers slammed a pinch-hit double with the bases jammed in the eighth inning to drive in two runs and give the Indians a 4-2 verdict over Susquehanna. Pete McCauley won his fourth game in five attempts.

Trackmen Lose Fourth Game To Dickinson

Lack of depth cost the Juniata cindermen their fourth track defeat Wednesday at the hands of the Red Devils of Dickinson College, 68 2/3 to 59 1/3.

Distance man, Herb Layman, did his usual day's work by winning the mile and two mile runs with 4:42.8 and 10:45.4 clockings respectively. Herb Deuchar, JC's other double winner, stepped off the 880-yard run in 2:04.7, and had to settle for a :53.5 tie in the 440 with Dickinson's Joe Clair.

Steve Arcade battled a strong headwind for a :10.6 hundred yard dash win, and Al Dungan won the 120-yard high hurdles in :17.1. Lew Stratton copped the 220 low hurdles for the Tribe with a :28.1 clocking, and Kirk Wicker was the lone JC winner in the weights events, putting the shot 40' 10½".

Sill's Mumblers Softball Champs

The Devil's Deacons faltered in the home stretch after winning eight games in a row, and Bob Sill's Mumblers emerged victorious in the season's IM softball tourney.

Ken Fassnacht and Les Greenawalt struck key blows for the Whips and Crusaders respectively as they knocked the Deacons out of first place. The Whips won 6-3 and Crusaders 11-9.

The Mumblers won with a 9-1 record. Mumbler players were McQuown, Seeley, Brown, Shaner, Phillips, Zeh, Carl, Means, Sill, Medwid, Blough and Wenger.

The Deacons, Crusaders and Whips finished second, third and fourth in the final standings.

Gettysburg Takes JC On Home Links

After its first win of the season and a respectable showing in the Middle Atlantic championships, the Juniata College golf team lost a 14½-3½ decision to Gettysburg last Tuesday at the Huntingdon Country Club.

The JC linksmen chalked up a 12½-5½ victory over Western Maryland on May 10 as all six Indian golfers garnered points.

At Mt. Union last Saturday the Juniata team of Jay Gettig, Dick Hite, Dick Mumma and Pat Conners finished 12th in a field of 17.

Gettysburg overpowered Bill Germann's charges as just four of the Tribe gained points. Gettig led the home team with a score of 75.

Strickler Cleaners
Quality Cleaning At Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

SEAMLESS BARE LEG NYLONS
98c a pair
MURPHY'S

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., US Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Kelly's Korner
Pizza Pie - Chicken in Basket
Steaks - Sea Food - Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Westbrook's
SHOES
515 Washington St.

SHOP
The Ray English Store
For The Latest In Mens Clothing And Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— See —
H. & R. EGOLF
513 Washington St.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the candy concessions.

Motel 22 And Restaurant
Air-Conditioned Dining Room And Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of Huntingdon, Pa.

If Still In Doubt
For That Graduation Gift
Give A Dank's Budget Book
Or A Gift Certificate
Choose Any Value To Suit Your Wish
Dank's & Co.

ATTENTION FUNLOVERS!!
WORKING OR VACATIONING IN ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.?
SPECIAL STUDENT RATES AT THE STUDENT-RUN CAMPUS HOTEL,
505 PACIFIC AVENUE
NAME SCHOOL WITH REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION.

LARGE SHIPMENT OF CAMDEN L. P.'s
JUST ARRIVED — $1.98
BUY TWO AND GET "SAVE ON THE RECORD"
COUPON BOOK FREE
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.

BLAIR'S BOOK STORE
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
Fine Stationery and Loose Leaf Notebooks
Store Hours 8 to 5

Commencement Choir To Highlight Weekend

continued from page 1

The musical highlight of the weekend will begin at 8:15 p.m. Sunday in Oller Hall and will feature the commencement chorus directed by Prof. Donald Johnson. With Miss Kathryn Holsinger at the organ and Pete Wright at the piano, the choir will present Gloria in Excelcis and Ave Verum Corpus, by Mozart; The Lord My God My Shepherd Is, by Bach, and Requien by Faure.

The weekend will conclude with the commencement service beginning at 10:30 a.m., June 3, in Oller Hall, with an address presented by Harold Boeschenstein, president of Owens-Corning Corp. Approximately 112 JC seniors are nominated as candidates for the degrees to be presented at this time.

RELIABLE CLEANERS
Faster
Safer
Better
Service
304 7th St. Phone 330

Hollywood Shop
DRESSES
GLOVES

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Stayer Announces Committee Heads

Prof. Clyde Stayer, chairman of the faculty nominating committee, has announced that 11 of JC's faculty members were elected to committees at the meeting May 6.

Dr. George Clemens was elected to the academic policy committee; Dr. Donald Rockwell, academic standing; Dr. Eva Hartzler, financial aid; Dr. Edwin Blaisdell, library and George Dolnikowski, student health and safety.

Dr. Kenneth Crosby was elected to the nominating committee; Bill Engel, physical education and athletics; Miss Jane Parker, social program; Bill Engel, student publications; Dr. Tobias Henry, religious activities and Prof. Fred Berkebile, student citizenship.

15 Juniatians Receive Distinction In Comps

Fifteen seniors have passed their comprehensive examinations with distinction.

They are Dick Livingston, English; Joyce Ann White, Spanish; Richard Kramer, economics; Rosalie Langer, Carol Titus, elementary education; Dave Amidon, John Hover, James Montgomery, James Stayer, history; Helen Herr, home economics; James Corigan, Dale Howe, James Martin, biology and Dale Baugher, pre-engineering.

Grades To Be Mailed

Registrar James Bray has announced that final grades will be mailed to students a week or 10 days after commencement, June 3.

Although senior grades will be in the registrar's office before this date, they will be mailed at the same time as the undergraduates' marks.

Institutional Managers Keep JC On Even Keel

This week the JUNIATIAN will feature Miss Frances Mathias, John Fike and Paul Friend in its focus on institutional management.

When Paul Friend, JC's business manager, walks into his office he is likely to be greeted by a stack of requests for various "fixit" jobs all over campus.

Friend, who has been at Juniata since 1946, is in charge of the maintenance and repair of all buildings and grounds. This is an endless job involving innumerable little jobs that must be taken care of each day as well as the large jobs.

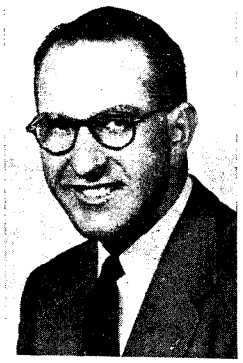
In an average day, Friend must investigate requests for work, make work assignments and check the progress of those who are working under him. He may take care of anything from a broken light switch to repair work on the library roof.

Snowball damage

Friend often works closely with treasurer John Fike especially when it is necessary to purchase very expensive materials for the campus. He mentioned that at present there is much work to do repairing screens which were damaged by snowballs during the past winter.

When asked if certain areas of work increased at particular times, Friend replied, "Well, we always know we're going to need an extra supply of window panes right after a good snowfall.

It is evident that JC's business manager enjoys his job although it is endless and not very exciting. Through the work of Friend and those who aid him Juniata is kept in good working order.



FINANCIAL AND FIXIT MEN—John Fike and Paul Friend are well-known figures on JC's campus, Treasurer Fike has the difficult job of keeping the college in the black, while Friend takes care of the innumerable big and little jobs necessary to keep Juniata running smoothly.

Treasurer John Fike

A former Waynesboro automobile wholesaler is top man in college financial matters.

Treasurer John Fike, a native of Somerset and a graduate of Juniata, spent 15 years of his life selling cars before he became involved in college administrative work. Before coming to Juniata he spent three years as business manager of Bridgewater College, a sister institution in Bridgewater, Va.

Having come to Juniata in 1952, Treasurer Fike holds a number of responsible positions. For instance, he is playing a major role in the construction of East Dorm in that he represents the college in dealing with the government housing finance agency, the contractors and the architect.

Fike is treasurer of the board of trustees and has charge of all funds of the college. His position puts him in custody of college securities, and he has overall supervision of the physical plant operation.

Financial reports periodically must be prepared for the Board of Trustees, and the college budget is likewise his headache. Everyone is only too aware of the penny pinching necessary to keep a small independent college in the black.

Besides his work for the college, Fike manages to devote much time to his family, his church and his community. He is currently running unopposed for borough council.

Miss Mathias

One of the positions at Juniata which involves more time and effort than most people realize is that of institutional manager or dietcian, which is held by Miss Frances Mathias.

Miss Mathias' job includes planning all regular meals as well as banquets and parties served in the dining hall throughout the year. She also plans menues for such functions as the social which the faculty has once a month.

Besides planning meals she must order all food. She is very helpful to the various groups and organizations on campus who wish to plan meals for parties and picnics.

Hires kitchen help

Such dining hall objects as glasses and dishes are purchased by Miss Mathias along with equipment necessary to the functioning of the boarding department. The dietician must also hire kitchen and dining hall help and supervise their work.

Her day is a busy one as she performs these duties and takes care of the incidental things which arise. Despite all this, Miss Mathias, who has been at JC for many years enjoys her work, still has time for raising flowers, collecting antiques and listening to hi-fi recordings.

Bruce Bennett

POSING WITH POSIES—One of Miss Mathias' several hobbies is growing flowers. In her office and about the kitchen are many potted plants, and just outside the dining hall she has a colorful flower garden.

JENNY SHOP
Lingerie — Dresses
Spring Coats and Suits
620 Washington St.
Phone 2072

Say It With Flowers from
WOODRINGS
Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

ART'S DINER
Best Home Cooking in Town!
Greatest Hamburgs ever!
SMITHFIELD

THELMA'S
BLOUSES — SKIRTS
SPORTSWEAR
LINGERIE — MILLINERY

SKIP'S INN
Friday Night Special
Italian Spaghetti
With or Without
Meatballs
Extra Large Hoagies
Phone 9951

VALLEY MOTEL
Route 22 At 10th Street Intersection
HUNTINGDON, PENNA.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268-J

HARRIS CLIFTON
LAST TIME TONIGHT!!
Massacre Color
and The Women of Pitcairn Island
SAT only - 2 Features
John Cassavetes
Sidney Poitier in EDGE of the CITY
— also —
Rory Calhoun as
UTAH BLAINE
MON - TUE - WED
Alan Ladd - Clifton Webb
Sophia Loren
— in —
BOY ON A DOLPHIN
Cinemascope & Color
THURSDAY ONLY
BARRETTS of WIMPOLE STREET with Jennifer Jones
Cinemascope & Color
— and —
HOT SUMMER NIGHT
Lislie Nielsin-Colleen Miller

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Lucky girl!

Next time one of her dates bring up the Schleswig-Holstein question, she'll really be ready for him.

Ready for that test tomorrow, too . . . if that bottle of Coke keeps her as alert tonight as it does other people.

Drink Coca-Cola

Bottled under authority of
The Coca-Cola Company by
Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Altoona, Pa.

378
FJN
V.34-35

The Juniatian

Vol. XXXIV, No. A | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | August, 1957

College Anticipates Arrival Of Freshmen September 15

An Early Edition ...

The JUNIATIAN, the campus weekly, in cooperation with the admissions office and the office of public relations, presents herewith a new service to incoming freshmen and prospective students at Juniata — an early edition especially for this group. The purpose of the newspaper you now hold in your hand is to acquaint you better with Juniata College and to help orient you into campus life.

SENATE AND STUDENT BODY OFFICERS — Checking the agenda for one of their weekly meetings are the four officers of the student Senate. They are, left to right, vice president Al Blough, president Del McQuaide, treasurer Ken Fassnacht and secretary Nancy Hess. There are eight others on the student Senate.

12 Senators Juniatians' Government

Student government at Juniata consists of 12 senators, four officers and eight chairmen.

Elected last March, Del McQuaide, a senior from New Kensington, is president of the Senate this year. He is majoring in history and political science.

Other officers include vice president Al Blough, Akron, business administration; secretary Nancy Hess, Philipsburg, elementary education, and treasurer Ken Fassnacht, Denver, business administration. All are seniors.

Representing athletics is Val Means, a senior business administration major from Brookville; communications, Ronn Fink, senior, journalism, Everett; general activities, Bonnie Gunther, junior, English, Berwick; men's house, Bernie McQuown, senior, business administration, Punxsutawney; religious activities, Spencer Ward, senior, pre-med, Everett.

Social activities, Gini Nixdorf, junior, elementary education, Downingtown; underclassmen, Chuck Brown, junior, pre-law, Bellefonte; women's house, Janice Gilroy, senior, elementary education, Sarasota, Fla.

Meeting weekly, this group, with the advice of Dr. Kenneth Crosby, professor of history and political science, and the deans, Paul Heberling and Miss Barbara Bechtell, concerns itself with all phases of student life, academic as well as social. Most meetings are open to the student body.

225 Members Of Class Of '61 To Begin College Careers Here

Juniata's Class of 1961 — numbering 225 freshmen — will be welcomed to the college Sunday, September 15, when a four-day orientation program, known as Freshman Days, gets under way.

Newcomers will report to the campus Sunday afternoon and will have an opportunity, along with their parents, to say "hello" to President Calvert N. Ellis and various members of the staff and faculty in Totem Inn from 2 to 5 p.m. A welcome supper is scheduled in Oneida Dining Hall.

President Ellis will welcome the Class at the Freshman Convocation in Oller Hall at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

A full schedule of activity for all new students will get under way after breakfast Monday morning. However, the official opening of classes does not take place until Thursday, September 19.

Registration Monday

Education at Juniata — the first session Monday morning at 8:15 — will be conducted by Dr. Morley Mays, dean of the college, and will enlighten new students on Juniata's well-planned curriculum. Registration, financial settlement and campus tours are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. and continue through Monday afternoon.

A battery of tests will be given to all new students at various intervals during the Freshman Days program. Included among these are the College Ability Test, English test, Pre-Engineering Ability test, and placement tests in languages, chemistry, and mathematics.

Meetings with deans, social events, recreation and a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Ellis also are planned by the committee.

Before the four-day program is completed, the majority of upperclassmen will return to the campus. The office of the registrar estimated that more than 700 will begin classes Thursday, September 19.

Honor Society Elects

Four members have been added to the Juniata College Honor Society. Those named were: Robert C. Moore, Aitch, Pa.; Carol Ann Newborg, Ardmore, Pa.; W. Bryan Staufer, Greensburg, Pa.; and Spencer A. Ward, Everett, Pa.

Fathers, Mothers Meet To Create Aid Organization

Dads and mothers of JC students have formed an association with the unique name of Dajumo with the serious intent to "develop and advance Juniata's usefulness magnifying opportunities."

Not only does the name Dajumo represent the letters of the objective, but it was also formed originally by taking the first two letters af dad, Juniata and mother in Navy abbreviation style.

Officers elected at Dajumo's organizational meeting were Benn Goodrich, Ridgway, chairman; Horace Raffensperger, Elizabethtown, vice-chairman and Thomas Chase, Philadelphia, secretary.

Senator Ward Plans To Add Date Bureau

A dating bureau is among the planned additions to the Juniata campus come fall.

Chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward feels that this organization will "help freshmen become assimilated into the new atmosphere of college life."

Senator Ward feels that the bureau will give frosh a look at what college should be like and get them started dating. The Juniata Christian Assoc. will handle the project.

Three Instructors, Two Administrators Join Juniata Faculty

Three new profs and two new administrators have been named to become members of the Juniata family thus far this summer.

Conrad Rothrauff, Columbus, Ohio, has been appointed instructor in classical languages. Miss Suzanne Axworthy, Raleigh, N. C., will become instructor in music to teach piano and theory courses, and William Merrel, Metairie, La., has been named associate professor of music to supervise vocal instruction.

Appointed to newly created administrative positions were Mrs. Mary Hite Horoschak, Fords, N. J., director of residence for recently completed East Dormitory, and Charles Bargerstock, Lancaster, a Juniata graduate, director of development.

New Sources of Assistance

Bargerstock's job has been described by President Calvert Ellis as having the responsibility to "develop new sources of financial assistance for the college."

The appointment of Paul Heberling, State College, to the position of dean of men was announced in a previous issue of the JUNIATIAN. Heberling will also serve as director of placement.

Juniata's third president, Martin G. Brumbaugh, was Governor of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Calvert N. Ellis is the sixth president of Juniata College.

Size, Reputation Of JC Convincing

Surveys show that the main reasons students choose Juniata are the school's size and reputation.

Studies conducted since 1942 show that other chief reasons for choosing JC include its proximity to home, its high ideals, its superiority in a particular field and its scholarship program.

82 For Summer

Eighty-two students were enrolled at the College for the first period of the Summer Term. Men outnumbered women 64-18.

Founders Tower Top Gets Repairs, Slate

The Tower on Founders Hall constructed in 1878, has a new top after nearly 80 years.

In mid-June, workmen removed the age-old slate and the tin covering the dormers which had been damaged by storms and long exposure. The slate was believed to be the original on the tower roof.

After minor repairs to woodwork, the sloping roof was recovered with a gray asbestos slate. Copper replaced the tin over the dormers.

THE MARK OF A FROSH — It's not very difficult to tell a freshman from an upperclassman at Juniata — at least before Homecoming. Beginning September 19 all freshmen will be required to wear regulations. This includes dink and name card with bow for the men and one blue and one yellow sock for the women. One more thing — always carry your Scout, the student handbook.

Juniata Graduate Fulbright Fellow

James M. Martin '57, a premedical student from Colver has been granted a Fulbright scholarship to study biochemistry at the University of Hamburg in Germany beginning next September.

Martin, a son of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Martin, Colver, Pa., has been admitted to Harvard University's medical school, but Harvard will postpone his admission until he completes his 10-month study in Germany.

The Juniata grad was notified by the Department of State that he had been selected by the Board of Foreign Scholarships to receive a grant in the International Education Exchange Program, provided under the Fulbright Act.

Role In Common Glory

James M. Montgomery '57, Burlington, N. J. is playing the role of narrator in "The Common Glory," a successful play about early American days staged each summer in Williamsburg, Va.

Ellis Scholars Named

Two top ranking juniors, Joyce I. Burkett, Hagerstown, Md., and Robert C. Moore R. D. 1, Aitch, Pa., have been selected as recipients of the Charles C. Ellis Memorial scholarships at the College.

61792
V
F

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.
Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor
Assisted this issue by:
Bill Engel, director of public relations
Bob Newcombe, director of admissions
Mary Ann Smith, assistant, public relations office

Vol. XXXIV No. A August, 1957 Page 2

Our Opinions

We Envy You

ED. NOTE — The following is an adaptation of an editorial appearing in the JUNIATIAN September 19, 1949.

WHETHER you know it or not, you, the incoming freshmen, will be in the most enviable position on campus.

Without a doubt you will be the center of attraction in life at Juniata during the next few months, and quite likely throughout much of the entire year ahead.

Immediately, of course, the upperclassmen will survey your ranks for attractive young ladies with smiles that say "hello," musclemen who must have arrived early to practice with the football squad and the "brains" and potential leaders of your class.

But while only a few may immediately draw attention, practically every freshman will sooner or later fit into this group or that engaged in all sorts of activities. Fortunately campus life at Juniata is broad enough to allow each student some choice in picking his extra-curricular activities and at the same time limited enough to allow him a chance to become familiar with campus life in all its aspects.

Because this is so, you will soon come to know and cherish the friendly intimacy of Juniata's small campus. You will be drawn into social life almost as rapidly as you will be plunging into its academic life.

While you may feel that you are more or less on display before the upperclassmen, the important thing to keep in mind is that your newness here is a great asset to Juniata, for you bring with you new ideas, new suggestions and new eagerness for carrying them through. You give us the added push we so often need in order to change and grow in keeping abreast of collegiate developments.

Upperclassmen, you will discover have on occasion a tendency to bog down and accept campus life as they have come to know it, the bad with the good. Improvements must very often spring from a live wire freshman class that comes bounding in from many schools whose programs and activities vary considerably.

You are coming here presumably because you feel that Juniata has what you need. Well you have what Juniata needs too — your ideas, your energy, your devotion and you.

We welcome you not simply out of politeness but out of the realization that from the class of '61 will emerge men and women destined to guide the course of affairs at Juniata College. Because of its size, Juniata can offer this opportunity to all of you. And because of its democratic policies, it will offer it to you.

So may we urge you to seek this opportunity as soon as possible. Thus we can all work together toward an even better Juniata.

WHILE GUIDANCE PROVIDED by colleges and universities is often the subject of campus jokes, it must be remembered that such aids is important and necessary, especially for a freshman. Many are the seniors who during their final semester at Juniata discover that they do not have the proper balance of credits to graduate. They would never have fallen into such a situation had they made regular use of guidance offered by Juniata professors.

IT CAN BE CONFUSING — Registration, that twice-a-year (three times for freshmen) chore that places each student into a maze of tables, forms and advisors, can become quite a headache unless you keep your wits about you as you become engaged in the procedure. Listen carefully to what those on hand have to say, and the job will be much easier. They're there to help you.

Music Major To Direct Own Musical In Oller Hall

This fall Juniatians will have an opportunity to present the premiere of a new musicale being penned this summer by senior music major Pete Wright and his mother, Mrs. Charles Wright, Bridgeton, N. J.

So new that it is as yet unnamed, the production will contain songs composed by Wright with lyrics by Mrs. Wright, The versatile Juniata student has also written the plot and arranged the music and will direct the entire production when it is presented in Oller Hall this fall.

Writing a musicale is nothing new to the Wright family. Their first attempt, Two for the Heart, was quite successful when presented by a little theatre group in southern New Jersey. The music for that work was composed by Pete's father, with Mrs. Wright writing the lyrics.

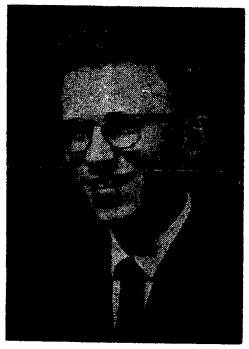
In the past Juniata has presented musicales that have been produced on Broadway with members of the music and dramatics departments handling the directing. This year, however, everything about the entire production will be in student hands.

The script calls for a large cast, and a number of parts will be open to freshmen.

While Wright has been active in various campus musical associations, he is also active in intramural athletics, the Juniata Christian Assoc., the Masque (dramatics) and Future Teachers. He also plays varsity tennis. Last spring he gave a piano recital in Oller Hall.

When Juniata was founded in 1876, the total investment was zero — unless the $6.50 tuition paid by each of the first three students is counted.

Commencement in 1958 at Juniata is scheduled June 2.



● Pete Wright ●
Composer — Director

A Loathsome Creature

College Man Would Do Nothing

Between the senility of second childhood and the light-hearted lechery of the teens we find a loathsome creature called the college man.

College men come in all assorted sizes, weights and states of sobriety and have the same creed: to do nothing every second of every minute of every day and to protest with whinning noises (their great weapon) when their last minute of inertia is finished and they are taken off to the Employment Bureau or the Draft Board.

College men are found everywhere—breaking train windows, tearing down goal posts, inciting riots or jumping bail. Mothers love them, little girls love them, big girls love them, middle-sized girls love them and Satan protects them.

A college man is laziness with peach-fuzz on its face, idiocy with lanolin in its hair and the hope of the future with an over-drawn bankbook in its pocket.

Against Alarm Clocks

He likes good liquor, bad liquor, cancelled classes, double-features and girls on football weekends. He is not much for hopeful mothers, irate fathers, sharp-eyed ushers, cops, alarm clocks or letters from the dean.

A college man is a magical creature — you can get him off your mind, but you can't get him off your expense account.

Might as well give up; he is your jailer,your boss and your albatross—a bleary-eyed, no account, girl chasing bundle of worry. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can make them all mighty significant with four magic words: "I flunked out, Dad."

JCA Weighs Idea Of All College Service For '57-'58

Chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward has announced that JCA has been weighing the idea of an all college worship service which Juniatians could attend once a month.

The present college philosophy on this subject is that each student should maintain his own church affiliation in Huntingdon. However, many feel that a communal service would be valuable in meeting the needs of students.

Student ministers and visiting chaplains would deliver the message at this non-compulsory service, and the expense of the visiting ministers would be covered by student contributions.

However, the local ministerial association as well as the college administration and numerous students have expressed opposition to the proposal. The major objection is that student attendance at such services would not be great enough to warrant them, spokesmen for these groups maintain.

In the meantime, Ward is continuing consideration of the plan.

Year Book Posts Filled

Ross J. Nahrgang '58 Plainfield, N. J., has been elected editor and Samuel D. Shore '59, McClure, Pa., was named business manager of the 1958 yearbook, Alfarata.

Room In East Dorm For Red Heads Only, Chicago Man Decrees

Titian-tressed ladies (redheads, that is) may find a room particularly to their fancy in JC's new residence hall recently completed.

Capt. Will Judy, Chicago publisher of Dog World and internationally famed judge of dogs, has promised to contribute an additional $500 to furnish a room in the new dorm if the college will reserve the room exclusively for redheads.

A plaque on the door of the selected room reads: "Furnished by Will Judy '11 and to be occupied only by titian-tressed ladies in honor of his wife Ruth."

At their annual meeting last June the college board or trustees agreed to honor Judy's request. Thus the room will be occupied by red haired Joan Greenwood a senior here, and her roommate Judy Castree (just for the record, a blonde), a sophomore.

In addition the Chicago publisher has donated $1,000 to furnish two additional rooms.

36 Wins, 33 Losses JC Varsity Sports Record

Baseball Team Has Best Card In 25 Seasons

The hitting and pitching of Ferrill 'Lefty' Alderfer, senior from Souderton, sparked the varsity baseball team to its best record in 25 years.

Alderfer paced his heavy-hitting teammates with a .431 average and posted a 5-1 pitching record to carry off honors in both departments and win the Goodale trophy as "most outstanding."

An all-around competitor as pitcher and outfielder Alderfer won the title as a sophomore with .422 and split even in eight pitching decisions. He finished second with .388 last year.

Freshmen Dominate Team

This year, he led the freshmen-dominated Indians to 11 victories in 14 games, including eight straight over Middle Atlantic conference opponents. Not since 1932 had any Juniata baseball team won 11 games. In that year, the Indians had a 11-2 record.

Alderfer slammed 22 hits in 51 trips and batted in 15 for his .431 average. His earned run average in pitching was 3.30.

Don Ross, freshman third baseman from Harrisburg, was runner up to Alderfer with .361 and led the team in RBIs with 20. Two other freshmen topped .300 for Coach Ken Bunn's club — George Harrison, Jerome first baseman, with .361 and Ron Moyer, Weissport outfielder, with .340.

A freshman pitcher, Pete McCauley of McKees Rocks, boasted the lowest earned run average with 2.91 while winning six, losing two.

HOMECOMING SET

Lycoming's Warriors, who snapped Juniata's 25 game football streak without defeat last season, will be the Indians' Homecoming opponent here Oct. 19.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

FAST AND EVASIVE — Although one of the lighter men on Juniata's grid squad, senior Glenn Hassinger, running with ball at right, is a valuable back because of his speed and ability to "turn on a dime." This shot was taken during last year's Drexel Tech game on College Field. The Indians won, 19-13.

Four Get Awards For Participation In Spring Sports

Three graduating seniors were among four winners of alumni trophies for "most outstanding" athletes in spring sports at Juniata College.

P. M. "Mike" Snider, director of athletics, announced the awards following a vote by coaches and teammates. The trophies, all contributed by sports-minded alumni, recognize "excellence in performance, good sportsmanship and cooperation."

Winners are: (donors in brackets)

Baseball — "Lefty" Alderfer, Souderton (Charles F. Goodale, Jr. New York).

Track — Herb Layman, Somerset (J. Foster Gehrett, Pittsburgh).

Tennis — Don Ruhl, Lititz (Anonymous).

The C. Blair Miller Huntingdon golf trophy was awarded to a freshman, Jay Gettig, Verona.

FOUR NEWCOMERS

Four newcomers, Albright, Penn Military, Westminster and Wilkes, are included on Juniata's 1957 football slate.

Six Men, Woman Conducting Athletics, Physical Education

Juniata's program of athletics and physical education is conducted by six men and a woman.

Head football coach is Ken Bunn, who also teaches phys. ed. Charles Godlasky assists him as line coach. Godlasky also is an instructor in sociology and served as acting dean of men following the resignation of Dr. James Penney last January. Ken coaches varsity baseball as well.

Mike Snider, JC's director of physical education coaches cross country and track in addition to directing phys. ed. A Juniata graduate of 1926, he was a four letterman.

HILL AND DALER SLATE

Juniata College's cross-country squad will compete in five dual meets and the Middle Atlantic States conference championships this fall.

The schedule: Oct. 12, Moravian, away; Oct. 19, Muhlenberg, home; Oct. 30, Franklin & Marshall, away; Nov. 8, Elizabethtown, away; Nov. 16, Albright, away; Nov. 22, Middle Atlantics, St. Joseph's.

A Huntingdon dentist, Dr. Arnold Greene, coaches basketball.

Bill Germano manager of radio station WHUN, manages golf and is the trainer for the football squad. Bob McFadden instructor in Biblical studies, manages the tennis team.

Miss Barbara Cochran is the women's phys. ed. instructor. She also helps plan the activities of the Women's Athletic Assoc.

Football Squad Sets Win Pace, Takes 6 Of 7

Aided by the "winningest" baseball team in 25 years, Juniata College completed its 1956-57 intercollegiate program with 36 victories against 33 defeats in seven sports.

Coach Ken Bunn's football team topped all sports by winning six out of seven for an .857 mark.

The baseball team, also coached by Bunn, won 11 and lost 3 to set the pace for the Indians this spring as the remaining three sports had losing records.

Juniata had not boasted a baseball team which won as many as 11 contests since 1932. That team won 11, lost 2 for .846. Three later teams had better percentage marks than the 1957 team — 1933 with 8-1 for .889; 1942 with 8-2 for .800, and 1944 with 5-1 for .833.

Dr. Arnold Greene's basketball team finished a fourth straight winning season with 11 triumphs in 21 games. Cross-country ended its first season with a winning 3-1 record under Mike Snider.

Year-end totals of Juniata's sports team:

	W	L	Pct
Football	6	1	.857
Baseball	11	3	.786
Cross-country	3	1	.750
Basketball	11	10	.524
Tennis	3	6	.333
Track	1	5	.167
Golf	1	7	.125
Totals	36	33	.522

GRID BOSSES of the Juniata Indians are Charley Godlasky (left), assistant coach, and Ken Bunn, head coach. They're getting ready for the football team which reports Tuesday, September 3, to prepare for a tough eight-game schedule.

Like The Thrill of the Newspaper World?

Even the staff of a college weekly finds much fun and excitement in bringing the news of the campus to students, faculty, administration, parents and alumni. Experienced or not, you can become a part of this important Juniata organization.

Watch for announcement of staff reorganization.

The Juniatian
Student weekly at
Juniata College

Tribe Topics

JUNIATA'S physical education building, erected as a memorial to the 675 Juniata men and women who served in World War II, is the finest in central Pennsylvania. It was completed in 1951.

* * * *

WHILE much attention is centered on the intercollegiate program at Juniata, there is considerable emphasis on intramurals. Sports included are touch football, basketball, volleyball, bowling, softball, tennis, soccer, wrestling and golf.

* * * *

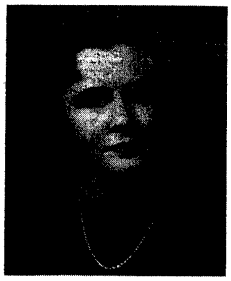
THE Women's Athletic Assoc. organized the intramural program for coeds on campus. This program includes hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball and tennis.

Hoyer Scout Editor 2 Years; Frosh Handbook Invaluable

The '61 Scout, soon to be given to members of the new freshmen class, was edited by senior history and political science major Jan Hoyer, who was editor of the '60 Scout as well.

The handbook, a must for freshmen, represents the work of a number of Juniata students, among them advertising manager Jim Heck, business manager Jay Muir and writers Chuck Brown, Janet Binkley, George Fattman, Nancy Hess, Don Miller, Kim Burket, Polly Klapsogeorge and Don Ruhl

Miss Hoyer, a resident of Huntingdon, is also a member of the JUNIATIAN, Alfarata and Indian staffs and is in the band, orchestra and modern dance club.



● Janice Hoyer ●
Scout Editor Twice

East Dorm To House 120 Coeds; Dedication Set For November 2

Construction of the new residence hall for women (tenatively called East Dorm) has been moving along during the summer and will be ready for occupancy when college opens in September.

The new dormitory, one of the main objectives in Juniata's 10 year building program, was started last August 14. The cornerstone was placed in position on Parents Day last November — and dedication is scheduled for Parents Day this year, Saturday, November 2.

Bad weather during the winter delayed some of the exterior work, but construction went along "quite satisfactory under the supervision of Eugene S. Herrold, superintendent for the Bogar Construction Co., Selinsgrove, general contractors.

Workmen placed roof trusses late in February and exterior masonry was completed by mid-March. Interior work was under way before the building was completely under roof in mid-April.

When completed, the dormitory will house 120 women and will provide dining hall facilities for 216. It is expected that the dining room in this building will be used for cafeteria-style breakfasts.

The college obtained a Government loan for $575,000 for the project, but contracts totaled $583,515. An estimate of the total cost of construction and equipment has been set at $638,000.

Magic Number 3 In JC's History

Three has been a magic number in Juniata College's history now entering its 82nd year.

There were three founders... three students who reported for the first class... three members of the first graduating class.

On April 17, 1876, the faculty numbered one, the "campus" was one borowed room, and the curriculum was one subject, Prof. J. M. Zuck was the teacher and principal and his general subject was "Mental and Moral Science."

Since that first class in what was then known as "The Huntingdon Normal School," the institution has shown steady growth to a fully accredited college of liberal arts and science.

Arts, Languages Prize In Memory Of Industrialist

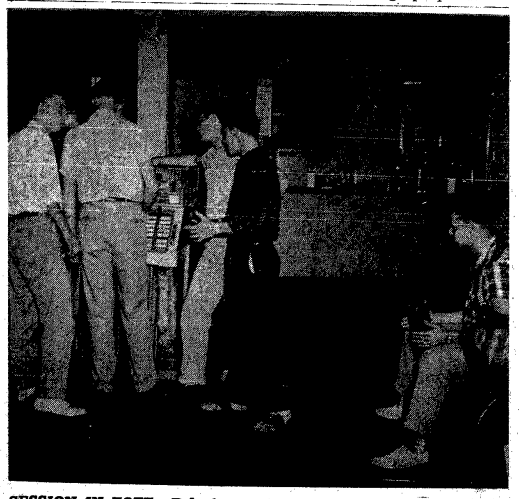
A new award in memory of a prominent Huntingdon industrialist has been established at the College.

The prize of $100 is known as the John R. Wald Arts and Language prize and will be given each year to the senior who has achieved distinguished work in that division. It was established by Mrs. Emma G. Wald of Huntingdon.

Mr. Wald was the founder of the John R. Wald Co., the Prismo Corp., and the Wald Industries, all with headquarters in Huntingdon.

The winner of the first Wald prize was Richard A. Livingston Johnstown, Pa., who was the top-ranking student among the 97 graduates. Livingston majored in English and was graduated summa cum laude.

The campus at Juniata contains 55 acres, 26 of which are used directly for college purposes.



SESSION IN TOTE Relaxing around the juke box in Totem Inn is a pastime of nearly everyone at Juniata at one time or another.

Indonesian Son Of Statesman Attending JC

A son of the speaker of parliament in the Republic of Indonesia, Gunardi "Toni" Sartono, was admitted by Juniata College for the second period of its summer term which began July 22.

Robert A. Newcombe, director of admissions at Juniata, said that Sartono was graduated from the American School ot Pasay City, Manila, Philippine Islands. He also attended one term at the School of Foreign Service Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.

The 21-year-old Indonesian was born in Bogor but his residence now is listed as Djakarta, Indonesia.

Toni is described as "a rather serious young man, having had to take care of his mother and younger sisters during the war with the Dutch." His father sent him to Manila with relatives in the Indonesian Embassy "in order that Toni could have schooling to prepare him for an American college or university."

QUEENS AT JUNIATA — Two senior lovelies held the spotlight at Juniata's traditional queen-crowning ceremonies this year. Joy Wenger (right), Elizabethtown, reigned at the annual May Festival, while Phyllis Marcocci, Dudley, was her maid or honor after ruling as Miss Homecoming in the Fall.

Educational Program Here Gives Broad Base

Juniata's educational program, in effect since 1938, is considered one of the most valuable developments in higher education.

The general plan provides that every student shall gain a large fund of information as well as a clear understanding of the place his studies hold in the broad field of learning, according to the catalog.

A similar program was begun in Harvard in 1940, where all entering students are required to take at least one course in general education. Freshmen are required to take elementary courses "in the three fields of learning — the humanities, the social sciences and the natural sciences."

Similarly, the greater part of the first year's work at Juniata is devoted to introductory courses in the three "divisions" of study. Three well-planned courses in the first term, one in each division, serve to integrate for the student the work of the various departments in which he will later study.

"By this means," states the catalog, "he also gains a sympathetic understanding of studies which he himself may not wish to pursue, but which may be of primary interest to his fellow students in the college."

'57-'58 Campus Directory

(Clip Out And Save)

Senate
President — Del McQuaide
Vice president — Al Blough
Secretary — Nancy Hess
Treasurer — Kenneth Fassnacht
Athletics — Val Means
Communications — Ronn Fink
General Activities — Bonnie Gunther
Men's house — Bernie McQuown
Religious activities — Spencer Ward
Social activities — Ginny Nixdorf
Underclassmen — Chuck Brown
Women's house — Janice Gilroy

Class Officers

Senior
President — George Fattman
Vice president — Harold Saylor
Secretary — Beverly Condit
Treasurer — Fred Ross

Junior
President — Jim Ake
Vice president — Ronald Wertz
Secretary — Janice Christie
Treasurer — Sam Shore

Sophomore
President — Ernie Richardson
Vice president — Pete Douglas
Secretary — Jane Herbster
Treasurer — "Dutch" Boland

Alfarata
Editor-in-chief — Ross Nahrgang
Business manager — Sam Shore
Literary editor — Barb Smathers
Photo editor — Pete Fahrney
Sports editor — Chuck Brown
Class editor — Jacque Rhodes, Ann Larkin
Art editor — Nina Fredenburg
Caption editor — Betty Jane Bowman

Juniatian
Editor — George Fattman
Managing editor — Barb Walls
Business manager— Don Miller
Associate editor — Dick Johnson
News editor — Carol Baish
Copy editor — Em Heed
Sports editor — Val Means
Advertising manager — Ben Schmick
Circulation manager — Joyce Hoffman

Powwow
Editor — Leora Furlong
Business manager — Rene Dimmick
Advertising manager — Judy Wernsing

Scout
Editor — Janice Hoyer
Business manager — Jay Muir
Advertising manager — Jim Heck

WJC Radio
Station manager — Rush Hodgin
Program director — Ken Harlacher
Technical director — Bill Holsinger
Assistant technical director — Ed Brockway
Secretary-treasurer — Jan Schall
News and campus events — Carol Baish
Sports — Bill Ebner

Camera Club
President — Bruce Bennett
Vice president — Pete Fahrney
Secretary-treasurer — Rick Bell

Chemistry Club
President — "Chic" Henry
Vice president — Dave Suloff
Secretary-treasurer — Kerin Narbut

Debate Team
President — Don Leeking

Future Teachers
President — Ruth Perestam
Vice president — Jacque Rowland
Secretary — Stella Morgan
Treasurer — Dick Lantzy

International Relations
President — Jack Dorenzo
Vice president — Seung Hee Kim
Secretary-treasurer — Lou Hall
Hostess — Sue Schaeffer

J-Club
President — Bernie McQuown
Vice president — "Killer" Conley
Secretary-treasurer — Glenn Hassinger

Juniata Christian Association
President — Spencer Ward
Vice president — Stan Davis
Secretary — Sue Willson

Juniata College Band
President — Charlie Fox
Secretary — Dolores Briggs

Juniata College Choir
President — Larry Landes
Manager — Terry Fouse
Asst. manager — Janet Binkley
Secretary — Jacque Rowland
Treasurer — Charlie Fox
Publicity — Aileen Wright

Lambda Gamma
President — Dorothy Marker
Vice president — Jill Muir
Secretary — Kay Spangler
Treasurer — Frances Sweitzer

Masque
President — Jan Schall
Vice president — Bruce Bennett
Secretary — Judy Barrowclough
Treasurer — Bob Reader
Technical director — Bill Holsinger

Outing Club
President — Dick Lantzy
Vice president — Bev DeJanney
Secretary-treasurer — Edith Campbell
Inter-club council — Lou Hall

Pyreneess Club
President — Barb Shaffer
Secretary-treasurer — Jim Jackson

Scalpel and Probe
President — Bryan Staufer
Vice president — Chuck Longenecker
Secretary-treasurer — Barb Wittenbrock

Sigma Psi
President — Carl Lindsay
Vice president — Melvin Diven
Secretary — Barb Smathers
Treasurer — Aileen Wright
Inter-club council — Anna Mary Smith

Tycoon Club
President — Bob Passmore
Vice president — Don Aurand
Secretary-treasurer — George Zeh

Vets
President — Tom Woodrow

Women's Athletic
President — Dottie Rosewarne
Vice president — Lou Hall
Secretary — Jane Herbster
Treasurer — Sandy Cohick

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 1 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, September 20, 1957

Leadership Conference Favors 13th Senate Post

Work To Get Underway For 3-Act Student - Produced Musicale

JC Faculty Welcomes 9 To Its Number

A total of nine new faculty members have joined the Juniata teaching staff this year, according to the college news bureau.

Suzanne Axworthy, instructor in music, is a native of Newark, N. J. She was graduated from the University of Rochester and received her master's degree from the Eastman School of Music.

Robert Currier has been named instrumental instructor of music. He was born in Burma and received his bachelor's and master's degrees from New York University and Boston University respectively.

Chemistry Instructor

Marjorie Layton will instruct chemistry part-time. She comes to Juniata from Houdry Process, Linwood. A native of Philadelphia, she was graduated from Wellesley College.

Marie Mengel has been appointed instructor in modern languages. She hails from New Rochelle, N. Y., and is a graduate of Wellesley College. She has received two masters' degrees from Middlebury College.

JC's new associate professor of music is William Merril whose home town is Wilkes-Barre. After being graduated from Penn State, he received masters' degrees from New York University and the University of Michigan.

Ernest Obeibermann from State College will be a part-time instructor in physics. He has received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Catholic University in Washington, D. C., and is a doctoral candidate at Penn State.

Conrad Rothrauff has been appointed instructor in classical languages. Born near Charleroi, he was a graduate of Heidelberg College and Ohio State University where he received his master's degree.

New instructor in art is James Thomas, originally from Texas. He was graduated from George Washington University and received his master of fine arts degree from Cornell.

Wright Seeks Actors For 'This Way Heaven'

Pete Wright, composer-director of This Way Heaven, a three-act musicale to be presented this fall, reports that tryouts for the cast of 50 will be held September 23 and 24 in Oller Hall.

The script calls for several individual roles, both singing and non-singing as well as chorus members and dancers. Seven different scenes will necessitate a large stage crew, set construction committee and people to help with makeup, costumes and lighting.

This Way Heaven

This Way Heaven is the story of Allan, a young shoe salesman who is struggling to produce a hit Broadway musicale. His romance with Kathy, a college sweetheart, is cut short by her father who feels that there is only one thing worse than a shoe salesman and that is a musician.

Alan's troubles are further complicated by his leading lady, Julie Jamison, and the whole situation provides a background for 18 musical numbers composed and arranged by Wright with lyrics by his mother, Mrs. Frances Wright.

Music By Combo

The show will be presented November 1 and 2 as part of Parents Day activities. Proceeds from the musicale will go to JWSF. Music will be provided by a four-piece combo consisting of piano, Hammond, bass and drums.

Wright emphasized that all Juniatians, including frosh, are urged to try out for a part in the cast or to join one of the production crews. The cast will be announced Friday, September 27.

JBSF Meets Tonight

Brethren students and their friends are invited to attend a service at 8:15 p.m. tonight on Roundtop.

At the campfire service, the Juniata Brethren Student Fellowship will initiate the 57-58 term.

Ride To Church...

The Huntingdon Ministerium in its meeting September 1 discussed plans to have cars transport students to church on Sundays.

The cars would stop in front of Founders Hall at 10:30 p.m. and carry JCers to the various churches downtown. This service would begin September 22, freshman church-family day.

70 Delegates Approve Proposed Voting Procedure, Gym Initiation

About 70 JCers returned from Leadership Conference with several ideas for campus improvements, the most important of which concerns the recommendation that a chairman of educational activities be added to Juniata's Senate.

Pete Fahrney

DELEGATES IN DISCUSSION—The talks at Leadership Conference really were not dull, as Carol Teeter's yawning might suggest. No doubt the tired state was due more to lack of sleep than to the content of the goings-on at the two-day meeting at Camp Kanesatake. Delegates attended several hour-long discussions, covering everything from Campus Judiciary to a dating bureau. Concrete results of the conference were 39 rsolutions for campus improvement.

Senate president Del McQuaide expressed the opinion of the Juniata College Student Association that "any student government must concern itself with the very core of the college life (i. e. study) to justify its own existence."

During the discussion which followed McQuaide's proposal, Conference delegates mulled over the affairs to be conducted by an educational chairman (see resolutions, p. 4) and passed a recommendation that said office be established.

The smooth-running conference produced a resolution calling for a new election procedure which would make use of student identification cards. The cards are turned in when the students vote, checked against the number of ballots and returned through the mail the next day.

Frosh Initiation

Gym initiations for frosh turned up as a big item, causing one of the few heated debates of the weekend. The majority of Conference delegates felt that this would go along with the general plan to tighten frosh regulations. (see edit., p. 2)

Chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward's plan for a social bureau was dubiously received, the final recommendation calling for three girls in each dorm to act as go-betweens for fellows and girls who want dates. (see Campus Capers, p. 2)

The general Conference unity of feeling was particularly in evidence in its unanimous approval of all actions of the Campus Judiciary to date, including the Ono plan for dealing with chapel cuts and its policy of more publicity.

The 40 recommendations pas- See DELEGATES, P. 4

Dean Mays Lists 22 Top Students

Dean Morley Mays has announced that 22 Juniatians are included in the dean's list of distinguished students for the 1957 spring term.

Members of the class of '57 who maintained an academic average of 3.75 or better are Jim Corrigan, biology major; Rosalie Langer, elementary education; Dick Livingston, English; Joan McClure, history; Carol Newborg, chemistry; Dottie Stricker, elementary education; Carol Titus, elementary education and Alice Waite, sociology.

Honor students from the class of '58 are Melvin Diven, who is majoring in psychology; John Moore, English; Robert Moore, mathematics and Charles Passmore, business administration.

Dean's list students in the class of '59 include Joan Fyock, music education; Kathryn Holsinger, music education; Barbara Shaffer, languages; Kay Taylor, history and Marjorie White, music education.

JCers from the class of '60 who made the list are Betty Clark, history major; Barbara Fritchey, sociology; Jane Herbster, elementary education; Jesse Schilling, chemistry and Jim Swarr, biology.

Churches Play Host To Students Sunday

Janice Christie, who is in charge of this year's Church Family Day, has announced that those students who have expressed a desire to participate will be picked up Sunday morning, taken to church and introduced to the families with whom they will spend the day.

Juniata freshmen will have the opportunity to attend church and Sunday dinner with a Huntingdon family September 22.

Church Family Day, an annual event sponsored by the churches of Huntingdon, gives new JCers a chance to make friends at the various churches and become assimilated into church activities.

Frosh Doff Regs For College Mixer

Frosh can doff their regs and enjoy themselves at the All College Mixer Saturday at 8:15 p.m. in Memorial Gym.

Gini Nixdorf, chairman of social activities at JC, has planned an evening's entertainment on the "back to school" theme. There will be dancing to records, contests and prizes for all Juniatians who attend.

Miss Nixdorf added that the mixer will be informal, which calls for bermudas.

JC Participates In Series Of TV Educational Programs

As part of Juniata's expanded program of public relations, the college has agreed to participate in the series of educational programs known as Horizons on WFBG-TV, chanel 10, Altoona.

An introductory program titled This Is Juniata was held Thursday, September 12 at 9 a.m. Taking part were Nan Hunt, Jan Hoyer, A. William Engel, director of public relations, and Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president.

Another program called Looking Ahead to a Liberal Arts College will be televised Monday, September 30 at 9 a.m. President Ellis and other faculty and administrative officials will appear in a forum discussion.

Various other colleges in central Pennsylvania also have accepted the invitation to aid in extending campus boundaries. The anticipated series of programs will be distributed equally among the three main divisions of study at JC—arts and languages, social studies and natural sciences.

Finishing Touches Go On New Dorm

Finishing touches are being placed on the new $638,000 East Dorm as 120 women are in the process of moving into the red-brick structure.

Workmen for the Bogar Construction Company and the subcontractors have been working against time finishing minor jobs. A delay in the arrival of equipment for the kitchen will prevent the opening of the dining hall for 200 until early October. Until then all resident students will eat in the main dining room in Oneida Hall.

Wenger, Bargerstock New Administrators

Two important changes in the administrative offices took place with the opening of the 82nd term here, President Ellis has announced.

Kenneth Wenger, Hershey, has been appointed director of admissions and Charles Bargerstock has been appointed director of development.

As director of admissions, succeeding Robert Newcombe, Wenger will direct the high school testing program and recruit new students.

Wenger received a BA degree in sociology here in 1950 and obtained a master's degree in education at New York University in 1951. He has served as director of a boys' club and athletic consultant for the army.

Charles Bargerstock, Lancaster, has assumed the post of director of development. He will have the responsibility of developing new sources of financial assistance for the college.

Bargerstock, who was graduated from Juniata in 1947, has held positions with prominent insurance companies in Pennsylvania.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Barb Walls, managing editor — Don Miller, business manager

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy erito ; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernling, ass :tant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising S rvice, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 1 — September 20, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

A Giant Step – Backward

Editors Note: The Senate last night voted for gym initiation, 10 to 1.

IT is a great shock to learn that Leadership Conference by a vote of 29-28, recommended that Juniata again use the so-called gym initiation in its freshman regulations program.

We can only hope that when the recommendations comes before the Senate that its members will show more maturity than did many of those present at the conference. We cannot understand how any Senator who has considered the proposal can favor it.

Last year Juniata joined the growing number of the nation's colleges that have ruled out hazing. Now some of the campus "leaders" want to reinstate a Friday night children's hour when campus kiddies can toy with the freshmen.

Anyone who has observed the tremble of a blindfolded international student, unaccustomed to such American "game," or the panicky face of a high-strung coed knows that they certainly gain nothing from the gym initiation.

* * * *

Every year during the gym initiation several students inevitably are injured in the brawl preceeding. Can campus leaders favor this?

The Senate will be considering this recommendation at its Wednesday night meeting. Interested students should plan to attend to protest this ridiculous proposal, truly a giant step backward.

A New Look

THE many improvements made about campus during the past summer have certainly given Juniata a new look.

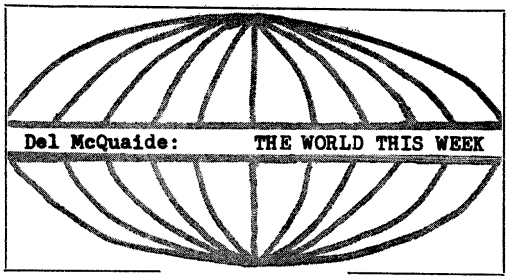
Most notable, of course, is new East Hall, an almost breath-taking structure which will cost the college nearly $700,000. The long-awaited tennis courts on north campus have also been constructed, and after years and years of eyestrain the library has new lighting.

Other improvements include increased office space in Founders and Brumbaugh halls. Several of these areas have already been beautifully renovated. The old infirmary is being used for living quarters by employees in the commissary, and the former home of the Dr. Jack Brammers is being transformed into offices for the department of English.

* * * *

Founders Chapel has been decorated with draperies and a new classroom is available on the library's ground floor. In addition much painting has brightened the campus.

But the most surprising thing of all to students, most of whom returned from areas of the country left parched by the lack of rain, was the green grass. It was the sole job of a maintenance man to keep the campus watered this summer.



SOVIET GAINS—On August 26 the Soviet Union released the news to the world that they had perfected the first successful inter-continental ballistic missile.

This news has caused widespread, fearful discussion throughout the free world and particularly the United States. If the claim of the Soviets is actually a fact then there is indeed much reason for fear. Our major cities and our heavy industry can be destroyed, and we are powerless to stop the attack.

Yet to assume that we have lost the race for armed superiority and no longer have any hope is entirely premature. President Eisenhower has pointed out the difference and the time lag between testing an international ballistic missile and putting it into actual production. There is no danger of attack in the near future.

Furthermore, when one examines the context of the announcement by the Soviets, one is led to suspect strongly that it is nothing more than a propaganda move. It reads, "A super-long distance international multi-stage ballistic missile was launched a few days ago... The missile flew at a very high, unprecedented altitude, Covering a huge distance in a brief time, the missile landed in the target area."

Most of the announcement was unnecessary and was used only for its fright value. For example, "super-long distance" and "very high, unprecedented altitude." Nor was the size of the target area given. It could have been an entire mountain range, or even all of Northern Siberia for that matter.

If the Soviet Union really has perfected an inter-continental ballistic missile and wants the world to know about it, they wouldn't have couched the announcement in such vague ambiguities. I for one feel that the only reason for the announcement was to gain a victory in the propaganda war. If they actually had the missile, they would just as soon use it on us as to scare us.

THE FAUBUS FRACAS—It appears that Governor Faubus has had his day of irrational buffoonery and is going to yield to the federal government, However, no one is really sure of this in light of his past behavior.

To call out the National Guard to prevent violence when no threat existed until after his dramatic move is the height of irrationality. To complicate matters further by obstructing federal law by the unnecessary move causes one to suspect that it was the federal law that he was aiming at from the start.

There can be little doubt that the governor's intent was to prevent integration and not to prevent violence. If this was not his intent, then we must assume that he is a man of extremely poor judgement, and one wonders how he ever got as far as he did in the tough world of politics without making an ill-fated decision that would mark him as unsuited for any responsible political office.

Without question this action has made a very bad impression in the eyes of the rest of the world.

Campus Capers

Back on campus just a few days and already many hilarious moments.

Leadership Conference certainly provided its share. When one of the chairmen recognized "the boy in the back row in the yellow shirt," her face turned several shades redder to discover that it was Dean Bechtell.

And then there was a suggestion that the dating bureau keep a list of the names of all campus steadies—under glass.

When a recommendation to install a laundry in the Cloister was overwhelmingly received, delegates were a bit surpised to hear one Cloister resident object until they learned that the only available space was next to his room.

The biggest laughs of all came with Saturday night's entertainment, station KRAP TV's production of Search for Yesterday. Its script opened as follows: "When we left our typical true-to-life American family yesterday they were facing the true-to-life everyday problems of life in their typical American way, Let us go now to the typical old American homestead—Smoldering Mortgage, home of Chicken-hearted Morrison, retired knife-thrower.

Thus far dear old typical true-to-life grandad's still has been demolished by the revenooers, dear old typical true-to-life grammaw in a fit of temper has kicked the family's only cow down the cellar stairs, cute li'l typical true-to-life Morrison Jr. has fallen into the well in a vain attempt to retrive his pack of reefers, sweet typical true-to-life li'l sister has shocked the entire neighborhood by giving a review of Peyton Place beofre the whole of PS 319, while typical, true-to-life teenager big sister has—ah—but enough said—quite enough. And suddenly—suddenly—TRAGEDY STRIKES!"

* * * *

Chairman of communications Ronn Fink informed delegates that the class of '60 had a very nice dance last year even though they used music. "Clever of them," mused one of the delegates. Ronn meant to say "records."

Freshman Days

The Grey Paper was one of the first things issued incoming frosh this year. Overwhelmed by the many rules, one father quipped, "Is there a rule against breathing?"

At Wittenburg College sophomores carry little cans of green paint around with them. Frosh seen breaking regulations get their noses painted.

One frosh coed went to dinner with her parents Sunday evening and didn't get back in time for convocation. "Never mind," a staffer on the JUNIATIAN advised, "just come over to the communications office with us until the song festival begins."

"Oh, is that where it's being held?" she asked.

"It wouldn't be the first time," quipped managing editor Barb Walls.

* * * *

"I'm so out of shape," puffed the curvaceous coed as she rushed into the waiting line outside the dining hall.

"Well, not really," remarked an observant freshman guy.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

Stunning Costume Jewelry
For Fall
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St.

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The Juniata Indians and Lock Haven each scored three touchdowns in their usual tough preseason scrimmage.

The Indians starting 11 had five starters from last year's team, which recorded six victories in seven games. End Horace Carl, tackle Bernie McQuown, fullback Bill Berrier and guards Bill Schott and Don Shover all started having picked up where they left off last season. Injuries to halfback Glenn Hassinger and Bob Swallenberg have hampered these regulars at this point.

Halfbacks Jim Berrier and Joe Sopata, end Ken Opipery, tackle Al Dungan and center Tony Cherico have all moved up from "second" team which actually saw a gool deal of action last fall.

The only real green spot occured at quarterback where freshman Dave Gooling handled the chores. Goodling is showing promise as a passing quarterback in Coach Bunn's multiple offense.

A spot which will be hard to fill has occured by the transfer of Joe Trimber to California State Teachers College. Trimber returned from the service in time to lead last year's gridders in rushing, total offense, pass-receiving, punting and kick-off returns.

Trimber managed to do all this despite the fact he did not start a game until mid-season.

Coming attractions have a big one on tap tomorrow. Pitt will attempt to break a forty game winning streak by the University of Oklahoma. Pitt will feature the biggest line in college football and speedy backs.

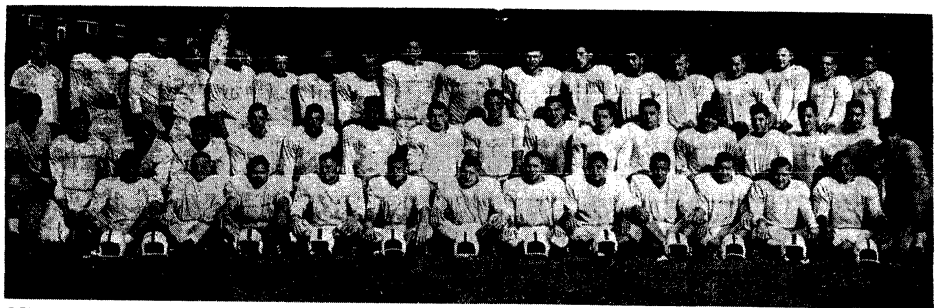
This sounds like a good combination but the 40-game streak sounds just as impressive. Oklahoma is aiming at its third straight college football championship.

Pitt was the last team to keep Oklahoma from walking from the field with a victory. This occured in 1953 when a 7-7 deadlock occured.

* * * *

The major league race has become hot again in the National League as the St. Louis Cardinals keep pressing the faltering Milwaukee Braves. At this writing, it appears as if the Braves will be able to hold. The coming three game series between these two clubs will probably tell the tale.

In the American League, the New York Yankees just wait to see who their World Series opponent will be. The Mantle-Williams batting race is the only exciting factor. Both have been hitting at astronomical figures. Williams will probably retain the edge he has been keeping rather consistently all season.



'57 INDIAN GRIDDERS—Pausing before a pre-season practice are the members of this year's varsity football squad. First row: Stan Walasik, Roy Martin, Joe Sopata, Bob Schwalenberg, Bob Devlin, Dave Goodling, John McNeal, Bill Schott, Bob Melago, Jerry Leatherman, Dick Ott, Emery DiDonato. Second row: Coach Ken Bunn, Bob Hamman, Jack Meenan, Sam Veltre, Jim Butler, Ron Moyer, Tony Chirico, Jim Berrier, Moose Kause, Fank Rocco, Bill Berrier, Emit Capanna, Howard Specht, Glenn Hassinger, Orlando Falcione, Horace Carl. line ccach Charles Godlasky. Third row: Manager John Gibbel, Dick Johnson, Al Dungan, David Sellers, Edmund Sobrieary, Harry Long, Bill Artz, Don Medwid, Jim Middlekauff, Marv Miller, Don Shover, Paul Emerich, Bo Solomon, David Hogan, Bernie McQuown, Gerald Zak, Jim Seacrist, Ken Opipery.

Four Double Lettermen Spark Gridders

Baseball Record Outstanding Among Juniata Spring Sports

The Juniata baseball team came out on top in last spring's sports activity.

The won-lost column shows baseball with an 11-3 record, tennis 3-6, track 1-5, and golf 1-7. The totals found JC teams winning 16 while losing 21. The overall JC varsity sports record last season had 36 wins against 33 loses.

Baseball

Ferrill "Lefty" Alderfer sparked the varsity baseball team to its best record in 25 years. Alderfer paced his heavy hitting teammates with a .431 average and posted a 51 pitching record in closing out his brilliant four year career.

The freshmen-dominated Indians took 11 of 14 games including eight straight over Middle Atlantic conference opponents. Not since 1932 had any Juniata team won 11 games.

Don Ross, freshman third baseman from Harrisburg, was runner-up to Alderfer with .361 and led the team in RBIs with 20. Two other freshmen topped .300 for Coach Ken Bunn's club—George Harrison, Jerome first baseman, with .361 and Ron Moyer, Weissport autfielder, with .340.

A freshman pitcher, Pete McCauley of McKees Rocks, boasted the lowest earned run average with 2.91 while winning six, losing two.

Alderfer received the Charles F. Goodale award as "most outstanding" on the Indian baseball team.

Tennis

The varsity tennis team ended their season with a 3-6 count.

Curt Gardner, freshman from Irwin, had the best record for a letterman in his single matches. Gardner broke even at 4-4.

Chuck Seeley and Don Murdock were impressive in doubles Seeley carded a 6-3 record and Murdock 6-1.

Don Ruhl, senior from Lititz, received the outstanding tennis player award.

Track

Herb Deuchar and Herb Layman paced the thinclads of Mike Snider which ended up with a 1-5 record.

Deuchar, sophomore from New York, tallied 55 points while running the middle distances. Layman took 51½ for his efforts in the mile and two mile. Layman received the J. Foster Gehrett award as "most outstanding".

Golf

Golf took low honors on the varsity sports record. Hit hard by losses, the linkmen had a rough season as they posted a 1-7 record.

Jay Gettig, freshman from Verona, received the C. Blair Miller Huntingdon trophy for his fine play.

10 Years Record

Year	Won	Lost	Tied
1956	6	1	0
1955	8	0	1
1954	8	0	0
1953	7	0	0
1952	6	2	0
1951	3	3	1
1950	4	4	0
1949	5	2	0
1948	4	2	1
1947	3	4	0
1946	0	5	1
Totals	54	23	4

Four New Opponents Appear In JC's Eight-Game Schedule

Tackle Bernie McQuown, guards Bill Schott and Don Shover and halfback Glenn Hassinger—all two time letter winners—lead 44 candidates for the 1957 varsity football team.

One year lettermen include ends Horace Carl, Harold Krause and Ken Opipery; tackles Al Dungan and Jim Middlekauff; guard Ken Fassnacht; center Tony Cherico; quarterbacks Jim Butler and Bob Schwalenberg; halfbacks Jim Berrier, Bob Devlin and Joe Sopata, and fullback Bill Berrier.

Service returnees include Jim Butler, Roaring Spring, who lettered as a freshmen quarterback in 1952, and John "Buck" McNeal, Mifflin, who showed promise as a frosh reserve halfback in 1953.

Coach Ken Bunn is preparing his squad for an eight game schedule which includes four newcomers — Westminster, Albright, PMC and Wilkes. Drexel, Moravian, Lycoming and Ursinus will again be met.

The game with Wilkes, set for November 2, will be the first between the two colleges. It is scheduled for College Field.

Both Albright and PMC have met before and both hold wide margins in the victory column over Juniata.

Juniata, facing Albright in Reading on November 16, never has beaten the Lions in six previous contests. The last game was in 1947.

The lone victory over PMC in the nine-game series was scored by Juniata in 1953 when the Indians upset the Cadets on their way to the first unbeaten season.

The schedule:

October
5	Drexel	Away
12	Moravian	Away
19	Lycoming	Home
26	Westminster	Home
November
2	Wilkes	Home
9	PMC	Away
16	Albright	Away
23	Ursinus	Home

Basketball Team Joins Conference

The varsity basketball team will play a 21-game schedule including 13 games with opponents in the newly formed College Division of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference next season.

JC will play in the northern division. Six games will be played with Middle Atlantic teams in this division, six with teams in the southern division and one with Bucknell in the university division.

The Indians will meet two new opponents, College of South Jersey and Wagner, and will renew relations with Bridgewater and Drexel.

THE JUNIATIAN
Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Welcome
JUNIATA CO-EDS
Come in and get Acquainted
Dank's and Co.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf
513 Washington St.

SHOP
THE RAY ENGLISH
STORE
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268.—

You'll Find Your Favorite Record At
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
Classical, Popular, Sacred, Western
33's and 45's
Rock N' Roll, Square Dance, Orchestras, Organ
Miller Hardware Co.

Delegates Make 39 Resolutions At '57 Conference

Continued from page 1

sed by the 1957 Leadership Conference are as follows:

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

To the chairman of social activities:

1. Resolved that the committee of social activities create a social register consisting of three women from each dormitory.

2. Resolved that one day a month be designated as TWIRP Day.

To the Administration, religious activities committee and Senate:

1. Recommended that a monthly all-college Sunday morning worship service be initiated on a trial basis for a year.

To the Administration:

1. Recommended that a full time college chaplain or a second person in the department of Biblical studies be engaged.

ATHLETICS

To the chairman of athletics:

1. Resolved that athletes participating in spring varsity sports should be barred only from corresponding intramural sports.

2. Resolved that athletes discontinuing varsity sports shall be eligible for intra-mural competition only after an interval of one week. In this event he must be subject to a draft, the lowest team getting first option with successive options corresponding to the team standing. In no case shall one team receive in excess of one such player.

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that the chairman of athletics position on the Senate remain a chair to be elected by both men and women voters.

To the Administration, Faculty committee on athletics, physical education department and chairman of athletics:

1. Recommended that all feasible measures be taken to elevate wrestling to the varsity level at Juniata.

GENERAL ACTIVITIES

To the chairman of general activities:

1. Resolved that the chairman of general activities be entrusted with the overall responsibility of selecting a theme for May Day.

2. Resolved that a fine of one dollar be levied on any club failing to send a representative to ICC for two successive meetings.

3. Resolved that the present May Day election procedure be retained.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that the Senate petition the Administration for a professional dance band for the four principal dances of the year, to wit: the Faculty reception, Homecoming Day, Christmas, May Day.

To the chairman of athletics:

1. Resolved that a sports banquet and dance be given in cooperation with the J Club and the WAA.

MEN'S HOUSE

To the chairman of men's house:

1. Resolved that the chairman of men's house meet with all resident men to introduce and explain the duties of hall proctors and presidents.

2. Resolved that the publication of the student directory become an annual responsibility of the men's house committee.

To the Administration:

1. Recommended that two washers and dryers be purchased for installation in the Cloister.

UNDERCLASSMEN

To the chairman of underclassmen, the Faculty academic policy committee and the dean of men:

1. Recommended that the length of freshman assembly meetings be made flexible according to the needs of each individual session and this program be organized to end by the end of October.

2. Recommended that attendance at freshman assembly remain compulsory, enforcement being implemented by taking attendance and punishment being determined by the freshman assembly committee.

To the chairman of underclassmen, the dean of men and the dean of women:

1. Recommended that initiation of freshmen in the gymnasium be reinstated (Vote 29-28).

2. Resolved that the observation of freshmen regulations be more stringently enforced.

WOMEN'S HOUSE

To the dean of women and the chairman of women's house:

1. Recommended that room drawings be made according to semester hours, the only exceptions being those involving physical handicaps or other disabilities.

2. Recommended that the fire-lighting ceremony become a big-little sister affair.

3. Recommended that women be granted 1 a.m. lates Saturday nights, one a month, to be taken at the person's discretion and non-cumulative (Passed unanimously).

COMMUNICATIONS

To the student activities committee:

1. Recommended that the communications ball be made an annual event on the social calendar.

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that the Smoke Signal be published four times yearly.

To the Administration:

1. Recommended that communications be accorded priority should the administration relinquish any office space for student activities.

2. Recommended that the college increase the subsidy to WJC.

To WJC:

1. Resolved that there be a 2-hour broadcast every afternoon of suitable music to accompany studying.

To WJC and the publications committee:

1. Resolved that WJC extend its evening broadcasts to 1 a.m.

To WJC and the student citizenship committee:

1. Recommended that additional student-managed projects be made available to relieve the financial distress of WJC.

GENERAL ISSUES

To the Judiciary:

1. Resolved that Leadership Conference expresses confidence in the operation of the Judiciary to date with specific reference to:

a. handling the drinking problem.
b. the Ono plan for dealing wih chapel cuts.

and furthermore approves of the of the following proposals:

a. invitation for the JUNIATIAN editor to attend business meeings.
b. the designation of a member to publicize open meetings.

To the Senate, Administraion and Faculty:

1. Recommended that the Senate consider the practicality of creating a new Senate chairmanship, this post to be called the chairman of educational activities (passed unanimously).

To the chairman of elections:

1. Resolved that special ID voting cards be issued to each full-time student and that this system replace the current voting system.

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that the Senate investigate the method of selecting delegates to Leadership Conference, retaining the basic pattern now in operation.

To the institutional manager:

1. Recommended that cafeteria style meals be served Saturday and Sunday evenings.

a. if this is not possible, recommended that there be no reserved tables at these meals.

To the Administration, concerning the admissions policy:

1. Recommended that:

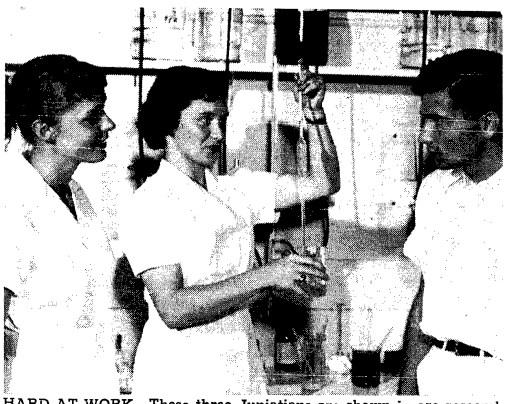
a. the college continue to raise the standards for admission as the number of applicants increase.
b. a policy looking toward the use of college entrance board examinations for admission to Juniata be adopted.
c. the personal interview as one of the criteria for admission be regularly employed.

2. Recommended that all phases of college life be kept in proper perspective, especially the relationship between athletics and the educational ideals of he college.

To the Senate:

1. Resolved that the Senate devise a system to obtain individual keys by appeal to the members of preceding Senates.

2. Resolved that a committee be selected to revise both words and music of the proposed new alma mater.



HARD AT WORK—These three Juniatians are shown in are research and quality control laboratory of the H. J. Heinz Company in Pittsburgh where they were selected for summer employment as microbiologists. Thy are, fom left to right, Sarah Gilchrist, Norma Hottle and Robert Nicholson.

Three JCers Work In Heinz Laboratories

Three Juniata students were among 45 from leading colleges and universities selected by H. J. Heinz Company for summer employment as microbiologists.

Sarah Gilchrist, Collingswood, N. J., Norma Hottle, Somerset, and Robert Nicholson, Addison, were the three JCers who worked for the "57 varieties" firm.

Following a period of preliminary training in Pittsburgh, the trio received field assignments as aides to staff technicians conducting analyses of Heinz food products.

WANT TO WRITE FOR
The Juniatian?
Come To Room G, Students Hall
Monday, 7 p.m.

HARRIS
CLIFTON
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
Van Johnson
Martine Carol
Herbert Lom
ACTION OF THE TIGER
in
CinemaScope & Color
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Jayne Mansfield
in
Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter with Tony Randall
CinemaScope & Color
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Robert Taylor
Dorothy Malone in Tip On A Dead Jockey
in CinemaScope
— also —
CinemaScope & Color
THE VINTAGE
with
Pier Angeli
Mel Ferrer
John Kerr

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

WELCOME
FACULTY —and— STUDENTS COME
TO
MURPHY'S
10% OFF SALE
Murphy's will be open Wednesday afternoon September 25th exclusively for Faculty and Students of Juniata. Make your list NOW. Shop Wednesday afternoon. Save yourself 10% on all Purchases.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 2 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, September 27, 1957

Wohlbruck Will Chair Juniata All-Class Night

SENATE TO MARK HUNGARIAN REVOLT

Aliceann Wohlbruck was appointed chairman of 1953 All-Class Night by the Juniata College Senate at their weekly meeting Wednesday night in Founders Chapel.

Miss Wohlbruck will be assisted by Judy Barrowclough.

In other Senate action, it was moved that the college commemorate the first anniversary of the Hungarian revolt (October 23) with an approriate chapel service and an evening of discussion with the two Hungarian students. Spencer Ward will investigate the possibilities for such a program.

A public relations bureau was formed to keep the campus informed on various Senate actions. Bill Ebner was named to head this board which may ultimately be included into the 13th chair of educational affairs.

Bonnie Gunther has set October 3 as class dues day.

Ronn Fink was appointed to evaluate the present conditions of Totem-Inn and to compare them with the original designs. Many people feel that the collegiate atmosphere that should pervade the Inn has remained where it always was—at Skip's.

Janice Gilroy, Bernie McQuown, Miss Gunther and Fink were appointed to a committee whose aim is to arouse weekend spirit that should prevail all campus activity during home football games. Homecoming Day in the past has been a disappointment to many because of the noticable lack of didsplays and the general ly uninspired attitude of students.

Margy White was named chairman of a committee to put the finishing touches to the new alma mater. Working with her are Janet Binkley, Bob Reader and Pete Wright.

Al Blough reported that the college sign has been completed and that it will be installed on front campus by Homecoming.

Wright reported that the formation of a college dance band appeared an impossibility at this time due to the lack of interest on the part of campus musicians,

See FORMER, P. 4

Musicale Stars Orner, Rowland, Miller

● Barbara Orner ● Don Miller ● Jacque Rowland ●

This Way Heaven's Kathy, Alan, Julie

Students Start Practice Teaching

Juniatians who are planning to enter the teaching profession are getting their first experience this fall, Dr. Kiracofe, college supervisor, has announced.

Teaching in the Huntingdon schools are Cal Beam, chemistry-math; Marilyn Berkebile, history-English; Bernie McQuown, history-math; Aliceann Wohlbruck, Latin-English and Glen Smeltser, math-physics.

Students who are teaching in the Tyrone High School include Bruce Dickey, history-English; Wayne Drake, math-science. Meg Goodrich math-social studies; James Jackson, Spanish-math and Don Saylor, chemistry-math.

George Anthony is teaching math-physical science and Harold Saylor is teaching chemistry-math at Mount Union High School. Ann Amidon is teaching history-English at Mount Union Junior High.

Student teaching while on the job are Anna Mary Smith, English, at Mount Union High School and James Hall, biology, at Chief Logan High School.

Next Week In Chapel

Sept. 30 Dr. Charles Spotts, Franklin and Marshall college
Oct. 2 Mr. McFadden
Oct. 4 Town ministers

TV Theatre To Give Story On Sea Scrolls

The Armstrong Circle Theatre will present the facinating story of the recovery of the Dead Sea scrolls Wednesday, October 2, at 10 p.m. over the CBS television network.

The program, entitled Buried 2000 Years: the Dead Sea Scrolls, is the story of a Biblical scholar named Dr. Eleazar Sukenik and how he found three of the ancient writings.

Dr. Frank Cross, professor of the Old Testament at the Harvard Divinity School, will make a personal appearance on the show to discuss the significance of the scrolls, their impact on all religion and new scroll discoveries during the past 10 years.

Meeting Places To Be Registered

Dean Bechtell has announced that regular meeting places for all clubs, class groups and committees may be registered on the calendar in the Dean of Women's office.

Reservations for Founders Chapel, the Alcove, I. Harvey Brumbaugh and all rooms in Students Hall must be cleared in this manner. Dean Bechtell added that her office in the Social Rooms will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. so that reservations can be made.

Eight Juniatians Cop Lead Roles In Parents Day Musical Comedy

Director Pete Wright announced the names of eight JCers who will hold starring roles in This Way Heaven, this year's Parents Day production, following tryouts which were held September 23 and 24.

Don Miller will play the part of Alan, the young shoe salesman—musician who dreams of success as a Broadway producer, and Barb Orner is cast as Kathy, his college sweetheart. Further romatic interest is provided by Jacque Rowland as Julie, Alan's glamorous leading lady.

Paddy, a noted Broadway choreographer, will be portrayed by Terry Fouse, and Rush Hodgin and Anna Mary Smith hold roles as Frank, big time Broadway producer and Kandy, his wife. Bob Reader and Milly Mandeville are cast as Mr. and Mrs. Masterson, Kathy's parents who complicate matters by opposing her romance with a "no good musician."

Behind the Scenes

Wright added that Jan Schall and Ron Knouse will play important behind-the-scenes roles. Miss Schall will act as stage manager for the musical and Knouse will supervise set construction, the stage crew and lighting.

This Way Heaven's entire cast and crew will be announced at a later date. Singers and dancers, as well as stage crew, set construction, makeup, costume and lighting committees have not been chosen.

Wright, senior music major from Bridgeton, N. J., wrote the story and composed the music for this three-act musical comedy. This Way Heaven makes use of about seven different scenes and eighteen musical numbers. The lyrics were composed by Mrs. Frances Wright, Pete's mother.

The show will be presented November 1 and 2 in Oller Hall. All proceeds will go to the Juniata World Service Fund.

Faculty To Greet JCers At Formal

The Faculty Reception, annually JC's first formal event, will begin at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow in Memorial Gym.

Upperclassmen are requested to bring their "little brothers and sisters" to the reception so that they may meet and socialize with members of the faculty and administration as well as with other JCers. The receiving line will form at 8:30 and continue until 9:15.

Dancing under a decorative scheme, Out of This World, will begin about 8:45 and will continue until 11:30. Music will be furnished by Nelson Griffith and his orchestra.

During this time the traditional Grand March under the leadership of Dr. and Mrs. Rockwell will take place with entertainment by the faculty following. Refreshments are also on the agenda.

Dr. George Clemens acted as general chairman with the following persons heading the various other committees: Miss Hartzler, decorations; James Bray, programs; Mrs. Joseph, food and table decorations; Dr. and Mrs. Rockwell, grand march; Thomas Nolan, cloakrooms and Paul Yoder, electrical.

Flu Vaccine Available For Students, Faculty

Students and faculty will be given Aisian flu preventative shots beginning today, Treasurer John Fike announced last evening.

Faculty members get their shots this afternoon and beginning Monday students who get clearance from their parents (forms are available at the information window) will get the injection in the Infirmary, East Hall. Two shots, several weeks apart, are necessary.

Cost of the service is one dollar per shot.

Monday Marks Start Of JCA Fund Drive

The Juniata Christian Association's drive for membership and funds to finance this year's program will begin Monday, September 30, according to Stan Davis, JCA's vice president.

JCA, the largest club on campus, coordinates all religious activities at Juniata and plans such programs as Spiritual Emphasis Week and Focus on Love Week. Those who join JCA automatically become members of the YM and YWCA's.

Weekly Tuesday night meetings this year feature such programs as two representatives from North Carolina to speak on the pros and cons of segregation and speakers on Christianity as it interacts in the East and the West and how communism reacts to it.

Other subjects to be discussed during the 1957-58 term include humanism, socialism and petting.

JC Documentary Near Completion

Juniata faculty, alumni and students will soon be able to see a documentary of campus life called Juniata in the Spring.

An outgrowth of last spring's visual education classes, this film begins with scenes of buildings, classrooms, students and events and ends with the activities of the Commencement weekend.

There are actually two films—one which will run 30 minutes and a second which will run 25 minutes. Although limited by a budget of $150 and the lack of equipment, the documentary should be very interesting and worthwhile.

Dr. Kiracofe planned and edited the film while Professor Berkebile photographed the scenes. The students helped with planning and did the lettering.

Upon completion the documentary will be turned over to Harold Brumbaugh and the Public Relations department. The faculty will view it in October, and it will then be available for viewing by the students and various alumni groups.

Dr. Kiracofe expessed the hope that futue classes will be able to get more film and try to keep the documentary up to date. He also believes that any such future films will be a lot better as many of the problems will have been worked out by this first venture.

'Just A Housewife'

Horoschak A Natural In New Post At JC

Pete Fahrney

RAIDING THE ICE BOX—Women's house chairman Janice Gilroy and East Hall director of residence Mrs. Mary Horoschak stopped in the building's modern kitchenette last evening to fix a snack. What! No braunschweiger?

You might wonder why the college named Mrs. Mary Horoschak to the position of director of residence in East Hall without any formal training in personnel work—until you meet her.

Gracious, charming and personable, she has spent most of her life being "just a housewife." But from the reaction of the women in East Hall she is the ideal person for her new position.

A resident of New Jersey, Mrs. Horoschak arrived on campus two weeks before the new dormitory was completed. Having no place for her to put her clothes she just left them in the car.

"They were calling me the sidewalk superintendent for a while there," she remarked, "but the men left their work on the third floor to finish my closet so I could put my clothes away."

Mrs. Horoschak moved in before her new apartment was finished. In its compact kitchenette she made sandwiches, coffee and apple pie for the workmen, whose rush schedule to ready the new building kept them from getting

See LIKES, P. 4

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy erito ; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 2 — Friday, September 27, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

A Notable Recommendation

AS indicated by its headline last week, the JUNIATIAN considers the proposed 13th senatorial position—chairmanship of educational activities—the most notable recommendation to come from this season's Leadership Conference.

The creation of such a position would be in keeqing with the national trend of college student governments to take increased interest in the academic life of students.

Juniata already has a number of services that such a department would provide, but devoting a Senate chair to this area would enable these services to be expanded and additional services to be added.

Included in the jurisdiction of the chairman of educational activities would be

1. Freshman academic aid program
2. Senate used book store
3. Senior comprehensive exam study groups
4. Work of the educatioal affairs committee:
   a. Investigate and evaluate student dissatisfaction with the educational program.
   b. Evaluate courses.
   c. Evaluate an entire department each semester.
   d. Evaluate the counselling service of the college.

It appears likely that the future of the proposed 13th position is bright, but it takes time for such an idea to become a reality. Actually the various suggested functions of the chairman of educational activities were introduced to our campus by former Senate president Jim Stayer. It was Del McQuaide's idea to combine the services under a single person. The Senate is currently unanimously in favor of the proposal.

The JUNIATIAN joins the growing list of supporters of the proposed chairmanship of educational activities.

More About Initiation

SINCE last week's editorial condemning gym initiation, we of the JUNIATIAN staff have received numerous ccomments from students and alumni, most of them agreeing with our stand against hazing.

We would like to point out that the Senate's 10-1 endorsement of gym initiation does not guarantee that it will be reinstated. The deans as well must favor gym initiation. The fact that the president of the college is not particularly in favor of this part of the frosh orientation program may influence their decision.

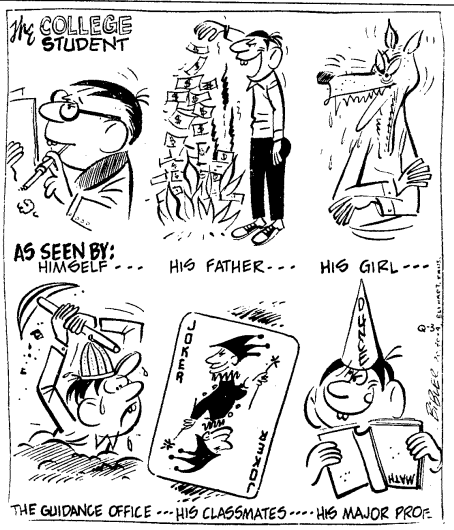
The reason for discontinuing gym initiation two years ago were stated in the October 21, 1955, JUNIATIAN:

"The mass hysteria which the initiation invariably arouses, the individuals who get out of hand, the danger of injuries even more serious than those that have been incurred in the past and the high cost of the initiation to the sophomore class were among the reasons advanced for this Senate move."

The '55-'56 Senate went on to suggest that community and college projects for freshmen be substituted and that more emphasis be placed on regulations.

The JUNIATIAN has consistently been opposed to gym initiation for as long as we can remember, and we intend to continue to oppose it whether it is reinstated or not.

We would not want to accuse the Senate of being unrepresentative, but it does not seem that the student body is as hot for gym initiation as its government it.



Our Readers' Opinions

Faubus Justified, He Says

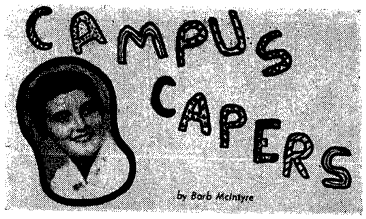
THE Faubus issue seems to be a very ccontrovessial one at this time. Many believe that his move to prevent integration was a direct rebuttal of the Supreme Court's decision against segregation, instead of the claimed desire to preven violence and bloodshed.

In last week's JUNIATIAN Faubus' action was termen "irrational buffoonery." Well, all one has to do is follow the news to hear of the mob violence occuring in the South. To be sure, the number of mobsters is small and their social standing questionable; hofever, they are a power to be reckoned with.

Saying that te violence is performed by a minute number, moreover, does not mean that the integraion policy is acceptable to all others. On the contrary, there are many—in North and South—who disapprove of intefration. This segregationist's attitude pertains not only o schools, but to all levels of society. And one will find, upon careful analysis, that these oppositions have sound, logical bases. This is not theory—it is hard, cold fact.

Could it be, then, that much of this trouble and confusion might have been avoided had we followed a more logical integration program? Integration seems to be unavoidable; however, many believe that it sould have been achieved in more of a stepwise, logical fashion.

Haddocks-Sothoron



Many major wories are floating around college hill this year, but during the year 1957, the Juniata college men and women need not expect too many major changes in their daily living.

But beware of the year 2000! Recently, someone probed the question of what life would be like in this period of history. One crystal gazer predicted that a new human species with two hands and four arms will appear as a result of mutation. Man will indulge in a prevailing vegetarian diet in order to compensate for the land waste involved in meat production.

Education, no less, will consist of games and occupational therapy. Teaching of specific subjects in colleges will be banned. Hypnosis, as a mechanical aid to learning, will be placed on voice training as a result of the development of TV and recorded talks. Think you'll like being around?

Secondary school custodian in Tulsa, Oklahoma, turning in true Dragnet performance, sleuthed out a suspicious looking bottle from a hall locker and reported same to the authorities. Inspection proved it was the locker owner's appendix which had been removed sometime previously. Properly perserved, we trust!

Thief of bad gags ... from the 'Teen

Freshman: "Mom made a mistake and gave me my little brother's shirt. The collar is so tight I can hardly breathe."

Sophomore: "No, that's your shirt all right, but you've got your head through a buttonhole!"

* * * *

I wish I wuz a wotten egg
a-sitting in a twee,
and when a certain one came by
I'd splatter he with me!.

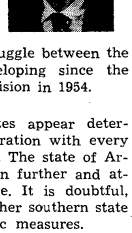
* * * *

Sound off: "If I had only known then what I know now ... " This is almost a joke,, because you hear it so often. Or how about ... "Boy, this year is going to be different I'm really going to study!" Another time-worn phrase. Seriously, though, thousands of students in colleges around the country are utering these well-worn phrases now. Do you have a remedy?

The South Retreats— Momentarily

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

INTEGRATION STRUGGLE— Governor Faubus' decision to retreat in the face of federal power and remove the troops from the high school at Little Rock, Ark., has eased the tension between southern states and federal courts for the time being. But a long and painful legal struggle between the two has been developing since the Supreme Court's decision in 1954.



The southern states appear determined to fight integration with every legal device possible. The state of Arkansas has gone even further and attempted to use force. It is doubtful, however, that any other southern state will use such drastic measures.

Already there are 141 new laws in the South designed to avoid the Supreme Court's decision. There are plans to cut off state funds to any integrated school and to shut down public schools completely should integration be forced down their throats.

It will take years of long and involved processes for the federal government to attack each of these 141 statutes. Any time one of these laws is declared illegal by a federal court the state will immediately appeal the decision to a higher court, thus prolonging theprocess of overruling even one of these pro-segregation laws.

Moreover, every time one of these laws is finally declared invalid there is nothing to prevent the state from passing another which will acccomplish the same purpose. There is little doubt that this policy of delaying tactics is going to be used by the South.

Finally, the constitutional question of whether or not the federal government has the right to intervene in the realm of public education has not as yet been fully settled. There are many southern governors who will refuse to recognize federal authority at all if a showdown should occur.

It is at this point that the personality of the President of the United States takes on great importance. Eisenhower has called for moderation in putting the Supreme Court's decision into effect. This is perhaps the wisest policy at present but if a showdown were to come between the fedeal courts and a southern governor who refused to recognize any federal authority at all, the issue would call for a great deal more action by the President than he has exhibited thus far.

We see hat this is, indeed, a complex problem. Because of its complexity I think that the only thing we can safely conclude at the present time is that integration is going to be a slow and difficult process but that it will inevitably come.

AMBASSADOR SATCH TURNS DOWN DIPLOMATIC DUTIES—While on the subject of presidential leadership it is interesting to note that Louis Armstrong has cancelled his scheduled tour of the Soviet Union for the U. S. government.

"The President," he said "had no guts." This is, of course, just one man's opinion, but it is one that is beginning to receive widespread acceptance.

Fans Predict Great Football Season

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Coach Bunn's gridders were impresive despite a two touchdown loss to a heavy Penn State reserve team in a scrimmage last Saturday.

End Ken Opipery, tackles Bernie McQuown and Al Dungan, guard Don Shover, center Tony Cherico, halfbacks Joe Sopata and Jim Berrier and fullback Bill Berrier continued to hold down first string births in preparation for the opener October 5th.

* * * *

Two freshmen saw action on first string. End Jerry Zak replaced injured Horace Carl and "Fats" Falcione shared duty with Bill Schott at guard. Another freshman, Dave Goodling, was replaced by sophomore Bob Schwalenberg at quarterback.

* * * *

The football team is finally hitting the home stretch in proctice sessions. Of our oppanenas only Moravian and Usinus opens as late. The rest either open or play their second game this weekend. Itwould seem that Juniata misses some of the more robust football spirit which prevails at this time of year.

* * * *

Prediction Department — New Haven State over Drexel, Lycoming over Dickinson, Lebanon Valley oved Wilkes, Penn Military over Wagner and Scranton over Albright.

* * * *

Saturday TV game — 4:45 — Stanford vs. Northwestern.

Delegates Favor Draft, Wrestling In Athletic Issues

Among the campus problems and issues that Leadership Conference-1957 concerned itself with were matters that were in the area of athletics.

In Val Means', chairman of athletics', conference. the issues that arose were women voting for Chairman of Athletics, spring sports conflict, intercollegiate wrestling and drafting of ex-varsity athletes in intra-murals.

The conference delegates decided that the women should have a say in who is elected to the Senate as chairman of athletics to keep a balance of those senatirs that both men and women elect. With increased interest in intercollegiate field hockey for women it was also felt that the women would soon be directly concerned with athletics.

The next issue was decided in favor of having varsity athletes in the spring sports eligible for any intramural spring sport except the corresponding sport. In other words, a baseball player couldn't play softball, but a golfer could.

Leadership Conference went on record as favoring that all measures possible be take to elevate wrestling to the varsity level.

The final issue was decided in the following manner: athletes discontinuing varsity sports shall be eligible for intramurals after a lay-off of one week; he is then subject to a draft with the lowest team in the league ettingg first chance for his services then on up the standings; a team may only get one ex-varsity athlete.

Leagues For Football, Soccer To Start Soon

The dates for the organization o fboys intramural football and soccer have been announced by chairman of athletics, Val Means.

The six-man, touch football program will begin Tuesday October 1 and the unlimited player rosters are due Sunday evening September 29. All games will be played on weekday afternoons.

Soccer, under the direction of Dave Suloff and Mel Kreps, will probably start on Tuesday October 8. The rosters are due Sunday October 6. Two teams have already been organized. League games will also be played in the late afternoons.

Sports

Campus Optimistic Even Though '57 Schedule Toughest In Years

A wave of optimism is spreading across the Juniata campus as the 1957 football season rolls into view, and all loyal Juniatians are predicting another great season for the charges of Coach Ken Bunn.

The prevailing optimism is not at all dimmed by the fact that the Indians are about to undertake one of their toughest schedules in history. With such names as Moravian, Westminster and Albright dotting the schedule, the Bunnmen definitely will find their work cut out for them.

One of the most interesting things to watch on College Hill this year will be the stalwarts in the middle of the JC line. The Schott, Chirico, Shover combination, as evidenced in the past, certainly does not have to take a back seat to any of the great combinations in Juniata's annals.

Bernie McQuown, Al Dungan, Horace Carl, and Ken Opippery complete the forward wall. Replacements include Frank Rocco, Ken Fassnacht, Jim Midddlekauf, "Moose" Krause and freshman Gerald Zak.

In the backfield are Bob Schwalenberg, Joe Sopata, Jim Berrier, Glenn Hassinger and Bill Berrier.

As for Coach Bunn himself, immediately following the Lock Haven scrimmage two weeks ago, he stated that he was "well-satisfied" with the team's play. At this same time he made particular mention of the team's "wonderful spirit and attitude." If this high spirit can be maintained by the team throughaut the year, I am sure we can add another noteworthy chapter to the history of Juniata College.

Rick Bell

SCRIMMAGE ACTION—Shaping up for the opener with Drexel October 5 are these Indian stalwarts. Frank Rocco, right, snapped the ball to Bill Artz, who prepares to hand it to Sam Veltre as Pete Sellers readies for a possible switch.

JC Football Roster Lists 44

Forty-four football candidates, including 18 freshmen, will comprise the 1957 Juniata grid squad.

Bolstered by a hard core of seventeen returning lettermen, the Indians show good balance, with veterans at every position. However, the graduation of three starting linemen from last year's eleven and the loss of three experienced backs may leave the Bunnmen facing the greatese problem of a small college team-lack of depth.

Carl, Horace	Sophomore	E	Spring City
Hamman, Robert	Freshman	E	Carlisle
Krause, Harold	Sophomore	E	McKees Rocks
Opipery, Kenneth	Junior	E	McKees Rocks
Seacrist, James	Freshman	E	Greensburg
Searer, Francis	Freshman	E	Lewistown
Zak, Jerry	Freshman	E	Windber
Dungan, Albert	Sophomore	T	Southampton
Hogan, David	Freshman	T	McKees Rocks
Johnson, Richard	Sophomore	T	Ardmore
McQuown, Bernie	Senior	T	Punxsutawney
Middlekauff, James	Sophomore	T	Camp Hill
Miller, Marvin	Sophomore	T	Leighton
Solomon, Robert	Sophomore	T	Wilkes-Barre
DiDonato, Emery	Freshman	G	Baden
Falcione, Orlando	Freshman	G	Coraopolis
Fassnacht, Kenneth	Senior	G	Denver
Melago, Robert	Freshman	G	Bovard
Schott, William	Senior	G	Glenshaw
Shover, Donald	Junior	G	Lemoyne
Specht, Howard	Sophomore	G	Pittsburgh
Chirico, Anthony	Senior	C	West Reading
Emerich, Paul	Freshman	C	Harrisburg
Rocco, Frank	Sophomore	C	Elwood City
Sobriearry, Edmund	Freshman	C	Heidelberg
Artz, William	Junior	QB	Cressona
Butler, James	Junior	QB	Roaring Spring
Goodling, Dave	Freshman	QB	Elizabethtown
Schwalenberg, Robert	Sophomore	QB	West Fairview
Berrier, James	Sophomore	HB	Harrisburg
Devlin, Robert	Sophomore	HB	Leymone
Hassinger, Glenn	Sophomore	HB	Claysburg
Long, Harry	Freshman	HB	Berwick
McNeal, John	Sophomore	HB	Mifflin
Martin,, Roy	Freshman	HB	N. Braddock
Sellers, David	Freshman	HB	Tyrone
Sopata, Joseph	Junior	HB	Pittsburgh
Walasik, Stan	Freshman	HB	Carnegie
Berrier, William	Sophomore	FB	Harrisburg
Leatherman, Jerry	Freshman	FB	Perkasie
Meenan, John	Freshman	FB	Anita
Moyer, Ronald	Sophomore	FB	Weissport
Ott, Richard	Freshman	FB	Patton
Veltre, Sam	Sophomore	FB	Pittsburgh

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during varation and examination periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

WESTBROOK'S SHOES
515 Washington St.

NEW FOR FALL
Orlon Sweaters
Assorted Colors
Tone-On-Tone
Slip On $3.98 - $5.98
Cardian $5.98 - $7.98
DANKS & CO.

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
MURPHY'S

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf
513 Washington St.

SHOP THE RAY ENGLISH STORE
For The Latest In Mens Clothing and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Stunning Costume Jewelry For Fall
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St.

You'll Find Your Favorite Record At
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
Classical Popular Sacred Western
33's and 45's
Rock N' Roll Square Dance Orchestras Organ
Miller Hardware Co.

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

ETS Will Give Four Law, Graduate Exams

Educational Testing Service has announced that four law school admission tests and four graduate record exams will be given during the 1957-58 term.

Law school admission tests will be given at various centers throughout the United States on the mornings of November 9, 1957, February 15, April 19 and August 2, 1958.

The graduate record examination, required by a number of graduate schools, will be administered on the mornings of November 16, 1957, January 18, April 26 and July 12, 1958.

ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate or law school of his choice which of the examinations he should take and on the dates. A bulletin of information (in which an application is inserted) provides details of registration and administration as well as sample questions. These may be obtained from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, N. J.

Likes Gardening, Horoschak Relates

Continued from page 1

home in time for dinner.

"We even had members of the faculty and administration in for snacks," she related. "Of course we all had to stand—there wasn't any furniture yet."

Mrs. Horoschak enjoys cooking and even more, gardening. "When they plant the garden out there (the front patio), I'll probably cut all the flowers. In fact, I don't think I'd mind if they made me the gardner!"

It might take some planning for Mrs. Horoschak to fit very much gardening into her schedule as she is on the go day and night. For example, she had to run to answer the telephone four times during her interview with the JUNIATIAN. She said so far she has had very little opportunity to visit with the coeds living in East Hall.

Another of her hobbies is making doll clothes to give to children at Christmastime. She started it when making some for a charity fair.

Mrs. Horoschak likes Juniata very much. "Everyone has been very nice to me. The girls—and the men too—have been very cooperative. I'm sure I'm going to like being here."

COMMON GLORY STAR—JC's Jim Montgomery is seen in full costume as he appeared last summer in Williamsburg's historic drama of colonial days. Acting as narrator, Montgomery was termed a "natural" for the part, since this was his first experience with the Common Glory troupe. Having been graduated from JC in '57, Montgomery has started post graduate work in history at Emory University, Georgia.

ACP Aids Juniatian With Criticism, News

The JUNIATIAN has again been invited to join the Associated Collegiate Press, an organization to provide advice, criticism and suggestions for college journalists throughout the United States and Canada.

ACP's most important activity is the criticism of campus publications through the All American Critical Services, conducted by judges who are college graduates and have publication background.

Other services offered to college newspapers include a bulletin on research findings in the field of journalism, a news and feature service, a business review and a student opinion poll.

Drive For JWSF Funds Begins 14th

Campaigning for the Juniata World Service Fund will get underway October 14 according to Ross Nahrgang, general chairman of the drive.

The steering committee working with Nahrgang includes Charles Fox, treasurer; Barb Smathers, publicity; Anna Mary Smith, club solicitor and Bonnie Gunther, chairman of solicitations.

Leora Furlong has been given the chairmanship of special activities, a new post created to handle the stunts and special events that take place and Bob Reader has charge of publicity for the fall musical, proceeds from which are contributed to the fund.

Once again there will be an emphasis on personal contact among the solicitors and donors. Acting as captains to explain the aims and purposes of the drive to the collectors are Dick Scialaba, Rush Hodgin, Sally Grove, Carl Wass, Carol Teeter, Sue Willson, Don Shover, Margretta Davis, Barb Walls, Carl Lindsay, Shirley Raffensperger, Bob Reader and Don Saylor.

Part of JWSF proceeds are used for the "hands across the sea" program in which foreign students are brought to our campus and a contribution is made to the University in Tokyo as scholarship aid to individual students. A third contribution goes to the World University Service which helps fulfill the needs of students in backward countries of the world and a fourth pays for the work of two Juniata graduates as Brethren missionaries.

Former Muscians Now Going Steady

Continued from page 1

but an attempt will be made to entice the freshmen who showed interest on the placement bureau to form such a band. Interest was nil, said Wright, because too many musicians were "going steady, and did not care to play for their own dances."

Gini Nixdorf reported that the band exchange program with other colleges did not bring in any favorable replies.

Frosh Aid Program To Start Monday, Lindsay Announces

Carl Lindsay, chairman of the freshman academic aid committee, has announced that the program designed to help frosh in college studies will begin Monday, September 30, at 7:15 p.m. in Room F with Church Brown and "Poodle" Wohlbruck as tutors.

The program will continue throughout the year on Mondays and Thursdays at 7:15 p.m. and on Tuesdays at 8:15 p.m Thursday nights will be specialty nights featuring aid in a different course of study each week.

Besides Lindsay, the committee in charge of freshman academic aid consists of Barbara Fritchey, secretary; Jane Herbster, publicity chairman,; Edith Campbell, Beverley DeJanney, Leora Furlong and Betty Jane Bowman.

Tutors who will be helping frosh throughout the 1957-58 term are as follows: biology, Allen Custer, Arthur Norris, Bill Redpath and Tom Woodrow; business, Don Aurand, Charles Fox and Ross Nahrgang; chemistry, John Barger, Cal Beam, Kerin Narbut, Don Saylor and Dave Suloff; elementary education, Mary Ann Hixenbaugh, Ruth Perestam and Lil Weimar, English, Janet Binkley, Gordon Shedd, Barb Walls and Poodle Wohlbruck.

Upperclassmen from the history department are Stan Davis, Jan Hoyer, Bill Lafe, Larry Landes and Aileen Wright; home economics, Joan Hannaford, Ann Larkin and Eleanor Newton; Languages, Barbara Shaffer; mathematics, Sam Shore; medical technology, Sarah Gilchrist; physics, Dick Humphries; pre-law, Chuck Brown and Carl Wass; pre-med, Pete Fahrney and Spence Ward; psychology, Melvin Diven and Meg Goodrich and sociology, Barb Smathers.

WJC Programs

(On the air Sunday)

8 p.m., M-F: World News, Campus Calendar

8:15 p.m., M: Moods in Music
T: I-Hifi
W: Studio X
Th: Mystic Moods
F: Music Hifi

9 p.m., M-W-F: Thirty on Forty-Five
T-TH: Vocal Wise

9:30 p.m., M: Adventure in Sound
T: Broadway Melodies
W: Tour in Music
Th: Baton
F: Wigwam

10 p.m., M-W: You Asked for It
T-Th: Strictly Off the Record
F: Session in Progression
Su: 1150 Club

10:30 p.m., M: Totem Poll
T: Campus Varieties
W: Through the Key Hole
Th: Special
F: Tops in Pops
Su: 1150 Club

10:45 p.m., M-W-Th: Band Stand
T: Campus Variety
F: Sports Roundup
Su: 1150 Club

11 p.m., M-F: News, Sports, Weather
Su: 1150 Club

11:15 p.m., M-F: Music ofter Dark
Su: 1150 Club

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

HARRIS CLIFTON
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
2 CinemaScope Features
— in Color —
Stewart Granger
Rhonda Fleming in Gun Glory
— and —
Steve Forrest in
The Living Idol
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Joan Collins
Richard Burton in Sea Wife
CinemaScope & Color
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
The Land Unknown
CinemaScope & Color
and
Joe Dakota Tech
COMING SOON ! !
Something of value
Hatful of Rain

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR
AN INTERNATIONAL DAILY NEWSPAPER
Good Reading for the Whole Family
• News
• Facts
• Family Features
The Christian Science Monitor
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.
Send your newspaper for the time checked. Enclosed find my check or money order. 1 year $18 ☐ 6 months $9 ☐ 3 months $4.50 ☐
Name
Address
City Zone State
FB-16

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

"MOONEY" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
Mr. Funk & Mr. Wagnalls
"In re this matter of Good Taste," said Mr. Funk to his secretary, "take a definition."
"Taste: sensations . . . excited . . . by the . . . action of the gustatory nerves . . ."
"And add this," put in Mr. Wagnalls. "Taste: the faculty of . . . appreciating the beautiful . . ."
"That," said Mr. Funk, "wraps it up. Mr. Wagnalls, will you join me in a Coca-Cola?"
"So good in taste . . ."
"And . . . in such good taste!"
Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 3 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 4, 1957

Bruce Bennett

PUTTING THEIR HEADS TOGETHER—JWSF chairman gather to plan next week's various fund raising activities and the campaign which follows the week of October 14. They are from left to right, Leora Furlong, Barb Smathers, Ross Nahrgang, Bonnie Gunther, Charlie Fox, Bob Reader and Anna Mary Smith.

Frosh Will Give Shoe Shines To Help JWSF Fund Raising

Juniata frosh, eager to aid the Juniata World Service Fund campaign starting October 14, will be on shoe shine detail Tuesday, October 8, from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 1:15 to 2 p.m. in front of Students Hall.

Shoe Shine Day will begin the program of events planned by JWSF's special activities chairman, Lee Furlong, assisted by Shirley Hunsicker, Jay Maust and the class of '61.

Earl Dibert, sophomore, will present an illustrated commentary on the work of the Brethren Church in Nigeria Thursday, October 10, at 7 p.m. in Room C. Dibert spent a year in Brethren service in Nigeria and has valuable first hand information.

A freshman queen and four attendants will reign over the JWSF-sponsored box-lunch social Saturday, October 12, at 8:15 p.m. in the women's gym. Candidates aspiring to the throne are Sharon Brammer, Beverly Cline, Jean Davies, Marie Diacyznsky and Mary Katherine Taylor.

Decorated boxes bearing a picture of each girl will be placed in Totem Inn Thursday, October 11. Every penny placed in a box will be considered one vote for that particular candidate.

Betty Jane Bowman and Norma Jedinak are in charge of decorations for the Saturday night social and Edith Campbell will chair the refreshment committee. Publicity chairman are Delores Briggs and Carolyn Wiant while Tex Holman will act as master of ceremonies.

Moore Entrance Has New Marker

A new campus marker, designed and constructed by Alex Steel Display Studios, will soon grace the Moore Street entrance to JC's Founder's Hall.

The sign panel is made of California redwood indestructible except by fire, while white pine was used for the letters which spell out the words Juniata College, founded 1876.

Four coats of sealer and varnish were applied to the letters of the words "Juniata College, 1876" before the final layer of gold leaf was added. The letters of the word "founded" are painted a deep royal blue.

The sign will be hung on a wrought iron post which was made by the N. E. Reihart Co., under Steel's direction.

Juniatian To Name Queen Candidates

The first step toward selecting Miss Homecoming XI was taken last night when JUNIATIAN'S male editors and business personnel met to make nominations, according to associate editor Dick Johnson.

Each year the JUNITIAN sponsors a contest in which a junior or senior coed is chosen to reign over Homecoming festivities. Candidates will be nominated on the basis of appearance, personality and participation in campus activities.

The two runners-up in the election, scheduled for Tuesday, October 15, will serve as attendants to the queen. Miss Homecoming of 1957 Phyl Marcocci, a member of the class of '57, will crown the new queen during half time at the Lycoming game.

Names of the 10 women nominated will be announced in next week's JUNIATIAN. They will be introduced at the social function a week from tomorrow night.

Last year's attendants were "Squeegee" Holsinger, Johnstown, class of '57, and Jacque Rowland, class of '58.

Next Week In Chapel

Oct. 7 Dr. Kermit Eby, University of Chicago
9 Mountain Day
11 Louis Fischer, World Affairs

Enrollment Tops '56 Number By 29

Enrollment for the fall term has reached a record high according to figures released by James Bray, registrar.

Bray reports that 756 students are enrolled, surpassing last year's total of 727. There are 634 resident students and 95 non-residents.

Special students total five, unclassified students ten and music students twelve.

Annual Mountain Day Takes Juniatians To Paradise For Nature Hike, Activities

A day off classes, a nature hike and a picnic lunch will be included in JC's annual Mountain Day, to be held this year on Wednesday, October 9, at Paradise Furnace.

Each year Juniatians travel to one of four sites in the Huntingdon area. Previous excursions have included Whipple's Dam, Spruce Creek and Greenwood Furnace.

A hike directed by local forest rangers highlight the day's activities followed by a picnic lunch and games. Everyone is invited to attend this event with a special invitation to the families of JC students.

Buses will leave at 8 a.m. Wednesday and those who are driving are asked to take as many passengers as possible.

Senators Support Reduction Of 20 For LC Delegates

Debate on delegates to future Leadership Conferences dominated the floor in Senate action Wednesday.

A final vote proposed that future Senates include in their invitations to the conference the Student Senate, the three class presidents, eight members to be elected from the ICC, five members from JCA's cabinet, the editor of the JUNIATIAN, the station manager of WJC, the editor of the Alfarata, the Judiciary members and eight delegates-at-large from each class. (See editorial, page 2.)

The reason for the debate was a move on the part of the Administration to limit the student representation to 60 members. Almost 80 attended this year.

The appointment of Pat McCoy to the position of assistant used book store manager was approved. Ed Brockway reported that the used book store has amassed $27.17 since its inaguaration two years ago.

Ogres Report

Discussion on the quarterly report of the Ogre committee found these recommendations tabled or sent into committee groups: 1. two halls of North Dorm be reserved for students with a college average of 2.75, 2. investigation of a football league for church-related colleges, 3. judiciary action on ungentlemanly conduct in the dining hall, 4. honor system in examinations, 5. student proctors in examinations, 6. outside talent for social events, 7. landscaping of Oller Hall lawn, 8. faculty salary raise and 9. the naming of North Dorm, not necessarily in honor of a large contributor, but possibly for a faithful faculty member.

A more stringent enforcement against the maltreatment of concessions, particularly milk machines and soda pop machines, was discussed and sent to the men's house committee for proposals for action to be taken. It will meet tonight to consider the issue.

Robertson Dietician For East Dining Hall

Mrs. Inez Robertson of Paducah, Ky., has been appointed assistant dietitian and director of the new dining room in East Hall.

When the new equipment is installed Mrs. Robertson will move in and take charge of operating the kitchen, which will serve 200.

The new dormitory was opened for the arrival of freshmen September 15, but delays in equipment have prevented Juniatians from using the dining hall. College officials hope to have it opened within the next few weeks.

When announcing Mrs. Robertson's appointment, Treasurer John Fike added that she has joined the staff and is now assisting Miss Frances Mathias, institutional manager.

Mrs. Robertson was food director at the Ritz Hotel in Paducah, Ky. Formerly she was dietician at Riverside Military Academy, Gainsville, Ga., and Greenbrier College for Women, Lewisburg, W. Va.

She attended St. Mary's Academy, Paducah Junior College and is a graduate of Lewis Hotel Training School.

Wright Lists Musicale Chorus, Committees

Production of This Way Heaven is in full swing now, according to director Pete Wright who this week announced the selection of chorus members and stage committees.

Sopranos in the chorus are Sharon Brammer, Miriam Bricker, Peggy Chidester, Lois Davis, Leora Furlong, Nancy Hoffman and "Poodle" Wohlbruck. Altos are Jane Brumbaugh, Margretta Davis, Bonnie Meadows, Shirley Raffensperger, Mary Shirk, Mary Snyder, Carol Stiffler, Carolyn Wiant and Aileen Wright.

Those singing tenor include Dave Carpenter, Terry Fouse, Lowell Mason, Jim Powell, Dick Quinn and Mickey Smith. Basses are Charles Fox, Jay Gettig, Larry Landes, Jim Lear, Dick Ott, Jack Redland and Glenn Smeltzer.

Modern Dance, under the direction of choreographer Lil Weimas, will perform a ballet sequence as a speciality number in the musical.

Committees

Set construction will be directed by Ted Hetrick who will be aided by Barb Fritchey, Diane Klebe, Rae Reininger, Don Ross, Pat Ross, Lou Schade, Anne Scheib and Susan Sheaffer. In charge of properties are Marge Snyder, chairman, Carol Whitfield, Charlotte Prugh, Mary Ann Secora, Betty Newbold, Carol Innis and Sara Howe.

Prompters are Reba Fleisher, Karen Shawden and Mary Ellen Rivers, Diane Klebe, chairman, Nancy Myer, Sally Ebersole, Carlene Suloff and Mary Lockwood will handle makeup. Lighting will

See DIRECTOR, p. 4

Oral Interpretation Class Gives Reading

Today members of the oral interpretation class instructed by Miss Esther Doyle gave readings at the Pennsylvania Speech Education Association in Altoona.

The multiple reading, in which each individual has a share, was Part I of Longfellow's Evangeline.

This year Miriam Grove, Beverly McEwen, Sue Paxson, Lillian Simons, Nancy Winters, Tom Chase, Don McCallum, Del McQuaide and John Rodgers are enrolled in the course.

Record Dance Saturday

A win or lose Victory Dance will be on the program for Saturday night, Ginny Nixdorf, chairman of social activities, has announced.

Dancing to records will be from 9 to 11:30 p.m. in the women's gym. Casual clothes are in order. Come stag or drag.

WJC To Broadcast Drexel Game For Two Local Radio Stations

Station manager Rush Hodgin has announced that WJC will broadcast the Drexel game tomorrow at 12:25 p.m. over the WHUN and Roaring Spring stations.

Play by play announcing from Drexel will be handled by Dave Suloff assisted by Bill Ebner. Hodgin expressed his satisfaction at this "large step in WJC's development" and added that the staff was planning to broadcast all of this year's games.

The Indian Broadcasting Company went on the air Monday, September 30, with a new schedule under the direction of program director Ken Harlacker. Harlacker feels that the staff's main goal in presenting this year's programs is to provide a wide variety of listening enjoyment.

The program is mainly musical with a few programs on world news and campus events. Included in the list of new programs are The Totem Pole, a weekly run down of JC's social calendar; Thru the Key Hole, a program concerning current Senate issues and a weekly Special Feature, which may include speakers from other campuses.

After many difficulties, including a trial of a 620 frequency, engineers Bill Holsinger and Ed Brockway have concluded that 1150 is WJC's best frequency. Holsinger and Brockway have completely rewired the studio and diagrammed the station.

Currier Will Conduct Community Symphony

The newly organized college-community symphony met last week in Swigart Hall to begin the year's schedule of rehearsals of modern and classic compositions.

Conductor Robert Currier, recently appointed instructor in music at JC, expressed his satisfaction with the musicians from town and college and called the orchestra a "well balanced group." He added, however, that many players are needed, especially strings.

At present the orchestra includes 21 players from the town of Huntingdon, Huntingdon High School and Juniata.

The group lacks an oboe and a French horn.

Currier said that rehearsals would continue Wednesday nights at 7:30 p.m. and would probably last two hours. Concerts are tentatively planned for December and April.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 3 — Friday, October 4, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Let's Go, JC

FOOTBALL season is really upon us as Juniata makes its late entrance into a tough schedule tomorrow by traveling to Philadelphia for an opener with Drexel Tech.

The team looks good, having given impressive performances during scrimmages with Lock Haven and State. Juniatians are looking forward to another glorious season.

Student spirit is important even with such optimism. For that reason we are urging Juniatians who as yet possess a passive attitude toward our gridders to show a little spark. If the freshmen, for instance, will direct the energy of recent outbursts toward support of our team, it will mean much. In fact, we all could stand to take on some of the exuberance of the class of '61.

* * * *

Try to get to away games. Never miss pep rallies. Talk up the team. It's important not only for team spirit but for general campus spirit as well.

* * * *

Those of you who were on campus last spring remember the low ebb of campus spirit. This fall the atmosphere at Juniata has been rather healthy and football enthusiasm will help to keep it that way.

So let's go, JC, we want some action! We want a winning team and we want good student spirit!

Are We Equal?

ONE of the most important things done in Senate Wednesday evening was to adopt a revised list of "automatic" delegates to Leadership Conference, reducing the total number to approximately 35.

We note, however, a rather blatant inconsistency representation from major campus organizations:

Sophomore class—	1
Junior class—	1
Senior class—	1
Alfarata—	1
WJC—	1
Juniatian—	1
JCA— JCA president)	6 (including

We have always maintained that JCA has been over-represented at Leadership Conference but the current six to one ratio over major campus organizations is outrageous.

* * * *

Furthermore, we doubt if there is anyone in the JCA cabinet sigificantly more important than the JUNIATIAN business manager, managing editor or news editor, WJC's program direcctor or technical director or the Alfarata's business manager. Yet none of these offices will be specifically represented at Leadership Conference.

* * * *

From the standpoint of budget and persons served, JCA ranks second to any of the organizations mentioned immediately above—yet they are granted six times as much representation.

The Senate should definitely reconsider such a rash and inconsistent representation.

Movie Of The Week: Something Of Value

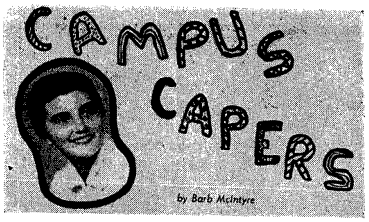
Rock Hudson nearly strangles his wife (Dana Wynter) unknowingly as he awakens from a nightmare, following his return from a Mau Mau hunt. The scene is from "Something of Value," M-G-M filmization of Robert C. Ruark's explosive novel dealing with the Mau Mau uprisings in Kenya, East Africa, where much of the picture was filmed on location. The film plays Monday and Tuesday at the Harris Clifton Theatre.



Except for the fact that JC men have engaged in the business of barbering the heads of frosh, ruffed grouse have been bombarding the windows in Room 218 of East Hall and cannons have been blasting startling proclamations outside the dormitories, the campus on College Hill is its normal self once again.

Generally speaking, during a lull in the unsuccessful panty raid on Thursday, Rick Bell was heard to comment, "But it's very collegiate!"

* * * *

With all the confusion, academic and otherwise, here are some futile philosophies which, if you read carefully, will help you to become even more maladjusted. My main purpose, however, is to fill up space.

Study in a good atmosphere—that is, bathe regularly... take advantage of every opportunity —say, drop American history now... really use your brain this year—don't leave a stone unturned ... spend your money for important things only—books can be stolen.

Court night didn't seem to frenzie or frustate female frosh. One blonde miss didn't feel that it was necessary to be in her room Monday evening and was quite tranquil upon making her exit, waving goodbyes to her fellow residents and assuring them that she would return in a few minutes.

Then of course, there was another. Court call didn't affect her in the least; she was primarily interested in asking the runners what the temperature was like outside.

Campus Quips—Accounting prof Herb Miller thought the freshman, assigned by court to run from one end of the campus to the other hourly ringing a bell and shouting, "All is well," was a good-humor man.

* * * *

Dr. Binkley was commenting about alumnus, a brilliant student who did quite a lot of emceeing for various campus functions. The only trouble was the chap uttered various choice remarks which tended to shock some people during his emceeing. One Parents Day, Mr. Alumnus let forth with one of these over-board utterances. The amusing thing was that the students weren't the least bit shocked but they were teribly embarrassed to let their parents know that they weren't.

Overheard on campus... freshman — "Why doesn't someone open the door and let them in?" ... sophomore to elementary education major— "What books are you using for the course this semester—Goldilocks and the Seven Dwarfs or Snow White and the Three Bears?"

* * * *

Profs regularly have to compete with the JUNIATIAN during the 10:30 Friday period. Dean Mays handled the situation admirably in his ethics class when he quipped, "Now let's all put away the gospel according to Fattman."

By the way, in closing the general consensus in East Hall is that house mother Mrs. Horoschak is really wonderful and pleasant to have around.

Labor, Corruption, Hoffa

HOFFA SURE TO WIN—The giant Teamsters Union Convention has been in full swing this week. It is possible that even before this article goes to press the delegates will have elected a new President to succeed discredited Dave Beck.

But with Jimmy Hoffa, the odds on favorite to win, it is quite apparent that the union has been corrupted to the very core.

Before Hoffa was so completely condemned by a Congressional committee it could have been argued that Dave Beck was just a huge mistake, Now it is obvious that the corrupt, racketering elements have an iron grip on the union that will be hard to break.

The fact that the union higher-ups are willing to support Hoffa in the face of extreme adverse public opinion and the threat of expulsion from the AFL-CIO is evidence enough that they care nothing for the interests of the labor movement or the general public.

IRON CURTAIN IN OUTER SPACE—The Soviets are now attempting to extend the "iron curain" into the mysterious world of outer space.

Despite the fact that they made a previous agreement to the contrary, the Soviet Union has announced that they will not share their information concerning the earth satellite with the rest of the world as a part of the International Geographical Year. The gimmick is that they are rigging the satellites with radios that the western scientists will not be able to hear.

Thus we won't be able to share any of the valuable information they will gain of outer space while they will be completely free to tune in on the U. S. Satellite.

This is not an overwhelming surprise to anyone in light of the Soviet Union's past policies. But it is certainly indicative of the deep distrust the Soviet Union holds for the western powers.

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

LOVE IN THE PLATYPUSARY—The United States has come up with another first that Russia will not be able to stop. It now has the first duck-billed platypus outside captivity.

It seems that Penelope the Platypus escaped from the New York Bronx Zoo several months ago leaving her lover Cecil to pine away all alone in the platypusary.

Last week poor Cecil died of a broken heart. If anyone should happen to find Penelope, break the news to her gently. I am sure that despite the fact that she spurned Cecil she has not found anyone with whom she has anything in common.

You see, they were the only two duck-billed platypuses in the United Sates.

Bell-Davis

PROBABLE STARTING LINEUP—Coach Ken Bunn has named these eleven as possible starters in the opener against Drexel tomorrow afternoon at Philadelphia. Front Row—end Harold Krause, tackle Al Dungen, tackle Bernie McQuown, guard Ken Fassnacht. Center Tony Cherico, guard Bill Schott and end Ken Opiyery. Back Row—halfback Jib Berrier, quarerback Bob Schwalenberg, fullback Bill Berrier, and halfback Joe Sopata.

Drexel Tomorrow

Indians Venture To Philadelphia For Clash With Mighty Dragons

Coach Ken Bunn's Indians will inaugurate the 1957 grid season tomorrow as they travel to Philadelphia to clash with the Dragons of Drexel Institute.

Dropping their first contest against a tough New Haven eleven, 38-2, shows that the Dragons retain little of what made them one of the finest small college squads in the state in recent years.

Graduation of two time Little All-American tackle Vince Vidas leaves a gap in the forward wall which will probably be filled by big but inexperienced Don DiBernardino, 6' 4", 250 pound sophomore from St. Thomas High in Philadelphia.

Coach Eddie Allen has had to rebuild his backfield entirely. Last year's outstanding quarterback Bill Zador, holder of seven Drexel passing records, will probably be the "most missed" man in West Philly this fall and the loss of the one-two rushing punch of Frank Russo and Ron Kleppinger is yet another blow to Drexel's old passing-running threat.

Probable starting lineup against Juniata will be junior Bill Alter and sophomore Howard Bates at ends. Both boys are above average offensive players. Bates has looked exceptional on defense. Bob DeColl and Don Whitney supply the Dragons with a pair of experienced guards and Pete Patain will probably share the tackle duties with DiBernardino.

Captain John Eidenberg continues the fine tradition of Drexel centers, being especially talented on defense.

Rosenstein, Spadaccini

In the backfield sophomore Tom O'Connor will handle the all important T-quarerback slot vacated by Zador. Backing O' Connor will be halfbacks Al Rosenstein and Anthony Spadaccini. Spadaccini, a senior, was hampered by injuries last year but he is fast and experienced and could be the most dangerous man on the Dragon squad.

Rounding out the roster is fullback Sal Gambone who ran hot and cold last year in a sub role, playing both halfback and fullback.

Sports

Gilroy To Captain New Cheerleaders

Juniata's cheerleaders, captained this year by senior Janice Gilroy, were chosen last Friday afternoon in front of Memorial Gym after a week of training and practice.

The Blue and Gold cheerleaders will consist of two senior, two sophomore and four freshmen women. Returning from last year's squad, in addition to Miss Gilroy, who is from Sarasota, Florida, are Nancy Hess, senior from Philipsburg, Carol Beard, sophomore from Lancaster and Jill Muir, also a sophomore from Huntingdon.

Newcomers to the JC cheering squad, all from the freshmen class are Mary Taylor from Dresher, Jean Davies fom Plainfield, N. J., Judy Knepp from McClure and Beverly Cline from Camp Hill.

The cheerleaders were chosen by Barbara Cochran, Mike Snider and Bill Germann, members of the Juniata physical education department. Miss Gilroy was chosen captain by last year's squad.

A further addition to the cheering team will be a gymnist and the traditional Juniata Indian. Senior Charlie Longnecker from Attleboro, Mass., will aid the cheerleaders with tumbling and other gymnastics. Sophomore Cary Shaner of Pottstown will portray the lively JC Indian. He will add color and fun to the football games with a cannon, long rifle and a few surprises.

The cheerleaders, tumbler and Indian will be at all Juniata football games.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The Indians will find rough sledding to keep their record as good this year as it has been in the past several years.

The line has been plagued by key injuries. Guard Don Shover is out for the season and end Horace Carl is out indefinitely. This puts two distinct gaps in the forward wall which must be filled. The question remains if reserves can furnish such top notch performances as they have in the past.

* * * *

On the bright side, Coach Ken Bunn has co-captains Bernie McQuown and Bill Schott. This duo has the potential to fill their tackle and guard spots as well as anyone ever has.

* * * *

The backfield looks good especially in depth. The Berrier twins should give opponents a lot of "double trouble" before the season ends. One factor which could not hurt is that a "Joe Trimber," who can do everything well, is missing. Perhaps the B-boys will make up for this but only time will tell.

These factors combined with a schedule lacking "breathers" dims the outlook. JC must be "up" for every game this year.

Our chances look good against Drexel, Wilkes and Ursinus. Mcravian, PMC and Albright could go either way. This leaves Lycoming and Westminster both of which should be powerful. The fact that they are played in succession is bad as a tough game with Lycoming could weaken the team for Westminster.

* * * *

The gridders have a big job cut out for themselves. However, coach Ken Bunn and his team can only look one game ahead and it is Drexel tomorrow.

I look for the Indians to repeat last year's performance and extend their win streak to six.

* * * *

Prediction Deparment—Juniata over Drexel, Lycoming over Moravian in a close one, Westminster over Waynesburg, Ithaca over Wilkes, PMC over Bridgeport, Muhlenberg over Albright and Susquehanna over Ursinus.

Last Week—5 Right — 0 Wrong.

TV Game—Saturday 4:15 California vs. Michigan State.

● Bill Schott ●

Guard

● Bernie McQuown ●

Tackle

Teammates Elect McQuown, Schott To Act As Co-Captains

Two senior linemen, Bernie McQuown of Punxsutawney and Bill Schott of Glenshaw, have recently been elected co-captains of the 1958 Indian Football team.

Both lettered for the past two seasons, they are veterans of the Indians' Tangerine Bowl team.

McQuown is a 190-pound tackle from Punxsutawney Area Joint High School. He is 21 years old and stands 5-11. He is majoring in history and plans to teach.

Schott is 22 years old, married and presently resides in the Village. He is a 5-4, 190-pound guard from Shaler High School. Schott is majoring in economics and business administration.

10 Intramural Teams Vie For Championship

Ten teams make up the intramural touch football league with the top favorite Collegian organization seeking its fifth consecutive title under manager Don Ross.

Other team managers are the Ball Busters, Paul DeSesso; Barons, Ron Wingard; 61ers, Lowell Moyer; Crazy 8 s, Fran Christina; Ubangies. Dick Hite; 6 Freshmen, Ron Chippinger; Falcons, Jack Heading; Thompsontown VFW, Bill Ebner and the Tribe, George Zeh and Bob Sill.

On opening day Paul DeSesso threw four touchdown passes as the Ball Busters ripped the VFW 41-0. In the only other game the George Zeh-Bob Sill combination clicked for two touchdowns as the Tribe handled the 6 Freshmen 18-0.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone 2082

SHOP
THE RAY ENGLISH
STORE
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf
513 Washington St.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

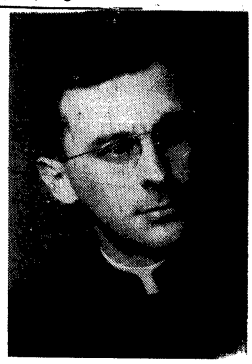
Poets May Enter National Contest

JCers with a bent toward creative writing will be interested in the 11th annual competition sponsored by the National Poetry Association.

Verses which are accepted by the board of judges will be published in the 1958 College Poetry Anthology. Last year Clint Betz, Juniata senior, wrote a poem titled The Mountain which was published in the anthology.

The association stipulates that each poem be typed or printed on a separate sheet which must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as the name of his college.

Manuscripts should be sent before November 5 to the National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, Calif.



● Pastor Arthur Ruths ●
To Address JC's Lutherans

Ruths To Address Juniata Lutherans

Arthur Ruths, Penn State's Lutheran chaplain will address Juniata Lutherans Sunday evening during their first meeting as an organization in recent college history.

Campus pastor of the university's Lutheran Student Association, the Rev. Mr. Ruths will speak following a supper at 6 p.m. in the local Lutheran church social hall.

Meetings are scheduled for every other Sunday evening throughout the college year.

A cum laude graduate of Gettysburg College, Pastor Ruths attended seminary at Gettysburg also. From 1947 to 1952 he served churches in Erie and Ridgway and in 1953 he took his present position as campus pastor to 1,500 PSU Lutherans.

Members of the Huntingdon church's ministry to students are Dr. George Clemens, Dr. Robert Thornburg, Pastor Raymond May, Mrs. Jewett Henry, John Horn, Anna Mary Smith and George Fattman.

New Director Names Chapel Choir Singers

Members of the 1957-58 chapel choir have been announced by William Merrell, newly appointed director.

They are: sopranos, Sharon Brammer, Miriam Bricker, Pat Collins, Lois Davis, Beverly DeJanney, Louise Hively, Pat McCoy and Carol Teeter; altos, Elizabeth Donnelly, Nina Fredenburgh, Delyn Mathias, Marian McElivee, Mary Snyder, Carol Stiffler and Jolene Williams; tenors Ed Beers, George Hess, Dick Hite, John Merrill, Lowell Moyer and Eugene Smith; basses, Phil Brown, Al Dungan, Lee Forney, Dick Frontz, Brady Harclerode, Joe Noggle, Dick Ott, Phil Over, Glenn Smeltzer and Ron Vinson.

Prof. Merrell stated he was very well pleased with the number and quality of the voices this year and finds the group pleasant to work with and quick to respond.

The group is currently learning several anthems for presentation at chapel programs as well as preparing for the presentation of their annual Christmas concert.

Snowflake Lake Gets 'Cleaning Up'

Operation Recreation is again a source of work for the male members of the freshmen class who are preparing Snowflake Lake for winter skating.

The work, done by the frosh as part of the initiation program, this year mainly involves "cleaning up" the area and strengthening both dams.

Extensive re-development is not taking place since the portion of Sherwood Forest adjacent to the pond will eventually be an athletic field. Plans are being discussed by the college to re-route the creek through Snowflake Lake to provide clear ground for the athletic field.

Awards Competition To Close November 1

Competition for Fulbright and Buenos Aires Convention scholarships for graduate study abroad for 1958-59 will close November 1, according to Kenneth Holland, president of the Institute of International Education.

Fulbright awards for pre-doctoral study and research in Europe, Latin America and Asia cover transportation, tuition, books and maintenance for one academic year. The Buenos Aires Convention scholarships provide transportation from the U. S. government and maintenance from the host country.

Eligibility requirements for these foreign study fellowships are United States citizenship, a college degree, knowledge of the language of the country of application and good health.

Countries where U. S. graduate students may study under the Fulbright Act are Australia, Austria, Belgium, Burma, Chile, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Israel, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, the Philippines and the United Kingdom.

Countries participating in the Buenos Aires Convention program are Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Columbia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela.

Bell — Davis

WORKING LIKE DOGS—A group of freshmen take a few minutes off to pose for a picture with "Bimbo" who seems to have become attached to the Snowflake Lake area. Male members of the class of '61 are preparing the pond for winter use as part of their initiation program. They are from left to right, Don Boyle, Frederick Keiser, Thomas Hoy, Andrew Katai, Gary Black, Jon Groef, John Depple and Jay Maust, director.

Planning To Begin For College Trip

JCers who are interested in the Juniata College tour to Europe are invited to attend a meeting Tuesday, October 8, at 8:30 p.m. in the Social Rooms.

Members of JC's administration, faculty and student body are planning the European tour for the summer of 1958. Students and faculty who have traveled abroad are asked to share their travel pictures.

Kodachrome slides of European scenes will also be shown at the meeting which is open to everyone.

Johnson Chooses 31 Choir Members

A cantata, folk hymns, a negro spirtual and tunes from Broadway musicals will comprise the program of Juniata's touring choir this year.

Following last week's tryouts director Donald Johnson chose 31 singers to represent JC in various high schools and churches throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Officers of the group include Larry Landes, president; Terry Fouse, manager; Janet Binkley, assistant manager; Charles Fox, treasurer; Jacque Rowland, secretary; Aileen Wright, publicity director and Kathryn Holsinger, organist.

Touring choir sopranos are Flo Berlew, Delores Briggs, Peggy Chidester, Lois Dunlap, Joan Fyock, Millie Manderville, Carol Miller, Barbara Orner, Anna Mary Smith and Marjorie White. Altos include Miss Binkley, Jane Brumbaugh, Lois Hershberger, Carolyn Morgan, Miss Rowland, Carol Schenk and Miss Wright.

Those singing tenor are Bob Doyle, Jim Heck, Jim Powell, Dick Quinn, Harvey Ressler, Bob Richardson and Joe Senft. Bases include Francis Christina, Bruce Dickey, Fouse, Fox, Landes, Jim Swarr and Gordon Winter.

Director Reveals Musicale Chorus

Continued from page 1

be under the direction of Bill Holsinger assisted by Warren Braunworth, Ron Knouse and Les August.

The ticket committee includes Mary Ellen Rivers, Cathy Smith, Renee McFadden and Harriet Fogg. Alice Adams, Carolyn Long and Joyce Hoffman are in charge of programs. Publicity is under the direction of Bob Reader, Roberta Savage, Maie Pirand and Lois Greenberg.

Debate Club Reveals '57-'58 Topic, Slate

Debate Club president, Don Leeking, today released for publication the current national debate topic: Resolved that membership in a labor organization as a condition for employment should be illegal.

Since last year's question had to do with foreign aid, debaters will be conducting research in an entirely different area of political interest.

This year's teams, as yet unnamed, face tough debate competition with fewer experienced debaters. Plans are underway for a debate seminar program to prepare novice debaters for possible tournaments at Dickinson, Slippery Rock, State Teachers College, Penn State and the University of Pittsburgh.

Along with the seminar program at least one exhibition debate is being planned for this winter. A debate of this type was carried on by Juniata's Montgomery and Stayer and Pitt's Hess and Reid last spring in Oller Hall and was well received by Juniata students.

Juniata's Debate group was host to other debaters last year when teams from Lafayette, Drexel, Messiah Colleges and Penn State Women debated in JC's First Invitational Debate Tournament and practice debates.

The club extends an invitation to all interested students whether freshmen or upperclassmen to become a Juniata debater.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches
Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

Say it with Flowers
from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

Lenox China — Sterling Silver
Crystal
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St. Phone 1282
Expert Watch Repair

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

No Seam
NYLONS
98c pair
MURPHY'S

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
The Curse of Frankenstein Color
— also —
X The Unknown
MONDAY & TUESDAY
Rock Hudson "Rocks" the screen in Something of Value
with DANA WYNTER
SIDNEY POITIER
JUANO HERNANDES
Filmed from Robert C. Ruark's best seller of the same name
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
2 EXCELLENT FEATURES
JACK PALANCE
ANTHONY PERKINS
in
The Lonely Man
— also —
DONALD O'CONNOR
ANN BLYTH in
The Buster Keaton Story
PETER LORRE
RHONDA FLEMING
STARTS FRIDAY OCT. 11
NIGHT PASSAGE tech

You'll Find Your Favorite Record At
MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
Classical 33's Rock N' Roll
Popular and Square Dance
Sacred 45's Orchestras
Western Organ
Miller Hardware Co.

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

CAMPUS BEAUTIES—One of these smiling coeds will reign as Miss Homecoming XI during next weekend's activities. The two runners-up in the contest, suonsored annually by the JUNIATIAN, will serve as attendants. From left to right are Ann Larkin, Bonnie Meadows,, Barb Zoelin, Sylvia Shemeld, Jan Gilroy, Jacque, Rowlad, Bev Condit, Joyce Leshley, Ruth Perestam and "Poodle" Wohlbruck.

Pete Fahrney

Collegians To Pick Homecoming Queen, Court From 10 Nominees

Miss Homecoming and her attendants will be elected Tuesday.

Ten candidates, all from the junior and senior classes, have been nominated by the male editors and business personnel of the JUNIATIAN. They are Bev Condit, Janice Gilroy, Ann Larkin, Joyce Lashley, Bonnie Meadows, Ruth Perestam, Jacque Rowland, Sylvia Shemeld, Aliceann "Poodle" Wohlbruck and Barbara Zoelin.

Miss Condit, a senior from Florham Park, N. J., is secretary of her class. An elementary education major, she also is a member of FTA, JCA and WAA.

Captain of this year's cheerleading squad and Senate chairman of women's house, Miss Gilroy is another candidate. A senior from Sarasota, Fla., she is an elementary ed major. Other activities on her schedule include: FTA, JCA, WAA and the Campus Judiciary.

May Day Attendant

As a representative of her class, Miss Larkin has been a May Day attendant the last two years. She is a member of the Campus Judiciary, the social committee, the Alfarata staff, Lambda Gamma and the WAA. A home ec major and a junior, she is from Pittsburgh.

A native of Everett is Miss

See JCers, p. 4

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 4 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 11, 1957

JWSF Drive To Begin Sunday; Committee Sets $1,958 Goal

The 1958 Juniata World Service Fund drive will get underway Sunday with this year's goal set at $1,958.

The purpose behind JWSF is four-fold with support directed to the following organizations.

"They would care if they knew and knew they shall" is the basic slogan of the World University Service which was formally created in December 1950 from the parent organization, European Student Relief.

WUS states its aim as "coordinating the efforts and contribution of students and teachers in all continents of the world in united enterprise toward the greater well-being of university communities everywhere." WUS has been quite prominent in the Hungarian student program as can be witnessed on JC's campus. Andy Hornath and Andy Katai are both receiving substantial scholarships from WUS.

University In Tokyo

A second area of support is the International University in Tokyo. In May '57 the first senior class consisting of 165 students was graduated from the college. Another first was achieved at ICU last April when its graduate school in education was opened.

For every $200 contributed to ICU the donating organization is presented a cherry tree. Last year Juniata received two trees which can now be seen on the North Dorm lawn.

The Brethren Missions service is a third recipient of JWSF funds. At present the work of two Juniata graduates, now Brethren missionaries, is being subsidized. Aid is also being given to further school construction in Nigeria.

The remaining portion is given to support one or more foreign students on our campus. Andy Horvath is currently receiving aid.

Musicale To Have Suggestive Sets

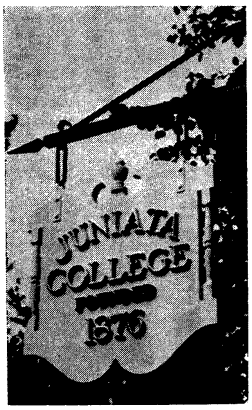
Sets for This Way Heaven will be merely sketchy and suggestive, according to director Pete Wright.

Instead of full exterior or interior settings, the backgrounds and props will be much simpler, mounted on rolling platforms called wagons. Time required to change sets between the musicale's 19 scenes will thus be cut in half.

Technical director Ron Knouse and director of set construction Ted Hetrick reports that their crews are making progress in these areas of production.

Lil Weimar is doinb shoreography for the ballet sequence. Dancers are being provided by the modern dance club.

The cast has been rehearsing alternate nights in Oller Hall. Wright reports he is pleased with the way they are interpreting and adapting themselves to their character roles.



Bell — Davis

COLLEGE ID — JC campus, as well as the students, has received a new means of positive identification this semester. This new sign, made of California redwood, is situated at the Moore Street entrance.

5 Town Churches Receive JC Youth

Five area churches have planned receptions for college students.

Tonight at 7 p.m. Baptists will meet in the church's parsonage at Oneida and Seventh streets. Monday at 7:30 p.m. Methodists will be guests of the young people at the 15th Street church.

Three churches have scheduled parties for Wednesday evening. Dean Walters will be guest speaker at a supper in the Evangelical United Brethren Church at 6:30 p.m. Presbyterians will meet in the social rooms of their church at 8 p.m., and Episcopalians will meet at the same time in the home of Mrs. Elma Parker, 1414 16th Street.

Committee Lays Plans For Frosh Initiation

Plans for the annual three-day freshmen initiation preceding Homecoming are underway according to committee chairman Shirley Hunsicker and Jay Maust.

The committee met for the first time last Monday evening when they laid the ground rules for the initiation program, October 17 through 19.

Tentative plans are for a car wash in Oller Hall parking lot Thursday, October 17, with close supervision by the sophomores. Friday will be a general campus clean-up day with the freshmen preparing the campus for Homecoming.

Flagpole At 5:30

Saturday morning will find the class of '61 gathered at Oller Hall flagpole at 5:30 a.m. for role call and to learn the Indian dance which they will perform at the Lycoming football game. JC's mascot, Cary Shaner, will be the official instructor.

Freshmen also will at this time present their slips signed by an upperclassman vouching that they have made his bed, swept his floor and emptied his wastecan! Information will be given out at a later date concerning the official regalia that the class will be obliged to wear Saturday morning.

Members of the initiation committee are Peggy Chidester, Lucy Krieble, chairman of underclassmen, Check Brown, Bob Catando, Dick Johnson and sophomore class president Ernie Richardson.

Committee Schedules Five Major Programs

Louis Fischer's appearance in Oller Hall this morning was the first of five major programs scheduled for chapel by the college public events committee.

November 1 Dr. Ethel Alpenfels, expert on anthropology, will speak. Arnold Mess, celebrated American actor, will read Shakespeare March 5, and Arthur Compton, physicist, will appear March 28. The final event scheduled for April is Bishop Bremley Oxnam.

Gala Perofrmance, an opera and ballet, is scheduled for February 14 at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Other programs appearing in chapel services this year are James Brown, pianist, October 25; Dr. Ursula Niebuhr, associate professor of religion at Columbia University, November 4; Rajah Manikam, bishop of the Lutheran Church in India, November 18; Sidney Lovett, chaplain at Yale University, February 10; Treodore Gill from the Christian Century magazine, March 10 and Col. Francis Pickens Miller from the University of Virginia, April 21.

Queen Will Reign Over Lunch Social

Crowning of the JWSF queen will highlight the Juniata World Service Fund box lunch social tomorrow night at 8:15 in the women's gym.

Seeking the title are Sharon Brammer, Beverly Cline, Jean Davies, Marie Diacyznsky and Mary Katherine Taylor.

Each girl should pack a lunch, place her name inside and take it with her to the gym. The boxes will then be auctioned off and the highest bidder will share the lunch with the co-ed whose name he finds inside. All proceeds will go to JWSF.

Following the social there will be dancing to records until 11:30 p.m.

Homecoming queen candidates will be introduced sometime during the evening.

Students may vote for their choice of queen by dropping pennies into her box in Totem Inn..

Shaner Makes Hit As Indian Mascot

Sparking the school pep and spirit at all the away and home games as well as at the pep rallies during football season is Cary Shaner, the Indian mascot for the JC team.

Hailing from Pottstown, the secondary education major will be decked out in buckskin trousers and a rabbit fur-trimmed shirt. His versatile head dress features all colors, plus the traditional blue and yellow ribbons.

His Civil War gun, which was revived from an attic, kept running out of powder at the Drexel game last Saturday because of the large number of touchdowns. "Shane" quipped. "Anytime they want to run me out of powder they can." The Indian also has a canon in his possession which, incidentally, doesn't have any fuses now, but...

It is rummored that already a fan club was started for him last Saturday at the game—a dozen black faces bargained to cheer Juniata on to victory, if Mr. Indian would be obliged to let them shoot his gun.

Next Week In Chapel

Oct. 14 — JWSF Worship Service
16 — Mountain Day
18 — Church music program

Senate Names Honor System Investigators

Another step toward a future honor system was taken Wednesday evening by the Senate when they appointed a committee to "investigate various ways in which such a system could be gradually introduced here."

Tex Holman, Carl Lindsay, George Fattman, Don Aurand, Jan Hoyer, Bonnie Gunther and Chuck Brown will meet with Senate president Del McQuaide for basic instruction on what their duties as members of this committee are. They will work from there to arrive at an overall plan that will bring an honor system to Juniata.

At the same time the Senate was informed that their request for a system of student proctors (see editorial, p. 2) will be considered at Monday's faculty meeting.

East Hall Rec Room

The recreation room on East Hall's first floor will be open to

See REC, p. 4

Pete Fahrney

HONEST INJUN—Cary Shaner, JC's new gun-totin mascot, will be on hand at all games and rallies this year to build up spirit for the Indian team. The sound of his Civil War rifle will mark all of Juniata's touchdowns.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 4 — Friday, October 11, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Attack On Cheating

THE Senate has taken a commendable step toward eliminating the mass cheating that goes on each year during the final examinations.

In the following letter, which was sent to the Faculty Monday, the Senate states its plan:

"At a recent meeting of the Senate it was decided by a vote of 10-1 that student government should make an attempt to combat he academic cheating that has plagued Juniata College for innumerable years.

"The Senate recognizes that since the cheating has been done by only a small portion of the student body it is its duty to act to protect the decent-minded majority of students.

"The plan of action, approved after considerable discussion by the Senate, was initiated by the committee. It is as follows:

A. 1. That a student proctoring committee be created.
   2. This committee to be chosen from the senior class by the student Senate upon the advice of the Dean of the College.
   3. That one member of this committee be selected as chairman by the student Senate.

B. The duties of the student proctoring committee shall be
   1. To proctor all hourly examinations to which they have been invited by the faculty member.
   2. To proctor the final examinations in cooperation with the Faculty. It is hoped that eventually the students could assume all proctoring responsibilities in final examinations but it is realized that to determine the practicality of such a suggestion will require time.

C. The duties of the chairman of the student proctoring committee shall be as follows:
   1. To devise a system of efficient communication between the student proctoring committee and the individual faculty members. Probably the best way to do this would be to give to the faculty members test-locater cards that they could return to the committee chairman prior to giving an examination.
   2. To schedule the student proctors in accordance with the desires of the faculty members.

"The Senate feels very strongly that his plan will be an important step toward furthering student responsibility and maturity. It could possibly be the opening wedge to induce the students to accept an honor system.

"Therefore, the student Senate respectfully requests faculty approval and cooperation for the student-proctoring committee."

* * * *

Each year more and more students succumb to cheating. Cheating is not only unethical in itself, but grossly unfair to the student who works for his grades.

We hope that the proposed student-proctoring committee quickly becomes a reality and that cheating during exams is greatly reduced in the near future.

Queen Qualifications

CONGRATULATIONS to the 10 junior and senior women nominated as candidates in the JUNIATIAN's annual Homecoming queen contest.

Miss Homecoming XI will be elected Tuesday by the student body to reign over activities next weekend. With her will be two attendants, runners-up in the contest, and Miss Homecoming X Phyl Marcocci, a member of the class of '57.

According to associate editor Dick Johnson, who is in charge of all arrangements for the election and crowning of Miss Homecoming this year, the nominating committee chose the candidates according to three basic criteria:

1. Appearance
2. Personality
3. Activities

We urge you to base your decision on the above three points. Furthermore, may we emphasize that a Homecoming queen should especially represent a spirit of hospitality since she will officially welcome returning grads and other visitors.

Good luck to the candidates!

Our Nurses

HATS off to nurses Barb Over and Sandy Wilson and all the others who are helping out during the emergency created by the many cases of flu.

Sleepless nights and crowded days have filled their schedules. Not only have they been kept busy with sick students, but they have been spending much time helping administer Asian flu prevention shots to students and faculty members.

Our nurses do a great deal but get very little praise.

"HOW DID THE FACULTY MEETING GO, DEAR?"

Movie Of The Week: Fire Down Below

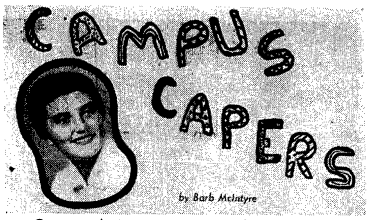
Pictured above are Rita Hayworth, Robert Mitchum and Jack Lemmon in a scene from "FIRE DOWN BELOW" CinemaScope & Technicolor feature playing Monday and Tuesday at the Harris Clifton Theatre.



Congratulations to our terrific football team for defeating Drexel 47-0 last Saturday at Philadelphia.

Football victories and true school spirit go together simultaneously. Let's retain that school pep and cheer on the team when it makes a bid for its second victory against Lycoming Homecoming weekend.

Overheard on Campus

Dean Mays (to ethics class): "I wouldn't even give a final in this course, except that the dean of the college requires it."

Dr. Henry: "A well-fed athlete without education is like a wild beast. " (And they were discussing Plato's Republic)

"Schaum, like Adam, blames women!" (stated in the family class)

Prof talking to empty seats: "I wonder if the lack in attendance in this class is due to the plague or juvenile delinquency."

On one of Dr. Will's botany field trips last week fellow botanists were examining some leaves across the street from one of our better known houses on campus, the Saylor house. Upon passing, a freshman girl, quite impressed with the melodious songs from within, very innocently asked an upperclassman, "Do boys live in that house back there, or something?"

* * * *

All was quiet in the photo lab early last Friday morning when sudden tragedy struck. The shelf holding the big bottles of chemicals gave way, sending them down with a crash and covering the floor with brown glass and assorted liquids.

This was followed late that night by part of the ceiling falling in, clogging the drain that carried away excess water from the washing tank.

The floor was under water as camera club veep, Pete Fahrney waded in. Reviving from the shock, Fahrney quipped, "And they (the Administration) were planning to fix this place up by giving it a coat of paint."

* * *

In closing, another futile motto, "A penny saved is unusual."

Our Readers' Opinions

Blatant Inconsistency

I assume that most of the students who read this column have noted the blatent inconsistency between the facts and many of the things presented by the editor as facts. For those of you who have not made this discovery or would appreciate an honest look at the question, I would like to state the facts and bring in a few different ideas.

1. Each class is represented by eight members at large plus the president, a total of nine.

2. The heads of the Alfarata and JUNIATIAN are selected by a student-faculty committee with primary interest in their ability in the field, not as representing student opinion or as campus leaders.

3. The five members of the JCA cabinet attending Leadership Conference are elected by a vote of 100-200 members of the association—this is as large a number as that in the junior or senior class and they have interests which should be upheld just as definitely as any class.

4. Last year the JCA cabinet determined the use for about 700 dollars. This is far more than that spent by any of the classes. In light of these facts it appears that JCA is under-represented if anything.

If the editor is simply against JCA being adequately represented, if he feels that their function is an unimportant one, I can only say that at least two-thirds of the resident students have joined the association, indicating their concern. If he feels that JCA is ineffecive we welcome suggestions. — Specer Ward.

ED. NOTE—We think the JCA general program is commendable, but we still think they are over-represented.

Russian Satellite Implications

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

EARTH SATELLITE — THE Soviet Union has gained a major victory over the U. S. in the race for technological superiority.

The launching of the first earth satellite on October 4 is already making important changes in the scientific world and the international power situation.

At the present time the military and political implications are foremost in our minds because we have been locked in a grim arms race with the Soviet Union for nearly 10 years. There can now be very little doubt that he Soviets possess an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of hitting any major city in the United States with an atomic bomb.

Perhaps even more important is the fact that the rest of the world now knows it. The Soviet Union can now challenge the leadership of the U. S., which menas that the neutral block of nations will probably grow larger than ever before.

Yet in the long span of time the scientific implications will probably become more meaningful. Scientists will now be able to determine how round the world is, to study the earth's magnetic fields, to study the earth's atmosphere and many other questions of importance.

But the most important scientific implication is that a big step has been made toward space travel. Perhaps in our lifetime the first trip to the moon will be made. The world situation being what it is let us hope that the U. S. is the first to make it.

DECAYING EMPIRE—The French nation is again looking for a new government. The 22nd cabinet since the end of World War II passed out of existence over the Algerian question.

It is becoming increasingly obvious to all observers that France is politically incapable of solving any controversial questions. It is in the opinion of many competent observers that France's empire is going to decay completely if her system of government is not substantially strengthened. What is more important, her strength for the free world is always a question of grave doubt.

Bell-Davis

B-BOYS—The Berrier twins, Jim left and Bill right, are real sparkplugs for Coach Ken Bunn. Against Drexel they performed like wildcats on defense and gave the offense a real one-two punch. Jim gained 54 yards in 5 tries and Bill kicked off deep into the end zone and made four extra point tries successfully.

Tribe Continues Win Streak As Drexel Bows Easily 47-0

The Indians of Juniata College humbled Drexel 47-0 in its worst home defeat in 31 years.

The contest, the long awaited 1957 debut for the victorious Tribe,extended its win streak to six over the past two seasons.

Coach Ken Bunn's "three elevens" came through on offense and collected 71 yards passing and 221 yards rushing to gain over the helpless Dragons easily. Drexel made only 69 yards rushing and 58 passing.

The Tribe was paced on offense by the Berrier brothers, Bill and Jim, Bob Schwalenberg and Dick Ott. This combined with a hard hitting defense gave Juniata a very sharp appearance in the opener.

Berrier, Schwalenberg

Juniata scored the first two times it gained possession of the ball, With the Berriers and Schwalenberg carrying the pigskin for large gains, the score soon mounted to 14-0. Jim Berrier scored the first two touchdowns on a one yard run and a 31 yard pass from Schwalenberg. Bill Berrier added both placements.

With time running out in the first half, a hand-off on a punt return, Joe Sopata to Jim Berrier, set up the third TD. After a 22 yard reverse by Jim Berrier, Schwalenberg scored on a roll out around end. Bill Berrier added the point to make the score 21-0 at halftime.

After halftime ceremonies ended JC scored the first time it gained possession, Schwalenberg connected with Sopata on a 40 yard scoring ariel and Bill Berrier again added the extra point.

Ott, Goodling

The determined Indians scored again when Dick Ott, who netted 56 yards on 5 carries, broke loose on a 42 yard trot. Dave Goodling's placement was perfect making it 35-0.

Two fourth period TD's were scored by Stan Walasik and Bill Artz both one yard runs. Bob Devlin added the final score with an interception.

The entire 33 man traveling squad was employed by Coach Ken Bunn, who used his regulars approximately half the playing time.

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

Compliments of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

Sports

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Our football team played a good game last Saturday in Philadelphia.

An outstanding feature was the kicking. The Indian swarmed down under every punt and kick-off. None of the punts were run back and only a few yards were allowed on kick-off returns.

The Juniata crowd which attended the Drexel game was impressive. Many alumni especiallf from the class of '57, were present. The large Indian following nearly outnumbered the Drexel crowd.

* * * *

The "holler guy" or "take charge guy" which the football team needed was found. Bernie McQuown performed the job to the hilt, The whole team hustled against Drexel but McQuown stood out as leader.

* * * *

The flu epidemic is beginning to show its effects on the football scene. High school games havt been postponed and many college teams weakened. Moravian lost to Lycomig 34-13 last week after beig hit by the flu.

* * * *

Juiata should be at full strength for the Moravian contest tomorrow. The Indians have their hands full but a showing like last week will be too much for Moravian to handle.

* * * *

Predictions — Ursinus to hand Drexel its third straight defeat, Lycoming to win its third straight over Albright, Westminster to get its 24th straight over Bethany (this streak cannot end until October 26th) and PMC to take its third straight against Western Maryland.

So far — 11 Right and 1 Wrong.

Could there be truth in it? Louie the bus driver says he saw the best two teams in the country when Oklahoma played Pitt—Oklahoma's first team and Oklahoma's second team.

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf
513 Washington St.

Bernie Predicts
No Game This Week — FLU—
If you're Going To Get Anything — Get LYCOMING!!
And If You're Getting Jewelry — Go To
Swartz Jewelry
(next to Clifton)

Moravian Forced To Call Off Game

Moravian notified college officials Wednesday morning that they would be unable to play tomorrow.

The campus is riddled by the flu bug to such an extent that Moravian officials are contemplating closing classes.

The football game is cancelled since no date is available before Thanksgiving. The cross country match scheduled to begin at halftime is also cancelled, thus spoiling the harrier opener.

The Indians must look ahead to Homecoming October 19. The gridders will be out to reap revenge on Lycoming who last year ended the great Juniata unbeaten streak at 25—the longest in small colleges at the time.

* * * *

The cross country team will now open at Homecoming. Coach Snider's squad will inaugurate their second season against Muhlenberg during the Juniata-Lycoming football game.

Three Classes Vie In Women's Hockey Loop

The juniors, sophomores and freshmen have entered teams in the women's field hockey league under direction of the Women's Athletic Association.

Team captains are Laura McAvoy for the juniors, Shirley Raffensperger for the sophomores and Mary Taylor for the Freshmen.

Hampered by rain and sickness, only one game has been played in which the sophomores defeated the freshmen 3-0. Carol Beard, Bobbie Savage and Barb Fritchey all scored goals for the winners.

Joan East, sports coordinator of the WAA, announced that the schedule is set up with each team playing the other team twice. Games are played Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4:30.

The seniors failed to enter a team due to lack of interest.

Crazy 8s, Indians Pace Intramurals

The Crazy Eight and Sherwood Tribe ended the first week of intramural football tied for first place.

In last week's action, the Crazy Eight took the Falcons 19-2 and the '61ers by forfeit. The Barons edged he Ubangies 6-0. The Collegians and the Tribe both romped to victory, Collegians 30-0 over the Six Freshmen and the Tribe 34-0 over Thompsontown VFW. In the other game played, it was Ubangies 12, Falcons 6.

Rain kept down the number of games played. The postponed games will be made up wherever the schedule permits.

The Vets entered the league late, bringing the number of teams to 11. Bernie Ambrose will manage this always powerful contender.

	W	L	T
Crazy 8	2	0	0
Tribe	2	0	0
Busters	1	0	0
Collegians	1	0	0
Barons	1	0	0
Ubangies	1	1	0

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Lenox China — Sterling Silver Crystal
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

Women's & Misses
CARDIGAN SWEATERS
$2.98
latest styles—all color assortment
G. C. MURPHY CO.

Penn State Jazz Club To Feature Gillespie

"Dizzy" Gillespie, the Ambassador with the Horn, will appear with his 18 piece band in Penn State's Recreation Hall this Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Penn State Jazz Club.

"Dizzy", celebrated jazz artist, will present his original arrangements as well as demonstrate his technical ability on the trumpet. An added feature to this concert will be the tenor saxophonist, Sonny Stitt.

Last year Gillespie and his band toured the Near and Middle East, sponsored by the State Department, and introduced jazz to people who had never heard it before.

The Penn State Jazz Club welcomes any Juniatian fans to this event.

Identification Cards Ready By Wednesday

Student identificaion cards should be completed and ready for distribution Wednesday.

All cards will be available at the information window in Founders Hall. No student may pick up any card other than his own. So, roommate, be sure to get yours—be ready for the Homecoming game next Saturday.

These identification cards must be presented at all campus activities and will be collected during elections upon voting. All cards will be returned by mail the following day.

THELMA'S

Blouses — Skirts

Sportswear

Lingerie — Millinery

HOTEL PENN HUNT

Huntingdon, Pa.

Dining Room Open Daily

7 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Banquet Facilities

KELLY'S KORNER

Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket

Steaks — Sea Food

Spaghetti

Phone 2082

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

MONDAY & TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

2 CinemaCcope Hits 2

The Midnight Story
Tony Curtis
Marisa Pavan
Gilb't Poland

Man Ahead
George Nader
Phil's Thaxter
Tim Hovey

SOON

SILK STOCKINGS

HATFUL of RAIN

HARRIS CLIFTON

JCers Will Elect Top Three Coeds

Continued from page 1

Lashley, a junior elementary education major, JCA, FTA, the Outing Club and participating in intramurals are several of her campus activities.

Miss Meadows, a tall blonde from Hollidaysburg, is a junior and an elementary education major. Her activities include intramural sports, All Class Night, FTA, WAA and JCA.

President of the FTA, as well as a 3-time May Day attendant, is another senior candidate, Miss Perestam. An elementary education major, she is from Morrisville. Some of her other activities are Modern Dance, JCA and the women's house committee.

Last Year's Attendant

Miss Rowland, from Hanover, was an attendant in last year's Homecoming and also appeared in last year's May Day court. A member of the Touring Choir, she also serves as its secretary. She has been assigned one of the lead roles in the musical, This Way Heaven. Her other activities include vice president of the FTA (she's an elementary education major), JCA, JBSF and the Masque.

New Hampshire's representative in this line-up of Homecoming candidates is Miss Shemeld, senior home ec major from East Derry. Sylvia is a member of Lambda Gamma and has participated in All Class Night, the women's house committee and the social committee.

A senior English major, Miss Wohlbruck is currently student teaching in Huntingdon High School. She is a majorette with the JC band as well as being a member of the Campus Judiciary, the Ogre Committee, JCA, WAA, FTA and general chairman for this year's All Class Night. She is from Altoona.

Miss Zoelin, petite junior from Ottsville, has been a member of the May Court for the past two years. She has also been a member of the German Club, Lambda Gamma and the WAA. She is a home ec major.

One of these 10 will be crowned Miss Homecoming XI by Phyl Marcocci, Miss Homecoming X, Saturday, October 19.

Vote in Tote Tuesday.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Pete Fahrney

SUDDENLY TRAGEDY STRIKES—JC's photo lab had a few unfortunate experiences this week, one of them pictured above. A shelf carrying a host of glass bottles gave way, causing an ear-splitting crash plus two inches of glass on the lab floor. However, no extensive damage was done.

Shirk Announces Band Attendants

Mary Shirk, head majorette, has announced the results of the tryouts for JC majorettes and pom pom girls for the '57-'58 season.

This year's high stepping majorettes are "Poodle" Wohlbruck, Betsy Swope, Mary Shirk, Judy Garman and Carol Snyder.

Swinging pom poms will be Peggy Chidester, Hermina Bayer, Sandy Craner, Lil Weimar, Carol Stiffler, Barb McIntyre, Bev Condit, Sylvia Shemeld, Bobby Savage and Delyn Mathias.

STRICKLER CLEANERS

Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices

Repair Service

1017 Moore Street

Vogue Shop

Sacony Sportswear

Junior Dresses

Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

Get Your Favorite Records At

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP

New LP Records

Pat's Great Hits—Pat Boone, Satchmo—A Musical Autobiography, Jazz Studio No. 6—Amran-Barrow Quartett, God's Trombones—Fred Waring, We Get Letters—Perry Como, Spirituals—Tennessee Ernie Ford, Around The World in 80 Days—Original Cast.

Miller Hardware Co.

PENN STATE JAZZ CLUB

presents

DIZZY GILLESPIE'S

Big New 18 Piece Band

plus

Sonny Stitt On Tenor Sax

Sunday, October 13, at 2:30 p.m.

(1:30 p.m. Huntingdon time)

Recreation Hall, Penn State Campus

Tickets Available at Hetzel Union Building

All Seats $1.50

Photo Lab Accidents Common Occurrence

Deep in the hollow of Students Hall basement exists a combination of walls and ceilings known to those who visit this lower level as the Photo Lab.

Last Wednesday the forementioned walls, exhausted from years of service, gave up the support of a long high shelf used to store about 50 photographic bottles. Since glass bottles have little chance of survival on a cement floor, you can imagine the disastrous result.

Things were thought to be back to normal again when that same evening a large area of the ceiling gave up the ghost, showering the lab with plaster and clogging up one of the drains. Hip boots were needed the next morning to clean up the mess.

Photography club members are still not discouraged—the walls are in great shape!

Rec Room Open Saturday Nights

Continued from page 1

everyone Saturday evenings, according to women's house chairman Jan Gilroy. Those wishing to use the area at other times must make reservations. Mixed parties and dancing will be permitted in the rec room.

Educational Affairs

It was pointed out that while the educational affairs committee has been in operation for a year, the Faculty have never officially accepted it. Thus it was decided that the Senate request that the Faculty act on this matter as soon as possible.

Bookstore Stipened

The used bookstore manager will be paid 15 percent of what the business nets and his assistant will be paid 10 percent, the senators voted.

We Have Warren's

KAROSEAL RAINCOATS

Colors Fawn, Clear

Sizes Small, Med, Large

Only $3.98

DANKS & CO.

Say it with Flowers from

Woodrings Floral Garden

8th and Washington St.

Phone 1141

WESTBROOK'S

SHOES

515 Washington St.

Blair's Book Store

600 Penn Street

EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT

FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS

STORE HOURS 8 to 5

COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Traveler's Aid

At last count, Coca-Cola was delighting palates in more than 100 countries around the world. This news may not rock you right now. But if you ever get thirsty in Mozambique, you may appreciate the change from goat's milk.

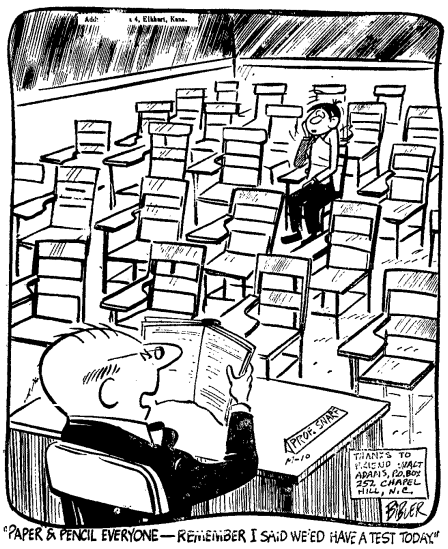
Drink Coca-Cola

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by

COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 5 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 18, 1957



"PAPER & PENCIL EVERYONE—REMEMBER I SAID WE'ED HAVE A TEST TODAY!"

Our Opinions

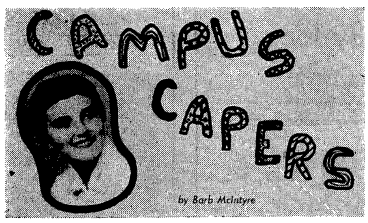
The Flu Hit Us Too ...

IN keeping with the campus trend, prompted by Mr. Flu Bug, to limit activities the JUNIATIAN today comes to you in a 2-page edition.

Many of our staffers and nearly everyone on the editorial-business board from the editorial secretary right down to the editor joined the ranks of the sick that kept two doctors and a multitude of nurses busy in the infirmary and its various annexes.

Circulation, for instance, which had been delayed for over a week until the college received an order of supplies for the addressing machine, is still not on schedule, the reason now being the flu. We hope that off-campus readers will understand our situation.

Let's hope that everything is back to normal by this time next week.



Among the hi-fi strains of Wake Up Little Susie, requested by Jim Healy, orange juice, toast and temperatures were in vogue at 7:30 a.m. in the college infirmary

"How do you feel" and "what is your temperature" were the common cliches between card games. According to rumors, Ronn Fink really looked collegiate in his white nurse's attire, while telling bed time stories to the female populus.

Seriously, though, our nurses, deans and all who are aiding in fighting the sickness are to be highly commended for their tireless efforts.

* * * *

Goings on around campus ....

A business major upon studying earnestly for his fashion economics test announced to a few sophomore girls that he was contemplating taking orders for making Christmas formals—for a price, I might add ..... when dishes of tapioca pudding were passed out at dinner one evening, a coy junior asked a friend how Operation Recreation was progressing ...

* * * *

One senior, disgusted with an assignment that his prof was handing out sarcastically quipped, "I never heard of doing graduate work in a mental institution." The reply, which was undoubtley expected, "I thought you were already there." Determined to get in the last remark he answered, "Too much more of you and I will be!"

* * * *

Upon closing, remember, treat your books with care—some tree died that you might learn.

Flu Epidemic Plagues Juniata's Campus; Homecoming, Parents Day Now Same Date

by Carol Baish

The current flu which has plagued JC's campus for two weeks finally resulted in the postponement of all Homecoming activities until Parent's Day, November 2.

Parent's Day will feature the presentation of the college musical This Way Heaven plus all the traditional Homecoming Day events. This means that frosh regulations will be in effect for at least two more weeks.

President Ellis announced Tuesday that the freshman-sophomore games, the coronation of a queen and campus decoration contests would be rescheduled on Parents Day. He added that Saturday's classes will continue as usual and that the dance tomorrow night will be a regular record dance.

In fact, the words cancellation and postponement have been key words on this campus throughout the past two weeks. Although it has been rumored that a subversive faction has introduced germ warfare, no right-thinking Juniatian really believes that the Debate Club would go that far.

New Infirmary

It all began Sunday, October 6, when seven JCers were admitted to the infirmary. By Wednesday, October 9, over 40 students had hit the lily whites and Mountain Day was cancelled, a low blow to campus morale.

Beds filled the recreation room and the dining hall in East Hall and soup flowed down the throats of Juniatians too weak even to complain. (This gives an idea of how serious the whole affair was!)

With more and more collegians getting sick each day, an arbitrary entrance requirement of 102° F. temperature was set up. The "Big M" was no longer associated with a certain TV program.

At this point, members of the faculty began postponing exams, except for a certain hour exam which somehow crept up when no one was looking. The following week all exams were postponed.

Life in the infirmary

With so many Juniatians sick, the infirmary began to be considered the only swinging spot on campus. Hi-fi sets and record collections made their appearance and a new tradition was established: Music to Cough By.

Infirmary facilities were stretched to the breaking point and so were the nerves of the nurses who had to listen to the complaints of Juniatians who were "...much better now. May I leave? When do you think I can go?"

Nurses Barb Over and Sandy Wilson kept on taking hundreds of temperatures, giving hundreds of back rubs and passing out thousands of pills and bottles of the cough medicine which suddenly became standard collegiate equipment. They were greatly aided by Dr. Patterson, Dean Bechtell, Mrs. Horoschak, Mrs. Shriner and Bill Germann who patiently did all they could to make things easier.

Collegiate to the end

Many JC students who remained healthy helped by serving meals and running countless errands for the backs of white coats was ordered but unfortunately, nothing came of it. However, button down pillow cases became quite the thing and the brown and yellow capsules were replaced by Ivy League stripes.

Traces of mental derangement appeared last week. For instance, there was the pathetic character who wandered through the halls muttering, Plain orange juice? Plain orange juice???"

Another poor soul bitterly denounced the lack of activity with the statement, "It must be a new treatment. I think its called the slow rot."

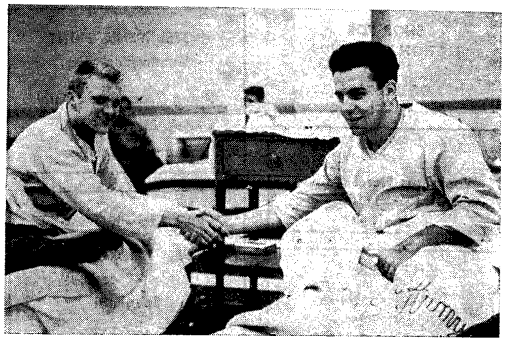
Homecoming Queen

Voting for the Homecoming Queen and her two attendants took place as scheduled on Tuesday, October 15 in Totem Inn, but the ballots were put under lock and key and the winners will not be announced until the Parents Day issue of the JUNIATIAN.

Someone suggested that a Miss Asian Flu be elected to be crowned during the half time activities of Saturday's big pinochle game. The queen would be presented a gold plated therometer and would reign from her infirmary bed bedecked with colored Baywipes.

Wednesday, October 16 was designated as General Campus Rack n' Read Day and JCers profited by the cancellation of classes to catch up on sleep and other activities. Illnesses declined and collegians began looking forward to tomorrow evening's not-quite-Homecoming dance.

The campus situation is expected to pick up from now on and Juniatians are asked to remember that "...you're only as sick as you feel. Or was that the wrong thing to say?"



Bell — Davis

"NICE GOING BUDDY"—Bob Schwalenberg and Tony Mont congratulate each other on passing the 102° mark, a prime requisite for entrance into the new infirmary. The two were among many JCers who were stricken by flu last week.

Frosh Wear Regs Until Parents Day

Frosh must wear their regulation dinks, namecards, socks and ties until Parents Day, November 2, when the delayed Homecoming activities will take place.

The Freshman initiation as voted by the sophomore class, will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium Thursday evening, October 31. The plans for freshman initiation will follow pretty closely those arranged for this weekend.

During halftime of the Parents Day-Homecoming game football fans will be entertained by the freshman-sophomore tug of war. Because of illness the contest will take place on College Field rather than over the creek as is customary.

Freshman dress regulations and activities for Parents Day weekend will be announced at a later date.

Taylor Company Gets 58 Alfarata Contract

Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas Texas will again have the contract for the publishing of Juniata's yearbook, according to Ross Nahrgang, editor-in-chief.

The staff has already begun working on the layout of The Alfarata's pages. Individual pictures of the juniors and seniors will be taken Monday, October 21.

Members of the staff are: editor-in-chief, Nahrgang; business manager, Sam Shore; literary editor, Barb Smathers; sports editor, Chuck Brown; photography editor, Pete Fahrney; art editor, Bill Cohen; caption editor, Betty Jane Bowman. club editor, Carole Miller; class editors, Ann Larkin and Jacque Rhodes and typing editor, Nina Fredenburgh.

Group To Discuss Proctor Service

Senate members and the academic policy committee this afternoon will consider details of the proposed student-proctor service.

Approved by the Faculty Monday, the proposal calls for student proctors during hour exams and finals. The Senate has chosen a list of possible upperclassmen to be asked to particiapte in the program.

The plan was hailed by the Senate as "an important step toward furthering student responsibility and maturity, ... possibly an opening wedge to induce the students to accept an honor system."

Collasped Lungs Bring Death To Juniata's Howard Specht

Juniata's campus was saddened last week by the death of Howard Specht, sophomore, who was found dead in his room in Saylor House Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Specht, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Specht of Millvale, was a reserve guard on the Indian football squad. His death, according to Dr. Harry McCormick, pathologist at J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital, was caused by "acute enlargement of the heart due to the collapse of both lungs."

● Howard Specht ●
Died Saturday Evening

The pathologist reported that Specht's death was not related to his recent attack of flu, which has plagued the campus for two weeks. The lung collapse was due to a sudden rupture of the surface of the lungs, "either because of congenital or unknown couses."

Specht was admitted to the college infirmary Wednesday, October 9 and released at noon on Saturday. He talked with his parents on the phone Saturday afternoon and arranged with them to attend Homecoming Day.

Pat Connor, sophomore, went into Specht's room about 7:30 p.m. and found him on the floor. A nurse and college officials were summoned at once and Specht was rushed to the hospital in the Huntingdon firemen's ambulance.

Attempts at resuscitation at Saylor House and the hospital failed and it is considered doubtful if medical help could have saved him due to the unusual nature of the attack.

Funeral services were held at the Pfeifer funeral home in Millvale on Wednesday, October 16. The six Juniatians who served as pallbearers were Bill Schott, Bernie McQuown, Chuck Seitz, Pat Connor, Bob Lesnick and Pete McCauley.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The notice that Lycoming could not play Juniata tomorrow came as a blow to Indian fans.

The contest should have been our game of the year. Lycoming has a powerful, unbeaten team plus the added distinction of snapping our 25-game winning streak last year in Williamsport The Indians would like to extend their present score to seven.

The game should be played if at all possible. The team has waited one year for revenge and does not want to be denied it unless the possibility involves too many difficulties. The Juniata-Lycoming game has built such intense interest that it seems a shame if it cannot be played.

* * * *

Horseshoe facilities, available behind Cloisters, are very popular at this time of year. Word has it that the boys in the ranch will take on all comers—and beat them.

* * * *

This isn't the best time to complain with all the confusion that exists on campus but I would like to see the library receive the Pittsburgh Post Gazette. The PG has always been widely read on campus and should therefore be available in our library, especially in the interest of sports fans from that area.

Predictions — Drexel loses its fourth straight to West Chester, Moravian bounces back against PMC, Westminster gets 25th straight over Geneva, Ursinus takes third straight against Wilkes and Gettysburg will keep Albright winless.

So far 15 right—2 wrong.

Harriers Open Season Tomorrow; Four Lettermen Again Running

The Juniata cross-country team will open its season against Muhlenburg tomorrow afternoon during the football game here on College Hill.

Bolstered by four returning lettermen this year's harriers will attempt to better last season's 3-1 slate. It will mark the second season that the sport has been included in the Juniata intercollegiate athletic program.

The returning lettermen are captain Herb Deuchar and Chuck Brown, juniors, and Frank Hrack and Jim Pettit, sophomores.

Coach Mike Snider has been working a crew of two upperclassmen and three freshmen in preparation for the first and only home meet. The upperclassmen are senior Joe Senft and junior Bill Lafe. The three freshmen are Don Layman,, Chalmer Dilling and Alan King.

The team has been prepped over the regular 4¼ mile course and on several other shorter courses that have been laid for workout purposes.

After tomorrow's meet the Blue and Gold harriers will meet with Dickinson October 23, Franklin and Marshall October 30, Elizabethtown November 8 Albright November 16 all of which will be away. The Middle Atlantic Championships will meet November 23 in Philadelphia.

KSTC's Team To Substitute For Lycoming

Kutztown State Teachers College has accepted an invitation to replace Lycoming on our football schedule tomorrow afternoon.

The Teachers had an open date this weekend and volunteered to play in this emergency situation. There are no plans to meet Kutztown on future schedules.

Kutztown has an impressive record to date. After dropping their opener to Kings 6-0, they defeated Cheyney STC 25-6 and Millersville STC 19-7.

Lycoming previously notified college officials that they would be unable to play tomorrow. Lycoming has been hit by flu to such an extent that classes are closed until Wednesday. Thus all activities have been postponed or cancelled.

Bethany Lectures To Feature Mays

Dean Morley Mays has been invited to give a series of lectures on philosophy at Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago October 28 to November 1.

Each year, Bethany selects an outstanding churchman or educator for the E. B. Hoff Lectureship, according to Dr. Paul Robinson, president of the Seminary for the Church of the Brethren.

The Hoff lectures are planned to cover the various interests of theological education.

The series started in 1942 and has brought to the Bethany campus outstanding speakers, Dr. Robinson stated. The late Dr. C. C. Ellis of Juniata presented the series in 1948.

Champ Collegians, Barons In Front In Touch Football

The defending champion Collegians and the Barons moved in front of the IM race after two weeks of play.

The Collegians crushed the Ball Busters 26-6 and nipped the Crazy Eight 12-6 in a brusing contest. Ernie Richardson provided the winning margin by blocking a punt and carrying the ball into the end zone.

In the other top game, the Barons eked out a win over the highly regarded Tribe 9-6. George Lingenfelter hit Ed Beers for the winning touchdown.

Other scores—Ball Busters 39, Falcons 25; Crazy Eights 12, Six Freshmen 0 and the Vets 21, Falcons 6.

Standings	W	L
Collegians	3	0
Barons	3	0
Crazy Eights	3	1
Ball Busters	2	1
Sherwood Tribe	2	1
Vets	1	1
Ubangies	1	2
Thompsontown VFW	0	2
Six Freshmen	0	3
Falcons	0	4

WESTBROOK'S SHOES
515 Washington St.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

SHOP
THE RAY ENGLISH
STORE
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone 2082

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

Men
STREECHEE
SOX 49c Pair
G. C. MURPHY CO.

FRED B. BAYER
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Bernie Predicts
Flu or No Flu
If You're Going To Get Anything—Get Kutztown
And If You're Getting
Jewelry — Go To
Swartz Jewelry
(next to Clifton)

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

HARRIS CLIFTON
FRIDAY & SATURDAY

MONDAY & TUESDAY
It Will Shock You
Out Of Your Seat
A Hatful Of Rain
CinemaScope Starring
Eva Marie Saint
Don Murray
Lloyd Nolan
Anthony Franciosi
See It From The Start
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Sal Mineo, James Whitmore, J. Carrol Naish in The Young Don't Cry
Cornel Wilde, Donna Reed, Leo Genn in Beyond Mombasa

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 6 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, October 25, 1957

Judiciary Finds Schaum, Conley Not Guilty At First Open Court

Dick Schaum and Don "Killer" Conley were found not guilty following the first open meeting in the history of the Campus Judiciary, during which they were charged with being the "ring leaders" of Monday night's panty raid on East Hall.

A letter stating the referral, submitted by Dean Paul Heberling, opened the trial Wednesday evening before nearly 150 students crowded into Founders Chapel. Dean Heberling reportedly chose the two names from a list of all those recognized at the raid by one of the prosecution's witnesses, Senate president Del McQuaide.

Nurse Barb Over, second witness for tht prosecution, told the Campus Judiciary that she did not see Conley in East Hall as it had been rumored. Chairman of women's house Janice Gilroy, a member of the judiciary, witnessed that she heard Schaum's voice above the others but that she did not see him.

In Class When Planned

Conley told the court that he was in class at the time the raid was said to have been planned and that he was in the Cloister when it occured.

Schaum admitted that he was among those in the mob that rushed on East Hall but denied that he was a "ring leader." Both defendants introduced numerous witnesses.

Dean Barbara Bechtell served as chairman of the trial substituting for McQuaide who by virtue of his Senate preesidency, is the court's chairman. McQuaide did not have to surrender the chair according to the judiciary constitution, but chose to do so since he was a witness.

Closed Session

Prior to the open session the Judiciary considered a third case at a closed hearing that resulted from Monday evening's activities. The defendant charged with threatening fellow students with a deadly weapon. Because the session was closed, details cannot be released.

Campus Judiciary Discusses Policy At Initial Meeting

One of the primary goals of Juniata's Campus Judiciary this year will be to make it a student court, it was decided at the first business meeting Monday evening.

The Judiciary's main weakness last year was that every referral except one came from the administration. Members stated that Juniatians must realize the Judiciary is a student organization and therefore assume the responsibilities that go with having such a campus body.

Among other Judiciary business, chairman Del McQuaide suggested that in future years a more complete program of orienting freshmen to the Campus Judiciary be planned. To implement the program this year a mock trial preceded by a brief explanatory statement will be held in freshmen assembly Monday. Aliceann Wohlbruck was appointed to investigate the possibility of having printed pamphlets of the constitution.

McQuaide read a letter from President Ellis stating that he and the board of trustees realize that the Judiciary has full authority over infractions of Juniata's drinking rules. However, the Judiciary must uphold college policy in this area, he stated. Cases will be decided on individual merit, not on set regulations concerning drinking violations.

A recommendation from the Ogre Committee asking that the Judiciary take strong action against ungentlemanly-like behavior in the dining hall was read and accepted.

Upon Dean Heberling's request the Judiciary decided to take jurisdiction over all cases concerning violations of JC's

See JUDICIARY, P. 4

Witches' Whirl In Gym

A Witches' Whirl, complete with the Hallowe'en spirit, will be held in the Womens Gym tomorrow evening.

Ginny Nixdorf, chairman of social activities, announced there will be dancing to records from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Bruce Bennett

OFF TO THE BARBERSHOP — A freshman victim is carted off to the North Dorm clipping service last Monday night by a group of upperclassmen. During the evening's 'activities' the frosh paid heavily for their refusal to wear regulations until Parents Day.

'This Way Heaven' Cast, Staff Readying For Performance Next Week, TV Show

Bruce Bennett

POLISHING SCENES — Director Pete Wright gives advice to four cast members of This Way Heaven during a rehearsal on set. From left to right are Don Miller, Alan; Barb Orner, Kathy; Bob Reader, Mr. Masterson; Millie Mandeville, Mrs. Masterson and Pete Wright, director.

New Guidance Service Open To Students Starting Monday

Dr. William Hambacher, professor of psychology, announced last week that a vocational, personal and pre-marital guidance service will go into effect on JC's campus Monday.

The schedule for guidance advisers is as follows: Dean Bechtell, Mondays and Fridays, Dr. Hambacher, Tuesdays, Dr. Henry, Wednesdays and Dean Heberling, Thursdays. The hours are from 2 to 4 p.m. Dr. Hambacher emphasized the fact that all conferences will be kept strictly confidential.

In addition to Dr. Hambacher, the staff includes Dean Bechtell, Dean Heberling and Dr. Henry, professor of sociology. Each of the members of the guidance service will be available one after-

See STUDENTS. P. 4

Post-Flu Fever Rises; JC Men Storm Dorm

by Carol Baish

Sore throats,, hacking coughs, headaches and sneezes were forgotten last Monday night as a different kind of fever struck the campus and East Hall became JC's equivalent of the French Bastille.

Plots, counter plots and possibly even a few counter counterplots which had been brewing all day finally culminated in a giant fiasco in which no one knew what anyone else was doing. It was probably the first time mass confusion was described as "really swingin."

Among the freshman fellows, the Yul Brunner look became a fad, and for a while it looked as if the girls would follow suit. However, four days have passed and the freshman girls still have most of their hair. (You didn't really believe that Nair shampoo story ! ? ??)

The trick or treat movement later in the evening brought on a case of amnesia in one sophomore who somehow found herself madly pounding on a locked door trying to think of her roommate's name.

At least one Juniata woman didn't panic. In the midst of it all a note of calm was sounded with the words, "Does anyone have any dry cleaning?"

Next Week In Chapel

Oct. 28—President Ellis
30—The Rev. Joseph Lister, Huntingdon Baptist Church
Nov. 1—Dr. Ethel Alpenfels, anthropologist, NY University School of Education

WJC Remodeling Studio, Equipment

WJC's staff has been redecorating the studio and making technical improvements with the intention of operating this week on a fully organized schedule.

Last week, due to illness on campus, the programs were erratic and informal and the station in a general state of disrepair. Now staff members are painting the walls, putting in new soundproofing and hope eventually to hang drapees.

Head engineers Ed Brockway and Bill Holsinger have installed a pre-ampliphier which will improve the voice quality to equal that of the music.

This year WJC includes several new programs. Among them are Gini Nixdorf's Totem Pole, which highlights JC's social events; Campus Varieties, which brings student talent to the microphones; Bill Ebner's sports roundup and Chuck Brown's interviews with campus personalities. There is also a full schedule of diversified music.

The station's record collection is expanding at the rate of six or seven records a week and attempts are being made to secure contracts with Columbia and RCA Victor.

WJC will continue to operate milk machines in the dorms and sell peanuts at football games, their goal this year being to end up in the black.

New Electronic Organ To Accompany Songs

A week of run-through rehearsals, a television performance and a typical last-minute deluge of things to be done face the cast and production staff of This Way Heaven.

In preparation for next Friday night's presentation, the This Way Heaven cast will undergo intensified rehearsal beginning Monday night, director Pete Wright reports.

Besides next week-end's performances Wright will present a half-hour show on WFBG-TV Monday at 9 a. m. based on the musicale, using several of its songs.

Members of the cast who will participate include Barb Orner, Don Miller, Jacque Rowland, Terry Fouse, Anna Mary Smith, Peggy Chidester and Sharon Brammer. George Fattman will assist with announcing and interviewing in the program.

The program is being presented in the college's bi-weekly series for WFBG-TV entitled Horizons.

Racing Against Time

The production staffs of This Way Heaven are racing against time to ready sets, props and lighting. The musicale requires seven sets; there are 19 scenes.

A new electronic organ has been procured to provide accompaniment during the musicale along with piano and string bass. Director Wright himself will play piano, with Alice Adams at the organ and Carl Lindsay on string bass.

Limited Seats Saturday

Because of the anticipated crowd of parents and alumni at the Saturday evening performance, students are urged to attend Friday night, according to the musicale's production staff. In fact, only a limited number of tickets for Juniata students will be available for the Saturday night performance.

Students may pick up tickets at the information window by presenting their ID cards.

Johnson To Present Organ Recital Sunday

Professor Donald Johnson will play compositions by eight well known composers at his 14th annual organ recital Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in Oller Hall.

For the past 13 years Johnson has been chairman of the JC music department, college organist and director of the touring choir. He is also presently serving as minister of music at the First Methodist Church of Huntingdon where he trains three choirs and plays the organ.

A graduate of New York University, Johnson has his bachelor's and master's degrees. He has also studied at Bush Conservatory in Chicago, Christiansen Choral School in Chambersburg and Julliard School of Music in New York City. This summer he attended Union Theological Seminary School of Sacred Music in New York City.

Sunday's recital will include John Dunstable's Agincourt Hymn, Johann Pachelbel's Toccata in E Minor, Johann Sebastian Bach's Passacaglia and Fugue in C Minor, Robert Schumann's Two Sketches, Cesar Franck's Cantabile, Eric de Lamarter's Suite for Organ, Myron Roberts' Carillon and Jean Langlais' Dialog on the Mixture Stops.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernding, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 6 — Friday, October 25, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

A Chance At Lycoming

EVERYBODY wants another game with Lycoming. Well, almost everybody.

Petitions have been circulating and students enthusiastically signing them, exclaiming vocally something like "Boy, I sure hope we get a chance to play them."

From what we hear, Lycoming is just as eager for a rematch. As for the time of the game, Wednesday afternoon, November 23 and Thursday morning, November 24 have been suggested. But Juniatians don't care so much when it is — they just want a chance to avenge last year's upset.

* * * *

We can only add our hope that the voice of the student body will be heard where it counts and that the game is rescheduled. The team and the student body deserve an opportunity to show Lycoming what the Big White can do.

Segregation? Here?

The Administration's ruling that men and women in East Hall's make-shift infirmary could not visit one another was an unexpected slap at Juniatians' sense of decency .

The Administration cannot be blamed for this rather questionable move as parents and others off campus, who cannot appreciate the situation, insisted that the men be segregated from the women.

Those who think that the infirmary was the scene of anything in poor taste should be assured herewith that that was not the case. Moreover, those who were not in the infirmary area to observe the situation are hardly able to judge the conduct of its patients.

The fellowship that once was available in the infirmary helped greatly to brighten the dull days of illness spent there. It no doubt helped speed recovery as well.

Someone commented the other day during a discussion of the matter, "I wonder if I'll be that way when I get older." Well, we aren't "that way" now.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Movie Of The Week: An Affair To Remember

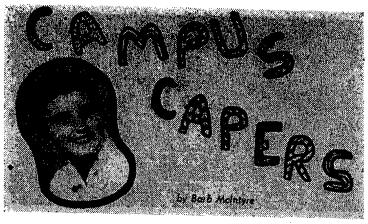
CARY GRANT and Deborah Kerr make an attractive screen team as this scene from Leo McCarey's An Affair to Remember Monday, Tlesday, Wednesday at the Harris Clifton Theatre.



Shaving cream, barber shears, peroxide, mile runs, broad jumps and bruises were very much in vogue at the sophomore - freshman revolution which began with the cannon blast Monday evening about 7:15 p.m. Sound rumors indicate that the class of 1960 emerged as the victors.

* * * *

With a majority of the socially elite clowns in the college infirmary last week (my roommate being among the chosen hundred) "mucho" capers were flying fast and furious. If a certain chic female doesn't speak to you these days it isn't necessarily that she loesn't want to. I would rather believe,, however, that she doesn't see you. It seems that one dark evening the nurse casually inserted nose drops into the girl's fair blue eyes and uttered, "Sniff, dear!"

* * * *

Also, it was rumored that there were many hangovers due to the potent cough medicine. Many Juniatians entered the infirmary with little knowledge of the art of card playing and emerged as card sharks. You can imagine the expression on some of the upperclassmen faces when a freshman girl earnestly asked why they weren't holding the cards in two hands since they were playing two handed pinochle.

* * * *

Tomorrow afternoon our football team will encounter Westminster on College Field. Last week their 25 game winning streak was broken at the hands of Geneva college. Let's really cheer the guys on to another victory tomorrow.

* * * *

Sayings around campus — — — —

"I'm in pretty good shape for the condition I'm in!" . . . . . "Let's just do nothing together" . . . . Prof's statement . . . "Not too many years ago at Juniata there was no dancing or card playing allowed. You probably wonder what there was to do." At this conjecture the class went into convulsive laughter. The prof, not really amazed at the reaction, calmly continued, "No, I guess you don't wonder. . . . . " Have you heard that three members of the class of '60 are receiving fruit and soup money from home to combat the flu? Some line they must have . . . .

* * * *

Some very collegiate remarks are being uttered about the appearance of the Klu Klux Klan outsire so I must join the crowd at the window.

Sputnik And Russian Science

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

Sputnik is still very much in the news. But no longer are people in the U.S. just interested in tracking the satellite's course as it travels around the earth. The concern is now of a more serious nature. Most Americans are worried about the success of the Russian scientific advances. Yet they have not panicked. there appears to be a calm and reasoned attitude developing. The majority of Americans favor a "crash" program to catch the Russians. It is felt that an all-out eflort is going to be necessary if we are to regain our dominant position., So strong is this feeling that according to Newsweek the American people are willing to pass up a tax cut and even allow the national debt to be raised beyond its present limit.

Another angle to this is President Eisenhower's popularity. I think there can be little doubt that his popularity will be further undermined by those who charge that he is not a man of action. While I do not believe this to be a just criticism, it will probably give the Democrats more ammunition for the coming political wars.

MIDDLE EAST — Russian imperialism raised its head upon the heels of the Sputnik propaganda which had given the Western governments a bad case of jitters. Russian charges that Turkey planned to invade Soviet dominated Syria were obviously planned to come at a time when Washington and London would be confused and nervous because of Sputnik. Perhaps the Soviet leaders felt that they could gain infiltration into the West's grip on the Middle East by default. The West would back down and the Soviets could make successful demands upon Turkey.

Such was not the case however. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it quite clear that the U.S. was ready to defend Turkey even if it meant going to war with the Soviet Union. Furthermore, there is little chance that Turkey would attack Syria because of her NATO committments. Dulles is to be commended for laying it on the line to the Russians. The U.S. must grow up to a realistic understanding of power politics, and that sometimes means even going to war to defend your interest.

Meeting Of Entire Juniatian Staff At 1:15 Today In Room G — Be There

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The Senate petition rescheduling the Lycoming game for the Wednesday that school closes before Thanksgiving brought a favorable response from students.

Our football team as well as Lycoming's indicate they would like to play the game this year. It looks as if the stumbling block rests with our Administration.

According to reports, which may or may not be true, the Administration is opposed. If so I think that the Administration should make an official announcement to the students stating their reasons. A Juniata—Lycoming football game has generated too much interest to let it be cancelled without a fight.

* * * *

Don Layman set a course record in the Muhlenberg cross country meet last Saturday. This is only our second cross country season yet the record is impressive as Layman is a freshman and was running his first collegiate performance.

Dick Clapp of F&M, one of the Middle Atlantic best last season, held the record previously.

Don Layman is the brother of Herb Layman—JC's best harrier as a senior last season.

* * * *

The hope that Juniata would break the long Westminster win streak ended last Saturday when Geneva turned the trick 34-12. Larry Zeh, brother of Juniata's George Zeh, tallied a touchdown for Geneva as the Titans lost their first in 25 straight games.

Westminster will be rearing for a comeback led by captain Bernie Reilly on college field tomorrow. According to the Westminster school newspaper the Indians should not be tough. We will see just how tough the Indians are when Mr. Reilly and company go home with their second straight defeat.

* * * *

Other Predictions—(Return to normal after upset week)—
PMC gets fifth straight win over Drexel, Moravian gets first win against Lebanon Valley, Lycoming will stay unbeaten taking Wilkes, Albright stays winless against F&M and Swarthmore will take Ursinus.
So far— 18 right and 5 wrong.

Powerful Westminster Here Tomorrow

Bell — Davis

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM — Coach Mike Snider's harriers are looking forward to their second successful season of varsity competition. Don Layman, freshman from Somerset, led the team in the opener against Muhlenberg establishing a new record for the course. Front row: Gaylen Heckman, Chalmer Dillon, and Frank Hrach. Back row: Don Layman, Jim Petit, Herb Deuchar and Chuck Brown.

Tribe Blasts Visiting Teachers To Take 7th Straight, 46-0

The undefeated Juniata College football team rolled to a 46-0 victory over Kutztown State Teachers College last Saturday afternoon.

It was the second straight for the home eleven and thus the Indians extended their current win as they streak to seven.

Kutztown STC, whose record is now two and two, replaced Lycoming College on the Juniata schedule when the flu epidemic hit the Lycoming campus.

Displaying a sharp passing attack with a bruising ground offensive, the Indians completely outclassed the visiting Teachers.

Schwalenberg

Nine different players contributed to the scoring with sophomore quarterback Bob Schwalenberg pacing the Tribe as he tossed two scoring passes and ran for another.

Juniata, off to a slow start in the first period, scored after an exchange of punts. The scoring play was a 23 yard aerial to end Ken Opipery from field general Schwalenberg.

The Indians broke the game wide open in the second quarter scoring four touchdowns. The Blue team began the scoring parade on the first play on Joe Sopata's one yard plunge and Bill Berrier's extra point. Five plays later Jim Berrier raced 44 yards on a reverse to score.

At this point Coach Ken Bunn employed his Gold team, who also scored two TD's in this period. Freshman quarterback Dave Goodling tossed a paydirt pass covering 56 yards to Jerry Zack and Stan Walasik tallied on a five yard run. Goodling converted one placement to make the halftime score 32-0.

As soon as Juniata gained possession in the third period, Schwalenberg tossed to end Harold Krause from the 29 for the sixth Juniata TD. Bill Berrier booted the extra point.

Juniata launched their final scoring drive in the same period when Schwelenberg carried the pigskin into the end zone on a roll out to his left from the visitor's nine. Bill Berrier's third placement was good to make the final score 46-0.

Titans Will Be Out To Avenge Loss Which Halted Streak Last Week

Tomorrow the Juniata Indians play host to the Titans of Westminster in one of the nation's small college fooball classics.

Both teams sport impressive records. The Titans claim a 37 win, four loss, one tie slate since 1952, while the Tribe's log shows a 37-3-1 tally.

Westminster has registered victories over Thiel, Waynesburg and Bethany this year while being upset by Geneva 34-12 last week. The Geneva loss ended the impressive 24 game undefeated streak which the Titans began three years ago.

The New Wilmington squad has lost 13 lettermen from last year's team which was perhaps the finest in the school's history. The most serious losses were Little All-American backs Harold Davis and Bill White and several outstanding linemen including end Vince Cortese, guard Bill Morrill, and center Bill Freshwater.

Reilly, James

However the Titans show good balance this season with veterans at almost every position and field. The only returning regulars are co-captains Bernie Reilly, rugged 200 pound senior tackle, and George James, speedy junior halfback.

Other lettermen who saw starting roles on last years club are Al King, senior guard, and junior halfback Jack Barnes. Coach Harold Burry will also be relying on linemen Ray Leech, Glenn Smith and Angelo Robertucci, and backs Jim McCreedy, Syl Mielt and John Martin, all of whom won their varsity "W" last season.

175 pound sophomore Jack Bestwick will fill the shoes of last years great quarterback Davis. Although short on experience, Bestwick has operated well under fire this year and should spark the Westminster passing attack.

Last season the Titans were ranked 15th in the East by the Dunkle Power Index rating and were given consideration for the first annual Aluminum Bowl football game sponsored by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Harrier's Take Opener Over Muhlenberg As Layman Breaks Mark

Led by freshman Don Layman's record shattering performance, JC's cross-country team successfully opened the 1957 season by defeating the Muhlenberg harriers, 21-35.

Layman was clocked in 24:37. This broke the record that was previously held by F&M's Dick Clapp last fall.

Following Layman were Juniata's Herb Deuchar and Frank Hrach both timed in 24:54. The placing of these three men across the finish line before the first Muhlenberg harrier wrapped up the victory for JC.

Ron Dungan, the Mules first finisher, completed the course over two minutes after the winning time.

Last Wednesday's meet with Dickinson was cancelled due to an outbreak of flu on the Carlisle campus. Today the Indian harriers will run a handicap race over the Juniata course.

Following is the order of finish and the times for the first ten places:

Layman (J) 24:37; Deuchar (J) 25:54; Hrach (J) 25:54; Dungan (M) 26:44; Ed Thieler (M) 27:30; Pierce Knause (M) 27:30; Skeets Dilling (J) 27:43; Jim Pettit (J) 28:08; John Carty (M) 23:24; Chuck Brown (J) 28:45.

TOUCH FOOTBALL TOURNEY

A double elimination tournament has been set up to determine an intramural touch football champion. The remainder of the scheduled games will not be played due to the fact that several teams have been forced to drop out of the league.

CHEERLEADERS: The spirit behind the football team is being ably kept up by the cheerleaders, mascot, and tumblers. The mascot is a new addition this year and portrays the Juniata Indian complete with feathers, musket and powder. Front row: Tumbler Charlie Longenecker. Middle row: mascot Carey Shaner. Bark row: Cheerleaders Mary Taylor, Judy Knepp,Carol Beard, Jill Muir, Janice Gilroy, Nancy Hess, Beverley Cline and Jean Davies.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

Unusual Costume Jewelry
Varied Gift Line
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Men
STREECHEE
SOX 49c Pair
G. C. MURPHY CO.

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP
For Your Favorite Portable

RCA VICTOR 45 PLAYER	$ 42.95
RCA VICTOR 2 - SPEED PLAYER	$ 49.95
RCA VICTOR 45 - HI FI	$ 69.95
RCA VICTOR 4 - SPEED HI FI	$129.95
RCA 3 - WAY PORTABLE RADIO	$ 29.95
RCA 14" PORTABLE TV SET	$129.95

Miller Hardware Co.

Bernie Predicts
JC — 27
Westminster — 7
Westminster loses again . . .
this "chime" to JC
More JC Folks Shop At
Swartz Jewelry
Next To Clifton Theatre

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

WESTBROOK'S SHOES
515 Washington St.

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Sweater Clips
Two Clips To Hold Sweater Around Shoulders - Always Neat - Prevents Loss $1.00
Dank's & Co.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY

MON. — TUE. — WED.

COLOR by DE LUXE
Thursday Only — 2 Features
20 Million Miles To Earth and The 27th Day
SOON PAJAMA GAME
PRIOR & THE PASSION

Hettinger Relates Freshmen Opinion

by Sarah Hettinger, Librarian

Requests for service from freshmen are neither surprising nor unusual but are a strengthening of the demands of the entire student body for library space, books and conditions of study.

When the class had their orientation group discussions and were asked what services they thought would make the library better, 45 percent listed "more peace and quiet" in the freshmen reading room. This is more desired by the library administration than by the students, but since it is the members of the freshman class who make the noise it is also the duty of each individual in that class to help keep a quiet and serene atmosphere.

Granted that it is very difficult for 60 or 70 persons to keep quiet in space large enough for only 40 people, but it certainly isn't impossible. With each person adjusting his "mute" work would progress more speedily and nerves would have less fringes at the end of the evening.

Check out time was another of the minor annoyances, but if check out time was made earlier it would lessen the use of text books. Longer hours were suggested, but if we did rush the desk attendants through lunch and restore the 5 to 5:30 p. m. time, it would please perhaps ten or twelve people and inconvenience almost as many.

A cheerful note can be sounded when we consider the inter-library loan system suggested by one young lady. This is already in use, and JC's library can get books from any of the public or college libraries all over the nation. This time we can say, "We do that already."

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Davis Gives Results Of Membership Drive

Four hundred Juniatians joined JCA as a result of the organization's recent membership drive.

Approximately one third of the members filled out new activities sheets signifying their desire to help out with one or more of JCA's yearly activities. It is hoped that this information will provide an opportunity for more students to become actively involved in the work of the organization.

Nov. 6 New Date Set For JWSF Drive

Ross Nahrgang, chairman of JWSF, has announced that the drive will begin Wednesday, November 6.

JWSF's freshman queen, who was elected two weeks ago, will be crowned at the Witches Whirl tomorrow night by last year's Ugly Man, "Killer" Conley. The delay in JWSF activities, which were scheduled to begin October 12, was caused by the recent flu epidemic.

Judiciary Holds Business Meeting

Continued from page 1

automobile regulations. A committee consisting of Janice Gilroy, Dean Heberling, Carl Wass and Del McQuaide was formed to set up a standard procedure to deal with offences in this area. The Judiciary plans to be more strict about the rules which in the past have been disregarded and loosely enforced.

Motel 22
For Reservations
Phone Mount Union 9191

Students To Get Guidance Service

Continued from page 1

noon per week in the Dean of Men's office in Students Hall.

The plan calls for one conference a week during which the members of the guidance service will meet to discuss various student problems. Referrals to the guidance service may come from the student, the various deans or members of the faculty or administration, and appointments for guidance will be made through the secretary of the Dean of Men.

Dr. Hambacher stressed that "the formalized guidance service does in no way interfere with present guidance by deans or faculty members." The primary aim of the service is "to supplement guidance already existing at Juniata."

Fees will be limited to the cost of materials used in the guidance procedure. Generally, fees will be charged only for vocational guidance since it is in this area that tests and other materials are required.

Three JCA Programs To Focus On Religions

Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities, has outlined a series of JCA programs to examine three of the less understood religious groups on the campus.

During the series, which will begin next Tuesday, various student groups will take charge of JCA meetings to present explanations of their church organizations. The October 29 meeting will feature Brethren students, and in the following two weeks the IVCF and the Catholic students will present similar programs encouraging an understanding of their theologies and manners of worship.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY
Of Two Minds
On the one hand, you have Thirsty G. Smith. Good taste to him means zest and zip in a beverage, sparkle and lift and all like that . . . On the other hand, T. Gourmet Smythe perceives good taste as the right, fit and proper refreshment for a Discriminating Coterie. So? . . . Have it both ways! Coca-Cola . . . so good in taste, in such good taste. Et vous?
Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
COCA - COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 7 — Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. — Friday, November 1, 1957

Juniatian Gets Highest Rating In ACP Survey

Once again the JUNIATIAN has received the highest rating given the nations college newspapers by the University of Minnesota's Associated Collegiate Press.

All- American was the rating given the campus weekly and two other college newspapers in its class (schools having an enrollment of 750 or less). Thirty-five of the 390 schools entering the competition are in the same category as Juniata.

All copies published during the spring semester had been submitted. They were rated by Duane Andrews, formerly staff member of the Minneapolis Tribune, now assistant director of public relations at Minneapolis Honeywell Co.

In 13 of 23 areas in which the JUNIATIAN was rated it was given a score of from 10 to 25 points higher than the highest possible score listed in the rating book. In each of the areas the judge is permitted to rate a newspaper higher than the highest number of points listed if he feels that is is superior in that area.

George Fattman was editor during the spring term; Barb Walls was managing editor; Carol Baish, news editor. Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Chuck Brown, sports editor; George Carnahan, business manager; Don Miller, ad manager, and Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager.

Rowland, Larkin, Meadows Will Reign

Pete Fahrney

● Jacque Rowland ● Striking

Marcocci To Crown Homecoming Queen At Football Intermission

This weekend's traditional spirit of hospitality will be personified tomorrow with the coronation of lovely Jacque Rowland, Juniata's 1957 Homecoming Queen.

Miss Rowland's attendants are Ann Larkin and Bonnie Meadows. The three were elected October 15 from ten nominees chosen by the male editors and business personnel of the JUNIATIAN.

The personable Miss Rowland is noted for her talents as a singer and will appear tonight and tomorrow night as Julie Jameson, one of the lead roles in This Way Heaven. She is also a member of JC's touring choir and serves as its secretary.

This year's Miss Homecoming, an elementary education major from Hanover, was an attendant in last year's Homecoming and also appeared in the May Day Court. She serves as vice president of the FTA and is a member of JCA, JBSF and the Masque.

Homecoming Attendants

Runners-up in the election are Miss Larkin, a charming brunette and Miss Meadows, a tall, attractive blonde. Both girls are members of the junior class.

Miss Larkin, a home economics major from Pittsburgh, has been a May Day attendant the last two years. She is a member of the Campus Judiciary, the social committee, the Alfarata, Lambda Gamma and the WAA.

Miss Meadows is an elementary education major from Hollidaysburg. Her activities include All Class Night, FTA, WAA, JCA, and she will be seen in the chorus of This Way Heaven.

Coronation Ceremony

Formal coronation ceremonies will take place during half time of the Juniata-Wilkes game tomorrow when a Cadillac and three MG's will circle the field carrying the queen, her attendants and Phyl Marcocci, last year's Homecoming Queen. While "Killer" Conley emcees from the press box, Miss Rowland will be crowned by Miss Marcocci.

In honor of the "royalty" and the parents and alumni, the class of '61 will provide another traditional highlight of the day's activities. Bedecked in feathers and war paint and led by Big White's Indian mascot, the frosh will perform a spirited Indian dance.

● Bonnie Meadows ● Attractive

Pete Fahrney

● Ann Larkin ● Charming

Open House, Lunch, Game To Highlight '57 Parents Day

A full schedule of activities for parents and alumni has been planned for this weekend's combination of Homecoming and Parents Day.

Upon their arrival at the campus, parents will register at the desk in the Social Rooms in Brumbaugh Hall anl pick up their complimentary tickets for the luncheon, while alumni will gather in Founders Chapel.

The Parents Day committee of students and faculty, under the chairmanship of William Engel and Harold Brumbaugh, has scheduled a meeting of DAJUMOS, the parents organization, at 10 a.m. Saturday in Oller Hall. One of the highlights of the day will be the service of dedication for the new women's dormitory at 11 a.m. in Oller Hall.

From 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. a buffet luncheon will be served in Oneida Hall to which parents and alumni are invited as guests of the college. Friends and other members of the family are also welcome, but for them there is a charge of $1.

Immediately following the football game with Wilkes College, which will start at 1:30 p.m., guests will have the opportunity to meet members of the faculty in the new women's residence hall. Cider and doughnuts will be served.

At 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday the college musical, This Way Heaven, will be presented in Oller Hall.

Alumni activities will begin Friday night at 8 p.m. in Carnegie Library with a meeting of the executive committee of the National Alumni Association. Films of Juniata will be shown.

The general Alumni Council meeting will be held in the lib-

See PARENTS, p. 4

Saturday's Agenda

Welcome Reception _____ 9 a.m. — 1 p.m.
Parents in Social Rooms
Alumni in Founders Chapel

Freshmen-sophomore Games _____ 9:30 a.m.
Athletic Field

Alumni Council Sub-committee Meeting _____ 9:45 a.m.
Carnegie Library

Open House ___ 10 a.m. — 12 noon
All Residence Halls

Dajumo Meeting _____ 10 a.m.
Oller Hall

Dedication of East Hall ___ 11 a.m.
Oller Hall

Buffet Luncheon _____ 11:30 a.m. — 1p.m.
Oneida Hall

Football
Juniata vs Wilkes _____ 1:30 p.m.
College Field

Post-game Refreshments _____ 4 p.m.
East Hall

Open House _____ 4-5 p.m.
All Residence Halls

College Musical _____ 8:15 p.m.
Oller Hall

Administration Asks Direct Senate Action On Recent Dorm Raid

The reading of a letter from President Ellis to Senate President Del McQuaide concerning the recent panty raid on East Hall sparked Senate action Wednesday.

The notice, in part, read ". . .I do not know of a single raid on a women's dormitory in a coeducational college which did not result in the suspension of those involved, and the administration cannot countenance the action of last Monday evening. Unless the students are willing to appropriately deal with the matter, the administration will be forced to take action."

The letter called for: 1. an apology to Mrs. Horoschak and the nurses, 2. "Action . . . to pay for the damage done as well as whatever fine the business office will levy" and 3. assurance that such action will not be repeated.

Men's and women's house committees will ask for student donations to pay the $150 damage that resulted.

Al Blough, Gini Nixdorf and Ken Fassnacht were appointed to meet with Dean Heberling to set up new rules concerning automobile regulations. A method of fines will be developed for violators and restricted parking areas will be designated. Student patrolmen will be under Senate supervision.

Val Means reported that the student petition requesting a rescheduling of the Lycoming football game has been presented to President Ellis and the athletic committee. The faculty will act upon it Monday.

Leroy Forney informed the Senate that due to relaxation of freshmen regulations the skating pond project has yet to be completed. Another week of work should finish this year's improvements.

Students To Give 3 - Act Musicale Tonight, Tomorrow In Oller Hall

This Way Heaven, this fall's production for the Juniata World Service Fund, will be featured tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

The musicale takes place just after Alan Morton, who is portrayed by Don Miller, returns from the Navy and is re-united with Kathy Masterson, his college sweetheart, played by Barb Orner. After he finds that Kathy is not in love with him, Alan, who has always dreamed of becoming a success on Broadway, goes to work on his own musical show.

Rush Hodgin and Anna Mary Smith play the roles of Frank Chester, Broadway producer, and Kandy, his wife. Jacque Rowland as Julie, Alan's leading lady, Terry Fouse as a Broadway choreographer and Bob Reader and Millie Mandeville as Kathy's parents add to the musical's story.

'Heaven' was written and directed by Pete Wright, senior music major. Ron Knouse as supervisor of set construction, stage crew and lighting and Jan Schall as stage manager play important behind-the-scene roles.

JC Posy Planters Begin Work Today

Operation Posy will start its second planting season today at 2 p.m.

The aim of the project, initiated last October by the student Senate, is to plant flower bulbs at various spots on campus for the purpose of beautifying the grounds in the spring. Through the generosity of several Juniatians and friends of the college, a supply of tulip, daffodil and lily bulbs have been procured.

Bonnie Gunther, chairman of general activities, urges all Juniatians to join the group of "posy planters" meeting on Founders Porch today.

Our Opinions

Welcome, Parents, Alumni

THIS weekend is going to be particularly great because it is going to include most of the activities of what in the past were two big weekends at Juniata.

The color of Homecoming will be blended with the delight of Parents Day. While the Homecoming tradition is contributing the frosh-soph games, the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and the dorm display contest, Parents Day is bringing the parents' luncheon, the contest for most attractive rooms and the fall musicale.

So we are awaiting the weekend with much anticipation, especially since the recent illness has held the fall's activities at a minimum.

We are anxious to see our parents and the old grads again. On behalf of the student body, the JUNIATIAN welcomes our parents and Juniata's alumni.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor

Barb Walls, managing editor

Don Miller, business manager

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Werning, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600

Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 7 Friday, November 1, 1957 Page 2

The Musicale and The Man

TONIGHT when the curtain opens on This Way Heaven, its author, composer, arranger and director—Pete Wright—will view the result of seven months of hard work and numerous headaches.

All fall Pete has worked day and night to come up with a musicale that sounds as if it had been written by a professional.

When you stop to consider the sort of talent necessary to come up with something as good as This Way Heaven, you really appreciate having someone like Pete in the student body. Those of us who have worked more closely with This Way Heaven cannot find a way to express this appreciation.

* * * *

When we say that the songs are really good, we aren't doing it merely out of a feeling of necessary loyalty to a hard worker on campus. We mean it. Ask the stars of This Way Heaven who sing the numbers—they'll tell you.

So thanks, Pete, for working so hard to give us a good musicale ,and good luck on the performances tonight and Saturday.

The Fall Of Zhukov

SOVIET POLITICS—It appears that Marshall Zhukov is the latest victim of the power struggle that has been raging inside the Kremlin since the death of Stalin. A war hero, popular with the people and the army, Zhukov's star rose swiftly after the death of Stalin. Last June he became a member of the Presidium which rules the party which in turn rules the nation. Although removed from the post of Defense Minister in the government, there hasn't been any word as yet concerning his status within the party.

However, if Zhukov was removed from the government because of a showdown with Khruschev it is fairly certain that he will soon be removed from the ruling clique of the party. This will mean disgrace for the man credited with saving Moscow from the Nazi onslaught.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES—Meanwhile, our Secretary of State Dulles has warned the people of the United States of the possibility of a "red adventure" designed to divert attention away from the Soviet government's internal problems. This technique has been used by totalitarian governments throughout history and there is every possibility that the Communists would use it should the Russian people begin to openly disapprove of the power struggle in the Kremlin. The United States and the rest of the free world will have to be on their guard.

DISARMAMENT—Monday the Soviet Union in a surprise move proposed that the disarmament talks be shifted from the 12 country UN Disarmament Commission to a meeting of the entire 82 nations of the world. The move was primarily diplomatic. The Middle and Far East nations have been pressing for greater participation in the disarmament talks and will probably favor the Soviet proposal.

The U. S., however, has branded the proposal as impractical and charged that the Soviet Union actually doesn't want any disarmament agreement. This is just another attempt to place the blame for the arms race on the U. S.

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

Yet one can't help wondering if there might not be some validity to the proposal. It is apparent that the United States and the Soviet Union will never come to any agreement because their distrust of each other is too deeprooted. If there is going to be any disarmament, another power factor is going to have to be added to the present situation. This factor could possibly be the weight of opinion of the rest of the United Nations. At the very least, the pressure coming from a meeting of 82 nations would be greater than that coming from 10 nations. Perhaps it would then be diplomatically necessary for the Soviet Union to drop some of her unreasonable demands concerning disarmament.

FRENCH CRISIS—At the risk of reporting completely incorrect and outdated news, reports from France indicate that a young, radical financial wizard will be the next man to attempt to form a cabinet in the French government. If he is unsuccessful, the French will have to continue their quest for a man so devoid of political and governmental opinions that he will be acceptable to everyone from Catholics to Communists.

Campus Capers

Due to the illness of the usual writer of this column, the following bits of jocularity are presented by one who prefers to remain anonymous for reasons which will become obvious as you continue to read.

When a well-known freshman girl (whose name we won't mention) was asked where she was from, she replied, "New York City."

"Then how did you get to be Dr. Brammer's niece when he's from Pittsburgh?" questioned an august senior.

"Oh, my family branched out!"

A fine example of filial devotion: A frosh about her sister, "She concentrates on being stupid."

* * * *

We understand that the television studio in Altoona was so small that the cast named the three garbage cans outside Studio A. B and C.

* * * *

It's not that we want to cause any more consternation than necessary on campus, but did you hear about what happened at Ursinus last week? It seems that the dean of women had been bitten by a flu germ and was in bed when a knock came on her door at 3 a.m. And, what to her wondering eyes should appear but the undertaker, who had been called to come for (you guessed it) the dean!

* * * *

When he found out that the dietician had been away for a week, a sophomore questioned, "Did she prepare all this food before she left?"

* * * *

And now a few profundities from the pens of some precocious elementary pupils, or why student teachers get gray:

AUTUMN

The autumn days are here.
You always expect them this time of year.

Abraham Lincoln was born in a log cabin which he built with his own hands.

* * * *

Words to live by —

Bad breath is better than no breath at all... Flunk out now, avoid the rush later.

* * * *

The following statement was made in the dorm concerning campus leaders of the recent past. However, names are excluded to avoid embarrassment and to keep alumni contributions coming in. "BMOC No 1 got behind little things and they got done. BMOC No. 2 got behind little things and they became big things."

* * * *

Overheard —

"I like Juniata, but the parties at the embassy are better."

"I think I'll go to my room and brood."

* * * *

That's about all I can drain from my brain, so here's hoping your weekend is quite copasetic.

Job Opportunities

In cooperation with the placement office, headed by Dean Paul Heberling, the JUNIATIAN has established a column to inform its readers of job opportunities, temporary and permanent.

The Huntingron Community Center would like to employ two upperclass students, preferably one girl and one boy, who are interested in, and have some physical education or recreation. Wages will be approximately $1.00 to $1.50 per hour, depending on ratiing. If interested please come to the placement office immediately.

The United States Steel Corporation is interested in management trainees to be gathered from the January graduating class. Interviews are being held currently. Come to the placement office.

The United States Navy Recruiting Service will be on campus Monday, to interview both men and women seniors who might be interested in a career with the Navy. The place of interview will be Totem Inn.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Hard running by Bill Berrier and Joe Sopata sent Westminster home with their second straight defeat.

Time and again Berrier and Sopata hit the line for sizable gains. Both ran low and hard requiring determined Westminster an effort to set them down.

* * * *

Their efforts combined with the usual stout defense left the Titans helpless. The Tribe's pass defense proved adequate and our foreward wall was almost impenetrable. The single Titan touchdown came on a long pass play against the second team.

* * * *

Halftime activity aroused chuckles as the freshmen and sophomores tied in their traditional tug of war. Investigation revealed that although both sides used underhand methods (band members, cheerleaders, pom pom girls and spectators in general) the key factor occurred when Paul Adams joined the sophomore ranks to turn certain defeat into the eventful tie.

* * * *

Another Side—Clamor for a Lycoming game has drawn the support of many students of which I am one. However students should realize some good arguements in opposition.

First, assuming Wednesday is chosen, we would not meet Lycoming on even terms. The Indians would have but two days to ready themselves while Lycoming would be able to spend over a week in preparation.

Second, if Ursinus should prove stern opposition on Saturday, the players may not be in good physical shape for a game such as the Lycos would offer. Injuries could result.

Third,if Thanksgiving day or the following Saturday were chosen, the size of the crowd would be very doubtful. It would be impossible for many students to attend and if the weather were bad, even fewer could make it. Both interest and gate receipts would suffer.

Everyone agrees that it would be nice to have the game but a solution is needed which is suitable to all concerned.

* * * *

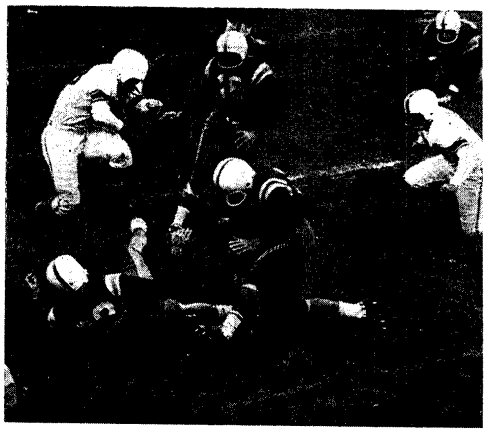
After the freshmen boys failed to show up for another tradition, the Frosh-Soph football game, an appropriate poem to the guilty was written

Listen my children and you shall hear
Of the freshmen guys filled with fear.
They didn't show up for the game this noon,
They're filled with hot air like a gas balloon.
Instead of linemen blocking their backs,
They locked their doors and hid in their racks.
They're chickens, they're yellow and nothing but fakes,
They creep on the ground, they're lower than snakes.
So freshmen guys this is the end—
Don't look to other classes for a friend.
You are now considered a lowly ass
For the girls have become the men in your class.

* * * *

Predictions—Juniata over Wilkes, Lebanon Valley over Drexel, Lycoming hands PMC its first loss, Westminster over Indiana, Ursinus over Wagner and Moravian over Albright.

So far 21 right 5 wrong.



Bell-Davis

SOPATA—Joe Sopata is off on one of his many hard runs which were vital in crushing Westminster 26-7. Sopata teamed up with Bill Berrier to form a real workhorse combination as they netted 90 and 91 yards respectively. The Titan trio converging on the ball carrier are (l to r) Jack Bestwick. Jack Barnes and Syle Miele.

Indians Rap Visiting Westminster To Gain 21st Straight Home Win

The Tribe romped to a 26-7 victory over once-powerful Westminster extending its home winning streak to 21.

The Berrier boys completely dominated the scoring for the team. Bill scored three touchdowns and two extra points while Jim tallied the remaining TD.

The Indians scored in the first period when they drove 71 yards in 17 plays. This included Bill Berrier's crash over right guard from the 2.

A 29-yard pass from Jim Berrier to Ken Opipery to the 2 was the key play of the Indians' second touchdown drive. Bill Berrier plunged into paydirt and booted the extra point to make the score 13-0.

Three plays after the second JC TD Westminster scored on a sixty three yard aerial from Jack Bestwick to Jack Barnes against Juniata's second platoon.

In the third period Bob Schwalenberg tossed his fifth touchdown pass of the season to Jim Berrier for a 69-yard score. Brother Bill's placement made the score 20-7.

Bill Berrier's third touchdown came in the fourth period when he tallied from the 27.

Led by the hard tackling of co-captain Bernie McQuown, who was chosen "lineman of the game" and the B-boys, the Indians again played beautiful defensive ball limiting the Titans to 93 yards rushing. Juniata rolled up 225 yards rushing, 111 yards passing and 16 first downs to their opponent's 8.

Juniata has won eight straight games over the past two seasons, three of them in the present 1957 campaign.

Collegians, Tribe Top IM Touch Tournament

The Collegians and Tribe remain in the double elimination touch football tournament.

The Ubangies were blasted by the Collegians 26-7 as Don Randall caught 2 touchdown passes. The lone Ubangie score came on an aerial from Phil Over to Rod Sponsler.

The Tribe edged out the Barons 6-0 on a pass from George Zeh to Jim Cain. Previously the Tribe blasted the Crazy 8 25-0 to keep pace with the Collegians.

The Crazy 8 and Ubangies are the only other teams not yet eliminated.

The Thompsontown VFW lost 32-0 to the Barons as George Lindenfelter completed 5 touchdown passes, 3 to Ed Beers and 2 to Ron Wingard. The VFW was then eliminated by the Crazy 8 41-6, but they bowed out sensationally scoring on a triple reverse.

Soccer

The freshmen have taken two of two in their series with the upperclassmen. The frosh won the first match 2-1 as Andy Katai and Ted Keiser scored goals. Mel Kreps picked up the upperclass goal.

The freshmen shut out the upperclassmen in winning the second 2-0. Andy Katai scored his second goal and Walter Choi added the other.

BuyMumsInTotem

In connection with Parents Day, orders for "mums" will be received by Chuck Fox in Totem Inn following each meal today.

The cost for the "mums", sold by JC's band, is $1. They will be distributed tomorrow morning between 9 a.m. and noon.

Wilkes Here Tomorrow

Weekend Highlight Pits Bunnmen Against Colonels For First Time

Coach Ken Bunn's undefeated Indians clash with the Colonels of Wilkes College tomorrow to add excitement to the Parents Day - Homecoming activities.

The Wilkes-Barre eleven, tagged as a "breather" by many preseason opinions, may have the stuff it takes to pull the pegs from the Indian tepee.

The Colonels battled determinedly against the strong Warriors of Lycoming College last week losing by a close 13-7 score.

Nine holdover lettermen form the core of the squad which is the best the school has seen in recent years. Ron Ercolani and Josef Reese, both with much experience, add a capable pair to Coach George Ralston's squad. Tackles are Mike Dydo and big Fred Williams, a 230 pound sophomore day student. Bob Yokavonis, with 3 years of varsity ball behind him, will be the Colonel pivotman.

Wilkes sports a very strong single wing backfield led by Ron Rescigno, two time Little All-American honorable mention candidate. Fast and a top notch passing tailback, Rescigno will share the passing chores with wingback Dick Wozniak, most valuable player for the Colonels in last year's Bologna Bowl against Lebanon Valley. Sam Puma, senior blocking back, and power fullback Art Tambur, round out the Wilkes backfied.

The Colonel's only weakness is at the guard slots where no letter winners are available. Julius Yurchak and Gene Edwards, both with reserve experience from last season, will probably start there against the Tribe.

Hrach, Heckman, Deuchar Nab Top Handicap Honors

The Harriers topped F&M 25-30 to gain revenge on the only team that has degeated JC in cross-country. Don Layman took a first place for the Tribe.

Frank Hrach, Herb Deuchar and Galen Heckman copped honors in last Friday's inter-squad cross-country handicap race here on College Hill.

Don Layman took fourth place while Jim Pettit was fifth. The first three place winners were awarded prizes by coach Mike Snider.

To keep in tip-top shape after a cancelled meet Snider had the team run the race over the hilly Juniata course.

The handicaps were based on the times of the finishers in the Blue and Gold victory over Muhlenburg. Nine men participated in the run, which had the first four starters starting over three minutes in front of Layman, who was the winner in the last meet.

After a enforced lay-off of over a week the Indian hilltoppers ran against the Diplomats of Franklin and Marshall yesterday over the 4.4 mile Lancaster course.

J Club Presents 'Pop' With Jacket

by Carl Wass

One of the happiest men on campus this week is Elmer "Pop" Irvin, equipment supervisor of Memorial Gymnasium.

The reason is that the J Club made him an honorary member by presenting him with an honor jacket.

It was fitting that this should be done since "Pop" is an enthusiastic sports follower and is always devoting a big slice of his time to Juniata sports.

"Pop " can be found six afternoons a week in the equipment room beneath the east mezzanine of Memorial Gymnasium. His services which are in demand constantly, are absolutely necessary when the varsity athletic teams are practicing or preparing for a game. Irvin handles his responsibilities in a very efficient manner wishing to please everyone.

Wass Edits Indian

Carl Wass, junior pre-law major from Harrisburg, edits the 1957 Indian, the pigskin program of Juniata College.

Dave Suloff, chemistry major from Lewistown, and Bill Ebner, junior pre-law major from Harrisburg, form the broadcasting team for Indian football games this fall.

MILLER'S RECORD SHOP

For Your Favorite Portable

RCA VICTOR 45 PLAYER	$ 42.95
RCA VICTOR 2 - SPEED PLAYER	$ 49.95
RCA VICTOR 45 - HI FI	$ 69.95
RCA VICTOR 4 - SPEED HI FI	$129.95
RCA 3 - WAY PORTABLE RADIO	$ 29.95
RCA 14" PORTABLE TV SET	$129.95

Miller Hardware Co.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone 2082

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Bernie Predicts
JUNIATA — 40
WILKES — 0
One "booth" Wilkes should have stayed out of . . . .
Swartz Jewelry
Next To Clifton Theatre

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

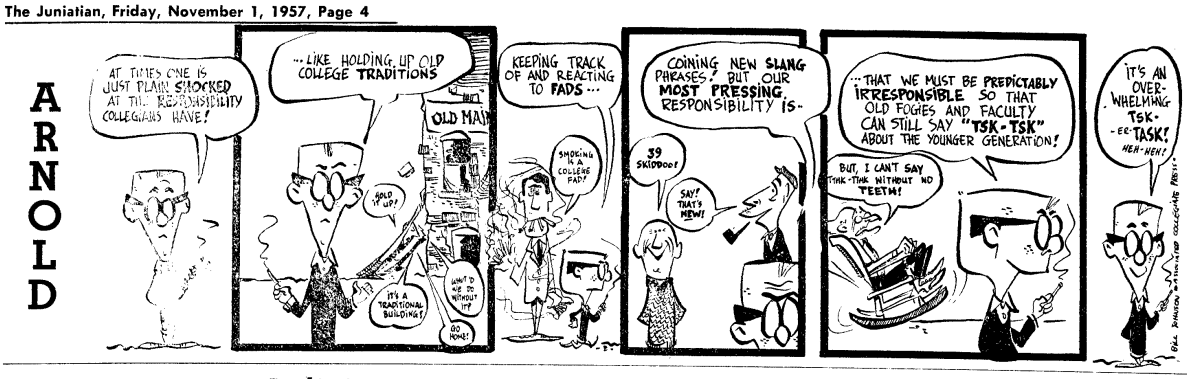
Men
STREECHEE SOX 49c Pair
G. C. MURPHY CO.

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf



Judges To Award Prizes For Rooms

Prizes for the best Homecoming decorations on campus have been announced by Janice Gilroy, chairman of women's house.

During the traditional Parents Day activities all dormitory rooms, outside houses and campus displays will be judged by people not closely connected with Juniata who will be chosen by Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president.

Awards to the men will be three $10 prizes for the best room in each of Cloister, North Dorm and an outside house. In the women's dorms, $10 will go to a double room in East Hall and Oneida-Brumbaugh and $5 to a single room in Founders.

Halls will combine to work on outside displays which will be placed at various spots on campus. JC men will plan four and the women six, and for these one $10 prize will be awarded.

Judging is to begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, and the results will be announced during the JC-Wilkes football game.

Navy Recruiters Will Be In Totem

An information team from the local office of Naval Officer Procurement will visit the campus Monday to talk with senior men who may be interested in serving as commissioned officers in the Navy after graduation.

The Navy personnel will be located in Totem Inn from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. In addition to the Officer Candidate (OCS) program which has been available since 1950, a new flight program, the Aviation Officer Candidate (AOC) program, is available for qualified graduates.

To allow men to report for active duty as soon as possible after graduation, seniors may apply for these two programs before their expected graduation dates.

Any students who wish to discuss the various programs which the Navy has to offer are invited to meet the information team.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Solicitors To Start Renewed Drive For JWSF Wednesday

The Juniata World Service Fund's drive will swing into action Wednesday with the campus being criscrossed by solicitors working toward this year's goal of $1958.

Heading the list of JWSF beneficiaries is World University Service, whose work entails "coordinating the efforts and contributions of students and teachers on all continents of the world in a united enterprise toward the greater well being of universities everywhere."

WUS has been active in the Hungarian student relief program, helping relocate nearly 1000 Hungarian students in colleges and universities in this country. Juniata is one of these colleges which has aided WUS' work, two Hungarian students, Andy Horvath and Andy Katai, having been enrolled on our campus through WUS scholarships.

Japanese University

Second on the list of beneficiaries is the International Christian University of Japan. This four year old institution graduated its first class in March, 1957. In April, ICU opened its first graduate school, this one in education.

ICU, in a show of appreciation, gives cherry trees each year to American colleges and universities, a tree being received for each $250 donated. Last year JC received two of these trees which are planted on the lawn of North Dorm.

The third recipient of the funds collected is the Brethren Missions Service. This year contributions are going toward their school construction plans in Nigeria.

13 Reporters Join Newspaper Staff

Thirteen reporters have been named to the news staff of the JUNIATIAN, organized under a new beat system which will go into full operation next week.

According to Barb Walls, managing editor, each reporter will be assigned a certain area of campus activities which he will check for weekly news. Beats will be changed each month.

Beginning this month, Dave Carpenter will handle news from Harold Brumbaugh's office; Nancy Cozzens, the music department; Reba Fleisher, Dean Bechtell's office; Lee Furlong, club news; Em Heed, Dean Mays; Jan Hoyer, Totem Inn and Edith Lum, the library.

Barb McIntyre will check with John Fike and Paul Friend; John Noble, the registrar's office; Jo-Anne Stauffer, social activities; Pat Varec, public relations; Gail Wernsing, Senate and Carl Whitfield, Dean Heberling's office.

Parents To Visit Campus Saturday

Continued from page 1

rary at 9:45 a.m. Saturday followed by meetings of the fund agents, class representatives and officers of local associations.

Assisting in planning Parents Day are Barbara Bechtell, dean of women; Paul Heberling, dean of men; Frances Mathias, institutional manager; Gertrude Shuck and the following student leaders: Janice Gilroy, Bonnie Gunther, Bernie McQuown, Ginny Nixdorf, Mary Shirk and Barbara Wittenbrock.

Dance To Follow College Musicale

The cast and crew of This Way Heaven will be honored at a dance Saturday night in the women's gym, according to Gini Nixdorf, chairman of social activities.

The dance will begin right after the final curtain of the musicale and will continue until 11:30 p.m. Music will be provided by records. Parents and alumni are invited.

East Dorm Dedication Tomorrow In Oller

Henry Gibbel, chairman of Juniata's board of trustees, will preside over the dedication of East Hall tomorrow at 11 a.m. in Oller Hall.

Following the invocation by the Rev. John Middlekauff, President Ellis will introduce the guests. Speakers include William Finley, field engineer for the Federal House and Home Finance Agency, Janice Gilroy, chairman of women's house and Mrs. Ernest Cutrell, alumni representative on JC's board of trustees.

Mays Will Nominate Danforth Candidates

President Ellis has named Morley Mays liaison officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for the 1958 Danforth fellowships.

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the seventh class of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1958, for their first year of graduate study. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need.

The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1,400 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $2,400 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $350 for children. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply.

The qualifications of the candidates are: men of outstanding acadamic ability, personality congenial to the classroom and intergrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

Compliments of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY

MON. — TUE. — WED.
1 SHOW NIGHTLY
Doors open at 6:45
Short Subjects at 7:20
Feature at 7:33
Exit at 9:45
CARY GRANT
FRANK SINATRA
SOPHIA LOREN
in STANLEY KRAMER'S MONUMENTAL FILMING OF
"THE PRIDE and THE PASSION"
TECHNICOLOR® - VISTAVISION®
Released thru United Artists
Regular Prices

SHOP
THE RAY ENGLISH
STORE
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Unusual Costume Jewelry
Varied Gift Line
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 8 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 8, 1957

Administration Soon To Drop 2-Dollar Assessment For Tote

The 2-dollar assessment per student each semester for the maintenance of Totem Inn will be dropped soon, probably by next year, according to Treasurer John Fike.

In a letter to Ken Fassnacht, Senate treasurer and chairman of the Totem Inn committee, Fike affirmed the rumor that Tote was nearly paid for.

The student body voted in 1952 to assess each student two dollars a semester until the original cost of renovating the basement of the women's gym into a campus restaurant was met. Inquiry by Fassnacht brought about the aforementioned letter.

Fike reported, however, that while the Senate is to receive all profits they will also be responsible for upkeep in the future.

Nancy Cozzens was approved as the new co-ordinator of the news service bureau. She succeeds Bill Ebner, who resigned in October.

Nail Removing Day

Chuck Brown will supervise an all-college nail removing day, scheduled for November 18. It was pointed out that various clubs, in publicizing activities, have riddled trees with nails which were not removed when the signs were taken down.

The Senate voted to accept the Faculty letter informing them of the negative vote the football petition requesting a rescheduling of the Lycoming game received. A treasurer 's report showed that as of October 31 the class of '59 was the richest, having $168.44 in funds.

A move will be made to provide the football field with a flag for the final home game of the season.

New Elephant Walk

It has been reported that the New Enterprise Stone and Lime Company has been contacted to lay a new walk to North Dorm sometime soon. The walk will be raised until it is level with the newly constructed tennis courts.

After much discussion, it was decided that the social register should be publicized so that the entire student body might take advantage of it. Appointed to represent East Hall was Nancy Hess, Ann Larkin and Barb Zoellin. Representing Founders Hall will be Barb Smathers, "Poodle" Wohlbruck and Polly Klapsogeorge.

Next Week In Chapel

Nov. 11 — Prof. McFadden
13 — Worship Service
15 — String Quartet — Paul Cianci, Charles Redenberger, Rob Currier, Marko Branda

Seniors To Hold Hop In North Dorm Lounge

Juniatians will gather for an evening of dancing, games and refreshments at the Fireside Hop tomorrow from 8:15 to 11:30 p.m. in the lounge of North Dorm.

The evening is being planned and sponsored by the senior class. According to Jan Hoyer, chairman of the dance committee, the fireplace will be lit and those attending may toast marshmellows.

Hi-fi records will provide music for dancing at this casual-dress affair. The Tom Nolans will chaperone the dance.

Medical Schools Accept 3 Seniors

Three Juniata seniors have received admittance to medical schools for the fall of 1958 according to Dr. Homer Will, biology department head.

Rod Sponsler has been enrolled at Jefferson Medical College, Haddox Sothoron at the University of Maryland and Spencer Ward at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. The three received admittance on the basis of the Medical Aptitude Test which they took at Penn State last spring.

Pete Fahrney

GETTING THE LOWDOWN — Upperclass counselors Dave Suloff and Chuck Brown (front right and back left) give scholarly advice to freshmen Ray Trimmer and Susie Gibson during the weekly Freshmen Academic Aid sessions held in Students Hall. The program is voluntary and available to all frosh desiring academic help.

Bruce Bennett

SOLICITING THE HARD WAY — No, this isn't the Inquisition, just JWSF solicitors Don and Harold Saylor using a little friendly persuasion on Cal Beam to contribute to the JWSF drive. This type of convincing isn't really necessary, however; Juniatians have always given gladly and freely to the drive.

JC Debate Team Starts To Train

A demonstration debate between Chuck Brown and Del McQuaide next Thursday night will continue the debate club's instruction program for novice debaters.

The club met last evening in the first of a series of scheduled meetings which aim to prepare Juniata debaters for the first-rate competition they will meet in tournaments throughout the year. Twenty-five novice and veteran debaters were on hand for a lecture and discussion conducted by Marcia Sweet.

Debate protocol was discussed along with the elements of analysis, evidence, argument, rebuttal and delivery in contest debate. The group was shown the methods of debate critique and what a judge looks for in actual debate.

Most popular of the many fa-

See DEBATE, P. 4

Rec Room Will Host Oral Reading Series

Relaxing entertainment is the keynote of a series of programs to be presented by JC's oral interpretation class at sessions beginning this Friday from 4:30 to 5 p.m. in the East Hall rec room.

The series, entitled Prose, Poetry and Punch, will include readings varying from the humor of No Time for Sergeants to Eliot's serious Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock. Miss Esther Doyle, head of JC's speech department, has invited all interested students to attend.

This week's readers are Tom Chase, Mim Grove, Bev McEwen, Del McQuaide and Sue Paxson. Refreshments will be served.

Student Proctor Idea Passes Senate, Faculty

STEP TOWARD HONOR SYSTEM

by Gail Wernsing

Juniata has taken the first step toward the establishment of the long-anticipated honor system.

Next week will see the initiation of what is being termed the "student proctor service" organized through the combined efforts of the Senate and the Faculty. For many years the possibility of an honor system has been discussed, a system whereby each student would be his own 'overseer' during tests, leaving the professors free to concentrate on other work without constant checking. It is hoped that the student proctor service will open the way for an honoh system at Juniata.

Although the final details have not yet been completed, a joint resolution, passed by the Senate at its meeting October 31 and by the Faculty last Monday has prepared the program for its first trial. According to Del McQuaide, Senate president, about 35 juniors and seniors will be involved in this plan, and all Senate and Judiciary members are automatically included.

Students Take Charge

These students will take charge in the classroom durig tests and exams not so much to report cheating as to accuston Juniatians to the presence of contemporaries rather than superions and to create an atmosphere not conducive to cheating. It is hoped that in time these proctors may be removed and students tested under the sole authority of their consciences.

The following is a partial list of participants in the plan: Seniors Don Saylor, Harold Saylor, Kerin Narbut, Carolyn Long, George Fattman, Cal Beam, Dick

See EXAMS, P. 4

Judges Announce Contest Winners

Winners of JC's annual Parents Day room contest were announced during half time of last Saturday's game.

First prize double rooms in the residence halls for women were 331 Brumbaugh and 302 East Hall. Sandra Over and Sue Willson live in 331 while Mary Shirk and Mary Snyder won with 302.

Eva Wagner's room, 303 Founders, was chosen the best single room. Honorable mentions were given Pauline Musselman and Francis Sweitzer, 356 Oneida; Nancy Hoffman and Aileen Wright, 102 East Hall and Roberta Savage, 420 Founders.

In the residence halls for men first prize winners were Bruce Dickey and Del McQuaide, 205 Cloister, and Richard Moll and Hans Schroeder, 203 North Dorm. First prize winners in outside houses were Harold Krause and Sam Veltre of NJ house.

Honorable mentions were received by Mike Farrell and Harold Grimm in Cloister, Bruce Bennett and Hang Du Kim in North Dorm and Joe Slick and Ron Wertz in Emmert.

The winning campus display was "the flu bug" designed and built by the girls on third floor of Founders-Brumbaugh.

Reviewer Finds 'This Way Heaven' Music, Production Outstanding

by George Spelvin

Musical comedy returned here with Pete Wright's excellent production of This Way Heaven in Oller Hall, November 1 and 2.

Enthusiastic audiences proclaimed the show a certain success and tribute to the talents of the senior musical playwright. Although the plot of the show was somewhat sketchy and the transition from one scene to another weak, the musical scores and lyrics were superb. The campus will no doubt ring with the Pete-Frances Wright musical contributions for many weeks to come. Two of the songs, All of My Own and Love Comes to Others, could very well become popular hits.

Top Honors

Top honors go to Wright for composing and directing the performances. Honors also should be extended to Ron Knouse and crew for the sets and lighting. The finale of Act I and the Club 60 scenes were particularly effective.

Lil Weimar and troupe added further enjoyment to the production with their modern dance se-

See REVIEWER, P. 4

Gibbs School Offers National Scholarships

Two national scholarships for college senior girls are offered for 1958-1959 by the Katharine Gibbs School.

Each scholarship consists of full tuition ($785) for the secretarial training course, plus an additional cash award of $500, totaling $1,285. The winners may select any one of the four Gibbs schools for their training—Boston, New York, Montclair or Povidence.

Winners are chosen by the Scholarship Committee on the basis of college academic record, personal and character qualifications, financial need and potentialities for success in business.

Each college or university may recommend two candidates, and each candidate must have this official endorsement

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Pat Varec, Gail Wernsing, Carol Whitfield.

SPORTS STAFF: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Still An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 8 — Friday, November 8, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Fast Work

THE Senate is to be commended for the speed with which they set up the student proctor committee.

We think that this innovation will do much to raise the level of student responsibility on campus.

Monday the Faculty approved the following resolution soon to be presented jointly with the Senate to the student body. It points out the reasons for and aims of a student proctor system.

* * * *

"We are deeply concerned with the problem of raising the level of academic honesty at Juniata College.

"We recognize the weight of a traditional code on American campuses that frowns on any positive action by students against a fellow student who may be involved in academic dishonesty. We believe, however, that the overwhelming majority of students are not only completely honest in assignments and tests, but disapprove of the few who indulge in dishonest practices.

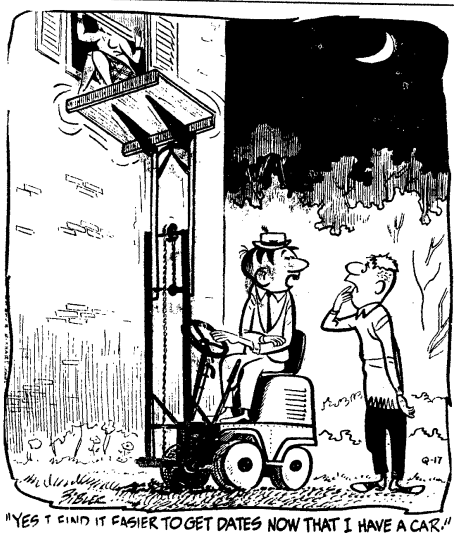
"In the hope of making Juniata College a finer community, we wholeheartedly endorse a proposal originating with students on our campus, namely to encourage students to share with the faculty the responsibility of proctoring examinations.

"The student-faculty proctoring plan will be initiated for course tests, and will be extended as rapidly as possible to include final examinations.

"Details of the program are yet to be worked out, but we are agreed that the purpose is not primarily to catch cheaters. It is rather to make clear that the campus as a whole considers cheating to be anti-social and unacceptable, and thereby to deter any student who might be tempted to take unfair advantage of his classmates in this way.

"To be consistent in this point of view, we advocate emphasis on deportment in the examination room. Students taking tests will be expected to avoid all careless or deliberate acts conducive to cheating or the appearance of cheating; and the proctors will observe that this standard is met. Only in the rare instance where a student does not conform to this reasonable standard of conduct during examinations will it be necessary for the proctors to initiate disciplinary action.

"We trust that all students will give this undertaking their wholehearted support."



"YES I FIND IT EASIER TO GET DATES NOW THAT I HAVE A CAR."

Wall Along Walk Soon

IT is gratifying to hear that the Administration intends to do something about all the mud that is washing out from under the new tennis courts and onto the elephant walk.

It was bad enough for about one-third of the furniture to be taken out of the lobby of North Dorm, but now the bared area is usually covered with mud picked up on the walk. Then too, the mud and water that lies on the walk is hard on shoes and trousers.

The word is that work will be started within the next week, and it has been promised that if a permanent wall is not started by then, temporary measures will be taken.

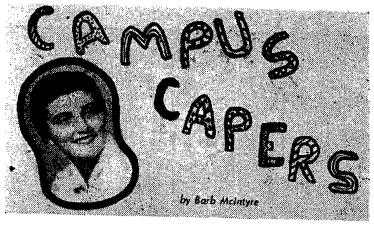
Action on this matter cannot come too soon.

Rooms, Displays Commendable

JUNIATIANS are to be congratulated for the amount of work they put into displays and room decorations this year.

Even the men, generally a bit lax in this area, produced displays that could readily be counted in the competition and had their rooms looking ship-shape.

This is one of many ways we show how much spirit we really have.



Figuratively speaking, tons of food, fruit juice, plants and money rolled into the campus for JC's combined Homecoming and Parents Day last Saturday.

The versatile football team of freshmen girls, upon receiving coaching instruction from one of our outstanding gridders, emerged the victors over the sophomore boys. There are rumors, however, that it was possibly fixed.

Rooms have returned to their normal cluttered state and, all consideed, the day's activities termed highly successful. Almost forgot—many comments were heard about the tres gaie sign at the Saylor house.

Quotable Quotes . . .

Some people got lost in thought—because it is unfamiliar territory . . . While everyone around you is losing his hetd and you keep yours—possibly you don't understand the situation . . . use your head—it's the little things that count . . . money isn't everything but its away ahead of whatever's in second place.

Orchids go to Pete Wright, author of our college musical This Way Heaven and to the outstanding cast whose tireless efforts were certainly rewarding . . . our football team which is boasting a winning season thus far after trouncing Wilkes college last week. Good luck to the guys when they encounter PMC tomorrow afternoon.

It seems that one evening last week a guy and girl were walking towards Roundtop. The guy, not accustomed to this strenuous exercise, became quite exhausted. The girl consolingly quipped, "Aren't you glad I came along? I'll help you." Of course the question probably uppermost in the notorious male mind is what would he be doing up on Roundtop alone?

Campus observations—

Joe Campus throwing apples from the balcony of Yoder house to some night owl gals on Halloween eve (his roommate's at that) . . .
Steve daintily dipping his fingers in a finger bowl after indulging in an illustrious dining hall meal . .

Definitions to close by . . .

A psychotic thinks two plus two is five.
A neurotic knows two plus two is four, but he worries about it . . . nuff sed.

'Heaven' Staff Grateful

WE would like to use this medium to thank Mrs. Horoschak for the very nice party she gave us, our parents and guests Saturday evening.

It was a wonderful way to end what was for us a very big day. Our only regret is that few, if any, of us were aware that Mrs. Horoschak was our hostess and therefore we did not get an opportunity to thank her at the time.

Mrs. Horoschak's devotion to Juniata students has been shown in many ways during the short time she has been here. Because of her modesty many of us are unaware of all the things she has done for us. —Cast and staff, This Way Heaven.

Zhukov Hindered 'Cooperation'

ZHUKOV'S FALL—The Soviet union has finally released the reasons why Marshall Zhukov was dropped from both official posts.

The Central Committee of the Communist Party charged him with cultivating a personality cult and hindering the cooperation between the party and the army. The statement issued said Zhukov had "flagrantly violated" the principle of Communist Party leadership of the armed forces. Probably the real reason is that he was gaining too much power and prestige for Khruschev to feel comfortable in his position as leader and perhaps even dictator of Russia.

I do not think, however, that his success at this point means that all internal struggle will end. There is a distinct possibility that a deep rift may have been created within the party and most certainly the army. Khruschev is in the driver's seat for the present but ho wlong he remains there is, I am sure, a question that causes him much loss of sleep.

MAYOR OF NEW YORK—Mayor Wagner has won his race for re-election in a light city vote which carried his two running mates into office. This means that liberal Democrats will again control the world's largest city. However, what is more significant was the extreme public apathy shown by the voters. Approximately 25% of the registered voters did not go to the polls as compared with the 7% four years ago.

ROCKET TO MOON—By the time this goes to press the world will know whether or not the Soviet Union has conquered outer space by hitting the moon with a hydrogen warhead. Persistent rumors have it that the Russians launched a rocket to the moon which will hit and explode its hydrogen warhead on Thursday,, the 40th anniversary of the Russian Revolution. If this should happen it will have a profound impact on the political as well as the scientific world.

The "religion" of Communism will take on new meaning and vitality for millions of people in Russia and the under-developed nations of the world. The U. S.'s face will grow redder in its embarrassment and fear will creep into its vitals causing it to throw all its energy into catching up with Russia. If we are too late our security is in grave danger. If we are not too late our security is in no better position. Past history has shown that armaments races inevitably lead to war.

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

Movie Of The Week

MATRIMONIAL BLISS enjoyed by the late Lon Chaney, Hollywood's secretive movie star, and his first wife, Cleva Creighton, is shown intimately in one of the early sequences of Universal-International's Man of a Thousand Faces in which James Cagney portrays Chaney and Dorothy Malone has the part of Cleva, Lon's beautiful showgirl wife who almost wrecked his theatrical career. The film plays Monday and Tuesday at the Clifton.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Coach Ken Bunn used a good method of substitution against Wilkes in last Saturdays game. Instead of the usual platoon system which puts fans on edge Bunn sent in only a few substitutions at a time leaving a core of first stringers. This appeared to be a key factor in wearing down Wilkes which had little depth.

* * * *

The departure of senior Glenn Hassinger from the team leaves a dark spot in an otherwise bright season. A knee injury has hampered Hassinger throughout the season and now forces him to drop from the squad. The halfback earned two letters as a sophomore reserve, and as a junior starter. He was one of the fifteen iron men which held Missouri Valley to a 6-6 deadlock in the 1956 Tangerine Bowl game.

* * * *

It is interesting to learn what other schools think of our Indians. Following are quotes from Bob Holmes of the Westminster Holcad about prospects of playing Juniata. "Juniata has beaten Drexel Tech, a school that doesn't know the difference between athletic assistance and a ham sandwich and Kutztown State Teachers."

Also about our team—"The school goes in for football in a big way. It resembles Oklahoma in that Coach Bunn has two offensive units which he alternates. One is said to be as good as the other."

* * * *

The Juniata-PMC and Lycoming-Lock Haven games present two top attractions in small college football for the weekend. The soldiers should make a real game of it but the Indians will keep their unbeaten distinction. Incidentally, the unbeaten, untied list has narrowed down to five in Pennsylvania. They include West Chester, Lehigh, Lock Haven and the National Aggies rank with Juniata.

* * * *

Other Predictions—Once tied Lycoming should knock Lock Haven out of the unbeaten ranks, Western Maryland will keep Drexel's losing streak intact, Moravian over Upsala, Westminster over Slippery Rock, Wilkes over Dickinson, Albright over Lebanon Valley and Haverford over Ursinus.

So far 6 right 6 wrong.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions

Bell-Davis

END OF THE LINE — An unidentified Wilkes player dives for the leg of quarterback Bob Schwalenberg during last Saturday's game. On the ground to the left is Joe Sopata.

Indians Down Visiting Wilkes On Third Quarter Eruption

Exploding for four touchdowns in the third period, JC continued its winning ways by dumping a stubborn Wilkes eleven 38-0 before a record Homecoming-Parents Day crowd of 2500.

Unbeaten in four contests this season and nine straight over the past two years, the Indians also extended their home win streak to 22 on College Field.

Wilkes playing a hard game and using only 17 men, held Juniata to a 6-0 margin at halftime. Three touchdown drives were stymied as the Indians fumbled on each occasion. The Tribe had a 15-3 advantage in the first down department before the mid-game ceremonies.

Fullback Bill Berrier, who was chosen "back of the game" for the second consecutive week, broke the game loose with a 52-yard pass interception for a TD in the third period to pace the Juniata offensive attack. Berrier gained 112 yards rushing.

First Touchdown

Juniata's first touchdown occurred in the second period after a 64-yard drive with quarterback Bob Schwalenberg scoring on a 17-yard roll out.

After Berrier's TD in the third period uprising, brother Jim Berrier scored on a twisting 20-yard run, Dick Ott plunged over from the one and Joe Sopata tallied on 7-yard inside reverse. Bill Berrier and Dave Goodling added extra points during the explosion.

The Tribe's final score came in the fourth period when Goodling threw a 25-yard aerial to end Jim Seacrist.

Tailback Ron Rescigno, two time Little All-American honorable mention of Wilkes, displayed spunk and undying sportsmanship.

25 First Downs

Juniata rolled offensively having 311 yards rushing and 44 passing while Wilkes was limited to 36 yards rushing and 32 passing. The Indians also toppled the Colonels in first downs, 25-7.

Juniata has scored 157 points this season to their opponents' seven and lead the ECAC in defense.

Frosh Top Sophomores In Traditional Games

Regulations became a thing of the past for the class of '61 as they defeated the sophomores in two of the three athletic contests played last Saturday.

The freshmen girls edged the sophomores in the hockey game 1-0. A goal in the first half proved to be enough for the victory.

An Ed Beers to Larry Duffy touchdown pass, covering 25-yards, was the key play for the sophomores as they upended the frosh 13-0, in the traditional football game

The tug-of-war contest, part of the halftime festivities at last week's Homecoming game, was called a draw and victory was awarded to the freshmen.

In a Juniata "first" last Saturday, the sophomore gridders played a challenge game with the freshmen girls. A five-yard plunge by quarterback Mary Taylor, behind excellent blocking, gave the girls their upset 13-0 win.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

MOTEL 22
and
RESTAURANT
Air-Conditioned Dining Room and Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of Huntingdon

Bernie Predicts
JUNIATA — 20
PMC — 7
See If I'm Crazy This Week, Coach Bunn More JC Folks Shop At
Swartz Jewelry
Next To Clifton Theatre

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Tough Game Tomorrow

Tribe To Face Toughest Opposition Against Cadets Of Penn Military

Coach Ken Bunn's Tribe takes to the warpath to clash with the tough, once beaten Cadets of Pennsylvania Military College tomorrow.

The Chester team sports an impressive five win, one loss record,, and promises to be in top shape for the Homecoming tilt. PMC has registered wins over Wagner, Bridgeport, Western Maryland, Moravian and Drexel while suffering their lone defeat to Lycoming just last week.

Last year Coach George Hensell's squad was the finest passing small college team in the nation, but this season the Cadets have been using a well balanced running and passing attack.

Standouts for the Red, White and Yellow are Al (Cappy) Hill at end, halfback Don McCabe and Harry Feinberg, and quarterback Mike Cockill. All are seniors with four years of grid experience.

Hill, Cockill Captains

The co-captain combination of Hill and Cockill is the biggest threat to the Indians. Hill, a 6' 3", 190 pound Marine Corp veteran was named to two Little All American teams in 1956. Last season Hill was top ground gainer in the nation, topped the country's players in average gain per pass, and was runner up for most passes caught, with 40 to his credit. Quarterback Cockill will fill the shoes of John Costillo, who set 17 small college offensive records last year. Cockill was moved to the signal calling slot from a halfback position.

Experienced mainstays of the Cadet line will be center Herm Sweeney, who is rated as one of the finest linebackers ever to come from Chester County, and Phil Pampilii, squat 212-pound tackle, and top placement kicker.

Rounding out the PMC starting lineup are guards Charles Carrullo and John Kerlin, end Jim Ashton, tackle Walt Adelman, and fullback Jack Martins.

Harriers Meet E-Town Today After Finishing First Half Undefeated

Half way through its season and still undefeated, the Juniata cross-country team is in Elizabethtown today to run against the Blue Jays on their 4.7 mile course.

Elizabethtown, like the Blue and Gold, is in its second season of the hill and dale sport. The harriers of Mike Snider defeated E-town last year, 17-38, in the first cross-country meet in Juniata history. The E-town hilltoppers have improved with two freshmen leading the scoring in their meets so far this year.

The JC cross-country team will end its dual meet season next Saturday at Albright during the Indian-Albright football game.

Faculty Rules Out Lycoming Chances

The faculty vetoed any possibility of rescheduling the Lycoming football game after the regular season.

Student clamor for the game resulted in a Senate petition requesting that action be taken. The Senate presented their petition to the faculty committee on physical education and athletics who in turn sent it to the Faculty without specific recommendation for action.

The Faculty, after looking into all factors involved, took the position that it did not favor re-scheduling the game.

The reasons for the decision were summed up in a letter to the Senate as follows:

1. The risk of injury to any player caused by the limited time to recover between a game with Ursinus on Saturday, November 23, and a game on Wednesday, November 27.

2. The unwillingness to play Lycoming at the risk of injury in the light of Lycoming's earlier request to cancel the game because it considered health and well-being of its players more important than the game.

3. The lack of time to prepare for a game with a recognized strong opponent, such as Lycoming, which does not have a game scheduled on Saturday, November 23, and would have 10 days to prepare compared to three for Juniata.

4. The possibility that student support would not be as great because of the beginning of Thanksgiving recess at noon Wednesday, November 27.

Collegians Down Tribe To Lead Touch Football

The unbeaten Collegians took over the lead in the IM football tournament on the strength of a 6-0 victory over the Tribe.

The lone score occurred on a pass from "Killer" Conley to Don Swope. Strong defenses, rain and wet grounds held scoring threats to a minmum.

The Tribe kept in the running as they eliminated the Ubangies 19-13 in a real thriller. Phil Over completed two touchdown passes to Dave Suloff as the Ubangies forged ahead 13-0 at halftime. The Tribe tied it up on passes from Val Means to Bob Sill and Jim Cain. George Zeh then passed to Sill to provide the final margin.

The Crazy Eight and Tribe are the only challengers left for the leading Collegians.

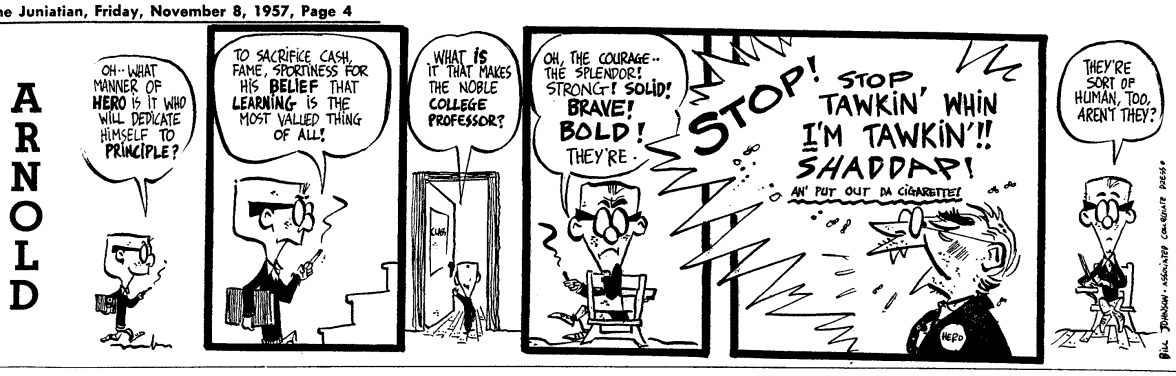
STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf



Russian Rouletters Start Fad; Six-Shooters Now Collegiate

by Carol Baish

Would you dare take a six- gun, put a bullet in one of the six cylinders, spin the cylinder, point the gun to your temple and pull the trigger?

The people at Columbia University want to know. It seems that certain persons, no doubt highly worried about the increasing college enrollments, have instituted a new campus fad, the Russian Roulette Club.

The club began a card game at a fraternity party when a losing player whipped out a blank pistol and suggested playing Russian Roulette. The party had reached its height—and anyway, everyone was tired of Authors and Crazy Eights, so the game caught on.

In the defanged version of this game, players use a loud-exploding powder gun and a match-of-wits card game determines the number of times the gun cylinder is spun. Nobody gets hurt—only slightly punchy.

Now the game is the craze of seven (7) campuses, a national RR club has been organized and the National Film Network has announced an RR contest for college students. The first question in the series is: "If Barbara Bryant, 1957 Queen of Russian Roulette, spins the cylinder and pulls the trigger 101 times, stopping between each pulling of the trigger to spin the cylinder again, is there more probability of it going off the 101st time than the first time? Why?" All this and mid terms too!

So put down those gold fish, JCers! Progress is upon us! After all, to quote Hank Andrews, president of RR, "You're not gambling your life, only your nerves!" For further information simply blow off the top of you head and send it, along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to RR, 200 West 57th Street, New York 19, N. Y.

Reviewer Praises Wright's Musicale

Continued from page 1

quence in Act II. Also, the musical accompaniment of Alice Adams, Carl Lindsay and Wright merits much credit.

Everyone in the cast and chorus deserves praise for his enthusiasm and good work. Particular notice should be given to Barb Orner who possesses a very fine voice, Don Miller who showed style and poise in his singing and acting, Jacque Rowland who handled herself like a veteran trouper, Anna Mary Smith whose Three Blind Mice stopped the show and Bob Reader for his characterization of J. P. Masterson.

Terry Fouse, Aliceann Wohlbruck, Bonnie Meadows and Smith-Brammer-Chidester should be mentioned for their talented contributions to the musical. Together the acting and singing blended into a fine presentation of which Juniata can well be proud. Let us hope that this is the first in a long line of fine student musical productions.

Ogden Here Tuesday To Interview JCers

First Lieutenant Ogden, assistant Marine procurement officer from Pittsburgh, will be at JC Tuesday to interview and accept applications from undergraduates interested in the Marine Corps Officer Training Programs.

The two officer candidate programs are the Platoon Leaders Class, open to undergraduates, and the Officer Candidate Course, open to recent graduates and seniors. Each program has its aviation counterpart.

Training under the PLC program consists of two six-week sessions attended at Quantico, Va. during the summer vacation Training for the OCC begins after a senior has been awarded a college degree.

The PLC candidate is commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve upon receiving his baccalaureate degree The OCC candidate is commissioned upon completion of his precommissioning training.

Exams Will Have Student Proctors

Continued from page 1

Hite, Bruce Dickey, Juniors; Barb Walls, Jim Ake, Pete Fahrney, Janice Christie Sam Shore, Stan Davis, Carol Teeter.

Senators; Ron Fink, Del McQuaide, Al Blough, Ken Fassnacht, Nancy Hess, Chuck Brown, Spencer Ward, Ginny Nixdorf, Bonny Gunther, Bernie McQuown, Janice Gilroy and Judiciary members Carl Wass, Don Aurand , Aliceanne Wohlbruck, Ann Larkin.

President McQuaide has stated that only if Juniata students accept this first step in the serious vein in which it is offered will they ever merit the honor of total responsibility.

Jack Barger

JC SPORTS CELEBRITY — Congressman Richard Simpson, local Republican representative of the 17th Congressional district is seen chatting with Dean of Women Barbara Bechtell and chairman of Board of Trustees Henry Gibbel at the Homecoming — Parents Day luncheon last Saturday.

Debate Team Readies For College Tourneys

Continued from page 1

cets of formal debate was the discussion of fallacies and strategems in argumentation. Few debaters were aware that there were so many ways one could employ faulty reasoning and defective proof.

Ensuing weeks will feature practice debates within the club and participation in several tournaments at colleges throughout the state. The current topic for debate is Resolved that membership in a labor union as a requirement for employment be considered illegal.

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
The Pajama Game
In WARNERCOLOR From WARNER BROS.
STARRING Doris Day
John Raitt · Carol Haney · Eddie Foy, Jr.
MONDAY & TUESDAY
JAMES CAGNEY
DOROTHY MALONE
JANE GREER
"MAN OF A THOUSAND FACES"
CINEMASCOPE
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
Victor Mature
Anita Ekberg in Pickup Alley
— also —
The Parson and The Outlaw
Anthony Dexter - Sonny Tufts

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

Men
STREECHEE
SOX 49c Pair
G. C. MURPHY CO.

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Compliments of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Unusual Costume Jewelry
Varied Gift Line
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone 2082

Sweater Sale
Womens All Wool - Wool Blend - Orlon and Banlon
All Sizes and Colors
Samples and Novelties
$1.99 to $5.99
Danks & Co.

MILLER HARDWARE CO.
MILLERS RECORD SHOP
For Your Favorite Records
45's and 33's
Original Casts
" The Ten Commandments"
"The Robe"
"Around The World In 80 Days"
"Omar Khayyam"
"Eddy Duchin Story"
"My Fair Lady"

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 9 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 15, 1957

Pete Fahrney

TWIRPING NOT PROPOSING—Sandy Grayner seems to be getting in practice for Twirping Days which begin tomorrow. Don Swope, although trying to appear uninterested, no doubt is looking forward to next week's special privileges.

Student Proctor Program To Get Underway Soon

Student proctoring committee chairman Don Shover will begin filling faculty applications for proctors for exams next week, Del McQuaide told the campus Judiciary at the monthly business meeting Monday evening.

Each prof has been given request blanks which he will mail to Shover at least three days prior to the date on which he desires a proctor. Details of the program have been given each student.

Shover was appointed to the position by the Senate, who will appoint future chairmen of the committee.

House Reports

Chairman of women's house Janice Gilroy told the Judiciary that a coed has been campused for 14 days for smoking in her room and that a number of women have been campused for falsifying designation on sign-out sheets.

Chairman of men's house Bernie McQuown had no disciplinary actions to report.

A budget request for 20 dollars is being submitted to Treasurer John Fike, and plans are being made to have the Judiciary constitution printed in booklet form.

The Judiciary reviewed the plan for restricting parking and dealing with violators, noting that third offenders would be dealt with in their body. Appeals also will come before the Judiciary.

Twirp Week Begins Saturday; Gals Escorts At Bohemian Ball

Frustrated women of Juniata, arise! Twirp week is here again, so cheer up and drag "the" guy to the Bohemian Ball tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. in the women's gym.

The dance will launch JC's annual Twirp week which will continue until next Saturday. Non-conformity is the keynote for the dance, so dig out the pegged pants, key chains and weird hats and come to the dance as your idea of out-of-this-world.

Ruth Perestam, president of SEAP, which is sponsoring the dance, has announced that refreshments will be served. Just to keep in line with the Bohemian trend many of the artists featured on the hi-fi records once appeared in Greenwich Village.

Girls Make Dates

During Twirp, dating roles are reversed and the girls make dates and, incidentally, pay for them. Don't forget, you open doors, help him on with his coat, hold chairs and drive his car.

Twirp your favorite JC guy (s) to cokes at Tote, afternoons at the library, the after dinner dance, Chapel, cigarettes at Skips and spaghetti at Kelly's. One coed remarked, "Just so I don't have to lead when we dance."

Get with it, girls. He's probably waiting by the phone this very minute. And remember, non-conformity is next to collegiateness!

Faculty, Senators Set Up Auto Code For Car-Owners

In order to remedy the problems created by cars on campus, a system has been devised which will benefit all JC drivers.

At the November 4 session of the Senate, Dean Heberling presented, with the Faculty's recommendation, the proposition which it had prepared. The proposition stated the problem and included tentative rules and regulations, assembled by the Faculty Health and Safety Committee, which are expected to remedy the situation. These rules are:

1. That all cars, no matter by whom they are owned or the length of their stay on campus, be registered in an administrative office.

2. That they be parked in these designated areas:
   a. Faculty-18th Street
   b. Women students—
      1. Old Dorm-17th Street
      2. East Dorm—in front of dorm
   c. Men students—
      1. North Dorm —North Dorm lot
      2. Cloister—Cloister roadway and Oller Hall lot
   d. Day students — Oller Hall lot

3. That students be selected to enforce these regulations.

4. That all vehicles be kept on roadways only, and operated according to standard safety rules.

5. That violators may go to the

See JCers, page 4

JCA To Present 'Not As A Student'

Not As A Student, a play mirroring the life of the average Juniatian, will be featured at the November 19 meeting of JCA at 7:15 in Oller Hall.

Narrated by Tex Holman, the play takes a frank look at the life of Joe B. Cloister, typical JCer played by Chuck Brown, Cloister's girl, "Poodle" Wohlbruck, and his roommate, Bill Stump. Not as a Student satirizes in pantomine form five areas of campus activities.

'Student' was written by Dave Amidon, '57, and has been revised by Tex Holman. Intermission music will be provided by John Rodland at the organ.

Senate Discusses Ways To Help Lagging Freshman Aid Program

A "shot in the arm" for the declining freshman academic aid program was proposed at the November 13 meeting of JC's Senate.

Carl Lindsay, chairman of the program, reported a downward trend in attendance since September 30 when the program was instituted. Since then an average of four students have attended each session.

Proposed remedies for this situation include announcements over WJC, closer cooperation with profs and announcement cards to be sent to each freshman. It was suggested that the entire week's schedule be posted in advance giving the frosh more time to make plans to attend.

Car Regulations

The Senate accepted the regulations on cars with the following additions and corrections:

1. That the regulations be in effect from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. Saturdays.
2. That a temporary area be set up in back of Cloister below the horseshoe pits.
3. That the borough council of Huntingdon be petitioned to make 18th Street one way through campus.
4. That fines be paid to Treasurer John Fike instead of Dean Heberling, who will continue to handle appeals to Judiciary.
5. That a system of fines be set up as follows:
   a. Violation of parking regulations — .50
   b. Failure to register a car — $1.00
   d. Repitition of offense — double fine

The Senate has named this Monday All-College Nail Removing Day. The affair is a Twirp event, and a prize will be given to the couple removing the most nails from trees on campus.

Ziegler To Speak At Brethren Rally

Students from all over the United States will appear on JC's campus for this year's Brethren Student Christian Movement Conference to be held during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Dr. Jesse Ziegler, professor of Christian education and psychology at Bethany Biblical Seminary, will be the featured speaker. He will lead the discussion and study of the book by Cornelius Loew, Modern Rivals to the Christian Faith.

The committee in charge of the event includes the Rev. Clarence Rosenberger, the Rev. Bob McFadden, Jane Brumbaugh, Al Custer, Stan Davis and Jane Herbster. According to the committee, the cost per student will be ".... 70 milkshakes 40 of which will be used to help those who have to travel long distances."

JCA Announces Date For Christmas Party

Juniata "parents" will host Huntingdon area children at this year's JCA Christmas party the evening of December 13.

The party is an annual affair planned to provide an evening's fun for the town's underprivileged children. Each couple buys a two-dollar gift for the child and these are distributed by Santa Claus himself.

Couples—a boy and a girl, two boys or two girls—may sign up on the list posted on Founders bulletin board. They may specify what age and sex they prefer, and the committee in charge will try to meet these requirements.

Freshmen Elect Vinson President

Run-offs Tuesday resulted in the election of Ronald Vinson as president and Jack Kepple as vice- president of the freshmen class.

Vinson beat his running-mate, Dave Goodling, by 20 points with a vote of 99-79. Kepple with 110 votes triumphed over Ronald Clippinger's 68.

In the second run-off election Judy Palmer was elected Secretary with a vote of 73 to win Gwen Piggin's 66 and Anna Bear was elected treasurer with a vote of 71 to Joan Anne Stauffer's 68.

Dining Hall Will Open Next Week, Fike Says; Horoschak Hostess

The new dining hall will open sometime next week although not Monday as originally planned, Treasurer John Fike has announced.

Mrs. Horoschak will serve as hostess while Mrs. Robinson will be in charge of the food service and operation of the kitchen. The dining hall will accommodate 200 people with 25 tables for students and one faculty table.

Breakfast cafeteria style will be served from 7-8:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday, and Sunday from 8-8:15 a.m. A limited number of tables will be set up and students are asked to seat themselves accordingly. Dirty dishes are to be returned to the window.

New table assignments are being processed. Menus will be the same for both dining halls with supplies being ordered through the present kitchen. All training tables will be left in the Oneida Dining Hall.

Treasurer John Fike has stated that it is imperative that students understand that this information is only tentative and is subject to change. If so, announcements will be made.

Prose, Poetry, Punch Today In East Dorm

Prose, Poetry and Punch, a weekly presentation by Miss Doyle's oral interpretation class, takes place this afternoon from 4:30 to 5 p.m. in the rec room of East Hall.

This week's readings will include Robert Benchley's humorous Treasurer's Report as well as a dramatic selection from Shaw's Saint Joan.

JCers reading selections are Don McCallum, John Rodgers, Lil Simons and Nan Winters. Refreshments will be served.

Outer Space Goes Collegiate As Satellite Invades Campus

by Carol Baish

Vladimer Propaganik will be on campus the day mid-term grades come out (odd coincidence) to interview those Juniatians interested in a career in the World of Science.

Propaganik, who is now chief salt mine engineer in his native country, has seen action in the Revolt of the People in 1911, the Rise of the Workers in 1938, the Triumph of the Proletariat in 1945 and a revolution in 1951. He also played a major role in a minor purge.

Fame, fortune, honor and a place in history await the Juniatian who meets the requirements of this scientific mission. He must be well versed in the art of solitare and not subject to claustrophobia; a strong stomach and an interest in astronomy may come in handy.

The JCnik, latest development in the World of Science, will be shot 100,000 miles into space during the half time activities of the Juniata-Ursinus game. In it will be one Juniatian, able and preferably willing.

Home For Finals

Juniata has been chosen because of its collegians' widly professed affinity with the out-of-it. The fortunate Juniatian who is chosen will be brought back in time for final exams and in case of a mishap, his ashes will be scattered across the vast reaches of Memorial Gym's mezzanine.

Every effort will be made to create a homelike atmosphere in the JCnik. Blue and gold pennants and a contemporary painting entitled Moore Street in the Rain adorn the walls, while the floor is covered with residue from Elephant Walk.

Juniata's meals have been duplicated (ah, Science!) and hoagies will be provided for Friday nights together with a strong wiff of cigarette smoke. Cokes will also be provided, but scientists have reached a stalemate on the problem of Tote's coffee.

Application blanks will be passed out in the phone booth on fourth Brumbaugh. Since space must be conserved, be sure to state all measurements to the nearest 100th of a millimeter; also list next of kin "... merely for publicity purposes....."

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Bob Blair

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Pat Varec, Gail Wernsing, Carol Whitfield, Del McQuaide.

SPORTS STAFF: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 9 — Friday, November 15, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

A Little Bit Of Knowledge . . .

ACCORDING to lack of interest shown in the freshman academic aid program, we can surmise that the class of '61 think they are pretty intelligent.

It may come as a shock to the frosh, but it just isn't so. The class of '61 is probably no smarter on the average than their predecessors, Mid-term grades will tell this much more impressively.

Attendance at the academic aid sessions has dwindled to three or four freshmen an evening. Upperclassmen give up valuable time to plan the program and to serve as consultants. In spite of their efforts, a number of frosh will leave Juniata because of academic deficiency. Many of them would still be here in February had they taken pains to study a bit and take advantage of available counselling.

Most of the freshmen—as the midterm report will show—could stand to take advantage of the aid program. If they don't, academic dismissals will take their usual toll.

Moreover, if this year's frosh do not take advantage of the aid program, it may be discontinued and won't be available for a more conscientious freshman class.

So, freshmen, let's get on the ball. Take time to be academic.

Bovines Must Be Balking

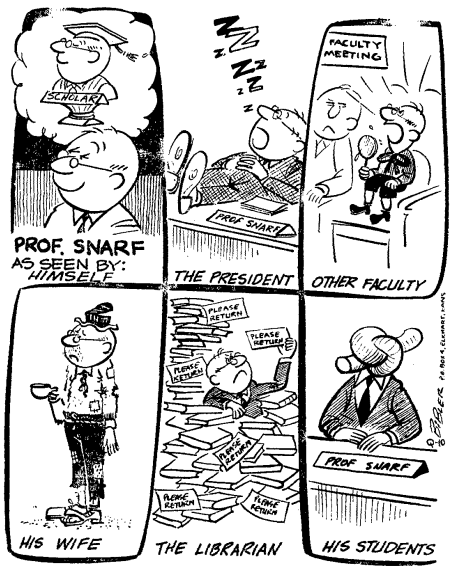
WHILE we think that the food served in Oneida dining hall lately has been fairly palatable, we can't help but wonder in the morning if the cows have gone on strike.

It is seldom that everyone at the table gets more than a single glass of milk even though it is generally understood that milk for breakfast is to be available in considerably greater quantities.

At lunchtime most of the students get a whole glass of milk, but a number get only three-fourths of a glass. Occasionally there is no milk at all at lunch. Thus we see that on the average a student gets a scant two glasses of milk a day.

Perhaps the dairymen's associations are wrong when they say "Even adults need four glasses of milk daily," but it seems to us that we should be getting more milk than we do.

In the past the supply of milk was rather plentiful. Perhaps there is some good reason for the scarcity now. We hope that the present milk situation is only temporary.



Use Of Bulletin Boards

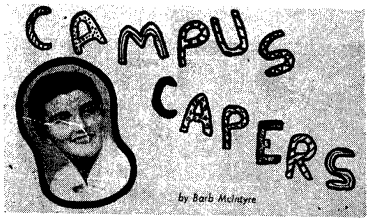
Students have been intelligent in their use of the various campus bulletin boards in general, but occasionally there have been violations of the Senate rules for their use.

* * * *

All announcements should be neat in appearance and every announcement must bear the date of its posting. No posters should be tacked to the wooden frames around the boards.

* * * *

It is a mark of immaturity to deface posted announcements or to steal the thumbacks. We hope that students will remember these rules.



The absentee epidemic on college hill is brought to a climax with the end of the mid-term exams.

It seems that the 8 and 9 o'clock professors suffer when a JC student has midterm at 11. Of course, there was one sharp coed who stayed up three-fourths of the night studying, meanwhile reinforcing herself with no-doze pills. She decided to catch a few winks around 4 o'clock with the result being she missed her mid-term completely. Also, around this time I hear that bets are taken concerning when a certain business prof is going to pop the mid-term.

* * * *

Quips in passing . . . .

I dislike to be referring always to that versatile house on campus, but you must admit the occupants are different. For example there was one guy who accidentially found an article in his wash that most guys have to form a raid to get.

Topped off with a mop, I hear he was a pretty good dancer at least that's what the neighbors thought . . . general concensus of opinion of the dance in North Dorm last week seemed to be very favorable. It seems that the rustic atmosphere made possible with the bent hangers went so far as to have one guy imagine he saw fleas on the floor, and even organize a race . . . FTA thought they might use the theme of Pajama Game for next week's dance, but decided against it, as it might not comply with various administrative factors.

* * * *

It seems that a few of JC's students were somewhat confused as to whether or not PMC was a male school last weekend when Juniata handed them a 14-0 defeat. At least it appeared that way by some of the comments: "Gee, I wonder who their homecoming queen will be? . . . Look, their cheerleaders are all boys! . . Is this school coed? . . . live and learn."

* * * *

Mailbox news . . .

"He's so dumb that if brains were dynamite, he wouldn't have enough to blow his nose." . . . Said of a prof who writes rather complicated test questions: "He could write The Three Bears and you wouldn't be able to understand it."

Tomorrow afternoon our undefeated team will encounter Albright college in Reading. They'll have the support of the band, majorettes, cheerleaders and pom pom girls, plus a lot of the sutdent body. Good luck!

And in closing, we often speak of reading people like a book. But so many of them are of such small type that we run a risk of ruining our eyesight in the attempt to do much reading.

Pained Comment On A Brand-New Heavenly Body

Twinkle, twinkle, liddle Sputnik,
You iss Rawshian dirty tricknik,
Up above der world so high,
Making zigzags in der sky.
How der hell can people sleep
When all night long goes "Beep, Beep, Beep"?

—Dan Gallery, Saturday Evening Post.

Killian Defense Advisor

CZAR OF DEFENSE — The United States government has finally responded to the challenge of the sputniks.

Eisenhower has named President James Killian of Massachusetts Institute of Technology as "czar" of our defense coordination. It appears that our missile program is to be enlarged and speeded up considerably. Killian's organization will be given priority on vital raw materials, technology and scientists.

Meanwhile the Army has been ordered to give top priority to launching a satellite with its most powerful missile, the Jupiter C. Previously the satellite program had been at the bottom of the priority list and is one of the reasons why Russia has been able to outdistance the United States.

STEVENSON APPOINTED — After some confusion caused by James Haggerty the White House announced on Wednesday that Adlai Stevenson had agreed to act as Democratic consultant on pulling the Atlantic Alliance closer together.

This means that Stevenson will have some weight in determining the foreign policy of the United States. However, he will probably only give advice on policy as initiated by the Administration rather than make concrete policy suggestions on his own.

Perhaps this is unfortunate; Stevenson has some penetrating ideas about foreign policy. But because Dulles and Eisenhower have followed a different course these ideas have neven been put into practice.

Yet, on the other hand, it would be a mistake for Stevenson to use his new position to work at cross purposes with the the men who hired him. The result could only be confusion, Stevenson's dismissal and the growth of partisanship in our foreign policy. Nevertheless, let's hope Stevenson is able to make some significant contributions.

INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM —The Communist party of the Soviet Union is again attempting to gain control of the international communist movement.

Last week the leaders of all important communist nations met in Moscow during the celebration of the November Revolution. Word has leaked out that extreme pressure was put on the visiting dignitaries to agree to the establishment of a new Cominform.

If the Soviet Union is able to reestablish its control of international communism, it will be a surprise. Yugoslavia surely will object and refuse to join as they have in the past. Riding the fence between Russia and the United States has proved too possible.

The Italian Communist party has stated that it thinks any such move would be unwise in light of the Russian brutality in Hungary.

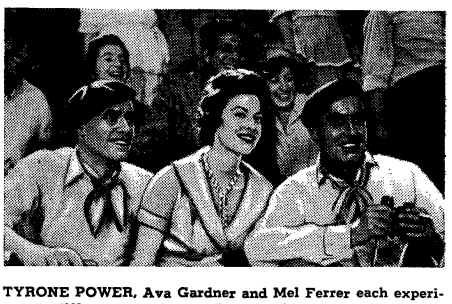
However, it will be a different story with Poland and China. Both are experiencing severe difficulties. Because they need Soviet assistance very badly, they are in no position to decline.

With this division in the communist camp even if a new Cominform is established, it is doubtful that it will have very much authority or be all inclusive.

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

Movie Of The Week

The Sun Also Rises



TYRONE POWER, Ava Gardner and Mel Ferrer each experience a diffeent sensation as they watch a youthful matador, whose life has become entwined with their own, perform in the colorful bull ring of Pamplona, Spain, in Darryl F. Zanuck's CinemaScope production for Twentieth Century-Fox of Ernest Hemingway's The Sun Also Rises, which also stars Errol Flynn and Eddie Albert and opens Monday for a 3 day engagement at the Harris Clifton Theatre.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Tribe Faces Albright Hurdle In Reading

The Albright game is not to be taken for granted as they will be up for the game and, probably more important, they play a better class of ball than the Indians.

It would look good for us to whip this team with such formidable opponents as Bucknell, Scranton, Muhlenburg, Gettysburg and Franklin and Marshall.

* * * *

The atmosphere will be different for this game since a good crowd is expected in a stadium far bettir than those in which we usually play.

* * *

JC ranked well in ECAC statistics released before the PMC contest. In our division Juniata led in total defense with 114.5 yards per game, rushing offense with 260.8 yards per game, rushing defense with 72.8 yards per game and punting with 35.9 yard average. Juniata ranked second in total offense, 348.3 yards per game and passing defense, 41.8 yards per game. Our total defense figure was good enough to lead the entire East.

* * *

Other statistics show our defense has yielded only seven points while rolling up 171. Jim Berrier leads the Tribe in rushing with 346 yards. Bill Berier leads in total points with 42 and the Berriers share the lead in touchdowns scored with six.

* * *

The team has a great defense but it is being a little overrushed. It seems unnecessary to quick kick, especially on a second down in our opponents territory, and there must be a better way to pick up long yardage than to fake a kick and run. It would seem better to keep possession of the ball and play it straight.

* * *

Predictions—Juniata over Albright, Coast Guard to give Drexel final loss in a winless season, Moravian over Wagner, Lycoming to close out successful season by beating Geneva, Carnegie Tech to top Westminster in finale, Scranton over Wilkes, PMC to bounce back against Swarthmore and Lebanon Valley over Ursinus.

* * *

So far 32 right and 8 wrong for 80%.

● Tony Chirico ●
Indispensable Center

● Ken Fassnacht ●
Burly Guard

Trip To Mark Last Away Game For Tribe's Chirico, Fassnacht

Tomorrow marks the last away game in the careers of two of the Tribe's senior linemen, Tony Chirico and Ken Fassnacht.

Chirico was finally given a chance to prove himself in a starting role this year after playing behind John Staley for the past three seasons. He moved into the offensive center slot and a defensive linebacker position. He has performed well in both positions and is one of the major reasons that JC's defense ranks high in the ECAC.

A solid 5' 10", 187 pound frame with an uncanny eye for analyzing opponents' offensive plays, tabs Chirico as one of Coach Bunn's "indispensibles." An Eastern Pennsylvania representative, he played high school football for the Cowboys of West Reading.

The other lineman, Ken Fassnacht, is the heaviest man on the squad this season, tipping the scales at 220 pounds. This weight, evenly distributed over his 6' 2" frame, makes him a formidable opponent to opposing linemen.

Early this season Fassnacht replaced injured Don Shover at guard. Since then he has been a valuable asset to the Indians, particularly in the Westminster game.

Fassnacht also hails from Eastern Pennsylvania. He attended Cocalico Union High School where he was a stand-out for the Eagles.

Tribe Knocks Crazy 8 From IM Tournament

The Tribe knocked the Crazy Eight out of IM play by virtue of a 25-13 win.

Jerry Witt passed twice for touchdowns, once to Glenn Williamson and once to Wally Berkey to account for the Crazy Eight scoring.

The Tribe tallied two in the air, George Zeh to Bob Sill and Sill to Zeh. Mel Wenger and Sill each ran for six points to finish the scoring.

The win left the Collegians and Tribe in the finals of the elimination tournament. The Collegians remain undefeated thus requiring two straight wins for the Tribe to take the championship from the defending Collegians.

BOWLING LEAGUE

Plans for an IM bowling league will be announced in the next issue of the Juniatian.

10 Game Streak To Go On Boards As JC Indians Invade Lions' Den

Coach Ken Bunn's Indians put a ten game win streak on the line tomorrow as they invade the lair of the Albright Lions.

The Tribe has never beaten the Reading squad in their six game rivalry which began in 1920 when the Red and White handed the Indians their worst defeat, 77-0.

The charges of John Potsklan sport an unimpressive 1-6-1 record this season, However the Lions played a strong Lycoming squad to a scoreless tie and rolled over Lebanon Valley 32-8, to prove that they may offer the Tribe some rough moments.

Leading the Albright "T" offense is quarterback Frank Sudock, an experienced, sharpshooter from West Hazelton who accounted for almost 1000 yards for the Lions last season. Sudock's main target will be senior captain Don McCarty, a veteran 205 pound end from Doylestown.

Seniors Don Kopp and John Cunningham supply the Red and White with a pair of experienced halfbacks, and sophomore fullback Gerald Bricker rounds out the Lion backfield.

Four lettermen form the core of the Albright forward wall. Frank Hoffman shares the wingman chores with McCarty. Hoffman is a 195 pound, four year veteran from Trenton, N. J.

At the tackle slots are Joe Kremer, 210 pound junior letterwinner, and freshman Tony Mazza who tips the scales at 215. Norman Ruppert and Dick Napolilani will probably start at guard for the Lions. Ruppert is a senior; Napolilani, a sophomore, and both saw starting roles on last years club.

At pivot position is Tony LoSapio, a 185 pound sophomore from Madison High School in New Jersey.

Undefeated Harriers To Face Last Obstacle At Albright Tomorrow

With only Albright in the way of an undefeated season, the cross country team will meet the Lions tomorrow during the JC-Albright football game in Reading.

With freshman Don Layman leading again, the Indian harriers chalked up their third straight victory of the campaign 27-30 over the Elizabethtown Blue Jays last Friday. The meet was run over the E-town 4.7 mile course which was windy and wet throughout the race.

To win his third meet of the season Layman had to stay ahead of the home team's top two runners, Burkholder and Thume. Frank Hrach and Herb Deuchar finished in fourth and fifth places for the Blue and Gold.

The Blue Jays applied pressure by coping the next two spots, but victory was clinched when four Indian harriers finished before the fifth Elizabethtown thinclad. They were, in order of finish, Bill Lafe, Jim Pettit, Chalmer Dilling and Chuck Brown.

Indians Drop Stubborn Cadets To Keep Unbeaten Streak

The JC Indians continued on their unbeaten warpath as they tumbled the resisting Cadets from Penn Military College 14-0 on the Chester battleground.

The victory is the tenth in Juniata's undefeated, ,untied streak, including five straight this season.

Capitalizing on an intercepted pass by Jim Berrier and a recovered fumble by co-captain Bernie McQuown, Juniata scored in the initial and final periods.

The Indians relinquished the ball on the PMC 23 in the first series of plays but quickly regained possession of the pigskin on the 35 after Berrier's out-standing one-handed interception of George Cooper's long pass.

Sophomore halfback Bob Devlin raced 15 yards for a first down to the 20. After Devlin lost a yard, Jim Berrier picked up 4 yards to the 17. Facing a fourth and 7 situation, quarterback Bob Schwalenberg tossed his sixth TD pass to Jim Berrier.

Brother Bill added the extra point from placement to give the Indians a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

The middle quarters were played to a standstill with PMC halfback Harry Feinberg sparking the Cadets with several small gains.

In the fourth period tackle Al Dungan recovered a fumble on the PMC 7 but the Indians were halted on the one foot line.

As soon as PMC gained possession, quarterback Mike Cockill fumbled and McQuown pounced on the loose pigskin on the 2. Schwalenberg rolled out for one and then Bill Berrier plunged for the clinching score. He again added the PAT successfully to make the score 14-0.

Statistically, Juniata had 169 yards rushing and 27 passing while the frustrated Cadets managed only 124 yards on the ground. Juniata led in the first down department 11-7.

● Bill Berrier ●
High Scoring Fullback

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone 346

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

Bernie Predicts
JUNIATA 13
ALBRIGHT 7
Good Luck On This,
Your Tough One
Swartz Jewelry
Next To Clifton Theatre

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone 78

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone 2082

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone 1141

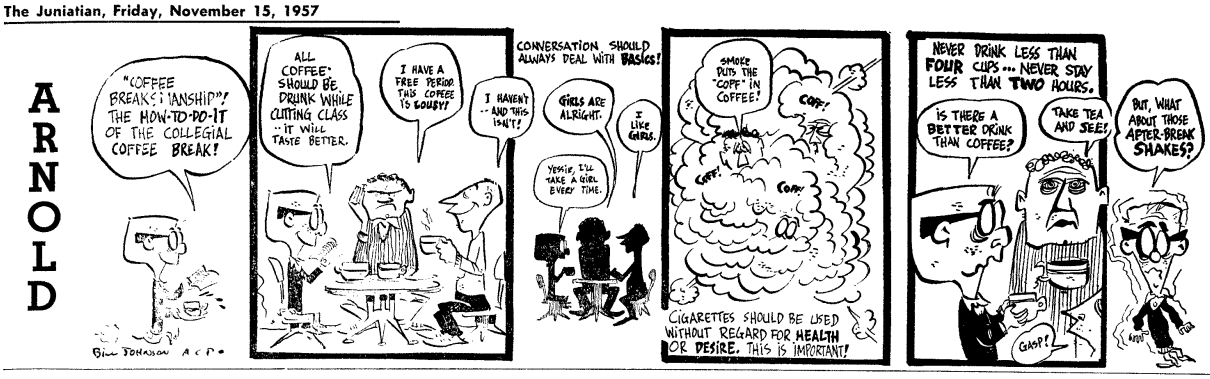
STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE HUNTINGDON 268—

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

Unusual Costume Jewelry
Varied Gift Line
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.



Women To Attend Annual Firelighting

Juniata women will commemorate the legend of Princess Alfarata at their traditional firelighting ceremony Sunday, at 10 p.m. in the social rooms of the women's dorm.

Each year JC eeds light the first fire in the Founders Hall fireplace and retell the story of the Indian tribe who once lived where Juniata now stands. Chairman of women's house Janice Gilroy will portray the princess.

The program will feature a sextette singing two traditional songs. Those who will participate are Millie Mandeville, Janet Binkley, Jacque Rowland, Anna Mary Smith, Carol Teeter and Aileen Wright.

Ann Larkin and "Poodle" Wohlbruck, who are in charge of the evening, have announced that this year the ceremony will be a big-little sister affair. A special invitation is extended to day students and refreshments will be served.

Brockway Gets Post Of Technical Director

WJC yesterday received the resignation of Ed Brockway as technical director. The reason for his action, the second resignation from that post in the past two weeks, has not been disclosed.

Ed Brockway has been named technical director of WJC radio replacing Bill Holsinger, who resigned last week.

A sophomore from Gloucester, N. J., Brockway is a pre-min student. He is active in debate and is manager of the Senate used book store.

Station manager Rush Hodgin made the appointment. He said that Brockway inherited what is currently the most important post in the WJC directory since this year's technical troubles surmount those of previous years.

Using a borrowed amplifier and a defective transmitter, WJC personnel are never sure when they will be unable to broadcast, Hodgin reported.

A new transmitter will soon be built and coaxial cable to be strung to North Dorm, has been purchased. It is scheduled to be installed within the next six weeks.

Plea For Engineers

The delay is blamed on the shortage of engineers. Those available are kept busy repairing the transmitter and amplifier. Hodgin pointed out that better reception would be available sooner and more widely if additional engineers could be procured.

JCers To Observe Auto Regulations

Continued from page 1

Dean of Men to pay their fines. The Judiciary will be involved in the case of appeals or three-time offenders.

Although no method has been suggested for enforcement of the rules as far as the Faculty is concerned, it is expected that they will comply. Perhaps in the case of a problem here, the President will be consulted.

For the time being, the responsibility of selecting and maintaining student patrols, who will be paid from the fines collected, rests with the Senate, but it may later be taken over by the college.

JCA To Start Service

A new program of weekly evening worship services sponsored by JCA will begin Wednesday, according to Don Shover, chairman of worship on the JCA cabinet.

Services will be held in the sanctuary of the Stone Church every Wednesday evening from 9:15 to 9:45 p.m. All JCers are invited to attend.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

SHOP
THE RAY ENGLISH
STORE
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone 830

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone 431 211 5th St.

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

MOTEL 22
and
RESTAURANT
Air-Conditioned Dining Room and Coffee Shop
7 Miles East of
Huntingdon

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
Walt Disney Presents
BAMBI also SECRETS OF LOVE
— Both in Technicolor —
MON - TUE - WED
Tyrone POWER · Ava GARDNER
Mel FERRER · Errol FLYNN
Eddie ALBERT
DARRYL F. ZANUCK'S production of ERNEST HEMINGWAY'S
THE SUN ALSO RISES
Directed by HENRY KING
CINEMASCOPE COLOR by
Starts THURSDAY
HOWARD HUGHES' JET PILOT
JOHN WAYNE · JANET LEIGH
and
U. S. AIR FORCE
JAY C. FLIPPEN · PAUL FIX HANS CONRIED
TECHNICOLOR
Released by UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

MILLER HARDWARE CO.
MILLERS RECORD SHOP
For Your Favorite Records
45's and 33's
Original Casts
" The Ten Commandments"
"The Robe"
"Around The World In 80 Days"
"Omar Khayyam"
"Eddy Duchin Story"
"My Fair Lady"

"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1957 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist.

Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet.

Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable.

Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
COCA - COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 10 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, November 22, 1957

Administration Plans Construction Of Giant Out-door Bulletin Board

A giant, lighted, glass-enclosed bulletin board will soon appear on campus as a major means of intra-collegiate communication.

Central Bulletin Board, which is to be located between the corner of Students Hall and the fire escape ,will be 21 feet long and 7 feet high. Its three glass compartments, equipped with locks, will be completely weatherproof.

One side of the board will contain notices from the deans to individual students or to the whole student body while in the opposite side, the chapel chart will be permanently posted. The center section of the board will be used by all Juniatians for posters and notices.

Still under planning, the bulletin board will be raised sometime near Christmas. Upon its completion, each student will be expected to check the board at least once a day.

Pete Fahrney

NEWLY ELECTED OFFICERS—The freshman class, after two close run-off elections last week, chose the above four students to represent them. From left to right are president Ron Vinson, treasurer Anna Grace Baer, vice-president Jack Kepple and secretary Judy Palmer.

Guidance Service Making Progress

The staff of Juniata's guidance service, instituted October 28, feels highly gratified by the response which has been shown since then, according to Dr William Hambacher, chairman.

The service provides vocational, personal and pre-marital guidance for those JCers who desire help and make an appointment with Dean Heberling's secretary, Mrs. Fluke. Dr. Hambacher has stressed that the primary aim of the service is "to supplement guidance already existing at Juniata."

The schedule for guidance advisors is as follows: Dean Bechtell, Mondays and Fridays; Dr. Hambacher, Tuesdays; Dr. Henry, Wednesdays and Dean Heberling, Thursdays. All conferences are kept strictly confidential, and fees are charged only for those services which require special materials such as vocational tests.

Report Says Asian Flu Here During Epidemic

A report from Dr. William Patterson, JC's physician, indicated that there were at least two cases of Asian flu on campus during the October epidemic.

During the outbreak Patterson took blood specimens from a male and a female student and sent them to the virology laboratory of the State Department of Health. Reports showing positive results were received last Saturday.

Patterson told college officials that it can be assumed Asian flu was present during the outbreak. He indicated that there were probably more than two students who had it, but it is impossible to estimate how many.

Thanksgiving Service To Be Tuesday Night

The Rev. Lister of the Huntingdon Baptist Church will speak in the all-college Thanksgiving worship service Tuesday night at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Miss Esther Doyle, Bob McFadden, Terry Fouse, Barb Orner and a 12-voice choir will take part in the program.

Committee members are Lois Davis, publicity; Jack Rodland, music; Ron Knouse, house manager and Dick Quinn, program.

All Juniatians are invited to attend.

Train To Stop At 12:45

The Pennsylvania Limited, train no. 54 eastbound, will make a special stop at Huntingdon Wednesday, November 27, at 12:45 p.m. for the accommodation of faculty and students.

Since there will be a large number of students going east on the train leaving at 12:45, it is suggested that as many students as possible purchase their tickets in advance.

Four To Present Selected Readings

Miss Esther Doyle's oral interpretation class will present the third session of Prose, Poetry and Punch today from 4:30 to 5 p.m. in the rec room of East Hall.

This week's readers are Don McCallum, Beverly McEwen, Del McQuaide and Sue Paxson. Selections will vary from the classical story of Antigone to Emily Kimbrough's humorous It Gives Me Great Pleasure. All are invited to attend.

Classes To Start Work On Scripts For All-Class Night

Would-be playwrights may start putting their talent to work on scripts for the All Class Night competition which spotlights historical events this year.

Annually JC's classes compete for the All Class Night cup by presenting short skits on the subjects of music, drama, comedy and history.

Plans for the skits and lists of the committees who are to present them should be ready by January 22 according to the script committee chairman "Poodle" Wohlbruck and Judy Barrowclough. After the scripts are approved, work may begin for presentation February 22.

Each class is allotted 22 minutes and a budget of $15 for production. The skits will be judged on three bases: script-originality, continuity and integration; performance-direction and interpretation; staging-costumes, lighting, set, and make-up.

The class of '57 won last year with their comic takeog on melodrama, the Triumph of Purity.

The seniors have already chosen a script and begun production worb. Word has it that they are willing to sell their rejected scripts.

Next Week In Chapel

Nov. 25 — Dean Mays
Nov. 27 — Thanksgiving vacation

Holiday Pageant Of Medieval Origin

The '57 presentation of Juniata's annual Christmas pageant will take place Sunday, December 15, in Oller Hall.

Professor Merrel, director, said that the pageant, entitled The York Nativity, has come to us from York, England, where it was presented yearly in the Middle Ages. Merrel explained that in medieval Europe and England Christmas was celebrated by a series of these mystery plays enacted by the craft guilds in small cathedral towns.

Ron Knouse, technical director, has nearly completed the sets which consist of three Gothic arches, each to be seen from a different angle. The drama takes place around these arches with the Chapel Choir standing offstage to supply hymns representing a celestial chorus.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

The class of '58 will meet in Founders Chapel at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Senators Give Final Approval To Music Of New Alma Mater

A final mark of approval was given the music for the proposed new alma mater at the Wednesday night meeting of the Senate this week.

Margy White, chairman of the alma mater committee, played the music recently revised by herself, Kathryn Holsinger and Pete Wright. It required only a few changes in the harmonics, she reported. The lyrics will be given additional attention in the near future, and the final version should be ready in a month.

Thumbs Down

Gini Nixdorf reported that the administration had turned thumbs down on a proposal to contract a Johnstown dance band, conducted by an alumnus, because the asking price of $150 seemed too much to pay, even though the money is available. The problem was referred to a committee composed of Miss Nixdorf, Janice Gilroy, Al Blough and Chuck Brown.

Dean Paul Heberling asked the Senate's cooperation in sounding out the campus in renovating the men's day students rooms, using student labor. The Administration recognizes the inadequacy of the facilities, but they are at a loss for labor for immediate repair.

Proctors Working

Don Shover, chairman of the student proctoring committee, announced that the proctoring program has been instated, and that two professors have already taken advantage of using student proctors for their tests.

In consideration of a letter received from Pete Fahrney (see page 2) requesting that the Senate seek acquisition of a college bus, President Del McQuaide appointed Bonnie Gunther, Val Means and Spencer Ward to a committee to examine the issue. The Senate felt, however, that an additional college car, or preferably a station wagon, would be more desirable.

New Phone Numbers

College number MItchell 3-4310

Women's Dorms:

Third Brumbaugh	3-9994
Fourth Brumbaugh	3-9940
Alcove Booth	3-9946
East Hall	3-9967

Men's Dorms:

North Dorm	3-9996
Cloister	3-9950
Cloister Arch	3-9923
Emmert House	3-9993
N. J. House	3-9965
Saylor Houe	3-9947
Infirmary	3-4313

After switchboard closes:

Home Management	3-4312
Library	3-4312
I. Harvey	3-4312
Totem Inn	3-4310

Coeds Will Twirp To Kiddies' Kapers

Attention, all girls! Tomorrow is your last chance to twirp "the" guy to the Kiddies' Kapers Dance in the women's gym from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Everyone will have an opportunity to return to those "good old Golden Rule" days and dress as children with pigtails, wearing short skirts or short pants. A prize will be given to the cutest couple.

Hi-fi records will provide the music and appropriate children's refreshments will be served.

Placement Office Posting Open Jobs

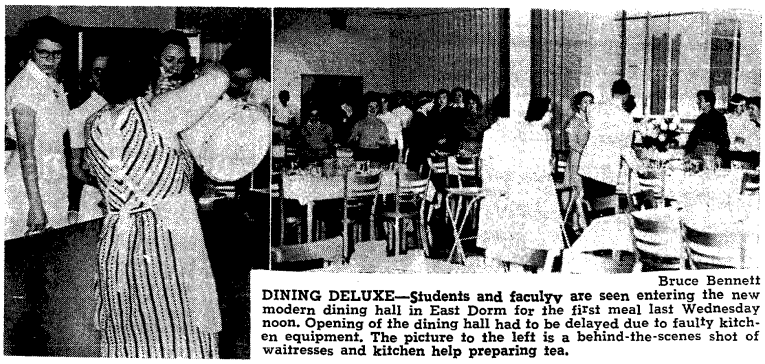
A new system of informing students of job opportunities has been initiated by the Placement Service.

All offers from prospective employers are being put on cards and posted outside the Dean of Men's Office. All students are encouraged to check the cards as often as possible.

Longenecker Resigns As Math Instructor

Miss Annie Longnecker, instructor in math, has resigned from Juniata's faculty for health reasons.

Miss Longnecker, a retired school teacher from the Huntingdon area, volunteered to help instruct math classes at JC this and last year. Her classes will be divided between the other math instructors,, Prof. Clyde Stayer and John Dale.



Bruce Bennett

DINING DELUXE—Students and faculyy are seen entering the new modern dining hall in East Dorm for the first meal last Wednesday noon. Opening of the dining hall had to be delayed due to faulty kitchen equipment. The picture to the left is a behind-the-scenes shot of waitresses and kitchen help preparing tea.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Bob Blair

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Pat Varec, Gail Wernsing, Carol Whitfield, Del McQuaide.

SPORTS STAFF: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 10 — Friday, November 22, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Drinking In Dorms

IT has come to our attention that some of the residents of North Dorm have been drinking in their rooms.

We are sorry to hear this not only because the college does not permit drinking in the dorms, but also because the men promised in the Spring of 1956 that they would keep alcholic beverages out of the dorm and report to the Judiciary any violators.

This was done in return for an Administration promise to allow the students, through their Judiciary, to discipline all cases involving drinking.

* * * *

The Administration has kept their side of the agreement. It is too bad that the students will not cooperate, especially since few, if any, schools in the nation permit drinking in dormitories.

* * * *

Students who drink in he dorms only increase the friction between the student body and the Administration over what is perhaps the most controversial issue on campus. They are doing their fellow students a disservice as well as breaking a rule.

Added Enjoyment

WE would like to recognize the work of the Indian staff and WJC radio that helped us enjoy this year's great football season even more.

In the stands the Indian was a handy and well prepared companion to help us keep the players straight and to give us interesting sidelights on the teams.

For those of us who could not attend all the away games or who for some reason could not get to home games, WJC's sports staff provided a fine substitute.

We want those involved to know that we certainly appreciate their efforts.

Our Reader's Opinions

College Should Procure Bus

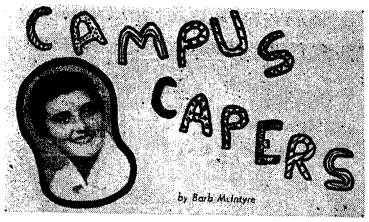
...MANY colleges and virtually all universities own busses to provide transportation for their students. This is still another area where Juniata lacks something necessary for the general construction of the college community.

...All but a few campus organizations are aided with transportation for their needs. Others receive nothing from the Administration but a rubber stamp "OK." Surely the administrators feel some obligation to these groups.

Every year the groups which have need of a student bus must resort to finding their own transportation: . . . student teachers . . . members of professional organizations going on field trips needed for the completion of their education. Even though the list of this type could be expanded considerably, the idea of a student bus is applicable simply for general student use.

Surely the president knows why so many cars are on campus. I further doubt if even the academic policy committee could refuse a student permission to keep a car on campus for the express reason of attending college functions away from campus.

No man can live alone and, as well, no college can exist as an island. I suggest that the Senate ask what can be done about building this one lone bridge. — Peter Fahrney.



Some notorious schemes were put into action this week with the commencing of twirp week last Saturday.

Pizza pie, cokes and coffee were consumed in abundance. Also, many original poems were written . . . nuff said?

With the history exam and all the frustrated twirps seen around JC this week, a few sophomore girls were contemplating what their attire should be when they jumped off the roof of Oller hall. The above were joking about it at dinner one day when a chic freshman girl very innocently commented, "Are you serious? That's a pretty high jump . . ."

The Albright Game

During a very tense moment of play one of our players returned to the stands after being tackled and one of the managers sponged water down his back. Overheard in the stands was this remark "Oh, how can he possibly stand it? It's a wonder it doesn't tickle him." . . .

Another chick came to the conclusion that the helmets of the players were hard because all their heads were the same shape . . . And in passing, both the football and cross country teams were great.

With the JWSF campaign nearly completed, many others are being waged sparked by the pin campaign under the direction of the notorious group. (In case you don't know who I'm referring to, consult the past issues of the Juniatian). . .

In reference to the junior pictures, a junior male was heard to comment: "This business of choosing how many pictures I must buy for all my girls is really going to run into money . . . maybe I'll just write a few of them a couple of letters and only spend money for the stamps . . . ."

Guy — "I know you like a book!"

Gal — "Why don't you try reading me then:"

Guy — "I would, but you won't let me turn the pages." (Overheard in JC's social rooms).

From The Classroom

Philosophy: "Prove that the universe exists; give three examples."

Math: "The finite is much larger than is commonly supposed."

History: "Serfdom decayed rapidly. Serfs were paid in money instead of work."

Physics: "It was reassuring to feel that everywhere throughout an infinite space every particle of matter was quietly attracting every other particle by a force proportionate to the product of the masses and inversely proportional to the square of the distance."

Poli sci: "France has been changing governments right and left."

Music: "5/4 time: a waltz for three-legged people."

— Charles Harris, Swarthmore Phoenix.

New Weapons For NATO

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

MISSILE SPEED-UP — The defense department announced Tuesday that production of intermediate range missiles is to be increased considerably. The weapons will then be deployed among NATO nations that surround the Soviet Union and should add to our ability for massive retaliation in the event of Soviet aggression against any NATO nation.

This will mean that the government will have to spend 1½ billion dollars more in the present fiscal year than they had anticipated. However, Eisenhower had already promised a balanced budget and will probably be subject to criticism from some quarters, because it is fairly certain that the government will now have to engage in deficit spending.

But there is little doubt that the American people will be willing to give up a balanced budget in return for security. President Eisenhower said in a recent speech that he did not think the American people are willing to "sacrifice security to worship a budget."

As the Soviet Union continues to conquer new frontiers in the scientific armaments race, thoughts of a balanced budget will gradually fade into the background.

SOVIET - EGYPTIAN AGREEMENT — Nasser's Egypt has moved further into the Russian camp as the result of a new economic-military agreement between the two nations. Russia has agreed to give military assistance to Egypt because their ally has been experiencing severe economic troubles that result from the necessity of having to spend such a large portion of their budget for a military machine. Furthermore, this military machine proved itself to be only second-rate in the recent war with Isarel.

Thus the Soviet aid will have a two-fold internal economic position—releasing money from the military machine and also providing the Egyptian army with greater strength than it now possesses. Both aspects are, of course, necessary if Nasser wishes to retain his grip on the government and if the Soviet Union wishes to maintain its foothold in the Middle East.

TOP PHYSICISTS TO INVADE COLLEGE CAMPUSES — Scientific and educational circles have thrown their first punch in the U. S. response to the challenge of Soviet science. Supported by the Ford Foundation and the National Science Foundation, 62 of the nation's physicists will visit over 100 colleges and universities to stimulate interest in the study and teaching of physics.

They intend to concentrate mainly on small liberal arts colleges, so there is a very good chance that Juniata will be visited. If it does happen that we are so honored, I hope it will prove beneficial to our physics department, which is hampered by the fact that we have only one permanent member.

Movie: Tammy And The Bachelor

BACKWOODS BELLE Debbie Reynolds, taken to the "big city" of Fairville (Pop. 1650) by Leslie Nielsen, is an excited young miss in this scene from Tammy and the Bachelor, Universal-International picture in Technicolor and Cinemascope, in which Nielsen, Walter Brennan and Mala Powers are co-starred with Debbie.

This film returns to the Clifton screen for just one day, Wednesday, November 27.

Tribe Seeks Undefeated, Untied Season

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The football spectator play of the year occured at Albright last Saturday at the close of the game as Indian fans uprooted one of the large wooden goal posts and carried it triumphantly across the field until stopped by a high wall and seven cops.

Nice try but goal posts are expensive anyway.

* * * *

The scoring in cross country is often misunderstood. The team with the lowest score wins as points are accumulated by order of finish. The first runner to cross the finish line takes one point, the second two and so on. The first five to cross for both sides receive points. A system called seven man displacement is usually used. This means that the sixth and seventh men count in regard to finish but do not receive points.

Thus JC received an extra point last week at Albright when six Lions crossed before the fourth and fifth Indian harriers. Instead of taking 9 and 10 points, the sixth Lion put us back into the 10 and 11 positions.

* * * *

The major bowl games have pretty well been decided. Ohio State vs Oregon in the Rose Bowl, Oklahoma vs Duke in the Orange Bowl, Texas A&M or Rice vs Army or Navy in the Cotton Bowl and probably Mississippi vs Texas A&M or Rice in the Sugar Bowl.

* * *

By virtue of their great upset Notre Dame snapped the Oklahoma 47 game winning streak, became the first team to shut out Oklahoma in 123 games, inflicted only the ninth defeat on Sooner coach Bud Wilkinson since he took over in 1947 and probably eliminated the Sooners as a national champion.

* * * *

Predictions—Juniata completes undefeated season over Ursinus, PMC takes Lebanon Valley and Moravian over Wilkes.

So far 38 right, 10 wrong for 79%.

Bruce Bennett

CHIEF INDIANS—Co-captains Bernie McQuown (l.) and Bill Schott (r.) close out their great careers against the Ursinus Bears on College Field tomorrow. Both have been stalwarts in their respective tackle and guard spots for the past three seasons.

Captains McQuown, Schott Close Careers Against Bears

Bernie McQuown and Bill Schott, the Indians' 1957 co-captains, will ring down the curtain on their college football careers here tomorrow.

Coach Ken Bunn has nothing but words of praise for his co-captains. "McQuown" he says, "may not be the biggest tackle to lead Juniata, but he is certainly one of the brainiest and gamest." "And Schott, has both the desire and determination that are the trademarks of Juniata teams."

Both linemen have been outstanding during the past three seasons and played key roles against Missouri Valley in the Tangerine Bowl.

McQuown not only demonstrates his leadership qualities on the gridiron but also is a leader in other campus activities. He is chairman of men's house on the Senate, president of the J Club and a member of the Campus Judiciary.

This 5' 11", 190-pound tackle was graduated from Punxsutawney High School and is a history major.

Schott is a product of Shaler High and carries technical industries as his major. The 5' 9", 190 pound guard is married and resides in the village.

Indian Scoring Attack Crushes Albright Lions For 11th Straight Win

The fired-up JC Indians displayed a powerful scoring attack by gaining a 40-13 victory over the Lions of Albright College.

The undefeated, untied Tribe, who have an 11-game win streak over the past two seasons, jumped to an overwhelming 34-0 halftime margin and virtually coasted to win number 6 in the present campaign. It is the first time that Juniata defeated Albright in the seven game series.

As soon as the Indians gained possession of the pigskin they jumped to an early first period lead when Bill Berrier took a direct snap from center and tossed a 37-yard scoring aerial to Bob Schwalenberg. Bill Berrier added the extra point.

Joe Sopata's 43-yard dash was the key play that set up the second score. With the second team taking over on the two, Dick Ott blasted for one, and Bob Devlin, who scored three touchdowns in the game,, slammed over from the one to give Juniata a 13-0 lead.

Three second period scores, two by halfback Devlin on runs of 13 and 5 yards and one by Bill Berrier on a 34-yard run, provided Juniata with an overwhelming score of 34-0 at halftime.

Sopata, ,who gained 87 net yards on 8 carries, scored Juniata's final TD on a 29-yard sweep in the third period.

Albright scored once in the third and fourth periods against the Juniata reserves. John Kopp tallied on a 5-yard run and quarterback John Shaner tossed a 10-yard scoring pass to senior co-captain end Don McCarty.

Albright's coach, John Potsklan, admitted after the contest that "Juniata was the sharpest team he had faced all season."

Statistically, Juniata gained 273 yards rushing and 82 passing, while Albright managed 94 yards on the ground and 123 passing. Juniata also led in the first down department 19-13.

Ursinus Stands As Last Obstacle As Bears Invade Here Tomorrow

Coach Ken Bunn's Indians seek an undefeated season as they close the 1957 grid year against the Bears of Ursinus.

The Grizzlies sport a 2-win, 4-loss record with victories over Susquehanna and Drexel, while losing to Wilkes, Haverford, Lebanon Valley and Wagner.

Coach Raymond Gurzynski's squad is bolstered by 12 returning lettermen and features the finest Bear backfield in recent years. However the Eastern Pennsylvania team is suffering from the graduation losses of four starting linemen including Harry Donnelly, third best pass receiver in the ECAC small college southern division last year.

The Bear's backfield will be led by triple threat halfback, captain Bob Famous, a three-time letter winner from Souderton. Chris Rohm, who hails from Huntingdon, holds down the other halfback slot and always makes his best showing against Juniata. Both boys are seniors and will wind up their college football careers against the Tribe.

At the fullback slot for the Grizzlies is Jack Prutzman, a hard running, 175 pound junior who frequently handles the quarterback shores. Quarterback Carl Hassler rounds out the Ursinus backfield. Although he is shart on experience, Hassler has been running well for the Bears this season, and his passing could prove a scoring threat against the strong Indian defense.

Despite key graduation osses in the line, Coach Gurzynski has mustered lettermen at most positions, and the Grizzlies should show good balance in the forward wall.

Sophomores John Forrest and Jon Myers will start at the end positions. At the tackle slot for the Bears are seniors Dick Brittain, a two-time letter winner, and John Jackson.Mike Drewniak and Walter Kinderman give the Grizzlies a pair of tough guards, and sophomore Rap Paine will probably start at the center position.

Ursinus has a two win, seven loss record against the Tribe in a rivalry which began in 1922.

Intramural Basketball, Bowling To Start Soon; Roster Deadline Near

Thursday December 5 marks the opening date for intramural basketball followed by bowling Friday, December 6.

Rosters are due this Sunday for teams entering both leagues. Basketball rosters should be given to Val Means and bowling rosters to Wally Berkey. All interested should either join a team or form one of their own.

Basketball games will be scheduled Monday, Wednesday or Thursday nights and Saturday afternoons. The schedule will be set up with all games in the Memorial Gym. Postponements, subject to the chairman of athletics, will be strictly limited. Team captains should take this into consideration in making out their roster.

Bowling is scheduled for Friday nights in the Arcade Alleys. A woman and four men make up a team with substitutes allowed. The three point method is used, a point for each game with total pins counting as the third game.

Harriers End Season Unbeaten With Strong Finish At Albright

With an impressive one, two, three finish that clinched the meet, Juniata's cross-country team ended the season undefeated with a 27-30 victory over Albright at Reading last Saturday.

In garnering its fourth straight win, the Blue and Gold harriers were led across the finish line by Don Layman, taking his fourth straight first place finish. Layman's time was 23:59 over the hilly 4.4 mile Albright course.

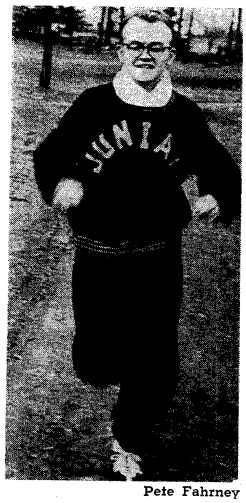
Insuring the victory for the Indians with second and third place finishes were captain Herb Deuchar and Frank Hrach, respectively.

The Lions gained some satisfaction for their afternoon's work by taking the next six places. The remaining JC scorers were Bill Lafe and Chalmer Dilling, who crossed the finish line in 10th and 11th spots, respectively.

This marks the end of the dual meet season for Juniata and the end of the second year of intercollegiate cross-country competition for the Braves. In that time coach Mike Snider's harriers have compiled a 7-1 record. The lone defeat was at the hands of F&M in last season's final meet.

In addition to Albright, the Indians have defeated Muhlenberg, F&M and Elizabethtown this season.

Today the Indians have sent their top seven men to compete in the Middle Atlantic Championships at Philadelphia.



Pete Fahrney

● Don Layman ● Four Firsts

Fred B. Bayer

WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS

Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions

Say it with Flowers from

Woodrings Floral Garden

8th and Washington St.

Phone MItchell 3-0260

HOTEL HUNTINGDON

Phone MItchell 3-1280

BERNIE PREDICTS:

JUNIATA 46

URSINUS 0

Allow Me To Be The First To Congratulate The Indians On Their Undefeated Season

Swartz Jewelry

Next To Clifton Theatre

Blair's Book Store

600 Penn Street

EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT

FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS

STORE HOURS 8 to 5

STRICKLER CLEANERS

Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices

Repair Service

1017 Moore Street

Sanforized SPORT SHIRTS

Plains & Stripes $2.95

G. C. MURPHY CO.

WESTBROOK'S SHOES

515 Washington St.

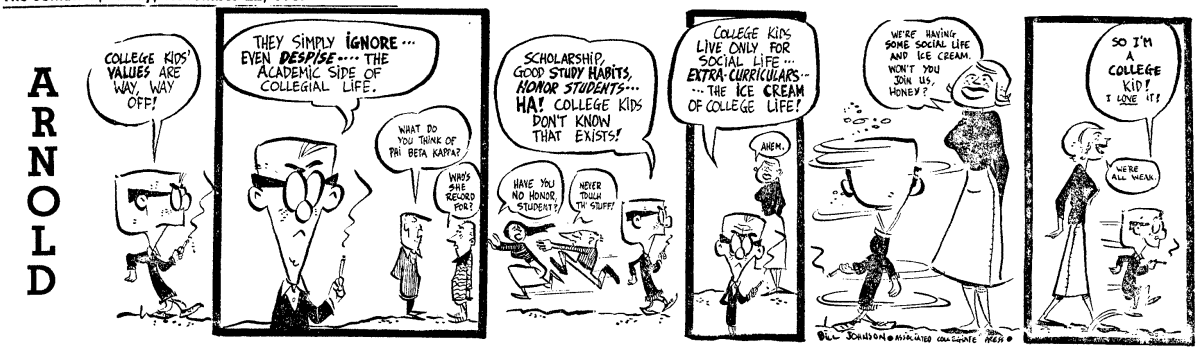
KELLY'S KORNER

Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket

Steaks — Sea Food

Spaghetti

Phone MItchell 3-4900



Coed Gives Simple Directions For Shopping In College Town

by Carol Baish

Not far from JC's College Hill lies a city of bright lights, excitement and the busiest fire company in seven counties.

Each September, the town merchants are subjected to approximately 700 JCers buying various items like tooth brushes, curtains, food, bedspeads, records, more food and those ever-popular blue and goud socks. Fridays are boom nights with hordes of hungry collegians descending on the restaurants;spaghetti is the featured food and the sidewalks are left out until 10 p.m.

The average Juniatian"s existence is brightened by packages from home and occasional y he even goes Away. But there are times when he must break away from the whirl of college life and Spend Money.

Trading in this fair metropolis can be made much easier if JCers would remember the following simple directions:

1. Do not interrupt waitresses or sales clerks when they are talking to their friends. This is highly important since someone may never find out whose cousin's brother Erma's sister's aunt-by-marriage was going with when Polk was assasinated.

2. Do not ask for crew neck sweaters in the collegiate-looking shop around the corner. They never heard of them.

3. Give the man in that little shop plenty if time to tell you no, he does not carry Playboy. He never learned to talk with a wad in the right side of his mouth.

4. In the 5 & 10s the genera rule to follow is:: if you can't find it, they don't have it.

5. It is not considered cricket to shoplift in the toy store when the owners are next door selling candy.

6. No, the cider sold across the bridge does not contain a preservative. Now stop asking!

7. Restrain hysterical laughter when the salesgirl explains that there "real y isn't much difference between a size 12 and a size 20." After all, business is business.

For a complete dissertation on How to Save Money and Alienate Sales Clerks write your local Better Business Bureau. (There is no truth to the rumor that the Walds own it!) And remember, a penny saved - - - won't even buy a half decent loleypop anymore!

Over 25 Books Again Missing From Library

More than 25 books have again been taken illegally from the college library this year, Sarah Hettinger, head librarian has reported.

Since most of the missing books are those required for the freshman integration courses, a bill has been sent to the freshman class to cover the cost of the books. If they are not returned, each freshman will have to pay his share of the total value which is over $100.

Mrs. Hettinger added that the library realizes the disadvantage of students having to keep reserved books in the library. However, this is done for the benefit of the whole class. If this practice is going to continue happening every year, the freshmen will eventually have to buy all their books, the librarian added.

Mrs. Hettinger has made a plea to all students to return these books. No punishment will be given out. The important thing is to get them back.

Safe Driving Contest To Offer Cash Prizes To College Students

The tenth annual College Newspaper Contest on Safe Driving has been announced by the Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, which this year is offering $2100 in cash prizes.

Features, editorials, cartoons and photopraphs in the interest of traffic safety will be judged on "originality of material, method of presentation and general effectiveness and vigor of the campaign." Material submitted for judging must have appeared in a college publication between November 11 and December 24, 1957.

The JUNIATIAN will publish any articles, features or photographs by JC students who wish to enter this contest. Individual entries will be submitted as clippings with an accompanying letter from the editor indicating to whom prize money should be paid.

All entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, January 13, 1958. For entry blanks and further information write to the Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, Mutual Insurance Building, Chicago 40, Ill.

Giles To Present Organ Recital

● Dr. Hugh Giles ●
To Give Organ Recital

Dr. Hugh Giles, director of music at Central Presbyterian Church in New York City, will present an organ recital December 4 at 10 a.m. in Oller Hall.

A native of South Carolina, Dr. Giles began to study music early in life and was later graduated from Furman University with B. Mus. and A. B. degrees. He did graduate work at the Juilliard School of Music and at Union Theological Seminary where he was awarded the degrees of M.S.M., B.D. and Sac. Muc. Doc

At Central Church Dr. Giles plays a large four manual Moller organ of his own design. It is on this organ that many world-famous organists are presented to the New York public.

Tote Bulletin Board Has Travelers Area

A portion of the Totem Inn bulletin board has been set aside for a "travel bulletin" as a result of recent Senate action.

The area is divided into two large portions, rides offered and rides wanted and into sub-divisions of general direction, east or west. Students offering or needing rides should place 3x5 cards with all information concerning these rides under the appropriate column.

It is hoped that this will centralize and facilitate the transportation communication which is necessary on campus. Students are urged to put all such notices only in the designated area and to remove them as soon as their purpose is fulfilled.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Bray Reminds Seniors

James Bray, register, reminds all seniors who have not signed their cards indicating when they are going to take their comprehensive examinations to see Miss Marjorie Johnson at the office of the registrar at their convenience.

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
HOWARD HUGHES' JET PILOT
JOHN WAYNE · JANET LEIGH
AND THE U.S. AIR FORCE
JAY C. FLIPPEN · PAUL FIX · HANS CONRIED
TECHNICOLOR®
Released by UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL®
Monday and Tuesday
Kim Novak
Jeff Chandler in
'JEANNE EAGELS'
WEDNESDAY ONLY
Debbie REYNOLDS in TAMMY and the BACHELOR
CINEMASCOPE · TECHNICOLOR.
with LESLIE NIELSEN · WALTER BRENNAN Starts Wedneseday Midnite
also Thursday & Friday
3:10 To Yuma · Glenn Ford
Soon — 'LA STRADA'

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

Vogue Shop
Sacony Sportswear
Junior Dresses
Gay Gibson Carole Krieg

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

There is less time for Christmas shopping than you think. Shop now before the crowds get here. We are ready to help you.
Dank s & Co.

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Something From The Jeweler
Is Always Something Special
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St. Phone MI 3-1700

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

MILLERS RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.
Phone
MI 3-1460
RCA Victor Graduate.
"Flight Line" portable with 156 square inch viewable area.
"Fingertip Balance" handle.
Gray or Ebony finish
AC. 17PT807 Series
$169.95

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE Mitchell 3-0736

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 11 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, December 6, 1957

Campus Readies For Christmas Season

$600 Charge Brings Protest From Senate

When a bill for $600 was presented to them Wednesday evening for damage to an infirmary door during the recent panty raid, the Senate voted to protest.

The Administration, after first estimating the cost of repair at $150, gave the Senators a $600 tab, $425 for repair of the door and $175 fine. The Senate had agreed to collect the amount of the original estimate, but they have stated that they cannot collect $600.

The protest was based on two grounds: a. even though the Senate promised three weeks ago to attempt to raise the sum, the Administration added a fine and upped the original estimate, and b. the Administration waited three weeks before presenting the bill so collecting money from the students would be more difficult at a time so far removed from the date of the raid.

Further Fines

Chairman of men's house Bernie McQuown reported that he had been sent a bill for $60 to pay for a window broken in North Dorm during a snowball battle Tuesday evening. The fine in this case is $15. Del McQuaide, Al Blough and Spencer Ward were appointed to see the Administration about these costs.

Educational Activities

A time-table for introducing the post of chairman of educational avtivities to the Senate has been prepared, each step in it to be taken only if action on the preceding step is favorable toward the proposal. It is as follows:

Jan. 8 — Final Senate consi-

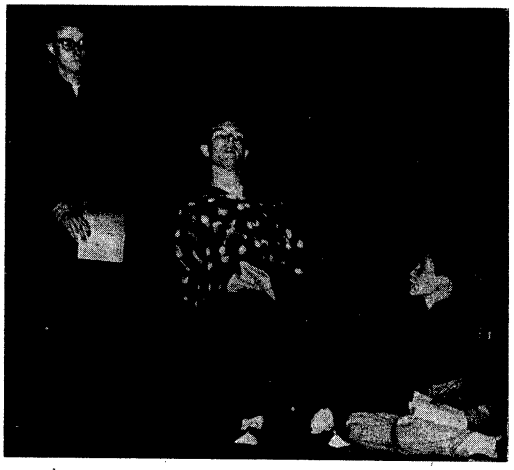
See SENATE, p. 4

100 Students Here For BSCM Rally

Over 100 students from Brethren colleges throughout the country attended a conference of the Brethren Student Christian Movement here during Thanksgiving vacation to discuss the theme Modern Rivals to the Christian Faith.

Dr. Jesse Ziegler, from Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill., was the keynote speaker for the conference. JCers who planned the conference were Jane Brumbaugh, Allen Custer, Stan Davis and Aileen Wright.

Colleges represented were Bridgewater College, Va.; Elizabethtown College; LaVerne College, Calif.; Manchester College, Ind.; McPherson College, Kan. and Ashland College, Ohio.



Bruce Bennett

PAGEANT PLAYERS — Chuck Brown as advisor to Herod, Bob Reader as Herod and Charles Bargerstock as Herod's son rehearse a scene from The York Nativity, this year's Christmas Pageant, to be presented in Oller Hall December 15.

Next Week In Chapel

Dec. 9 — Miss Esther Doyle, reading A Child's Christmas in Wales by Dylan Thomas.

Dec. 11 — Dean Mays, meditation.

Dec. 13 — A. Kamil, press officer of the Indonesian embassy in Washington, D. C.

Student Readings To Continue Today

Work by such contemporary authors as Robert Frost and Vachel Lindsay and a scene from My Sister Eileen will be featured at today's Prose, Poetry and Punch session at 4:30 p.m. in East Hall.

Readers from the oral interpretation class will be Don McCallum, Jack Rodgers, Lil Simons and Nan Winters. Bev McEwen will introduce the readers. Miss Esther Doyle, the class instructor, added that the final session in the series will be a Christmas program December 13 presented by the whole group.

Merrel Announces Cast Of Pageant

The York Nativity, JC's Christmas pageant for 1957, will be presented Sunday, December 15, in Oller Hall, under the direction of Professor William Merrel.

The cast of twelve was chosen last Sunday by Professor Merrel. The angel will be portrayed by Les Aungst; Mary, Ruth Perestam; Joseph, Terry Fouse; the shepherds, Glenn Hassinger, Arthur Norris, and Rush Hodgin; the Kings, Ron Fink, Ted Hetrick and Tex Holman. Herod, Robert Reader; Herod's son, Chuck Bargerstock; Herod's advison, Chuck Brown and the narrator, Spencer Ward.

Ron Knouse will serve as technical director for the production.

Dance To Follow Game

A post-game dance will be held in the women's gym tomorrow night, according to Gini Nixdorf, social committee chairman.

Christmas Party, Carol Singing To Highlight Activities Next Week

Decoration of the traditional spots about campus today opens this year's schedule of yuletide activities.

Each of the classes is competing for a 10-dollar prize. The winner will be announced at the Christmas banquet.

Wednesday there will be carol singing after dinner in the social rooms, and, for music lovers, the Civic Community Orchestra will play in Oller Hall Thursday at 8:45 p..m.

The JCA children's party will take place Friday, December 13, in Memorial Gym at 7 p.m. and will be followed by carols in the social rooms until 10:30 p.m.

Sunday, December 15, The York Nativity by John Baird will be presented by the music department in Oller Hall starting at 3:30 p.m.

Binkley's Reading

Dr. Binkley's traditional reading of Dickens' Christmas Carol will be in the social rooms at 7 p.m. Monday, December 16.

Wednesday the annual Christmas banquet, sponsored by the women's house committee, and the Christmas formal will take place. The banquet starts at 6:00 while the formal will be from 8:15 to 11:30 p..m.

The All-College Worship Service will be held Friday, December 20, at 11 p.m. in Oller Hall. An early morning carol sing at 5:30 a.m. Saturday will wind up the holiday festivities.

Christmas Banquet To Precede Dance

JC guys and gals will begin a romatic evening with the annual candlelight Christmas banquet December 18 at 6:00 p.m. in Oneida and East Hall dining rooms.

Couples may sign up for table preferences on the list on Founders Bulletin Board before December 11. Senior day students are invited but there will be no outside guests.

Janice Christie is in charge of the banquet. Chairman of the various committees are: entertainment, Mary Taylor; favors, Nina Fredenburgh; programs, Jackie Rhodes; center pieces, Joyce Hoffman; invitations, Bonnie Gunther; decorations, Mary Snyder and menu, Mary Shirk.

JCers To Revamp Basement Smoker

JCers are about to be confronted with the question of renovating the men's day students' room in the basement of Students Hall, according to Del McQuaide, Senate president.

At the November 26 Senate meeting it was reported that the walls, ceiling and furniture are badly in need of repair. The suggestion was made that it be turned into a project similar to the student construction of Totem Inn.

Since the room is used by residents as well as day students, volunteers would be called to aid in its renovation. A plan has not yet been initiated, but Dean Heberling is expected to broach the subject to the Men's House Committee in the near future.

Classes To Decorate Traditional Locations In Christmas Themes

The Christmas holiday spirit pervades the campus once again as each class prepares to brighten up the campus with decorative displays today.

Tradition dictates the locations which the classes decorate, but student ingenuity and inventiveness determine the direction they will take.

Virginia Wilhelm will chairman the freshmen class as they do the front entrance to campus and the second-floor balcony of Students Hall. Other committee members include Emma Yengst, Carol Snyder, Linda Taylor, Rodney Mellinger, Mike Farrow, Nick Pascale and Jack Merrill. Rumor has it that Santa Claus is on the side of the class of '61.

The sophomores, who will decorate the front steps of Founders, are going to surprise us—their theme is not yet definite. Co-chairman are Bobbie Savage and Cary Shaner aided by Gail Dickerson, Bev DeJanney, Barbara Fritchey, Pete Butler, John Compton and Don Tyson.

Night Before Christmas

Under the leadership of Carolyn Klein, the juniors are going to put a Christmas atmosphere in Totem Inn. They will decorate it in the spirit of "A Night Before Christmas" complete with the characters of the traditional seasonal poem.

The Socical Rooms, customary domain of the seniors' decorating talents, will depict an Old Fashioned Christmas. Co-chairman June Gray and Jim Jackson and helpers will carry out their theme with Christmas cookie decorations and other old fashioned "props."

Each class, while helping to put some of the Christmas spirit around campus, is also competing for the cash prize awarded to the best display.

Bruce Bennett

CONFERENCE LEADERS—Guests at JC for the Brethren Student Christian Movement conference held during Thanksgiving vacation take time out for some informal conversation in Oller Hall. They are, from left to right: Prof. T. Rieman, Manchester College, Ind., Dr. J. H. Ziegler, Bethany Seminary, Chicago, Ill., E. Crill, director of youth work of the Brethren church, Elgin, Ill. and Prof. D. Long, LaVerne College, Calif.

Annual Dance To Have Theme Of 'Old Fashioned Christmas'

An Old Fashioned Christmas is the theme of this year's formal Christmas dance, to be held December 18 from 8:15 to 11:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gym.

Couples will dance to the music of Duke Morris and the Melody Men. The five piece orchestra hails from State College where they have played for many fraternity parties and school gatherings.

The gym will be decorated in the Christmas spirit with the predominant colors being gold, white and red. Entertainment will begin at 10 p.m. and refreshments will follow.

During the evening JC couples may have their pictures taken at the Camera Club's photo concession. The social committee has set up a flower concession and men may begin to order their corsages next week.

Registration Dec. 10-13

Registration for the spring term starts Tuesday in Students Hall from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Seniors and students concentrating in elementary ed and music will register Tuesday. juniors, Wednesday; sophomores, Thursday and freshmen and home ec majors, Friday.

If a class or lab conflict prevents a student from registering at the proper time, he should report to the registrar's office at 10 a.m. Tuesday with a written request.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Barb Walls, managing editor

Carol Baish, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Val Means, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Barb McIntyre, assistant news editor; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Renie Dimmick, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Bob Blair

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Pat Varec, Gail Wernsing, Carol Whitfield, Del McQuaide.

SPORTS STAFF: Wally Berkey, Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Associated Collegiate Press affiliate. National advertising agent: Advertising Service Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 11 — Friday, December 6, 1957 — Page 2

From The Editor's Notes...

NOTHING has been done so far to prevent the mud around the new tennis courts from washing down onto the elephant walk even though the Administration told the Senate on October 28 that they would "make some temporary arrangements with our own maintenance department" if the company that was to raise the walk to the level of the courts "did not act within the next few weeks."

The only action taken so far is that some of the men in North Dorm were told to clean up the mud they had tracked into the building's lobby. It is hardly their fault the lobby is a mess when they have to tramp through mud to get to the dorm.

AT the request of some of the men in the Cloister we checked on the possibility of getting a laundry installed there. The only available place we're told, is the kitchen of the ranch and it will be necessary to rewire the room before driers can be installed.

Another problem is that a new entrance to the remaining rooms of the ranch will have to be cut. However, plans call for rewiring the building next summer. Since it will be possible to install a laundry at that time, we certainly hope that this action is taken.

The Cloister is the only major dorm on campus without a laundry.

TUESDAY night's pep rally would have been much more successful if the men present would have cheered. We realize that the men (especially the regular guys) really roared when it counted—at the games—but they did not show much appreciation for the fine record of the team during the victory rally.

"MATH F, PSYC F, ENGLISH F, AN' A 'C' IN PHYS ED. — JUST SHOWS YA WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YA SPEND ALL YER TIME STUDYIN' ONE SUBJECT."

MOVIE OF THE WEEK: Until They Sail

A meeting in a New Zealand recreation center during World War II marks the beginning of the romance between Jean Simmons and Paul Newman in Until They Sail, new M-G-M drama based on a story by James A. Michener. — The film plays Monday and Tuesday at the Clifton.

Ike's Illness

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

EISENHOWER STRICKEN ILL AGAIN—Last week President Eisenhower suffered his third major illness since first assuming the presidency in 1952.

This time the White House termed it a "cerebral occlusion." In 1955 Ike suffered a heart attack that incapacitated him for months. In June of 1956 emergency surgery for ileitis caused considerable speculation over whether or not Ike should run for a second term.

One of the reasons that he did run for reelection again is his amazing power of recovery. This was brought out clearly in his most recent illness. Tuesday he suffered the stroke and Thursday he attended church. Despite his many illnesses he is a man of strong constitution.

Unfortunately, his recent illness came at a time of serious crises for our country. Soviet successes in the rocket-sattelite field has challenged our country's security and leadership in the world. Today more than ever we need a vigorous leader; we cannot win with an invalid.

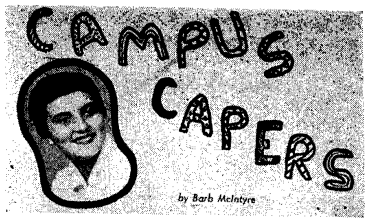
Another serious consequence is the bad effect upon our NATO allies who regard the president as their leader. Certainly "tricky Dick" Nixon would be a poor substitute for Ike at the NATO conference scheduled for December 16 in Paris. Nixon possesses neither the prestige nor the spiritual depth necessary to represent the United States to a group of frightened European diplomats.

Of course, at home the White House and the President's official family can carry on business as usual. Already a flexible committee of his advisors and cabinet members has made two important decisions, one of which, incidentally, they later had to repudiate. One decision authorized the combat production of intermediate range missiles. The other stated that it could be "assumed" that the President would not attend the NATO conference. The President, however, decided that he would go if his doctors gave him permission.

This brings up the question of the role of the Vice-President when the President is unable to carry out his duties. The Constitution is vague at this point. It says that the Vice-President shall take over when the President is disabled, but it does not say who is to determine when the President is disabled. It seems the better part of wisdom to remedy this defect in light of our recent experience. It is humorous though, that we never think of fixing the roof except when it's raining.

ALGERIAN DILEMMA—The French Empire continues to crumble. The militant nationalism of the Algerian Arabs has torn the country in two. What is worse the drain of money and manpower on France has seriously injured its political and economic life. Three Frencch governments have failed as the result of the civil war, and bitterness has developed between France and her allies because arms into a neighboring nation, Tunisia. The threat of inflation grows worse because of the high cost of maintaining an army of 450,000 in Algeria.

France will undoubtedly survive this crisis but this, of course, does not mean that her troubles will be over. France is a weak nation incapable of holding any position in world affairs. She will continue in a state of crisis until she has finally been relegated to her proper position.



Universally speaking, JC's campus once again returned to normal as the Thanksgiving holidays ended.

Everyone is his well rested self again, but it won't be long before we will be departing for Christmas. Before that, however, we have the JCA Christmas party and the formal banquet and dance to look forward to. Since Christmas is the most lyrical time of the year you can be sure that many musical notes will be heard in Tote during what many think is the most wonderful time of year at JC.

* * * *

Many capers have been forgotten, but a few linger . . Seems that a certain boy whose habitat is the North Dorm was quite upset one evening, (incidentally the evening I'm referring to was his debut), when he wasn't allowed to sign his "John Hancock" on the girl's sign out sheet in East Hall. It seems he was a bit confused, perhaps not being experienced as some of the other guys.

* * * *

Speaking of being confused, one mademoiselle was found stumbling around Students Hall at 8 a.m. It seems that she couldn't find the room—of course it could have been that her class was in the science building . . . those long weekends.

* * * *

Scattershots . . . It takes two to make a marriage —a girl and her mother . . . a long and wordy answer is dedicated to the cause of concealing ignorance . . .

One of four chic coeds from Harrisburg way sent home a letter with a dire plea for money. Her father sent this original reply:

Your Story Has Touched My Heart,
Never before have I met anyone with more troubles than you.
Please accept this token of my sincerest Sympathy.
(By the way, she got the check) nuff sed . . .

This 'N' That

Girl who quits school to get married: One who puts the heart before the course.

She: "We're going to give the bride a shower."
He: "Count me in, I'll bring the soap."

Professor: One who talks in everyone else's sleep.

I love the paper;
I think it's swell;
On every Friday
I run pell mell
To get my copy
And read each line.
The stories and the columns
I think are fine.
I laugh at all the jokes;
I read all the ads;.
I note all the news
I take up all the fads.
When I praise the paper,
I scorn those who laugh.
I'm really most loyal—
I'm on the staff.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions

HOTEL HUNTINGDON
Phone MItchell 3-1280

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260

Unusual Costume Jewelry
Varied Gift Line
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
OPERATION MAD BALL
starring JACK LEMMON, ERNIE KOVACS, KATHRYN GRANT, ARTHUR O'CONNELL and MICKEY ROONEY
A JED HARRIS PRODUCTION FROM A COLUMBIA PICTURE
See Mrs. Bing Crosby (Kathryn Grant) in this Very Funny Movie
Monday and Tuesday
JAMES A. MICHENER'S STORY OF LONELINESS AND LOVE!
M-G-M presents
UNTIL THEY SAIL
JEAN SIMMONS · JOAN FONTAINE
PAUL NEWMAN · PIPER LAURIE
in CinemaScope
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
NO DOWN PAYMENT
Joanne Woodward-Jeff Hunter
Sherge North - Tony Randall
—— also Feature No. 2 ——
Lure of The Swamp
Marshall Thompson-Joan Vons
COMING SOON
April Love — Pat Boone
My Man Godfrey

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The unbeaten Indians ran sixth in competition for the first annual Lambert cup, emblematic of the Eastern small college football championship.

Lehigh won the cup on the strength of eight wins and a single loss to VMI. Williams ranked second and Amherst third. They were followed by Tufts, Gettysburg, Juniata, Hobart, Delaware, Hofstra and West Chester.

* * * *

The champion Collegians and runnerup Tribe placed four each on this writer's intramural touch football all star team.

Offense

Don Swope, Collegians
Sam Shore, Crazy Eight
Bob Sill, Tribe
"Moe" Riegal, Tribe
Ed Beers, Barons
Don Ross, Collegians

Defense

Curt Wicker, Barons
Gerry Wilt, Crazy Eight
Chuck Phillips, Collegians
George Zeh, Tribe
Bob Lesnick, Collegians
Mel Wenger, Tribe

* * * *

Westminster and PMC placed three each on the all opponent team picked by the football players.

Ends

Phil Sapovits, PMC
Don McCarty, Albright

Tackles

Bernie Reilly, Westminster
Bill Rogers, Ursinus

Guards

Al King, Westminster
Pete Winebrake, Wilkes

Center

Herm Sweeney, PMC

Quarterback

Jack Bestwick, Westminster

Halfbacks

Ron Rescigno, Wilkes
Harry Feinberg, PMC

Fullback

Gerald Bricker, Albright

* * * *

The football schedule for 1958 shows an eight game card with newcomers Scranton and Alfred replacing PMC and Ursinus. The complete Schedule is:

Sept. 27	University of Scranton	H
Oct. 4	Alfred University	A
Oct. 11	Moravian College	H
Oct. 18	Lycoming College	A
Oct. 25	Westminster College	A
Nov. 1	Wilkes Colleege	A
Nov. 8	Drexel Tech	H
Nov. 15	Albright College	H

* * *

Football fan of the year — Joe Slick.

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

SHOP
THE RAY ENGLISH
STORE
For The Latest In
Mens Clothing
and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

Basketball Opens On Campus Tomorrow

Bell-Davis

OFF AND RUNNING — Coach "Doc" Greene's basketball squad entertains Geneva in its first contest tomorrow in the Memorial Gym. The team is lead by senior captain Mike Armstrong and junior lettermen Bob Ewald, Gordie Ewers, and Ron Wertz. First row— Barry Sipes, Pete McCauley, Gordie Ewers, Bob Ewald, Mike Armstrong, Curt Gardner and Ron Wertz. Second row— Coach Greene, Ken Flagg, Mike Miller, Fred Yun, Jack Campbell and Al Dungan. Third row— Don Conley, George Weist, Joe Slick, and Charles Godlasky. Missing from the picture is Jack Heading.

Four Lettermen To Lead Team Against Geneva

Juniata won its opener with Bridgewater 83-63.

Coach "Doc" Greene's basketball team makes their first appearance at home against Geneva tomorrow after opening against Bridgewater last night.

Only four Indian lettermen remain after the graduation of Bill Burchfield and the loss of Barney McLaughlin and Chet White. Each of the trio scored over 300 points for the Tribe last season.

Armstrong

Mike Armstrong, a six foot one inch senior from Altoona heads the list of returning veterans. Armstrong who will captain the Blue and Gold this season is a good shot ,excellent rebounder and a fine floor leader.

Two junior lettermen join Armstrong on the starting five. Bob Ewald, the tallest man on the squad at 6' 6", has shown steady improvement at the center position and Gordy Ewers, from McKeesport are first-rate playmakers.

Rounding out the Indian starters are sophomores Pete McCauley who was hampered with injuries last season and Curt Gardner, 5' 10" jump-shot artist from Irwin, who is up from the jayvees.

Junior letterwinner Ron Wertz and Mike Miller will be pressing for a starting berth and may see much action this season. The Indian courtmen also have depth in Fred Yun and Barry Sipes who paced the junior varsity last year. Al Dungan, a sophomore tackle for the Juniata grid squad, will be one of Coach Greene's strongest reserves after the season gets underway. The best freshmen prospects are Jack Cambell and Ken Flaig from the champion Williamsburg high school team and Jack Heading, a six foot four incher from Johnstown.

College Division

Juniata will play 13 games with opponents in the newly formed College Division of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference. Six will be played in the northern division (to which Juniata has been assigned); six with teams in the southern division and one with Bucknell in the university division.

This will be the first season that the Tribe has met College of South Jersey and Wagner. Relations with Drexel and Bridgewater have also been renewed.

Unbeaten Season Gives Tribe 36-1-1 Mark Over Five Years

At the end of the fourth unbeaten season in five years the successful Tribe has racked up an impressive 36-1-1 record.

The Indians romped over visiting Ursinus 42-7 to complete their season undefeated. The victory was the 12th straight over the past two years and the 22nd consecutive on the home field.

The Bunnmen jumped to a commanding 36 point halftime lead paced by fullback Bill Berrier's 22 points. He made three touchdowns and four extra points which tied him for the lead in state scoring with 72 points.

Diving Tackle

Juniata first gained possession of the pigskin on its own eight when Bob Famous of Ursinus fumbled two plays after toting the ball deep into Indian territory on a 66-yard dash. Only a diving tackle by Bill Berrier prevented the score. The tide turned quickly as Jim Berrier raced 92 yards on a reverse for the first touchdown.

The victors scored twice more in the first period when Ken Opipery caught Bob Famous in the end zone for a safety and Bill Berrier tallied on a 17-yard screen play from Bob Schwalenberg.

The Indians tallied three times in the second period on plunges of one and two yards by Bill Berrier and on a 7-yard pass from Schwalenberg to Opipery.

Ninth TD Pass

Quarterback Schwalenberg threw his ninth TD pass of the season to end Harold Krause from 25 yards out to account for the final score in the third period.

Ursinus broke into the scoring column in the final period when end Lottie Varano blocked Dick Ott's attempted quick kick. Tackle Bill Rogers picked up the loose ball on the three and scored.

The aggressive Indian line spearheaded by Bill Schott and Bernie McQuown limited the Bears to 30 yards rushing and 60 passing. Juniata gained 304 on the ground and 84 through the air. First downs were 16-7 in favor of the Indians.

Football Team Breaks Six Old Grid Records During 7-Game Card

Six Juniata grid records were shattered this year by Coach Bunn's Indians.

In an abbreviated seven game schedule the Tribe amassed the highest total score, 256, of any team in JC football history. At the same time they held their opponents to the lowest point total with 27 points. These points eclipsed the old nine game standards formerly held by the 1955 Tangerine Bowl squad of 245 and 32 points respectively.

In running rampart over their foes the Indians also set a new average per game rushing mark of 262.8 yards, 22.2 yards better than the old record.

A rock-ribbed defense led the way to the other three records. Sparked by one of the best forward walls among the nation's small colleges, the Indians limited their opponents to an average yield of 75.6 yards rushing and 53.7 yards passing for an overall low average of 129.3 yards

High scoring honors for the year go to fullback Bill Berrier, who tallied 72 points and tied Lock Haven's George Dintaman for the state scoring lead.. Following Bill in scoring were brother Jim with 42 points and Bob Schwalenberg and Joe Sopata with 24 each.

Although Bill Berrier was high scorer he had to move aside for his brother in the total yardage department. Jim stepped off 566 yards in 61 plays to lead the team while Bill netted 450 yards in 80 plays.

Quarterback Bob Schwalenberg was the Tribe's leading passer, completing 16 of 43 passes, 9 of which went for TDs.

Harriers Place 7th In Mid-Atlantic Tilt; Layman Leads Team

Rounding out an already fine season, the Juniata cross-country team turned in a creditable seventh place finish in the Middle Atlantic Championships at Philadelphia's Cobbs Creek course, November 22.

Joe Sloan of St. Joseph took first place enabling his team to win the title with only 20 points. Don Layman, who led the Indian harriers all fall, was JC's first finisher as he gained 16th place in a field of 86 starters. He was followed by Herb Deuchar and Frank Hrach, who garnered 21st and 24th positions respectively. These first three places for Juniata was the major factor in keeping the charges of Coach Mike Snider in a good position.

With Bill Lafe's 52nd place and Jim Pettit's 64th spot, the Braves amassed 177 points which left them just eight points out of the sixth spot and only 15 points behind West Chester, in fifth place. Eleven full teams entered the meet and many schools were represented by less than the required five runners.

Pete Fahrney

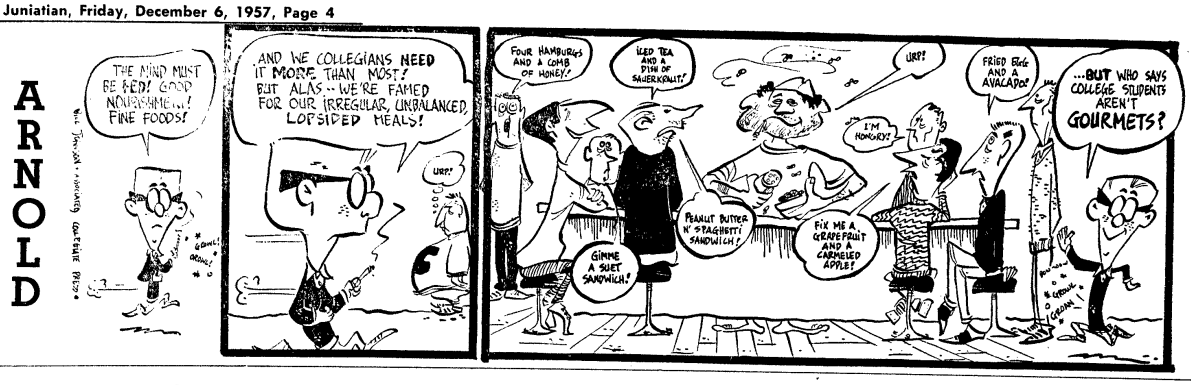
TOUCH TERRORS—The Collegians captured the intramural touch football championship after trimming the Tribe 14-6 in the final game. It was the fifth successive crown for the Collegian organization. Front row—Ernie Richardson, Bob Schnabely, Don Swope, Chuck Phillips, and Don Conley. Back row—Curt Gardner, Don Ross, Bob Lesnick, and Tom Gaspar.

MOTEL 22
and
RESTAURANT
For Reservations Call
For Motel — Phone 1197
For Restaurant — Phone 9191

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5



Study Shows Why Frosh Chose JC

Questionnaires completed by all new students at the opening of the term indicate that the class of '61 came here primarily because Juniata is a small college, according to Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president.

Other reasons for choosing JC were the scholastic reputation of the college, the ideals of the college and its superiority in a chosen field. The media by which students learned of JC were pictorial bulletins, catalogues, alumni and high school representatives.

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington St.

Chairmen, Committees Working On Scripts

Class committees are starting work on their scripts for the 21st presentation of JC's annual All Class Night.

Class chairmen are: seniors, George Fattman; juniors , Bill Lafe; sophomores, Cary Shaner and freshmen, Cathy Smith.

The committee chairman for the entire production is "Poodle" Wohlbruck. Assistant chairman is Judy Barrowclough and business manager is Don Aurand. Ron Knouse is general manager.

The script reading committee will be announced at a later date. Miss Wohlbruck urged that students encourage parents and friends to attend, as all proceeds will go toward May Day festivities.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

Graduate Receives Navy Commission

Former JCer Ross Wees was commissioned a Navy Ensign October 18 at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Wees is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wees, Sr., of Claysburg. He completed 16 weeks of training in the Naval Aviation Officer Candidate program to receive his commission.

The ensign is assigned to the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Saufley Field, Pensacola, undergoing primary flight training as a step toward earning his Navy wings.

Outing Club Plans Renewed Activity

JC's Outing Club will launch a program of renewed activity with an outing this Sunday afternoon at the club's cabin.

The club had almost ceased activity from 1951 to 1956 but is making a comeback this year, according to Bev DeJanney, president.

Included in the list of activities scheduled for this year is the sale of ice cream sandwiches every Thursday night in the dorms.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examination periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Graffious Completes Officer's Basic Course

William Graffious, JC graduate, completed the Officer's Basic Course November 15 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

Graffious is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Graffious of Defiance. He was among 186 Marine second lieutenants who completed the 34-week course of study.

The basic course is compulsory for all newly-commissioned Marine officers including former enlisted men, college graduates or graduates of the Naval Academy.

Senate Lays Plans For 13th Chairman

Continued from page 1

deration

Feb. 3 — Faculty to consider

Feb. 14 — Presented to students

Feb. 17 — Student referendum

Ronn Fink will investigate the possibility of having a drinking fountain installed in the library.

It was reported that an additional $35 is available for the improvement of Founders Chapel. Also, the Senate has voted to purchase additional publications from the NSA.

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches
Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

Lambda Omega Rho

Some fraternities get athletes. Some get brains. This fraternity gets virtually everybody, including women. It has fanatically loyal members in more than 100 countries around the world. It has no pin and its only ritual is the simple act of enjoying Coca-Cola every single day of the year.

Its name? L O R—Lovers of Refreshment. Join up today.

Drink Coca-Cola

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
COCA - COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

MILLER HARDWARE CO

MILLERS RECORD SHOP

RCA Victor Graduate.

"Flight Line" portable with 156 square inch viewable area.

"Fingertip Balance" handle.

Gray or Ebony finish AC. 17PT807 Series

$169.95

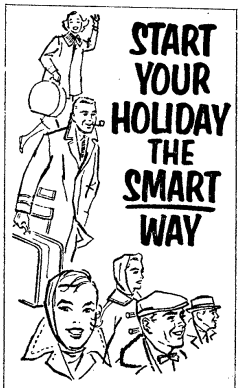
Phone
MI 3-1460

Valley Motel

Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.

COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR

FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE Mitchell 3-0736



Travel by Train means low fares ... no cares!

GROUP ECONOMY FARES*
save you and two or more of your friends 25% on round-trip coach tickets. (*Except for local trips that originate and terminate between New York and Washington and points east of Lancaster, Pa.)

COACH PARTY FARES
save each person in your group of 25 or more 28% of regular round-trip fare.

Special for Married Students
Use The Family Fare Plan—wives ride one way free.

WONDERFUL FUN FOR EVERYONE
Have a "party" while you travel! Enjoy fine food... delightful refreshments... happy talk. Avoid worry about traffic congestion, highway hazards, and weather conditions.

Ask your local ticket or travel agent NOW about these great money-saving plans.

EASTERN RAILROADS

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 12 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, December 13, 1957

Traditional Events Announce Christmas Season

Town Children To Meet Santa At JCA Party

Juniata couples will entertain their "adopted" children at the JCA Christmas party in Memorial Gym tonight at 7:30.

At the party "Killer" Conley, emcee, will present the evening's entertainment. The men's quartet, including Terry Fouse, Charles Fox, Larry Landes and Chuck Winter, will sing and Shirley Raffensperger will give a reading, The Night Before Christmas.

Ruth Perestam as the Christmas angel will read The Star Angel and Ken "Santa Claus" Fassnacht will hand out the presents. Carol singing will be led by Jacque Rowland.

After returning the children to their homes at 9 p.m. couples will return to the social rooms for an all-college carol sing. Jane Herbster, general chairman, was aided by the following committee chairmen: Tex Holman, correspondence; Jane Brumbaugh, program; Bob Blair, decorations; Judy Wernsing, refreshments and Lois Davis, publicity.

Special Listening Hour

Miss Suzanne Axworthy, instructor in music, has announced that there will be a special Christmas listening hour tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Swigart Hall.

The listening hour will feature L'Enfance du Christ, a Christmas oratorio by Berlioz. The recording is done in French.

SIGNS OF YULETIDE SPIRIT cover the campus as Christmas draws near. At left is a part of the sophomores' decorations on Founders Porch which they made into a cathedral with stained glass windows. The Christmas tree (center) is a product of the seniors' work in the social rooms. The collegiate Santa Claus (right) was made by the freshmen girls living on 2nd Oneida.

Sociology Department To Offer New Course

According to Dean Mays, JC's department of sociology will offer a new course and an expansion of a former course in the 1958 spring term.

A course on treatment of the offender will be taught by Dean Herberling and will reflect his experience in penal administration. In order to enroll, a student must have completed introduction to sociology and criminology.

Another course, formerly known as rural sociology, has been revised and expanded and will be called the community. Dr. Henry, chairman of JC's sociology department, will instruct the course.

Administration Agrees To Stop Damage Fining

The Administration has agreed to desist from its policy of charging students fines in cases involving damages, according to dean of men Paul Heberling. (See editorial, p. 2)

While no mention has been made of the 175-dollar fine in connection with the damage to the East Hall door, it appears that it will be removed. The 15-dollar fine on the North Dorm window, broken during a recent snowball battle, has been dropped.

In the future any fines for damages will be set up by the Judiciary. In the case of damage the Judiciary is to try to determine the person or persons responsible and if they can not, they are to advise the Administration as to who should pay the damage.

If the students themselves collect the fine, only the actual cost will be charged. If it is necessary for the Administration to collect it, there will be a slight additional charge to cover clerical costs.

The Judiciary will formally receive this power upon petitioning the Administration for it. The whole matter was discussed in a closed session in Senate Wednesday evening, but no report was issued by that body for publication.

Heberling Tells Court Policy On Furnishings

"We remove furniture permanently when it is ruined deliberately," Dean Paul Heberling told the Judiciary last Monday evening when they questioned removal of the furnishings from North Dorm's lobby.

As a means of discipline the furniture is not returned after it is repaired, but is sent to East Hall. It was pointed out that as long as North Dorm men deliberately destroy furniture it will be removed.

In other action the court voted to request from the Administration that all disciplinary action including fines be the perrogative of the Judiciary (See Editorial, p. 2).

A report from the Senate told of that body's intention to put the Judiciary constitution in the Scout.

Next Week In Chapel

Dec. 16 — Carol Sing
Dec. 18 — Chapel Choir
Dec. 20 — President Ellis

JCA Schedules College Worship Friday In Oller

Juniata's all-college Christmas service will climax Yuletide activities here December 20 at 11 p.m. in Oller Hall.

The traditional worship service will be led by the Rev Bob McFadden, Register James Bray and senior pre-ministerial student Don Shover. Dean Morley Mays will present the meditation.

The touring choir, under the direction of Prof. Donald Johnson, will sing The Infant Jesus by Pietro Yon and Guiding Star, a Danish Christmas carol. Kathryn Holsinger will provide organ accompaniment for the evening.

Orner and Landes

Barb Orner and Larry Landes will sing solos. Miss Orner, soprano, will sing Peter Cornelius' The Shepherds, while Landes will sing a bass sole in the choir's presentation of The Infant Jesus.

The worship service will be closed with the lighting of the Christmas candles. This service is planned each year by members of the JCA so that all faiths may join in worship.

Chairman of this year's committee, Kerin Narbut, has extended an invitation to the entire college community.

7 Seniors To Take Comps January 6,7

Dean Mays has announced that comprehensives will be given to second semester seniors January 6 and 7 in the Pennsylvania Room of the library from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Those students taking the examinations are Charles Redenberger, music; Marbrie Goodrich, psychology; Thomas Chase and Silas Dubbel, history; Don Randall, economics and business; John Rogers and Francis Townsend, sociology.

Removal Of 61s, Stolen Books Topics On Senate Agenda

A discussion of the problems confronting the freshmen class was the primary objctive facing the Senate at their weekly meeting Wednesday in Founders Chapel.

Under consideration were Administration reprimands for the variously painted "61s" appearing on the walls and steps of campus buildings and for the theft of texts for intregation courses from the library reading room.

Representating the class of '61 was vice-president Jack Kepple, accompanied by Judy Palmer and Sue Budd, the secretary and treasurer. Kepple reported that 20 freshmen men had volunteered to remove the paint. He added that 17 of the 42 missing books had been recovered, and that every effort was being made to recover those remaining.

It was decided that in the future the Judiciary constitution should be printed in the Scout. In addition, 300 copies would be monolithed for incoming Judiciary members and the class of '61.

New Alma Mater

Margie White presented the Senate with the revised lyrics for the proposed alma mater. A quartet will present the final revised version for a final vote at the next meeting.

Placement bureau coordinator Jane Herbster reported that the bureau's facilities were being used more extensively than in the past, and that the Administration, clubs and individual students had profited greatly from its operation. She suggested that the program be continued.

Binkley's Reading, Carols Next Week

Dr. Harold Binkley's reading of Dickens' Christmas Carol, a favorite traditional Christmas event, will be Monday at 7 p.m. in Founders Social Rooms.

Adding to the holiday spirit later on in the week will be caroling in the Social Rooms Thursday evening after dinner. The final caroling session will be Saturday at 5:30 a.m. when singers will take an early morning jaunt through Taylor Highlands.

SENIOR CLASS TO MEET

The class of '58 will meet Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Founders Chapel to hear the recommendations of their all-class night planning committee for script, writer and director.

Post-Game Dance

Following the basketball game tomorrow night there wil be a dance in the women's gym, according to social activities chairman Gini Nixdorf.

Dancing will be to records until 11:30 p.m. All are invited.

Orner, Powell To Sing At Christmas Service

Barb Orner and Jim Powell will appear in the Christmas candlelight service at 5 p.m. December 22 in the Presbyterian Church.

Miss Orner, a soprano and Powell, a tenor, are among the soloists at the service presented by the choir and youth groups. Other Juniatians participating in the choir include Terry Fouse, Bruce Dickey, Joan Fyock and Miss Barbara Cochran.

Committees Make Final Plans For Christmas Banquet, Dance

Final plans and preparations are now being made for Wednesday evening's traditional Christmas banquet and dance this year planned in An Old Fashioned Christmas theme.

This year's banquet will extend to both dining halls, and JCers attending are asked to meet at 6 p.m. in the social rooms or in the East Hall lounge.

Oneida Hall entertainment will feature the freshman trio, consisting of Pat McCoy, Sharon Brammer and Carolyn Morgan, the men's quartet including Terry Fouse, Charlie Fox, Gordon Winter and Larry Landes and Delores Briggs who will play a medley of Christmas songs on the piano. In East Hall, Pete Wright will play, the girls' trio made up of Jacque Rowland, Millie Mandeville and Aileen Wright will sing and Shirley Raffensperger will do a monologue.

At the dance Duke Morris and the Melody Men, a five piece orchestra from State College, will provide music. Entertainment at 10 p.m. followed by refreshments and more dancing will round out the evening.

Carolers To Sing At Blair Hospital

The JCA will sing carols at the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital Tuesday evening after a sing in the social rooms beginning at 7 p.m.

In addition to singing Christmas songs for the patients, carolers will present gifts provided by the JCA to the children's ward.

Upon returning to campus the group will be served hot chocolate and cookies in the social rooms.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor — Barb Walls, managing editor — Don Miller, business manager

Circulation: 1,600 — An All-American Newspaper — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

Volume XXXIV, No. 12 — Friday, December 13, 1957 — Page 2

Our Opinions

Fine Friction

IT looks like the Administration will drop the 175-dollar fine attached to the 425-dollar bill for the door broken in East Hall during the panty raid.

No definite action has been taken, but Dr. Ellis reportedly agrees with dean of men Heberling and Senate president Del McQuaide's contention that a fine for the sake of a fine is unwise and ineffective.

* * * * * *

Students who question the $425 for a door will be interested in the following excerpt from a letter to Treasurer John Fike from J. M. Rising, manager, Bogar Construction Co.: "(November 27) . . be advised that the estimated cost of these repairs for furnishing and installing this hardware is the lump sum of $425 . . . if you were to buy this particular panic device retail, the cost of the unit alone, not including installation, would be $495."

* * * * * *

As was reported in the news story on page 1, all future fines will be levied by the campus Judiciary in cases that can be classed as requiring discipline.

We are most happy to hear this, and we hope the Administration will drop the 175-dollar fine and restore peace to a campus riddled with malevolent criticism.

Our Reader's Opinions

The Administration's Sacred Deer

ED. NOTE—The following letter, while it may seem irrelevant at this point, is fairly indicative of general student opinion during the recent hassle over disciplinary fines.

* * * * * *

EVENTS of the past several weeks seem to reveal that the ideas of justice on Juniata's campus have regressed to those of a feudal state.

Mass fines, analogous to medival taxes, have been leveled for what must be called spiteful reasons. Since the "lord" could not discover who was shooting his "sacred" deer, the entire community was taxed a ridiculous sum for the offense. So we too are now returned to that type society.

Surely, if someone were to . . . vandalize a store in downtown Huntingdon, those responsible for justice . . . would not assess a fine to the entire town for the offense of a few. Not so at Juniata. We're back in the "good old days" of eye for eye and tooth for tooth.

Lest I be misunderstood, let me say that most of the student body feels that such actions should be punished—if the offenders are found. If this cannot be done, then why punish those who are innocent . . .

So students, I believe we should think of these things the next time the "sheriff of Nottingham" comes collecting his "taxes." — John Barger.

Subliminal Monster

THE ultimate in hidden persuasion advertising — ads which the TV viewer doesn't even realize are being beamed at him—has come in for heavy attack by ad men and U. S. Congressmen.

One Congressman, Rep. William A. Dawson (R-Utah) feels that the "secret pitch" is so dangerous that he has called upon the Federal Communications Commission to request all TV stations to prohibit its use pending full investigation of the process by the FCC.

The new teshnique, which is receiving such wide attention, is called subliminal advertising. It plants its message in the TV or movie viewer's subconscious mind by intermittent split-second flashes too fast to be noted by the eye. The viewer is defenseless against the subtle persuasion because he is unconscious of the stimuli. It works so fast it is below the "threshold" of his awareness.

Does the new process work? The motivational researcher who developed the technique points to the results of a 6-week test in a New Jersey movie theatre. During the course of the picture, patrons were bombarded with invisible messages urging them to eat popcorn and drink Coke. Test records show average sales increase during the period of 57.5 percent in popcorn, 18.8 percent in Coke.

It is interesting to note the source of demands that the new technique be subjected to government control. In addition to the 15 to 20 Congressmen who have asked the FCC to act, spokesmen for the advertising industry, and even the inventors of the process have said their "frankenstein" should be controlled.

Writes Dr. Steuart Britt, ,Northwestern University marketing prof, in Advertising Age, trade journal of the advertising fraternity: "If children and adults can be persuaded to ingest soft drinks and blown up grains of heated corn without even knowing that they are being persuaded, why not hard drinks and sleeping pills?"

Shudders the Washington Post in an editorial titled Subliminal Salesmanship: "While you are in a state of civic ecstacy, for example, over Mr. Matthews' latest home run (or Mr. Mantle's or Mr. Aaron's or Mr. Berra's) they will slide on the screen, for just one second, a transparent command to guzzle up at once on Schwizzle, the beer that's really real, or on Schwozzle, the beer that's really wet."

Meanwhile, admitting that there is some indication that television viewers already have been subjected to the invisible treatment, FCC chairman John Doerfer announced that his agency is investigating the new technique to determine whether it should be barred. If so, the next question will be whether the FCC has legal authority to act or would need new legislation.

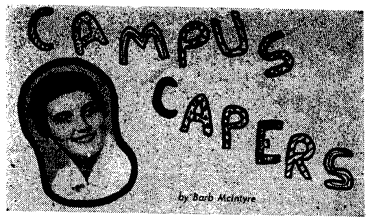
Let us hope that this potential ogre is anihilated before it gets an opportunity to prey on our subconscious beings.

Students Hall Now Open Sundays

WORD from Treasurer John Fike tells us that Students Hall will be open from 6 to 10 p.m. Sunday evenings, as we had requested earlier this week.

Fike points out, however, that "we will restrict the use to the first floor rooms until such a time as there are more students using the facility than the three rooms will accommodate."

We are particularly grateful for this move because there is no place to study Sunday evenings since the dorms are noisier than usual then.



Congratulations to all the classes on the fine job they did in decorating their respective sites on campus.

Decorations, however ,aren't all that signify the yule season. The JCA Christmas party is tonight and many JC "parents" will be escorting a child to an evening of fun and games. Of course there was some disagreement as to what kind of gift would be useful to a five year old. As a result most of the girls trudged downtown to make the purchases.

Also on the agenda are The York Nativity and the Christmas banquet and dance.

Happenings on campus . . . JC girl and guy went out on a date Saturday night. Sunday found the girl sick in bed and the boy in the infirmary. Funny thing was, they both had the same symptoms . . .

Also on Saturday night amidst the famous good-night line in East Hall, two people were acting strangely in that they were shaking hands. An observer overheard the boy say, "I guess this is an appropriate Brethren goodnight . . ."

* * * * *

A visitor to a professor's house observed the prof's son playing with a truck. The student remarked to the child that it was quite a nice truck that he had there. The little boy replied, "Yes, it is quite a nice truck, but it doesn't have much utilitarian value!"

Tomorrow evening our basketball team will encounter College of South Jersey here at Memorial Gymnasium. Good luck, guys.

From The Editor's Notes . . .

TREASURER John Fike has promised that temporary measures will be taken to protect students from the mud, snow and water on the walks leading to North Dorm and East Hall.

The construction company that is to put in the walk past the new tennis courts has indicated that they expect to do the work within the next few weeks.

* * * * *

Furniture taken from North Dorm's lobby will not be returned, Treasurer Fike advised us, because of the mistreatment given the chairs, couches and tables by the building's residents.

NEXT JUNIATIAN JANUARY 10

Because of the Christmas vacation the next JUNIATIAN will not appear until January 10, 1958.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Justice Vs. Principle

WIRE TAPPING — The U. S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously Monday that wire tap evidence obtained from state officials acting under state laws cannot be used in cases coming within federal jurisdiction.

Until this decision federal officials had been prohibited from obtaining wire tap evidence to be used in Federal Courts, but nothing had been said about using wire tap evidence coming from state or private sources.

Chief Justice Earl Warren said that distinction concerning the source of wire tap evidence were void. He said, "Distinctions designed to defeat the plain meaning of the statute will not be countenanced."

The implications of this decision are of immediate importance. Notorious James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters' Union is soon to go on trial for perjury. Federal prosecutors have said they planned to use wire tap evidence given to them by New York State officials for Hoffa's case.

If the federal prosecutors planned to use it as the basis for the trial there is no question that they now will be forced to drop the charges. Should this happen Hoffa would become president of the teamsters in spite of the United States government and the overwhelming majority of popular opinion.

This appears to be outrageous at first glance, but if it becomes a question of surrendering our civil liberties or allowing a rackateer to control a corrupt union, I for one, prefer to let the union elect Frank Costello if they so desire. The rights of the individual are far more important to the public than the necessity for honest unionism.

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

SATELLITE FAILURE — The United States is once again turning an embarrassed countenance toward the rest of the world. Our first attempt to send a tiny satellite skyward ended in miserable failure. The 3-stage rocket did not even get off the launching platform with a six pound ball, whereas the Russians had previously sent a half-ton satellite into an orbit around the earth.

If we are not successful soon, our position as leader of the free world may be seriously damaged. One of the most important factors in maintaining the morale of the western world in the face of Russian imperialism has been the illusion of the overwhelming superiority of the United States. Russia's spectacular Bolshevik Revolution went a long way toward inducing the neutrals to overlook the atrocities of the Hungarian Revolution.

Movie Of The Week: Little Chief

HOWDY, LITTLE CHIEF is the greeting of Jock Mahoney and Julie Adams to "tiny" Tim Hovey who dons war bonnet for scene in Universal-International's Slim Carter, hilariously heart-warming film in which the three popular favorites are starred. It is co-featured Monday and Tuesday with Slaughter on 10th Ave. at the Clifton.

Sports

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

After the thrilling 60-59 loss to Geneva last Saturday night it appears that basketball will fill the winter months with excitement.

The gloom caused by the loss of Bill Burchfield through graduation and Barney McLaughlin and Chet White, all of whom scored over 300 points last season, is quickly fading. Replacements appear very good, topped by sophomores Pete McCauley and Curt Gardner up from JV ball.

* * * *

Senior captain Mike Armstrong led holdovers in almost every department last season. He hit on 38.8 percent of his field goals to rank third and led with 79.8 percent of free throws made, 240 rebounds and 291 points for a 13.9 average.

* * * *

Indian basketball teams have completed winning seasons the past four years. The record shows:

1956-57	11-10
1955-56	14- 7
1954-55	11-10
1953-54	15- 6

Jake Handzelek, '56, holds six individual Tribe season records. Handzelek scored 553 points, averaged 26.3, attempted 532 field goals, made 216, attempted 193 foul shots and made 156, all of which set the record.

* * * *

Co-captain Bernie McQuown and sophomore Bill Berrier made second team All East and received honorable mention on the Little All American squad. McQuown and Berrier also made second team All State. Al Dungan and Jim Berrier received honorable mention.

* * * *

The Dukes look like a winning team in the intramural basketball loop. The returning champs have height to spare with Don Swope, Chuck Phillips, Al Dungan and Ken Opipery under the boards. Added to this are top notch outside shots Killer Conley and Bill Artz and a fine playmaker, Don Medwid.

Greenemen Top Bridgewater, Drop Next Two

Juniata courtmen inaugurated the 1957-58 basketball season by trouncing Bridgewater College, while losing close contests to Geneva and Shippensburg State Teachers.

Coach "Doc" Greene's Tribe journeyed to Virginia for the season opener to down Bridgewater College 83-63. Top men for the Indians were Curt Gardner who tallied 21 points and Bob Ewald with 18. This renewed athletic relations between the two Brethren schools.

Saturday a tough Geneva five edged the JC courtmen 60-59 on the Indians' home court. The Tribe got off to an early but slim lead in the nip-and-tuck contest, but the Covies, behind the sharpshooting of Tony Bernardi, rallied to tie the score at intermission, 33-33.

The second half was a see-saw battle, and the score was knotted at 59-59 in the closing minutes of the contest. With seconds left to play, Geneva's Nick Tepavich sunk a foul to edge the Tribe by one point, handing the JC cagers their first defeat of the season. High man for the Tribe was Gordy Ewers with 17, while Bernardi tallied 19 for the Covies.

Shippensburg's Red Raiders, led by senior standout Dale Shearer, handed the Tribe its second loss of the young season Tuesday, 66-59. The Indians, paced by Mike Miller and Curt Gardner with 16 and 14 points respectively, outscored the Raiders from the floor, but the state teachers five hit 14 times from the foul line to gain the decisive edge. Shippensburg held a slight halftime lead 35-34, but widened the gap in the final minutes of play. This was the Raiders' second win in three starts.

The JV's dropped the Shippensburg juniors 50-43 in their first contest last Tuesday. Jack Campbell tallied 14 and Ed Costello 11 to pace the Indians.

Intramural Basketball To Begin For Women

Girls' intramural basketball is scheduled for next week provided that an adequate number of referees and scorekeepers can be obtained.

Unless the necessary personnel is secured, the season will not begin until after Christmas vacation.

An invitation volleyball series with Huntingdon High School highlighted girls' intamural activities last week. After edging Juniata's coeds in the first of a three game set, 14-13, the Huntingdon lasses had little difficulty in winning the final two.

Tribe To Host College Of South Jersey Then Encounter Ursinus On The Road

Dinner To Honor Team

A Victory Dinner for the undefeated, untied football team will be given tomorrow night at the Huntingdon Country Club.

Henry Gibbel, a 1926 Juniata graduate from Lititz, will serve as toastmaster and Dr. John Montgomery of the class of 1921, who was a member of Juniata's first football team in 1920, will be guest speaker.

Jersey School To Visit First Time Tomorrow

College of South Jersey and Ursinus are on tap for the Tribe before Christmas vacation.

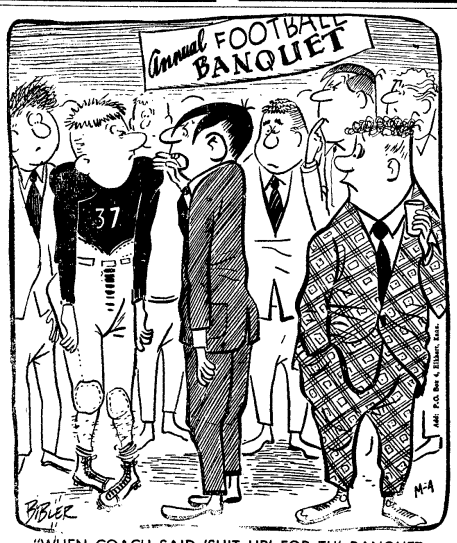
The Indians play host to the Scarlet and Black of Rutgers College of South Jersey tomorrow evening. This will mark the first meeting between the two schools in any sport.

The Scarlet and Black are coached by Albert Carino, a Juniata alumnus, and an outstanding performer in football and track in his undergraduate days.

Only two of Coach Carino's starters, Joe Bretschneider, a senior forward, and Ed Kurkian, a junior guard, have considerable college experience.

The remaining three starters will probably be Fred Setzler, Gar Miller and Rocky Gianvito. Setzler, at 6' 3", is the tallest man on the squad and will jump center. Miller and Gianvito will be called upon to provide the hustle for the Scarlet and Black.

Next Tuesday evening, the Indians will travel to Collegeville where they will meet the Bears of Ursinus College. The Bears will be out to avenge last year's 68-52 loss at the hands of the Tribe.



"WHEN COACH SAID 'SUIT UP' FOR TH' BANQUET, FASSNACHT, HE MEANT ——"

Bulldogs Top Unbeaten Fives In Intramural Basketball Loop

Six teams headed by the Bulldogs remain unbeaten in the intramural basketball loop after the first week of play.

The Bulldogs nipped the Flying Five 35-32, NJ House 39-31 and the Mt. Dewers 54-32. Dave Goodling was top dog in the first two with 13 and 10 respectively. Jim Seacrist hit for 20 in their third contest.

The Dukes won both contests defeating the Dynamos 55-20 and Pepsi's 79-40. Al Dungan had high honors in the first with 19 and "Killer" Conley matched his number against the Pepsi's.

The Whips were victorious 70-21 against the Comets and 60-30 over the Sharpshooters, Harold Krause was high in both scoring 19 and 16.

Sultans Romp

The Sultans romped over the Five 57-24 and Schizo Eight 79-23. Chuck Seitz took high scoring honors with 24 in the latter.

The Dunkards took the Ubangies 50-43 and the Crusaders dropped the Sharpshooters 36-26 in their only encounters.

In other action it was the NJ House 55 Schizo Eight 31, the Pepsi's 44 Mt. Dewers 38, Ubangies 49 Schizo Eight 16, NJ House 52 Blockers 21, Flying Five 69 Comets 24 and Dynamos 59 The Five 17.

IM BASKETBALL STANDINGS

	W	L
Bulldogs	3	0
Dukes	2	0
Whips	2	0
Sultans	2	0
Dunkards	1	0
Crusaders	1	0
NJ House	2	1
Ubangies	1	1
Flying Five	1	1
Pepsi's	1	1
Dynamos	1	1
Blockers	0	1
Sharpshooters	0	2
Comets	0	2
Mt. Dewers	0	2
The Five	0	2
Schizo Eight	0	3

Trio Jumps Alley Kats Into IM Bowling Lead

The Alley Kats, paced by Glenn Williamson's 306 pins, Cary Shaner's 281 and Francis Cristina's 179 jumped to an early lead in intramural bowling by winning three decisions from the Admirals.

The Crusaders, Flashes and Ten Pins tied for second place with two and one records, having won split decisions from the Champs, Will's Gang and Gutterballers respectively.

The Crusaders rolled the highest single game total of 677 pins paced by Horace Carl's 278. The Alley Kats, however, tallied the highest total with 1,281 for the evening.

In closer matches the Ten Pins slipped past the Gutterballers despite a 269-pin performance by the loser's Tom Hoy. The Flashes, led by Don Flamini's 294, nipped Will's Gang.

Other entries, who were idle this week, are the Harriers, Pals, Ranch Hands, Rustlers, Holy Rollers and Schlitzers.

The next matches are scheduled for Friday, December 20.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

MILLERS RECORD SHOP
MILLER HARDWARE CO.
RCA Victor Graduate.
"Flight Line" portable with 156 square inch viewable area.
"Fingertip Balance" handle.
Gray or Ebony finish AC. 17PT807 Series
$169.95
Phone MI 3-1460

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

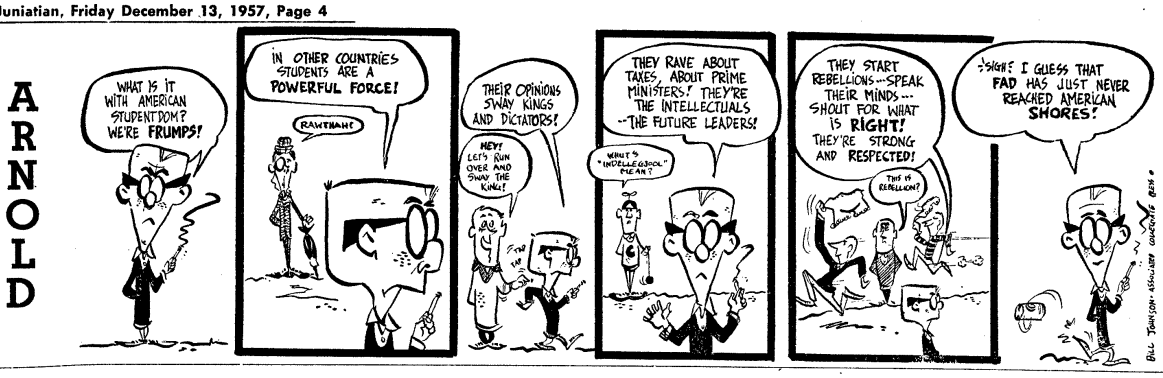
KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

Don't Go Barefoot This Winter
Westbrook's Shoes

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions



Commission Plans Building Program

According to Harold Brumbaugh, assistant to the president, JC's planning commission will work toward a $2,500,000 objective by 1964.

New buildings in the program include a library, science hall, home economics building, additional classrooms and faculty offices. Immediate objectives include the increase of faculty salaries and the reduction of debt on East Hall.

Mr. Brumbaugh added that a drive to match Ford Foundation's gift of $138,600 will be conducted to alleviate the need for increased faculty salaries.

Mysterious Fire Ruins Contestants' Entries

All entries in Mademoiselle Magazine's College Board Contest that reached the editorial office before November 29 were destroyed by fire, according to Joel Graham, press editor.

JC women who entered the contest can qualify without redoing their entries by writing a note of application to Mademoiselle's College Board Contest, 575 Madison Avenue, New York, 22, N. Y.

Unusual Costume Jewelry
Varied Gift Line
BLACK'S JEWELRY
Expert Watch Repair
423 Penn St. Phone 1282

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
James Fenimore Cooper's
THE DEERSLAYER
CinemaScope and Color with Lex Barker, Rita Moreno, Forrest Tucker
— also —
Barbara Stanwyck - Barry Sullivan
in
FORTY GUNS CinemaScope
Monday and Tuesday
SLAUGHTER ON 10th AVE.
Richard Dean - Jan Sterling
Dan Duryea - Julie Arams
— also —
SLIM CARTER color
Jock Mahoney - Julie Adams
and Little Tim Hovey
WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
2 Features that tell the whole youth story
YOUNG and DANGEROUS
— also —
ROCKABILLY BABY
Did you know 5 people can ride from the college to the Theatre for 35c . . it adds up to 7c a person. Just call MI 3-1600
THE GROVE TAXI COMPANY

Extended Vacations Will Not Be Excused

Students leaving before the Christmas vacation for working purposes are not legally excused by the administration, according to Dean Herberling.

Anyone wishing to leave early must make a private arrangement with their instructors so that they will not be penalized.

This non-penalty arrangement is good only for making up class assignment and tests. A signed statement from the employer stating the period of employment must be presented to the dean of men's office upon returning to campus.

Christmas Theme Of Final Reading

Miss Esther Doyle's Oral Interpretation class will wind up its series of Prose, Poetry and Punch readings today with a special Christmas program in the East Hall Rec Room.

The whole class will take part in reading such Christmas selections as Dr. Seuss' How The Grinch Stole Christmas, A. A. Milne's The King's Breakfast and The Night Before Christmas.

A special invitation has been extended to the faculty children and their friends who will be given Christmas gifts. However, Miss Doyle added that all youth from 6 to 60 are invited.

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone MItchell 3-2770

Sigma Psi To Sing At Home For Aged

Members of the Sigma Psi and any other JCers who are interested will sing carols at the Shirleysburg Home for the Aged next Thursday evening.

All who plan to go along are asked to notify Barb Smathers or Carl Lindsay by Wednesday, December 18. Cars will leave from the front of Founders at 6:30 p.m. and return by 9:30 p.m.

Library Offers Aids To Laughter

by Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, librarian

We are often too somber or cynical really to enjoy the comical or fantastic event, saying or situation. Here are a few aids to laughter.

The Secret of Major Tompson pokes fun at French, English and American foibles. An entirely "different" slant on history is given in 1066 and All That and Bill Nye's History of the United States.

Will Rogers' Illiterate Digest will tell you things that never should have happened and most certainly never appeared in a digest. Laughing Stock has over 600 jokes and anecdotes of uncertain vintage and Dennis the Menace gives us all pleasure.

Shakespeare would be amazed at the report of his plays in Twisted Tales from Shakespeare, but it is almost certain that he would have appreciated this venture into the ridiculous. These are only a few of the things you can find at the library any day of the week.

Merry Christmas
To Everyone At Juniata
See You In 1958
Dank's & Co.

1,524 Inquiries Come To Admissions Office

According to Juniata's admissions office, there have been 1,524 inquiries received as of December 1 concerning admission to JC next year.

Applications for September, 1958 total 227 and three applications have been received for the 1959 term. Thirteen people have applied for admittance in January, 1958.

Beginning this year, all candidates will be asked to take the College Entrance Examination Board tests and encouraged to visit here. All candidates will be interviewed before acceptance is final.

Actors, Chapel Choir Prepare For Pageant

Fifteen students and the chapel choir take part in the traditional Christmas pageant to be presented Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Oller Hall.

The York Nativity, one of the medieval miracle plays, tells the Christmas story through the use of actors and an off-stage chorus. It is directed by Prof. William Merrel and Ron Knouse.

The cast includes Les Aungst, Chuck Bargerstock, Chuck Brown, Al Dungan, Ronn Fink, Terry Fouse, Glenn Hassinger, Ted Hetrick, Rush Hodgin, "Tex" Holman, Dick Johnson, Arthur Norris, Ruth Perestam, Bob Reader and Spencer Ward.

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone MItchell 3-1280

Quintet To Appear At State Sunday

The Penn State Jazz Club will present the George Shearing Quintet at Penn State's Recreation Hall Sunday Night.

Although totally blind, Shearing was a success even before forming his quintet. When it was suggested that he experiment by adding vibes and a guitar to his trio, the result won such acclamation that the group became one of the leading attractions in the world of jazz.

In addition to writing popular songs, Shearing's future plans include the hope of combining jazz and the classics in order to supplement his independent tours with symphonic orchestras.

The Penn State Jazz Club is a non-profit organization which brings to the campus many of the great names in jazz for the entertainment of the college students and other interested persons. In the past they have sponsored such performers as Buddy Morrow, The Four Freshmen and Louis Armstrong.

See Dean Of Men For Vacation Here

Dean Heberling has announced that all male students who expect to remain here during Christmas vacation must submit a request to the dean of men before December 16.

He added that as it appears now, no campus housing units will be open. However, all legitimate requests will be seriously considered.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE MItchell 3-0736

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

PENN STATE JAZZ CLUB
Presents
The George Shearing Quintet
Sunday, December 15, at 8 p.m.
Recreaction Hall,
Penn State Campus
Tickets Available at H.U.B.
All Seats $1.50

Juniata College Library
Huntingdon, Pennsylvania

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 13 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, January 10, 1958

JCA To Initiate All-College Worship

Senate Plans Five Seminars For Candidates

Plans to conduct five leadership seminars to precede the spring elections were begun at the weekly Senate meeting Wednesday.

A committee of President Del McQuaide, Nancy Hess, Chuck Brown and Ron Fink were appointed to select topics and speakers for the seminars to begin in early February.

In other action, a recommendation will be sent to the Administration requesting an additional college vehicle, preferably a station wagon, that will be made available for student transportion to college-sponsored functions. The action resulted after Pete Fahrney informed the Senate of the pressing problems of students to find transportation to student teaching assignments and like activities.

No Student Proctors at Finals

It was decided that the student proctoring committee would not be pressed into service for this semester's final examinations. Chairman Don Shover reported that it would take extensive preparation to set up a schedule for proctors and that it would not be ready for the first two or three days of the testing period.

Fahrney reported that the formation of a pep band for basketball games was not met with favorably by band members, and the suggestion was dropped.

A music request box will soon be made available to students wishing to help select the music for the jukebox in Totem Inn.

It was voted to send NSA representative Tex Holman to Philadelphia in late February to attend a conference of the problems confronting foreign students and the program set for them by various colleges.

Next Week In Chapel

January 13 — The Rev Warren Kissinger

Bruce Bennett

EXTENDING FRONT CAMPUS—Workmen begin the job of removing the old Moore Street—Oneida driveway adjacent to the Stone Church. The stone pillars at the entrance will be removed and a walk will be built from Moore Street to join the present walk in front of Oneida Hall. Results of the operation will be a larger front campus.

JC's Campus To Be Extended As Workmen Remove Drive

The driveway from Moore Street to Oneida Hall, formerly 17th Street, is being removed and will eventually be made part of JC's front campus.

Macadam surface and gravel has been scraped off and hauled to the area adjacent to the tennis courts to form the base for an improved walk to North Dorm. As weather permits, the campus will be landscaped and shrubs will be planted on a general line between the education building of the Stone Church and Oneida Hall.

Plans call for a parking area to be constructed behind Oneida Hall and the maintenance buildings. The stone pillars at the Moore Street entrance will be removed and a walk will be built from Moore Street to join the present walk in front of Oneida Hall.

Air Force Assigns Walls To Bolling

Staff Sergeant Robert Walls, a 1951 graduate of Juniata, has been assigned to Bolling Air Force Base in Washington D. C. as a member of the 1100th supply group.

Walls, a veteran of eight years' service in the Air Force, went to Bolling from the 1020th Special Activities Wing at Foat Myer, Va. He is from Mt. Union, Pa. and earned his Bachelor of Science degree here.

Glick To Speak At Introductory Service Sunday Morning In Oller

The Reverend Wayne Glick, Lancaster, will serve as minister for Juniata's first all-college worship service Sunday at 10:30 a.m. in Oller Hall.

A new phase of the campus' religious program will be initiated in the Sunday service which will be conducted in the same manner as the Thanksgiving and Christmas evening worship services. The offering will be used for current expenses with anything above this being given to JWSF.

The Reverend Mr. Glick was once instructor in Biblical studies at Juniata and is now engaged in a similar work at Franklin and Marshall College. He will be the first minister in a monthly program which has been approved by the faculty for trial this semester.

Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities, indicated that the program will be continued if JCers show a favorable response to worshipping as a college community. He added, "The service is not meant to compete with the local churches or stand in objection to their services. Actually, it is expected to remind Juniatians of the place the Huntingdon churches should have in their lives."

Oral Reading, Music Program Tonight At 7

A recital by Miss Esther Doyle's oral interpretation class will be presented this evening at 7 p.m. in Swigart Hall.

In addition to readings by the entire class, the program will include four musical numbers by JC music students.

Readings will include The Odyssey of Runyon Jones, Nancy Winters; Four Silver Pitchers, Lillian Simons; Cocktail Party, Don McCallum and Del McQuaide; Mary of Scotland, Miriam Grove and Bev McEwen; Freedom's a Hard-Bought Thing, Tom Chase and The Boy With The Cat, Sue Paxson and Jack Rodgers.

Musical numbers in the program will be a musical arrangement by Pete Wright; Sonatina: Allegro, a piano solo by Dolores Briggs; Le Violette, a solo by Joan Fyock, Kathryn Holsinger, accompanist and Il Pleure Dans Mon Colur, a solo by Lois Dunlap, Elizabeth Donnelly, accompanist.

All Juniatians are invited to attend.

JC Organists To Give Two Sunday Recitals

JC music students will present organ recitals January 11 and 19 in Oller Hall, according to Prof. Donald Johnson, head of Juniata's music department.

The first recital, January 11 at 1 p.m., will feature music by the following organists: Joan Ciccarelli, Lois Dunlap, George Fattman, Helen Fitzgerald, Nina Fredenburg, Joan Galbraith, Edith Lum, Mary Snyder, Carol Stiffler and Joan Winger.

Performing in the second recital, January 19 at 2:30 p.m., will be Alice Adams, Elizabeth Donnelly, Kathryn Holsinger, Marian Sue McElwee and Jack Rodland. A special feature of this program will be a quartet including Robert Pierson, violin; Marie Diaczynsky, cello; Carol Stiffler, piano and Miss Donnelly at the organ.

JC Choir Readies For 10 Day Tour

Juniata's 32-voice touring choir will open its 26th season with a 10-day tour of Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey beginning Friday, January 24.

After opening with an afternoon concert in Central Dauphin Joint High School near Harrisburg, the choir will continue to appear in Pennsylvania and New Jersey churches and schools. A radio broadcast over WCAU, Philadelphia, January 25 and a television appearance on WGAL-TV, Lancaster, February 1 will be highlights of the tour.

The choir is directed by Prof. Donald Johnson, head of JC's music department. Its series of 38 concerts will be continued until spring.

Saylor House Men To Sponsor Dance

JC men living in Saylor House have made a special request to sponsor the dance this Saturday night, according to Gini Nixdorf, chairman of social activities.

The dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the Women's Gym and it is rumored that rock n' roll fans will hold a field day.

NEXT JUNIATIAN FEB. 7

The next issue of the JUNIATIAN will appear February 7, the first publication of the spring semester.

Orr To Be Keynoter Of Spiritual Emphasis Week Starting Feb.3

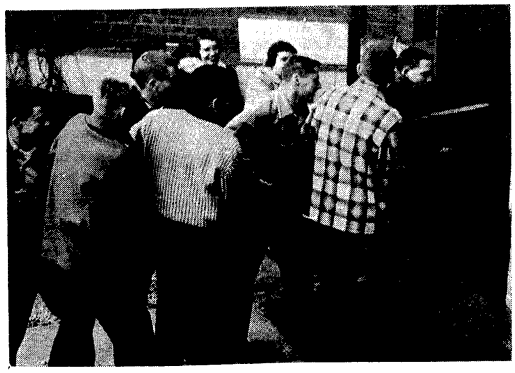
Dr. William Orr, Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, will keynote JCA's Spiritual Emphasis Week with the topic Faith in a World of Fact.

Dr. Orr spoke to Juniata students last year during the JCA's Focus on Love week. He will open the 1958 SEW with a talk in chapel February 3 concerning the purpose or purposelessness of life.

The voluntary chapel February 4 will deal with what JC's chairman of religious activities Spencer Ward describes as, "the central question of the week — Is reason sufficient?" Discussion sessions during the week will present such topics as What's all this stuff about conversion? and Do miracles happen?

The last two chapel periods will focus on the problems Was the crucifixion necessary? and Should we join the social rat race? Other phases of the program are morning worship in the Stone Church, faculty-led dorm discussions, organ concerts, informal get-togethers in faculty homes, a book sale and art display.

You Can't Fight It; It's Bigger Than All Of Us!



Pete Fahrney

STORMING THE BASTILLE—No, not really—it's just exam time again and Juniatians are becoming over anxious to get into that variable citadel of learning—the library. Patience, guys, librarians eat too!

About this time each year the inmates (so to speak) of our fair campus are struck by a terrible scourge: cut sessions reach unprecendented lows, some people even cut chapel, dorm noise drops as much as two and three decibels and there are dark mutterings about the abolition of listening hour.

Finals are upon us again. Finals —three hour concoctions designed to "aid you in an evaluation of your work, give you fuller understanding of the course, help you develop good learning habits;" i.e., to reduce you to the mental state of a psychopathic rabbit suffering from St. Vitus' dance.

But one must not be bitter. After all, the season has its bright spots. Tea will be served—tea—. You can wear bermudas to breakfast, lunch—and, to tea.

Cultural Advancement

Girls can stay out until 11 p.m. thus, with careful planning they may finish studying and take ad-

See FINALS, page 4

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

George Fattman, editor | Barb Walls, managing editor | Don Miller, business manager

Circulation: 1,600 | Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 13 | Friday, January 10, 1958 | Page 2

Our Opinions

Editor Has Final Say

WITH this issue the JUNIATIAN will pack up its present editor and via promotions soon find itself under new management — but not without this swansong.

First of all, a big thank-you to the staff, not only because they were so cooperative and efficient, but also because they worked together much more harmoniously than members of similar organizations usually do. This lessened considerably the pressure of the cumbersome task of turning out a newspaper each week in our spare (?) time.

Especially do I want to thank my managing editor, Barb Walls. The managing editor is the pivot around which all departments of a newspaper revolve. It is a position of great responsibility, requiring on-the-spot decisions and unusual leadership.

Barb, an unostentatious worker, performed her duties with commendable efficiency. My best wishes to her and the JUNIATIAN in the coming year.

* * * * * *

A word of appreciation is due those people not on the staff with whom we often came into contact. Student government was notably cooperative. Not once did they attempt to take advantage of the campus weekly nor were they ever deaf to our suggestions and opinions.

As for the college Administration, I can report that they are far from being the austere negativists some students picture them as being. True, they do not always agree with us and at times act with less haste than we would like, but I have found everyone from the president to the institutional manager to be most genial and cooperative.

Particularly noteworthy is the respect they showed for JUNIATIAN policies and views. They were never dogmatic, and they never even attempted to prevent students from expressing their views. For this we are most grateful.

* * * * * *

Next I feel obliged to report to the student body concerning the progress we feel we have made on the JUNIATIAN during the past year or so. We feel a responsibility to make such a report since we spend your money and since we represent your school and, what is more, you yourselves to off-campus readers.

There have been many changes made in the JUNIATIAN during the past two years, and much credit for these changes goes to the preceding editor, Joan McClure '57, who set the pace for a revitalized JUNIATIAN, and the current managing editor, Miss Walls. Among the changes are:

1. Editors and business department managers have been increased from seven or eight to 15. This increased spread in work and responsibility means that things formerly left undone or only partly done are now done well.

2. A new system for providing photography has increased JUNIATIAN "art," at the same time relieving department and managing editors from the responsibility of securing it.

3. A "beat" system has been introduced which should insure complete coverage of campus activities.

4. A JUNIATIAN style guide defines policy concerning technical aspects of writing, and reporters are encouraged to conform via a testing program and regular criticism.

5. A definite schedule is followed as closely as possible to insure efficiency and a JUNIATIAN that is "on time." Assignment cards help keep reporters on schedule.

6. Advertising has been cut to two-thirds the '55-'56 amount to provide more space for news. We devote as little space to advertising as financially possible.

7. We have attempted to improve layout by standardizing headline type, devising a distinctive nameplate and column heads and providing more contrast in layout. We have joined the trend to emphasis on the horizontal in layout.

* * * * * *

But in spite of these and other improvements and the high recognition given it by the Associated Collegiate Press, the JUNIATIAN cannot and will not stop here.

Work toward specific improvements must be accompanied by an ever constant guard against laxity or injustice in campus government and other student organizations and those responsible for the administration of the college.

And speaking of laxity, the JUNIATIAN itself must never fall prey to this evil. In addition to being editorially influential the campus weekly must strive for completeness and accuracy of coverage.

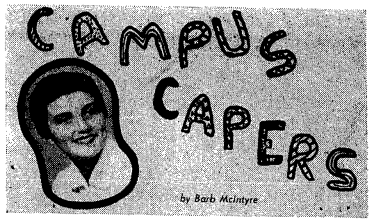
Finally, a word to the students represented by the JUNIATIAN. It is not often that a student body shows so much interest in a campus newspaper, yet the more concern students show for their newspaper the better it will be. If they disagree with something said editorially or if they think an important area is being neglected, they have a responsibility to say so—where it counts.

We realize that we cannot agree with everyone, and, moreover, good editors thrive on criticism. If the students keep the staff "on the ball," the newspaper will be effective and representative.

* * * * * *

A campus newspaper can be effective and influential, or it can be so much froth. Because the JUNIATIAN is completely free of outside influence it can be as effective as its staff chooses to make it.

Good luck to the new staff as they continue to make the JUNIATIAN an important voice in campus affairs.



With the ending of the holiday season, JCers have once again returned to normal! Many dejected faces and that far away "final look" have begun to appear already, however, as the final test schedule was posted Monday morning.

* * * * *

Browsing around...

There was the male JC student from down Philadelphia way who gave a pint of blood over the holidays to the Red Cross and reported that it had a head on it... then there is the student hailing from Lancaster who brought P. S. back to school with her (ask her about it—it talks!)... the halls of East Hall are filled with the nauseating odor of Glover's Mange hair thickener. (It seems that one of our fair classmates is going bald?)

* * * * *

Dan Cupid was quite busy over the holiday season too at both of the women's dorms. Congratulations go to engaged couples Jean Rubicam '58 and Horace Carl '60 and Frances Sweitzer '60 and Joel Fuhrman, York.

Pinned are—Carol Beard '60 and John Coppage, Cornell '61;Jean Edwards '60 and Mike Fahy, Yale '56; Joan Greenwood '58 and John Kelly, Bucknell '58; Barbara Uram '61 and Tom Paskewitz, West Point.

* * * * *

One of our music students who wore a tight skirt to cello practice told the prof that she couldn't hold the cello right because of her skirt. She was taken back however when the prof replied, "We will show no modesty here."

* * * * *

Many other things happened over vacations such as artificial flowers being presented to a JC student as she embarked on a plane, and another one almost forgot to get off her train at her destination because she was interested in another subject, but you'll have to ask them about it as space and time are running out.

* * * * *

Before I leave, good luck goes to our basketball team as they travel to Wilkes tomorrow night.

Ike's Actions Not Reassuring

For the past several weeks the people of the United States and of the world have had an excellent opportunity to view the capabilities and policies of their leader, President Eisenhower. What they have seen has not been comforting.

First, it has become apparent that his administration allowed the United States to fall behind in the missile-satellite race. There are two basic reasons. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have been too inflexible in their determination of what constitutes an adequate military defense.

They seem to have believed that we could hide behind the hydrogen bomb and the Strategic Air Command forever. They were unable to comprehend the nature of the technological rush of the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, Eisenhower allowed the Congress to force an economy binge on the government at a time when the country could ill afford to pinch their purse strings.

Even now, in the face of great danger, Ike promises there will be no new taxes. This is not a time for economy; the people of the United States are willing to pay taxes if they understand the need for them. It is up to Eisenhower to demonstrate this need, not back away under the guise of wanting to save our money.

Second, Eisenhower's inflexibility and even ineptness was demonstrated at the recent NATO conference. He and Dulles decided to convince our allies that it was unnecessary and useless to attempt negotiation with the Soviet Union. They argued that the way to avert the new threat of the Soviet Union is to establish missile bases in the NATO countries.

Del McQuaide: THE WORLD THIS WEEK

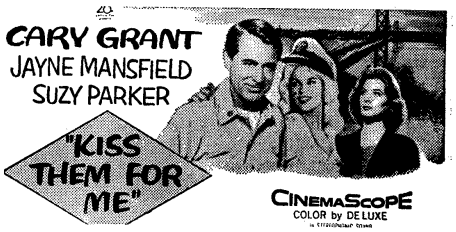
The world will gain nothing from a refusal to negotiate with the Soviet Union except an intensification of the arms race. Eisenhower must realistically accept the fact that the Soviet Union is here to stay and we might as well try to get along with them. Surely the differences between the Soviet Union and the United States are not so great that we can no longer negotiate.

Having decided to pursue this policy of non-negotiation, Eisenhower was not able to sell it to our allies in NATO nor has he been able to even convince the American public. The NATO nations properly insisted that further negotiations were desirable to further armaments which, in effect, turn their countries into vulnerable war bases for the United States.

The United States is in grave

See WORLD, p. 2

Movie Of The Week:



Cary Grant cannot make up his mind who it will be, Jayne Mansfield or Suzy Parker in the comedy hit KISS THEM FOR ME which opens Sunday at the Harris Clifton Theatre for a 3-day engagement.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The undefeated Indians finished fifth in the nation in rushing defense and sixth in total defense among small colleges, according to the National Collegiate Bureau's official year-end football statistics.

The Tribe permitted only 75.6 yards per game rushing to seven opponents to rank fifth behind West Chester, Florida A & M, Allen, South Carolina, and Prairie View.

The Indians also ranked high on offense placing 18th in rushing offense and 28th in total offense.

* * * *

Sophomore Bill Berrier received a fullback position on the Williamson Little All-American team of 33 players for 1957. Berrier also tied for the state scoring lead at 72 points during the past season. In addition, senior Tony Chirico received honorable mention on the All-American team.

* * * *

The Bulldogs set the IM pace in basketball before vacation. Featuring good team play, they racked up six straight wins including victories over the highly regarded Sultans and NJ House.

Frank Rocco leads a freshmen dominated team including Jerry Zak, Dave Goodling, Jim Seacrist, Dick Ott, Wally Berkey, Skip

* * * *

Walasik, and Dick Gaskill.

A suggestion to improve the men's intramural basketball program and to make the job a little easier for the Chairman of Athletics would be to give him a key to the lights in the gym.

It would pin responsibility on one person and therefore do away with the confusion which now results. The Chairman of Athletics must come to the gym at opening and closing time on game nights in his regular duties. He could easily take care of the lights and make it unnecessary for others to bother.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

Don't Go Barefoot This Winter
Westbrook's Shoes

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS — see — H. & R. Egolf

Bulldogs, Dukes, Whips Stay Unbeaten In Intramural Play

The Bulldogs, Dukes and Whips remain undefeated in intramural basketball play.

The Bulldogs dropped the Pepsi's 55-36, Sultans 43-39, Comets 51-28 and Schizo 8 59-30 to make their league leading record 7-0. Jim Seacrist hit for 20 against the Pepsi's and 16 against the Schizo 8 to pace their scoring.

The defending champion Dukes boosted their streak to six this year defeating the Mt. Dewers 51-32, The Five 44-32, Dunkards 68-46 and Crusaders 51-30. Don Conley poured 32 points through the hoops to turn the stubborn Dunkard contest into a rout.

TThe Whips kept idle except for a 40-28 conquest of the Crusaders. "Moose" Krause continued his top scoring efforts with 13 in the balanced Whip attack.

Dunkards

The Dunkards held down fourth spot losing only the Dukes. They beat the Crusaders 59-48 and Pepsi's 54-43 to sport a 5-1 record. Bob Blair scored 21 in the Crusader preliminary game.

The Sultans and Blockers tied for fifth with 4-1 records. Marv Miller's consistent scoring helped the Sultans edge the NJ House 43-41 and Dynamos 55-53. Tony Chirico led the Surprising Blockers to four straight over the Mt. Dewers 46-44, The Five 54-20, Schizo 8 53-26 and Comets 47-32.

In other action, the Sharpshooters 63 Comets 49, NJ House 53 Ubangies 44, Dynamos 40 Pepsi's 38, Ubangies 48 Crusaders 44, Schizo 8 42 Mt. Dewers 36, Ubangies 47 Pepsi's 43, Sharpshooters 62 The Five 32, NJ House 61 Flying 5 45, Ubangies 50 Mt. Dewers 40 and Sharpshooters 61 Dynamos 46.

Team Standings

	W	L
Bulldogs	7	0
Dukes	6	0
Whips	3	0
Dunkards	5	1
Sultans	4	1
Blockers	4	1
NJ House	4	2
Ubangies	4	2
Sharpshooters	3	3
Dynamos	2	3
Flying Five	1	2
Crusaders	1	4
Pepsi's	1	5
Schizo Eight	1	6
The Five	0	5
Comets	0	5
Mt. Dewers	0	6

The intramural basketball games scheduled for this Wednesday are postponed until a later date.

Gardner Tops Scoring In Tight Varsity Race

Curt Gardner set the pace in a tight scoring race on the basketball team before vacation.

Gardner, who hit .478 on field goals, has 75 points in five games for an even 15.0 average. A pair of juniors, Gordie Ewers and Bob Ewald, are pressing. Ewers has 65 and Ewald 59. Ewald tops the team percentage-wise in field goals with .481.

Coach Arnold Greene's team averaged 76.6 per game in winning their three out of five games in December and held their opponents to 62.8 per game.

World This Week—

continued from page 2

need of strong leadership, leadership Eisenhower has demonstrated he cannot provide. Perhaps it be better for all concerned if the President would recall a campaign pledge he made when elected for his second term—to resign if he found himself incapable of being President of the United States.

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE Mitchell 3-0736

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Wilkes, Albright, Lock Haven Next On Slate For JC Cagers

Juniata edged Franklin and Marshall 70-69 in a real thriller last night, as Curt Gardner scored 25 points.

Coach "Doc" Greene's cagers take to the road following the holiday lay off to clash with Wilkes, Albright, and Lock Haven State Teachers.

On Saturday the Greenmen face a red hot Wilkes quintet in what should be one of Juniata's toughest Middle Atlantic contests. With a veteran squad paced by captain George Morgan, the Colonels will be seeking to improve upon last year's enviable 12-8 record.

Morgan was ninth high scorer among the nations small colleges last season, hitting for a 25.7 average per game. He was also fourth in the country as he sunk 55.9% of his shots from the floor, and this season the Colonel center stands among the top five scorers in the Middle Atlantic Conference.

The Albright Lions will host the Tribe to their second Northern Division match of the young season. Senior Bruce Storms and freshman Wayne Hudson, each 6-6, give the Reading squad plenty of height under the boards, while juniors, captain Merrill Eckhart, and Fred Dietzel and 6-4 freshman Stan Kaminski lead the Lion's scoring column.

Paul Morella, the home town speedster, has seen starting action for Coach Will Renken's squad and may be used against the Tribe.

Juniata travels to Lock Haven January 29 to round out the semester schedule against the Teachers.

Indian Floormen Maul South Jersey, Bears In December Games

Fine teamwork and torrid shooting gave coach Arnold Greene's hoopsters their second and third victories in pre-holiday contests.

Bewildering both opponents with nearly 50% accuracy in the shooting department, the Indians triumphed over visiting Rutgers College of South Jersey, 89-56, and Ursinus College, 93-69.

The Greenemen walloped the Bears of Ursinus in an impressive Middle Atlantic Conference opener.

Dominating the second half by jumping to a lopsided 24-2 edge in the first seven minutes, the Indians hit their highest point total for a single game.

Heading, Ewers

Four players hit double figures among the starters. Freshmen Jack Heading, making his first varsity start, and Gordy Ewers collected 16 points each, while captain Mike Armstrong and Curt Gardner followed with 15 apiece.

Guard Bob Wagner pumped in 23 points in the losing cause for Ursinus, whose record is now 1-4.

Earlier the Tribe met Rutgers of South Jersey for the first time in the history of athletics.

It was the easiest triumph of the season as Juniata broke an early 2-2 deadlock and commanded a 43-27 halftime lead.

Gardner Key Man

Gardner, a key man in the Indians' efficient fast break, led the point parade with 17. Bob Ewald followed with 15, Armstrong and Mike Miller had 11 each, and Heading scored 10.

For Rutgers, an owner of an 0-4 record, Joe Bretschneideer collected 20 points in a fine individual performance for the visitors.

The junior varsity cagers suffered their first defeat in two starts, losing to a strong Pitt Undergraduate Center, 95-75, at Johnstown.

Hank Hain collected 21 points for Juniata with Jack Campbell adding 16. Bob Melago, Ken Flaig,, and Ed Costello followed with 13, 12 and 10 points respectively.

Bowling Resumes At Arcade Tonight

Intramural bowling resumes this evening with a full schedule of four games.

At 7 p.m. the Harriers face the Pals and the Ranch Hands take on the Champs. At 8:30 the Admirals meet the Schlitzers and the Rustlers host the Holy Rollers in the evening highlight.

The Alley Kats currently hold first place followed by the Crusaders, Flashes and Ten Pins after just one week of bowling.

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Sanforized SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

McQuown, Schott Top Fall Award Winners

Bernie McQuown and Bill Schott led fall sport award winners in picking up their third football awards.

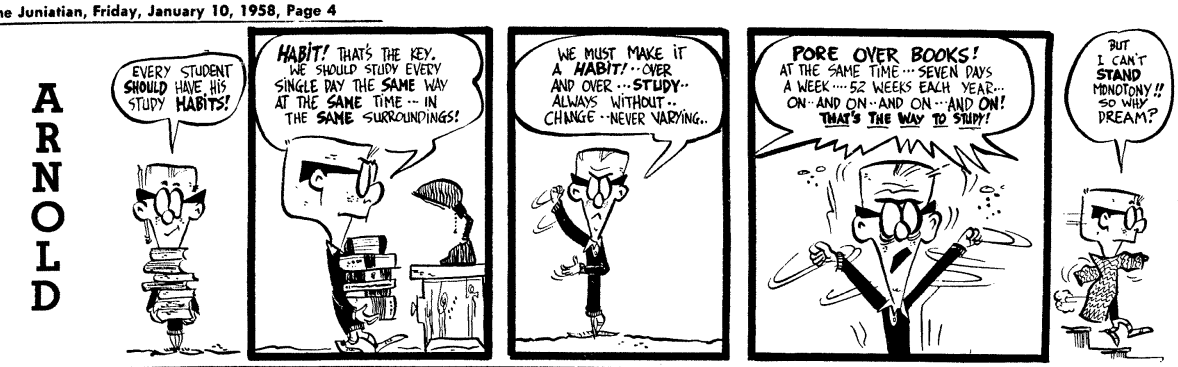
Others earning stars were seniors Ken Fassnacht and Tony Chirico, juniors Ken Opipery and Joe Sopata and sophomores Horace Carl, Harold Krause, Al Dungan, Bob Solomon, Bob Schwalenberg, Jim Berrier, Bob Devlin and Bill Berrier.

J's signifying the individuals first award in a sport went to Jim Seacrist, Jerry Zak, Marvin Miller, Emery DiDonato, Orlando Falcione, Bob Melago, Frank Rocco, Dave Goodling, Stan Walasik, Dick Ott and manager John Gibbel.

Cross country stars were awarded to freshmen Don Loyman, sophomore Frank Hrach and junior Herb Deuchar. Chal Dilling, Bob Petitt, Bill Lafe, Joe Senft and manager Don Oberson received J's.

MOTEL 22 and RESTAURANT
For Reservations Call
For Motel — Phone 1197
For Restaurant — Phone 9191

SHOP THE RAY ENGLISH STORE
For The Latest In Mens Clothing and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre



Dupont Company Grants JC $4000

Juniata is one of 14 privately supported colleges in Pennsylvania which has been awarded a grant of $4,000 by the DuPont Company "to help maintain their records of strength in chemical or technical education."

The grant consists of $2,500 for chemistry teaching and $1,500 for other courses. Grants totaling $1,150,000 have been awarded to 135 universities and colleges in DuPont's annual program of aid to education.

This marks the sixth straight year that JC has been named a recipient of the DuPont grant. In the latest grants DuPont made awards to 73 institutions, mostly liberal arts colleges, and to 23 universities, all of which are privately controlled.

Colleges in Pennsylvania to which DuPont awarded grants included Allegheny, Bryn Mawr, Bucknell, Drexel, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Haverford, Juniata, Lafayette, Lebanon Valley, Muhlenberg, Swarthmore, Ursinus and Villanova.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
Elvis Presley in Jailhouse Rock
SUN . MON - TUES
Shows Are Continuous
Sundays from 2 P. M.
Cary Grant
Jayne Mansfield
Suzy Parker
in
Kiss Them For Me
CinemaScope & Color
WED — THURS
Cornel Wilde
Michael Rennie
Debra Paget
Raymond Massey
— in —
Omar Khayyam
Technicolor
Sunday Doors Open 1:30
Show Continuous from 2:00

Founders Basement To House Admissions

Remodling of the ground floor of Founders to provide a new location for JC's admissions office is now under way, according to a release from the public relations office.

During Christmas vacation work began on replacing the decaying floor through the hallway and covering the heat line. When the flooring is done, workmen will proceed to locate the admissions office on the south side and provide a lobby for guests, a ladies' lounge and storage space.

Plans call for the present admissions office to be used as a conference room for committee meetings of the administration and faculty. Further development of the ground floor will include a recreation room on the first floor of Brumbaugh.

Retired Teacher Dies Last Sunday

Miss Annie May Longnecker, Huntingdon school teacher died Sunday, January 5, at 7:30 a.m. in the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital.

Miss Longnecker retired in 1951 after having instructed math classes for 29 years at Huntingdon High School. She returned to teaching in 1955 as a mathematics instructor at Juniata and left two months ago because of failing health.

Miss Longnecker, who was 75 years old in December, started teaching when she was 16 years old. She was graduated from Millersville State Teachers College and completed graduate work at Pitt, Penn State and Juniata.

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON
Phone MItchell 3-1280

NEARLY EVERYONE AT JUNIATA...— Please pardon us for borrowing the slogan of the Philadelphia newspaper, but we couldn't help but think of it the last time the JUNIATIAN appeared. And, just for the record, we're convinced that unlike many schools, nearly everyone at Juniata does read the JUNIATIAN.

Bruce Bennett

Finals Bring Out Worst In JCers

Continued from page 1

vantage of the many opportunities for cultural advancement around this place. Best of all, you can be moody, sloppy, mean and sarcastic and everyone will attribute your basically rotten personality to too much study, smile pityingly and shove tranquillizers under your door.

However, do not be fooled by all this gaiety and "grades—don't —matter" bit. Contrary to popular belief, the Debate Club will not sell popcorn in the mezzanine of Memorial Gym. Also, a low blow has been dealt the new course in advanced and applied crib notes; it seems there was some difficulty in scheduling labs....

And, if these warnings have not put the fear of "P. E. East and West" into your souls, just remember the words of a certain prof who, in answer to a perfectly innocent question concerning exams said, "I can't make up the final yet. I feel too good."

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

Lenox China
Sterling Silver
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St. Phone MI 3-1700

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

MILLER HARDWARE CO.
Phone
MI 3-1460
Buy LP Classical
Records NOW!
Before The Price
Advances Feb. 1, 1958
Save $1.00 Each

Teas During Exams

Dean Barbara Bechtell has announced that afternoon teas in the Social Rooms will be held as usual during final exams.

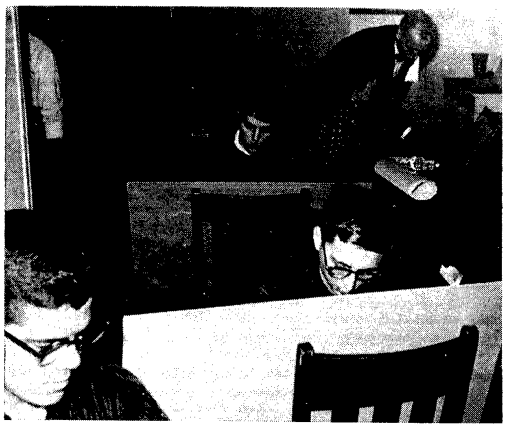
Carol Stiffler, chairman, has planned the teas for the afternoons of January 16, 17, 20, 21 and 22.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR 1908 50th ANNIVERSARY 1958
Subscribe Now
at Half Price*
You can read this world-famous daily newspaper for the next six months for $4.50, just half the regular subscription rate.
Get top news coverage. Enjoy special features. Clip for reference work.
Send your order today. Enclose check or money order. Use coupon below.
The Christian Science Monitor P-CN
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.
Send your newspaper for the time checked.
☐ 6 months $4.50 ☐ 1 year $9
☐ College Student ☐ Faculty Member
Name
Address
City Zone State
*This special offer available ONLY to college students, faculty members, and college libraries.

Juniata College Library
Huntingdon, Pennsylvania

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 14 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 7, 1958



Bruce Bennett

'BURMA SHAVE' SIGNS?—No matter what project they have on th se easels, JC artists will no doubt find it an easier job in their ow: studio. Instructor Thomas has directed the remodeling of three Village apartments to be used by Juniatians enrolled in the new art courses.

Thomas To Instruct Artists In JC's New 'Village' Studio

The Village Studio, a remodeled building in The Village west of Moore Street across from Swigart Hall, was opened to the art classes at the beginning of the second semester period.

The revised program of courses include art studio I, II and III and replace the courses formerly known as drawing and elementary oil painting. The new program of study is designed to give individualized direction in the various art media, beginning with drawing and progressing through painting.

The Village Studio is located in apartments number one, two and three, which have been renovated to provide more adequate space for increased class enrollment and the use of easels rather than tables. A studio, classroom, office and storage area are included in the remodeled building.

Workmen completed the relocation of partitions and interior painting early last week to permit Prof. Thomas to begin classes at the opening of the spring term. In addition to art studio, he is scheduled to teach two sections of appreciation of art, elementary public school art and modern art.

Art Exhibitions

Thomas hopes to hold adult education classes in drawing and painting for the town people. He would also like to include the display of traveling exhibitions as well as student exhibitions in the studio.

Credit for the new art studio course will be three hours per

See THOMAS, page 4

Two Instructors Join JC's Faculty

Max Heller of Lewistown and the Rev. George Howard, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Hollidaysburg, have been added to the faculty for the spring term.

Mr. Heller was appointed instructor in mathematics and will teach four sections of mathematical analysis this term. He received his bachelor of science degree with a major in mathematics and a minor in science from Pennsylvania State University.

The Rev. Howard will assist Robert McFadden, instructor in Biblical studies, in teaching three of the seven sections of Biblical history.

Juniatians To Crown Traditional Ugly King

by Jan Hoyer

Tradition. It's wonderful!

And in view of this fact, the various means of student communications are doing their bit to perpetuate a noble one begun last year—the Ugly Man Contest.

A general election for Mr. Ugly II will be held next Friday in Totem Inn. A formal coronation of the esteemed winner will be a highlight of the gay, mad Communications Ball scheduled for Saturday night on the mezzanine of Memorial Gym.

Each of the publications and radio station WJC has nominated a candidate who, in their opinion, best represents the Ugly ideals inherent in a truly Ugly character. Vigorous campaigning is expected during which the aspiring Uglies will try any means at all to prove their fitness for the honor. Bribery, ballot-box stuffing and slander of an opponents bad name are all de rigeur in the bid for this infamous title.

Ugly Candidates

The candidates include reigning Mr. Ugly, Killer Conley, who will no doubt try for a repeat performance of his overwhelming victory last year, as well as new aspirants Del McQuaide, Val Means, Chic Henry, Jim Cain, Mike Projansky, Easy Ed Brockway, Bill Lafe and Sam Shore.

Incidentally, the Communications Ball, aside from the coronation, (by Homecoming Queen Jacque Rowland) will be a life-sized event complete with music, decorations, entertainment, refreshments and gifts for Mr. Ugly and his court.

The Hasty Heart

Ronald Reagan, Patricia Neal and Richard Todd star in The Hasty Heart, a JCA presentation tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Immediately following the movie there will be a dance in Memorial Gym. The dance, which is also sponsored by JCA, will continue to 11:30 p.m.

Christie Mystery To Hit Oller Hall Boards; Bray To Direct Cast Of Ten Little Indians

JC's registrar James Bray recently announced the cast of Agatha Christie's Ten Little Indians, the Masque's spring production.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will be played by Rush Hodgins and Shirley Raffensperger. Fred Narracott will be portrayed by Lowell Moyer.

Janice Hoyer is cast as Vera Claythorne with Ronn Fink as Philip Lombard. Don Miller will appear as Anthony Marston.

Les Aungst will play William Blore while Bill Lafe will act the part of General MacKenzie and Diane Klebe will appear as Emily Brent. Bob Reader is cast as Sir Lawrence Wargrave with Pete Wright as Dr. Armstrong.

Weird House Party

When the play opens these characters are all visitors at a weird country house on Indian Island off the coast of Devon. The guests have never met their host nor each other and the servants have never met their employer.

Action begins when a voice comes out of the air accusing each of murder. Then one of a set of 10 Indian stauettes topples from the mantlepiece and one of the guests dies, poisoned by cyanide of potassium dropped in his drink.

From then on, the story mounts in excitement as the old nursery rhyme is gruesomely enacted by the murderer. The play, a clever combination of twisted clues, suspicion and terror, is generally conceded to be one of the best of Christie's whodunits.

Prospective BMOC's To Attend Seminars Beginning Next Week

Leadership seminars designed to acquaint the student body, especially prospective Senate candidates, with the fundamentals of student government, will begin February 13 it was decided at the weekly Senate meeting Wednesday evening.

At the first seminar Al Blough will present the rules for campaigning this year. In addition, Ronn Fink will give a run-down of last year's campaign and an interpretation of the election.

It was decided that the Smoke Signal, the Senate's interpretive news sheet, would issue two election copies with student speculation on the outcome of this year's election. In addition it was thought desirable that WJC interview the presidential candidates February 28.

Library Drinking Fountain

Ronn Fink submitted a letter to be directed to the Administration regarding a drinking fountain in the library. It was felt that the lobby was an ideal place, the position having been suggested by Mrs. Sarah Hettinger, head librarian.

Dean Paul Heberling has instructed the faculty that they will be held responsible for parking violations. The action came after the Senate had protested a form letter sent all faculty members informing them that they would not be obligated, and that they should disregard any ticket they may receive.

New JCers Enter With Spring Term

Seventeen new students registered to begin classes for the Spring term.

According to the office of admissions, six of the 17 are listed as advanced standing students.

Among the newcomers is Suan Fook Heng from Seremban, Malaya, who is enrolled as a freshman.

Talks With Profs To Close S.E.W.

Spiritual Emphasis Week will close this Sunday night when JCers attend the homes of faculty members to participate in informal discussion sessions.

Today features a resume of the week by faculty members and a special panel of foreign students to talk in Founders Chapel. Saturday's main event will be a film, The Hasty Heart, at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

The Rev. Preston Williams of Penn State will speak at an all college worship service at 10:30 a.m. in Oller Hall. The 15-minute worship services in Founders Chapel will continue through Monday morning.

Included in the week's activities were daily "Tote talks", organ recitals, morning worship services and evening discussions. Wednesday nights dorm discussions related the week's topics to student life.

The main speaker for the week has been Dr. William Orr. Town ministers and faculty members aided in discussion sessions on Faith in a World of Fact.

Touring Choir Makes 10-Day Concert Trip

Juniata's 32-voice choir returned last Sunday from a 10-day tour of eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey during which it presented 19 concerts for high schools, churches, TV and radio.

At each high school, the choir's program consisted of several sacred songs, three secular selections, songs by a girls' trio and a male quartet and a melody of tunes from My Fair Lady. The Green Blade Riseth, a sacred cantata, was presented at the churches.

WJC Schedule

2 - 5 p.m.	Diversified Music
8:00 p.m.	World News
8:15 p.m.	M: Moods in Music T: Hi Fi F: Music Hi Fi
9:00 p.m.	M-W-F: Thirty on Forty-Five
9:30 p.m.	M: An Adventure in Sound T: Broadway Melodies W: A Toot in Music Th: Baton F: Meet the President
10:00 p.m.	M:Band Stand T: Session Progression W: 620 Rock Th: Strictly off the Record F: Strictly off the Record Su: 620 Club
10:30 p.m.	M:Totem Poll T: Campus Varities W: Meet the Faculty Th: Special Feature F: Tops in Pops
10:45 p.m.	M: Band Stand W: JCA Presents Th: Sports
11:00 p.m.	M-F: News
11:15 p.m.	M: Music after Dark

Barb Walls To Head Staff Of Juniatian

● George Fattman ●
Former Chief Of JC's Press

Barb Walls, junior English major from Glenside, begins her job as editor of the JUNIATIAN for 1958 with this issue.

Miss Walls, who will fill the place vacated by George Fattman, has served as managing editor of the paper during the past year. Her other activities include WJC, All Class Night committee, and JWSF.

Carol Baish, a sophomore English major from Irwin, will take over the duties of managing editor. Miss Baish has served as news editor on the paper and is a member of the WJC staff, All Class Night committee and JCA.

News Editor Varec

Pat Varec will move up from the staff of news writers to the

See BERKEY, page 4

● Barb Walls ●
To Head '58 Juniatian

U. S. Joins Russia In Space

THE EXPLORER—After four months of continued frustration and failure the United States has finally launched a successful earth satellite into orbit. On the evening of January 31 a new chapter of American scientific achievement had been opened, for the Army fired a Jupiter-C missile containing a tiny satellite named the Explorer.

The rocket which propelled the Explorer into its orbit was composed of a modified Redstone missile with three additional booster stages made up from the Army's tactical missile, the Sergeant. These four combined rocket stages hurled the satellite seventeen hundred miles out into space. The instruments of the Explorer are to measure cosmic rays, the frequency of meteorite particles and devices for measuring the air's temperature.

While the Explorer has broken the Soviet monopoly of outer space, and the United States has, at last, answered Nikita Khrushchev's invitation "to join" Russia in space, we are still far behind Russia in the conquest of outer space. As Werther Von Braun, technical director of the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency has reminded us, "What we have in orbit now is only a rival in spirit to Sputnik." Nevertheless the Explorer has provided the psychological stimulation which the United States has been desperately in need of both at home and on the international scene.

THE UNITED ARAB REPUBLIC v. THE BAGHDAD PACT — In the turbulence which dominates the Middle East a new political entity has been formed which has the potential of being a unified force against the pro-western countries of the Middle East. On February 1, at Cairo, Presidents Nassar and al-Kuwatly signed a joint edict announcing the merger of Egypt and Syria under the title of the United Arab Republic.

The new state is to have one unified Cabinet and Parliment, a common flag, a single foreign policy of "positive neutralism," while Egypt's Nassar will be President (in actuality dictator) and Syria's al-Kuwatly, Vice-President. With the strong feeling of nationalism (Pan-Arabism) sweeping the Middle East his proclamation seems more than just a "paper alliance", as other nations may soon join this merger, thus making it a formidable force opposed to the Middle Eastern Treaty Organization.

The Baghdad Pact which is Secretary of State Dulles' bridge between NATO in Europe and SEATO in Asia came close to collapsing last week at the conference in Ankara. With the loosely formed alliance on the verge of dissolution, Dulles stated "that the Baghdad Pact can be confident that the United States' mobile power of great force would, as needed, be brought to bear against any Communist aggressor."

Though the U. S. still has not committed itself to full membership, we still have given ample assurance of direct military aid to the Baghdad powers in the event of Red aggression. The Pact was also strengthened by joint projects for economic improvement and a Combined Military Planning Staff under the dirertion of Lieut. General Ekrem Akalin of Turkey. As the Middle Eastern rivalries have split the Arab world into two power camps a "balance of power" seems to be developing.

HERB DEUCHAR:

News In Retrospect

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

Barb Walls, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Carol Baish, managing editor

Pat Varec, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Wally Berkey, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Bob Blair, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary; Marsha Sweet, assistant advertising manager.

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Carol Whitfield.

SPORTS STAFF: Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass, Val Means.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Rene Dimmick.

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 14 — Friday, February 7, 1958 — Page 2

"SEE ME TOMORROW—I'M BUSY GRADING FINALS NOW."

Editorially Speaking . . .

The Probation Problem

WHEN almost one seventh of the student body is placed on probation at the close of a school term, something more must be attributed to the fact than mere laziness or stupidity on the part of the students. When the number of students on probation is higher than ever before in the history of Juniata, something more should be done than to warn the students to work harder next semester.

A probation percentage as high as the one resulting from last semester's work indicates the presence of additional factors as causes of the drastic decline in student scholarship. These factors do not, by any means, relieve the students of all the blame for the high probation rate. No doubt it could be reduced greatly merely by their increased study and effort. However, the other factors involved should not be ignored, especially as we start the spring semester.

First of all, the flu epidemic that struck the campus last October placed many students far behind in their studies. Some were never able to catch up. It may be that the professors did not give this factor enough consideration when grading students for the semester's work.

Secondly, students who took courses in mathematics and economics last semester had it particularly hard, due to no fault of their own. In both departments many students experienced a change of instructors in the middle of the term. These changes involved skipping over much uncovered material and consequently D's for many students.

In the economics department, three classes of principles of economics each with a different professor all had to take the same final examination. This hardly seems fair.

It is hard to say exactly what has been the cause of the low academic average. It may be that the professors have been placing too much weight on the final examination grade in comparison to the work done in the rest of the course or that they are not giving enough individual attention to the students. Perhaps the above factors have had some influence, perhaps not. In any case, causes have undoubtedly been varied and complex. The results of the fall semester's grading should cause both students and professors to look into the situation and make a sincere effort to raise the academic standing next semester.

A Tradition, We Hope

THE reading day preceding finals this year no doubt was a "lifesaver" for many Juniatians, especially those who faced a test the first day of the exam period. And for those of us who were lucky enough to have a few days of grace before the seige began, it was great for storing up energy, so to speak, for the many days and nights of study ahead.

We extend a vote of thanks to the Administration for the reading day and hope it is given the status of tradition in the future.

A Tribute To George

THANKS go to George Fattman for his highly successful year as editor of the '57 JUNIATIAN. The low amount of perennial "newspaper troubles", the high student interest, the lack of friction between the JUNIATIAN and the administration and, last but not least, the All-American newspaper rating award all testify to the effectiveness of George's leadership.

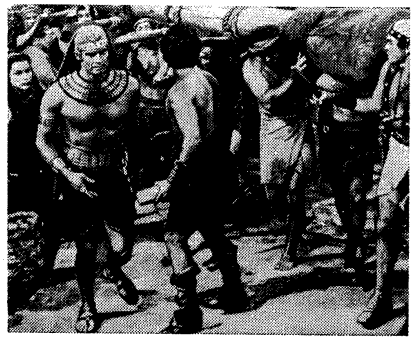
Through his editorializing, George has demonstrated that a campus weekly does not have to be constantly crusading or always in bitter argument with some faction on campus to attract student interest and to get things done. The improvements he promoted—from better library lighting to clearing the mud from the elephant walk—were accomplished with little strife and commotion. This can no doubt be attributed to George's devotion to "getting the facts straight" before writing each editorial.

The JUNIATIAN, although his primary interest, was far from his only one on campus. George's other activities varied from conducting class meetings as senior class president to practicing organ in Oller Hall.

Since George seems to have the "roar of the presses" in his blood for good, his break with the JUNIATIAN will be softened by his remaining on the staff as writer of the new column appearing this week, On Campus. However, we on the JUNIATIAN will miss working with George and will strive to maintain in the coming year the high standards of newspaper production he has set for us.

Movie Of The Week

The Ten Commandments



Charlton Heston is shown above in a scene from Cecil B. Demille's production of The Ten Commandments which is now showing at the Harris Clifton Theatre.

On Campus

by George Fattman

Now that Juniatians one and all have returned to classes with notebooks, pens and rapt expressions, an easily perceptible air of "I'm going to do a little work this semester" prevades the hill. But it won't last long.

Memories of last semester's finals still linger. Have you heard about the guy who didn't feel like answering the last two questions on one of his tests, wrote "time" and walked out 20 hinutes early only to run into his prof. who was just then coming into the gym?

Finals had at least their usual toll this year, and what with everyone moving out or changing rooms and roommates the problem arose of what to do with rowdies who were planning to move into one's hall. North Dorm residents, discussing the situation, suggested building a cement block wall across the middle of the hall in order to concentrate all the noisemakers on one side. "We'll keep the john—they can have the broom closet," someone quipped.

And with grades coming out, we have a sad tale to tell about Just Plain Average, the guy who always makes C's. If he works hard, does all the assignments, spends hours on term papers, etc., he gets a C plus. If he never goes to class and does nothing but take the final, he gets a C minus. Nearly every term paper, every test, every special project—everything comes back with a C on it.

Although he made B's in his summer courses at another school, they transferred as C's. How frustrating! And never does a test go by without someone asking, "Well, did So-and-So get his C?" Guess that's how it goes.

* * * *

Perfect Squelch Dept.

Over vacation a Juniatian telephoned a girl he knew to arrange a date for one of his friends.

"Oh, I'll be busy," she alibied. "I'm afraid I can't make it."

"Well, if that's the way you feel about it," he taunted.

"Oh, I know your type," she replied, "As soon as you hang up you'll just call up the next girl on your list."

"How do you know you aren't the last one on my list?" he sneered.

* * * *

Professorial Statement of the Week

"I have a theory that more people would read introductions to textbooks if they had the regular Arabic pagination."

And from another prof: "Juniata should offer a course in 'psychoceramics'—for crackpots."

Finally, from a prof who found one of his classes to include over 60 students: "You mob you."

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Wrestling is coming into the spotlight on campus both in intramurals and in prospects for a varsity team.

Monday February 17 marks the opening date for the IM tournament. Detailed information will appear in the next JUNIATIAN. All interested men should take advantage of the facilities in the Memorial Gym to get in shape during the coming week.

The biggest boost ever given toward varsity wrestling occured in a recent recommendation by the Faculty Committee on Physical Education and Athletics.

The committee suggests an intercollegiate schedule be undertaken on a one-year trial in 1958-59 and urges that the director of physical education be authorized to obtain a coach and purchase the necessary equipment.

Reasons given for the decision were:

1. Wrestling is a fine individual, team and spectator sport in college.

2. Wrestling is a spot in which
2. Wrestling is a sport in which

3. Juniata competes academically with such institutions as Haverford, Swarthmore, and Dickinson; hence, it should compete athletically. Few colleges offer less in the way of intercollegiate programs than Juniata.

4. Juniata should keep pace with the time in its sports program. Every institution of the MASCAC has wrestling except Susquehanna and Juniata.

5. Such natural mid-state rivals as Elizabethtown, Lycoming and Lebanon Valley carry the sport.

The trial Saturday afternoon basketball game with Drexel has stirred up many comments beside being the most exciting game of the year—79-78 in our favor. The general consensus seems to be that one or two afternoon games would be satisfactory. My opinion is unfavorable toward them since it cut down on the downtown crowd as indicated by chair salees, the playing atmosphere is not the greatest and such contests would conflict with the IM basketball program.

Subscribe Now at Half Price*

You can read this world-famous daily newspaper for the next six months for $4.50, just half the regular subscription rate.

Get top news coverage. Enjoy special features. Clip for reference work.

Send your order today. Enclose check or money order. Use coupon below.

The Christian Science Monitor P-CN
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.

Send your newspaper for the time checked.

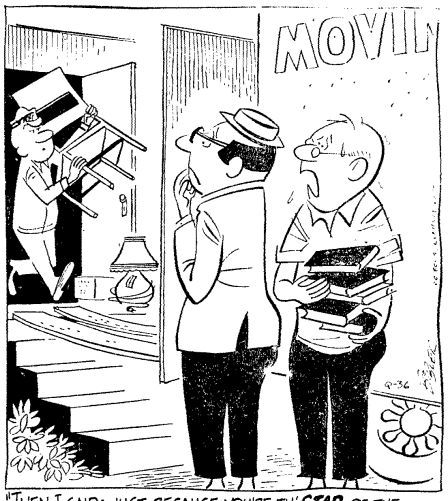
☐ 6 months $4.50 ☐ 1 year $9
☐ College Student ☐ Faculty Member

Name

Address

City Zone State

*This special offer available ONLY to college students, faculty members, and college libraries.



"THEN I SAID: JUST BECAUSE YOU'RE TH' STAR OF THE FOOTBALL TEAM YOU NEEDN'T THINK YOU CAN RUN MY CLASS."

Cagers Defeat Drexel, LH; Fall To Westminster, Albright

The Varsity hoopsters resumed their second semester schedule with victories over Drexel and Lock Haven while dropping decisions to Westminster and Albright.

The Indians, led by freshman Jack Heading, won their fifth and sixth games of the season against five setbacks. Juniata's record in the Middle Atlantic Conference is now three and two.

Heading's outstanding efforts, a 27-point performance in the Drexel encounter and a 25 point, 20 rebound output in the Albright contest, were responsible for his being named to this week's All-East small college basketball team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

Most recently the Indians, handicapped by the loss of injured Mike Armstrong, were handed a 68-50 loss at Westminster College last Monday night. Unable to put anyone in double figures, the Tribe could not keep up with the scoring and rebound punch displayed by the Titans.

In last Saturday afternoon's contest with Drexel Institute, the battling Indians overcame an early 11-2 deficit and forced the visiting Dragons into overtime at 69 all on Armstrong's tying field goal. Heading broke a 75-75 deadlock in the extra period with a last minute field goal and Ron Wertz's two foul conversions clinched the close 79-78 triumph over the Middle Atlantic opponent.

Juniata lost its fourth game of the season at Albright College by a 72-65 score. Despite Heading's fine performance, coach Arnold Greene's hoopsters lost the game at the foul line scoring only nine conversions to their opponents 20.

The Tribe scored an impressive 71-49 victory over Lock Haven Teachers. Armstrong enjoyed his best night of the season as he flipped in 18 points.

Jayvees Win Two

The junior varsity cagers recorded their second and third victories against two losses with wins over Lock Haven and Altoona Undergraduate Center.

Playing both contests on foreign floors, coach Charles Godlasky's crew defeated the junior Teachers 70-62 as Ed Costello hit for 17 and Bob Melago scored 15.

Defeating Altoona Center by an 85-79 margin, the winners were led by Jack Campbell's 29 points. Ken Flaig and Hank Hain followed with 17 each.

Pals Win 6th Decision In IM Bowling League

The Pals, paced by keglers Ron Bergey and Les Greenwalt, swept high team and high total honors last Friday night to win their sixth straight decision, 3-0, over the Ten Pins in the intramural bowling league.

In the other division A game of the evening the Harriers dropped the Crusaders 3-0. Dick Johnson copped the night's high total for the winners with 299 pins, while team mate Frank Hrach, with a 185 score, was best for a single game.

The Admirals took a 3-0 win over the Holy Rollers and Will's Gang outrolled the Flashes by the same count in division B clashes. The Admirals' Phil Over ranked among the evenings individual highs with a 293 pin total.

Tonight at 7 p.m. in division A, the Ranch Hands go into their first game against the top ranked Pals and the Gutterballers meet the Champs. At 8:30 p.m. the Ally Kats clash with the Schlitzers to decide the division B leadership and the Rustlers face the Admirals.

Division A

	W	L
Pals	6	0
Harriers	3	3
Ranch Hands	0	0
Crusaders	2	4
Ten Pins	2	4
Champs	1	2
Gutterballers	1	5

Division B

	W	L
Alley Kats	3	0
Schlitzers	3	0
Will's Gang	4	2
Rustlers	2	1
Admirals	3	3
Flashes	2	4
Holy Rollers	1	5

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

MILLER HARDWARE CO.

Phone
MI 3-1460

Buy LP Classical Records NOW!
Before The Price Advances Feb. 1, 1958
Save $1.00 Each

Rival Blue Jays To Invade JC; Bucknell Game Away

Elizabethtown's Blue Jays roll into Memorial Gym Monday evening to resume a rivalry which was begun in 1929.

The two Church of the Brethren schools have met in a total of 55 contests. JC has won 37 of these and dropped 18. Last season the Blue Jays claimed a pair of decisive victories over the Tribe and have their sights set on a repeat performance this season.

The charges of Coach Don Smith have had difficulty this year in maintaining last season's pace which netted them a 14-7 slate. Following a 78-62 loss to Wilkes last Saturday, the Jays record slipped below .500 and now stands at 5-6.

Pennsyl Top Scorer

E-town's big gun, Bill Pennsyl, has netted 234 points in eleven games for an average of 21.2 points per game. Runnerup to Pennsyl in scoring is Jim Chase, the 6'4" center. Chase, the rebound leader and third in scoring last season, has scored 144 points for a 13-point average this season.

Rounding out the starting lineup for the Blue Jays are Bob Craig, Glenn Bruckhart and Sheldon Dent. Both Craig and Bruckhart are freshmen who have shown considerable talent for Coach Smith this season. Craig is averaging 15.7 per game and Bruckhart has a 7.8 average.

Wednesday the Indians will travel to Lewisburg where they will meet the Bisons of Bucknell University.

Bucknell has split 12 decisions during the first half of the season against very rugged opposition.

Harold Danzig is the Bison's top performer, having netted 212 points and 177 rebounds in his first 12 games. With Danzig in the Bucknell lineup will be John Strizzi, Tony Thompson, Ellis Harley and Jack Flanegan.

Raunchies, Buffaloes Third Brumbaugh Top Girls Basketball Loop

The Raunchies, Buffaloes and Third Brumbaugh remain undefeated in the women's intramural basketball league.

The Raunchies, having beaten the Swingin' Squaws 43-27, Second Oneida 27-24 and the Delicate Delinquents 38-7, hold a slight edge in the battle for first place.

The Buffaloes also turned back the Swingin' Squaws 31-12 and Second Oneida 18-6. Third Brumbaugh won their only game topping the Nitwits 25-22.

Other results were forfeit wins for the Delicate Delinquents over the Hemi, Demi, Semi, Quavers and the Swingin' Squaws over the Psyclones.

Team Standings

	W	L
Buffaloes	2	0
The Raunchies	3	0
Third Brumbaugh	1	0
Delicate Delinquents	1	1
Swingin' Squaws	1	2
Duchesses	0	0
Fourth Brumbaugh	0	0
Hemi, Demi, Semi, Quavers	0	1
Nitwits	0	1
Psyclones	0	1
Second Oneida	0	2

Undefeated Dukes Top IM Basketball

The defending champion Dukes moved into first place with wins over the Sultans 60-34, Flying Five 58-31 and Blockers 63-21.

Don Conley and Ken Opipery led the scoring against the Sultans with 19 each. Conley held the honors with 15 in the second and Opipery with 25 in the third.

The Bulldogs kept on their heels with a lone 56-39 victory over the Dynamos. Dave Goodling took game scoring honors with 16.

The Whips swept four games after dropping a double overtime contest to the Dunkards to hold third place. Bob Blair led the Dunkards with 17 points as Bill Biehl clinched the game on a tap-in 53-51.

Harold Krause scored 113 points as the Whips beat the Five 99-13, Schizo Eight 101-45, Mt. Dewers 64-29 and the NJ House 65-50 despite Tony Quarantillo's 25 points in the latter.

Scores for last week show the Blockers 43—Dynamos 25, NJ House 66—Sharpshooters 63, Ubangies 58—Comets 44, Dunkards 42—Flying Five 39, Comets 41—Pepsi's 40, Crusaders 40—Blockers 36, Dunkards 57—Sultans 56, Mt. Dewers 72—Five 36, Schizo Eight 61—Comets 42 and Ubangies 48—Flying Five 45.

Team Standings

	W	L
Dukes	9	0
Bulldogs	8	0
Whips	7	1
Dunkards	8	2
Ubangies	7	2
NJ House	6	3
Sultans	6	3
Blockers	6	4
Crusaders	3	5
Dynamos	3	5
Sharpshooters	3	6
Pepsi's	3	6
Flying Five	2	6
Comets	2	8
Schizo Eight	2	8
Mt. Dewers	1	8
Five	0	8

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.

Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

MOTEL 22
and
RESTAURANT

For Reservations Call
For Motel — Phone 1197
For Restaurant — Phone 9191

HARRIS CLIFTON

Now Playing For An Extended Run

The Most Tremendous Picture Ever Made

Cecil B. Demille's
The Ten Commandments
Technicolor
Charlton Heston Yule Brynner
Anne Baxter

MATINEE SAT. & SUN.
open 1:30 — show at 2 p.m.

Sunday Evening open 6:45
Show at 7:15

Week Nights & Saturdays
open at 7:00 p.m.
Programs at 7:30

Prices At All Times
ADULTS $1.25 TAX
CHILDREN $ .60 INCL.

Next Attraction
Legend of the Lost

Penn State Chaplain Williams To Speak At Worship Service

The Rev. Preston Williams will present the topic, Christ and The World of Our Illusions, at Juniata's second all-college worship service on Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Williams was born in Alcolu, South Carolina. He has received his AB and MA degrees from Washington and Jefferson College, BD from Smith University and STM from Yale.

He has served as assistant professor of religion at Knoxville College, college chaplain at North Carolina College and, most recently, as assistant to the chaplain at Penn State University.

Music In Afternoons

Due to a change in frequency from 1150 to 620, WJC is now on the air Monday through Friday from 2 to 5 p..m.

The afternoon programs will consist of diversified music or moods in music, a good background for study. WJC is trying to meet the needs of the students by including in its evening schedule such programs as Meet The President and JCA presentations.

Models Wanted

Students desiring employment as models for JC art students should contact Prof. Thomas.

The regular student rate will be paid and the only qualification is the ability to sit still. Models must be available from 1:45 to 4:45 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays in the Village studio.

AVOID THE VALENTINE RUSH ENGAGE HER NOW

Bernie Swartz Jewelry

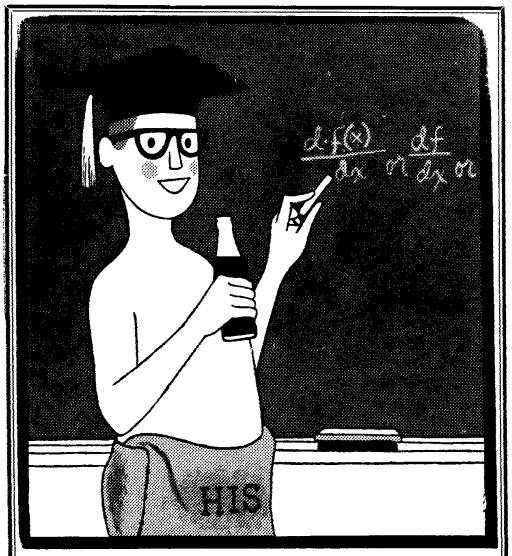
Compliments of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

HOTEL HUNTINGDON

SHOP FOR NATIONAL BRANDS AT DOLLINGERS

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260



"COKE" IS A REGISTERED TRADE-MARK. COPYRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.

Absent-minded Professor

Not so absent-minded when you get right down to it. He remembered the most important item—the Coke! Yes, people will forgive you almost anything if you just remember to bring along their favorite sparkling drink—ice-cold Coca-Cola. Do have another, professor!

Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

Berkey To Take Over Sports Editor's Post

Continued from page 1

post of news editor. She is a freshman music major from Norristown.

Val Means, retiring sports editor, has announced the appointment of Wally Berkey to this position. Berkey is a sophomore from Linfield and is majoring in math education at JC.

Herb Deuchar, a junior history major from New York City, will write the world news column on the editorial page. Former editor Fattman will write the campus news column now entitled On Campus.

Circulation Staff

Circulation manager Joyce Hoffman has named Bob Blair to serve as her assistant on the staff. Blair is a sophomore pre-ministerial student from Everett.

Marcia Sweet, a sophomore from Harrisburg, has been named assistant advertising manager. Andy Katai, a freshman chemistry major from Hungary, has joined the JUNIATIAN'S photography staff.

Thomas To Offer New Art Course

Continued from page 1

term to a maximum of nine hours. Six hours of studio work are prescribed each week. The prerequisite for art studio is three hours in the appreciation or history of art.

Thomas, who joined the Juniata faculty last September, is a graduate of George Washington University and holds a master of fine arts degree from Cornell University. He was a graduate assistant at Cornell in drawing and painting from 1953 to 1955 and taught art in Surrattsville High School, Clinton, Md., before coming to Juniata.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry Watch Repairs
Watches Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

SHOP THE RAY ENGLISH STORE
All Purchases
ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED
To Last 'til You Get Them Home
To your room

Mayer, Non-Anticommunist To Arrive At JC Next Week

Milton Mayer—writer, lecturer, professor and preacher—will speak to Juniata students Monday and in chapel Tuesday on the topics, Confessions of a Non-Anticommunist and The Future of the American Spirit.

Milton Mayer
Non-Anticommunist

Mayer was born in Chicago and attended the University of Chicago. Since then he has served abroad as a newspaperman and magazine writer and in this country as visiting chapel and convocation speaker at many universities. Mayer was director of the nation-wide leader training program for the Great Books Foundation.

After a year in Germany on the faculty of Frankfurt University, he was made director of the Voices of Europe radio program. His articles have appeared in Life, Reader's Digest, Christian Century and The Progressive.

Next Week In Chapel

February 10 — Dr. Lovett (Yale)
11 — Milton Mayer
14 — Del McQuaide

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

Lenox China
Sterling Silver
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St. Phone MI 3-1700

Don't Go Barefoot This Winter
Westbrook's Shoes

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE Mitchell 3-0736

Junior Year in New York
An unusual one-year college program
See your dean or write for brochure to:
Dean F. H. McCloskey
Washington Square College
New York University
New York 3, N.Y.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 15 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, Februarv 14, 1958

Gala Performance Dancers, Singers To Present Show

Gala Performance, a new idea in song and dance, will be presented tonight in Oller Hall.

Gala Performance's company of seven—two singers, three dancers, pianist and director—will present a program of combined opera, musical comedy and ballet. The show, arranged by the public programs committee of the faculty of Juniata headed by Miss Esther Doyle, will include a charade from Mozart's comic opera, Bastien and Bastienne, and the bittersweet tragedy of La Boheme by Puccini.

Exerpts from Delibes' ballet, Coppelia, will represent classical dance. Lehar's Merry Widow will demonstrate the charm of the old world, and Paul Bowles' Blue Mountain Ballads will present an original excursion into the life of the Americans.

Among the young company will be the two talented singers, Angelene Collins, soprano, and James Tushar, tenor.

The Broadway and television star of the group, Duncan Noble, is responsible for the choreography and staging of the production and will be assisted by the two ballerinas, Shirley Weaver and Marvis Walters.

Students will be admitted free of charge.

Members of JC's faculty or administration may each purchase two half-price tickets for the performance. These tickets may be picked up in the public relations office.

Thomas To Hold Evening Art Class

Registration for evening courses in painting for Huntingdon area residents took place Monday evening in Room A, Students Hall.

James Thomas, Jr., art instructor at Juniata, will teach the noncredit course which will meet one night a week for 12 weeks. Three hour classes will be held in the remodeled village studio.

There is a general fee of $24 plus cost of materials.

Prof. Merrel Directs JC-Huntingdon Choir

Organization of a Juniata college community chorus is "showing progress" for it's first concert, Monday, March 24 according to Prof. William Merrel, director.

Prof. Merrel stresses the point that there is a definite neeed for additional male voices and that "any person in the area with an interest in singing is invited to join the chorus."

Rehearsals are held each Tuesday evening in Oller Hall at 8 p.m. All newcomeers are urged to come and help with the preparation for the Easter portion of the Messiah which will be presented Monday, March 24, in Oller Hall.

The college community chorus is sponsored jointly by Juniata and the Huntingdon Music Club. Various members of the Music Club are participating and the club is assisting in the purchase of music.

Prof. Merrel, who joined the faculty of Juniata in September as an associate professor of music, is supervising the presentation. He has had 13 years of teaching experience in direction of both choral groups and choirs.

SONG AND DANCE—A scene from tonight's Gala Performance. A company of seven—two singers, three dancers, pianist and director—will present excerpts from well-known operas, musical comedies and ballets tonight in Oller Hall.

Committees Practice '58's All Class Skits

Preparations this week entered the last stages for this year's All Class Night, Saturday, February 22, at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Jack Merril will direct the freshmen presentation, The Cock Crowed Twice, written by Charlotte Snyder and Judy Palmer. The Peggy Eaton Affair will be enacted by the sophomores under the direction of John Holman.

The juniors will do The Death of Aaron Burr, directed by Bill Lafe. Pete Wright will direct the seniors in The Age of the Renaissance Despot, written by Del McQuaide.

Casts and Committees

Casts and committees for the presentation have been chosen. Ron Knouse will serve as technical advison and Don Aurand as business manager while Diane Klebe will head the makeup committee.

Jack Rodland will furnish organ music through the evening. Tickets and programs are being printed by Swigarts.

Harold Brumbaugh has selected five alumni as judges. Proceeds will go toward the expenses of May Day.

Next Week In Chapel

Feb. 17 The Rev. Raymond May, St. James Lutheran Church
19 Prof McFadden
21 Juniata College Choir

CJ Pushes Policy On Student Fines

A new policy for dealing with student damages and fines was approved at the monthly business meeting of the Judiciary last Monday evening.

The three points under the new plan are: 1. the Judiciary collects neither fines nor for damages, 2. the Judiciary is responsible for any disciplinary action, the administration for collecting any costs involved; both the fines imposed by the Judiciary as a disciplinary action and the damage costs are to be taken from the breakage fee and 3. if the student body is required to pay for the damage at North Dorm, then the Judiciary requests that the cost be taken from the $1 assessment for the damage at East Hall.

JCA To Hear Speaker From Indian Embassy

P. V. Srinivasan from the Indian Embassy in Washington, D. C. will speak in Founders Chapel Tuesday evening at 7:15.

Srinivasan's topic will be the attitude of the eastern neutralists toward Christianity and the response of the people of India to the Christian missions there.

This is the second in a series of programs sponsored by the JCA. Last Monday and Tuesday Milton Mayer was on campus and Dr. Theodore Lockwood, former Juniata history prof, is scheduled to speak to Juniatians in the near future.

Senate To Hold Referendum On Educational Affairs Post

Juniatians will vote Tuesday on the establishment of a new Senate post—chairman of educational activities.

Senate president Del McQuaide advanced the educational chairman idea at 1957's leadership conference, where it was approved and plans for its establishment were formed. During the fall term, the chairman's duties were in operation under individual chairmen appointed by the Senate.

If JCers approve the 13th senator at Tuesday's polls, the faculty will vote before February 27. According to the Senate constitution, the approvals of 2/3 of a quorum of the student body and a majority of the faculty will establish the new chairman, who will be elected during the regular election in March.

The new Senator would head the student proctoring bureau and coordinate the freshman academic aid program as well as comprehensive examination groups. He would operate the Senate used book store and generally act as official student representative on all student concerns with the educational program.

According to McQuaide, the new chairmanship would, "revitalize all of the above areas of interest, enlarge student representation on the Senate and advance student government into a new area of interest—education."

Senate Plans Election On 'Education' Post; Voters To Get ID's

by Carol Baish

Now that tentative faculty approval on the 13th senator has been indicated, as announced at Wednesday's Senate meeting, JC's Senate can definitely plan on Tuesday's student referendum.

Since many senators feel that a quorum may be difficult to obtain, plans were made to publicize the election and, if possible, to hold it outside Students Hall instead of in Totem Inn. Chuck Brown, publicity chairman reported that Tex Holman is planning a radio show on the new Senate post.

Vice-president Al Blough reported that ID voting cards will be ready for Tuesday's election. The card will be presented at the polls in exchange for a ballot and will be returned via the college mail.

Station Wagon

Pete Fahrney reported to the Senate on the prospect of better and larger transportation for student groups. According to Fahrney, Treasurer John Fike has revealed plans to buy a nine passenger station wagon when one can be found at a "reasonable price."

The station wagon would be added to the six passenger college car now in use; Fike added that there is a possibility of getting the station wagon this spring.

Gini Nixdorf, social chairman, reported that the record player which is used during half time at basketball games has been taken twice without permission and each time has been broken. She added that the phonograph was not returned to the gym after the games, making it necessary for a member of the social committee to carry it over for use at the dances.

Cee NIXDORF, page 4

Alumnus Writes Civil War Book

Dr. William Hassler, a 1939 Juniata graduate, is the author of a new Civil War biography, A. P. Hill: Lee's Forgotten General.

Dr. Hassler, whose hobby is the study of Civil War, was intrigued by the scarcity of information about A. P. Hill, a prime figure in the campaigns of the army of northern Virginia. The book shows the author's determination to fill a major biographical gap in the story of the Confederacy.

In addition to his BS degree from Juniata, Dr. Hassler holds a PhD from the University of Pennsylvania. He is chairman of the Department of Chemistry and Physics at Beaver College and is listed in American Men of Science, Chemical's Who's Who and Who's Who in American Education.

Campus Uglies, Sweethearts To Attend Saturday's 'Swing'

JC's campus communications will sponsor Sweetheart's Swing in Memorial gym tomorrow night from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

This year's Communications Ball will be climaxed by the crowning of Ugly Man II. Miss Homecoming, Jacque Rowland, will be on hand to crown Mr. Ugly and present him on his throne.

The Alfarata will provide decorations based on contemporary cards with Valentine Day's red and white color theme. The music, by WJC, will consist of hi fi records.

Publicity and mid-evening refreshments will be provided by Senate communications and the JUNIATIAN, respectively.

Dress for the ball is semi-formal.

Touring Choir

The Juniata College Choir, which recently completed a 10-day Eastern tour, will make the first of a series of weekend trips this Sunday.

The choir will present sacred concerts in Churches of the Brethren at New Enterprise, Martinsburg and Woodbury. Friday, February 21, they will present a chapel program of sacred and secular songs.

Bruce Bennett

EASY, ED!—Juniata's favorite Uglies demonetrate a unique kind of campaign propaganda for Miss Sara Howe. From left to right the candidates for Ugly Man II are Sam Shore, Ed Brockway, Mike Projansky, Jim Cain, Bill Lafe and Val Means.

U.S., Russia Face Summit Deadlock

SUMMIT DEADLOCK—For the past two months messages and communiques have been going on between Russia and the United States over a possible summit meeting. Both Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower have sent letters to each other attempting to reach a common agenda for the conference, while regular diplomatic channels have also been trying to work out some possible solution. Whereas there is a wide disagreement between the two nations on such subjects as a nuclear "free zone" in Europe, German unification, nuclear weapons and other prime issues, there has been an indication that Russia is willing to negotiate on a modified "open skies" plan which President Eisenhower initiated at Geneva in 1955.

The basic issues over which the two nations can't agree, at the present, are the problems of disarmament and a "free zone" in Europe. The crux of the matter is that if the United States withdraws its forces from Europe, the western European governments will ultimately bend under the pressure of Russia and therefore would have to make damaging agreements with Moscow. On the other side, Russia is fearful that if she withdraws support from her eastern European satellites and lets them control their own affairs, they will be dominated by anti-Communist factions. Therefore neither side, as they stand now, can really make any noteworthy concessions.

The last impasse in which the two nations are in disagreement is the general procedure for arriving at a summit conference. The United States is asking for negotiations on the foreign ministers level before she agrees to a meeting this summer. In contrast to this, Russia wants to begin with a definite commitment for a summit conference. Khrushchev does not want a pre-summit meeting on the grounds that the "biased position of certain possible participants would create additional obstacles." This, of course, is aimed at Dulles who has been accused of holding too rigid a policy towards Russia. In dealing with Russia we should first make sure just what the points of negotiations will be and what the prime objectives are. We cannot afford to enter this pending summit conference with laxity and goodheartedness as we did at Yalta and Potsdam!

THE RECESSION ISSUE—As unemployment rises to the four-million mark and retail sales sag, the subject of the current recession has become the top political issue in Congress where the Democrats have commenced a heavy political barrage over the Administration's policy toward coping with the recession. As the issue develops, both parties are taking their traditional views: the Democrats are in favor of "heavy" Federal spending to stimulate the national economy, whereas the Republicans would rather wait until all the economic facts are weighed and only then employ vast spending measures to aide the economy.

The Republican Administration has warned that with an increase in circulation of money and the stimulation of business, the stigma of this action would be inflation and possible disruption of our country's "long range stability." While the Democrats spread their dour fears and pessimistic outlook, a more confident attitude and positive forward steps will be taken by the Administration.

HERB DEUCHAR: News Of The Week In Retrospect

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

Barb Walls, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Carol Baish, managing editor

Pat Varec, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Wally Berkey, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Bob Blair, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary; Marsha Sweet, assistant advertising manager.

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Carol Whitfield.

SPORTS STAFF: Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass, Val Means.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Rene Dimmick.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 15 — Friday, February 14, 1958 — Page 2

Editorially Speaking . . .

A Chance For Advance

MONDAY Juniatians will have the opportunity to accept or reject the addition of a 13th chairmanship to the present student Senate. If this proposed amendment is adopted, it will mark the first step toward definite student responsibility in the field of education—an area where student government would have the chance to do much positive good.

The list of duties that the proposed chairman of educational activities would be responsible for alone indicate the value of creating such an office. (See story, page 1.) None of these activities are new. They have been conducted in the past by various students outside of the Senate, since they did not fit into the category of any present chairmanship. The obvious relationship among the functions demonstrates the sensibility of combining them under one chairmanship for increased efficiency and better management. They span the entire school year and definitely require enough work to merit creating a 13th office.

The main advantage to be gained from having these activities combined under one chairman is that of giving them permanence. Under the present laissez faire system, there is no guarantee that they will continue to operate in the future. The Senate, realizing their value, would like to give these functions permanence by linking them to a specific chairmanship.

Perhaps the most valuable of the proposed chairman's functions would be that of representing the student body to the administration on all matters regarding student concerns with the educational program. It would be his job to determine student opinion on such questions as teaching methods and curriculum and to transmit this opinion to the dean of the college with whom he would meet monthly. There has long been need for this type of communication—the plan definitely has merit.

It is a good sign to see our student government showing interest in advancing into the field of education. This trend of students taking more interest in the academic side of their education can be seen in colleges throughout the nation. Juniatians should realize the value of increased responsibility in this area and vote "yes" for the creation of a chairmanship of educational activities when given the opportunity in Monday's election.

A Question Of Class

UNFORTUNATELY, a few students took the opportunity to display their ignorance at the American University game last week by shouting derogatory remarks at one of the negro players.

It is a shame that some Juniatians haven't as yet grown up and also that their childishness, shown at a time like this, can lower American U's opinion of the whole student body.

Shouting at the opposition is no crime, but remarks that are based on racial characteristics are definitely in poor taste for supposedly "enlightened" college students.

This behavior probably embarrassed most JCers who were disgusted at the show of vulgarity; we hope these Juniatians will show a little more "class" in the future.

Cafeteria Meals

STUDENTS who remained here between semesters were impressed by the efficiency and pleasantness of eating their meals cafeteria style in East Hall. Since Saturday and Sunday night meals are light and the tables are not reserved or assigned, it would seem like a good idea to have either or both served cafeteria style.

The idea was first suggested at leadership conference in September, but to date no progress has been made toward this goal. There seem to be many advantages to the plan, demonstrated by the present cafeteria breakfasts. First, cafeteria meals eliminate "running for a table" and the worry of not getting a seat. As at breakfast, students would be served during a specific period and could sit anywhere in the dining hall.

* * * * * * *

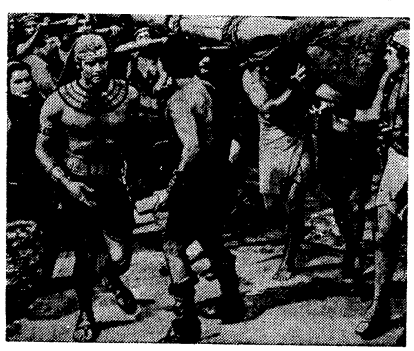
Secondly, cafeteria meals seem to promote a more leisurely eating atmosphere. Each person can eat at his own speed and not be detained or rushed to keep pace with the rest of his table. Since the serving time would span a longer period, those who arrived late could still be served. Thirdly, it would mean less work for waiters and waitresses, while the old dining hall would not be used at all these nights.

* * * * * * *

Undoubtedly, there will be many small problems connected with the change which will each have to be worked out by the Administration. Cafeteria meals mean longer working hours for the kitchen staff since all the students will be eating in one dining hall; they also limit to a certain extent the choice of menus. However, we feel that the idea has enough merit to cause investigation and possibly a tryout in the near future.

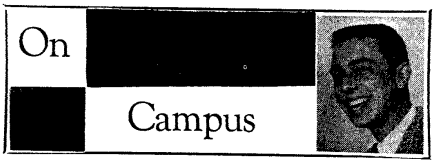
Movie Of The Week

The Ten Commandments



Charlton Heston is shown above in a scene from Cecil B. Demille's production of The Ten Commandments which is now showing at the Harris Clifton Theatre.

"THAT'S A RIDICULOUS RUMOR, DEAN. I RUN HERE A VERY DEMOCRATIC CLASSROOM."



by George Fattman

This being Valentine's Day it is almost obligatory that we pause to pay tribute to the clever new contemporary cards, such as "Sure I'll be your valentine—if you promise not to ruin my reputation" and "Looking for a valentine? Good luck."

Turning to the campus scene, such as it is, we overheard someone call the new women's dorm Beast Hall (nice), and a prof has described an area of South America as "a place where the hand of man has never set foot."

And from the dining halls, that perennial source of wit and humor, we have gleaned the following:

A grade-all was pushing around some dirt behind East Hall during lunch the other day. Someone quipped, "I see they're cleaning out the kitchen again."

Then there is a member of the dining hall staff who occasionally goes around the diners portioning out extra food to hungry-looking males. One day when she was peddling a platter of mystery cakes, someone asked her as she walked by, "How many of ours do you want to take with you?"

Remember the night we had sausage cakes? As a table head gave the waitress the platter—empty except for a quarter inch of grease floating around in it—he snarled, "Put this in the Buick."

* * * * * * *

Draft Dodger

Have you heard about the coed whose friends (?) sent her name in to the WACs as being interested in enlisting? Two weeks ago when WAC officers were on campus they promptly set out to find their new recruit.

Fortunately, the coed found out first, but it was for her a hectic day avoiding the WACs. They telephoned her and sent notes. Frightened, she managed to get out of her last period class 20 minutes early in order to sneak over to her dorm without anyone seeing her. There she hibernated the rest of the day, and the thwarted WACs left without their recruit.

* * * * * * *

A prof was painting for his class an image of the picturesque Elizabethtown inn. "The pub was the center of activity, and you could usually find most of the men there—and often the women. They came to get beer—for breakfast."

At this point the class started to snicker. "Well, after all," he retorted, "beer was a staple breakfast food—they didn't have cornflakes."

"Can't you just see it now," the coed next to me whispered. "Every morning we line up in East Hall for our bucket of beer . . . and can't you just hear the women saying, 'Now only one bucket to a student . . . don't take your buckets out of the dining hall . . .' "

And that's it for this week . . . see you with the campus uglies at the communications hop.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

The "new look" varsity is giving fans the most exciting brand of ball seen in recent years.

Al Dungan and Jack Heading have been outstanding since crashing the starting lineup. Dungan looks as good on the court as he does on the gridiron. He scored 39 points and rebounded well in his first two starts. Heading has been performing like a veteran as a freshman starter. At the beginning of the week, he topped the team in total points, points per game and rebounds.

Mike Armstrong is back in form after an ankle injury and is playing his usual fine floor game. Gordie Ewers provides top notch defensive play and Pete McCauley rounds out the starting five on the basis of his rebounding and jump shot.

Ron Wertz has performed well as a reserve. Wertz is a fine playmaker and has set up many 2-pointers since beginning to see steady action.

The IM basketball champ for this season is anybody's guess. The 54-41 contest by the Whips over the defending champion Dukes left the Bulldogs on top with both the Dukes and Whips yet to play.

The Whips were intramural champs in 1956, the Dukes in 1957 after nipping the Whips by a single point, and these two could well meet in a playoff to decide the '58 outcome.

"Moose" Krause's torrid scoring has brought the Whips along fast. Krause has averaged 26.8 points in his last four games. Steve French and Joe Sopata have also been instrumental in the Whips' drive. French is a top rebounder, and Sopata handles the playmaking chores.

Speaking of records-Yale swimmers have won 160 straight dual meets over a 13-year stretch.

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
Cecil B. Demille's
Tonight at 7:30
Saturday at 2 and 7:30
The Ten Commandments
Technicolor
SUNDAY
MONDAY
TUESDAY
Continuous show on Sunday From 2 P. M.
John Wayne
Sophia Loren
Rossano Brazzi
— in —
LEGEND OF THE LOST
Technicolor & Technirama
WED — THURS
2 THRILLERS!!
UNKNOWN TERROR
— and —
BACK FROM THE DEAD
Starts Sunday February 24
LES GIRLS

Dogs Lose, Whips Top Dukes As Intramural Race Tightens

The Whips and Ubangies knocked off the undefeated Dukes and Bulldogs to throw the IM basketball race into a dither.

In a preliminary game, the Whips evened up their rivalry as they handed the Dukes their first loss in two years 54-41. Harold Krause dropped in 23 points to lead the Whips, and Don Swope and Don Conley hit for the losers.

The Ubangies came from behind to edge the Bulldogs 35-33. Jim McClafferty tossed in the winning bucket in the closing seconds. Dick Ott of the Bulldogs was the night's high man with nine followed by the Ubangies Nick Roth with eight.

In a startling upset, the Mt. Dewers nipped the Dunkards 61-59. Fran Christina scored 18 for the winners and Bill Biehl and Larry Landis bucketed 12 for the losers.

Amazing Record

The Five kept their amazing record in tact (28 in a row) losing to the Bulldogs 91-16 and Comets 48-32. Del McQuaide made the best scoring effort for the Five in history with 22 in the latter.

The Sultans were involved in two forfeits dropping a decision to the Ubangies and winning over the Mt. Dewers.

The Crusaders came on fast blasting the NJ House 77-57 and Pepsi's 75-53. Fred Yun led the scoring with 32 and 21 in both games.

In other games, the Blockers 60—Pepsi's 46, Dynamos 63—Flying Five 32, Dukes 68—Sharpshooters 57, NJ House 52—Comets 46, Flying Five 52—Schizo Eight 31 and Whips 74—Dynamos 50.

Pals, Schlitzers Leading Divisions In Bowling Ranks

The league-leading Pals and Schlitzers chalked up wins this week to remain undefeated in the intramural bowling ranks.

Paced by Ron Bergey's 349 pin total, the Pals copped a 3-0 victory over the winless Ranch Hands, while the Schlitzers held their Division A lead by downing the Flashes 3-0. In other contests the Champs dropped the Gutterballers 3-0 in a Division B clash, and the Admirals took a forfeit win over the Rustlers.

Bergy and Dick Fyock of the Champs tied for individual game honors with 1800 pins each, while the Pal ace rolled total high for the week. The Admirals walked off with top team laurels by hitting a single game high of 673 and a total of 1262.

Tonight at 7 p.m. the Rustlers go against Will's Gang and the undefeated Alley Kats meet the Holy Rollers. At 8:30 p.m. the Ranch Hands clash with the Crusaders and the Harriers seek to gain a winning record against the Champs.

Team Standings

Division A

	W	L
Schlitzers	6	0
Alley Kats	3	0
Admirals	6	3
Will's Gang	4	2
Rustlers	2	4
Flashes	2	7
Holy Rollers	1	5

Division B

	W	L
Pals	9	0
Champs	4	2
Harriers	3	3
Crusaders	2	4
Ten Pins	2	4
Gutterballers	1	8
Ranch Hands	0	3

Team Standigs	W	L
Dukes	10	1
Bulldogs	9	1
Whips	9	1
Ubangies	9	2
Dunkards	8	3
NJ House	7	4
Blockers	7	4
Sultans	7	5
Crusaders	5	5
Dynamos	4	6
Sharpshooters	3	7
Flying Five	3	7
Comets	4	8
Pepsi's	3	8
Mt. Dewers	2	9
Schizo Eight	1	10
Five	0	10

FOR PLATTERS THAT FLATTER
THE PEOPLE WHO MATTER . . .
SHOP MILLER HARDWARE CO. Phone MI 3-1460

Cagers Face Rival Blue Jays; Susquehanna, Lycoming Next

Coach "Doc" Greene's cagers will face three Middle Atlantc opponents—Elizabethtown, Susquehanna and Lycoming—next on their schedule.

Tomorrow the Tribe journeys to Elizabethtown for the return match with the Blue Jays. The home court advantage rests with the Jays this time, so the game promises to be a highly-contested affair. High-scoring Bill Pennsyl, Jim Chase and a recuperated Jim Sarbaugh will head the lineup which bowed to the Tribe last Monday by a 77-68 count.

Susquehanna Monday

Monday, the Tribe plays host to the Crusaders of Susquehanna University. Minus Frank Romano, their graduated star of last season, the Crusaders were not expected to display any real power this year.

Keith Tyler, a sophomore, moved into Romano's spot and led the Crusaders to an early seasonal record of two wins and one loss. He scored 84 points for a nifty 28-point average in those three contests and is presently the number one scorer.

Along with Tyler in the Crusader lineup will be Harry Powers, leading rebounder and second highest scorer on the team, Gene Witiak, Gerald Herbster, and Bob Probert.

Lycoming Away

Lycoming, whose record stands at one win and nine defeats, will play host to the Indians Wednesday night. The Warriors, who have not won a game since December 11, are experimenting with freshmen and sophomores in the remaining contests in order to give them experience for next year.

Their 6' 4" center, Ron Kitt, has been sidelined for a month due to an ankle injury but will be in the lineup against the Indians. Besides Kitt, Bob Gluck, Jack Boyd, Frank Sullivan and Don Hebel will probably be the other starters.

Indians Dump E-town Between American U., Bucknell Setbacks

The Indians, suffering from semester probations, managed to win one out of three contests as they defeated rival Elizabethtown, 77-68, while dropping decisions to highly-favored American University, 79-69, and Bucknell University, 88-58.

Most recently the Tribe suffered their seventh loss in 14 games as the tough Bucknell Bisons outclassed the visiting Indians. Using an effective, full-court press, Bucknell jumped to a commanding 49-22 half-time lead. Jack Heading scored 26 for the Indians.

Monday night the Indians, displaying plenty of scrap, scored a well-earned victory over E-town.

Heading Injured

Heading, suffering a cut lower lip and broken tooth from a collision with Blue Jay's Glenn Bruckhart, topped the Tribe with 20 points, but was strongly backed by Al Dungan's 19, Mike Armstrong's 18, and Gordie Ewers' 15. Bill Pennsyl led the visitors with 23 points.

Hitting on 49.4 per cent of their shots, American University outfought the determined Indians. Willie Jones scored 23 for the winners, while Heading and Dungan contributed, for the Tribe, respectively, for the Tribe.

Jayvees Are 4 and 3

Coach Chuck Godlasky's JV's split two contests defeating E-town 83-76 as Bob Melago had 17 and Ed Costello hit for 14 and losing to Bucknell, 92-81, where Steve Gerlock scored 20 and Melago followed with 18.

Faculty Accepts Spring Schedules

The faculty recently passed the four spring sports schedules which were recommended by the Committee on Physical Education and Athletics.

The baseball team will play an 18-game schedule of which 10 are home and 8 away. The diamond nine will open April 11 at Millersville and conclude their schedule May 31 against the Alumni in an exhibition tilt.

The track team has a nine-event card including the Penn Relays at Philadelphia and the Middle Atlantics at West Chester.

Both the golf and tennis teams will play 11 matches. The golfers open at West Virginia April 11 and play host for the Middle Atlantics at Mt. Union. The tennis team will travel to Pittsburgh April 12 for their opener and will participate in the MAC tournament May 8-10 at Haverford.

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches
Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Wrestling In Gym To Begin Monday

Starting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium the first step towards intercollegiate wrestling at Juniata will be taken.

At this time practices will be initiated for all those interested in wrestling in this year's IM tournament. Practice sessions will be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 3:30 to 4:30 until March 11, when the tournament will begin. Cal Beam is in charge of these sessions and will be assisted by other fellows who also have had wrestling experience.

The tournament will be held with bouts every other day. The tourney will be single elimination with modified collegiate rules prevailing. The finals will be held at 2:30 on March 15.

Val Means, chairman of athletics, announced that all those wishing to participate in this tourney should take advantage of this opportunity to gain some knowledge of the sport and to get into shape.

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken in Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

HOTEL
HUNTINGDON

Dean Of Men Offers Advice On Interviews

Dean Heberling offers the following advice to seniors concerning interviews.

Meet all interviews signed for and read all material available on the company at the Dean of Men's office ahead of time.

Make no promises you don't intend to keep. Accept no offers of employment unless all the terms are fully agreed upon by both the interviewer and yourself. If you tell them you are thinking of another offer, it won't hurt your chances.

Remember always that what you say and do reflects credit or discredit on yourself, on the college and on your profession.

The interviewers exchange opinions, so if you are not careful at one interview, it may hurt your chances for another.

The Dean of Men will answer all questions on dress and manner of handling an interview.

Juniata Lutherans To Meet Sunday

JC Lutherans will discuss The New Liturgy: What and Why at a meeting this Sunday at 7 p.m. in East Hall rec room.

Committees in charge of planning the affair include recreation, Carol Baish, Sharon Brammer and Anne Scheib; food, Helen Phennicie, Barb Zoellin and Joanne Zwick and publicity, Nancy Werner.

Beginning with this meeting, the Lutheran students will meet once each month instead of every two weeks, as formerly.

Senate Announces Campaign Rules

Juniata's Senate has announced the rules governing elections and campaigns for Senate officers, chairman and class officers who will be elected during the month of March, for the '58-'59 term.

Campaign expenses must not exceed $7.50 for presidential candidates and must be under $5 for others. The Senate added that torchlight parades or noisy demonstrations should not be held after 11 p.m.

Posters are not permitted on the walls of any building except the following: North Dorm lounge, East Hall rec room, lighting fixtures, lavatories and mirrors. A detailed election timetable is posted on the bulletin board in Totem Inn.

JCA Entertainers Travel To Hospital

JCA sponsored an entertainment program at the Hollidaysburg State Hospital last Monday evening.

The following people participated in the program: George Fattman, master of ceremonies; Peggy Chidister, soloist, accompanied by Delores Briggs; Peggy Gilliland, baton twirling; John Nicholas, Frances Christina, Glenn Williamson and Frank Hrach, a quartet, accompanied by Cary Shaner on the guitar; Nelson and Jean Griffith, Don McCallum, Jim Hopper and Charlie Longnecker, instrumental jam session, accompanied by Jane Brumbaugh.

Nixdorf To Investigate Music For Memorial

Continued from page 1

The Senate agreed to send a letter to those responsible for the use of the phonograph at games. It was also decided to put a notice on the record player specifying its use.

Tape Recorder

It was suggested that since the phonograph is actually too fragile for use at the basketball games, a tape recorder be substituted and the music be piped over the PA system. Miss Nixdorf will head a committee to investigate this possibility.

The Senators also discussed the project of a rug for Founders Chapel. The sum of $35 remains from last year when the administration footed the entire bill for the chapel's renovation.

Funds For Rug

Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities, announced that the prospects of getting a new rug were fair, but that it would cost about $70. It was decided to add up to $40 to the fund for a rug and to continue plans to order one.

Other Senate reports included the referral of the request for a library drinking fountain to the appropriate faculty committee. The Senate also voted funds to finance the trip of JC's NSA representative, Tex Holman, to the Philadelphia conference next week.

Dan Raffensperger

Daniel Raffensperger, class of '56, has originated a news sheet entitled News Briefs From Europe.

Raffensperger is stationed with the Brethren Service in Kassel, Germany. His news sheet is edited bi-weekly and is printed and mailed from the Brethren Service Center in New Windson, Maryland.

Navy Recruiters To Visit Campus

An information team from the Pittsburgh office of the Naval Officer Procurement will visit Totem Inn Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The team will discuss the various programs which the Navy has to offer with any students who are interested in serving as commissioned officers upon graduation.

JC's Assistant Language Prof Receives Danforth Fund Grant

George Dolnikowski, assistant professor of modern languages at JC, has been awarded a Danforth Foundation teachers study grant to continue uninterrupted graduate work.

Prof. Dolnikowski is one of 60 men and women awarded the grant which amounts to one-half of his teaching salary for 1958.

According to present plans Prof. Dolnikowski will undertake his work in June at Middlebury College where he will study in the graduate school of languages. The grant calls for full-time uninterrupted graduate work in the United States for a one-year period.

Prof. Dolnikowski has asked for a leave of absence from JC where he teaches German.

• George Dolnikowsky • Gets Danforth Grant

JC's Senators Hold Leadership Seminars

Senate-sponsored leadership seminars were begun this week and will continue with programs February 20, 27 and March 6 in Room G at 7 p.m.

The seminars are planned to acquaint future student leaders with the political and governmental workings of Juniata's Student government. Senate president Del McQuaide has urged especially that prospective senators and freshmen attend the meetings, but added that the programs are open to the entire student body.

Last night's meeting featured a rundown of election and campaigning rules and a report on last year's election. Al Blough, Senate vice president, and Ronn Fink, chairman of communications, were the speakers.

Seminar Programs

The second seminar will be held February 20. The program will include Gini Nixdorf, chairman of social activities, and Spencer Ward, chairman of religious activities, who will give a report on the 57-58 Senate.

The February 27 seminar will deal with coming issues for student government. George Fattman, who was chairman of communications on the 56-57 Senate, will conduct this program.

The final seminar March 6 will be directed by McQuaide. He will discuss the general organization and structure of student government at Juniata.

Polio Shots Today

JCers who are over 20 may get their third polio shots in the college infirmary this afternoon.

There will be a charge of $2 for each shot. Those who were given their second shot at the high school last spring will get their third shots free of charge later this year.

JC Tour Of Europe To Include England

According to the public relations office, the itinerary for the Juniata European Tour has been lengthened from 44 to 51 days so that England might be included in the tour.

The ship, SS AROSA SKY, will sail for Europe July 25 and will return to the United States September 13. Since this date is close to the opening of school, there is an option of air travel which would bring passengers to New York September 5.

Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerlond, France and England are included in the tour. The return trip will be begun at London by air or from Southampton by sea.

Early reservations for the tour are essential. Those interested in the tour are to inquire at the public relations office.

Juniatians To Observe Students' Prayer Day

JCers who wish to observe the World Student Day of Prayer this Sunday will attend a service at 9 p.m. in the Stone Church.

The prayer will be led by students, according to Spence Ward, chairman of religious activities. JCers who will participate in the service are Bob Blair, Terry Fouse, Bob Reader and Ron Vinson.

Shutter Bugs Hold National Contest

Competition in a nation-wide photo contest exclusively for college students will be judged March 15 at the School of Journalism in Columbia, Mo.

The person submitting the best portfolio will receive an all expense paid week with Life magazine and, in New York, a valuable one-week observation course.

Any regularly enrolled college student may submit prints. There is no entry fee.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

Don't Go Barefoot
This Winter
Westbrook's Shoes

EXPERT JEWELRY — WATCH REPAIR
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St.
Phone Mitchcell 3-1700

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

SAY IT WITH CANDY
from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260

THELMA'S
everybody who is anybody Shops at
THELMA'S

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

Elasticized Cuff — Shrink Controlled — Soft Spun Cotton Sox by Adler
59c
White pique collar for your Sweaters
$1.00
Danks & Co.

For The Best In Recorded Music —
Listen To WJC's "Late Show"
Music After Dark
Monday Through Saturday, 11:15 - 12 p.m.
620 On Your Dial

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE Mitchell 3-0736

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

FOR DRY GOODS
and
NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 16 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 21, 1958

● Jerome Hines ●
Metropolitan Opera Star

Hines To Present Tonight's Concert

Jerome Hines, star basso of the Metropolitan Opera, will appear at JC in a civic concert tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Oller Hall.

Hines is a frequent performer on the Voice of Firestone and was selected by the late Arturo Toscanni as bass soloist for his last performance of Beethoven's Missa Solemnis. He is currently on his tenth nationwide tour under the auspices of Hurok Attractions Inc., N. Y. C.

The singer was born in November, 1921, in Hollywood, Calif., and was graduated from UCLA in 1943 with a major in chemistry and math. During his freshman year in college, he made his professional debut with the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera Company in Gilbert and Sullivan's Pinafore.

During the following season he sang the role of Monterone in Verdi's Rigoletto. By the time he was graduated he had appeared in major roles with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and the Hollywood Bowl orchestras.

In the fall of 1946 he won the Metropolitan Opera's $1,000 Caruso Award, was engaged by the company and made his debut that season in the role of Boris Godunov, the first American ever to sing that role at the Met. Hines has since appeared at the Met in over 30 leading basso roles.

Student Referendum Shows JC's Approval Of 13th Senate Post

JCers showed their approval of the proposed amendment to the Senate constitution by voting affirmatively last Tuesday.

The vote showed a count of 468 in favor of and only 52 against the adoption of the amendment. This provided more than the required two-thirds quorum of the student body needed for its adoption.

The amendment must now go to the faculty for official approval. If it is approved, the office of the 13th senator will be open for the coming election. Petitions for this election will be available March 6.

Among the various duties of the chairman of educational activities will be to represent the students to the administration on all educational affairs directly concerning them and to supervise the freshmen academic aid program, student proctoring, comprehensive examination study groups and the Senate usel book store.

JC Debaters Appear In Slippery Rock Meet

Results of the Slippery Rock State Tachers' College debate tournament, February 15, indicate that the Juniata debate team presented a good showing in their first contest of the season.

The team, chosen by competitive try-out, won two of the six rounds of debate and lost the other four by a total of only two points. In the personal scoring, Del McQuaide was ranked second debater of the tournament.

The affirmative team represented by Sam Shore and Charlie Brown, lost the three debates they participated in by a total of one point. Debate judging does not allow for ties, and the decisions were awarded the other teams in two ties.

The negative team, Del McQuaide and Lee Forney, won two of their contests, one over the University of Pittsburgh, and lost their third debate.

Charles Bargerstock, director of development at JC, served as Juniata's judge in the tournament, in which the University of Pittsburgh, St Vincent's College, Slippery Rock and Juniata were represented.

Pages Of History To Open In Oller Hall As Juniatians Battle For All Class Cup

Pete Fahrney

FROSH DIRECTOR Jack Merril and three actors, Ron Vinson, Cathy Ditlow and Judy Palmer rehearse The Cock Crowed Twice, the class of 61's production for JC's All Class Night competition tomorrow night.

Competition will be at its keenest tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. in Oller Hall when the classes will once again vie for the silver cup awarded to the class presenting the best historical skit.

The seniors are trying for a comeback after their first defeat last year, with Age of the Renaissance Despot, a story of two brothers who plan to murder each other in a cathedral. Del Mc Quaide wrote the script and Pete Wright will direct the performance.

Second on the program is the sophomores' interpretation of the Peggy Eaton case, written by John Holman and directed by Ed Jones.

The Cock Crowed Twice, a view of the crucifixion as seen through the eyes of Peter, will be presented by the freshmen. The script was written by Sharlet Snyder and Judy Palmer. Jack Merril will direct.

Junior Skit

The last skit will give insight into the background of the duel between Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr as written and directed by Bill Lafe and presented by the class of 1959.

The skits will be judged by five alumni of Juniata from the surrounding area. Judgment of the 22 minute plays will be based on factual content, originality of interpretation, continuity, evidence of good direction, quality of acting, stage technique, audience appeal, authenticity of costumes and scenery, makeup and lighting.

Aliceann Wohlbruck, as director of All Class Night, will give

See WOHLBRUCK, page 4

Students, Faculty Plan To Renovate JC's Social Scene

Realizing that "the social program at Juniata needs to be objectively examined to see if student needs are being met," the student-faculty social program committee has begun work on an evaluation of the JC social scene.

The committee, comprised of Miss Bechtell, dean of women, chairman, Dr. Hambacher, head of the psychology department, Miss Weaver, instructor in education, and Gini Nixdorf, Senate chairman of social activities, are isolating specific questions and complaints and citing areas where there is room for improvement. Several of these are the possibility of co-ed recreation facilities,

See COMMITTEE, page 4

JC Senators Discuss Photo Club Finances; Vote $45 For Heater

Photography club finances was the major discussion to hit the floor at the regular Senate meeting Wednesday in Founders Chapel.

Bruce Bennett, president of the club, and Pete Fahrney presented the Senate with a request for a $70 grant that the club might renovate their room in the basement of Students Hall. Bennett pointed out the numerous contributions that the club made to Juniata publications, and he added that the administration was willing to provide materials for the cleaning up if the club could raise money for a hot-water heater and lighting fixtures.

After a lengthy discussion exposing the pros and cons of such a move, the Senate voted to ex-

See SENATORS, page 4

Next Week In Chapel

February 24 Donald Shank
26 Dr. Lockwood
28 Pres. Ellis

Dean Mays Lists 18 Top Students

Dean of the college Morley Mays announced this week the names of 18 Juniatians who earned the 3.75 academic average required to put them on the dean's list of distinguished students for the fall term.

Academically top seniors were Marilyn Berkebile, history major from Huntingdon; Jim Jackson, Spanish major from Huntingdon; Bob Moore, math and physics major from Aitch and Marian Ross, elementary education major from Altoona. Juniors on the list included Bonnie Gunther, English major from Berwick; Kathryn Holsinger, music major from Pittsburgh; Arthur Norris, biology major from Hanover; Maxine Ross, elementary education major from Altoona and Sam Shore, math major from McClure.

Dean's list sophomores were Jim Cain, biology major from York; Jill Muir, home economics major from Huntingdon; Dick Quinn, language major from Atlantic City, N. J.; Jim Swarr, biology major from Lititz and Sue Willson, history major from Montoursville. Freshmen on the list included Kathy Alexander, liberal arts, from Philadelphia; Doris Benna, liberal arts, from Alum Bank; Alan King, biology major from Rochester, N. H. and Judy Knepp, chemistry major from McClure.

Bruce Bennett

UP TO STAY—After several years of struggling with poor facilities and at least two "cave-ins", members of JC's Camera Club are beginning reconstruction work on the photography lab and studio. Shown here are Bruce Bennett, club president, John Barger and Haddox Southeron.

JC Camera Club Renovates Lab, Plans To Get Lights, Hot Water

JC's Camera Club members are making major changes in their darkroom and studio facilities, according to Bruce Bennett, president of the club.

Bennett stated that this year membership in the club had to be restricted because of a lack of facilities. The club has suffered from a lack of hot water and a darkroom that is not dark.

At this point, members of the club are working on the ceiling in both the studio and the darkroom. Future plans include recessed incandescent lighting fixtures for both rooms and special lighting for portraits.

Bennett added that the club plans to install a hot water heater, new lockers for club members, more technical equipment and a film drying cabinet. The photographers also look forward to repainting the entire studio.

The lack of facilities has hampered JC photographers for several years, according to Bennett. The club does most of the work for the Allarata, the JUNIATIAN, the Indian, the Tomahawk and the Alumni Bulletin.

Shank To Speak At Stone Church

The Rev. Donald Shank, pastor of the Drexel Hill Church of the Brethren, will serve as guest speaker for this year's Spiritual Emphasis Week at the Stone Church.

The week will begin with a service this Sunday at 7:30 p.m. and will continue with services each evening next week with the exception of Saturday. His sermon subjects are Forward March, What God Has Done for Me, This Is the Test, Jesus Remember Me, God Is Watching You, Working at Sainthood, Our Hope Is the Lord and Lost in Brethren Church Repentance.

Tension Mounts In Tunsian—French Crisis

HERB DEUCHAR:

News Of The Week In Retrospect

THE TUNISIAN CRISIS—For the past two years since Tunisia won her independence from France, there have been strained relations between France and Tunisia over the Algerian problem. Tunisia has been a refuge for Algerian rebels, as well as staging base for border raids upon the French in Algeria. Last week these tensions broke out with the French bombing a Tunisian border village killing 68 people. This action touched off a full-scale crisis between France and Tunisia as President Bourguiba of Tunisia ordered a blockade of the French port of Bizerte.

The matter has cauused serious repurcussions in France where the Center and Leftist parties are seriously criticizing the Gaillard regrime. Tunisia has also filed a formal complaint in the UN that the matter be taken up as "an act of agression" by France.

The crisis has also had serious implications in Washington, as the U. S. does not wish to see Tunisia forced into the open arms of Nasser's Arab camp, nor does the U. S. want to alienate France, a key NATO member. It seems that some far-reaching compromise will have to be reached in order to satisfy both France and Tunisia.

THE ARAB FEDERATION—Right upon the heels of Nassar's United Arab Republic, the kingdoms of Iraq and Jordan have proclaimed a new merger called the Arab Federation. Unlike the Arab Republic, both kings will retain equal representation as leaders, as will the united Cabinet of both countries. Equal sessions of the government will be held in both Jordan and Iraq.

There is the contention in both Washington and London that Saudi Arabia may soon join the Arab Federation. The chief question of the whole matter is whether Iraq will drop out of the Bagdad Pact, thus making it a useless instrument of containment in the Middle East.

STASSEN RESIGNS POST—A week ago Saturday, Harold Stassen decided to resign his post as disarmament advisor to President Eisenhower. Stassen has officially announced that he will seek the Pennsylvania gubernatorial nomination of the Republican party in the May primaries. But there has been an indifferent, if not cold response from state Republican leaders, and as Republican State Chairman George Bloom said, "I have found no sentiment for Harold Stassen in Pennsylvania." It looks as though strong opposition may be building up against Stassen who seems to be the Republicans' best bet in the state at this time.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

Barb Walls, editor — Don Miller, business manager

Carol Baish, managing editor

Pat Varec, news editor; Dick Johnson, associate editor; Em Heed, copy editor; Wally Berkey, sports editor; Ben Schmick, advertising manager; Joyce Hoffman, circulation manager; Judy Wernsing, assistant business manager; Bob Blair, assistant circulation manager; Carolyn Klein, editorial secretary; Marsha Sweet, assistant advertising manager.

NEWS STAFF: Dave Carpenter, Nancy Cozzens, Reba Fleisher, Lee Furlong, Jan Hoyer, Edith Lum, John Noble, JoAnne Stauffer, Carol Whitfield.

SPORTS STAFF: Chuck Brown, Bill Ebner, Carl Wass, Val Means.

CIRCULATION STAFF: Rene Dimmick.

Ronn Fink, Senate chairman of communications

Circulation: 1,600 — Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 16 — Friday, February 21, 1958 — Page 2

Editorially Speaking . . .

The Social Situation

IT is encouraging to hear that someone has recognized as a problem and shown interest in improving the present status of Juniata's social life— a topic of perennial complaint.

A student-faculty committee on social activities consisting of Dean Bechtell, Miss Weaver, Dr. Hambacher and Gini Nixdorf is planning an evaluation of the present social situation with subsequent recommendations to the Administration for improvement.

In particular, the committee is striving for improvements in the women's gym and for the yearly event of a mid-winter formal dance. General long range goals include a more varied number of social activities and fuller development of the potential of men's and women's house social events. The idea of a mid-winter dance is particularly admirable. Since the Charity Ball may not be held this year, there is, more than ever, need for such a dance to break the long, relatively barren stretch from February to May.

These aims of the committee sound very fine but are going to require two things in particular for their realization— a larger allotment of funds from the Administration and greater student interest and effort. It has long been the opinion of most students that the main element needed to improve JC's social life is merely more money. This is to a great extent true but is certainly not the whole picture. Students must be willing to do more than just complain. Often the failure of social events has been caused by inadequate planning,lack of hard work and little interest or enthusiasm on the part of the students. The success of any social event depends on the amount of effort put into it.

Often in the past when the social committee has planned unusual activities they have been called childish or "out-of-it" and thus practically ignored. At times such as this it seems that we are in a rut and want to stay there.

We certainly hope that this committee "means business," for the social situation at present is badly in need of rejuvenation. Perhaps a good starting point would be an investigation of social programs on campuses comparable in size to ours.

A revitalization of the social program is going to require much work and certainly will not occur overnight. However, with both increased funds and interest on the part of the Administration, and more sincere effort and enthusiasm from the student body, there is no reason why a more dynamic social program can't be worked out that will prove satisfactory to all.

A Valid Complaint?

"TOTEM Inn's snack bar prices seem high for a business operating on a non-profit basis." This has become a popular complaint circulating around campus of late. However, it doesn't hold water.

The snack bar is operated on a non-profit basis—so much so that it has never been able to break even. Last year's figures show an income of $23,968 and an expenditure of $25,860. Naturally, until it can at least pay for itself, there will be no hope for reduced prices. Mr. Fisher is constantly striving to keep the business out of the red, but as of now the situation looks hopeless.

Strangely enough, the two main reasons for the deficit lie with the students themselves. First, students work at the snackbar. Although this is basically good since it helps these people through college, it costs Totem money. Most students who work there are inexperienced, and mistakes are expensive. Student help also has a tendency to be over-generous—naturally an upperclassman or a special friend receives that extra dip of ice crean. Needless to say, in the long run outside professional help would be cheaper.

Second, some students think that the merchandise on the counter is free sample, that the milk for the coffee is for drinking and that the hamburger pickles are for between-class snacks. The latter had to be done away with since on the average of 1500 a day were being consumed!

Other factors to be considered are the constantly rising costs. Tote raised the price of chocolate milk to 16 cents per box because the wholesale price was upped to 14.75 cents. In an effort to prevent going more in the red, the price of take-out cokes had to be raised two cents, since the wholesale cost of containers is over twice as much as the V-shaped cups.

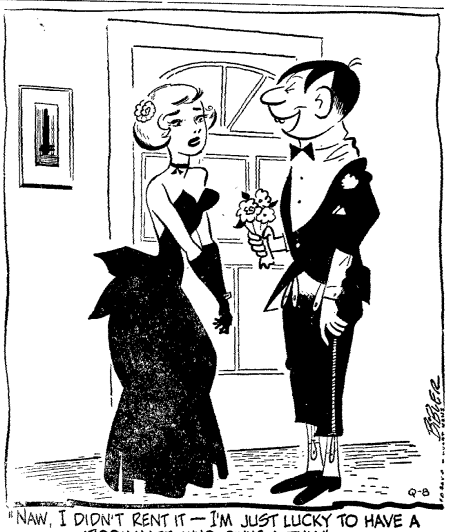
Storage space is another factor. If more were available, larger quantities of food could be brought at lower prices and stored. As it is, buying must be done practically day by day.

The former information is just offered by way of enlightenment for those who are campaigning for lower prices. At the present time this is impossible since the snack bar is now running in the red—and mainly because it is catering to student needs and interests.. If we want Totem's prices lowered, perhaps the first step toward this goal might be a show of greater responsibility and honesty in our dealings at the snack bar.

Movie Of The Week

Les Girls

Gene Kelly, Mitzi Gaynor (right), Kay Kendall and Taina Elg (left), form the members of the dancing troupe which tours Europe amid love and laughter in Sol C. Siegel's MGM musical-drama, Les Girls. The film opens Sunday at the Harris Clifton for a 3-day engagament.



"NAW, I DIDN'T RENT IT — I'M JUST LUCKY TO HAVE A ROOMMATE WHO OWNS A TUX."

On Campus

by George Fattman

Even though this is one of the busiest times of the college year, we find that JCers are still taking time to be funny, knowingly or unknowingly.

For example, a girl on third Brumbaugh dropped her handkerchief on the floor of her room the other day, and when her roommate asked her why she didn't pick it up, she replied, "If I lean over my socks will fall down."

And recently a chemistry prof after performing an experiment announced to her class, "I'm afraid I'm high on water." But Juniata women don't . . .

During a rehearsal for a chapel program a couple of weeks ago a backstage speaking chorus were giving their lines. "Klebe, don't stand so close to the mike," the director yelled. "You're drowning out the other girls."

What he didn't know was that all the other girls had left early.

* * * * *

Last week's ugliest man on campus campaign provided its share of laughs particularly through campaign posters: "Val forges death certificates," "Killer is related to Black Tom," "Tonight come see Easy Ed in all his ugliness—Aduits Only."

* * * * *

Alumni Notes

Two recent grads at a cocktail party were talking about dear old JC with a man who was particularly interested in the school. Their talk turned to some of the college views on drinking, smoking, etc.

Said the man to our alumni, each holding in one hand a bourbon and water and in the other a cigarette, "Well, I see not too much of it has rubbed off on you in four years."

* * * * *

A very attractive senior elementary ed major was having a discipline problem with a first grade boy during student teaching. "Would you like to have to come up here and stand by me?" she asked.

"Yes."

They learn young.

A new psychology student was in the library at the beginning of the term seeking an introductory text in the field. The guy standing next to him overheard the new student ask the librarian for such a book and pointed out that he just happened to be returning such a text.

"Perhaps I can help you if you have any questions," the guy offered.

"Oh, you're a psychology major too?"

"Well, not exactly. You see, I'm head of the department."

And so it goes around this veritable Sorbonne of Huntingdon County. See you next week.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Jack Heading, the sensational freshman from Johnstown, leads seven departments in basketball statistics through the first 15 games.

Heading holds the scoring lead with 214 points, the average per game with 15.3 and is tops with 95 field goals, 24 fouls, 61 defensive rebounds, 74 offensive rebounds and 135 total rebounds.

Other leaders show Mike Armstrong's 56 recoveries, Gordie Ewer's 76 assists, Al Dungan's 61.8 field goal percentage and Curt Gardner's 75 percent foul shooting average.

Prospective wrestlers should take advantage of the classes offered in wrestling every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3:30. This is an opportunity to learn and to get in shape for the coming tournament. A successful intramural program can be a big step toward a varsity program.

The Indiana freshman team supports a 10-1 record at this writing and will give fans a chance to see one of the finest frosh teams in the area. Their lone loss came to the Pitt center in Johnstown on Pitt's floor. The team is averaging close to 90 points a game including a 113-102 win over the St. Frances reserves. Indiana boasts fine high school stars including Clearfield's George Wise and Bill Kruckenberg, Brooksville's Richard Crooks and Shannock Valley's Sam Sherwood.

The Dukes and Whips should wind up the IM basketball race in a photofinish. Both should win their remaining games to force a playoff to determine the championship. It should be a real battle if the Whip's Harold Krause and Dukes' Don Conley both hit their scoring potential in one night.

Although going almost unnoticed, the Junior Varsity appears headed for another fine season. A pair of 6' 5" men, Hank Hain and newcomer Steve Gerlock, give ample rebounding power while Ed Costello, Jack Campbell and Bob Melago form a real sharpshooting trio. Reserves include Steph Boyle, Jon Groff Jim Noble, Jerry Leatherman and Bob Blair, and Dave Goodling up from intramurals.

Indiana STC will bring a talented squad with a 16-2 record to date next Wednesday. The teachers boast four players in the top 15 scorers among state teachers colleges. Joe DeLise is second with 170, Jack Bizyak fourth with 149, Jamie Kimbrough 11th with 117 and John Bulas 15th with 109.

Pete Feurney

MUCH ENTHUSIASM—An afternoon basketball pickup game in the gym seems to be quite exciting as many hands fight for the loose rebound.

Dukes, Whips Streak In Front In Intramural Basketball Play

The Dukes and Whips began to pull ahead in the intramural basketball league with two victories each.

The Dukes held their half game lead by defeating the Ubangies 32-26 and Schizo Eight 78-33. Don Swope tallied 16 in the first and Don Conley 39 in the second.

Harold Krause led the Whips to victories over the Pepsi's 77-50 and Flying Five 88-44 with 27 and 22 points. Ken Fassnacht also scored 24 against the Pepsi's and Steve French shared top honors against the Flying Five.

Yun Leads Crusaders

Fred Yun dropped in 20 and 24 points respectively as the Crusaders trampled the Bulldogs 41-28 and Sultans 65-33. Sam Shore also broke the 20 mark in the latter game.

The Mt. Dewers have pulled up from their cellar position upsetting the NJ House 69-56 and taking a forfeit from the Sharpshooters. Pete Sellers took game honors with 26.

Curt Gardner's 20 points paced the Dynamos in a 47-42 upset over the Ubangies. The Dynamos also beat the Schizo Eight 39-35 while dropping a 66-32 contest to the Comets.

In other games Ron Reynold's 13 points led the Sultans to a 39-29 triumph over the Flying Five, Jerry Zak hit 15 as the Bulldogs stopped the Blockers 43-39, NJ Housee 65, Pepsi's 53 despite John Compton's 39 points, the Sharpshooters 43 Blockers 38 as Mike Miller bucketed 27 and the Dunkards 85, Five 39.

	W	L
Dukes	12	1
Whips	11	1
Bulldogs	10	2
Dunkards	9	3
Ubangies	9	4
NJ House	9	5
Crusaders	7	5
Sultans	7	5
Blockers	7	6
Dynamos	6	7
Comets	5	8
Sharpshooters	4	3
Mt. Dewers	4	9
Flying Five	4	9
Pepsi's	3	10
Schizo Eight	1	12
Five	0	13

Idle Pals, Schlitzers Hold Division Leads In IM Bowling Race

Intramural bowling entered its sixth week of competition with the idle Pals and Schlitzers still holding division leads.

Paced by Ron Housum's 312 pin total, the Champs secured their second place slot in Division A with a 3-0 decision over the Harriers, as the third running Ranch Hands dropped the Crusaders 3-0.

In Division B, the underrated Holy Rollers bowled a 657 for the high single game of the week to upset the favored Alley Kats 2-1, and the Rustlers took a 3-0 contest over Will's Gang.

High team was the Rustlers with a two game total of 1193 pins, as "Fats"Falcion and Joe Sopata followed Housum as top individual scorers with 309 and 301 scores respectively.

Tonight at 7 p.m. the Ten Pins go against the Ranch Hands, and the high riding Pals face the last place Gutterballers. The Alley Kats clash with the Schlitzers and the Holy Rollers meet the Flashes in the 8:30 tilts.

Division A

	W	L
Pals	9	0
Champs	10	2
Ranch Hands	3	3
Harriers	3	6
Ten Pins	2	4
Crusaders	2	7
Gutterballers	1	8
Division B
Schlitzers	6	0
Admirals	6	3
Alleykats	4	2
Rustlers	5	4
Will's Gang	4	5
Holy Rollers	3	6
Flashes	2	7

Tribe Hosts Indiana Teachers After Playing Dickinson Away

A pair of rugged opponents, Dickinson and Indiana STC, are on tap for the Tribe next week as their '57-'58 basketball season enters its last full week.

Monday evening the Indians tangle with the Dickinson Red Devils who currently are enjoying their finest season in nine years. Paced by Ray Weaver, 6-3 senior guard from Altoona, the Red Devils have defeated such worthy opponents as Gettysburg, F and M and Penn Military College. In his first 11 games the Red Devil star has scored 249 points for an average of 22.6 points per game, tops in the ECAC.

Indiana here Wednesday

Indiana State Teachers College rolls into Memorial Gym Wednesday with a strong outfit bolstered by four lettermen from last year's outstanding squad. Coach Regis McKnight's Big Indians have lost but two games this season, one a double overtime thriller at the hands of powerful Carnegie Tech.

The Big Indians will feature a well-balanced scoring attack, with any one of the first five starters capable of breaking a game wide open.

DeLise Leads Teachers

In eight State Teachers College Conference games, four of McKnight's starters have scored more than 100 points each. Leading the parade is Joe DeLise, a 6-3 senior, who has tallied 176 points for a 21.3 average per game. Close behind DeLise is his four-year scoring mate, Jack Bizyak, who sports a 16.1 average.

Three underclassmen, Jamie Kimbrough, Dennis Brooks and Bob Bulas, round out the Teacher's starting lineup.

Both contests will be preceded by a junior varsity game.

Blue Jays, Lycoming Give Greene's Cagers Two MAC Setbacks

Doc Greene's cagers dropped two Middle Atlantic Conference games last week as Elizabethtown retaliated in defeating the Indians 81-63 on their home court and Lycoming edged the visiting Tribe 73-72.

Showing the effects of semester probations, the Indians were nipped by the Warriors of Lycoming most recently as a technical foul, with 20 seconds to play in a 72-72 tie game, resulted in the Tribe's ninth loss in 16 decisions.

Heading Standout

Jack Heading with 23 points and 25 rebounds and Mike Armstrong with a 16 point, 21 rebound output stood out in defeat. Cliff Smith led the winners with 25.

Bill Pennsyl's 26 and Don Boyer's 21 led the Blue Jays at E-town, as the Tribe was unable to compete against a full-court press inflicted by the host in the second half.

Heading topped the Indians in the scoring column with 19 points and 19 rebounds. Armstrong and Gordie Ewers followed in the scoring column with 14 and 11 points respectively.

The Jayvees split two decisions thus keeping their record above the .500 level. Jack Campbell led the JV's to victory number five as he connected with 22 points in the 69-60 win at E-town while scoring 26 points in the 65-64 loss at Lycoming.

Baseball Schedule

Apr.	11	Millersville	A
	12	Washington	A
	15	Shippensburg	H
	16	Lock Haven	H
	18	Indiana	A
	23	Albright*	H
	26	Elizabethtown*	H
	28	Lock Haven	A
	30	Indiana	H
May	3	Game Pending	H
	5	Susquehanna*	A
	7	Dickinson*	H
	10	Elizabethtown*	A
	12	Bucknell*	A
	14	Pittsburgh	A
	17	Lycoming*	H
	30	Upsala*	H
	31	Alumni	H

* Middle Atlantic Conference Games

Wrestling Sessions Start In Gymnasium

Wrestling has started here at Juniata with practice sessions held in Memorial Gymnasium every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

These sessions are the first step towards the intramural championships, which will begin March 10. The practices will continue until this date. These workouts are designed to teach the fundamentals of the sport to those fellows who are interested, but haven't had an opportunity to learn before now. They also serve as a means of getting prospective wrestlers in shape for the IM tournament. Cal Beam and Chic Henry are conducting the afternoon practices.

Chairman of Athletics, Val Means, has expressed the hope that all interested Juniata men will take advantage of this program.

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending Machines and Candy for the Candy Concessions

SHOP THE RAY ENGLISH STORE
For The Latest In Men's Clothing and Furnishings
Next to the Clifton Theatre

HILLY'S DRUG STORE
Prescriptions
611 Washington St.
Drugs Cosmetics

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

Compliments of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken in Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

Weaver The Florist
Your College Florist
Phone MI 3-0530 211 5th St.

FOR DRY GOODS and NOTIONS
— see —
H. & R. Egolf

HOTEL HUNTINGDON

FOR PLATTERS THAT FLATTER THE PEOPLE WHO MATTER . .
SHOP MILLER HARDWARE CO. Phone MI 3-1460

MOTEL 22 and RESTAURANT
For Reservations Call
For Motel — Phone 1197
For Restaurant — Phone 9191

Senators Request Annual Statement

Continued from page 1

tend to the organization the $45 needed to buy a water heater, but suggested that the club raise the rest of the amount. In addition, it was stipulated that in the future the club submit a budget each year, and that all its financial commitments be channeled through the central treasurer.

Election Rules

At the request of the administration, it was moved that each candidate for the coming elections be held responsible for walls, mirrors, etc. on which his sign appears should there be any damage to the same. The blackfaced skirt of the fireplace in the North Dorm was also put on the list of unavailable places for campaign posting.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

Hettinger Announces JC,s General Info Test

by Sarah Hettinger, Librarian

How is your GI?

Not your German intelligence nor your GI boyfriend, but your general information . You will have the opportunity to test this characteristic and at the same time place yourself in a position to win some money Wednesday, March 5, at 4 p.m. in the library.

John Biddle has chosen this way to keep green his father's memory on campus. Each year he donates $10 and $15 to the two students who have the best general information and the best ability in placing it on paper.

The prize carries with it some honor, and it takes less than an hour to write. You can't study for the examination for no one knows what the questions will be.

They are from science,, literature, history and current events. Tests are identified by number and only the two people having the top score are ever divulged by name.

13 JC Students Join Honor Group

Thirteen new members were elected to the Juniata Honor Society at a meeting held Wednesday.

New members from the senior class are George Hess, chemistry; Kathryn Holsinger, music education; Del McQuaide, history; John Moore, English and Joyce Burket Waryck, elementary education.

Those elected to the society from the class of '59 are Terry Fouse, English; Joan Fyock, music education; Bonnie Gunther, English; Arthur Norris, biology; Barbara Shaffer, romance languages; Sam Shore, mathmatics; Barbara Walls, English and Marjorie White, music education.

New members were chosen by a committee of election consisting of President Ellis, such faculty members as he names, not exceeding four and all undergraduate members of the society enrolled at time of election. The qualifications for membership are scholarly achievement, moral integrity and broad cultural interests.

Later in the term there will be a special honors convocation at which new members will receive formal public recognition. The annual banquet of the society is planned for early in May.

Wohlbruck To Present Cup To Winning Skit

Continued from page 1

the cup to the winning class. Other people who helped in this program were Judy Barrowclough, assistant director; Diane Klebe, makeup; Ron Knouse, technical director; John Aurend, business manager and Jack Rodland, organist.

Money taken in at this presentation will be used for May Day preparations.

Former JC Prof To Speak Tuesday

Dr. Theodore Lockwood will discuss the Role of Christianity in Modern History at the weekly JCA program at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday in Room C.

Dr. Lockwood was a history professor at Juniata; he left in 1954. Senate chairman of religious activities Spence Ward has extended an invitation to all JCers.

THE JUNIATIAN, published weekly throughout the college year except during vacation and examniation periods by students at Juniata College. Second class mail privileges authorized at Huntingdon, Pa.

Committee Studies Facilities In Gym

Continued from page 1

fuller development of the men's house — women's house social potential and more complete attention to the needs of all students in a well balanced social activity schedule.

More specifically, the committee has already submitted recommendations to the administration for improvement of facilities in the women's gym—provision for better lighting and cloakroom space. The problem of available facilities which are not fully utilized is another consideration of the committee.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

KOUGH'S JEWELRY
Jewelry
Watch Repairs
Watches
Rings
5th and Washington Sts.

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

SHOP FOR
NATIONAL BRANDS
AT
DOLLINGERS

EXPERT JEWELRY — WATCH REPAIR
BLACK'S JEWELRY
423 Penn St.
Phone Mitchell 3-1700

GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

Say it with Flowers from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260

THELMA'S
Blouses — Skirts
Sportswear
Lingerie — Millinery

Sanforized
SPORT SHIRTS
Plains & Stripes $2.95
G. C. MURPHY CO.

WESTBROOK'S
SHOES
515 Washington Street

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
Richard Widmark in Time Limit
— also —
The Dalton Girls
SUN . MON - TUES
Continuous Shows Sunday From 2 P. M.
Cole Porter's
Les Girls
CinemaScope & Color
Gene Kelly
Mitzi Gaynor
Kay Kendall
Taina Elg
WED — THURS
2 THRILLERS!!
COPPER SKY also
HELL ON DEVIL'S ISLAND
SOON
DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER
THE JOKER IS WILD

Blair's Book Store
600 Penn Street
EVERYTHING FOR THE STUDENT
FINE STATIONERY and LOOSE LEAF NOTEBOOKS
STORE HOURS 8 to 5

Valley Motel
Route 22 at 10th Street Intersection
Huntingdon, Pa.
COMFORTABLE ACCOMODATIONS
OPEN ALL YEAR
FOR RESERVATIONS — PHONE Mitchell 3-0736

TONY BENNETT—EXCLUSIVE COLUMBIA RECORDING ARTIST
Tune Up With Tony et your exclusive TONY BENNETT tographed edition of hits. This remarkable cord features songs like "Rags to iches," "Cold, Cold Heart," "Come Next ring," "Because of You"... six big s in total! And it's all yours for only ($1.29 value). Just pick up the coupon the store where you buy Coca-Cola.
Drink Coca-Cola
SIGN OF GOOD TASTE
YRIGHT 1958 THE COCA-COLA COMPANY.
Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by
COCA - COLA BOTTLING CO. of Altoona, Pa.

The Juniatian

Volume XXXIV, No. 17 | Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa. | Friday, February 28, 1958

Campaigns Get Underway For Tuesday's Election

FUTURE BWOC's—they hope. Their campaigns (note smiling faces) will continue until Tuesday when students, having weighed objectively Juniata's brand of back-slapping, baby-kissing (?) politics,will elect the four top officers of next year's Senate. In the first row are Carol Teeter and Barb Zoellin, secretarial candidates; Bonnie Gunther, candidate for president and Mary Shirk, also a secretarial candidate. The second row includes Chuck Brown, presidential aspirant, Carl Wass, candidate for vice president and Sam Shore, running for treasurer. Bill Lafe, vice presidential candidate, was in the infirmary at the time this photo was taken but an enterprising campaign manager got him in the picture anyway. Not shown is Paul DeSesso, candidate for the office of treasurer.

Bruce Bennett

Polls To Open For Top Posts Next Tuesday

Voting for next year's Senate officers will take place Tuesday in Totem Inn.

Submission of petitions by 9 p.m. yesterday marked the beginning of the chain of events which will elect a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer for the year 1959. All campaigns will end Monday at midnight.

If runoffs are necessary, they will take place Wednesday. Also on Wednesday, petitions for chairmanships, except those in officer runoffs, will be due by 10:30 p.m.

Chairmanship campaigns will begin Thursday at 6 a.m. and end the next Monday at midnight. Eleection of chairmen will take place Tuesday, March 11, with runoffs on Wednesday.

Election Rules

Certain rules have been established to govern election procedures. Posters are prohibited on building surfaces except North Dorm lounge and East Hall recreation room. They are permitted on mirrors, in lavatories and on the lighting fixtures.

Campaign expenses must not exceed $7 for presidential candidates and $5 for chairmanship candidates. Torchlight parades and noisy demonstrations must not occur after 11 p.m. and any damage done by posters will be charged to the offending candidates.

WJC will interview presidential candidates tonight. An open count of Tuesday's election returns will be held in room C and be broadcast over WJC.

9 Candidates Compete For High Offices

Campaigns began in earnest yesterday as aspiring candidates presented their petitions for Senate offices for the year 1959.

Chuck Brown, a history major from Bellefonte, and Bonnie Gunther, an English major from Berwick will compete for the office of president. Brown was sophomore class president, Senate chairman of underclassmen and sports editor of the Alfarata.

Miss Gunther is Senate chairman of general activities. She is also JWSF treasurer, a member of the Honor Society and president of Inter-Club Council.

Vice president

Vieing for the position of vice president are Bill Lafe and Carl Wass. Lafe, a junior history major from Pittsburgh, is a member of WJC, JCA and the proctoring committee. He wrote and directed the junior All Class Night Skit this year and has a part in Ten Little Indians.

Wass is a history major from Harrisburg who has been active as editor of the Indian and Tomahawk publications, a member of Judiciary and the men's house committee. He is a JWSF captain, a sports writer for the Alfarata and the JUNIATIAN and a WJC announcer.

Secretary

Mary Shirk, a junior English major from Laureldale, is one of three candidates for the office of secretary. Her activities include majorette, Alfarata typist, JWSF solicitor , secretary-treasurer of the German Club and All Class Night.

Carol Teeter, an elementary education major from Martins-

See DESESSO, page 4

Senate Vetoes Biblical Themes For Future Class Night Scripts

The Senate voted 5-2-2 Wednesday evening to exclude from future All-Class Night programs any script dealing with Biblical themes, particularly in the presentation of the life of Christ.

In addition, it was decided to instruct the All-Class Night chairman to re-instate the former policy of choosing judges. It has been customary in the past to ask three alumni, a Juniata professor and another person with some drama background to act as critics. The alumni shall have been graduated not more than 10 years nor less than five prior to the time they act as judges.

Contrary to popular thought, the time element did not appear as an item of criticism in past decisions on All-Class Night productions. Classes have been asked to strive for a 22-minute presentation, but it was not a stipulation.

Time Important

After some debate, it was decided that in the future the element of time shall be of major consideration in choosing a winner. Also, a file of problems and ideas incurred in the production of each skit shall be compiled so that freshman classes will have some material with which to work.

In reply to various complaints, Janice Gilroy reported that a committee has been appointed to investigate the Administration's ban on student use of the kitchenette for cooking diners in East Hall. They will report their findings to the women's house committee in the near future.

Next Week In Chapel

March 3 — Eugene Jemison
5 — A. J. Muste
7 — Luther Harshbarger

Heberling Explains Chapel Cut Policy

"Dean of Men Paul Heberling, in order to clarify certain misconceptions and confusion," has formulated an explanation of JCs chapel attendance system.

Attendance at chapel is mandatory and the granting of a certain number of unexcused "cuts" is a privilege extended by the administration. It is not to be interpreted as something undeniable.

Heberling added that every effort will be made to inform each student of the number of cuts he has taken. Here again, the administration is under no obligation in this manner.

Judiciary Action

Any time a student accumulates more than six unexcused absences, but less than ten for the first time, the excess will be deducted from the following semester's cuts. The exception to this rule is the second semester senior who may not take more than the allowed number without jeopardizing his chances of receiving a diploma.

If a student who has had the above action taken against him exceeds the allowed number for the second time, he will receive a letter of warning from the Judiciary. Any additional cuts subject him automatically to Judiciary action.

All excuses legally granted, containing chapel absences, must be returned within one week after they have been initialed by instructors to the office of the dean of men.

'Indians' Directors Name Committees

Practice for Ten Little Indians, the Masque's spring production, is "steadily progressing" according to Jan Schall, student director, and her assistant, Judy Barrowclough.

The committees for the production were chosen last Monday night. They are as follows: publicity, Jackie Rhodes, chairman, Carol Whitfield and Marie Pirand; makeup, Barb Fritchey, chairman, Carole Miller, Mary Lockwood, Carlene Suloff and Lucy Krieble; programs, Sandy Johnston, chairman, Gail Dickerson and Muriel Rudolph.

Those on the properties committee are Marge Snyder, chairman, Charlotte Prugh, Betty Ann Clark, Betty Newbold, Carol Stiffler, Aileen Wright and Nan Swartz. Prompters are Barb Orner and Judy Wernsing.

Ted Hetrick is business manager and Bill Holsinger is in charge of fighting.

Touring Choir To Sing On Johnstown Station

Juniata's touring choir, in order to appear on Johnstown radio station WJAC, will try a two-day tour this weekend in place of the usual one-day type.

Leaving JC at 11 a.m. Saturday,the girls' trio, the male quartet and the choir will present a sacred-secular program between 3:30 and 4 p.m. on WJAC.

Saturday evening the choir will sing in the Roxbury Church of the Brethren. Overnight accomodations will be provided by the members of the congregation.

The Sunday schedule includes a morning stop at the Scalp Level Church of the Brethren. The Everett Church will hear the final concert of the weekend.

Painter - Folk Singer Jemison To Perform Here Next Week

Eugene Jemison, well-known painter, folk singer and printmaker, will visit the campus Monday and Tuesday.

Jemison will illustrate with guitar and singing a lecture on the Integration of the Arts. Two informal discussions, The Meaning of the Geographical Arts and What is Folklore, Folk Music and Folk Art, are also scheduled. The exhibition will include 30 recent works by Jemison.

● Eugene Jemison ●
Ballad Singer

The guest artist will appear in chapel Monday and will visit art and literature classes both days. Jemison's program will include a collection of folk love-songs, such as Go 'Way From My Window and Greensleeves, folk carols including Lulle Lullay and Down in Yon Forest, American folk songs, such as Who Killed Cock Robbin and English and Scottish ballads, The Gypsy Laddie and The Golden Vanity.

A native Kansan, Jemison received his BA degree from Washburn University and his MA from Kansas City Art Institute, where he is now a member of the faculty.

The two-day visit of Jemison here is sponsored by the Arts Program of the Association of America Colleges. His tour will take him to other outstanding colleges and universities this fall and next spring.

America, England Agree To Missile Pact

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN MISSILE PACT—The British defense ministry announced last Friday that an agreement has been drawn up between Great Britain and the United States providing for four U. S. built missile bases in both England and Scotland. Under the terms of the pact, the United States will supply the missiles (Thor and Jupiter), nuclear warheads and launching equipment, while Great Britain will pay the 90 million dollar cost for construction.

It was also reported that of the four missile bases planned, three will be on the English east coast and one on the Scottish coast. From these bases the Thor and Jupiter intermediate ballistic missiles can penetrate deep into the heart of Russia.

The significancce of the Anglo-American past lies in that it is a "pilot pact" by which other NATO nations are soon to accept nuclear bases. Both France and Turkey are expected to negotiate on further European missile bases.

While this missile pact is a step towards the mutual defense of both England and the U. S., it cannot be counted upon as a permanent defense fixture. At most, it can only be viewed as a temporary means of mutual defense until the U. S. has fully developed its long-range ballistic missile program.

HERB DEUCHAR: News Of The Week In Retrospect

TRUMAN KICKS OFF DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN—At a $100-a-plate dinner in Washington honoring Harry Truman, the Democratic bigwigs launched their 1958 Congressional campaign for the future control of Congress. Leading the flatulent tirade was Truman's "give 'em hell" speech denouncing the Eisenhower administration for its five years of "economic misrule", culminating in the current recession. In his usual vehement manner Truman touched every program of the administration, giving it a through chastisement.

Adlai Stevenson also whaled away at the GOP with equal fervor hitting their domestic, as well as foreign, policies. In all, the rally was the usual political merry-go-round in which Truman and his followers seem to excel. After four years of blundering in the White House, Truman has seemed to become the fountain of all political knowledge for the Democratic party. One would think the Democrats would find an abler leader than Truman to lead their campaigns and rallies.

The Juniatian

Student Weekly at Juniata College, Huntingdon, Pa.

Established November 6, 1924

Barb Walls, editor — Carol Baish, managing editor — Don Miller, business manager

Circulation: 1,600

Subscription rate: $1.50 per year

An All-American Newspaper

Volume XXXIV, No. 17 — Friday, February 28, 1958 — Page 2

Editorially Speaking . . .

Students Vs. Judges

The outcome of the recent All Class Night competition has led many people, including we of the JUNIATIAN, to advocate a change in the present system of selecting judges for the event. The fact that popular opinion so overwhelmingly differed from that of the judges indicates the need for a more careful selection.

At the present time there is no other criteria for acquiring judges than that they be alumni of the college. This seems highly inadequate. Actually the present system has deteriorated from the original which stipulated that the five judges include three alumni, one faculty member and one English or drama professor from another school. Even a return to the original system would be an improvement.

In any case, provision should be made to insure that at least three of the judges have some definite knowledge of theater art and more qualifications for judging than mere personal reaction. High school drama directors, for example, might be advisable.

The evaluation sheet provided for the judges was adequate enough, However, it seems that they allowed themselves to be bound too tightly to it, failing to take into consideration other important factors. Naturally, all the criteria for evaluating the skits cannot be placed on the judging sheet.

Decisions such as this year's, which so drastically depart from popular opinion, have a tendency to ruin future All Class Nights by discouraging students initiative and enthusiasm. We believe a revised system of selecting judges will help to avoid this by insuring fairer decisions.

Political Pointers

Once again election time is here—count on it as being one of the liveliest of the school year.

After all the campaigning, torchlight parades and bandwagoning are over, however, it is a time that calls for a cool head and some honest thinking. Remember, the candidates elected now will be running your stu-government for the next year and they will have the responsibility of keeping it, as now, strong, effective and growing.

Senate elections at JC have never been popularity contests; we hope they never become so. To prevent this from happening try to keep in mind the following suggestions during the next few weeks.

Know your candidate. Look into his college background and find out what contributions he has made to the school, how much interest he has shown in past political issues and what his present qualifications are.

If he has a platform, examine it closely. Learn to tell the difference between a list of insignificant items thrown together for the sake of impression and an honest list indicating that some thinking was done.

Talk to your candidate. Get his views on such issues as the Campus Judiciary or the student proctoring committee. Most candidates will have some definite ideas about student government in general. Find out their philosophy—it may surprise you.

Enter into or start dorm discussions. These can be very enlightening and other's opinions are always valuable.

The JUNIATIAN, of course, must remain impartial. However, we do ask that you use intelligence in choosing your candidate and base your selection on more than personal friendships. The representatives you elect will determine whether Juniata's Senate will remain an influential force in the life of the students.

Platforms: Senate Presidential Candidates

Chuck Brown

To the Juniata student body:

My concept of student government is that it ought to be a vigorous organization in which all student opinion and needs can be heard and acted upon. Thus the student Senate should act in conjunction with, not in opposition to, the faculty and administration to insure proper reception of student views by these two bodies.

In the role of the student Senate, the president should represent the entire student body and its many varied activities. In this manner he will be a true leader of student sentiment in his relations with the Senate, faculty and administration.

In this light I pledge:

1. To examine the social program "to see if student needs are being met." Specifically, I propose to: a. push for a mid-winter dance and b. work for outside talent to be engaged for large social events.
2. To work with the new chairman of educational activities to aid that office in realizing its potentialities. Specifically, I propose to initiate a student Senate lecture series and invite a college professor to lead this series of lectures on either the sciences or the humanities.
3. To work to elevate wrestling to the intercollegiate level as soon as possible.
4. To work with the administration and the library in finding a solution to the problem of stolen integration course books.
5. To follow the initiative of the last Senate in working for a spring Mountain Day this year.
6. To push for completion of the work started by the committee on the new proposed Alma Mater.
7. To investigate the possibilities of having cafeteria style suppers between certain hours on Saturday and/or Sunday.
8. To investigate the possibilities of obtaining a water fountain in the Cloister Arch.
9. To use the Ogre Committee as much as possible as a sounding board for student opinion.
10. To continue the use of the Smoke Signal as a means of informing the students, faculty and administration of Senate activities.

Chuck Brown

Bonnie Gunther

The main areas in which I would concentrate my energy and concern are in social activities and educational activities. These policies which I propose here are intended to alleviate the present dissatisfaction in both of these areas.

Social Activities

1. Encourage the present investigation committee to continue their work.
2. Establish an Ogre Committee under social activities which would consider unusual requests and the validity of solutions to these requests.
3. Stimulate cooperation between women's house and men's house in carrying out any new suggestions for social activities.
4. Investigate the possibilities of more campus recreational facilities in the form of ping pong tables, shuffle boards, etc.

Educational Activities

1. Promote the honor system
   a. Organize a specific committee to investigate the methods of innovating such a system.
   b. Further develop the student proctoring committee to proctor final exams.
   c. Encourage the faculty to increase their present use of the honor system in administering tests.
2. Establish an "educational emphasis" schedule during which professors from graduate schools would visit our campus for a few days to address the students about their field of study.
3. Encourage the use of course evaluation sheets by the faculty to give them a keener awareness of student reaction to their courses.
4. Expand the Senate used book store.

General Issues

1. Encourage the innovation of cafeteria meals on Saturday and Sunday evenings.
2. Create a woman's athletic sub-chair without an official capacity in Senate, but with the responsibility of coordinating women's athletic programs with the men's.
3. Activate the present foreign student committee to better accommodate our foreign students and to make the campus aware of their abilities and needs.
4. Ask for a permanent repair of the Elephant Walk.
5. Continue the investigation of the transportation problem.

Bonnie Gunther

On Campus

by George Fattman

Word has it that Third Founders has conducted the most collegial of collegial surveys—they have researched the science (or is it an art) of cutting one's toenails.

The other morning a modest looking 4x6 file card listing the names of the hall's residents appeared in the wash room. It boldly and frankly demanded, "In the interests of scientific research please indicate the following: Do you trim all your toenails? Do you trim them straight across?"

The originator admits that the burning question behind the survey is "Is the method one employs in cutting her nails a true indication of one's perfection as heretofore proposed by many of the world's leading experts in toenail cutting?"

And from time to time progress reports were issued, such as "Poodle cuts eight straight and three curved." (Somebody immediately wanted to know if she really has 11 toes or two nails on one toe.

* * * * *

Nothing in my four years here has equalled the freshman all-class night skit in its contribution to campus humor—sacreligious as the comment might sound.

Shocked when frosh won the cup, Juniatians have come up with a number of titles for future skits: The Peter Marshall Affair, Musical Chairs at the Last Supper, The Ascension in Song.

* * * * *

The prof called a meeting of all the seniors majoring in his department: "Now there is a tendency to be a little upset by the oral part of the comprehensive examination," he said, "but don't let that disturb you.

"Just think of it as a tea party—without tea, of course, and preferably without lemon."

And while we're talking about profs, consider the plight of the history prof who during an entire lecture called east west and west east. When he started to describe the Northmen's "eastern" route to what became Normandy as between Ireland and Britain, someone called the mental block to his attention.

A bit shaken by his error (and who can keep directions straight anyway) he tried to restate, only to become more confused. Finally he laid aside the east-west talk and informed his class, "'Well, anyway, they went south."

* * * * *

A frosh stood flashing a brand new 10-dollar bill as he waited to be checked out of the book store. "Where did you get that?" queried a would-be conversationalist.

"Oh, we make them over in the men's dorm," he replied.

"Gee, I think I'll come over there and make a few bucks myself," gushed the next coed in line as she put her foot in her mouth.

* * * * *

Let's pack it up with this quip from a current cartoon series: Guy to roommate (shaving his tongue): "How was the party last night?"

The Students' Viewpoint

Regrets To The Juniors

ED. NOTE—This column is for expression of readers' opinions on current issues. All letters must be signed and should be as brief as possible. We reserve the right to condense any letter.

The subject of the winning of All-Class Night by the freshmen has evoked much comment on campus both from students and faculty members. Some of this criticism is of the sour-grapes type; however much of it is valid.

All three of the other classes designed skits to fill a 22-minute time limit and to give as much class participation in the form of speaking parts and action on stage as possible. In my own experience I have known skits to be turned down by script committees of the past because there were only three or four speaking parts. Why the freshmen skit even passed the reading committee amazes me.

As one who has had much contact with plays and public speaking, I know that it is much harder to hold the attention of an audience for 20 minutes than for 10. This is partially why the time criteria was given for these skits. The freshman time was 10 minutes, 40 seconds. I am very sorry that the judges did not fully understand the basis of judgment, which not only involved entertainment value but many other factors.

I think that next year any skit that fails to live up to the criteria as did the freshmen skit this year should be disqualified. In fact, such a skit should not even pass the script committee. I feel sorry for the members of the three classes who did try to live up to the requirements and also extend my deepest regrets to the junior class.

Respectfully submitted,
Bruce E. Bennett.

Chalk It Up!

by Val Means

Jack Heading, freshman from Johnstown, earned a first team berth on the ECAC basketball squad picked last week. Heading was chosen for his second time on the basis of his performances in the Susquehanna and Lycoming contests in which he scored a total of 52 points.

Jack Campbell leads the junior varsity scoring parade with 150 points in 10 games. Hank Hain, Bob Melago and Ed Costello join him in breaking the 100 mark. Scoring and averages are:

Jack Campbell	150	16.5
Hank Hain	120	12.0
Bob Melago	108	10.8
Ed Costello	102	10.2
Steve Gerlock	76	11.0
Dave Goodling	24	8.0

Recommendation for a new IM rule: the draft system should be retained, but teams should not be allowed to pass up choices.. This would prevent good players from reaching teams where they can influence the outcome of the league.

Referees in IM basketball are becoming as scarce as hen's teeth. The situation has been brought on by the teams themselves who show unsportsmanlike conduct and have members who are good refs but won't offer their services. We need a little less complaining and a little more participation.

Varsity wrestling proceedings have bogged down temporarily, but some type of decision should be expected soon. If the proposed recommendation passes proper faculty and administrative channels, varsity wrestling will begin next year on campus.

Ron Bergy tops the list of intramural bowlers who have a 140 average or better in at least four games. The list includes:

Ron Bergy	Pals	147
Tom Hoy	Gutterballers	144
Glen Williamson	Alleycats	143
Wayne Housum	Champs	142
Dick Fyock	Champs	140

Attention prospective golfers. All candidates for the varsity golf team meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Gym.

STRICKLER CLEANERS
Quality Cleaning at
Moderate Prices
Repair Service
1017 Moore Street

HARRIS CLIFTON
NOW thru SATURDAY
Walter Brennan in God Is My Partner
— also —
Scot Brady - Anne Bancroft
THE RESTLESS BREED Tech
SUN . MON - TUES
Continuous Shows Sunday
From 2 P. M.
The Laugh of your Lifetime!!
Don't Go Near The Water
CinemaScope & Metrocolor with Glenn Ford - Gia Scala
Anne Francis - Keenan Wynn
Fred Clark - Eva Gabor
WED — THURS
Elsa Martinelli
Trevor Howard
Pedro Armendaire in Stowaway Girl
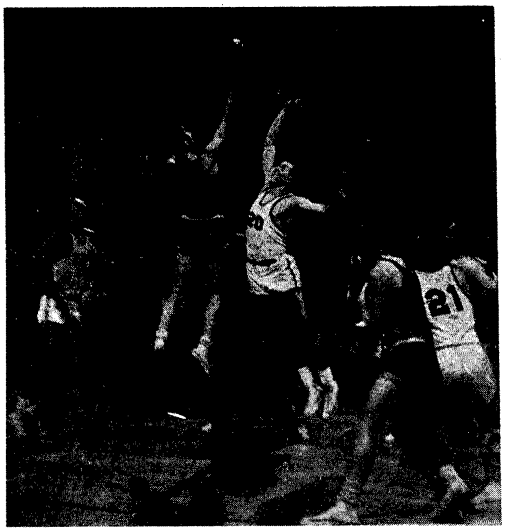
A Reminder — Sunday Shows are continuous from 2 p.m.



Andrew Katai

HIGH JUMP—Freshman sensation Jack Heading starts second half rally by controlling tipoff as the Indians downed the Dickinson Red Devils 67-64.

Indians Defeat Susquehanna, Dickinson; Lose Indiana Game

The Indians, in an effort to finish with an even season, won two out of three decisions last week with victories coming over Susquehanna 91-79 and Dickinson 67-64 before dropping a close 82-79 contest to Indiana STC last Thursday.

The cagers, although shooting a torrid 46 percent, lost the Indiana game in the closing minutes as the visitors' Joe DeLise put the Teachers ahead 75-74 to clinch the game. DeLise finished with 26 points, but was aided by Dennis Brooks' 18 points.

Freshman sensation Jack Heading paced the Tribe with 28 as he connected on 13 out of 26 shots. Al Dungan followed with 15, Gordie Ewers 13, Mike Armstrong 12, and Ron Wertz 11.

Dickinson Ninth Victory

The Tribe won their ninth game of the season at Dickinson as a strong second half rally downed the home team. Shooting 45 percent in the second half, Juniata finished with three players in double figures as Heading scored 22, and Ewers and Armstrong contributed 21 and 18 respectively. Dickinson's Ray Weaver was high for the losers, scoring 16 points. It was Juniata's sixth Middle Atlantic Conference victory in 11 decisions.

Heading again led the Greenemen over Susquehanna as he contributed 29 tallies. Ewers and Wertz followed with 14 apiece and Dungan scored 13. Keith Tyler notched 24 for the losers.

The junior varsity quintet pushed above the .500 level with a 84-71 victory over the Indiana JV's. Jack Campbell had 24 while Steve Gerlock and Hank Hain, both playing tremendous games, finished with 16 and 14 points respectively. Ed Costello had 11 and Bob Melago tallied 10. Wise's 22 and Kruckenbury's 18 were tops for the losers.

The junior Indians lost to Dickinson 72-61 as Campbell scored 23 while Dave Goodling contributed 14.

Pals Stay Unbeaten As Alley Kats Take Lead In Division B

Intramural bowling's high riding Schlitzers suffered their first defeat this week to be edged from division B leadership by the well balanced Alley Kats while the Pals remained unbeaten at the top of division A.

Despite the efforts of Phil Stefanini who was high in both single match and total pins with 163 and 302 scores respectively, the Schlitzers failed to take a single game and were dropped by a 3-0 count. In other contests the Pals dropped the last place Gutterballers 3-0 and the Holy Rollers downed the Flashes by a similar count. In division A the Ranch Hands moved into the number three slot with a close 2-1 decision over the Ten Pins.

Ron Bergey of the Pals and Tom Hoy of the Gutterballers followed Stefanini as the week's high scorer with 157 and 152 pins respectively.

Tonight at 7 p.m. the Crusaders meet the Ten Pins and theSchlitzers verse the Rustlers. At 8:30 p.m. the Harriers play the Ranch Hands and Will's Gang clashes with the Admirals.

Team Standings

Division A	W	L
Pals	12	0
Champs	10	2
Ranch Hands	5	4
Ten Pins	3	6
Harriers	3	6
Crusaders	2	7
Gutterballers	1	11
Division B
Alley Kats	7	2
Schlitzers	6	3
Admirals	6	3
Rustlers	5	4
Holy Rollers	6	6
Will's Gang	4	5
Flashes	2	10

Fred B. Bayer
WHOLESALE CONFECTIONERS
Suppliers of Vending
Machines and Candy for
the Candy Concessions

Compliments
of
Motel 22 Gift Shop
Mt. Union, Penna.

Wagner Cancels Encounter; Gettysburg Tilt Here Monday

The Tribe will play but one more game, closing out the season at home against the Gettysburg Bullets, since tonight's game with Wagner has been cancelled.

The Wagner game has been called off at their request in order that their crowded schedule may be lightened.

Wagner In MAC Playoffs

Wagner is competing for the northern division championship in the Middle Atlantic Conference to represent the MAC in the NCAA small college tournament.

Wagner played Hofstra last night and the winner plays the Scranton-Wilkes victor Monday night for the right to play the southern division leader.

Gettysburg is just a shade above last year's 7 win, 18 lost slate .At present their record stands at 8 wins and 13 losses, and among their victories they number such strong foes as Lehigh, Lebanon Valley and F&M.

Coach Bob Hulton, who took over the reins from former Bullet coach, Bob Davies, had a young squad and one which has come on strong in the latter stages of the season, winning five of its last six contests.

The Bullets lost only one starter from last year's team and have a strong nucleus of veterans to face the Tribe.

Walsack Top Bullet

Bob Walsack, last season's high scorer, is once again leading the Bullets in that department. He is ably supported by 6' 6" Del Warfel, who also is the top rebounder on the team.

Stan Traymore, a senior, is the Bullet playmaker. He does not often score but when he does, it is usually at the most opportune moment. Rounding out the starting lineup will be Marty Miller and Frank Grzelecki. Miller, a guard, is a rugged defensive man for the Bullets, while the 6' - 5" Grzelecki is depended upon to lend rebound support to Warfel.

Dukes, Whips Run Identical Records In IM Basketball

The Whips and Dukes continue to run neck and neck down the stretch in the IM basketball race with identical 13-1 records.

The Whips smashed the Blockers 63-36 and took a forfeit from the Sultans. Harold Krause made 29 for the winners and Pete Emerick 16 for the losers.

The Dukes picked up a single win over the NJ House 63-44. Don Swope scored 16, Don Conley and Ken Opipery 15 for the defending champions and Tony Quarantilla 18 for the NJ House.

In close games Tony Chirico led the Blockers to a thrilling 41-39 victory over the Dunkards with 13 points and Fran Christina and Les Greenwalt bucketed 17 apiece in a 49-47 squeaker over the Flying Five.

In other action Curt Gardner scored 18 and George Zeh 14 to lead the Dynamos over the Dunkards 54-43, the Crusaders dropped the Flying Five 65-36 paced by Fred Yun's 22 points, the Sharpshooters downed the Sultans 56-34 with a well balanced scoring attack and the Schizo Eight won the battle of the cellar 49-28 as Don Burkett and Bill Clemens scored 24 and 13 respectively.

Team Standings

	W	L
Whips	13	1
Dukes	13	1
Bulldogs	10	2
Ubangies	9	4
Dunkards	9	5
NJ House	9	6
Crusaders	8	5
Blockers	8	7
Dynamos	7	7
Sultans	8	8
Sharpshooters	5	8
Comets	5	8
Mt. Dewers	5	9
Flying Five	3	11
Pepsi's	3	11
Schizo Eight	3	12
Five	0	14

Juniata To Host NAIA Playoffs

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics has announced that the District 30 playoffs will be held in Memorial Gymnasium March 5-6.

Four NAIA members—Geneva, Millersville STC, Indiana and Gannon (Erie)—will participate in the two-day elimination playoffs.

In the opener of Wednesday's twin bill, defending district champion Millersville (12-4) including a victory over potent LaSalle College will be matched against Geneva (10-2), and the Indiana (21-2)—Gannon (8-6) contest will follow. The final game will be played between the winners Thursday.

The survivor will represent Pennsylvania in the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City, Mo.

Previously Juniata hosted the District 30 playoff in both 1953 and 1954. Geneva defeated Millersville in 1953 and Lebanon Valley the next season, going to Kansas City on both occasions.

Tickets will be sold at the gate by the district committee. Juniata students' activity cards will not be honored.

STRICKLER'S
Milk and Ice Cream
Phone Mitchell 3-2770

RYAN'S SHOES
316 Washington St.
Huntingdon, Pa.

FOR PLATTERS THAT FLATTER
THE PEOPLE WHO MATTER . .
SHOP MILLER HARDWARE CO.
Phone
MI 3-1460

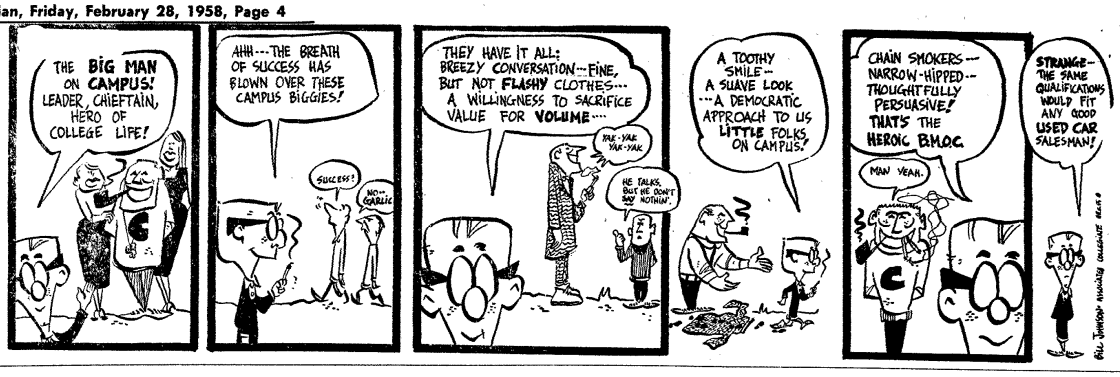
GRUBB'S DINER
South 4th St., U. S. Route 22
Huntingdon, Pa.
Phone Mitchell 3-3990

Say it with Flowers
from
Woodrings Floral Garden
8th and Washington St.
Phone Mitchell 3-0260

HOTEL PENN HUNT
Huntingdon, Pa.
Dining Room Open Daily
7 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Banquet Facilities

KELLY'S KORNER
Pizza Pie — Chicken In Basket
Steaks — Sea Food
Spaghetti
Phone Mitchell 3-4900

ARNOLD



Smith Reviews All Class Night; Would Award Cup To Seniors

by Philbrook Smith

A glance at my record book and the broken back of Peyton Place does not dispell the possibility that my essentially despotic character has undergone a transformation, but I would prefer another alternative, that the theme, history, was the reason for All Class Night's unusual uniformity and generally higher quality.

My critics will say that it is obvious why I have singled out the theme to account for whatever degree of excellence this year's productions reached. There is no way of refuting the possibility that this is true and that if next year's theme were biology, Drs. Comerford and Will would not be as likely to make similar statements. All I can say in my defense is that I slept through Quo Vadis twice.

Vlauable restraint

Admitting the criticism of my opponents that the general history theme may have influenced my judgement, this doesn't account for the uniformity of the skits. The real reason for this, I believe, lies in the fact that the topic, history, places limitations upon the imaginations of the script writers. This restraint was not as evident in the other two themes which I have seen, drama and comedy, and as a result drama was reduced for the most part to maudlin melodrama (with or without a chorus of voices) and comedy became an excuse for running up and down the aisles of Oller Hall.

In the case of the sophomore production my chief criticism would be that they were stifled by their material. The scenes were pointless and whatever action there was occured when the narrator instructed the audience.

The freshmen were also strangled by their narrator, but in their case they made no pretenses about including other speaking parts. To be fair to the freshman skit they at least tried to integrate the action (?) on the stage with the commentary of the speaker. In both the sophomore and freshman skits little would have been lost if they had simply sent a student before the closed curtains and had him read the script.

Junior skit

